

JULY 4th

We Celebrate the Day of our

INDEPENDENCE

July Fourth... a day for remembering the birth of our great nation. This was the turning point for both America and its people. On this day, in 1776, the Declaration of Independence was adopted, making our country free and securing for all citizens "certain unalienable Rights... among them... Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." Today, as then, Americans affirm these rights.

To Be Seen Here; Weather Permitting

Monday Will Be Eclipse Day

NEW YORK (AP) — A thousand-mile-an-hour shadow will sweep the earth Monday, the mark of an eclipse of the sun. The shadow will dip down at the Sakhalin Islands off northern Japan, then race across the coast of Siberia, northern Alaska, Canada and the Maritime Provinces.

All of the rest of the United States, except Hawaii, will be able to see the eclipse. Watching from the sidewalks of New York City a viewer may be able to see 70.5 per cent of the sun darkened. From Chicago, 63 per cent will be covered; from Denver, 59 per cent; from San Francisco, 44 per cent.

In New York, the eclipse will begin, according to the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium, at 3:22:45 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time, reach its maximum at 4:42:11.9 and end at 5:45:11.6. Because the eclipse will be partial for viewers in the 48 contiguous states, millions will be exposed to the dangers of looking at the sun with the naked eye.

Not Quite Total
A person must use a filter to look directly at the sun, Kodak says. A filter that will not only reduce the visible energy of the sun but will also reduce sufficient ultraviolet and infrared radiation which can cause instant eye damage, including blindness, without the person being aware of it.

Subtracting the 1,040 miles per hour rotation of the earth, at the equator and traveling in the same direction, the apparent speed of the shadow is 1,060 miles per hour, and increasing as the eclipse path moves away from the equator.

The sun, with a surface temperature of 10,000 degrees Fahrenheit, will be about 44.1 million miles from the earth at the time of the eclipse. To give an idea of its volume, the Hayden Planetarium says 1.3 million earths could be continued inside it.

Irving Wallman outlines the many upcoming activities for Butterfield's Young Junior Advisory Board members. Program is geared to introduce girls to fashion career opportunities.

Butterfield's Teen Board Plans Events

(Herald Photos by Pinto)

Butterfield's Young Junior Advisory Board, initiated to introduce area girls to the many career opportunities in the fashion world, was officially launched recently when 50 board members were selected from 120 applicants.

The young ladies, junior and senior high school students from Manchester, East Hartford, South Windsor, Rockville and other area towns, will participate in meetings which will also serve as workshops. Members will learn the proper application of cosmetics, how to select styles that are becoming to them, and how to put the look of fashion all together.

Irving Wallman, general manager of Butterfield's New York store, outlined the Junior Board's activities planned for the fall and discussed several field trips to New York fashion markets planned for board members.

"Members will visit the garment industry with Butterfield's buyers and help select fashions which will be available in the store," Miss Meston said.

"They will follow the garments right from designing, to manufacturing, to buying," she added.

Beginning in September, the Junior Board will meet two evenings a month.

Culminating the year's activities will be a fashion show organized entirely by the board members.

"Members will prepare the program, write their own comments, and select the clothing and accessories that will be modeled," Miss Meston said.

"Judges from New York will select the first prize winner, who will receive a $200 educational fund award," she said.

Girls await their turn, as Susan Fleming of East Hartford High School introduces herself to the other board members. Of the more than 120 applicants who applied, 50 were selected for membership.

Schuster Dies, Raced Auto Around World in 1908

SPRINGVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — George N. Schuster, whose victory in an around-the-world automobile race in 1908 earned him a place in the Guinness Book of World Records, died Tuesday after suffering a heart attack at a nursing home in this Western New York village.

Sixty-four years ago, when horseless buggies were considered rich men's toys, Schuster and five other drivers set out from New York City, heading for Paris by a 13,000-mile westward route.

The first overland leg of the race — taking 41 days — stretched to California. Then ships transported the cars for additional legs in Alaska, northern Japan and finally to Vladivostok on Russia's western coast.

Through misunderstandings, however, it was 60 years before he was awarded a $1,000 first prize.

The club has been responsible for many local projects during its seven-year history and holds a social and creative program for its members. Those interested in joining may contact Mrs. Marvin Osterling, New Rd.

The Tolland Junior recently presented a $500 scholarship to Linda Kreschko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kreschko, Peter Green Rd. A member of this year's graduating class at Tolland High School, Miss Kreschko plans to study special education at Boston College in the fall and presently works at Mansfield Training School.

