

Graduations In the Area

Five graduation exercises on four evenings this week will wind up commencement programs for area secondary schools.

Two are scheduled for tonight, South Windsor High School at 6:30 and Bolton High School at 7. Weather permitting, both will be held outdoors, South Windsor in the Wapping field, and Bolton at the rear of the high school. In case of rain, both will be held in the school gymnasiums.

Tomorrow night, Manchester High School will hold graduation on Memorial Field at 6:45. If it rains, exercises will be held in the Clarke Arena, with admission restricted to ticket holders.

Rham High School exercises will be held Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the amphitheatre. In case of inclement weather, they will be postponed until Thursday at the same time and place. If rain makes it impossible to hold them outdoors Thursday, they will be conducted that night in the gymnasium at 8.

Again, weather permitting, Rockville High School will hold its graduation Thursday at 7 p.m. in the courtyard; otherwise, in the gymnasium.

Delegate 'Turmoil' Soothed

HARTFORD (AP)—Issues of black representation on the Democratic state delegation to the national convention and abortion reform brought the party's state convention near turmoil last weekend.

But when the session rang to a close Saturday afternoon the Democratic state leadership remained clearly in charge.

Black leaders challenged the makeup of the 51-member national delegation that was completed during the convention. They argued that at least 20 per cent—or 10—of the delegates should be black instead of only four.

Women concerned about putting more from their ranks on the delegation already have appealed to the Democratic National Committee. A hearing by a special examiner is scheduled for Wednesday in New Haven.

When a vociferous segment of the 1,212 delegates from throughout the state objected to State Chairman John M. Bailey's quick motion for approval of the remaining 12 national delegates while many members of the convention were absent from the hall, a roll call was ordered.

When the balloting for the at-large delegates was over, Bailey led with 1,165 votes, House Speaker William R. Ratchford had 1,160 and Sen. Abraham Ribicoff had 1,155 votes. None of the 16 additional nominations made by challengers was able to threaten the endorsed slate.

Thirteen of the 16 challengers were black delegates nominated by State Sen. Wilber G. Smith of Hartford, Henry E. Parker of New Haven was the only black delegate elected at large, and he was on the slate submitted by the nomination committee.

Another roll call developed over the controversial abortion issue. When the Platform Committee decided not to include an abortion-reform plank in the

In Love with the Author

There was a real "Love Story" going in Manchester yesterday between Erich Segal and his admirers. Segal, author of the best-seller and hit movie, and an associate professor at Yale, signed a flock of autographs at a cocktail party at the home of Barbara and Jack Goldberg. The party was a fund-raiser for the presidential candidacy of Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota.

Voice of People Heard

By SOL R. COHEN
(Herald Reporter)

What started out Saturday morning as a routine session of the Democratic State Convention wound up, after hours of roll calls, as a test of "The Voice of the People."

The result has to be called a stand-off. "The Voice of the People" was heard, and was loud and clear, but so was the voice of party leaders. When it was all over—the party leaders prevailed.

Almost all of the energy of the convention delegates was expended in two votes and, although the results were foregone conclusions, even before the first vote was cast, the delegates spent about five hours flexing their muscles, only to wind up exactly where they started.

The two votes concerned adding a plank to the party platform for repeal of the anti-abortion law, and substituting a challenge state of national convention delegates for the slate proposed by a nominating committee. Both lost.

The plank to legalize abortion lost by 648 to 515, with 54 of the 1,212 delegates not casting votes.

Manchester's 21 member delegation split right down the middle on the proposal, 10 to 10, with 1 not voting.

The vote in Manchester-area towns was as follows:

Vernon — 3 for legalizing, 5 against, 1 absent.

South Windsor — 4 in favor, 1 against.

Tolland — 3 against.

Coventry — 3 in favor.

Columbia — 2 in favor.

Ellington — 2 in favor, 1 against.

Hebron — 2 in favor.

Bolton — 2 in favor.

Andover — 1 in favor.

When it came time to vote for 13 delegates to the national convention, about half of the Manchester delegation voted a straight ticket for the slate proposed by the nominating committee. The other half split their tickets by casting a vote here and there for one or more of the 15 candidates nominated from the floor.

