Berghuis Says Growth Figures Not Accurate

Donald Berghuis, board of education member, has countered statements made by the school facilities committee report two years ago which studied the school needs for the town based on population growth. In a prepared statement Berghuis stated population projections by the committee are "off."

He referred to two areas in which the facilities committee report did not meet the current trend for new housing in South Windsor. First, where it indicated no apartments would be available in town for 1972 when "28 will exist in 1972," Berghuis said, and where the report estimated 700 units will be renting by that date since 900 units have already been approved.

The Town Comprehensive Plan calls for 1000 units and Berghuis mentioned the 102 unit condominiums approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission this week for Clark St. which will bring the total up to expectation by the town zoning.

Also increasing housing areas mentioned by Berghuis are single family dwellings in the Sand Hill Estates (48), and 80 lot subdivision on Graham Rd. and "active" construction in Berle Rd., Masket Rd., Valley View Dr., and Fairview and Tumblebrook Dr.

According to Berghuis enrollment figures are "beginning to affect the increasing building activities." He admits, however, that school population has dropped but "in such minute amounts as to be inconsequential."

Berghuis said he feels the full momentum of the increased building in town has not yet begun but pointed out areas where projections are lower than actual enrollment. He said the total enrollment projections were made by 27 students and although this "is a minor error" it is higher than expected which could be disastrous.

According to Berghuis' report, he believes that population figures will not take long to change but will stabilize at the elementary level and will not produce the eventual drop in high school population to under 1,300 by 1983 as predicted by the facilities report. He said it appears that population will remain near the 1,500 at the high school and that it has the potential to increase.

According to Berghuis' report, the planned addition for the high school will raise the capacity of South Windsor High School from 1,200 to 1,600.

Bus Subsidy Fund Sources Debated

HARTFORD (AP) - Mayors, state officials and transit executives argued at legislative hearings Friday over which pocket the state should dip into to subsidize financially-troubled bus companies.

The executive director of the Greater Hartford Transportation District, Arthur I. Handman, termed "unacceptable" Gov. Thomas J. Meskall's plan to shell out from the state's highway fund to keep the buses running.

The transit executive said that a direct state subsidy to bus lines would be a good stopgap measure while a long-term plan, such as the Ritter proposal, is under consideration.

At the hearings, New Haven Mayor Bartholomew Guida urged the legislators to "act now and act decisively in a worthwhile and constructive manner" by providing state subsidies from the public service tax fund.

Revision Commission To Meet Wednesday
The Manchester Charter Revision Commission (CRC) thwarted by circumstances from meeting Sept. 13 as planned, will try again Wednesday. It has scheduled a meeting of the entire 15-member committee for 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

It was because only 7 of the CRC's 15 members showed up for a quorum and because nobody had the key for the room in which they were to meet, that the meeting was called off the last time.

The purpose of next Wednesday's CRC meeting is to receive the report of a 5-member sub-committee appointed June 22 and to take whatever other action is deemed necessary.

The function of the sub-committee was to examine, organize and categorize the many suggestions and recommendations made at a series of seven, consecutive Wednesday public hearings - held at seven different locations.

ERC chairman John FitzGerald said in June that, once the sub-committee completes its work, several study committees will be named to review the proposed charter revisions by categories.

Communications to Outside World Cut Off Martial Law Imposed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Philippines government proclaimed martial law, closed major newspapers, took control of radio stations and cut communications with the outside world today for the first time since the islands gained independence from U.S. rule 26 years ago.

The drastic measures came amid unrest caused by the country's worst floods in history and a growing wave of bombings and terrorism culminating in an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate the defense secretary Friday.

An expected broadcast today by President Ferdinand E. Marcos was not heard by evening.

Philippine radio stations still on the air played uninterrupted music. Sketchy reports filtering out of the troubled nation indicated the military appeared to be playing a subdued role and martial law was not being enforced in Cebu and Mindanao, from 350 to 600 miles south of Manila.

Government sources said Marcos signed the martial law decree transferring power to local military commanders late Friday. But other reports said the proclamation was dated Thursday, and had been prepared before Defense Secretary Juan Ponce Enrile and his aides escaped unscathed from shots fired into Enrile's car by unidentified gunmen who fled.

A Manila police spokesman said three senators of Marcos' opposition, the Liberal Party, and a newspaper columnist were arrested, but gave no reason. Gunshots were reported on the campus of the state university, where classes were ordered suspended. The declaration was dated Thursday, and had been prepared before Defense Secretary Juan DANBURY (AP) - An attempt by police to make an arrest on a night led to a shootout that ended in the death of one man and the arrest of a Fairfield resident, police said.

Police said they didn't know the identity of the man who was killed.

Michael Mahigel, 38, of Fairfield was arrested and charged with first-degree assault and carrying a dangerous weapon, Danbury police said. His bond was set at $25,000.

Police gave the following account of the incident: State police and Danbury officers, seeking Mahigel in connection with a warrant for his arrest by state police, spotted a car carrying Mahigel and another man on South Street at 9:45 p.m.

Two state troopers, wearing civilian clothing, emerged from the crowd of the cars and walked toward the two men's vehicle holding their badges.

Two shots were fired at the troopers through the right window of the car carrying Mahigel and the other man, troopers said. The officers were reported unharmed.

The car managed to back out of its partly-surrounded position, crossed South Street, and travel down a 20-foot embankment into shrubbery at the Mosler Safe Co., police said.

The man who later was killed fled the car carrying a 45-caliber automatic pistol and broke into the nearby Preferred Utilities Co., police said.

Danbury police, wearing bullet-proof vests, entered the building under a tear-gas cover but met shots from a man's room, police said. The officers returned fire and retreated. The Danbury officers reinforced by troopers.

Candidates Trade Political Barbs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Nixon and challenger George McGovern have traded long-distance barbs as the 1972 presidential campaign appears to get a little bit more prickly.

Meanwhile, Vice President Spiro Agnew kept up his attack on the Democratic presidential nominee, and McGovern's running-mate, Sargent Shriver, flew to help Democrats in Nevada.

