Building Costs Rise for Month

Manchester construction for which permits were issued last month were more than double that of a year ago, according to a report by Thomas C. Monahan, chief building inspector. The totals were $1,053,176 for August of this year compared to $494,110 for August 1971. Permits for 17 single-family dwellings ($373,000) and for 26 heating installations ($288,670) accounted for almost two thirds of last month's total. Permits were issued last month for 4 tool sheds, 4 signs, 1 garage, 28 alterations and additions (including a $90,000 addition to the Empire Tool & Mfg. Co. on Olcott St.), 4 demolitions, a $58,000 sales and storage building on Woodland St. Total building fees deposited last month totaled $181,881 compared to $3,053 a year ago.

Vernon Delegates Chosen By Parties

Republicans at a caucus and Democrats at a Town Committee meeting Saturday named delegates to the General Convention. The caucus which will be held by Judge Jay E. Rubinow, opening the way for further proceedings. The motions were argued for the better part of a week in July with each attorney, all but one of them special public defenders, putting forth his own arguments and adopting those of each other as the cases were similar and based on the same affidavits. They claimed all of the counts were not supported by the affidavits and the bench warrant was invalid. However, the court ruled that if any one offense is established, the entire indictment is valid. In issuing the bench warrant it is only taken offense to bring the accused within the jurisdiction of the court and the counts may then be put to plea for any offense within the jurisdiction of the court. The defendants are each charged with various numbers of counts of assault and with possession of a weapon in a correctional institution. The question of whether a baseball bat can be considered a weapon in this sense turned out to be the one count the judge ruled valid in each case at least and therefore was legally effective in bringing the defendants within the court's jurisdiction. Judge Rubinow said "That weapons claim presents a question of statutory interpretation that may or may not be ultimately decided in accordance with the claim of the defendants." However, the judge said, "but was not so free from doubt as to

Fischer Waiting For His Prize

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby has a check for his prize, says an aide to Bobby Fischer, the world chess champion. "He'll probably cash it and spend it all, but he'll need a wheelbarrow to take it away in." Fischer's entourage left Reykjavik Monday, leaving behind the American chess genius and his $78,125 in prize money from the Icelandic Chess Federation. Fischer and Boris Spassky, the Russian champion Fischer defeated, both got good news Monday. They are getting the $122,500 in prize money put up by the British financier, James D. Slater. Fischer's share from Slater is $76,562.50, making his total prize $154,887.50. Spassky's loser's purse came to $27,812.50, rounding the $45,937.50 he will get from Slater. Fischer plans to stay in Reykjavik for at least a week. Spassky plans to return to Moscow on Thursday.

Tolland County Superior Court Judge Denies Dismissal In Prison Melee Case

The motions to dismiss charges against ten inmates allegedly involved in the jail-battering case of May 21 and 22 at the State Prison in Somers were denied and the judge found there was no evidence the defendant had been prejudiced in any way. The claim of double jeopardy brought up in connection with the crime date was set for Sept. 18. The police report stated several inmates and cases containing what is believed to be marijuana plants and one plastic bag of what is believed to be marijuana seeds were found in the search. The evidence is being sent to the state laboratory for analysis. Marie A. Spaulding, 33, Grant Hill Rd., was arrested Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at Treasure City in the Park Shopping Center for fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting) and was released on a promise-to-appear bond. Court date was set for Sept. 18. Richard L. Sanborn, 31, of 58B Mt. Vernon Apts., was arrested by Vernon Police for the Manchester Police on a charge of theft of services Tuesday. Circuit Court 12 Rockville Session
An 18-year-old boy who couldn't spend his boyhood to his father's case in jail waiting for his case to be disposed of. Instead, thanks to a concerned bail commissioner a state trooper, Steven Benson of Lakeside Ter., Ellington will be allowed free on a non-surety bond and provided with a job in Hartford by the commissioner John Armentano. Trooper James Johnson said he would drive the boy into Rockville each day where he could get a bus. Judge Max Sewell was pleased with the spontaneous arrangement. "See how everybody wants to help him?" he commented. He looked at the boy and cautioned "Don't let these people down." Benson was bound over to Tolland County Superior Court yesterday after waiving a hearing on charges of second-degree burglary and larceny. Courts of third-degree burglary and fourth-degree larceny were nolle.

The case of some 25 residents against the Town of Conventry was continued until Sept. 19 yesterday in Tolland County Superior Court. The residents, mainly from the Lakeside Terr. area, are suing the town for $10 million, in an effort to prevent pollution problems in the lake and village area. The Department of Environmental Protection has strongly recommended that the town install a sewer system in the affected areas, and it is this solution that the plaintiffs in the law suit favor. During the two-week continuance of the case, the town will take no further action against the plaintiffs. Case Mt. Foes Ask Referendum

