Board Stays Neutral On Booster Club

They didn't say yes and they didn't say no, but the Board of Education asked a few questions and expressed some misgivings to parts of a community athletic boosters' club proposal made last night by George Emmerling, Manchester High School principal, and Theodore Martin, faculty athletic manager and acting director of athletics.

A motion to approve or disapprove is not in order," Atty. Allan Thomas, board chairman, ruled. "It is not within our province to endorse a private organization in many ways, it's just another PTA."

Earlier in the discussion, Sheldon Schaffer and M. Philip Sussag objected to a direct affiliation of the Board of Education with such an organization. Sussag said that the Board of Education proposed constitution designated six of its board of directors, a majority, from the school system. This might give the impression, he commented, that the club was at least a "quasi-official" organization of the board.

Thomas agreed that it is inadvisable to make an administrative member a director by the by-laws. However, he said, he sees nothing wrong in such a person becoming one by choice.

In other buildings and sites matters, Richard Wasserman, the other student body member, called attention to the deplorable condition of the soccer and football fields and a nauseating and possible dangerous situation in the chemistry laboratory.

Tonic fluids built up overnight over the weekend in the laboratory, he said, and the remedy at present is to open windows and a couple of doors. A small fan would be a big help, he suggested.

Sussag said that the only real permanent solution is a fan and roof stack, and Dr. Kennedy said that funds are in the budget for their installation. Dr. Walter M. Schardt said that a tragic accident could result and recommended that the superintendent see that the work is done.

Adopted 707 is extending an open invitation to all 7th, 8th and 9th grade girls interested in joining the troop to attend the meeting tonight at 6:30 at the Wadsworth School cafeteria.

Kirk was killed in an automobile accident on Pinney St., Ellington, when his car collided with a truck driven by Josiah B. Dolloff Jr., 28, of Frog Hollow Rd., Ellington.

According to Hannabury a disabled car was parked by the side of the road next to a snowbank and the headlights of the Kirk vehicle were on. The car was the property of Dolloff to observe the parked car.

Police Report

A money bag containing $256 in cash and checks was stolen from the Regal Gas Station at Center St. and Middle Tpke. last night, Manchester Police reported today.

The money bag, marked "Federal Reserve Bank of Boston," was apparently taken from a locked office cabinet while the lone attendant at the station was pumping gas, police said.

The theft occurred between 6:10 and 8 p.m., attendant Robert Snuck of East Hartford told police. Snuck said there were several people who went in the office while he was busy outside the station during that time.

The case has been referred to the police department's detective bureau.

Several cartons of cigarettes were taken last night in a break into the Red and White Stand, 200 W. Center St., police reported.

The number of cartons of cigarettes taken was not immediately known, police said. Entry to the building was apparently gained via a rear window, police said.

Detectives are investigating.

Several windows on the west side of Lincoln School were broken by vandals over the weekend, police reported, and the school was entered.

Police said a door to the building was discovered open Sunday night. Several large rocks which had been thrown through the windows were found inside.

Investigation is continuing.

PZC Adopts Rules For Special Uses

Amendments to Manchester's zoning regulations, allowing increased non-industrial use of industrially zoned land, were adopted by the Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) last night after minor changes were made and one proposed section was eliminated.

The amendments will allow new car dealers, tennis and badminton courts, skating rinks, and health and recreation clubs in Industrial Zones, by special exception only.

Changes made before PZC action last night were reduction in the minimum lot sizes for the new uses. The original proposed requirement was for a five-acre minimum; PZC members voted to make the requirement a four-acre minimum.

The proposed amendment which was eliminated by failure to meet the quorum included a definition of "club," which is mentioned several times in zoning regulations.

The five-acre minimum lot size, changed to four acres last night, was one of several provisions of the amendments adopted at a public hearing earlier this month.

At the hearing, Atty. John LaBelle, representing developer Alexander Jarvis, claimed the five-acre minimum was as well as other minimum and maximum requirements was "highly discriminatory."

Only one other speaker at the Sept. 11 hearing, realtor Warren Howland, suggested that three-acre minimum would be more acceptable. Howland said he had been contacted by car dealers who were interested in the amendments.

Defended the five-acre minimum at the PZC's executive meeting last night. He said the planning department had conducted a survey of local car dealers and found that many of the facilities with three acres or less were suffering from lack of space.

PZC members, noting both Potter's argument and LaBelle's and Howland's objections, comments on the amendments, were not changed prior to adoption last night. Those other requirements include a maximum allowable coverage of land by buildings (60 per cent); a

End-The-War Rider Voted Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Advocates of cutting off the money for U.S. participation in the Vietnam war are ready to give up for the year after suffering a reversal in the Senate.

The "next vote" comes on Nov. 7 when the people will decide, "Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said after the Senate voted 45 to 42 Tuesday to strip an 'end-the-war' amendment from the foreign-military-aid authorization bill."

Cranston, a leader of Democratic anti-war strategists in the Senate, told a reporter he referred to congressional elections last night. Those other requirements include a maximum allowable coverage of land by buildings (60 per cent); a

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today reversed two previous roll calls by which the Senate voted 50 to 44 on July 24 and 49 to 47 on Aug. 2 to adopt similar amendments to cut off funds for U.S. military operations in Indochina in four months, conditioned on release of American prisoners of war by North Vietnam.

Cranston attributed the reversal to absenteeism. Six antiwar members of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told the Senate he believes President Nixon has been doing all he can as "head of a self-respecting nation" to bring the Vietnam war to an end.

If ending the war were the only consideration, Stennis said, the Senate vote would be unanimous.

The 889-page bill has been nearly two years in the making. It passed the House in June a year ago and has been stuck since that time in the Senate Finance Committee.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has called the bill to the floor despite the lateness in the session to fulfill his pledge that President Nixon's top priority proposals would be given consideration.

As the bill was submitted by the President and passed by the House, it contained his proposals to change the system of providing public assistance for families with dependent children.

National Politics In Stark Contrast

By R. GREGORY NOKES Associated Press Writer

President Nixon says he's after "a victory for America" on Nov. 7, while Sen. George McGovern says he hopes Americans will be examining the "serious moral questions" of war by election day.

The campaigns of Republican Nixon and Democrat McGovern are one of whom will be elected president on Nov. 7, were in stark contrast Tuesday.

Nixon said he has been on the right track: "We've only begun and there's so much left to do." He asked to be allowed to "finish the job."

"We have changed the world," Nixon said, and he predicted in November will help insure that "the world will be safer in the years ahead."

But McGovern said the Nixon track is the wrong one. He called the bombing of North Vietnam "the most incredible and murderous bombardment in all the history of mankind."

"I'm going to do everything within my power between now and Nov. 7 to force the American people to examine the serious moral questions that are confronting us because of this barbaric behavior that has been going on in Indochina," McGovern said.

The President addressed the President's dominant role in foreign policy, as well as "the frequent need for secrecy," in an address before a fund-raising dinner in Chicago.

"Because of the time limitation," Agnew said, "foreign policy cannot be conducted by consensus. The complexities of the issues, coupled by the frequent need for secrecy, inhibits the formulation of an informed consensus in time to make the vital policy judgments."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Thomas J. Meekill, riding one bus subsidy plan, and the General Assembly's another, are on a collision course.

Voting along strict party lines the Democratic-controlled legislature Tuesday rejected the governor's proposal to distribute $3 million to the 169 towns — much of it to subsidize bus systems in the six biggest cities.

Instead, it passed its own bill, ordering the state to keep the buses running until June, 1973 at an unannounced cost but limited to the $6 million surplus in the public account fund in the state treasury.

The Senate today also was expected to act against the Meekill plan. Meekill says he will veto the proposal.

The board of the Connecticut Highway & Lighting Co. was to meet to decide a course of action next week if the governor and the legislature have not decided on a subsidy program.

CRIL services Bridgeport, Waterbury and New Britain, and the present position in the state, a strike by its drivers and mechanics Sunday because it claimed it can't pay any more.

The way things look right now, Connecticut will not have buses next week," said Senate Majority Leader J. Edward Caldwell of Bridgeport, after hearing of the governor's veto proposal.

The Amalgamated Transit Union stuck to its guns Tuesday in refusing to give up its demands for more pay.

"It's not up to the employees to subsidize the bus company or bus riders," said John Costigan, chairman of the CTU's Employees Conference Board.

On every side, the "rich" guy was being squeezed. The governor regarded the Democratic plan as "rewarding millionaire mismanagement of the bus lines, which are losing money."

In House debate, Majority Leader Carl J. Nigro said "We cannot let the bus lines, which are the only contact the governor has with commuters in when his Cadillac drives by them as they're waiting on street corners for the buses."

And Costigan, representing the bus drivers, said "rich Fairfield County commuters whose income rose by $12,000 during the past five years have had their Penn Central train rides to New York City subsidized by Gov. Meekill to the tune of $20 million but we can't get a cent."

NBC Leads Fall Season TV Ratings

BY JAY SHARBUITT
NEW YORK (AP) — Initial ratings for the first week of the new television season show NBC in first place over all ABC's close second and CBS trailing the pack amid vows of a strong comeback in succeeding weeks.

ABC, the Nielsen ratings agency, reported that 12 million households in the Nielsen sample watched the network's fall season line-up.

Among individual shows and assorted movies, "Goldfinger," the James Bond movie thriller, gave ABC much joy on premiere week. It smote the regular series opposite it with a 3.1 rating, which meant that Nielsen estimates it was seen in more than 20 million households the night of Sept. 17.

Among the week's top-rated 20 shows, "Goldfinger" was second only to a regular ABC series, "Marcus Welby," which made its fourth season debut in an estimated 20.2 million households.

Perhaps the biggest surprise was ABC's "Paul Lynde Show," which opened to a chorus of critical boos, yet ranked 14th.

But network analysts say the early returns don't really portend how many will watch what in the long run. They say real viewing patterns won't be clear until mid-October.

Then there will be sincere woe and whoopee in the corporate chambers. A month later, the networks start another fall ritual — deciding if a show is a bomb or a new time slot or will survive until it's time to start worrying about rerunning the thing.

Hart Will Offer Thursday Concerts
Donald Matran, director of Hart College of Music, University of Hartford, will conduct the Hart Symphony Wind Ensemble in its first program of the season, Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in Millard Auditorium.

LIKEN HOME LIVING
SEMINOLE, Fla. (AP) — Marc, 6 years old, dips heavy rock, watches television and, when asked, puts clothes in the dryer and turns it on.

Marc is a chimpanzee who lives at the Alan Williams home with another chimp named Sina, who is 3½ years old. Marc lives in his own room, modestly decorated with tires and ropes.

"I've conditioned them to home living," Williams, a 39-year-old attorney, said. He feels raising chimps in a human home isn't cruel. "If I didn't have them here, they'd be in some zoo or laboratory today. Marc, from all I've read, is probably the oldest chimp raised in a home environment," he said.

More Election Funds Among Appropriations

Among 11 proposed appropriations to be aired at 8 p.m. public hearings next Tuesday before the Manchester Board of Directors is one directly relating to the court-ordered redistricting plan. It is for $2,500 to the Elections Account, to be financed from unappropriated 1971-72 surplus.

Superior Court Judge Walter Sidor, when he ordered Nov. 7 General Assembly elections, ruled that the registers of voters in the state's towns and cities could establish as many voting districts as they deemed necessary. Until the order, voting districts were established in Manchester by ordinance.

Manchester's registers presently are increasing the town's 7 voting districts to 10 — complete with more election workers and more voting machines.

Most of the $3,500 requested for that purpose, however, part of it is for letters to every Manchester voter, informing them where to vote on Nov. 7. To further emphasize the various parts of voting districts, both locations of voting districts, both parts are including the information in their campaign mailings.

The other proposed additional appropriations are: $10,000 to the Highway Department, to replace a sand screener and to be financed from 1971-72 unappropriated surplus; $2,442 to the Senior Citizens Account, for part-time janitorial services and to be financed from 1971-72 unappropriated surplus.

Spitz To Make Show Biz Debut Oct. 5

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Spitz: "Are you a painless dentist?"
Mark Spitz: "I haven't hurt myself yet."

This was part of the dialogue of a television skit that will mark the show business debut of Mark Spitz, winner of seven gold medals at the 1972 Olympic Games.

The 22-year-old swimmer broke into the big time Monday night by taping a Bob Hope special for about Oct. 5. Spitz came to Hollywood last weekend under the auspices of his new agents, the prestigious William Morris Office. His first appearance was for Hope, who called Spitz at his Carmichael, Calif., home to assume the role of a real inspiration to the youth of our nation. And what an athlete! He makes Superman seem like Truman Capote. I call him Fort Knox with fins."

Hope remarked, "I think he's got a real future in our business. He's a real inspiration to the youth of our nation. And what an athlete! He makes Superman seem like Truman Capote. I call him Fort Knox with fins."

Theodore Roosevelt proposed his "New Nationalism" policy in 1910, requesting that the U.S. government initiate progressive reforms in the interest of public welfare. Roosevelt asked for federal regulation and control of corporations and conservation of natural resources. Reforms he felt state governments could not legislate effectively. The World Almanac says.

