

POW Trio Now Campaign Issue

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

Three American prisoners of war in Hanoi have suddenly become an issue in the political campaign, amid accusations and counter-accusations by Sen.

George McGovern and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird. Sen. McGovern Sunday said the Nixon administration was "playing politics" with the three prisoners who apparently have been released by North Vietnam to an anti-war group in Hanoi, but have not yet left the North. He blamed the administration for the delay.

"So I call on Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and I call on the President of the United States to let these three men come home just as quickly as possible," the Democratic presidential nominee said in New York.

Laird earlier had charged that the North Vietnamese were using the families of the prisoners—families of two of the prisoners went to Hanoi with the anti-war group—as "propaganda tools."

But after McGovern's criticism of the administration, Laird issued a new statement, saying: "It is a despicable act of a presidential candidate to make himself a spokesman for the enemy." He added that McGovern "knows very well just who it is who has delayed the return of the three American officers..."

The three Americans are Maj. Edward Elias of the Air Force, Lt. Mark L. Gartley of the Navy and Lt. Norris Charles of the Navy.

—The Chicago Tribune Sunday endorsed President Nixon for reelection, praising his handling of the Indochina war and his foreign and economic policies.

Vote List Work Underway

By SOL R. COHEN
(Herald Reporter)

With the lineup of candidates completed in the two Senatorial Districts and the four House Districts into which Manchester has been divided by court order, the town's election officials now are faced with the task of preparing voter lists and assigning polling places for a complicated election process.

Of Manchester's four House districts, two (12 and 13) are completely within town boundaries, yet, each is split between two Senatorial Districts (3 and 4).

House District 12, in the north central part of Manchester, is half in Senate District 3 and half in Senate District 4. House District 13, which surrounds 12 on the west, south and east, is about three-fifths in Senate District 4 and two-thirds in Senate District 3.

Senate District 3 consists of all of East Hartford, plus about half of Manchester. Senate District 4 consists of the other half of Manchester plus the entire towns of Glastonbury, South Windsor, East Windsor, Bolton, Coventry, Andover and Hebron.

In House District 14, which consists of the entire Town of South Windsor plus the northwest quadrant of Manchester, that portion which is in Manchester is in Senate District 3, yet, the entire Town of South Windsor is in Senate District 4.

And in House District 9, which consists of the southwest quadrant of Manchester plus the eastern third of East Hartford, that portion which is in Manchester is split between Senate District 3 and Senate District 4, yet, that portion which is in East Hartford is entirely in Senate District 4.

The situation will produce difficulties for election officials, for the candidates and for the voters as well. All must clarify the question—Who is voting for whom and where?

The lineup of candidates is as follows:

Senate District 3
Democratic - Incumbent State Sen. Harry S. Burke of East Hartford.

Republican - Arthur B. Shattuck of East Hartford, minority leader of the East Hartford Town Council.

Senate District 4
Democratic - Mrs. Thomas J. (Estelle) Flanagan of Glastonbury, making her first try at public office.

Republican - Incumbent State Sen. David O. Odgaard of Manchester, former deputy mayor.

House District 9
Democrat - Incumbent State

Rep. Muriel T. Yacavone of East Hartford.

Republican - Carl A. Zinsser of Manchester, former member of the Manchester Board of Directors.

House District 12
Democratic - William M. Bronnell of Manchester, assistant town counsel, making his first try at public office.

Republican - Incumbent State Rep. Donald S. Genovesi of Manchester.

House District 13
Democratic - Incumbent State Rep. Francis J. Mahoney of Manchester, former Manchester mayor.

Republican - John Garside Jr. of Manchester, former member and former secretary of the Board of Directors.

House District 14
Democratic - Mrs. Lawrence I. (Cecile) Decker of South Windsor, vice chairman of the South Windsor Board of Education.

Republican - G. Warren Westbrook of South Windsor, former state representative and former South Windsor deputy mayor.

Manchester State Rep. N. Charles Boggi is a casualty of the court-ordered reapportionment plan. He now lives in the new House District 9, which is represented by Mrs. Yacavone of East Hartford, a candidate for reelection.

Plane Hits Ice Cream Parlor; 22 Persons Die

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — "It took one wall where the 17 kids were and just pushed it," one witness gasped after a burning plane crashed into an ice cream parlor jammed with children and their parents, killing 22 persons.

Authorities said one entire family of four died in the crash Sunday along with at least 10 children. Twenty-six others — mostly children — were injured when the private plane catapulted across a highway shortly after takeoff and hit Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor.

The pilot of the Korean war-vintage jet fighter survived and was quoted as saying, "I'm sorry! I'm sorry!" as he was pulled from the wreckage.

Describing the scene at the wall where the 17 youngsters had been sitting, Dave Thornton said, "They were all in a big pile. It just pushed them." He ran from the crash area from a nearby bowling alley.

A 12-year-old girl in the shop crowded with about 100 persons said she thought it was "a gimnick" to accompany the serving of a special ice cream sundae. "Then everyone started screaming and running."

