Rockville Issue Falls

As a stop-gap measure next year with the hope that the school would be expanded by the following fall. Expansion of the high school would have solved space problems which will prevail at the elementary level in the near future. Presently the freshman class is housed at the Sykes School. An expanded high school would have freed the Sykes School for junior high students, and according to school officials, would have solved school space needs into the far distant future.

Facing the problem of too little space for too many students, the Board of Education will now have to consider alternatives which will include double sessions, an extended school day or an extended school year. The board will have to study the problem in a different light, not as a stop-gap measure but as a possible permanent measure.

While the voters have made known their wishes concerning the high school expansion, it will be up to the Board of Education to decide what plan will be accepted for housing the students. The board has eyed, besides double sessions or what it preferred to call an extended school year, the 45-15 plan which has students in school for nine weeks and then off for three weeks. The school officials said an enrollment of 25 per cent greater could be handled with existing structures by using such a plan.

Another plan considered was the three semester "8 in 5" plan. Three semesters a year would be mandatory with two the equivalent of a school year as presently conceived. A student would finish six years of work in five years and the program would start with Grade 7.

Prior to the referendum, a Citizens Committee for Education was formed with Joseph Powers, chairman of the Board of Education and Thomas Wolff, a member of the Town Council, as co-chairmen. This committee urged approval of the expansion program and released figures to show what the impact would be as far as taxes were concerned. These figures showed that the core facility, which would have cost the town $1.1 million (the other half would be paid by state funds) would have cost the average taxpayer about $27 a year, and approval of the entire package would have cost the taxpayer about $35 a year.

Another group, Vernon Taxpayers Bureau, Inc., which has been in existence for many years, came out against the high school expansion plan and also called on taxpayers to "Vote out of office all those on the Board of Education that voted to place this referendum to the voters again."

The question of expansion of the Talcoville School was not a controversial one and this was passed by a wide margin of 3,003 votes. The appropriation of $225,890 will be reimbursed 100 per cent by the state. The Talcoville School serves several area towns and houses children with learning disabilities. The appropriation will build a physical education facility and a classroom for pre-schoolers.

AGED MAN SLAIN

WEST HAVENSTRAW, N.Y. (AP) - The body of an 84-year-old man, trussed hand and foot, was found Wednesday in his home. He apparently was slain by robbers, authorities said.

The victim, Frank Anderson, a retired postal worker, lived alone.

Strike Authorization Vote Set For Sunday

Bus Firm Offer Called Mandate For Lockout

HARTFORD (AP) - The lawyer for a union representing Connecticut bus drivers says company officials unveiled a "mandate for a lockout" in negotiations Thursday.

The lawyer, J.J. Gromline, said the company "proposed we continue to work for a period of 30 days, with a cut of 48 cents an hour in wages," after the current contract between the firm and the Amalgamated Transit Union expires Sept. 30.

"This is of course not a proposal. It's a lockout," Gromline said. "It's outrageous. We wouldn't sit still for that, and we work all at 48 cents an hour less than they are getting now, Gromline said.

"There's no question about the members accepting or rejecting that," Gromline said. "The union officials would not even have the nerve to present that as a proposal."

Gromline said the union is calling a membership meeting Sunday to take a vote on strike authorization. If the members approve, union officials could call a strike any time from Oct. 1 on, he said.

He added, with the current proposal on the table "we don't even have to consider a strike. As of this moment, we are being locked out. The buses will not be running as of Oct. 1."

"The members will be told that their stand as of this moment, Gromline said, is to insist that they work, if they work at all, at 48 cents an hour less than they are getting now, Gromline said.

The Connecticut Company serves three of Connecticut's largest cities—Hartford, New Haven and Stamford. The union represents some 600 drivers in the three districts.

The company has said it needs state or municipal subsidies to keep running, and Gov. Thomas J. Meskill has said he is trying to work out a plan that relies on municipal contributions.

Officials in Hartford and New Haven, the two largest municipalities served by the company, have balked at the proposal, however. They said the state should foot the whole bill.

Gromline said the company negotiators proposed the 30-day extension of the contract—with the pay cut—as a means of gaining time for Meskill and other officials to work out a solution.

The Connecticut Railway and Lighting Co., the state's other large bus company, could face a strike by union members when the pact between Local 659 of the Amalgamated Transit Workers Union and the company expires Sept. 30.

Local Union President Joseph Bennett announced Thursday a strike vote to be taken Sunday.

CH & L, which serves Bridgeport, Norwalk, Waterbury and New Britain, has joined ConnCo in requesting state aid to keep up its contracts with the union.

Company President Paul A. Rust said Thursday the threat of a strike further complicated the company's financial problems.

"He said the firm's board of directors scheduled a meeting for next Wednesday to decide whether to cease company operations as of the end of the month due to lack of finances."

Campaign Tempo Increases

By The Associated Press

For the first time in the 1972 presidential campaign, all four major candidates are taking to the hustings today.

President Nixon prepared to fly to Texas. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is making a series of appearances in the South. Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern is in the state of California, and his running-mate, Sargent Shriver, is campaigning in New York.

Agnew, just a few days into his official election effort, has responded sharply to McGovern's steady criticism of the Nixon administration's Vietnam policy.

Dropping the low-key style he used earlier in the week, Agnew said a Republican rally in Chattanooga, Tenn., that McGovern is "parading the propaganda of the North Vietnamese" in criticizing U.S. bombing.

Thus, Agnew said, the Democrats are helping to destroy "the morale of thousands of Americans who are not in possession of the facts about communist aggression."

Meanwhile, Nixon was ready today to depart on his most important trip so far in the campaign—an overnight jaunt to Texas.

The President planned to attend a reception and buffet dinner tonight for wealthy Democrats for Nixon at the Flareville ranch of John B. Connally, the former Democratic governor and Treasury secretary.

On the Democratic side, Agnew says he plans to talk to the voters by television in a series of quiet "fireside chats," alluding to the historic radio addresses of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The South Dakota senator said Thursday night that he has been having trouble getting his message across to the people in "partisan" speeches at airport rallies and street crowds.

McGovern made the statements to newsmen as his campaign jet headed to Detroit after a day of troubles in his city-hopping campaign. In New York, Thursday, McGovern drew-by newsmen's estimate—only 200 persons to a street appearance in a densely populated Italian-American section, he said.

Earlier in Queens, the crowd was so large that several bodyguards whisked away McGovern and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, who has been accompanying the nominee.

He said the CCAG was contemplating a change in its financial structure, based on citizen subscriptions rather than random donations.

Moffett said CCAG was having very little success raising money this year because those who might be expected to contribute to CCAG were giving to Sen. George McGovern.

Moffett announced that his group would survey all Congressional candidates on their support of the Connecticut Press and Environmental issues, similar to a survey of state legislators that will be released before the Nov. 7 election.

Election Delay Denied

HARTFORD (AP) - A Federal judge refused today to prevent the scheduled Nov. 7 election to select a new Connecticut General Assembly.

District Judge M. Joseph Blumenthal denied a motion by Democratic lawyers to postpone the election in order to lengthen the year's recess in purchase power was the largest on record.

The Democrats still have an appeal before the state Supreme Court. Although the nominating schedule is shortened, he said, it isn't so short as to violate the rights of candidates or voters.

Blumenthal said in a 20-page ruling.

Living Costs Rise Below Target Goal

WASHINGTON (AP) - The rise in living costs slowed below President Nixon's target goal of 3 per cent in the first year of his wage-price control program, the government reported today.

"In the 12 months ending in August, the first year of the economic stabilization program, the Consumer Price Index rose 2.3 per cent. This compares with a rate of 4.4 per cent in the preceding 12-month period," the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The report said living costs in August rose two-tenths of one per cent, half the previous month's rise.

The bureau also reported that the average paycheck of some 7 million rank-and-file workers rose to $17.23 a week and that, after allowance for inflation, the cost of living was up three-tenths of one per cent for the month and 3.8 per cent for the year.

The report, marking the first anniversary of the Nixon economic controls, said the Consumer Price Index rose to 125.7 in August. This meant it cost $12.57 last month for every $10 worth of typical family spending five years ago.

The 2.3 per cent rise in living costs over the past year included both the hard freeze imposed by Nixon for three months in August and 2.2 per cent for the year, and recreation costs remained unchanged in August and were up 2.8 per cent over the year.

The bureau said grocery prices in August increased instead of declining slightly as they usually do for the month.

"Meat prices rose nine-tenths of one per cent, slightly more (See Page Twelve)

Shouldn't They Be Called Horse-Tels?

FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ. (AP) - Tom Raptis isn't a cowboy, but his idea, he thinks, makes plain horse sense.

The Scottsdale businessman has opened the first of what he hopes turns into a nationwide chain of motels for horses.

The first one, which accommodates 30 overnight guests, is a forest-brown, steel barn located 4 miles north of heavily traveled Interstate 40.

Raptis said he has been considering the idea since 1960.

"After noticing all the horses being trailered on the highways, I began wondering where their owners put them up for the night while the owners were sleeping comfortably in nice motel rooms," he said.

After talking with several horsemen, Raptis says, he found out they had trouble finding accommodations for their four-legged companions.

Raptis says the horse motel is a pilot project. He charges $7 a night for each horse.

Consumer Group Seeks Strength

MOODS (AP) - The consumer movement may play down its super stars like Ralph Nader and develop grass roots strength, Nader protege Toby Moffett said Thursday night, a month after Nader's failed bid for the White House.

Moffett said the CCAG had created some waves in Connecticut, and predicted "a definite change in the behavior of executive agencies in Vermont and Massachusetts."

The Vermont Public Interest Research Group had discovered a conflict of interest on the Blue Cross-Blue Shield board, he said. And the Western Massachusetts Electric Co.'s request for a rate hike was being opposed by the Western Massachusetts Public Interest Group.

He said the CCAG was contemplating a change in its financial structure, based on citizen subscriptions rather than random donations.

Moffett said CCAG was having very little success raising money this year because those who might be expected to contribute to CCAG were giving to Sen. George McGovern.

Moffett announced that his group would survey all Congressional candidates on their support of the Connecticut Press and Environmental issues, similar to a survey of state legislators that will be released before the Nov. 7 election.

Foreign Aid Funds Cut $1 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) - With the Senate preparing for its third vote of the year on requiring total U.S. troop withdrawal from Indochina, the House has approved $4.2 billion for foreign aid and related programs.

The House vote Thursday night was 169 to 141 for the aid appropriation bill and came after members shouted down attempts to slash foreign-aid spending by $1 billion.

The action sent the bill to the Senate, which today uses its own aid-authorization measure as a vehicle for debating an end to the war. The same bill will provide the second Senate veto of the year over military assistance to foreign countries.

The Senate will vote Tuesday on the bill and its end-war amendment.

The $4.2 billion aid appropriation approved by the House carries $2 billion in military assistance during the current fiscal year, $1.2 billion for economic aid, $81 million for the Peace Corps, and the remainder for international development, loan institutions and for aiding Cuban and Bangladeshi refugees.