UNIFORMATED BIDDING LEADS TO POOR RESULT BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

"That was very unucky," North complained. "If they hadn't led hearts, we'd have wrapped it right up." South was not satisfied. "If we'd played the hand at five clubs instead of three no-trump," he pointed out, "they couldn't have beaten us even if they'd stood on their heads!"

South dealer
Both sides vulnerable
Opening lead — Five of Hearts

South had played the hand at notrump, and the defenders had rattled off the first five heart tricks, defeating the game contract. What had gone wrong with the bidding to land them in the wrong contract?

The trouble started when North jumped to three clubs. This vague bid usually pushes the opening bidder into three notrump when he has stoppers in two of the three unbid suits. In this case, South couldn't show both spades and diamonds and still stop at three notrump. He had to guess whether three notrump or five clubs would win the rubber.

Daily Question
Partner deals and bids one club. The next player passes. You hold: Spades, 10-8-5; Hearts, K-10-7-3; Diamonds, J-10-9-6; Clubs, 6-3.

What do you say?
Answer: Pass. You have only 4 points in high cards and should count nothing for the doubleton in clubs. This hand is too weak for a response to an opening bid of one club. If partner opened with one heart, however, you would scratch up a rabe to two hearts.

Will Not Delay Construction Regional Training Center Bill Will Have To Be Re-Enacted

A bill that conveyed about four acres on the Manchester Community College campus to the town for the site of a Regional Educational Occupational Training Center for mentally retarded adolescents is defective and will have to be reworked through legislative procedures. The bill was passed by the General Assembly and signed by Gov. Thomas Meskill this spring. However, the floor in the bill will not delay construction of the center, providing voters approve it in a necessary referendum.

approval and a statement, in from the state Board of Education that center funds have been allocated, Margolin said, letters of their desire to participate would be required of area towns. Dr. James P. Kennedy, superintendent of schools, said that an administrative recommendation would be presented at the next board meeting. Because of school holidays, the board voted to reschedule next month's meetings for Oct. 15 and 30.

Lunch Hour Complaints
Atty. Allan Thomas, board chairman, said that he has received a number of letters from parents and one from the Bentley School PTA, all of which expressed disapproval of the 30-minute elementary school lunch hour. Basically, he added, the protesters are asking for teacher aides and a longer period.

Miscellaneous
In his superintendent's report, Dr. Kennedy announced that application forms for State of Connecticut Scholarships, ranging from $100 to $1,000, are available at the high school office. In 1971, MHS students received 34 awards, and 17 this year.

Approved Appointments
The board approved the following professional appointments: Mrs. Carol Auer, an East Hartford resident, to teach mathematics part time at Bennett Junior High School, effective Sept. 11. She received her BA from Cedar Crest College, Allentown, Pa., and formerly taught in New Brunswick, N. J. Salary, $7,855, pro-rated.

South Windsor Press Releases Under Challenge

South Windsor's town attorney will be asked to decide whether newspaper releases being provided by individuals on the Board of Education are in accordance with the board's policy. The decision came as a result of a challenge by board Chairman James Arnold to member Robert DeRosa.

A series of six press releases concerning cost estimates, utilization, and other needs is being provided to the press by board members who are proponents of the $1.9 million addition to the high school, a solution voted on by the board as the way to go to correct a student housing problem.

Last night's meeting was one of the board's most heated encounters in which two members of the opposition, Mrs. Margaret Rossi and DeRosa fought an unyielding chairman, James Arnold, for what they regard as their right to be informed of what is being written and for "free expression as board members."

DeRosa read his letter to the board subject of the articles which appeared in Monday's Herald in which he charged that the articles are appearing as "entire" board member releases and that other members have seen releases only after they have been given newspapers.

Arnold argued that the board unanimously approved the procedure steps outlined for the "selling of the high school addition" which stipulated that releases would be forthcoming from Mrs. Cle Decker, Donald Berghuis, David Cohen and Verne Peterson after an initial release was distributed to members of the press at the Sept. 12 meeting by Arnold himself.

DeRosa countered that he would have been "bought" even if his arguments fell on deaf ears and the majority won, if he was only given the courtesy of being heard.

Adding more fuel to the already heated discussion, DeRosa then questioned Arnold about "Who would be making the selling presentation" at the Wapping School scheduled for 8 p.m. tonight, adding that he was certain some plans were formulated, but that he had no knowledge of anything that was going on.

Arnold said that he was certain some plans were formulated, but that he had no knowledge of anything that was going on.

Town Manager Proposed For Tolland

The proposed revised charter for the town calls for a town manager — expanded Board of Selectmen form of government and shorter terms for town officers to two and four years, rather than the present six-year terms. The charter also transforms many previously elected offices to appointive ones.

Copies of the charter were given to the Board of Selectmen last night for study, and additional copies will be made for distribution to townspeople shortly.

The document was submitted to the selectmen two days before the statutory deadline, and too late to be placed on the voting machines on election day Nov. 7. The charter would carry a Nov. 7, 1973 effective date.

The delay may cause problems in getting out a sufficient number of voters to pass the charter by a vote of 15 per cent of the town's electors.

In the Charter of the Board of Selectmen would be expanded to a seven-member board, all of whom would be chosen exclusively on the basis of executive and administrative qualifications, character, education, training and experience.

The town manager would be appointed by a majority vote of the Board of Selectmen, and would be required to devote full time to his duties of office. An additional requirement would be that the town manager move into town during his time of service. His salary would be set by the Board of Selectmen. He could be removed from office by a majority vote of the entire membership of the Board of Selectmen, with appeal provisions.

Rehab Bill Approved
WASHINGTON (AP) — A $3.5-billion vocational rehabilitation bill with greater benefits for the severely handicapped has been approved by the Senate.

caused considerable unrest here. Many people have voiced the opinion the current six-year terms for most offices are too long.

The Planning and Zoning Commission would remain an elective board of five members, with four members serving alternate four-year terms and one member to a two-year term.

The Zoning Board of Appeals would be an elective board of five members, with four members serving alternate four-year terms and one a two-year term.

The unique schedule of elective terms was created to give voters a chance, to change the power structure on the boards every two years, according to Stewart Jedin, secretary of the Charter Revision Committee. "It gives the voters the most choice." Many people have voiced the opinion the current six-year terms for most offices are too long.

Appointments
The appointive offices are broken into two categories, those appointed by the Board of Selectmen and those appointed by the town manager.

Adoption Schedule
The Board of Selectmen will discuss the proposed charter at their next meeting in two weeks and must schedule a public hearing on the document within 30 days of receiving it. They have 15 days after that to recommend changes and return it to the Charter Revision Commission. If changes are recommended the commission has 30 days to accept or reject the recommendations.

Reception Schedule
The Board of Recreation sponsored luncheon classes tomorrow night will be held at Meadowbrook School, rather than Flicks. Openings are still available for boys and girls age five and over.

Approval of the charter can be effected, it can be brought back by a referendum petition signed by 15 per cent of the electorate, and filed within 45 days after rejection. Those who have not received the

Money Alone Won't Solve Problems

The Connecticut Conference of Mayors has appealed to the General Assembly to restore some of the funds cut from an estimated $21 million in state aid to cities and towns.
The action is based on an estimated state fund surplus of $28.7 million, last fiscal year, and an anticipated $22 million in federal revenue-sharing grants to the state.
The General Assembly, if it chooses to consider the request, should do so carefully on the basis of justifiable and perhaps individual city and town needs.
The lowering of state assistance was recommended by Gov. Thomas Meskill and approved by the General Assembly. The action when taken apparently was wise and prudent as the estimated surplus proves. The question appears to be showing that the corner has been turned and state government is operating in the black, whether the surplus is too large rather than whether one is needed.
Our feeling is that government at all levels should be in the black. It would be our hope that any distribution of surplus state funds will be weighed carefully.
Clearly, the Connecticut General Assembly is now in an enviable position to use tax dollars for the greatest good and set an example for legislators everywhere that public funds, especially surplus funds, should not need and not be spent for the sake of spending alone. We would admonish them that money alone does not solve problems but rather it's how that money is used.
It is our conclusion that while cities and towns may well have need for more state funds in particular instances; the General Assembly should not regard the state's surplus or the anticipated revenue-sharing windfall in the same way as a boy with an unexpected dollar bill burning a hole in his pocket.

Project Finds the Aged

In December, 1971, the White House Conference on Aged focused attention on the fact that many older Americans suffer from nutritional deficiencies because of their limited incomes. At the same time, federal food assistance programs are available in virtually every county in the nation.
As a result of the conference, early in August, a nationwide campaign to identify and enroll those older Americans eligible for food assistance was launched.
Four government agencies and the Red Cross were enlisted in the effort, which included the mailing of application cards to more than 26 million men and women receiving Social Security benefits, 22.5 million of whom are over the age of 60.
The agencies are the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Office of Economic Opportunity, Social Security Administration and ACTION, the government/citizen service corps.
Named to head the campaign—Project Find—was Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, chairman of the White House Conference on Aging and former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

In announcing the project, Flemming said, "Many older persons, lost to society, are eligible for federal assistance programs, but are not aware of it. It is the role of Project Find to locate these people and build a bridge between them and society."
First returns of the project are now in.
Before the month was out, 1,355,000 cards from the direct mailing had been received from people who felt they were eligible for food assistance. (It is expected that the total number of cards will reach two million.)
The cards are being processed by computer and the names returned to Red Cross chapters across the nation. So far, some 270,000 names have been returned and more than 3,000 volunteers have been trained and are in the field to make contact with the people who sent in the cards. As many as 50,000 volunteers will eventually be enrolled.
"This is a massive volunteer effort," says Warren Dunn, Project Find coordinator for ACTION. "And it is working as planned."

Case Mountain Worthy of Support
Dear editor and fellow citizens:
Urban space pressures cause many person-centered problems. There are answers. More open space is part of the answer. Acquiring Case Mountain is part of the answer.
When an issue arises you have a choice: 1. To become part of the answer, or 2. To remain only a part of the problem, or 3. To down-grade the efforts of solution seekers.
It takes courageous men and women and effective action to achieve answers and to alleviate problems. The consistent courage, concern and action of the Manchester Conservation Commission in its efforts to preserve, protect and extend

Did McGovern Blow Another One?

WASHINGTON—Has George McGovern blown another one? Two days after he announced with considerable fanfare that he would abolish wage and price controls in favor of wage-profit guidelines, George Gallup's indelible pollsters reported that 45 per cent of the public want stricter controls.
In short, while Main Street justifiably has concluded that President Nixon's fight against inflation has been a failure, McGovern in effect has decided that he is too comprehensive. Talk about death wishes.
McGovern would replace Nixon's controls with a program that flopped in both the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. True, he would ask Congress for the power to reverse "flagrant" violations, power Kennedy and Nixon didn't have, but anybody who has been around Washington longer than three days knows that a lot of malarky because the McGovern program also calls for a "review board" comprising representatives of labor, business and consumers.
That's 2 to 1 against the consumer, unless they've changed the arithmetic books.
McGovern's argument is that it is necessary to concentrate on those wage and price increases to which domestic contribute the most

Fiscal Gulf of Tonkin

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

liberals this time are more alarmed than in 1964, they have been taken by surprise once again.
Until last week, liberal Congressmen were quizzically eyeing the bill to renew the national debt ceiling as a vehicle for tax reform. More realistically a month ago the White House became deadly serious about trying the $250 billion expenditure ceiling to the debt limit.
When first proposed in July, the spending limit seemed a state political ploy by the President. Since Congress surely would not pass it, Congress could be blamed for forcing tax increases in Mr. Nixon's second term to finance excess spending. Since then, however, the spending ceiling has been viewed at the White House as the best way to halt or at least slow down the spending roller-coaster.
The stumbling block seemed to be Chairman Mills, playing Mr. Partisan Democrat in this election year. But Richard Cook, Mr. Nixon's lobbyist in the House, had read Chapter 19 of President Johnson's "Vantage Point"—a detailed account of Mills' efforts to enact spending controls in 1967.
Cook met secretly with Mills and learned of Mills' continuing interest in a spending ceiling—providing it was a firm one without the many exceptions that made it meaningless in 1967. Mr. Nixon then asked Dr. Burns, more respected by Mills than any Administration official, to see the chairman.
In their three-hour conversation, Burns stressed how much a spending limit would bolster the shaky U.S. position in international money markets. At Mills' request, Burns continued his arguments at the committee session—pleading for heroic measures against the runaway budget.
That's not all. Dr. Charles Wilson, Under Secretary of the Treasury and the Administration's high-level fiscal

It is predicted that by 1978 over half the gasoline sold in the United States will be pumped by the customer. According to reports from the 1972 Dresser-Wayne Engineering Conference, self-service gasoline dealers in Europe have already reached the 50 per cent level in self-service gasoline sales.
Do-it-yourself customers reportedly like the idea of pumping their own fuel, not to mention the savings of up to five cents per self-pumped gallon. Some self-service operations are also being combined now with repair facilities so that a mechanic can devote all his time to repairs and maintenance and not have to bother with running to the gasoline pump each time the bell rings.

Hardly a day goes by that our editorial department doesn't receive a telephone call from a concerned parent or relative about a youth whose name appears in our court cases column and has been charged with shoplifting.
At one time we entertained thoughts about discontinuing such cases in the column and met with resistance.
Most disturbing is the fact that in court nearly all the cases are noted. However, the damage to the youth and family as far as publicity is concerned, has already been done when we carried his name in our court column.
We can sympathize with the family. However, the newspaper is faced with the responsibility of running all the cases as far as publicity is concerned, has already been done when we carried his name in our court column.

