The tremendous jump in hospital costs has forced millions who already have hospitalization to dig into savings or go into debt. In fact, very few people have enough savings or income to cover the TOTAL cost of being sick or injured.

How long could you stay in the hospital without worrying about the pile-up of daily expenses? Who will pay for the expenses of costly X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? And how about the expense at home rent, food, telephone and others that just go on and on? With expenses like these, could you avoid having your savings wiped out and your family life upset?

Wouldn't it be comforting to know these problems could be solved by your Tax-Free Extra Cash Plan -- the plan that gives you $1000.00 a month -- IN CASH -- tax-free.

Here's Why You Need This TAX-FREE EXTRA CASH Plan in Addition to Ordinary Hospitalization

When you receive your policy, take your time to examine it carefully. It's written in plain language with NO FINE PRINT. Show it to any trusted advisor--your doctor, your lawyer, your clergyman. In fact, show it to your own insurance agent, even though he probably works for another insurance company! If he is a personal friend, he wants what is best for you. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better value available. Even then, if you're not completely satisfied, you may return the policy within 30 days. However, if you decide to continue this worthwhile protection, you may do so at these low rates:

Union Fidelity's Low Monthly Rates $1000.00-A-MONTH TAX-FREE EXTRA CASH PLAN

How Can We Offer All This Protection For So Little?

UNION FIDELITY ENROLLS A LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE AT ONE TIME... direct by mail. This highly efficient "mass enrollment" eliminates salesman and other costly overhead -- cutting our costs to the bone. Also, by having benefits for sickness begin immediately after the third day in the hospital, we can avoid the small one, two and three day claims which run up our operating costs.

Here's What Your Plan Covers The Tax-Free Extra Cash Plan covers you for EVERYTHING but the following minimum necessary exclusions: hospitalization caused by mental disorders; acts of war; or care provided in a federal government hospital. Under the Husband-Wife Plan or All-Family Plan, EVEN MATERNITY BENEFITS ARE PROVIDED if you so desire. Even sickness you have previously had, or have right now, will be covered after the policy is in force for only 2 years, for people under 63. If you're 63, we will cover you for pre-existing conditions after just one year.

Benefits for accident are payable from the very first day the policy is in force. Benefits for sickness are paid immediately after the third day in the hospital when the policy has been in force for only 30 days. We will pay you for the following diseases: tuberculosis; all bladder disorders; diabetes; cancer; heart or circulatory disease or disturbance; hernia; sickness resulting in surgery; or disease of the generative organs, if the loss occurs after the policy has been in force for only 6 months.

Apollo Defies Jinxes

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A guidance system problem that troubled the Apollo 16 command ship in one position was solved today, but the astronauts were awakened more than an hour early to wrestle with radio antenna trouble.

Neither problem posed any threat to the astronauts or to the mission as Apollo 16 hurtled on toward a Wednesday rendezvous with the Moon.

They were the third and fourth grumbles, none of them serious, to plague John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II on their two-day-old journey to the moon's mountainous highlands.

Earlier, they reported fainting of the lunar lander Orion and that one of 12 ladders connecting the command and lunar ships was not fastened properly.

