WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lawton Chiles of Florida has accused actress Jane Fonda and former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, both recent visitors to North Vietnam, of undercutting Congress on the war issue.

The Florida Democrat told the Senate on Thursday that he believes comments made by Miss Fonda and Clark about their visits "have created such an adverse public reaction that it makes impossible for Congress to undertake successfully any measure seeking to legislate an end to the Vietnam war."

"The result: American public opinion is affected negatively; Congress, which must have public support, is once again undercut in its efforts to find a end to the war."

OEO Director In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philip W. Sanchez, the director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, has undergone surgery to remove an obstruction of the right kidney.

Dr. Dennis R. Derby, chief of urology at Malcolm Grow Hospital at Andrews Air Force Base, where the surgery was performed Wednesday, said he anticipated normal recovery.

RECORD LOAD
KALISPELL, Mont. (AP) — A log hauling firm here transported logs in seven trailers behind a 230-horsepower truck for 32 miles recently and claimed a new world record for hauling logs in one load.

The gross weight of the load totaled 674,800 pounds, and the seven logging trailers contained more than 61,900 board feet of logs. The overall length of the load was more than 300 feet.

The firm, LHC Inc., claimed a previous record of four trailer loads of logs a few years ago. That was broken when a Canadian firm transported five loads in 1970.

Melee in Miami?

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Convention protesters plan to greet the Republican party next week with marches, sit-ins and civil disobedience — some of which is designed to end in arrests.

Everything is supposed to be nonviolent, but police and protest organizers are concerned that things could get out of hand. At least one group says italy it is not interested in civil disobedience and will adopt more forceful tactics.

"No one thinks we are going to stop the convention," said Marty Fowler, the Miami Convention's spokesman. "We are in the Convention Coalition. But we will register our protest to Richard Nixon and all he stands for by our willingness to be arrested in large numbers."

Police say they expect about 2,500 protesters to be on hand when the GOP convenes Monday. Protest leaders put the figure at 6,000. About 2,000 demonstrators

Trooper Standards Heading for Court

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — "Come hell or highwater we will be in court with this very quickly," says a union official of controversial changes in the requirements for recruiting state police.

William D. Hickey, a former trooper now with the Connecticut State Employees Association, made the vow Thursday after the state Personnel Policy Board upheld the changes but agreed to hold a grievance hearing.

The meeting was attended by about 35 state troopers and representatives from a dozen local police departments, but they were not invited to speak.

House Votes Busing Bans

desegregation was rejected 211 to 174.

O'Hara said he was one of the congressmen who helped break up the practice of sending whites to white schools and blacks to black schools on the basis of race. And he said he is just as opposed to sending them to mixed schools solely on the basis of race.

House blacks accused white civil-rights activists who opposed segregation in the South of trying to force the issue by using busing now that it has spread to the North.

"Man, we don't need you if you won't vote with us in the clutch," Rep. Ronald W. Dellums, D-Calif., said in a fiery speech. "You might as well send a real racist. At least we would know where he stands."

Rep. William Clay, D-Mo., suggested sarcastically that the House go further and write a busing curbs to praise the emotional issue under realistic legal guidelines.

But House Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., accused the President of using public resentment against busing as a "political ploy" to pick up re-election votes in November before the Supreme Court could strike the curbs down.

About Town

The Rev. Brian Jeffrey of Manchester will be on the "We Believe" program, Sunday at 9:30 a.m. on Channel 3.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — assembled last month when the Democratic National Convention was held here.

Arranged against the protesters will be 1,150 policemen, 2,500 Army and Marine troops, 3,000 National Guardsmen and 2,000 Secret Service, FBI and military intelligence agents.

Some ground rules for the street action have been laid out in meetings between police and the Convention Coalition, an umbrella organization set up to coordinate the protests. The rules say there will be no assaults on police, no destruction of property and no demonstrations in the residential area near Convention Hall where many of the city's other citizens live.

"They say they are going to be nonviolent, and I believe it of most of the leaders and most of the people," said Police Chief Rocky Pomerance in an interview. "But mixed in with them are always a couple of crazies who are always a major concern of protest organizers."

Water Rates Up 22%

The privately owned Manchester Water Co., which services 3,941 customers in the North End plus 5 in South Windsor, will raise its rates an average of 22 per cent on Tuesday.

The Public Utilities Commission (PUC), which authorized the rate hike about two weeks ago but which had held the rate off a day in absence, pending receipt of a new schedule of rates, has ordered the increase as of commencement of business Aug. 22.

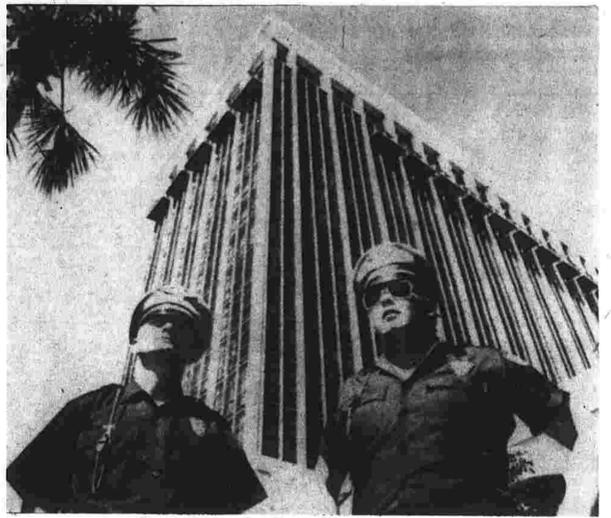

The 22 per cent rate hikes will provide an estimated $1,847 in added revenues — $69,739 from metered customers, $10,972 from public fire protection agencies, and $1,146 from private fire protection.

