Nixon Summons Security Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the United States renewed air strikes on targets near Hanoi, President Nixon met for three hours today with his highest-level advisers to chart new Vietnam strategy.

The National Security Council meeting, the first in nearly two months and the longest in many months, ended without disclosure of what was discussed.

White House spokesmen refused to discuss the agenda or say why the meeting was called on such an urgent basis. But it was clearly possible new major directions in Vietnam military and diplomatic policy were in the making.

Asked whether the President would go on nationwide television and radio to disclose any new Vietnam steps, deputy press secretary Gerald L. Warren replied, "There are no plans that I know of." But Warren would not flatly rule out the possibility.

After the meeting ended, Warren said it had been attended by the statutory NSC members—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Gen. George Lincoln of the Office of Emergency Preparedness—and by four other officials: presidential adviser Henry Kissinger, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Central Intelligence Agency Director Richard Helms and Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally.

Even as the session was under way, the U.S. command in Saigon announced that U.S. warplanes had returned to the Hanoi area for the first time in three weeks and had bombed storage depots, barracks and training facilities supporting the North Vietnamese invasion of the South.

The White House refused to say whether Nixon had personally ordered the renewed Hanoi-area raids, but American sources in Saigon said he had.

The President's Moscow summit visit was perhaps awaying in the balance as he conferred in the Cabinet Room with his top advisers. Warren said, however, that "plans are proceeding" for the visit due to begin in two weeks.

The National Security Council meets irregularly and only when major decisions are in the making. Its staff is headed by presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and its members include the secretaries of State and Defense, the vice president, and the director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness. The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the director of the Central Intelligence Agency often sit in on NSC meetings, although they are not formal members.

Today's meeting comes precisely two weeks before Nixon is scheduled to arrive in Moscow for the week of summit talks with Soviet leaders.

The President is known not to want to enter the talks in a position of weakness on the Vietnam question. But he also is described as wanting badly to sign with Soviet leaders an agreement limiting the two superpowers' stockpiles of strategic weapons.

While officials at the White House, State Department and elsewhere have attempted to keep the Vietnam crisis separate from the Moscow summit, the two are obviously linked.

Kissinger, for example, talked extensively about Vietnam when he met two weeks ago in Moscow with Soviet State leader Leonid Brezhnev. Kissinger's secret Moscow journey was followed a week later by a quick, clandestine trip to Paris where he met with North Vietnamese negotiator Le Duc Tho.

Two days after that the United States and South Vietnam for the second time suspended the public peace talks. Nixon was described as annoyed about the fruitless public sessions and he has appeared to attach more importance to the private diplomatic maneuvering. But these private initiatives have been mostly cloaked in secrecy.

Another link between the Soviets and the Vietnam situation is the steady supply of equipment that Moscow has sent to Hanoi.

When the Soviet Union said four of its ships were damaged during U.S. bombing raids on Haiphong Harbor a month ago, Washington replied that any such damage was regrettable, but that it in fact occurred. But the State Department added that "countries which supply offensive weapons equipment to the North Vietnamese and enable them to mount an invasion of South Vietnam share responsibility."

Skyjacker Sought In Jungle Peaks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Honduran army troops combed a heavily forested mountain region for a man who parachuted from an Eastern Airlines jet with $303,000 ransom in one of two marathon weekend plane hijackings.

In the second incident, a young Vietnam war protester commandeered a Western Airlines jet over Utah and eventually ordered it to Cuba. He promised to sneak back into the country and do it again.

Man Caught At Hospital After Holdup

HARTFORD (AP) — A 32-year-old Hartford man was arrested outside the pediatric ward of St. Francis Hospital, where his daughter was a patient, and charged with holding up a nearby branch of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co. today.

Police charged Noel Braithwaite with the $2,235.50 robbery and said most of the money was recovered when he was arrested. The small calibre pistol allegedly used in the robbery was found during a search of the hospital room of his 2-year-old daughter Deborah, police said.