Bugging Civil Suits Deferred

WASHINGTON (AP) - A U.S. District Court judge has halted further proceedings in the three civil-damage suits stemming from the break-in at Democratic headquarters until the criminal trials have been completed.

Judge Charles R. Richey announced his decision Thursday after conferring for more than five hours with attorneys for both sides. He said there was agreement among all parties to delay the civil action.

Seven men, including two former White House aides, were indicted by a federal grand jury Friday and charged with conspiring to steal documents and eavesdrop on the headquarters from May 1 to June 17.

Five of the men had been arrested at the headquarters in Washington's Watergate complex June 17.

Judge Richey said his action would make it impossible to bring the civil proceedings to trial before the November election.

Special Session Given 30 Bills to Consider

HARTFORD (AP) - Thirty bills on subjects ranging from abortions to standards for state police recruits were filed in the General Assembly before the deadline Thursday for a pre-election special session supposedly devoted to mass transit and tax cuts.

Seven men, including two former White House aides, were indicted by a federal grand jury Friday and charged with conspiring to steal documents and eavesdrop on the headquarters from May 1 to June 17.

Five of the men had been arrested at the headquarters in Washington's Watergate complex June 17.

Judge Richey said his action would make it impossible to bring the civil proceedings to trial before the November election.

Legislators do not get paid for special sessions until the session hits its 10th day. However, there are staff expenses and mileage and printing costs.

There are only four committees operating during the special session, and Judiciary is handling the miscellaneous bills such as the abortion and state police measures. The Appropriations Committee is in charge of spending bills, as usual, and Finance is in charge of taxes, as usual, while the Transportation Committee is handling bills directly related to mass transit systems.

Bolton Dems Host Champagne Reception Tomorrow

Bolton Democrats are stepping up activities in preparation for the coming election. Congressman William Cutler of the First Congressional District, of which Bolton is now a part, will present at a champagne reception tomorrow. John Toomey, 18, of Toomey Lane, has been named coordinator of Youth-Govern-Striver for Bolton.

All Boltons are invited to the reception, which will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. at Herrick Memorial Park.

A voter registration session will be held at the same time in the Parkfield house. (Newly around the town, sign up with other party.)

The appointment of young Toomey was announced by Alty. John Mahon, town committee chairman. A 1972 graduate of Bolton High School, Toomey is now attending Manchester Community College. He was an active member of his senior class, serving as editor of the yearbook.

John Mahon, town committee chairman, a member of the student council.

Democracy says they will announce the location of their campaign headquarters soon.

Career Programs
Free career education programs at Manchester Community College are available to Bolton elementary school teachers and selected high school juniors and seniors.

The course, which is funded through a grant, will begin Sept. 27 and run until Jan. 17, 1973. It will consist of three five-week units, devoted to health, education, and public service careers, respectively.

The units, which will be taught by MCC personnel, are designed to provide "an introduction to the areas of career specialization and opportunities available to community college graduates through an examination of the historical development of these careers, of the principal present emphasis in them, of some of the problems and methodology in each, and employment opportunities.

Jeffrey Heintz, Bolton guidance counselor and chairman of the Vocational Advisory Committee, says that any teacher or student interested in the three credit course may obtain a registration form from the guidance office. He says his office is stressing student registration.

The baton twirlers' class will start Sept. 26 (not Sept. 29 as reported in error earlier). The class, under the direct supervision of Mrs. William Loabio, will meet Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m. at the elementary school.

Plans are still being formulated for the drum corps, which will be meeting Monday nights.

Meadows to Hold Fair

A fair and cookout will be held tomorrow from 11 to 6 p.m. at the Meadows Convalescent Center, 233 Bidwell St., for residents of the home, their family, guests, and volunteers.

The fair, planned by the recreation workers at the complex, will feature a tent, booths for games and for the sale of articles made by the residents. Prizes will be awarded to patients participating in the games. There will be entertainment throughout the event by square dancers, acrobatic dancers, folk singers, children dressed in a horse costume, a strolling musician, and a band concert.

Volunteers wishing to help with the fair will be welcome and may come to the complex at fair time and ask for the administrator.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Depression Is Not Same as Sadness

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb: Would you please write something about depression. I'm 42, married, have three lovely children, and no problems to speak of, a good husband and few children problems. I get depressed occasionally, and I'm simply awful at this time. I say things I'm sorry for later and am terribly embarrassed about it after I come out of it. I dwell on the past—things that I may have hurt me. I know this is wrong but I can't help myself. I've actually thought of suicide. I'm especially bad around my period. I am on the pill and I think that maybe this aggravated my depression, but actually I started getting this way in my 30s before I took the pill.

I spoke to my doctor and he gave me a tranquilizer, which helped, but I don't want to take medicine all my life. I fight the depression when I feel it coming on. Just the smallest comment can put me into another world. I thought perhaps it was being aggravated by starting the menopause and I asked my doctor about this and he said "Ah, you're too young for that." There must be other people like me. I certainly can't be one of a kind. I forgot to mention that my sister has been in a mental hospital and there are times when I think my mother should be hospitalized as a mental patient. Did I inherit this and am I mentally ill?

Dear Reader—There is a great difference between having a true depression and being sad or just sensitive. A person who has a depression has a profound sense of loss and tends to depreciate himself and is not just "sad." Even body rhythms are affected and the face is often expressionless.

Tolland Dems, GOP Nominate Tomorrow

The Political campaign for both the Republican and Democratic nominations for the 53rd district, is both continuing and disorganized, as both parties settle down for tomorrow's party conventions. The new district in the town of Tolland, Coventry and Willington.

A multitude of candidates are reported interested in both parties' nominations, with few people willing to predict a winner.

The Republicans last week had no candidates until after incumbent State Rep. Robert King's announcement he would not seek reelection.

Names are now being mentioned for the post, including former State Senator Andrew Repko, of Willington, who had earlier announced his intention to seek the State senate post, now reportedly earmarked for Thomas King, GOP Town Chairman of Willington.

Other names mentioned for the Republican nomination are Town Councilman Jesse Brainard of Coventry, Howard Wolfanger, Judge of Probate for Tolland, Willington, Frank Merrill, building inspector of Tolland, and Anthony Valentino of Willington.

The Republican conventions for the 53rd district will be held tomorrow morning at 11 a.m. in the Tolland Town Hall. No winner is expected on the first ballot. Tolland and Coventry each have four delegates and Willington has three.

Democrats in the new 53rd District also have an abundance of candidates to select from. Tolland's town chairman Charles Thibault and Coventry's Richard Crombie both announced their intention to seek the post of State Representative.

Oliver Chappell of Willington, and a possible fourth candidate also from Willington, Tolland and Coventry both have three votes each, while Willington holds the key to the outcome with its two votes.

The Democratic convention will be held tomorrow afternoon at 5 in the Willington Town Hall. Unlike other years, the candidates have not been announcing their intentions to seek the nomination. Unannounced candidates Thibault and Crombie have refrained from making any public announcements since their original one month ago.

Much of the uncertainty revolving around the conventions, is attributed to the long fought court ordered redistricting plan.

WRPA has scheduled a special meeting for 7:45 p.m. on Oct. 3 at Hurley Hall, Eastern Connecticut State College in Willimantic to discuss CATV, which is how it operates and why it is of particular concern to the people of the town. The meeting, which is expected to draw a number of interested persons, will be designed to brief local officials in the region as well as WRPA members.

According to Young, WRPA is interested in CATV because of the enormous potential for public use. A CATV system increases the number of channels that can be received on a set of subscriber antennas. Only part of this capacity needs to be used to retransmit regular broadcasts, leaving the rest for programs of local origin. It is the local origin programs that the planners are interested in as they could be used for community purposes.

A multi-channel educational network operated by a consortium of public schools and institutions of higher education, a channel for the exclusive use of the Spanish-speaking community, and channels for the use of local governments are all possible, Young said.

Coventry GOP To Open Headquarters

Coventry Republican headquarters will open officially on Saturday, when the local GOP welcomes visiting party dignitaries to the Old Hildwell Tavern building on Main St. starting at 3:30 p.m.

On hand for the festivities will be U.S. Representative Robert Steele, State Senator David Odagard of Manchester and Controller Nathan Angellini.

The public is invited to the opening ceremonies, and refreshments will be served.

The Republican Women's Club has contributed $25 to the Robert Steele campaign and is sending Bill Brainard, youth coordinator for the November election, to a Steele fund raiser tonight at the Elks Club in Willimantic.

Oct. 21 will mark "Women for Nixon Day," nationwide, an event to be marked locally by GOP women between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. at a party headquarters open house.

Homemade donuts, cider and coffee, pins, stickers, campaign literature and good fellowship will be available. Reservations for baby sitters and transportation to the polls on election day may be made at this time also.

New Librarian
The trustees of the Booth Dimock Library have announced the appointment of Blaise Basillon as the new library director.

He is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts with a degree in history, and also a graduate of the Simmons College School of Library Science in Boston.

Basillon was formerly employed as an assistant librarian in the Springfield, Mass. public library system.

He lives in Willington with his wife and small daughter.

Don't hesitate to cook a frozen roast in its frozen state. Its eating quality and yield will be comparable to that of a cooked fresh or thawed roast.

Montego Enhances 'Car of the Year' Styling

For 1973 Lincoln-Mercury has modified the front appearance of the Mercury Montego MX Brougham to enhance its "Car of the Year" styling. All 1973 Lincoln-Mercury cars have a new front bumper system to prevent significant damage to safety-related components. Nine Montego models will be offered again this year and will be shown at Moriarty Bros. Lincoln-Mercury of 315 Center St.

About Town

Senior Citizens planning to go on the Nassau cruise are reminded to report to the Senior Citizens Center tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Manchester Barracks, World War I Veterans, and Auxiliary will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. at the VFW Home. Refreshments will be served.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Manchester Midget Football Assn. will meet Monday at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John McNary, 10 Fenwick Rd. Co-hostesses are Mrs. John Weeden and Mrs. Roland Potter.

Mary Nnajjemba Manchester's AFS Student

By Diane Kelly
The little Ugandan girl with the big smile. That's how you'd describe Mary Nnajjemba, or AFS student from Kampala, Uganda.

Mary is a friendly 17 year old, standing a mere 5'1" and smiling every inch of it. She is living with her American "sister," Pam Walsh, and family.

Mary describes herself as "not quiet," except when she doesn't know people. She hails from a family of seven; she has a brother, A. Wassawa, age 14, and three sisters: J. Nnakata, 14, and two-year-old twin sisters, S. Nnakata, and A. Babrye.

Mary applied to come to the United States with AFS because "I wanted to see the biggest air terminal, Cape Kennedy, mechanized agriculture, the Empire State Building, and Boston."

So far she has not seen any of these, but she is certain that she will before she returns to Uganda.

