Two Youths Charged In Auto Case

Two Manchester youths were arrested last night on charges of second-degree larceny when they were apprehended by police on Olcott St. where the two had been in an allegedly stolen car.

Arrested were William C. Dobranski, 17, of 61 Englewood Dr., and Kevin P. Perzanowski, 16, of 45 Wedgewood Dr.

Police fired two warning shots in the air in an apparent attempt to stop the car from escaping.

Police arrested three unidentified youths, suspected of stealing the car, was not in the car when the police arrived.

Police searched for the second youth, identified as Perzanowski, was wrestled to the ground by one policeman and then taken to police headquarters.

Barry Manchester, Andover Won't Run Hold Republican Picnics

Atty. David M. Barry said today that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the new Fourth Senatorial District.

His announcement left the Democrats without a declared candidate for the position, but Manchester Democratic Town Chairman Ted Cummings said he is conferring with the leaders of the seven other towns in the district and he insisted there would be a candidate by Saturday.

Barry, who is Manchester's town councilor, said he decided not to seek the nomination because of the pressure of municipal duties and those of his private legal practice.

South Windsor Open Space Zoning Topic of Hearing

The Planning and Zoning Commission will hold a public hearing Tuesday at 8 p.m. to consider amending the zoning regulations to include an "open space" subdivision to provide site flexibility for building arrangement, conservation of land resources and greater efficiency of utility systems, and to allow a subdivider the opportunity to reduce the lot requirements in Rural Residential, Residence AA-40, A-30 and A-20 zones providing the following requirements are met:

(a) The maximum number of lots to be permitted on a given piece of land is determined by reducing the total acreage by 10 per cent for street right-of-way, and by dividing the remaining area by the minimum lot requirement of the zoning district in which the subdivision is located. Land utilized by utilities or others for easements for major facilities such as electric available to the owner for development, shall not be considered as part of the gross acreage in computing the maximum number of lots to be permitted under this section.

(b) Lots approved under the section 15.3 shall conform to the height and area requirements in RR and A-40 zone to have a minimum lot area of 20,000, minimum lot width 100, depth 150, maximum stories 2 1/2, 30 feet high, covering 15 per cent of the lot for a maximum with required minimum frontage of 50 feet, 10-20 sides and 50 for the rear.

(c) The differences in the AA-30 and A-20 requirements from the previous requirements are the minimum lot size is 17,500 lot depth is 125 feet and the rear property line minimum can be 40 feet.

In the A-20 the minimum lot area is set at 15,000 sq. ft. with 110 for lot depth with frontage set at a minimum of 40 feet and rear property 30 feet.

A subdivider will be required to deed to the Town or association a minimum of 10 acres of "Open Space" or the same

Bolton New Vote Sought on School

The Board of Education will ask that another town meeting be called on the cafeteria-auditorium addition to the high school. The request will be presented at a joint meeting of the Board of Education, Selectmen and Finance, the Planning and Public Building commissions, and the town council Tuesday night at 8 at the elementary school.

At its meeting last week the board voted unanimously to seek a second town vote on the addition, which was defeated by referendum vote in July.

The second request will be for a lower figure: $575,000 instead of the $615,000 sought in July. The reduction is the result of new state estimates, which, on the basis of school construction recently completed, are down to three dollars per square foot.

The superintendent of schools, Dr. Joseph Castagna reports that architect Arnold Lawrence has prepared a whole new budget, based on the new estimate, for the construction of the addition.

Bulldogs Win

Homeowners will be required to pay their pro-rata share of cost and the assessments levied by the association can become a lien upon the property. The association must be able to adjust the assessment to meet changed needs and property deeded to the town under the provisions of this section must be retained as open space for a period of at least 35 years. If any land is disposed of by the town after the specified period of time, the town "shall provide an equivalent amount of open space elsewhere in South Windsor," the regulation reads.

Interested persons may appear and be heard and the commission welcomes written communications. Copies of the amendments are on file in the town clerk's office.

Sale Slowdown Marks Robbery

Columbia, Tenn. (AP) — Mike Morris said he had just commented to a coworker at Gibson's Discount Store Thursday about how slow handgun sales had been. The next customer pulled a gun on his own and stole 12 of them.

"I was just looking at the gun counter and said, 'We haven't sold many hand guns this week, just before the robbery,'" related Morris, manager of the store's sporting goods section.

Morris said the robber carried a sawed-off shotgun under his coat and pulled it out after carefully looking over the display counter.

Coventry Schools Embark On New Programs

With school now under way, kindergarten youngsters at Coventry Grammar and Robertson schools have embarked on a new program that combines the best of the traditional and progressive philosophies of education.

The Sequential Learning Program, (SLP) in the kindergartens is the first phase of a program that will eventually upgrade the entire school system by utilizing team teaching, the open space concept, individualized instruction and modular scheduling.

The second phase, upgrading of the first grades, will be implemented next fall, with planning by first grade teachers slated to begin later this month.

The kindergarten teachers, working with Dr. Donald Hardy, superintendent of schools, developed the present program in which a child is measured against himself, rather than against his peers.

Some remodeling was done in the kindergarten rooms to facilitate the program. Archways between rooms were created, allowing for movement from area to area. Interest centers are located in all the rooms with youngsters free to move from area to area. A teacher, teacher's aide and high school student assistant work within each classroom.

The interest centers range from science, math and reading to kitchen and workshop areas. Because of the "open" concept, duplication of materials from room to room is not necessary as it was in the past when the classrooms were "closed."

Teachers are working on a team-teaching basis, utilizing their strong areas to broaden the educational process for the students. The lock-step grade-by-grade pressure has been removed, since the program focus is on skill levels rather than grade levels.

Extensive skill charts, which include intellectual development, imaginative and creative expression, social, emotional, manipulative and motor development, self help and work habits, have been developed by the teachers during their year of planning the program.

Progress in each area is further broken down, and will be regularly recorded by teachers, so that at any given time during the school year, parents can see the exact progress of their child, rather than relying on letter grades or check marks.