Nurses at the hospital reported that Braithwaite visited his daughter earlier in the morning and left shortly before 9 a.m., saying he was "going out for a cup of coffee."

Police said he walked a block down the street and arrived at the CBT branch as it opened. Bank officials said a man entered the bank, pulled a pistol and handed a woman teller a note reading, "This is a stick-up. Hand over all the $100, $50, $20, and $5 bills."

The teller said the man kept shouting, "God damn it, I want the hundreds."

After getting the money he fled on foot with bank manager

Both hijackings appeared politically motivated. Eastern crew members said the man told them he didn't want the money for himself but indicated it might be used by a foreign power.

A note given to the Western crew said "several heavily armed members of an anti-imperialist movement" were responsible for the hijacking and warned of further incidents unless the war is settled.

The Eastern hijacker, who was not identified but was described as a Vietnam veteran, seized the 727 trijet over Pennsylvania on the Allentown-to-Miami flight.

He parachuted from 9,000 feet 21 hours later. He picked up the money and escape gear at Dulles International Airport in Washington where he released the 48 passengers. He changed planes in New Orleans.

"He was cold and ruthless," said W. L. Hendershott, the Eastern captain. "There was no doubt in my mind that, if we balked at his orders, he would've shot the crew one by one."

The FBI identified the Western hijacker as Michael Lynn Hanson, 21, a former student at the University of Utah in Salt

Pursuit Of The Lobster

PINE POINT, Maine (AP) — There are winter days when Buddy Sampson returns from his lobster traps with nothing to show for his day, but ocean salt caked in the lines around his eyes.

In those bad months when lobstering is at its low ebb, when gourmets are paying $5 a plate in restaurants along the immediate coast, Sampson is following the rare crustacean farther from shore. Between December and April, when the Atlantic is at its fiercest, his trip lines are eight miles to sea.

"On a good April day I might get as many as 50 lobsters" out of his 250-trap string, he said. "Other days I just get ice cubes on my board."

Sampson, 34, who's been a lobster fisherman on and off since he was 14, says his profession is no short cut to riches despite the inflationary prices lobsters were at in early April.

"For a little while in April I was getting $2.50 a pound," he said. "That's higher by a dollar than it's ever been."

Maine lobsters had become so scarce by the first week of April that dealers were getting $4 a pound for live lobster retail and $16 a pound for picked meat. By the end of the month, retail prices for live lobsters were down to about $2.60 a pound.

Rescue Hope Dims For Idaho Miners

KELLOGG, Idaho (AP)—Hopes for the rescue of 58 miners trapped in the Sunshine Mine were dimmed today by the apparent resurgence of an underground fire that already has claimed the lives of 35 men.

Marvin Chase, mine manager, said increased heat and smoke have caused rescue crews to abandon temporarily their work at the 3,700 foot level of the mile-deep mine. Rescue crews had hoped to reach a hoist in the shaft that would allow them to descend to lower levels where it is believed the miners could be trapped.

"We still have a chance to get the hoist going and we still have a chance of getting survivors out, but I can't say I'm as optimistic as I was before," said Chase during a morning briefing.

Meanwhile a second rescue effort being carried out by the U.S. Bureau of Mines also was delayed. Bureau crews had to delay efforts to lower a rescue capsule down a small air shaft when a compressor necessary to the operation proved too large to fit into the working area. Officials said another compressor was being pressed into service and they believe the capsule can be lowered later in the day.

Chase said Sunday the power outage and an exhaust fan malfunction which allowed some buildup of fumes near the shaft ended hope of progress before today.

"This is a pretty complicated process," Chase said. "We can't afford to jeopardize anything now."

Outside the mine, families of the missing continued their vigil into the sixth day, holding on to a weakening thread of hope that the men still are alive.

"We honestly feel we have a good chance and that things are getting better," said Chase. "There's air and water down

3 Firemen Killed In Newark

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Three firemen died Sunday night in the collapse of an abandoned building that authorities say was deliberately set ablaze by two teen-agers.