Don McClusky, a management trainee working at the store, said a birthday party group of 17 persons was seated at the table at the front window and had just been served with ice cream, candy and favors when the plane crashed through the wall beside them. Most of the dead were found in that part of the store.

The crash occurred as the F86 Sabrejet was taking off from Sacramento's Executive Airport after participating in an air show. The plane had been converted to civilian use.

Witnesses said the plane appeared to lose power in the takeoff. It crashed on an old levee barrier at the end of the runway and hurtled across a four-lane highway.

The craft burst into flames about the time it hit three autos parked by the front entrance to the ice cream parlor. Two of the autos were rammed with the burning plane through the front of the building.

Twenty of the dead were tentatively identified as customers in the store. Two others had been seated in one of the autos crushed by the jet.

"I was filling salt shakers when it hit," said McClusky. "After I picked myself up I saw two people trapped in front of me. I grabbed two fire extinguishers and tried to get to them but I couldn't. There was no way to get to them."

Coroner George Nielsen said some identifications might be delayed because the fingerprints of children usually aren't on file. He said he had few calls from parents, possibly because some of the parents were among the hospitalized.

The pilot was identified as Richard Bingham, 36, of Novato, Calif., general manager of Spectrum Air, a corporation controlled by William Penn Patrick, a prominent cosmetics manufacturer.

Bingham was listed in satisfactory condition with fractures

Transit Workers Vote to Strike

HARTFORD (AP) — The General Assembly continues work this week on the problem of how best to help two ailing bus companies whose employees last weekend supported strikes if they don't have new contracts by the end of September.

Employees of the Connecticut Co. and the Connecticut Railway & Lighting Co. who belong to the Amalgamated Transit Union (ATU) voted overwhelmingly Sunday to authorize their negotiators to call a strike if necessary.

A spokesman for the CR&L union locals said he did not believe the employees would agree to an extended contract if agreement on a new one is not reached by Sept. 30, when the existing pact expires.

The General Assembly's Transportation Committee, which heard testimony Friday on the bus dilemma, is planning to make its recommendations Tuesday.

Gov. Thomas J. Meskill called the legislature into special session and proposed that it approve his plan for distributing $3 million in Highway Fund surplus to all the cities and towns for use where necessary to insure continued operation of the buses.

ConnCo serves the Hartford, New Haven and Stamford areas and CR&L provides service in Bridgeport, Waterbury and New Britain and has runs to several other communities. Democratic legislative leaders are reported to be shaping a plan for releasing $6 million from the Public Service Tax Fund directly to the bus companies as subsidies. They also favor distribution of the $3 million in highway funds, but only for that purpose.

Deputy Transportation Commissioner Samuel Kanell said he had "indications" that employees of the two bus companies would be willing to work for "a reasonable period of time" after their contracts expire if it seemed a solution to the contract problem were close at hand.

Downtown Meeting Tuesday

The Mayor's Downtown Action Committee will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Hearing Room of the Town Municipal Building.

The committee is issuing an invitation for all downtown Manchester merchants to attend so that ideas for proposed projects can be coordinated.

The committee expressed the hope that most of Manchester's Main Street businesses will be represented at the Tuesday evening session.

Republican House 'Dean' Loses Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only a deadlock among Republicans in the 15th Senatorial District in the Waterbury area and a few primary contests remain to be settled after the weekend's legislative nominating conventions in districts that cross town lines.

One of the major upsets Saturday was suffered by state Rep. Morris Hogan of Burlington, the Republican "dean of the House" with a 12-year record reaching back to 1937. He lost the party's 19th district nomination to Russell Post of Canton, who had resigned as deputy state personnel commissioner to run for office.

In a contest between Reps. Peter Gillies of Middletown and William A. O'Neill of East Hampton, two assistant House majority leaders who found themselves in the same new district, O'Neill was the victor.

Because of the way districts were redrawn under the recently instituted Saden plan, Middletown has only one full assembly district and is part of two others plus two senate districts. Because of Gillies' loss and the other conventions, it will have only one voice in the legislature.

Republican delegates in the 15th Senatorial District, including all or part of Waterbury, Middlebury and Naugatuck, met twice over the weekend without resolving the contest between Mark Scott of Waterbury and Stephen Sweeney, a former state Senator from Naugatuck. The vote was 13-13.

In a tight senatorial race, Sen. James J. Murphy of North Franklin won 19-17 over William B. Stanley, a former senator. Stanley had promised to force a primary if he lost but got more than the required minimum number of votes, which he did.

Another primary was promised by state Rep. Joseph Gormley of Fairfield, who lost 23-12 to John Shannon of Fairfield in his quest for the GOP senatorial nomination in the 28th district.

In the 36th Senatorial District, the Democrats nominated NAACP national treasurer Alfred Baker Lewis to oppose Sen. Florence Finney in her attempt to win an 11th term.