President Nixon lost his barb from Knoxville, Tenn., where he and Mrs. Nixon attended a dinner with wealthy Democrats at the Picoas House of former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

While appealing for Democratic votes Friday night, Nixon hit McGovern on defense and economic issues. As he has his custom, Nixon did not mention his Democratic challenger by name.

We reject the arguments of those who say that we would cut our defenses so that we become a second-rate nation in the world," the President said.

And Nixon derided what he described as the potentially appealing thought of calling for "the redistribution of income, to see that those who do not work are rewarded more than those who do" - an idea McGovern never proposed in such terms although he has talked of redistributing income.

McGovern made tongue-in-cheek references to the Watergate affair and its links to the Nixon re-election organization as the Democrat campaigned Friday in Detroit, Rochester, N.Y., and Pittsburgh.

Republican candidate - G. Warren Westbrook of South Windsor, former state representative and former South Windsor deputy mayor.

In the 53rd district (Tolland, Coventry and Willington) Jesse Bealand won endorsement over two other candidates in the Republican convention. The Democratic convention was to take place later today.

Manchester High's VIP Program

VIP has come to be known as "Very Important Person" and it's origin back in World War II days, we believe, was a military term used to alert lower echelons that the brass was showing up and to get the red carpet ready. Today it is still used in the same connotation, with an exception here in Manchester.

VIP at Manchester High School stands for Vocational Information Program. This program, launched last spring, is an effort on the part of the school in cooperation with individuals and business firms in the area to introduce on a first-hand and person-to-person basis, MHS students with various vocations as a part of an effort to enable the student to make a sounder and happier career decision.

More important perhaps, once this exposure to a vocation on location has taken place and the student has had an opportunity to discuss it with a practitioner he can implement his decision by preparing himself for it while still in high school.

In essence it is an ambitious attempt to use the resources of our community to help students obtain a broader awareness of not only the jobs available in the community but the scope of job opportunities.

It has too the spin-off effect of developing a broader understanding between the youth of today and the so-called "system."

Currently, L. Donald Brooks, VIP committee coordinator at MHS, is seeking community support for the program in the form of business firms, industrial plants, governmental agencies, self-employed people, or any other vocational source to provide a broad spectrum of vocational varieties to the students, whatever their vocation interests, can interview these source people concerning their particular vocational interest.

At this time students who are seniors and juniors are being selected for participation in the VIP program but when it is fully implemented sophomores too will be included.

There is no cost to the firm or citizens other than the time it takes to meet with a student and tell it like it is about a particular vocation in which the student may have an interest.

As we see it, the program has tremendous potential in its future implications for the student and the community as a whole. For the student it gives him real life exposure to the vocation which he can then evaluate in the terms of his own desires and ambitions. Second, it gives the community a chance to show and demonstrate not only the importance and opportunities of many careers we often take for granted but also to assess, and we are sure this will be a gratifying aspect, the tremendous potentials of our young people of today.

When we stop to think of the tremendous investment the community makes in education, isn't it wise to support VIP which could influence many more of our young people to enter careers that are a vital part of our community?

If you have not been contacted on this program, additional information on how you might be able to participate can be obtained from Brooks at the MHS guidance office.

The Innocent Bystander

By Arthur Hoppe

The Unaffordable Addiction

There can be no question that America today is in the grips of mass addiction that is rendering asunder the American economy and destroying our sacred American way of life.

Unless millions upon millions of Americans can somehow find the inner strength to kick this vicious habit, the country will inevitably go to hell in hand-bucket.

The habit is, of course, eating. Preying upon the insatiable cravings of these poor unfortunates, unscrupulous neighborhood pushers have sent the price of food sky-high. Profits of the higher-ups in the big nationwide syndicates that import, grow, process and adulterate the stuff are said to run into the billions.

Is there any wonder today, 74.2 per cent of the major crimes in urban areas are believed perpetrated by hopeless food addicts, attempting to support their $50-a-day habit?

What causes addiction? Is there any hope for cure? Let us examine a typical case, that of one Bonnie M., once an innocent young girl, now a notorious food freak.

One day after school, Bonnie was approached by insidious pusher who lurked about the grounds. "C'mon, kid," he whispered, "pop one of these jolly beans. Just for a harmless thrill."

"Well, just one," said Bonnie, who had always been curious about the stuff. But, of course, one was enough. She was hooked.

In those days, prices were so low that Bonnie was able to support her jolly bean cravings out of her allowance. And being a secretive, "closet eater," she was able to hide her addiction from her parents, her friends and eventually even her new husband, Clyde.

But in the inevitable progression of all addicts, Bonnie graduated from popping jolly beans to dropping Coke and, inevitably, to the real thing, meat—or "beef" as it's known in the addict culture.

It wasn't until 6 months ago that Clyde discovered her secret. Coming home unexpectedly from a business trip, he found her with all the addict paraphernalia—frying pan, hot plate and 16 ounces of pure, unadulterated beef.

"Good Lord, Bonnie!" he cried. "Where did you get it?" "Oh, Clyde," she sobbed, "I had to sell your dead mother's 27-carat wedding ring to buy it."

"Bonnie, how could you?" "Oh, Clyde, you'll never understand." Her eyes now reflected the slyness common to all addicts. "Not unless you try some. Please, just one teeny-little jolt."

Clyde, who desperately wanted to understand his wife, tried the "one teeny-little jolt." He swallowed. "Man," he said, his eyes widening, "that's the real stuff!" And he, too, was hooked.

Well, meat addiction these days is beyond the means of any honest working man. Only the very rich or the very criminal can afford even an occasional jolt. So today, Bonnie and Clyde and wanted in 14 states for extortion, bank robbery and the cold-blooded murder of two pretenses Gurneys and an irreplaceable Hereford steer.

But despite the fact that the widespread eating habit threatens the very foundations of America, this has not, surprisingly enough, become a political issue in the Presidential year. As though sensing the nation must pull together in this hour of danger, the Democrats have conceded Mr. Nixon has done everything possible to stamp out this vicious addiction.