Three other firemen, including a brother to one of the victims, were injured in the worst tragedy in the history of the Newark Fire Department. The dead and injured were part of a seven-man squad that had entered the building. The walls suddenly gave way, pitching the firemen into the basement beneath mounds of debris.

"I heard the building going, and tried to run out," said Fireman Robert Wiggins, who managed to crawl out unharmed shortly after the collapse. But the rest remained trapped for up to 90 minutes, as more than 100 firemen and scores of police and rescue workers struggled in a driving rain to free the men.

Firemen dug at the rubble with picks, shovels and their bare hands before heavier equipment arrived.

Humphrey the Favorite West Virginia To Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, who lost a 1960 presidential bid in the coal fields of West Virginia, is heavily favored to win Tuesday's presidential primary there against Gov. George C. Wallace.

Humphrey faces an uphill battle in another primary in Nebraska Tuesday against Sen. George McGovern from neighboring North Dakota.

Wallace, fresh from a commanding victory in North Carolina's primary, gave no indication he intends to campaign in West Virginia.

Wallace's win over former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford in Sanford's own state also edged Wallace a bit closer to second place in national delegate strength for early balloting at the Democratic National Convention in July.

Though Sanford was beaten in his own state and had indicated a loss there would knock him out of further campaigning, he said Sunday he'll remain a candidate.

"Yes, I'll stay in," he said, with a promise to disclose further details of his campaign within a few days.

Sanford, president of Duke University, hoped to represent a liberal compromise candidate at the convention in Miami Beach. Despite plans to remain a candidate, Sanford's defeat makes it unlikely a deadlocked convention will turn to him.

Near final vote totals in North Carolina were Wallace 401

Near final vote totals in North Carolina were Wallace 408,785; Sanford, 304,397; Rep. Shirley Chisholm, 61,359; Sen.

Edmund S. Muskie, 30,593; and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, 9,323.

The vote for Mrs. Chisholm, a black New York congresswoman, marked her strongest showing so far in the primaries.

In the delegate count, updated tallies from Ohio and the results of six Democratic-Farm-Labor conventions in Humphrey's home state of Minnesota showed weekend gains by Wallace and Humphrey. The current count is McGovern 313.5, Humphrey 238 and Wallace 210. Wallace picked up 37 in North Carolina and in Minnesota Humphrey won 20 delegates, McGovern 11.

In West Virginia, where the late John F. Kennedy, knocked the former vice president out of further consideration in the 1960 presidential race, the Minnesotan appeared in Huntington this weekend.

He said, "In 1960 you made a president. In 1972 you can make another president . . ."

Bombers Return To Red Capital In Talks Prelude

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. warplanes returned to the Hanoi area today for the first time in three weeks and bombed storage depots, barracks and training facilities supporting the North Vietnamese invasion of South Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced.

The Command said waves of carrier-based Navy planes hit targets about 15 miles west of Hanoi, and that all the jets returned safely.

The Command made no mention of any enemy MIGs being shot down, but other sources had reported earlier that several were sighted and destroyed.

The Command said only tactical fighter-bombers took part in the raids and that there were no B52 strategic bombers used.

It did not say how many planes were involved, but it was learned that at least two carriers were in the Tonkin Gulf, with about 150 planes available.

The announcement of the attacks came as President Nixon met with his National Security Council.

"Tactical strike aircraft hit military targets which included storage facilities, barracks and training facilities, which are helping to support the Communist invasion across the DMZ," the U.S. Command said in a statement. DMZ means the demilitarized zone dividing North and South Vietnam.

The command also reported that additional American bombers attacked military targets in other areas of North Vietnam and 7th Fleet destroyers and cruisers bombarded enemy positions on the coast.

The command did not specify the other areas, saying only they were in the demilitarized zone and north of the zone.

Radio Hanoi reported that two American planes were shot down south of Hanoi. Later, however, it reported that planes it claimed were shot down Sunday.