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter
The Manchester Board of Directors, seeking public reaction to a proposal for town acquisition of 212-acre Case Mt. open-space parcel, last night was asked to place the proposal on the town's machines for a townwide referendum. Recommending the referendum was Frank Lopez, a leading opponent of the acquisition. Backing the recommendation was former Police Chief Herman Schendel. They were the only ones speaking at the proposal. Speaking for it were Dr. Fred Spaulding, chairman of the Conservation Commission; Mrs. Theresa Paria, a member of the commission; Joseph Lawler, chairman of the "Save Case Mt. Committee" and president of the Manchester Jaycees; and Mrs. Terry McConnell, a member of the "Save Case Mt. Committee." The proponents of the acquisition are asking for $150,000 town appropriation, as its 25 per cent share of the $600,000 asking price. HUD, the federal department of Housing and Urban Development, has promised $300,000 toward the purchase, provided the town provides the other $150,000. An application for the state's share has been filed with the state department of environmental protection. The directors, following last night's pro and con arguments, look no action. They will discuss the proposal next Tuesday, when they will meet at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room. Lupien prior to requesting a referendum, remarked, "I can see no reason for the town acquiring any more open space land when it can't control what it has now - Center Springs Park, Center Park and Wickham Park." He warned, "The same human animals who desecrated other areas will desecrate Case Mt. Our dangers even now on Case Mt. In addition, it is a menace for motorcycle adventurers." Schendel, who resides on Spring St., asked whether the town has done anything about complaints from area residents, pertaining to incidents on Case Mt. Town Manager Robert Weiss acknowledged the town has received complaints concerning motorcycles and snowmobiles. He said the town could take no action, because Case Mt. is private property. Schendel then insisted, "The rights of the area residents must be considered. If we want to exercise government by the people, the question of town ownership should be decided by referendum." Mrs. Paria, strongly urging town acquisition, traced the history of Case Mt. back to 1870 and reviewed town plans dating back to 1963 for its acquisition. Mrs. McConnell called the proposed acquisition "a bargain at any price, and certainly at the price." Explaining that the

CAIRO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat of Egypt again sounded his goal of liberation of Arab lands whatever the price. Sadat, in a recorded speech broadcast in Egypt, Libya and Syria, also called for fulfillment of the rights of Arab Palestinians living under Israeli occupation. Coughing Irks The Conductor

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Conductor Zubin Mehta went stomping off the stage in anger because of coughing and creaking chairs in the audience, but the Latin American debut of the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra still was a rousing success.

After the audience of 3,000 persons froze into silence, Mehta, on loan from the Los Angeles Philharmonic, returned to the podium to finish the concert, which ended Monday night with 12 curtain calls and two encores.

The 58-year-old Indian conductor has joined the orchestra for a 52-day tour through Latin America, the United States and Canada. Rio de Janeiro was the first stop as a tribute to Brazil's 150th anniversary of independence Sept. 7.

Q. My doctor has told me he is transferring me to a convalescent home because I no longer need the intensive care provided by the hospital. Will Medicare pay for my stay in the convalescent home?

A. Your hospital insurance can help pay for your care in a convalescent home when you are in an extended care facility approved for Medicare payments; you were admitted because you need additional care for a condition treated while you were in the hospital; you were hospitalized at least three days in a row and were admitted to the extended care facility within 14 days after you left the hospital; and you need continuing skilled nursing care.

Q. Is there any way I can be sure that Medicare will pay if I am sent to a convalescent home for extended care?

A. If you aren't sure you meet all of the conditions for Medicare benefits either when you enter the facility or at any time during your stay, please talk to your doctor or the people at the facility.

Q. I recently had a stroke and I've been advised by my doctor that I will have to go to a convalescent home for therapy over an extended period of time. How long can Medicare pay?

A. If you are eligible for extended care benefits, Medicare can help pay for your care for up to a maximum of 100 days, but only if you need this kind of care that I recently underwent surgery and while I am convalescing my doctor put me in a convalescent home because a nurse has to change my dressings twice a week. Will my stay in the convalescent home be covered by Medicare?

A. No. Medicare can't pay for your care if you need skilled care only from time to time. You must need the kind of care that only skilled nurses can give you and must need it on a continuing basis.

Book Review

3-D. By Patrick Dennis. Coward McCann. 264 Pages. $6.95.

Funnyman Patrick Dennis has produced a rather frothy affair in this novel.

It's about Peter Beale, would-be writer with some cash from the sale of his late father's factory, and his wife Constance, who has a little talent as a painter.

Things begin to stir when DAVEY is a splendid hunk of man with a complete vacuum between his ears. Believe it or not, Constance gets that funny feeling about Davey and puts him to work posing for murals — in the nude. And Peter gives Davey a part-time job typing his manuscript, meanwhile getting that funny feeling too — and worried about being bisexual. As an added flair, even stupid Davey notices that Peter's book is about a 19th century scholar who was a homosexual.

There is a farcical situation in which Peter and Constance each make secret plans to run off with Davey. But the final twist comes when friends Hal and Jane introduce a new element into this sexy story.

Dennis specializes in the ridiculous. This book is ridiculous all right, but a bit too much on the gay side for some readers.

Book Review

DON'T LIE TO ME. By Tucker Coe. Random House. 180 Pages. $4.95.

This is a murder mystery in which the characters are more interesting than the mystery.

Mitchell Tobin is a former cop, kicked off the force when his police partner was shot to death while he, instead of being on duty with him, was spending time with a girlfriend. The girlfriend was the wife of a minor criminal.

This book is set some years later, with Tobin now working as a guard in a museum and not seeing the ladyfriend any more. But it's an interesting study of how vulnerable he is, a person once fallen from right. And the ladyfriend's husband, out of prison now and trying to go straight, is also vulnerable, but from a different direction. Former associates are leaning on him to join them in a "job."

