Astronauts Ready To Field Questions from the Earth

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 16 astronauts hold a news conference from 100,000 miles in space today to report first-hand on their moon exploration which scientists feel will help unravel many secrets of lunar history.

The late afternoon conference is the only major item for the astronauts on their last full day in space before they head in the Pacific Ocean on Thursday with their record cargo of moon valuables.

In the South Pacific, where the carrier Ticonderoga waits to recover the astronauts, the weather forecast for the 2:44 p.m. splashdown time Thursday calls for unlimited visibility except for a few thunderheads, seas of 1 to 3 feet, light winds and a temperature of 84 degrees.

John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II devote most of the day to monitoring systems, taking stellar navigation readings and reading for their homecoming at the end of 11 days away from earth.

During the half-hour news conference, a capsule communicator will read to them questions prepared by newsmen covering the flight from the Manned Spacecraft Center. It will be televised to Mission Control.

Young and Duke were to be questioned about their report Monday that they did not think they found any volcanic rock "to speak of." That had been the main goal as they conducted man's first exploration in the moon's highlands, which constitute nearly 80 per cent of the surface.

But Mission Control geologists who watched on television and listened to the moon walkers' descriptions are certain they are bringing back volcanic evidence in the 245 pounds of rocks and soil they collected.

The consensus here is that volcanic processes during the early history of the moon took a different form than those on earth and Young and Duke thus were unable to recognize rocks as volcanic.

It is believed that volcanism existed on the moon during its formative years more than four billion years ago, it will show the moon once had a hot interior or like the earth. For some yet unknown reason, nature turned off the lunar heat machine early in its history and it became a relatively dead body.

On Monday, Mattingly took a deep space walk 199,000 miles from home. He eased through the open hatch of the command ship Casper and moved on handrails 15 feet to the rear of the spacecraft to recover more than a mile of film from two cameras.

The cameras charted a large area of the moon from lunar orbit including a section of the backside which is hidden from earth's view.

"Oh, man! The old moon's out there," Mattingly said as he maneuvered and floated outside in the silent, weightless world. "Boy is it black."

The walk was necessary because the camera bay is jettisoned before landing and does not return to earth with the astronauts.

Government troops were reported building new bunkers and trenches in the area of Kontum.

Allies Facing Cutoff

SARIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces threatened today to cut South Vietnam in half, posed a new tank challenge in Cambodia 85 miles northwest of Saigon and shot down another big U.S. transport plane at An Loc. Six American crewmen were missing.

The U.S. Command said 24 American helicopters and 18 planes have been lost since the North Vietnamese launched their offensive 27 days ago, with 25 Americans killed, eight wounded and 41 missing in the air losses. Spokesmen said these figures do not include Americans killed or wounded in aircraft that have been damaged but not destroyed.

With the western highlands province of Kontum already seriously threatened, Communist troops continued their push into coastal Binh Dinh Province 75 miles to the east and cut Highway 4, the country's main north-south road. Highway 13 north of Kontum and east-west Highway 19 leading from the coast to Pleiku were severed earlier.

Landing Zone Salem, a key South Vietnamese position on Highway 1 in coastal Phu My district, fell just before noon after more than 12 hours of enemy attack, and the last defenders pulled out.

Other North Vietnamese troops isolated Bong Son, another district town to the north, cut Highway 1 and began rounding up civilians to carry Hoai An, a district town between Bong Son and Phu My, was captured last week.

In the highlands to the west, the North Vietnamese drive down Highway 14 toward Kontum City appeared stalled by the destruction of a bridge by U.S. bombers.

The South Vietnamese command claimed that South Vietnamese and U.S. fighter-bombers and gunships destroyed 10 enemy tanks and a supply column of 53 trucks in the Tan Canh-Dak To area just above the blown-out bridge and about 20-25 miles north of Kontum City.

Enemy gunners kept up sporadic shelling of airfields at Kontum and Pleiku, 25 miles to the south. The U.S. Command reported that an Army observation helicopter was shot down near enemy-held Dak To but said there were no casualties.

Elements of the South Vietnamese 23rd Infantry Division, based in the southern highlands below Pleiku, were reported being sent north to reinforce Kontum.

Government troops were reported building new bunkers and trenches in the area of Kontum.

Nixon In TV Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Henry A. Kissinger freshly returned from a secret Moscow trip and the Paris peace talks resuming Thursday, President Nixon gives the nation a Vietnam report tonight including his decision on U.S. troop levels there after May 1.

U.S. forces in South Vietnam currently are slated to drop to 60,000 by the end of this month. This nears the residual-force strength of 25,000 to 30,000 men Nixon has indicated will stay on until Hanoi frees American prisoners.

Besides scheduling the widely awaited presidential radio-TV address for 10 p.m. EST, the White House also:

—Announced U.S. and Saigon negotiators will return to the Paris parley Thursday, with their first item to be "discussion of measures which will put an end to the flagrant North Vietnamese invasion of South Vietnam."

Nixon suspended the weekly Paris sessions March 23 on grounds the enemy was using them only for propaganda. The Vietnamese communists have been demanding a resumption of the talks.

Disclosed presidential adviser Kissinger flew secretly to Moscow last week for four days of talks with Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and other Soviet leaders. During this April 20-24 period the White House was saying Kissinger was with Nixon at the President's Camp David, Md., mountain retreat.

Kissinger told newsmen Tuesday that he had ranged over major U.S.-Soviet issues in preparing for Nixon's May 23-29 visit to the Soviet Union. These include Vietnam.

The administration has served notice Nixon intends to take up the question of restraint on Vietnam with Brezhnev, and it has chastized the Kremlin publicly for Soviet shipments of heavy arms used by North Vietnam in its offensive.