Our Manchester Post Office does some miraculous things. With the construction of our new building, we are getting a lot of literature from various companies trying to sell us this and that.
Last week we received a letter with "Zoeur D'Alene" as the street address. A couple of days earlier we had received an envelope containing the names of street addresses that you'll never find on a map of Manchester.
However, due to the efficiency of our postal workers, both pieces of mail reached our desk.
It did get us to thinking, though, about the large volume of mail that's misaddressed which reaches the Manchester Post Office daily as well as others throughout the land.
We imagine that handling such mail is time-consuming and thus costly. In this regard, at least, businesses as well as the general public are to a degree responsible for the increased cost of postal services.

According to several national publications by 1974 you might be paying $14,000 more for that new car. The projected increased cost is due to the emission controls and safety standards that the car manufacturers feel may be required of the 1974 models.
In regard to seat belts, the proposed 1974 system requires the complex sequential control with a starter interlock. This control is for the sole purpose of preventing front passengers from not using both lap and shoulder belts.
The seat belt system, if adopted, will have these inconveniences:
The engine cannot be started even though the driver has buckled his belt if the belt hasn't been fully retracted after the last use.
The engine won't start if the driver, or his front passenger, sits somewhat out of normal position. And if a bag of groceries, on the passenger side, had better be belted or the engine won't start.
Maybe they aren't really inconveniences. Maybe they will help save lives. And yet it seems the automobile owner should have something to say about whether he wants to use the lap and shoulder belts, as well as his passengers, instead of the decision being made for them by Congress.

Many New State Laws Become Effective Sunday

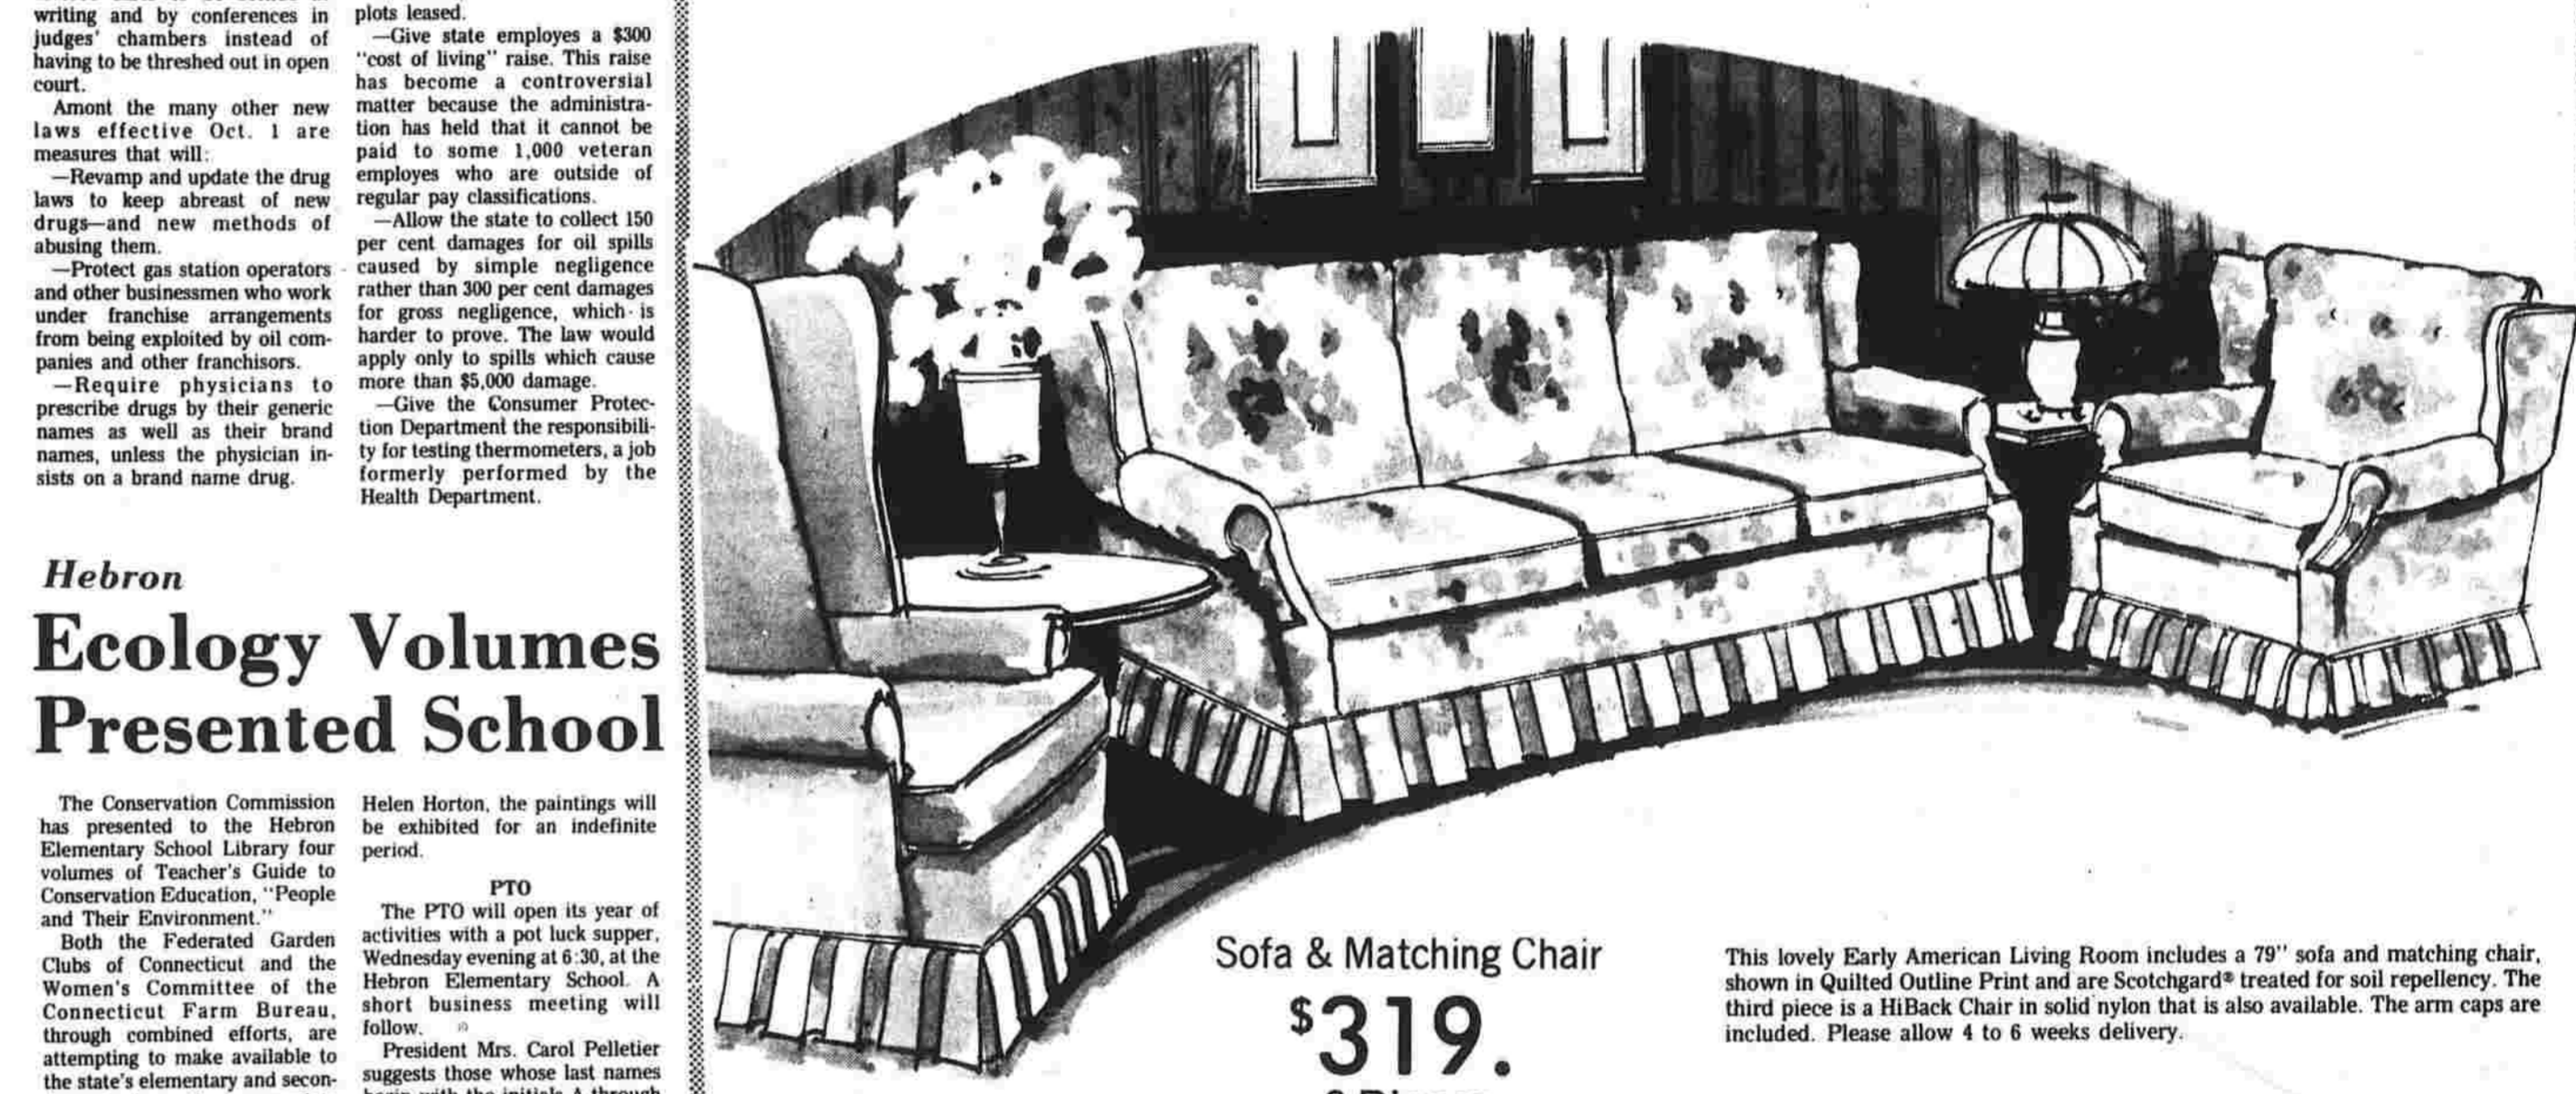

By DON MEHLE, Amherst Press Writer
HARTFORD (AP)—Next Sunday, the first day of October, is the effective date for new state laws governing drinking by ill-orderly, prichiding with gunshots, vaccinations, "Las Vegas nights," billboards, the maximum hearing aids and a variety of other matters.
Nearly 100 of the bills passed by the 1972 legislature become law Sunday.
The most far-reaching extends adult rights to 18-year-olds. After Oct. 1, Connecticut 18, 19 and 20-year-olds will have the right to make contracts, to marry without the consent of their parents, to be notaries public, to operate bazaar or raffish, to obtain full-fledged driver's licenses instead of provisional licenses and to sell as well as buy and drink liquor.
Another new law of wide interest is the one legalizing professional boxing. Prizefighting was banned in 1965. However it may be some time before a match can be held. Consumer Protection Commissioner Barbara Chase charged over the issue. She says it may be another year before her department has boxing regulations drafted and approved.
Another new law allows divorce cases to be settled in writing and by conferences in judges' chambers instead of having to be thrashed out in open court.
Among the many other new laws effective Oct. 1 are measures that will:
—Revamp and update the drug laws to keep abreast of new drugs—and new methods of abusing them.
—Protect gas station operators and other businesses who work under franchise arrangements from being exploited by oil companies and other franchisees.
—Require physicians to prescribe drugs by their generic names as well as their brand names, unless the physician insists on a brand name drug.
—Exempt works of art from the sales tax.
—Give the Transportation Department the responsibility for issuing permits for billboards, a function formerly in the hands of the state police.
—Expand and clarify the definition of pet shops to include establishments which, although they don't sell dogs, do sell "cats, monkeys, guinea pigs, hamsters and rabbits, and birds and reptiles."
—Allow a consumer who has bought defective merchandise on an installment contract to hold responsible the bank or other finance agency which purchased the contract from the seller of the merchandise.
—Require stores with charge accounts to mail out their bills within 10 days of the end of the billing cycle.
—Require the welfare Commissioner to clear changes in "Policy, program or organization" with his advisory committee before putting the changes into effect.
—Allow persons who own their own one-family homes to fix the plumbing, wiring, heating and cooling systems themselves without being licensed repairmen.
—Include U.S. Currency in the list of items considered contraband when smuggled into jails and prisons. Drugs and firearms already are contraband.
—Repeal the requirement that at least four of the 30 deputy inspectors authorized in the Labor Department be women.

