Coventry GOP Crafts Show Provides Funds for Student Aid

The annual Republican Women's Club Arts and Crafts Show that took place in March resulted in profits that will make possible a number of awards and donations, some of them new, some continuing.
 As in the past, the club will once again award $100 to the Coventry High School senior who has shown the most improvement in the modern problems course. This scholarship is given at the annual awards assembly at the school in June.
 Present, Democratic Town Chairman Alvin Phillips is expected to be named to that post again for a two-year term, at the Tuesday session.
 Explorer Post News
 The local Explorer Scout Post is planning a variety show, and is interested in townwide participation, especially at the adult level.
 All those interested in auditioning for the show should attend an open audition slated for May 1 at the high school.
 The Post will hold a basketball game this Saturday night April 22, at the high school at 7:30 p.m. The Scouts will play the police department, with tickets available at the door or through the scouts themselves.
 All young people in the Post recently completed a six-week first aid course given by the South Coventry Volunteer Fire Department.
 A Post-sponsored drug program, Project REACH, which had been scheduled during school vacation, will be rescheduled in the near future, according to Post advisor Lawrence Fawcett.

DON'T POSTPONE SACRIFICE BIDS
 BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
 As an experienced player, you know that it often pays to overbid deliberately. Even if the opponents double, you may lose fewer points by going down than the opponents would score by playing the hand themselves. The deliberate overbid or sacrifice bid is most useful when you anticipate what the opponents are going to bid and make the sacrifice in advance.
 North dealer.
 East-West vulnerable.
 Opening lead—Four of Spades.
 South has no complaints about the final contract. He would rather play five clubs doubled than allow East to play four spades. At five clubs, South is down one. He must lose one spade, one heart and one diamond.
 At four spades East would lose one heart and two diamonds. East would be better off making the game and rubber than collecting a mere 100 points from South.
 Should Not Wait
 North should bid five clubs without waiting to be pushed there. South's bid of four clubs announces a very long club suit and no defense against the opponents. North should be doubtful about his ace of clubs and can hardly expect to win more than one diamond trick.
 North knows that he will sacrifice at five clubs if he is forced to do so—and it is a cinch that four clubs will be the final contract. Therefore nothing is gained by passing at four.
 If North bids five clubs, East must bid five hearts. West has to show a preference for spades, and now East is too high. If North has the nerve to pass five hearts (as he should), he will wind up with a plus score instead of a minus.
 Here is a good rule for sacrifice bidding: When you know in advance how high you are willing to bid as a sacrifice, bid it as soon as possible. Make the opponents guess before they

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

By Vivian F. Ferguson
Carl Swanson has always been interested in food. He will try anything once, even grasshopper legs, which he says taste like almonds. "I have never eaten anything that I can truthfully say I don't like," he told me.

"I used to cook off and on as an interest. Now, however, it's a necessity." (Carl is a widower. "What I like to do mostly is outdoor cooking, and I don't mean hot dogs and hamburgers.")

He will, for example, take a boned and rolled lamb, put it on the rotisserie over live coals. "If you have the rotisserie, it will balance easier." He will make little steaks in the meat for pieces of fresh garlic. When doing poultry, he will roast it farther away from the heat. Just prior to removing from the heat, Carl pours melted butter and white wine which adds flavor and browns the poultry nicely.

It will soon be time for outdoor cooking. Here's how Carl handles corn.

Blanch Corn On The Cob
Remove heavy husks from corn. Peel back inner husks and remove silk. Soak ears in cold water about one-half hour. Holding inner husks back, butter corn, salt and pepper to taste. Wrap in foil. Place on grill, turning over every now and then. Should be ready in approximately 30 minutes.

"I've tried just about anything you can think of when it comes to food," Carl states. "When I put out my onion soup, I usually plant them closer than called for. Then, I can pull them out when they are small and tender—excellent in a soup of salad. When they are done on the grill, the flavor is a truce between a boiled and a fried onion."

Using aluminum foil, Carl quarters green peppers, adds a little oil, some seasoning. He has no set time for his cooking. He just knows when it's done. He says, "I time my grilling by one beer or two beers."

Carl once wrote a letter to a manufacturer of aluminum foil suggesting they put out foil in various colors so the chef could readily identify what he is grilling. The company chose to ignore it and never replied.

Carl is a distinguished looking gentleman with a score of interests. He came to Manchester from Putnam and is a machanic at Pratt & Whitney. He designs and built a complete wall with step mantle, book cases and desk which drops down from the wall because his living room at that time did not seem interesting enough. When he bought the house at 83 Westminister Rd., he found an old chest in battered and warped condition. He patiently repaired it, scraped off layers and layers of red paint resulting in a good-looking piece of furniture.

His daughter Janet recently presented him with a new gadget. He takes non-returnable soda bottles and converts them into drinking glasses. Janet is a film editor in New York City. She is married to Michael Lauritano, also of Manchester, who is a graphic arts designer.

"I like meeting people. I believe I'm quite outgoing," he says without boasting and he is quite right. He bowls, golfs when he can. He reads in sports. Sometimes, he will have two or three books going at the same time. Then again, he will go for weeks without reading a novel.

