receive as much as
$100 a week

$10,000

cash income when hospitalized for a covered sickness or accident

This cash is just like wages. It is for you to spend as you wish—paid directly to you in addition to any other insurance. Last year, one out of every seven people in the United States was hospitalized. This means that nearly half of the families in this country may have someone in the hospital in 1972—and many of them may not be fully prepared for this unexpected crisis.

THESE ARE YOUR CASH BENEFITS
PAYS CASH . . . up to $10,000 for each covered accident or illness, starting your FIRST DAY in the hospital at the rate of $100 a week for you . . . $75 a week for your spouse when hospitalized . . . $50 a week when one of your covered children is hospitalized.

GUARANTEED RENEWABLE TO AGE 65
This policy is guaranteed renewable to age 65. Once your policy is in force the company guarantees never to cancel your policy for any reason except non-payment of premium. When you reach your 65th birthday you will be eligible for our Senior Citizens Medicare supplement plan.

REPORT MEDICAL COSTS SOAR
Newspapers report that in the past few years the cost of a hospital stay has nearly tripled . . . and it's still going up! Even a short stay can cause a financial crisis.

BENEFITS START FIRST DAY
Even though you now carry health insurance to help pay your hospital expense, the chances are that you will need extra cash . . . your Group Insurance, Workmen's Compensation, etc., may not be enough protection. Remember, while you're in the hospital, your other expenses, such as rent, food, telephone, etc., continue. That's why the American Hospital Income Plan pays you directly . . . up to $100 a week in cash as an additional income to spend as you wish—in accordance with your own needs. And best of all, you are paid from the FIRST DAY you enter the hospital. And you will continue to be paid every week you are in the hospital . . . up to 100 weeks.

ACT NOW
A sudden accident or illness can strike anytime. It's too late to apply for this coverage when you are flat on your back in the hospital.

EXCEPTIONS AND LIMITATIONS
They are: war, nervous or mental disorders, pregnancy, rest cures, care in a U.S. Government hospital, drug, abuse dental treatments and conditions you had before the start of your policy. Meanwhile, you are protected from the first day of hospitalization for every covered illness and accident. (Note: This pre-existing condition exclusion is dropped after the policy has been in force for 2 years. For applicants 63 or 64 years old, the waiting period for pre-existing conditions is adjusted, since this policy is only guaranteed renewable to age 65.)

EXISTING CONDITIONS COVERED
Medicare does not pay all hospital bills! Now Senior Citizens can get CASH payments when hospitalized. This important plan is designed just for Senior Citizens . . . EVEN CONDITIONS YOU NOW HAVE ARE COVERED FROM THE VERY FIRST DAY YOUR MEDICARE SUPPLEMENT PLAN IS IN FORCE. What a comfort to know that you can get immediate coverage for these conditions.

EXAMINE POLICY WITHOUT COST
Do not send any money but if you feel you will need cash payments when hospitalized, mail the coupon below . . . today. You will receive your actual policy, clearly spelling out your cash benefits. Examine the policy for 10 days, discuss it with your doctor and your insurance advisor. If you agree that this protection is just what you need to help fill the gaps in your Medicare coverage, keep the policy and make your monthly payment—before the 10 days are up, and you will be protected during this period.

PMAs members are expected to ratify the pact within a day or so.

The strike has caused losses in U.S. exports estimated by the White House at more than $800 million and has caused a loss of $1 billion in U.S. earnings from the rights of the Palestinian people.

The tentative agreement was announced Feb. 8, the day before Congress gave Nixon the go-ahead to sign the agreement. The agreement was announced before the end of the grace period.

Sadat Rattles Sabres Again, Hints Red Aid

CAIRO (AP)—President Anwar Sadat declared today that Egypt must develop sophisticated weapons in order to face U.S. and Israeli armaments.

Sadat told a special meeting of the national congress of the ruling Arab Socialist Union that Egypt must be prepared to accept big losses and inflict even greater losses on Israel.

He gave no hint of how Egypt could develop sophisticated weapons, but presumably they would be supplied by the Soviet Union.

Declaring that it was a world obligation to bring peace to the Middle East, Sadat added: "We want the force of law, not the law of force."

He made no mention of Israel's agreement to U.S.-sponsored talks with Egypt on reopening the Suez Canal. The agreement, awaited here for a year, was made Feb. 2 as Sadat left for Arab and Soviet capitals.

The U.S. special mediator in the Middle East crisis, Henry Kissinger, reportedly rejected the Israeli air force by one-third.

He accused the United States of moving the 6th fleet base to Greece, and wanting to remove President Makarios of Cyprus to get another base there to increase pressure on Egypt and the Soviet Union.

He said the U.S. "made it imperative that we reconsider our policy." Sadat said.

He added that Egypt's objectives remain the same—withdrawal of Israeli forces from Arab lands, compensation for war and no bargaining over the rights of the Palestinian people.

He said the U.S. "made it imperative that we reconsider our policy." Sadat said.

The staffs handling the Washington end of the logistics maze have been in constant contact with a group of White House aides already in China.

Nixon Staff Busy As Takeoff Nears

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lights burned late in a cottage atop a Maryland mountain and in the White House as President Nixon and his aides reread the advance team's report on the trip against the clock to complete preparations for his historic mission to China.

At the White House and in adjoining office buildings, an army of aides at midnight snatched at their desks as they coped with the complex logistics involved in sending a president and more than 200 other Americans into a country with which the United States has had little contact for two decades.

The details of arranging a 20,000-mile, 13-day presidential journey are many. For example, White House assistants are making certain that hundreds of suburban Washington schoolchildren, tiny American flags in hand, will be on the spot when the president and his entourage will use during the week.

While in China, Nixon also will be reading the presidential press secretary's books containing classified material on China and its leaders prepared by Henry Kissinger's National Security Council.

Steele Praised For Legislation To Aid Firemen

U.S. Rep. Robert Steele of Vermont has received support from two major fire-fighting groups for his Omnibus Fire-fighting and Prevention legislation, according to his Washington office.

His nine-bill fire prevention package was introduced in Congress last week.

Announcing their support of the legislation were the 156,000-member International Association of Firefighters, AFL-CIO, and the Connecticut Fire Chief's Association.

