Spectators for the rained-out DeMolay parade yesterday? Nope. They are—most of them—John Mather Chapter DeMolay boys of Manchester, taking cover under the overhang at Blau's on Main St., near the assembly area for the parade that was to mark the 50th anniversary of DeMolay in Connecticut. Like the proverbial short sports story, this one was in three words: Rain; No Parade. The anniversary banquet did take place at the Masonic Temple. See Page 8 for details. (Herald photo by Pinto)

East, West Pair Confer in Paris

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Arthur K. Watson and Chinese Ambassador Huang Chen met today for the first in the series of meetings they will hold to maintain contact between their governments.

The meeting at the Chinese Embassy on Avenue George V lasted 50 minutes and Watson told newsmen: "We had a very friendly and warm discussion, and we hope it is the beginning of many others."

Asked when the next meeting would take place, Watson replied: "We will not be formal about fixing dates. Today's was just the beginning of several meetings, and we hope we will be continuing the dialogue."

Neither Watson nor the Chinese said what was discussed, but the White House in announcing Friday that Paris had been chosen as the site for the ambassadorial talks said they would deal with travel and trade matters.

President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai agreed during Nixon's trip to China last month to maintain contact between their governments through meetings in the capital of some third country where both governments are represented.

Watson was summoned to Washington last Thursday and briefed.

The U.S. envoy said the first meeting was the "continuation of President Nixon's trip to China where he received such a good welcome."

The two ambassadors met with only a Chinese interpreter present. Afterward Huang saw Watson to his limousine, which was parked in a driveway inside the embassy building.

"We will see each other when we need to see each other," Watson told newsmen.

Huang was even less communicative. He told newsmen: "Following the joint Chinese-

U.S. communique, both sides have agreed that Paris should be the channel to maintain contacts. These contacts have been started by this meeting today."

Both ambassadors were smiling when they walked down the steps to the ground floor. Before entering his car, Watson shook hands with Huang and said in French: "Dear friend, thank you very much for your kind reception."

Meskill Foresees Pay Raise Battle

HARTFORD (AP)—The question of a pay raise for state employees may provide the biggest battle of the legislative session, Gov. Thomas J. Meskill said today.

The Republican governor recommended no raise for the next fiscal year, but Democratic legislative leaders are considering one—provided they can find the money for it.

Meskill said at his news conference that the raise was likely to be "the biggest idea of dispute" in his relations with the Democratic legislature.

"That's the area where there will be a contest," he said.

It is possible to defer the budgetary impact of a raise by making it effective late in the fiscal year, the governor said, but the legislature would still have to face the question: "Where's the money going to come from?"

Meskill, who is scheduled to meet Tuesday with the Democratic leaders to discuss congressional redistricting, said he would also be willing to talk about "anything the legislative leaders want to discuss."

When asked whether he was satisfied with the pace of the legislative session, which must

Senators Wait Quiz of Lobbyist

Two heart specialists who examined Dita Beard at the request of the Senate Judiciary Committee say the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. lobbyist will be well enough to testify in a day or two but shouldn't leave her hospital bed.

The committee wants to question Mr. Beard about a memorandum attributed to her that links the settlement of a Justice Department antitrust suit against ITT to the firm's pledge of $400,000 to the Republican National Convention.

Mrs. Beard, 53, has been in a Denver hospital, reportedly suffering from a heart condition, since the committee took up the ITT case at the request of Richard G. Kleindienst, whom President Nixon has nominated to succeed John N. Mitchell as head of the Justice Department.

The two unidentified specialists, picked by President Robert F. Kennedy, of the Denver Medical Society to examine Mrs. Beard Sunday, agreed with her two doctors that she was in no condition to travel to Washington to testify but that she would be able to give testimony to committee members from her hospital bed.

