Zoning Changes Fought

BY DOUG BEVINS (Herald Reporter)

Proposed amendments to Manchester's zoning regulations, which would allow increased non-industrial uses in residential zones, came under heavy fire from one speaker at last night's public hearing before the town's Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC).

Atty. John LaBelle, representing developer Alexander Jarvis, attacked many of the requirements proposed in the amendments, claiming they are "totally inadequate and totally discriminatory."

PZC members took no action on the amendments last night. The new amendments take effect this month.

The proposed amendments would allow new car dealers, tennis and badminton courts, skating rinks, and health and recreation clubs in industrial zones, by special exception only.

Requirements for these special exceptions include a minimum lot size (5 acres), a minimum distance from the lot to the nearest residential zone (200 feet), a maximum allowable coverage (not less than 8 feet in width containing industrial buildings, and a landscaped border (not less than 8 feet in width).

LaBelle said the special requirements are "highly discriminatory" for the commercial uses named.

LaBelle said the special requirements would be a "buffer" between industrial and residential zones, and would insure an adequate lot size for future development of the non-industrial use.

LaBelle, objecting to the entire proposed amendment, said it seems that the intent is to restrict (See Page 18)

Democrats Push Bugging Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawyers for the Democratic party try again today to file allegations that former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans played a key role in the bugging and burglaring of Democratic National Committee offices last June.

The charges are contained in an amended complaint to the civil lawsuit filed by the Democratic National Committee and Lawrence F. O'Brien, its former chairman.

Battle Raging At Quang Tri

QUANG TRI, Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese Marines fought their way into the Quang Tri Citadel today, but were encountering tough resistance. "It is still contested," one informant said.

One source estimated that about 400 North Vietnamese troops were still entrenched in the 19th century fortress whose political symbolism outweighs its military value in the battle of Quang Tri.

The battle is not yet over and the North Vietnamese have spoken against development of the land saying that a population increase in the area would cause further overcrowding of Buckley School.

PZC Chairman Wells said overcrowded schools were not within the realm of the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Richard Meister of 6 Overlook Dr., Mrs. Gladys Gernie of 431 Lydall St. and others mentioned traffic safety issues.

Ted and George Draw Full House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy has joined George McGovern on the campaign trail and together they have the largest crowd in McGovern's post-convention presidential campaign.

More than 12,000 turned out in Minneapolis Monday night to hear Kennedy declare that for voters this year, "The choice is McGovern."

Sen. Kennedy will appear with McGovern today in Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

Vice President Spiro Agnew declined an invitation to address the "Plasterers Union convention in Las Vegas when he said the Nixon administration plans to eliminate wage and price controls "as soon as we can."

Agnew also said some 2.2 million jobs have been created in little more than a year, and is in Washington, planned to meet

Nixon administration is "on the right road" to reducing unemployment.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate, Sargent Shriver, promised the convention of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers in Los Angeles that he would support McGovern.

Sen. Kennedy had difficulty quieting the crowd to begin his introduction of McGovern in Minneapolis. Recalling that Minnesota voted for John F. Kennedy in 1960, he said, "I encourage you to do the same thing for George McGovern."

McGovern earlier declared he had hit "a real sore point" in his accusations of administration favoritism of big grain corporations in the U.S.-Soviet wheat deal. He said he intends to pursue the matter.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butts, appeared at his second news conference on the McGovern charges, contended that McGovern's "personal and political motives are to undercut this sale and our efforts to improve East-West relations."

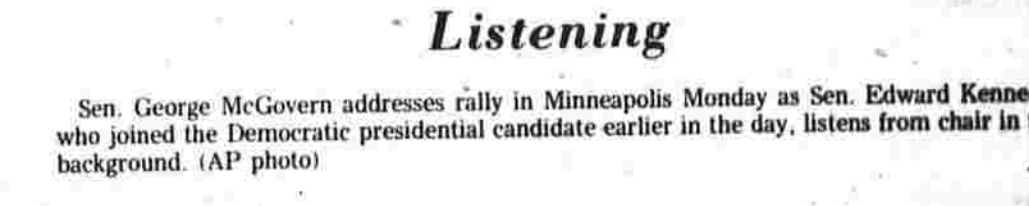

Both Agnew and Shriver were busy appealing for the labor vote. Vice President Agnew said the real wages of American workers have risen steadily under Nixon. "We still have problems and we must not neglect our problems. The unemployment rate has dropped—but not enough. But we are on the right road," he said.

The four principal Nixon committee listed cash on hand of $4.2 million as of Aug. 21, with outstanding debts of $700,000.

The Employment Shift and Housing

Seventy per cent of the housing starts in the first half of 1972 were in the South and the West where less than half the population lives. So were 66 per cent of the new jobs.

These are the findings of a semi-annual survey, U.S. Housing Markets, by Advance Mortgage Corp. of Detroit. It compares housing trends and associated economic factors in 22 major markets in the U.S.