The murder, connected with the museum, is definitely of secondary interest. But throughout the book, we never lost our desire to know how Mitchell Tobin was getting along.

MARY CAMPBELL Associated Press

THE HESSIAN. By Howard Fast. Morrow. 192 Pages. $5.95.

Unlike so many authors who burn themselves out with that well-written first novel, Fast has been producing good books since the early 1930s and time with a girlfriend. This, his latest novel, perhaps could be the best of them all.

"The Hessian" is a beautifully written book. Set in the American Revolution — although it could be any place, any war — its deceptively simple story tells in near lyrical prose of the hanging of an innocent man by a troop of Hessians, the slaying of all but one of these invading soldiers by a vengeful citizenry, and a cruel revengeful hanging of the last Hessian — a 16-year-old drummer boy.

And it is with address the reader concludes that — as Feversham says — "there was neither salvation nor damnation but only the purgatory wherein a stranger lives. Knowing he will always be a stranger, coming naked, and going naked, and knowing no more at the moment of his death than he knew at the moment of his birth."

OIL HELPS CONNECTICUT SCHOOLS MAKE THE GRADE

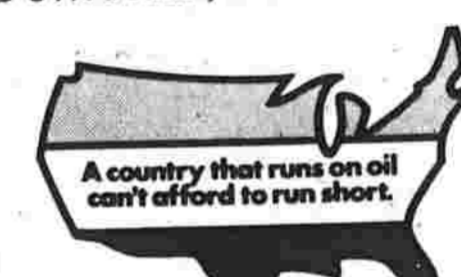

Our schools use hundreds of things that are made from oil: desk tops and fiberglass seats, educational films, tapes and records, paint, ink... even the erasers on pencils.

But most of all, schools use energy. For heat, light and transportation. 75% of all our energy comes from oil and natural gas (including 40% of our electricity).

But today, we're using these petroleum fuels faster than we are finding them. That's why America faces an Energy Gap.

Tolland County Superior Court

One inmate refused to make any plea yesterday in Tolland County Superior Court so Judge Anthony J. Armentano ordered a plea of innocent entered for him. The charges relate to an alleged escape conspiracy at the prison last fall and originally involved 10 inmates, although now just six are being held in Tolland County. Yesterday, Louis Coffone Jr., 33, told the court, "I'm not going to plead anything."
After the innocent plea was entered from him on charges of attempted escape from a correctional institution, a criminal attempt (to escape), and conspiracy, three other inmates entered innocent pleas to similar charges bringing all six men to the escape plot allegedly listed from which a case will be chosen to begin trial today.
During yesterday's opening day of a new court session, Judge Armentano sentenced Melvin J. Meacham, 22, of East Windsor on a substitute charge of second degree robbery in Tolland County and first degree larceny in Hartford County. The Tolland County case involved an armed robbery at a Cumberland Farms store on Rt. 83 in Dec.
A former Little League coach before service in Vietnam, Meacham was found to be drug dependent after his service. Taking note of his excellent record and cooperation, sentences of 3 to 7 years on each count were suspended and the young man committed to the custody of the commissioner of mental health for a period of 90 days to 24 months for drug rehabilitation.
Gary E. Millet, 23, of Ellington pleaded guilty to two counts of sale of cannabis-type drug, hashish, and to two counts of possession of hashish. He pleaded each of sale and possession of marijuana was nolle. The sales were to different undercover agents, one involving a quarter ounce at $30 and the other an ounce for $90. Sentencing after a presentence investigation, will be on Sept. 14.
Arthur J. Daviau, 27, of 95 Union St., Rockville, pleaded innocent to counts of first degree larceny and was assigned to the present trial list.
A "lost" defendant was found and appeared in Superior Court yesterday. Claudette Ford, of Middletown, was sent from this court for drug treatment last December, but when released from that facility was not told she had to reappear in this court for a sentence review. It was finally accomplished and a one-year sentence on a breaking and entering charge was entered. The young woman placed on probation for two years.

Hebron Fair Opens Friday

Sept. 6, the opening day of school, may be a magic date for many youngsters in the state but in Hebron it's Sept. 8, the opening day of the "Big H", Hebron's Second Annual Harvest Fair.

All activities in Hebron these days are centered around the Lions Club property on Rt. 85 where only the finishing touches remain to be put on the new fairgrounds which for three days, Sept. 8, 9, 10, will accommodate well over 10,000 spectators.

Fireworks, horse shows, open, horse and pony pulls, antique demonstrations are only a few of the attractions scheduled for the weekend.

Many of the booths at last year's fair are returning again this year with Robert Dixon, concessions chairman, expecting almost 70 altogether.

Among some of the new booths will be a blacksmith and a glassblower as well as unusual candles, herb products and decoupage furniture.

Another added feature this year is a Connecticut All Junior Beef Show, the first ever to be held in the state. Handled by Chuck Smith, president of the Hartford Breeders Association, only youngsters under 21 are eligible to compete.

Because of the large number of entries in the livestock exhibits, program-exhibit chairman Robert Tupper reports that a larger unit than planned has been erected.

All livestock, poultry, home arts and crafts judging will take place Saturday morning, but exhibits will be on display throughout the weekend.