She arrived in America with a plane full of AFS students on July 20th, with five years English and a keen interest in America to her credit. Although both she and her brother had learned English in school, she could not practice it at home because her grandfather wouldn't allow it. "He thought we were insulting when we spoke English," she said, "because he couldn't understand us."

Mary speaks perfect English and has no difficulty understanding people "except when they speak too quickly." She has had some difficulty understanding any of her teachers or people that she met so far.

Even though she is accustomed to crowds, Kampala is the biggest city in Uganda, Mary finds Manchester High School enormous. The Kibira Secondary School, which she attended last year, had a total enrollment of around 600, so the ever-crowded halls of MHS have overwhelmed her. But she is adjusting to the situation, and can now find her way through the halls without too much difficulty.

Luganda, the official language of Uganda is not too much like English. The alphabet is the same with the exception of the letter X, which does not exist in the Lugandan alphabet.

in Uganda, except for one thing, pants. "Some girls wear pants in the cities, but very few wear long pants in most places." Long pants aren't common in Uganda as they are here.

Actually, Mary finds that she goes to school for longer hours in Kampala than she does in Manchester. The Kibira Secondary School started school at approximately the same time MHS does, and got out an hour later.

When I asked her if she was finding her courses here hard, she shook her head vigorously and firmly said: "No. Much of what she is taking this year turns out to be reviews of courses she has already taken. Her present schedule includes: Chemistry, German II, Art II, Crafts and Personal Typing.

The American cuisine has proved quite a change from the meals Mary is accustomed to. "In restaurants," she explains, "food is the same. But in the kitchen it is different." Though she has had no other dining experience with any American food.

She eats all meals here at about the same time she did in Kampala, except for dinner, which she never used to eat until 10 p.m. (The Walches eat at 5:30). Also, she is accustomed to having a 4:00 tea-time a time where friends sit together, eat bread and drink milk.

What does Mary do in her spare time? She likes to sing, dance, draw and sketch. She does all this, but is modest and prefers to eat a cooked dog, So, the Walches explained to her what holidays really were, and she has had no other dining experience with any American food.

Recanvass To Be Made In Vernon School Vote

Due to a discrepancy between the check-off of the public counter total there will be a recanvass of the vote in the Wednesday referendum asking for appropriations to expand Rockville High School. The recanvass will be made tonight at 7 at the Memorial Building, Park Place.

Democratic Registrar of General Albert Tennessi said today that he feels that the error is just a clerical one and there will be no difference in the results of the referendum which voted down the high school expansion.

State statutes call for a recanvass if any discrepancies show in the count of voters. It was explained that the public counter registers when the voter moves the large lever on the voting machine, to the right, as a preliminary to actually voting. The check-off lists have names of voters and their street addresses and as each person appears to vote his name is supposed to be checked off. It is believed by the registrars that what probably happened was that an error was made in counting off the names on the check list. This number differs from the public counter and it should agree with it. There were discrepancies in figures at both polling places. At the Memorial Building where voters in District 1 and 2 voted, the figure on the public counter was 2,190 and the one on the check list was 1,985 indicating 205 more persons voted than were checked off.

At the Vernon Elementary School, where voters in Districts 3 and 4 voted, the discrepancy was reversed with 3,026 checked off and the public counter figure being 2,938, 88 more than were checked off manually.

Those ordered to be at the recanvass session tonight are, besides Tennessi, Republican Registrar George Maharan, Moderators Francis McGuane and Joseph Nash and Charles Weber, machine mechanic.

Vacant Bolton House Destroyed by Fire

The call that came in to the Bolton fire department last night at 10:28 was for a lot of firemen out, but the building, a vacant house on Box Mountain Rd., was a total loss.

Under the mutual aid system, the Vernon and North Coventry departments also responded to the call, and Andover sent trucks to stand by at the Bolton firehouse, where a total of 11 firemen and 10 trucks stood by for N. Coventry.

There was no indication as to the cause of the fire.

Norman Preuss, fire department captain, reported that the house was "fully in flame" when the trucks arrived. The men went to the building down and soon had everything under control, although with mopping up activities they didn't get back to the firehouse until about 2 a.m.

Preuss said the house, which had been vacant for two or three years, according to Preuss, belongs to an elderly couple named Katch, who are in a convalescent home. If the weather hadn't been wet last night, Preuss said, there

Shakespeare Comes to MHS

For all you theater going patrons, Sock and Buskin is proud to announce its 1972-73 season. This year two productions, venturing into fields heretofore untouched at MHS, will be presented.

"The Merry Wives of Windsor" will be the first Shakespearean comedy ever performed in Bay Auditorium. Already, rehearsals are being formed for the Nov. 17 and 18 dates. If you didn't attend the first general meeting Sept. 19, then please come into room 271 before or after school and sign up for a crew Sock and Buskin, under the expert leadership of Mr. Hay, is hoping to show you that Shakespeare can be fun instead of a much-dreaded reading assignment in English.

"Multi-Media" is the word for the second play to be held in Bay Auditorium. "Multi-Media" is acting, singing, dancing and films all rolled into one great package. "Back to Methuselah" by George Bernard Shaw is to be the first "multi-media" play in MHS history. Also on the agenda are student directed one-act plays to be presented in conjunction with the Fine Arts Festival in June.

This year Sock and Buskin officers are: Claudia Kuehl, president; Meg Schickel, vice-president; Laura Hill, membership secretary; and Jed Kravella, treasurer-historian. They have been busily reorganizing the old constitution to the needs of a fast-growing Sock and Buskin.

New proposals include a complete revamping of the point system, a sophomore representative on the Executive Board to be elected in January, and a new membership in the National Thespian Society. With all this work and action, don't you think you'd like to be a part of Sock and Buskin this year?

Kickoff of Grid Season Saturday

By Bob Walsh
Junior captain S. M. Call, Lyle Eastman and Steve Samotis will lead the MHS Football team against Maloney High at Meriden Saturday to open up the 1972 football season.

The Indians trying to come back from a disappointing season (4-6 last year) have good outlooks for the coming campaign. Numerous letters will be returning to help bring back a C.U.I. title to Manchester.

The returning lettermen are: Jim Lolla, Lyle Eastman, Steve Samotis, John Murphy, Dave Fishman, Mark Odell, Mike Cushman, Don Corvran and Roy Roy. Junior Mike Cushman being the only underclassman returning with a letter to his credit.

The key to the success of the Indians will be depth and hustle. Offensively depth is there, many people may be called on. Defensively hustle is the word. Experience and size are working against the Indians but have no fear, hustle can make up for it.

Extra point duties will be handled by Dave Fishman or Jack Maloney. Kickoff of the Red and White will be Mike Parrott and Al Mullock doing the punting.

The tribe will return home next Saturday against Platt, Wethersfield and Concord will follow at home. Then the Indians travel to Bristol Eastern, are home again at Penney Hall away. Bristol Central home and this coming Friday away at Windham full out the schedule. Come every game to cheer the team to a championship.

German Club In Doubt

To be or not to be... that is the question posed the German Club. Lacking both inspiration and the presence of bodies, the club must now come to a decision whether or not to terminate its existence. The club's future will depend on the amount of people present at the next meeting.

Next Wednesday, will be the meeting. If the club is continued, the election of officers will be held at this time. Some available positions are: program chairman, president, treasurer, and secretary.

Possible up coming event for German Club will be an Octoberfest, Sept. 28th inviting everyone. Does anyone remember Marvin Mende? Well, good ole' Marvin was some sides the presence of bodies, the club must now come to a decision whether or not to terminate its existence. Active Director

Perhaps you have noticed many new faces among the staff this year. If so, you must have seen the new band director, Mr. Andrew Shreeves. We thought that a little information about him would be useful to those who would like to know him better.

Mr. Shreeves was born in Brooklyn, New York, and raised on Long Island. He attended Nassau Community College. He was transferred to the Hart College of Music and is now working towards his master's degree at the University of Connecticut. Mr. Shreeves has many outside interests, among which are working with the Gilbert and Sullivan Workshop and the Manchester Civic Orchestra. The ob is his principle instrument although he plays all band instruments.

He has many duties here at school aside from directing the band. He teaches Harmony, Beginning Keyboard, Ensembles, and a section in choir. He is also the advisor for the majorettes.

Mr. Shreeves has many hopes for the improvement of the band. Some of these are to balance the instrumentation, have a wide variety of music in different periods and styles, and reorganize the work load so that 50 per cent of the duties and planning is done by the students. He hopes to reach the instrumentalists who are not presently involved in the band.

Mr. Shreeves said, "There is too much individuality stressed today. So much is missed by not working together."

New World New Ideas

Walking through the halls at MHS, you overheard someone ask, "Gee, what happened to the High School World office?" Well, you can find the new cubby hole room in the new building. Once a very distinguished cloak room, it's now a very distinguished High School World office.

The World is going to try some new and innovative ideas. Weekly articles about different subjects in the school, "home ec. dept., industrial art dept., English dept." and so on is something new the World is going to try. After all how many articles have you seen written about woodworking, individual stories, getting close up and personal - the High School World way is another first for the World. By the addition of the department head articles and the individual student articles, we hope to achieve a more well rounded paper.

A Calendar of Events will be published every so you, the students can be where it's at and know when it's happening. To make things easier on the staff, the World has two groups writing articles on its something new. The editors and the staff hope to make the High School World a paper that can be enjoyed by everyone whether you like sports, music, drama, or just something interesting to read - Anna.

Noise, Cars, SAM Targets of Criticism About Town

Noise pollution, traffic control and SAM (Summer Activities in Manchester) rock concerts were the principal topics of discussion last night, at a 8:30 to 8:30 Board of Directors comment session.

Manning the session were Anthony Petraitis and Charles McKenzie. The directors take regular turns in the two-monthly hearings, now in their sixth year.

A woman complained of noise pollution on Charter Oak St. She cited the opening and the closing of the Young Center and Family Services of Connecticut. A snack bar will be open during the sale.

Perennial Planters Garden Club will open its season Monday with a visit to Woodland Gardens at 7:30 p.m. to hear a talk on house plants. Later, the group will meet at the home of Mrs. Alfred Lange, 88 Princeton St., to make final plans for its annual boutique, that will be held Oct. 13 and 14 at Mott's Community Hall, Mrs. Joseph Anello is co-hostess.

Soccer Has High Goals

The Manchester High Soccer team, expected to be one of the power houses in the C.U.I. and in the state, opened its 1972 season in fine form by defeating last year's champs Concord High of West Hartford.

Concord who held a slim 1-0 lead at halftime, let down in the third quarter, allowing Manchester to score all of its goals. The Indians led the score 1-1 with a perfectly placed penalty kick by co-captain Blaz Simac. Then Werner Casaca, appearing in varsity competition for the first time, drove the ball into the net, two goals apart, to bring the score to 2-1 in favor of the Indians.

The defense is led by regulars, Chris Saunders, co-captain Handy Swanson, Eric Stafford, Jeff Stone, Mike Yankowski and Joe Erardi. Juniors, Connor McCurdy, Bruce Benson, Steve

Somanhis Liners

This year, the Somanhis Staff has decided to add more color pictures to the 1972 yearbook. They feel it will add to the yearbook in its content and also, unfortunately, it will add to the cost of the yearbook for them.

