GOP Battles for '76 Ready To Name Nixon Tonight

Year of Decision
Steele Adds Fire Controls To Platform
McGovern Calling On Johnson

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The battle between large-state moderates and small-state conservatives over the shape of the 1976 Republican Convention appeared headed for a floor fight today in the only visible rift of a united GOP poised to renominate President Nixon tonight.

Conservatives from the South and the smaller, traditionally Republican states seen favoring a potential 1976 presidential bid by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew pushed their delegates' appointment plan through the convention's Rules Committee in a nine-hour session that lasted until late Monday night.

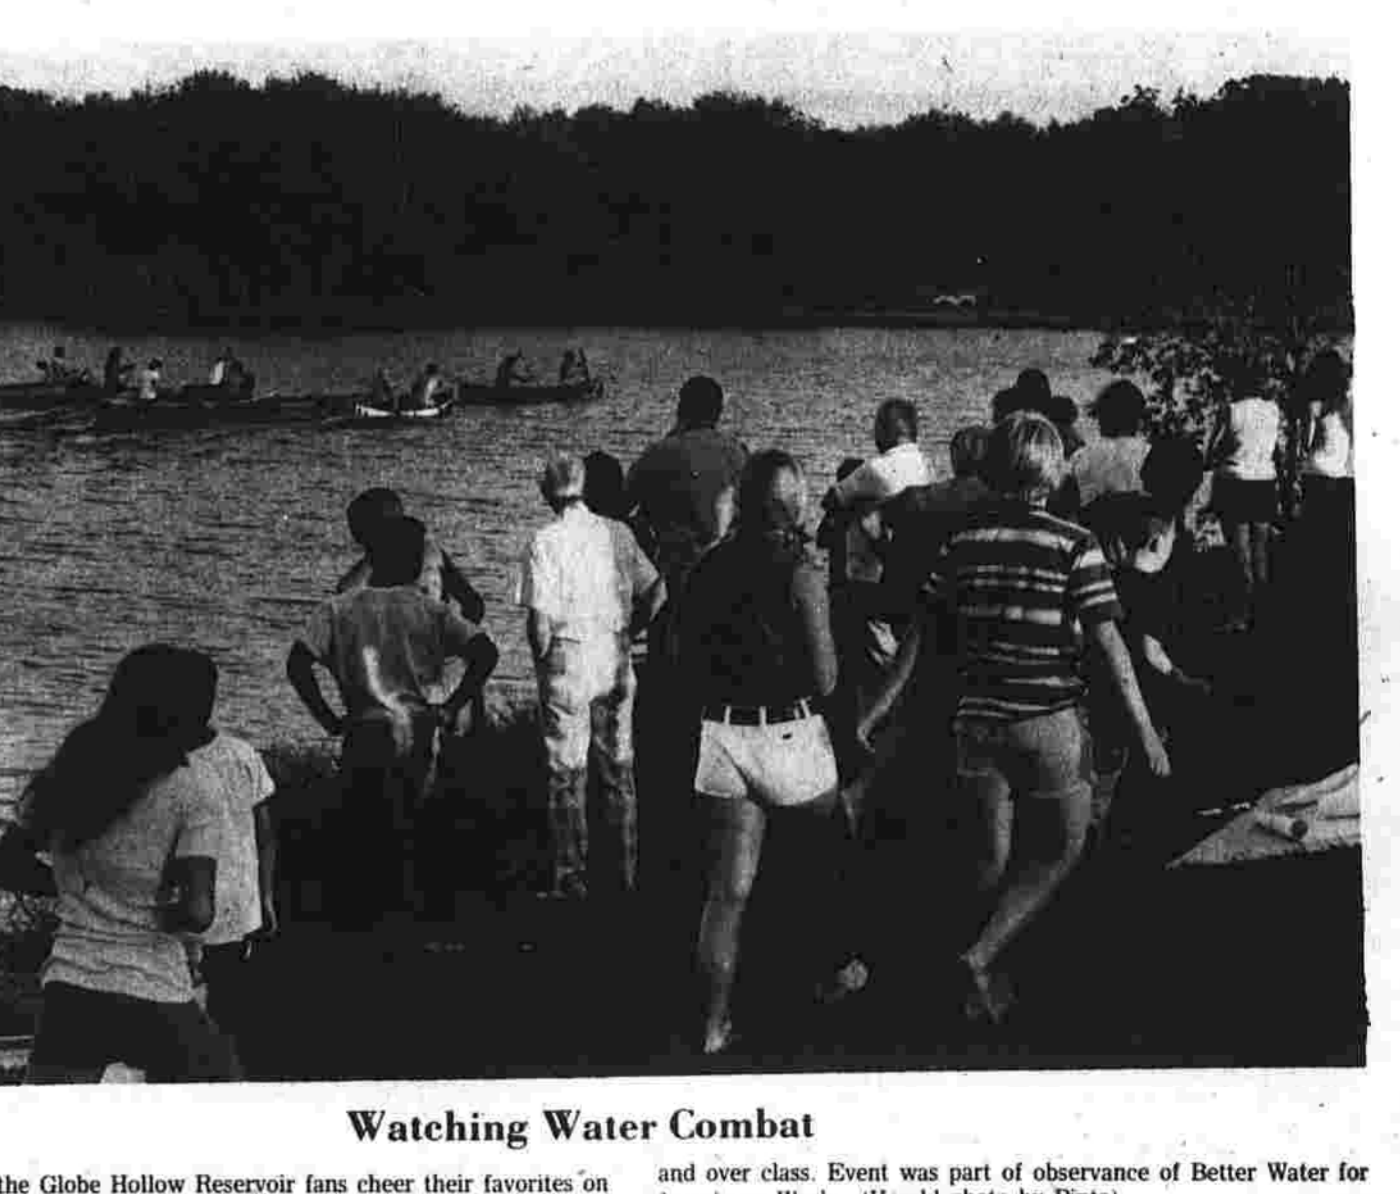

"They've asked for a floor fight and they're getting it, as far as I'm concerned," said William McLaughlin, Michigan's Republican chairman and a leader of the GOP moderates. Others indicated their expressed gratitude today that the committee had accepted his recommendations for a more favorable energetic enforcement of all fire prevention laws. He also expressed accelerated research on suppression including studies on flammable fabrics, hazardous materials, fire equipment and training procedures.

Steele, the sponsor of the first comprehensive package of the legislation ever introduced in Congress, testified that "today we live in a combustible society. He said that property losses from fires during the last year total $2.8 billion, an increase of $115 million over 1970 and that fire losses this year will probably top $3 billion.

Steele also urged the updating of current equipment used by firefighters. He termed it as "equipment designed decades ago." He said that last year 210 firefighters lost their lives in the line of duty and praised the dedication and "raw courage of American firefighters."

In urging the support of the Republican party, Steele explained that it was imperative that the efforts of the firefighters (See Page Twelve)

Jets Wreck Red Bridges
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy jets ranged along North Vietnam's coast from Vinh to Haiphong Monday, wrecking bridges, supply depots and army barracks. The U.S. Command reported. But overcast skies inland cut the total number of U.S. strikes to about 150, less than half the number flown on recent hot days.
The Navy pilots said they knocked out 10 bridges and in one raid destroyed 100 stacks of war material eight miles northeast of Vinh.
At intruders from the carrier Kitty Hawk crested in on the Son Duong supply depot northeast of Haiphong, and the pilots said they left the station in flames and exploding. Other Kitty Hawk pilots reported two big explosions after a raid on the Thu Van army barracks 50 miles southwest of Thanh Hoa. (See Page Twelve)

District Asks Renewal Refund Be Used at Y. Robertson Park