Administration sources discouraged speculation, however, that Kissinger made any deal with Brezhnev for resumption of the Paris talks or that he had hurried to Moscow for fear that rising U.S.-Soviet friction over Vietnam would collapse the summit conference.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler added: "I wouldn't draw any linkage between Henry Kissinger's trip to the Soviet Union and the President's decision with re-

McGovern, Humphrey Top Ballot

Sen. George S. McGovern vaulted to the lead in Democratic delegate strength today with a towering victory in the Massachusetts presidential primary and a surprise bonus in Pennsylvania. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said he had "won a decisive battle" for the Democratic center by winning in Pennsylvania.

And in double defeat, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine said he would campaign on, declaring that his rivals would "have to fight like hell" to keep him from the White House nomination.

McGovern and Humphrey fought him separately Tuesday in the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries, and beat him for delegates and popular votes. Next Tuesday they join head on in a battle in Ohio, facing each other, Muskie and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington.

Muskie finished a far-back second in Massachusetts, and was running third in Pennsylvania, behind the surprisingly strong Gov. George C. Wallace. The Alabama governor picked up eight per cent of the Massachusetts vote, and was running fourth there, behind Humphrey of Minnesota.

In Indianapolis, Wallace said his Pennsylvania showing "indicates George Wallace has a better chance to be the nominee than ever before."

"I went to bed last night a good fourth and woke up this morning a good second," he said.

Humphrey won Pennsylvania with 35 per cent of the vote, Wallace and Humphrey each had 21 per cent, although the governor was 12,000 votes ahead in nearly complete returns. McGovern was narrowly behind them.

In a major Pennsylvania surprise, McGovern was picking up more delegates than Muskie with 94 per cent of the vote counted. Humphrey led the delegate competition there with 57, McGovern had 37 and Muskie 29.

In Massachusetts, McGovern was managing what no 1972 candidate had done before, capturing an absolute majority of the ballots in a crowded presidential preference race.

With 78 per cent of the precincts counted, the South Dakota senator had 5 per cent of the vote, in a 12-candidate contest. Muskie was far back at 22 per cent.

McGovern's landslide put him in charge of all 102 Massachusetts delegates—and furthermore, his slate of relatively unknown pledged delegate candidates beat the big name party

Nate Gets Town Nod

By SOL E. COHEN (Herald Reporter)

State Comptroller Nathan Agostinelli last night was warmly endorsed by the Manchester Republican Town Committee for the GOP nomination for First District congressman.

The home-town endorsement was the first among the 13 towns of the First Congressional District. The GOP district convention will be June 17 at Hall High School, West Hartford.

Agostinelli, a former Manchester mayor, is considered the frontrunner for the nomination. He was catapulted into top contention when former Hartford Mayor Ann Uccello announced on Saturday she is not a candidate for the nomination. Miss Uccello lost to U.S. Rep. William Cotto, the incumbent Democrat, by 1,185 votes in 1970.

Agostinelli has declined to commit himself to a yes or no answer regarding the nomination. He said he is "deeply honored" that so many influential Republicans, as well as Democrats and unaffiliated, are pressing me to run.

He explained, "It's just that I'm not sure of what I want to do. I'm sorry I can't give them a ready answer."

Others being mentioned for the First District GOP nomination are former West Hartford Mayor Richard Eshen and Jonathan Dugan, a Hartford real estate broker.

Last night's unanimous endorsement was on a motion by Atty. John Shea, one of Agostinelli's most influential backers. Shea, former GOP town chairman, former town counsel and former state representative, is state central committee member from the Fourth Senatorial District and co-chairman of First Congressional District Republicans.

"We should be proud here in Manchester to have the most outstanding candidate for the congressional nomination," said Shea. "Even though he hasn't committed himself yet, I think it's proper for us to show that

GOP Chooses To Re-Elect Town Slate

By SOL E. COHEN (Herald Reporter)

Manchester Republicans last night unanimously elected M. Adler Dobkin to his third consecutive term as GOP town chairman and unanimously re-elected Mrs. Sandra Taylor, vice chairman; Mrs. Mildred Schaller, secretary; and Charles McKensie, treasurer.

The elections, at a meeting in the Municipal Building of the Republican Town Committee, were without opposition.

Dobkin was nominated by Harlan Taylor, a former town director; Mrs. Taylor by Atty. John Shea, himself a former GOP town chairman; Mrs. Schaller by Edward Weiss, a former member of the Board of Education; and McKensie by Eugene Montany, former chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee.

Taylor, after ticking off Dobkin's various involvements in political and appointive offices, said of him, "He is a dedicated, sincere person — fulfilling what he feels are his responsibilities to the town. If there is a man with greater integrity than Adler, I haven't met him yet."

Shea praised Mrs. Taylor as one "whose dedication to the

42 Arrested Near Groton Naval Base

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Forty-two antiwar demonstrators were arrested early today at the U.S. Navy's submarine base on charges of disorderly conduct, police reported.

They said all those arrested had blocked entrances to government property.

"They were all very peaceful, and we didn't have any problem at all with them," a lieutenant said.

All were released on a "promise-to-appear" bond for a Circuit Court appearance May 9, he said.

The arrests were made about midnight.

Several hours later, the area was still clear of demonstrators, police said.

"We don't believe they'll be back," the lieutenant said.

Earlier in the day, two demonstrators had been arrested by state police at another entrance to the base after they allegedly tried to block traffic there. Both were charged with disorderly conduct.

In other antiwar demonstrations, 250 persons attended an antiwar rally on campus of Southern Connecticut State College Tuesday afternoon.

At night, a Connecticut regional coordinating committee met at Trinity College in Hartford and unanimously adopted a resolution calling for an end to American involvement in Asia and an end to the wage freeze. Those attending represented several colleges in the state.

Kennedy Seen In Good Stance

HARTFORD (AP) — Confidence Armitage, president of the National Federation of Republican Women, said Tuesday Sen. Edward Kennedy "retains a very good position" to get the Democratic presidential nomination by not entering any primaries.

The South Carolinian made the comment in an interview following an address to a $7-per-plate fund-raising luncheon for Connecticut women Republicans.

Asked if there was any Democrat she felt could defeat President Nixon this year, she said: "No. I don't think there is a viable Democrat just to the test."