A report card has been derived from the skill chart, and will be sent home twice during the year. Parent-teacher conferences are encouraged, and will replace the written report for the other two writing periods.

Twenty-four pre-kindergarten age children are participating in the program, and have been divided up between the 14 kindergarten classes.

These youngsters are expected to meet with success in the program, since it is individualized to students' needs.

Traditional norms will be used in testing the youngsters, although final test scores are not expected to be considerably higher than in a non-SLP kindergarten class.

However, a child's communication skills are expected to be superior in SLP, as measured against a more traditional approach, since the program is designed to motivate and the percentage of youngsters who benefit is considered important.

Because of the program's structure, goals and roles of teaching personnel are important, and are expected to be refined as the program progresses.

All personnel in the program were involved in a two-week workshop during the summer to study, define and refine goals and objectives, as well as for orientation purposes.

Two orientation sessions have been planned for parents, one at Robertson and one at Coventry Grammar School. The first will be at Robertson on Sept. 25, and the second at CGS on Sept. 26, both slated for 7:30 p.m. Letters inviting parents of children in the program will be sent home.

Other new programs in the system are continuing this school year with some 25 high school students participating in the advanced placement program, begun last year. Under this program, students participating receive both high school and college credit for approved courses. These include courses in art, English, math and social studies, in conjunction with four area colleges.

About 50 high school juniors and seniors will be involved in the vocational education program, which is specifically designed for non-college bound students. Work stations for students in the program are in Willimantic, Manchester and Coventry.

Meetings between employers in the program and Frederick Hartung, vocational guidance counselor, have detailed expectations about how employers will rate students and the hours students will work.

Hartung will instruct students about employer responsibilities, duties, problems and academic areas geared to the student entering the working world upon completion of high school.

New this year will be evaluation of all certified school staff through a new evaluation instrument compiled by the Coventry Federation of Teachers and the Board of Education.

Several in-service days for teachers will be used to work on curriculum improvements.

Bolton High Plans Girls Intramural Hoop Program

Bolton High girls will have the opportunity to pit their basketball skills against strangers this year, but the Bolton Terriers will not go forth with their brother Bulldogs into interscholastic competition.

Mike Landolph, director of physical education, presented a sort of pro-con appeal to the school board at its meeting last week. Mike, who has coached boys exclusively during all his years in Bolton, seemed a bit shocked up by this sudden interest in girls' interscholastic sports. But he could not be accused of bias, since his wife, a former girls' gym teacher in Bolton, has just presented him with a baby daughter.

The agitation for more girls' sports has come from parents, board member Mrs. Marilyn Breslow reported. Some parents have complained that their girls weren't getting enough physical education outside of their regular gym classes.

Landolph explained that what most parents don't realize is that decrease the number of girls participating in a sport, rather than increase it, since, in basketball, for instance, only about a dozen girls would be on the team (as on the floor at one time).

Landolph advocated a stepped-up intramural program instead, thereby allowing many more girls to participate. The

During the course of the discussion Landolph said he would have to start a new team, then have to drop it, as has been the case with the cross country team this year. Because students have other activities or no interest, only two boys were available for running this fall. That's not enough for meets, Landolph said, so there is no Bolton team this season.

Mrs. Breslow questioned him on the impact of the new pony league football team on school sport participation. Cautiously, Landolph replied, "If we didn't have the football, boys would turn to school sports." He had earlier noted that Bolton is the smallest public high school in the state, according to Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Conference figures.

Bloodmobile Here Thursday

The Red Cross will hold its monthly Bloodmobile visit Thursday, from 12:45 to 5:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Park St., Manchester.

Although walk-in donors are accepted throughout the day, prospective donors are strongly urged to contact the Manchester office to make a definite appointment. This enables the volunteer workers on duty at the Bloodmobile to process the donor records more quickly.

Red Cross officials advised that while the critical period of blood shortage which occurred this summer has been passed, present blood supplies are not yet so great that any letdown can be made in blood collections. Each month larger and larger quantities of blood are being used in the manufacture of platelets for treatment of patients with severe bleeding and leukemia. This is in addition to the ever increasing use of whole blood for surgery.

It is hoped that the Manchester area will continue to show its support of the Blood Program as well this month as it did in August when a total of 191 pints were collected, exceeding the monthly quota by 41 pints.

Any healthy person between the ages of 18 and 68 may donate blood.

South Windsor Two Requests From Citizens Before Council

The Town Council will consider two citizen requests when it meets tonight in the Town Hall council chambers at 8 p.m.

The first request is to include public participation at the time each agenda item is being discussed by the council. The council allows for a "presentation of public petitions" at the beginning of each meeting and concludes with a "public participation" portion.

Secondly, the council will discuss a petition presented for the Pine Knob area residents by Donald Marra of Dogwood Lane asking the town to request the New England Fire Insurance Rating Bureau to run a series of pressure flow tests on the portion of the Connecticut Water Co. system formerly known as the Pine Knob Water Co.

The council will hear a report also from Councilman Sandra Bender, public health and safety committee chairman, in which she is expected to inform the council the state will be willing to assist towns in solving landfill problems as interim solutions.

Members of her committee and Mrs. Bender attended a state Department of Environmental Protection meeting last week in which the group learned that assistance on a temporary basis is available where before it was believed nothing could be done to assist towns until the state adopted a formal program. The life expectancy of South Windsor's landfill site, according to Councilman Robert Hornish, is approximately 10 months.

South Windsor's recycling program will also be discussed.

The council will consider a charter revision commission.

The Game of Politics

Gov. Thomas Meskill's decision to call a special session of the Connecticut General Assembly to deal with the financial crisis involving a state bus company, which claims the need for tax dollar subsidies in order to continue service, opens the door to major political issues.

Obviously, political considerations will be prominent in the deliberations which begin Tuesday.

The governor's desire to maintain a functioning and reasonably inexpensive means of mass transit for the public is important in this day and age when our highways are already near saturation with private cars.

The need to maintain bus service at present levels solves only the immediate problem and it is incumbent the state administration and the General Assembly consider the real need for expansion of this service in the future as the state grows. The almost 500,000 residents added to the state between 1960 and 1970 clearly indicate this need.