To pay for this they have started selling "liners." Liners are one sheet of paper that students would like to have in their yearbook, such as a poem or a quotation. For one dollar, you may buy 30 liners in the yearbook. This is your chance to really be a part of the yearbook.

Guidance Dept. Query: What Is The Good Life?

What is the good life? Can I find and do "my thing"? Will I find a rewarding career?

Choosing an occupation is probably one of the most important decisions a young person will ever make. The Guidance Department, in conjunction with the COEP Department is in the process of preparing occupational video tapes for MHS students to view. The tapes are being made by students in the COEP program. These young people visit places of employment, interview the personnel manager and various workers on the job, and tour the plant. Such questions as these are answered. Preparation for the job, actual work on the job, best personality for the job, potential of the job, and pay.

The following tapes have been completed and will be offered on the following days, in Guidance Room 119:

- Tues. Sept. 26 3rd Per. Data Processing
- Thurs. Sept. 28 4th Per. Automobiles
- Tues. Oct. 3 2nd Per. Secretarial Skills
- Thurs. Oct. 5 4th Per. Food Services
- Tues. Oct. 10 2nd Per. Telephone Company
- Thurs. Oct. 12 4th Per. Radio
- Tues. Oct. 17 2nd Per. Conn. School of Broadcasting
- Thurs. Oct. 19 4th Per. X-Ray Technician
- Tues. Oct. 24 2nd Per. Retailing
- Thurs. Oct. 26 4th Per. Recreation
- Tues. Oct. 31 2nd Per. Newspaper
- Thurs. Nov. 2 4th Per. Photographer

Interested students should sign up for the program they wish to attend prior to the day the program is offered, in the Guidance Office. As similar tapes are produced, the schedule showing the time and dates will be published.

Class Produces Show

Students in the fifth period, "Mystery of the MHS" class, produced and starred in their own video-taped educational quiz program last Friday.

Each contestant secretly assumed the identity of a mythological character and stood before a panel of experts for a second interrogation period. If the name was not determined during this time, enceph Bill Lovengood presented the contestant with a record, courtesy of WINF radio.

The experts were amazingly well informed and guessed most names in a matter of moments. Only Bruce Litvanchuk (Bachus), Terry Muldoon (Hestia), Faith Murphy (Andromeda) and Carol Stankiewicz (Ariadne) managed to stump them.

The instant replay of the show was greeted with outbursts of laughter from the class and Mr. Emmerling, who was a member of the studio audience. Mrs. Brooks was not strong to read a polished film, she explained, but to present mythology in a more exciting manner.

Junior Achievement Business Is Fun

On Wednesday Sept. 20, 1972 students of M. H. S. were given a first rate report on how they can become actively involved in business opportunities within the state.

The assembly was given by one of the supporters and operators of J. A. and outlined the possibilities for gaining a real knowledge in the operations and functions of a business.

The number of J. A. actually operate their own business with students running the company with elected officers. They meet once a week from 7:10-9:30 at a specified place and can meet more often if they find it interesting.

The other services which J. A. provides are: selling stock, selling services or their manufacture and sell items which they themselves have made.

There are some social planning activities. They are planning a weekend at a ski resort, a ball held in Hartford, also the possibility of a convention they are given the opportunity of meeting other students from other cities as well as people who own their own business or industries, who can give them practical and valid advice.

Applications for Junior Achievement may be picked up in the main office or by contacting Mr. Mozzata.

It's The Undecideds Who Win Elections

Predictions before elections change, stretch the predicted margin, lower it, do one thing and another depending on who is predicting, and on behalf of whom.

But actually, doesn't it seem logical to reason that elections are decided by the undecideds, and in good part at the moment of entering the polling booth? There are a whole lot of diehards, Democrats and Republicans, who probably wouldn't vote for Jesus if he represented the other party. They are in the kitty of their party's "ointed" votes.

They don't need any appeals or arguments. They don't need any appeals or arguments from the other side. They vote "right" whatever.

But let's consider the undecided voter. A lot of them—maybe most—are undecided as they enter the polling booth. They have last minute thoughts: "Nixon has done as well as anyone could." "People say the country needs a change to a new order, a new politics." "McGovern... McGovern... you can't tell what he wants from one day to the next." "Should I take a chance on McGovern?" "Nixon is tested in the job."

How many voters do such reasoning right up to the last moment can never be known, but it's got to be a whole lot. If you go back to 1948 you remember that right up to election day you could get up to 25 to 1 odds that Thomas E. Dewey would defeat President Harry S. Truman.

On election eve, Truman took to the airwaves with some down-to-earth reasoning. Think of how many "undecideds" he must have won over with his "The Republicans say they will... etc. Don't you believe it!" This catchline repeated in his speech.

Somewhat the same predicted imbalance is true today with the Nixon-McGovern election coming up. People say, "I don't want to vote for Nixon." "I don't want to vote for McGovern."

Has there ever been a presidential election in which so many people had so little enthusiasm for the candidates? Why? Well, reasons can be cited but reasons don't really matter, now. What each candidate needs to do is find some way to reach deep into the thoughts, the ideas, the "I-like-that" responses of the undecideds. He must surely will be addressed as "Mr. President."

Rising Meat Prices

There is an adage for young maidens to the effect that the "best way to a man's heart is through his stomach." In the current campaign this is being applied by the candidates to the voters.

While the various indicators seem to indicate a general holding of the line on prices, food prices continue to climb and this not only gets to the voter's heart but also his pocketbook.

The administration has taken a few steps to curb food prices. Last spring, import quotas were lifted on meat in an attempt to stop rising meat prices. But this was the least objectionable action it could take politically since the high demand in Europe for meat has driven prices there higher than importers could expect in the United States.

The administration also "jamboned" with the top people in the major food chains to get them to use some restraint in holding down food price rises.

The irony is that as wage and price controls in the non-food sectors of the economy take hold and cut back to a degree, the inflationary trends of recent years, this also frees more disposable income for the consumer to use on food.

Thus the old law which economists of any school, old or new have not been able to repeal, comes into play.

This is reflected in higher prices for the more choice meats for example while poultry seems to be relatively stable.

So to a large degree it is not difficult for Sen. George McGovern, while continuing to criticize the administration for its failure to resolve the problem of increasing food prices, to avoid it in his price-control plan. Speaking for the South Dakota senator on the plan, the chairman of the McGovern Committee on Economic Policy is reported as stating "McGovern's control program wouldn't touch food prices either because they are too volatile and too closely tied to demand and supply."

This does not mean rising food prices will no longer be an issue but means the political appeals will be to the heart rather than the stomach since it is apparent that neither candidate wants to go the route of direct controls on food prices from the production to retail level.

A visit to the meat department reveals that while there are those of us with steak appetites for the 1972 campaign, we may have to accept a chicken in every pot instead of sirloin on Sundays. That is until demand for chicken drives the price up where hamburger is again competitive in the family kitchen.

It would appear the wise maiden of today will set her sights on chicken lovers instead of beef eaters if she is going to reach a man's heart through his stomach — economically.