Storm Aims at Florida

APALACHICOLA, Fla. (AP)—Florida's panhandle was lashed by gales and crashing seas today as Hurricane Agnes thundered toward a landfall, with 14 persons dead and scores of injured in her wake.

Agnes spawned deadly tornadoes in her wake and more were forecast.

At least eight tornadoes touched down in various parts of the state, and the Weather Bureau said all apparently were spawned by Agnes.

Seven persons were killed in south Florida and seven died earlier in Cuba as Agnes churned northward through the Gulf of Mexico.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami said the hurricane's 80-mile-an-hour winds were bearing down on Apalachicola, a sleepy town in the center of a popular fishing and tourist area.

"She's getting very close to land now," said forecaster Arnold Sugg. "We've had no hurricane force winds reported there yet, but that doesn't mean there haven't been any."

Skyways 'Almost' Empty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Airlane pilots launched a worldwide 24-hour strike today to protest hijacking, but only three U.S. carriers were grounded and one of those resumed flights at midmorning.

The strike forced 19 foreign airlines, including most of those in Canada and Western Europe, to cancel service.

In the United States, only Eastern, Northeast and Southern airlines shut down, and Southern said it resumed service at 10 a.m.

A spokesman for Southern in Atlanta said its 300-plus pilots had voted this morning to end the walkout. Southern serves 67 cities in the eastern half of the United States.

Federal court orders against a strike, including one upheld by the Supreme Court, were a factor in keeping American pilots on the job. But many had voted not to take part before the courts acted.

In Washington, a spokesman for the pilots' association said that "anything less than total participation is disappointing."

The strike, which took effect at 2 a.m. today, was called by the International Federation of Airline Pilots to dramatize its belief that more stringent measures are needed to discourage airplane hijackings.

Services on Trans World Airlines, American Airlines, Northwest Airlines, Delta Airlines, United Air Lines and Western Airlines was reported to be running normally.

Foreign airlines were more uniformly out of service. Those listing no flights today were Irish Airlines, Scandinavian Airlines System, Air France, Sabena Belgian World Airlines, El Al, Air Canada, Alitalia, Lufthansa, Swissair and Air New Zealand.

Also grounded were KLM-Royal Dutch Airlines, Varig Airlines (Brazil), Iberia Airlines of Spain, Air Afrique, Aerohaves de Mexico, Turkish Airlines, Aerolineas Argentinas, Olympic Airways and Yugoslav Airlines (JAT) company.

Thousands of tourists were stranded on Greek islands while thousands more packed

Moscow Demands New Paris Talks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Moscow Radio demanded today that the United States "immediately and unconditionally" halt military actions against North Vietnam's ports and resume "constructive talks" in Paris. The broadcast also said the Soviet government would continue to supply "all necessary aid" to Hanoi's war effort.

The Soviet blast put a damper on anticipations of new peace moves from the Communist side generated by a flurry of diplomatic visits to the Far East. Henry A. Kissinger was due in Peking. Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny completed a visit to Hanoi, and North Vietnam's representative in secret talks with Kissinger, Politburo member Le Duc Tho, returned to Hanoi after talks in the Chinese capital.

The Moscow Radio broadcast was the first Soviet acknowledgment of Podgorny's trip to Hanoi. It said he had conferred there with Xuan Thuy, the chief of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks, and with Le Duc Tho.

The Soviet statement on Podgorny's trip, which was also published by Tass, the official news agency, said that the Vietnamese Communists' seven-point peace program—which the United States rejected as an example of Hanoi's refusal to negotiate seriously—"constitutes a constructive basis for the settlement of the problem of Vietnam at the earliest date and in accordance with the national aspirations of that country's people."

The statement also reported that Podgorny and his North Vietnamese hosts noted "with satisfaction that the liberation forces guided by the National Liberation Front and the Provisional Revolutionary Government of the Republic of South Vietnam are inflicting heavy defeats on the troops of the puppet Saigon regime and the U.S. aggressors."