The omnibus legislative package was described by Jack Walker, legislative representative of the AFL-CIO firefighters group, as "the most comprehensive package of bills on fire prevention ever submitted to Congress. We will be working side-by-side with you to enact your entire package of nine bills."

Calling the support by the two groups "encouraging," Steele said, "the time has come to provide the nation's firemen with the assistance they need and deserve."

Steele described his bill which provides for the establishment of a National Academy of Fire Prevention and Control as the cornerstone of his legislative package.

The academy would serve as a training facility for both professional and volunteer firemen, conduct research into fire problems, and establish an educational program for informing the public of fire hazards and safety techniques.

Drawn Back to Theater, He'll Appear in 'Arsenic'

By JUNE TOMPKINS

David Curran, a fairly new name among local theater critics, will appear in the role of Jonathan Brewster in the Little Theatre of Manchester's (LTM) production of "Arsenic and Old Lace" to be presented at Bailey Auditorium in Manchester High School on Feb. 24, 25 and 26. The character of Jonathan, the wayward brother of two old ladies, was originally created on Broadway and in the movies by Boris Karloff.

Curran, who since his appearance last season in LTM's "A Thousand Clowns," had reportedly given up his stage activities, but just "got so uptight" he had to get back to the stage.

For a man who has played in heavy drama in such vehicles as "Ecstacy" and "The Grand Impostor," one might wonder why he would be attracted to "Arsenic."

"It's not my kind of play, really," Curran said. "I'm intrigued by the character. Curran admits that it is the development of a character which attracts him usually more than the play itself.

"But now that I'm really in it, I feel it's a great play," Curran says he gets bored with the kind of shallow comedies so prevalent in much of today's society, the kind of conversations that are punctuated with "won't you have another cup of coffee?" When he gets that uptight feeling, he looks around for a role to play. He says, "I get that good feeling that I am communicating with people, that they are listening." Curran also says he gains a new perspective with every role he plays.

When Curran finishes his role, he would be attracted to present assignment with LTM, he will go back to his boat building in the process of constructing a 48-foot cement boat which he hopes to live in with his wife this summer. Curran says he has a good job at a book-lined three-room apartment, Curran says, with all the comforts of home.

Curran dreams of working up a theater company and traveling to far shores with it, hopefully hitting the English speaking countries.

Tickets for "Arsenic and Old Lace" are available at the Liggett Theatre, or by calling Mrs. Ronald Fletcher, Old Lace' at 760-2100, 1200 Bedford St. in Tolland.

Bad Water Taste Was Sudden, West Siders Tell Officials

By GLENN GAMBER (Herald Reporter)

The deterioration in the quality of water on the west side of town was sudden, according to over 30 West Side residents who turned out last night for a public hearing on the subject at Washington School on Cedar St.

The attendees appeared to be new to town officials. Those attending included members of the Board of Directors; Town Manager Robert Wales; William O'Neill, director of public works; and Jay Gilles, town water and sewer administrator. Residents seemed to feel that because the change was sudden, there may be a particular problem which should be explored.

Gilles expressed the belief that the odor and taste in West Side water is due to algae growth in the Globe Hollow Reservoir which feeds into West Side water lines. He outlined plans for renovating the Cooper Hill treatment plant which treats this water, plans the town received in October and, according to O'Neill, paid between $15,000 and $20,000 for.

O'Neill said under the proposed new filter system, activated charcoal would be put in the water as it leaves the reservoir and filtered out at the Cooper Hill plant. The charcoal absorbs the algae, he said.

Mayor John Thompson explained that the town has applied for a federal grant to cover half the cost of renovating this plant, as well as to make other water system improvements.

He added that he has told First District Congressman William O'Connor to inform the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development that the Cooper Hill plant is the top priority of the proposed program included in the application.

Priority High

"I want to assure you (West Side residents) I think your concern about their water, with data from the residents, perhaps the time of the quality change and the exact area affected could be pinpointed," O'Neill said.

O'Neill said that the town is not very optimistic about getting any money under this application. Thompson commented that the problem is that em-

Group Formed To Keep Eye On U.S. China Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Walter Judd has announced the formation of a "Committee for a Free China" to keep an eye on emerging U.S. policy toward mainland China.

The organization replaces the "Committee of One Million," an 18-year-old lobbying group that aided the Peking government, was given the China seat in the United Nations and Taiwan was ousted last year.

"We want the President to be able to cite this committee as an example of the many distinguished Americans of every political persuasion who will not accept any agreement offered by Peking which would jeopardize the future security of the Republic of China (Taiwan), Japan, Korea, the Philippines or any other part of non-Communist Asia," Judd said Tuesday in outlining the new organization.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., is a member of the committee's national advisory group.

Bad Water Taste Was Sudden, West Siders Tell Officials

By GLENN GAMBER (Herald Reporter)

The deterioration in the quality of water on the west side of town was sudden, according to over 30 West Side residents who turned out last night for a public hearing on the subject at Washington School on Cedar St.

The attendees appeared to be new to town officials. Those attending included members of the Board of Directors; Town Manager Robert Wales; William O'Neill, director of public works; and Jay Gilles, town water and sewer administrator. Residents seemed to feel that because the change was sudden, there may be a particular problem which should be explored.

Gilles expressed the belief that the odor and taste in West Side water is due to algae growth in the Globe Hollow Reservoir which feeds into West Side water lines. He outlined plans for renovating the Cooper Hill treatment plant which treats this water, plans the town received in October and, according to O'Neill, paid between $15,000 and $20,000 for.

O'Neill said under the proposed new filter system, activated charcoal would be put in the water as it leaves the reservoir and filtered out at the Cooper Hill plant. The charcoal absorbs the algae, he said.

Mayor John Thompson explained that the town has applied for a federal grant to cover half the cost of renovating this plant, as well as to make other water system improvements.

He added that he has told First District Congressman William O'Connor to inform the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development that the Cooper Hill plant is the top priority of the proposed program included in the application.

Priority High

"I want to assure you (West Side residents) I think your concern about their water, with data from the residents, perhaps the time of the quality change and the exact area affected could be pinpointed," O'Neill said.

