HARTFORD (AP)—Gov. Robert D. Houley's plan to raise questions whether there would be any subsidies by Saturday when the bus firms' labor contracts expire.

Basic To Manchester Charter Changes CRC To Explore Town Government Forms

By SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter) Should Manchester change its 25-year-old council-manager form of government to a strong-mayor form of government? That is the key proposal before the Charter Revision Commission (CRC) among a myriad of charter change proposals and is being recommended by the executive committee of the Manchester Property Owners Association (MPOA).

Last night, the CRC agreed that "the fundamental and basic question" before it is, "What form of government should Manchester have?" It voted unanimously to sit as a committee of the whole and to settle that question before it settles other questions.

The CRC has until Feb. 6, 1973 to report its recommendations to the Board of Directors. Proposed charter changes would be voted upon in a townwide referendum.

R. Wemmell Killed In Crash NEW HAVEN (AP)—A tractor trailer truck jumped the guardrail on Connecticut Turnpike's wet pavement Wednesday, striking a westbound car and killing its driver and then hitting another tractor trailer, state police reported.

Police said the accident closed the westbound lanes of the turnpike, causing a two-hour traffic tie-up which extended 1 1/2 miles back from the Kimberly Avenue exit.

Washington (AP)—Final action on the $30 billion, five-year revenue sharing bill is expected in Congress next week, and checks should be in the mail to states and local governments in October.

The Treasury Department has been at work for several weeks preparing to issue checks totaling $2.85 billion next month. The amount is half of the first year's allocation in the revenue-sharing bill.

There was a warning Wednesday from a non-government group that the federal government might be making a big mistake. A report by the privately financed American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research said.

The federal government may be in the process of begging itself to relieve many state and local governments from having to finance outlays that may never be needed.

But shared federal revenue is eagerly awaited by local governments, some of which have included it in their current budgets.

The final vote came after Sen. Robert D. Houley, D-Vernon, said "Let's stop being bullies... it's time to call the governor's bluff."

Majority Leader J. Edward Caldwell said the special session was a "waste of time" because the administration already had the resources to save the bus lines from collapse.

Peace Settlement Speculated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry A. Kissinger is back in the United States after a unique two-day meeting with North Vietnamese negotiators, a meeting the White House denies produced a settlement of the war.

What, if anything, came from the Paris sessions remains a secret held by a handful of administration officials.

Kissinger talked to President Nixon by telephone Wednesday night after his return to Washington and will produce a complete report at the White House tonight after the chief executive returns from a campaign trip to California.

The President's chief foreign policy adviser emerged from his Air Force plane smiling and looking relaxed, but he refused to meet with waiting reporters who asked him to stay a while after his jet touched down on a rain-slicked runway at Andrews Air Force Base.

What the reporters wanted to ask about specifically was a report that an agreement had been reached to create a three-segment neutral regime in Saigon with a cease-fire going into effect in October.

Although Kissinger would not discuss the meeting's 18th secret session and the only one to last more than a day—White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said in California the report of an accord had "no substance."

Welfare Debate Continues In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff unveils his compromise welfare-reform plan today to carry the Senate into the heart of its debate on a giant Social Security-welfare bill.

While the welfare-reform provisions have proved the most hotly disputed aspect of the legislation, it also contains Social Security increases which the Senate raised still further Wednesday.

By a 76-5 vote, the Senate adopted Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's amendment lifting

Aid Grant Request Rejected But The Money Rolls In

The Town of Manchester has been turned down by the federal government for a grant to pay part of the $50,000 estimated cost for renovations to the Cooper Hill Treatment Plant.

Tom Manager Robert Weiss, in announcing rejection of the town's application, said it is due to the lack of federal funds. He said HUD (the department of Housing and Urban Development) has indicated that other projects under consideration have a higher priority.

Manchester's application was under the Federal Water and Sewer Facility Grant Program.

The proposed $50,000 expenditure for renovations to the Cooper Hill Treatment Plant will be a referendum item Nov. 7. The Board of Directors voted unanimously Aug. 8 to place the proposal on the voting machines.

Weiss had indicated to the directors that the town was in excellent position to receive a federal grant for about 50 per cent of the $50,000 estimated cost.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate, Sargent Shriver, pleaded in Milwaukee for understanding of the cause of crime by people, saying the solution begins in the home.

He said broken homes, unemployed fathers and working mothers are a big part of the problem, especially since it often means that "the children are allowed to run in the streets."

"Those children," Shriver said, "are not responsible before the eyes of God when they get into trouble because when we as a society can't give them something useful to do, I don't see how we can blame them when they break a window or when they steal something or when they get hooked on drugs by some pusher."

Shriver was to go to Detroit today.

President Nixon Wednesday addressed fund-raising dinners in San Francisco and Los Angeles and was due to return to Washington today following his biggest tour of the campaign to date.

He said his re-election would be the whole history of the United States.

He also cited three major goals for a second term: peace in the world; opportunity and jobs for all Americans; and development of a firm conviction by all Americans that "this is a great and good, and indeed, a beautiful country."

Nixon said he would like to do more campaigning, but he needed to be in Washington to keep an eye on some "huge pending proposals" which he enacted by Congress "which is a great need to a tax increase."

"The best way I can see the American people is to stay in Washington, when I come it necessary, to fight those proposals—to veto them if they are passed and to call enough support in the Congress to sustain my votes," Nixon said.

DRAWING TRUMPS MAY NOT BE BEST
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD
"What a lucky player you are!" East complained after the play of today's hand. "You didn't even know how many trumps were out, and you still couldn't lose the slam!"

South nodded his head amiably. It was easier to agree than to argue. If you examine his line of play, however, you may see more skill than luck in it.

North dealer
North-South vulnerable
Opening lead — King of Clubs
Clubs were opened and continued, and South ruffed the second club. He cashed the king of spades and led a small trump to dummy's ace, stopping to change his first plan when West discarded a club on the second trump.

Abandoning the trumps, South took the three top hearts and ruffed his fourth heart with dummy's last spade. He then returned to his hand with the ace of diamonds to draw East's last two trumps. He could then claim the last two tricks with good diamonds, making his slam contract.

South interrupted the process of drawing trumps, but it isn't true that he had forgotten how many trumps were out. He was making provision for his fourth heart.

Heart Break Important
If each opponent had three hearts, South's last heart would be good. But in that case there would be no danger in cashing the three top hearts while trumps were still out. If either opponent had four hearts, he would be able to top South's fourth heart, and in this case, the best chance was to leave a trump in dummy to ruff out the fourth heart.

