

Freedom Chase Turns 37 Days in Prison into Years of Cells

By JUNE LINTON
(Herald Reporter)

Frederick Merrill was found guilty yesterday in Tolland County Superior Court by a jury on a count of attempted escape from a correctional institution.

A second count of criminal attempt (to escape) was dropped since it was really a repeat of the same charge under the updated penal code which went into effect last Oct. 1. This was just a few days before the conspiracy at the prison came to light with the anonymous note to the warden. Under either statute the maximum sentence is 10 years, no minimum.

Merrill was twice before convicted of escapes; his persistent efforts continually add to the time he must serve. It was almost five years ago as Christmas approached that on Dec. 19 Merrill had just 37 days to serve before being paroled. He had served 18 months of a two-to-nine year sentence for breaking and entering and violating probation for a theft of motor vehicle when he was 16.

On that December day Merrill, then 20, left a note on his bed in the minimum security unit telling guards he had gone home. State police approached the house on Merrow Rd. in Tolland, but as one of them approached, Merrill cut the trooper in the face with a paring knife and ran. He was shot in the stomach and seriously injured.

The sentence for this escapade added two to five years and led to an even more tragic effort a year later. This was when Merrill was returning to the prison from court in Rockville where appeared on charges in connection with the first escape. He pulled a gun on three guards, forcing one of them into the trunk and handcuffing the other two around a tree. Then he drove to meet his mother.

Mrs. Gladys Merrill worked at the Howard Johnson Restaurant on Tolland Turnpike off the highway. She fled with her son until they were apprehended at Wallingford.

It was later found that she had sent Merrill the gun in a Christmas package, concealed in a family-size jar of peanut butter. Add 10 to 20 years for Merrill and to his record add convictions for kidnapping, theft of a motor vehicle, weapon in a motor vehicle, binding, robbery with violence and escape.

In this latest case, ironically, or intentionally as a kind of joke, peanut butter was mentioned in the testimony of the informer, Alph Nims, who said Merrill used it once to hold his cell window bars in place after they were cut. Merrill's attorney, James Egan, tried to convince the jury that Merrill was framed by inmates Nims and Louis Cofone.

This third attempt differed from the other two in that family was not involved. Instead of being the loner he had been, Merrill allegedly cooperated with three inmates convicted of murder and an informer, who himself had attempted escape seven times.

There was a parole hearing impending and according to Nims testimony Merrill refused to join in the plot until after any parole was turned down.

Family did watch however. His 66-year-old mother who served 18 months at the state prison in Niantic for her part in the 1968 escape sat with his brother Charles throughout the trial.

She was willing to talk about the time she spent at the women's prison. She said she only got through it by keeping very much to herself and working at assigned jobs.

Her face lit up however and her eyes sparkled when asked about Frederick's having been named an alternate to the Air Force Academy by former Rep. St. Onge. She said she had his clippings and school records in the car and set her son Charles to get them.

Out of a large envelope spilled a pile of award certificates, the 1964 Windham Regional Technical School yearbook, "Beaver" and an envelope of scout merit badges and certificates.

According to the yearbook Merrill was president of the National Honor Society at his school and an honor roll student during his last two years. Activities were listed as rifle club, basketball, yearbook staff, patrol and prom committee. His wish for the future? To become a pilot and to further his education.

He had awards for English, carpentry, blueprint reading and citizenship awards, all in his senior year and he was named most improved student.

So for a little while happier times crept into the courtroom.

He had been a Star Scout in 1960 and an Explorer in 1964. Somewhere in between there was a first mistake in judgment with a car theft, and later a second which sent him to prison.

The Merrills must have been aware they were being watched very closely by police all throughout this trial. Police remember the last time when at first they were sure Mrs. Merrill had passed the gun to her son during a visit when he appeared in court on the day of his escape. They knew she played the part once, in sending the gun, and they were taking no chances.

She had no comment on this but simply turned her attention to that most common court activity—that of simply waiting.

Merrill will be sentenced Oct. 3 by Judge Anthony J. Armentano.

Allies Retake Citadel

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces today regained control of Quang Tri City, ending North Vietnam's 3½-month occupation of South Vietnam's northern-most provincial capital, U.S. officials in the field informed the American Embassy.

Lt. Col. Do Viet, a spokesman for the South Vietnamese Command, said that at 5 p.m. (5 a.m. EDT) South Vietnamese marines "completely controlled" the Citadel, the 19th Century fortress in the heart of the city.

The North Vietnamese forces withdrew to the west outside the Citadel, and fighting is continuing near the province headquarters along the river that marks the western boundary of the city, Viet said.

"The fighting is still going on, but the main target is already taken," he reported.

Quang Tri fell to the North Vietnamese on May 1, the first provincial capital to be captured in South Vietnam. President Nguyen Van Thieu in a speech last June 19 gave his troops three months to recover all territory taken by the North Vietnamese in the first two and a half months of their offensive. The three months are up next Tuesday, and the recapture of Quang Tri would help to obscure the fact that much lost ground has not been retaken and more is still being lost.

Saigon launched a 20,000-man offensive on June 28 to retake Quang Tri.