Two large drawing pits have been constructed for the horse, pony, open and doodle bug pulls. There will be two classes for the horse pull which is scheduled for 6 Friday evening. One is for teams weighing under 3,100 lbs., and the other is for teams over 3,100 lbs.

There will also be two classes for the pony pull which last year drew the highest number of teams ever to compete in a fair in Connecticut. This event will be Saturday at 6 p.m. and will be for teams under 46 inches and for teams under 50 inches.

For the oxen pull, which is scheduled for 1 p.m. Sunday, there will be three classes: under 2,800 lbs., under 3,200 lbs. and over 3,200 lbs.

Included among the special attractions planned by the Fair Committee will be the Miss Hebron Harvest Fair queen contest on Friday evening at 9.

Contestants will be between the ages of 16 and 21 and the winner will receive a trophy, crown, sash, and cash award. She will be on hand throughout the weekend.

Saturday will feature children's contests such as balloon blowing, pie eating and watermelon eating. The adults will also have a chance with nail driving contests for ladies and men.

The last major attraction will be the fireworks demonstration which will start at approximately 9:30 Sunday evening.

There will be ample parking for the fair on the grounds as well as directly across the street from the grounds on Rt. 85.

All proceeds of the fair will assist the Lions in developing the new property for the use of Hebron residents.

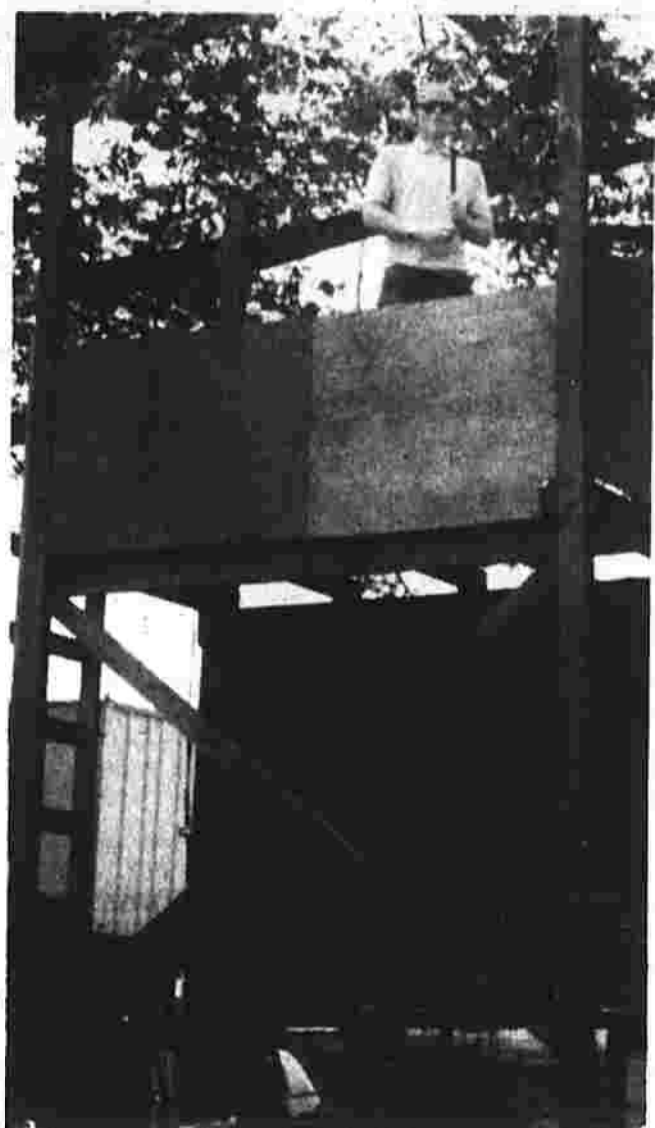

Proceeds also will go towards assisting with many worthwhile projects the Lions help with such as for blind retarded children, patients at Mansfield Training School, purchasing eye glasses for needy children and supporting the Lions Eye Research Foundation.

Banning Receives Kopplemann Grant

Timothy J. Banning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Banning Sr. of 54 Lodge Dr. and a June graduate of Manchester High School, has received one of 14 Kopplemann Scholarships awarded to students in the capital region.
He has entered Bryant College in Smithfield, R. I., where he plans to major in finance toward a bachelor's degree in business administration. The scholarship is $600 for the first year, renewable at a lower or higher figure for each of the next three years, contingent upon need.
The scholarships are in memory of the late Herman F. Kopplemann, who represented the First Congressional District of Connecticut in the U. S. Congress for five terms in the 1930's and 1940's. He was also a successful Hartford newspaper and magazine distributor, starting at the age of 15.
His will stipulated that scholarship recipients must have been associated with newspaper circulation at some time. Banning was a Herald carrier for 5 1/2 years.
At MHS, Banning won letters in cross-country in his junior and senior years, was a member of the track team as a senior, the Varsity M Club, P. A. Verplank Chapter of the National Honor Society, and attained the honor roll during every quarter of his three high school years.
In out-of-school activities, he represented the Manchester Youth Commission in the Red Cross bloodmobile program and