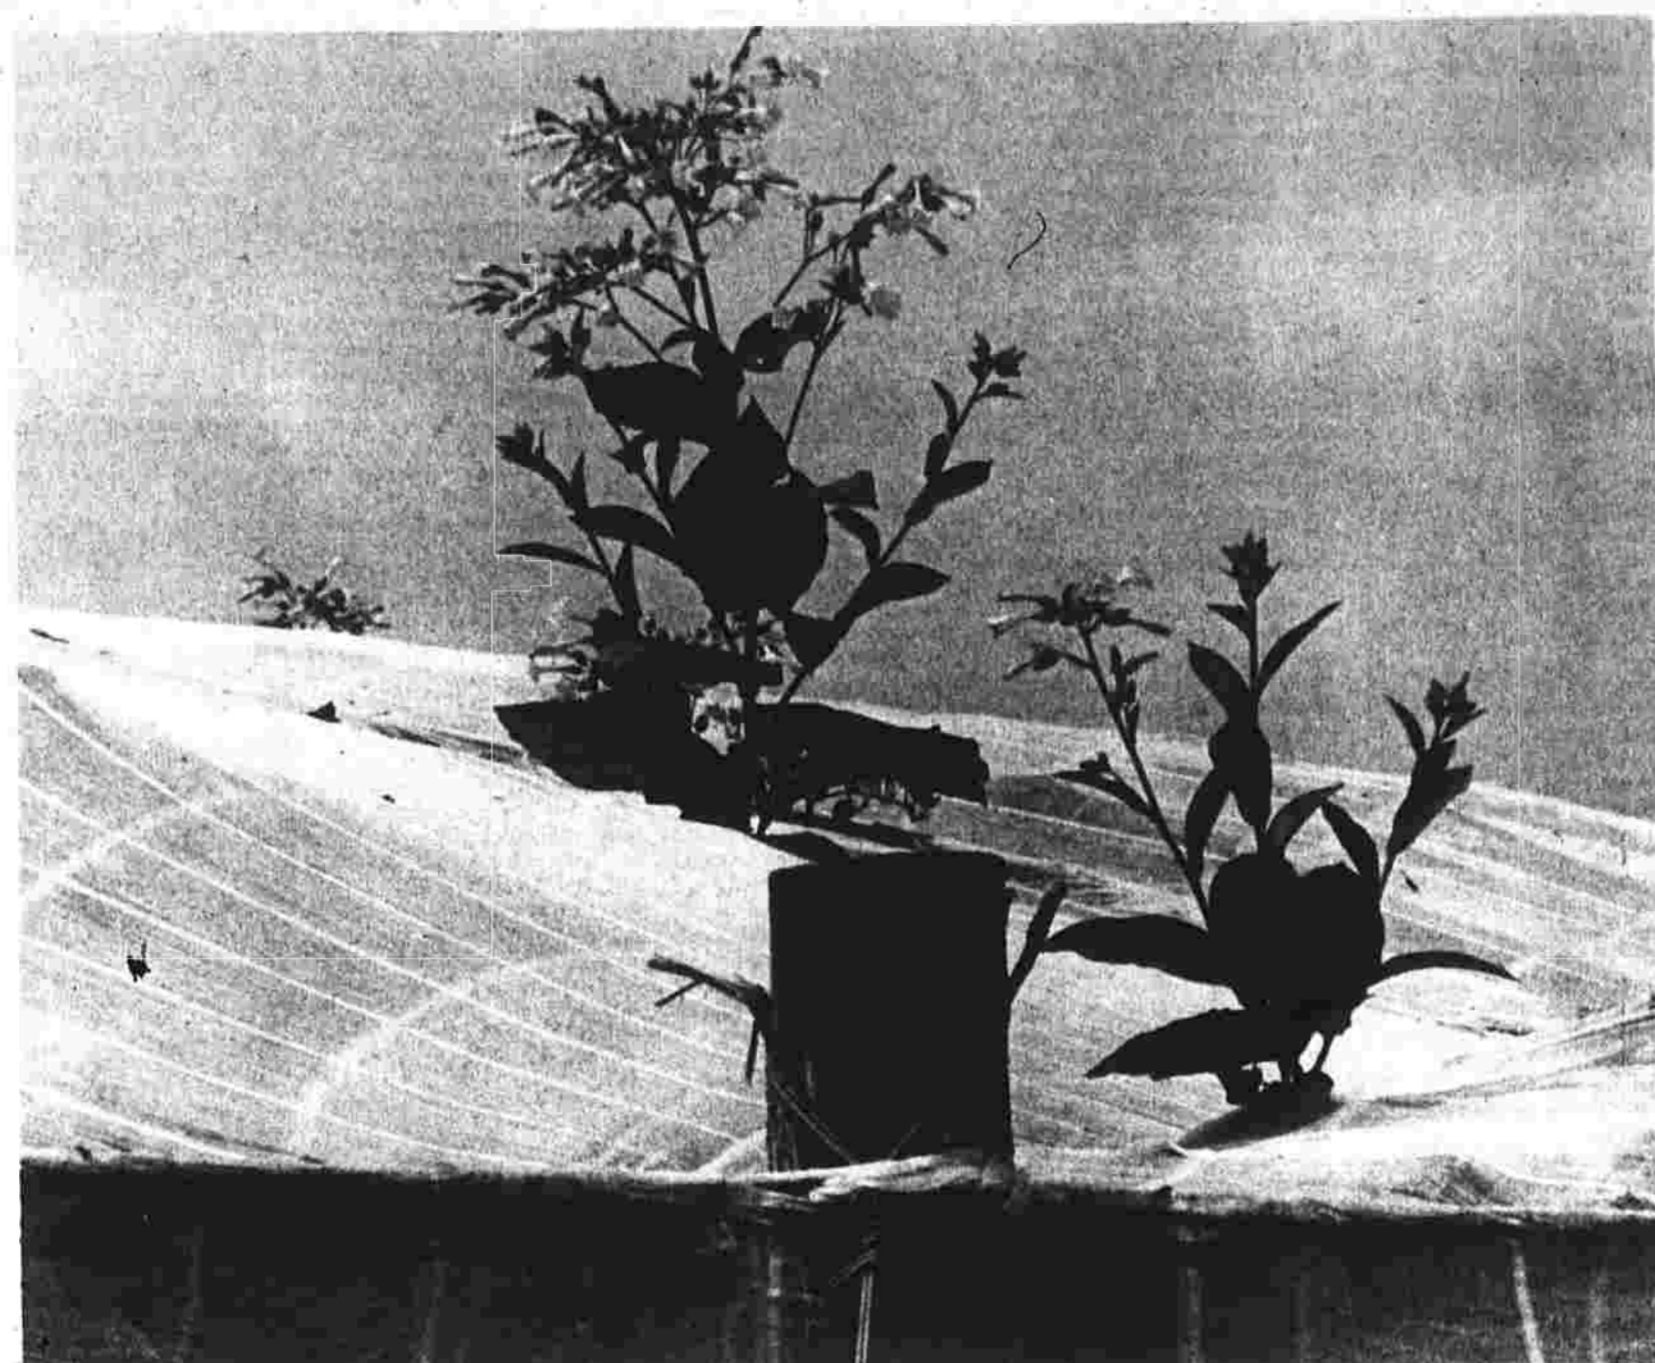

Of the record total of 1,161,000 housing starts in the first half of 1972, 532,000 were in the South and 282,000 were in the West. Florida alone, thanks largely to the impact of Disney World, issued more housing permits than the populous Northeast.

The greatest of all housing booms apparently is based on something more than a bumper supply of mortgage funds. It rests on a massive national shift of population and employment.

Some of the hottest markets in the boom are Houston, Phoenix, Denver and most of Florida.

While the housing boom is related to where the jobs are, it also appears many people are choosing the climate or environment they want to live in and are taking a chance the jobs will follow them. More and more, the jobs are doing just that.

A Challenge to UN

Perhaps no organization in history was begun with higher hopes than the United Nations, formed to resolve disputes between nations without recourse to war and to replace international anarchy with international law backed by world opinion, binding arbitration and even police force. It has accomplished a great deal of good but it has failed in important areas, one being in setting up laws of the sea.

In 1956 and 1960, conferences on the law of the sea were held in Geneva to resolve the issues of excessive jurisdictional claims and over-exploitation of fishery resources. They failed.

Meantime, the problems mount. Iceland, during its 1958-61 "cod war" with Great Britain, won the right to extend its territorial waters claim from 3 to 12 miles, an extension formally recognized in a treaty negotiated under UN auspices.

Iceland, an island Republic of 200,000 persons, reached the treaty Sept. 1, and unilaterally imposed a claim to exclusive fishing rights for 50 nautical miles around its shores.

The excessive claims of South America's Pacific coastal nation long have troubled American tuna fishermen and Russian and Japanese fishermen have shown little interest in conservation of one of mankind's greatest resources. As a result of failure to agree upon any reasonable limitation, the extermination of important species of food fish and whales is being relentlessly pursued.

The United States, Russia and Japan should press harder for UN action that would be fair and would preserve the resources of the seas they value so highly.

Inside Report

McGovern's Chaotic Campaign

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON—The root cause of organizational chaos now afflicting Sen. George McGovern's Presidential campaign can be glimpsed from the bizarre handling of the case of Richard G. Stearns, McGovern's able Western states coordinator who is under heavy Jewish political fire in California because he once signed an anti-Zionist tract as a student leader.

In a telephone call to a prominent but disgruntled Democratic friend in California two weeks ago, McGovern himself strongly implied that Stearns would have nothing more to do with the California campaign because of his negative impact on Jewish contributions.

Not only was that word from the candidate himself accepted as gospel by the California friend, but it was strongly reinforced by Sargent Shriver, McGovern's running mate.

While McGovern was talking that way on the telephone, he was telling Stearns and Gary Hart, his campaign manager, that whether or not Stearns vacated California—and presumably his role as Western states coordinator—was entirely up to Rick Stearns. At last report, Stearns had no intention of quitting as McGovern's top Washington-based California operative and Hart was solidly behind him.

Such examples of the failure of McGovern's left hand knowing what the right hand was doing are legion. Full-page newspaper ads to be published next week in Texas, for instance, include an emotional attack on the war. In Hawaii, Texas, that theme might actually lose votes for McGovern, but the political hand did not know what the media hand was doing.

The upshot of the Wednesday evening session and other meetings late last week was McGovern's statement naming O'Brien "principal spokesman" of the campaign.

That didn't go far enough to satisfy old-pro Democrats who, after months in purgatory are now being eagerly wooed by McGovern. They want O'Brien put in overall command of all aspects of the campaign with authority to cut through debilitating warfare, including disputes between Mrs. Jean Westwood, the McGovern-impersonated Democratic national chairman, and McGovern's top political aides.

Nevertheless, the changes resulting from O'Brien's veiled threat to quit the campaign are in the right direction. O'Brien has brought his own national speaking schedule to stay here for the next ten days to clamp down on feuding factions, including Mrs. Westwood's effort to take over party registration from Rep. Frank Thompson of New Jersey.

His goal, however, seems distant. Most Presidential campaigns are organized chaos, but this one is close to chaotic disorganization.

1) "Loud, abusive, and obscene language."

2) "I challenge the MPOA to find a large crowd of youngsters and adults in a similar atmosphere; who are totally free of bad language. Why single out the SAM functions for blame? And, I point out the presence of the police to correct any violations."

3) "The disregard for private property, with beer and soda cans and bottles thrown from cars onto people's lawns and lawns."

4) "The MPOA has a point here. People should not litter someone's private property. But what has been done to do with SAM? People throw around town in cars are not the responsibility of SAM."