The company had applied for an average rate increase of 26.3 per cent — enough to bring it $99,773 in additional revenue. The lower rate approved by the PUC was because of a difference of interpreting the financial figures submitted by the water company at a July 19 public hearing.

The PUC received that the $1,847 in estimated additional revenue was sufficient to enable the company "to assure continued, adequate and safe service, to provide for necessary expansion to meet future requirements, and still maintain a hoped-for 7.7 per cent rate of return."

The PUC, in its second decision — this one following a July 14 application which did not require a hearing — has authorized the Manchester Water Co. to issue 1,000 shares of common stock to be sold at a par value of $100 per share.

The company proposes to offer the new shares in a public offering to stockholders, in the ratio of one new share for every three shares owned.

GOP Wooing Democrats

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Republican platform being readied for next week's GOP National Convention invites Democrats to vote for Richard Nixon and forsake what it says is "the radical clique" controlling the Democratic party.

The draft of a first platform section, endorsing a strong defense and standing pat on Nixon's peace-with-honor terms for a Vietnam settlement, was issued late Friday. Two sections on domestic issues are soon to follow.

The draft platform predicts that the Nixon bandwagon will be joined by "millions of discerning Democrats and concerned independents who will not, and cannot, take part in the convulsive leftward lurch of the national Democratic party."

President Nixon himself was said, spending a calm weekend at Camp David, Md. McGovern, winding up a hectic four-day midwestern tour, acknowledged that "they are shooting at me from the sides" and, noting Nixon's aloofness, predicted: "We'll smoke him out eventually."

The GOP platform draft pledged a continuing quest for a Vietnam settlement, the people of Southeast Asia "to live in peace under political arrangements of their own choosing."

It endorsed Nixon's "refusal to let the prescription for folly and build surely on the solid achievements of President Nixon's first term."

The draft will reach the convention Tuesday. Its adoption is considered certain, though floor skirmishes on women's rights and school busing are possible.

The platform language suggested that Republican emphasis on alleged leftward leanings of the Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. George McGovern, will be a running theme of the GOP's campaign.

Knife Puzzles Murder Quiz

NEW HAVEN (AP) — A knife found in the back of a car when they stopped him because of a noisy muffler in North Haven early Monday morning, was the key to solving a murder.

It was the second time he was stopped that night, both times near the $100,000 spacious Montano house, where the bodies were discovered Monday morning, the affidavit says.

The affidavit says Aillon, a 34-year-old native of Bolivia, was "greatly agitated" by the prospect of losing custody of the child in a divorce action his wife was bringing against him. It would have been the second child he has lost in two unsuccessful marriages, police said. In 1968 Aillon's first wife divorced him and was custody of a son, the affidavit says.

The affidavit says Aillon "threatened his wife, and killed her."

Police said in an affidavit filed Friday to support the charges that a possible motive for the killings was an embittered fight over custody of the Aillon's infant daughter, who was found in the house crying but unharmed.

A knife which appeared to have blood on it was seen by three policemen in the back of Aillon's car when they stopped him because of a noisy muffler in North Haven early Monday morning, was the key to solving a murder.

Smokers Demand Rights, Too Non-Smokers Ask for Fresh Air

According to a recent report by the U.S. Surgeon General, which was presented to the legislative Public Health and Safety Committee at the hearing, the uninhaled smoke from cigars and pipes and from cigarettes in the vestibule a dozen times just to get a breath of fresh air.

On the other side, Patrick DePaquale of Westfield said: "I don't smoke. I never smoked. I never intend to smoke. But I don't want to step on other people's constitutional rights. If the other fellow wants to kill himself, let him go ahead."

"People who smoke have rights, too," declared Barrett Elkins of the Greyhound Bus Co. at least be segregated from non-smokers.

Fred Divnick of Hartford said the smoke in railroad cars used to make him feel sick, and while riding the train from Hartford to New York, "I used to go out in the vestibule a dozen times just to get a breath of fresh air."

House Backs SALT Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved the five-year U.S.-Soviet missile freeze with only seven dissenting votes but more numerous expressions of trepidation.

The resolution approving the interim agreement passed by a 229-7 vote Friday, although several House members voiced concern that it might allow the Soviets to achieve nuclear superiority.

The action came as Congress adjourned until Sept. 5 for the Republican National Convention and Labor Day.

"I just pray this will not be a nuclear Yalta," said Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill., who voted with the majority but did not others who voiced similar fears.

Senate approval remains stalled over an amendment proposed by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., urging President Nixon to seek U.S.-Soviet equality in weapons numbers in any permanent treaty replacing the interim accord. The Senate takes up the measure after the congressional recess.

The five-year agreement signed by Nixon and Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev in Moscow May 26 freezes land and sea-based intercontinental missiles plus five missile-firing submarines at the numbers in force or under construction.

The Russians are limited to 1,618 land missiles and up to 62 submarines with up to 950 missiles, the United States at 1,054 land missiles and up to 44 submarines with up to 710 missiles. Both sides are permitted to replace and improve the submarine missiles, including equipping them with multiple warheads.

Warheads and other weapons including short-range missiles and bombers are not covered by the agreement.

House Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas E. Parnell, D-Pa., said the five-year agreement could save the United States $2 billion a year by slowing down the arms race.

Pucinski and Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said the agreement's curb on the Soviet missile buildup was the reason they voted for it even though they are concerned it might enable the Soviets to overtake U.S. missile strength.

Stratton said the agreement has "a lot of loopholes" including allowing the Soviets to put multiple warheads on their more numerous and larger missiles and thus overtake the superior number of U.S. warheads.