Earlier questions about the life and food chains gave rise to an alternative proposal of carrying the silt short distance to the shore to create and dumping the silt out in Long Island Sound.

1968 reportedly was to cut South Vietnam in two, but the rapid buildup of U.S. ground combat troops prevented this. The South Vietnamese must go it alone with only U.S. air support to help them.

The United States sent 75,000 troops against North Vietnam. They dropped nearly 2,000 tons of bombs, and more than half of the strikes were in the central region.

New fighting was reported around Saigon.

The South Vietnamese command had 10 North Vietnamese tanks were spotted just south of the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway about a mile inside Cambodia's Ieng Province, which has been under heavy enemy pressure.

South Vietnamese bomber pilots claimed they destroyed four of the tanks. The area, called the Parrot's Beak, has been a major infiltration corridor in the past toward Saigon and into the Mekong Delta.

Flighting continued for the 20th day at An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon, and other battles erupted northwest and southeast of the capital.

The U.S. Command said a four-engine C130 transport was shot down a mile southwest of An Loc while making a supply drop before dawn to South Vietnamese forces. The six crewmen were reported missing.

A C130 was disabled April 15 and another was shot down April 18 while on similar missions, with one crewman killed and six wounded.

Enemy gunners poured more than 2,000 rounds into the besieged provincial capital Tuesday, and an American adviser was reported wounded.

A sum of $10,000 was taken from capital funds; $2,000 from future recreational land acquisition provincial capital Tuesday, and an American adviser was reported wounded.

A 10th Vietnamese command claimed 54 North Vietnamese killed in a battle near Qui Chi, 25 miles northwest of Saigon; 80 enemy killed near two additions Duc Thanh, a district town 40 miles southeast of Saigon, and an additional 80,000 North Vietnamese killed in the area east and northeast of Dong Ha, on the northern front town road equipment.

Hebron Cut Budget Calls For 6-Mill Hike

Despite cuts amounting to $50,815 made by the Board of Finance in the general government and Board of Education requested 1972-1973 budget, residents will be faced with a 6 mill tax increase if the total budget in approved May 8 at the annual budget meeting.

Requests for the selectmen's salary cuts were cut from $10,000 for salary, $2,000 for expenses and $2,000 for a secretary was cut to $8,000.

Requests for the selectmen's board clerk for $2,000 was cut to $2,500; the tax collector from $2,500 to $2,000; the town clerk from $3,000 to $4,300; and the floating clerk from $4,200 to $3,000 in anticipation of federal funds again being available for this position.

Revenues estimated by the board amount to $1,707,922. This will come from state reimbursements for operation of the schools, $387,483; state reimbursement for town operations, $130,970; property taxes, $1,219,462; and surplus, $20,000.

Total estimated revenues, minus the total budget expenditures, will leave the town with $407 as an estimated gain in operation for the year 1972-1973.

It also leaves the residents with 74 mills as a tax rate for 68 mills which was only 2.5 mills over the previous year.

The Anti-Establishmentarians

Judging by one phase of the evolving Democratic primaries, this should, after all, have been the year for the perennial Harold Stassen to prevail rather than de-

It would seem, from such aspects, to be the year for the showman candidate, and Stassen, as the most showman of all candidates, might have had a good chance of coming in ahead of Senator Hubert Humphrey, the next most showman himself, in 1968, just about as showman as a political candidate can get.

The triumph of the showman Humphrey in Pennsylvania may, however, be a deceptive development, not possibly leading toward the monopoly of another nomination for him at Miami Beach.

The main reason for this is that the Democratic primaries in that state who bother to go out and vote in primaries are sick and tired of what they consider the showman professional candidates, and have what seems an almost irrational but irresistible tendency to go for the unknown candidate. Perhaps not so much for what they themselves stand for as for the fact that they have some cards to position themselves outside the conventional of "establishment" posture in politics, the real vote getters of the primary season are turning out to be Senator McGovern and Governor Wallace.

These two are, for all the ideological distance between them, both points of refuge for voters who are tired of the routine candidates and who despair of the possibility that any of our known leadership talents or methods can really handle the problems of our time.

To this opportunity, these two anti-establishment figures respond with certain rigidity of their own talents. Senator McGovern — and in case you haven't noticed this you had better take another look at him — is beginning to develop a certain charisma right out of his supposed handicap in not having any. Governor Wallace is sharpening his own tongue and ear so that, in him, many a puzzled and troubled average American can think he hears himself talking.

In Massachusetts yesterday, this anti-establishment vote scored a handsome victory with McGovern. In Pennsylvania, McGovern and Wallace together added up to more than Humphrey got in his "victory."

The Democratic primaries are building up — or is it leaning down — to the moments when the Democrats at Miami Beach are going to have the most typical experience of our times — that of facing a problem to which there is no good answer.

Sanity in Trouble: Through all the post war years Willy Brandt has seemed Germany's best hope for the things that eventually have to happen for Germany and for Europe.

What has to happen for Germany is the reunification of the country.

And when that happens there can, at last, be some kind of sensible stability for Europe because the reunification of Germany would seal both the major power than now facing each other in Europe, Russia and the United States, back toward their own borders.

Russia and the United States have, of themselves, been incapable, for 37 years now, of making a peace for the war they win together.

But when Willy Brandt finally became Chancellor, there was at last on the scene a free agent who proved capable of moving West Germany out of automatic identification with United States policy and into an exploration of the possibility of more normal relationships with East Germany and with the rest of Eastern Europe.

Chancellor Brandt has made some progress in this direction, some of it represented by the goodwill treaties he signed with Warsaw and Moscow in 1970. These treaties are now coming up, immediately, for ratification in the Bundestag.

It is at this juncture that the voters in the state of Baden-Wuerttemberg have gone to the polls and, by giving Chancellor Brandt's political opposition a new center percentage of the vote — 53 per cent — dealt Chancellor Brandt what could expand into a fatal political blow.