Podgorny smilingly said that during his three-day visit "everything possible for a de-escalation of the Vietnam war."

Podgorny himself had heightened the expectations of some movement toward peace when he told newsmen in Calcutta Sunday that the Paris talks would resume "soon" and that "the Soviet Union will do everything possible for de-escalation of the Vietnam war."

Podgorny smilingly said that during his three-day visit "everything possible for a de-escalation of the Vietnam war."

Enemy Stiffens Against Allies

SAIGON (AP)—Two South Vietnamese drives hard going today despite President Nguyen Van Thieu's claims that North Vietnam's troops were demoralized and bogged down and their offensive had failed.

In the air war, the U.S. Air Force said its jets wrecked a large segment of North Vietnam's air defense system, knocking out more than 200 pieces of equipment in four days in the southern half of North Vietnam. And the United States ended a four-day suspension of bombing attacks in the Hanoi-Haiphong area following the departure of Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny from the North Vietnamese capital.

Thieu said he was ordering a new three-month campaign to take back the territory lost to the North Vietnamese in their offensive that began March 30. Nearly 3,000 marines launched a new sweep south of the demilitarized zone, while rangers supported by tanks opened a new push to clear Highway 13 between Saigon and An Loc.

The ranger drive fell apart almost immediately under a barrage of North Vietnamese shell fire 10 miles south of An Loc. A senior U.S. adviser was killed, and many of the rangers were wounded. The column, which had just gotten orders to move, pulled back.

The marines ran into moderate to heavy resistance as they tried to push up the coastal strip of land north of Hue called the "Street Without Joy." Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported that the North Vietnamese were fighting from a complex system of fortified positions.

Bugging Ruled Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today declared illegal the government's wiretapping of suspected domestic "subversives" without a warrant.

Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr., speaking for the court, said the bugging without judicial permission is unconstitutional as well as unauthorized by the 1968 State Streets Act.

The former Richmond lawyer, appointed to the court by President Nixon, said: "The danger to political dissent is acute where the government attempts to act under so vague a concept as the power to protect 'domestic security.'" He added: "The Nixon administration and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell

Parochialism Gets a Mighty Boost

By DAVID L. EDGERLY
Associated Press Writer

Almost all of Connecticut's delegation favors government financial assistance to nonpublic schools to keep them from closing and adding to the burden of the public school system, according to a recent survey.

Everyone of the delegation except Republican U.S. Sen. Lowell Weicker answered an Associated Press "Roundtable" questionnaire on governmental assistance to nonpublic schools.

Five of the members indicated they favor this assistance in the form of federal tax credits to the parents of children in nonpublic schools in order to meet the constitutional objections that have blocked other plans to help nonpublic schools.

Connecticut now has a law providing for direct state payments to parents who have children in nonpublic schools. The ultimate fate of this law is uncertain, as similar measures have been ruled unconstitutional in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

In his reply to the questionnaire, Democratic U.S. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff referred to his recently announced proposal to provide federal tax credits of up to $475 per child for parents with children in nonpublic schools.

Ribicoff said in his announcement that if the nonpublic schools are forced to close there would be a "massive dislocation in our public school system." Connecticut's senior senator added that if the 100,000 nonpublic school students in Connecticut were added to the public school enrollments it would cost the taxpayers an extra $60 million.

U.S. Rep. Stewart McKinney echoed these fears and said that if parochial schools were forced to close because of a lack of funds "many municipalities would face an immediate financial burden far exceeding that which limited aid to parochial schools would place on them."

The Fairfield Republican added that parents who send their children to parochial schools don't receive the full benefit of their tax dollars which go to support public schools regardless of the parents' religious or educational preference.

McKinney suggested that direct financial aid could be given to the students in the form of secular services and materials and scholarships.

Sixth District Democratic Rep. Ella Grasso said, "The preservation of the nation's non-public schools must be insured. The opportunity for parents to have a choice of where to send their children to school is essential."

Mrs. Grasso added that the nonpublic schools provide a "needed and valuable supplement to the educational services provided by the presently overburdened public school systems."