It was the consensus of the 8th District directors last night that whatever funds are returned to the town from North End Renewal should go toward improvements at the Community Y and at Robertson Park.

 For the present, however, the office goes to the polls this November, to see which of two candidates is to have the first chance to prove himself in performance as judge.
 At this juncture, it is pleasant to know that the Republican party, with its nomination of Attorney Ronald Jacobs, and the Democratic party with its nomination of Attorney William FitzGerald, are both offering candidates well suited, by ability, temperament and general good citizenship in Manchester, for the prolate role.

A Peace Formula

It is, of course, perfectly obvious that Henry Kissinger and Le Duc Tho would not have flown all the way from Paris to Saigon and Hanoi respectively unless something interesting had come out of the talks in Paris.
 You go from Paris to Saigon and Hanoi if the gap between the rival positions in Paris has narrowed to be worth bridging, and to the people who will be most affected if that gap is bridged by some formula which the negotiators have been seeking.

The two negotiators are, properly, being most discreet about the formula they are presently presenting in Saigon and Hanoi but there is no great secret about its outlines.
 A formula must, to be successful, reflect military realities. The military realities are that the armies of Hanoi are unable to score a decisive military victory in the South, but the armies of Saigon are equally unable to expel their enemies from the South. This is a stalemate which cannot be broken either by the remarkable will of the Hanoi soldiers or by the enormous weight of American bombs banging Saigon's troops.

Not only is it a stalemate now. It is also a stalemate which can be sustained by the two sides indefinitely. The bombing has not prevented the Hanoi army from keeping the field and keeping up the pressure. Indeed, they are deployed now for still another offensive on a board front. There is still no sign of a board front. The American air power continues to back up the Saigon armies they seem to be able to hold and repeat the major enemy offensives. Saigon holds the cities even though Hanoi holds much of the hinterland.

There is a formula implied by this which has been explored and discussed among the diplomats since the outlines of the military stalemate first emerged in 1968 in 1968. The talk then was of a "standstill ceasefire." It meant that everyone would stop shooting and stay where they would be at that moment. It would mean the Viet Cong in control of much of the countryside, but lower level control of the cities and the connecting main highways. The two would work out a modus vivendi from there.
 Now the talk is of a two-tiered government in South Vietnam; one for the areas held now by the Thieu government and the other for those held by the Viet Cong. The Viet Cong would then proceed to try to work out a formula for holding a national election.