He complained that the agreement does not cover Soviet guided cruise missiles which he said could destroy U.S. coastal cities without warning.

The Senate had planned to vote on the agreement immediately after a ratification U.S.-Soviet treaty

Enemy Cuts Major Roads In the South

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces were reported today to have cut major highways on three sides of Saigon. South Vietnamese troops moved out trying to reopen them.

Field reports said Highway 1 was cut about 25 miles east of Saigon. Hundreds of South Vietnamese reinforcements moved into the area in efforts to root out Communist troops on both sides of the highway near the town of Trang Bom.

The reports said Highway 1 was insecure and no vegetable trucks had reached Saigon over it for a day and a half.

In the northern Mekong Delta, about 60 miles southwest of Saigon, fighting backed up scores of vehicles along Highway 4 over which food products also reach the capital.

Associated Press Correspondent Dennis Reed reported from Highway 13 north of Saigon that that road was closed for the third day just north of Lai Khe, about 25 miles from Saigon.

Reed said North Vietnamese forces, estimated at 200 men, were entrenched in bunkers along the roadside about 50 yards off the highway.

South Vietnamese Rangers maneuvered nearby were being pounded by artillery. Low clouds prevented air strikes this morning.

President Nguyen Van Thieu has predicted that the Communists might attempt to cut strategic highways, particularly Rt. 4 in the Delta, in efforts to isolate Saigon and stir discontent in the capital.

In neighboring Cambodia, across the border from the northern Delta, South Vietnamese Rangers and armored cavalry units clashed with Communist troops six miles southeast of Kompong Trabea. The Saigon command said 56 enemy were killed and 10 prisoners and 14 weapons were captured. No South Vietnamese casualties were reported.

But the Cambodian high command reported that a Communist force cut Highway 5, one of Phnom Penh's last overland routes.

Another Ulster March

BELFAST (AP) — Northern Ireland's Protestant extremists planned a provocative march in Belfast today even as the main Catholic party in the province branded them murderers.

The Ulster Defense Association, UDA, Protestant equivalent of the Catholic Irish Republican Army, was condemned in a statement by the Social Democratic and Labor party.

The UDA said the march was "no alternative but to hold the administration responsible for these deaths."

That could spell an end to peace talks that Whitelaw is conducting with the IRA.

Oak Grove Brings Nature To Manchester Youngsters

Standing on the covered bridge, Pam Saloom calls attention to a bird flying a short distance away. Bridge was donated to the Center by the Manchester Jaycees.

Juan Sanchez instructs his group of young naturalists as they listen intently as he explains how insects destroy plants. Armed with nets and covered jars, they will soon be catching a variety of insects.

"Come forth into the light of things, let nature be your teacher." Wordsworth said it, and the Oak Grove Nature Center is doing it. With the aid of an enthusiastic director and a competent staff, the Center is bringing a whole new world of nature study to Manchester youngsters.

Located on Oak Grove St., the programs being offered at the Center cover a wide range of subjects, from birds and insects to fish and waterfowl, all presented in their natural habitats.

The Lutz Junior Museum, under the supervision of the Town Conservation Commission, is trustee for the pond and the 53-acre tract of land.

Theo R. Badenhuizen, director of the museum, also plans programs and activities at the Center with the help of Mrs. Louis (Pam) Saloom of Downey Dr., who is in her third year of teaching at the Center.

Mrs. Saloom, whose husband is principal of the Nathan Hale School, is a graduate of Connecticut College in New London where she majored in botany.

Explaining a typical day at the Center Mrs. Saloom said, "today we spent the morning mounting plants that the children had learned about the day before. We also mounted specimens of insects we found along the way."

"We study the ways in which animals protect themselves, such as changing colors from season to season or the hard-shell protection of the armadillo. Since the Center is open in the fall and winter, we have an opportunity to witness the chameleons first hand," she said.

"I brought in some of the mounted birds from the museum for the children to look at, then we went out into the woods to see if we could identify any of the birds we studied," she added.

In one of her nature lessons, Mrs. Saloom said she took the children into the woods where she had hidden topknots, some white, yellow and pink.

"The youngsters found 18 of the 150 I had hidden, but had difficulty finding the white ones because they blended in with the colorings of the dried grass," she explained.

"We have one little girl who asked if she could catch the frogs, and both the boys and girls were delighted when we uncovered a nest of water snakes," he added.

Badenhuizen explained a project that the children especially enjoy.

"The children find an insect they like, and the dead insect is placed in a mold and hot liquid plastic is poured into the mold covering the insect. These are then placed into a refrigerator until they are hard. We then remove them from the mold, smooth out the rough edges, and let the children take them home as a souvenir of their classes at the Center," he said.

Badenhuizen, a native of Holland and former staff naturalist with The Children's Museum of Hartford since 1969, joined the Lutz Junior Museum last March. He is very enthusiastic about the Oak Grove Nature Center.

"We have an ideal place for children to learn about nature. On this 53-acre tract, there is a fresh spring, running brooks, marsh, open fields, shaded groves, and its complete facility for youngsters

Theo Badenhuizen, museum director, shows the formation of the Queen Anne Lace flowers to Susan Ferguson, 8, of 188 Brent Rd. and Scott Holmes, 9, of 246 Hollister St. who are attending classes at the Center.

A study in tranquility is this marsh from which the children extract plant life, fish and turtle specimens, insects, and also watch for waterfowl who come to feed.