The U.S. Command said it had no losses to report in raids either Sunday or today over North Vietnam.

Sources said the first raids on the Hanoi area since April 16 were ordered by President Nixon.

They were launched about midmorning, a few hours before Nixon was to meet with the National Security Council in Washington to discuss actions that might slow the 40-day-old North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam and force Hanoi to enter into meaningful peace negotiations.

Pesky Parkers Produce Pet Peeve
By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with those people who park their cars carelessly and with no thought for the person who may want to park in the next space. One on the right may park a little beyond his line, you turn into the next space, turn the ignition off, someone drives into the next space and buries off before you get out of the car. Congrats to the person who parks in the next space and another space—ANNA LEE.

Parish Prays For Sewerage

STAFFORD SPRINGS, Conn. (AP) — Episcopalians wanted to celebrate the ancient Rogation Sunday, but their prayers, any crops to pray for in this rural but farmless village. The Rev. Robert H. Johnson and parishioners from the Grace Episcopal Church found a substitute, the village's new sewerage treatment plant. Instead of a procession around the boundary of the parish and into its fields some 40 parishioners took a tour of the treatment plant. "The church has been doing this for over 1,000 years," said Father Johnson. "Now it's called ecology. So we've come full circle in that we blended the traditional with the very latest in Stafford Springs."

Promotional Package

HARTFORD (AP) The Connecticut Hotel-Travel Association will discuss May 16 how to put together promotional packages to attract tourists.

DEAR POLLY—

Mrs. M. G. who wanted to know how to patch a plastic punching toy can get a repair kit made for repairing tears and holes in plastic items, toys, raincoats, etc. It contains a tube of cement and patching material with full, simple directions. These can be obtained at hobby shops, hardware stores and hardware sections in discount stores. Four years ago I mended a hole in a big inflatable Santa Claus and it still holds even after the children have roughed it up and been folded and put away year after year.—MRS. W. F.

DEAR POLLY—

My 4-year-old was always touching the pictures on the wall in his room and even taking them down. I bought some plastic table mats shaped like animals, cut a small hole in the top of each and hung them in his room. They are about 12 by 12 inches, very colorful and made of washable heavy vinyl plastic. Now he can touch them, take them down, even drop them and there is no breakage or other problems.—MRS. T. L.

DEAR POLLY—

When the children's stuffed animals no longer take soap and water, completely cover them with a thick layer of starch. Let it dry thoroughly and then remove with a very stiff brush. Dirt and grease will come off with the starch.—MRS. R. M.

Muscle Therapy Is Important

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—What is your answer to the many thousands of people suffering from muscle injury, like the young boy you wrote about who was hurt with judo? I had a similar problem for years and, after seeing many doctors without results, went to see a remedial massage therapist with training in Denmark. My muscles were in spasm from the base of the skull to the base of my spinal column. As treatment progressed, there was slow but evident relief. In time, it became evident that my main problem was a great deal of nervous tension associated with my occupation. More than I had possibly realized, there was also a great deal of physical pain. I have repeatedly obtained considerable relief from remedial massage therapy.

Rich O'Connor Picks Fairfield

FAIRFIELD (AP) — Rich O'Connor, a former high school All-American who transferred from Duke University to Fairfield University, says Fairfield had basketball coach Fred Barnhart. The 6-foot-5 combination guard-forward, however, will be eligible to play for Fairfield until the 1973-74 campaign, Barnhart said Saturday.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