Senators Approve Arms Ban

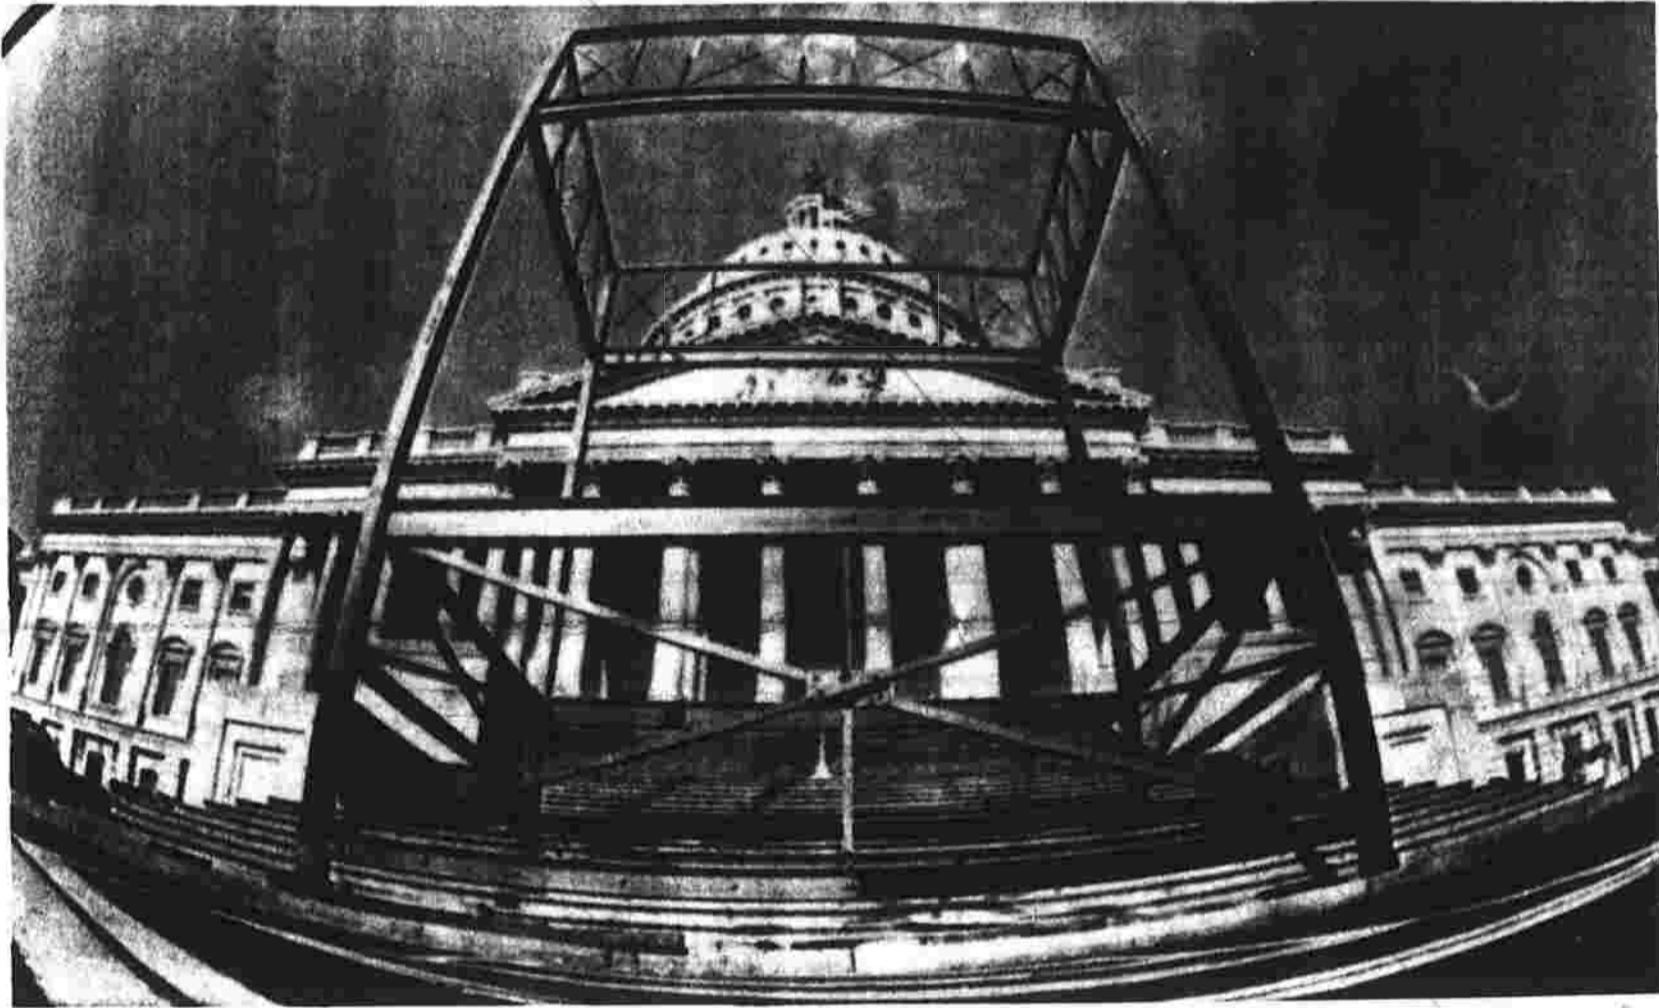

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a U.S.-Soviet five-year agreement to limit nuclear arms, and called in advance for any permanent treaty to provide numerical equality in intercontinental atomic weaponry.

The 88-2 vote Thursday sent the amended resolution of approval to a conference with the House, which passed it Aug. 18 without the "equality" language.

The agreement, and a companion treaty limiting defensive weapons in the United States and the Soviet Union, was signed by President Nixon in Moscow May 26. The defensive treaty was ratified by the Senate Aug. 3.

The interim agreement on offensive weapons freezes intercontinental ballistic missiles to those deployed or under construction, an estimated 1,618 for the Soviet Union and 1,054 for the United States.

The Soviet submarine force would be limited to 62 with 950 missile launchers; the U.S. underwater fleet would be restricted to 44 submarines and 710 launchers.

McGovern Visits Waterbury, Hartford

By DON MEIKLE

WATERBURY (AP) — Accompanied by crowd-pleasing Sen. Edward H. Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern paid a campaign visit to "Kennedy Country," the city of Waterbury, Thursday night and drew a spirited crowd of 8,000-10,000 persons.

It was a sentimental visit for Ted Kennedy, who recalled his brother John F. Kennedy's legendary appearance two days before the election of 1960, before a crowd of some 30,000 on the Waterbury Green at 3 a.m. President Kennedy later referred to the Waterbury rally as the first time he knew he was going to win the election.

"John Kennedy came to Waterbury as the underdog," said Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., in his introductory remarks Thursday night.

"There was a sort of love affair between John Kennedy and the people of Waterbury," said Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn., a former mayor of this city.

"Waterbury has always been a good omen for Democrats," said Mayor Victor Mambruno.

Sen. Kennedy, who stuck to his script with dogged determination, was drowned out by applause as he greeted Connecticut party leaders in his opening remarks. The Massachusetts senator was enthusiastically applauded when he described the Republicans as "elephants that walk around in a circle, each one pulling the tail of the elephant in front of him."

McGovern also was warmly received, his speech interrupted by shouts of "We want George!" after he told the crowd that Asians are also "children of the same God who created us."

McGovern blasted what he called "the unconscionable cost of living," saying the unemployment rate in Waterbury had risen from 4.9 per cent to 10.7 per cent during the administration of President Nixon. He wound up his speech with the familiar slogan: "We're going to bring America home!"

McGovern backers had been bused from throughout Connecticut for the rally on the Waterbury Green. A group of Democrats from Manchester occupied the lower steps of the bleacher-like entry to the immaculate Conception Church on the green. Some members of the crowd carried placards denoting where they came from: "Trinity Students for McGovern" and "Torrington for McGovern."

Many of those present let it be known they came to see Kennedy, rather than McGovern.

One young woman displayed "Kennedy" buttons from the senator's 1970 re-election campaign. Another woman, when asked whether she had come to see Kennedy, said: "You're darn right!"

However, there were also plenty of "We want George" chanters in the crowd. They cheered loudly when McGovern leaned over the rail of the speakers' platform and shook hands with a few well-wishers. McGovern apparently struck a responsive chord when he criticized the federal income tax rules as discriminatory because they allowed businessmen to deduct "a $20 martini lunch."

McGovern spent what was left of the night in a downtown Hartford hotel, attended a closed breakfast meeting in Hartford this morning and left for Portland, Maine where he was to speak later today.

Special Session Called Tuesday

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — State Democrats reacted coolly Thursday following a call for a special legislative session by Gov. Thomas J. Meskill who hopes to head off a possible statewide bus strike with a $3 million state subsidy.

"We all want to help," said House Speaker William Hatchford after meeting with the governor, "but there's no agreement on the form of help."

Senate President Pro Tem Charles Alfano said mayors of cities involved should be consulted and Senate Majority Leader J. Edward Caldwell said he didn't know whether $3 million was enough. "We don't know how far it will go," Caldwell said.

Meskill said the special session, to begin next Tuesday, hopefully would provide $3 million to the state's town and cities to subsidize financially ailing bus companies.

The governor said he wasn't going to sit by and watch the state's two largest bus lines, the Connecticut Co. and the Connecticut Railway and Lighting Co., shut down by strikes Oct. 1 because the firms didn't have enough money to improve their union employees' contracts.

The contracts expire Sept. 30. "I recognize the political risks of calling a special session in an election period," said Meskill, reacting to a comment by Hatchford that once the General Assembly is recalled it would also consider cutting taxes to head off a possible surplus in the state's General Fund.

"But the legislature is called for this one purpose and this one purpose only," Meskill said.

Hatchford, who said the legislature will not be ready to pass any bills Tuesday, said he wondered why Meskill made his decision "on short notice. The bus crisis is nothing new. We've known about it for some time."

Meskill's plan is to take $3 million from the $13 million surplus in the Highway Fund and distribute it among the state's 169 towns and cities under a formula which governs state grants for local street construction and maintenance.

The $3 million could be used for mass transit or could be spent on roads and streets.

"I emphasize that this would be voluntary," Meskill said.

He explained that legislature had intended to boost the grants to municipalities by $3 million and actually appropriated the funds but they could not be distributed because the bill was "inadvertently" sidetracked.

According to a fact sheet distributed by the governor, the $3 million would mean $156,336 for Hartford, $154,878 for Bridgeport, $136,242 for New Haven, $107,640 for Stamford and $106,884 for Waterbury.

The Connecticut Co. deficit in its New Haven division, $212,484, exceeds the amount of money to be paid to the city but the New Haven suburbs would receive more than enough to make up the difference, Meskill said.

It will take time to get the money into the hands of the municipalities, he explained, but the process shouldn't require the formation of transit districts. The subsidies could be provided directly by the municipalities under contract with the bus companies, he said.