O'Neill said that the town is not very optimistic about getting any money under this application. Thompson commented that the problem is that em-

Business Mirror Institutions Show Record Much Like Floor Buyers

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — One of the highlights of a recent seminar on investment performance at the University of Pennsylvania was a report stating that the record of institutional investors was no better than the market as a whole.

As January goes, so goes the rest of the year. This maxim has become widely followed as a criterion of future stock market activity. In 40 years, it has failed only four times—in 1924, 1927, 1928 and 1929.

Most investors through institutions are aware of such considerations, but in the last analysis they are likely to reduce everything to just one consideration: Do they make more money for me than I might save former President Lyndon B. Johnson putting a cigarette in the Cotton Bowl football better? One explanation lies in game he wrote him a scolding the makeup of the market, and letter.

Busing Here and Wherever

Not very many Americans are positively convinced that the use of buses in order to transport school children to schools outside their own natural geographical neighborhood is either a desirable or a workable solution to the problem of integration.

And most Americans, deep down under whatever kind of skin they happen to wear, are almost certain to resent any extreme move toward busing their children in order to achieve social and educational conditions which the American dream should have provided for them by more reasonable methods long ago.

Graceful Adjustment

This year's price for graceful adjustment is hereby awarded to those few who, writing experts who, not many days ago, had reached an "overwhelming opinion" that the handwriting on certain documents was indeed that of Howard Hughes and no other.

Inside Report

The Anti-Busing Boom

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON—At the moment Monday morning that President Nixon's new anti-busing strategy in the White House with conservative Congressmen of both parties, one of the leading liberal-labor Democrats in the House—Rep. James G. O'Hara of Michigan—was quietly polishing his own anti-busing amendment to deal with the country's hottest domestic political issue.

Living At Last

The way Manchester's unemployed, business executives, retirees, artisans, stenographers and housewives all formed lines yesterday to be the first people purchasing tickets in the Connecticut state lottery removed all prudish doubts about the suitability of such an institution in this Land of Steady Habits.

This is the state we have been waiting for. At last, at last, we have a meaning to the concept of living in Connecticut. This brings to existence a touch of innocent wishfulness, a harmless flight to cupidly, a passing indulgence in a pretended pattern of life in which something is always for nothing.

Yesterday was the first pure fun day in Manchester since the Governor's Foot Guard chased the Glastonbury Glou-wackus up Main St.

Just like many of our subscribers, we dislike a late press time. Pushing the button on our 3 o'clock or so makes life a bit hectic for Bob Hubbard and his press crew and presents many problems for Pete Cordery and his circulation department. The end result is a few grumbles from our carriers, motor route drivers, and in turn, subscribers. We can sympathize with all of them and that's why for the past couple of months we have been striving for a 2:30 press time and this fellow in the lion's den is going to be in a better way if we can't share that by a few minutes later on. At any rate we apologise for the late press time occasionally and rest assured we're going to get it sorted.

Our personal congratulations to those Boy Scouts who have attained the rank of Eagle. We can speak from experience because we were three merit badges short of attaining that coveted rank. It is also good to see many scouting displays in store windows. Statistics nationally reveal that only one scout in 10 reaches the rank of Eagle. That's pretty select company.

More good news: U.S. News and World Report says auto dealers around the country are talking about a bumper year for auto sales. Many indicate a record may be set with more than six million more cars being sold.

The government is on its way to proving that women aren't getting equal pay in the retail industry. According to Business Week, more than five million women are employed in the Census Bureau category of retail trade.

Meanwhile, the federal government's program of controls and prices is asking working men and women to sacrifice by holding down wage demands; urging businessmen to sacrifice by holding down prices; and we wonder what sacrifices are going to be made by the federal government.

What the President's Cabinet committee will finally recommend to Mr. Nixon is still open. By coming to a brief agreement on some tension between Mitchell and Elliot Richardson, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Richardson implicitly backed a legislative remedy; Mitchell tended toward a Constitutional amendment.

The President himself was open on the proper approach, but he pointed home one point: Although "the lawyers" could find a thousand reasons why both approaches might not work in view of the Supreme Court's pre-busing decisions, it was up to him, the President, to find a remedy that will work.

The responses to our Happy Ads appearing on The Herald's display pages have been tremendous. As a result a number of newspapers across the nation are following the same Happy Ads format as adopted by The Herald.

A ground survey of Manchester showed that about half the town's woodlands—4,600 acres—are infested with eggs masses of gypsy moths, said George W. Schuessler, deputy state entomologist, today. This acreage is about five times as great as the area which was defoliated last July, he said.

Within the next few weeks, state officials will show maps, indicate and explain various ways of controlling gypsy moths to a small group of town officials, including members of the Conservation Commission, Schuessler said.

The state does not recommend any particular control method but suggests ways for information on several, so that each town can decide on a method or methods to use. The control methods are controversial, he said, and various groups are exposed to them.

Aerial spraying of woodlands with spectrum insecticides, one of the methods being used, has been outlawed by the state, 1970 grew to $13.725 from $13. Agricultural lands can be $643 a year earlier.

The judge's comments are worth repeating: "To anyone who has ever viewed a woman participating in a roller derby, the argument that women are the weaker sex carries little weight. It is no longer possible to state that all women have an interest in any one type or classification of work. Some women have the desire, ability and stamina to do any work that men do."

"The state of a human being without a job is a neutral fact equally applicable to both sexes. The finding of a job should also be a neutral fact equally accessible to both."

What the President's Cabinet committee will finally recommend to Mr. Nixon is still open. By coming to a brief agreement on some tension between Mitchell and Elliot Richardson, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Richardson implicitly backed a legislative remedy; Mitchell tended toward a Constitutional amendment.

The President himself was open on the proper approach, but he pointed home one point: Although "the lawyers" could find a thousand reasons why both approaches might not work in view of the Supreme Court's pre-busing decisions, it was up to him, the President, to find a remedy that will work.

A ground survey of Manchester showed that about half the town's woodlands—4,600 acres—are infested with eggs masses of gypsy moths, said George W. Schuessler, deputy state entomologist, today. This acreage is about five times as great as the area which was defoliated last July, he said.

Within the next few weeks, state officials will show maps, indicate and explain various ways of controlling gypsy moths to a small group of town officials, including members of the Conservation Commission, Schuessler said.