District 53 May Have Primaries

Republican Jesse Brainard and Democrat Richard Cromie, both of Coventry, won their respective party endorsements for the newly created 53rd Assembly District during stormy conventions, Saturday.

Cromie faces an immediate primary challenge by his opponent Charles Thiffault, Democratic town chairman of Tolland. Thiffault took out petition papers yesterday and has already collected more than the required 100 signatures to assure the holding of a primary Oct. 16.

Brainard may or may not find himself embroiled in a primary, as party leaders from the district attempt to dissuade challenger Andrew Repko from holding a primary.

Repko lost his bid for the Republican nomination for the 53rd district seat, and later in the day lost a second time when he had his name entered in the GOP 35th Senatorial District convention. Repko won only seven votes in the senate race, but received more than the required 20 per cent in the three-way contest for the GOP assembly nomination.

Voting for the Republican nominee crossed town lines in the three-way race between Brainard, Repko and Frank Merrill of Tolland.

On the first ballot, Repko was ahead with five votes, while the others each had three votes. On the second ballot Tolland threw its support to Brainard, resulting in an 8-3 victory.

Brainard is a member of the Coventry town council, a former member of the Boards of Education in Ashford and Coventry, and is employed by United Aircraft.

Democratic Fight While not as complicated as the Republican contest, the Democratic convention late

Nathan Hale's Death Anniversary Noted

It was perfect parade and muster weather on Saturday as Coventry marked the 196th anniversary of Nathan Hale's death. The Revolutionary War Patriot spy was born in Coventry and served under Gen. Washington during the war, volunteering for a spy mission. He was caught by the British and hung on Sept. 22, 1776.

His namesake group, the Nathan Hale Ancient Fife and Drum Corps, acted as host for the day-long festivities, starting with a parade Saturday morning. Some 16 visiting ancient corps marched from St. Mary's Church down Rt. 31, past the Town Hall and on to the high school field, which was officially designated a muster field for the day.

The cool sunny day was just right for marchers and viewers alike, as the visiting fifers and drummers displayed their authentic uniforms and flew their flags and banners.

Authentic Revolutionary War musket groups and cannoners contributed some resounding booms at regular intervals.

Once on the muster field, each corps gave a brief concert, while crowds of onlookers, many of whom had brought their own lawn chairs, sat and listened or bought lunch from the food tent run by the Junior Women's Club which did a brisk business all afternoon.

Identity Problem

HONOLULU (AP) — Kekoa Kaapu, a candidate for mayor here, might have problems getting voters to remember him if he used his full name.

His full name is Kekoaauionapalihauiulokekoi-olau David Kaapuawaka-mehameha.

The first name means "the fine-leaved koa tree on the verdant cliffs of the Koolau Mountains," and the last name means "the awa-cup bearer of Kamehameha The Great."

Asks for 'Hack' List

HARTFORD (AP) - Gov. Thomas J. Meskill demanded from Atty. Gen. Robert K. Killian Friday a list of so-called "political hacks" who Killian said had replaced some merit system employees on the state payroll.

"Charges such as the ones you made are serious when they come from any source," said Meskill in a letter to Killian, "but when made by a highly-placed elected official they bring all government into disrepute."

"Such blanket indictments put all state employees in a bad light," said Meskill.

Killian, a Democrat, is a potential opponent of the Republican government election.

School Children in China UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - Their choice may not be chili suppers or candy sales, but schools in the People's Republic of China are expected to raise part of their own operating money. Economic difficulties have always prevented China from having a hierarchical education budget, says a U.N. study. As a result, there is considerable local control of schools. Significant features of the educational system are discussed in the World Survey of Education, published by UNESCO, the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. It covers the school systems of 142 countries and territories, including Taiwan. The 1,400-page book already had gone to press when Peking won a promise from U.N. officials to cease listing Taiwan in statistical publications. China calls its system of local-national cooperation in education "walking on two legs." At the time Mao Tse-tung proclaimed the Great Leap Forward many nongovernmental organizations were encouraged to help build and maintain schools. Local influence remains today. Factories, mines, communes, civic groups, street committees, the armed forces and private groups were encouraged to provide schools, the survey says. "To finance them however they could, paying teachers in money or in goods according to circumstances." Schools were encouraged to set up firms, factories and other enterprises in an endeavor to sell their products and services to make themselves at least partially self-supporting. The survey finds that the trend in the education of China's students is toward compressing the number of years required for a given course of study and toward beginning school at an earlier age. After the Cultural Revolution of 1966-67, primary education was shortened from six years to four or five and the beginning school age was lowered to 5 1/2 years from 7. The secondary level, equivalent to American junior-senior high school, was compressed from six years to four.

Nureyev Draws Many To Ballet

By JOHN GRUBER

Rudolf Nureyev, internationally known dancer, showed his dancing power over the weekend appearing with the National Ballet of Canada which presented three completely sold out performances at the Bushnell, when it had originally been engaged for only one. Over 10,000 people demonstrated their interest in the dancer. Nureyev appeared in the two evening performances, and I saw his work last night. For all the glamor and publicity attached to his name, he is not a sensational dancer. He's good, but there have been other dancers just as good. He is far from perfect and he has a noticeable lack of "line" in a while he was even slightly awkward, but this didn't prevent the audience at the performance I attended from cheering him in a standing ovation.