Winners of the recently held Youth Photography Contest at Tolland High School were Michael Shrage, first and third place; and Jerry Harrison, second place. Robert Richetta received an honorable mention award. The contest was financed by a $35 donation from the Tolland Juniors.

Capital Scholar

Harry R. Schuh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Schuh of 12 Cumberland St., is one of six high school graduates from Greater Hartford who have been named Capital Area Scholars at Trinity College.

The students, each of whom ranked in the top 10 per cent of his class, will receive a total of $70,000 over the next four years in scholarship aid.

Schuh, a June graduate of Manchester High School, was a member of the National Honor Society, the German Club, and the soccer team.

Scholarship selections were made by a panel of judges on work, integrity and seriousness of purpose.

Hebron Summer Rec Events Get Under Way Today

Many of the summer programs initiated by the Recreation Commission for youngsters in town began operating today. Youngsters still interested in participating should contact recreation and cultural director Gordon MacDonald, Lake Rd., Andover.

In addition to the regularly scheduled programs, MacDonald announced that there will be a special bike hike July 16 to Gay City State Park, leaving from Rham High School at 1 p.m.

The hike is open to all residents, but those under 12 years of age should be accompanied by an adult. Those participating should bring a bathing suit and a picnic lunch.

MacDonald mentioned that further hikes are being planned and the date and destination of the next one will be discussed at the conclusion of the July 16 hike.

Mother-Son Game

Despite "night" favoritism on the part of the four umpires, the sons emerged victors in a close 16 to 12 game played against their mothers last weekend.

The bleachers behind the mothers' bench were packed with cheering fathers and friends as the mothers took the field in the first annual mother-son baseball game sponsored by the Hebron Baseball Association.

Humphrey Host At Boat Rides

WAVELEY, Minn. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey observed the Fourth of July at his lakeside home here, and served as skipper for newsmen on boat rides.

Aides said the Minnesota plans to rest up for the Democratic National Convention next week — he is a candidate for the presidential nomination and that the only thing on his schedule is a Humphrey family reunion at Wayzata, Minn.

Connally Meets With Indira

NEW DELHI (AP) — Presidential envoy John E. Connally met today with Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi at Raj Bhavan, the palatial mansion of the former British viceroy of India.

The former U.S. Treasury secretary, who arrived here Tuesday, has already conferred with Foreign Minister Swaran Singh and Finance Minister P. V. Chavan.

In the absence of President V.V. Giri, who is making state visits to Yugoslavia and Afghanistan, Connally paid a courtesy call on Vice-President G.S. Pathankar.

It is true, Batten said, that some animal dealers will buy lambs, but the zoo man refuses with President Zulfikar Ali to get into such a business.

Peter Batten, head of the San Jose Zoo, said Tuesday he thinks it's the first time anywhere that a lion-in fact, two lions—have been put on the pill. Tammy's 8-year-old daughter, Lee, gets the pill, too.

Batten said the 8-year-old Tammy was chosen three years ago for his experiment because she's so prolific. The pill is administered once daily in Tammy's meat in order to curb the period she is in heat.

Tammy's daughter was included, Batten said, because she's just starting to reach the age of sub-fertility. And the San Jose Zoo simply does not want any cubs.

"If Tammy doesn't get the pill, she'll come into season again," said Batten.

"I just don't want to get in the situation of having to destroy cubs," Batten said emphatically.

There is no ready market for cubs, he explained, adding, "What few people understand is that the cubs generally are de-front Hitler when he marched into the Ruhr and the Japanese when they marched into Manchuria. It could have, he theorized, World War II could have been avoided.

The "mistakes of the fathers" apparently have been repeated perhaps with half measures and irresolution, the move we made into Vietnam in an effort to stem aggression and prevent a bigger war now in our generation.

Because we hugged our effort to do the right thing in Vietnam, Rusk doesn't want our children, in their disillusionment, to go back and, in isolationist mood, repeat the mistakes of their grandfathers which were, we now repeat, not to move against Hitler and Japan when Hitler and Japan made their first grab moves.

There is one footnote we would like to suggest for Professor Rusk's reading of history:

It would be a footnote suggesting that one of the most important reasons why the supposedly decent western world didn't put an automatic stopper on the first aggressive moves by Hitler and Japan was that it was not averse to having Germany and Japan work themselves into positions and attitudes which would constitute a sort of balance of power check to the hard red flag which had begun flying over Russia. Not merely in the Ruhr, but in Austria and even Czechoslovakia, the Western powers were willing to have Hitler build himself up because he proclaimed himself to be anti-Communist, and because they hoped he could be induced to expend his ambitions career in a turn to the East. And when Japan began moving for a larger empire on the mainland of Asia, tears for Manchuria and China were soothed, to some degree, by memory of the fact that Japan had once defeated Russia, and might be able to do so again.