The subsidy approach via the means of local districts appears to be a workable interim solution to the problem since mass transit needs do vary from town to town. However, judgment must be reserved until the plan has been more fleshed out and perhaps given a trial run.

The desire for a reduction in the state sales tax is doubly attractive this year since it is an election year and it is all but a certainty that Connecticut will be allocated federal funds under the Federal Revenue Sharing Act now in House-Senate Conference Committee.

However, it would be cruel hoax to reduce the tax on the eve of election only to find that certain economic realities which face state government, namely rising costs, increases in demands for services, and again growing population would force re-imposition of the tax cut next year.

The General Assembly, in evaluating the bus crisis and the sales tax reduction proposal, should consider not the immediate advantages but the long-range implications of their actions. Mass transit is vital to our economy and our environment and while a tax reduction may be politically desirable, we feel the economic stability of state government operations is more important and this stability cannot be achieved nor maintained if we allow sales tax income to become a political yo-yo.

Good Thing McGovern's A Man

A group called Americans in Paris for McGovern is harnessing tourist power on behalf of the Democratic candidate for president.

The organization, composed of Americans living in France, hopes to enroll as roving emissaries for George McGovern many of the one million Americans who will visit France this year.

The heart of the drive, a variation of the traditional bumper sticker campaign, is the distribution at such popular tourist meccas as Orly Airport and the Eiffel Tower of luggage stickers and lapel buttons bearing slogans proclaiming "J'aime McGovern."

"Vivre McGovern" and "McGovern Is My Bag."

"The tourist is the most visible and mobile American citizen to be found," says Eugenia Wilds, co-chairman of the group. "Very few tourists bring autos with them, but they all carry suitcases, briefcases and flight bags. And George McGovern will be riding right along with the voter."

It's a clever idea, and a good thing that Senator McGovern is a man. Imagine the howls from the women's libbers if a lady candidate for president, which no doubt there will someday be, were to be called anybody's "bag."

Our Constitution Seeks Advertising Ban

Sept. 17-22nd is observed as Constitution Week under Public Law No. 915 adopted August 2, 1966. This document has been our guide for government for over 185 years. We must think about it, read it, have study groups and thank God for the wisdom of the men who drafted the Constitution.

During this time we ask citizens to fly their flags each day. If you don't own a flag what better time to acquire one. They can be purchased inexpensively or through a stamp redemption center. If a flag is torn, dirty or faded, it should be repaired or disposed of.

Where are the flags on Main Street? Since Flag Day I've asked this question. There are small round holes in the concrete in front of some of the stores on Main Street so that flags can be flown, indicating that at one time there must have been flags. Are the flags worn out or in some storeroom forgotten? I wish someone who remembers when there were flags on Main Street would answer my question then perhaps we could do something about it.

It looks so nice to enter a town or city on a holiday and see the flags on the main streets. I think especially of Hartford and Boston. Let's give Manchester a holiday atmosphere as it really takes so little effort among so many.

Sincerely yours,

The Cultural State of Children

WASHINGTON — In the daily struggle to understand United States foreign policy, a columnist is required to do a certain amount of ideological head-knocking with members of Washington's diplomatic colony, and it can be reliably reported that foreign groupings continue to deplore what they call the cultural state of American children.

It is the contention of my foreign acquaintances that American parents are derelict in their duties because they fail to guide their sprouts into cultural paths. Instead, they complain, the average papa and mama heretobots spend their time frantically seeking a full and pleasurable social life for their offspring.

What they mean is that since it has become an American tradition that kids must have "something to do" with their scads of free time, we are all time-arranging dancing wassals, slumber parties, Coke drinkings and other assorted teenage Bacchanalia, lest our moplets run away to some untidy opium hell. Their charge, renewed during this month of school openings, is that we try too hard to keep the kids entertained.

As a Dutchman put it, "American parents seem obsessed with the aim of making their children as popular as possible with their friends."

Ordinarily, I am left cold by most of the practical sneers of foreigners concerning the American quality of life because I suspect that if parents in England or France were as rich as their U.S. cousins their kids probably would be just as spoiled. But my diplomatic sources do have a point.

I mean, good night, nurse, a body can wade through a sea of American teenagers without finding one who so much as cracked a book during the long summer vacation. Even during the school year, you can count on the fingers of one hand those American parents who suggest reading as a time-killer.

It is also true that too many U.S. children, if not a majority, know next to nothing about the pictures hanging in their art galleries or the relative competence of their symphony orchestras. I swear, I don't know what in tarantula the schools teach these days — when their

St. George And The Dragon

Some upon a time, there was a shining knight named St. George who vowed to slay The Dragon. The Dragon's name was Dick.

At first, The People just laughed. No one had ever heard of St. George. Besides, lots of famous old knights were dying like all get out to take on The Dragon.

But St. George had a magic sword named, "Decency." And a gleaming shield named, "purity." And a beautiful white horse named, "Old Fashioned Honesty." Moreover, he was a very nice guy.

Yet, despite these handicaps, he earned a shot at The Dragon by beating all the famous old knights in honest combat.

When I have slain The Dragon," cried St. George, triumphantly waving his magic sword, "I will take from the rich and give to the poor, end all wars forever and ever and cut the price of chopped chicken live."

The People cheered "Verily," said some, "maybe he can do it." After all, who's The Dragon ever liked?

Unfortunately, The Dragon lived a long way off across The Evil Swamp of Muckennire, who had never sowed on a button or slid a TV dinner into the family oven. They are unacquainted with the mysteries of scouring a kitchen sink or pushing a vacuum cleaner. Boys become fathers without ever balancing a check book or moving a lawn or hammering a nail. Their growing-up process seems to consist mostly of watching TV, ear-splitting jam sessions over the talking machine, careening about in the family car, and wolfing for some kind of hare-brained nut with capped teeth.

So there was nothing for St. George, come out and fight! The Evil Swamp of Muckennire, who had first, he needed a Squire.