They also concurred with the treatment she is receiving. Dr. Bosworth said he selected the physicians at the request of the Senate committee, which resumes the hearings Tuesday with testimony from Mitchell. Meanwhile, Republican Sen. Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky

Angry Blacks Grind Out Program

By AUSTIN SCOTT
GARY, Ind. (AP) — The first National Black Political Convention has concluded an at times angry, at times wildly enthusiastic, meeting. Left as its most visible accomplishment was the creation of a new black political movement.

Whether "The National Assembly," as the new movement was tentatively called, might eventually evolve into a third political party no one could say. But great things were predicted for its future.

"All of these seeds have begun to come together and germinate into one flower," said Chicago's Rev. Jesse Jackson, comparing the new movement to independent black state political movements in South Carolina, Mississippi and Alabama.

"If we do nothing else today," Jackson said, "we will have made a revolutionary step toward a black political nation in this country and in the world."

A combination of unexpectedly hot debates and long, confusing parliamentary wrangles on the convention floor left one of the three-day assembly's main tasks unfinished at the closing session Sunday night—adoption of resolutions.

Northerners Hoping To Beat Wallace

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie, criss-crossing Florida in the last full day of campaigning, say they still have a chance of defeating Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace Tuesday in the nation's second 1972 presidential primary.

Wallace remains the heavy favorite. Most observers consider Humphrey and Muskie competing for second, although Jackson says his polls put him neck-and-neck with them. Lindsay and McGovern are believed contending for fifth, though some Lindsay aides see him finishing higher. Also on the ballot: Rep. Shirley Chisholm

In campaigning Sunday, all of the major candidates except Muskie appeared on television interview programs. Humphrey, Wallace and Jackson on the three network shows and McGovern and Lindsay in the remains of what started out as an all candidate debate.

Wallace, however, predicts he'll top the 11-man Democratic field and says he has an excellent chance of capturing a majority of the state's 81 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, who is making Florida a major test of his presidential candidacy, says he has a good chance of pulling ahead of Muskie and Humphrey and finishing second.

And New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, appearing with Sen. George S. McGovern on a television interview show from which all of the other candidates pulled out, predicted "the voters of Florida may surprise the country" with how they vote on Wallace.

"He may not get as big a vote as everybody seems to think he is," the New York mayor added.

All of the candidates had busy schedules today as they campaigned in the complicated contest, in which victories will be judged both on the relative standing of the contenders in the statewide vote and on how many delegates each wins by finishing first in one of Florida's 12 congressional districts.

Lindsay planned to spend the day in the Miami and Miami Beach area, as did McGovern, after a brief hop up to St. Petersburg.

In the Republican primary, conservative Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio campaigns in the Miami area in what most observers consider a doomed bid to defeat President Nixon for the state's 40 GOP convention delegates.

Senators Favor National Primary

WASHINGTON (AP) — State-by-state presidential primaries are nothing more than a traveling circus and should be replaced with a single national primary, two ranking senators said today.

"For the underfinanced and understaffed candidate," Mansfield said, "the effect is always fatal. For the American voter, the effect is one of bewildering confusion and at times, revulsion."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont are proposing a constitutional amendment to eliminate the various state presidential primaries and establish a single contest in early August of election years.

The Mansfield-Aiken proposal would establish a single primary for any party whose candidate received at least 10 per cent of the national vote in the previous presidential election.

Candidates would become eligible for the primary by submitting petitions signed by voters numbering at least 1 per cent of that party's total vote in the previous national election.

Another provision would set required minimums of support in at least 17 of the 50 states, a presumably to prevent a candidate with only regional popularity from gaining a spot on the primary ballot.

Each party's nomination would go to the candidate with the most primary votes, a plurality rather than a majority. However if no candidate were to receive 40 per cent of the vote, a runoff between the top two would be held four weeks later.

New spending limitations on presidential campaigns also would apply in the primary campaigns, under the Mansfield-Aiken amendment.

Mansfield said the four-month-long primary season leaves candidates "physically exhausted, financially deflated, and more often than not, politically defeated."

National party conventions still would be held to select vice presidential candidates and presumably to adopt a platform.