In short, we wonder whether Professor Rusk, with his consistent fixation on Communism as an imperialistic menace, might not, in the days of so-called appeasement, have seen in such appeasement the best strategy in the day for the containment of Communism. WASHINGTON—The inability of Sen. George McGovern to control his own delegates on the eve of his probable nomination for President led inexorably to the stunning and quite possibly suicidal decision to deny Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago a seat at the convention.

Thus, a week before the Miami Beach convention, McGovern's efforts to prevent full polarization of the Democratic party between Daley's old politics and McGovern's new politics have failed. As one Illinois member of the Credentials Committee shouted Friday afternoon: "You will destroy yourselves in November if you accept this challenge!" — the challenge by Chicago reformers against Daley and 58 other delegates.

At heart, McGovern himself would not disagree. He has desperately wanted to avoid a showdown with Daley without making himself seem anti-reform and pro-Daley. But he moved too cautiously and too late.

Worse, McGovern and his newly begun wing over in Russia, not merely in the Ruhr, but in Austria and even Czechoslovakia, the Western powers were willing to have Hitler build himself up because he proclaimed himself to be anti-Communist, and because they hoped he could be induced to expend his ambitions career in a turn to the East.

When Japan began moving for a larger empire on the mainland of Asia, tears for Manchuria and China were soothed, to some degree, by memory of the fact that Japan had once defeated Russia, and might be able to do so again.

In short, we wonder whether Professor Rusk, with his consistent fixation on Communism as an imperialistic menace, might not, in the days of so-called appeasement, have seen in such appeasement the best strategy in the day for the containment of Communism.

If that has been wrong, of course, as Chamberlain and Daladier were wrong, since the World War II that appeasement may have unleashed also proved the struggle which brought Communist power to its present importance on the world scene.

The "mistakes of the fathers" apparently have been repeated perhaps with half measures and irresolution, the move we made into Vietnam in an effort to stem aggression and prevent a bigger war now in our generation.

Because we hugged our effort to do the right thing in Vietnam, Rusk doesn't want our children, in their disillusionment, to go back and, in isolationist mood, repeat the mistakes of their grandfathers which were, we now repeat, not to move against Hitler and Japan when Hitler and Japan made their first grab moves.

There is one footnote we would like to suggest for Professor Rusk's reading of history:

It would be a footnote suggesting that one of the most important reasons why the supposedly decent western world didn't put an automatic stopper on the first aggressive moves by Hitler and Japan was that it was not averse to having Germany and Japan work themselves into positions and attitudes which would constitute a sort of balance of power check to the hard red flag which had begun flying over Russia.

Perhaps the most difficult business to reach via an automobile is the Manchester Post Office when parking is a problem just as it is at a great many post offices. So the other day we abandoned the automobile and went on foot. We discovered that is also risky. Perhaps a little pedestrian striking on both Center and Main Streets would make it a little easier and lessen the danger to life and limb. We would like to see someone study the problem anyway.

"We have discovered that the 'No Parking Any Time' signs are presumed to mean you can park for any five or 10 minutes. No one seems to pay a great deal of attention to them. We find no fault regarding enforcement of the challenge but kept himself aloof. The obvious reason: McGovern's shrewd old politics and therefore the McGovern high command knew Singer was carrying political delegates that they did not want to see.

"I hope all organizations will give some preliminary thought and planning to taking part in the Manchester September 20th birthday celebration. It's a golden opportunity for all to sing the praises of Manchester and pay tribute to those public spirited citizens that came before us and those that will follow.

"We have a letter from a lady in Andover who comments: 'I buy The Manchester Herald for the LOCAL NEWS only. I want to see what is going on in my town. I get my day-to-day national news from the radio (half a cent) and your general front page. Once a week I get down to Time magazine to try and evaluate the world. I am very busy and very typical of my professional coworkers. Your ads challenge me to shop in Manchester. After 40 years of thinking Hartford and New York City only, I think Manchester might be for me.'

When one considers the millions that will be spent in campaigning before we finally elect a President in November, it is discouraging to learn that it will cost $60,000 just to inaugurate the winner.