Being a nice guy and not wishing to hurt anyone's feelings, he asked just about everybody to take the job. But oddly enough, nobody seemed to want it — except for Sergeant Shroven, who had nothing to lose, being unemployed at that time. Next, he needed directions

Other Editor's Say Getting the Message

Meriden Court of Common Council's action censuring Mayor Abraham G. Grossman for his conduct of Council meetings is without precedent in the city's history — but then, so is Mayor Grossman.

Citizens who are proud of their city have not known whether to laugh or cry, as during the past months the mayor has set up a circus at City Hall. Grossman claims he has put Meriden on the map, and so he has — as the laughing stock of the entire state.

Councilman John T. McGuire, next in line of authority behind the mayor, delivered the well-deserved rebuke. It is a measure of the Council's disgust that only three aldermen voted against this public censure.

Of more importance to the conduct of the city's affairs, however, is the fact that the aldermen voted overwhelmingly to favor the zone change that would allow a florist shop in conjunction with the greenhouses on the Mesite property. It was a sound decision, logical in terms of prior practice and certainly minor enough in nature, and it probably would have been made anyway if Grossman hadn't interfered.

But in voting so emphatically and overwhelmingly they put the mayor on notice that they are not to be manipulated or threatened by City Hall on this and on other matters. They were told, and told each other, to vote their consciences as well as the facts, and this, it appears, is what they did.

Just in case the mayor missed the message on the zoning vote, it is underlined in McGuire's resolution: "We do feel this resolution is to make clear that this is a strong Council form of Government with a mayor as its head, and that as Council members we do have the right to speak on the Council floor without calamity from the chair."

We hope Grossman takes this public reprimand seriously. It is a serious matter. There is still time in the remaining months of his term for him to simmer down and try to work democratically and cooperatively with other citizens who want to serve their city well.

He may not in the future put Meriden on the map quite as often as the city with the circus at City Hall. But we can do very well without that kind of publicity. — (Meriden Morning Herald)

Rise in Gas Prices

It is amazing that more of the thousands of valley motorists did not rise up in wrath recently when the price of gasoline took a sharp jump. Increases of several cents a gallon were common — a very considerable additional cost on a percentage basis.

Most Valley residents probably thought that, under price controls the cost of gasoline would remain about constant. Yet it did not. Valley service stations were not at fault. They merely passed on to the consumers the additional costs forced upon them by the big gasoline distributors. In fact, some valley garages absorbed part of the increase without passing them on.

What happened was the large gasoline distributors increased their prices, actually, although not technically. Technically, they merely stopped granting certain rebates, discounts and allowances.

They claimed to have good reason for doing so, but the effect was an increase in the cost of living, a tendency toward inflation and a blow to the motorists' pocketbooks.

State Reps Albert Webber, a New Haven Democrat, called the other day for legislation to regulate the price of gasoline, as well as of heating fuels. Webber is chairman of the general law committee of the legislature, which is studying a proposal to establish a price-control council to regulate the cost of fuels.

Such a council may or may not be needed. What is clearly needed is federal action to cut through the technicalities and force the price of gasoline down to former levels. — Annonia Evening Sentinel

Columbia Zoning Proposals Debated

The majority of Columbia's residents attending last week's hearing concerning more stringent zoning regulations did not approve of many of the proposed changes.

Most do not think the town suffers from problems of overdevelopment or overcrowding. A show of hands indicated only six persons were in favor of increasing lot sizes from the present 40,000 square feet to the proposed 60,000 square feet. Several of those who were in favor of larger lots said later they felt "intimidated" against speaking because of alleged snickering from lake property owners, many of whom were in attendance. More than 30 families signed a petition supporting no change in the zoning regulations. The petition was presented to the Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) during the hearing. Dr. Bruce Bradford, PZC chairman, said the increase in lot sizes would permit more area for open space and protect landowners from potential septic tank system failures. A 60,000 square foot requirement already exists in RA 1 zones, Dr. Bradford said. The increased lot requirement is designed primarily for subdivisions, according to Dr. Bradford.

If a septic system does not function properly, the owner can lose the property, according to Sam Pescatello, zoning agent. Dr. Bradford said the ZC does not intend to "wash out" the cottages around the lake "but it does not want to have Coventry's situation here. Speaking for increased lot sizes, Bruce Hyer, a member of the Conservation Commission, said increased acreage would protect wooded areas which would become buffer zones between homes while providing

George Peters, referring to a section concerning seasonal dwellings which permits occupancy between June 1 and Nov. 1 and no period of more than 30 days between Nov. 1 and June 1, said, "Who decided how long a person can use a cottage? No one has the right to do this," he said adding the PZC was "way out of line." Peters, arguing that lakefront property owners pay taxes which are "sky high" for only a three or four month period, said such owners should not be restricted in the use of the property. Conversion or alteration of seasonal dwellings to year round occupancy would also be permitted on lots which meet zoning regulations. Bradford explained seasonal dwellings were constructed with limited septic systems. The town wishes to prevent conversion while an adequate septic system exists, he said. Mrs. Katherine Rajchel said, "Many residents do not live near the lake. The Lake Association does not own the town and there is no open space around the lake." She added other residents must meet regulations and lakefront property owners should also. "Persons living around the lake bring boats to the lake and there is gas all over the place." Discussion on the river zone, cluster design and gas stations did not meet the same resistance as upping the acreage requirements for subdivisions. The PZC will review the comments prior to acting on the amendments. Dr. Bradford said, after the meeting, "We feel positive that our amendments will reflect the impressions we received at the hearing." Manchester Evening Herald Columbia correspondent Virginia Carlson, telephone 334-9294

DON'T Be Taken In By the "Flim-Flam" Man

Recently several Manchester area Senior Citizens have been victimized by smooth-talking flim flam artists who have presented themselves as bank examiners, F.B.I. or Treasury Men. In an effort to cooperate with what they thought was a legal authority, these people have placed themselves in the position of being bilked out of their money.