Restarting of E. Middle Tpk from Main St. to Manchester Green started today, according to Town Highway Superintendent John Burdell.

MPOA Stand On SAM

Charles Pillard, president of the Manchester Property Owners Association today issued the following statement in connection with the association's stand on SAM. It is the text of a letter he has sent to Mayor John Thompson.

"It is always difficult to say no to our young and frankly, we in Manchester have not been saying it much lately. We are second to none in providing recreational facilities for them.

"Our decision to oppose the further funding of SAM was not one made in haste and without discussing the pros and cons. Our reasons are the open violations of town ordinances in regards to: a. drinking on town property

b. loitering on town property c. loud, abusive and obscene language

"These and other violations such as littering of private property, use of pot and other drugs have also been noted.

"We realize that these are not the actions of the many but the actions of too many of the few and cannot go on without action from the SAM officials, local law enforcement officials and public officials.

"Along with my own observation, it has been reported to me by local town employees, baseball coaches and law enforcement people that the area of Mt. Nebo where the ball games are held must be cleared of broken glass before the games can be played.

"Our intention is not to deprive the young people because of the mistakes of a few, yet, we want to make these activities free of the violations that occur so that the programs can be held for everyone without the fear of bad influences. We are mainly concerned with the concerts but the activities at Center Park are not free of law violations that go unenforced.

"This is a presidential election year and everyone is out for the vote of the young but we must not make the mistake of giving without expecting their cooperation in return.

"The Executive Board of the MPOA would be most happy to meet with you, or any public official in the interest of the taxpayers at a time convenient to each of us.

Orange Bank Robbed

ORANGE (AP) - Police sought a lone bandit Tuesday night after a robbery at the Connecticut Savings Bank was held up about 3 p.m.

Police said the robber went into the bank with sunglasses over his eyes and a handkerchief over the lower part of his face.

They said he demanded money from a teller, saying "This is a holdup." Then, police said, he fled into a car parked outside.

Bolton Finance Board Wants More Data on School

The high school cafeteria-auditorium addition came in for a brief discussion at last night's Board of Finance meeting, which was attended by the selectmen and Dr. Joseph Castagna, superintendent of schools.

Finance board member Russell Moonan reported that the Public Building Commission meeting he had attended Monday night had been "worthless" from the standpoint of reviewing figures for the proposed addition.

He said he saw an order showing had expected the architect to present.

"Several members of the board of finance have reservations," said finance board chairman Al Ahearn, noting that they would all have an opportunity to ask questions of the PBC and the architect at a joint meeting called by the PBC for Oct. 16.

The referendum on the addition would be held in November, December, Dr. Castagna said. It was established at last week's joint meeting on the addition that the voting machines would not be available until about that time, since they must remain locked for some 30 days after the Nov. 7 election.

Originally, some town officials had thought that this second vote on the addition could be held in October. Now there is no hurry.

Indenturing Of Servants Uncovered

OTTAWA (AP) - Jamaican women are being used almost as indentured servants, a provincial government report indicated Tuesday.

The women, the report said, are lured to Canada by glowing descriptions produced by Jamaican agencies and find themselves employed as domestics working long hours for pay far lower than they were told to expect.

The situation was revealed by two Ottawa university students working for the ministry of community and social services this summer.

They found that some of the women were told that they owed five years' work to their employers, who had paid part of their transportation costs from the West Indies.

The students discovered the situation when they sent out letters offering assistance to new arrivals in Canada.

LONDON (AP) - Russian-born pianist Vladimir Horowitz, who emigrated to the United States in 1926, has been awarded the Royal Philharmonic Society's gold medal.

Social Security

Q. My mother, who lives in another state, was hospitalized while visiting me. Will Medicare help pay for the ambulance service needed to take her over 100 miles back to her home?

A. No. Your mother's medical insurance can only help pay for ambulance service within the locality normally served by the hospital.

Q. I am going to be hospitalized for an extended period of time. Can you tell me what hospital services are covered under Medicare?

A. Extended care facility include the cost of room and meals (including special diets) in semi-private accommodations (2 to 4 beds) and regular nursing services. They also include the cost of drugs, supplies, appliances, and equipment ordinarily furnished to inpatients of the hospital or extended care facility in which you are treated.

Q. I am 65 and have Medicare, but my doctor does not accept direct payment from Medicare and has sent me an itemized bill. How can I file a claim for the amount Medicare will reimburse me over the $50 annual deductible?

A. Follow the directions carefully in your Medicare Handbook. Fill out part 1 of the Request for Medicare Payment from and attach the itemized bill. Mail the bill and the form to the address shown in the upper left hand corner of the form. You may obtain extra copies of the form from the Social Security office. If you have any problems understanding the form, call or visit your East Hartford Social Security office. The people there will be glad to answer your Medicare questions. The number is 244-5217.

Q. My mother, who was 88 years old, died last month. Since I paid some of her doctor bills, could I receive any payments from Medicare for these bills?

A. You could receive partial reimbursement. You should ask the doctor for a receipt showing you paid the bills in full and the date, place, charge for, and description of each service. Your East Hartford Social Security office will help in completing a claim for payment.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
Pied Piper
Little Tommy raced across the street to buy a strawberry cone from the ice cream truck. But as he started back, he stepped into the path of an oncoming car. Tommy was seriously injured, and his family sued the ice cream company for having failed to warn him of the danger.

At the trial, the company protested that its driver had no obligation to take care of other people's children. But the court ruled otherwise. Ordering the company to pay damages, the judge said: "The sense of humor is properly aroused in the children by the tinkling of bells and flashing of lights. The responsibility of one who provokes into action the natural recklessness of children ought (to) be proportionate to the danger he creates."

Denying damages, the court said the driver could not fairly be blamed for assuming that the boy was "on his own."

Furthermore, the victim himself may be guilty of negligence. Thus: An 11-year-old boy leaped onto the running board of an ice cream truck, out of the driver's line of vision. When the truck began to accelerate, the boy fell off to the pavement.

In the lawsuit that followed, he acknowledged that he had been aware of the risk. He was taking a "turning down his claim, the court said."

"All the essential ingredients of contributory negligence were present."

Sentence To Prison On Hijacking Count

A Brooklyn, N. Y., man accused in connection with the investigation of a truck hijacking in Manchester, last October, was sentenced yesterday in U. S. District Court, Hartford, after pleading guilty to a charge of conspiracy to hijack goods in excess of $100.

Charles J. Parker, 34, was originally arrested in New York City on Oct. 20, 1971 and charged with kidnaping and interstate theft. On Jan. 3 he entered a plea of innocent on these charges and was released on a $10,000 bond. He was sentenced to three years in prison, yesterday by Judge M. Joseph Blumenfeld, with execution to be suspended after six months and three years of probation to follow his release. He was granted a stay of execution until Friday to take care of some personal matters.

Parker and two other men hijacked a truck which contained $8,000 worth of television sets, radios and stereo equipment. The truck was stopped on the Wilbur Cross Highway in Manchester. It was coming from a New Jersey warehouse and was headed toward Auburn, Mass. The truck driver was taken from the truck and forced into a car at gunpoint. He was later released in Dupfen. The cases of the other two men allegedly involved were disposed of in New York courts.

Leukemia Drive Is Extended

Contributions received to date by the Northern Connecticut Chapter of the Leukemia Society of America total $25,000, according to Lantio Manicanello, chairman of the 1972 fund raising drive. The drive which began Sept. 9, has been extended until through Saturday. The Leukemia Society of America is a voluntary health agency which concentrates all of its efforts on the problem of leukemia, its control and eventual eradication. The local area chapter is located at 44 State St., in Hartford.

TOURISTS IN NORWAY may be going out of their way to get lost these days, since Oslo and five other Norwegian cities have begun using "tourist pilots" to guide foreigners who have misplaced themselves.

Mayor Plans Office Hours Dr. Jamieson To Address Red Cross Symposium

Mayor John W. Thompson is inaugurating a new service for Manchester residents. He will conduct "Mayor's Office Hours" on the fourth Saturday of each month, starting with next Saturday. They will be from 9 to 11 a.m. in the Municipal Building. Thompson emphasized that the new service is not meant to replace the twice-monthly Comment Sessions, conducted by the Board of Directors and now in their sixth year. "Rather," he said, "it is meant to supplement the service, by making available to all citizens of Manchester an opportunity to meet with a town official at a more convenient time."

The mayor stated he is especially hopeful of meeting with groups of people, as well as individuals. "It is my firm belief," he said, "that government must be responsive to the needs of people. It can only be responsive when it is available to people. I am hopeful that in some way I can make it easier for the citizens of Manchester to participate in our local government."

He said that, in addition to the "Mayor's Office Hours," he will be available to meet with groups of citizens as his schedule permits.

Dr. Graham A. Jamieson, research director of the American Red Cross Blood Program, will be guest speaker at the 3rd Annual Connecticut Red Cross Blood Program symposium to be held Oct. 5, from 5:45 to 9 p.m. at the Aetna Life & Casualty's Home Office in Hartford.

A native of Wellington, New Zealand, Dr. Jamieson was appointed research director of the ARC Blood Program in June 1969 after eight years as a member of the research.

He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees, with first class honors in organic chemistry, from the University of Otago, in New Zealand, and his Ph.D. from the University of Toronto in 1964. In 1964, he was awarded a Research Fellowship at the Royal Technical University, Stockholm. Dr. Jamieson came to the United States in 1966 as a research fellow in the Department of Biochemistry of Cornell University Medical College.

Business Mirror U. S. Inflation Rate Overstated

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Certain assumptions that may not be provable as facts nevertheless become accepted as if they were true by the mass of ordinary individuals and even by their governments.

In this category may be placed the widely accepted assumption that the United States is running the worst rate of inflation of any of the large industrial nations.

Even during the worst of the inflationary period that began in the late 1960s — in February 1970 when the consumer price index briefly reached an increase rate of 6.4 per cent — the claim had to be highly qualified.

Now that statement is simply false. Japan, West Germany, France and the United Kingdom, to name a few, reported higher inflation rates than the United States in the second quarter, and in all but West Germany the rate was getting worse.

Prices in Japan rose in the April-May-June quarter at an annual rate of 7.5 per cent, in West Germany at 4.3 per cent, in France at 5.7 per cent and in the United Kingdom at 7.5 per cent. The U.S. rate was 3.2 per cent. Still, so sharp were foreign charges that the American government mismanaged its economy, that many Americans still retain a feeling of guilt. The standard claim was that the United States exported inflation. To some degree this may have been true, because unlike any other nation, the United States has an economy so large, and exports so much of its product, that domestic economic policies have a worldwide economic impact.

Rev. Tipton Resigns State Post

HARTFORD (AP) — B. Cortez Tipton resigned Monday as deputy commissioner of youth services to become executive director of the Council of Churches of Greater Washington, D.C., the department said.

The Rev. Mr. Tipton, who joined the Department of Children and Youth Services a year ago, was in the news recently when he conducted an evaluation of program at the Long Lane School in Middletown for delinquent girls.

Merge of the girls' correctional school with the Connecticut School for Boys, which is now in Meriden, has drawn opposition from some segments of the Middletown community.

In his letter of resignation to Commissioner Francis H. Maloney, he said "going has not been smooth" for the department during the current process of developing new approaches for the rehabilitation of juvenile offenders.

"I believe the course we are on now will prove the need for having youth as our priority in the state in the next decade," he added.

The Rev. Mr. Tipton, after serving with the Council of Churches of Greater Bridgeport, became director of social services for Greater Hartford's counterpart organization. He founded the first drug center in Hartford and a special section of the local Circuit Court to deal with alcoholics.

In his new position, he will direct the activities of 457 churches of numerous faiths in eastern Maryland, northern Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Slaying Hearing Conducted

NEW HAVEN (AP) — A New Haven County deputy coroner conducted a closed hearing Monday on the slayings of Barbara Montano Allison and her parents but said his findings would be withheld for the time being.

Deputy Coroner James O'Connor Shea said it was customary not to release reports on serious crimes until other preliminary proceedings are completed.

To protect a defendant from possible prejudicial pretrial publicity, Guillermo Allison of Wallingford is charged with three counts of murder stemming from the fatal slayings of his estranged wife and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Montano, in their spacious North Haven home on the night of Aug. 13.

Allison, who is being held without bond, is awaiting a grand jury hearing in the case. He and his attorney attended Monday's session before Shea.

Hearing Set On Fishing Violations

STONINGTON (AP) — A Congressional subcommittee will conduct hearings in Stonington Oct. 6-7 into alleged illegal conduct by foreign-flag fishing vessels in New England waters. The hearings were announced today by U.S. Rep. Robert H. Steele, R-Conn., a member of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee.

Preliminary investigations by the House subcommittee show there have been repeated violations of the 12-mile United States fishing zone, Steele said.

Vernon School System Offers Big Challenge To Its Gifted Students

A program, designed to challenge the gifted students in the Vernon school system, is being instituted this year under the title of a Program of Research and Independent Study.

School and five at the Middle School. A meeting was held on Aug. 31, with parents of the children chosen to be involved initially in the new program.

committee appointed to set up the program, that just as curricula, methods and materials which are appropriate for students in the middle range of abilities are not suitable for the mentally retarded, so neither are they appropriate for the child with exceptional talents.