Road Abandoning Delayed Court Accepts Briefs

No action will be taken for the time being on a plan to abandon a portion of Parker St., Mayor John Thompson assured opponents of the proposal last night.
A group of about 20 persons appeared at a Manchester Board of Directors meeting, ready to speak in opposition to a plan for closing Parker St. between Colonial Rd. and Mitchell Dr., for transferring its ownership to Lydall Inc., and resuming traffic through Colonial Rd. The opposing group consists of Colonial Rd. residents. Their argument is that the plan would create a traffic hazard in their area.
The state PUC (Public Utilities Commission) last fall approved a town request to abandon that section of Parker St., to close the public railroad crossing at Parker St. and Mitchell Dr. and to create a new public crossing at Colonial Rd. and Parker St. Actions have been completed on the railroad crossings, but not on abandoning Parker St.
After Arthur Guinness, chief spokesman for the Colonial Rd. opponents, reported he had contacted the PUC and had received assurances it would modify its official order, Mayor Thompson announced a delay in any action by the town directors.
He said Town Counsel David Barry is scheduling meetings with the PUC and with representatives of Lydall Inc., in an attempt to work out a compromise solution.
"We will not act until those meetings are held and until we hold another meeting with your group," he assured Guinness and the others.
Board secretary Anthony Pietranoto then read a letter from Robert Fuller, chairman of the board of Lydall Inc., in which Fuller answers criticism aimed at his company and in which he asks for an amicable solution of the controversy.

In M Zone Appeal Case

Timothy was heard yesterday in Common Pleas Court in Hartford in Alexander Jarvis' suit to enjoin the town from enforcing then provisions of a new regulation which would govern the construction of apartments. Judge Arthur G. Williams accepted briefs from the opposing counsel and allowed them a week in which to file reply briefs.
The case concerns the proposed M Zone, a "floating zone" in which the construction of apartments is permitted provided no more than one third the designated tract is devoted to apartments with the remainder in either duplex houses or singles.
Under the old regulations, apartments can be built in a number of zones, but only as special exceptions to the zoning regulations.
The $13,500 for the Community Y, added to $3,000 allocated last year for work there, will pay for architectural treatment of the building, to make it face on N. Main St.

Bid Openings Set On Two Projects

Bids will be opened Sept. 22 at 11 a.m. in the Municipal Building for the construction of a storm sewer in Hilliard St., in the vicinity of Regent St., and for the construction of a four-bin retaining wall in the Olcott St. disposal area.
The storm sewer, planned to relieve flooding conditions in the area, will commence at 60 Hilliard St., will proceed through the Iona Mfg. Co. parking lot, and then to Regent St. Funds for the construction were approved last month by the Board of Directors.
The retaining wall in the Olcott St. disposal area will be 14 feet high and 120 feet long. Its total estimated volume will be 96 cubic yards and it will be divided into four equal bins, for holding glass and paper for recycling.
Three of the bins will be for glass of three different colors and the fourth for paper. The foundation for the retaining wall already has been constructed by town forces.
The cost of the recycling station will be shared by the town and Lydall Inc., with the town paying one third and Lydall two thirds.

number about 540, a slight increase over last year. Another first was the start of the Head Start program at the beginning of the school year. In previous years, its opening was delayed until October. However, earlier this year, the Board of Education voted to fund the extra month. Allan Chesterton, director of state and federal funds for Manchester, anticipates that this will result in $12,000-$14,000 in additional state ADM (average daily membership) grants.
There are four Head Start classes, two each at Orford and Kenney St. Schools, staffed by four teachers, four aides, a social service aide, and a nurse. Only one bus problem materialized this morning. That was with a trip, inserted into the schedule over the Labor Day weekend, to transport about 20 children to Nathan Hale from Summit, Wadsworth, Huntington, and E. Center Sts. The difficulty is expected to be solved, Louis Pietranoto said, in a day or two.

South Windsor Councilman To Hold Office Hours

Town Councilman Robert Hornish is interested in what the townspeople have to say and will make himself available on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month through the remainder of the year to hear what they are concerned about.

Hornish is planning to hold office hours at the Town Hall from 7:30 to 9 p.m. beginning tomorrow. He says the purpose is to be in a better position to represent the people of South Windsor with an alternate line of communication to those individuals who have questions or suggestions.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"I Just Killed My..."

Poking fun at the law, a cartoon shows a man rubbing into the police station to confess a murder. But the desk sergeant frantically waves him into silence. "You don't have to say a word," the sergeant explains, "until you have seen a lawyer."

This may be good cartooning. But it is bad law. The sergeant has no obligation to interrupt a confession that is offered voluntarily. Furthermore, the man's statement may be used against him in court.

Consider an actual case: A motorcycle officer stopped a motorist to the curb and asked to see his driver's license and registration slip. After a moment's hesitation, the man shrugged. "Well, I guess you've got me," he said. "I stole the car."

Brought to trial later for car theft, he claimed that his confession could not be used against him because the officer had failed to warn him of his rights.

But the court found nothing wrong with the confession, since the man had made it of his own free will.

What kind of pressures do taint a confession as "involuntary" - hence inadmissible in court? Obvious examples are the use of physical violence or mental intimidation. Such methods run afoul of the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination.

But a confession may also be ruled out because it was obtained by the unfair use of promises or temptations.

In one case, a man under questioning about a robbery was informed that his wife - also being held - would be released if he would confess he had committed the crime.