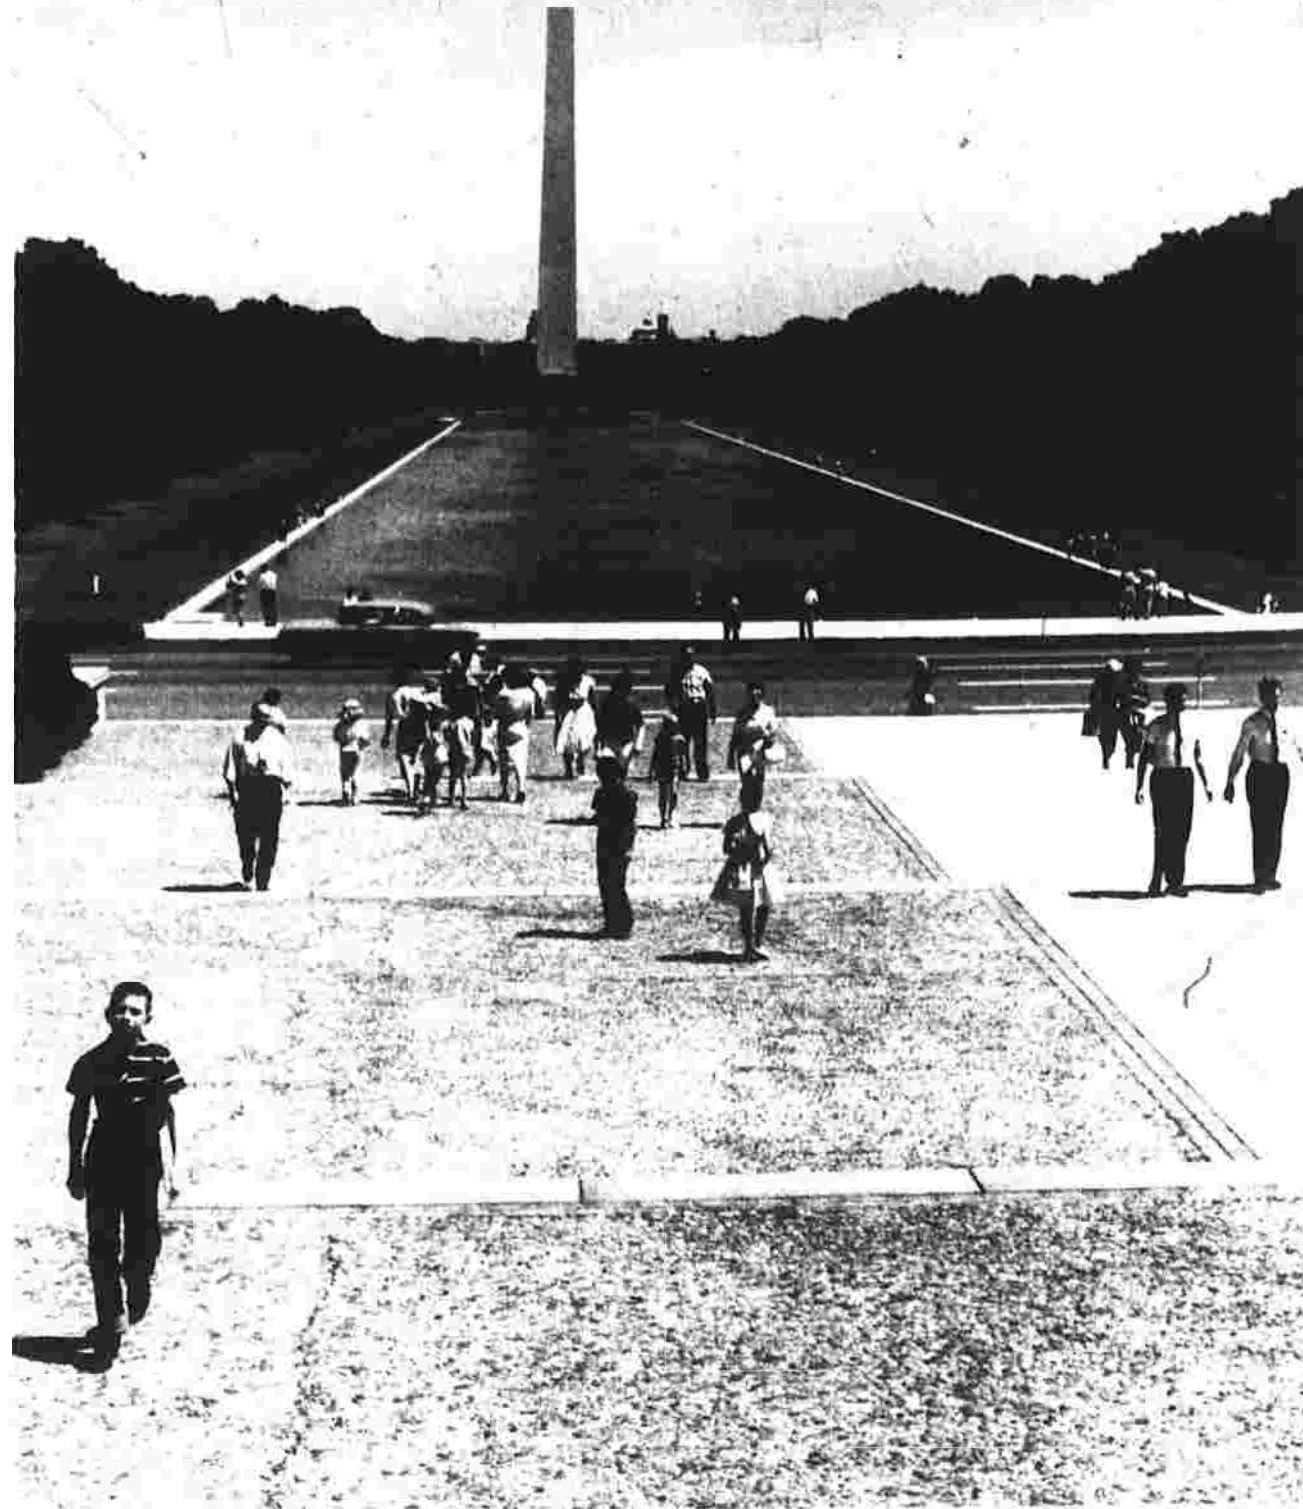

Other Editors Say The Important Thing

The Price Commission turned its ire on the price of lawyers the other day, announcing new regulations applying to law firms with more than 60 employees and denouncing a 13 per cent increase in the cost of legal services.

In part it was a bit of psychological warfare against other professions as well, lest accountants or doctors or dentists get the idea price control is for them too. The idea price control is for them too. The idea price control is for them too. The idea price control is for them too.

Commission shouldn't waste its efforts on things that don't count. We find, for example, that the dental services item includes "dentures — full upper" so when it gets around to those dental firms with more than 60 employees, the commission ought to know where to concentrate its efforts.

Such a policy might have strange and wondrous effects on the price of lower dentures, of course, but you can't control everything, and controlling only dentures would help stabilize the index. After all, that's the important thing, isn't it? (Wall Street Journal)

Inside Report

Wallace in the Catbird Seat

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

ATLANTA — The critical role of George Wallace to President Nixon's soaring hopes to capture the Senate is obvious from the frantic cries for help now circulating in the corridors of the capitol building in Montgomery, Ala., from the headquarters of Democratic Senatorial candidates all over the South.

A case in point is Sam Nunn, the 34-year-old political ingenuo who toppled Sen. David Gambrell in the Democratic primary runoff election on Aug. 29. Nunn is neck-and-neck against Republican Rep. Fletcher Thompson, a conservative with a strong following among Wallaceites.

Nunn began plotting his approach to help Wallace in Georgia's rich harvest of Wallaceites long before anyone thought he had a chance to win the Senate nomination.

He prudently gave Wallace his public backing for the Democratic Presidential nomination way back in March. He also said that without Wallace on the Democratic ticket, President Nixon was assured of a second term in the White House.

Within days of his surprising triumph over Gambrell, Nunn was on the telephone to Wallace's office seeking an appointment and Wallace told us last week he plans to receive Nunn, possibly this week. But that doesn't assure an endorsement.

Capital Fare

Forget Angela Davis

WASHINGTON — Unless Angela Davis locates a workable brain in some secondhand clinic, she can forget about her as a credible black leader, although she might make it as a muddled bomb-throwing Communist revolutionist.

If the name has happily slipped your mind, forgive me for the reminder that Miss Davis earlier this year was acquitted of murder-conspiracy charges in a California courtroom shoot-out, and forthwith set out to liberate the oppressed people of the world. Presumably, history will pass judgment on the validity of her acquittal.

At any rate, Angela's first stop on her excursion of liberation was the Soviet Union. That erstwhile paradise seemed a logical launching pad because Russia is about as free as the District of Columbia jailhouse, although a case might have been made for Uganda. At the time, it appeared Miss Davis would find herself working a 25-hour day on behalf of the Soviet oppressed.

Well, Mrs. Balderdash, Angela finally has concluded what can only be described as a triumphant two weeks in Stalin's old haunts. Despite her emancipation proclamation, which might have been expected to make her suspect with her Communist hosts, she was received as a heroine. She was named an honorary professor of Moscow University, given the keys to the city of Samarkand and otherwise accorded the full treatment usually reserved for visiting tyrants from Red satellite states.

That sort of thing keeps a body on the jump, of course, but liberators supposedly are made of sterner stuff. Not La Davis. Not one did she suggest that the Soviet citizen might appreciate a dollop of liberation like, for instance, free speech or free elections.

Case Mountain Question on Ballot

To editors: It seems incredible that the Board of Directors is being asked to put the Case Mountain question on the ballot.

The Connecticut Education Association said it was the first time in Connecticut that one of its negotiating units had gone to court to compel a school board to remain at the bargaining table.

The East Hartford Board of Education called off negotiation Park, and Wickham Park have been taken over by hoodlums, vandals, alcohol and drug users, etc. The police have not succeeded in stopping the assaults, raw sexual actions, and atrocities in those parks fronting on Main Street. Decent men, women, and children for whom these parks should be a haven for maximum enjoyment and tranquility have been virtually driven out by panhandlers and young delinquents.

If the proponents of Case Mountain think that conditions in that wooded area will be any better, they are much more than naive wishful thinkers. Of course it will give the immoral, lawless elements an almost limitless opportunity to stage all sorts of sex, liquor, and drug orgies. To this will be added the roar of motorcycles, moped bikes, and snowmobiles with their noise and air pollution. The garbage, trash, beer cans, bottles, etc., will be thrown about like litterbags and slob as there will be no concerted effort to arrest and prosecute them.

No sane adult or child would dare venture into the wooded area against such odds. Thus Case Mountain will become a jungle crawling with two-legged animals completely out of control. It is an insult to the Boy Scouts of our town to be turned into a trash, beer can and bottle pickers each spring so the despoilers and desecrators can repeat the whole performance during the balance of the year.

Boards of Directors have never been bashful about placing new road developments of Case Mountain be placed on the voting machine. After all this is the democratic way to decide such matters.

Consequing Case Mountain, on May 5, 1971 on page 22 of the Manchester Herald, Director William Fitzgerald said, "All this board should do is to allow the taxpayers to vote on this." On the same page, Director Donald Wells concurred with Mr. Fitzgerald saying, "We owe it to the taxpayers of this town to give them the opportunity to vote on this."

I call on the entire Board of Directors to keep faith with the 24,000 town voters by placing this whole question on the voting machines and adding by the will of the people. This is the only way to settle this matter once and for all.

Don't Give In

Dear Editor: Please do not give in to occasional pressure applied through this column, to stop accepting advertising for movies that are "R" and "X" rated. If you were to do this, you would be setting yourself up as censor, and everyone knows what the word censorship means to the free press of this country.

Ignore those who claim to quote from national magazines which in fact have a very limited distribution, and a very narrow political, theological, and moral outlook.

No one can assume that "R" and "X" ratings mean pornography. Far from it. If they were pornographic, the distributors simply wouldn't exhibit them and the courts would ban them.

Let those who would impose a narrow view, do their own "thing," allow the rest of us to make our own decisions.

Thank you, David M. Campbell

Take Pay Dispute to Court

HARTFORD (AP) — The East Hartford Education Association, the teachers' school and administrators union, filed a Superior Court suit against the school board Tuesday to force it to negotiate new salaries and benefits.

The Connecticut Education Association said it was the first time in Connecticut that one of its negotiating units had gone to court to compel a school board to remain at the bargaining table.

The East Hartford Board of Education called off negotiation Park, and Wickham Park have been taken over by hoodlums, vandals, alcohol and drug users, etc. The police have not succeeded in stopping the assaults, raw sexual actions, and atrocities in those parks fronting on Main Street. Decent men, women, and children for whom these parks should be a haven for maximum enjoyment and tranquility have been virtually driven out by panhandlers and young delinquents.

If the proponents of Case Mountain think that conditions in that wooded area will be any better, they are much more than naive wishful thinkers. Of course it will give the immoral, lawless elements an almost limitless opportunity to stage all sorts of sex, liquor, and drug orgies. To this will be added the roar of motorcycles, moped bikes, and snowmobiles with their noise and air pollution. The garbage, trash, beer cans, bottles, etc., will be thrown about like litterbags and slob as there will be no concerted effort to arrest and prosecute them.

No sane adult or child would dare venture into the wooded area against such odds. Thus Case Mountain will become a jungle crawling with two-legged animals completely out of control. It is an insult to the Boy Scouts of our town to be turned into a trash, beer can and bottle pickers each spring so the despoilers and desecrators can repeat the whole performance during the balance of the year.

Boards of Directors have never been bashful about placing new road developments of Case Mountain be placed on the voting machine. After all this is the democratic way to decide such matters.

cond year of a three-year contract that provided for reopening of salary negotiations this year.

"The state statute mandates negotiations between teachers and the board in good faith, without limit," said CEA.

President Morris W. Nirenstein.

"We've been through the statutory requirements—but I don't believe there is any place in the law that says we have to negotiate ad infinitum," said School Superintendent Eugene A. Diggs.

Medal of Honor Given New Name

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's no longer the Medal of Honor, it's the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The change was voted by the House Tuesday to clear up confusion over whether the medal is the nation's highest military award for heroism.

Pollster Cautions President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pollster Louis Harris says President Nixon should be "a bit worried" about surveys that show him with a substantial lead over Democrat George McGovern because polls can create a sympathy vote for the underdog.

Harris, head of Louis Harris and Associates, a New York-based polling organization, and pollster Dr. George Gallup, testified Tuesday before a House subcommittee on a bill to require all pollsters to file detailed information on their surveys with the Library of Congress.