It is taken for granted among the diplomats that such a formula would include representation for the National Liberation Front in both government and in arrangements for elections. It is also assumed that President Thieu will step aside a month, at least before elections are held.
 These features of a settlement have long been visible and available. The only question is whether Hanoi finds them less unattractive than going on with the war effort. If they buy now, they are a welcome surprise at the White House — CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

Hear — And Heed — The Katydids
 The nights grow sabbly longer now as time moves toward mid-August. This is the point in summer, too, when the night air is likely to carry the first touches of fall.
 It is inevitably the moment in the passing of a year when the summer nights become noisier, because the loud herald of approaching autumn begins to make himself heard.
 He is, of course, the katydid. The starcato, rasping sound is a solo performance when it first pierces the night — an occasional d-d-d-d-d from across the lawn an hour or two after dark, with summer stillness in between. But before many nights have passed the stillnesses are briefer, and the "voices" grow in number. Summer is not to be same again.
 The first katydid, of course, is nothing like the first robin of spring. But it is nevertheless an omen. Different people have different readings of it. To many not new to New England, it means the first frost of a September morning will be here six weeks after the katydid's sound first cuts an August evening. Others prepare themselves for another swelter week, believing the katydids are harbingers of heat. Still others believe, as well as of the cool to come later.
 But there is no arguing the fact that, when the katydids' chorus rises toward its height, something is happening. The signal becomes infallible. Summer has passed its zenith, and time is running downhill.
 The raucous noise does not disturb sleep. It is curiously soothing, and oddly nostalgic. Summer is not over, but it will not tarry long, either.
 The katydid's reminder is not only of the seasons and the weather. It is also of all the plans for summer pleasure that were made last June and haven't yet been enjoyed to the full. Now is the time, says the message — or soon you will be hearing, and feeling, "kattydidit!" — NEW HAVEN REGISTER.

WITCH MUSEUM WITH STATUE OF ROGER CONANT, SALEM'S FOUNDER

Inside Who Are Report These Delegates?

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

MIAMI BEACH — The low opinion within the White House of President Nixon's reelection campaign organization sank even lower last week when Presidential aides made a startling discovery.
 They found that the campaign staff had failed to make even a routine analysis of delegates attending the 1972 Republican national convention. Expecting no floor fights, they had not bothered. And with some 70 per cent of the Republican delegates attending their first convention, the campaign staff confessed to the White House it could not accurately forecast the outcome of a possible convention floor fight over the nature of the 1976 convention.

"I couldn't believe my ears," a White House aide told us. "What have these guys (the reelection campaign committee) been doing over there for the past year?" Southern and Western states fighting the proposed increase in 1976 delegate strength for the big Eastern industrial states learned weeks ago they could not count on practical help from Mr. Nixon's political operation even though his campaign aides quietly support them.
 Congressmen, staffers of conservative Republicans and other party members were brought here to run a delegate-counting operation out of the Eldon Hotel suite of Mississippi state chairman Clarke Reed. They have been delegating conservative Nixon campaign help, its high command—State Chairman Reed, D. Jack Gibson of South Dakota, David Kennedy of Wyoming and Earl Davenport of Washington—decided their plan to retain the power balance in the smaller states would fail in the rules committee unless it was revised to enlarge the number of convention delegates.

 For hours Wednesday, they awaited approval from Nixon campaign headquarters at the Doral Hotel. When none came, they made the decision themselves. Just before the rules committee convened to decide the question.

Westwood's Pyrrhic Win
 A start letter of resignation from Olga (Bobbie) Gehas, hired during the regime of former state chair Jean Westwood, and Fred Harris to build up the National Committee's list of small contributors, is the latest sign that Jean Westwood, the new national chairman, is cleaning house from top to bottom.
 But Sen. George McGovern may find that the housecleaning of Bobbie Gehas and former party vice chairman Mary Lou Burg will prove to be a pyrrhic victory for the McGovern-stamped new regime at the National Committee headed by Mrs. Westwood.

 Held in highest regard for his former national chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien and successor Robert S. Strauss (who succeeded the Harris regime), Miss Gehas sent her boss, National Committee treasurer Donald Petrie, a scorching "Memo" explaining her reasons for quitting.
 It has been dismaying and in some instances demeaning to the White House staff as well as concern for the financial needs of the DNC and the tasks at hand," she wrote Petrie, with copies to Mrs. Westwood, O'Brien (now McGovern's campaign chairman) and Strauss.
 During 2½ years at the committee, Miss Gehas built the list of direct-mail contributors worth $100 to more than 80,000, assuring the committee money enough to keep its current bill paid despite the huge outflow of a $2 million deficit.
 A somewhat similar letter of resignation was sent by Mary Lou Burg, Wisconsin national committee woman, to Chairman Westwood late last week, but Miss Burg refused to discuss it.

 Mrs. Kay Ponticelli resigns from the Park and Recreation Commission.

Mrs. Westwood had conferred the title of "deputy chairman" on her, but the title proved to be meaningless. Miss Burg, after two years as National Committee vice chairman, was given absolutely nothing to do.
 Although the forced resignations of these two political exponents has gone unnoticed, they are one reason why pro-McGovern politicians worry so deeply about the McGovern campaign. With all its other problems, they feel, it is squandering talent in a way that will haunt the fall campaign.