"The first thing I face when I get home from work now is my breakfast dishes. When I cook dinner, I can take the cradle things and put them together. If it's applicable, I'll tie some crumbs to a tablecloth like a Western."

Carl's favorite dessert is cheese cake followed by strawberries and cream. He has a recipe for a berry shortcake — then, pies of all kinds. Last fall, he spent some time at Manchester Memorial Hospital. One of his nurses gave him a recipe for creamy cheese cake.

"I would appreciate your mentioning her name," he asked. Thank you, Mrs. Jean Romano of the second shift, third floor east. I enjoyed it too and am happy to share this excellent recipe with our neighbors.

Add Vanilla. Fold in sour cream. Place in crumb-lined pan and sprinkle reserved crumbs on top. Bake at 350 for 30 minutes. Turn oven off, DO NOT OPEN DOOR, leave in oven one hour. Remove from oven, cool at room temperature about five hours. Then refrigerate 24 hours before serving.

Catholic Scouts Attend Retreat

More than 100 Manchester Boy Scouts and Scouters attended the third annual Archdiocesan Catholic Retreat of the Charter Oak Council last weekend at the Holy Apostle Retreat Center in Cromwell.

Frank Keegan was retreat chairman and Edward J. Ward was camp director. Both are former scoutmasters at Troop 282 of St. Bartholomew's Church. Arthur Dubois was the official bogger and kept the staff on schedule.

Area supervision, and the direction of William Rook, was handled by Joe Downs, John Leonard, William Curtis, Edward Ackerman and Arthur Calvin, all Manchester members of the Catholic Committee.

Vincent Perry and Eugene Cleary of Troop 107 of St. Bridget Church were in charge of the Trading Post and religious books. John Joy, also of Troop 187, was the adult discussion leader.

The scouts camped out on the retreat grounds and were joined by many of the seminarians. The discussion groups were led by seminarians.

The retreat theme, "God Is Real," was interpreted by the 12 apostles, all Manchester Boy Scouts working in a Pope Pius XII class under the direction of Sister Ellen Gorman of St. Bartholomew's Church. The apostles were Mark Hafner, Mike Joy, Vince Perry, Bill Keegan, Jim Peters, Richard Lombardo, Douglas Ryslewski, Bill Waterford, Douglas Stevens, Dan Hare, John Joy, Jeff Frithsen, and Mike Hukoy.

Bill Waterford, Douglas Stevens, Dan Hare, John Joy, Jeff Frithsen, and Mike Hukoy. Willard Waterford was in charge of all ceremonies during the weekend.

A Pastoral Service of the Mass was celebrated by the five priests Saturday morning, and a field Mass depicting the Last Supper was attended by more than 400 on Sunday.

Rick Mori was in charge of the music, and Jim Casady was the emcee.

Donations to the Memorial Fund may be sent to the Connecticut Valley Girl Scout Council, 74 Forest St., Hartford.

The wife of Clifford R. Wright of Burrows Hill Rd., Holbrook, who was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., and graduated in 1928 from Smith College, Northampton.

In charge of audio visual. Both are instructors of religion at East Catholic High School, former boy scout, and now studying for the priesthood.

Play To Be Filmed
LONDON (AP) — "The National Health," Peter Nichols' prize-winning play, will be brought to the screen as a Ted Sherrin production for Columbia Pictures.

The long-running National Theatre success will be directed by Jack Gold and filming is set for the end of May.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB No Anemia Link To Blood Pressure

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—My friend and I have been arguing about anemia (low blood pressure). She says that if it is not treated right away you can die. I disagree. Can you please tell us the effect if you don't take care of yourself. I have anemia.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am almost 24 years old and have had pain in my right chest and side since I was 20. The pain starts from the back and then spreads. I have had tests for my kidneys and I still think that is what is the matter. My doctor now thinks it is pleurisy but all he does is give me penicillin shots and pills. I am married and this problem sometimes causes trouble between us. We have been married three years and I haven't been able to get pregnant. Do you think pleurisy has anything to do with this?

Dear Reader—I don't know what you have, and if your doctor is giving you penicillin shots, he must think you have an infection. Pleurisy is usually not helped by penicillin or antibiotics. There are multiple causes for pain in the area you speak of, including muscular problems, problems with the lungs, the digestive tract, the kidney or liver, and the spine.

Pleurisy should not prevent you from getting pregnant and any episode of pleurisy that lasts four years is very unusual. Why don't you ask your doctor to arrange for a consultation for you with a specialist in internal medicine.

It is true that anemia can sometimes cause low blood pressure, but they are two different things. Low blood pressure by itself in a person who has no evidence of illness, such as heart disease, anemia or tuberculosis, to name a few, is not serious.

What should be done about an anemia depends on how severe it is. Girls often-times have mild anemias which are not necessarily life threatening, but they can contribute to fatigue. The only sure way to know how severe the anemia is and for this you will have to rely on your doctor. I would say that it is highly unlikely that you are going to die.