Conceivably the normalization treaties will now be defeated. Conceivably Brandt and his whole campaign toward normalcy will now be discarded.

The purported revelation of some secret government documents, some of them apparently false creations by those who stole the rest, has played a part in creating this embarrassment for Brandt.

This is not a particularly suspicious world for leaders who dare to try to offer sanity either to friend or foe. It is not pleasant to have to think how dismal the prospect for Germany and for Europe may turn, again, because the voters in one West German state, Sunday, voted 53 per cent against the Chancellor.

Zero As A Goal: Zero, once only a number, has suddenly become an important national objective. The United States, once the carefree child of Europe, grew into an amazing economic giant under a philosophy of free enterprise, followed by a multitude of guerrilla rampages and underground assassinations, followed by "spontaneous" uprisings.

The men who believe added voters in one West German state, Sunday, voted 53 per cent against the Chancellor.

Split in Hanoi

By RAY CROMLEY, NEA Columnist

The current North Vietnamese invasion of the south was a compromise. It is the culmination of a deep ideological struggle which has wracked Hanoi for two years, on what path Vietnamese communism is to follow—doctrinaire Marxism-Leninism or a communist modified to suit Vietnamese customs.

This fight has split the Hanoi leadership into three major groups—those who argue for a quick military solution, those who believe North Vietnam can win at the Paris peace talks with a little push, and those who favor the Mao Tse-tung theory of protracted war, with more emphasis put on rebuilding the socialist north.

The present bitter compromise between these three. Thus the invasion has something for each. It is not a last ditch drive or a final gap of the north. Nor is it, on the contrary, a sign of major strength. It is basically an attempt to get out of the "trilemma" outlined above.

The men who favor a quick military solution are getting a chance to try their theory—that South Vietnam's armies and President Thieu's government will collapse under a series of multi-pronged, hammer-like attacks at various points in the country, followed by a multitude of guerrilla rampages and underground assassinations, followed by "spontaneous" uprisings.

The men who believe added voters in one West German state, Sunday, voted 53 per cent against the Chancellor.

Hi Neighbor

Burl Lyons, Publisher

During our short time in Connecticut Yankee land, we have discovered the operation of a newspaper to be a bit different.

In one respect, our management experience has been the same, the operation of a newspaper in a suburban or bedroom community or near a metropolitan center.

However, there the similarity ends in the Manchester area. We don't notice any particular loyalty about the folks living in Manchester spending their money here for goods and services.

At the same time some Manchester area businesses, with no other locations in Connecticut, spend their promotional or advertising dollars with media outside of Manchester.

In short, there doesn't appear to be the loyalty to a community that exists in the Midwest, West, and other parts of the nation.

During our short tenure, we have observed that too many firms rely on the suburban newspaper, like The Herald, for their public relations or free news efforts.

It is interesting to note that if all three immediate objectives fail, the protracted war group will have won. For they will have proved that the sudden thrust concept is not tenable, at least for now, and will have shown that Hanoi must again return to the solid underground building approach mentioned above.

In this event, the heavy losses which North Vietnam is now sustaining would be written off as the experimental operation necessary to determine precisely by which way was the correct route to follow. If this seems like a horrible price to pay for a determination, it is nevertheless probably the only way in which the country, followed by the South Vietnamese armies, and raise such a revival of their fighting in the United States that President Nixon will be forced to agree to the Commun-

Manchester area businesses can serve all the needs of this community, and its news media, which includes radio also, can serve all the needs of the business.

If we want Manchester to become just the community where we sleep at night and pay the cost of our services, we must operate very long. If there aren't enough businesses to pay for the cost of our services, we must operate very long.

Think about it: the next time you make a purchase outside the Manchester area. At any rate the above is simply this writer's observation and we learned long ago that we can't really change a community or the world with two fingers on a typewriter, but that doesn't keep us from trying.

Perhaps overlooked in this problem are the Vietnam War and the mounting drug trade in the immediate area. The Vietnam War and the mounting drug trade in the immediate area. The Vietnam War and the mounting drug trade in the immediate area.

In 1972 alone, another 240,000 Americans will die from the disease. Put another way, it is estimated that more than 20 million Americans now living eventually will have cancer, a disease which strikes one in four persons.

Life last year, President Nixon signed the Cancer Act which authorized Congress to spend $1.6 billion toward looking the disease. The bill authorized the establishment of 13 research centers. The act provided $20 million this year, $30 million next year, and $40 million in fiscal 1975.

Something to think about: The number of Americans in military uniform today totals 2.4 million, compared with 2.7 million eight years ago. All U.S. services except the Marines will be smaller as of this summer than they were in mid-1964 before the Vietnam War buildup began.

U.S. News and World Report says the size of the armed forces in Russia totals 2.4 million, largest in the world. The Red Chinese armed forces total 2.3 million, almost all of the ground troops.

Currently under way is a program to turn dirty coal into clean, pipeline-quality gas. The federal government, through the Interior Department, is funding two-thirds of a $100 million program to perfect the coal gasification process and make it commercially feasible.

It is expected that the end product will be more expensive than regular natural gas but still cheaper than other possibilities.

It is estimated that American today consumes six more times energy per capita than the rest of the world's people. During the last 40 years, the U.S. population grew 70 per cent while energy consumption grew 310 per cent.

And the Body is Made: Seventy years ago sex was the hidden word and the unspoken event. Today, the word and the event, that are denied, are the word and the event of death.

Why should we deny that in life is also death that immortality exists as a counter to mortality, that our living is really a picture framed by the death experience.

This is what makes for the possibility of greatness. Here the event to be met, and not evaded. Here is the elephant — or the it or the thing — and to meet everyday this possibility with just our own serious and not an imposed external, social or cultural answer in the person's greatest need.

Here is the possibility for the affirmation of courage, and trust, and even forgiveness. And from this experience comes the tried and tested soul who can begin to live because he has discovered he is never alone.

"Fiddler" A Success

The first weekend in April the South Windsor High School presented its 4th annual "Fiddler On The Roof."