Although the program will be evaluated at the end of this school year, Kerkin explained that success is a relative thing as the program will involve 50 different personalities. The students selected for the program are those who can learn basic skills in less time, with less of the necessary busy work to learn a given skill.

The program, Kerkin said, will be a total coordinated one, based on a team approach between the resource teachers and the classroom teachers. Schedules will be flexible with the students probably averaging four days in the basic classroom and one day in the resource setting, over the course of the year.

parents, Kerkin explained. The program differs from that of the regular school program in that there is greater flexibility for prescribed curriculum, greater emphasis on higher thought processes and greater opportunity for development of special talents and interests.

The program at the Skinner Road School will be for children in Grades 3-5 and at the Middle School for children in Grades 6-8. In all cases, pupils must maintain a satisfactory level of achievement in order to remain in the program.

The card for the postal forum contains a congratulatory message from Postmaster General E.T. Klassen and has a block of stamps honoring the inauguration of the U.S. Postal Service on July 1, 1971.

Requests for these cards should be addressed to Souvenir Cards, Philatelic Sales Unit, Washington, D.C. 20506. Three Norwegian polar exploration vessels, famous for their voyages in Arctic and Antarctic waters, appear as the main design on stamps from that Scandinavian country.

The "Maud" was a three-masted measuring 120 feet and built for Capt. Roald Amundsen's North Pole expedition that started in 1918. The 60-year stamp is dark olive.

The "Fram," launched in the spring of 1893 for Polar use, is seen on the 50-cent red. It was the vessel of Capts. Nansen and Sverdrup during their explorations in the Arctic and later by Amundsen on his South Pole trip in 1910-1912.

The "Gjoa," built in 1872 as an ordinary fishing stowp, served Amundsen when he sailed through the North West Passage, 1903-1906. The new stamp is 120-cent blue.

Great Britain has issued four stamps dedicated to its "Broadcasting History." The 3-pence features six types of microphones used in broadcasting since 1922. The 5-pence shows a wooden horn loudspeaker in use during the 1920s. The 7 1/2-pence depicts the latest type color television camera used by the BBC. The 9-pence illustrates an oscilloscope and an early form of spark transmitter used by Marconi and Kemp in 1897.

COINCIDENCE

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - In 1945, Bill Bunin, who was in Munster, Germany, as a member of the U.S. Army, found an interesting etching lying in the ruins of a library there. He picked it up and brought it home to St. Paul.

Recently, some 27 years later, he finally got around to checking on the etcher, Cornelius Bartels. He discovered that the Dutchman, artist, who did much work in Germany before World War II, had come to the U.S. and lived within a mile from him.

Commission Ponders Control Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Price Commission is studying whether price controls should be changed so that demand inflation will become a problem.

He indicated the administration's goal of reducing inflation to between 2 to 3 per cent by year's end might not be as difficult to achieve as he believed last July.

Grayson said the fears of businessmen that the profit margin restraints would work against economic recovery have proved unjustified.

Grayson also said the commission is not giving active consideration to possible changes in its profit-margin rule for the near future.

Miguel Only Wanted To Find A Job

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) - Jimmy Durante is expected to be hospitalized for a week and will miss an appearance on the Julie Andrews television show, spokesmen say.

The 79-year-old entertainer was admitted to St. John's Hospital on Sunday. Doctors wouldn't disclose why he was admitted except to say that a recent busy schedule had exhausted him.

Durante's physician, Dr. John C. Eagan, said Monday that Durante was "doing fine" and would undergo his annual physical while at the hospital.

Book Review

IT'S SO GOOD, DON'T EVEN TRY IT ONCE. Heroin in Perspective. Edited by David E. Smith, M.D., and George R. Gay, M.D. Prentice-Hall, 208 Pages, $5.95. (Spectrum paperback $2.45)

Why the appeal of such a drug as "good" is a dramatic experience can be highly euphoric, but later so dangerously addictive and destructive? Drs. Smith and Gay offer a diagnosis and discuss some approaches from their vantage point of witnessing and trying to help a tragic parade of young addicts through the Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic in San Francisco.

Drug abuse is by no means a simplistic, cause-and-effect affair, controllable by "law and order" methods, they write. The bitter fact is that heroin dependence and other drug abuse patterns that include tranquilizers, alcohol, sleeping pills are merely the symptoms of a complex medical, psychological and social disease whose causes are intertwined with the very fabric of American society.

Other authors discuss the pharmacology, the social and psychological aspects of heroin use, and treatment methods, including methadone, Syntanon, Daytop and other programs. In a concluding chapter, Dr. Allan Y. Cohen says people use drugs because they want to, and will stop only when they want to. The course, he says, should be to find alternative (not substitute) attitudes, strategies, activities and lifestyles that can help people attain their legitimate personal aspirations.

National Politics

planned to visit an aerospace plant near Dallas today before carrying his campaign to Des Moines and Milwaukee.

McGovern's chief political strategist, Frank Mankiewicz, said he feels television coverage of the 1972 campaign has been unfair to McGovern. He complained that McGovern campaign statements are generally followed on television by responses from Nixon spokesmen even when Nixon isn't actually campaigning.

William Safire, Nixon's special assistant and speechwriter, said he felt most newsmen covering the campaign "are making an effort to be fair." He added that "the media problem really is how they cover the issues rather than the personalities."

President Nixon said in his New York speech, which was piped by closed-circuit television to 27 other cities, that on Nov. 7 he wants "a victory for America—that's what we're working for."

Both Nixon and McGovern made statements with respect to Israel.

White House press secretary Ronald Ziegler said Nixon told Jewish supporters at a private meeting that the United States "has been and will continue to be committed to the survival of the state of Israel."

He also was quoted as saying there should be a moratorium during the election campaign on debate over attempts by Jews to emigrate from the Soviet Union. He said extensive public debate "could only serve to be counterproductive," Ziegler said.

McGovern said at a high school in the Jewish area of Los Angeles that his opposition to the war in Indochina and his proposal for defense-spending cuts do not implicate any lessening of support for Israel.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey campaigned with McGovern and he said: "If you folks are foolish enough to let this administration stay in power, then believe me, you deserve what happens."

In other developments: —Mrs. Diana Burns, coordinator of a mailing for the Republican National Committee, said a State Department mailing list was used for mailing Nixon campaign material because of a mail room "mix-up."

—Joseph Tonelli, president of the 315,000-member United Paperworkers Union, endorsed Nixon for reelection. Nine

Kissinger Paris Meet Extended

PARIS (AP) — A complete news blackout surrounded the extended secret talks here today between Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnamese peace negotiators.

A U.S. official spokesman would only confirm the White House announcement that a second session was held today following the presidential adviser's meeting Tuesday with Le Duc Tho, Hanoi Politburo member and special adviser to the North Vietnamese peace talks delegation, and Xuan Thuy, head of the delegation.

A spokesman at the North Vietnamese delegation turned aside all questions concerning the parley. "We have nothing to say," he repeated.

The extension of the Kissinger-North Vietnamese 18th meeting here to a second day stirred speculation here as to whether some progress was finally being made in the negotiations that have been deadlocked for nearly four years.

The publicly stated positions of both sides remain far apart. The Viet Cong has been pressing hard for acceptance of its plan for a separate provisional government and outside physical disarmament.

The Communist side had started the war with the intention of pushing progress finally being made in the negotiations that have been deadlocked for nearly four years.

Downtown Action

BURTON D. PEARL of Pearl Appliances, acknowledging the Main St. area social and cultural potential, stressed its primary role as that of retail activity. He feels park land could be better used for a social center than a baseball field. He would have it a place for "passive recreation and as a beauty spot" for visitors and shoppers.

Pearl opposed any moving of Town Hall from its present site and suggested the committee might consider a high-rise garage in the downtown area to increase consumer attractiveness. He opposed low-cost housing in the downtown area in favor of a high-rise type for people who could afford to pay higher rents.

Immediate things the Manchester Downtown Action Committee could do to help business, Pearl said, would be improvement of police protection by having more foot patrols, more thorough street and sidewalk cleanup by city and private merchants alike, and more promotion through advertising of the goods, services and other things downtown Manchester has to offer.

He implied more aggressive merchandising is just as essential as physical changes in a store, parking improvements, and outside physical appearances.

Sleith announced the traffic signal lights would be modified next spring by the state.

He summarized the meeting by stating his belief that a link had been achieved between the committee and the retailers and that he hoped they would be able to meet again at least quarterly if not more often as the situation demands.

He accepted a suggestion to

Is There a Bookworm In the House?

Books play a much more dominating role in decorating than they ever did when precious volumes were locked away behind glass doors. Three times as many books are sold now than 15 years ago — notwithstanding the ubiquitous TV set — and they are spreading up and across walls and to all rooms of the house.

Contemporary houses and apartments, constructed without so much as a bookshelf, are suddenly found to be bursting at the seams with books. As a result, architects, designers and homeowners themselves have been provoked to devise imaginative solutions to the accommodation of the rising book tide. These may be for rooms that just invite relaxation, or semi-offices where work has to be done. They may be for kitchens, to take care of the cookbooks that multiply alarmingly in this age. They may be for foyers and hallways of apartments because there is room nowhere else. And they could be for dining rooms, bedrooms and even bathrooms.

Solutions to the book storage problem abound and can be wide-ranging in material and construction. One of the most flexible installations is the shelf that can be moved from one place to another on slim rails fastened to the wall. This means, for example, that a collection of oversized books can be stored simply by making more height between shelves. The most elegant version of this movable shelf is the one from Danish designer Poul Cadovius, known as System Cado, in which the wall is paneled in rich woods and matching shelves hang invisibly on the special panels themselves.

One of the most logical but often overlooked spots to assemble a library is a hallway. Most of them have a great deal of wasted wall space. Then there is the space between windows, around windows, and over doors. In a house with a fireplace, of course, the recesses on one or both sides of the chimney breast have always been a favorite place for bookshelves. In crowded city apartments, even coat closets have been turned into miniature libraries. When you run out of walls, there are open room dividers that not only store the books but give you an extra wall. Hiding ugly beams and exposed pipes could be another architectural advantage of bookshelves.

Because books are now regarded and used as an integral part of the decoration of a room, the mixture of books with all kinds of other objects, ranging from records in brightly colored sleeves to glass, ceramics and travel mementoes, gives a pleasing fascination to a wall of shelves.

Like art and music, books have become so familiar a part of the good life at home that a room would seem strangely barren without them.

Rham Band Boosters Set Public Meet

The Rham Band Boosters Club of Regional District 8 will hold an open meeting in the high school auditorium Oct. 5 at 8 p.m. to investigate ways of solving the problems of overcrowded music facilities at the school.

Overcrowding has resulted from the very successful music program and the fact that the original high school plan only consisted of a modest choral program. The club hopes that at this meeting will show the amount of community interest and concern there is for improving the music facilities.

Lenny Wallace and members of the Ellington Music Boosters Committee will illustrate how their club raised over $30,000 to make it possible for them to build a new music building at their high school.

The money was raised from community sponsored activities and citizens' contributions and was matched by a grant from the state of Connecticut.

Due to high property taxes and high building costs, the club considers the prospects of entering into a building program at the taxpayers expense as impractical.

Therefore, they elected to "sound out" the community as to the possibility of a privately financed and privately supported building activity realizing if the large number of children in the lower grades currently playing musical instruments are to have the opportunity to perform together in high school something of this nature must be done.

PTSO

The first meeting of the Rham PTSO for the 1972-73 school year will be held Monday evening at 7.

This will be a meet the teachers program and will begin in the auditorium where the new superintendent, Dr. David Catancha and the new assistant principal, Glenn Frank will be introduced.

Following a short business meeting, the group will adjourn to the commons and cafeteria areas where the teachers will be located and grouped by curriculum areas thus giving parents the opportunity of meeting their children's teachers.

The Rham Dance Band, under the direction of Robert Clowes, will play for the program. Registration for membership in the PTSO will also be held that evening and refreshments will be served.

Chorus

Bernard Hartshorn, choral director at Rham, is organizing a regional adult chorus to begin within a few weeks and anyone who would enjoy singing in the company of this nature must be done.

Hartshorn stated that men, both bass and tenor, are needed to give the chorus a strong foundation and he is also searching for a pianist to accompany the group.

Anyone interested may contact him at Rham up until 4 p.m. The time and place for the first rehearsal will be announced shortly.

Elections

Friday will be election day at Rham when the students will vote for student council officers.

Mathematics

The mathematics Department is offering a new course designed to meet the individual needs of gifted mathematics students. The course is called Special Topics and will be taken with advanced mathematics.

Content for the course includes those topics not found in other mathematics courses such as advanced calculus, Boolean algebra, computer programming, statistics and probability or any topics the student would like to investigate in greater depth.

Instructor for the course is the department coordinator of mathematics, Michael Sadlon.

Newest Hats for Fall Are Liberated

With the return of classic fashions, the hat takes a prominent position for fall. It's definitely a head-starting accessory.

At a trade fashion show and luncheon in New York, the hat regained its top position. Hats take on an essential part of the new femininity, yet they have more than one specific look. The newest looks for hats are liberated.

The Little Hat — white leather cuffed cap with a stitched crown and a matching pussy cat bow.

The Little Hat — off-the-face black felt cloche with a brushed plaid facing on brim.