South didn't enjoy leaving two trumps in East's hand while he cashed the three top hearts. If South had drawn the trumps, however, he'd have given up a heart trick at the end. It was better to take the risk, make the slam and be called "lucky."

Daily Question
Partner deals and bids one club. The next player passes. You hold: Spades, A-10-6; Hearts, Q-7-5; Diamonds, K-10-8; Clubs, 10-8-6-2.

Answer: Bid one notrump. This response to one club promises balanced distribution with about 8 to 10 points. You would avoid this response with a good major suit.

Television Political Bias Assessed

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's been slightly less than three years since Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's accusation that many network television reporters were biased against President Nixon.

On a special edition of "NBC Reports" Tuesday night, it appeared that the question of bias has shifted to one of fairness in this presidential election year. This time the gripes didn't come from Agnew or another administration spokesman; they came from Frank Braddock, chief strategist for Sen. George McGovern's campaign.

Mankiewicz claimed that television coverage of the South Dakota Democrat had been unfair by being, among other things, overly anxious to get administration reaction to McGovern's campaign speeches.

On the same show, a top Nixon aide, William Safire, insisted the media in general was not fair in covering the campaign.

Other panelists offered their views, but the mini-debate between Safire and Mankiewicz was the real show.

Their skirmish left the impression that the GOP, for a change, is generally satisfied with media coverage of the campaign while the Democrats have grown extremely unhappy with the reporting of major newspapers and television networks.

The taped, two-part program was broadcast a day after McGovern charged that the administration has successfully intimidated the television networks in the field of broadcast journalism.

The show's second segment explored the question of whether media treatment of Sen. Thomas Eagleton's medical disclosures was fair or whether it unjustly favored McGovern to drop him as his running mate.

Visa Requirements

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States as of today will require nearly all foreign travelers entering the country to have visas. State Department officials said today.

The tightening of entry regulations is to meet the increasing possibility of terrorist acts in the United States and during the current United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York, the officials said.

The regulations will be in effect until Jan. 1.

This means, with the exception of travelers from Canada that anyone entering the United States even for a temporary stay of less than 10 days will need a visa. In the past, travelers from Western Hemisphere nations or for less than ten days generally did not need visas.

The officials said the new regulations even apply to persons whose visas in the United States were issued before the new system, saying it had been informed that all foreign visitors to the United States would need tourist or transit visas.

Later, U.S. Embassy sources said the visa regulation was a general one, applying worldwide.

They said visas would be required even if a foreign traveler did not change planes while traveling through the United States, but continued onward on the same plane.

Economy Shows Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leading economic indicators advanced 2.2 per cent in August, the index assigns the value of 100 to indicator levels of 1967. The index is now 28 per cent above the low point reached in 1970.

The leading indicators are continuing to signal strong growth for the economy in the future," said Harold C. Passer, assistant Commerce secretary for economic affairs.

The indicators are followed as harbingers of broad trends in the economy.

Of eight indicators available for August only one, contracts and orders for plant equipment, showed a slight downward trend according to the preliminary figures.

The department placed the composite index of indicators at 145.5 for August. The index assigns the value of 100 to indicator levels of 1967. The index is now 28 per cent above the low point reached in 1970.

At the same time, the department revised downward its earlier assessment for July, reducing the gain in the index from seven-tenths of one per cent to one-tenth of one per cent.

The latest data now show June and July to be virtually flat," said Passer. "But the magnitude and breadth of the August gain, even though based on preliminary figures, suggest that the overall trend is still strongly upward."

He said the second quarter gain of 4.2 per cent was the largest since the first quarter gain of 1971 when the economy was rebounding from the auto strike.

Passer said the most favorable improvement during August was shown in building permits, stock prices, and claims for unemployment insurance.

Court Cases

The case of Richard A. Timreck, 17, of 37 Linmore Dr., Manchester, charged with loitering on school grounds, was nolleed by the prosecutor. Timreck was arrested May 24 at Manchester High School.

Sweden Changes Tune

The Swedes, long proud of providing political asylum for American draft dodgers and deserters, have changed their tune and expressed "heartfelt appreciation" to Spanish authorities for nabbing the three Yugoslav gunmen who hijacked a Swedish airliner and forced it to fly to Madrid.

Spain has indicated it will refuse to grant asylum to the hijackers and instead will try them on charges of air piracy.

Threatening "another Munich," the Yugoslav-Croatian nationalists obtained the release of six of their countrymen who had been held in Swedish jails and got $105 thousand for the release in Malmoe of the 83 passengers aboard the plane.

Spanish authorities succeeded in freeing the plane's crew, confiscating the ransom money, and taking the nine Croats into custody without bloodshed.

They are to be commended for prompt and decisive action and the same kind of efficiency in trying the men will win thanks from people everywhere.

America has sought an accord to deny political terrorists and skyjacker sanctuary anywhere in the civilized world. So far, Cuba and the Arab nations, who have been only too willing to harbor American skyjacker and Palestinian terrorists, have shown little interest in civilized behavior.

Governments willing to exploit hijacking and terrorism for their own political ends and hates must be awakened to the fact that they share the guilt. The obvious way to do this is for the United States to denounce them. But the UN isn't united or likely to act, hampered as it is by cross purposes and Security Council vetoes. Russia's favorite device for preventing any action it doesn't want.

The Croations resent Yugoslav rule and want their own national government. This is an ambition Premier Tito put down with an iron fist.

Their aspirations may be legitimate but skyjacking is criminal and deserves no sympathy.

Warmth For The Winter

President Nixon has boosted fuel oil import quotas to make sure that homes in the northeastern quarter of the country have sufficient heat this coming winter.

The step was taken because domestic production has leveled off and is not adequate to meet steadily increasing demands.

Immediate short-term requirements must be met by oil imports, said the office of Emergency Preparedness.

Meantime, the State of Texas, a leader in domestic production has authorized all oil wells to pump to capacity in an effort to increase supplies quickly to meet the threatened emergency.

We have heard so much about the energy crisis that we have apparently become blasé, but competency can explode in outrage when householders can't get fuel to heat their homes, or gas for their cars, or suffer brownouts or blackouts of electric power.