"That amount is a congressional appropriation bill which caught the eye of economy-minded Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia who notes that the measure for inaugurating President Nixon in 1968 was only $540,000.

Most of the expense lies in building the platform and seats for the ceremony on the east steps of the Capitol. When the next President stands on those steps to deliver his inaugural address the cost should make him mindful that keeping inflation under control is an all-important goal.

"For the past few weeks we have been receiving circulars and flyers in plastic bags, which are hung on the door knobs. They are delivered by Independent Postal System of America (IPSA).

Curious, I called IPSA to ask why they delivered mail in this manner. It was informed that it is presently illegal for anyone but the U. S. Post Office to use private mail boxes for delivery. Let's hope it is passed.

Group Conducts Price Survey

A survey of prices on drug and beauty aids, made by the Consumer Action Group of Vernon, has revealed a variance of $8.98 in the prices of 29 articles priced at a number of area drug stores, supermarkets and discount stores.

The survey was conducted during the month of May and the results were lowest at the Burlington Pharmacy. Mrs. Chris Brunone of 5115 1/2 Ave. heads the Vernon Action Group which is a branch of the Connecticut group. The items surveyed included such things as 50 tablets of Bayer Aspirin, 14 oz. of Johnson's Baby Powder, 3 ounces of Break Shampoo, 101 capsules of Contac, Bactine Spray, and other things such as disposable diapers, cream rinse, rubbing alcohol and shaving cream.

The workers involved in the survey were given a list with the items on it and they recorded the price of each of the 29 items in the store they were assigned to survey. The items were then added to show the total price of them in each store surveyed.

The results are as follows: Kings (Manchester) $20.92; Grants (Manchester) $20.22; Vernon (Manchester) $22.79; Hartmann's (Manchester) $22.33; Gateway Drug (Manchester) $22.76; Better Val-U (Manchester) $22.88; Vernon Drug $24.28; Mile Hill Pharmacy (Manchester) $27.23; Nutmeg Pharmacy (Vernon) $27.40; Nangles Pharmacy (Tolland) $28.14 and Ellington Pharmacy $29.02.

At least 23 women from the Vernon area are active in the Vernon group. The survey is actually directed by the Buyers Action Group of Cromwell.

Women involved in the survey were Mrs. Madeline Turk, Mrs. Sue Martino, Mrs. Carol Cheney, Mrs. Lois Lovell, Mrs. Joan Footman, Mrs. Donna Burdum, Mrs. Gail Chabern, Mrs. Lois Barnes, Mrs. Darlene Burdum, Mrs. Patricia M. Smith, Mrs. Angela Sandberg and Mrs. Brunone.

Lockheed is Still on Shaking Ground

Editor's Note: A year ago the nation faced the possibility that its biggest defense contractor could go into bankruptcy. The following report by Donald M. Robbins of The AP Special Assignment Team looks at Lockheed today.

By DONALD ROBBINS WASHINGTON (AP) — A healthy flow of Pentagon business, a huge federal loan guarantee and a helping hand from Britain so far have failed to lift Lockheed Aircraft Corp. above financial storm clouds that threatened it with bankruptcy.

The nation's No. 1 defense contractor, heavily in debt, has pegged its future to its big contracts on several defense projects including a design competition for a transport plane that appears to be in the final stages of being awarded.

A year ago, Lockheed was reeling from $44 million in losses on four government projects and from the bankruptcy of Rolls Royce Ltd., British builder of the engines for the Trident.

Lockheed says it will start making money once it sells between 250-260 Tristrars. A classified Pentagon study puts the figure at 370, an estimate Lockheed flatly denies. Planning decisions vital to Lockheed's future are probably the fall, from British European Airways and Japan's All Nippon Airways.

"We would have mighty rough going on the basis of just what the L201 program is today, but we are going to get more orders," Haughton told stockholders in May.

"The L201 is the key to our future," he declared. That doesn't mean Lockheed has lost interest in the defense business.

The company is competing for contracts on several defense projects including a design competition for a transport plane that appears to be in the final stages of being awarded.

A British Embassy spokesman said Eastern had asked Rolls for less powerful engines for economy reasons.

Women's Unit Drops Convention Challenge

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Lifton said there was "no much rampant political in-fighting among the presidential candidates" as she would have been used — and I'll be damned if we're going to be challenged by the makeup of the Connecticut delegation to the National Democratic Convention.

The women felt "it would be impossible for the issues to be heard on the merits" at a meeting of the credentials committee Tuesday in Washington.