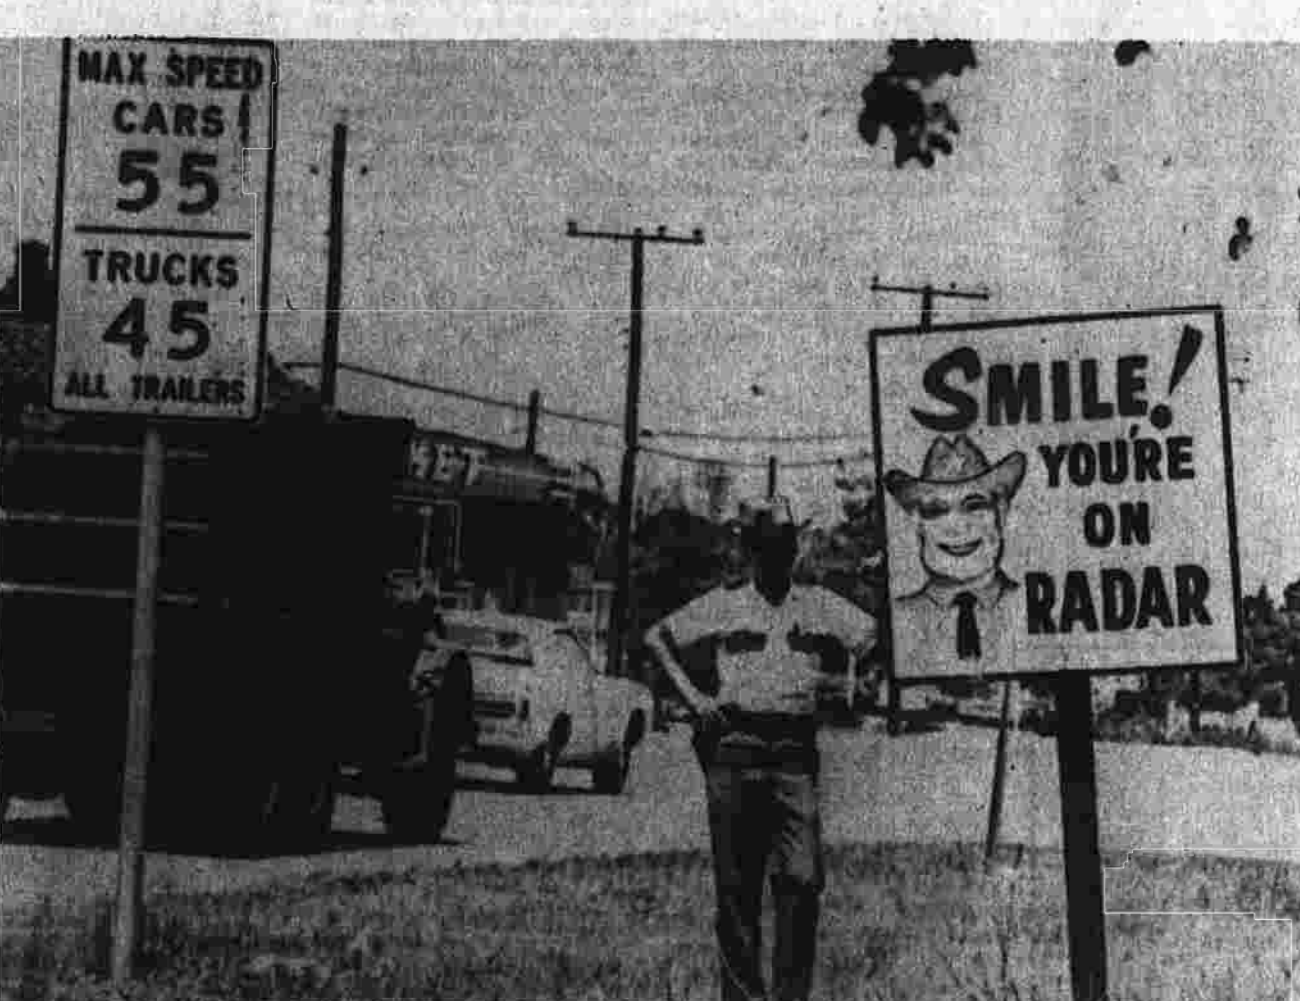

As Mattingly was taking star sightings early today on the planet Jupiter, a red warning light flashed in the cockpit. Something had happened to the guidance and navigation system, preventing the spacecraft from moving left or right.

"I don't know what happened," Mattingly, the command module pilot, radioed. "I was down looking at the optics and all of a sudden I just saw a warning light and I got no attitude (position) and a gimbal lock light... It looks like the platform might be frozen."

He referred to the inertial guidance system platform. The spacecraft has a backup system that would allow it to home in if the primary guidance failed. If there were a primary failure, the moon landing would be canceled.

Mission Control evaluated the problem and sent a series of coded commands. Mattingly fed into the guidance computer while Young and Duke monitored systems. The action realigned the platform and Mattingly verified it was okay with a series of star sightings on the earth, sun, moon and several stars.

Assembly Speeds Toward Windup

By DON MEKLE Associated Press Writer HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The pressure was off today as the Connecticut General Assembly, unable to meet a self-imposed deadline of April 13, reconvened to tackle such controversial subjects as no-fault auto insurance, pay raises for state officials of all three branches of state government, and collective bargaining rights for state employees.

Edward Caldwell said the House will adjourn after a closed-door meeting of Senate and House Democratic leaders.

The Senate calendar is 15 pages long, and "I don't know if we can do it in one day," said the Bridgeport Democrat. "We may be back here the following day."

"We'll go as fast as we can," said Caldwell, "but we can't run this down anyone's throat. There's no need to."

The Senate planned to convene today at 11 a.m., but Caldwell conceded that the actual starting time depended on when the quorum of senators could be mustered.

Both the House and the Senate worked into the late hours of the night several times last week in an effort to reach by Tuesday, April 18, the self-imposed deadline originally proposed by House Speaker William Ratchford—could not be met.

The House planned to convene at 2 p.m. today to clean up its calendar, then the House will wait and see what the Senate might do that would require further House action.

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—Please give me as much information as possible about polycystic kidney disease. I have a diet that might possibly arrest the progress of the disease? Since high blood pressure and slight anemia have accompanied, or even been occasioned by, polycystic disease, is it alarming to have the pressure high and then down to 100, perhaps within minutes?
At what point in the progress of the disease must a transplant be advised? Can the disease be fatal in the age years around 40 and 60? My physician assumes that I have all these answers, but I don't have, so please help me out.
Dear Reader—Polycystic kidney disease originates with birth. Sometimes it is first noted in children. In other cases, it is first noted in adult life, as late as 50 years of age. Sometimes it is not diagnosed until after death or is found accidentally on X-ray examinations. The disease is a progressive disease of the little tubules in the kidney that collect urine and drain to the urinary system. Because these tubules become blocked and cause the kidney to press for forming urine, the blocked tubules eventually enlarge and become large, painless bleeding occurs. If the kidneys are able to clear the waste products from the body's metabolism and function reasonably well, then, of course, it is usually premature to use either the artificial kidney or transplant. So, your doctor will have to make a decision on the basis of chemical tests and your general physical condition. But he does have means of determining how well your kidneys are functioning. The availability of these forms of treatment is an example of some of the progress that has been made in medicine. It has only been a few short years ago that neither the artificial kidney nor kidney transplants could be considered and, when the kidneys of an individual with this problem deteriorated to the point where they could no longer function, there really wasn't anything that could be offered. Now, in many instances, there is. (NEWSPAPER INTERVIEW)

POLLY'S POINTERS Old Tie Is Pattern For Crocheting New One

By POLLY GRAMER
DEAR POLLY—Do tell Catherine that when crocheting neckties she should use a pattern for the width and length. I start at the wide end with a row of single crochet and add or decrease stitches as needed to follow the size of the pattern tie. This can be made all in one color or in stripes and I use 2 or 3-ply Orlon or wool for the work. When finished, I single crochet all around the tie for a neat finish. The weight yarn or thread used varies according to how heavy you wish the tie to be.—IDA
DEAR GIRLS—Mrs. E. K. uses four rows of each color to make a tie. For example, 4 rows red, 4 rows white, 4 rows blue, 4 rows white and then repeats these 16 rows until the tie is the desired size. To finish she crochets a border of single crochet in the color and lines it if desired. Many crochet pattern books that can be bought at needlework counters contain very detailed instructions for making patterns and for using various combinations of colors.—POLLY