U.S. Leads World In Veal And Pork

Washington — The United States continued in 1971 as the world leader in both veal and pork production. Its 22.2-billion-pound volume accounted for nearly 25 per cent of the world total and was more than double that of the U.S.S.R., which was second.

Spinach From Iran

Tehran—Spinach, a native of Iran (Persia) and adjacent areas, apparently was unknown elsewhere until the beginning of the Christian era. The Chinese made the first written record of it after it was introduced from Nepal in A.D. 647.

Orientation, Testing Set for 10th Graders

Manchester High School's guidance department will hold orientation and testing sessions for incoming tenth graders Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 30 and 31.

Four separate sessions will be held on the two days, and students have been notified by post card which one they should attend. Each should last about two hours. A guided tour of the building will be conducted for those wishing it.

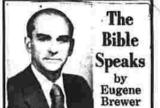

A similar session will be held in the high school cafeteria Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1:30 p.m. for eleventh and twelfth graders who are new to MHS. Incoming tenth graders who cannot attend their regularly scheduled session the previous week may attend this one.

At each session, counselors will meet with counselors in groups of 30-35. The Otis Lennon Test of Mental Ability will be administered. This is a general ability test given to all tenth graders. It becomes part of the student's permanent record and appears on a transcript when sent to an employer or college. It is the only standardized test administered at the high school level to all students in a grade.

This will be followed by an informal discussion by counselors of the school community. It will include an explanation of the period schedule of classes, open campus, student activity program, and services of the guidance department to students and parents. There will be an all future air travel arrangements by state employees will be made through the Lanier Travel Agency of Hartford. The Lanier Agency is headed by a prominent Hartford Republican. Clearance for the order came through the Republican State Central Committee, with the approval of Gov. Thomas Meskille. Henry Agostinelli, in lining the "Sour Grapes" label on the charge against him by DiLoreto, claimed that the guns of disgruntled agencies who lost out to the Lanier Agency are being aimed at his brother, State Comptroller Nathan Agostinelli.

"Don't they know," he asked, "that it is not Nature who makes the decisions in the Republican Party, but rather the Republican State Central Committee?"

State Comptroller Agostinelli left this morning for the Republican National Convention in Miami and could not be reached for comment.

The Bible Speaks
by Eugene Brewer

Years ago the citizens of a small Tennessee town were convinced of the validity of a rumor that much of their townsite would be inundated by a dam on the Cumberland River. The demoralizing effect was that all repairs and improvements came to a stop. Without hope for the future, there was no power for the present.

This principle holds in all areas of human activity. Without a philosophy for inspiration, accomplishment comes to a halt. Heron lies much of the problem of liberal Christians. Their rejection of Jesus' resurrection destroys all basis for belief in a life after death. Consequently they can offer no viable reason for Christian living.

Bereft of hope within their churches for the future, members find no power for present Christian living. Little wonder so many become totally inactive, while others look elsewhere for a hope that will anchor their souls—even "that within the veil." Hebrews 6:19.

Black Book Jottings

Sign of the times: Hank Aaron is the Atlanta Braves, who is within 60 homers of the Ruth all-time career record, sits out day games if he played the previous night. Tom Kelley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kelley of Manhattan, were in New York this week for their first visit with the Atlanta Braves this season. Kelley, who has been sent to the bullpen by manager Eddie Mathews, reported he didn't like the arrangement. "My arm feels great," Kelley told me before Thursday's game against the Mets. The biggest drawback Kelley has encountered this season was a severely sprained right ankle suffered when he stepped on a baseball while running in the outfield. Denny McLain has worked his way into the starting pitching rotation with the Braves. Currently he's No. 3 behind Phil Niekro and Ron Reed. "I never dreamed that I would ever manage," Eddie Mathews said as we talked in the dugout runway at Shea Stadium. "When I came back to baseball with the Braves, I figured that I had a steady job without any worries. I was happy just being a coach but when I was offered the job of managing, I had to think twice. How many guys get that chance to manage in the majors?" There's an entire new atmosphere around the Braves camp and several players reported the former third baseman was running a much tighter ship than Luman Harris who got his walking papers two weeks ago. Harris, it was claimed, was too busy with his public relations director and vice president, was my next door neighbor in the press box and he reported his new book, titled "Caught Short," was going good. The first printing was 2,500 copies. The second, 2,500, and the third, 3,000. The reviews have been excellent. Harris said he was going to the Atlanta Braves and should give the Braves the leadership that was lacking. "I haven't set any special goals for this year," Mathews said. "I plan to do a lot of experimenting the rest of the year. One move Mathews has made was to install Earl Williams behind the plate and not use the 1971 National League Rookie-of-the-Year at first base and third base as well.

End of the Line

Not a word is yet out of town tennis tournaments and the summer season has been over two weeks ago. The annual Charles Robbins Five Mile Road Race will be staged next Sunday, Aug. 26, in Middletown. There will be six divisions for both males and females. Southern New England Hockey League will open its season Oct. 14 at the Hartford arena with a twin-bill. Pat Mastretta reports an extra basketball clinic session will be held Monday morning starting at 8 o'clock at Charter Oak Park. All youth leagues are invited. Prime movers behind the junior golf program at the Connecticut Golf Club are Carl and Tina Mikolajewski. The first Monday class attracted 21 and it has been on the increase ever since on Mondays with nearly 40 taking part. Two more Monday sessions are slated for the month of September. "Have a nice weekend."

Stiff Penalties Handed Out by NCAA

One-Year Probation Set For Three Major Schools

BOSTON (AP) — The University of Kansas, Duke and Eastern Michigan were on the NCAA's one-year probation list today while the University of California looked forward to getting off the penalty roster earlier than some expect.