Perhaps some may be headed for the concerts. Who can say for sure. More conjecture can carry no weight.

Manchester feels a need for SAM on two levels, the citizen level, as evidenced by the large crowds attending the programs; and the governing level, as evidenced by the fact that they gave the go-ahead to put SAM in operation. Some of SAM's up-to-date means of combating the forces of evil. (Waterbury Republican)

New England Crime

The land which gave hope and sustenance to our forefathers in the latter days of the 1600s is making a new mark for itself. Latest FBI figures indicate that serious crime increased in New England by a higher percentage than in any other region of the nation. This is in contrast to the politically-oriented comment of Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst relative to a softening-nationwide-of the crime impact in 1971.

The figures that the Attorney General uses to bolster his claim of a steady down-turn in crime rates since 1969, the year that President Nixon went into office, include crimes against property, as well as violence, the former actually being the types that proceed the drop-off.

Nevertheless New England has every right to be concerned over figures indicating that violent crimes soared 24 per cent last year over 1970. That's too substantial an increase and one of which we can't very well be proud. Even in New England crimes against property went up 13.5 per cent.

This must be prime territory for the car thieves, too. For the nation car thefts only increased 2.1 per cent, but in New England there was a whopping 13.2 per cent rise with Massachusetts (56,709 cars stolen) and Connecticut (16,811 cars stolen) leading the way. Other figures show we are more car-theft-prone than any of the other states.

THE FOG COMES ON LITTLE CAT FEET

Board To Discuss Case Mt. Purchase

Last week it was the public's turn to discuss town acquisition of a 212-acre tract of Case Mt. Tonight it will be the turn of the Manchester Board of Directors to discuss the proposal - first backed by the Conservation Commission in 1965.

The commission is asking the directors to appropriate $150,000, as the town's 25 per cent share of the $600,000 purchase price. HUD (the federal department of Housing and Urban Development) has set aside $300,000 toward the acquisition, provided the town and the state each supply $150,000. An application has been submitted to the state for its $150,000 share.

The proposal for town acquisition of the Case Mt. tract, owned by three descendants of the Case family, follows unsuccessful attempts in the 1967 and 1969 and the 1971 General Assemblies to have the State of Connecticut acquire the property and maintain it as a state park.

At last week's discussion, opponents of Case Mt. acquisition urged the Board of Directors to place the proposal before the public as a referendum item.

Tonight's entire agenda consists of proposed appropriations and allocations, including an $18,900 allocation for constructing a paper recycling station at the Otcott St. Disposal Area.

Circle Associates Bid For Rezoning Rejected

A zone change sought by Circle Associates for a 3.8-acre parcel on Hartford Rd. was unanimously denied by the Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission last night.

The parcel, on the south side of Hartford Rd. east of 388 Hartford Rd., is now in an Industrial Zone. The Circle Associates was seeking rezoning to Business 4 to allow construction of a Seven-Eleven convenience food store, according to the firm's attorney, Leon Podroze.

Atty. Podroze said today he is uncertain at this time what further action Circle Associates may take regarding the property.

On other business last night, the Planning and Zoning Commission: —Unanimously endorsed the town Public Works Department plan to enlarge its Otcott St. facility by constructing a garage. The town is seeking a federal grant to fund 80 per cent of the estimated $495,000 cost of the garage.

—Approved minor changes in plans for Squire Village, a federally sponsored 374-unit apartment complex on 23 acres of land off Spencer St. The changes include adjustment of a proposed street layout, switches in location of some units, and plans for a community building.

Kindergarten Is Not Goodbye

I didn't shed a tear the day my youngest child left for kindergarten. I hugged him goodbye and waved back just once. Then I went home and made a pot of black coffee.

The quiet of the house was exhilarating. "I'm alone," I said to myself with disbelief. "For the first time in 19 years I'm all alone. I've got two hours and fifteen minutes for ME. I can just sit here and eat coffee cake. I can go back to bed with a book. I can create beautiful things like hooked rugs or creweled macramé. I can write deep soul-searching poetry. I can play the piano (without the kids contributing their chords or I can enroll in a course in Byzantine art or Spanish or Yoga!"

Hummm. Yoga. Maybe that's the thing to start with. Everyone is talking about it. It's sort of the IN thing. And from the pictures I've seen, these Yoga enthusiasts look so peaceful. Why there are 80-year-old women who stand on their heads and think beautiful thoughts. Yoga is for me.

When my son and I met over our peanut butter sandwiches at noon, it was a difficult relationship. The two hours and 15 minutes had given us all manner of new things to share with each other.

He was flushed with excitement and eager to tell every detail. First he handed me a finger painting, a glorious swirl of yellow and red and blue. "It's magnificent," I said pinning it to the bulletin board with a flourish. "Now tell me more."

"Well, there's a play house this big," he said holding up both his arms, "and there's a fish tank with a castle for the fish to live in." Our teacher is going to teach us to read. And you know what, he confided proudly, "she picked me to be the leader of the laboratory line!"

"What a great morning," I cried. "But now it's MY turn to shine! While you were busy at school, I did some thinking and have decided to take Yoga lessons so that I will stay young forever!"

"How would you like?" I questioned, getting down on the kitchen floor with a thud, "to see your mother sit in the lotus position?"

You will find that the pointed end of a vegetable peeler makes a handy berry stemmer.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB
Depends on the Problem
Treatment for Heart Murmur

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—My husband is 73 years old and has a heart murmur which he has had for many years. Most doctors have made light of it, but the last doctor he saw gave him digitalis tablets and the doctor said his heart was sluggish. Is there an exercise to strengthen his heart muscle? He also has to take a Hydrodiuril pill once a day. He was X-rayed and they found the bladder was holding water. What causes this? Is the Hydrodiuril pill for the bladder? I'd appreciate your explaining this and would like to know the best thing to do and if there is a cure for the heart murmur through exercise.

Dear Reader—Heart murmurs can mean a number of different things. They can be innocent findings in a young child, or they can be an indication of disease of valves in the heart or other evidence of heart disease. Whether or not the murmur is important the older a person gets in our society it is common for there to be fatty changes or arteriosclerosis in the arteries to the heart muscle.

If this condition or other defects of the heart cause the heart muscle to become weakened, then the individual has what we call heart failure. Expressed simply, this means that the heart muscle is too weak to do an efficient job of pumping the blood. When this occurs the body tends to retain salt and with the salt, the body retains water.

It's a common and very good treatment in most of these conditions. To give the patient digitalis. This heart medicine stimulates the heart muscle to contract more efficiently and helps the heart to improve its ability in pumping blood. When it does this successfully, the improved circulation mobilizes the excess fluid and salt and they are eliminated by the kidney.

Sometimes it helps the elimination of the excess salt and water, the patient will take a water pill or Hydrodiuril to help. The purpose of this pill is strictly limited to helping the person get rid of the excess salt and the water. It has nothing to do with the bladder.

It is very important that a person who is taking any of the digitalis medicines and a water pill for heart problems continue to take them exactly as he has been told to do. Usually the individual needs to take the digitalis for life. It is dangerous to stop taking such medicines without the specific approval of your doctor.

Although exercise is wonderful for preventing heart disease and preventing heart attacks, it has absolutely no use whatever in the treatment of heart failure and can even be harmful. The heart fails because the muscle is already overloaded or worked beyond its capacity. The heart's capacity has been limited because the disease is already present. Exercise requires the heart to work harder and when the heart is already unable to pump enough blood for resting circumstances it only makes matters worse. Most doctors tell individuals with heart failure to limit their activity.

The retention of urine in the bladder is most likely related to an obstruction to the outflow of the bladder caused by an enlarged prostate gland.

For convenience, keep on hand seasoning (for the correct proportion for flouring chicken, steak, other meats or gravies, is one teaspoon pepper, four teaspoons salt, and four teaspoons paprika to one cup of flour.

Combine one can of cream style corn, one can of evaporated milk, two tablespoons of chopped sautéed onions, two tablespoons chopped crisp bacon bits and one-fourth teaspoon of sugar. Salt and pepper to taste. Heat through and serve hot.

Engaged

Chief Justice and Mrs. Charles S. House of 150 Wetherell announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Anne, Dr. Jeremiah M. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sullivan of Old Orchard Beach, Maine.