School Bus Parking Supported, Opposed

Several Highland Park area residents opposed a request to allow school bus parking on land off Glen Rd. at last night's public hearing held by the Manchester Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA).
The request for a variance to allow the parking submitted by Manchester Bus Service owner Elmer M. Thrall of 671 Spring St. was one of nine items on the ZBA public hearing agenda.
About 20 townspeople were present for the hearing, which lasted until 11:30 at the Municipal Building hearing room. The ZBA application at about midnight, tabling action for every item until May 1.
Thrall's application for school bus parking involves Boston Cascade Corp. land (part of the former Cass Brook, parcel 10) now zoned part industrial and part rural residential, due to an old zoning error.
Boston Cascade has an application pending before the Planning and Zoning Commission, which would rezone the land industrial. The line separating the two zones runs through the center of the original Cass Brook mill.
Heavily in favor of Thrall's proposal were A. Lawrence Riker, 68 Spring St., and Anna C. Sampson, 715 Spring St., apparent leader of the opposition, said that the area was zoned residential and that the proposed parking site is far removed and screened from area residents, and noted that the homeowner closed to the site is Thrall.
Thrall added that noise would be a minimum, as he lives near the road and doesn't want noise either.
Other opponents mentioned possible traffic hazards on a narrow part of Spring St. and nearby Wyllye St. One opponent said that the area was "yellow metal" at the site.
The Boston Cascade property could not be developed until the paper manufacturer moved all operations to a plant in Vermont. The closing of the mill ended the 110-year history of paper-making at a Highland Park site.
The seven other items on the agenda, the only one drawing criticism was Pontiac Park's application for a variance to allow new car parking at the rear of 381 Main St. Several other items were also on the agenda, including a request for a variance to allow a new car parking area at the rear of 381 Main St. Several other items were also on the agenda, including a request for a variance to allow a new car parking area at the rear of 381 Main St.

Cycle Sales-Service Bid Meets Heavy Opposition

Manchester Sports Center's proposal to build a new motorcycle sales-service business at 484 Center St. has met heavy opposition at last night's public hearing held by the Manchester Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA).
Plans to build a 15,000 square foot building were favored by Town Manager Robert Weiss, and were opposed by neighboring industry. E. F. Houghton & Co. of 44 Stock Pl. said the dealer has not control over his own building.
Kelly said the type of motorcycle sales-service business at 484 Center St. Atty. Eugene Kelly representing the firm, said the proposed building at 418 New State Rd. is necessitated by a lack of space at the present location.
The company was seeking a special exception for a new car dealer's home (motorcycles), a certificate of approval, and a variance to allow the business use in an industrial zone.
Atty. Kelly characterized the land at the southwest corner of the N. Main and Stock intersection as a "marginal piece of industrial property with varying degrees of use." The parcel is "overloaded with topographical problems," Kelly said, and he said that his client's proposal would be the best use of the land.
The problems with the parcel include a 30-foot easement running through the property, which is the town's north-south sewer interceptor, as well as an Eighth District sewer line through the property about 100 feet from the street, Kelly said.
Weiss, speaking in support of the application, said the Manchester Sports Center proposal would "enhance the area."
Weiss said he was speaking as a salesman for the town investment in promoting industrial development.
Atty. Robert Ewing of Hartford, representing the town, said the location is "particularly poor," and that the hardships related to the parcel were created by the property owner.
Kelly, in reply to Ewing's claim, said property owner William Peck did not create the hardships. Kelly said the sewer easement was already there. Ewing dismissed the claim, saying that the hardships should not be taken into account.

The Thieving Frenchman

Photographed by A. E. Buechtel

At Dunquin where there is nothing but water and America except the Atlantic, there is a pub called Kruger...

When I came into the bar, I was to pass under the low door, the fisherman looked up from their pints and their weathered faces...

It was a bold and daring unilateral declaration of the war.

He began taking American troops out of Vietnam without any negotiation or assurance...

But it was — and is — in a situation where the United States has never had any really good options since the first Kennedy-Johnson commitments...

The President's policy for getting the United States out of the war had to provide itself some assurance that our getting out would not leave helpless those South Vietnamese we ourselves had encouraged to fight.

All of the choices this daring unilateral American withdrawal policy left open to Hanoi, — to wait for more complete American withdrawal and then revive the military war — to be content with the end of the military struggle and depend upon political techniques for an eventual attempt to take over South Vietnam...

The war cannot end and will not end that way. By making the effort for that kind of ending, Hanoi — not President Nixon — insists on the continuance of the war.

To blame the President because Hanoi took that choice, or to indulge in easy complaint and criticism because the President, in the new situation chosen by Hanoi, now finds his own options driven back toward a degree of American participation be sought to end, may be an easy outburst of political posturing, but it is as blind to the realities as were some of the policies and judgments which originally led us into the Vietnam commitment.

There has never been a chance of a good ending to this war. The President was aiming toward something that might have been tolerable, Hanoi has now taken everybody farther from any kind of ending.

Connecticut Yankee

By A.H.O.

The subject wasn't worth any great deal of attention, and the subject of the day was whether or not the House of Representatives might accidentally stumble into one of its occasional moments of decency.

After considerable flirtation, the House avoided its moment of decency by one vote, and gave its approval, by that margin, to the bill to make professional boxing legal again in Connecticut.