The Middle East, which supplies most of Western Europe's oil needs and a big share of America's, is tettering on the brink of war. Militant Arabs are eager for war against Israel, which raised them to new anger by its retaliatory raids against Palestinian Arab terrorists in the wake of the Munich murders. Islam's spiritual leader has called for a holy war against Israel, challenging Arabs to fight to "victory or martyrdom."

America as a friend to Israel, is a target of Arab animosity and cutting off oil exports is one way they could vent their hostility.

Russia is moving apace to achieve independence of oil imports by oil developments in Siberia, including a trans-Siberian pipeline.

Our Alaskan pipeline which would make the huge reserves of our largest state available and relieve the need for imports has been bogged down in red tape and ecological opposition.

The country's need for oil outweighs the doubtful damage the pipeline might cause to the frozen tundra and the time lag is too great to risk a possible major shortage of oil and the attendant suffering, cost and inconvenience that would inevitably follow.

Nixon's timely action may avert the present hazard but the nation must look beyond the coming winter.

Capable Replacement For Judge Wallcut

In relinquishing his post as Judge of Probate John Wallcut has left an opening which will not be easy to fill. In the years that he held that office, Judge Wallcut created an atmosphere of confidence, personal interest, sympathy and compassion, all attributes so important to those who have sought his guidance in their time of need. My contact with him in his official capacity in 1961 was an experience I will remember because of his sincere and humane involvement. Politically he is a man of Republican persuasion, but non-partisan in his performance as judge, and the voters recognizing it, returning him to office time and again, only to have him, time and again, justify their trust in him.

Consider Your Gift Seriously

There is an ever present inclination on the part of all of us to let George Do It. If indeed there are the task "Georges" to do the job, the task ultimately falls to some governmental agency. It is my feeling, and hopefully that of the community, that the voluntary method is the most effective way to take care of the legitimate needs of those less fortunate than ourselves. We are presently in the midst of the 1972 United Appeal and campaign workers are calling upon individuals and business firms in the greater Manchester area soliciting their support. Manchester people have been conscientious in their giving in past drives and the need for continued support is undiminished.

I would particularly request that each individual consider a periodic contribution rather than a one-time commitment. Most employers in town are offering a payroll deduction plan that will allow a significant gift with minimum monthly impact. In addition, individuals can give on a monthly, quarterly or semi-annual basis.

Please consider your gift seriously, and do whatever you can to help this worthwhile effort.

Thanks to you it's working!

Other Editors Say City Mall

Once upon a time, big cities were the places with the ultimate in attractions. Cities like New York, Boston, Rome, London and Paris were filled with excitement—the bright lights, the museums, the glamorous shops, the excellence of theater and opera, the tall buildings and the thrill of being with so many other people. But in recent times, cities have fallen from favor. They are no longer looked upon as best places to live, even best places to work—industry is moving to the suburbs—and shopping can be done at retail centers close to home, far from the seariness of city streets where the rates are high.

Fortunately, the people who still love the cities are lighting this trend and their efforts are aimed at rebuilding, and attracting the kind of people who can help the process. One of these city-lovers is New York's Mayor John V. Lindsay, who recently announced plans to transform 13 blocks of midtown Madison Ave. into an experimental shoppers' mall next March. Traffic will be limited to buses, delivery trucks and emergency cars for 90 days, and shoppers will be regaled with potted flowers, bus shelters, benches and other attractions.

The mayor is aiming for a permanent mall, and this experiment is supposed to demonstrate what a good idea that would be. City-lovers will want and hope. (Stamford Advocate)

Politics And Police

Democratic Town Chairman Frank D. Santaguida may head the political party which rules City Hall but he has no right whatsoever in being in on a closed door session held behind Police Chief Fred Sullivan's back to reorganize the hierarchy of the Police Department.

First of all, the entire subject should not have been placed before the Police Board Supt. Sullivan is the only one who may make an assignment to a specific post and not a group of politicians huddled around their town chairman waiting for word on what to do.

Secondly, such assignment by the board would be a flagrant violation of civil service, serving only to prove that merit means nothing and politics is as prominent as ever in the relationship of city government to its Police Department.

The idea of appointing chief inspectors in the department is a good one but it is a concept which earlier fears may have become a reality. The Police Union has expressed reservations that selection of the inspectors by the superintendent may result in nepotism, and that the chief inspector should be a police officer.

A growing number of banks now publish for individuals the type of money management bulletins that once were directed only at wealthy individuals and corporations.

There is nothing altruistic about it. It's good business. Millions of persons today have discretionary income; they have money left over after paying for basic needs, and they can decide how they want to save or spend it. Naturally the banks are interested.

In addition, people are better educated today. This doesn't necessarily mean that they are better equipped to handle money themselves in the complex marketplace of modern society, but it does mean that they want to know how.

The combination of money and education adds up to power. That power underpins the entire consumer movement—it led to the more vigorous regulatory climate and now it is fostering the disclosure of information once regarded as private. Monthly publications by large banks treat such diverse topics as controlling travel costs, the art and science of budgeting, and calculating retirement costs. Among the tips is a savings timetable that lists the amount that must be saved per month at various interest rates to achieve a specific goal in a stated time.

If you wished to build up savings of $10,000, you would look down the chart and read that you would have to put away $1,438.34 a month for five years, assuming 4.5 per cent interest.

Smart savers then may turn to another chart, also offered by the banks under their recent "the truth never hurt" policy. This chart illustrates the damage that inflation rates cause over the years.

It shows that if the rate of inflation was 4 per cent a year—it exceeded that in four of the past five years—the buying power of that money would be $8,200 in five years, $6,700 in 10. Have such revelations hurt the savings' institutions? Hardly. Savings and loan associations are bulging because the growing financial assets of Americans—more than $85 billion in savings, life insurance, pensions and like—like "liquidity," or money that can be used quickly. Therefore savings, as the level of education and the availability of information rise, so also does the number of direct shareholders in corporations, so also does the amount of life insurance.

The facts aid rather than hurt legitimate financial institutions.

Giving Out Information Good For Bank Business

By JOHN CUNIFF

Today in History

Today is Thursday, Sept. 28, the 272nd day of 1972. There are 94 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1924, two U.S. Army planes landed in Seattle, Wash., completing the first round-the-world flight. The total elapsed time: 175 days.

On this date— In 1781, American forces began the Revolutionary War siege of Yorktown Heights in Virginia. In 1850, Congress voted extra pay for Army officers serving in far-off Oregon and California.