Miss House, a graduate of Manchester High School, received her AB degree in 1969 from Wellesley College and her M.P.H. from the University of Michigan in 1971. She is youth program coordinator of the Washington County League of Planned Parenthood in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Dr. Sullivan, a graduate of The Kent School, received his AB degree in 1961 and his Ph.D. in economics in 1971 from Princeton University. He has served with the rank of lieutenant in the U.S. Navy and is presently a staff associate with the Population Council in New York City.

A small family wedding is planned for the fall.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!
Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home.

This is honestly a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $2.00 ($2.25 for Rush Service) - cash is O.K. - to: R.D.S. Products, P.O. Box 834, Dept. 19, Del Mar, California 92014. Don't order unless you want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do!

Nelson Firm Fined $1,000

Nelson Freightways Inc. of 47 East St., Rockville, was fined $1,000 in U. S. District Court Monday, by Judge M. Joseph Blumenfeld after Russell Callahan, vice president of the company entered a plea of guilty to ten counts involving charges made by the United States Government concerning company truck drivers working overtime. The company was charged with 20 counts of permitting or requiring drivers to drive after having been on duty 15 hours following eight consecutive hours of duty.

Because of the increasing number of measles cases in Connecticut since 1971, the MPHNA is hopeful of a good response. Failure to immunize has been given as the reason for the outbreaks of the disease in this state.

Agnew Asks N-Test Cut

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Vice President Spiro Agnew says he thinks the United States should perform no more nuclear testing than is essential for national security.

But, he said Sunday at a brief news conference, "we must not be deterred in our testing where the security of our country is at stake because of the fears of nonnuclear people."

Agnew, who made the comments after landing at nearby Nellis Air Force Base, speaks here today at the annual convention of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers Union.

Lipstreu Directs Services Center

Gary Lipstreu, former professional case worker for the Tri-town area of Vernon, Tolland and Ellington, for Big Brothers Inc., has been appointed director of the Hockanum Valley Community Services Center which will officially open the end of this month. Lipstreu, who has been active in helping to organize the center, will have among his administrative duties, the task of developing programs for the center, guiding fund raising events and acting as general overseer of the center and its workings. The new center, organized by the Hockanum Valley Community Services Council, Inc., under the direction of Mrs. Helen Abaza, will consist of:

Andover Schools Cut One Bus

Classes started at the Andover Elementary School this year with one less teacher and one less bus run, due primarily to the decreased enrollment from last year.

A rash of resignations among the teachers last year, due mostly to pregnancies and teachers coming to advance their education, required the hiring of new teachers.

Ralph Patterson, a graduate of the Hart College of Music in Hartford, is the school's new music teacher. He is replacing Miss Susan Borst, School Principal Donald Libby said.

A particular need for more skilled and semi-skilled tradesmen has been voiced by an electrician in setting up an electrical shop in Temuco, Chile.

Because of this need for certain skilled men, the Peace Corps now accepts limited numbers of tradesmen with families to meet this need. Murray said the objective of the drive is 200 recruits and the team will be available to answer any questions from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. through Friday. Those interested are invited to call 525-9389.

To give impetus to the drive, Gov. Thomas Meskill has proclaimed September as Peace Corps VISTA Month in Connecticut and expressed his thanks to the 1,230 state residents who have served with the Peace Corps and VISTA.

Mrs. Lois Dunham of 99 Baltista Rd., Manchester, is this year's United Fund committee chairman for Manchester Memorial Hospital.

The $72 United Appeal Drive for the United Fund Drive in Manchester has set a goal of $25,000 and is being conducted throughout the Manchester area now through the end of September.

Mrs. Dunham, purchasing agent for Manchester Memorial Hospital, is also president of the MMH Employees Club. She is serving as secretary of the board of directors of the hospital.

Mrs. Dunham resides with her daughter, Linda, and they both enjoy camping.

Commenting on the current fund drive, Mrs. Dunham said, "I am sure that this will be a record year for the United Fund. Manchester Memorial Hospital will be giving its full support."

Peace Corps, VISTA Seek 200 Recruits

A recruiting drive will continue through Friday to obtain volunteers to serve in the Peace Corps and VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America).

A team of special recruiters, headed by Chuck Murray, a former Peace Corpsman who served in Chile, are located at the Shoreham III Motor Lodge on Asylum Ave. in Hartford to answer questions concerning either program.

Drug Center Names Aide

Bruno Lozio, of Manchester, has been named assistant coordinator of Crossroads, the Drug Advisory Center at 33 Park St.

Lozio, formerly of New Jersey, attended Boston College, in Boston, Mass. where he graduated magna cum laude with a BA degree in psychology. He also majored in philosophy and minored in theology.

Currently attending the University of Hartford as a second year graduate student in clinical psychology for his master's degree, Lozio has worked with emotionally disturbed children in Boston.

He has also taught religious education at both the grammar school and high school level. Experienced in group youth counseling, he is currently doing individual drug counseling and preparing to co-lead groups at the Drug Center.

The Purpose of Crossroads is threefold: to provide the troubled youth of the drug sub-culture with a corrective emotional environment through counseling and group programs; to educate professionals and paraprofessionals and the general adult and youth population of Manchester to the facts of drug use and abuse, and what steps each of these groups can take to deal with this problem; and to make appropriate referral services available to youth whose problems are only incidentally drug related.

$20,000 Sale Almost Lost

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A suburban Richmond Heights woman who lost $20,000 from the sale of a pizza parlor recovered it all this week after a neighbor found it scattered along the street.

Mrs. Robert J. Horvath said she put her purse containing the money on the roof of her car and forgot to put the purse in the car when she drove off to deposit it in the bank Thursday.

"I was hysterical," she recalled, "I never thought I'd see it again."

A half hour after she returned home, Mrs. Joseph J. Merhar, a neighbor, telephoned to say her husband had spotted the purse and other items strewn along the road and gathered it up.

"He never really saw all the money or checks to find out how much there was," Mrs. Horvath said. "When I told him, he nearly fell over."

Money Will Be Used for School

If Jimmy Goshdigian, 26-year-old former golf pro at Goodwin Park in Hartford can repulse the challenge of Tom Lupinacci of the Greenwich Country Club today in the 18-hole playoff for the Manchester Open crown, he'll spend the $1,000 on his expenses to the PGA School in Rockville, Md., starting Sept. 28.

The three-year pro, who spent parts of two years, 1967 and 1968 in Vietnam with an infantry unit in the Army's First Division, has one career ambition and that is to qualify and play the PGA tour.

"This will be my third try," the dark-haired Goshdigian said after he came in with a three-under par 69 yesterday to lead the field at the time. "The first time I missed making the PGA tour by one stroke. Last year I missed by seven but I feel now that I'm better prepared. I'm putting much better now than at any time during the past two years."

Goshdigian posted 75 scores in his two previous appearances at the local course, in last year's Open and in the Pro-Amateur earlier this season. This year's Open marked his fourth try, having competed twice as an amateur and a like number of times as a pro.

"I drove the ball real well and I had only 31 putts," he said. "It will be all golf at the school, 72 holes spread over four days, with the top players going on to the National School for 100 more holes. I really feel that I'm ready," the teaching pro related.

Goshdigian's previous biggest money win was about $400 in the Jordan Open in Maine. He's sure of at least $500 today and if he wins, it will be double that amount.

Both finalists carded five birds and had two bogeys in their 69 rounds over the par 36-36-72 layout.

Goshdigian dropped in three beauties, 35 feet on the fourth hole, 46 feet on the seventh and 60 feet on the 11th. He also birdied the 10th and 13th. Bogeys came on the ninth and 16th. On the 14th, despite getting into the water, Goshdigian still managed to par the hole.

Lupinacci started with a bird on the first, third and fourth holes and on the back side did the same on No. 12 and No. 17. He was one over on the seventh and 11th.

The long-hitting down-stater turned in a 76 in last year's Open here.

Among his accomplishments was a win in the Assistant Professionals' New York Metropolitan Tournament, a second in the Westchester PGA last year and an eighth spot this season.

"This is a real sporty layout and is in much better condition than courses down our way. In fact, this course is in super shape," he added which should make Greenskeeper Dick Whelan feel good.

Lupinacci is now in his eighth year as a pro and his third at Greenwich.

One thing certain, by late afternoon a new name will be inscribed on the Manchester Open plaque as neither man has ever won before.