"Give him four more years," said one Democratic leader in a spirit of magnanimity, "and we're confident that no American will be eating at all."

Know Your Limits

WILLIAM E. ADINT
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
CONNECTICUT SAFETY COMMISSION

Even before the horseless carriage appeared on the American scene, it was considered unwise to ride a horse or drive a carriage while under the influence of liquor. After the gas "carriage" became a permanent vehicle of transportation on our highways, it soon became evident that the tipsy driver was destined to become one of the greatest killers of our mechanized age. Soon the phrase, "if you drink, don't drive," appeared in print so often that it became a very tired bromide.

Although the above advice is still the best approach toward safe driving, it is regrettably true that countless millions of Americans continue to ignore this rule and drive their cars after having had that "one for the road." Thus, we are forced to admit that after many years of sermonizing, sloganizing, strict enforcement programs, scare techniques, and educational programs, we have not succeeded in convincing the motoring public that driving after drinking intoxicants is a dangerous practice.

What we now hope to do is to develop a motorists "know your limits" self-analysis, so that the individual driver will be able to determine, as much as possible, his own personal safety factor insofar as drinking and driving is concerned.

A word of caution must be noted. We should not rely solely on a quantitative factor to determine our fitness to drive a car. For one individual, a single drink may cause him to be an unsafe driver. On the other hand, another person might consume three drinks under different conditions and still be a safe driver. So it is not necessarily the "amount" of drinking that must be stressed, but rather the type of drinking.

Furthermore, it is vital that youthful or beginner drinkers have, or develop, an awareness of their "limits" and understand the effect alcohol has on their mental and physical faculties.

To help motorists determine their "Drinking Driver Fitness" barometer, the following brief, non-technical information is offered:

I. What Causes Intoxication?
After alcohol reaches the stomach and intestines, it is directly absorbed into the blood system, and is carried to all parts of the body, including the brain. Since alcohol is a drug which depresses the central nervous system of the brain, it affects one's vision, reflexes, coordination and thinking processes, producing the condition known as intoxication. It has a similar effect on the brain as ether or chloroform.

II. Does a Given Amount of Alcohol Affect Everyone Similarly at All Times?
No. The alcohol level or concentration in the body is dependent or related to: The amount and/or strength of the alcohol consumed.

The length of time since drinking started.

The length of time since the last drink.

The person's body weight.

The quantity and kind of food in the stomach at the time of drinking.

Keeping these facts in mind, we can readily see that an individual weighing 100 pounds, drinking three cocktails within the space of one hour, on an empty stomach, would be an unfit person to drive a motor vehicle.

However, a 250 pound individual could consume three cocktails within a three-hour period while having a full course dinner, and in all probability he would be capable of driving a motor vehicle safely.

III. How Is the Blood-Alcohol Level Measured in the Body?
Blood, breath or urine analyses are the scientific tests used to determine this level.

IV. At What "Chemical Test" Level Is a Person Considered to Be Under the Influence of Alcohol?
This measurement is a percentage of alcohol in the blood. It is generally agreed that if this blood-alcohol level is below 0.05 per cent, a person is usually not under the influence of alcohol. If this level is within the range of 0.05 per cent to 0.09 per cent, the individual may possibly be under the influence, and when it reaches 0.10 per cent or higher, he is definitely considered to be under the influence of liquor.

V. In Connecticut, at What Blood Alcohol Level can a Driver Be Arrested for Driving Under the Influence of Alcohol?
It is 0.10 per cent. More than one-half of the states now have the level set at 0.10 per cent. Utah has 0.08 per cent and many European nations go along with even lower limits—some as low as 0.05 per cent.

VI. Can a Person Accelerate the Sobering Process?
Absolutely not. Neither the drinking of coffee, exercise, or inhaling fresh air can help one sober up more quickly. The alcohol will leave the body only through a natural process, over a given period of time.

VII. How Long Must a Person Wait After His Last Drink Before Driving a Car?
A good rule of thumb is to close "The Bar" for your driving guests at least one hour before they leave. The "one for the road" before departure should be a cup of coffee or other non-alcoholic beverage. Generally, if a person consumes three highballs or three beers within the space of one hour, he should wait at least three to four hours before driving. In other instances, the waiting period should be longer before driving is attempted. Remember, only time can sober a person. Further more, after drinking only one cocktail, a driving delay of at least half hour is a sound policy to follow.

VIII. Do Other Factors Affect a Person's Ability to Drive?
Yes! Even a small amount of alcohol, when combined with drugs—tranquilizers, as an example—can dangerously affect one's ability to drive. With this combination, driving must be avoided.

In conclusion, it is our hope that the few suggestions offered here will give motorists a better understanding of the effects of alcohol on the human body.

We also hope that motorists will try to evaluate their ability to drive after drinking and, if any doubt exists, they will wait a reasonable length of time after the last drink before driving.

The drinking driver is the greatest killer on our highways, and only public understanding and cooperation will reverse this trend.

Better Utilization In Education

To the editor:

In a news release preliminary to "selling" the high school addition, Mr. James Arnold, chairman of the South Windsor Board of Education, charged the Concerned Citizens Group with not having considered all students in proposing a redistricting plan as part of the High School-Wapping Complex. In his attempt to discredit the Concerned Citizens Group he has failed to acknowledge that all our statistical information was obtained from the school administration.

More interesting, however, is Mr. Arnold's apparent attempt to frighten people into thinking they might have their children bused an unreasonable distance when the High School-Wapping Complex Plan is implemented. We hope it was not his intention to arouse certain neighborhoods and schools by grossly distorting facts.

Mr. Arnold should be aware of the administration's South Windsor High School Housing Problem, Plan D, Recommendation presented September 1971, which states, "We took the entire Wapping School, K-5 (1972) and distributed it to Avery, Eli Terry, Orchard Hill, and Pleasant Valley. We were short four classrooms."

The administration allowed for both pre-primary and transition classes in their redistricting plan and were only four classrooms short in this respect. Mr. Arnold's charge that 15 modulars would be needed in the High School-Wapping Complex Plan is absurd.