The Flying Colors — large gold velvet slouch hat trimmed with gold eyes.

Haberdashing — stenciled fake fur fedora with leather band and matching bag.

Sweater Dressing — purple and yellow plaid beret with matching bag.

Put It All Together With Important Details

JEWELRY is still very important. Throats will be decorated with pearls or delicate strands of beads falling below the waist. (If too "busy", the look comes apart and begins to look sloppy.) Scarves will continue to be strong accents, small squares tied at the head (often hiding hair completely) or neck (ascot or choker with small ends toward the back).

The colors of fall? Look for camel and stone grey, a new rich and dark brown, black. As high-lights, the fire engine reds, the marigolds, Kelly green and an electric blue show up occasionally.

Motorist Cleared Of Fault

A 17-year-old Manchester motorist has been cleared of any responsibility for the auto accident death of Ruth Lacey, 13, of 156 Benton St., in January.

Hartford County Coroner Irving Aronson, after making an inquiry, found that the car-pedestrian collision Jan. 22 "was in no way caused by any criminal actions on the part of Eduardo E. Contreras," 17, of 88 Lenox St. Contreras was operating his car at a proper rate of speed; he had not been drinking, and he had his car under control, Aronson said in a report released today.

The Lacey girl died at Manchester Memorial Hospital Jan. 25, three days after being struck by the Contreras car on Benton St. near her home. Police said she had just gotten out of a car on the opposite side of the street and was crossing towards her home when she was hit.

No charges were filed against Contreras.

France Gives Women Choice

PARIS (AP) — France says any woman over 21 may choose whether she is madam or madamselle, marriage license or no.

Justice Minister Rene Pleven, at 71 oldest Cabinet minister, issued the ruling in the Journal Officiel.

It reads: "No judicial obstacle standing in the way of the term 'madame' being used in preference to 'madamselle'; there is no reason that this not extend to persons expressing the desire, even if it comes from unmarried women without children."

Philippine Press Had Long Crusading Tradition

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Philippine press, virtually suspended under martial law, has enjoyed an almost unfiltered freedom for years. Many persons have pointed to shortcomings, but few have doubted it had a crusading tradition.

A recent seminar in Singapore gave the Philippine press a close scrutiny, and brought forth suggestions that the increasing frequency of press reports of government corruption had "probably only succeeded in deadening the people's sense of outrage and indignation."

Corpus said the press should be less sensationalist although this would be hard to achieve in view of mutual distrust between the media and government.

However, he felt the Philippine mass media were "on the road to obsolescence as a factor of relevance to national political development." He spoke of romantic liberalism as regarding political power with suspicion and hostility.

Corpus suggested that it was irresponsible for the press to allege corruption and leave investigation and prosecution to a government the press itself had called inefficient and corrupt.

Manila columnists have long followed.

Maximo Soliven, a Manila Times columnist who was among those detained this week, said at the seminar here:

"We make mistakes all the time — One of the freedoms guaranteed by our constitution is the freedom of a man to make a fool of himself."

Soliven said that the Filipino people "will have matured when they stop reading columnists like me to find out what they ought to think."

Manila Times columnist Teodoro F. Valera, recent writings studied the role of newspapers and suggested that

"gossip has taken over the role of hard news."

Valencia found it distressing that after the press had made magnificent efforts for flood relief it then resumed alarmist practices.

"Isolated incidents were being blown out of proportion to create panic which unwittingly added profits to the cash registers of profiteers and extortionists," he said.

Valencia appears to have pointed to the crus of the press crisis when he wrote three months ago:

"Anything we have is not good enough if it is not bad. The president is wrong — wrong all the time. The politicians are rotten. Everybody who comes into view must be a crook ..."

simplification is the name of the game.

"A bomb explodes at Plaza Miranda. Nobody thinks. We all conclude, it must be the president, his friends or the Nationalists who wanted to eliminate all the Liberals."

President Ferdinand E. Marcos, who last weekend closed the Manila press and ordered censorship, has in the past defended the ideals of a free press.

In 1957 he successfully defended a newspaperman arrested by President Carlos P. Garcia for refusing to divulge the source of a news story. He later cosponsored a bill to protect news sources except in cases of sedition or treason.

Bolton PTO To Hold Flea Market

Plans are under way for the second annual flea market to be held by the Bolton Parent-Teacher Organization Oct. 14 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the elementary school grounds.

Students are requested to return money or any unwanted calendars to their classroom teachers Friday or Monday.

Meeting Address

At its meeting Monday night the Public Building Commission accepted the written resignation of Herbert ("Yump") Johnson, who has served the commission a number of years, but is now unable to give the position the attention it requires "because of business pressure."

Cheney reported that, at his suggestion the Republican Town Committee is recommending to the selectmen that John Roberts, of Tunxis Tr., a mechanical engineer, be appointed to fill the vacancy. Cheney said if members had any other recommendations, they should make them at the Oct. 16 meeting.

At the selectmen's meeting last week John Whitman was named to fill an unexpired term on the fire commission.

Also at that meeting the Democratic Town Committee's list of names for the Government

Rick A. Repko, president of Flair Home Furnishings Inc. of the Parkade, is shown in front of a black onyx and bronze French clock from his private collection. Flair is a store that specializes in eclectic technique of design, which is modern design combined with tradition. Repko is known internationally for his furniture designs.

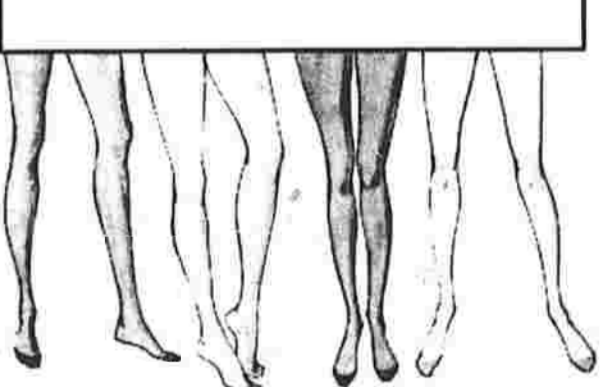

Study Committee was read: Ralph Donohue, Judy Siena and Walter Treschuk.

At the Zoning Board meeting last week Conservation Commission chairman Stanley Rates presented his commission's draft of proposed wetland regulations, as requested by the zoning board.

Philip Dooley, zoning board chairman, reports that the new regulations, with the necessary changes to make them conform to the language of zoning regulations in general, will be incorporated into the town's book of zoning regulations. These regulations are currently being proposed wetland regulations, as requested by the zoning board and will be presented to the town at a later date. Dooley said.

CHINESE VEAL DISH
It's cooked in a matter of minutes.
1/4 cup salad (not olive oil)
1 pound thin sliced tender veal, cut in 1/2-inch wide strips
1 small onion, cut in thin strips
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1/2 of a 10-ounce package frozen tiny green peas, thawed
4 drained canned pimientos, cut in 1/2-inch wide strips
In a 10-inch skillet heat the oil; add the veal and cook over moderate heat, turning meat over as necessary, until it loses its red color. Add onion, garlic, salt, pepper, peas, pimientos and bouillon; cover and simmer for 5 minutes. Add Seasoning Sauce and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.
Seasoning Sauce: In a cup stir together until smooth 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons soy sauce and 1/4 cup cold water.
To slice onions thinly, cut them before peeling them. This helps to hold the slices together without them dividing into rings.

The Best Way To Suit A Lady

By BETTY RYDER (Herald Reporter)

As that time of year again—spring has sprung, fall has fallen, and the struggle to get this year's figure into last year's clothes begins.

No matter what "shape" you're in be sure to bring the shapeliest you into the public eye. Pick a suit that minimizes your bad features and flatters your good ones.

Perhaps you can salvage some of your last year's "duds" but try to add a hook of this year to your wardrobe.

According to fashion experts, the female figure can be divided into five basic types embodying distinct features that fit most women.

Actually the long torso figure can be found in all body groups. The problem is in finding a skirt and jacket that is long enough if you select a sheath, be sure it has lots of hemline, as many of the new skirts run short.

For that "perfect" or average figure, which is defined as one where the waist measures 10 inches smaller than the bust, and the hips are not more than three inches larger than the bust, any suit looks good on this lucky girl.

A few additional guidelines may help you make a selection that best "suits" you.

Many women go to buy a suit with a color choice firmly fixed in their minds but it is wiser to think first of proper fit, then of the style which flatters you, and last of color.

The middy or overblouse worn with a skirt is perfect for all torso lengths and goes a long way toward hiding a multitude of things (especially tummy bulge).

With a host of top designers, outstanding fabrics, and dependable local stores, set a course, shop carefully, and you'll end up well "suited" for the fall-winter fashion parade.

These are: the full figure, the inverted "V" figure, the "V" or top-heavy figure, the long torso figure, and (what we all have) the "perfect" or average figure.

The full figure has more flesh than bone, with slightly large hips. This figure needs styles that firm and control and add length to her figure. General suggestions are: sheaths, tapered leg suits and slim-skirted suits.

For the inverted "V" figure, which is small bust, full-hipped and small shouldered, any style which detracts from the width of the hips and thighs and balances the figure by adding emphasis to the bustline is desirable. A suit which has detail at the top to give the illusion of a wider shoulder line is especially recommended.

The "V" or top-heavy figure has a heavy bustline and demands a suit and styles that soften and camouflage extra bulk. Smooth, tapered skirts are advised.

FUN AND GAMES

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (AP) — Three major changes to New Zealand's way of life are being sought by organizers of the Christchurch Commonwealth Games from Jan. 24 to Feb. 2, 1974.

They want staggered holidays for workers, a later start of the school year and later drinking hours.

Most New Zealanders take their summer vacations from Christmas to mid-January, causing a massive industrial and commercial closedown. But some businessmen now say they will allow staff to take holidays coinciding with the Games.

Attempts to postpone the start of the school year in early February are aimed at releasing boarding school accommodation for Games visitors.

FASHION POSTURE. ATTITUDES

The new freedom in dress requires more attention than ever to posture, grooming, and stance. Whether you're permitted to wear barely there fashions to work, school or parties, these tips can make all that "girl watching" worth-while for you! You'll add points to your personal fashion scorecard if you:

1. Always take a long gaze in a full length mirror before leaving home. That's the last time you'll have to catch a drooping hem, snagged stocking, ripped seam.
2. Learn how to move gracefully. Instead of collapsing into your desk chair, let your leg muscles do the work, gently bending them at the knee and sliding into your seat, rather than plopping yourself down low-end first.
3. When you sit, cross your legs at almost the same moment. Remember to look "like a lady"

THEY WORKED SATURDAY TO MOVE SECURITIES

NEW YORK (AP) — Securities worth about $200 million moved through the streets of Philadelphia in two hours one recent Saturday morning. As far as the company involved knows, it was the largest move of securities at one time, ever. Fidelity Life Insurance Co. was moving its stocks and bonds to a new office. Securities were loaded into a Brinks armored truck guarded by policemen with rifles and wearing bullet-proof vests.

The reason that the move took as long as it did was that the truck would only take 150 million worth of securities on one trip. Each trip took 10 minutes each way.

Negotiable securities were $50 million of the $200 million and they were all in one cardboard box — making that by far the most valuable load of the morning.

Information Act Reforms Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying an "entrenched bureaucracy is stubbornly resisting" the antirecruiting commands of a right-to-know law, a House panel has urged reforming the letter and renewing the spirit of the Freedom of Information Act.

Federal officials "actually testified under oath that they had to balance the government's rights against the people's rights. The government, however, has no rights. It has only limited power delegated to it from 'the people,'" the House Government Operations Committee said Thursday.

A 46,000-word report on the impact and administration of the 5-year-old Freedom of Information Act was released by the committee which took sworn testimony from 142 witnesses in 41 days of public hearings. White some agencies have sought to follow the open government mandates of the law, the committee said, "the over-all picture which emerges was enmeshed with bureaucratic dust and grime which need to be vigorously scrubbed away."

Efficient operation of the law, the committee added, "has been hindered by five years of foot-dragging by the federal bureaucracy. The widespread reluctance of the bureaucracy to honor the public's legal right to know has been obvious in parts of two administrations."

The panel concluded there is a need "to strengthen and clarify (the law) to make it more effective and responsive to an open society."

The desire to withhold records which might embarrass an agency "has played a part in the lingering secrecy, the committee said. It urged "a more positive attitude in support of 'open access' from the top administrative officials ..."

The committee recommended legislation to impose time limits intended to speed bureaucratic response to requests for information. Other proposals would award costs and legal fees to a complaining party if a court decides data was improperly withheld, and would block an agency from mixing non-exempt and exempt records in a single secret file.

Vernon Board To Review School Space Alternatives

Plans and costs for long-term alternatives to school space problems will be presented at the November meeting of the Vernon Board of Education, the board was told Monday night by Dr. Robert Linstone, assistant superintendent of schools.

The meeting of the board was the first since the summer vacation. Anticipating that last Wednesday's referendum would approve expansion of Rockville High School, the board's agenda included a discussion of the status of the proposed alternatives. Because the referendum did not approve the appropriations the board now has to take a new look at its problems as far as housing students is concerned.

Dr. Linstone said he and Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent, have already initiated meetings with principals of the schools in an effort to come up with a long-term solution.