She also said she has introduced legislation to provide routine acceptance, for the slight discovery which has been moving forward in the news.

The slight discovery is that certain races are especially subject to certain specific diseases which do not afflict other races.

At first, this discovery seemed almost like a ruse, a plot, or something that had been imagined by those who like to preach an intractable difference between races. That was when the news was about only one such special disease.

But subsequently, it has developed that there are special diseases for other specific nationalities, and there are now special campaigns to finance special research and medical care for such special diseases. One can be discovered to be true for one or two racial divisions can probably be found applying to them all, and we expect the final development to be the discovery that even the Waags have a special problem, probably arising from the fact that they sting one another.

There will, we suppose, be one last possibility to be argued out, and this is the possibility that it may be to an environment more than inheritance which has promoted these differences which manifest themselves along racial lines. Meanwhile, one can watch two noble and altruistic endeavors taking place side by side — one the effort to obtain scientific assurance there is no difference between races — the other the effort to provide special care for those diseases which, by striking at one race and not at others, suggest a difference.

New Code For Judges

The special committee of the American Bar Association has now completed three years of work and reported with its proposed revision in the association's code of conduct for the nation's judges, ranging from the local justice of the peace up to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

The most important single recommendation in the report is, it seems to these columns, what amounts to a prohibition against members of the nation's highest court allowing themselves to be drafted to serve in other capacities, even those of great and solemn national importance.

The committee's report doesn't give names and instances, and it uses a handy argument which is not really the important argument. What the committee says is the following:

"Familiar services have been rendered in the past to the states and the nation by judges appointed by the executive to undertake important extra-judicial assignments.

"The appropriateness of conferring these assignments on judges must be reassessed, however, in light of the demands on judicial manpower created by today's crowded dockets and the need to protect the courts from involvement in extrajudicial matters that may prove to be controversial."

On the national scene, the two most spectacular instances of this kind of thing have been Chief Justice Earl Warren's service as chairman of the commission which investigated the assassination of President Kennedy and Justice Owen Roberts' service as chairman of the commission which investigated the disaster at Pearl Harbor.

The nation's need for some prestige name to head such inquiries can be recognized. It was not, however, and should never be considered, greater than the nation's need for a judiciary which does not get itself involved in matters which may eventually be brought before itself.

In addition to forbidding such high kind of extrajudicial service to the government, the new code would restrict the connection of judges with the regular floor, director, adviser or employer in any business, while it also warns against attending the possible complications of service even in civic and charitable enterprises.

It does not foreclose the kind of fee which got Abe Fortas in so much trouble. He was driven from the Supreme Court, but the new code would have required that he report the fee publicly.

It can be assumed, we think, that if a regulation requiring such a public report of the fee had been in effect, there would have been no fee arrangement in the first place.

The proposed code, then, deals with all the main questions of propriety which have been raised by the conduct of some members of the judiciary in recent years. To many members of the judiciary, both the spirit and the letter of such a code have been important and mandatory, all along. The exceptions, however, have been numerous enough to prove the necessity for a rule.

Like Rascals Unrepentant

It is touching, how characters who embark on wild and glamorous and exciting adventures because they can't tolerate the boredom of dull, relatively honest, humdrum living become, the moment their adventures collapse, people of such simple, wholesome tastes.

It develops, for instance, that Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Irving, who swindled $700,000 and twice as much fun out of a publishing house with their fraud of a Howard Hughes "autobiography," are now thinking of nothing but the quiet life, and particularly of their own quite innocent children.

Their sincerity for such new directions was so touching, in the New York courtroom the other day, that the judge, after each of them $100,000 of the $700,000, and sentencing Mr. Irving to two and a half years (he could be eligible for parole after 10 months) and Mrs. Irving to two months in jail, arranged for Mr. Irving to stay free until Mrs. Irving has been released, thus yielding graciously to their pleas for mercy and compassion.

Then there is Richard Siskind, the researcher who aided in preparation of the bogus book. He and his wife were both in court, crying, and he confessed the "stupidity and foolishness" of his behavior, and asked mercy, not for himself, but "for my wife and for my son, that they should not be deprived of my presence, such as it is."