In an effort to protect you, we would like you to remember a few simple precautions to take when you are approached by a strange man or woman who seems friendly, but whose main purpose in addressing you is to steal your money:

1. If you receive a phone call from someone who says he holds a position of authority, asking you to reveal the amount of your bank deposits to him, be sure to get his name and then check with the Police.
2. Under no circumstances, should you ever show your bank book or records to a total stranger. If anyone requests that you do this Call the Police.
3. Should a stranger approach you as you are entering your bank, report this incident immediately to a bank officer or bank employee.
4. Never accept an offer of a ride to your bank from a complete stranger.
5. Beware of any "get rich quick" scheme where you are asked by a stranger to match his investment dollar for dollar, in order to obtain a return which will "double your money". Report any such attempt as this to the Police.

Your Police Department and your bank are deeply concerned with your personal safety and with the safety of your money.

We are here to help you!

Zoning Board Meets Tonight

A request for a special exception from the town's zoning regulations to allow a new motorcycle sales-service facility at Adams St. and Tolland Tpk. is one of six items on tonight's public hearing agenda of the Manchester Zoning Board of Appeals.

The hearings will start at 7 p.m. in the Municipal building hearing room. Manchester Sports Center Inc., now doing business at 634 Center St. is seeking a motor vehicle dealer's permit as well as a special exception for the four-acre site, zoned Business II.

The Manchester Rotary Club's request for a zoning variance to allow one-day open " flea markets" on Oct. 7, 1972 and May 19, 1973 on vacant land at the southwest corner of Adams St. and Tolland Tpk. is also on the agenda.

To Talk On Red China Tuesday At MCC

Russell Johnson will speak at Manchester Community College tomorrow on his visit last year to the Peoples Republic of China and as guest of Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, living in exile in Peking.

Johnson is program secretary for the New England Region of the American Friends Service Committee. His color slides illustrated talk will be given in the auditorium of the MCC Bidwell St. campus at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

In August and September of 1971, Johnson, his wife, another Friends official, and his wife spent four weeks in China. Afterward, they traveled to Moscow on the Trans-Siberian Railroad, a week's trip of 6,000 miles.

The guest speaker's tour included stays in Canton, Peking, Chengchow, Sian, Nanking, Shanghai, and Yenan, the cradle of the Chinese Revolution. The Americans visited four communities.

Columbia Staff Changes Okayed

The Columbia Board of Education has approved hiring of personnel recommended by Supt. Arthur Rizy.

Mary McMahon is working with the elementary education major and is doing graduate work at SCSC in special education.

Robert Albertson is working with emotionally disturbed students in grades 5 and 6 and is a special education graduate of SCSC. All three begin with salaries of $7,550.

Kenneth Hoyce is a 1970 CSC graduate and working with grades 5 through 8 students with learning disabilities.

He has completed 30 hours of graduate study, five years preparation and taught one year in Torrington in the same field. His salary will be $8,400.

Maureen Link has been hired as the school's speech and hearing specialist. She is a 1968 Cumberland County College graduate with an associate arts degree; Montclair, N. J., State College bachelor's degree; and attended Seton Hall University.

She will be paid $7,500 annually. Margaret Duffy has been hired as a part-time reading teacher for grades 6 through 8 at a salary of $3,950. She is a 1971 University of Connecticut graduate with a teaching certificate for grades 6 through 8 and a salary of $3,775.

Norma Keegan will be a library aide succeeding Clarice Brown. Mrs. Keegan has worked in several area schools as an aide and Mrs. Brown has been transferred to the office on a part-time basis.

Zoo officials said M'Kwuba's rejection left Josephina stiff and sore. She became a picky eater and got foot troubles.

They decided to give her a complete physical, and Thursday a heart specialist, a dermatologist and a heart surgeon gave her a complete going over, including X rays and treatment for her foot sores.

Overall, they said, she was in excellent shape and should be given another chance at romance with M'Kwuba.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - A batch of high-powered medical men concluded Thursday that there's nothing much wrong with Josephina except maybe a bad case of love sickness.

Josephina is the mountain gorilla who arrived recently from the Bronx Zoo to be the intended of M'Kwuba, king of the Oklahoma City Zoo.

Hungry Ape Gets No Friend

CHICAGO (AP) - Beverly Sivila did what anyone else would have done when she found a money on her walk with the she gave it a banana.

Mrs. Sivila held the monkey for a while Wednesday after the animal had started her family and chewed everything in sight—including a toy truck.

Patrolman Robert Willis took charge of the monkey, but before he could get the monkey to the police station, the little primate had chewed up his traffic-ticket book and swallowed the policeman's ulcer tablets.

His & Hers gas range sale!

Special sale on gas grills and ranges! Come to the CNG patio, 60 Columbus Boulevard. One day only - Saturday, Sept. 23, 10A.M. - 4P.M.

His - If you think messing with charcoal is the only way to get genuine barbecue flavor, you've never cooked on a natural gas grill. With a gas grill, you get instant starting, several hundred square inches of cooking surface and the same precise temperature control you get on a gas range.

Hers - Modern gas ranges come in all the latest colors, styles, and with all the latest features. Like continuous or self-cleaning ovens. But the best part about the modern gas range is performance. You broil smokelessly with the oven door shut. And you control the heat so much more precisely with gas. In fact, most of the world's greatest chefs refuse to cook on anything else. So should you. Check out these sale-priced bargains from CNG.

Tolland Art of Ballooning Class to be Offered

The start of the regular offerings to be given as a part of the newly formed Tolland High School Adult Education Program will be delayed until January for evaluation of the high school. Two additional courses will be offered and both are dealing with aeronautics.

Charles MacArthur will teach the fine art of hot air ballooning and Ted Schellen will teach a preparatory course for the written examination given to prospective airplane pilots.

MacArthur is a noted authority and trainer of balloonists, with a national reputation as a lecturer on the subject, according to a program spokesman. Schellen is an instructor at Ellington Airport. Both men have agreed to contribute their salaries to the program.

The third phase of the adult education program will be sponsored by the Board of Recreation and include golf and gymnastics by using private instructors to be paid by student fees and the board.

Enrollment in the four local schools totaled 2,744 as of last week a 71 student increase over the closing day last June.