Also in 1850, the flogging of sailors in the U.S. Navy was abolished. In 1899, there was a parade in New York to honor the hero of the Spanish-American War battle of Manila Bay, Adm. George Dewey.

In 1939, Germany and the Soviet Union agreed on a plan to partition Poland in World War II. In 1953, a six-year-old Kansas City boy, Bobby Greenlease, was kidnapped by a woman pretending to be his aunt. The boy later was murdered and a man and woman executed in the case.

Ten years ago, The Dutch governor of Netherlands New Guinea left the island as control was being turned over to Indonesia. Five years ago, President Lyndon B. Johnson said that only military action in Vietnam could make a political solution possible.

U.S. Heads Into Electricity Bind

By RAY CROMLEY

Not enough standards has been paid to the United States extraordinary need for electric power and fuel in the next 10-20-30 years, and to the kind we shall be in if we don't make radical changes in handling the problem.

The Federal Power Commission predicts the demand for electric energy will double from 1970 to 1980 and double again in 1990.

Nuclear power supplied less than 13 per cent of the electric power in 1970. It will need to supply 28 per cent in 1980 and half by 1990.

The estimated need for petroleum in the decade just ahead is almost as startling. Yet applications for new nuclear power plants get bogged down in red tape for years.

The blame is often laid on the environmentalists. They demand it is argued, standards impossible, too expensive to meet. This argument doesn't face the real issue.

So far as this reporter can determine from talks with government and industry sources, it is not the insistence on standards which is causing the delay.

It is the time which the gran dealers as a more neighborly courtesy Boulder-like I am seized by the suspicion that somebody saw a chance to butter up folk who might be amenable to suggestions that they contribute to the Nixon campaign.

However, the Nixon administration has handed George McGovern a legitimate issue. It has to do with the citizen's trust that the government will deal evenly with all segments of the electorate and whatever McGovern's campaign weaknesses he is adept at casting aspersions at the Nixon administration's integrity, especially where it involves associations with the rich and powerful.

McGovern gives a special credibility to his perfectly legitimate attacks on the Nixon administration's integrity, especially where it involves associations with the rich and powerful.

Romance With Big Grain Dealers

WASHINGTON—Contrary to the notion propagated by city slickers since Biblical times, farmers are not unscrupulous, dopes and may even be smaller and more suspicious of shifty games than their urban cousins. Nature, which is the farmer's principal antagonist, deals harshly with fools.

Accordingly, President Nixon could be — or should be — in trouble with the big grain vote over the Department of Agriculture's rather smelly handling of the deal to sell $750-million worth of wheat to the Soviet Union.

As a result of some secret shenanigans, wheat farmers — especially in the early harvest states of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas — lost a bundle of dough while the big grain exporters made a tidy profit. This is not the sort of thing calculated to produce a landslide farm vote for Nixon in November.

What happened was that an Agriculture Department official, Charles W. Pence, telephoned six big exporters but not producers organizations on Aug. 24 to inform them of an impending favorable change in policy on export subsidies that was not publicly announced until the next day. Subsequently, the commercial dealers sold about $40 million bushels of wheat to Moscow at favorable prices made possible by the fact they had bought the wheat at a bargain.

Unaware of the magnitude of the Soviet deal, the early harvest farmers sold winter wheat at $1.22 a bushel, give or take a few cents. A few weeks later, the Soviet purchases had pushed the price to the farmers up to $1.85 and $1.70 a bushel. Given such figures, only a moron or a saint could resist the temptation to conclude that the Nixon administration leaked inside information to the wheat exporters as a special, highly profitable favor.

Moreover, the farmers also lost an estimated $68.4 million on so-called "certificate" payments. These are payments made by the federal government to make up the difference between the party price set by the government and the average price paid to farmers over five marketing months. We are presently in the midst of the 1972 United Appeal and campaign workers are calling upon individuals and business firms in the greater Manchester

Bolton Salary Committee Studies Its Role

The Salary Study Committee, which met Tuesday, with a quorum present for the first time since its February meeting, spent much of the evening discussing the makeup of the committee.

The committee, which held its first meeting in November 1971, was created to come up with a set of policies and salary schedules for those who are hired to work for the town and those salaried officials who are elected or appointed to serve the town.

It is composed of the three selectmen, the five townspole: Mrs. Ann Manning (who serves as secretary), Mrs. Marilyn Noonan, Ronald Farris, Albert Hopper and Donald Massey.

With the exception of three of the townspole, almost everyone was present Tuesday night. Most members didn't even have to change seats after the Board of Finance's regular meeting Monday.

But attendance wasn't what was bothering some finance board members, notably Morris Silverstein, who complained that the committee would be making decisions, then judging the majority of the members of the committee should be from the voting public.

But selectmen didn't agree. First Selectman Richard Morris said that it hadn't been the general public that has rejected salary proposals made by the selectmen to the Board of Finance in the past, but the finance board itself. He said he wanted that board to make decisions it would abide by later.

And Selectman Joseph Licita said that he didn't want to be part of a salary study committee that works two years, then comes in with a report, only to have it thrown out by the Board of Finance. In other words, the selectmen seemed to think that it was a good idea to have the entire Board of Finance in on all the deliberations.

Committee member Al Hopper said that they were actually doing what, under another form of government, a town manager or town council would do. As an advisory committee, members will make recommendations to the selectmen, which, since money is involved, must be approved by the finance board. The town gets a chance to vote on the resulting salaries and/or salary schedules at budget time.

The committee approved a new vacation policy at Tuesday's meeting, and will go on to discuss other fringe benefits, and the salaries of the town health director and elected officials at subsequent meetings.

Licita did not envision the committee as permanent. Its job is to set up procedures which can be followed by the selectmen. They have been seeking this kind of guidance for some time.

The vacation policy for full-time town employees, which differs from the one now in effect, states that an employee will be entitled to no vacation during the first nine months of employment; that he will be entitled to one week a year after having worked for nine months, two weeks a year after working for two years, and one more day of vacation for each year of service thereafter to a maximum of four weeks, all to be taken at the discretion of his supervisor. Vacation time cannot be accumulated.

These policies will not be in effect until they are put together with other decisions as yet unmade and adopted by the two boards.

Finance board member Roy Peckham said he thought the majority of the members of the committee should be from the voting public.

Jaycees Lower Membership Age

Manchester Jaycees have voted to lower the membership age requirement from 21 to 18. Effective immediately, the Jaycees will accept applications for membership from individuals aged 18 to 35.