In response, a kindly judge let two six-month jail sentences run concurrently, with parole possible in four months. It is such a thing as a taste in bacchanals and prizes who we may that we would prefer some who were gay and gallant and debonair and rascally to the end, and never weak enough to weep over the royalties of their genius?

No-Fault Doing Well In Bay State

Concept and other states that hesitate to embrace the no-fault insurance concept need to look to the Massachusetts experience to reassure themselves it is a prime pocketbook reform for the cost-plagued motorist.

The Massachusetts Supreme Court has just overridden insurance industry objections and held valid a 27 per cent premium rebate ordered by the state insurance commissioner. Between $20 and $40 million dollars is to be returned to last year's policyholders, which in the case of the Metropolitan Blue Star was figured at an average of $25 per policy.

Amazingly, the reductions in premiums in compulsory health insurance came into being in the Bay State, now total some 70 per cent. Locked at another way, cost of the insured $100 that three years ago, has now dropped to $30.

If the experience with our neighbor goes into effect Jan. 1, may not represent the full benefit that could accrue to the state's policyholders. Our Legislature would have been wise to use the same wording adopted in the Massachusetts bill, which set rates on a provision that cost the insured $100 that three years ago, has now dropped to $30.

And strangely enough, there is no controversy, but merely apparent placid REGISTER.

Conflict Of Altruisms?

It is an interesting sidelight — or perhaps more than a sidelight — which has now been cast on the scientific controversy over whether some divisions of the human race have qualities different from those of others.

And strangely enough, there is no controversy, but merely apparent placid REGISTER.

Walking The Plank

MINNEAPOLIS—The chaotic performance of the McGovern "coalition" in such states as Minnesota are unable to restrain their anti-establishment spleurge, can McGovern himself restrain them when they arrive at Miami Beach?

Mr. Nixon went further, asking 123 members of Congress to support McGovern's nomination to the White House Thursday where Kistinger fielded questions for several hours.

The Coalition forced a plank into the Party's platform that would "legalize" marriage between homosexuals. It also elected Earl Craig, an instructor at the University of Minnesota, Democratic National Committee member over democratic Gov. Anderson's personal choice. Craig immediately called for the ouster of Democratic national chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien on grounds that O'Brien is a "rubber stamp" national committee and was oblivious to social issues.

Then there is Richard Siskind, the researcher who aided in preparation of the bogus book. He and his wife were both in court, crying, and he confessed the "stupidity and foolishness" of his behavior, and asked mercy, not for himself, but "for my wife and for my son, that they should not be deprived of my presence, such as it is."

In response, a kindly judge let two six-month jail sentences run concurrently, with parole possible in four months. "Sham and Disgrace" To the Editor:

The recent decision of the Supreme Court to uphold the rights of private clubs to exclude Negroes is a sham and a disgrace to this nation's concept of equality.

The 14th amendment, Section 1, clearly forbids any state from making or enforcing any law that abridges the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor deny any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law.

The decision rendered by this court have turned its back on equality, morality and common sense for all its citizens. How can the Supreme Court allow state funds, which are paid for by the entire community, to foster and perpetuate blatant discrimination in housing?

When the American people search for honesty and cry for stability in life, they get hypocrisy and bewilderment.

This nation has been founded on the rights of all citizens to be equal under the law. We claim to be the freest of nations. These concepts are being questioned by our youth, by minorities and by respectable people throughout the world. Our very foundations are being shook by doubt of our sincerity to our values. When the law is used to deny the right of all citizens the enjoyment of benefits derived from their own efforts (tax money) to support a State Liquor Authority, it is clear that the decision is immoral. When rights of a minority are further abused, doubt, distrust and fear become commonplace. This decision perpetuates the divisiveness so rampant in our communities.

The constitution of this republic speaks to equality for all Americans. Where in this decision can that noble word be found?

Ask Bicentennial Suggestions To the Editor:

The American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Connecticut agrees with the national Commission that every citizen — man, woman and child — should have a part in the observance of the 200th Anniversary of American independence and the founding of the United States.