It is interesting to note that the initiators of the idea of an addition to the high school (Mr. James Arnold, Mrs. Cecil Decker, and Mr. Agn Petersen) are the same board members who were part of the "selling" of the $18 million high school two years ago which the public overwhelmingly defeated. If the public had followed these board members' advice we would have 2,000 empty seats in our school system.

The same board members and the same school administration is now asking us to swallow the need for a 23 room addition, which, by the time of completion, the high school population will begin to decline along with the continually declining elementary enrollment. The overcrowding in the high school is now and the solution is possible now.

We hope South Windsor citizens will not be persuaded into believing that because we did not accept the $18 million high school we must now accept a smaller version, $19 million (which is more "saleable" than the architect's $2.2 million estimate).

Mr. Arnold further charges that the Concerned Citizens are shifting a problem that exists at the high school level over to the elementary schools and significantly compromised our educational program in the process. We counter this with the knowledge that our elementary schools are presently underutilized and have available spaces to absorb the Wapping children without overcrowding our elementary classes. Examination of the Connecticut Public Expenditure Council's (CPEC) report reveals that South Windsor's student/teacher ratio has decreased from 19.8 students/1 teacher in 1966-67 to 16.9 students/1 teacher in 1971-72.

The CPEC statistics further show that South Windsor's student/teacher ratio is eighth lowest of the 169 Connecticut towns and the lowest in the immediate area. Quoting from the 1972 President's Commission on School Finance the CPEC publication, "says, 'despite widespread opinion to the contrary there is no research evidence that demonstrates im-

Urges Support

Dear sir:

I wonder if the people of Manchester really stop to think what a difficult, if not impossible, time a non-profit organization, such as Manchester Public Health Nursing Association would have, if it weren't for the United Fund. We give nursing services where they are needed whether or not a person can afford our fee.

We present a budget to the United Fund Finance Committee. Because of the low returns in the drive, we do not receive our full request—even though we have documented our needs.

I think, unfortunately, that money drives are an awful bore to many people. A little careful thought, I am sure, would help. An individual donation has to be spread over so many organizations who are Chest members. If you stop to think, it takes a really big donation to make much impact.

I hope the current drive will receive the careful consideration and support of everyone in Manchester.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Mary Rush,
President,
Board of Directors
Manchester Public Health Nursing Assn.

Raises Points on Zoning

To the editor:

Several points regarding the recent Zoning Board meeting considering the change to Residence A of 20.8 acres of land at Lydall and Greenwood streets:

1. If the Zoning Board cannot and does not take school population into consideration in altering present zoning, who does?

2. In the minutes of the meeting of Sept. 11, the chairman, Mr. Wells, stated clearly that while the PZB must see plans and hear future arguments for condominium units to be constructed on this site, it is "morally obligated" to approve such a construction if it approves a Residence A zoning since it was aware that this was the reason for the zoning request. Really?

3. Can anyone seriously say that the property value in the vicinity of the condominium homes aren't negatively affected? Just drive down Lydall St. between Vernon and Parker streets.

4. To who is the PZB accountable? With all the potential drawbacks perhaps the board should be elected so that there can be some accountability to the electorate for their actions. For a change it appears that some of us are going to fight big business and City Hall if necessary, instead of being stepped on as usual.

Even if you don't live in this area of Manchester, your tax rates will be affected when either schools or buses or both are necessary.

Dear sir:

Even though there are continuing improvements in all the major segments of the economy, there is still an increasing need for the many services performed under the banner of the United Fund.

The success of the 1972 Manchester United Fund Drive will dictate whether or not the young and old, who are unable to care for themselves, will have the minimum for a decent life.

Do unto others...Give a fair share to help a less fortunate neighbor.

White sea gulls make an interesting contrast against a cloudless blue sky, as they swoop and glide following in the wake of a deep sea fishing boat. Gulls and fisherman eye each other with equal curiosity.

Rev. Walter H. Loomis

Today's Thought Pious Concern, Not Enough There is a slow attrition of Christian belief, that must become a first concern. The supply of Christian motivation is running precariously low. Our prayer should be that of the man in the New Testament, "We believe, help our unbelief." Enroll, both yourself and your children in a Church School tomorrow. Then, follow through, with regular attendance. Pious expressions of concern are no substitute for hard work and commitment. Submitted by Rev. David M. Campbell Pastor, United Methodist Church in Bolton

To Be Honored

The Rev. Walter H. Loomis, pastor of Community Baptist Church for the past five years, and his wife will be honored tomorrow during the 10:30 a.m. worship service at the church and later at a reception at Fellowship Hall. The Rev. Mr. Loomis is retiring from full-time ministry, and he and Mrs. Loomis will be leaving for Rockledge, Fla. the first week of October. Jose A. Aneses, the administrator of the Red Cross in Puerto Rico, made the presentation Thursday at the general meeting.

The Japanese government gave the money to the American Red Cross in Washington, and the money was transferred to the Puerto Rican Red Cross chapter. The Japanese terrorists who carried out the airport massacre were associated with anti-Israeli Palestinian guerrillas. The 16 Puerto Ricans who were killed were on a religious pilgrimage.

Federal investments in national, state and local parklands through the Land and Water Conservation Fund rose to about $966 million by March 31, 1971. The World Almanac notes: About half of the fund was for acquisition of 866,200 acres of national parks, forests and wildlife refuges. The remainder went to state and local outdoor recreation projects. This was a Sunday. The Herald did not publish.

R Sox Defense Performs Miracles in Win

BOSTON (AP) — If Red Sox Manager Eddie Kasko had any hairs on his head, they would undoubtedly be gray today.

His team scored runs in each of the first three innings Friday night against the Detroit Tigers. That took care of the offense. Then the defense performed miracles.

In the sixth inning, Petreoli dove to his left to spear a two-out line drive by pinchhitter Tony Taylor while the bases were loaded. In the eighth, Petreoli did it again, this time starting a double play with the bases full and nobody out. Rick Miller added a diving catch in centerfield to end the inning, and the Red Sox had preserved a 3-2 victory.