The state does not recommend any particular control method but suggests ways for information on several, so that each town can decide on a method or methods to use. The control methods are controversial, he said, and various groups are exposed to them.

Aerial spraying of woodlands with spectrum insecticides, one of the methods being used, has been outlawed by the state, 1970 grew to $13.725 from $13. Agricultural lands can be $643 a year earlier.

The judge's comments are worth repeating: "To anyone who has ever viewed a woman participating in a roller derby, the argument that women are the weaker sex carries little weight. It is no longer possible to state that all women have an interest in any one type or classification of work. Some women have the desire, ability and stamina to do any work that men do."

"The state of a human being without a job is a neutral fact equally applicable to both sexes. The finding of a job should also be a neutral fact equally accessible to both."

Just like many of our subscribers, we dislike a late press time. Pushing the button on our 3 o'clock or so makes life a bit hectic for Bob Hubbard and his press crew and presents many problems for Pete Cordery and his circulation department. The end result is a few grumbles from our carriers, motor route drivers, and in turn, subscribers. We can sympathize with all of them and that's why for the past couple of months we have been striving for a 2:30 press time and this fellow in the lion's den is going to be in a better way if we can't share that by a few minutes later on. At any rate we apologise for the late press time occasionally and rest assured we're going to get it sorted.

Our personal congratulations to those Boy Scouts who have attained the rank of Eagle. We can speak from experience because we were three merit badges short of attaining that coveted rank. It is also good to see many scouting displays in store windows. Statistics nationally reveal that only one scout in 10 reaches the rank of Eagle. That's pretty select company.

More good news: U.S. News and World Report says auto dealers around the country are talking about a bumper year for auto sales. Many indicate a record may be set with more than six million more cars being sold.

The government is on its way to proving that women aren't getting equal pay in the retail industry. According to Business Week, more than five million women are employed in the Census Bureau category of retail trade.

Meanwhile, the federal government's program of controls and prices is asking working men and women to sacrifice by holding down wage demands; urging businessmen to sacrifice by holding down prices; and we wonder what sacrifices are going to be made by the federal government.

Third Grade To Perform Mystery Play

The King of Hearts, played by Timothy Mainville, interrogates Roger Bailey as the Jack of Hearts, concerning his knowledge of the missing pastries, in a scene from the Verplanck School production of "Who Stole the Turts?"

The committee annually arranges the Memorial Day celebration, which includes a parade, a program at the town cemetery and a tribute at the war memorial monument on Rt. 6.

Recycling Request The Andover Environmental Action Council at a meeting last week voted to request a budget appropriation for the town for the coming fiscal year to continue the glass recycling program.

The group has been recycling glass for the past few months, and recently delivered its first load of glass to Dayville.

Mr. Haveril said the council received a letter from Charles Kurker, principal assistant engineer from the Department of Environmental Protection, which indicated that if the town of Andover does construct any kind of facility for glass recycling, it is probably eligible for state aid which would cover a percentage of the construction.

Library Objectives Explained by Layng

"We have to look toward the coordinated effort for kindergartens through Grade 12 in terms of how we will use the libraries and where we are going in the future," Albert Layng, assistant superintendent of schools, told the Board of Education Monday night.

William Layng, head librarian for the Vernon school system had presented the board with a long report several weeks ago. The report and Layng's recommendations were referred to the board's curriculum committee.

Monday night, Layng explained that the objectives of the school library are the same as those of the school where it is located. He said, "At this time, the educational objectives of the school system are going forward and the library should be a part of that."

One of the priority recommendations made by Layng was the establishment of a book selection policy. "We have no guidelines now for selection," he commented.

He cited as phase one of the library improvement program, the establishment of a book selection policy. "We have no guidelines now for selection," he commented.

Hebron Elementary Enrollments Up Slightly

According to reports submitted last week to the Board of Education by the principals at both elementary schools, enrollment has now reached 791 students.

Paul A. White, principal at the Hebron Elementary School, reports a total of 447 students, seven more than during December, while Ralph Scuzzo, principal at the Gilead Hill School, reports enrollment at that school remained stable at 344.

Library circulation at both schools remained high according to the principals.

At the Gilead Hill School, 2,926 pieces of literature were circulated during January. This included 1,451 non-fiction books, 785 "easy reading" books, 288 fiction books, and 119 magazines.

Circulation at the Hebron Elementary School totaled 2,489 during the month. This included 903 non-fiction books, 783 fiction books and 715 "easy reading" books.

Enrichment Program

Succuzzo reported that 116 students are participating in the second session of the after-school enrichment program which began Jan. 21.

As was the case with the first session, each of the eight activities is being sponsored by either a classroom teacher or a parent and meets one afternoon a week from 2:10 to 4 o'clock.

Activities included in this session are cooking and baking, sports, arts and crafts, needlecraft, baton twirling, drama, knitting and indoor recreation.

Teachers and parents assisting with the program are: Mary Ann Moore, Mary Ann Tierney, Bob Merrifield, Doris Schettach, Donna Draxler, Jackie Aiso, Lorraine Kwoeger, Linda Chamberland, Olivia Patch, Lucy Sametky and Margaret Griffin.

Maintenance

White reported no maintenance problems at the Hebron school, however, at the Gilead Hill School, Succuzzo reported that necessary repair work on the furnace and the roof was completed.

According to Succuzzo, minor repair work on boiler one and cleaning of points in the furnace was taken care of by Dan O'Leary.

Workers from Nash Co. installed expansion joints and so did some pitching on the roof, he reported.

However, during the course of the repair work, several wires were mistakenly cut which necessitated calling an electrician, Gorreck of Colchester.

Succuzzo stated that Nash will absorb the cost of this repair.

Health Report

Public Health Nurse Mrs. Joan Mosher reported to the Board of Education last week that 470 children were seen in the health rooms at both elementary schools last month for first aid or illness.

She said a record of first aid statistics reveals that most accidents occur on the playground.

A breakdown on accidents showed 120 on the playground, 38 in the classrooms, 42 miscellaneous and 54 non-school related.

During January, Mrs. Mosher reported that tuberculin testing had been completed for the kindergarten classes and rechecks of vision and audio screenings were continued.