The committee voted 95-0 to deny another challenge — this one by a Yale freshman who said "youth want" given equitable representation on the six-member delegation.

Both challenges were supported by hearing examiners. Only two members of the delegation are under 30, and a hearing examiner said this violated party guidelines that minorities, youth and women have to be represented in reasonable proportion to their presence in the population.

"This is the lowest percentage in the nation," said Yale challenger Fred Krupp. "We find no other case where such blatant violation exist."

Another hearing examiner Arthur T. Barberi, New Haven Democratic Town chairman, said he wasn't surprised at the committee's decision.

"I thought they would uphold the challenge," he said.

Nader Workers Hunt for Money

HARTFORD (AP) — The director of the Connecticut Citizen Action Group says the Ralph Nader-initiated organization is scrambling for money.

"We scrambled to make the June payroll and now we'll just have to see about July," said CACG Director Toby Moffett.

"We had a statewide fund drive planned for the week before Memorial Day, and then it rained. This really hurt the drive and we haven't had time to organize another one yet," he said.

If the group is to continue, Moffett said Tuesday, it will have to begin a public subscription system in which people in the state would donate $10 or $15 a year and receive various CACG publications.

Among the group's successes, Moffett cites its investigation of the allegedly inadequate testing of M-16 rifles at Colt Industries.

But, he and his sons, George, 8, and Paul, 9, (the latter not in picture), made a real "Fun Day" out of it, and they accomplished their mission, as the many people who "just came to look" can attest. ### Tureck Rules for Removal Of 28 Tolland Tpke. Trees

Twenty-eight trees on the north side of Tolland Tpke. within the right-of-way of that road will be cut down to improve highway safety there.

The ruling by Ernest Tureck, park superintendent and tree warden, follows a public hearing last week at which residents of the area objected to the proposed plans, not particularly because they disagreed that safety would be improved, but because the plans to remove the 28 trees and some 22 additional trees on private property were not made clear when they purchased their homes.

The trees involved about a subdivision along the north side of Tolland Tpke. between Backland Rd. and Slater St. When the Planning and Zoning Commission approved that subdivision, a condition of the approval was that the developer, Richard Hayes, make improvements to the right-of-way of the road.

At last week's hearing, residents complained that this work should have been done before the homes were sold. Hayes said the work was delayed because of "legal bangles" with a subdivision who went bankrupt.

Tureck's ruling can be appealed within 10 days to the Court of Common Pleas in Hartford.

Tureck's ruling can be appealed within 10 days to the Court of Common Pleas in Hartford.

If Hayes still owned the land involved, he could have removed the trees if it was felt that their removal was necessary to improve the sight line of the highway beyond the intersection.

She Takes Wooden Nickels

By BETTY RYDER
(Herald Reporter)

That sage old advice "Don't take any wooden nickels, wouldn't serve as a warning to Mrs. Sally Kirka of 116 Oak St. On the contrary, she'd welcome them."

An avid collector of wooden money and elongated coins, Mrs. Kirka started collecting them in 1964 and now numbers some 3,000 in her collection. "Her 'eddies,' as she refers to them, include enclosed pennies, mint sets, wooden postcards, wooden nickels, commemorative wooden half-dollars and even a few wooden Christmas cards.

Used in Trade

"The first wooden nickels were made in 1904 when there was a shortage of metal to make coins," Mrs. Kirka said. "The wooden coins were actually used in trade. One collected in my collection is dated 1935 and marked 'Sales Tax Receipt - 1/5th Cent - Pimento, Washington.'"

Her collection also includes a wooden coin marked "2nd annual Watermelon Day, Rocky Ford, Colo., and another marked 'Sales Tax Receipt - Mrs. Kirka said, "This statute does not prohibit the mutilation of coins, if done without fraudulent intent or if the mutilated coins are not used fraudulently."

Incorrect Impair

One of the elongated coins in the Kirka's collection is superimposed with the "Lord's Prayer." Another, a favorite in her collection, has the statue of Nathan Hale, which stands in Coventry, engraved upon it.

Mrs. Kirka had this particular Nathan Hale coin made personally. "I wanted a coin made from our area, and the first one they made they had incorrectly imprinted Manchester instead of Coventry on it, so I also have one in my collection," she said.

"This numismatic item is called 'commemorative medals, produced on planchets which are true government specie. They can be collected by type, varieties, geographical location, planchets, dates or by events," she added.

Edits Paper

Mr. and Mrs. Kirka also publish the "TEC News" which is the official publication of the "Elongated Collectors," a club which meets monthly in Manchester to some 600 subscribers in the United States and overseas.