"See how nice and easy it is when everybody does his job?" Kasko said. "We are, of course, kidding.

"The victory moved the Red Sox to a full game in front of the Tigers in the American League East, including two up in the all-important loss column. Due to the players' strike, the Red Sox play one game less this year than the Tigers, and must be ahead in the loss column when the season ends.

Kasko, who has steadfastly refrained this season from placing great significance on any one victory or loss, admitted this one was as important as any.

"Right now, at this stage of the season, this has got to be big," Kasko said. "If we lose this, we find ourselves two-down in the series."

The Tigers defeated the Red Sox 10-3 Thursday in the opener of the four-game series.

Over in the visitors' clubhouse, Detroit Manager Billy Martin remained enthusiastic about his team's chances, despite the loss.

"It took three sensational plays to beat us," Martin said. "Petreoli's two plays and the play in centerfield were probably the equivalent of seven runs. I don't think they're down after a game like this. It raises you up, knowing what it took to beat you. We'll see what happens tomorrow."

Chris Zachary, who had a 0.93 earned run average in 22 relief appearances made his first start of the season for the Tigers and took the loss.

The Red Sox scored in the first when Tommy Harper hit a single and came home on a sacrifice fly by Carl Yastrzemski. They made it 2-0 in the second when Lonnie Fiksel singled, moved to third on a hit by Doug Giffin and came home when pitcher Lynn McLouth hit a sacrifice fly.

Yastrzemski hit his ninth home run of the season in the third inning, and was the last Boston player to reach base.

The Tigers cut the lead to 2-1 in the sixth when Norm Cash walked and Duke Sims, catching in place of the injured Bill Freehan, introduced to Detroit bullpen in right. Two singles and a walk later, the Tigers had the bases loaded with one out, and Bob Veale was brought in to pitch. The first man he faced was Frank Howard.

"Give 'em heat all the way," Veale said. A strikeout.

Next up was Tony Taylor, but he had a vicious drive that Petreoli grabbed diving to his left.

"It happened so fast I didn't really have time to think," Petreoli said. "I just stuck my glove out."

In the eighth, it was the same situation all over again, but this time the bases were loaded and no one was out. Eddie Brinkman hit a hot shot down the third-base line. Petreoli grabbed the ball, stepped on third and fired home for the double play. He admitted he was a little out of sync, but considered going for the triple play, along the horn.

"I'm glad he didn't," Kasko said. "I didn't want to find out if he could make it."

Then Miller, inserted that inning for just three purposes, made his diving, skidding catch of a Willie Horton bloop to right center, ending the inning.

"It's still too long to go for a double play," Kasko said. "I'll tell you when I'll be optimistic, though: When we lead by more than games we have games to play."

Sony Siebert (12-11) was scheduled to pitch for the Red Sox today and Mickey Lolich (20-13) for the Tigers.

Whacky Week in A.L. East Just as You Would Expect

NEW YORK (AP) What kind of week has it been in the American League East? Well, whacky, of course, but then, what did you expect?

Reds Qualify to Face Pirates People-Power Key For Division Kings

HOUSTON (AP) — Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson says the Big Red Machine ran to the 1972 National League Western Division championship on people-power.

"We don't just have players on this team—we have people, and that's one thing the other clubs don't have," Anderson said. "I think the Reds will be in the World Series."

Later Anderson said he wouldn't make any predictions about the playoff with Pittsburgh for the NL title but did say, "The two best teams in baseball will be playing for the National League title."

The Reds scored two runs in the first inning of Astro starter Larry Dierker and added two more on solo homers by Pete Rose and Johnny Bench. Houston scored one in the third on Jim Wynn's single and two more in the fourth on Bob Watson's two-run single to make it close.

But even when the Astros loaded the bases in the ninth, Sparky still had a certain feeling. "When that phone call woke me up at 8:20 this morning, I had the best feeling I've ever had," Anderson said.

"This club means more to me than the 1970 club because this club battled so hard. In 1970 it was just a cakewalk."

Rose said the present Cincinnati team is better than the 1970 champs because of more balanced hitting.

"In 1970, Bench and Tolcan carried us," he said. This year everybody is hot.

Friday night was washing the bubbly out of their doubting hearts. Players fished champagne on each other like a bunch of boys playing in lawn sprinklers on a hot summer day.

They had won their second division in three years and in typical fashion, holding off a ninth-inning rally by the Astros. It's another reason Anderson thinks the Reds will be in the World Series.

Russians Rally To Trim Canada

MOSCOW (AP) — "We played 50 minutes of hockey—but you've got to play 60 minutes against this club," Team Canada's assistant coach, John Ferguson, said of the Soviet national team.

For more than 40 minutes, Team Canada—made up of stars of the National Hockey League—played excellent hockey. And for nearly 50 minutes the Canadians still seemed to have matters well in hand.

Then the Russians erupted for four goals in barely five minutes—two in the second and two in the third. The Russians seemed to be in control, but the Canadians rallied to tie the game at 2-2. Then, in the fourth, the Russians scored again, 3-2.

The Canadians increased the pressure in the second period with a 2-0 goal. Bobby Clarke of the Philadelphia Flyers tucked the puck between the netminder's legs.

About nine minutes later the Canadians made it 3-0 as Paul Henderson of the Toronto Maple Leafs scored the first of his two goals.

"The main thing for me," Soviet Coach Vsevolod Bobrov recalled of his feelings at that time, "was not to show the state I was in after the second goal. I was in a state of mind to give the players hope for the favorable outcome of what was to come."

Whatever it was that Bobrov did or said, it worked wonders. With 15,000 fans, including 10,000 in the stands, the Russians came out lying in the third period.

Yuri Blinov got them on the board with a 3-2 tying goal. Then, in the fourth, the Russians scored again, 4-2.

Yankee Flag Hopes Dimmed by Tribe

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gaylord Perry pitched out of one jam after another Friday night, and when he was through the skidding New York Yankees had lost 4-3 to the Cleveland Indians.