School officials anticipate between 50 and 100 additional students will be enrolled during the year from homes now under construction.

Hardest hit by the increase is the already overcrowded middle school, officials said.

Total enrollment including special education, vocational agriculture and technical school students totals the figure 2,850 students.

The school breakdown is: Meadowbrook 723, Hicks 472, Middle 917 and high school 622.

The enrollment increase is in contrast to other area towns which have found enrollments stabilizing or decreasing.

The school board has accepted the superintendent is faced with two similar problems where families have purchased homes here, begun sending children to school while providing their own transportation but whose houses are not being completed on schedule.

He noted the surrounding towns of Ellington, Bolton, Coventry and Somers have no such policy. The board agreed to reconsider the policy.

In the meantime they set a $600 tuition fee for elementary school youngsters and a $1,000 per pupil fee for high school students. The costs are based on last year's per pupil costs less transportation.

The firm, a subsidiary of Alpha Beta Acme Markets Inc. estimates there are 20,000 blind persons in Southern California.

The chain has initiated other provisions for the handicapped. Its newer shops have wider parking spaces for cars carrying handicapped persons, ramps into the shops, extra wide restroom doors for wheelchairs, and helper bars and fixtures.

Menus Set In Braille Soviet Union Gives Her New Nuptial Date

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Braille menus are now carried by a Southern California coffee shop chain to help blind persons be more independent while dining out.

The seven-page version of Alpha's Coffee Shops' standard menus were conceived by Gary Stephens, manager of one of the 27 restaurants. A trial menu was prepared by the Braille Institute and the San Bernardino Valley Lighthouse for the Blind, then adopted for the entire chain.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judith Silver Shapiro has been granted a second date by the Soviet Union on which to marry her Jewish activist husband but, as in the first case, has not been granted a visa.

The former social worker said she learned Thursday that the new date is Nov. 1.

She was married earlier this year in a Jewish religious ceremony in Moscow to Gabriel Shapiro, an engineer who will begin serving a one-year term in an automobile factory for "corrective labor." He has been convicted of avoiding military service.

Soviet authorities recognize only the civil marriage ceremony. Mrs. Shapiro had to leave Russia in June when her visa expired. She was unable to return for her Aug. 30 civil wedding date when her request for a return visa was denied.

Mrs. Shapiro said she will go to Washington next week to meet with Soviet officials about a visa.

ISSUES IN LOCAL GOVERNMENT

The Institute of Local History and the public service careers program at Manchester Community College offer a non-credit, continuing education course to acquaint students with crucial problems of suburban life. Subjects will include narcotics, welfare, financing education, politics, town manager vs. mayor, reapportionment and town planning. Classes will meet eight Wednesdays, beginning Sept. 27, from 7 to 8:15 P.M. in Room 6 on the main campus, Bidwell Street. A certificate of completion will be awarded. Fee is $15. Check, made out to Manchester Community College, must accompany application to complete registration. Clip the application form and mail it to: Business Office, Manchester Community College, Mail Station No. 1, P.O. Box 1046, Manchester, Conn. 06040.

Please register me for the "Issues in Local Government" course. My check for the $15 fee is enclosed.

Baltimore Series 'Same as Cleveland—We Gotta Win'—Kasko Red Sox Bank on Rookie Pitcher

BOSTON (AP) — Rookie Lynn McElroy is probably the most important game of his brief major league career. Ask him about it and he'll tell you: "I haven't thought about it... but it probably will be."

Yanks Still Alive In Pennant Race

NEW YORK (AP) — The triumph left the Yankees in fourth place behind the Boston Red Sox and one half game behind the Baltimore Orioles. The Yankees were going to win, said relief ace Sparky Lyle. But Lyle had to do some smoking of his own and wound up tying an American League record in the process.

McNally's (16-16) first pitch and rocketed deep into the lower left field stands and drove home Bob by Miller. He is now 1-1 against New York. "I was waiting for a fast ball and that's what he threw. You know, yesterday I took part in batting practice and didn't get to play. I wasn't going to practice today but decided to. I'm glad I did."

Lightning About to Strike Again for Bucs Await Clincher at Shea

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightning is about to strike again for the Pittsburgh Pirates, but it won't be in St. Louis. "They had enough fun here last year, let them have some fun in New York for a change," said manager Tom Post.

ADRES-REDS Nate Colbert and Leroy Lee homered for San Diego before Cincinnati's Hal McFady tied the score at 7-11 in the eighth inning with his third pinch homer of the season. The Padres broke the Cubs with three runs in the ninth on Dave Roberts' single, Jerry Morales' double, a walk and a Denis Menke, who left the bag uncovered on a double steal and watched Johnny Bench's throw sail into left field.

ASTON-DODGERS The Reds' magic number in the West Division dropped at six and their lead over Houston shrank to seven games when the Astros won a wild game when the Dodgers that saw the teams tie a major league record by using 14 players—eight by Houston, matching the NL mark by one game in a nine-inning game.

GIANTS-BRAVES The Reds' magic number in the eighth inning, San Francisco elected to walk Hank Aaron, who earlier belted his 67th career home run, leading the bases with two out. But Earl Williams came through with a two-run single and Dusty Baker followed with another single for the final run.

Mets Out of National Flag Race

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs eliminated the Mets from the National League East race and took another giant stride toward locking up second place in the division. The Cubs kayped the Mets 6-4 Sunday to sweep their three game series and finished the season with a 104 edge over the Mets. The Cubs now hold a 4 1/2 game edge over the third place Mets.

Bill Hands, posing his 11th victory, and Rick Reuschel tied for the lead in the first seven innings before New York erupted for three runs in five straight singles in the eighth. "I guess we got our work cut out for us now," Manager Chuck Tanner sighed after watching shortstop Luis Aparado commit two errors that gave California a pair of unearned runs. Wilbur Wood, failing in his third straight attempt to gain his 26th victory, wound up instead with his 14th loss.