The powerful policy-making council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association censured California originally with a one-year probation retroactive to last Feb. 1. The council imposed a one-year probation retroactive to that date.

Kansas was censured and placed on two years probation by its Big Eight Conference in October, 1970. The NCAA made its own investigation and included other alleged rule violations which were "washed out."

The NCAA handed down its decision against Kansas for minor infractions, including such things as: "The most serious charges against Kansas included one that a former assistant football coach certified two players as eligible under the 16 academic rule on the basis of fraudulent high school ranks." Other violations included: "The school failed to file a list of names of all players who were ineligible for the 16 academic rule." "You know Olga, she just wants to be popped."

Olympic Gag Rule Denied

MUNICH (AP) — The charge by the veteran Olga Connally that U.S. Olympic athletes have been punished with a gag rule was roundly denied by a top American official but nobody said so positively.

"It's true that the suggestion has been made that press interviews be cleared through the team coach or another qualified official," Clifford Buck, president of the U.S. Olympic committee, said Friday night. "But there is no franchised rule. We aren't muzzling anybody."

Buck's statement was echoed by Arthur Lentz, executive director, and Bob Paul, director of information, but some competitors arriving late Friday appeared to have the same impression as Mrs. Connally, a four-time Olympian, gold medalist and wife of former hammer throw champion Harold Connolly.

"I am forbidden to talk with a member of the press without permission from a coach or manager," Olga told the

DeNicolò and Sarro Claim Pro-Pro Title

Torrid putting by Ralph DeNicolò highlighted the Connecticut PGA Pro-Pro Golf Championship yesterday at the Hartford Golf Club.

DeNicolò, assistant pro at the Manchester Country Club, teamed with veteran Frank Sarro of Tumble Brook to capture the crown in the 27-hole best ball medal play with a six under par 85-82-83-80. The pair split $400.

The winning card featured 10 birds, including four in row by DeNicolò on the final four holes. The local golfer's birds came on puts of 15, 12, 22 and 30 feet.

Twenty eight teams competed with Don Ross and Jack Ross, Tony Aarnes and Woody Kay, Al Puchs and Al Clapp finishing a dead heat for runner-up laurels. Wiley Clifton of Ellington Ridge and Bud Cadore finished with a 107 total.

Groman's Top Moriarty's

Although Groman's Sports Shop couldn't turn the tables on Moriarty's during the regular City Softball League season, the East Siders found the right formula last night and posted a 10-7 win in the playoffs at Charter Oak.

Back-to-back homers by Bob Kowalski and Dave White in the second inning sparked the victory. Moriarty's 350 10-6-14

Irwin, Aaron Lead, But Lee Coming Fast

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Hale Irwin and Tommy Aaron had high hopes and a share of the lead in the $200,000 USI Golf Classic—but Lee Trevino had a glint in his eye and a warning.

"The legs are coming back," the British Open champ said after two rounds of the rich event. "I'm getting a lot stronger every day. I can feel it."

"Two rounds to go? I'm not that far back. I shoot a 65, 66 or maybe 67. I'm still in good position to win it."

Jack Nicklaus, winner of five titles and $200,000 already this season, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player are not competing. Neither is George Aronson, twice a winner over Aaron in playoffs earlier this year.

Irwin, a 27-year-old former college champion and onetime all-conference football player at Colorado, had the lead alone until he made a bogey six on the final hole late in the day and dropped back into a tie.

He tried to knock his second shot around a corner—but it went dead straight and under a tree. He was shot in three, clipped to five feet and missed the putt. "I made five birdies and an eagle yesterday and seven birdies today, so my production there is okay," he said. "I've just got to cut down on my mistakes—like trying to hook it and hitting it straight."

Irwin has shown steady improvement in his five years on the tour and scored his first victory a year ago in the prestigious Heritage Classic. He finished second by a stroke to Paul Harney, the host pro here, earlier this season in the San Diego Open.

"I'm probably playing steadier this year than I ever have in my life," said the 26-year-old Aaron, who has picked up two titles in his 12 years on the tour.

He's been second twice this year, both early in the season and has been on a streak for the last two weeks, winning more than $22,000. He pushed him past $100,000 for the first time in his career.

He had four birdies and a par of bogeys in the early going of the round by picking up his share of the lead by hitting a four foot and making the birdie putt on the last hole.

MB's Play To 4-4 Tie In League

No decision was reached last night when Moriarty Brothers and the Hartford Stage played a Hartford Twilight League game before darkness halted play at the end of six innings each team had scored four times.

The game will be replayed next week.

With veteran Lew Spencer holding the fort at bat, Moriarty's collected 4-1 over the four innings and appeared headed for a victory when the roof fell in Hartford tallies three times as darkness approached after five and when neither side could score in the sixth, play was called.

The deadlock was the first in 80 games played this season. No member of the MB's had more than one hit, the team getting just two, less than the Stage.

Jim Balsano and Frank DiMauro drove in one run each for the MB's with the other two runs coming from the Stage collected four hits in the fifth inning with the big blow Sal Brancato's two-run single.

Black U.S. Athletes Spice New Rhubarb

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A group of black American track stars has projected itself into the middle of the smoldering Rhodesian rhubarb with the Olympic Game scheduled to open just a week from today.

"In light of the Rhodesian acceptance into the Games the U.S. black athletes now in Olympic Park believe it imperative to take a stand concerning the issue. We denounce Rhodesia's participation, and if they are allowed to compete, we will take a united stand with our African brothers."

A general walkout by blacks from the American track, basketball and boxing teams would cripple the U.S.A. delegation and take away much of the luster from the Games.