A group of parents from the Tumblebrook Dr. area met with the board's transportation committee before last night's board meeting. The parents were requesting bus transportation for students from that area who attend Rockville High School.

Reporting to the board, Robert Dubois, chairman of the committee, said the only complaint from the parents was that it was too far for the students to walk and that it took them too long. He said no mention was made concerning any safety problems. He said he told the parents that the board's policy in keeping with the State Board policy states that high school students living within two miles of the school, can walk. The board intends to stick with this policy, however, parents may petition the state if they care to do so.

Dr. Ramsdell said many complaints have been received since the opening of school. He said some have concerned distances the students walk and others concerned where the buses stop. He explained the system is operating with two less buses than last year. He said, "we cannot stop at every house." A total of 4,156 students in the system are eligible to ride on buses.

Reporting briefly on activities during the first few days of school opening, Dr. Ramsdell said things went exceptionally smooth. He attributed this to the fact that a lot of pre-planning had been done including the holding of workshops for the teachers, ten days before school opened. He said when the schools closed for the summer vacation the enrollment figure was 7,186 and the figure was 7,308, an increase of 140. He also told the board that some of the students who dropped out of school last year, have returned this year.

In reporting on insurance for students, Dr. Ramsdell said forms have been sent home and he urges parents to sign them and return them whether they want the policy, or not. He explained that in past years some parents have given their child the money for the insurance but the child threw the form away and did not return the money in the school. Signing and returning the slip would eliminate such problems, Dr. Ramsdell explained.

Under Plan B, which would cost $4 a year, the student would be insured just during the school year, while at school and going to and from school to home. For $24 a year under Plan A, the student would be insured year-round. He also explained that the policies do not cover inter-scholastic activities. Those participating come under a different policy.

Early Application For Social Security Numbers Requested

People getting a social security number for the first time should apply at least a month before they'll need it, according to Joseph Mucciaro, social security manager in East Hartford.

"Applications from people who don't recall having had a social security number before generally are screened to make sure a second number is not issued to the same person," Mucciaro said.

"Screening takes time, so apply for your number early and you will have it when you need it," he said. Banks now require that a parent's social security number be shown on any new account. Parents may open bank accounts for young children not old enough to prepare an application themselves. In these cases, the parent may complete the necessary application and secure the number for their child.

"Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life," Mucciaro said. "Using more than one number can mean you are not getting full credit for your work earnings."

When a person gets a job covered by social security, you should make sure your employer copies your name and number correctly from your social security card to his records.

If an individual has lost or has changed their name since receiving this original social security card, they can get applications for a new card from the East Hartford Social Security office. The telephone number is 244-3717 and they are located on the corner of Main and Pitkin Streets.

The PUC said ConnCo would discontinue all Sunday and holiday service and certain Saturday trips before 7 a.m. and after 6 p.m.

Court Refuses To Halt Bus Changes

HARTFORD (AP)—The state Supreme Court has refused to prevent the Connecticut Co. from cutting back bus service and increasing fares pending a hearing on a challenge from the City of Hartford.

The city had asked the state's highest court to temporarily block the service cutbacks and fare hikes granted by the state Public Utilities Commission and approved by Common Pleas Court Judge John M. Alexander. The State Supreme Court rejected that request last Wednesday.

The city also has asked an expedited hearing on the merits of the case by the state Supreme Court. It has not ruled on that request.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Is Tap Water Drinkable?

Some 'Impurities' Important

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Regarding your column on tap water. It's probably safe from a bacteria standpoint, but what about all those chemical and industrial wastes. Are these sufficiently removed? Studies have shown less heart trouble in locations where there's hard water and lots of minerals. Perhaps this is because of the calcium, magnesium, salts, iron, aluminum and other metals in the water. Couldn't the person who drinks distilled water get these elements from vitamin pills?

The chemical wastes and other products dumped into the water are all lowered to acceptable limits in municipal water supplies. The complete mineral and chemical content of the water is fairly well regulated by public health regulations. This includes keeping enough chemicals in the water to prevent the growth or development of any significant bacteria even in the pipelines carrying water to different residences, and it includes being sure that the amount of chemical residues are within a range that will not be harmful to health.

Dear Reader—Yes, you're absolutely right. Many of these chemicals and what we call "trace elements" are important in the body's function. Some of them are necessary for certain enzymes in the body. In many localities this is a good source of iodine which is essential to the body. The picture showed nothing and my doctor prescribed nothing. The numbers continue and I think it gradually gets worse. Should I pursue the matter or learn to live with this condition.

Dear Reader—Pursue it. Arthritis of the neck region of the spine or changes in the spine in this area can press on the roots of the nerves that go to the arm. Other structures can also be affected by it.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1351, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10101. For a copy of Dr. Lamb's booklet on balanced diet send 50 cents to the same address and ask for "Balanced Diet" booklet.

Mike Burke's Survival Kit

Mike Burke's Survival Kit for the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium is quite interesting. Bob Fishel, publicity director for the Yankees, passes along the plan of the Yankee president.

During the 1974 and 1975 seasons the Yankees will share Shea Stadium with the Mets while Yankee Stadium is remodeled.

The parking lots will be expanded, the access roads widened with a Federal-state outlet off the Major Deegan Expressway, the subway station rehabilitated, and the loser's row of bars along River Avenue replaced with a commercial complex of restaurants and shops.

Also, the entire 80-acre stadium area in the South Bronx will be landscaped and lit to high heaven with a barrage of sodium lamps.

New York City officials are already talking about booking cultural attractions into the stadium by the late 70s.

While the football New York Giants are just getting their time before pulling out of the big city for greener fields in New Jersey, the Yankees are making long-range plans to stay.

Shots Here 'n There

Chris McHale, promoted to varsity status in the Collegiate Board of Approved Basketball Officials, has been assigned an attractive schedule for the 1972-73 season.

How about a reunion of North Enders a caller asked this desk. The West Siders have been getting together for better than a decade once a year to honor an athlete of yesterday and the East Siders have picked up the ball with like promotion for the last few years.

End of the Line

How about a reunion of North Enders a caller asked this desk. The West Siders have been getting together for better than a decade once a year to honor an athlete of yesterday and the East Siders have picked up the ball with like promotion for the last few years.

The former Boston slugger, dealt to the Milwaukee Brewers last season, returned to haunt the Red Sox Tuesday night in the midst of their tension-filled American League East baseball race.

The defeat cut Boston's lead in the East to a mere half game over the Detroit Tigers and kept the four-team race in an extremely nervous state.

The Tigers and New York Yankees, both idle Tuesday night, gained ground on the Red Sox. The Yankees moved within 2½ games of Boston and are tied with the Baltimore Orioles, who lost 3-2 to the Cleveland Indians.

In the other American League games, the Kansas City Royals stopped the Chicago White Sox 2-1 and the California Angels nipped the Texas Rangers 2-1.

Rain washed out a two-night doubleheader between the Minnesota Twins and Oakland's A's.

INDIANS-ORIOLES
Chris Chambliss and Ray Fosse hit consecutive home runs in the fourth inning to lead Cleveland over Baltimore, dealing the Orioles their 32nd one-run defeat of the year.

Chambliss also singled home a Cleveland run in the sixth.

The Orioles scored a run in the fifth on singles by Johnny Oates and Don Buford and a sacrifice fly by Bobby Grich, then scored their second run on Oates' ninth-inning homer.

ROYALS-WHITE SOX
Steve Babby pitched a five-hitter and Ed Kirkpatrick slammed a home run as Kansas City beat Chicago and dropped the White Sox four games behind the A's. The defeat lowered Oakland's pennant-winning magic number to four in the West.

ANGELS-RANGERS
Rookie Billy Parker hit a home run in the fifth.

Mistakes Costly As Lead Shaved To Half Game for Boston RSox

BOSTON (AP) — Winning is the name of the game in baseball as other sports and the Boston Red Sox had a grim reminder today while nursing a one-half game lead with a week left in the American League East.

The Red Sox led with an ace in Marty Pattin, then made a couple of costly mistakes and were trumped by discard George Scott Tuesday night in dropping a 6-4 decision to the Milwaukee Brewers, a leading candidate for "spoilers" of the year.

The Brewers scored three unearned runs, two on a two-out homer by Scott, in the eighth inning and trimmed the Red Sox lead over the idle Detroit Tigers, who have lost one more game. Baltimore missed a chance to close to within 1½ games, bowing 3-2 to Cleveland. Idle New York moved into a tie with the Orioles, 2½ games back.

We're out of everything, but we have to go out there to win," Milwaukee Manager Del Crandall said. "That's baseball. In any game, both clubs have to go out and do the best they can."

The Red Sox possibly became too relaxed, at least subconsciously, after jumping to a commanding lead against Bill Parsons on Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer in the first and Parsons' two-run blast over the wall in left center in the third.

"We got them 4-0, then we stopped," Boston Manager Eddie Kasko said. "We had one other shot (in the fifth), but left the bases loaded."

The last-place Brewers picked up a run on John Briggs' 19th homer in the fifth and Elbie Rodriguez' RBI single in the sixth, but Pattin, who came to Boston in a 10-player deal with Milwaukee last fall, appeared in command with a 4-2 lead after seven innings.

Milwaukee reliever Jerry Bell blanked the Red Sox on three hits in five innings and gave way to pinch-hitter Brock Davis, who started the eighth with a bunt single off third baseman Rico Petreolici's glove.

Davis stole second, continued on to third as catcher Carlton Fisk threw the ball into centerfield and scored as Rodriguez hoisted a sacrifice fly for the second out of the inning.

Joe Lahoud got a life as old teammate and buddy Carl Yastrzemski bobbled a slow grounder. That brought up Scott, another member of the big trade who has tormented the Red Sox this season.

Scottie looked at a ball and then drove a pitch a dozen runs into the seats in dead center where his 19th homer and 84th RBI, a Milwaukee club record, Rick Auerbach contributed an insurance run with his second homer in the ninth.

Scott, who had struck out twice and lined out in three times at bat before his homer, is batting .303 with three homers among 20 hits and 11 RBI in 16 games against the Red Sox.

"We got them 4-0, then we stopped," Boston Manager Eddie Kasko said. "We had one other shot (in the fifth), but left the bases loaded."

"I hit a slider," he said. "He (Pattin) was throwing a good slider all night, but he got that one up a little too much on me."

"If I told you I'm not fired up playing here, I'd be telling a lie. After all, I played here for six years and had a lot of friends around Boston."

"What the heck, though. You all are going to win anyway. You all have a good club. I think the Red Sox are the best club in the division. We play Detroit this weekend and we'll beat them, too."

Manager Eddie Kasko took the defeat quietly despite the defensive collapse in the eighth.

"This is the first one we've lost like this in quite a while," he said. "Of course, at this stage of the season it's magnified."

The Red Sox have not lost a series in their last 13 — winning eight and tying five. They sent rookie Lynn McGlotten, owner of an 8-6 record, to the mound today to try to keep the record going.

The Brewers, who have beaten New York twice, Baltimore once and Boston once, called upon another Red Sox player acquired in the 1971 trade, southpaw Ken Brett, who has a 6-11 record.

"Brett has done a good job against Boston this season," Crandall explained. "He is 2-0 with a 1.20 earned run average against them."

Scott Comes Back To Haunt Old Club

NEW YORK (AP) — George Scott helped the Boston Red Sox win a pennant in 1967 and could help them lose one in 1972.

The former Boston slugger, dealt to the Milwaukee Brewers last season, returned to haunt the Red Sox Tuesday night in the midst of their tension-filled American League East baseball race.

Had No-Hitter on Mind Kosman Settled For 3-1 Verdict

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Lefthander Jerry Kosman of the New York Mets had a no-hitter on his mind Tuesday night against the St. Louis Cardinals but settled for a 3-1 victory with relief help.

"I had it on my mind after the third inning," said Kosman, who pitched perfectly through five innings and held the Cards hitless through 8 1-3 innings.

"Before that, I was overjoyed with my control."

Kosman, boosting his record to 10-12 during a struggling season, walked Jorge Roque to start the sixth after the Mets had staked him to a 3-0 lead.

In the seventh he retired Cards' rookie Mike Tyson but surrendered a walk to Luis Melendez before Joe Torre, a mean hitter against the Mets, ruffed a high, inside fast ball to left field to break the split.

"It was a strike all right," said the 6-foot-2 Kosman, who in the end had firm visions of fashioning the first no-hitter in the Mets 11 seasons.

"I might have had had positioning on the pitch," he said, "because I'd thrown him inside two times before and gotten him out. Maybe I should have gone outside."

Kosman got through the seventh by retiring Ted Simmons and Skip Jute following the Torre hit and also survived Roberto Clemente's leadoff home run in the eighth.

Hockey Finale Could Be Best

MOSCOW (AP) — "This might well be the most exciting game of hockey ever played."

That was Harry Sindren's forecast for Thursday's game between Team Canada and Russia, the eighth and final meeting in their international hockey series.

The series, in which the first four games were played in Canada and the last four in Russia, is tied at three victories apiece and one tie, making Thursday's game decisive.

Team Canada, comprised of National Hockey League players as coached by Ginden, deduced the series Tuesday evening by defeating the Russians 4-3 on a goal by Paul Henderson of the Toronto Maple Leafs with 2:06 remaining.