The age limit was lowered in order to get the 18-to-30-year-old group more involved in community and civic affairs, main concerns of the Jaycees.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

By Vivian F. Ferguson

A few evenings ago, we dropped by to visit friends we had not seen for several weeks. "Please stay a little longer," they asked. "Oh, I can't. I should be home writing this week's column right now and I don't even have an idea."

"Why don't you put in that pork chop dish you made at our summer place. We served it to guests and they loved it." "What pork chop dish?" I replied. "You know," was the answer, "the one you made with sour cream."

"Oh, I never make pork chops with sour cream. Are you sure it was my recipe?"

"The couple went on to describe the dish which I insisted I had never made. My husband chimed in, 'I remember your taking what was at hand and making a sauce - you baked them in the oven.'"

From time to time, when visiting my friends, I would look through the cupboard and refrigerator, then cook dinner with whatever was at hand. If I don't write down what I have done, I sometimes can't recall at a later date. I was rather surprised that I would make the sauce with sour cream and then bake the chops in the sauce. Usually, I would fold sour cream in at the end just before serving. My friends assure me it is absolutely delicious. I'll try it again this week. I am naming the dish "Bonne Chance" which means "good luck." It was "bonne chance" that I had something for this week's column.

Pork Chops Bonne Chance
Brown center-cut pork chops in skillet. Make sauce using one can of mushroom soup, one pint commercial sour cream, Worcestershire sauce to taste, sweet vermouth and chopped onions. Place browned chops in single layer in flat baking dish. Bake 30-45 minutes in 350-degree oven.

If there is any grease! From my personal file, here's another easy one I first made in 1970:

Broiled chops in nature of olive oil and butter, using just enough so chops do not stick. Remove almost all of grease when it is done. Chop onion, saute in same pan. Add rosemary, Canadian bacon, dry white wine, butter, salt and pepper. Broil chops, broiled pepper. Instead of salt, use one package George Washington dill brown chair pads, pillows or rugs, from new or old fabrics, remnants or cotton or wool sewing scraps. The instructor has authored a text to be used in the class and has made up a kit with special shirt-neck die, warp, patterns and the various classes will be at the event to discuss their courses. A display of finished craft work will be displayed in the main lobby, and a complete program of classes will be available.

Those wishing to join any of the classes may register at the open house or by contacting the West Side Rec. Classes will close after two registrants.

A complete course in shirring and crocheting with no sewing will be taught by Louise McCarty, the local originator of the technique, next Thursday at the West Side Rec. This new art can be used to make table mats,

Openings also exist in oil painting, cosmetics, crewel, embroidery, quilting, French conversation, pottery for beginners, effect glass workshop, book discussions, silmastics, homemakers club, sewing and tailoring with guaranteed results, ladies volleyball, textile painting, writers workshop, beginners crocheting, and a study group on major issues of the day.

Bus Driver Has Fans

By MARTIN KRUMING
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bus driver Edgar Parker enjoys happy passengers. That's why he greets them with "Hi, how are you?" and urges them to "please watch your step. Have a beautiful afternoon and a lovely weekend."

Parker apologizes to elderly ladies with canes for not pulling even with the curb; says goodbye in five languages; points out landmarks in Harlem and midtown Manhattan; waves to merchants and jokes constantly.

"Next stop is the poor house - Rockefeller Plaza."

"Welcome aboard our 747. We have this aircraft disguised as a bus to prevent a hijack. I hope."

"We are passing Mt. Sinai Hospital. They are spending a lot of money for renovation to give you better service and higher hospital bills."

"He should be in show business," urges one. Another says "If we had more people like him we wouldn't have so much trouble. It's a pleasure being on his bus." A grandmother adds that "he's the nicest driver. Everybody smiles."

Customers have written him letters, offered candy and free lunches and even tried to kiss him.

"One lady wanted to kiss me goodnight but her husband kept pulling her away," says Parker, 59-year-old father of three who moved to New York from North Carolina in 1936.

He started driving a city bus four years ago. Before that he ran a liquor store in Harlem.

"Driving a bus in New York is one of the hardest jobs," he says. "Anything you do with the public is hard."

His secret is "neighbor first. God second and me last."

"I love people," says Parker, an ordained minister who spends little time preaching but a lot of hours visiting hospital patients.

"You never see people smile anymore. They're so tense waiting for someone to offer a kind word," he says. "If everybody practices a little love there would be less fear."

Many passengers stop on their way out to thank him for a pleasant ride. A German woman had her friend take her picture alongside him. And one lady said she enjoyed Parker's good nature so much that she was going to write the New York Transit Authority.

How do you spot Parker's bus? It's marked "A to Ft. Tyron Park on an afternoon route and usually he's heard announcing over his microphone: "All aboard."

Wine, Liquor Industry Cited

Gov. Thomas Meskill, at right, presented the Connecticut Safety Commission Award to the Wine & Spirits Wholesalers of Connecticut, Monday, at a luncheon at Valle's in Hartford. Accepting in behalf of the WSWC is Mervyn D. Lenz, president of Brescome Distributors Corporation, Inc. of South Windsor, who said, "I accept not only on behalf of WSWC but on behalf of the entire wine and liquor industry in Connecticut, who are all striving together with the 'Know Your Limits' program to reduce alcohol-related accidents."

The WSWC safety campaign, with the support of the Connecticut Safety Commission, helped educate responsible people to know their own personal limits if they drive after drinking. WSWC distributed approximately one-half million "Know Your Limits" wallet cards throughout the state.

The commission looked over preliminary plans for a 10-acre subdivision on Bakeshop Rd. on the property of Robert W. Fox.

Two problems existed in that the area is swampy and portions of the subdivision are in the town of Columbia.

Before the commission will review the preliminaries, it requests that the State Health Department be contacted for a recommendation on building in the area and that the first selectman contacted in Columbia's first selectman in an effort to determine boundary lines.

The commission will meet on Oct. 5 at 7:30 in the Town Office Building to discuss with the town planners the preliminary write-up and maps that will be used in the town plan.

Town Will Host Foreign Officials
The town of Manchester soon will host several foreign public administrators. Town Manager Robert Weiss said yesterday. The foreign officials are participating in an Administrators' Development Training Program, sponsored by the University of Connecticut Institute of Public Service.

In Manchester, they will review the town's personnel system in a workshop program. At the University, they are receiving formal instructions in personnel management and in other management skills.