It was originally scheduled for only three performances, but because these performances were sold out, and received standing ovations, another performance was presented by popular demand.

This too was sold out and again received a standing ovation.

Although the students themselves earned the standing ovations with their excellent performance, they would not have been able to present these performances to "full houses" had the show not received the publicity it did for the first night's performance.

This publicity helped to serve a two-fold purpose. Not only did the attendees cover the high cost of presenting such a musical, it gave credit to those who are engaged in worthwhile activities. Too often the private efforts of these people are not recognized.

Everyone connected with "Fiddler" at South Windsor High School and I would like to thank everyone at The Manchester Evening Herald for the excellent coverage they received.

Our special thanks to Mrs. Eleanor Vincent, Windsor correspondent, who published our release verbatim and to the staff of the Herald who arranged for the photo of the "Bottle Dance."

Sincerely, Musical Production Director

"Most Helpful": To The People of Manchester: You are the most fortunate people in the world. When trouble comes you can certainly count on your Chief of Police and all his men, detectives, sergeants and patrolmen any day of your week and call.

They were most helpful to me in my time of emergency. I also would like to thank Chief James, Chief Wilson and Chief Strout for responding to my calls so promptly. Also Mr. Fogarty of the Board of Health and Mr. Down. Also the Building Inspectors — their names I didn't get. All these people have helped to take away part of the difficulty of living under trying circumstances.

Sincerely, Mrs. Eleanor Vincent, 709 Main St.

Water Blanket Developed To Save Exposure Victims

By BOB SKUGGEN
Bellingham Herald

Written for Associated Press
BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP) — A near tragic hunting expedition by two Whatcom County boys has afforded the opportunity to field test a new life-saving device for persons suffering from exposure.

The device, a thermal blanket which circulates warm water over a victim's skin through a series of plastic tubes, is credited with saving the life of one of the youngsters.

Robert Bass, 18, and his cousin, Melvin Bass, 15, fell into a river late in the afternoon while on a bobcat hunt in the Cascade Mountains east of here.

The younger boy huddled beneath a rock while Robert attempted to go for help, but Robert soon bogged down in waist-deep snow.

When Robert was found 10 hours later, he was in a state of hypothermia — a medical term for exposure. He was unconscious, his body temperature was 80 degrees and dropping, his heart beat was 40 a minute and he was breathing four or five times a minute.

"He was just about dead," Dr. Charles Eichenberger, a member of the Bellingham Mountain Rescue Council and one of Bass' rescuers said. "Fifty per cent of people who cool that much have already died."

Application of the blanket stopped the temperature drop and raised it more than three degrees by the time more efficient rescue gear could be packed to the scene.

By the time Robert reached a Bellingham hospital in an Army helicopter nearly six hours later, his temperature was up to 96 degrees and he was out of danger, according to the doctor who treated him.

Melvin was in better shape when he was found, a fact rescuers attributed to his being sheltered and dressed completely in wool, a material that helps contain body heat even when it is wet. Robert had on cotton jeans and was hatless.

New Heights Assaulted By All But The Dow Jones

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — In the past six years man has assaulted heights records of various sorts. He has topped 100-story buildings, erected 1,000-foot structures toward the stars and stepped on the moon.

But in that same time the Dow Jones Industrial Average is stuck right where it was in 1966. It has bounced about during this time, shaking loose a few fortunes, but its rebound is the that of a worn tennis ball.

It reached 906 in 1966 and then tumbled to 744. It crawled to 869 in 1968 and then fell to 831. It rebounded to 908 in 1971 but plunged again to 788 in the same year.

More once it is back close to 970 but there again the "assault" needed to have the market.

Early in the week it read 937 and some of the stock market letter writers are showing the strain.

As explained by one, James Dines, the market has once again reached that point where analysts are just getting too bullish. So watch out.

... and with the DJIA now means a loss to the market of a steady flow of investment dollars to support prices.

All these factors can take on a different meaning over coming days and weeks. Not only will the events change but, in a mysterious way, the interpretation of events might change also.

This is the age of man the iconoclast, in which records and beliefs and institutions are assaulted. That 1,000 mark on the DJIA remains unbreached, however, and seems to grow rather with age.

Rather than trying to understand, perhaps we should accept in explanation a response generally used in another context.

Why can't the stock market go 1,000 in the DJIA? Because it's there.

Nuclear Costs Climb
WASHINGTON—Reversing a 20-year downward trend, fiscal 1971 costs for producing nuclear material increased over the previous year, according to a report by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The report said that the cost of producing one kilowatt-hour of electricity from a nuclear reactor rose from 1.4 cents in 1970 to 1.5 cents in 1971. Much of the rise is attributable to higher power costs.

Horse Is Named

COOLIDGE SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A radio station here held a contest to name "the horse with no name" and the prize was a Palomino mare.

David D. Rogers won, with his suggestion "Excelsior" and his explanation: "I feel that America's song 'Horse With No Name' is symbolic of modern man's struggle to release himself from the bondage of today's society; the author of the song experienced a 'going out of sorts.' He was going out of the harness and demands of modern society to the peace of the ides."

The new stable for the horse was at a receiving home for welfare children.

Kissinger's Moscow Trip Shrouded Under Real Lie

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief spokesman casually but deliberately told a half-dozen reporters covering the cover story for Henry A. Kissinger's latest clandestine journey—a four-day trip to the hamlets and mountains of the White House State Dining Room where Nixon was shaking hands with a stream of persons attending a reception for the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler approached a half-dozen reporters covering the reception and said the President would be leaving immediately after all hands were shaken for a weekend at the Camp David retreat in Maryland's mountains.

Such a carefully constructed work of fiction, although Ziegler found it necessary to repeat the false report on Kissinger's whereabouts several times.

Last Friday, for example, he was asked if a White House briefing who was with the President at Camp David.

"I mentioned last night the President would be working over the weekend at Camp David on both domestic and foreign policy matters," Ziegler responded. "During the weekend, he will be conferring with Ehrlichman, Haldeman and Kissinger."