POLLY'S POINTERS Store Quilts in Plastic To Prevent Yellowing

By POLLY GRAMER
DEAR POLLY—Like L. W. my quilts had yellow age spots caused by long storage. The best remedy I found was to wash them in hot soda (a LITTLE bleach may be added) and dry them outdoors in plenty of sun and air.—MRS. C. I.

DEAR POLLY—I have had good results removing yellow spots from quilts by dipping a sponge or rag in a bleach solution, rubbing this over the spots and then sponging it off with clear water.—ZOE

DEAR POLLY—Mine is a suggestion to L. W. for the prevention of yellow spots on her quilts that have been stored. My laundryman told me that one should never store things such as quilts without first wrapping in tissue or a plastic wrap. Blue tissue paper keeps white articles from yellowing while they are stored.—MRS. G. D. S.

DEAR POLLY—Do remember that removing spots from old articles is chancy business so do not be disappointed at the results. If they have been stored for years the fabric may be in an almost rotting or very weakened condition so holes may appear after the use of any strong remedy like bleach. Some quilts are made from scraps of different fabrics and in different colors so this one part may take a treatment that another cannot. Some of the new detergents that contain bleaching agents may bring out the desired brightness. Any solution must be faced with a degree of uncertainty due to varying circumstances. Try at least a corner first.—POLLY

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY—How can I clean my electric fry pan that has turned very dark? Also, would anyone have any suggestions for the proper soil to put around African violets? Mine seem to be lacking in something but I do not know what. I have tried so many things but every so often a plant dies. Any suggestions? Why do they grow in a goose-neck shape?—MILDRED

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with those people who use the city streets as garbage dumps. Those litterers, young and old alike, unfortunately, seem to have a head start on those who are interested in cleaning up.—JULIA (OVERSAYS INTERESTS ASK)

The three $10,000 winners included Phillip P. Dostigney of 48 Stoddard Drive, Meriden; Mrs. Belle Hillman of Park Avenue, Bridgeport; and the Kenneth Howe children of 82 Harris St., Glastonbury.

In the weekly drawing, the winning number was 76286.

State's Students Schedule Boycott

was torn down. However, another student said the crowd quickly dispersed when several persons began throwing rocks, breaking two windows in the building.

A rally of about 700 Fairfield University students agreed Wednesday night to begin a boycott of classes today, protesting both the bombing and lack of student authority in decision-making at the school.

About 400 students from the rally marched to the residence of Father William C. McInnis, university president, after the rally to present their demands. However, Father McInnis didn't emerge from the residence.

The students said they would hold a peaceful all-night vigil at the campus quadrangle.

A student spokesman said a proposed school constitution, approved by the student body but rejected by the faculty and administration, would have given students equal representation in the university government with faculty and administration.

Editorials in several college newspapers have urged students to observe the boycott.

The University of Hartford's student publication, "Hot Lamps," announced a class boycott in its Wednesday issue. It said: "We aroused the American people against the war and we can do it again."

Astronauts Drop To Lunar Peaks

clinkers are associated with volcanism.

The four previous Apollo moon-landing crews touched down in relatively flat plains areas far from any suspected volcanic activity.

Young and Duke planned to spend a record 75 hours on the mountain-ringed Descartes plateau, driving an electric powered moon car on their three excursions to probe mountains and craters. Their first trip starts at 7:18 p.m. EST.

Mostly they will be busy in lunar orbit, operating a 10-million array of cameras intended to map chemically and photographically the strip of moon over which he passes in the command ship Casper.

The stage was set for the ninth and 10th Americans to step on the moon when the astronauts triggered the big engine of the command ship at 3:23 p.m. Wednesday and swept into an initial orbit ranging from 97 to 196 miles above the surface.

The ignition occurred behind the moon, out of radio contact with earth. When the spacecraft slipped around the front edge 21 minutes later, commander Young called out the good news.

"Hello, Houston. Sweet 10 has arrived," he said.

With that, Young, 41-year-old veteran of four space flights, became the first man to orbit the moon twice. His first trip was on Apollo 10, the moon-orbiting command ship that preceded the first-landing Apollo 11.

South Windsor Fire Origin Pinned By Marshal

Flammable vapors from lacquer thinner on the production department floor near a paint spray booth drifted down an open stairwell Tuesday afternoon to the basement of Industrial Inc., where they were drawn in and ignited by a gas fired hot air furnace, according to William Lanning, South Windsor fire marshal.

The result was a flash fire which triggered explosions of various gas tanks and destroyed 60 per cent of the Sullivan Ave. plant and about 60 per cent of its contents.

Lanning spent all day yesterday investigating the fire which he and insurance investigators estimate resulted in more than a quarter of a million dollars damage.

Building contractors were at the plant Wednesday "looking into the situation." Lanning says special guidelines will be set for rebuilding the structure "to prevent the same thing from happening again."

Industrial President Allan Caffyn said the Tri-Mat building nearby and trailers are being used to continue the company's business while repairs are made. The firm reconditions industrial instruments, furnaces and ovens.