Whether the teams will ever meet again after Thursday remains questionable. Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said after Tuesday's game: "The Canadians are strong ice hockey team. But the question arises whether it is worthwhile to have a meet with them in the future. The Canadian press play too rough a game."

And John Ferguson assistant coach for Team Canada, said: "There are too many stars on the Canadian team, with each of them striving to distinguish himself. This in many ways impairs the quality of play."

9,000 Foot, Eight-Hour Climb Trophy Stone Sheep Hunting Trip Prize

Earmarked for a prominent place in the trophy room of Don Guinan's home is the head of a 100-pound Trophy Stone Sheep that he shot recently in North British Columbia. Using a Winchester 270, the local physician-sportsman needed two shots to kill the nine-year-old sheep in the Cassiar Mountain Range which is below the Yukon Territory.

"It was a lot of hard work," Guinan said. "Our goal was to get a sheep and we had to travel up 9,000 feet, about eight hours on horseback. It was a rewarding and successful trip."

"The terrain was really rugged," the sportsman noted. "The sheep's horns measured 40 inches. It was the first Trophy Stone Sheep that Guinan has ever shot."

Guinan also shot a mountain goat which weighed 125 pounds and had 10 inch horns.

"The only meat that you eat is the meat that eat that you eat," he added. Guinan said the sheep

Clemente Needs Two More Base Hits To Reach Magic 3,000 Milestone

NEW YORK (AP) — Roberto Clemente would dearly love to get his 3,000th major league hit in Pittsburgh. But the Pirates' Steve Blass isn't too concerned about getting his 20th victory—or, for that matter, whether he gets it at all.

"Either I do or I don't," Blass said Tuesday night after winning his 19th of the baseball season, scattering eight Philadelphia hits as the Pirates beat the Phillies 5-1.

"I certainly want to," added Blass, who would become the first Pittsburgh hurler to reach that plateau since Vernon Law did it in 1980. "But I'm not going to worry about it."

Blass will have one more regular-season start, then he'll rest until the start of the National League playoffs against Cincinnati.

It's likely that the 30-year-old right-hander will open the best-of-five playoff Oct. 7 against the Reds' Don Gullett.

But unlike Blass, Gullett had his problems Tuesday night. The Atlanta Braves ripped him for seven runs in six innings and handed him his 10th loss in 10 decisions en route to a 10-9 victory over Cincinnati.

In other National League games, the New York Mets downed St. Louis 3-1, the Chicago Cubs blanked Montreal 6-0, San Francisco defeated Houston 5-2 and Los Angeles beat San Diego 7-3.

PIRATES-PHILS

Clemente picked up a pair of singles against the Phillies to raise his major league hit total to 2,996, putting him just four short of a lofty mark reached by only eight other players in the history of the game.

Pittsburgh has two more games in Philadelphia before returning home to face New York and Pirates Manager Bill Virdon announced right after that game that, if Clemente reached 2,999, he'd be benched until the start of the series with the Mets.

"We'd like him to get 3,000 at home," Virdon said—and Clemente echoed the sentiment.

"That's what I want," Roberto said. "I play all my life in Pittsburgh. I'd like to get my big hit there."

The Reds bunched all their runs against the Phils in the sixth inning. Al Oliver doubled in two, Manny Sanguillen singled for two more and Blass singled for the final run.

BRAVES-REDS

Ralph Garr, Dusty Baker and Earl Williams drove in two runs apiece for the Braves, who battered Gullett and two relievers for 13 hits. The decisive run, however, came in the top of the ninth inning on Larvell Blanks' sacrifice fly.

Baker hit his 17th homer while Hank Aaron hit his 32nd, the 57th of his career, putting him 43 short of Babe Ruth's all-time record. Those homers countered two by the Reds' Johnny Bench, who leads the majors with 39 homers and 121 runs batted in. Pete Rose added three RBI to Bench's four in the game as Cincinnati stroked 14 hits.

METS-CARDS

Jerry Kosman of the Mets had a no-hitter for 6 1-3 innings. But when he gave up a ninth-inning homer to Ted Simmons and then a single, Tug McGraw came on to get the final out and his 25th save.

Ed Kranepool and Wayne Garrett singled home New York runs and Ken Boswell hit a sacrifice fly for another one.

CUBS-EXPOS

The Cubs remained 4½ games ahead of the third-place Mets in the East as Bill Pappas twirled a four-hitter against the Expos for his 16th victory of the year and 10th in a row.

Billy Williams singled home one run and Glenn Beckert singled for two more in Chicago's four-run third inning, then Williams cracked his 35th homer, a two-run shot, in the fourth.

GIANTS-ASTROS

The Giants wiped out a two-run Houston lead with a four-run fifth and Bobby Bonds drilled his 24th homer in the seventh to give the victory to Sam McDowell, who surrendered Bob Watson's 15th homer in the second inning.

That left the Astros, second in the West, just one game ahead of the Dodgers, who got two-run homers from rookies Ron Cey and Joe Ferguson that provided Mike Strahler with his first complete game in the majors and his first victory of the season, an eight-hitter against the Padres.

Foster Defends Boxing Title

LONDON (AP) — With sweat still dripping from his brow after his successful light heavyweight title defense Tuesday night against Chris Frazier of England, champion Bob Foster penciled in his next two dates which will be in the same ring.

The first, yet to be finalized, will be against Muhammad Ali over 12 rounds in November. The second will be a return against Frazier of England, champion Bob Foster penciled in ever," as Foster admitted later in his dressing room.

London promoter Jarvis Aitairé was confident Tuesday of getting the fight with Ali for the same Wembley ring, with satellite television screening for the United States.

Foster, 33, had a hard fight for his $100,000 purse against the 28-year-old British, Commonwealth and European champion.

Stimac Cacace, Feature

Sophomores With Trinity Varsity

Coach Don Miller of Trinity has high hopes this fall for a successful season and two of the reasons are running back Jim Balemano and tackle Jack Holik. Both are products of Manchester High. Trin opens Saturday by hosting Williams in Hartford at 7 o'clock.

Seniors' Blaz Stimac and Wesley Cacace paced Manchester High's soccer victory over Platt High at Memorial Field yesterday with four and three goals respectively enroute to a stunning 8-2 CCIL victory. The win capped the Tribe's record to 4-0 while Platt sports a 1-3 mark.

Indians finally shook a determined platt team in the second half, scoring three goals in the third period and one more in the fourth. Coach Dick Dantonian.

The win was tempered by a knee injury to Joe Ezzadi, a senior fullback, which could possibly keep him out of the lineup for a few games.

"The pushing and shooting of the forward lines was very good," Dantonian noted. "The defense still has a long way to go as they struggle to learn to work as a unit." An interesting note the coach pointed out about Platt: "Both of their goals were scored by ninth graders. Their future looks bright."

Geyer Paces Harriers

Smooth-running Jeff Geyer recorded his third consecutive varsity cross country meet yesterday afternoon around the 2.5 mile Bristol School course as the Tribe posted a 23-25 victory. In CCIL competition, Manchester sports a 5-0 mark and is 3-1 overall.

Bristol is 0-3 in the league running. Dave Lemieux again surprised the Tribe Coach Ray Horton as he finished third with a blistering course of the Tribe posted a 23-25 victory. In CCIL competition, Manchester sports a 5-0 mark and is 3-1 overall.

Coaches' Corner

By Cliff Demers—East Catholic High
Close, but no cigars
In a nutshell, those were my feelings after Saturday's 30-14 loss to St. Paul High School.

Entering the game, we knew we would be playing against an excellent football team. We attempted to execute a game plan that would force St. Paul to abandon what they do best and we most succeeded. During the course of the week we scrapped our basic offense and installed an unbalanced line with triple flankers to one side. Actually I was quite pleased with the way we moved the ball with such a limited amount of practice. We actually out gained St. Paul in total yards gained. However, St. Paul controlled the ball far more than we did and that was the difference. We only ran 37 plays to St. Paul's 64.

Another costly statistic was that we fumbled three times deep in our own territory and each time, St. Paul moved in for the score. Defensively we contained their fine fullback, Jim Getz. This was accomplished by the work of our Captain Joe Davis. After viewing the film of the game, I came to the conclusion that I have never seen a better individual defensive performance that of the one turned in by Devin.

Unfortunately for us, St. Paul's offensive line controlled the line of scrimmage and were able to unbalance line with triple flankers to one side. Actually I was quite pleased with the way we moved the ball with such a limited amount of practice.

The defeat was a costly one for us. We lost Dave Berner, our fine split end for the rest of the season. In each of our first two games, Berner caught a touchdown pass. It's going to be extremely difficult trying to replace him. Saturday we face Northwest Catholic High. They enter the game undefeated with two wins in our own territory and each time, St. Paul moved in for the score.

Jet Passer Day's Best

NEW HAVEN (AP)—"With Joe always being the threat of a sudden touchdown," said Wes Eubank, coach of the New York Jets.

You couldn't get much more sudden than Joe Namath's touchdowns last Sunday. The Jet's rifle-armed quarterback fired a total of six scoring strikes—including three within 30 seconds.

Wishbone Offense Challenge UConn Squad Set For Yale Offense

NEW HAVEN (AP)—The University of Connecticut football team will meet something old and something new when it meets Yale for their annual football tilt Saturday afternoon at Yale Bowl.

The something old is halfback Dick Jauren, the senior from Swampscott, Mass. who has a history of almost singlehandedly destroying the Huskies of UConn.

The something new is the "wishbone offense"—a triple option attack that UConn has never played against. "It's a challenge," admits UConn Coach Bob Casella. "They say it can't be stopped."

At a pre-game press conference Tuesday, Yale Coach Chuck Cozza said "The backs have adjusted beautifully to the wishbone and the lineman love it."

Plugged by some key injuries, at quarterback especially, Cozza is expected to start Roly Purrington against UConn. But sophomore Tom Doyle who lost a lot of practice time with an injury, will be ready, Cozza says.

Yale since its 19-15 victory over the Elis in 1969. UConn is weak on the offense, Casella says, and following UConn's 7-0 victory over Vermont last weekend, the coach says "Obviously there is a lot of room for improvement." But he added "we are not at all discouraged because we are very close to being where we can be."

He said against Vermont "some of the receivers" made quarterback Ray Teitel "look bad."

"Some people weren't pleased with the 7-0 score against Vermont, but we were," Casella said. "We're happy to win. We remember how it felt last year when we were beaten by Vermont."

NEW YORK (AP)—"I thought before the game," New England's Jim Cheyanski said, "that the team seemed to be everybody keyed up again."

Cheyanski hoped to get the Patriots kept up. The middle linebacker tackled twice as the "Skins beat the Cardinals 24-10." Cheyanski broke his hand in the Patriots' final exhibition game against Detroit and, playing with a heavy cast, admitted he did poorly in their 31-7 loss to Cincinnati in the regular-season opener.

"I got a slightly lighter cast for this game (against Atlanta) and just tried to ignore it," he said. The 28-year-old native of Bridgewater, Mass., a 6-foot-1, 225-pounder from Syracuse University who took over at middle linebacker when Nick Buoniconti was traded to Miami, tried to get permission to play without the cast, fearing it might inhibit his tackling.

Dramatic Collegian Final Goal

Manchester Community College soccer team defeated Southern Connecticut State College JVs in dramatic fashion yesterday afternoon in New Haven, 4-3.

With the score knotted 3-3 and only 14 seconds showing on the clock, Cougar Bob Campbell's shot at an open net was blocked by a SSC fullback giving Manchester a penalty kick with only seven seconds left.

Campbell's well-placed ball hit the goal post and rebounded back onto the field and wing Mark Harrington kicked the ball into the net, for the second goal of the day, to give MCC a hard-earned 4-3 victory.

Up until Harrington's clinching goal, the game was nip-and-tuck. Manchester dominated first half action with three goals. Harrington set MCC on the board on a corner kick from left winger Mike Halliday.

The second half was scored by Campbell on a beautiful bend ball. Ron Gurmon booted the third goal with a rebound shot.

A lone goal for Southern's Bob Black with 9:06 remaining gave the visitors a comfortable 3-1 advantage at the half.

Black closed the gap for SSC early in the second half and managed to tie the score with a well-placed shot in the left corner with 7:00 minutes left.

Manchester Coach Bob Crutge commented, "I've said all along that we have a fine team and I think today's victory will be a turning point in our season. I was impressed by the whole team as we picked up momentum in the last five minutes when Southern seemed to have things going their way."

The statistics revealed the closeness of the game. MCC had 21 shots on goal while Southern had 20. Each team had seven corner kicks.

MCC will play its first home game of the season against strong Northwestern C.C. at 10.

Tony Jose's breakaway goal in the second quarter was all Cheney Tech (1-3) needed yesterday in defeating Portland High (1-2) on the soccer field, 4-0.

The defense, led by Captain Ron Stetz and Mark Mainville really gave a 100 percent effort to lead Cheney's first victory of the season.

Nightingale, Bruce Landry, Joe, Joe Sharpley and Al Brad turned in fine performances and kept the ball in Portland's half of the field most of the game.

Cheney's freshman goalie, Werhoken, again turned in a brilliant showing in the nets. Cromwell High is the next opponent for the Beavers on Friday afternoon.