The discovery that the International Transit Engineers had developed plans for the conversion of all Connecticut into one gigantic airport runway was so sudden and disconcerting that most of the first reactions it evoked were of the knee-jerk variety.
 "This major development in the future of our beloved state," said Governor Meskill, "is a direct result of the stringent economy, the steady reduction of personnel, and the efficient reorganization of departmental procedures which have been put into effect by this administration."
 At this point one of the Governor's assistants whispered in his ear that the conversion of Connecticut into one great level runway would flatten out the hills in his personal state song, as well as eliminate the need for any government or official who are presently or prospecting in Saigon and Hanoi but there is no great secret about its outlines.

The discovery that the International Transit Engineers had developed plans for the conversion of all Connecticut into one gigantic airport runway was so sudden and disconcerting that most of the first reactions it evoked were of the knee-jerk variety.
 "This major development in the future of our beloved state," said Governor Meskill, "is a direct result of the stringent economy, the steady reduction of personnel, and the efficient reorganization of departmental procedures which have been put into effect by this administration."
 At this point one of the Governor's assistants whispered in his ear that the conversion of Connecticut into one great level runway would flatten out the hills in his personal state song, as well as eliminate the need for any government or official who are presently or prospecting in Saigon and Hanoi but there is no great secret about its outlines.

A formula must, to be successful, reflect military realities. The military realities are that the armies of Hanoi are unable to score a decisive military victory in the South, but the armies of Saigon are equally unable to expel their enemies from the South. This is a stalemate which cannot be broken either by the remarkable will of the Hanoi soldiers or by the enormous weight of American bombs banging Saigon's troops.

Not only is it a stalemate now. It is also a stalemate which can be sustained by the two sides indefinitely. The bombing has not prevented the Hanoi army from keeping the field and keeping up the pressure. Indeed, they are deployed now for still another offensive on a board front. There is still no sign of a board front. The American air power continues to back up the Saigon armies they seem to be able to hold and repeat the major enemy offensives. Saigon holds the cities even though Hanoi holds much of the hinterland.

There is a formula implied by this which has been explored and discussed among the diplomats since the outlines of the military stalemate first emerged in 1968 in 1968. The talk then was of a "standstill ceasefire." It meant that everyone would stop shooting and stay where they would be at that moment. It would mean the Viet Cong in control of much of the countryside, but lower level control of the cities and the connecting main highways. The two would work out a modus vivendi from there.
 Now the talk is of a two-tiered government in South Vietnam; one for the areas held now by the Thieu government and the other for those held by the Sharing the spotlight after the first 36 holes in the 72-hole Club Championship Golf Tournament at the Manchester Country Club is Scott Leone. The junior member and veteran Ray Everts are deadlocked with 147 totals. Still very much in contention is former champion Stan Hillinski at 148. Defending king Erwin Kennedy is six strokes back at 153. Eighteen holes will be played Saturday and a like amount 18 for the most coveted title in the club membership. Tom Kelley had his most impressive showing on the weekend since suffering an ankle injury six weeks ago with Atlanta. The right-hander came on in a relief role and gave up one run in the first and two-third innings against Montreal. One of the comeback stories in baseball in the American League is being written by Luis Tiant of Boston. The 31-year-old one-time 20-game winner has won a starting role in the regular pitching rotation and two straight no-hits, no-run showings of just under seven full innings, both of which resulted in Red Sox victories, in proof that there is still life in the arm. The lefty's hurler in the two majors with a more berry-jerk, hesitation delivery than Tiant. The New York Mets are averaging 31,000 plus, for home games this season at Shea Stadium and on the road the club has helped attract $2,000, plus, which isn't half bad. Jim Garret, defensive coordinator with the New York football giant, nearly came to Manchester as varsity football coach when Nelson Nicholson, former East Guard Academy head coach, was not interested, he recommended Garret for the job before Dave Vignone was brought in. In the meantime, the Susephanna College head coach and Garret were in the area, and the Yale press box, which was off-limits to women and children for years, included a number of both for last Sunday's Giants-Jets skirmish... The halftime entertainment Sunday at Yale, besides on the playing field, was spiced by a half dozen fights in the stands. Just how far the jets go this season depends upon Joe Namath. The guess here is that the team will not be in the Super Bowl... neither will the Giants.

Norm's and Barbers Tournament Winners

Advancing in the annual Rec Department Town Slow Pitch Softball Tournament last night at Charter Oak Park were Norm's and the Walnut Barbers. The former outlasted Multi Circuit in eight innings, 8-7, with the Barbers trimming Bernie's TV, 14-2.

Tonight's doubleheader will feature Pizza House and Dick's American at 6:35 and the Barbers and Space Street Tavern at 7:30.

Jimmy Mistretta and Frank Fillarano shared the heroes' role for Norm's. Down 7-5 going into the bottom of the eighth, after Multi had snapped a 5-5 deadlock, Mistretta tripled home one run and scored a second on an error. Fillarano then accounted for the tie-breaker with a single. Mistretta had two hits, both singles, and Buzz Kenney added the same for the winners. Dan Gauchione tripled and singled and Byron Carlson added two hits to the winning offense.