Police Blotter

Jeffrey Brennan, 9, of Laurel Trail, Coventry, is reported in satisfactory condition at Manchester Memorial Hospital today. He was taken there yesterday, after being struck by a car.

Coventry police said the boy ran from the side of the road into the path of a car driven by Linda Demarcio of Waterbury. Police said the car was moving very slowly at the time. The accident happened at Daly and Birch Rds. No police action was taken against the driver.

VERNON
Joel Spector, 20 of 181 Hilliard St., Manchester, was arrested yesterday by Vernon police on a charge of violation of parole and served a warrant issued by Circuit Court 12, charging him with larceny. He was turned over to the Manchester Police Department.

David Krajewski, 28, of 189 Terrace Dr., Rockville, was charged with violation of parole in connection with a complaint issued by his parole officer. He was to be presented in Circuit Court, Manchester, today.

Steven Benson, 17 of Lakewood Ter., Ellington, was charged by Vernon Police with operating a motorcycle without a license. He was released on a $25 non-surety bond.

Leo Raymond, 28, of 68 Union St., Rockville, was charged with failure to drive his car in an insured car, in connection with an accident on E. Main St. yesterday.

Raymond and Raymond are scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, Rockville, May 14.

Former Town Councilman Robert R. Sklenar of 306 Diana Dr. has announced his candidacy for the position of Republican Town Committee chairman.

Sklenar served on the council from November 1969 through October 1971. He did not seek re-election in the municipal election last year.

In his announcement, Sklenar said his experience on the council has convinced him of the need for a "business-like approach in the conduct of our town's business."

He said he will pursue four major goals to be accomplished by the party; the need for unity of party members, the placing of emphasis on the philosophy established by retiring chairman Royal Cowie that politics is an "enjoyable experience that can be fun as well as serious business;" the establishment of a more favorable balance in voter registration in the town by letting the party be heard; and greater development of a grass roots protest organization, "the backbone of the Republican Party," he said.

Sklenar has been a resident of South Windsor for eight years and is employed by the Tru-vet's Insurance Co. as assistant secretary with the Casualty Property Department.

Also in Republican news, Mrs. Roberta Gorton, vice chairman of the Republican Town Committee, said she will not seek re-election to the office after holding the position since 1962.

Mrs. Gorton said she will remain on the town committee. She is the Republican Registrar of Voters for South Windsor and has recently been re-elected for her fifth term.

Y Board Presses For Repair Funds

Frank Sheldon, chairman of the board of trustees of the Community Y on N. Main St., says he hopes the $20,000 included in Town Manager Robert Weiss' recommended budget for work on the Y building will be increased to $25,000.

The Y trustees, recently went before the Board of Directors asking that the town comply with the terms of a verbal agreement reached in 1963 whereby the town was given some land to be used for the relocation of N. Main St. in exchange for putting a new face on the side of the Y building facing N. Main St. and for replacing "lamina courses" which were lost when N. Main St. was relocated.

In addition, the Y trustees listed several repairs they claimed the town is responsible for under the terms of the lease between the Y and the town. The town leases the building for minimal cost for recreation programs in the North End. The Y trustees also use the building for YMCA programs.

"The Community Y building has been used by the Town Recreation Department since 1960 for the recreation and sports activities in the North End," Sheldon says. "It is the only facility in that end of town, and at the present time there is a 25-year lease in effect for the use of the building at no cost to the town. Under the terms of the lease the town of Manchester is obligated to properly maintain the building and grounds. The Y building trustees also has a small tract income which is used for capital improvements. The building is presently appraised at $487,000 and it probably would cost much more than this to replace."

"The Y Board has been meeting with Town Manager Robert Weiss and the Board of Directors asking the town to live up to the terms of an agreement arrived at in 1960 when the town Board of Directors agreed to the constructing of a new front entrance and parking area if the Y Board would allow the relocation of N. Main St. through the area that was then the rear of the Y building," Sheldon says.

"The Y Board of Trustees feels that it has been more than patient in waiting for the past nine years for the town to live up to its part of the agreement," Sheldon concludes.

Give lace or nylon panel curtains a new look, tinting them a cream color by dipping them into a weak coffee solution.

On Y Board

John H. McNary of 10 Fenwick Rd. has been appointed to the board of trustees of the Community Y on N. Main St. McNary joins seven others on the board who administer the building left in trust for YMCA programs. In addition to the YMCA programs, the town uses the facility for recreation programs in the north end. McNary is vice president in charge of sales of Manchester Band and Gravel Co. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College where he played varsity football. He has been active for the past 13 years in midge and pony football.

He is presently a member of the Planning and Zoning Commission and the Advisory Park and Recreation Commission.

Other trustees are: Frank P. Sheldon, chairman; Edward H. Glenny, secretary-treasurer; Matthew M. Moriarty, Charles S. Barr, Robert F. Fuller, Thomas F. Conran Jr. and Dr. Eugene M. Davis.