Last evening's performance featured the Tchaikovsky-Petipa classic, "Swan Lake" as restaged by Erik Bruhn. I haven't seen the ballet for some years but it runs in my mind that Mr. Bruhn took considerable liberties with the traditional choreography. The plot line remained the same, of course, but there were noticeable differences in the variations, at times.

This, of course, is not bad in itself; it keeps an old standard fresh. But in making changes one should be sure they are actually improvements, not just changes. Opposite Mr. Nureyev was premiere ballerina, and she was very good indeed. She displayed fine technique and a basic sympathy for a role that is thoroughly dated and quite unbelievable by today's standards. For once the audience didn't count her as "toute en tourment" aloud, although they gave her resounding applause at their close.

She negotiated these with apparent ease but it was not this balletic tour de force that impressed me so much as her excellent "port des bras" and her beautiful Bourees. And then, of course as I already mentioned, she is truly artistic, not merely an entertainer.

The corps de ballet displayed excellent ensemble and had definitely been rehearsed to a fare-thee-well. When you concentrated on individuals in the corps it was apparent that many were somewhat weak in technique, particularly in arm technique, but the general effect was excellent.

One outstanding piece of work by a portion of the corps was the zarzuela in the second act. Apparently Mr. Bruhn feels an affinity for this Hungarian dance; I still recall a similar one in "Coppelia" when he was with the Royal Danish Ballet, even though that was nearly twenty years ago.

Hebron Porters Celebrate 60th Anniversary

By JOHN GRUBER

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Porter of Grist Mill Rd., Hebron celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Saturday with an open house at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter were married Sept. 23, 1912 at Christ Church in Manchester. They owned and operated Porter's Nurseries in Hebron Center for 30 years.

Mrs. Porter, the former Alma Levere of New Brunswick, Canada, retired in 1957 after 33 years as Hebron's postmaster. She also served as an assistant librarian for Rham High School and the Douglas Library.

The couple's four sons, Earl, all of Hebron, and their one daughter, Mrs. James Cloud of Dana, Ind. attended the celebration. Also attending were most of the couple's 16 grand-children and 5 great-grandchildren.

Church members of the Rev. Herbert Kelsey urges all members of the Congregational Churches to attend tonight's special meeting for open and frank discussion of resolutions to be voted on at the annual meeting of the Connecticut Conference of the United Church of Christ.

The meeting was called for 8:30 p.m. in the social room of the United Church.

Bulletin Board
The following meetings and activities are scheduled for this week:
Monday: Congregational Churches special meeting, 8:30 p.m., United Church; Hebron Congregational Church Council meeting, 7:30 p.m.
Tuesday: Planning and Zoning Commission meeting, 8 p.m., Town Office Building; Meeting of prospective members, Hebron Congregational Church, 7:30 p.m.
Wednesday: Zoning Board of Appeals public hearing, 8 p.m., Town Office Building; PTO pot luck supper, 6:30 p.m., Hebron Elementary School; Boy Scout Troop No. 28 registration and meeting, 7 p.m., Gilead Hill School; Hebron Congregational Church Executive Council meeting, 8 p.m.
Thursday: Board of Selectmen meeting, 5 p.m., Town Office Building; Recreation Commission meeting, 7 p.m., Town Office Building.

The orchestra played well. During the engagement three different conductors were employed. I heard George Crum last night and he certainly knew the score which is not one of Tchaikovsky's greatest.

The costumes were beautiful and well-coordinated with each other. On the other hand the scenery looked as though it had been resurrected from some provincial opera house where it had done busy service for about twenty years.

Vernon Board To Restudy Overcrowding

A lengthy agenda faces the Board of Education as it meets tonight for the first time since July 23. The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the cafeteria of Sykes School, Park St.

Dr. Robert Linstone, assistant superintendent of schools will present a status report on the high school expansion program. A referendum last Wednesday defeated requests for appropriations for the program. The board will now have to study possible ways to rearrange the student population for next fall when there will be a shortage of classroom space especially at the high school level.

A group of parents from Deerfield and Tumble Brook Drives area will be present at the meeting to request transportation for students from that area who are attending Rockville High School. The spokesman for the group will be Mrs. Harold Carlson.

The board will also review the 1971-72 budget report and recommend budget transfers plus the annual report on the status of the cafeteria in the schools.

A letter from Mayor Frank McCoy concerning material released by the Capitol Region Planning Agency dealing with plans for the Hartford State Technical College and the Greater Hartford Community College. The Mayor wishes the board to offer suggestions to the CRPA coordinating committee.