New growth and development films were previewed, she said, with Mrs. Nancy Lack, public health nurse, and herself, along with the school administration, the board of education and town representatives.

Later in the month a preview of the growth and development program, which was held for the 4th, 5th, and 6th grade girls, was attended by 15 parents.

Mrs. Mosher stated that this is the first year the 4th grade girls have participated in the program designed for their age level.

She mentioned that one of the goals of this program is to promote further discussion between parent and child in relation to individual growth and development.

According to Mrs. Mosher, plans for this month include physical examinations by the school physician, Dr. Christopher O'Connor, at the Gilead Hill School.

The dental program of cleaning and prophylaxis will also begin this month at the Gilead school for all grades.

Gymnastic Show

Tenite gymnastic show at Gilead Hill School will be at 7:30, not 8 o'clock as previously announced. Participating will be pupils from both the Gilead School and Hebron Elementary.

Senior Citizens

The Senior Citizens of Hebron will hold a gala birthday party tomorrow starting at 1 p.m. at the church in celebration of the second anniversary of their organization.

Antiwar Group Is Blamed In New Hampshire Bombs

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — The bombing of police and fire headquarters here today was linked by a top state law enforcement official to "The People's Liberation Army," an antiwar group which also listed the New Hampshire primary headquarters as a target.

The official who asked not to be identified, said that when a man and a woman were arrested shortly after the three bomb blasts that shattered windows, a typewriter news release also was confiscated.

The release said that besides the police station, the Nixon headquarters had been a target.

Police, however, found no explosives at the headquarters nor at city hall, which was ordered searched as a precautionary measure.

Mrs. Clyde Fox was elected Monday evening as president of the Football Association at its organizational meeting. Elected to serve with Mrs. Fox were Ronald Saglio, vice president; Bruce MacBryde, secretary; and Mrs. E. O. Kiser, treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were Tony Tiernan, John Phelps and Howard Lunt.

Church Council Asks Protection For Consumers

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The policy-making General Board of the National Council of Churches has recommended governmental and private action to strengthen the consumer.

Consumers have a "survival interest" in what producers do before they bring their goods to market because man's "collective stewardship of the planet has been wounded and destroyed," the council says.

The policy statement on consumer rights and corporate responsibility was adopted Monday night at the midwinter meeting of the board at its headquarters in Washington, D.C.

The statement recommended that churches use their power as investors and stockholders to encourage corporate responsibility and consumer protection.

Cheney Tech Exhibits Show Varied Skills

croft, machine tool senior department head, stands beside the display board on which are mounted, on plastic shelves, brass and aluminum models of machine tools used in basic operations of the trade. All models were made by juniors, seniors, and post graduates in the department.

The other Cheney Tech display is a board containing brass and aluminum models, on plastic shelves, of all tools used in basic operations of the machine tool trade. Completed are a lathe, shaper, single spindle drill press, power hack saw, band saw, horizontal milling machine, vertical milling machine, and surface grinder. Being made is an offhand grinder, and still to be undertaken is a cylindrical grinder.

All name plate lettering was done by tape on the school's manual lettering machine. This part of the project was programmed by Eugene E. Lescroft, 600 W. Middle Tpke., who graduated last month and is now serving in the Air Force.

Other students who worked on the models are Edward Murray, Daniel Walker, Philip Palukowski, David Campo, John Bellante, John Bernatche, Stuart Lane, Al Tormasini, Bruce King, William Call, Albert Calvo, Peter Depla, Gary Dantzer, James Fulkowski, Michael Frost, and Michael Tomm.

In explaining the approach to the machine tool course, Eugene E. Lescroft, senior department head, said, "Emphasis throughout is not on the stereotyped procedure of what is to be done. Rather, it is on the underlying principles of why it is to be done, along with the reasons for the required procedures to accomplish the job."

The trade may be divided, he said, into these major areas: introduction to the trade and general safety; measuring tools and instruments; bench work, layout, and inspection; shop mathematics; blueprint reading and sketching; machine tools with a cutting action; machine tools with a grinding action; machine repair and shop maintenance; numerical control of machine tools; and heat treatment of metals.

At Cheney Tech, Lescroft said, basic operations instruction requires one or two quarters, and then the student is assigned to a job. In the sophomore year, he is given responsibility to a limited degree, with greater responsibility being shifted from the instructor to the student in the junior and senior years.

Noise Pollution To Be Controlled

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois is attempting to control community noise problems on a statewide basis.

New regulations similar to ones already in effect in New Jersey, were filed Tuesday with the State Pollution Control Board by the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality and the State Environmental Protection Agency. The proposals are subject to public hearings. The strictest regulations were proposed for residential areas and nighttime hours.

Andover School Board Reappoints All of Town's Teachers

The Board of Education at a special meeting last night approved reappointment of all teachers at the Andover Elementary School.

Some months back, the school board requested from Donald Libby, school principal, an evaluation of the teachers currently employed at the school.

The vote means that all teachers now at the school are automatically rehired for the 1972-73 school year unless they are resigning.

Principal Libby was also rehired for the coming year. Appointments of all new appointments of teachers were made to replace resigning teachers, until the end of the current school year.

Appointed to replace Mrs. Judith Carroll, she has a bachelor's degree from Wagner College, and will also be starting at the first level, with no teaching experience.

Such discussion was held on whether it would be practical to have both groups using the school facilities on the same day.

The board finally gave Libby authorization to allow use of the grounds and buildings by the two groups in whatever way would be most suitable.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Seasickness is an ailment that affects some persons on shipboard. The malady is attributed to the disturbance of the semicircular canals of the inner ear.

Today, all the Scout groups carry their own insurance which covers them during all Scout activities.

She said the insurance agency informed her that there would be an estimated $10 rider fee for every such trip made.

The board entered into some discussion of the proposed budget for next year, which centered more around the format of the new budget rather than the actual figures.

Such discussion was held on whether it would be practical to have both groups using the school facilities on the same day.

MCC Seminar Will Feature Talk on Wines

Visiting speaker tomorrow afternoon at a seminar for Manchester Community College students in the hotel and food service management program will be J. Allen Mays.

Mays, who is a wine expert, will discuss the importance of wines in planning and serving meals.