Connecticut Co. President E. Clayton Genras of West Hartford said, "We'll sit down with the cities to see what we can work out."

Kissinger Meets Tho

PARIS — Henry A. Kissinger is meeting again today with Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo, the U.S. Embassy announced. But the Embassy refused to say where or when they would meet or even if Kissinger had arrived in Paris from London.

It did announce that the meeting was the 17th secret talk on the Vietnam war between President Nixon's national security adviser and the North Vietnamese leader. And it said Xuan Thuy, the head of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks, would also attend.

"In accordance with our agreement with the order side, we have no further information to provide you on this meeting," the embassy announcement said.

The announcement added that Kissinger would meet with President Georges Pompidou late this afternoon to "report to him on the talks in Moscow and discuss other matters of mutual interest." Kissinger is on his way back from talks in Moscow on trade arrangements and other matters. He was in London Thursday and is due to fly back to Washington this evening.

Midwest Shaken

CHICAGO (AP) — An earth tremor shook a wide area of the Midwest early today but apparently caused little damage.

Reports of buildings shaking, furniture shifting and dishes rattling in kitchen cupboards poured into newspapers, weather stations and police headquarters in Iowa, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois.

The tremor was felt as far north as Oshkosh, Wis., as far east as Chicago and northern Indiana, as far south as central Illinois and as far west as eastern Iowa.

The National Earthquake Information Center at Boulder, Colo., said the tremor registered a magnitude of 4 to 5 on the Richter scale of earthquake intensity.

The National Weather Service in Chicago pinpointed the time of the tremor at 12:23 a.m. CDT and said that it was mild and of short duration.

Dear Sir:
It used to be, at one time, that most political campaigns were merely posturing from one political party to another, and in most instances, Election '72 has not revealed itself to be any different. But, lo and behold, George McGovern, in his attempts to include the "Grass Roots" (middle class Americans) in Election '72, does not wish them to feel left out and has commenced to do his share of stinging a little mod their way.

I speak specifically about his quotation of Sunday, Sept. 10, 1972, when before a crowd in Espanola, N.M., he remarked that any young person or worker who supports President Nixon is too confused to know which end is up.

May I congratulate Mr. McGovern on his recent observation that other workers' paradise to emigrate to Israel have been required to pay an exit fee of nearly $1,000.

Now, on top of that, a new tax has been levied on Jews holding academic degrees, ranging from $5,400 for a teacher to $23,500 for a person with a university doctorate.

Whether the tax is seen as an effort to discourage an intellectual "brain drain" or as a form of vindictiveness or, along with the exit fee, as merely a source of revenue for the Soviet government makes little difference.

It is one more practice which separates the indecent governments of this world from the decent.

Parker Street Controversy

Although I live nowhere near the Parker St. area, I view the controversy as an example of industry trying to get one more special privilege at the expense of the public good and I also sympathize with the Colonial Rd. residents in this matter.

Over the years I have seen Manchester transformed from the residential "city of village charm" into a checkerboard of spot zoning not unlike cities like Newtonington, Bloomfield and East Hartford.

As a result people who are willing to pay taxes for a residential luxury are moving out. These are the people who are concerned with maintaining a good education system and a good place to live, not the owners of industry, commercial business, and apartment buildings.

Town Hall-wake up. You are being manipulated.

Your Help Needed

Dear Editor:
Once again, the United Fund Campaign is under way. Many Manchester workers are seeking financial help for these agencies:

- Association for the Help of Retarded Children, Child and Family Service of Connecticut;
- Community Child Guidance Clinic; Letz Junior Museum; Manchester Homeaker Service; Manchester Public Health Nurses Association; American Red Cross; Boy Scouts; Catholic Family Services; Girl Scouts; U.S.O.; Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A.

The services provided by these agencies go beyond description and the value really cannot be measured in dollars. Yet without the financial support of Manchester residents these agencies simply cannot continue to serve.

As president of the United Fund of Manchester I urge all citizens to help these agencies continue with their most valuable programs.

Sincerely,
John A. DeQuattro

The Innocent Bystander

By Arthur Hoppe

The Olympics were on Yet it wasn't the same. It wasn't the same on television screen, the same tiny figures darted about, striving to beat each other — striving to outpace, outrun, outswim, outjump and outmuscle each other.

The same commercials for the same brands of beer and deodorants spoke glowingly of the glories of competition. The same giant corporation assured us time and again that it "backed the American team."

From the same boxing arena, the same announcer talked excitedly of the blood now flowing from the losing fighter's nose.

And on the same podium, the same-looking athletes, wearing the same-looking gold medal stood proudly before the same old national flags as the hand solemnly played the same old national anthems.

Yet it wasn't the same. For we had — millions of us — witnessed the ultimate Olympic event.

Before that, I had watched the little screen in fascination, hour upon hour — like millions of us — rooted for my countrymen, sharing their elation when they won, their frustration when they lost, their indignation when they were so humiliated by the Russians in total medals won.

Yet at the same time I felt twinges of guilt. For I believe that the nation state — like the tribes, the city states and the empires that preceded it — has become an anachronism.

I believe that in this then-monoculture age we must put an end to rampant nationalism and the wars it breeds before it puts an end to us. I believe our only hope lies in the community of men.

But this is only an intellectual belief. And as I rooted in the heat of competition for my countrymen — rooted in some small way against what I believe — I realized how difficult this age-old dream would be to achieve, how deeply competitiveness and nationalism are rooted within us.

Then came those scenes with losers and winners embracing after hard-fought contests — Americans and Russians, East and West Germans, Africans, Asians and Europeans with their arms about each other.

How warm I felt each time! Perhaps this was the way after all. If we could achieve this at the Olympics, why not at the U.N.?

Perhaps nation states, too, could learn to compete by the rules in a spirit of fair play, accepting victory with humility and defeat with grace. Perhaps, despite the same-looking athletes, wearing the same-looking gold medals, we could learn to live in peace.

But pity, too, those of us who, for one fleeting moment, thought we glimpsed the coming community of man.

Today in History
Today is Friday, September 15th, the 25th day of 1972. There are 107 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1949, Konrad Adenauer became the first chancellor of West Germany.

In 1914, during World War I, German new Guinea and the Bismarck Archipelago surrendered to the British.

In 1899, British prime minister Neville Chamberlain flew to Germany to try to mediate a dispute between the United Kingdom and Czechoslovakia.

In 1942, German armies attacked the Soviet city of Stalingrad.

In 1959, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in Washington to begin a 13-day U.S. visit.

Ten years ago... the United States and Britain agreed to expand joint research and development of weapons.

Five years ago... the Egyptian constitution of the suez war with Israel, field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer, committed suicide.

One year ago... the United States said it would support the assignment of China's permanent seat in the United Nations Security Council to Communist China.

Capital Fare

WASHINGTON — Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, had been hearing such ballyhoo for more than 10 years now, and it sometimes seems as if our antipoverty programs have done no more than placated from anti-hoodlums to buy fancier guns and sharper knives. For God's sake, in our more untidy cities, creeps are trading food stamps for relief checks for a fix.

Perhaps the best description of the anarchic society in which we live has been submitted by the new Citizens Crusade Against Crime, headed by another Cleveland Army, and with a policy committee that includes one of McNaught Syndicate's energetic editors, Chuck Hardy.

In short, adopted much President Nixon has adopted a much harder line against crime than his two Democratic predecessors and spent much more money to fight it, people are still living dangerously in this egalitarian paradise.

Indeed, a body finds no more safety when he flees the big cities and moves to the suburbs or rural neighborhoods. According to the FBI report, crime is increasing at a faster rate in those areas than in the cities.

The message is that crime is not a chess, but murder for kicks. And yet, although public opinion polls show 80 per cent of the country's latest sport is not chess, but murder for kicks. And yet, although public opinion polls show 80 per cent of the country's latest sport is not chess, but murder for kicks.

Mostly, he talks about the "root causes" of our perilsous religion unless, and until, we come to a new realization that freedom must be balanced with responsibility.