He did confess. But this time, his confession was held to be inadmissible in court. The judge said a confession obtained by offering such a powerful temptation had one great drawback in the eyes of the law:

It was all too likely to be false.

Director's Comment Session

Manchester's town directors are beginning to question the effectiveness of their twice-monthly comment sessions, now in their sixth year.

Held on the first Tuesday and third Thursday of each month, they have been attracting only one or two persons a session. A month ago, only one person appeared at a Tuesday session and only one appeared yesterday. The one scheduled for the third Thursday in August had been called off, in favor of a meeting on a Colonial Rd. empty lot with those residents of the area opposing the abandonment of a portion of Parker St.

Yesterday's comment session was manned by Director James Farr. He reported that the person who appeared—a man—made two suggestions relative to maintenance in the Municipal Building.

Farr said the man proposed that town forces should be substituted for contracted services in cleaning and maintaining the building, on the basis of economics.

He recommended also that volunteer help (such as the Boy Scouts) should be recruited for painting the interior of the building and that a gift, rather than money, should be the incentive for the volunteers.

Munich Olympic Stadium Was Deserted Tuesday

Flags at Half Staff Today

Memorial Services Observed as Athletes Sit on Chairs

Olympic Boxscore Ghastly

MUNICH (AP)—The flame kept burning. Perched silently above cold, empty Olympic Stadium, it blazed in the name of international sport. Of peace. And brotherhood.

Suddenly, there was added meaning. Olympians who had marched proudly, faces a smile into the magnificent athletic arena 10 days before were now dead, innocent victims of man's political differences.

The boxscore, this particular one, was ghastly. —11 Israeli team mates murdered. —1 Munich policeman slain at his work. —4 Arab terrorists dead amid their chosen cause.

The flame burned somehow in a new color. It wasn't the same as the glorious torch which lit the paths of Jesse Owens, Paavo Nurmi and—in later days—Mark Spitz. It was a new flame, one that had been lit by the Olympic flame on Aug. 25, 1968, in Mexico City. It was a flame that had been lit by the Olympic flame on Aug. 25, 1968, in Mexico City. Bad Day for Bobick

MUNICH (AP)—"I had a bad day," Duane Bobick understated after being soundly thrashed by Cuban Teofilo Stevenson. It was, more to the point, a bad day for the spirit of these 20th Summer Olympic Games.

Bobick, the heavyweight from Bowling Green, Ohio, who had been pegged by former world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali as "the latest Great White Hope," was no match for the Cuban brawler who had beaten in last year's Pan-American Games. Stevenson decked Bobick twice and won when the bout was halted in the third round by the Cuban referee.

Egyptian Athletes To Stay in Munich

MUNICH (AP)—The chief of the Egyptian delegation to the Olympic Games today denied reports that his team was pulling out of the Olympic Games.

"We came here to compete in the Olympic Games and we plan to continue doing so," said Abdel Aziz Shahef. Shahef said he did not know whether his team would attend memorial services scheduled this morning for 11 Israelis and a West German policeman murdered by Arab guerrillas. "It depends on the situation," he said.

QB Hornat Impressive East Builds Depth, Solid at All Spots

By Dean Yost
"We will probably be the type team this season with no outstanding individual players," Cliff Demers, head football coach at East Catholic High, noted yesterday. "Instead we will have solid people at every position and won't have any glaring weakness either."

Since practice began, there has been seven double sessions in half well and quarterback Pete Hornat looked impressive. Our other signal-caller, Bob Love, missed the contest because of a slight injury.

Bobcats Triumph Over Lions, 8-7

The Bobcats forced a three-way tie for third place last night in the Folsom Soccer League by edging the Lions, 8-7 at Fitzgerald Field. Tonight the Bobcats meet the Lions at Fitzgerald Field.

Blinn's Contract Extended

It's a long way from being a successful tobacco farmer and then an oil burner repairman to one of the top scouting jobs in all professional baseball with the National League's pacesetter, Western Division Cincinnati Reds.

Blinn's managerial skill—MacPhail's nerves—was put to the test in the ninth inning as Baltimore rallied for three runs and almost overcame 5-0 and 7-2 record against the Yanks since the start of the 1965 season.

Blinn, a catcher during his playing days, has nothing but praise for the Red Sox front office. "It's really a great well-knit organization and a great team to be associated with. It doesn't cut any corners and it has been very liberal with my expenses. It's been first class all the way," Blinn added over the luncheon table.

Winning Book Good Reading

BALTIMORE (AP)—Lee MacPhail, general manager of the New York Yankees, could hardly contain his pride. "I want to make this presentation on behalf of the great job you've been doing," MacPhail said, handing Manager Ralph Houk a book on which the cover had been turned inside out.

Reggie Smith Felt So Good He Talked With Writers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Reggie Smith was feeling good—so good he spoke to the press for the first time in nearly a month.

Smith golfed a low slider from Skip Lockwood for a three-run home run in the eighth inning Tuesday night, rallying the Red Sox to a 5-3 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers and put them in second place. Three percentage points behind Detroit in the torrid American League East race.

Smith's 17th homer earned Gary Peters (3-2) his first victory since Aug. 2. The lefthander checked the Brewers on three hits in five shutout innings of relief of Marty Pattin, tagged for all Milwaukee's runs in the second.