Charter Stirs Public After Lean Sessions

opposes raising the limit for expenditures without a referendum to $200,000. She proposed a provision, either in the charter or by ordinance, that would guarantee that utility companies make satisfactory repairs to streets, after opening them for installations.

Noting that the Connecticut Legislature has passed a bill giving 18- to 20-year-olds the right to hold elective or appointive public office by town option, she recommended a charter change which would prohibit them from holding such office in Manchester.

Atty. Thomas McIlale recommended the members of the Board of Directors be elected from district or wards, rather than at-large, as now. "It would provide for a better constituency," he said.

He also proposed the town do away with its minority representation on the board, recommending that each party nominate candidates for the 10 seats, so that all of the seats are competed for.

"As it now is," he said, "it is elected by the people and three by accident."

"I don't see why there should be a mandatory minority," he said. "Party responsibility, added to the will of the people, should prevail."

Told by one member of the CRC that minority representation is required by state statute, he replied that, possibly, the U.S. Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote ruling makes the provision unconstitutional.

He cautioned the CRC not to take too seriously the public's absence at its hearings.

"Recommended charter changes are your responsibility," he said. "You are the ones to propose them, if you feel they are needed."

Frank Lupien recommended electing a five-member planning and zoning commission, instead of appointing it, and election of a five-member board of finance.

He suggested a charter provision which would prevent the manager or the board of directors from committing the town to regional projects, where the town autonomy is threatened.

He recommended another for publishing the manager's budget at least two weeks before the board conducts its public hearing on it. "There's only a few days for studying it now," he said.

Lupien said he opposes raising the limit to $200,000 for borrowings without a referendum, but that he opposes proposals for making the town clerk's post appointive, for establishing an office of finance director, and for creating the post of full-time town counsel.

He said he strongly opposes the proposal which would permit the directors to set their own salaries by ordinance.

"It just happened in the Commission's recommendations," he said. "Salaries are spelled out by the ordinance. They go in with his eyes open."

Frank Unkis endorsed all of Lupien's recommendations.

"I'm not talking about the character of the people," he said. "I'm talking about a fact. It's time we stopped getting the run-around at town hall. We can't get any answers there."

Donald Conrad, a former town director, chairman of Manchester's 1967 Charter Revision Commission, and a member of the CRCAP, took issue on general government which he recommended creation of the present commission, rose to say he was present as an observer, representing the CRCAP Agency.

He said the commission has the February 1971 list of recommended charter changes, proposed by his task force.

Those recommended changes would:

1. Allow the town directors to set their salaries by ordinance. The pay scale now is spelled out in the charter.
2. Allow the directors to borrow up to $200,000 a year for emergencies, without a referendum. The limit now is $100,000.
3. Provide for a merit system for town employees. There is no provision for it now in the charter.
4. Make the position of town clerk appointive. It now is elective — every two years.
5. Consolidate town financial activities under a director of finance. They are handled now by the treasurer, controller, assessor, collector of revenues, and purchasing agent.
6. Consolidate the park and cemetery departments. They now are separate departments with separate superintendents.
7. Establish a full-time town counsel, appointed by the directors, and a part-time assistant counsel, appointed by the town council.
8. Amend sewer assessment procedures, to eliminate conflicts with state statutes.
9. Simplify town budget procedure, placing more emphasis on budget planning, policy and evaluation.

Last night, Town Manager Robert Weiss read a prepared statement, backing the nine recommendations of the task force, plus several more.

He proposed eliminating the charter requirement for the second meeting concerning the town budget held now by the Board of Directors and a full board of education. "It appears to me," he said, "that this does not serve any valid purpose."

And he recommended several changes in the charter provisions concerning purchases — relating the limit for competitive bids from the present $1,000 to $5,000; providing for emergency purchases over $5,000, without bidding, when only one source is available; and eliminating or reducing restrictions against purchases from companies substantially owned by an individual serving without pay on the town board or commission.

Francis Mastrogalo, one of the two who spoke last week's hearing at Waddell School, commented favorably on the 60 per cent increase in attendance last night.

Commenting also on Potter's recommendations for a zoning officer who would be someone other than the building inspector, he said the town has one now, under temporary federal funds.

"However," said Mastrogalo, "if he has so much to do, as Mr. Potter says he does, then I agree that we should have a permanent zoning officer."

Mrs. Peter Sadioti, the other person who spoke last week, said last night that she opposes making the town clerk's office appointive and that she has no need for a full-time town counsel. She recommended that the town council be of the majority party and the assistant council, be of the minority party.

She said she favors the proposal for a merit system and Attics, and basements, can be real sleepers. Why not turn them into bedrooms. If you've got the space, we've got the money.

If the raindrops keep falling, better think about a new roof. You can cover it with an HNB Home Improvement Loan and take up to five years to repay.

Don't let your chimney go to pot. It could be a real fire hazard. In fact, all masonry needs a little touch up now and then to keep it weatherproof and fireproof.

Sail through the heat waves this summer in your own cool home. You can air condition your whole house or just a few rooms.

If you've come to the end of the line outside the bathroom door, build another. All it takes is a few extra feet somewhere and a little help from Hartford National.