This is true not only for individuals but especially for institutions. The government, the church, the family, and more and more, the whole world-body itself.

The destructive power available today to irresponsible freedom brings home the possibility that if we are flippant and superficial with the greatest of our powers, our freedom, then we may not ever have a stone left to mark our grave.

Knowing what men have sold out to in the past, knowing the mistakes which led to the destruction of all the great empires that ever existed, is one way of avoiding the same self-destruction.

But it's too easy to cut ourselves loose from the wisdom of the past, we often live as if we were the first and last and greatest human beings that ever walked the earth. Unless we understand the past we are destined to repeat it.

We also seem to stop looking at things from the point of eternity. We won't be able to help establish another golden age of art, literature, government, or

China Minister To Meet Rogers

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hsin will again lead the Chinese delegation when the General Assembly convenes Tuesday.

Chinese Ambassador Huang Hu also said Wednesday that Chiao will meet with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, British Foreign Secretary Alex Douglas-Home and Foreign Ministers Andrei Gromyko of Russia and Maurice Schumann of France at a dinner Sept. 27 to be given by UN Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim.

Chiao headed the Chinese delegation during the 1971 Geneva Assembly session after mainland China took over the Nationalist Chinese seat.

Mrs. Donald Sherman of New Haven, vice president of leadership development, will lead the session, assisted by other state officers. They will help the group to plan programs and bring solutions to problems; answers to questions and plenty of how-to-do-it to the division meetings which will be part of the program following the luncheon served at noon.

Compromise Reported On Revenue Sharing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional fashioners of a revenue-sharing program say they have resolved a big-state, little-state rivalry and cleared the way for $3.3 billion to start flowing in October to statehouses and city halls.

Senate and House conferees agreed Thursday night on a formula which, one side said, means that everybody wins. While that does not appear to be literally true, there seems little doubt that the two chambers will accept the compromise and send the bill to President Nixon—who asked for it—in time for October disbursements.

The conferees expected to dispose of other aspects of the bill, five-year measure at a final session today, pointing to final passage next week.

This is the formula problem they faced: Senate and House versions of the bill disagreed on the weight that should be given different factors in determining states' revenue shares.

The House version rewarded states relying on their own income tax. The Senate formula allocated more funds to 33 small states, less to 17 big, industrial states.

This is how the conferees resolved the problem: They left both formulas in the bill and provided that each state's share should be figured by the lesser Thursday would provide these allocations to states this year, according to tentative figures prepared by congressional specialists. Figures are in millions of dollars.

The conferees took another tack. They would let the matching program continue, but set a $2.5-billion-a-year limit on it and confine it first to programs of day care for children, help for the retarded and family planning, and after that to services specifically for welfare recipients.

Mahoney Seeks Information on Deal Problems

Manchester State Rep. Francis Mahoney has made himself available to any person with hearing impairments, or persons interested in the problem — so that he may learn of their needs and pass them on to a state commission created by an act of the 1972 General Assembly.

Mahoney is a member of the 11-member Commission to Study and Investigate Problems of the Deaf and Hearing Impaired. The commission serves without compensation.

Public Act 14 instructs the commission to make an annual report to the governor and the General Assembly — a report which will include recommendations for programs and legislation. In addition, the commission is instructed to make interim reports, when it has recommendations for immediate action.

Also on the commission is State Rep. Thomas Dooley of Vernon. He, too, has asked persons involved in the hearing problem to contact him with any suggestions they may have.

MERIDEN (AP) — Connecticut's redistricting will be completed in time for the Nov. 7 election, Gaffey said.

Gaffey also said the cost of redistricting for municipalities will be high. For example, he said, the cost to Waterbury will be approximately $23,000 for the redistricting.

The association will sponsor a bill in the next session of the General Assembly to provide for state reimbursement of the municipal redistricting costs, Gaffey said.

Larry Hammer, deputy secretary of state, praised the registrars for having met the deadline.

Danbury Bank Robbed

DANBURY (AP) — At least four men held up the Haystack office of the Union Trust Co. Thursday morning and escaped with an undisclosed amount of cash, police said.

No injuries were reported in the incident. The bank is located across from the Danbury Shopping Center.

The robbers entered the bank at 10:20 a.m. when a large number of customers was present, said Police Chief James P. Tallon. They took money from both tellers' stations and the vault, he said.

Emilio Plante of Danbury said he and his wife were signing a card for a safety deposit when a man armed with a handgun "pushed an old man into my wife."

Plante said he turned around and saw "maybe three or four robbers with no masks." One of the robbers ordered customers to lie down on the floor, and another shouted "Move, move, move."

"One jumped over the counter and almost landed on my wife's head," Plante said. "I was looking straight into his eyes."

View Lutz Junior Museum In Hartford

Young visitors to the Plaza Garden Fair in Hartford stop at the display of the Lutz Junior Museum of Manchester showing natural materials, such as goldenrod and zinnia blossoms, that can be used to make dyes. Sports Center Goes to ZBA For Buckland Cycle Facility

Manchester Sports Center, Inc. has asked the Manchester Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) for a special exception to allow a new motorcycle sales-service facility at Adams St. and Tolland Tpk. The request is one of six items on the ZBA's public hearing agenda for Monday. The hearings start at 7 p.m. in the Municipal Building hearing room. According to plans filed with the town planning office, Manchester Sports Center, now doing business at 434 Center St., plans to build an 11,500-square foot building on the four-acre parcel at Adams St. This is the second time Manchester Sports Center has gone to the ZBA with plans for a new facility. Plans for a similar building at N. Main St. and Stock Pl. met heavy opposition from area residents in April, and the special exception and zoning variance required were denied by the ZBA in May. Later in May, the motorcycle firm appealed to the Hartford County Court of Common Pleas, but the appeal from the ZBA's decision was withdrawn when the land for the proposed building was sold to an opponent of the Manchester Sports Center plans. The land involved in the new application, now owned by Marvin C. Thresher of 73 Scarborough Rd., is zoned Business II. A variance is not required for a motor vehicle dealer at this site, as it was with the industrially zoned land at N. Main St. and Stock Pl. The subject site was part of a four-lot subdivision granted Thresher by the Town Planning Commission in June 1966. Two gas stations had been approved at that time for two of the lots fronting on Tolland Tpk., but the state has since acquired those lots in preparation for the planned relocation of Tolland Tpk. All four lots, including the subject site fronting on Adams St., remain vacant except for an old barn.

Gardening with Frank Atwood

Goldenrod flowers can be used to produce a yellow dye. Beets, not surprisingly, make a red dye. Zinnia petals, either red or orange, produce dyes in soft shades of these colors. The Lutz Junior Museum of Manchester is telling the story of dyes from natural materials in an exhibit at the Plaza Garden Fair in Hartford. It is colorful and interesting, and visitors stand in front of it sometimes for many minutes. Five hundred copies of a give-away leaflet titled "Try It Yourself," with instructions for making and using natural dyes, were picked up during the first two days of the Fair and more had to be supplied. Interest in the subject is no surprise to Mrs. Pamela Saloom, assistant director of the Museum, who designed the exhibit and set it up in Hartford. Making natural dyes is part of a craft course she has taught at the Lutz Museum's Nature Center, where she has helped children find materials on the roadside or in the woods, and then dye their own T-shirts or scarves. The course will be given again this fall and a starting date for the program is to be announced soon.

There was a branch of mountain ash heavily with orange berries, some tuberosa begonia blooms, a bouquet of zinnias and iris of Ireland, another of margoldis and wild goldenrod, a basket of handsome fruits and vegetables, some splendid potted ferns and foliage plants. Miss Millicent Jones brought an unusual Haemanthus, with tall, strong stalks, large flat leaves and two globe-shaped blossoms, as large as softballs, in flaming red. The plant grows from a bulb and is related to the Amaryllis, Miss Jones said. It blooms each fall. Many people have noted that mountain ash trees have borne a heavy crop of fruit this year. We must have had a sunny day, among the many rainy days last spring, just when the blossoms were out and bees could visit them. Lovely and Vicious Along roadsides and in vacant lots there are great, 10-foot mounds now of green foliage topped by thousands of delicate clusters of small white flowers, faintly fragrant. The plant is Polygonum cuspidatum, commonly called bamboo, and a nurseryman who helped me identify it, says it is a "vicious weed." It grows in poor soil, needs no encouragement and in fact discourages it. It cut back or pulled up, it grows again. It is all very well along the highway but in a garden it would mean real trouble. It can be controlled with a spray of herbicide, of the kind that kills all vegetation it touches.