But there was, along the course the House followed that afternoon, a small but perfect gem of oratory which some anthropologist ought to get off the tapes word for word and then immortalize as an example of that combination of satire, wit and reality which sometimes make great political argument.

The speaker in question was Representative John W. Casadente, lawyer of New Haven, a first former in the House, a lanky fellow who moves with a flowing, languid grace and who has a face which reminds one of Donatello's bust of Nicola da Uzzano, also a politician, in his time.

Rep. Casadente, as it happened, the move to bring back the art of gentlemanly self-defense to the House of Representatives. Sometimes, in such matters, our villains are somehow more honest and appealing than our saints.

In any case, the situation was this: The House had just passed the bill, after considerable debate, by a vote of 89 to 78. The announcement of this result was greeted by applause and cheers from a group of boxing promoters up in the gallery, who were rebuked by the presiding officer. At this point, Casadente, seeking to lock up the result, moved to amend the bill to reconsider, which Casadente had intended to have done, won a majority of 118 to 78.

Every gift of God is but a harbinger of his greatest and only sufficient gift — that of himself. No gift unrecognized as coming from God is at its own best, therefore many things that we do because we are, must wait until we ask for them.

That we may know whence they come, let us look for them in all gifts we find him, then in him we shall find all things.

Black Book Jottings

Promoters had their fingers crossed last Sunday for the Spring Stakes stock car race program at Stafford speedway but when the weather turned in their favor and 11,000 fans turned out they were all smiles by dusk. The crowd was the largest ever to witness a stock car show in the state with several thousand turning away after the box office closed. John Wiggins, the first Manchester High football player to be tabbed for an athletic-scholar award by the Northern Connecticut Chapter of the Football Hall of Fame, has a narrowed down his choice of colleges to three, Trinity, Maine and Tufts. Wiggins, along with Pete Matthews of Westminster, John Scavronski of Stratford, Moryl Bird of Simsbury, Hal Downing of Waterford, Steve Swickenden of Windham and Brian Hersey of Woodbury will be admitted May 4 at Suffolk Academy. Tickets for the dinner may be secured in Manchester from either Bill Thomson or John McNary.

Short Staff

The third annual New Britain Invitational Track and Field Meet will be staged Saturday, April 29 at Central Connecticut State College. There will be five events scheduled. The baseball strike may have been a blessing in disguise for the majority of the major league baseball teams due to the unseasonable cold and rainy weather. The weather in the Boston-New York area since the scheduled opener April 6—has been, in one word, lousy. . . .

Here in There

Something new happened in baseball this week following rookie Bart Houston's no-hit, no-run pitching performance with the Chicago Cubs against Philadelphia. Houston was awarded a $10,000 bonus check from the front office, which is customary, and the man who called the pitch, pitcher manager Bill Russell, was the recipient of an extra check. Five of the 18 members of the Manchester Community College baseball team are local in an area. Ray Campese, Fred Gibbs, John Goodrow, Mike Hayden and Pete Lalasakis. Other squad members hail from Newton, Windsor, Willmanche, East Hartford, Tolland, Rockville, South Windsor, Enfield and Colchester. Ellington Ridge Country Club has received 64 applications for membership, the largest number since the club was formed a decade ago. A number who resigned are now anxious to return to the membership. . . .

Off the Cuff

Several members of the current coaching staff at Manchester High are reported interested in the position as director of athletics which Dick Danteloni will relinquish in June. . . . Bob Beck and Joe Mazack looked to win the Two-Man Best Ball Selected Nine Golf Tournament at Tolland last Sunday. The two some posted a seven under par 29 to top a field of 85. . . . Annual Manchester Open Golf Tournament will again be a two-day affair, Sept. 19-21 at the Country Club. . . . Membership in the Nelpic Tennis Club has been lowered for the 1972 season, which should please many private club, with a maximum membership of 100, plus spouses and children which brings the total number of players to 200, is contemplating the addition of one new court and the possibility of installing lights on several of the current courts. The latter must first clear zoning laws in Glastonbury. Suggestions for a swimming pool, badminton, padminton and an additional practice backboard have been tabled at the popular Lane Street layout. . . .

End of the Line

This has been a busy baseball season to say the least, both nationally and in this area. For example, East Catholic High's baseball game with St. Thomas Aquinas last Sunday, which was called off at mid-morning, then rescheduled several hours later. When the teams met on Monday, the game was the only one umpire was on hand and he worked the game alone. . . .