It was the third straight defeat for the Yankees who trail Boston by 4 1/2 games and the Yankees were the ones in a jam.

Astros Run out of Gas At Big Red Stop Sign

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros have been chasing Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson's "Big Red Stop Sign" for a while now.

Steered by Pete Rose and Johnny Bench, the Big Red Machine defeated Houston with a 4-3 victory Friday night that settled, once and for all, the National League West pennant.

"It's the best feeling I've ever had," Anderson said. "This club means more to me than the 1970 club because this club battled so hard. In 1970 it was just a cakewalk."

"It was wonderful," reported Barbara Dunn Thursday in a telephone interview, the day after she saw Muhammad Ali defeat Floyd Patterson.

Mets Hope for Second Dashed by Bill Robinson

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Robinson of the Philadelphia Phillies virtually blew out the flickering hopes of the New York Mets for a second place in the National League East.

The centerfielder of the Phillies figured in all five runs as the Phils beat the Mets 5-4 in 11 innings at Shea Stadium Friday night.

The defeat dropped the Mets five games back of the Cubs and 17 1/2 behind the Pittsburgh Pirates who had won the NL East by defeating the Mets Thursday.

Robinson hit a two-run homer in the second off Jim McAndrew to give the Phils a 2-0 lead.

Then, after the Mets had gone ahead 4-2 on Jim Beauchamp's homer, Robinson struck out against the fourth out Ken Rindrimper.

'Field Goals' Help Menne To Top in Fall Golf Play

ROBINSON III (AP) — "Man, I made me some field goals out there," Bob Menne enthused after assuming an unexcused spot atop the fielding going into today's third round of the 100,000 Robinson Fall Golf Classic.

Menne, who hasn't made a par since his debut in the tournament early in 1970, was talking about the long

Michigan Defenders Acid Test for UCLA

NEW YORK (AP) — UCLA's thus far unstoppable offense goes against Michigan's unyielding defense in the Los Angeles Coliseum tonight in the weekend's only matchup of nationally-ranked college football teams.

Sixth-ranked UCLA has rolled up 625 yards on the ground and 188 through the air in beating three top teams in the past week.

Michigan, ranked 12th, allowed only 129 rushing yards and 49 passing yards in a 7-0 victory over Northwestern.

"We are a defensive team first," admits Coach Bob Schenck of the Wolverines, brushing off the lack of scoring punch against Northwestern.

Baseball players who have outstanding seasons are often overlooked in the voting when annual awards are made and managers are no different.

Take Earl Weaver of Baltimore for example. For three straight years he took the Orioles home first in the American League and never once he was honored as Manager-of-the-Year.

I kidded Weaver earlier this week at Fenway Park that he just might win the honor if the Birds fail to wrap up a fourth straight crown.

"I don't want it," he shot back.

"Look what happened to some of the guys named."

"Ted Williams was named one year when he got with Washington and the other year when he got with Bill Rigney was named, too, and now he's out of a job."

"Ralph Houk was named by you guys last year and when he saw he said he would rather take the honor for my (World Series) win."

Chargers Open With Triumph

Two hard-fought games were seen in the second week of play in the Manchester Midget Football League last night at Mt. Nebo as the Chargers, in their first showing of the season, downed the Eagles, 12-0, and the Giants defeated the Jets, 8-6.

In the opener, the Chargers, living up to their name, allowed the Eagles only 17 offensive plays while they ran 37 and racked up six first downs to the Eagles' one.

The Chargers' first score came in the closing seconds of the first half on a three-yard pass by fullback Ed Sudokis. This score was set up by two successive plays from quarterback Scott Crowley of the Giants to left end Pete Gouley at the Jet 30 which Gouley plugged to yardline. The two-point conversion by Crowley was the eventful difference. This score was made possible by a spectacular punt return of 37 yards from Prignano of the "Giant 'B' team members before.

The Jets fought back in the second half but were out until the early moments of the fourth quarter when Chris Devlin, on an option play from the Jet 41, John Quinonez reeled off two fine gains of 10 and 20 yards to bring the ball to the two-yard line. Again Sudokis got the call and the husky fullback forced his way into the end zone to make the final score 12-0.

For the Eagles the best play was Jim Pleasant's pass to John Wilson which the Charger 47 which Wilson carried into the end zone only to be called back due to an offside penalty.

Right end Mark Young, along with Sadloski, were defensive backstops in Winchester Park. Some of the better spots were Frankers in the backfield, Roger Drouin, Mike Ringston and Hugh Quinn.

The nightcap was a corks as the Giants and the Jets battled all over the field on some hard punting by Giants backs Pete Hebert, Bob Mumford and Ken Falby as well as Jets' Gary Demko, Bruce Gardner and Chris Devlin.

Pro Football Roundup

Lions, Vikings Meet in Feature

NEW YORK (AP) — "When Detroit and Minnesota play," Vikings Coach Bud Grant once commented, "nobody wins. It's just a matter of which team is ahead when the game ends."

That pretty much describes the collision of these two powerhouses in the National Football Conference's Central Division.

The last eight times, Minnesota's been ahead at the end, and it's been those victories that have paved the way to the Vikings' four straight divisional championships.

At the moment, though, it's the Lions who are ahead. They beat the Lions who are ahead. They beat the Lions who are ahead. They beat the Lions who are ahead.

And if Detroit can withstand the Vikings' typically-crushing defense Sunday, there's a good chance the Lions will have sole possession of the division lead.

Chicago, like Minnesota, will be out to even its record but the Bears have a formidable foe in the Los Angeles Rams. Green Bay, currently sharing the Central lead with Detroit, surprised Cleveland 28-10 a week ago.

This time the Packers' defense will be tested by Oakland's always-dangerous Raiders.

Other games find Pittsburgh at Cincinnati, St. Louis at Washington, Dallas at the New York Giants, the New York Jets at Baltimore, Houston at Miami, San Francisco at Buffalo, Cleveland at Philadelphia.

Ken Anderson, who led the Browns, may have to go with a pair of rookies, running back Franco Harris and tight end John Mackiam, since John Fuqua and Larry Brown are injured and doubtful starters.