"If I were President Nixon today, Harris said, 'I'd be a bit worried that people would look at these polls and say, 'I may be for him, but I don't think he should win by that margin.'"

The New York Times reported that in interviews after their committee appearances, both Gallup and Harris expressed surprise at the number of reported defectors from the Democratic party.

The Times quoted Gallup as saying, however, that he would find it amazing if Mr. McGovern doesn't start improving his position. There's always a return to the fold of loyal Democrats in the final weeks or days as there was in 1948, much to our consternation."

He referred to pollsters in correct predictions that Thomas

Dewey would defeat Harry Truman for president.

In his committee testimony, Harris said the polls had an effect on the morale of candidates and their staffs and the willingness of people to contribute money, but he denied that there was a general bandwagon effect.

"People are not sheep," he said. "They don't look and say here's a winner and let's get on."

Harris testified against the proposed poll legislation.

Archbishop Comments On Ruling

HARTFORD (AP) — The federal court decision striking down Connecticut anti-abortion law "is one which I see as inadequate for good law as well as for good reasoning," Archbishop John P. Whelan of the Hartford Roman Catholic Diocese said Wednesday.

He said he was concerned that the judgment of the two judges in what he called a "hasty and over the consequent duty of law to protect all human life."

Pointing to the separation of branches of government, Bishop Whelan said, "I am concerned when two judges enter so deeply into the role of the legislators of our State of Connecticut."

Washington (AP) — A toxic chemical called PCB has been found in surprisingly widespread quantities in waterways in Massachusetts and Connecticut, government scientists reported today.

The U.S. Geological Survey said its scientists were "surprised to find detectable levels" of the chemical in samples in 19 jurisdictions, including the two New England states.

PCB stands for polychlorinated biphenyls, a group of chemicals related to the pesticide DDT, recently banned as an environmental hazard.

It is similar to DDT, scientists said, but the wonder whether much of the DDT detected in birds and fish might really be PCB.

Washington (AP) — Disagreeing with the President, a senior Republican congressman says "we're going to have to have a tax increase" in the next four years.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee, said Tuesday he is "not criticizing" President Nixon for promising that he would not propose a tax increase if re-elected.

But Byrnes said "the public demand for services is such" that "there's no question that a tax hike will be needed in the next four years."

Byrnes, who is retiring this year after 14 terms in Congress, joined Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills in disputing Nixon's claim, Mills, D- Ark., said last week that Nixon is "whistling in the dark."

While the White House says Nixon would propose no tax hike, it also says he would not rule out certain as-yet-unspecified tax reforms.

Byrnes' comments were made in the Ways and Means Committee deliberated on Nixon's proposed $250-billion spending ceiling. With the reluctant support of some Democrats, the proposal seemed to have enough votes to clear the committee.

Washington (AP) — President Nixon has signed into law a program authorizing up to $1.4 billion for expanded federal research into heart, lung and blood diseases through fiscal 1975.

The measure calls for the establishment of 20 new research and demonstration centers, 15 for heart and blood diseases and 15 for chronic lung diseases, including bronchitis, emphysema, asthma and cystic fibrosis.

"They are among the most feared diseases in our country," said Nixon. "I welcome the opportunity to strengthen the attack."

Nixon already had signed appropriations totaling $250 million for the first year of the new program.

Nixon, at his mountaintop retreat in nearby Camp David, Md., added in the statement released at the White House that he is confident the new law will hasten the day when the threat of this devastating health menace will be diminished.

Herring Not 'Red Tide' Victims

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — A marine biologist said Tuesday the large numbers of dead herring spotted off the northern coast are not victims of the "red tide" algae which has affected clams in the area.

Arthur P. Chomere, director of the Cal Cove Marine Laboratory, said his examination of some of the dead fish to date has not enabled him to determine the cause of their death.

He said he was able to do, he said, to exclude the "red tide" as the cause.

The dead herring have been seen covering an area about two miles square about six miles east of the mouth of the Merrimack River. Fishermen report seeing gulls hovering over the dead fish but refusing to eat them.

The three Vincens brothers have been growing plants this summer as an out-of-school activity. It has been fun for them and their parents feel they have gained valuable knowledge. James, 7, the youngest, grew a watermelon that measured 14 inches from end to end and weighed 11 pounds. Barry, 11, produced sweet corn, tomatoes, peas and beans. Andrew, 13, has a collection of 33 cactus plants. Another brother, Rudy, is a Herald carrier.

Mrs. Catherine Fillorano BOLTON - The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Fillorano, formerly of Hebron Rd., who died yesterday at Manchester Memorial Hospital, will be tomorrow at 8:15 a.m. from the John F. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., Manchester, with a Mass of Christian Burial at St. Maurice's Church at 9 a.m. Burial will be Monday morning at St. John's Cemetery, Brooklyn, N.Y. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Living Costs Rise Below

(Continued from Page 1) than the usual seasonal rise, but less than the increases in both June and July," the bureau said. Dairy products, fruits and vegetables and poultry declined in price, the report said. "Gasoline prices rose sharply, reflecting changes in dealer discounts and the application of sales taxes in California to gasoline," the report said. "Prices of houses and home repair commodities continued to increase," it said. "Footwear prices, reflecting higher wholesale prices, increased more than they usually do in August. Alcoholic beverages also rose. "Prices were lower, however, for many clothing items, textile house furnishings, furniture, appliances, and floor-coverings, primarily because of summer sales."

Prices for both new and used cars declined but less than usual for the month, the bureau said. There was also increases in the cost of mortgage interest and property taxes, it said. "Movie admission charges declined for the first time in five months," it said.

Claims Decline

HARTFORD (AP) - The latest weekly total of claims for unemployment compensation has shown another slight decline, decreasing 843 to a total of 63,443 claims for the week ending September 16, the State Labor Department said today. The new level is 4.5 per cent of the total number of persons eligible for jobless benefits, down one-tenth of one per cent from the previous week.

Offices recording higher filings were New London 11 per cent, Danbury 10.1 per cent, Norwich 7.7 per cent, Hartford 7.5 per cent, Middletown 5.7 per cent, Ansonia 4.6 per cent, Norwich 4.4 per cent, Enfield 2.7 per cent, Torrington 1.9 per cent, Danielson 0.2 per cent and New Haven 0.1 per cent. Decreases were Willimantic 18.1 per cent, Waterbury 10.6 per cent, Bridgeport 9.2 per cent, Bristol and New Britain 5.8 per cent, Meriden 4.4 per cent and Manchester 3.4 per cent. Stamford showed no change.

More Funds Given For Commuter Bus

The State Bond Commission today approved necessary funding for a 90-day extension of the express commuter bus project linking Manchester to downtown Hartford.

The extension, requested by the state Department of Transportation (DOT), will keep the buses running to Jan. 6, 1973. The current 90-day trial period began July 10. Today's Bond Commission action guarantees the Connecticut Co., which operates the buses, against financial loss - to a maximum of $5,000 a month, or $15,000 for the 90-day period.

The break-even point for the Connecticut Co. is 276 passengers a day, according to the DOT. The guarantee provides revenue to the company for all passengers below the 276-per-day figure. The $15,000 maximum approved by the Bond Commission will include costs of snow removal and maintenance at Burr Corners Shopping Plaza, the Manchester terminal for the buses.

A DOT spokesman said the Connecticut Co. was reimbursed $2,189 for the first day the commuter bus was in operation, and $1,629 for the second 30 days. DOT officials say the project is now near the break-even point in daily ridership.

I-86 To Be Widened Through Manchester

A state highway project that will widen I-86 from East Hartford to the Laurel Lake area in Manchester will now be expanded to further temporarily widen the highway from the Manchester point to Vernon Circle, Mayor Frank McCoy announced today.

The project is expected to be completed by Nov. 1, according to the state transportation department. Estimated cost of the resurfacing is $360,000. The mayor said that the extension of the project will widen the highway to a general three-lane in each direction but in some areas there will be two lanes with deceleration or a truck-climbing lane. Mayor McCoy said he feels this will greatly reduce the problems of Vernon residents who commute to Hartford everyday by-way-of the highway. The state has also informed the mayor that it plans to widen Rt. 83, from Vernon Circle, north to the new future and there is also a future extension to redesign the Vernon Circle area. He said he feels the general traffic congestion for the town will be greatly reduced when these projects are completed.

MHS Offering New Courses

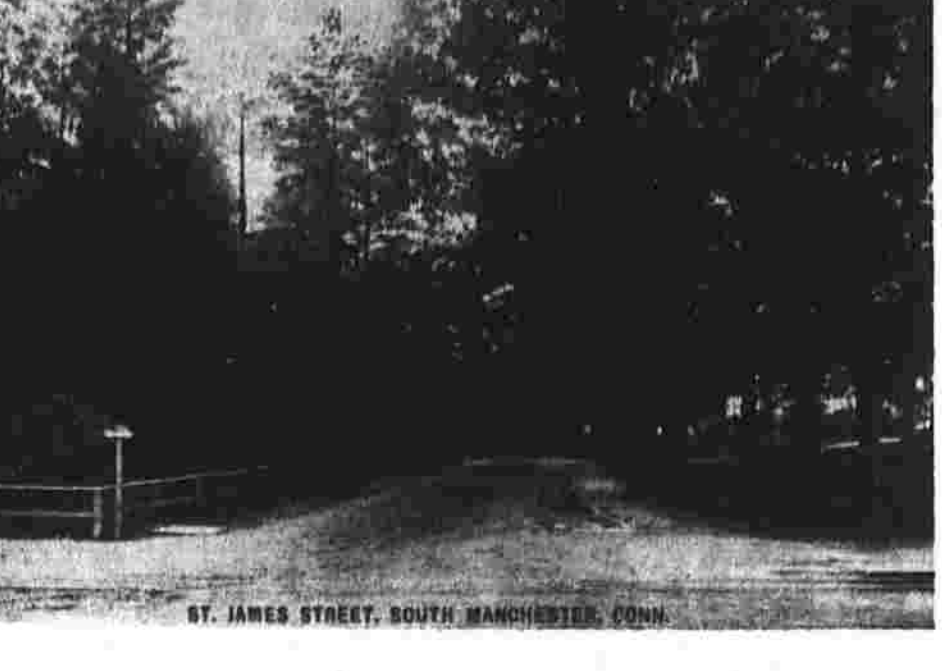

A number of new courses have been added in most departments on several levels at Manchester High School this year. English semester course offerings for sophomores have been augmented to include introduction to theater arts on Level 1 and introduction to dramatic arts on Level 2. Both cover acting, direction, the nature of drama, and stage techniques such as costuming, lighting, and set design. Emphasis is on doing rather than textbook study.

Film appreciation, on Levels 2 and 3, is designed for viewing, discussion, and criticism of the media's communication, learning, and propaganda aspects. Critical writing is required of Level 2 students. Four courses have been added to the business department. Machine transcription is a semester course for seniors to develop proficiency in operating, concentrating on use of the most common machines used in business.