Vernon Talcottville School In Wednesday Vote

When the voters go to the polls Wednesday to vote on proposed additions to Rockville High School they will also be asked to approve an appropriation of $225,000 for an addition to the Talcottville School which houses children with various handicaps. At a press conference Wednesday afternoon, school officials emphasized that the total cost of this addition will be reimbursed by the state. This is because the school serves several other area towns as well as Vernon. As the vote on the high school will be broken down into three separate questions this will put the question of the Talcottville School appropriation as fourth on the ballot and officials expressed fear that the voters may not realize it is not connected with the high school questions. The proposed addition will include a physical education area and a new pre-school classroom for children with learning disabilities. The $225,000 includes the cost of the equipment for the addition. Assistant superintendents Albert Kertin and Dr. Robert Linstone and Anthony Magliocco, director of special education, agreed that the facility will include use as a service center for inservice training programs, a cafeteria, a location for civic programs, a recreational center for summer programs as well as during the year and also as a center for evening programs for the handicapped young adults. The proposed additional pre-school classroom will relieve the overcrowded conditions which were caused when this class was established under a temporary setting, the officials explained. They said the increased enrollment at Talcottville reflects the demand of the general public for this type of educational program as parents now realize the impor-

Coventry School Fund Rejected, Pumper Purchase Voted

The Board of Education last night lost a second bid for a supplemental appropriation for the current fiscal year, but voters almost unanimously approved a new pumper truck for the North Coventry Volunteer Fire Department. An attempt by the South Coventry Fire Association to gain funds for its new truck failed, in a town meeting that was marked by lengthy parliamentary procedural matters. Moderator Ronald Aronson ruled early in the session that, because the request for some $50,000 for the Board of Education was not a Town Council recommendation, a two-thirds majority of those voters present, which must consist of at least 150 voters, must vote in favor in order to pass the request. Aronson's ruling was challenged, and it was pointed out that the challenge would, if passed, in effect change the charter by allowing only a bare majority of those present to pass the appropriation. Discussion centered on whether or not an appropriation granted on such a technically would be legal. Aronson's ruling on the two-thirds majority was, however, upheld by a vote of 250 to 141. There was very little discussion on the main motion to grant the supplemental school request, with Board Chairman Richard Messer noting briefly that an immediate attack on the Town Council for failing to live up to the provisions of the charter in its procedures concerning the fire trucks. He stated that the charter calls for sealed bids to be requested and received by the purchasing agent, Town Manager Dennis Moore and that this was not done. Council Chairman Albert Bradley related Crane by pointing out that the charter does not state this, but rather a council purchasing policy, which was waived in the case of the fire departments, since the council felt the departments were much better qualified to put out specifications for fire equipment. It was further noted that the North Coventry department had received three bids for its pumper, while the South Coventry department refused to get more than one bid for its requested truck. One resident suggested that the council's purchasing policy be adhered to in the case of the South Coventry department, and that as soon as the bids are in, a town meeting be called. The motion to purchase the North Coventry pumper passed on an almost unanimous hand vote. South Coventry Department President Harold Crane launched

Coventry Mayor Athanson To Help Kick Off Democrats' Campaign

Hartford Mayor George Athanson will be on hand Saturday afternoon at 5 when local Democrats officially kick off the fall election campaign, along with Roger Hillsman, who is running for U.S. Representative from the second Congressional district. According to an announcement from Alvah Phillips, local Democratic Town Chairman, other officials expected at the opening of headquarters are State Rep. Audrey Beck of Mansfield and State Sen. Robert Houley of Vernon. Phillips noted that the public is invited to the opening ceremonies, since it will give the people of Coventry an opportunity to meet and talk with some of its representatives in government. The headquarters is located at Main St. and Stonehouse Rd. Refreshments will be served and a special treat will be a Democratic donkey mascot who will provide rides for the children. The Democratic Town Committee, meeting this week, has voted to give a $50 scholarship to a deserving Coventry High School senior planning to further his or her education. Picked as a selection committee for the 1973 scholarship were Rita Zazel,

Little Looie Key Man In RSox Pennant Drive

BOSTON (AP) — At the ripe old age of 38, Luis Aparicio is playing and acting like a happy-go-lucky kid, confident of appearing in the World Series with the Boston Red Sox.

LUIS APARICIO

Most observers smiled politely when Luis predicted last month that the Red Sox would win the American League pennant. Others laughed openly. But nobody's laughing now as the Red Sox lead the American League East.

"I've been saying for five weeks we're going to win, but nobody believed me," Aparicio said Thursday while relaxing before the opener of a weekend series with the Cleveland Indians tonight. "Maybe they believe me now."

Aparicio not only told everyone the Red Sox were going to win. He even went so far as to cancel plans for an early return home to Venezuela to manage the Lara club in Maracaibo.

"That's right," said Humberto Oropeza, the Lara club general manager on a recent visit to Boston. "Luis told me he won't be available to manage until after Oct. 22 after the World Series."

Aparicio has played with pennant winners in Baltimore and Chicago during his 17 seasons in the league. Although a fierce competitor on the field, he doesn't know the meaning of the word pressure.

Little Luis, the most durable shortstop in major league history despite weighing only 160 pounds, is proving the spark in Boston's surge after missing the 1960 season last spring. Now he is playing with a broken finger. He's playing with the finger taped and a leg heavily taped to protect a bad Achilles' tendon.

When he rejoined the Red Sox Aug. 4, the club was in fourth place with a 49-48 record, 5 1/2 games behind. Since Boston has posted a 25-14 record in charging into first place in the top-of-the-rye race.

field, he still ranges far to each side and is a strapping influence. He also is a strong threat at bat.

In Cleveland last Sunday, the Red Sox swept a doubleheader 3-1 and 2-0. Luis had only two hits. He scored a run with a squeeze bunt in the 12th inning of the first game and then hit a homer in the ninth inning of the second.

"He's still the best shortstop in the league," Cleveland manager Ken Aspromonte said. "He's 38, but he can play until he's 48. He's got an amazing ball player."

The reference to 48 gave the Red Sox an opening to bid good-natured Luis, the oldest player on the club. Many jokingly remarked that Aparicio was playing in the majors before they were born, and questioned whether he already isn't 48. As usual, Luis laughed.

"I've taken over a World Series infielder Mike Andrews and Luis Alvarado to acquire Aparicio from the Chicago White Sox in December 1970. Many Boston fans disliked the trade, but General manager Dick O'Donnell defended it by saying, 'We think we can win the pennant with Luis.' The Red Sox didn't win in 1970, but they did win in 1971 and 1972. I think we can win with Luis."

First Time in Career Havlicek Holding Out

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass. (AP) — John Havlicek, the highest scorer in the history of the Boston Celtics, may prove tougher to sign than expected in the National Basketball Association club's major league history despite weighing only 160 pounds, is proving the spark in Boston's surge after missing the 1960 season last spring. Now he is playing with a broken finger. He's playing with the finger taped and a leg heavily taped to protect a bad Achilles' tendon.

Women's Softball Slate Saturday

The Women's Slow Pitch Softball Tournament, sponsored by the Manchester Recreation Department and the Manchester Police Local, moves into its final day Saturday at Charter Oak Park.

Action will begin at 2 p.m. for the semi-finalists. Brookside Construction (Vernon), Welcome Aboard Travel (Wallington), Societies (New Haven) and Groman's Sport Shop (Manchester), with the finals set for 6:30 p.m. if necessary.

Magic Number Three For Rampaging Bucs

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that the Pittsburgh Pirates are 15 games ahead of the pack, Roberto Clemente will go out on a limb.