See a Physical Medicine Specialist
Muscle Therapy Is Important

In Canada, they are persons non grata to the medical profession and hundreds of sufferers with similar problems see a therapist without their physician's blessing and the therapist is refused payment for his services. You can regard them as assistants or technicians trained in physical medicine. They are well-versed in the art of muscle massage and muscle therapy. Physiotherapy departments, with their hydrotherapy and other devices, are very important in medicine and are used in treatment of muscle injuries and at one with the European medical profession in their cooperation of this type of therapy. There is an advantage to receiving your muscle therapy from a physiotherapist under the supervision of a specialist in physical medicine, because it decreases the likelihood that the patient will have some other medical problem that needs attention. Some individuals with muscle pain have serious illnesses that require other forms of treatment, for example rheumatoid arthritis. Others occur repeatedly because of poor dietary habits. Still others are associated with skeletal abnormalities, like the individual who has one short leg. Correction of these problems is essential to solving the muscle difficulties. I see no reason why a physician shouldn't refer his patients to a remedial massage therapist for specific treatment if he chooses to do so. But I do think that it is unwise to go directly to an individual who is not a doctor for massage therapy for a persistent medical condition. A complete medical examination by someone trained in the broader aspects of medicine.

The Best Warranty This Side of a Rolls-Royce

You can't put a price on the warranty you get with a Volkswagen. You see, a Volkswagen warranty runs twice as long as anybody else's: small car warranty. And only one car, the Rolls-Royce, has one better. Here's how our works. All you do is maintain the car according to the Volkswagen maintenance schedule. If any factory part is found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first (except normal wear and tear on service items) our U.S. or Canadian VW dealer will repair or replace it free of charge. See your dealer for details.

More Than 5,000 Inspections Per Car

The story behind our warranty starts at the factory. Where 1,104 nipping inspectors have one job, and one job only. To find something wrong with a Volkswagen before that Volkswagen finds its way out of the factory. Every one of the more than 5,000 parts that go into a VW is carefully examined. Some of them get the once-over two or three times. If one of our inspectors is unhappy with only one of the parts, the whole car gets pulled off the line. Sometimes we pull as many as 225 VW's a day. But it's worth it. We pick the lemons. You get the plums.

The Most Advanced Service System In The World

No other car maker anywhere can offer you Medi-car, Volkswagen's ultrasensitive Electronic Diagnosis. It's designed to spot problems in your Volkswagen when they're at the minor adjustment stage. Long before they can do any real damage to your car or your wallet. Every one of our dealers has VW Diagnosis. And you get the first four check-ups free with a new VW.

The Highest Resale Value

Based on what's happened in the past, no other economy car or the road holds its value after 3 or 4 years as well as a Volkswagen. So, if you're thinking about buying a new car, think about what it's going to be worth when it's an old car. Because when the time comes to part company with your VW, you won't be left holding the bag. Unless that's what you carry your money in.

Board To Discuss Policy On Field Trips For Schools

A recommended statement of policy to govern field trips and a public relations program will be discussed by the Board of Education at its meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Bykes School cafeteria.

The board expressed concern several weeks ago when plans were made for various field trips before giving approval of the board. Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, was asked to bring in the recommended policy.

The proposed public relations program, presented by board member Dr. Daniel Woolrich, last month, was tabled at that time and will be discussed tonight. The policy is designed to provide better communications and understanding in board decisions and attendance at meetings, and to call for more involvement of the public in board decisions. Each person attending a board meeting will be held one month at various schools in town.

A status report on housing for students and trustees, will be made through the board office or by calling Mrs. Dr. Ramsdell and a report on the educational program in connection with state colleges, which went into effect this year for students and trustees, will be given by Albert Kerlik assistant superintendent. Rham Budget Cut $21,857

After five hours of deliberation, the Regional District Board of Education, last night, cut $21,857 from the proposed 1972-73 budget. The original budget of $1,614,876 had been rejected by the voters on May 1.

The board cut $12,357 from the teacher-salary account, reducing the number of new teachers from five to four. It also cut $2,800 for a new summer program in industrial arts and reduced by $1,800 the amount estimated for level-level salary step increases for teachers.

Other cuts included, $5,000 from board expenses, reducing the $4,000 requested for an attorney for cheater-board salary negotiations to $1,000. The library and audio visual account was reduced by $1,700, $2,800 was cut from maintenance and several rooms at Rham; and $2,300 from equipment.