Best for Multi, which was eliminated in the loss, Tim Cunningham went three for four, one double, and Bill Zwick and Larry Lawson each singled and tripled.

The Walnutos won in a breeze, starting fast with three runs in their first at-bats.

Ron Rioridan, better known for his feats on the basketball court, proved right home when he lead in his hand. The little guy slammed four hits in a perfect game, but a decision was expected today. The IOC Executive Board asked Rhodesian officials to announce again as it struggled for a solution.

The Rhodesian athletes stood firm against white-dominated Rhodesia.

Jean-Claude Ganga, general secretary of the sports council, said black American athletes had given him this statement:

"After the declaration of the Supreme Council of Sport in Africa, we the American black athletes that we would compete regardless of the outcome of the Rhodesian-African controversy."

The International Olympic Committee continued to wrestle with the question of what to do about Rhodesia, but a decision was expected today. The IOC Executive Board asked Rhodesian officials to announce again as it struggled for a solution.

Ford Entry Eliminates Moriarty's, 8-5 Silk City Playoff Title Features Dillon-Groman

All the marbles will be on the line tonight when Dillon Ford squares off against charter season champion Groman's Sponal in the finals of the Silk City Softball League playoffs. Action at Charter Oak Park's Fitzgerald field starts at 8:45.

Dillon's made it into the championship tilt last night by turning back the challenge of Moriarty Brothers, second place occupants in the final regular season standings. The win was the eighth in the playoffs.

Excellent pitching by Bob Goehring spearheaded the Ford win. He effectively scattered eight hits.

Power was supplied by Fran Macchioni who homered and Dick Belekewicz who tripled and singled. Also figuring in the win were Van Winkle's two singles and a half dozen hits in the 12-inning game. Moriarty's were led at the plate by Miles Boutlier with three singles and Don Romano with a single and double.

Nine runs in the first inning got the Lions off to a roaring start and they then had to hold on for dear life to preserve the edge.

Best for the Bobcats were Gall Boyd with a homer and single and Diane Bouffard with a single, triple and homer. Shirley Shoemaker added a single and triple. Maureen Mackiewicz two singles and Dot Vallone two double and a single.

Three Teams Tied In 'Loss Column'

NEW YORK (AP) — You are, no doubt, familiar from past pennant races with the infamous "all-important loss column" in the daily baseball standings.

Welcome to 1972 and the all-important loss column. In pennant races past, the best indicator of a team's chances has always been the games lost column. That's because once you've lost a game, you can't recover it. Games that haven't been played yet can always be won, but games you've lost are gone.

That, of course, assumes that all teams play the same number of games. But they don't this year. Because of the player strike last April and the decision not to make up games canceled during the walkout, it is the games won column that becomes important. In the American League East, for example, Detroit will play 156

Stags Twi Champs, Moriarty Reign Ends

Second best is all that Manchester's Moriarty Brothers' baseball team can hope for in the 1972 Hartford Twilight League. Last night the perennial regular season champs relinquished their crown when Hartford Insurance tackled a 6-1 loss on the Silk Towners at St. Thomas.

The triumph gave the Stags the championship after a three-year reign by Matt Moriarty's crew.

Tonight the MB's are paired with New Britain with second place at 6:35. Last year the locals tipped the Falcons for the title. Former minor league Dave Cichon piloted the MB bats with a brilliant two-hit effort in picking up his 10th win of the year. The Stags wound up with a 16-7 win-loss record and Moriarty's and New Britain stand at 14-10.

Loser but twice during the season, Cichon was staked to a 5-0 lead in the second inning and the rest was easy. A harmless single by Frank DiMauro and Gene Johnson's triple were the only MB players able to solve his offering.

Fast-batter John Serghini was knocked out of the box in the big inning, but Cichon and Johnson's triple were the only MB players able to solve his offering.

Wesphal Right Hope for Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, looking for another Bob Cousy to key the fast break which helped the club to a flock of championships, hope they've found the fellow in Paul Wesphal of Southern California.

"He's a good playmaker, a real take-charge kid," President and General Manager Red Auerbach said Monday after signing Wesphal to a multi-year contract.

"Naturally, you don't find a player like Cousy with us very often, but this kid has a lot of Cousy's talents," Auerbach said. "We hope he'll be able to take over the middle on the fast break. He can become a starter immediately, but that decision will be made by Coach Tommy Heinsohn."

Wesphal, a 6-foot-4 sharpshooter, agreed to terms after lengthy negotiations. He was signed to a one-year contract for the 1972-73 season. His salary was $250,000.

FBI Investigating Riva Ridge Showing

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — The FBI is investigating charges by the owner of Riva Ridge, considered by many to be the best 3-year-old race horse in the country, that the colt was drugged when he finished fourth in the $100,000 Monmouth Invitational Handicap on Aug. 5.