Mit Wilcox Not Impressed in First Look at A.L. Hitters

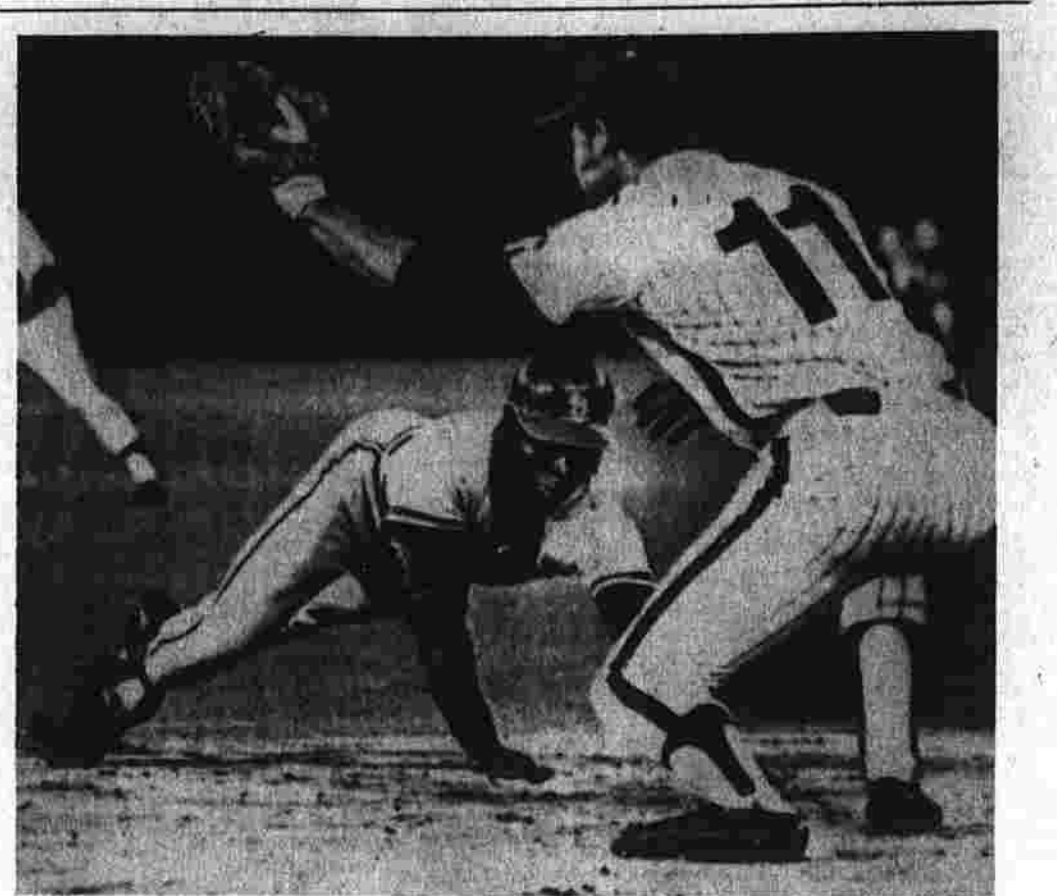

BOSTON (AP) — Mit Wilcox has had his first official look at American League hitters. He was not impressed.

Wilcox, who was traded by Cincinnati to the Cleveland Indians last December for outfielder Ted Williams, made his first American League start Monday and shut out the Boston Red Sox in their home opener, 4-0. He gave up just two hits, both to catcher Duane Josephson, and struck out eight every day to stay in shape. My whole walking three. In only one inning—the first—he let a low throw get by him and he almost walked one runner to reach base.

"This was just a follow-through of spring training," Josephson said. "He was not hitting down there. He just kept getting stronger out there. It was remarkable."

Josephson said that during the first two innings when Wilcox gave up all three of his walks, the 21-year-old right-hander was shaky.

"It was his first start in the league and he was prepping a little bit, losing his rhythm," Josephson said. "But don't forget, it's his first time anybody's ever hit two fast balls. Wilcox admitted he was a bit unsteady at the start. "It was a around."

Santorini Wins First Game in Two Seasons

NEW YORK (AP) — Would you believe the St. Louis Cardinals could win a game in which Lou Brock was picked off for the first time in his career, in which Joe Torre was forced out by an injury and in which the opposing pitcher belted a home run?

"It's been a long time," sighed Santorini, but the victory was doubly sweet—his family came down from Union, N.J., and it was his father's birthday.

The Cardinals' lumbago base-stealer was embarrassed in the first and second innings by Willie Fryman, who picked him off both times. And Cleveland, in addition to his potential for damaging error, was run down trying to score from base on a single by Jose Cruz.

The Cardinals prevailed, despite all that adversity plus Fryman's second career home run, when Ed Crosby, Torre's reliever, pitched the ninth and Ted Simmons doubled him home with the tie-breaker. Simmons eventually scored what proved to be the winning run on Dal Maxvill's sacrifice fly.

Blues Ready For Boston In Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's no rest for the weary, at least not as far as St. Louis Coach Alvin Robertson and the Blues are concerned.

The Blues, who edged the Minnesota North Stars 2-1 in a sudden-death overtime in the seventh game of their National Hockey League Stanley Cup quarter-final series last afternoon, will be back on the ice tonight in Boston Garden to open their best-of-seven semifinal series against the powerful Bruins.

Many of the Blues, who finished off Toronto in their quarter-final series one week ago, watched the national television broadcast of St. Louis-Minnesota clash to find out their next opponent.

"I think St. Louis will be a little more physical than Minnesota would be," announced Boston Coach Tom Johnson. "These players who've haven't seen in a long time and Jack [teammate Bob, Billy and Barclay] love to hit."

Goalie Ken Dryden was impressed with some of the St. Louis shooters, "guys like Kevin O'Brien who've haven't seen in a long time and Jack [teammate Bob, Billy and Barclay] love to hit."

Another coach Johnson and Boston's other goalie, Gerry Cheevers, will have to watch out for Phil Roberto, who is the leading scorer in the Stanley Cup so far with six goals and five assists for 11 points.

In the other Stanley Cup quarter-final series, New York will be at Chicago for their second game tonight. The Rangers won the opener 2-2 but had a goal in overtime which left them with a 1-2 tie to the game.

Although Giacomin missed the Rangers practice Monday, Coach Emilio Francese said the knee had been treated and Giacomin "is capable of playing."

Giacomin has been in the nets in all seven of the Rangers' quarter-final games against the Montreal Canadiens. He has a 1-2 record in his first three appearances.

Chicago was coming off a week's layoff after sweeping its quarter-final series against Pittsburgh. But Coach Billy Reay refused to use the layoff as an excuse.

"I'll want the layoff," he declared. "It was the Rangers'."

Must Game for Both As Bucks Face Lakers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks and Los Angeles Lakers have each won the games they really had to win in the West of the Forum.

But tonight's match at the Forum is a MUST game for both. The teams are tied 2-2 in the best-of-7 series for the National Basketball Association's Western Conference championship.