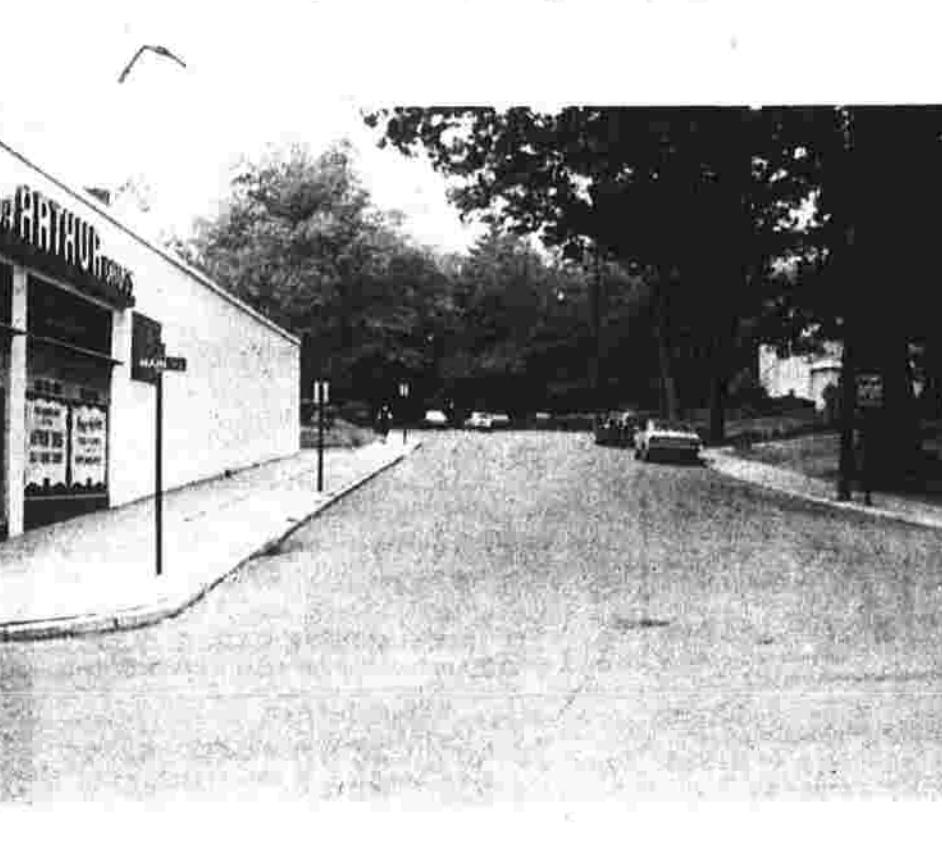

Personal typing has been expanded to include personal typing II, and record-keeping is a second semester course to train Level 3 students in the areas of payroll, accounts receivable and payable, inventory control, and other related positions. The industrial arts department is offering a powder puff auto mechanics course for girls. It meets each semester after school, Monday through Thursday. It presents a basic understanding of the automobile, proper preventive maintenance, simple service operations, and consumer knowledge about the purchase and care of a vehicle. Architectural drafting in the second semester will acquaint students with drawings, layout of homes, and materials. Topics include plot plan layout, pictorial drawings, house elevation, room layout, framing, and wiring. Another second semester course, homeowning, will focus on selection, preventive maintenance, improvements, and selling in acquiring and owning a home. Conversational Spanish has been added to the language department to acquaint students with some basic skills, stressing those needed for travel or work with Spanish-speaking people. It is not a college preparatory course. As a pilot program, the first half of Spanish II will be offered in the second semester. It will allow students who have D's or F's the first semester to repeat before going on to the second semester.

The mathematics department has made computer programming available to sophomores and juniors. Until now, it has been limited to seniors. Class piano, involving basic keyboard elements, technique, and chordal accompaniment, is a semester course offering of the music department. U. S. history of the 20th century is being taught the first semester to students who have completed a course in U. S. history. One requirement is the reading of at least six books. Another curriculum change is a new level of courses in some departments. Combined level courses are college preparatory and are offered in areas where a division into Levels 1 and 2 is not appropriate.

UAD Chairman Philip Harrison, owner of Harrison's Shop on Main St., is among the many community-minded citizens who are devoting their time and energy to aid the 1972 United Appeal Drive for the United Fund Drive in Manchester.

Harrison, who is serving as committee chairman of the corporate B division, was born in New Haven and resides at 96 Green Manor Rd. in Manchester. He is a past president of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, is a member of the Manchester Board of Directors and is also a member of the Downtown Task Force. Citing the great need for support of the agencies benefiting from the fund drive, Harrison said, "I feel this will be a great year for the United Fund and I will give all the support I can."

They also checked the homes of 28 vacationing residents.

Tolland Board Will Discuss Plans For $1.9 School Addition

The Board of Education will hold a public hearing Wednesday night at 8 in the middle school to air plans for the construction of an estimated $1.9 million addition to the school. If action is taken promptly to begin work on the project, the estimated date of completion would be January, 1974.

The addition would include classrooms, home economics, and lab facilities as well as a gymnasium for the presently overcrowded school. The addition was planned for when the first phase of the school was built, but the second phase was delayed due to the limited bonding capacity of the town at that time. The second phase would be 50 per cent reimbursable from the state, necessitating the town to borrow funds to cover half the cost of construction. Over 52 Percent Taxes Collected Total tax receipts in Manchester for the first two months of the current fiscal year were $6,538,081, or 52.3 per cent of 12-month estimates, according to a report by Ernest Machell, collector of revenue. Manchester's fiscal year is from July 1, 1972 to June 30, 1973. The report was for the period ending Aug. 31. Machell reported that tax receipts for the two months from all sources to the General Fund months estimates of $16,662,200, with more than $3 million due the town from education-related sources. Revenue for the two-month period to other funds were: Fire District Fund - $541,869 received, $1,126,931 anticipated; Water Fund - $155,398 against $700,900; Sewer Fund - $71,291 and $679,713; Special Downtown Fund - District Fund - $18,207 and $36,280.

Vernon Restaurant Gets Nod From ZBA

A family-oriented Chinese restaurant will go into the new shopping center on Rt. 30. The Zoning Board of Appeals, following a public hearing Tuesday night, granted the application for the restaurant which will be allowed to sell liquor but will not have an open bar.

Permission to sell liquor was granted over the objections of Kenneth Parsons, owner and operator of the Howard Johnson Restaurant which is directly across the street and also has a liquor permit. Parsons, at the public hearing, told the board it would be opening a "Pandora's Box" by granting the exception for a liquor permit. Town zoning regulations state that a liquor outlet cannot be less than a certain number of feet from an existing outlet. The new restaurant is less than the required number of feet from Howard Johnson's.

Democratic Club Drops Its Corporate Status

The Democratic Club of Manchester voted Wednesday to discontinue its incorporated status. The club has been a corporation since its inception, and has been a member of the state Democratic Party since its inception.

After the unanimous vote to end the club's incorporated status, the members agreed the club should become actively involved in the current political campaign.

Guards Given More Powers

NEWTON (AP) — The Board of Selectmen Wednesday night voted to give constable status to the five guards at Fairfield Hills Hospital, a state mental institution.

Some Newton residents have complained in recent weeks of what they call lax security provisions at the hospital. The residents expressed particular concern over hospital policies on permitting patients to leave the institution's grounds.

The constable designation gives the hospital guards powers of arrest and other police powers throughout Newton.

The designation was approved for a six-month period and involves no payment from the town to the guards.

Court Blocks Sale Of Challenged Book

Circuit Court Judge William Bielich yesterday issued a permanent injunction barring the sale of an allegedly obscene magazine entitled "Slave Boy" at the Manchester Book Shop, 739 Main St.

Judge Bielich's order enjoins the defendant from promoting or possessing with intent to promote the magazine, and orders "its surrender, seizure, and destruction."

The defendant, book store manager James L. Magee, was represented in court by Atty. Leonard Kamara of Providence. R.I. Atty. Kamara did not oppose Prosecutor William Collins' request for an injunction.

The magazine, which deals with male homosexuals, was purchased at the Manchester Book Shop last month by the Rev. J. Grant Swank Jr., who presented it to Manchester Police with a formal complaint.

Police Detective Sgt. Raymond Mazonne took the complaint and the magazine to Atty. Collins, assistant prosecutor in Circuit Court 12, who made application for an injunction.

Last week, Circuit Court Judge Max Savitt signed an order summarily lifting the court to show cause why he should not be

The wife told police she and her husband turned on the lights downstairs and started upstairs when they met two young men running down. One of them tried to plant a kiss on Mrs. Ralph, hitting her in the face, detectives said. Then they fled to the husband.

The intruders, who had ransacked the bedrooms and other rooms, had apparently gained entry by breaking a kitchen door glass and reaching inside to the lock, officers said.

The habit of some dinosaurs of eating the eggs of others probably played a part in bringing an end to dinosaurs.

Waterbury Man Slain

WATERBURY (AP) — A 65-year-old man was shot and killed Thursday night and his wife wounded in the face when the couple returned home and surprised two burglars ransacking the house about 9:30 p.m., police detectives said.

George T. Ralph was shot twice, struggled out of his kitchen and collapsed on the back porch. Julia Ralph, 62, was admitted for surgery at Waterbury Hospital, authorities said.

No arrests were made.

The whole Main St. frontage from Eldridge to Maple St. was part of the large Sam Eldridge estate. It extended about to the line of Cottage St. and also included the area from Maple to Oak and from the "dry brook" course to Cottage St. Also another part of it composed a large part of the woods east of the "dry brook" later known as "the Heights." Another part of it was on the west side of Main St. between Middle Tpke and about where Russell St. is now.

On the corner of Main and Eldridge was a house used as home and office of Doctor Bradley. The Eldridge Mansion was on the north with a large lawn that included about three fourths of the frontage and extended in the rear to the course of the dry brook. The barn were east of the brook.

The house was a large square building with a mansard roof. It became the home of the public library after the old one on Wells St. burned in the big school fire. O. C. remembers the two elderly ladies Miss Carrie and Miss Emma, daughters of Mr. Sam, because as a boy he used to go to their rear door to peddle vegetables from his garden. They had a hired man, Herman Andrews, who stuttered so badly it was difficult to understand what he was struggling to say.

There was a store building on the northeast corner of Main and Maple which was used by Hugh Mortuary when he had to move from the site of Bennet Junior High until he built his new building on Birch St. At one time it was used by Mr. Will Grant and a grocery store and meat market. Then the meat was laid out so customers could touch it and point out where they wanted the butcher to cut it.

After Grant, Roland Rutledge became the proprietor of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary say a substitute for "Jake." Before Thanksgiving

Out-of-State Student Criteria Spelled Out

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The state attorney general's office has spelled out the criteria for determining whether a student in the Connecticut public higher education system must pay higher out-of-state tuition.