Mays joined the Taylor Co. in 1962. He has been a guest on radio and television programs and a panelist with wine experts before wine associations and hotel administration groups.

The firm has examined the extended registration records for bridesmaids in several other Connecticut towns.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Rubber Check" "Your check bounced." When Harry heard this news from the neighborhood garage man, his first reaction was embarrassment.

The fact remains, replied the garage man, "that he did give me a check that was no good. That is illegal."

Suppose the person expects just the opposite; that his check, although good when he wrote it, will be bad by the time it gets to the bank.

Was this a criminal offense? A court said yes, because the check was altered to go through. But he must have a reasonable expectation, not just a hope, that the check will be cashed.

Bolton Honor Society Inducts One Senior, Six Juniors

One senior and six juniors Edward Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Manning; Lori from Bolton High School were inducted as members of the Phi Lambda Chi Chapter of the National Honor Society Monday. Principal Norman Shaw noted that the awards are based on four criteria: Scholarship, character, leadership and service. Parents of the students inducted attended the program, which was conducted by Shaw. Refreshments were served after the program by home economics students under the direction of Mrs. Irene Tabatsky.

Plan Changes
Members of the Public Building Commission and Board of Education got together with architects for the proposed addition at the high school Monday to discuss changes in the addition required by the new state fire safety code.

The seating plan proposed by the Board of Education in its educational specifications will have to be adjusted because of the new regulations which require that seating for no more than 200 persons must be secured to the floor or fastened to the floor in groups of at least three and no more than seven. Original plans called for 300 floor seats in the auditorium section of the addition. Lower levels described, several alternative, noting that the sloped floor would be no more expensive than the flat floor and would provide better viewing.

Members present Monday night discussed several alternatives to the seating arrangement, and the most feasible seemed to be dividing the proposed room into two parts, with 300 fixed seats in the auditorium space and 200 single seats in the adjacent cafeteria area.

For gatherings of groups of more than 200, both rooms can be opened.

After hearing recommendations by architect Richard Lawrence Associates, PBC and school board members indicated support of a sloped floor in the auditorium section of the addition. Lower levels described, several alternative, noting that the sloped floor would be no more expensive than the flat floor and would provide better viewing.

Members present Monday night discussed several alternatives to the seating arrangement, and the most feasible seemed to be dividing the proposed room into two parts, with 300 fixed seats in the auditorium space and 200 single seats in the adjacent cafeteria area.

fixed seats in the rear (in the cafeteria section) would be on a flat floor at the same level as the stage.

PBC members plan to meet with the town fire marshal soon to discuss the new recommendations.

Omission
The name of the Rev. Robert Cronin, pastor of St. Maurice Church in Bolton, was omitted from the list of members of the Board of Directors of the Bolton Scholarship Fund in last night's Herald. The Rev. Cronin represents the Bolton Ecumenical Council on the board.

Payment Balance For U.S. in 1971 Was Record Low

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. balance of payments in 1971 was its worst in history, falling to a deficit of $20.6 billion by its broadest measure.

The Commerce Department said Tuesday that the country's worsening trade position and the instability of the dollar here last August 15 were primary reasons for the big deficit.

The deficit in the last quarter of the year was huge—$4.1 billion—despite the economic stabilization program that was put in effect in August. Still, it was an improvement over the third quarter.

Coventry Knights Swamp Faculty, But Student Fund Gains

The Coventry Faculty All-Stars went down to defeat last night 76-60, but waged a valiant battle against the Hartford Knights, who came to Coventry High school for a benefit game arranged by the Coventry Federation of Teachers.

Prokne showed up and saw quite a lot of action with a cast on his right arm, giving some indication of just how competitive the Knights were.

'Bug' Disrupts TurboTrain Run

BRIDGEPORT (AP)—A "bug" disrupted the high-speed TurboTrain service between Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia Monday.

The high-speed train jumped a track Monday at Keyser, Va., as it was being towed because its engines were not functioning. The train was towed to a nearby yard where the problem was being diagnosed.

Paris Likes Girls, Accents the Vamp

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
PARIS (NEA)—It could be that the recent Paris fashion showings will be recorded as a battle to the death. The Dior school against the Saint Laurent set; off-the-peg versus haute couture.

All the same, this war of the scissors deployed a quite imposing array of wearable fashions to gladden the hearts of women.

The general impression? Very casual but also very feminine. As a matter of fact, Woman's Lib was dealt a shattering blow in Paris so far as spring fashions go. Starting off with Louis Ferrand and Scherrer and Dior, all three gave their unstinted support to the "girly" girls.

There is romance in the air and curves, frills, bouffants and swish all over the lot. Helms stop at the knees or shorter and waists are high or normal. The accent is on the latent vamp in all women.

Pantsuits at Dior were feminine and soft—nothing mannish—and appeared as an alternative to dresses. The latest edition comprised soft printed silk shirts tucked into matching printed linen pants, highwaisted and belted, topped by a longish, belted jacket. Ensembles came as printed pleated silk dresses topped by three-quarter or longer coats.

Scherrer went all out for white—white pants for yachting and an expensive holiday pursuit, topped by exclusive prints in the form of tunics and jackets. Dior was the timelier in sophisticated perfect cut and a subdued sex appeal with it all.

Paris Likes Girls, Accents the Vamp
Parisian fashions are the latest "in" thing. Platform sandals, clogs, and beaded shoes are "in" for day and evening. With a return to matching satin slippers for evening.

Only one legislator was heard voting "no," in voice votes yesterday in the House and Senate, it was State Sen. David Odgaard of Manchester.

It was when the legislature passed a bill which will allow bars and other liquor outlets to stay open when an election is held in only one district of a multi-district town. The bill, signed into law immediately by Gov. Thomas Meskill, stemmed from a situation in Downtown Hartford today during a special election for state representative.

"It's a special interest legislation," explained Odgaard earlier to the vote. "A district is a district, and whether or not large hotels are located within a district has nothing to do with the bill we amended today."

Odgaard said that the intent of the original bill was "to close bars and other liquor outlets in those districts where elections are held." It part of a multi-town Senatorial district or an Assembly district within a multi-district town.