There are seven blacks on the Rhodesian team. "The Rhodesians say they intend to stay," the U.S. team spokesman said. "Rhodesia was given standards for entering the Olympic Games," said a spokesman for the delegation. "We met them, it was agreed upon and we are competing."

In the face of the withdrawal notices by the African nations, IOC vice president and a prominent contender to become president when Brundage retires, said a spokesman for the Africans to change their mind and stay.

Minnechaug To Host Play

The Minnechaug Women's Golf Club will host the Southern New England Women's Golf Association's annual play on Wednesday. This annual play is the largest of its kind in the Round Robin schedule among the clubs.

The play day at Minnechaug will be a shotgun tournament with 60 girls teeing off at 8. Each club sends its five low handicap players to compete as a team. The defending team champion is Bruce and the defending individual SNEWA champion is Nancy LeFebvre of Milbrook. A trophy stays with the winning team for one year.

The twelve clubs in SNEWA are: Blackledge in Hebron, Bruce in Greenwich, Goodwin in Hartford, Hubbard Heights in Stamford, Keney Park in Hartford, Long Shore in Westport, Milbrook in Windsor, Minnechaug in Glastonbury, Hill in Stonington, Pine Hill in Windsor, Shenacrossett in Groton, and Stanley in New Britain.

Named to Shrine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — O.J. Simpson and seven other former college football stars, as well as one-time pro standouts Ed Meador and Tobin Rose, were named to the Helms Football Hall of Fame Monday.

The 1941 Heisman winner, half-back Bruce Smith of Minnesota, was also named along with tackle Nick Drahos of Cornell, end Frank McPhee of Princeton, guard Jim Parker of Ohio State, tackle Mortimer "Bud" Spring of Army and center Don Stephenson of Georgia Tech.

Parkway Battle At Yale Bowl

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The fourth annual battle of the Parkways will be held in the Yale Bowl Sunday between the New York Giants and the New York Jets of the National Football League.

A crowd of more than 50,000, including many who will drive up the parkways from New York, is expected to watch this NFL exhibition battle for the benefit of the Albie Booth Memorial Fund.

Of the rest of their one common opponent, the game shapes up as pretty even, although the Jets are favored with quarterback Joe Namath improving his timing every day in training camp. Pittsburgh best the Giants 28-10 two weeks ago and the Jets 23-2 last week, making the comparative scores fairly even.

The Steelers put on a pass rush that smothered Namath last week and the Giants may feel the same thing. Namath completed only three of 15 passes for 55 yards and two interceptions.

A.L. Race Has Ups and Downs

NEW YORK (AP) — The American League East race certainly has its ups and downs. Right now, the Detroit Tigers are up and the Baltimore Orioles are down.

Detroit moved into first place again in baseball's version of musical chairs with a 2-0 victory over the California Angels Friday night. Baltimore moved out of first place to the Minnesota Twins 3-1.

The Tigers have lost seven of their last 10 games and hold a half-game lead over Baltimore despite their inept play of late. That's because the Orioles have been almost as inept—losing six of ten.

The same can't be said of the volatile West race. The Oakland A's hold a half-game lead over the Chicago White Sox.

The A's have a modest being going, winning five of their last seven including Friday night's 9-0 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. The White Sox have gaudier accomplishments of late with 20 wins, including an 8-1 blitz of the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Ginza Once Site Of Mint

Tokyo — In the 19th century, coins were minted at various places in Japan known as Kinza (gold mints) and Ginza (silver mints). Hence the name of Tokyo's famed shopping street, which was once the site of the principal mint of the Tokugawa shogunate.

Accuse Russia

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A leading Egyptian political analyst accused the Soviet Union today of violating the Soviet Union today of violating the 15-year friendship treaty between the two countries, while Syria reportedly moved to put an end to anti-Russian activities in its army.

Ishak Abdel Kuddous, editor of Cairo's mass-circulation Akhbar Elyoum, said the Russians broke the treaty by not providing Egypt with the necessary weapons for "eliminating traces of Israeli aggression."

He said the Soviets did not live up to this commitment nor to other important clauses contained in the treaty.

He particularly mentioned provision seven, pertaining to military cooperation, which he interpreted as committing the Russians to supply Egypt with sufficient arms to regain Israel-occupied Sinai.

Abdel Kuddous said the Soviets failed to observe another provision in the treaty by not consulting with Egypt on the outcome of their May summit with President Nixon.

"Cairo viewed this summit as a threat to peace for Egypt because it put the two superpowers on one side," he said.

He was referring to a provision which said, "In case a situation arises which in the view of the signatories constitutes a threat or violation of peace, they will immediately contact each other to coordinate their position in order to eliminate the threat and restore peace."

Abdel Kuddous said this could also constitute a breach of provision nine which forbids the formation of alliances with other world powers against the interests of either signatory.

"Although the Moscow agreement might not be considered an alliance proper, peaceful coexistence between the two superpowers" in the manner currently applied by Russia could jeopardize Egyptian interests, he said.

"All that we ask is that the provisions be honored so that the treaty can have value," Abdel Kuddous said.

Meanwhile, the Beirut newspaper Lorient Le Jour said Syrian President Hafez Assad has ordered the arrest of 30 officers to put a stop to anti-Russian activities in the Syrian army.

Assad has been under pressure to follow Egypt's example and expel Russian advisers but he said in an interview published last week he had no intention of doing so.

There are 1,000-2,000 Soviet advisers serving with Syrian army and air force units.

According to the paper's report from Damascus, the officers arrested had contacted intelligence agents from two Western regimes, neighboring Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

The arrests are expected to have little effect on right-wing opposition to Assad's policies from elements in the army and the ruling Arab Baath Socialist party, the report added.