Profits in local real estate for the small investor

Small investors can now enjoy the profits, growth and tax benefits of large property ownership through "limited partnerships". By pooling your capital, you can move into the most profitable areas of real estate investing. In other words, you can profit from the same combined investment method used so successfully by insurance companies, banks and large corporations. The property purchased by your group will be in this immediate area. The D.J. Henry Co. will invest with you, assume all liability and provide all the professional services, including property management, continuous analysis, quarterly reports and distribution of cash income.

If you think you may be interested, we would like for you to be our guest at the forthcoming investment seminar and learn the complete details of our program. This program is strictly educational. You are under no obligation and nothing is offered for sale. For your reservation call 644-1517.

Country Boycotts To Be Topic Of Debate

The finer points of the highly publicized grape and lettuce boycotts will come to the fore at the meeting of the representatives of both the United Farm Workers and the Connecticut Bureau meet in debate at the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Rt. 31.

Announcing the forum, church representative Patricia Thurber noted that while most people have heard about the boycott and Cesar Chavez's efforts to unite the migrant farm workers, "most of us have not sorted through the facts to determine what the issues really are."

This is the purpose of the debate, to clarify the issues. Two films will be shown, one produced by the UFW, the other by CFB, and there will be comments by representatives of both groups, representing two sides of the story.

The public is invited to the session, which is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. Historical Society
The Coventry Historical Society will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Society's home on South St. This meeting marks the completion of the first ten years since the organization of the Society, soon after the town celebrated its 250th anniversary, in the summer of 1922.

According to its constitution, the purposes of the Society are to discover, collect and preserve whatever pertains to the history of the town of Coventry and the surrounding area.

The Society further promotes and encourages historical research in its aspects, and makes available to its members and to the public the results of its research.

At the Sept. 26 meeting, a nominating committee will be appointed to present a slate of officers at the time of the annual meeting in October.

This month, the Society's shelves in the Town Hall are filled with old-fashioned arrangements of dried flowers, leaves and herbs, donated by Mrs. Adelaide Simmons, of Caprilands, South St.

Miss Lenihan To Talk On Special Education

Miss Patricia Lenihan, consultant on learning disabilities in the Bureau of Pupil Personnel and Special Education Services of the State Department of Education, will be the guest speaker at the fall meeting of the Manchester Association for Children with Learning Disabilities (MACLD). Her topic will be "Connecticut's Participation in the Learning Disabilities Program, the Law, and Funds Allocation".

The meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Hall of St. Mary's Episcopal Church and is open to the public. Membership information may be obtained from Mrs. Richard Nicolas, 198 Hackmatack St. Reprints, booklets, and pamphlets on the subject of the child and adolescent with learning disabilities may be purchased from MACLD.

Miss Lenihan graduated from Southern Connecticut State College and also earned her MS there in speech and hearing therapy. She has also studied at Columbia University and in the department of behavioral studies at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Lenihan graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Stratford and was a teacher of children with perceptual learning disabilities in the West Hartford public school system. As a master teacher at the learning center in Farmington, she established an educational program and trained resource teachers for the six towns served. From 1969 to 1971, she taught graduate

Senate Enacts Tough Anti-Skyjacking Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill passed by the Senate today would give the president sweeping new power to curtail air traffic to and from countries harboring skyjackers or assisting airborne terrorists.

In addition, the bill would set up a federally financed airport police force, require screening of every passenger, and give the death penalty to a convicted skyjacker.

The United Nations has been unable to agree on remedies for the spiraling rate of skyjackings. The Senate, however, voted 79 to 1 for a plan to give the president leeway to suspend services of a U.S. airline to a foreign country or service of a foreign airline in the United States if the other nation:

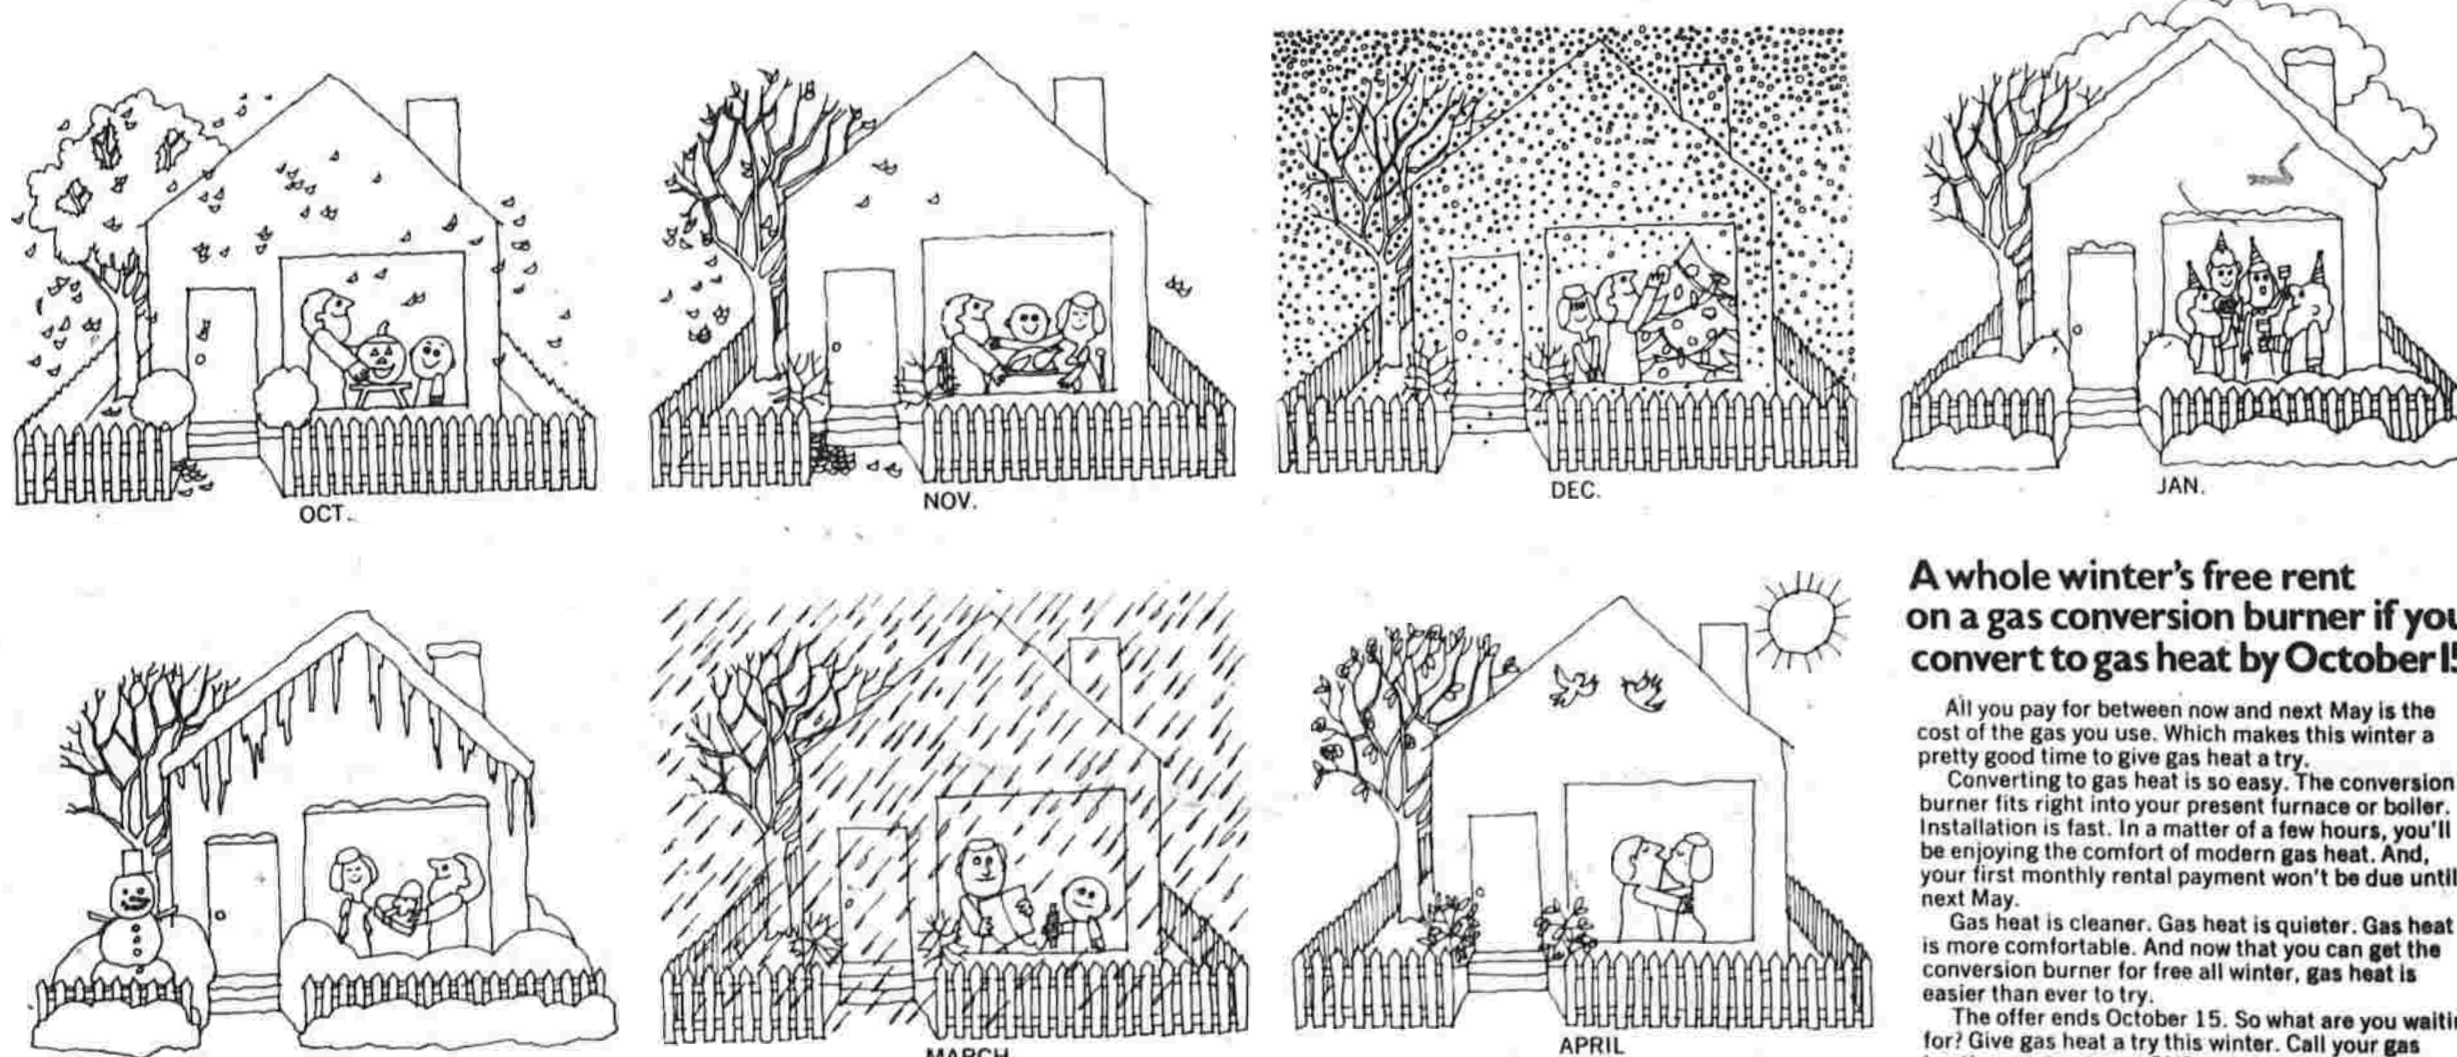

—Aids or harbors skyjackers or is host to or helps terrorist groups using air piracy as a prime weapon.
—Takes inadequate precautions against skyjacking.
—Continues its service to another nation which aids or abets skyjackers or sky terrorists.

Tolland Hicks School System To Be Explained

The Individually Guided Education (IGE) program at Hicks Memorial School will be explained to parents in a series of meetings beginning tonight.

The IGE program is being gradually implemented at Hicks, according to Principal Andrew Winans.

Supporters of Democratic Presidential candidate George McGovern and Congressional candidate Roger Hillsman, canvassed the town Saturday, in conjunction with the Mobile Voter Registration Drive.

The meetings will give parents an opportunity to meet the unit teachers and to discuss the operation of the unit and the types of activities being conducted.

Unit "B" will attend tonight's meeting. Unit "C" on Wednesday and Unit "A" on Thursday.

Columbia Town Officials Condemn Buildings

Town officials agreed to condemn three or four of six buildings on the estate of Fanny Goldberg because conditions are unsafe, they said.

The property is at the junction of Hop River and Rt. 6 and the decision was reached by the Planning Board, Mayor, and Board of Selectmen.

The Board of Selectmen tabled action on Columbia Lake and dam repairs although the Columbia Lake Association (CLA) recommended that the selectmen include clauses in the warning for the annual town meeting concerning the lake and the dam.

Bates said "hot rodders" dug up road work which was recently completed by Clarence Grant at the Hennequin Rd. recreation area. The damage was done while the work was fresh, nuts were left and "the road is a mess," Bates added.