The new budget figure will also reduce the levy on the towns in the district. Hebron's share is $618,288.31 as opposed to the original $629,894.88; Andover's share is $520,147.83 as opposed to $525,530.32; Marlborough's share is $411,530.83 as opposed to $418,497.21. The revised budget will again be presented to the voters on May 15 for acceptance or rejection.

Robert Cafazzo places mallard eggs in incubator.

Hebron-- Mallard Eggs Rescued

A misfortune may have been averted in Hebron last week with the saving of eight mallard duck eggs from suffocation. For the past eight or nine years Robert Cafazzo has watched a female mallard roost and hatch her brood each year in a small swamp across from his business. The Hebron General Store, on Rt. 66.

After frantically searching for a pair of hip boots, he borrowed a pair from fireman Solomon Wells Jr., waded into the swamp and rescued the eggs. Then began the search for an incubator. After several telephone calls, he located one in the science laboratory at Rham High School. The eggs were rushed to the school and are now in the care of Science Department head Henry Grabber and his second period class.

According to Grabber, no cracks were discovered which could have let water in and suffocated the ducklings. The other five eggs they don't hold too much hope because even showing a small leg-ping through the shell. Grabber says the next few days will determine whether or not Cafazzo's efforts were successful.

As for Cafazzo, he feels that "only if one duckling is saved," his efforts will have been worthwhile.

In the meantime, the mother mallard continues to roost above where her nest had been also waiting for the hatching.

Coon in Uconn Program

George Coon, head of the social studies department at Coventry High School, has been accepted for participation in an advanced placement program, in conjunction with the University of Connecticut.

Under the program, local high school seniors may take certain courses and receive college credit for them, if their performance is satisfactory.

Coon is the third CHS teacher to receive UConn approval for the program. The other two are Gregory Parker in math and Elizabeth O'Malley in English. Dr. Donald Hardy, superintendent of schools, told the Board of Education last week that of 39 schools taking part in the program in the state, only seven have more course accepted than CHS.

The school board has approved a nurses' salary contract, which will provide for a $4,500 starting salary, working up to $7,200 after 10 years. The new schedule will place local schools nurses in a more competitive position with surrounding towns, with provision for all nurses to be "on top" in the schedule within three years.

Nurses currently receive $4,018 to start, up to $5,600 after 10 years. Dr. Hardy has informed the board that 11 teacher resignations have been received to date, with two more indicating they may leave. With 119 teachers, this represents a considerable lower figure than the average of some 30 per cent turnover of the past few years. Resignations accepted last week by the board include Susie Borro, kindergarten teacher at Robertson school, whose husband has been transferred out of state; Ronald Dixon, music teacher at Capri, Nathan Hale, who has accepted a post in Mon. ridge; and Elizabeth Halloran, kindergarten at Coventry Grammar, who is retiring after 20 years in the local schools.

Liga Harrison, kindergarten at CGS, was granted a maternity leave for one year beginning the end of the current school year. Garland Reedy, head of the industrial arts department at the high school has been transferred at his own request to CHES, replacing Roy Arnold, who is leaving the system.

Custodian Oscar Miller is also retiring this June, after more than 20 years in the system.

The board has approved the request of the high school ecology club to remove brush and plant overgrowth at Skinner Pond in front of CHHS. The project to spruce up the area will be carried out before school closes, and in conjunction with the Beautification Committee and the school maintenance supervisor.

In other board news, several high school mini-courses in English have been approved, as well as a human growth and development course within the home economics curriculum.

The latter course will be an elective, with separate classes for boys and girls at the lower level, and combined classes for juniors and seniors.

Hardy has informed the board over the past few years that a $3,000 deficiency is expected in school accounts as of the end of the current fiscal year on June 30. It exists primarily in the tuition account, and will necessitate a town meeting for an extra appropriation.

Hardy also reported that state funding approval has been received for the high school work-study program next year. State funds will cover $1,500 for a summer planning grant and allow an additional $10,000 for Frederick Hartung, vocational counselor, to expand to full-time work-study coordinator.