Yes, he thinks his team will win the National League East. "I think we'll clinch first," said Clemente after soaking two hits to lead the Pirates over the runner-up Chicago Cubs 5-2 Thursday. "If we don't do it in St. Louis, I think we'll do it in New York."

It's a good bet that the runaway Pirates will win their third straight division pennant in one of those two cities within the next week or two. Any combination of Pittsburgh victories or Chicago losses totaling three will secure the title.

While the Pirates roared toward another pennant by slashing the magic number to three, Clemente himself zeroed in on a personal magic number—the 3,000 career hit.

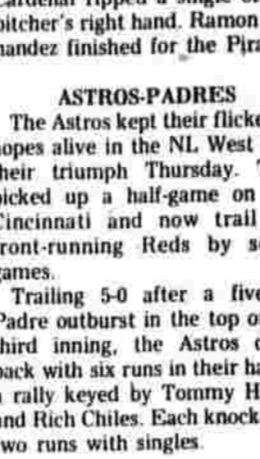

Clemente collected eight hits as the Pirates swept a three-game series from their closest competitors and now has 2,994. He needs 14 shy of the 3,000-hit plateau.

In Thursday's other National League games, the Houston Astros defeated the San Diego Padres 10-6 and the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the Montreal Expos 6-2.

Only two games were played in the American League Thursday night. The Milwaukee Brewers defeated the Cleveland Indians 4-3 in 13 innings and the California Angels beat the Texas Rangers 4-0.

The AL East race picks up steam again tonight after a day of rest. New York and Baltimore will tie for third place, 1 1/2 games off the pace, starting a three-game series in Yankee Stadium while the first-place Boston Red Sox host the Cleveland Indians and the second-place Detroit Tigers.

PHRASES-CUBS
Winnipeg's pitcher Bob Moose gave up only three hits before being literally knocked out of the game by a batter in the seventh inning when Jose

ROBERTO CLEMENTE

Angel's hit a single off the pitcher's right hand. Ramon Hernandez finished for the Pirates.

ASTROS-PADRES
The Astros kept their flicking hopes alive in the top of the third inning, when Cleveland threw a half-game on idle Cincinnati and now trail the front-running Reds by seven games.

Trailing 5-0 after a five-run Padre outburst in the top of the third, the Astros came back with six runs in their half in a rally keyed by Tommy Helms and Gene Luecke. Each knocked in two runs with singles.

CARDS-EXPOS
Bob Gibson notched his 16th victory with a seven-hitter to lead St. Louis over Montreal.

BREWERS-INDIANS
George Scott raced home with the winning run when Cleveland catcher Jerry Moses threw wild past third on a pickoff attempt in the 15th inning to give Milwaukee the victory over the Indians. The marathon affair lasted four hours and 31 minutes.

The story game was Milwaukee's four-game sweep, the first such accomplishment in the Brewers' four-year history.

ANGELS-RANGERS
Clyde Kessinger pitched a two-hitter and doubled home two runs to lead California over Texas. The story game was the Texas Rangers' victory over the Oakland Athletics 4-2 in 11 innings.

Time of Year for Also-Rans Called Salary Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — "The last month is always tough," says the manager. "You're getting tired. It's hard to keep going."

"In this situation," says the player, "you've got to push yourself."

Reactions to the mounting pressure of a tight pennant race? Hope. The manager is Ted Williams of the Texas Rangers. The player is Bobby Bonds of the San Francisco Giants. The baseball teams are bound for obvious this season while, on the opposite end of the standings, other clubs rush heading toward the playoffs and perhaps the World Series.

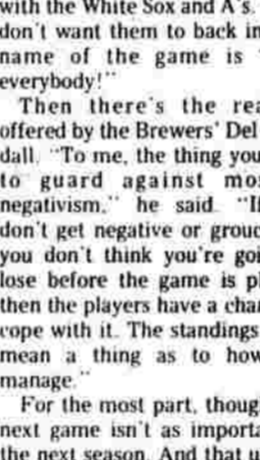

For the Pittsburgh Pirates, Cincinnati Reds, Houston Astros, Baltimore Orioles, Detroit Tigers, New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, Chicago White Sox and Oakland A's, this is the time of year to turn on a drive that can carry a club to the glory of a championship.

But for the also-rans, as Nate Colbert of San Diego frankly admits: "This time of year is looked on more as a salary drive."

"When you're out of it, the Padres powerhouse says, 'you better get it together or you're an individual in order to give you something with which to negotiate.'"

As far as the team is concerned, Colbert adds, "you try to win more games than you can lose. That's the way it works with the Padres because it helps an individual to be able to negotiate when his team improves as well as himself."

And while the pressure of the pennant race—the make-or-break moment of a crucial home run or strikeout, the fielding gem or error—burns steadily on the conscious, there's another kind of pressure facing the players on the nosebleed clubs.

"The toughest problem is keeping myself up," says George Scott of the Milwaukee Brewers. "The cellar-dwellers of the American League East."

"When you're losing so much, it's tough to come to the park because it gets tough to look at each other," Scott acknowledges.

"Today I came to the park at 3:30 and hung around the locker room to try to get my mind on baseball," he said before a recent night game. "because if I wait until tomorrow, I'm afraid I might not show up."

As the manager of a tail-end team, he feels and, more often than not, you'll get the usual stuff like "play them one at a time and try to win every game we play," line from Charlie Fox of the Giants or the "I don't concede it to anyone until we've read it off mathematically," comeback from Bob Lemon of the Kansas City Royals.

But there are those who seem almost delighted to be facing the front-runners despite having no hope of catching them.

Another Award For Mark Spitz

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Mark Spitz, the American gold medalist of the Munich Olympics, has another golden award—a gold plated set of cufflinks from Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The cufflinks—bearing the official seal of the State of California—were presented to Spitz along with a personal letter of congratulations by Reagan in ceremonies in the governor's office Thursday.

Reagan praised Spitz as an inspirational "national hero" for America's youth and said he had given the medals some private advice about whether to pursue a motion picture career.

But Reagan was sure that what advice was asked if he advised Spitz to accept if offered movie offers, Reagan said, "we talked it a little bit" during a private 15-minute meeting.

Spitz, a 27-year-old swimmer, is an established and most enjoyable career. Reagan said, "adding that the motion picture business 'is just about as competitive as swimming.'"

Keino to Retire After Lagos Meet

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Kipchoge Keino, Kenya's double medal runner at the Munich Olympics, says the All Africa Games at Lagos next January will be his last appearance in international competition.

"I have had a wonderful career in international athletics and I am afraid it must come to an end," Keino told the East African Standard newspaper.

"There are a number of young runners in Kenya who need the experience and I cannot continue forever."

"I will run at the Africa Games and then call it a day."

Provisions Made If Necessary

What provisions have been made in the event inclement weather postpones the one or more games in the National Football League American Conference this year to call them lively.

It might be better to call them battles for division championships in the East, Central and West and when it's all over the winners, at least in this fearless forecaster's peevish prognostication, will be: Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Kansas City.

The Miami Dolphins and the New York Jets will fight Baltimore's Colts tooth-and-nail in the East and if Johnny Unitas doesn't remain healthy, it's good bye Colts.

Cincinnati will make it tough for the Steelers in the Central Division but Pittsburgh shall overcome.

The Oakland Raiders as well as the San Diego Chargers will challenge Kansas City's Chiefs all the way. The San Diego Chargers? Yes, the Chargers should be the surprise team in pro football this season. So, with considerable trepidation, here's how this crystal ball gazer sees the final standings:

EAST DIVISION
Baltimore Colts
Miami Dolphins
New York Jets
New England Patriots
Buffalo Bills
Cleveland Browns
Houston Oilers
WEST DIVISION
Cincinnati Bengals
Cleveland Browns
Oakland Raiders
San Diego Chargers
Denver Broncos

Lively Races Seen in NFL's American

There are many reasons why Baltimore shouldn't win in the East. And just as many reasons why the Dolphins should. But it will all boil down to desire—the desire of Johnny U to go out in a blaze of glory. And that's why the Colts should represent the East Division in the playoffs.