"If anyone is apprehended when such acts are perpetrated, they will be prosecuted. I am sick and tired of spending town money only to have these things ruined by irresponsible persons," Bates said.

William Bender, custodian, submitted the inventory of chairs and tables in Yonans Hall to the selectmen.

There were 180 chairs bought in 1954, 1962 and 1968. There are 27 left.

South Windsor DeRosa Joins In Criticism Of School Data

Another Board of Education member, Robert DeRosa has supported Mrs. Margaret Rossi's complaint of not receiving information pertinent to board action in sufficient time for review before decisions must be made.

Mrs. Rossi's statements appeared in the Sept. 20 issue of the Herald.

DeRosa explained that at the Sept. 12 meeting of the board, all members received 15 pages of data pertaining to the "selling" of the proposed high school addition.

According to DeRosa, this package contained an agenda for public presentation, including dates and locations, a press release dated Sept. 13 and a schedule of additional press releases.

He said, to his knowledge, he and two other board members had no prior knowledge of the entire proposal and saw them for the first time at the Sept. 12 meeting.

In a letter to Board Chairman James Arnold, DeRosa suggested that the approach used in releasing the information was "a direct conflict with the rules of order of the South Windsor Board of Education which clearly states that all statements and reports to appropriate town authorities and the public, pertaining to additions on the existing building shall be approved by the Board of Education."