Spread out a little. A new family room in the basement or breezeway gives the kids a place to play. You'll get a lot of peace and quiet with a little help from HNB.

There's nothing that brings it all together like the sheer luxury of new carpeting—even in your bathroom and kitchen. Wall-to-wall adds beauty and value to your home.

Put up a beautiful front. With a new coat of paint for your home. Or aluminum siding. A Home Improvement Loan from Hartford National will spruce up the whole place.

Pretty up your environment. With grass, shrubs, trees and flowers. A landscape gardener and a little green from HNB will make things grow.

Cook up a dream kitchen fit for the Queen. Cabinets, built-in appliances, new fixtures, kitchen carpeting will create a sensation.

Five busloads of more than 200 Bennet Junior High School students left today on two field trips.

The seventh grade 120 group a team-teaching effort instituted this year, took off at 8 a.m. for New York City, where it attended the American Museum of Natural History and toured Rockefeller Center and Chinatown. The students raised money for the trip by a candy sale.

Team teachers among the 12 chaperones were Louis Gasmache, mathematics; Paul Steinmeyer, social studies; Bruce McCubrey, science; and Mrs. Owen Brooks, English. Other staff members were Mrs. Dale McCubrey, Spanish; Ray Cools, mathematics; Miss Nancy LaFollette, Eastern Connecticut State College student teacher; and Miss Marilyn Dodge, Manchester Community College teacher training aide. Also, Mrs. Susan Steinmeyer, Mrs. Joan Everett, Mrs. Phyllis Hopperstead, and Mrs. Susan Belbert.

This afternoon, 20 Bennet students attended a performance of Johann Strauss' opera, "Die Fledermaus," done in English at Bushnell Memorial in Hartford. They were prepared for the production by listening to recorded highlights from the opera and studying the plot.

Arrangements were made by Samuel Macaluso, Melvin Lumpkin, and Walter Gray of the music department. In addition to the instructors, parent chaperones were Mrs. Joseph Busky, Mrs. Jay Stigler, Mrs. Frank Warren, and Mrs. Abraham Ostrosky.

Fox Tells NHS Inductees: Search for Meaning, Identity True Hallmarks of Youth Today

By JOHN A. JOHNSON (Herald Reporter)

The search for real meaning and one's identity are the hallmarks of youth today, not the slogans and platitudes of revolt and destruction so often used to characterize them, Atty. Lewis Fox, vice chairman of the Hartford Board of Education, said in opening his address yesterday afternoon at East Catholic High School.

He was the guest speaker at the induction ceremony of the National Honor Society. The Rev. Robert E. Saunders, principal, presented pins to 19 new chapter members; Honors '72' awards to 28 seniors, juniors, and sophomores for academic achievement last year; and certificates to 18 seniors for their performances on the National Merit Scholarship Program examination.

Values are part of a person's identity, yardsticks of his relationships to others, Atty. Fox continued. Without them, there is no person. But they must be attained, he added in quoting Goethe, "What we have inherited from our fathers, we must win for ourselves. If we are to call it our own."

Reclaim is a conflict, the main speaker said, with one's value that each person counts. Looking down on another because his color is saying that God made a mistake.

"What makes life meaningful?" Atty. Fox asked, and then replied that the answer can be found in the answer to still another question, "Are you helping to build God's kingdom?"

Two Girls Die In Auto Crash

TRUMBULL, Conn. (AP) — Two teen-aged girls were fatally injured Wednesday night when their small car smashed into a utility pole, police said.

They were identified as Cindy Hair, 17, and Deana Solaz, 19, both of Trumbull. The driver, Deborah Lebrun, 18, also of Trumbull, was admitted to St. Vincent's hospital in Bridgeport with minor injuries. The hospital said she would be released today.

Police charged her with misconduct with a motor vehicle and operating a motor vehicle while "under the influence."

Senate Removes I-86 From Funds Delay Bill

An amended bill which would have temporarily delayed funding for Interstate 291 I-86, gained Senate approval last Friday. The Senate last night approved a motion to reconsider the bill, then amended it to remove the I-86 segment.

State Sen. David Odagard, R-Manchester, said he voted against the original bill, voted against reconsideration, and voted against the amended bill.

Odagard said last night's action followed a "moderately controversial" 20-minute debate, which was "anti-climactic after last week's intrigue."

The bill has reportedly involved many personalities in the General Assembly.

Odagard said House approval of the amended bill, which would have started at 1:31 in Wetherfield, across the Connecticut River in Glastonbury, winding its way through East Hartford to its interchange with I-84 near Laurel Lake in Manchester.

I-291 planned to start at I-84 in Rocky Hill, would circle west around Hartford through Farmington, West Hartford, Bloomfield, and Windsor. Another section of I-291, not affected by the General Assembly action, would cross the river in South Windsor, heading toward an interchange with the Wilbur Cross Highway at Buckland.

Senate Removes I-86 From Funds Delay Bill

The measure is similar to two bills considered by the General Assembly last year. The first, to halt I-86 in East Hartford and Glastonbury, was killed in the Senate. The second, to curb I-291, was vetoed by Gov. Thomas Meskill.