There's no argument about Miami's prowess—Bob Griese at quarterback, along with runners such as Jim Kiick, Larry Csonka and Mercury Morris, plus the pas-catching abilities of Paul Warfield. And the Miami defense is going to be better.

So why Baltimore? Strictly a visceral pick.

The Jets, if Joe Namath stays healthy, may make it mighty interesting in the East. This time it will be for the other Buffalo Bills or the New England Patriots. But both teams may cause some grief later in the season. The Patriots have fast-moving Jim Plunkett at quarterback and the Bills could be awfully dangerous once they get some bodies to go with O.J. Simpson.

This is going to be the year of the Steelers in the Central Division. Coach Chuck Noll has molded Pittsburgh, which has never won a pro football title, into a potentially explosive club.

Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw should live up to his college non-due. The Rifleman, this season, his third as a pro. The golden-haired thrower, once the national schoolboy javelin record-holder, has an able pas-catchng corps in Ron Shanklin and Steve Watson.

The Chiefs must first survive another drought with Oakland in the West Division. And this time San Diego will threaten.

The key to the Chiefs success will be Len Dawson. He's older and wiser, but also more susceptible to injuries. The Kansas City defense will continue as one of the best in the entire NFL.

Oakland's forte has always been a strong offense. A healthy Lamarca Jones can put a lot of points on the board. And there's always George Blanda to provide more heart-stopping action in the waning seconds and give the Gertel Set something to crow about.

Had Duane Thomas reported to the Chargers, this team could really do something. Even without Thomas, San Diego's offense under John Hall will more than hold its own. Harland Svare, the Charger coach, has plugged up the defense with a solid line anchored by Deacon Jones and Lonel Alford.

The Denver Broncos have Floyd Little ... but little else.

There are many reasons why Baltimore shouldn't win in the East. And just as many reasons why the Dolphins should. But it will all boil down to desire—the desire of Johnny U to go out in a blaze of glory. And that's why the Colts should represent the East Division in the playoffs.

New Intrastate Rivalry Southern Hosts Wes, Central Playing Away

NEW HAVEN (AP) — A new intrastate rivalry highlights the debut Saturday of the 1972 Connecticut college football season as Southern Connecticut State College hosts Wesleyan University in a 2 p.m. contest at Bowen Field in New Haven.

The game is one of four Saturday contests featuring state schools. The University of Bridgeport hosts West Chester State College and the Coast Guard Academy hosts Southwest College, while Central Connecticut State College travels to Towson State.

Both Southern and Wesleyan enter their first meeting with several unknowns and the coaches hope the contest will answer some of their questions.

"We are just an unknown quantity," reported Wesleyan Southern Coach Harry Shay Thursday. "I think the biggest thing is to discover our unknown quantities," he said, adding that the Owls may have to start as many as eight sophomores on the defense.

The offense brings some experience into the game behind two young quarterbacks but injuries in training have caused a problem. "Our offense hasn't been together because of the injuries," Shay said. "They'll probably be together for the first time Saturday."

He said 20-year-old junior Tony Jascot, who threw for over 600 Owe yards last season, will start at quarterback for Southern but that sophomore Paul Jarvis "will play quarterback."

Over in the Wesleyan camp in Middletown, Cardinals Coach William MacDermott also went into his second season with some kinks in the machinery.

Graduation hit the Cardinals hardest on their offense. MacDermott most explained, adding that Wesleyan will probably have to use only two veteran offensive linemen in their starting lineup Saturday.

On top of that, last year's greatest on-field success was probably to have been a senior this year, "dropped out of college," MacDermott says. He's turning to 19-year-old junior Tom Getsonimo to start at quarterback.

Wesleyan will be using the so-called wishbone formation, new for the Cardinals, and as they come off three weeks of pre-season workouts, 1-oe steady improvement although it obviously isn't 100 per cent.

MacDermott said he expects Wesleyan finished the 1971 season with three wins and five losses while Southern won five of its last six 1971 contests to finish 5-4.

Midget Football Starts Tonight

Midget football will be ushered in tonight at Mt. Nebo when the Manchester Midget League will usher in its 18th campaign.

The first of seven Friday night doubleheaders lists the Eagles and Jets at 6:30 with the Patriots and Giants meeting in the nightclub an hour later. The Chargers are idle.

BOSTON (AP) — Boston College figures the Eagles are stronger than in 1971, but notes the team is playing a tougher schedule. The offense appears potent, despite the loss of the entire starting backfield by graduation.

Junior Gary Marangi, described by Yuka as one of the best potential quarterbacks in BC history, will direct the attack.

Arizona State, ranked 13th, hosts Utah State while fifth-ranked Alabama is idle.

Red Sox Enjoy Day Off Before Last Home Stand

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, riding high in first place in the American League East, relaxed during a break in the schedule Thursday before opening their last home stand of the regular season at Fenway Park.

"We certainly can use this day off," Manager Eddie Kasko said. "We're going to be plenty busy the rest of the way, with only one other break (Sept. 29) in the next three weeks."

The Red Sox took over the lead in the World Series race a week ago, and have managed to hold it despite challenges by Detroit, Baltimore and New York.

With a 7-2 victory over the Yankees in New York Wednesday night, the Red Sox returned home to the standings looking like this:

Team	W	L	Pct	GB
Boston	72	54	.569	0
Detroit	74	60	.550	1 1/2
Baltimore	74	63	.532	1 1/2
New York	74	65	.532	1 1/2

The Red Sox hope to pull away in the 13-game stand at Fenway, where they have an 4-1 record. Starting Friday night, they play three games with Cleveland, three with Baltimore, four with Detroit, two with Milwaukee and a make-up with St. Louis on Sept. 29. Then they travel to win up the season with three games at Baltimore and three more at Detroit.

South Windsor Citizens Press Rec Needs

Two citizens, Mrs. Nancy Coffey of Main St., and Donald Marra of Dogwood Ln., this week made two separate requests of the Board of Education and both matters have bearing on future recreational expenses.

Mrs. Coffey requested that the board look into the inadequacies of school playgrounds and cited the Pleasant Valley Elementary School grounds as being the most insufficient for the needs of the children for physical activities.

She said she had done research on what had become of an allocation of $32,000 in 1966 which was made for construction of the Pleasant Valley and Eli Terry School playgrounds for three years, but learned that due to problems with the contractor, a suggestion was made by the Public Buildings Commission to place the $32,000 in the general fund to be used for short term improvements of the capital improvements when the contractor was unable to fulfill the contract obligations.

She added that in visiting the Pleasant Valley school playground, it is evident to see the need as only one basketball field is available and is situated in such a way as it interferes with property rights of the abutting homeowner. She further said that a climbing apparatus are occasionally out of use after it rains because of poor drainage and water accumulations in the play area.

Mrs. Coffey pointed out that the town has a surplus of approximately $135,000 this year and asked the board to consider amending the Town Council to use the surplus for improvement in the play facilities in the town rather than use the money, part of the average daily membership grant (ADM) for six tennis courts for the town.

She cited Public Act 751 passed by the 1969 General Assembly which states that the state board would reimburse towns for any improvements made with regard to need.

Marra then told the board that, after making several calls to the State Board of Education, he has learned that only two circumstances exist when the State will not approve reimbursement requests: (1) when the request does not comply with the fire codes and (2) when construction has begun before approval. He said he checked the fire codes and that the town has requested under the act and found the following application filled: portable classrooms, sewers for Timothy Edwards and Orchard Hill, and the high school addition. He recommended a board instruct the superintendent of schools to apply immediately for the work being done on the football field and for the purchase of the bleachers in the hopes that one half the cost of the project would come back to the taxpayers.

He cited several advantages of the town utilizing Public Act 751, namely, to be used for the Pleasant Valley Recreational facility, taking full advantage of the form of revenue-sharing by giving residents more for their money, and that the six tennis courts could be placed at the high school under the 50 per cent reimbursement clause.

He told the board that many areas are listed under the act including renovations. Last year the board approved relocating the office space for the administration but no application was on file for the manuever reimbursement.