The nationally televised game starts at 10 p.m., EST. The Forum is a 17,000-seat sellout and with Los Angeles backed out for home television, five sites will carry closed-circuit telecasts.

In Monday night's only pro basketball action, Utah moved out to a 2-0 lead in their Western Division final series against Indiana by whipping the Pacers 117-97.

Willie Wise poured in 30 points for the Stars, including 11 in the third quarter, when Utah turned a one-point halftime deficit into a nine point lead. Zeno Beasley played despite a broken finger, scored 25 points and hauled down 23 rebounds for the Stars.

The third game of the series will be played Wednesday night at Anderson, Ind. Thursday will be the other ABA playoff series, which will feature the Pacers and the New York Knicks.

"Naturally, I would have liked to win it," Celtics coach Tom Heinsohn said after a 107-97 victory over the Boston Bruins. "But I'm pleased with the team's performance and what they accomplished in the contest. We did a lot of things well, especially on defense."

"Believe me, I'm more convinced now we can beat the Knicks and we will," he said. Then, with a reference to Boston's coach Red Aulick, Heinsohn added, "When your backs are against the wall, there's only one way to win."

Tom Heinsohn, who led the Celtics to 11 world championships in 13 years, reassured Heinsohn when the Bruins' coach Tom Yewell visited Sunday's game.

"You're going to be all right," Heinsohn said. "You've got the team and the team played well. You can take them."

The Celtics are looking for their first win in the first round of the playoffs since 1963. They have lost 11 of their last 12 games.

"We have to win our three home games and beat them in New York," he said.

The team is counting on big stars like Paul Pierce, Scottie Pippen, and New York's Kuberik had 16 points, eight of them in the final period.

Helsinki Engineering Student Returns BAA Title to Finland

BOSTON (AP) — Olavi Suomalainen, an engineering student in Helsinki, returned the Boston A.A. Marathon championship to Finland today in extending foreign domination of the 76-year-old distance run for a handful of prizes and a bowl of beef stew.

The 25-year-old Suomalainen, who came to the States in 1967, topped a field of 1,081 Boston College, "Heartbreak Hill" has cost many runners a lot of money and a lot of time. Monday in 2 hours, 15 minutes, 39 seconds.

Suomalainen gradually closed the gap, pulling to within the margin of the runner, Finland's first in 40 years. It also marked the 24th triumph by a foreigner since World War II.

Two-runners by Willie Evans' home, he finished first in 2:12:10. "I had no idea I was going to win," he said. "I was just trying to enjoy the run."

Brussels Look For Rugged Playoff Set

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins, who defeated St. Louis in four straight games two years ago to win the Stanley Cup, are looking for a playoff set as easy when they open their National Hockey League season in the best-of-seven series against the Blues.

"St. Louis will be a tough opponent," said Boston manager Eddie Johnston. "They have some pretty good shooters."

"The Blues will be tough," said Johnston. "They have some pretty good shooters."

"Before the start of that series everybody was saying that Minnesota was moving and St. Louis wouldn't have much of a chance," he added. "They thought they could win it and they did, and what a surprise. Minnesota's home ice has to do something to them."

"We'll have to be very confident that we can beat it. We'll have to get the jump on them right away. We'll have to get physical right off the bat."

Boston coach Tom Johnson said he was confident he would be able to juggle his lines in the best-of-seven series.

"Watching St. Louis on TV Sunday I noticed they had a lot of speed and they were very fast," Johnson said. "We'll just have to win and see."

The Bruins, who had a 4-1 record against the Blues during the regular season, will be playing after a six-day layoff.

"We'll have to be very careful, especially in the first couple of games," said Boston coach Tom Johnson. "We might not be as sharp after the layoff. We won't know that until we get into the game."

Third Game Tomorrow Night

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, down two games in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Conference semifinal playoffs, must they just had tough luck and will come back to take the best-of-seven series from the New York Knicks. The third game is Wednesday night at Boston Garden.

The Celtics, who defeated the Knicks in a heartbreaker Sunday at Madison Square Garden after losing to New York by a final score of 119-114 in the first play, shot bounced off the rim as the other ABA playoff series, which will feature the Pacers and the New York Knicks.

"Naturally, I would have liked to win it," Celtics coach Tom Heinsohn said after a 107-97 victory over the Boston Bruins. "But I'm pleased with the team's performance and what they accomplished in the contest. We did a lot of things well, especially on defense."

"Believe me, I'm more convinced now we can beat the Knicks and we will," he said. Then, with a reference to Boston's coach Red Aulick, Heinsohn added, "When your backs are against the wall, there's only one way to win."

Tom Heinsohn, who led the Celtics to 11 world championships in 13 years, reassured Heinsohn when the Bruins' coach Tom Yewell visited Sunday's game.

"You're going to be all right," Heinsohn said. "You've got the team and the team played well. You can take them."

The Celtics are looking for their first win in the first round of the playoffs since 1963. They have lost 11 of their last 12 games.

"We have to win our three home games and beat them in New York," he said.

The team is counting on big stars like Paul Pierce, Scottie Pippen, and New York's Kuberik had 16 points, eight of them in the final period.

Pitchers Far Ahead Of Hitters To Date

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox certainly aren't the exception to the old baseball adage about the pitchers being ahead of the hitters during the early weeks of the season.

The Boston pitchers have been in a different ball park for all the damage they did Monday against the Cleveland Indians. Mit Wilcox, a 21-year-old right-hander acquired from Atlanta last December, pitched through the nine innings, giving up just two hits, both to catcher Duane Josephson, and struck out eight every day to stay in shape. My whole walking three. In only one inning—the first—he let a low throw get by him and he almost walked one runner to reach base.