State Supreme Court Justice John P. Coster was named by Gov. Meskill to the Board of Pardons. He will fill an unexpired term to June 1973, vacated when Justice John R. Uhm resigned.

Rep. Rosario Vella, R. of Enfield said yesterday that "lobbyists, to whom various interest groups increasingly large fees, pose a more serious threat to the state than ever before."

"The only way to counter them," he said, "is for industry and citizens to turn out in larger numbers."

Vella said that "it is no longer fashionable for a single lobbyist to testify in behalf of a corporation, a bank, or whatever the interest."

"They now arrive in platoons, from this state and other states," he said. "They bring with them accountants, economists and all kinds of technicians."

Columbia School Unit Sets Areas For Study

The school study committee developed a rough outline Monday night which includes some basic areas to be studied about future school building needs, as directed at a March 1971 town meeting.

Subcommittees will be appointed at the next meeting to delve further into several areas of concern.

The 11-member committee will study community population trends, future estimated populations, housing trends and future development, regarding zoning and land use and the ultimate holding capacity of the town.

It will also look at school enrollments in an attempt to project percentage of survival, ultimate capacity and percentage of population.

Finance will be investigated, including the economic community, tax structure, financial ability and school finances.

According to a report from the school superintendent, before the town purchase of two portable classrooms, space needs were created by supporting services of special education, supplemental reading and learning disabilities, among others.

There is a discussion on studies being done on using schools year-round, where students would attend three-fourths of the year.

Another concept discussed was students attending school four weeks and then having one week off.

It was suggested that the committee inspect the Rec area on Hennequin Rd. as a potential site for the development of another school.

As Others See Us

Mrs. Eleanor Tuttle and Leonard German. They will choose 125 prospective jurors by lot from the town.

No name which appeared on last year's list or is on a list of disqualified persons, or anyone under 21 will be included.

The names are chosen without regard for any person's request to be omitted or included.

Those called for jury duty may seek to be excused, but the committee has no authority in this respect.

Las Vegas Night. Las Vegas Night, which was scheduled for March 18 by the Republican Town Committee, has been canceled, according to Richard Dann, chairman.

Dann said new state regulations make it impossible to conduct this type of event which, for the past two years, had become very popular here.

Because of the state lottery, permits for local groups other than churches and charities will not be issued.

The committee in charge of the event is planning another program.

Police Report Three Held In Attempt At Theft

Three youths from outside the Manchester area were apprehended by police last night after an attempted theft at a Main St. coin laundry.

Frank J. Deloma, 17, of West Haven, was charged with attempted fourth-degree larceny and third-degree criminal mischief; Alvin D. Badillo, 17, of Milford, was charged with attempted fourth-degree larceny; and Wayne F. Murawski, 18, of West Haven, was charged with conspiracy.

Police reported that they arrived at Fred's Coin Laundry, 299 Main St., at about 11 p.m. and found Murawski in a car parked at the rear of the laundry. Upon entering the building, police saw Deloma and Badillo coming from the laundry room.

A tire iron was found stuck in a washing machine coin hole. Police said, but no money was taken from the machine. Damages to the machine amount to about $150.

The three accused were presented in court in Manchester this morning, where Judge Nicholas Armentano set bonds at $1,000 with surety and a return to court in three weeks.

A 16-year-old Manchester youth, Kenneth B. Sibbey of 848 E. Middle Tpke., was apprehended by police last night in Center Springs Park and charged with possession of alcoholic liquor at low property (a town ordinance).

Police reported that at about 9 p.m. several youths were seen entering the park from Main St. Police followed them in shortly after, and saw several boys and girls sitting around a table drinking beer and wine.

The youths fled upon seeing the officers, police said. Police gave chase, and caught Sibbey and a 16-year-old girl, who was taken home.

Sibbey was released on his written promise to appear in court March 6.

Ronald F. Duck, 20, of 301 Lake St., Vernon, was arrested yesterday on a Circuit Court 12 warrant charging him with retaining money under false pretenses and altering an instrument. He was presented in court yesterday in Rockville; his bond was set at $500 cash; the bond was returned and he was released. Court date is tomorrow in Manchester.

Two pairs of slacks valued at about $24 were taken from Martin Lad's store yesterday afternoon by an unidentified man. A store employee stopped the man and reported the slacks; but he was unable to hold the man until police arrived. Investigation is continuing.

Sometime Monday night a fenced-in compound at Agway stores, Inc., in Bucknutt was broken into and a mail carrier was stolen. Police suspect two men were involved. The tractor valued at $1,500, weighs about 800 pounds.

He plans to remain at Purdue as a teacher and researcher at $1,000 with surety and a return to court in three weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. Pellerin, the former Susan Brown of North Easton, Mass., and the latter of Bolton, have four-month-old son Jason.

Water Firm To Relocate Its Office

The Manchester Water Co., which serves the northern section of town, is planning to move its offices into the recently completed Standard Education building at 150 N. Main St.

The privately owned water company is slated to lease 600 square feet on the ground floor of the new building, the last major construction project in the North End Redevelopment project.

The issue, to take effect March 1, was to be signed 2 p.m. today in the offices of owner James Malley, president of Standard Education.

Reactor T. J. Crockett of Manchester is handling the transaction. The company's offices are presently at 240 N. Main St. in the W. G. Cleary building.

Lottery Is Given A Chance

HARTFORD (AP) — Connecticut residents continue to gobble up lottery tickets in large numbers today, while the state Gaming Commission worked to put the available tickets where the demand is.

Many banks ran out of tickets on Tuesday, the first day of sales, but on the other hand, there are many tickets in some banks that are just sitting there, said Asst. Lottery Director John Winchester.

The problem now is to redistribute the remaining tickets so that the maximum number back $5,000 of the $5 million tickets in the first week's batch so that it could replenish the supplies at banks which ran out. The $5,000 reserve will be distributed today, Winchester said.

The banks serve both as distribution points for tickets and collection points for money. Although ticket agents are supposed to contact the banks if they want more tickets, many have been calling the Gaming Commission directly, Winchester said.

It is difficult to assess the performance of the lottery so far, but the Gaming Commission is making spot checks of ticket agents throughout the state and the banks will retain 5 per cent of their sales, plus the right to invest the money during a so-called "hot period" before they turn in the proceeds to the state.