It also said restrictions on movements of Palestinian guerrillas in Syria have been lifted and censorship of their publications ended.

her she could leave but she was not to take the baby."

Aillon's wife told a friend, the affidavit says, "that at or about the end of July or beginning of August, 1972, Guillermo Aillon had come home drunk and had threatened to kill her and the baby and it was about this time that she went to the parents home."

About nine days after moving in with her parents, Mrs. Aillon had her lawyer serve divorce papers on Guillermo, on Aug. 8, the affidavit says.

The picture friends and associates of Aillon paint of him is very different. They call him a dedicated community service worker and a gentle, likeable man.

"We all think he's a wonderful person," said Mrs. Edith Angueria. "He's always thinking about other people and their problems, and we all love him as if he was our own brother."

Mrs. Angueria is secretary of the Spanish Community of Wallingford Inc., an anti-poverty organization where Aillon did volunteer work. The group is one of several organizations which cater to the needs of the Spanish-speaking and the poor that Aillon has served in paid and unpaid capacities.

Aillon, who has been in this country for about 10 years, received a distinguished service award for 1970 from the Connecticut Jaycees.

"The amount of work he did here in the Hartford community was outstanding," said Jay Fromer, a former Hartford Jaycees president and the man who presented the award to Aillon. "He organized some Christmas shopping tours for kids."

Aillon, who turned himself in to North Haven police early Friday morning, showed little emotion and entered no plea at his arraignment in Superior Court Friday.

supply routes for rice, at Kbal Damrei, 70 miles northwest of Phnom Penh.

A Cambodian colonel and at least 17 government soldiers were killed and only 20 of Kbal Damrei's 50 defenders escaped when the village was overrun, the high command said. The nearby township of Trapeang Chan was also reported under heavy attack.

The assaults were near the crossing point of Highway 5 and the Communist supply routes from North Vietnam to South Vietnam. Interruption of the flow of rice to Phnom Penh has caused the price of rice to double in Cambodia's capital in the past six weeks—to $18.60 for 220 pounds.

In the northern part of South Vietnam, Communist gunners shelled Da Nang for the second successive day today, but U.S. helicopter gunships armed with giant searchlights broke up an even bigger attack by knocking out 10 rockets prepared for launching. Only two rockets hit the base and no casualties were reported.

The Saigon command said enemy mortars blew up an ammunition dump at Que Son town, 25 miles south of Da Nang, and 12 children and four adults were wounded by Communist shelling at Duc Pho, 90 miles to the South.

Hanoi's Vietnam news agency said today U.S. warplanes bombed Dong Tru hamlet on the outskirts of Hanoi late Thursday night, killing or wounding 18 persons, including 11 children.

VNA said it was the second American air raid on the hamlet in two months. American planes fired rockets at a dike across the hamlet in their first raid June 16 and five persons, including three women, were killed, it added.

trying to organize between both of Ulster's communities.

Assassins have killed more than 70 men, both Catholic and Protestant, in unsolved shootings over the past five months.

The Catholic party statement made no mention of the killings carried out by the IRA and its guerrillas.

Uniformed members of the UDA, which claims 40,000 active personnel, spent Friday checking cars entering and leaving Protestant precincts of Belfast. They refused entry to strangers.

The UDA parade was to be an open challenge to Whitelaw, who has decreed that the wearing of paramilitary uniforms will not be tolerated.

But the British were in a dilemma because a powerful upsurge of violence in the Protestant community might accompany an arrest of UDA leaders.

Three deaths Friday raised the toll to 614 in Northern Ireland's three-years of religious warfare.

Philip Fay, 23-year-old Catholic hotel waiter, was killed by five bullets in the doorway of a friend's house in a Protestant area of East Belfast.

The IRA Provisional wing claimed credit for shooting two British soldiers dead on the streets of Belfast. Snipers picked off one at a roadblock and the second as he returned in the back seat of a jeep from visiting an injured friend.

Guerrillas bombed an Army observation post in a Belfast residential area, injuring three civilians in a hall of shattering glass. Afterward, a crowd gathered, shouting at the troops.

An earlier bomb attack maimed two soldiers on patrol. In Dungannon, county Tyrone, a bomb blast wrecked a golf club pavilion. No casualties were reported.

In Dublin, in the Irish Republic, police said they had captured a major IRA arms cache and quantities of two-way radios and military-style uniforms near the town of Waterford.

Lose Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Congressional conferees have scrapped the idea of defending the nation's capital with Safeguard antiballistic missiles.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., disclosed the decision Friday and said the House-Senate conferees also agreed to postpone congressional action on the Nixon administration's request for $20 million to start work on a new missile warhead.

The project encountered opposition after some military specialists argued that it could give the United States a first-strike option, a policy the White House once discarded.

The actions came as conferees worked to compromise differences between House and Senate versions of a $20-billion weapons authorization bill.

A decision on the end-of-war amendment Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., inserted in the Senate version of the bill was put off until next month when Congress returns from its recess.

House conferees generally oppose the provision.

The conferees reached no decision on a Senate amendment allowing older military retirees to recompute their pensions, a step estimated to cost the government $10 billion over several years.

Stennis said the Safeguard site proposed for Washington won't be taken up by his Armed Services Committee again unless the White House renews its request.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., was instrumental in scrapping the capital site, and it was thought the proposal would have been defeated if put to a Senate vote.

Stennis said Pentagon cost estimates ranged from $2 billion to $4 billion for a capital site. Critics said the ABM's value in defending population centers ranged from slight to none.