ROYALS-TWINS Kansas City raced to a 6-0 lead, the Twins raced right back to tie it with three runs in the eighth and three more in the ninth, then the Royals struck for four runs in the 10th on Fred Patte's tie-breaking double. Joe Kruegh's two-run single and John Mayberry's sacrifice fly.

McAndrew, whose injured right rib cage flared up again, had to be taken out in the third inning. The Cubs are off Monday while the Mets go home to open a series with the Pittsburgh Pirates who figure to pitch the title this week.

Rejects Set Pace In Lions' Victory

DETROIT (AP) — Are you being rejected? Are people snubbing you? Take heart and look at a few Detroit Lions' stars in Sunday's 30-16 National Football League season-opening victory over the New York Giants.

Steve Owens, former Heisman Trophy winner from Oklahoma REJECTED in the college draft by many NFL teams as being "too slow," had his best day for Detroit with 113 yards rushing. Errol Mann, REJECTED by the Lions as a free agent four years ago, kicked three field goals.

"I'm really pleased with our defense," said Coach Joe Judge. "I'm really pleased with our defense. We had some back tackling and a few turnovers on offense. We had one turnover in our way it turned out it was okay."

"In 1966 (with Pittsburgh) I caught seven passes against Houston," Hilton recalled. "For five or six years I have been sitting on the bench and this has been great. The touchdown was my longest. I had a 45-yarder when I was with Green Bay last year."

The Lions appeared ready to pull away after his score, but Thompson sprang a 48-yard field goal and got the 28-yard field goal from Mann. But Thompson took the next kick off on his eight and fumbled down the left sideline for a TD, springing past several Lions who had a big angle on him.

STEELERS 34, RAIDERS 28: Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw ran for two touchdowns and passed 23 yards for a third to lead his team over Oakland. Darryle Lamonica, who came in for the Raiders in the fourth quarter when his team was down 27-7, threw two scoring strikes.

PACKERS 26, BROWNS 10: "You can't say field goal in Polish because they don't play football," said Polish-born Chester Marcol, who kicked four field goals before the Chiefs could get on the scoreboard.

PACKERS 26, BROWNS 10: "You can't say field goal in Polish because they don't play football," said Polish-born Chester Marcol, who kicked four field goals before the Chiefs could get on the scoreboard.

Other games, the Miami Dolphins defeated the Kansas City Chiefs 20-10; the Atlanta Falcons defeated the Chicago Bears 37-21; the Green Bay Packers upset the Cleveland Browns 26-10; Cincinnati's Bengals defeated the New England Patriots 31-7; the Los Angeles Rams routed the New Orleans Saints 34-14.

The Four Hairsmen? Pats Were Well Scouted By Master of His Trade

PHIL WISE, CHRIS FARGASOPOULOS, JOHN HIGGINS, STEVE TANNEN. Even if the New York Jets do not win a National Football League game all season, these four players should make sure they lead the league in one category: hair.

"More Depth, More Material" Jets Superior Than '69 Club. BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Jets have "more depth, more material and we're as healthy as we've ever been," Coach Weeb Ewbank says.

Buffalo, young and inexperienced, was unable to contain Riggins and Bozzer and afforded little protection to quarterback Dennis Shaw. On top of that, they lost 78 yards on eight penalties.

"Yes, we became unraveled," said Buffalo Coach Lou Saban. "I'd have to say the best description would be shambles." Saban agreed that it was team-wide disintegration. The offense, he said, played like it was the opening day of pre-season camp.

"I think that when we get through with the game films some of the answers to questions we have will be fortified," he said. "It was a good, solid test from this standpoint—we now know we have several areas we must upgrade."

"The Bills were down 21-0 before Shaw connected on a 38-yard scoring play to J.D. Hill in the second period. "I don't want to sound greedy," he said, "but a lot of

Pats Were Well Scouted By Master of His Trade

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Paul Brown, 64, and starting his 22nd season as a head coach in the pro football ranks, still is a master of his trade acknowledged by National Football League rivals.

Paul Brown had scouted real good. "New England middle linebacker Jim Cheynski said Sunday after the Cincinnati Bengals manhandled the Patriots 31-7 in a 1972 game. "He had to have had films of me broken down good," Cheynski said. "The big thing was the Cincinnati runners. They stayed behind the blockers so well we could hardly see them coming."

Southern Connecticut State College's head football coach Harry Shay knows a little more about his team today. For one thing, he knows it can win. For another, he knows he's doing something right as far as combining his rookies with the veterans on offense.

He knows all this and more because he watched his team roll to victory over Wesleyan Saturday, 31-21, in the first meeting ever between the two schools. The battle was one of four season openers involving state teams Saturday. Central Connecticut State College whipped its host, Towson State College, just outside Baltimore, Md., 40-14, and the University of Bridgeport took a home contest from West Chester (Pa.) State College 35-27. Southwestern At Memphis spoiled the opening of Coast Guard's 50th football season by downing the Cadets 23-13 in New London.

The Blue Devils held Towson scoreless until the scoreboard clock read 54 seconds left in the first half. "We didn't tackle, we didn't block, we didn't cover," said Coach John Mrazur said. "We were getting blown out of there defensively, and we didn't do anything offensively."

"What can I say? Patriots General Manager Udonis Hebl said. "We were just terrible collectively. It's the same old incoherence—good one week, lousy the next."

Obituary

Ralph H. Judd
 COLLIMAN, Ralph H. Judd, 81, of Rt. 47, formerly of Manchester, died Saturday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Gertrude Brothers Judd.

Mr. Judd was manager of First National Stores in Manchester, East Hartford and Middletown before he retired several years ago.

He was born Oct. 22, 1890, in East Longmeadow, Mass., and came to Manchester as a child. He moved to Columbia seven years ago. He was a member of South United Methodist Church.

Survivors, besides his wife, are a son, R. Arlon Judd of Columbia; a sister, Mrs. Ida Ogden of Sarasota, Fla.; three grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Watkins Funeral Home, 142 E. Center St., Manchester. The Rev. Dr. George Webb of South United Methodist Church will officiate. Burial will be in East Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.

The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to the Memorial Fund of South United Methodist Church.