Mrs. John Tweedy made public her charges involving the winner of the Kentucky Derby, the Belmont Stakes and the Hollywood Derby, here Monday. She said the owner, or Lord Killian, a jovial, wisecracking Irishman, Riva Ridge was grabbing a few moments of rest in his fourth floor suite at the Vierjahreszeiten (Four Seasons) Hotel in midtown Manhattan.

"On the window ledge, I found a bottle of Valium," she said. "I took the bottle to the police and they found it was the same one used for the Kentucky Derby." She said she had a doctor's certificate from the police.

Brundage to Step Down

MUNICH (AP) — The old man SAT in the cushioned hotel chair, shoulders still erect and the black tie neatly knotted at the collar of his white shirt. His face showed signs of weariness and despair.

"Twenty years is enough," Avery Brundage said with a heavy sigh. "The world goes on, but it is a firm-jested fate that advertises the unshakable militance of his ideals."

As expected, old Avery goes out swinging.

He tolled a death knell for the Winter Games in Innsbruck, 1964, when he said in a speech that the Winter Olympics were "a nationalistic, provincial, and backward-looking affair."

For all his naivete in regard to financial aid to the underprivileged athletes, Brundage's stubbornness has been a bulwark against decaying influences.

Bill Friday Jumps NL

TORONTO (AP) — Ian Morrison, referee-in-chief of the National Hockey League, confirmed Monday early rumors that referee Bill Friday is leaving his job to join the World Hockey Association.

"Bill called me at 10 p.m. Sunday to let me know he's going to join the WHA," Morrison said. "I've read he was offered $50,000 a year and I assume he must have accepted it."

Morrison said a statement attributed to Friday last week that more than half the NHL officiating staff is unhappy and considering the WHA was not true.

"For the record, every linesman but one has been signed by the WHA in the past year," Morrison said.

Friday was an all-around athlete in his youth, a competitor in the decathlon and pentathlon in the 1912 games, a construction contractor, he built

$600 Realized 100-Mile Marathon Swim Took 35 Hours, 20 Minutes

Last weekend the Manchester Rowing Team completed a 100-mile marathon swim. It took 35 hours and 20 minutes of continuous swimming to cover the 100 miles.

The marathon was swum in relay fashion, with one swimmer taking a 15-minute rest period and person swam a between one and four lengths at a time. In total, all team members swam at least one mile (73 lengths). A 12-year-old girl swam the most lengths. She completed 337 lengths, which is slightly less than five miles.

One of major purposes of the swim was to raise enough money to purchase swimsuits and meet other team expenses. The money was raised by local merchants sponsoring miles of $10 and team members having sponsors for 10 cents for every length they swam. A total of approximately $600 was raised.

The largest single contributors were the G. and L. Construction Co. of 11 Vernon and Butterfield's in the Manchester Parkside. Both firms contributed $50.

The team extends thanks to all who contributed so generously.

Curve Ball Cause of Trouble As Carlton Win Skein Ends

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was a curve ball that got me in trouble," sighed a disconsolate Steve Carlton. And it was two of them that got Jim Beachamp "a pretty good birthday."

Carlton, Philadelphia's phenomenal left-hander who had won 15 consecutive games, finally lost his seventh of the baseball season and his first since May 30—and it took Atlanta 11 innings to do it.

"You ought to talk to Phil [Braves' knuckler] he had outdone him. He's the guy who did a ball of a job—a super job."

Nievro gave up nine hits to Carlton's seven with each pitcher striking out 10 batters and walking three. Still, it was the Phillies' 20-game winner who faced the waves of writers.

Carlton insisted at first that "I really hadn't thought much" about the winning streak. Then he shrugged and acknowledged:

"I wish it had continued. It's a shame. I really wish I could have won it for the fans—the record and the streak."

There were 52,862 fans on hand at the game, the highest of the season had produced the Phillies were in the seventh game of the World Series, rather than the team with the most record in the majors.

Jim Ray was on the mound for Houston in the ninth and he had the misfortune of losing a two-out walk to John Miller, bringing up Beachamp again.

Beachamp proceeded to plant Ray's curve ball deep into the bullpen. And as he trotted around the bases, drinking in the cheers of the 24,242 Mets fans, Phil seemed to be thinking, "That's a pretty good birthday."

John Unitas Injured On Second Play Colts' Defense Superb In Manhandling Chiefs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City Coach Hank Stram hung his head in humiliation.

"I'm disappointed and ashamed," Stram said after his previously undefeated Colts had been soundly beaten by the hitherto winless Baltimore Colts, 27-17, in Monday night's National Football League exhibition game.

"I can't remember when we've played a worse football game," Stram continued. "Thank God, it's a preseason game."

The Colts quarterbacked the Chiefs without Johnny Unitas, their 30-year-old quarterback, who received a neck injury on Baltimore's first play and did not return to the game.

The Colts, with Marty Domas on the sidelines, could do much on offense the first half, but the Baltimore defense was superb.

Beachamp was looking forward to a long and unproductive night after making out in the second inning on a fly ball that Oscar Cedeno flaged down with a leaping catch at the 395-foot sign in left-center field.