"I've been fed up for years with these circuses taking place in various states," Mansfield said over the weekend. "It's expensive and hard on the candidates."

The current Florida campaign, Mansfield added, dates with only regional popularity from gaining a spot on the primary ballot.

Mansfield said the present schedule of 24 primaries—11 more than in 1968—offers a mishmash of inconsistent and often conflicting primary laws.

The votes prove nothing, Mansfield said, because different candidates enter different primaries and different laws regulate each one.

School Committee To Buy National Evaluation Study

The School Study Committee has voted to buy copies of the National Study of School Evaluation (NSSSE) at a cost of about $12,000, to be paid by the Board of Education. Mrs. Harriet Rosen, secretary, abstained.

Charles Bailey, who brought the matter to the attention of the committee, said David Rutledge, Albert Hadjigian, Mrs. Nancy Ruffer, Mrs. Betty Dinnick and Mrs. Joyce Pearce all voted for the study.

Mrs. Rosen said using the NSSSE as a guide will extend the scope of the group. She said it was not the charge of the committee to evaluate the school in this way.

Bailey said the group would be more organized if the study were used, and that anything not pertinent could be left out. "I will see that the town committee is instructed to find out if there will be a need for additional buildings in the future," he said.

The group formed several committees. This group will also investigate finance, including the economic community, tax structure, financial ability, school finance and recommendations.

Why a $2,000 Volkswagen costs a lot less than any other $2,000 car.

Listen to the logic. Give or take a few dollars, most new economy cars are priced just about the same these days.

Around $2,000. But come trade-in time, a weird thing happens. Some are worth more to you than others. And it's based on what's happened in the past, after 3 or 4 years, not one is worth more cash than the VW Beetle!

So the real price you pay for a car is the difference between what you pay now and what you get back later, when you sell it. Anyhow, take a good look at the chart at the bottom. And please be careful. It's one thing to say today, "I just bought the lowest-priced car in town." It's another thing tomorrow to say, "I just sold the lowest-priced car in town."

Hebron-Health Nurse's Report

Public Health Nurse Mrs. Nancy Lack reported to the Board of Education last week that 285 children were seen in the health rooms of both elementary schools during the school days in February. Thirty-three of these children were excluded from school, mostly for illness.

Of the 200 accidents and injuries requiring first aid, 100 occurred on the playground, 35 in the classrooms, 17 were miscellaneous and 48 were non-school related.

During the month, Mrs. Lack stated that vision rechecks were continued with several students referred for defects. Regular audio screenings were also continued in grades kindergarten through third and sixth grade.

Also during February, school physician Dr. Christopher O'Connor began the school physical examinations for second and fifth grade students. Parents of children requiring further medical evaluation were notified. Remaining examinations will be scheduled in both schools in the near future, according to Mrs. Lack.

The dental program of cleaning and prophylaxis was also in progress during the month and audio-visual material and literature were distributed to third grade children.

Mrs. Lack also reported that

In conjunction with the ongoing scheduling process at Rham, a meeting will be held in the Rham Cafeteria on Wednesday evening at 7:30 for parents of 8th grade students. Parents of older students who may have missed the previous meetings are welcome.

Members of the Guidance Department will speak briefly on some overall considerations in planning a high school program. Time will also be allowed for questions and answers.

Tolland-O'Neill Visits Town Seeking Support

State Rep. William O'Neill, assistant majority leader of the House, came to Tolland Friday night, looking for support in his bid for the Democratic Congressional nomination.

Although he remains "officially uncommitted" O'Neill made it clear he is definitely in the running for the nomination, and he sought to lay to rest the "steely myth."

The term "steely myth" refers to which the Democrats will be using to label him, in an attempt to counter the widespread publicity Republican incumbent Congressman Robert Studd has received throughout the country in all forms of the media.

Noting the Democrats have a voter registration lead of 16,800 people over the Republicans in the second district O'Neill said the district will not only elect a Democratic congressman but vote for a Democratic president.