Tom Seaver Lost to Mets Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Seaver, who has had a sore arm, bad back and muscle pulls in both legs, has come up with a new twist: an injured external rotator.

"I don't think I'll be a cripple for the rest of my life," said Seaver, who was right-handed and departed midway through Tuesday night's 3-0 loss to the Chicago Cubs.

Stamps In The News

AP Newsfeatures
By STY KRONISH

The "Cosmos" series of three new stamps saluting man's exploits into outer space — has been issued by the Republic of Indonesia. One of the addresses hails Indonesia's own efforts in space exploration.

The lowest value stamp shows an international weather satellite in space, the ESSA-8, which provides information on the world's weather in a matter of seconds and has enabled areas to be warned of impending storms as they develop.

Another depicts an American astronaut descending from his landing capsule on the moon's surface. The dates "1969-1972" mark the first three years of lunar exploration.

The highest value in the set features Indonesia's own "Kartika 1" rocket and the date "1964-1972" which signify that country's rocketry program.

Also issued by Indonesia, according to the World Wide Philatelic Agency, is a stamp to honor the 10th anniversary of the famed Hotel Indonesia as part of its Tourist series.

Collectors are now in the midst of seeing a deluge of stamps from various countries paying tribute to the Olympic Games. Since the end of World War II this outpouring of stamps has been a regular thing every four years. However, many nations producing such stamps are more interested in the revenues from the sale of the stamps rather than the athletic events themselves.

To help warn the public, the American Philatelic Society's "Watchdog Committee" is setting guidelines to determine what nations were honoring the games because of their actual participation. The determining factor by the committee is the participation by the country, or at least having a recognized national Olympic Committee.

This may not deter topical collectors from getting any and all Olympic stamps but it is a creditable attempt to give stature to the hobby of philately.

Illustrations of various game fish appear on new stamps from Bermuda.

The 4 cent shows the bonefish, a shoreline inhabitant, while the 15 cent and 18 cent denominations feature the wahoo and yellowfin tuna which range offshore. The 24 cent displays the great amberjack, a typical reef fish.

If you think a local Bermuda fisherman designed the stamps, you are wrong. The designer was Maynard Reece of Des Moines, Iowa.

Israel's four latest stamps highlight four of the 42 tanks brought to that country from Italy. The designs depict an ark from a long-closed synagogue in Ancona, from a synagogue of the Soragna community near Parma, a 17th century ark from the Sephardic Synagogue of Padua (1729) and the 1786 Ark from Reggio Emilia.

Justice Dissents on a Claim of Court Hardship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ever since Warren Burger became chief justice he has sounded one persistent theme: the Supreme Court is overloaded with work and something must be done about it.

From Justice William O. Douglas Wednesday night came a dissent—calm, soft with a smile, but a characteristically independent disagreement with the predominant view.

Burger's plea, sounded before bar and judicial groups and the public at large, has won for the court a handful of additional law clerks and administrators, an extra few dollars from a sometimes skeptical Congress.

But is the court overworked? Douglas, in a rare CBS-TV interview, suggested it is not. He agreed with Burger that the actual number of cases reaching the high court is on the rise—from 1,800 a year three decades ago to about 4,200 currently.

The more important point, Douglas went on, is that "we're actually hearing and deciding fewer cases now than when we were when I went on the court."

This means more appeals than ever before are being tossed out without full consideration.

Douglas, the senior justice, who took his seat upon appointment of President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1939, said the court still has nine men, but the selective process has changed. And that's not all, he said.

"The judges have changed, the idea of what is important has changed in the minds of the judges—a highly selective consideration."

"Is this case fit to take—should we take it—and so on? And we take fewer and fewer."

"When I went on the court we sat six days a week. Under (former Chief Justice Earl) Warren we sat five days a week, a conference on Friday."

And this is where Douglas clashed directly with the Burger

view. Environmental and consumer class actions, he said, must not be shut out.

"If Congress should redesign the jurisdiction of federal courts so as to leave out of them the environmental questions, then we go down the drain really very fast," the justice said.

"Because we then would be victims of the administrative agencies, though they're very high-minded and though they're not venal, are very oppressive. There must be some check on them. There must be, unless they're going to be abolished."

Douglas' work methods are very much in line with what he said.

Every year, consistently, he votes to hear more appeals than any other member of the court. Douglas also writes the tersest and briefest opinions. (See Page 10)

Reading Reports Uplifting

HARTFORD (AP) — A study of the reading progress of Connecticut public school pupils brings some good news and some bad news.

"With few exceptions, Connecticut students had higher test scores than students nationwide," said the report.

However, "Connecticut large city students consistently had lower scores than their nationwide counterparts," it said.

City youngsters were not only below the national average; they were even below the average level in large cities throughout the nation.

The study was conducted during the 1971-72 school year for the state Board of Education by the non-profit Institute for the Study of Inquiring Systems. About 7,000 students aged 9, 13 and 17 were tested in 163 schools.

In general, suburban school children had the highest scores, with the small town youngsters next, the "small city" children (those in communities over 20,000 which are not on the edge of large cities) next and large city children last.

For instance, in a test on which the suburban 9-year-olds scored 92.2 and the large city 9-year-olds scored 76.8, the small town children scored 85.2 and the "small city" youngsters scored 92.5.