"I thought, 'Here we go again. This has to be my best performance of the night,'" Beachamp said. "I had a good cut at a fastball on that one. I'm known primarily as a fast ball hurler, so I decided to look for breaking pitches after that."

Houston starter Jerry Reuss served him a curve in the seventh inning and Beachamp promptly parked it in the Mets' bullpen in left, giving them a 2-1 lead.

But Cedeno, whose 19th homer of the season had produced the Phillies were in the seventh game of the World Series, rather than the team with the most record in the majors.

REISS-KIPPERS

Joe Morgan hit his 15th homer of the season and backup catcher Bill Plummer smacked a two-run blast—before a meager crowd of 4,511 fans.

Bob Gibson, recording his 14th victory and fourth start of the season, struck Los Angeles on seven hits, struck out six batters and chipped in with a run-producing double. Bernie Carbo homered for the Cards.

PADRES-CUBS

In a wild, sea-saw affair in San Diego, Joe Felewine and Ron Santo hit four-run homers for the Cubs. Clarence Gaston tied it with a two-run double in the seventh. Billy Williams hit his 25th homer to give Chicago a 5-2 lead in the top of the ninth, then John Jeter capped a four-run rally in the bottom of the inning with a three-run, game-winning blast—before a meager crowd of 4,511 fans.

U.S. Olympic Chef Has Staff of 971

MUNICH (AP) — Overworked, underkissed housewives of the world can sympathize with Hans Gobes.

Hans never gets out of the kitchen.

Gobes has a rather large "family," the well-muscled chef from the Netherlands who is in Munich's magnificent Olympic Village. Matter of fact, he sets a table for 120 athletes and their families and staffs.

"Fortunately, I don't have to worry about dinner hands," said the 49-year German. "My staff of 971 includes 130 dishwashers."

Gobes was named director of food services for the entire day, although two years ahead of the torch-lighting for the 20th Olympic Games in this Bavarian capital.

His shopping for three weeks of meals is ready to take it.

"It's 12 tons of sirloin steak, —12 tons of choice filet steaks, —630,000 soft drinks, —1 million eggs, —860,000 pounds of fresh fruit, —860,000 pounds of jammed with only one day's food supply, an army of 120 men trucking rumbles up to Hans back door about 11 o'clock each evening with fresh shipments."

Sox Open Brief Set With K.C.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, struggling but very much alive in the American League East race, open a brief two-game series in the Kansas City area tonight in capping their last prolonged trip of the season.

Red Sox, who have a 5-4 record since taking off from the friendly confines of Fenway Park, are scheduled for their division despite some nightmarish losses.

Detroit, Baltimore and New York will swing early around the Red Sox, but the team is going to have to do more things to help itself to take it. The race is similar to that in 1967, when nobody seemed to want the pennant in Boston's recent journey from home. The bullpen corps has been superior for five of the six losses, even surrendering three game-winning homers in the final inning.

Veteran Marty Pattin surrendered a game-winning homer to the White Sox Sunday, but he was not the pitcher in the final game. The Red Sox have a 4-1 record in the series.

Two Homers Give Mets Win Memorable Birthday For Jim Beachamp

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Beachamp, reserve first baseman of the New York Mets, gave himself a memorable 33rd birthday present.

In fact he gave himself two presents by hitting two home runs, hitting the Mets ahead 2-1, over the Houston Astros' at Shea Stadium Monday night and stopped the Mets' three-game losing streak in major league baseball.

Beachamp's first homer in the sixth put the Mets ahead 2-1, but he probably will remember his second longer. It came in the ninth with two outs and a runner on first. Beachamp struck out two and abruptly ended the game before 24,242 fans.

"Beachamp was a real hero before I can't remember how it was. I might have done it in the minors once," commented the

Chain-Link Fence Installed at Park

Installation of a chain-link fence at Manchester's Center Springs Park was completed yesterday afternoon despite apparent attempts by vandals to delay completion of the project. The five-foot-high fence runs a distance of 175 feet along the south side of a ravine in the park, according to Ernest Tureck, town park superintendent. The town's Board of Directors ordered installation of the fence as a safety measure, Tureck said. "Completion of the work, by the Atlantic Fence Co. of South Windsor, was hampered by efforts of vandals who caused about $200 in damages to the partially completed fence over the weekend, Tureck said. "According to Tureck, the contractor placed fence posts in cement bases Friday afternoon. On arrival at the site Monday morning, the contractor found that all the posts had been removed, and the holes they were taken from were obscured by dirt and leaves.

Lake Yields Man's Body

The body of John J. Winn, 51, of Somersville, was found in Crystal Lake, Ellington, late last night after a lengthy search by members of the Crystal Lake and Tolland Rescue Squads. According to State Police of the Stafford barracks, Winn and a companion, Dave Lynn, were fishing in a small aluminum boat which capsized. Police said the victim attempted to swim to shore for help but did not make it. The accident occurred about 8:30 a.m.

Lincoln Closing Scored

Lincoln is being closed in the middle of the summer.