"I am the editor, and my husband does the typing. Material is sent in by other collectors through the country, and we compile it and prepare it for publication," she said.

The Kirkas have been members of the Central Connecticut Coin Club of Manchester for 11 years, and Mrs. Kirka is a past president.

Mrs. Kirka is also a member of the Western Rhode Island Stamp and Coin Club, of which she is secretary; the Hartford Numismatists Society, where she is vice president; Quimpeque Valley Club in Putnam; and the Tri-State Coin Club in Danbury.

Plus Exhibitions

The local club meets every month at the KoCo Home, and is currently planning for its exhibition Nov. 5.

Through Mrs. Kirka's efforts, a junior membership has been established and now has 10 active members. She encourages the club to become interested in coin collecting.

Mrs. Kirka has an unusual collection of elongated coins onto which she has painted flags of various nations. She is currently interested in a young girl who would like to see a variety of coins, but I also warn them that any coins they take from their paper money must be replaced.

"Any young people interested may attend one of our meetings, accompanied by a parent, and we will do all we can to stir up enough interest, so that he will want to join us," she said.

Mrs. Sally Kirka of 116 Oak St., displays some of her collection of wooden coins, at top, and the elongated coins on which she has painted the state flags, at bottom. On mantle, are a few of the many trophies she has won. Collecting coins has been her hobby since 1964. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Aerial Bombs Real Danger

MILFORD, Conn. (AP) — A carton containing 100 aerial bombs used in fireworks that was reportedly as powerful as grenades has been stolen from a warehouse, police said.

The fireworks look relatively harmless and have 12-inch fuses, but the fuses are electrical and ignite the fireworks instantaneously, said Lt. Donald Mutschler.

"You would never get away before it goes off," he said.

Mutschler said the owner of the fireworks, whom he declined to identify, said they were as powerful as military hand grenades. They were reported missing Tuesday evening.

Before sealing jama and jellies with paraffin, hang a piece of string over the edge of the glass. When ready to use, the paraffin will come right up by pulling the string.

Fireworks Blast Fatal

WAUCONDA, Ill. (AP) — A 24-year-old man was killed and three other persons were hospitalized Tuesday night in a firework explosion at a July Fourth fireworks display at the lake near Wauconda, a community of about 5,000.

The explosion, 40 miles northwest of Chicago, was identified by hospital officials as Edward G. Bulger, of McIntyre.

The injured were identified as Philip Marquardt, 52, a Wauconda policeman; Craig Cheney, 37, of McIntyre; and Lawrence Lehmer, 9, of Wauconda. They were being treated at a Libertyville hospital.

Hospital officials said Marquardt suffered severe facial lacerations and severe damage to both eyes. He was expected to undergo surgery early Wednesday, officials said.

The nature of the injuries to the other two persons was not immediately known.

Eye Damage Claimed Agencies Disagree on Detergents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some phosphoric acid detergents on the market can cause irreversible blindness if accidentally rubbed into the eye, according to an unpublished government study.

The results of this study indicate the rather sharp demarcation between moderate ocular damage caused by soap in phosphate detergents and the severe, permanent damage caused by phosphoric acid detergents, the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences concluded.

The Food and Drug Administration, charged with protecting the public from hazardous substances, has reacted to the report with disdain.

"They are treating outside the realm in which they should be operating," said an official in FDA's Bureau of Product Safety. "We have the charter, we have the mandate."

The official asked to be identified declined comment on criticism of a "duster agency."

Counting His Votes Before They're Cast

The Democratic National Convention will not convene until Monday and a Democratic presidential candidate will not be named until three or four days later, but the McGovern for President Connecticut Committee has no doubts who that candidate will be.

It has scheduled a McGovern Victory Rally-Concert for July 20 at 8 p.m., in the Bushnell Auditorium, Hartford.

"This rally," said Mrs. Stephanie May of Bloomfield, treasurer of the committee, "will celebrate George McGovern's successful fight for the Democratic presidential nomination and raise funds for the full campaign."

The concert will feature folk singer Pete Seeger plus other musical notables. A major national political figure, McGovern, will speak at the rally.

A $50 per person champagne supper in the Bushnell's Colonial Room will precede the concert. The $20 contributions will include front seats. Available tickets will be $25 and $10 tickets for the orchestra section of the Bushnell and 55 tickets for the balconies.

Hospital officials report the 88-year-old Truman has been resting comfortably and was visited Tuesday by his wife, Beas.