U.S. in New Plea For Cease-Fire

PARIS (AP) — The United States told the Communists today their military and political efforts in South Vietnam have failed and urged them to accept a cease-fire.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter said at the 16th session of the Paris peace talks. "You have incurred terrible losses but you have not broken South Vietnam's will or capacity to resist you."

"That Vietnamization has succeeded is borne out by the setbacks you have experienced at the hands of the government of the Republic of Vietnam forces unaided by United States' combat units."

Porter pointed out that during North Vietnam's offensive 62 per cent of the American military personnel in Vietnam when the offensive began March 30 had been withdrawn.

He said a million South Vietnamese had the living forces. "which was a clear enough response to the Viet Cong call for an anti-government uprising."

The Viet Cong countercharged that it is the United States and South Vietnam that have failed politically and militarily.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, chief of the Vietnamization program "convinced after the failure of a highly Americanized war of aggression" now is "going bankrupt" retroactively.

She claimed it had led to one U.S. defeat after another and its aims cannot be attained in spite of massive use of U.S. force which, she said, has brought about "the most brutal war of extermination of present time."

Mrs. Binh said the Nixon administration claim of using Vietnamization to stimulate negotiations "is a big fraud."

She again rejected President Nixon's May 8 cease-fire proposal "an ultimatum demanding that the Vietnamese people accept the colonialist conditions posed by the United States."

She said that as long as the United States supports Saigon

Sharing Measure Clipped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has defeated an initial attempt to give larger industrial states a bigger share of the money in a $3.6-billion revenue-sharing bill.

The 61-24 vote Wednesday against the amendment by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., was no surprise because senators from small states outnumber those from the bigger states which would have benefited from Ribicoff's proposal.

Ribicoff sought to change the distribution formula in the bill approved by the Senate Finance Committee. The committee altered the House-approved version in ways that favor 33 smaller states and cause losses to only 17.

Nevertheless, senators from the big urban states said they would make further attempts to revise the formula.

Debate on the major bill was to continue this afternoon.

Ribicoff insisted that the large states "get far less than their fair share" under the distribution formula worked out by the Senate committee. The House version is more favorable to the industrialized states.

"The rejuvenation of our cities was one of the prime considerations in the development of the revenue-sharing concept," the Connecticut senator said.

But, he went on, the states with the most severe urban problems are discriminated against by the Finance Committee's plan.

Ribicoff sought to introduce into the formula a special allowance for urbanized population.

This would have been added to the three factors used by the committee—state population as a whole, state per-capita income and state general tax effort—as the basis for apportioning federal funds.

Germans Hunt More Arabs

MUNICH (AP) — West German police hunted for 15 more Arabs today and pressed an investigation into the airfield killing of nine Israeli hostages on Tuesday.

Bavarian state police said the 15 were suspected of being accomplices in the planning and execution of the Arab terrorist attack Tuesday that killed two other members of the Israeli Olympic team and culminated in the airfield shooting.

"Five of the terrorists and a West German policeman also were killed at the airfield. A German helicopter pilot was seriously wounded. Three of the terrorists were captured slightly wounded."

The three captives were identified as Ibrahim Badran, 20, Abd. Kadir El Daway and Samir Mohamed Abdulah, both 22.

They claimed to be students and said they last lived in Jordan and Syria.

A Bavarian court official said they faced multiple charges of murder. They were being interrogated at an undisclosed location. The court had until Thursday night to issue formal charges. The maximum penalty for premeditated murder is life imprisonment, there being no death penalty in West Germany.

The Olympic competition, suspended 12 hours after the first Israeli was killed in the Olympic Village, resumed late Tuesday with big crowds. But at least four Dutch and 12 Norwegian team members decided to abandon further competition. They said they were shaken by the killings of the Israelis.

The first two Israelis were killed when the terrorists invaded their quarters at the Olympic Village before dawn Tuesday. Late Tuesday night the Arabs and their nine hostages were taken to Fuerstenfeldbruck military airfield in two helicopters where a Boeing 727 was waiting, ostensibly to fly them to the Middle East. The Arabs said they would free the hostages if Israel released 200 guerrillas jailed in Lebanon.

But the Interior Ministers said German authorities were convinced that "a fight out of this country would have meant certain death for the athletes."

Afterward Premier Golda Meir of Israel expressed approval of the decision to try to kill the terrorists and free the hostages.

The circumstances of the shooting at Fuerstenfeldbruck were still unclear, and the West German government said it was investigating.

The Munich police initially said the first shots were fired by one of the Arabs who reacted hysterically when he saw police waiting at the airfield. But the police later retracted this and said further investigation showed police sharpshooters opened fire when two of the guerrillas showed themselves in an especially favorable position. However, the police said the sharpshooters were unable to knock the two Arabs out of the battle before they got off shots of their own.

The police said the visibility also was very poor — it was about 11 p.m., and the airfield was not illuminated — and the sharpshooters were using telescopic sights to fire at shadows.

Expressions of grief and protest continued abroad.

More than 1,000 persons filed silently through the Israeli Embassy in London to sign a leather-bound book of condolences.

The embassy said scores of men, at least half of them not Jewish, telephoned to volunteer for the Israeli army.