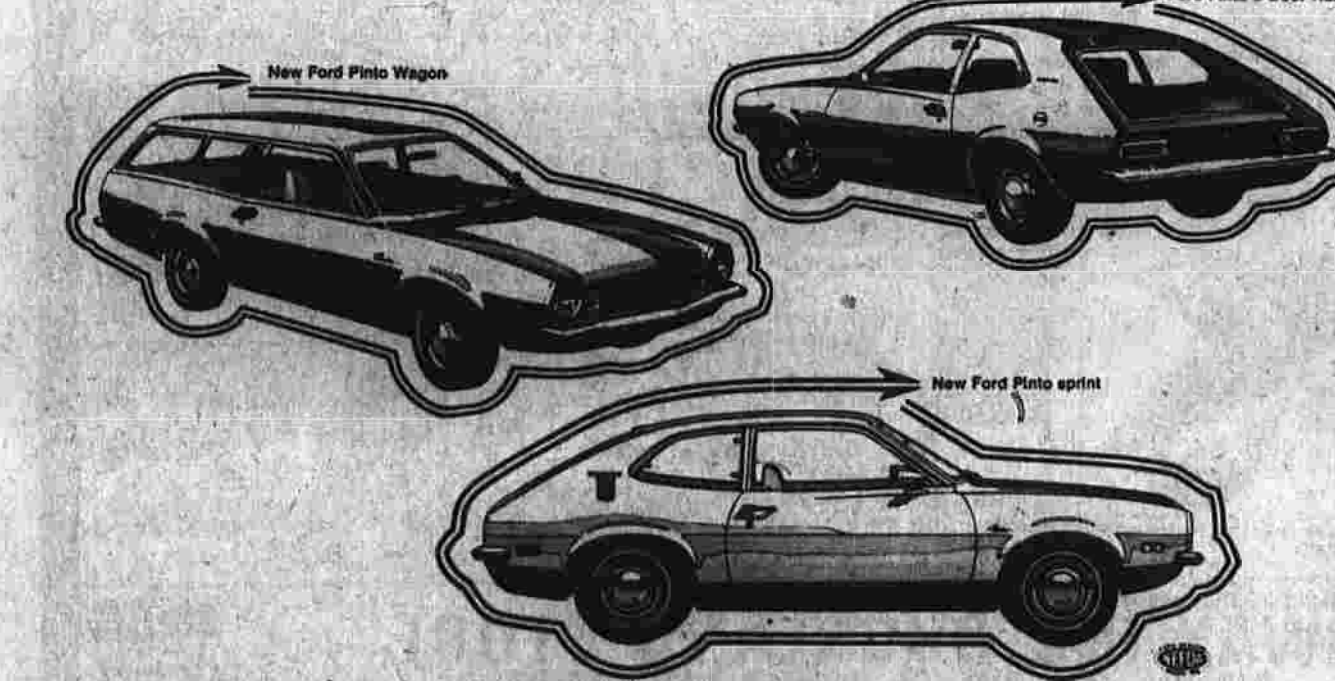

According to transportation department plans, would start at 1:31 in Wetherfield, across the Connecticut River in Glastonbury, winding its way through East Hartford to its interchange with I-84 near Laurel Lake in Manchester.

Vernon Council Accepts School Budget For Presentation To Public

While the Town Council requested last night to present the budget to a public hearing next Wednesday, several councilmen made it clear they are not happy with the figure.

The council and the Board of Education held a joint meeting last night to go over the education budget in past years the council has either asked the board to revise the budget downward or has accepted it formally, as it was presented.

After two and one-half hour discussions, Mayor Frank McCoy read, from the town charter, the rules governing presentation of the budget to the public hearing and it was found the council does not have to act formally until within ten days after the final public hearing and that is the annual budget meeting.

A great deal of the night's discussion centered around a number of teacher salaries. An estimated figure, for teacher salaries, was put in the budget as the salaries are still under negotiation.

The settlement was expressed that the teachers should get, for an increase, the normal increment coming to them and nothing above that. While the proposed budget only shows an increase of $264,776 over the current budget, or 8 per cent, several council members said they felt the budget could have remained the same without any increase while others seemed to feel there should be a re-arrangement of priorities that would necessitate a reduction in the current budget.

The breakdown of the budget, in percentages shows the following: 72.4 per cent, salaries; 4.4, instructional supplies; 7, other capital outlay; 1.3, food services; 4, food charges; 1, health and attendance; 2.8, general control; 8, operating and maintenance and 4.3, transportation. The percentages varied little from the current budget.

Joseph Foran, chairman of the Board of Education, briefly explained the impact the education budget would have on taxes.

He said estimated revenues total $2,206,055 from state and federal aid and miscellaneous revenues. This would leave $4,889,721 to be raised by taxation. With one mill equalling $251,160 it would mean the budget, as requested, would need a 7.7 per cent or 7 per cent of a mill increase over the current budget.