Q. Are they there now?

A. I believe they went up ahead of time yesterday. They were desirable to keep the meeting secret and keep speculation to a minimum.

Thifault Charges He's Kept in Dark

Charging that he is being "kept in the dark" regarding town affairs, citing also proposed new many town matters, Thifault, Selectman Charles Thifault, dominated last night's meeting of the Board of Selectmen.

Thifault directed many of his comments to budget items in the proposed 1973-74 budget as revised by the finance board, claiming it should be cut still further in the interests of an "austerity year."

Although he opposes the town garage (initial location is selected) and the playground (it should be repaired again) Thifault was critical of the finance board's deletion of the $23,000 request for a new fire truck.

The former first selectman complained of the finance board's failure to select a five-year capital improvement program planning major financial commitments during that period.

Thifault was critical also of the Finance Study Committee's failure to present the Board of Selectmen with a report of their activities before they went to the finance board for their approval.

When informed by Luce that a site for the town garage was under consideration, Thifault charged he was being "kept in

First Earth Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — A glory ride in a fireball paved the way for America's exploration of space.

Lt. Col. John H. Glenn became the first United States astronaut to orbit Earth when he soared aloft from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Feb. 20, 1968, in his Friendship 7 spacecraft. He circled the globe three times in an 85,500-mile odyssey that lasted 4 hours, 55 minutes, and 23 seconds.

A dazzling display greeted the astronaut on his first swing around Earth. "It is as if I were walking backward through a field of fireflies," he said. The brilliant mass that Glenn saw outside the spacecraft's window turned out to be particles of ice formed by the fuel from Friendship's thrusters.

Vernon Democrats Pick Delegates, Lack of Women Questioned

While the Democratic Town Committee has a large number of women in its membership, only two women were named as delegates, one each to the congressional and state conventions, and some of the other women on the committee questioned "why" at the meeting Monday night.

Miss Patricia Cedor questioned the inequity in the number of men appointed as compared to the number of women. State Sen. Robert Houley, who headed the committee to bring in the state for the state convention, and Mrs. McCarthy has just been elected vice chairman of the town committee.

After being elected, the delegates to both conventions were presented their preference for presidential nominees, with one delegate absent, three definitely said they were for Sen. Edward Muskie and three indicated support for Sen. George McGovern.

Barbieri Backs Sen. McGovern. NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Democratic Town Chairman Arthur T. Barbieri announced Tuesday that he will back Sen. George McGovern in the Democratic primary for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Massachusetts Chapter 12 will occupy the Royal Arch Widows' Degree at the Masonic Lodge, 1000 Main St., Saturday at 8 p.m.

Field representative Thomas Myers said the local chapter is "not getting down to the grassroots." Volunteers and specifically a new chairman with an understanding of community problems are needed to revamp the committee.

The local unit proposes to continue providing food, clothing and furniture for the needy and emergency relief but according to Myers, the philosophy of the unit should include more than these services.

Field representative Thomas Myers said the local chapter is "not getting down to the grassroots." Volunteers and specifically a new chairman with an understanding of community problems are needed to revamp the committee.

Barbieri said in a prepared statement, "I shall urge my friends and long-time co-workers in New Haven and other parts of the state to do the same."

Political observers in New Haven quickly began speculating on why Barbieri gave his endorsements. One theory was that it would give Barbieri two medical advantages.

It might outflank local liberals, who support McGovern and had been planning to wage a primary against the state convention delegates Barbieri will support.

And, it was theorized, the move might cast Barbieri as the leader in a challenge to other party leaders—including Bailey—who have yet to take sides in the presidential race.

Barbieri said of McGovern, "He stands tall among all senators and congressmen for his courage and single-minded devotion to principle."

MCC Dramatists Presenting 'Under Milk Wood'

An "old salt" of the Welsh fishing village observes the fading love of the Pughs and the developing one of Polly Garter and Mr. Waldo in a scene from "Under Milk Wood" by Dylan Thomas. city of Qui Nhon, who are putting up sandbags and hiding their family treasures, to the lonely handful of American advisers at Bong Son, the picture is the grimest since 1965. In a few months that year the Communists gained control of most of the province. It took a succession of American infantry units to turn the tide. The few Americans left in Binh Dinh agree that it will take far more effort to do the job again than is being shown now. An even bigger question is whether it will ever be possible to win back the confidence of the people who trusted allied protection.

Local Democrats organized their new town committee last night, choosing Alvah Phillips unanimously for a second two-year term as chairman. They also selected their other officers, and in a lengthy balloting session, delegates to two upcoming conventions.

Rita Bennet won unanimous approval for a second term as vice-chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, with Debby Bennett elected recording secretary, Florence Sorrell, corresponding secretary, and Ruth Bennett, treasurer.

There was a contest for the latter post, with Mrs. Bennet winning a 2-1 in an incumbent treasurer Richard Hawley on a 1-0 vote, with one ballot cast for both candidates.

For the two secretary positions, there was no contest, and this year marked the first time that the position has been split into two, a necessity, Phillips said, because of the work load involved.

In typical unpredictable local Democratic fashion, there were some contests for the delegates sent. At stake were three delegates each for the June state convention and the Second Congressional district convention, also slated for June.

Nominating committee chairman Cliff Johnson read the slate for the state convention, which included himself, Phillips, and Richard Cronin. From the floor came the names of Hawley, Mrs. Bennet and Joyce Castelli.

In nominating Mrs. Carlini, Claire Connolly cited the report of the McGovern Commission, which encourages equal representation at conventions for women delegates. She noted that half the population of Coventry, which the Democratic Town Committee represents, is female, and therefore it seemed only justified that at least one delegate to the state convention should be a woman.

She said she would challenge the credentials of the Coventry delegation in Hartford if it was all male.

Since selection required a majority vote of those present, via paper ballots, it was necessary to go to three ballots, with Phillips and Cronin winning on the first, and Hawley finally getting the required majority on the third ballot.