Among factors listed Wednesday were: year-round residence, voter registration, place of filing tax returns, property ownership, driver's license, car registration, and vacation employment.

Out-of-state students must pay up to $600 additional annual tuition.

In June a federal court overturned some provisions of the 1971 state tuition law, necessitating the criteria. At the time the state's four higher education units were advised by the attorney general to make out-of-state students pay the higher tuition "under protest" and appeal their classifications while the state waits for the U.S. Supreme Court to rule on the case.

The list of criteria will be used to determine classification appeals.

Asst. Atty. Gen. John G. Hill Jr. said the federal court decision did not prohibit the state from charging an out-of-state differential in tuition and fees. The decision, he said, was directed against the 1971 classification system which placed a student in a permanent tuition category prior to his initial admission.

"The practical thrust" of the decision "is that out-of-state tuition may not be charged to students who, although originally classified as out-of-state, establish bona fide residence in Connecticut," Hill said.

"The mere fact of registering to vote does not in and of itself constitute domicile for tuition purposes," he said. Similarly, he said, an affidavit stating that the student considers himself a resident of the state could be "self-serving" and is not sufficient to establish residency status.

Vacation 'Winners' Asked To Check With Commissioner

HARTFORD (AP) — State Consumer Protection Commissioner Barbara Dunn warned "winners" of free vacations in Florida and elsewhere to check with her office for possible fraud.

Many out-of-state companies are notifying Connecticut residents that they are "winners" of vacations in the sunny south, Mrs. Dunn said Wednesday. But in almost every instance, she said, the "winners" were asked to mail a $19.50 service fee or $15 to a "treasure chest" before receiving certificates for travel, accommodations and eating expenses.

She said none of the offers seemed to require any other payment, but whenever Connecticut residents requested in writing exactly what they had won, no replies were received.

Two Wheat Probes Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two full-scale investigations—one before the election, one after—have been promised in the escalating dispute over wheat sales to the Soviet Union.

The pre-election probe by the FBI was announced by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew while campaigning Tuesday in Minneapolis. In fact, he said, "that investigation is in progress" at President Nixon's orders.

But the FBI said it had received no instructions to look into the matter. A spokesman for its parent agency, the Justice Department, Tuesday night would say only that "a preliminary review of the matter referred to by Vice President Agnew is under way."

Tennessee entered the Union in 1796 as the 16th state. It is a member of the current constitution in 1870.

Vitreous Substitute May Speed Healing of Detached Retinas

BOSTON (AP) — Retina experts say a temporary artificial vitreous for the eye, which can aid in the healing of reattached retina, could be available for widespread use in two years.

The vitreous is the clear gel substance inside the eye which gives it shape and helps hold its parts in place. As some people age or contract certain diseases, this gel can become distorted, distorting the shape of the eye and leaving it vulnerable to conditions which can cause blindness.

Eye experts at a conference commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Retina Service of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary say a substitute for vitreous is being used in special cases at selected research centers and may be available for wider use in two years, if the Federal Drug Administration clears it for use.

Dr. Charles L. Scheepers, founder and director emeritus of the Infirmary's Retina Service and considered one of the world's leading retina experts, said a vitreous substitute is needed to counteract forces which tend to pull the retina off the eye when normal vitreous is lost.

The retina is the tissue which lines the inner wall of the eye. It receives light messages and transmits them to the brain via the optic nerve. When the retina becomes detached or torn, vision is impaired and blindness can result.

Scheepers said retina detachment affects the vision of one of every 10,000 Americans each year and the major cause of this detachment is the pulling of the shrinking vitreous, which also can tear away pieces of retina.

He added that loss of vitreous can lead to impaired vision by also leaving spaces in the eyeball in which abnormal tissue can grow and obstruct vision.

Researchers say that finding a permanent substitute vitreous is probably years away, but they say substances which last two or three weeks before breaking down have been used successfully in selected cases.

Eagles Host to St. Paul, Indians Open on Road

Manchester High's 1972 Football Co-Captains
... Lyle Eastman, Jim Colla and Steve Samiotis

By DEAN YOST
The goal of any athlete team is to win and that will be on the minds of both town football squads when they engage in action Saturday afternoon. Manchester High will make its debut on the gridiron against Maloney High (1-0) at Ceppa Field in Meriden at 1:30. At Mt. Nebo, the Eagles (0-0-1) host strong St. Paul's of Bristol (1-0) at 2 in a Hartford County Conference debut for both clubs.

Dave Wiggin, who will open his seventh season as head coach at Manchester, commented, "If everyone is healthy, we will give a good account of ourselves." Cliff Demers, the Eagles' mentor who opened with a tie against Rockville High noted, "To be in the ball game Saturday, we will have to play a solid defense and cut down on our offensive mistakes." The Eagles suffered a big blow to their starting offensive lineup when tailback Bill Lodge was injured during the week. It will take two players to replace Lodge," Demers remarked. "Cephus Nolan, a freshman, will handle his duties on offense while Jim Quinn will take his spot in the secondary."

Manchester, with a rash of graders out of school with the flu, has a tentative starting lineup of Rick Milka directing the offense with Dave Fleishman, Rob Roy and Steve Samiotis being the backs. On the line, it will be Jim Colla and Lyle Eastman, ends Don Corcoran and Steve Giorgetti, tackles Mark Odell and Mike Coughlin, guards and Dave McCann the center.

"They have always been a strong orientated team with clubs in the CCL this season, good defense to match," commented Demers as he summarized St. Paul's lineup. Quarterback Jim Dumont directs the visitors' attack

Hunt and Bob Walsh at the ends; John Murphy and Jim Mihalik at tackles; either Dallas Dodge, Darrel Vincek or Don Pagni at guards with linebackers being Jack Maloney and Steve Dwyer. The safeties include Samiotis, Eastman and Fleishman. Both East and Manchester will have its hands full. After watching both clubs work out during the week the outcome of the battles should be very interesting to watch.

Weekend Picks:
Manchester surprising Maloney, 20-14; East bowing to St. Paul's 21-14.

Pro Football Forecast Namath Faces Colts In One of Features

NEW YORK (AP) — In Baltimore they still shake their heads sadly when Super Bowl III is mentioned.

That, in case you've forgotten, was the pro football championship game in which a brash, cocky Joe Namath led the underdog New York Jets to the old American Football League to the title, beating the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League. In days since, the AFL has merged with the NFL and Baltimore was to be one of three former NFL teams to join the old AFL as the American Football Conference.

The Jets and the Colts were placed in the East Division in what was figured to be a natural rivalry. There was talk of the two teams dominating the division for years and years.

Neither team reckoned with the upstart Miami Dolphins, however.

The Dolphins, after first losing away Don Shula from the Colts as a coach, won the division and went on to represent the AFC in the Super Bowl.

Anyway, what all this boils down to is that Joe Namath is making his first regular season visit to Baltimore since beating the Colts in Super Bowl III. He wasn't healthy on other jet trips to Baltimore.

It's one of the weekend's 13 NFL games.

The Fearless Football Forecaster had 10 correct picks out of 13 for the initial weekend.

The Colts have beaten the Jets in all four previous regular season encounters. They won't this time.

Atlanta 24, New England 14—The Falcons, behind Bob Berry, win two straight before the toughest come along.

Dallas 25, New York Giants 21—The Cowboys won't beat the spread, which is 9½, as the Giants play game No. 2 of a long, losing season.

San Francisco 35, Buffalo 21—With John Brodie at the controls for the 49ers, what can go wrong when a team plays the Bills.

Pittsburgh 27, Cincinnati 25—

East Soccer Squad At Home Tomorrow

East Catholic High's varsity soccer team will be looking for its first victory of the 1972 season as it faces St. Bernard's of Uncasville Saturday at the Cheney Tech soccer field. Game time is slated for 10:30.

East initiated soccer into its athletic program in 1971 and played a combination schedule of junior varsity and varsity opponents. The Eagles compiled a 6-1-1 record under Head Coach Jim Dyer.

Currently, East sports an 8-2 mark with losses coming from Newtonington High, 2-1, and Prince Tech, 4-1.

Individual standouts were senior backs and co-captains, Dan Pinto and Charlie Durocher, and junior forward Tim McConville. Others seeing plenty of action in the first two outings were goalie Larry Keenan and Jim Hestek, backs Mark Bain, Jeff Pagan, Bill Gorman, Kevin Henson, Steve Brennan, and Mike Tomlinelli.

Forwards include, Steve Anderson, Bob Lessard, Doug Pinto and Bob Kydd, Bill Frank, Jack McEvitt and Dave Skralent round out the squad. Team manager is Ed Messer.

"We believe that the potential for a good season is here, but just have been unable to put together a good offensive and defensive performance on the same day," Dyer noted. Soccer is a new sport to most of these boys and it is to be a successful sport in this country, it will have to be mastered by American boys to be

Strike Out Wins Little Brown Jug

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — John Hayes Sr.'s goal to convert Little Brown Jug victor Strike Out into a harness racing "household word" is a few world record steps closer to achievement today.

"We want to make him a household word in the harness industry. That's why we're racing him everywhere," said Hayes, the astute trainer of Strike Out who leaves the driving to Keith Waples.

Waples needed no help from Hayes in the Jug Thursday. He piloted Strike Out to straight heat mile victories in 1:58.15 and 1:56.35 for a pair of world pacing records.

Strike Out trailed only briefly in both heats. He was second to Jay Time after a race record first quarter of 27 seconds in the opening heat. Jay Time faded, however, and was scratched with a 105.3-degree temperature.

After that, strike Out was in front from the start. He trimmed 99-1 longest Good Bye Columbus three-fourths of a length in the first heat and Fast Clip by 1½ lengths in the second trip.

His swift second mile wiped out his first heat. He was second to the fast first heat and was the fastest effort ever by a pacer on a half-mile track. It was also a world mark for a pacer in a second heat on a half-mile track.

Strike Out, who earned $52,982 of the $104,916 purse, foiled Hilarious Way 4½ lengths to Triple Crown Hilarious Way, winner of the first jewel, the Cane Futurity, finished fifth in the over-all standings.

Good Bye Columbus, driven by Jim Ferguson, was second and earned $18,884, within $1,000 of his earnings in 19 previous starts in this year. Fast Clip wound up third and collected $11,863.

In the overall finish, Rocky was fourth, followed by Hilarious Way, Lynden Bye Bye, Alley Fighter, Berry Hanover, Enter-preneur, Skipper Thorpe, Dade's Time and Jay Time.

Two Games Set Tonight In Midget Grid League

Two games are on tap tonight in Manchester's Midget Football League at Mt. Nebo, the first at 6:30, when Coach George Maloney sends his Chargers into battle against the Eagles.

Second game lists the Jets and the Giants in what promises to be a good battle as both put in extra time this week in preparing for the meeting.

The Patriots, winners last week against the Giants, will be idle. Because of several problems last week caused by a minority of youngsters, Brad Parmlan, loop president, has announced that the area will be policed in an effort to stage an orderly evening. In addition,