"We cannot allow ourselves to be torn apart," O'Neill warned, pointing to both national and local scenes and to the district primary fight two years ago between John Rickett and William Stanley.

O'Neill received an enthusiastic response from members of the Tolland Democratic Town Committee and county Democratic leaders also attending the meeting.

Speaking briefly on the current state legislative activity, O'Neill said he had met with state state commissioners of the various departments.

Each committee is directly acting on a Governor Thomas Meskill," he stated. "They are afraid to make decisions." He predicted the legislature will "raise slightly" the ADM grant to municipalities for education costs.

Regarding reapportionment of the legislature, O'Neill claimed the district boundaries were drawn for only one reason, "to elect a Republican legislature" the next ten years. If the district boundaries stay on their present course the Republicans will have 100,000 more registered voters than the Democrats when they are in the drivers' seat.

O'Neill is one of five Democrats reportedly interested in seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress from the second district.

The concept of "open space school" education will be the presidential issue of the Wednesday night meeting of the Meadowbrook School PTO at the school's all purpose room.

Lewis Galtis, principal of the open space school in Rocky Hill will explain the open space concept and the importance of its implementation.

Accidents Claim 4 Lives in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Weekend accidents in Connecticut claimed four lives, including three in traffic and one in a riding mishap.

Allison Jane Hathway, 15, of Mansfield died Sunday of a broken neck after a fall from a horse. State police said her horse balked as she tried to jump a park, throwing her to the ground.

On Saturday, a one-car crash on Mountain Road in Mansfield claimed two lives. The victims were the driver, Derek Hebold, 21, of Windsor, and his passenger, James Nasutisclius, 22, of Waterbury. Police said the car climbed a snowbank, hit two trees and flipped onto its roof.

Also Saturday, Harry Borgegan, 81, of Waterbury was killed in a two-car crash on North Main Street, police said.

Fire Department Seeking Additional Pumper Truck

The Tolland Volunteer Fire Department has submitted a request of $68,287 to the Board of Finance.

Headline the addition of one pumper truck to the existing Merrow Road Firehouse and the purchase of a new tank pumper truck.

The two capital equipment items are priority items under the current budget.

The cost of the additional equipment is $68,287.

A new state statute will require the assessors to inspect all real estate as soon as the certificate of occupancy is issued, creating additional work for the assessors.

It will also mean increased revenue for the town, however, since it will no longer be necessary to wait until the following October to tax the property at its full value.

The same state statute will affect the tax collector as well, since it will no longer be necessary to wait until the following October to tax the property at its full value.

The Board of Assessors' Budget for 1972-73 was requested at $1,350,000. The request was cut to $1,200,000.

The department expanded its membership from 43 to 65 in part-time membership in 1971-72, necessitating the purchase of additional equipment for the new members, which is included in the proposed budget.

Other items include funds for the remodeling of the Leonard's Corner Firehouse, some of which is being done to cut costs.

Additional radios and monitors are included in the budget for the new members, along with increased maintenance costs for the existing radios.

Included in the budget is a $700 allocation for reimbursement of expenses for the fire chief, up from $400 at present as well as a first time appropriation of $300 for the expenses of the assistant chief.

Littell donated his civil defense chief's hat for presenting a CD budget request of $1,000—up from $200 for the 1971-72 fiscal year.

The town is back on the federal surplus plan, which enables town officials to purchase surplus items in Wethersfield at excellent savings, according to Littell.

Already purchased through these facilities this year are a calculator, typewriter and other equipment for the road superintendent and a 2 1/2 ton dump truck that is being used by the fire department.

Littell is trying to switch the CD contract to the fire department, where the town has made the most savings.

The town doesn't take civil defense seriously enough," Littell said. "The fire department, because of its emergency. The outdated first aid equipment is also being replaced.

$30,000 Awarded Victim's Estate In Car Crash

A Superior Court jury has awarded $30,000 to the estate of Verence Bunk, 19, of Windsor who was killed in an auto accident on Interstate 91 in New Haven five years ago.