He termed two points of the board's rationale for closing Lincoln School, "passing the buck." One called attention to the expense of updating the school's heating system and making other repairs. The other said that the building, in the event it is closed, will revert to the town as a possible Municipal Building annex. Regardless of the occupant, Burkamp said, the taxpayer will be paying. He added, "If the town manager moves in, I am sure it will cost more." Structurally, the building could be used for other purposes, Charles Crocini, maintenance supervisor for the Board of Education, said, but its plumbing, electrical system, and other mechanical areas are in bad condition.

When Thomas commented that the proposal to build the Northeast Elementary School last year was due to population growth in one area, not the town's over-all growth, Burkamp replied that Lincoln should be retained for the children already enrolled there.

Mrs. Richard Datson of 23 Orchard St. said that her two children, who have been pupils at Lincoln, are upset about the possibility of having to walk to Nathan Hale, that she will drive them. She said that it is particularly not safe for her girl because of some types of people who "congregate at the Center." Reiterating his opening statement, in an exchange on the six rationale points with Wilson E. Deakin Jr., assistant superintendent of schools for personnel, Odell questioned the board's emphasis on saving money and eliminating positions, with little or no concern about the effects on the children.

Replying to an Odell question, Deakin said that the rationale was worked out among principals but not social workers. Mrs. Jean Campbell, head social worker, said that her department was not consulted about the closing prior to the board's decision.

In the only statement by a non-parent, Miss Sue Klemens of 232 Ferguson Rd., a 1972 Manchester High School graduate, called attention to the concern about crowded conditions in the Municipal Building but not to those in schools. "We need teachers who are sensitive to children's needs," she said, "rather than facilities."

In his summing up, Atty. Odell said, "Parents are not going to leave here tonight feeling they have had a fair shake. This is being shoved down their throats, and you (the board) know it. You are asking parents to accept, in a month and a half, the elimination of a school that has been in existence 50 years."

Retaining Lincoln, he continued, might not save money this year or next, but it would in the long run. "You are going to come to these people and ask them for

Islands Soggy

TOKYO (AP) — Filipino villagers carrying lighted candles waded waist-deep in swirling flood waters, praying for divine help. In Japan, a one-year-old baby was dug from the mud, chortling and unharmed.

A 12-story luxury apartment house in Hong Kong collapsed under the pounding of thousands of tons of rain-weakened earth. A British attorney, pinned in the debris, calmly directed rescue workers.

In South Korea, U.S. Army and Air Force helicopters and trucks helped save the lives of more than 3,400 people in flooded cities.

Scenes of misery, suffering and bravery were commonplace in much of the Far East this wet summer as torrential rains touched off floods and landslides that destroyed hundreds of thousands of dwellings.

be formally recognized by a national party pledged to giving them the help they need and deserve. "In this way the Republican party would be helping an estimated two million volunteer firefighters and 175,000 paid firefighters as well as every citizen in the nation, Steele explained.

Meanwhile, in South Vietnam, the North Vietnamese kept up their heavy artillery bombardment in and around Quang Tri, shot down a U.S. F4 Phantom over the city, hit another one and made several rocket and mortar attacks in the Saigon region. Two American pilots aboard the downed F4 are missing, the U.S. Command said. Associated Press photographer Neil Uehlein reported that the plane was hit just as it was dropping a canister of napalm and exploded in flames.

Another U.S. Air Force Phantom at Quang Tri accidentally dropped 500-pound bombs on government marines a mile and a half north of the city Monday night, the U.S. Command said. It reported that one marine was killed and 13 were wounded.

The incident is under investigation," the Command said. The Command said that during the past six weeks there have been eight mistaken U.S. bombings of South Vietnamese troops, most of them in the Quang Tri and Hue areas, with a total of 26 government soldiers killed and 96 wounded.

Investigation of several of these has been completed, the Command said, and show a variety of causes. These include poor weather conditions, malfunctioning bomb release mechanisms and failure by the South Vietnamese to mark their own positions clearly.

Thirty miles south of Da Nang, scattered fighting was reported by South Vietnamese forces trying to block North Vietnamese troops from pushing out of the Que Son valley toward the populous coastal lowlands along Highway 1.

The Saigon command reported that its infantry and armor units killed 31 North Vietnamese troops, found the bodies of 11 others apparently killed by air strikes and captured four prisoners in fighting east of Que Son.

GOP Battle

on issues, especially foreign policy.

Johnson and another former Democratic president, Harry S. Truman, were praised Monday night by Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, the Republican national chairman, as part of the concerted GOP effort to convince anti-McGovern Democrats to desert their party and back Nixon in November.

Several thousand foot-stomping, banner-waving young Nixon supporters in the spectator stands, breaking often into chants of "Four more years!" and "Nix, on now!" hailed each blast at McGovern, showing considerably more enthusiasm than did the delegates on the convention floor.

At one point, Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe appeared at the rostrum with a resolution, quickly passed by voice vote, which invited the support of disenchanted Democrats. Its approval brought, on cue, a rousing band version of the Democratic theme song, "Happy Days are Here Again."

Though dissent was seemingly confined to the rules battle and McCloskey's doomed effort to seat a New Mexico supporter who would be able to express his views to the convention as well as voting for him, party officials were unable to stick precisely to their carefully drawn timetable.