Goshdigian, Lupinacci in Open Playoff

Hilinski Leading Amateur

By EARL YOST

Defending Champ Don Parson Smiles ... As Does Co-Leader Jim Goshdigian

What a record field of 437 amateur and professional golfers failed to do in competition Sunday and Monday at the Manchester Open at the Manchester Country Club which was decided today in an 18-hole playoff.

After the smoke of battle had cleared shortly after darkness surrounded the course last night, professional Jim Goshdigian, who plays unattached out of Hartford, and lanky Tom Lupinacci, assistant pro at the Greenwich Country Club, wound up in a deadlock for top honors in the two-day play with sparkling three under par 69 rounds.

Goshdigian, 26, and the 28-year-old Lupinacci were to meet head-on shortly after noon today with the winner taking home a check for $1,000 and the loser half that amount.

The two young pros wiped out earlier pace-setting 71 scores which were turned in by Dick Stranahan, a one-time touring pro, now in Longmeadow, Mass., and amateur Stan Hilinski, the current Manchester Country Club champion.

"Sunday's sole leader, when play was restricted to amateurs only, was Fred Kaak of Wetherfield, who matched par with a 72 score. He was 34-38 over the 36-36-72 layout.

Yesterday's activity was limited to professionals and amateurs with handicaps of three or less.

Today's playoff marks the eighth time extra holes were necessary to determine a winner.

The weather was nearly perfect for both days and a field of 202 took part yesterday—96 pros and 26 amateurs—and with 235 entered on Sunday the grand total of 437 eclipsed the former record of 415 set in 1968. This year's play also marked the fourth time the entry went over the 400 mark in contestants. A year ago 400 golfers took part.

Defending champion Don Parson, pro at Cohasset and the only man to win the Open both as an amateur and as a pro, was one over par at 71 and had to share third place honors with Hilinski, Stranahan and pro Chet Wozack of Newtown.

Stranahan's winning score of 65 in 1970 is an Open record. The course has since been altered and par increased from 70 to 72.

It was necessary both days to use automobile headlights to assist late starters to finish the final two holes.

1972 Olympic Games in Review Problems for Prexy

MUNICH (AP) — Lord Killinan of Ireland took 'over today as the new president of the International Olympic Committee with a briefcase full of problems to be solved before the next Olympic Games in Montreal in 1976.

The Games of the XX Olympiad, bloodstained by murder and rocked by political strife, ended in Munich's Olympic Stadium Monday.

As the Olympic flame was extinguished and the Olympic flag came down, Avery Brundage stepped down too—after 20 years as IOC president.

Killinan and his committee now have to think about the Olympics of the future. One of their problems is the sheer growth of the games.

In the Munich Olympics about 8,000 athletes competed. For two weeks before the games began the black African countries fought to stop the Rhodesian team from competing.

That, the critics said, was the first big dent in the image of the Olympics, which had been driven to free of political pressures.

Then, when the Olympics had been in progress for 10 days, the friendly atmosphere of Olympic village was shattered by the Arab guerrillas who broke in with sub-machine guns and held members of the Israeli team as hostages. On that day 11 Israelis died—either murdered in their quarters in the village or shot down in the gun battle between the Arabs and German police at a nearby air base late in the evening.

Many believed the games would be abandoned. Some thought the Olympics might never start again.

But Brundage, speaking at a memorial service for the dead Israelis the next morning, announced the games "must go on."

With flags at half staff but the flame still burning in its cauldron in the stadium, the Olympics continued under a dark shadow. When the shootings and the political wrangling had been left behind, the IOC stamped hard on athletes who were judged to have broken the Olympic code.

Vince Matthews and Wayne Collett, Americans who won the gold and silver medals respectively, in the 400 meters, were banned from further Olympic competition for life because they turned their backs on the American flag during the medals ceremony.

All 11 members of the Pakistan field hockey squad were given a similar ban for failing to stand at attention for the West German national anthem. West Germany had used Pakistan, the defending champions, 1-0, in the final.

Rick DeMont, 16-year-old American swimmer, was deprived of his gold medal in the 400 meters freestyle after failing a drugs test.

When it came down to the sports themselves the main talking point was the decline of the United States in the face of a growing challenge from the athletes of Europe.

Track and field events which Americans previously had dominated—the sprints, the pole vault and the discus throw—went this time to Eastern Europe.

The Americans even lost the basketball title—the sport they gave to the world. Russia beat the United States 51-50 in a dramatic final with bitter overtones. The Americans filed a protest and refused to accept the silver medals.

The 1972 Olympics produced athletes whose names will be talked about for years to come. Valery Borzov, the red-headed Russian, won both the 100 and 200 meters sprints—the first non-American ever to achieve the feat.

Mark Spitz, the mustachioed California swimmer, smashed all Olympic records by winning seven gold medals in swimming.

Russia led the overall medals tabulation with 50 golds, 27 silvers and 22 bronzes—a total of 99.

The United States collected 94 medals, but only 23 of them were gold. East Germany won 20 gold medals and West Germany and Japan 13 each.

MUNICH 1972

Closing Ceremony at Munich

Athletes Joyful At Final Ceremony

MUNICH (AP)—The organizers planned it solemnly, but the athletes made the closing Olympic ceremony their own—joyously.

Olympians from Great Britain formed a human chain and snake danced their way into the stadium as it determined to end the Summer Games on a happy note instead of to the strains of tragedy that struck just a week ago.

Competitors from other countries mingled hand-in-hand, arm-in-arm, shoulder to shoulder in animated conversation and gestures of good will as flags of all nations wreathed the 80,000-seat Stadium, signaling international unity.

But one nation—Israel—was represented only by a placard. Eleven of its team died at the hands of Arab terrorists last Tuesday. The others returned home with their dead comrades.

One flag—that of Israel—flew at half staff as a memorial.

Avery Brundage strode to a platform and bade farewell to the XX Olympiad and 20 years as president of the International Olympic Committee. He left with one hand leaning heavily on the shoulder of an escort.

There was a moment of silence in memory of the dead Israelis. The lights dimmed and the Olympic flame that had burned for 17 days flickered, then was extinguished.

Cannoners gave a five-gun salute, the official Olympic flag was lowered and the Olympic anthem was played.

Pump and circumstance then gave way to the athletes—some proud owners of Olympic medals.

Guess What

Constitution Week is September 17-23

The Constitution is an important paper that gives the laws of our country. The rights of its citizens originate from the National Archives Building in Washington, D.C.

Some people felt that the Constitution did not give enough rights. Two years later, more laws were called. These were called AMENDMENTS. The BILL OF RIGHTS. They gave freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of religion, and the right to a fair trial.

George Washington was in charge of the meeting when the Constitution was written. Thirty nine men from 12 of the first 13 states signed it on September 17, 1787.

Citizenship Day is September 17

Citizenship Day is a special day set aside by congress to honor young Americans who have reached the age to vote. This day also honors people from other lands who have just become American citizens.

American League East Pennant Scramble Whackier Than Ever

NEW YORK (AP)— Baseball is going through its annual September Scramble and as the days dwindle down to a precious few, the chase for the American League East pennant gets whackier and whackier.

Front-running Boston, for example, had its lead trimmed to one-half game by losing to Cleveland 5-3 Monday night on a sacrifice fly that turned into a double play. And Baltimore closed the gap with a 2-1 victory over Milwaukee, thanks to a friendly foul pole that turned a potential home run into a long strike.

Cleveland's winning run against the Red Sox came on a sacrifice fly that outfielder Ben Oglive dropped and then cleverly turned into a double play. The DP erased what would have been an error for the rookie outfielder, but the fly ball got home the run that beat Boston.

Meanwhile, Baltimore used Boog Powell's first home run in more than three weeks to trip Milwaukee. But the Birds had a ninth inning scare as pinch hitter Joe Labow crashed a two-out shot into the right field bleachers barely foul. A few feet the other way, and the Orioles would have been on the short end of the score.

The other AL East contenders splashed through 3 1/2 innings before the rain took over and the Yankees beat the Tigers 4-2. The victory moved New York into third place, 1 1/2 games behind Boston. Detroit slipped to fourth, two games of the Red Sox pace.

In the AL West, Chicago moved to within two games of Oakland by beating Kansas City 2-1 while the A's were losing a doubleheader to Minnesota, 2-1 and 3-2. Texas and California weren't scheduled.