He said his major concern is that press releases on the addition ($1.9 million referendum question) are being released by individual board members with no opportunity for review and comment by the entire board.

He said it was apparent that some board members received advance notice of the proposal on the high school addition and, although it may be coincidental, it is also "strange that three members of the board who publicly have voiced opposition to the proposed addition at the high school did not."

DeRosa further cited a criticism made by the Boz, Allen and Hamilton ($25,000 procedural study report which pointed to this inefficiency and suggested a subcommittee of the board be formed to establish procedures ensuring that information presented to the board by the administration is properly organized and received by individual board members in sufficient time for adequate study before the board is expected to take action.

He concluded that this rule should also apply to all data reporting to represent the position of the board on any issue.

Scout Leaders for South Windsor's Girl Scouts are needed at the Eli Terry and Wapping Elementary School areas, especially in the Wapping area.

Anyone interested in supervising a troop is asked to contact Mrs. Gloria Hartan 289-2886.

Board Presentation The Board of Education will present information on the proposed addition to the high school Wednesday at the Eli Terry School in the first school in a series of presentations scheduled to be made by board representative within the next few weeks.

South Windsor GOP To Open Headquarters

State Comptroller Nathan Agostinelli and Congressional candidate for the First District Richard Fittenberg are expected to attend the grand opening of the new headquarters.

The new headquarters will be located in a new addition behind Webster's Florist at 1078 Ellington Rd. The opening ceremonies will be under the direction of co-chairmen Mrs. Jan Murtha and Nancy Williams.

All South Windsor residents are invited to attend. Campaign materials will be available and refreshments will be served.

Two seats are available on the Democratic Town Committee in the 3rd district. Any registered Democrat in this district is eligible for placement and should contact district chairman Joseph Walsh at 19 Birch Hill Dr. if interested.

The district committee will hold a meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Atty. Frank Albern's office in Wapping Center for the purpose of filling the two vacant seats. Other business will include mapping out campaign plans for the Nov. election.

New Sewers Discussion Before the regular meeting of the Sewer Commission tomorrow at 8 p.m., Commissioner James Thorne and other members will be at the Town Hall to meet with the citizens interested in supporting the sewer referendum for $2.5 million. The question will appear on the Nov. 7 election ballot.

Absentee Ballots Available Absentee ballots are available at the Town Clerk's office during regular Town Hall hours or by contacting ballot chairman, Mrs. Steven Williams of 1610 Ellington Rd., or committeemen Mrs. Richard Bachman of 75 Timber Trail, Mrs. Henry Heath of 109 Mountain Dr., Mrs. Hugh Peters of 60 Lewis Dr. or Mrs. Vernon Peterson of 520 Main St.

Any person who feels he may need to use an absentee ballot for the Nov. election is urged to make application as soon as possible.

Negative Thinking Out in AL Scramble

NEW YORK (AP)—Forget the games behind column. Don't even look at the games remaining column. Those numbers can lead to negative thinking and with 10 days left in baseball's American League East championship chase, there's no room for negative thinking.

There's nothing negative about Boston's numbers today. The Red Sox hold a one-game edge over Detroit after whipping the Tigers 7-2 Sunday. Third place Baltimore remained 2½ behind, defeating Milwaukee 4-3, and the fourth-place New York Yankees closed to within three games of the top by sweeping a

Bargain Basement Special Keeps Red Sox in First

BOSTON (AP)—"He's been our big guy every time we've had a big ball game," said Red Sox Manager Eddie Kasko. "It seems like we've got stuck with it, and he wins it."

The man Kasko was talking about, of course, was Luis Tiant, Boston's bargain-basement special who pitched the Red Sox to a 7-2 victory Sunday over Detroit. The victory moved first-place Boston one game ahead of the Tigers in the American League East.

Tiant, who now has won 11 of 11 starts since Aug. 1, including six shutouts, had control problems in the first inning, walking the first two men he faced.

"I felt I had good stuff from the beginning," Tiant said. "My control was a little off in the first. It was cold and windy, hard to get loose."

"He's just been getting stronger and stronger in the last six weeks or so," Kasko said of Tiant, who was signed last year out of the minors by the Red Sox on a free agent. The price they paid for him?

"Nothing," said Boston general manager Dick O'Connell. "Nothing," O'Connell said. "Nothing." He was kidding. "We just picked up his contract."

Red Sox wasted no time in staking Tiant to a comfortable lead. He pitched starter Woody Fryman for four runs in the first inning with Carl Yastrzemski hitting a two-run single and Reggie Smith following with a two-run homer, his 21st of the year.

Fryman was lifted with two on in the fifth in favor of chuck Seeshak, who had been unstruck upon in his last 12 appearances. Rico Petrocelli quickly ended that string, however, when he hit a two-run homer in the sixth.

Detroit Manager Billy Martin, whose team will conclude its season playing eight games in the first inning with Carl Yastrzemski hitting a two-run single and Reggie Smith following with a two-run homer, his 21st of the year.