Super Bowl Champions Set for Giant Invasion

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys are set to challenge a defensive back. They are also a nightmare.

The Super Bowl champions have had six receivers in the past but never as strong in the past when they have four potential starters in the backfield.

Bullet Bob Hayes, Lance Alworth, Ron Sellers and Billy Parks.

If the New York Giants have spent time preparing for that foursome for Sunday's game, they are going to be in for a rough time.

The Dallas Cowboys' offensive line is one of the best in the league. They have a strong offensive line and a strong offensive line.

Assembly Assured New Faces

HARTFORD (AP) — No matter who wins in the General Assembly elections this year, one third of the incumbent legislators will be gone.

Sixty of the 213 legislators have decided not to run for reelection. Some say they are tired of it, a few are running for higher office and some are calling it quits after being thrown into a district with a fellow incumbent, under the emergency Saden reapportionment plan which cut the House from 177 to 151 seats.

In the Senate, eight Republicans—the latest was James Macauley of Bridgeport—and four Democrats retired. In the House 27 Republicans and 20 Democrats threw in the towel, including GOP State Chairman J. Brian Gaffney, who will concentrate on Republican business instead.

At least seven GOP House members are candidates for state Senate or the U.S. Congress.

Democratic Sen. James Murphy of Franklin retired last week after losing a delegate primary battle to former Sen. William Stanley of Norwich.

The Democrats claim that the Saden reapportionment plan favors the Republicans. A few incumbents were redistricted into neighborhoods of a different party.

"I don't have the chance of a snowball in you-know-where," said state Rep. Frank Reinhold, a Waterbury Democrat, and his sentiment is echoed by others.

In another Waterbury district, Democratic Rep. John Mahaney hasn't decided whether to run for re-election against another incumbent Democrat Edward Iwanicki, who intends to run.

Even among the incumbents left standing, the primaries and election dates will take their toll. In fact, a couple may be missing after today's nominating conventions in multitown districts.

Somers Prison Disagreement Resolved

HARTFORD (AP) — State Correction Commissioner John Manson said Friday night that a guard union at Somers Prison had agreed to the resumption of full recreational privileges for inmates Saturday.

Council 16, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees had threatened a strike by guards if all inmates were allowed recreation at the same time.

After meeting with union officials, Manson said the resumption of full privileges had received "the support of Council 16."

Recreation periods have been restricted since an inmate fight in May when several guards were injured.

Earlier, another state employee union, the Connecticut State Employees Association, asked Personnel Commissioner Edward Simpson to step into the dispute.

The union said Simpson had helped resolve a similar employee dispute in the Welfare Department last summer.

Vernon Vote Stands After Recanvass

A re-canvass last night of the vote in Wednesday's Vernon referendum confirmed the results as final and the matter is closed, election officials said.

All appropriations were defeated for expansion of Rockville High School. The appropriations for expansion of Talcottville School were approved.

The request for the re-canvass came from the two registrars of voters, when it was discovered there were discrepancies between the voters' check-off lists and the automatic counters on the voting machines. The discrepancies totaled 203 in the four voting districts. They were reduced to a 28 total after the re-canvass.

In Districts 1 and 2 the original count showed 1,985 checked off the voting lists and 2,190 registered on the machine counters — a difference of 205. The re-count showed 2,162 checked off and 2,190 registered — narrowing the difference downward to 28.

In Districts 3 and 4, where 3,026 voters had been checked off and 2,938 registered on the machines, the recount showed both figures the same — at the 2,938 machine count.

Board To Hear Data On Center For Retarded

The Board of Education will hear an updated report Monday night on the proposal to build a Regional Educational Training Center on the Manchester Community College campus.

The meeting will be held at 8 in the Administrative Annex, 45 School St.

The presentation will be made by Norman Fendell, supervisor of special education in Manchester, and Robert Margolin, state Department of Education consultant. Earlier this year, the General Assembly passed and Gov. Meskill signed a bill transferring to the town four acres at the northwest corner of Hillstown Rd. and Wetherell St.

The proposed center, to provide training for mentally retarded persons 14 to 21 years old, would be run by Manchester but also serve area towns.

Included in the report by Dr. James P. Kennedy, superintendent of schools, will be these topics: Meetings with faculties; State of Connecticut Scholarship Program; Preliminary survey on midyear completion at Manchester High School of graduation requirements; and a proposal, made by Principal George Emmerling and Theodore Martin, faculty manager and acting director of athletics, to reinstate the athletic boosters' club at MHS.

There will also be committee reports, and the board will act on three professional appointments.

Candidates Trade

theme he has stressed during the week—hitting McGovern's criticism of U.S. bombing in Vietnam.

By criticizing the Nixon administration bombing policy, Agnew said in Roanoke, Va., McGovern "hurts the American morale by implying that we are murderers for doing the same thing we have always done through our history, and that is to go to the aid of people who have been victimized by aggression."

At stops in both Roanoke and Winston-Salem, N.C., Agnew was also trying to help local Republicans who want to win Democratic-held Senate seats as part of the GOP drive to win control of the chamber for the first time in 18 years.

Meanwhile, Shriver flew to Las Vegas, Nev., to lend a hand to Democratic Gov. Mike O'Callaghan, who invited the vice-presidential candidate to speak at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner for candidates to the state Legislature. O'Callaghan worked for Shriver for two years in the Job Corps.

Shriver arrived in Las Vegas after a campaign day Friday that included an appearance at a New York subway stop and a mainly Mexican-American party in Texas. In Texas, Shriver ate tamales and drank beer just seven miles from Connally's ranch, where Nixon and the wealthy Democrats had dinner.

In other political developments Friday:

—NBC and CBS said they would make prime television time slots available for a series of 30-minute "fireside chats" planned by McGovern. But the networks said more negotiating was needed to set the exact dates.

—The executive board of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers said it has approved a stepped-up program of support for the McGovern-Shriver campaign. The program is to include leaflet distribution, fund collection and rallies by 550 union locals.