Only three National League games were played Monday night. The New York Mets trimmed Philadelphia and Steve Carlton, 4-2. Montreal shut out St. Louis 4-0 and Houston topped Los Angeles 4-3.

INDIANS-RED SOX

The Red Sox flexed their muscles with home runs by Carl Yastrzemski, Reggie Smith, Carlton Fisk and even relief pitcher Bill Lee while Jack Brobauer and Tom McCraw connected for the Indians.

The store was 5-5 in the sixth following Lee's homer when the Indians scored the deciding run. Cleveland loaded the bases on Buddy Bell's single, a hit batsman, a sacrifice and an intentional walk. Then Roy Foster fled to Oglive.

The rookie dropped the ball but recovered in time to force Jack Heidenmann at third and when Foster passed another runner on the basepaths, he also was declared out. But Bando in the top of the ninth.

Danny Thompson singled in the bottom of the ninth and then raced home on Reese's two-base hit.

In the nightcap, Reese drove in the winning run again, this time driving a bases-loaded walk with two out in the eighth inning. Bert Blyleven earned the victory with eight strikeouts and a pair of walks while the A's were losing a pair to Minnesota.

DICK ALLEN'S 34th HOME RUN—a White Sox record—accounted for all the Chicago runs and Tom Bradley allowed just three hits for the victory.

Allen, the AL's leader in homers, runs batted in (104) and second in batting average (.316), connected in the first inning and Bradley protected the slim edge into the ninth. When Steve Hovley bagged a KC homer in the ninth, Terry Foster came on to get the final out.

METS-PILLS

In the NL, the Mets frustrated Carlton's bid for a 24th victory, beating the Phillie ace with catcher Duffy Dyer pacing the offense. Dyer drove in three runs with a homer, triple and ground out.

Believer Rolfe Fingers was tagged with both losses for the A's.

EXPOS-CARDS

Mike Jorgensen also drove in three runs for Montreal as the Expos blanked St. Louis on Balor Moore's five-hitter and moved into a tie with the Cards for fourth place in the East Division.

ASTROS-DODGERS

Jimmy Wynn hit a triple to drive in a run and homered for another run for Houston. The ninth-inning homer was his 32nd of the season. Don Wilson, 13-2, was the Astro winner with relief help from Jerry Reuss.

Colts Say Mackey Retired But Vet Denies Statement

BALTIMORE (AP)— John Mackey, voted the best tight end during the first 50 years of pro football, refuses to be Baltimore Colts.

But the veteran of nine seasons in the National Football League denies a club statement that he has retired from the sport.

The Colts announced Mackey had retired Monday after reporting they had been unsuccessful in attempting to trade the 30-year-old tight end to any of the other 12 American Conference teams.

Mackey denied he had retired and also charged that the Colts had released to place him on waivers or return him outright.

"If no one wants me," Mackey said, "I don't understand why they don't release me or put me on waivers. They have nothing to lose."

Mackey said, "I'm healthy, able and looking for a new team and a new coach. If I'm not given an opportunity to play, it's like preventing me from earning a living."

Mackey, president of the National Football League Players Association, said his lawyers were checking into aspects of his case. He also reported that Ed

Garvey, executive director of the players' union, would talk with the league office today.

Mackey said he was asked to be traded during the off-season, and then reiterated his request Monday after being told by Coach Don McCafferty that Tom Mitchell would start at tight end in next Sunday's NFL season opener.

"I asked them to put me on waivers if they couldn't make a deal," Mackey said, "but McCafferty said he didn't want to put a player of my stature on waivers."

"I don't know why not," Mackey said sarcastically, "when I'm only a second-stringer and no one wants me."

Under NFL rules, trades at this time of year are only possible within the two conferences. But if Mackey were to be placed on waivers or released, he could be picked up by a team in the National Conference.

Mackey was not the only player to express his opinion about his coach. Veteran fullback Gnom Woodeshick, cut by the Philadelphia Eagles, said he was "extremely bitter" at coach Ed Khayat.

Woodeshick said the Eagles are "completely demoralized" under Khayat. "The military discipline of Khayat is completely contrary to lifestyles of the Eagles. They haven't been able to accept the mandate of short hair and wing-tipped shoes."

The Eagles also cut another veteran fullback Jim Nance, the leading ground gainer in the old AFL with the Boston Patriots, along with defensive end Don Brumm and linebacker Will Foster.

Other NFL clubs also got down to the 40-player limit for the opening of the regular season Sunday. Today is the deadline to reach the limit.

Dallas reached the limit by putting five on no-recall waivers, linebacker Lee Roy Cayley, guard Brian Goodman, running back Harvey Phillips and wide receivers Charles McKee and Robert West.

Atlanta cut punter Billy Lott, one of the original Falcons, along with quarterback Leo Hart, tackle Steve Okoniewski and running back Bill Holland.

Linebacker Steve Kiner of Washington, linebacker Ralph Heck of the New York Giants, wide receiver John Spill of Green Bay and defensive back Dennis Pate of Cincinnati were among others cut.

Tigers Host Orioles, Red Sox Play Yanks

DETROIT (AP)—The rain didn't fall quite soon enough Monday night for Detroit—and now the Tigers are in fourth place for the first time this year.

Perhaps they should be thankful their 4-2 loss to New York halted only five innings—it prevented possible further embarrassment.

The outcome gave the Yankees a sweep of the three-game series as the struggling Tigers continued to look less and less like a pennant contender. Yet, despite the loss, Detroit is still right in the race with Boston, Baltimore and New York in the American League East.

Leader Boston lost to Cleveland and the Tigers remained two games behind. But Baltimore climbed within half a game with a triumph over Milwaukee and the Yankees replaced Detroit in third, 1 1/2 games out.

"With four ball clubs so close, all this sweep means is that we have a win and have to win again tomorrow," said Yankee manager Ralph Houk.

"No way are the Tigers going to fade. They're right in it. I don't think you can say one club has that big of an advantage."

Detroit hosts the Orioles tonight in the first of two games—the last two of the year against Baltimore. The Yankees entertain Boston in the first of two games against the Red Sox.

Woodie Fryman, 5-2, was to pitch against the Birds' Pat Dobson, 15-15, while New York was to send Fritz Peterson against Luis Tiant.

Consecutive fourth inning homers by Bobby Murcer and Felipe Alou gave New York the lead for keeps. Murcer's homer was his 28th of the year and one of three hits in the game for the Yankee center fielder. Alou's shot was the 200th of his major league career.

College Football Poll USC Stands No. 1, Nebraska Skids

NEW YORK (AP)— Southern California has replaced Nebraska as the nation's top-ranked college football team.

The Trojans shot all the way from eighth place to the top following an impressive 31-0 rout at Arkansas while Nebraska's two-time national champions skidded down to 10th.

Southern Cal received 13 first-place votes and 77 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters and won a close race with Colorado and Ohio State.

Colorado, also runner-up in the pre-season poll, received 12 first-place ballots and 70 points from a 20-0 triumph over California. Ohio State, which doesn't open its season until Saturday, got five No. 1 votes and 710 points.

The preseason rankings showed Colorado and Ohio State behind Nebraska.

Twelve first-place votes and 694 points went to Oklahoma, also idle last week, which climbed from sixth to fourth. The Sooners were national runners-up last season.

Alabama replaced Penn State in fifth place by whipping Duke 35-12 while the Nittany Lions were idle. Penn State, with one first-place vote, slipped to sixth, followed by Tennessee, which thrashed Georgia Tech 34-3 and also earned one first-place ballot.

Animal of the Week: The Llama

Llamas live in South America. They are very close kin to the camel. They are very good for carrying things over the mountains and have been used as pack animals for thousands of years. Llamas are very stubborn and will not move if they are asked to carry a load that is too big. Llamas will spit if they get very angry. Just about every part of the llama is useful to the Indians that live in South America. They use the wool for making clothes. They make sandals out of the skin. They can even make sandals from the hair. They live on the mountains and they can go without water for long periods of time.

Smaller States Hit By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) - Small states would get more funds and subsidies under a revenue-sharing bill passed by the Senate becomes law instead of the version approved earlier by the House.

The prospect, however, is for some sort of compromise to emerge from what is expected to be a long and difficult conference between spokesmen for the two houses.