Police Report

MANCHESTER — Kevin C. Morgan, 16, of 73 Oak St., was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a license and failure to carry registration; bench warrant served last night. Gorman was held overnight in lieu of $10,000 bond and was to be presented in court Tuesday night. Police said the charges stem from alleged sale of marijuana and LSD to an undercover narcotics agent. The incident was investigated by the Capitol Crime Squad, police said.

Dallas C. Dodge, 44, of 26 Conway Rd., has been charged with making an unsafe turn, in connection with a motorcycle-car accident on Woodbridge St. Sunday night, police reported.

Police said the Dodge car was in collision with a motorcycle operated by James H. Blanco, 28, of 20 Westfield St. A parked car owned by Diane Reed, 17, of Woodbridge St., was also hit in the accident.

Blanco was reported in satisfactory condition today at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Dodge was not injured, police said.

Court date for Dodge was set for Oct. 16.

Police listed from steering as the apparent reason for a car crashing into a tree off Hackmatack St. last night.

The car, operated by Gloria H. Reccoso, 30, of 77 S. Farm Dr., was headed west on Kenney St. when it struck a tree at the Hackmatack St. intersection, police said. The car was towed; no injury was reported.

A car operated by Rose R. McCabe, 42, of 45 S. Farm Dr., was in collision with a motorcycle operated by DeForest J. Prentice, 30, of East Hartford, at Main St. and E. Middle Tpk. Tuesday, police reported today.

Mrs. McCabe was issued a written warning for failure to grant the right of way, and Prentice was issued a written warning for improper passing, police said. Prentice received emergency room treatment at Manchester Memorial Hospital, police said.

Philip F. Curtis, 29, of 28 Maple St., was charged with non-support on a Circuit Court 12 warrant served last night, police reported.

Curtis was released on a $500 non-surety bond for court appearance Oct. 30.

Tolland
Town Files Claim For Revenue Share

Tolland's applications for receipt of federal revenue sharing grants of approximately $100,000 per year, have already been filed in Washington, according to First Selectman Erwin Stotzner.

The first payment of the annual grant is anticipated in about three weeks. Stotzner claims the town is the first in the state to file the required applications.

He appeared before the Board of Finance Tuesday night with a list of capital improvement items he wishes to purchase with the funds which, he claims, are earmarked for items which the town could not ordinarily afford. The federal act names the areas of police protection, fire, environmental protection (including the dump) and mass transit as priority areas.

The finance board adopted a wait-and-see attitude regarding the requests, until it reads the final copy of the federal revenue sharing act and has commitments for the grants.

Their one area of compromise would appear to be the ordering of the fire truck from the budget this year.

The truck has to be ordered a year before it is received and would be paid in the 1973-74 budget.

Among the items requested by Stotzner a payloader (also deleted from the budget, following the referendum); a dump truck; wood chips; and possibly police patrol items.

The funds have to be spent and cannot be carried over into another fiscal year, according to Stotzner's explanation. In the remaining four years of the act, the grant money could be figured into the town budget allotments.

Members of the fire department were on hand during the meeting and will revise specifications for the fire truck before sending them out for a second round of bidding. It was estimated the truck would cost about $50,000.

Stotzner also handed the finance board a telegram from Gov. Thomas Meskill notifying the town it will receive an extra $2,700 in town aid grants from the state, as the result of legislative action now being taken.

Mobile Registration
The registrars of voters will take to the road again Saturday, in an effort to gain new voters.

Merrill Sentenced, Faces Long Term

Frederic R. Merrill was given his third "escape" sentence today in a low-key, intensely emotional appearance in Tolland County Superior Court. His attorney, James Egan of Hartford, summed up the situation with the comment, "This boy is reaching the point of hopelessness."

Merrill was found guilty by a jury earlier this month of attempted escape from the state prison in Somers in connection with a plot allegedly involving 11 inmates. Merrill was the only one to plead innocent, but had the most to lose by a guilty plea, even with plea bargaining which he was offered, because an innocent verdict would bring parole as close as three to four years.

Now, after today's consecutive sentence of two and one-half to five years, Merrill's release is out of sight and he asked what he "I'd like to know what I've done for?" He is still serving two to five years for the first escape and one to two years for the second.

Police said the charges were made in connection with the investigation of incidents that took place in the Vernon area. Dancoose was held in lieu of posting a $5,000 bond and was to be presented in Tolland County Superior Court today.

David Sitter, 29, of Rt. 195 Tolland, was served a Circuit Court 12 warrant today charging him with issuing a check for a fourth-degree larceny. The charges were made in connection with the investigation of complaints from a local market and a motel, police said. Sitter was released on a $500 surety bond for appearance in Circuit Court 12, Rockville, Nov. 7.

Vernon Police are investigating a complaint received from the Alico Development Corp. developers of the renewal area in Rockville, concerning the breaking of about $2,000 worth of windows in the apartment building going up in the area.

Also is offering a $250 reward for "information leading to the arrest and conviction" of the vandals. Some 150 windows have been broken since the contractor started to install them about four months ago. There were also problems with broken windows on other buildings in the renewal area.

Philip F. Curtis, 29, of 28 Maple St., was charged with non-support on a Circuit Court 12 warrant served last night, police reported.

Longer Terms For Males Defended
HARTFORD (AP) — Men are more likely to use violence while escaping from jail or prison than are women, state Corrections Commissioner John R. Manson testified Wednesday before a three-judge federal court.

Under questioning from U.S. District Judge John C. Newman, Manson said longer sentences for men are warranted because men tend to be more violent. The commissioner testified in a suit brought by Donald LaReau, who is serving a 10-year sentence for escaping from the Hartford state jail plus an additional year for escaping from police custody in Manchester.

LaReau was arrested in 1969 on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. At the time he was sentenced for the escape, he was on maximum term for females who escaped from the state farm for women in Niantic was three years.

LaReau claims his longer sentence amounted to unconstitutional discrimination on the basis of sex, and he is seeking to have his term at the state prison in Somers shortened by court order.

Manson admitted under questioning from Judge Newman that if LaReau had been a woman, and if he had been sent to the state farm for women, he could not have been sentenced to more than three years.

Satellite Tool In Water Study

STORRS (AP) — A satellite with television camera is aiding U.S. Army Corps of Engineers study of water levels in New England to assess flood potential.

Dr. Paul Beck of the University of Connecticut, director of the study, says scientists view the films from the Earth Resources Technology Satellite to check reservoir and river levels, tidal effects and pollution, assess flood potential and compute flood damage. Engineers also can use the information in their daily operation of floodgates.