"This was just a follow-through of spring training," Josephson said. "He was not hitting down there. He just kept getting stronger out there. It was remarkable."

Josephson said that during the first two innings when Wilcox gave up all three of his walks, the 21-year-old right-hander was shaky.

"It was his first start in the league and he was prepping a little bit, losing his rhythm," Josephson said. "But don't forget, it's his first time anybody's ever hit two fast balls. Wilcox admitted he was a bit unsteady at the start. "It was a around."

Baseball Can't Expect To Regain All Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball will have to wait until the end of the season to realize exactly how much money the two-week players' strike cost. The strike for higher pension benefits came in a bad year, a year in which people who shied out of money for entertainment are saddled with high taxes and a burdensome cost of living.

By losing 84 games (43 in their demand to $600,000, and 14 the game lost about one million fans or more than $2 million in admissions. Just as these games are not going to be made up at a later date, neither can the owners expect the fan base to be restored.

For years the owners of 24 major league baseball teams have sought to ignore Marvin Miller, the former steelworker economist who directs the Players' Association at an annual salary of $75,000.

Some players figured Miller's salary, and that of attorney Dick Busch, would be money down the drain unless they took a firm stand behind their two-year contract.

The players learned that the pension fund contained $817,000 in surplus money which wouldn't be applied to pensions. It was money that came from increases in ticket prices, overfunding and overestimating payments for permanently disabled players.

The players built their case on asking for a 17 per cent cost-of-living increase.

The 17 per cent figure was $1 million and too much for the owners to swallow. They offered to set $400,000 in a trust fund for the players' pension.

McNally Launches Bid For 20-Win Campaign

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dave McNally never sets a goal of nothing 20 pitching victories a year. He just does it.

Baltimore left-hander launched his bid for a fifth consecutive 20-victory season Monday night as he hurled a 4-0 shutout over the New York Yankees.

"I got a little arm weary in the seventh and eighth," McNally said. "But I try not to think too much about it."

McNally, who pitched the first 9-3 innings and deserved a no-hit bid, pitched the last 4-0 innings through the first seven innings, then tied in the eighth and gave up two more singles after two were out.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The director of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships at Forest Hills said last week that he had designed a plan that would include the 23 contract professionals of Lamar Hunt's World Tennis Championships (WTC) in this year's Open.

Bill Talbot, in Nashville for the U.S. Open, suggested several changes to the current tournament structure, including the inclusion of the 23 contract professionals of Lamar Hunt's World Tennis Championships (WTC) in this year's Open.

Granatelli's Entry in 500 Will Be Driven by Pollard

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) California 600 at Ontario Motor Speedway this weekend will be a standard STP Indy car race. Granatelli said there would be no time for advance testing and said it would be a "one-off" race.

Granatelli admitted Monday "almost a miracle if we qualify for the race." He said he had the first qualifying run in the recent National Basketball Association engine for the Indy test but was unable to complete it.

Granatelli said he expected would liberate the Honda rotary engine size 500 cc. "It was done with the turbine," he said. "It was done with the turbine."

Courtroom Battle Likely in Cage Case

BUFFALO (AP) — It may take a courtroom battle to decide whether Robert McCado is a Squire or a Brave.

The Buffalo Braves of the National Basketball Association announced Monday McCado was signed for them, a "multi-year contract."

At the same time, McCado was signed by the Los Angeles Lakers. The Lakers, a lawyer for the Braves, said the club had filed a federal court action to force McCado to sign with the Braves.

Explosions, Fire Rip South Windsor Plant

BY GLENN GAMBER and BARBARA VARRICK (Herald Reporters)

A fire, believed to have started in a paint spraying area, swept through the central portion of the Industronics Inc. plant at 48 Sullivan Ave. in South Windsor yesterday afternoon.

The blaze, fed by chemicals and paint supplies, touched off a series of explosions of oxygen, acetylene, and gas tanks in the building, and left the center of the building gutted.

Remarkably, no injuries were reported among either employees or the firemen from the four fire departments called in to battle the flames.

At 11:45, Industronics president, and William Lanning,

South Windsor fire marshal, say they expect the damage to the building, equipment and supplies to run well over $300,000.

The company records indicate it under control in a little over an hour.

One employee narrowly escaped serious injury when flames barred his exit from the building. The man was able to run through the flames. His pants caught on fire, but he quickly snuffed the flames.

Lanning and Philip Cromble, South Windsor fire chief, reported that when firemen arrived, the building was in flames. There was some delay in approaching the building because of the explosions.

"It was all blowing up," Lanning said. Cromble said shrugging from the exploding tanks was flying through the roof during the early stages of the fire.

The explosion, a unique piece of South Windsor equipment which works much like a "cherry picker," was raised over the roof of the building to pour water on the flames.

Employees of the firm were unwilling to talk about the fire until the building was ordered. Insurance investigators arrived shortly after the blaze was brought under control.

One woman, a secretary, said, "I was taking dictation when somebody said, 'everybody out of the building — fire' and I just grabbed my pocketbook and ran."

Cafyn said the building was "amply covered by insurance."

He said yesterday that the warehouse to the rear of the building, the area least damaged by the fire, would be converted to a production area and the firm would resume "as near normal as possible operations immediately." Plans are also being made, Cafyn said, to rent trailers and other space for office quarters for about a month while the company has the area rebuilt.

The office area was heavily damaged by smoke, but Cafyn said "our records are intact."

He predicted no delays in filling orders to his customers.

Firemen remained at the scene until they were certain the fire was "dead out," according to Lanning. South Windsor policemen were stationed at the building overnight to guard against looting.

Investigation of the cause of the blaze was continuing today, according to Lanning.