3 POWs Freed By Red Viet

Hanoi (AP) — Three American pilots shot down during bomb raids over North Vietnam were released from captivity at a ceremony organized by the North Vietnamese Army and attended by relatives and U.S. peace activists who had journeyed to Hanoi.

They are Navy Lt. Norris Charles, 27, whose wife Olga, had flown out from San Diego, Calif.; Navy Lt. Markham Gartley, 28, whose mother, Minnie Lee Gartley, came from Danvers, Fla.; and Air Force Maj. Edward Elias, 34, of Valdosta, Ga.

Overjoyed at their new freedom, the three fliers were not appearing in new civilian clothing provided them for Sunday's 45-minute ceremony, a unique affair in the annals of warfare.

Each pilot made a statement into microphones before the official release, held before Vietnamese and European television cameramen in a building of the Peoples Army.

Olga Charles, 27, who had had her hair washed and set in a downtown Hanoi beauty shop in anticipation of the ceremony, fought through the throng of cameramen and technicians for an emotional embrace with her husband.

Minnie Lee Gartley joyfully put her arms around her Navy pilot son and said, "He's even better looking than I remembered."

Mrs. Gartley for the past four years has actively picked Congress and the White House for an end to the war.

Elias, an until Saturday had expected his wife or father to come to Hanoi, said in a statement.

vehicles were involved in the entire operation.

"About 80 to 100 Israelis came in early Saturday morning, and through the night and began to leave about 3 o'clock," a villager in Juwayra, where two buildings were blown up by the Israelis, said. "The three persons who were killed here were innocent. They weren't involved in politics. Just farmers."

Accompanying newsmen said the Israeli soldiers had detailed maps of Lebanese villages with the suspected guerrilla hideouts clearly marked.

Charles, Gartley and Elias were the first American prisoners released by Hanoi since 1969. The U.S. Defense Department prior to Sunday listed 539 Americans known to be captured and held prisoner in Southeast Asia and more than 1,000 Americans missing, many of them believed in captivity.

Assembly Convenes On Buses

HARTFORD (AP) — The General Assembly convened this afternoon in special session at Gov. Thomas Meskill's direction to deal with bus problems and to prepare to consider tax reductions.

Strikes against two bus companies that serve the state's six largest cities appear more and more certain with the approach of Oct. 1, when existing contracts expire.

Both the Connecticut Co., which serves the Hartford, New Haven and Stamford areas, and the Connecticut Railway and Lighting Co., with lines in and around Bridgeport, Waterbury and New Britain, say they lack the income to meet union contract demands.

Meskill proposes to take $3 million from the Highway Fund surplus and distribute them to all 169 cities and towns. The money could be used in the six cities to subsidize operations of the bus lines under the direction of transit districts, Meskill says.

Democratic leaders, however, say Meskill's proposal is unacceptable, but they have not presented an alternate plan.

A reduction in the state sales tax, and possibly the tax on capital gains, is expected. Meskill expects Congress to enact a revenue-sharing plan that will mean an extra $19 million for the state government.

The governor wants the legislature to deal with the bus problem and to prepare to consider tax reductions.

There were no speakers, either in favor or opposed, at last night's hearing. In April, plans for a similar building at Stock Pl. and N. Main St. was blocked in May when the ZBA vote to approve a special exception and zoning variance failed. Manchester Sports Center appealed that decision.

ZBA members last night took time to discuss and act on the special exception.

In May, ZBA members debated at length before voting 3-2 to approve the application, though apparently favorable action was taken.

Although the proposed location, the public hearing and the ZBA differed, the Manchester Sports Center plans are now substantially the same as they were earlier this year, according to city officials.

Two curricula were preferred by 343 of the new students: 300 in general studies and 242 in liberal arts and sciences.

Although MCC had a deficit because of Gov. Meskill's five percent cut of the original appropriation, the outlook for 1973-74 is even more dismal, Dr. Lowe said.

Enemy Seizes New Capital

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces have seized their third district capital in a month in the northern region south of Da Nang and occupied three hamlets in another district, military spokesmen reported today.

The gains were made in Quang Ngai province, the southernmost of five provinces that make up the northern Military Region 1.

ZBA members, in closed session after a public hearing, voted unanimously to approve the request. The special exception will allow Manchester Sports Center to build an 11,520-sq-ft facility on four acres of land at Adams St. and Tolland Tpk.

The motorcycle dealer's first try for a new facility, at Stock Pl. and N. Main St., was blocked in May when the ZBA vote to approve a special exception and zoning variance failed. Manchester Sports Center appealed that decision.

Oil Quota Expanded By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon Monday moved to increase sharply the flow of oil imports into the United States because lagging production of petroleum products has not kept pace with rising demand.

The chief executive's action means imports of all petroleum products could rise from about 1.7 million barrels a day east of the Rockies to about 2.3 million barrels a day, officials said.

In addition, his actions could almost double the daily rate of imports for No. 2 fuel oil, a product used extensively for home heating in the Northeastern United States.

The changes in the import quotas made by presidential proclamation will take effect Oct. 1.

The steps were necessary, said Office of Emergency Preparedness general counsel Elmer Bennett, to cope with "immediate short-term requirements" resulting from a leveling off of production and a marked increase in demand.

Bennett said he could not predict what impact the increased imports would have on prices, but said in response to a question he thought the action "would be greeted with some enthusiasm" by residents of New England and such states as New York and New Jersey where No. 2 fuel oil is widely used.

Acting on the recommendation of OEP director George Lincoln, Nixon issued a proclamation which:

- Increased by 5,000 barrels per day on an annual rate the 45,000 barrel per day import allowance for No. 2 fuel oil. Since this oil will be imported during the last three months, Bennett said the actual daily rate of increase is 20,000 barrels per day.
- Allowed terminal operators who hold import quotas to import an additional 10 percent of their 1972 allocation of oil products, including No. 2 fuel oil. This, plus a distribution of Canadian and contingency import quotas will mean an additional 624,000 barrels a day in imported oil during the last three months of this year, Bennett said.