Beck said the study concerns all New England but is focusing on the areas of the Connecticut and Merrimac rivers.

Countdown Under Way For Confident Red Sox

BOSTON (AP) — The countdown is under way with the Boston Red Sox, confident but not cocky of winning the American League East title with less than a week to go in the four-day dogfight.

"We're going to win it," veteran slugger Reggie Smith said flatly Wednesday after helping the Red Sox protect their first place lead in a 7-5 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

"We're on top and we're not going to need any help to win," added Smith, who played with the Red Sox as a rookie in the 1967 World Series. "Maybe we'll clinch it this weekend in Baltimore, who knows? But, there's no ifs or buts, we're going to win it."

Smith put the Red Sox ahead 5-4 with a two-run double in the fifth inning and amazing Luis Aparicio applied the clincher with a two-run triple in the sixth against the Milwaukee "spillers."

"This is one I felt we had to win," Boston Manager Eddie Kaso said. "Right now we have to stay at least even with Detroit."

"I would like to pick up a game before we go into Detroit next week. Then we would be a game and a half in front and they'd have to sweep the three-game series. A game and a half or 2 1/2 games ahead, it wouldn't make any difference. All we have to do is win one."

Aparicio, who predicted weeks ago that the Red Sox would win the division and then the league playoffs, originally thought everything would be wrapped up by the time of the Detroit invasion Monday. Now he's not so sure.

"Oh, I still think we'll win, but now maybe everything will go down to Detroit," the 38-year-old shortstop said. "I can't see Detroit losing say four in a row, mainly because of their pitching."

STAND BY! BIRDS DYING IN A.L. EAST RACE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are the Orioles an extinct bird? Could be—in the American League East pennant race.

After a critical 3-0 loss to the Cleveland Indians Wednesday night, the defending American League champion Baltimore Orioles might be a dying breed in 1972.

"That doesn't eliminate us mathematically," said Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver, "but Weaver left the sentence hanging, which is just about where the Orioles are right now. Baltimore has fallen 3 1/2 games in back of the front-running Red Sox and it appears that only a miracle finish could give them a fourth straight Eastern Division pennant.

"I can't figure out all the combinations it would take for us to win, but I imagine there are some," added Weaver.

This is the pitch, Earl. Any combination of three victories by Boston or losses by Baltimore will eliminate the Orioles from contention. The same goes for the New York Yankees, who also fell 3 1/2 behind

Sabich to Appear

Frank Maratta, the promotional genius who has brought the best in athletes to Hartford, has another attractive lineup this season. Spider Sabich, the top money-winner on the pro ski circuit last season, is scheduled to appear at the All-Winter Sport Show, Oct. 19-22. He is also a former member of the U.S. Ski Team and competed in the 1966 Winter Olympics.

Following the Ski Show, Maratta's well-known Hartford Auto Show will invade the Army's floor in mid-November. Usually the show is held in January.

Mark Donohue, winner of the 1970 Indy 500, in the Roger Penske prepared-machine and who drove Penske's American Motors Madsdore on the Grand National circuit, will be the co-star along with Richard Petty, the all-time money king of grand national racing.

Last year's personality attraction at the Auto Show, Joe Leonard, clinched the USAC driver's title with 3,460 points again this season.

Navy Expects Tough Battle with B.C.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy football coach Rick Forzano says this Saturday's homecoming game against Boston College will be just as tough as the one last week in which the Midshipmen lost to Penn State by a score of 21-10.

"I think Boston College is as good as Penn State," Forzano told his weekly news conference Wednesday.

"They have a fine offensive speed. They have a total football team.

"We've got to play just as good a game or better than we played against Penn State.

Stanley never dropped last Saturday's game against the Navy Lions, they had been rated as a four-touchdown underdog, and Penn State fell into the third period.

Forzano said he was optimistic about the Boston College game.

"This is probably the wrong way as a coach to look at this thing, but I've got to predict we're going to win, because we must win.

"We just don't have any choice in this football game. We just have to win this football game."

Forzano said.

Navy is a three-point underdog against Boston College on Saturday.

Forzano said his injured wide receiver Larry Van Loan would start against the Eagles.

Van Loan, who suffered a broken jaw two weeks ago played in the Penn State game last Saturday, but didn't start.

Navy without serious injury although starting center George Markulis missed most of the action with a pinched nerve in the neck and will not start Saturday against Boston College.

A homecoming crowd of 23,000 is predicted for the contest, and Forzano said he hoped the enthusiasm would be a boon to Penn State.

More than 2,000 Midshipmen turned out to give the football team a victory welcome last Saturday night despite their loss.

"It was the closest thing to New Year's Eve we've seen in quite a long time," Forzano said.

He admitted, however, that there were certain drawbacks to having a stadium full of alumni watching this Saturday's game.

National League Umpire Gorman on Masonic Night For Father

By EARL YOST

What kind of a life does a major league baseball umpire lead during the season?

What does it take to become a professional baseball umpire?

These answers, and many more, will be forthcoming on Nov. 9 when the Manchester Lodge of Masons presents its 15th annual Sports Night at the Masonic Temple.

Tom Gorman, who made it only briefly in the major leagues as a pitcher, will be one of the guest speakers.

Gorman is considered one of the top baseball speakers and humorists in the country. A year ago he was the biggest hit at the annual shows of the Boston, Chicago and New York baseball writers.

Four times — including 1970 — Gorman was tapped to witness the World Series and six times he has been with the team of the men in blue for All-Star games during his 21-year career with the National League staff.

During his playing days, Gorman was a left-handed pitcher and in 1939 got in five innings with the New York Giants. World War II interrupted the young southpaw's career and after four and one-half years in the Army, Gorman jumped to the Mexican League. California deposits ended his playing career.

It was while refereeing a basketball game at Madison Square Garden that his future took a turn for the best. Neil Mahoney, veteran scout with the Boston Red Sox saw Gorman working the roundball game and said he could get him a job in the Class B New England League. That was the start up the umpiring ladder.

Two years later, Gorman moved to the International League and made it to the

McKay Son Doing Job For Father

LOS ANGELES (AP) Prior to the start of the college football season, Coach John McKay said he was worried about the comments his wife would hear watching games from her seat in the stands.

"He'd drop a ball and she'd hear someone say, 'That idiot McKay is playing his idiot son,'" McKay said.