Your Connecticut Commission has embarked on a publications program of historical booklets; it hopes to establish a State Historical Museum, and plans for other events connected with our nation's birthday party are under consideration.

None of the anti-establishment actions taken at the Rochester convention by the pro-McGovern "coalition" was as important as McGovern himself or his political high command in Washington. To the contrary, the attacks on O'Brien and Humphrey and some of the far-out platform planks go directly against McGovern policy of minimizing harsh contradictions between McGovernites and the party establishment.

Hence the real and looming danger that lies in wait for McGovern.

Richey joys

Jesus came to a village where a woman named Martha made him welcome in her home. She had a sister, Mary, who seated herself at the Lord's feet and stayed there listening to his words. Now Martha was distracted by her many tasks, so she came to him and said, "Lord, do you not care that my sister has left me to get on with the work by myself? Tell her to come and lend a hand." But the Lord answered, "Martha, Martha, you are fretting and fussing about so many things; but few things are necessary. What Mary has chosen shall not be taken away!" Luke 10:38-42

And we also are so busy these days. There are so many demands upon our time that we have no time to get on with the work by ourselves! Tell her to come and lend a hand.

Court Orders Bus Service Restored, Fares Slashed

The financially troubled Connecticut Company will have to reduce fares and restore bus service in the Hartford and New Haven divisions under a court injunction issued today, according to Alexander Goldfarb, U.S. District Judge.

The court order, which took effect immediately, stops the company from increasing fares and cutting service as approved by the state's Public Utilities Commission (PUC).

The injunction also means that a bus driver strike in the New Haven division, according to Alexander Goldfarb, New Haven state, bus service stopped abruptly Saturday when drivers and mechanics refused to work on a new schedule of operation.

Service in the Hartford and New Haven divisions was not affected by the New Haven disagreement.

The injunction was sought by the City of Hartford after the PUC approved fare increases of five cents per mile, and service cuts on several of its peak routes. The fare increase went into effect June 9, and the service cuts were to go into effect June 24 in the Hartford area.

Atty. Goldfarb said the injunction can be appealed. Connecticut Co. officials could not be reached for comment.

New Haven Mayor Bartholomew Guida and John Thompson, head of the Amalgamated Transit Union, have commended the City of Hartford for obtaining the injunction. Atty. Goldfarb said the court appeal was brought on behalf of all bus riders in the area.

The Connecticut Co. has been plagued by diminishing ridership and labor difficulties since the end of 1971. The company's annual loss last year was $1 million. The company is asking for when the PUC approved the five-cent fare hikes and allowed service cuts.

SECOND OF A SERIES CLIP AND SAVE TIPS ON SPAIN by LaBonne Travel World CURRENCY

The exchange rate of dollars for pesetas varies from day to day, and frequently from place to place. Shopping for money rates can be just as worthwhile as most anything else you do.

The best rates of exchange can be found when purchasing merchandise for cash or travellers cheques, as the merchants are so eager to make a sale that they're willing to give you a little break on the exchange rate.

Credit cards are acceptable, but not everywhere. Rest assured also that when using a credit card you will invariably get the lowest rate of exchange available.

One last tip, if you ever find that you have been cheated on an exchange rest assured that it is probably human error and not intentional, because the crime rate in Spain is practically nil and the people fundamentally honest.

Police Report

Police have apprehended a 19-year-old Manchester boy in connection with a suspicious fire in a shed at the rear of 434 N. Main St. which occurred June 5.

The boy was referred to juvenile authorities, according to Police Det. Capt. Joseph Sartor.

Manchester's Eighth District firemen managed to stop the fire from spreading to the attached two-family house at 434 N. Main St. Firemen said the blaze could have been serious, if several containers of fuel in the shed had ignited.

Police said the boy, unidentified because of his age, admitted throwing lit matches into the shed.

Weekend arrests made by Manchester police included: Lorraine M. Webber, 940 Middle St., charged Saturday with passing on the right, on Center St. Court date is July 10.