The jury had to decide who drove the truck that was involved in the accident. Bunk and Paul A. Spring, 17, of Windsor, were both involved in the crash.

The plaintiff brought in experts to testify that Spring must have been the driver because his body was thrown the greatest distance. They said the car hit an abutment first with its left side, causing that part of the vehicle to stop quicker than the passenger side, resulting in a greater propellant force on the driver.

The judgment was against the estate of Spring, administered by Wilbur Spring of Windsor.

'Grease Job' Charge Rapped By Mayor

Questioning remarks made by Democrat Councilman Thomas McCoy, Mayor Frank McGooey said he was not "greasing" anyone.

Referring to remarks by McCoy at a meeting held at the council meeting to cut off debate, McGooey said he was not "greasing" anyone.

Following the meeting, McCoy issued a statement saying he would ask for a change in council rules which would allow council members to speak at least ten minutes on any subject under debate.

McCoy said these remarks were "clear and ugly" and that he was not "greasing" anyone.

Hole Where the Walkway Was

Recent heavy rains and a leak in an underground conduit next to Memorial Field at Manchester High School combined to wash out this substantial area outside fence on the west side of the field. The conduit is part of a system for removing surface water from the field and feeding it into Bigelow Brook. According to Charles Crocinni, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds with the Board of Education, the pipe will be repaired and the area rebuilt by the town highway department. The pole, which lights the path leading to the tennis courts on Center St., will have to be reset, Crocinni says. The repairs will probably be completed by the end of the week, according to Crocinni. Irving Writing Book on 'Hoax'?

NEW YORK (AP)—Sources close to author Clifford Irving say he is writing another book—this one about his publicly admitted role in the $750,000 Howard Hughes autobiography hoax.

Proceeds from the sale of the book would go toward repaying the defunct publisher, McGraw-Hill, Inc., the $200,000 it is seeking in restitution for advances and expenses it paid, the sources said. Much of the total is reported to be intact.

Irving hopes to complete the new manuscript by June 15, the day before he, his wife Edith and researcher Richard Suskind are to be sentenced in the case, it was said.

The Irving pleaded guilty to federal conspiracy charges Tuesday and were charged with grand larceny and conspiracy, Irving, 41, and Edith, 36, each could face, between the federal and state charges, a maximum of 13 years in prison and $11,000 in fines. Suskind, 46, who was named a co-con-

China Business Lagging at Start

NEW YORK (AP)—Present prospects of American businessmen closing deals over a friendly cup of tea in Peking are slim.

And even if the Americans get to Peking, they might find there was no sugar in the tea, or in the business deal.

Since President Nixon's trip to the People's Republic, businessmen all over the United States have been weighing their chances of opening trade with the Chinese mainland.

There are no immediate signs of a quick development of trade by American businessmen as an example.

In Los Angeles, for instance, an export consultant has been waiting eight weeks for an answer to his application to attend a Chinese trade fair.

The head of a chemical company in Seattle says, "We've been working on this since last year, but the Chinese do not seem to be interested in our products."

Such frustrations have made export-import specialists wary, and here are some of the reasons.

"The People's Republic of China clings to a long-cherished policy of self-sufficiency. It is reluctant to become dependent on any outside power and does not want to buy more than it can sell in the world market. It wants to keep an overall balance of trade."

China's imports include few consumer goods, except grain and grain imports have been going down.

Among the Republican, President Nixon is expected to be a runaway winner over conservative Rep. John Ashbrook of Ohio, who has campaigned in Florida the past week. Liberal Rep. Paul N. McCloskey of California dropped out of the race last week but is still on the ballot here.

Nixon is also expected to win all 40 delegates to the Republican National Convention.

The 81 Democratic Delegates may be split, with Wallace's rivals hoping to capture close to half of them in the congressional districts of the Tampa-St. Petersburg and Miami areas.