Apollo Nearing Landing

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 16 astronaut, their spacecraft turned up and running soundly, swept into the grasp of lunar gravity early today and sped on toward an afternoon orbit of the moon.

The problems of making paint, a locked guidance system, a stuck antenna, a faulty radio antenna were behind them as John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II neared their lunar landing.

They slipped through a so-called "twilight zone" in which the gravitational influence of the earth and moon is equal at 12,07 a.m. EST.

When Apollo 16 crossed this invisible line, the moon won the gravitational tug-of-war and the spacecraft looped behind the moon and after slowing from 24,800 to 1,600 miles an hour on the long outward journey from the earth.

The speed was to increase to about 5,760 m.p.h. as the astronauts loop behind the moon and of radio contact with earth, they were to fire the engine of the command ship Casper to whip into lunar orbit.

After a day of checkout, Young and Duke are to board the lunar ship Orion on Thursday and at 3:41 p.m. guide it to a landing on a mountain-ringed plateau in the moon's southern highlands.

The touchdown point is near the crater Descartes in the highest topographical area on the moon's surface, and is 15 miles from the lunar surface.

Young and Duke will be the first and last men to explore the lunar surface.

They are to spend a record 72 hours in a scientific quest for evidence that volcanoes long ago seethed deep within the moon's interior.

During the seven-hour surface excursions they will drive a moon buggy a total of about 15 miles in search for volcanic evidence that would prove the moon had a hot interior like earth's.

The three explorations, parts of which will be telecast live on Thursday's entry to the moon, are to start Thursday at 7:15 p.m. Friday at 2:14 p.m. and Saturday at 5:15 p.m. Liftoff from the moon is scheduled for 4:28 p.m. Sunday after which the astronaut will spend two extra days in orbit to conduct experiments.

The 28-day mission is to end with splashdown in the Pacific April 22.

Young and Duke staged a dress rehearsal Tuesday night for Thursday's entry to the lunar module. They donned their moon-walking suits and attempted to land on a lunar module on the command ship Orion.

"John had a difficult time getting the zipper closed," said Duke. "He slipped it up the zipper."

War Protests Erupt

Campus antiwar protests rekindled by the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam have erupted into violence at Harvard and led to scattered confrontations with police at the University of Maryland.

Demonstrations elsewhere Tuesday were generally peaceful and some drew little response but the reawakening antiwar movement called for student strikes on Friday.

At Harvard about 30 demonstrators split off from a peace march in Cambridge, Mass., to stage a 10-minute assault on the university's prestigious Center for International Affairs.

Police fired at least 15 rounds of tear gas over a two-hour period to disperse a crowd of 1,500 to 2,000 demonstrators who gathered outside the building. Three persons were arrested.

The center, where presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger formerly had an office, was littered with broken glass and overturned furniture. Slogans such as "Avenge Hanoi" and "NLP Wins" were sprayed on the walls.

The march began with a 4 p.m. rally on Boston Common where President Nixon was burned in effigy. Later the demonstrators marched five miles to Harvard Square in Cambridge where they broke windows in a few stores and a post office before going to the center.

Following demonstrations at the University of Maryland resulted in the arrest of 14 persons on charges of assault and carrying deadly weapons.

Windows were broken in a ROTC building during a rally and later about 500 students blocked U.S. Route 1 for an hour. About 100 riot-equipped state policemen used tear gas and clubs to break up the demonstration.

Police said one lieutenant suffered a broken elbow and several other officers received minor injuries in the clash. Two students were reported injured. There were scattered skirmishes into the evening.

Meskill Expects Appeal In Abortions Reversal

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Edward Lumbard in the major court, and defended the absolute right of a woman to control her own body is a fundamental right. Now we have to work to see to it that clinics are set up where they can get safe abortions at prices they can afford," she said.

The co-chairman of the legislature's Public Health and Safety Committee said they are "dismayed at the chaos which may result from the court's decision."

State Sen. John D. Prete, D-West Haven, and Rep. Morris Cohen, D-Honoluk, said in a joint statement, "The proper forum to debate such concerns is in the legislature."

They said their committee will consider the situation and may ask for legislative action even if it requires a special session.

Judge Lumbard said that with the laws were passed in 1967, the nature of a woman's role in society has changed and

No-Fault Bill Wins Approval

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The no-fault auto insurance bill is on its way to Gov. Thomas J. Meskill after surviving attempts to tack on several amendments and finally winning overwhelming approval by both the Senate and the House.

Meskill has said he will sign the bill.

After hours of debate in the Senate and the House, the votes Tuesday turned out to be lopsided in favor of the bill. In the Senate the vote was 23-4, while the House vote was 125-24.

The bill, an amended, makes no-fault auto insurance mandatory in Connecticut. It guarantees that owners and occupants of their cars would receive up to $5,000 from their own insurance companies within 15 days for medical costs and wage losses resulting from driving accidents.

Car damage and other property damage would not be covered.

Two new amendments were added to increase the mandatory cut in the cost of no-fault coverage from 7 to 10 per cent, and would limit the power of the insurance commissioner to give prior approval of premium changes only for no-fault auto insurance.

The entire bill appeared to be in serious trouble at one point when the House was debating the 10 per cent rate cut. But the Senate amendment was adopted on a close roll call vote of 77-7. If it had been defeated, the bill would have had to go to a conference committee and its fate would have been highly questionable.

The House had amended the bill six times before passing it initially last week. The Senate added the two other amendments.

So Sayeth Spiro.... Candidates Find 'Little Guy'

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says Democratic presidential candidates have "discovered the little guy" and launched populist campaigns under pressure from Gov. George C. Wallace, but President Nixon is the real "new populist" of the 1972 campaign.