Joselyn M. Doucet, 20, of Boston, Mass., charged with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting) yesterday at Treasurer City Department store at the Parade, she was held on $200 cash bond and was to be presented in court today.

Joe Jurich, 18, of 88 Rhonda Dr., South Windsor, charged with breach of peace and failure to be fingerprinted and photographed; and Marilyn L. Schultz, 20, of Cromwell, charged with breach of peace. Both were arrested in connection with an incident last night on Broad St. Court date is July 10.

Sandra L. Cunningham, 19, of Wetherfield, and Russell E. Turner, 19, of 110 Hackmatack St., both charged with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting) yesterday afternoon at Treasurer City. Court date is July 10.

South Windsor VFW Installs Dow As Post Commander

Gilmore A. Dow, acting commander of the newly established Veterans of Foreign Wars South Windsor Memorial Post, No. 10221, was installed as post commander at an officers' installation meeting last week.

Also installed were Robert A. Sturtevant, senior vice commander; Edwin J. LaMare, junior vice commander; Gus R. Betancourt, quartermaster; Edwin Kuehn, senior advocate; Anthony Baranowski, chaplain; Joseph R. Uccello, surgeon; LeRoy Nelson, three-year trustee; Timothy R. Fellows, two-year trustee and Irving N. Aldrich, one-year trustee.

Ernest M. Cammararo was appointed to serve as adjutant and service officer, and Jack R. Lobe public relations officer.

Commander Dow is a 12-year resident of South Windsor and resides at 265 Benedict Dr. He has served six years with the U. S. Army and participated in the African Campaign and Italian Invasion of Salerno and Anzio in World War II. He received the purple heart medal for injury in the Anzio Campaign and the bronze star for meritorious service under combat operations. He was a personal body guard to Gen. Mark Wayne Clark, commander of the 15th Army Group during the Italian campaign.

According to Lobe, since the installation of the post in January, membership has grown to the present 47 members, working to achieve goals in youth activities, scholarship funds, safety programs and other community activities.

Lobe commented that the response by residents to the poppy sale under the direction of Robert A. Sturtevant for May was overwhelming and the post was able to contribute to the national event and to start a relief fund for use in the community.

Lobe added that Mayor Abraham Glasman was instrumental in securing a temporary meeting place in the Town Hall, but this past month decided to have town trucks collect the garbage and trash. Mayor Frank McCoy advocates the purchase of the land construction; salary scale; re-fill area. He said he feels it will cost for tax refund; requests be made for some budget transfers; the council's summer meeting.

The second proposed ordinance provides penalties for a violation of sections of the town's building code.

ITT Defends Hartford Act

NEW YORK (AP) — International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., charged last Friday with violations of securities laws, said today that it had acted "in good faith" and in the belief that its actions were legal.

The Securities and Exchange Commission filed suit Friday charging that ITT and two of its executives had violated securities laws in actions related to the settlement of antitrust suits challenging ITT's acquisition of the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. and other companies.

The SEC said ITT had failed to disclose settlement talks in a supplement to a prospectus and charged that the two executives, Howard J. Albel, senior vice president and general counsel, and John J. Navin, secretary and counsel for corporate affairs, had acted on inside information and sold ITT stock before the settlement was announced.

Harold S. Gense, ITT chairman and president, said today that "the company and its officers at all times acted in good faith on the advice of outside counsel and in the belief that all of their actions were completely lawful."

Seaver Regains Pitching Form, Mets' Ace Stymies Reds' Attack

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tom Seaver wiped his brow, splashed his thighs and spoke of a pitcher's strength.

"You've got to have it here," he said, slapping his right hand against his hip. "It's all here, your power and your strength are here."

Seaver says he's been missing that power, but now he's got it back.

"It's a nice feeling," he said. "The New York Mets right-hander, 33, stymied the Cincinnati Reds, 24 Sunday on a five-inning effort that was the National League's first nine-game winning streak since the 1957-58 season.

The victory moved the Mets into first place in the NL's tight race ahead of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

It was only Seaver's third nine-inning effort that drew a "heak of a lot of running."