Gov. Thomas J. Meskill said that the lottery is a success if it averages 1.5 million tickets a week. The gross from 1.5 million tickets would be $750,000, although state and the banks share that.

The Berrigans Are Proposed For Nobel Prize

OSLO (AP) — The Berrigan brothers are among 66 candidates proposed for the 1972 Nobel Peace Prize.

August Schoer, the Nobel institute director, announced Tuesday that the American anti-war activists, Philip and Daniel Berrigan, both Roman Catholic priests, are on the list. Both are in federal prison for destroying draft records.

Others nominated include a woman—Dr. Elsie Ottem-Jensen, 66, Swedish family planning expert—and Brazilian Archbishop Dom Hélder Câmara, who has accused the military regime there of committing torture.

The 1971 peace prize went to West German Chancellor Willy Brandt.

Donations Aid Many

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Lottery money donated by the community to cover the medical expenses of a 5-year-old girl sexually attacked has been divided among eight Richmond agencies with programs for children.

Mayor Byron E. Klute said $4,800 has been on deposit in two Richmond banks since November 1969. The funds represented the remainder of $5,000 given by Richmond residents after the plight of the child was publicized.

Klute explained most of the donations were made anonymously, so the money could not be returned.

With the strike in its sixth week, 10 power plants shut down and 70 more reduced their output. The power cuts have increased 10 per cent today, increasing the backlog for homes, factories and offices to three three-hour periods, or a total of nine hours.

Health met with Victor Pesh, general secretary of the 3-million-member TUC, and appealed to him to urge the miners back to work. Feather rejected the appeal and accused the government of mishandling the strike.

The miners are demanding a raise of $12.50 over their current basic pay of $40.40 a week. The National Coal Board has offered them half this amount; and an inquiry board is now holding hearings with the hope of reaching a recommendation by Friday.

Feathers Flew

Hammond, Ind. (AP) Poly put up a good fight, but burglars will get more than $1,000 in belongings and cash from the Patrick O'Meara residence here.

When police arrived they found a trail of feathers leading to the door.

Mrs. O'Meara said Poly, a 50-year-old parrot, was very talkative and friendly. With all the feathers around, he must have put up a good fight, she said.

Water Firm To Relocate Its Office

The Manchester Water Co., which serves the northern section of town, is planning to move its offices into the recently completed Standard Education building at 150 N. Main St.

The privately owned water company is slated to lease 600 square feet on the ground floor of the new building, the last major construction project in the North End Redevelopment project.

The issue, to take effect March 1, was to be signed 2 p.m. today in the offices of owner James Malley, president of Standard Education.

Reactor T. J. Crockett of Manchester is handling the transaction. The company's offices are presently at 240 N. Main St. in the W. G. Cleary building.

Court Delays Devlin Case After March

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, (AP) — A placed-slaying crowd erupted into cheers today when a court case against Bernadette Devlin and other civil rights leaders was adjourned in the interests of justice.

Health met with Victor Pesh, general secretary of the 3-million-member TUC, and appealed to him to urge the miners back to work. Feather rejected the appeal and accused the government of mishandling the strike.

The miners are demanding a raise of $12.50 over their current basic pay of $40.40 a week. The National Coal Board has offered them half this amount; and an inquiry board is now holding hearings with the hope of reaching a recommendation by Friday.

Joe Gormley, president of the striking National Union of Mine-workers, said that if the tribunal's recommendations are not acceptable to his men, "I hesitate to think what will happen to Britain."

"We are not making any threats," he said. "This is a fact of life."

Stamps in the News

By SYD KRONISH AP Newsfeatures

One of the "hottest" new stamps of philately is the collection of maxi-cards—those large size cards with special appeal for those desirous of keeping unusual stamp items in their possession.

Although maxi-cards in themselves are not new, the upsurge in their popularity is noted throughout the country.

Here's a switch on stamp issuing by the United Nations Postal Administration.

Minibus Publications has released 11 different statements for albums in 1971 to enable collectors to complete their full year's stamping.

Draft-Mills Effort Grows

By MICHAEL PUTZEL Associated Press Writer

The latest entry in the Democratic presidential sweepstakes, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, says he will accept the nomination if he gets it, but he doesn't have time to campaign before the convention in July.

Although Mills supporters are vigorously promoting the congressman as a write-in candidate in the state's March 7 Democratic primary, his one-day trip gave him little exposure compared to those Democrats formally running in the nation's lead-off primary contest.

In Washington, meanwhile, the Senate Democratic Policy Committee called for public hearings on presidential side H. R. Haldeman for any criticism of President Nixon's Vietnam peace proposal.

But the outspoken former governor of Maryland said, if he thinks he would hurt Nixon's chances for reelection, he will decline voluntarily and "go back to private life."

Book Review

GRECE THROUGH THE AGES, by Helen Hill Miller. Whatver Americans may think of the present Greece, it has not cooled their zeal for travel to the cradle of classic heritage. Bob Harting Associated Press

COME OUT SMOKIN' by Phil Pepe, Edward McCann & Georgepage, $6.95. This is an interesting story of the life of Joe Fraiser, the world's heavyweight boxing champion who has won every road: "As seen by travelers from Harodius to Byron." Fraiser was the champion of the world and Pepe pulls no punches in getting across the fact that Joe, before he handed Muhammad Ali his only beating, called him whom he calls "The Clay" had it easy in boxing." Fraiser tells Pepe, "A white man in his corner, though rich plantation owners to back him and a white lawyer to keep him out of jail and he's going to Uncle Tom me. I have a black man in my corner, a man, my lawyer and both black and white people backing me."

Pepe goes right through Fraiser's career from the time he was the second youngest of 13 children of a carpenter and of classical art is the collection of old prints she has gathered showing how the statues and buildings looked to travelers of the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries. The remains were at the ready, but less learned than now.

For instance, there are sketches giving a reasonably clear concept of how the Parthenon looked before the statues with which Phedias adorned the front and back. There is even an old drawing based on descriptions of the classical age, then being used as a Turkish power magazine. Better to have the sculptures in the protection of the British Museum and the Louvre than exposed to further vicissitudes of history, at least from the viewpoint of all who except the Greeks.