The Senate, which passed the bill 63 to 20 Tuesday night, deleted House-passed provisions that would have encouraged states to impose or increase their own income taxes.

Hewing more closely than the House to President Nixon's concept of no-strings distributions to states and local governments, the Senate deleted requirements that the local funds be spent for certain broad categories of services.

Finally, the Senate wrote into the measure a whole new section designed to limit the flow of federal funds to the states in matching social-services grants.

Apart from these grants, the two versions of the bill would funnel the same amount of money to the states and local governments. $2.3 billion this year, increasing annually to bring the five-year payout to $29.6 billion.

But the proposed formulas for distributing the funds differ sharply.

The House version would distribute in the first year $1.8 billion to states on a formula based half on total state tax effort and half on state income taxes.

This would reward those states imposing substantial income taxes of their own.

The House bill would allocate another $3.5 billion to cities and other local governments under a formula based on total population, urban concentrations and population, and need as determined by per-capita income.

Under the Senate bill, both distributions would be made on...

MIGs, Phantom Victims of Raid

SAIGON (AP) - Three North Vietnamese MIGs and a U.S. Phantom were shot down Monday and Tuesday north and west of Hanoi, and the total of American aircraft reported missing in the new bombing campaign against North Vietnam reached 100, the U.S. Command announced today.

The three MIG 21s were downed Tuesday by F4 Phantoms, America's fastest fighters. It was the first time since May 10 that American pilots shot down three enemy interceptors in one day, the 7th Air Force said.

The MIGs were shot down with missiles and cannon fire at points 15 miles northwest, 60 miles northwest and 50 miles west of Hanoi, the Air Force said.

While spokesmen said the American fighters came away from Tuesday's dog-fights unscathed, they reported that a MIG downed a Phantom 48 miles northeast of Hanoi Monday.

The Phantom's two crewmen were missing, raising to 100 the number of American aircraft listed as missing over North Vietnam since the enemy offensive began March 30, the U.S. Command said. Thirty-seven of these have been reported captured.

The full-scale bombing of North Vietnam was resumed on April 6 as a response to an invasion of South Vietnam by Hanoi infantry divisions. By U.S. count, 93 American planes have been lost over the North since then, including 19 MIGs and 22 to surface-to-air missiles.

One flight of four F4 Phantoms that took on a MIG21 about 15 miles northeast of Hanoi was led by a squadron commander, Lt. Col. Life Beckers, 39, of Burke S. D. Beckers down another MIG in May, the Air Force said.

Directors Table Case Mt. Funds

BY SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter)

The Manchester Board of Directors spent little time last night discussing town acquisition of Case Mt. and tabled, for the time being, any action on the proposal.

The tabling action was on a motion by William FitzGerald, endorsed by Vivian Ferguson and Robert Weiss said that, although they favor town acquisition of the 212-acre parcel, they recommend delaying action on a financial commitment until a determination has been made by the state on its share of the cost.

HUD (the federal department of Housing and Urban Development) has set aside $300,000 as its share of the $600,000 asking price. The federal commitment is contingent on a $150,000 contribution by the state and another $150,000 by the town.

An application is on file with the state for its $150,000 share.

Town Manager Robert Weiss said last night he was told by Dan Lufkin, state commissioner of environmental protection, that the state will announce its decision before the end of this month.

Joseph Lawler, chairman of the Case Mt. committee, added that he has been assured by state officials the funds are available and should be forthcoming to the town.

Lawler, Frank Lupien and Ballia Pagan, three of only four members of the public present at last night's meeting, all spoke on the Case Mt. proposal.

Lupien and Pagan, both opposed to the acquisition, urged the board to place the question before the voters in the form of a referendum.

"The board," said Lupien, "has shown no hesitancy in placing sewer, water, road, sidewalk, school and other proposed expenditures as referendum items. There's no reason why that proposal, too, can't be so decided."

Clancy Gives 'Her' All

Oh, that Clancy... is familiar to all the sons of the old sod and to many of their non-Irish friends too, since if there is anything the Irish aren't it is shy in the sharing of their songs.

Manchester's Clancy is not of the song fame however but a dog with no discernible ties to the country since his lineage can be best described as Heinz 57. He Irish moniker stems from the fact his owners, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Denis English, 37 Cook St., wanted to recognize Dad's County Tipperary origin.

Clancy's large litter of 12 puppies has created a bit of a problem housing-wise at the Denis English home at 37 Cook St. Born Saturday, the pups will need homes sometime in October when they are old enough to leave their mother. From left are Colleen, Kelly and Brian English who are accepting reservations on the seven male and five female puppies—but not without some reluctance since there is hardly anything cuter to a child than a puppy.

"We are now taking reservations for delivery of the puppies to anyone wishing them. They should be ready to leave Clancy in October."

Reservation can be made by telephoning the English's at 649-7877.

No report was made of any intention to change Clancy's name. But this may not be too important. The Irish can do anything if you don't believe it, ask one.

Town Surplus $873,000

BY SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter)

Manchester ended its 1971-72 fiscal year with a General Fund surplus of about $606,000 and an aggregate surplus in all funds of about $873,000, Town Manager Robert Weiss told the Board of Directors last night.

Weiss said that, although the final audit for the year is still incomplete, the figures he quoted are basically correct.

In addition to the $606,000 surplus in the General Fund, he reported a $97,000 surplus in the Fire Department Fund, $105,000 in the Water Fund, $53,000 in the Sewer Fund, and $12,400 in the Special Downtown Tax District Fund.

Calling the surpluses "very gratifying," Weiss attributed them to three "definite and visible" factors - "the very considerable belt-tightening I ordered in January, the non-filing of vacancies, and the extra and unanticipated funds we received from the state."

The extra state funds Weiss referred to amounted to $230,000. They were for flat grants to the towns and cities and for aid based on AFM (Average Daily Attendance), voted by the General Assembly but frozen by the governor.

Democrats Push Watergate

WASHINGTON (AP) - Democrats continued today to push the Watergate bugging incident as a major campaign issue, while Republicans said it wouldn't hurt them, but might hurt the Democrats.

And both Sen. George McGovern and President Nixon took steps to win Democratic votes on Nov. 7.

Sen. McGovern, the Democratic candidate for president, Tuesday criticized the Nixon administration's investigation of the bugging incident, saying it was about as fair and impartial as the judging at the recent Olympics.

The Watergate case involves a break-in and alleged bugging attempt at Democratic party offices there on June 17. Five men were arrested, including a former security chief for President Nixon on its re-election committee. The Democrats maintain that Nixon's campaign money financed the plot.

A confidential report was obtained late Tuesday in which the House Banking Committee disclosed that $100,000 in Nixon campaign funds came from Mexico, possibly illegally.

If previously had been reported that $80,000 in Mexican bank checks had been funneled through Republican finance personnel including chief Nixon fundraiser Stuart H. Stans, and ended up in the account of Bernard Barker, one of the five men charged in the Watergate case, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex, chairman of the Banking Committee, which is investigating the case, said in a letter account.

He showed little concern over the bugging incident, which he said could turn into a plus for the Republicans.