Council members asked what new programs for the coming year are included in the new budget. It was explained that the cost of several summer workshops are included to continue in teacher salaries and to update all of the subject areas.

Also included will be two pilot programs for the gifted children, one at the elementary level and one at the middle school. Albert Kerkin, assistant superintendent, said there are several children in the system with very high I-Q's. It will be necessary to hire two additional

Vernon Hospital Forming Club For Expectant Parents

Expectant parents in the Vernon area are being invited to join the Hospital Forming Club. A pediatrician will be introduced. A dietitian will talk about proper diets, a physical therapist will give basic information on posture, sitting, standing and lifting, for the expectant mother. A business office representative will offer suggestions for pre-registration.

Nurses from the maternity division will conduct a tour of the maternity wing and a film will be shown.

Mrs. Connor commented that many young couples are living away from relatives and have little or no contact with other expectant parents. She said that those attending regard less of what their attending doctor or what the expectant parents have planned for hospitalization.

The May 2 meeting will be the first of a series of programs and will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Guests will be met at the emergency room entrance by a maternity nurse and directed to the hospital cafeteria where the meeting will be held.

Members of the professional staff, including an obstetrician.

Nurse Criticizes Move To Change Health Service

Mrs. Jean Bates, a Bolton resident and public health nurse in Manchester, criticized the Board of Education for its recent decision to cancel its contract with the Rockville Public Health Nursing Association.

Mrs. Bates' letter, which was read at both the school board and the second congressional convention, and selections of the board of health were directed to school board chairman Andrew Managetta.

In her letter Mrs. Bates stated that she was a delegate to either convention. Those who have indicated they will vote for the two state convention posts are Mahon, Aloysia Aham, Richard Breslow, Joseph Licitra, Leon Rivers and Steven Sherman.

Those interested in attending the second congressional convention are John Connolly and Walter Tresschak.

Cuba Meeting

Bolton's Cub Pack 187 will meet tonight at 7:30 in the basement of St. Martin's Church on Hebron Rd. A representative from the Connecticut Parachute Association will present a program.

Bliss cited several disadvantages of the separate programs, including loss of contact with peers for continuation; and loss of opportunity for professional growth and continuing education.

Bliss stated that the nursing profession is a profession of continuity of health services between the school and the home.

"You put a tremendous responsibility on the part-time professional," Mrs. Bates said. "She should be able to do a job that she should be able to do for a living."

Time Change

Conservation commission member Richard Brevlow, who is organizing Saturday's Rid Litter Day, says that those planning to help meet at Community Hall at 9:30 a.m. as previously stated.

Democracy Caucus

Six Democrats have expressed an interest in being delegates to the state convention in Hartford June 18 and 17, according to town committee chairman John Mahon. Another two persons have indicated they would like to represent the town at the congressional district convention to be held June 24 at Grand Lake Lodge, Lebanon.

Because so many persons are interested in the delegate position, the town committee has decided not to make any endorsements or recommendations, but to leave the selection up to tomorrow's caucus.

Convention Delegates Elected by Democrats

The Andover Democrats last night elected four delegates to the various state conventions, despite the possibility of having to do it all over again if redistricting becomes a reality.

At a caucus last night, Mrs. Betty MacDonald was elected delegate to the state convention which will meet Wednesday at the national convention. Mrs. MacDonald is supporting Sen. George McGovern for the presidential nomination. Running against Mrs. MacDonald was Democratic Town Councilman Andrew Gasper, who lost by a substantial margin.

Managers, coaches and fathers of boys planning to participate in the town's spring baseball program are asked to come to a work session at Rockville Memorial Park Saturday.

Last week's work session had to be canceled due to wet weather, so very little time remains for field preparation prior to the opening of Little League and town baseball.

Those planning to help Saturday are asked to bring rakes, shovels and wheelbarrows.

WASHINGTON — Net assets of American business investments abroad totaled $50 billion at the end of 1971, up $27 billion from 10 years earlier.

First Ambassador

In July of 1778, Conrad Gerad, appointed ambassador to the United States by Louis XVI of France, arrived in the United States. He was the first foreign diplomatic representative accredited to the new nation.

Ziemia was sentenced to serve six months and Secore, nine months. It was recommended by the court that they be taken to Brooklyn jail.

Judge Douglas E. Wright also sentenced both to one year, execution suspended, and two years' probation on a charge of assault in the third degree, substituted for two counts each of assault in the second degree. A charge of aggravated assault against Ziemia was noted.

The intimidation charges were made in connection with a complaint made by another youth, 18-year-old Dana Burgess, who claimed harassment and physical abuse from Ziemia and Secore.

The assault charge identified the beating of another youth during which Ziemia allegedly used a steel pipe inflicting head injuries. The incident involved six youths and took place in front of the Grant's store in Rockville. Ziemia was identified as the one who hit the victim.

The aggravated assault charge which was noted, also involved the beating of another youth during which Ziemia allegedly used a steel pipe inflicting head injuries. The incident involved six youths and took place in front of the Grant's store in Rockville. Ziemia was identified as the one who hit the victim.