Before balloting, each nominee was asked to state his current choice for U.S. president, since

Police Report

Ellsworth White, 48, of no certain address, was arrested last night on Broad St., charged with intoxication. Court date is May 15.

Florence C. Palmer, 274 Hill-ton Dr., South Windsor, was issued a summons for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor last night. She was released on a $100 non-survey bond for court appearance May 15.

Five-year-old Nicholas DePalma of 87 Horton Rd. suffered only a scraped elbow, police said, when he was hit by a car driven by Walter S. Kita of Middle Butcher Rd., Rockville, headed west on Woodland St. Hit the boy as he was running across the road, police said.

George S. Trudell and his wife, Patricia, of 184 S. Lakewood Circle, were reported in satisfactory condition today at Manchester Memorial Hospital, where they were taken Monday afternoon after a two-car accident near their home.

Police said a car driven by Trudell was in head-on collision with a car driven by Mary P. CLA, the largest group of professional librarians in the state, "has become increasingly concerned that there has been no active and generally accepted plan for the future development

Librarians Aiming For Statewide Service

NORWICH (AP) — The 51st annual conference of the Connecticut Library Association (CLA) was held Tuesday to improve all library services within the state, she said. A plan, "Target '78," to provide "total library service for all the people of Connecticut," Virginia B. Dowell, chairman of the CLA's Development Committee, said the study group that made the proposal sought a statewide development plan "that could be embraced and supported by all levels of the state's population."

She said the plan has these features: 1. A statewide library card or statewide recognition of local library cards. 2. An intrastate delivery service to carry library materials from one point to another within 24 hours. 3. A statewide reference service to give instant information to anyone in Connecticut. This would include medical and legal information.

Mrs. Dowell said the plan was developed because of the CLA's concern for the future of librarians in the state. "We have become increasingly concerned that there has been no active and generally accepted plan for the future development

The study was financed by a state grant. Mrs. Dowell said the title "Target '78" was chosen because 1978 would mark the end of a five-year period from the start of planning last September and it is the bicentennial of the United States.

Sanders made his Hollywood debut in 1936 in "Loyola of London" and in the next 24 years played in nearly 100 movies. In all but a few he was the villain, but one that was charming, impeccably groomed, elegantly dressed, and delivered with a crisp, upper-class British accent.

NLRB Rules UAC Must Pay Interest On Back Pay Increases

HARTFORD (AP)—United Aircraft Corp. should pay interest on wage increases withheld last year from about 60 of its employees after they voted for union representation, a National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) trial examiner recommended. The trial examiner, however, said, "By withholding until July 9 the wage increases scheduled for April 20, United Aircraft deprived employees of the use of such wage increases."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Common Law Marriage

Like baseball and hot dogs, the common law marriage is a peculiarly American institution. Never widely known in Europe, it began to flourish in our colonial days when preachers and marriage license bureaus were few and far between.

And, even though not allowed in most states, it continues to flourish today to a surprising degree. Almost everywhere, a common law marriage is recognized as valid if it was valid in the state where it took place.

But there is a big difference between a common law marriage and just a "temporary arrangement."

The essence of a common law marriage is an agreement between the parties to be man and wife, usually followed by a period of "holding themselves out" as a married couple. Merely living together, even for a considerable time, will not create the legal relationship.

As one court put it: "Consent to cohabitation does not constitute marriage."

Once a common law marriage has come into existence, it is as permanent as any other marriage. Thus:

A common law wife, becoming bored with her husband, packed up and left. Several months afterward, she married another man in a regular ceremonial wedding.

The court said that since she had not bothered to get a divorce from her common law husband, she was still his wife.

There are other reasons, too, for not entering lightly into a common law marriage. All too often, legal complications arise from the sheer difficulty of establishing whether there really was a marriage in the first place.

These complications may involve not only the parties themselves (alimony? social security benefits?) but also their children (legitimacy? inheritance rights?).

In view of such possibilities, there would seem to be little reason for choosing a common law marriage in this day and age.

The covered wagon days, commented one court, "are over."

An American Bar Association public service feature by Will Bernard.

Democrats Vow Revamp Compromise

HARTFORD (AP) — House Democratic leaders vowed Tuesday to keep pressing for a compromise reapportionment plan, but the reactions of other legislative leaders were not optimistic.

"I don't see how promising," said Senate Majority Leader J. Edward Caldwell.

South Windsor — School Board Decides on Portable Classrooms

The Board of Education last night made a major decision toward resolving student overcrowding in the high school when it agreed to contract the firm of Universal Structures to install three double-unit classrooms or electrical hookups for the next school year. However, no decision was made on where the portables would be placed.

The portable units, which will run approximately $74,000, are reimbursable by 60 percent of the cost if a 10-year use agreement is fulfilled by the town but does not reflect the cost of furniture or electrical hookups. A decision had to be made by the board as the price of the approved bids was a firm commitment until May 2. Board Chairman James Arnold said that the May 15 date agreed on by the board would not change the cost of the units.

Board member Vernon Pifer, who at first did not welcome the purchasing of the portables, said he now sees "no other way out," as enrollment is being considered by architects planned by the town to provide cost estimates in the fall with no apparent increase or decrease to grammar school.

Third Consecutive Shutout for Wilbur Wood

White Sox Win Skein Now at Six

NEW YORK (AP)—Call Marvin Miller, the American League's hitters are back on strike, put there every time Wilbur Wood and his knuckleball go to work for the Chicago White Sox.

Wood has pitched 36 innings this season and allowed exactly one run. Only a two-out homer by Kansas City's Bob O'Brien in the bottom of the ninth inning of his first start made Wood's pitching record so far.

The rubber-armed right-hander hurled his third consecutive shutout Tuesday night, leading Cleveland 6-0 as the White Sox won their sixth straight game. In other American League action Tuesday, Oakland edged New York 4-3 in 12 innings, Minnesota blanked Boston 1-0, Kansas City trimmed Baltimore 3-0, California dominated Milwaukee 4-1 and Detroit took Texas 4-1.