—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who recently campaigned with McGovern, discussed the presidential campaign with Gov. George C. Wallace in Montgomery, Ala. Kennedy said he hopes Wallace will support McGovern, but added that Wallace "will speak for himself."

—Las Vegas oddsmaker James Snyder, better known as Jimmy the Greek, said he figures Nixon is at least an 8-to-1 favorite to be re-elected. And Snyder told a House subcommittee that the odds are rising.

Court Denies Delay In Abortion Edict

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Connecticut remains without an anti-abortion law today after a federal court refused to delay a decision which struck down the law.

Atty. Gen. Robert Killian is now expected to appeal to U.S. Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall and perhaps Chief Justice Warren Burger for a stay.

The state is trying to buy time, to keep a law on the books until the nation's highest court rules on the basic constitutionality of anti-abortion legislation. A Texas law, similar to Connecticut's, will be reviewed by the Supreme Court Oct. 10.

The 2-1 decision Friday came from the same three-judge federal court that ruled the law unconstitutional earlier in the week.

In his appeal, Killian said "The State of Connecticut is now left without any laws to protect the lives of unborn children at any stage of their development."

Killian noted that the courts are divided on the issue and that five federal courts have upheld state anti-abortion laws.

Connecticut's law, which prohibits abortions except to save the mother's life, was rewritten, but essentially unchanged by the 1972 legislature after it was struck down by the same federal panel earlier this year.

Rham Board Watches Till; Fund Requests Grow

With the school session only three weeks old, the Regional District No. 8 Board of Education is already keeping a tight hand on the purse strings.

At a recent meeting, the board turned down an overexpenditure in the amount of $310, questioned a $400 expense and deposited funds in a different account in the amount of $8,110.32 so as not to incur a deficit.

Nurses Aide
The board had received a request from Mrs. Alice Stone, school nurse, to purchase $310 worth of transparencies for the new nurses aide program at the school.

This new program is designed in conjunction with the class work which will involve a minimum of 120 classroom hours yearly as well as work experience of at least 60 hours yearly in the Colchester Convalescent Hospital and detailed tours of other hospitals and special schools.

Although the transparencies would be fully reimbursable by the state, the board would have to first spend the money, which was not budgeted, and when reimbursed the funds would go into the surplus fund thus not offsetting the expenditure in the operating budget.

Board member Harry Megson felt that the audio-visual account under which transparencies would fall "could be shaved" to make up the expenditure as it is such a small amount.

The board decided to defer any action until later in the year at which time it will have some idea of where it stands financially.

Transportation
Under state law, the board is obligated to furnish transportation, not to exceed $400 a year, to students attending technical school.

It approved without comment, the $400 expense for a Rham student to attend the I.A. Price School in Hartford for a sheet metal course which is not given at Windham Tech where most of the Rham students attend.

However, it did not approve a request from a Rham graduate to take an electrical course at Cheney Tech questioning if it has the liability for a student who has already graduated.

The board's secretary, Mrs. Katharine Sibun, and superintendent of schools, David Cattanch, will contact the Connecticut Association of Board of Education and the State Department of Education respectively to determine the liability involved.

Fire Damage
Megson reported the receipt of three checks from insurance companies in the amount of $8,110.32 covering the cost of repairs to the gymnasium roof following a Memorial Day fire.

He stated that basically the funds should be deposited in the surplus account with the bills being paid out of the current operating budget.

This, however, would give the board a deficit of $8,110.32 as no funds were budgeted for this expense.

He therefore recommended, and received the board's approval, to deposit the funds and pay the bills from the student activity account.

September: Bad Month For Nets

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — In two pronounced instances, the merry month of May has brought only gloom to the three U.S. television networks. Each time the woe has come from the Federal Communications Commission. Eleven years ago, the month brought a declaration by then-FCC chairman Newton Minow that commercial television was "a vast wasteland."

In May nine years later, the FCC adopted the controversial prime-time access rule. For a year now, the rule in effect has stripped each network of 3½ hours of highly profitable time each week and returned it to local stations.

But this year's month of network gloom has been changed to September.

Hollywood craft and talent unions have demanded quantity — more new programs and far fewer prime-time network reruns — as a means of reducing widespread unemployment among their members.

The networks estimate they now spend 45 per cent of their prime time — 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. — broadcasts on reruns.

A study by Hollywood unions says the national average is closer to 60 per cent. They're asking the FCC to limit reruns to 13 weeks a year and require networks to present an additional 12 weeks of first-run programming.

The networks insist that production costs already are so high that they'd suffer heavy financial losses if forced to buy more new programs than they now do.

The real network agony officially got underway last Thursday because of a letter President Nixon sent John Gavin, head of the Screen Actors Guild.

In it, Nixon said he agreed increased prime-time network reruns constituted an "economic threat" to film industry members. And he promised to look into remedial action by the government if necessary.

FCC chairman Dean Burch would comment only that he believed the FCC had the authority to limit prime-time network reruns.

The three networks were asked Tuesday if they felt the FCC had that power and whether they'd go to court to fight any rerun limitation the FCC might order, if it ever did.

CBS said its lawyers are "still studying the issue," and had no other comment. ABC had no comment beyond its Sept. 14 statement in which it said it opposed "the concept of government intervening in the programming process — an exercise which violates the spirit, if not the letter, of the First Amendment to the Constitution."

NBC had no comment other than the question was "novel" and that "our (legal) counsel is looking into the issue."

BACK FOR SPECIAL

Glen Campbell, whose show was dropped by CBS, will revisit his roots briefly when he hosts this year's Country Music Awards Monday, Oct. 16, on CBS.

A NEW MACHINE
Maggie Lettvin, a glamorous grandmother, is back on CPTV (Channel 24) with a new exercise series. Maggie's exercise philosophy includes elements of yoga, dance, and traditional calisthenics; she developed it when an auto accident left her apparently crippled for life. The series, "Maggie and the Beautiful Machine," airs on Channel 24 Wednesdays at 6:30 p.m. and Thursdays at 7 p.m.