Polls are open from 7 a.m. EST to 7 p.m. More than two-

Ballots Under the Palms Second Place, Primary Concern

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The early turnout was moderate today as the first of an anticipated two million Floridians voted in a presidential primary expected to influence the prospects of three likely Democratic leaders more than those of the probable winner, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

With 11 Democrats dividing the vote, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine said he thought "the pattern that emerges over several primaries" will be more significant than just the Florida returns.

Muskie is fighting with Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Henry M. Jackson of Washington for second place behind Wallace's anti-busing handwagons and for position in the multi-candidate scramble for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In the Miami area, which includes Miami Beach where 90 per cent of the population is aged over 65, the early turnout was reported to be about normal. In Leon County which includes the state capital of Tallahassee more than 470 miles to the north, an election supervisor reported voting as "pretty steady" but "no big rush."

In Escambia County an election supervisor said the turnout in the westernmost panhandle area appeared to be "around 80 to 85 per cent," which was about average.

Officials reported that in one county, Alachua, home of the University of Florida, the turnout was "real swift" with many young people going to the polls.

For Muskie, Florida could further cloud a front-runner image that suffered when he polled 48.4 per cent of the votes in winning last week's New Hampshire primary in his native New England. Humphrey and Jackson hope for strong showings to spur their drives to overtake Muskie.

Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, the surprisingly strong runner-up to Muskie in New Hampshire, and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, a former Republican in his first race as a Democrat, are the other major contenders in the Democratic field.

All six top Democrats were optimistic in separate inter-

Hussein on Air Tomorrow

BERUT (AP)—King Hussein has reached a full peace agreement with Israel, Baghdad Radio reported today.

Earlier, the royal palace in Amman announced Hussein would make a "statement of importance" Wednesday concerning the territory Israel seized from Jordan in the 1967 war.

The Israeli broadcast said the agreement provides that the occupied territory on the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip which Egypt occupied before the war will become an autonomous Palestinian state federated with Jordan in a United Arab Kingdom under King Hussein's Hashemite throne.

The old Arab quarter of Jerusalem or part of it is to be the capital of the new Palestinian state, Baghdad Radio said. But Israeli leaders have said repeatedly Jerusalem is now a united city under Israeli rule and will never be divided again.

A dispatch from Amman said details of a broad new plan to break the deadlock between Jordan and Israel were handed to the ambassadors to the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and the Arab countries Monday.

The Jordanian government newspaper Al-Dustour said the king would announce a "plan to consolidate national unity between the two banks of Jordan on a permanent basis of decentralization."

The use of the term decentralization indicated some form of autonomy for the Palestinian population on both sides of the Jordan River.

The radio broadcast said the Israeli news agency dispatch from Amman which said the king hoped to get approval of his plan at a meeting this afternoon with members of Jordan's parliament.

The radio gave these highlights of the agreement:

"Proclamation of the federal state under Hussein to be called the United Arab Kingdom."

"The kingdom is to be made up of two autonomous states, Palestine and Jordan, each of which will have its own government for internal affairs."

"The Palestinian government will have jurisdiction over the entire west bank of Jordan which Israel captured in 1967."

"The Palestinian government will have jurisdiction over the entire west bank of Jordan which Israel captured in 1967."

George Habaash, secretary-general of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, said the agreement was a "treacherous sellout" of the Palestinian cause and predicted a violent reaction throughout the Arab world.

U.S. Bombers Rip Jungle Quarters

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. B52 bombers, blasting a path for a South Vietnamese armored drive into eastern Cambodia, destroyed a major North Vietnamese jungle headquarters Monday night, military authorities reported today.

"It was one hell of a big camp," said a U.S. officer. He said the air strikes laid bare a complex of more than 100 underground bunkers filled with supplies and ammunition.

Interruption of a prisoner and aerial spotters' reports indicated at least 24 enemy soldiers were killed in the bombardment and as many as 200 others fled into the jungle to miles inside Cambodia and about 80 miles northwest of Saigon.