WHITE SOX - INDIANS
The White Sox have played nine games this season and Wood has started four of them. He works with two days rest because the knuckleball puts virtually no strain at all on his pitching arm.

The AL hitters haven't been putting much of a strain on Wood either. The Indians managed seven hits against the knuckleballer but Wood got out of scattershot trouble.

Chicago, which dropped its first three games of the season before Wood straightened things out, struck for three runs in the sixth inning, managing a scoreless dual between the knuckleballer and young Mike Woodson.

That was plenty for Wood, who got only one run in each of his first two starts. He is losing his first two starts for the Royals.

ROYALS - OROLES
Dick Drago's two-hitter ended Kansas City's seven-game losing streak as the Royals blanked Baltimore.

ANGELS - BREWERS
California's Clyde Wright, Jim Perry and Steve Ryan of Detroit's Mickey Lolich all had four-hitters.

Wright drove in two runs in the seventh inning with a clutch double as the Angels snuffed a 1-1 tie by scoring twice.

TIGERS - RANGERS
Lolich survived a shaky first inning to subdue Texas, ending the Rangers' four-game winning streak with a 2-0 victory. Lolich tripled home two runs for the Tigers.

TWINS - RED SOX
Perry counted out Boston as Steve Braun and Steve Ryan combined to drive in seven runs for the Twins.

Minnesota piled up nine runs in the first two innings, making it easy for Perry.

A'S - YANKEES
It wasn't so easy for Oakland against the Yankees. The A's battled back from a 3-0 deficit, tying the score on a homer by Gene Tenace.

Gene Tenace, who has a 1-0 record, had a one-hit, 1-0 victory over Bill Bando.

Oakland finally pushed across the winning run in the 12th when rookie Bobby Brooks walked, moved up on a sacrifice and scored home on pitcher Mike Hagan's first-pitch double.

When Hagan reached second, he peered out at the Yankee bullpen. His father, Jim, is a New York coach.

"I'm happy to see him get hit," said the senior Hagan. "But I don't like to see him beat us."

Hollis Stacy Easy Winner In First Test

SPRINGFIELD, N.C. (AP)—Stollis Stacy of Savannah, Ga., the 1970 winner, coasted to a 7-1 victory over Cindy Book of Clarkston, Mich., Tuesday in the opening round of the North-South women's Amateur golf tournament.

Barbara McIntire, the defending champion, said she was glad to see Stacy win. She said that a prior commitment is keeping her out of the 1972 annual tournament.

Miss Stacy's opponent today was Curtis Cup player Lancy Smith of Snyder, Pa., who had to win 18 holes before securing a par 7 on the sixth extra hole to win 1 up over Mrs. H. R. Sample of Berkeley, Pa.

Mrs. Sample's daughter, Carolyn Sample, a co-amateur, won her first-round match over Mrs. A. S. Hart of North Hills, N. J., 4 and 3.

The other co-medalist, Janet Auld of West Caldwell, N. J., won 1 up in 18 holes from Elizabeth Eckland of Cadiz, Ohio, on a 9-8 hole, par 72 No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Father and Son Game Featured at Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—"They played a father-son baseball game at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night and, as usual, the son won."

Only thing was, the son wasn't a toddler but 6-foot-1, 190-pound Mike Hagan and his pinch double with two out in the 12th inning gave the Oakland A's a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees, for whom father Jim, is a coach.

"My mother says she's happy any time I get a game-winning hit like that," said Mike, "but my father says it's coming out of his pocket."

"I'm happy to see him get a hit," said Jim, "but I want to see him hit the ball well and get his hits when it doesn't hurt us."

The A's and Yanks batted seven times from the sixth on. The Yankees led 2-0 in the top of the sixth, but the A's scored twice in the bottom of the sixth on a home run by Bobby Brooks with one out in the 12th.

Dick Drago sacrificed and Hagan batted for reliever Rolfe Davis. He drilled the first pitch to right-center and coasted into second base as Brooks scampored across the plate.

"I kind of took a look out toward the bullpen when I got to second," Mike confessed, "but I didn't see Mike Hagan."

"I was warming up a pitcher," said Jim, "but I saw the hit and intentional walk would have been nice. Then I wouldn't have had to worry about it."

Even nicer would have been a repeat of a situation that occurred last year when Mike delivered a late-inning pinch single only to have center fielder Bobby Murcer throw the potential winning run out at the plate.

The Hagan don't see each other during the season except for the four series that separate the father and son. They had a dinner date afterwards.

Home Run No. 642 for Aaron Tasty Coming Off Gibson

NEW YORK (AP)—Home run No. 642 was a little late for the Yankees' Aaron. It was whiffed up by Bob Gibson.

"That's probably the last fast ball I'll see," said Aaron, "but I'm not sure."

"I kind of took a look out toward the bullpen when I got to second," Mike confessed, "but I didn't see Mike Hagan."

"I was warming up a pitcher," said Jim, "but I saw the hit and intentional walk would have been nice. Then I wouldn't have had to worry about it."

Pattin Still Winless

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Marty Pattin still is looking for his first victory with the Boston Red Sox, and Manager Eddie Kasko offered the understatement of the young pitcher in appraising the veteran high-lander's latest effort.

Pattin, acquired from the Red Sox, got ahead of Steve Braun, one ball and two being pitched on the finger by the young third baseman, but the young third baseman reached out and poked a single to left. Two runs bled down, striking out Harvey and getting on base for rookie slugger Bob Darwin to broke a 6-for-4 string with a wasted double in the second and then had to retire after a Ray Culp to end the mound.

The Twins continued the assault in the second, shelling Pattin. Southpaws Gary Peters and Rogelio Moret and right-hander Bob Bevin followed on the mound, each falling to help the Minnesota scoring parade.

He allowed six hits and only six runs, one unearned, in his first two starts for the Twins. He pitched two starts for the Twins.