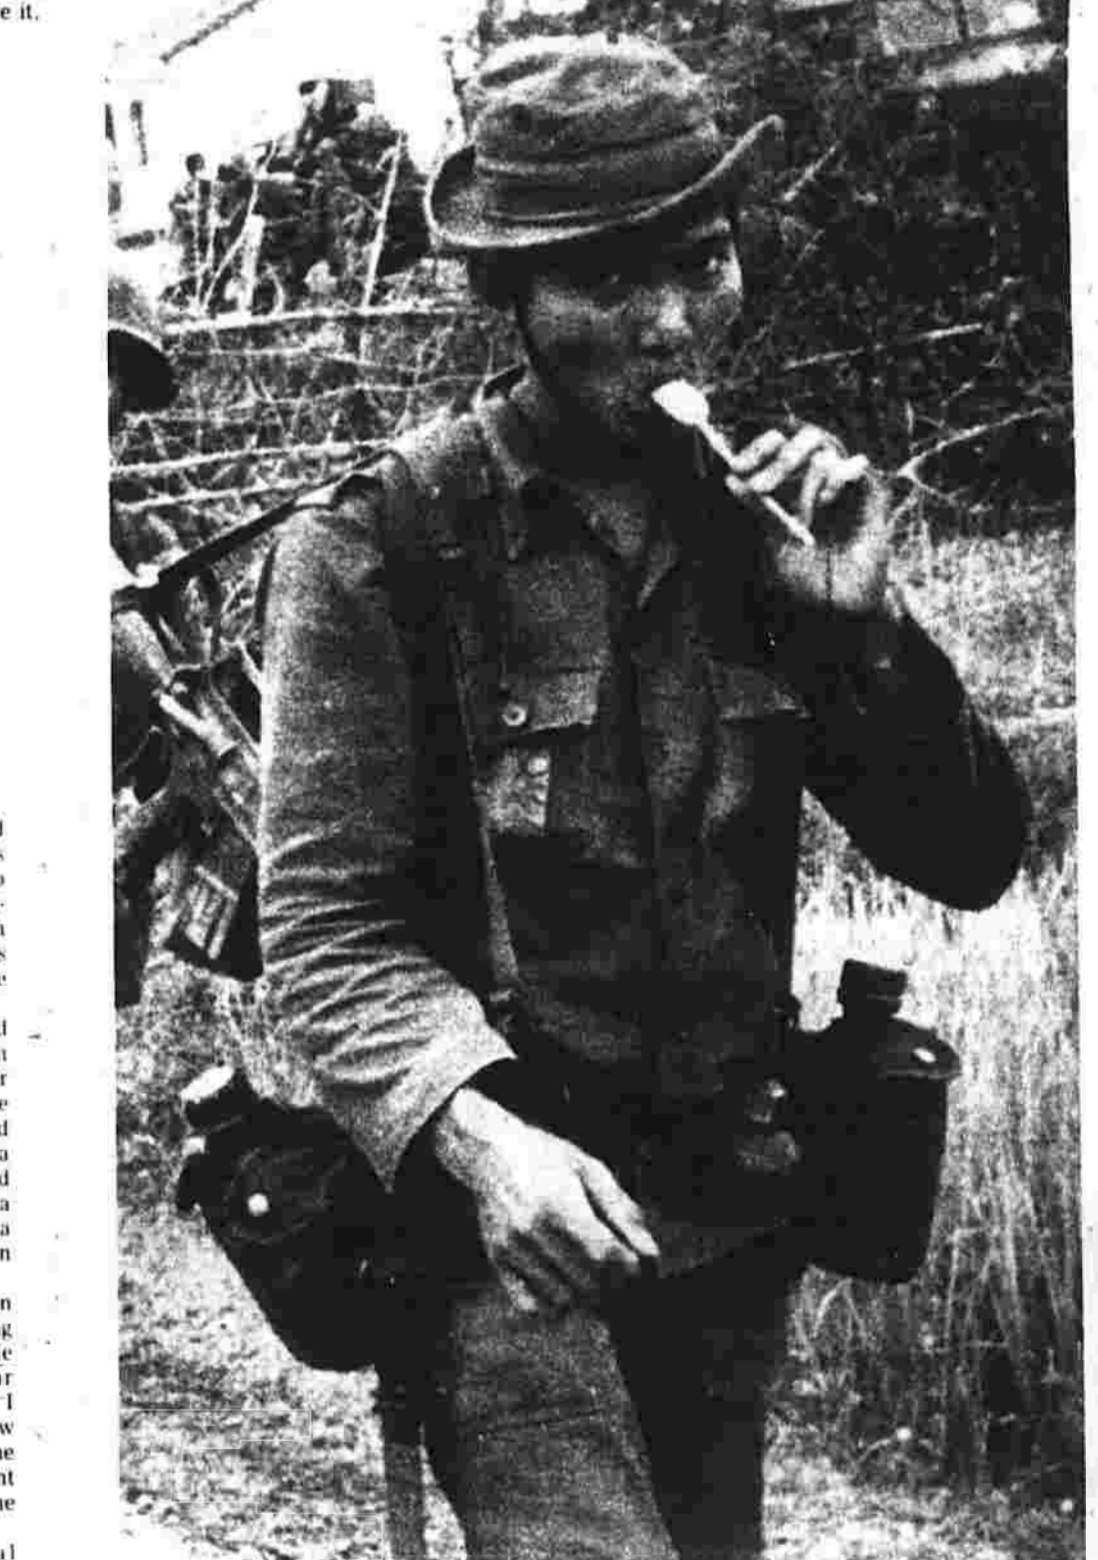

As for Democratic charges that Stans was a former Nixon secretary of Commerce, had arranged financing for the Watergate bugging, he said.

Manure Stans is a man of honor and a man who is held in great respect around this country, and to make the baseless charges against him will backfire badly with the American people."

A federal judge, meanwhile, delayed until Sept. 20 a ruling on technical questions involved in a civil suit brought by the Democrats against the bugging suspects and some Republican functionaries.

President Nixon met with Republican leaders, his Cabinet and key advisers Tuesday to discuss campaign strategy and other issues. He planned to hold more meetings today at his Camp David retreat and activities could include a dinner tonight for Republican leaders and major campaign contributors.

The President is to go to Texas on Sept. 22 to meet with prominent Democrats at the ranch of former Treasury Secretary John Connally.

paying the report. The $80,000 of Mexican bank checks which went into the account of Bernard Barker... raises tremendous questions for the committee.

"It appears that the Committee to Re-elect the President and its allied groups are selling the identity and the origins of these checks."

Also Tuesday, Nixon campaign director Clark MacGregor said following a meeting of state Republican officials here that would be required for each 100 square feet of skating rink plus additional parking if necessary for accessory use.

LaBelle's only comment regarding the parking requirements was that they should also apply to such specialized uses in other zones.

The only other speaker at last night's hearing was realtor Warren Howard of 555 Main St., who objected to the minimum 5-acre lot size for new car dealers.

He favored a minimum requirement of 3 acres.

The consideration of amendments expanding industrial uses comes two months after the PZC adopted regulations restricting uses in industrial zones.

LaBelle said he had no objection to another requirement specified in the proposed amendments - minimum sizes of parking areas.

The proposed parking requirements are 8 parking spaces for each tennis or badminton court, plus additional parking if there is a club, spectator facility, or other use. One parking space

Police Report

Baldwin Sts. about 6 p.m. yesterday.

House & Hale of 945 Main St. reported a destruction of a suspect who may have stolen six to eight suits valued at about $500 about Sept. 6, 7 or 8. The report was made to police after a man acted suspiciously in the store's suit section on Monday afternoon.

At 3:20 p.m. Monday the Clontarf Police informed the local department a moving van belonging to Manchester Moving & Storage of 340 Adams had been found. The van was taken Sunday or Sunday and many items had been stripped from the vehicle.

Eastern Bus Co., 49 Brainerd Pl., reported vandals had backed a bus into a tree damaging an open rear door. The incident was reported at 11:05 a.m.

Richard R. Smith, 24 Hartford, was charged with failure to obey traffic control light Monday at about 11:30 p.m. after an accident involving a car driven by Maureen M. Hampton, 35, of 422 E. Middle Tpke., at the intersection of the turnpike with Center St. Both cars had to be towed. Smith is to appear in court Sept. 25.

At 8:40 p.m. Monday, David A. Eklund, 19, Rockville, was charged with passing on the right. The offense occurred at Main St. and Middle Tpke. and Eklund is to appear in court Sept. 25.

The police received at 9:30 a.m. a report of minor vandalism from John Downham of Williamic who said someone had entered his trailer parked behind Mott's Food Market on Middle Tpke. E. and scattered cereal around the yard.

A citizen reported the theft of a street sign at Deming and dangered by development of First Hartford's land. Several Overlook Dr. residents were concerned about increased traffic on their now dead-end street, but Atty. Shea said topographical problems would prohibit access to the land from that street.

Atty. Shea, noting that most of the opponents were speaking against condominiums, said that development plans should not enter into consideration of the zone change. He said the announcement of a luxury condominium development was made to keep area residents informed.

The condominium project would probably contain a low density development of 50 to 60 units. Atty. Shea said, covering about ten per cent of the land area. He added that the units would sell for $40,000 to $50,000 each.

Single-family home development of the area would be impractical and undesirable, Atty. Shea said, due to the severe topographical problems of the site. It would not be impossible to build single-family homes here, but the units would be "somewhat prohibitive."