The U.S.-Soviet defensive-arms treaty limits each nation to two sites, one for its command center, one to defend an offensive-missile site.

Accordingly, the beginnings of the Montana ABM site are being dismantled, but work will continue at the Grand Forks, N.D., site which defends a Minuteman III network of missile silos.

The House had approved the administration request of $235 million to begin work on the capital site.

In a related development, the Pentagon reported that a Sprint missile, a key component in the Safeguard ABM system, failed to perform properly in a test conducted in the mid-Pacific.

The failure Thursday was the first after 14 successful tests and the third flop in the series of 31 trials, the Pentagon said.

"The mission proceeded normally until shortly after launch of the Sprint at which time the missile flight was prematurely terminated," the announcement said. The test was designed to check the missile's guidance system.

The House-Senate conferees decided to delay the entire administration request to start development of a new missile warhead intended to be used against Soviet missile silos.

The conferees suggested further probing to determine if the missile is intended for first-strike purposes.

However, $10 million was approved for the administration-requested start on a new, long-range, submarine-launched cruise missile.

This cruise missile could strike at cities and thus enlarges nuclear war options. It is not covered by the interim Moscow agreement on offensive weapons though its operational date is far down the road.

The conferees split the difference in pegging the procurement authorization at $20.9 billion, up $400 million from the Senate bill, down the same amount from the House bill.

Coverage Details

NEW YORK (AP) — The Republican National Convention in Miami Beach next week will get the same close attention from the three major television networks that they gave the Democrats' convention in that city last month.

NBC News and CBS News have announced plans to provide the same "gavel-to-gavel" coverage as they provided viewers when the Democrats met to pick their presidential and vice presidential nominees.

ABC has announced that it will once again employ the "unconventional coverage" format used for the Democratic convention. ABC shows highlights of the sessions and summaries are presented each convention evening.

CBS News said a total of 21 correspondents and reporters will cover the GOP convention, including anchorman Walter Cronkite, National Correspondent Eric Sevareid and political consultant Theodore White.

CBS will carry live coverage of all five sessions of the Republican convention beginning with the 1 p.m. opening on Monday and ending at the close of Wednesday night's session.

NBC News announced plans to provide the same continuous coverage of all afternoon and evening sessions for the three days.

NBC's reporting will be headed by the same team that anchored the coverage of the Democratic convention — John Chancellor and David Brinkley. Edwin Newman will again be a roving interviewer on the convention floor, with floor reporters Douglas Kiker, Catherine Mackin, Tom Pettit and Garrick Utley also repeating their July performances.

ABC News plans telecasts each convention night beginning at 9:30 p.m., with Howard K. Smith and Harry Reasoner again anchoring. ABC will cover the keynote address and the actual nominations of the Republican presidential and vice presidential candidates and their acceptance speeches.

Veteran floor correspondents Frank Reynolds, Herbert Kaplow, Ted Koppel and Sam Donaldson will again be on the floor of the GOP convention.

Smith and Reasoner also will anchor taped special reports on the Monday and Tuesday afternoon business sessions of the convention, to be aired from 4 to 4:30 p.m. each day.

'Bonanza' Team Tense As Shooting Resumes

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was the first day of shooting on the 14th season of "Bonanza," and the cast and crew were understandably tense.

The company had resumed shooting without the jovial presence of Dan Blocker, who had starred as Hoss Cartwright from the beginning of the television series. He died May 13 of a blood clot in his lungs.

"Nobody said anything at first, which was a mistake," co-star Michael Landon recalls. "You could feel the uneasiness all day.

"Finally at the end of the day, each of us made a speech, and we all broke down. That was good. It acted as a catharsis and allowed us to get on with our work."

Landon recently finished directing a two-hour segment of "Bonanza" which will open the new season on Sept. 12. The show is called "Forever," and it's a love story that Landon had written for Blocker.

After Blocker's death, Landon patterned the script to fit himself as Little Joe. It's a bittersweet mixture of love, marriage and tragedy, with Bonnie Bedelia playing the Cartwright bride.

"The script is virtually the same as when I first wrote it for Dan," said Landon. "I added about three lines to tell about the death of Hoss. That's all that needs to be said. It's not necessary to discuss his death; you wouldn't do that in real life. The important things remain silent."

"I don't think anything more will be done about his death. I suppose it will be mentioned from time to time. As in life."

Mike Landon seems to be still in the process of adjusting to Blocker's death. They worked closely for 13 years, spending long days together on stages and locations.

"Our relationship was very close, although we seldom saw each other off the set," Landon remarked. "That was only natural. When you're together so much, you run out of jokes at the end of the day."

"We ran into real trouble about the seventh year; there were no more jokes to tell. Then we realized we had forgotten the ones we told each other seven years before, so we started all over again."

Snoopy Stars As Ice Skater

He plays hockey with ease; he matches skating skills with stars of the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies; he even sells admission tickets and popcorn. Who is this versatile individual? None other than Snoopy, the cavorting canine of the "Peanuts" comic strip!

He demonstrates his prowess in "Snoopy at the Ice Follies," a musical-comedy special on NBC Tuesday, Aug. 22, at 7:30 p.m.

At one point, a live, skating Snoopy plays hockey with "Peanuts" creator Charles Schulz, the show's host. As another, he serenades Ice Follies star Karen Kresge while she performs a graceful ballet-on-ice number.

Billy DeWolfe heads the guest cast in an episode of "The Doris Day Show" filming for broadcast on CBS next season.

Scientific Side

The scientific side of the da Vinci genius emerges in the second episode of "The Life of Leonardo da Vinci," Sunday, Aug. 20, at 9:30 p.m. on CBS.