Andover Hobby Workshops, Planned Saturdays

Starting tomorrow, there will be a series of Saturday morning workshops held for hobbyists, beginning collectors and other interested persons at the Itham High School cafeteria from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The workshops will be continued as long as there is an interest in proving the classes. The meetings are open to adults and children alike, and to residents of Andover, Hebron and Marlborough.

The first session will be directed by Rev. Herbert Kelsey of Hebron, who will lead four consecutive workshops dealing with stamps and stamp collecting.

A free set of stamps will be given to all those persons who sign up for the Tri-Town Stamp Club.

Information on how to begin a stamp collection will be available, and there will be opportunities for collectors to sell, and swap stamps.

It will provide an opportunity for persons to learn more about the stamps and to exchange information and ideas.

Recreation Director Gordon MacDonald said he is looking for other persons who have a hobby or interest that they might be of interest to other persons.

MADRID (AP) — Three gunmen freed all 83 passengers from a hijacked Swedish jetliner early today and flew across Western Europe to a landing at Madrid airport.

The hijackers were six Croatian terrorists released from Swedish prisons, $105,000 in ransom, two captive pilots and two stewardesses.

POW Pickup Cuts Bombs Near Hanoi

SAIGON (AP) — The immediate Hanoi area was placed off limits to U.S. fighter-bombers today for the arrival of a group of Americans invited by North Vietnam to pick up three captured pilots, U.S. military sources disclosed.

Gen. John W. Vogt, commander of the U.S. 7th Air Force, was reported to have taken personal command of all air strikes in the Hanoi area to avoid any political repercussions or embarrassment to the United States.

The North Vietnamese news agency announced that the American delegation arrived from Hanoi, Laos, shortly before noon and met at the Gia Lam Airport with a group of Americans invited by North Vietnam to pick up three captured pilots, U.S. military sources disclosed.

But, in the 24 hours preceding the precautionary order, U.S. Air Force and Navy jets launched heavy blows in the Hanoi corridor, and the Air Force claimed it wiped out 90 per cent of North Vietnam's biggest rail yard on the northeast line leading to China 28 miles above the capital city.

"We didn't go as close to Hanoi today as we did yesterday," said one U.S. source. "It's the wise thing to do. We wouldn't want to screw it up."

There was no firm word how long the off-limits order would remain in effect, but sources indicated it would last at least until the prisoners were on their way home. Hanoi has given no firm date for their release, but it is anticipated they will leave North Vietnam next Saturday.

Bay State Emergency Follows the Red Tide

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. Francis W. Sargent declared a public health emergency and the state Department of Public Health banned sale of fresh and frozen shellfish by wholesalers or retailers and in restaurants because of toxic "red tide" algae off the coast.

Known scientifically as Gonyaulax tamarensis, the red tide is a small marine organism highly toxic to shellfish and dangerous to man when shellfish are consumed.

Two persons were reported stricken with shellfish poisoning Thursday.

In Gloucester, George Gleason, chairman of the Gloucester Shellfish Commission, estimated that the health department's embargo on shellfish sales would cost the industry several hundred thousands of dollars in revenue.

Gleason said 75 commercial clamming permits have been issued in Gloucester. Essex and

Israelis Open Major Attack Over Lebanon

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Israeli warplanes bombed two bridges across Lebanon's Litani River and cut off Arab guerrillas from their headquarters amid a massive Israeli ground assault on Palestinian command and control today, the Tel Aviv command said.

The Elhaddada and Aqaya bridges linked southern Lebanon — where thousands of guerrillas are encamped — to Nabatieh, a commando headquarters which also was bombed by Israeli planes.

On the ground, Israeli tanks and half-tracks swept through 13 Arab villages, destroying "dozens" of houses harboring guerrillas, a spokesman said.

The bombing of the bridges was seen as a bid to block the guerrillas' escape routes from the Israeli raid.

Commenting on Arab claims that Israeli planes bombed a Palestinian refugee camp near Munich massacre and two recent sabotage attacks on the Lebanese border.

Six hours after the dawn raid began, the Tel Aviv spokesman said Israeli forces were 12 miles inside Lebanon, had suffered one man killed, killed or captured "several guerrillas," and had clashed with the Lebanese army. But he denied reports the Lebanese forces had managed to place the attackers.

"Everything is going according to plan," he said.

Earlier, the spokesman named 10 villages hit. To this list he later added Majdai Idum, Qabrkhra and Touline, indicating a northeastward thrust to the Israeli raid.

Special Session Held 'Not Needed'

HARTFORD (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert K. Killian said Friday that there is no need for legislative action to provide state aid to Connecticut's financially ailing bus companies.

Bus Routes Cut Today

Reduced Connecticut Co. bus schedules went into effect today in the company's Hartford and New Haven divisions, affecting several morning bus routes in Manchester and Rockville.

The reduced schedules, approved by the state Public Utilities Commission in May but delayed by appeals from Hartford and New Haven, include cuts in the number of runs before 7 a.m. and after 6 p.m., eliminating Sunday and holiday service, and reducing the number of mid-day runs on some weekdays.

In Manchester and Rockville, the only routes affected are on Saturday morning.

Discontinued this morning were Hartford to Manchester runs at 6:00, 6:20 and 6:30 a.m.; Manchester to Hartford runs at 6:05, 6:45, 6:50, and 7:25 a.m.; Hartford to Rockville runs at 5:25 and 6:15 a.m.; and Rockville to Hartford runs at 6:15 and 7:15 a.m.

The first Saturday morning runs are now: Hartford to Manchester, 7 a.m.; Manchester to Hartford, 7:45 a.m.; Hartford to Rockville, 7:15 a.m.; and Rockville to Hartford, 8:15 a.m.

Connecticut Co. officials said all bus drivers have copies of the new schedules which will be posted at many bus stops next week.

Appeals from the two cities are still pending but a recent Court of Common Pleas decision allowed implementation of the new schedules.

We're changing the Esso name to EXXON

We want to be sure you understand why we're changing our name. Because while we're changing, we don't want you to change. Here's the reason for the new name:

For years we have used different brand names in different parts of the country. Complicated for us. And confusing for our customers. So we're going to change the names of our stations to Exxon. When that happens, you'll have just one brand name to look for. But remember, while we're changing our name, we're not changing our stripes.

You'll still find the same fine gasoline you've always known. Same courteous, efficient retailers to help you. Our Tiger will soon be displaying the Exxon sign at 25,000 service stations, and it's a big job. But in just a few months we'll be Exxon coast to coast.

We'd like you to think of it as a new name for an old friend.

GOP Demands Apology In Watergate Affair

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Top Republicans have demanded an apology from Democrats in the wake of indictments in the Watergate break-in case, but George McGovern and running mate Sargent Shriver have responded with a call for further investigation in the case.

The exchange in the case, becoming increasingly evident as a presidential campaign issue, came Friday after a federal grand jury indicted seven men, charged with breaking into Democratic National Headquarters to steal documents and plant bugging devices.

Meanwhile, an economic adviser to President Nixon, Herbert Stein, responded to McGovern's plans to hold down inflation if he wins the presidency.

Republican National Chairman Robert Dole said the indictments in the Watergate case closed the matter as far as Nixon's campaign is concerned and demanded "an apology to the American people from George McGovern and his campaign organization."

"As we knew all along, and as the grand jury has now determined, there is no evidence to substantiate any of the wild and violations there which seem to be."

Shriver said: "From what we already know, there must be a continuing investigation and there must be a speedy trial of the seven defendants named today. All of us have a right to all of the facts involved in the Watergate case. No one can be allowed to live above the rule of law because of their connections with high government officials—past or present."

Lawrence F. O'Brien, McGovern's national campaign director and Democratic national chairman at the time of the break-in, said: "We will continue to press for a more thorough explanation of the funding of the crime that led to these indictments."

But Republicans saw it another way.

Clark MacGregor, Nixon's campaign director, said: "Those who have recklessly sought to connect others with the case should publicly apologize for their unfounded charges and formally retract their unsubstantiated accusations."

On the economic front, McGovern presented his version