Hardy said also that response has been good from high school students wishing to work as student aides in the non-granted kindergarten program in the fall. Forty-five applications have been received to date.

Sox Slump Continues, Lineup Changes Due

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox have yet to break out of their season-long slump and that means Manager Eddie Yost will be making some lineup changes to try to shake things up.

The Sox dropped Sunday's contest at Fenway Park to the Minnesota Twins by an 8-4 score, giving the Twins a sweep of the three-game series and leaving Boston with a sorry 4-10 season mark.

Yost allowed only two unearned runs and three hits in the game, but he was unable to get the Sox out of their slump.

Earlier this spring, Bobby Unser slipped 180.1 m.p.h. in tire tests.

Peter Revcon held the official track record, 179.255, set last year May 13, 20 and 21.

Defense and Pitching Off As Eagles Bow to Xavier

By DICK LEDBETTER

Poor defense and subpar pitching helped East Catholic's baseball team to lose, 10-3, Saturday afternoon against Xavier High School.

The Falcons pitched 12 hits while East committed six errors.

East sports a 5-4 record and Xavier upped its mark to 1-1 overall and remains unbeaten in Hartford County Conference action. The Eagles are 2-2 in the loop.

Xavier jumped on starter Tom Bouquet for five runs in the second inning. A double, two errors and a fielder's choice gave Xavier three runs. A single and a home run by Fred DeSarro, the winners' fourth run to score. Bouquet surrendered a double to Dan Zawack accounting for the final run of the inning.

Russ Blodgett relieved Bouquet in the second to get the last two outs. East was forced to play catch-up ball from then on and this hurt.

Blodgett was reached for three runs in the fourth frame and in his second run and Rich Mink knocked in two tallies. Xavier picked up lone runs in the fifth and sixth innings. Zavadski, Gary Groszkowski, Mink and Warren Smith all poked two hits apiece.

East's only scoring came in the sixth. Don Foster Jim I. has and Gorman all drove in runs without a hit. Lehar and Gorman walked with the bases loaded to force in runs and Pinedo drove in John McCook with a ground ball. However, the pinch reached the Falcon pitching; Ray Kingman threw a wild pitch to drive in the runner.

Chris Cyprianovic and Fred Tremaglia combined their talents to stop East.

"It wasn't our day," said Coach Jim Peters. "We have to get it out of our system. We didn't play good defense."

East has a tough week ahead. It enters the final three games of the season at Mt. Nebo Tuesday, at St. Albans Wednesday, at East Catholic Friday and at Mt. Nebo and travel to Gilbert High Saturday afternoon.

Smile of Satisfaction for Wilt After Lakers Capture NBA Playoff

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain's scowl would scare a bear, but he wore a smile of satisfaction when he said, "I think that winning this title should make life a little easier for me."

The 7-foot 1-inch captain of the Los Angeles Lakers relaxed today in his $1.5 million home and the easier life to which he referred reflected acceptance as a team player.

He blocked shots, scored 24 points and hauled down 29 rebounds despite a painfully injured right wrist as the Lakers shocked off years of frustration Sunday with a 110-107 victory over the New York Knicks.

That gave the Lakers their first NBA championship since they came to Los Angeles in 1960 and their first since 1954 when they made Minneapolis their home. The margin in games was 41, four straight wins.

Indiana Holds Game Edge In Playoff Set with Nets

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—After being down nearly the entire series against the Utah Stars, Indiana Pacers coach Bob Leonard couldn't help but be relieved after his team's 124-108 victory over the New York Nets Saturday.

The victory gave Indiana a 2-1 lead in the best-of-7 American Basketball Association championship playoff series. The second game will be played at Indianapolis Tuesday night.

It took Indiana seven games to knock down Denver in the opening playoff series this year and seven more to upset Utah.

Saturday's game was by far the biggest margin of victory for the Pacers in the 15 games.

Leonard said, "There won't be many like this. They're going to make it hard on us."