"I was running early in April," he said, "and pulled muscle fibers in both my legs. It seemed like it was jumping off me all the time."

Seaver appeared headed for trouble early, with Tony Perez leading off the first inning with a double. But Seaver, who leads the league with 13 home runs and 50 runs batted in, pitched meekly.

"There's a feeling when I throw that ball gets off my fingers," he said, noting he wasn't worried even after walking Pete Rose and Joe Morgan and crediting his showing to a "heak of a lot of running."

Twins Stop Orioles' Winning Streak Mustache Day in Oakland, A's Hitters Support Blue

NEW YORK (AP) — It was Mustache Day in Oakland and for a change, things didn't get hairy for the Blue Jays.

Treated to only one run in the first 29 innings he pitched this season, Blue began to wonder whether he was wise to abandon the steel business and return to baseball.

But his faith was restored by an encouraging 18-hit attack that gave the A's a 6-0 romp over Cleveland Sunday. For his part, Blue allowed just four hits and came away with his first victory of the season after a no charge.

The combination of Blue on the mound and free admissions to anyone wearing a mustache, lured 32,777 fans to the ballpark in Oakland. More than 7,000 of them showed up with hair under their noses and were ushered in to watch Blue operate for no charge.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Chicago rallied to beat the Red Sox, 4-3, in a game that was a mustache day for the Sox.

White Sox Eye Leading A's, Legitimate Pennant Threat

BOSTON (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, led by a three-man pitching rotation headed by workhorse Wilbur Wood, are proving a legitimate pennant contender under popular manager Chuck Tanner.

"I'd say we have a pretty good team and are competitive," Tanner said with a smile Sunday after the White Sox defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-1 to take the rubber of a three-game series.

"Don't forget, we're just punch with the acquisition of

Braves' Officials Meet with Cepeda

ATLANTA (AP) — Orlando Cepeda, suspended by the Atlanta Braves over the weekend, meets today with club officials in an attempt to resolve his slugging first baseman's two-day walkout.

Cepeda, a 14-year major league veteran and former National League Most Valuable Player, left the club before Saturday's Braves-Montreal night game when his name was in the starting lineup.

He was promptly suspended indefinitely by Atlanta manager Luman Harris.

"I'm fed up with not playing," the 34-year-old Cepeda said. "I just want to play ball. I show up and I sit. They (Braves) say it's my knee. If I limp, they tell the papers my knee is bad. But nobody asks me. It's not 100 per cent but I can play regularly."

The left knee was operated on last August.

Inconsistency Among Relievers Kills RSox in Divisional Race

BOSTON (AP) — Inconsistency among relievers is killing the Boston Red Sox in their struggle to keep alive in the American League East.

Of course, some decent jobs by the starting pitchers would help plenty, too. And a few more consistent outings would come to the overall cause.

The Red Sox were edged 8-4 by the Chicago White Sox Saturday afternoon as starter Ray

Jones' All-Time Record of 13 Major Wins Equalled Nicklaus Nears Grand Slam

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus stood like a colossus atop the pinnacle of all golf today—beside the late Bob Jones and halfway home toward an almost unthinkable Grand Slam—but the experience isn't exactly what he had imagined.

"Bob Jones always was my idol and, as I was growing up, I talked about equaling his record of major championships," Nicklaus said. "I've always had a goal of winning the U.S. Open title and the American PGA at Pebble Beach within a few days of each other."

"I thought about it and I have a goal of winning the U.S. Open, the British Open, the PGA and the PGA of America within a few days of each other."

Palmer said he realized that "I came off the ball and sliced into the beach where I had an unplayable lie. I hit my third into the bank, chipped out to within ten feet and missed the hole."

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer called it "probably the toughest Open I've played."

Palmer added to a personal record of 11 runner-up spots since winning the U.S. Open crown in 1960 for the only time. The 42-year-old Palmer was so briefly that for the lead in Sunday's final round of the 72nd Open, after holding a 30-foot lead over the rest of the field, he was blown off the hole by a gust of wind.