That was before the season began. Coach John McKay said he was worried about the comments his wife would hear watching games from her seat in the stands.

"He'd drop a ball and she'd hear someone say, 'That idiot McKay is playing his idiot son,'" McKay said.

Now if McKay doesn't play Southern California became the nation's top-ranked team with a top receiver named J.K. McKay. Now if McKay doesn't play, McKay, the fans will not call him. Young McKay has 12 receptions and three touchdowns in three games.

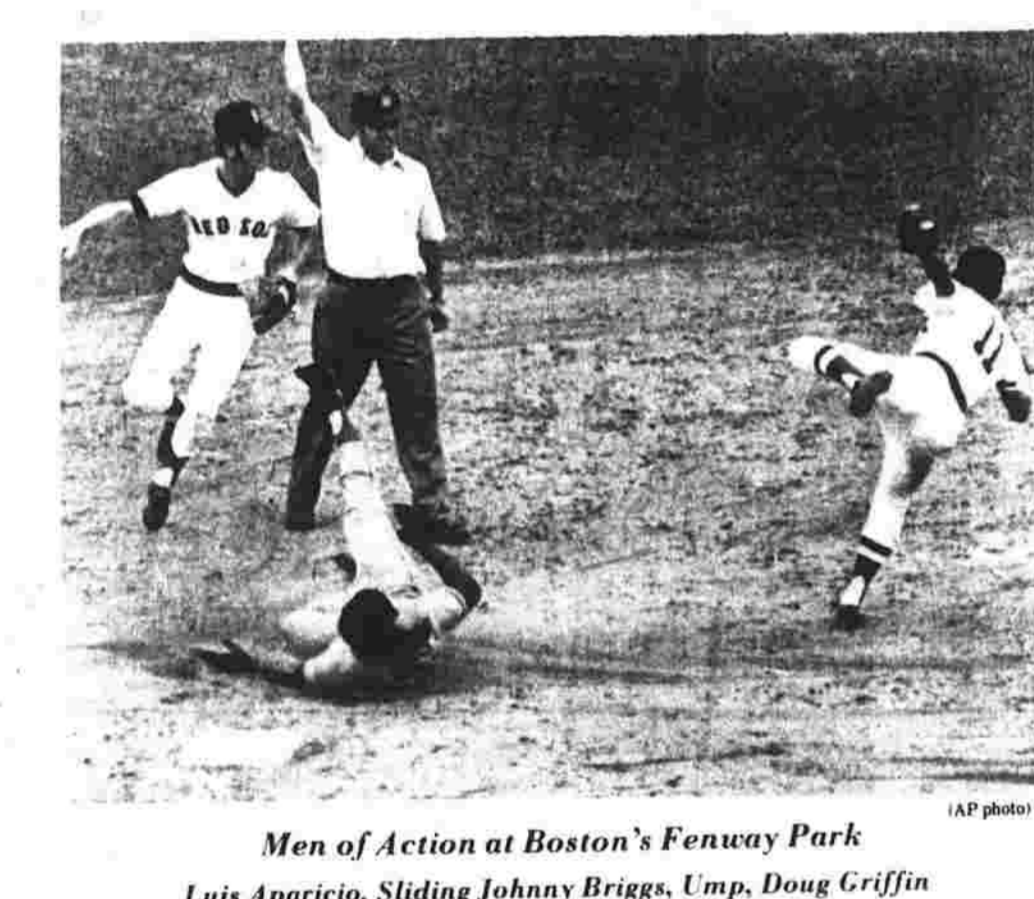

The Trojans are loaded with receivers, and McKay won't call McKay the best. In fact, he's playing behind receiver Edsel Gartton on one side, Lynn Swan and Dave Boulware are on the other side.

"I'm behind Gartton—he's a senior and he's much faster— but I'm just happy to be playing," says J.K., who all along has had to prove that he'd be good enough to play even if he wasn't the coach's son.

"I think I've taken a little bit of the pressure off me now," the 5-foot-11 1/2, 175-pound receiver said. "I had to prove myself, and the players, but to know I'm good enough."

'Game was Academy Award Winner' Dramatic Comeback Marks Tigers' Win

DETROIT (AP) — It may go down in baseball history as the big game Sparky Lyle didn't win.

And it may also go down as the one that propelled the Detroit Tigers to the 1972 American League East championship.

They remain a half game behind division leader Boston.

But the comeback they made Wednesday night to beat New York 6-5 was perhaps the most dramatic and significant victory of the year—heroic and stunning enough to keep Tiger spirits pennant-high for the last seven games, including the three-game showdown at home with the Red Sox to conclude the season.

"That game was an Academy Award winner," declared Detroit manager Billy Martin.

The Tigers overcame a 5-1 deficit with three runs in the eighth and two in the ninth to win it, and key hits—a square commodity most of the year—abounded. If names of Tigers were drawn from a hat, chances are one of them was a hero in that closing fourth.

—There was Al Kaline, who singled in one of the runs in the eighth and then tied the score 5-5 with a sacrifice fly in the ninth.

—There was Duke Sims, who singled and scored a run in the eighth, then knocked in the winner with a single off Lyle in the ninth.

—There was Frank Howard, massive pennant-drive acquisition from Texas who greeted Lyle with a run-scoring pinch single in the eighth.

—There was Mickey Stanley who hit a sacrifice fly in the eighth; Willie Horton, who hit singles in both rally innings after entering as a pinch-hitter in the eighth; 199 batter Ed Brinkman who led off the ninth with a single.

Attendance at Tiger Stadium was 21,850, but many fans didn't have the patience to wait until

Santorini Surprises Even Self

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Chunky Al Santorini surprised even himself and struck out 12 New York Mets in pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-0 victory in their National League home finale Wednesday.

"I'd never had double figures in the majors," the 6-foot, 196-pound right-hander said. "Never since I was in high school have I had 12 strikeouts."

Santorini, ordinarily a sinker ball pitcher, capitalized on an exceptionally fine fast ball to stop all hits except Ken Boswell, Rusty Staub and Ed Kranepool, who each singled twice.

Staub and Kranepool singled leading off the sixth, but one of two double plays reeled off behind the Cards pitcher snuffed out the threat.

"I think it was more or less setting them up with breaking pitches and then throwing the fast ball by them," said Santorini. "A starter in a 4-0 shutout of the Pittsburgh Pirates Sept. 16, Santorini received all the offense he needed during a two-run Cards second.

Joe Torre and Ted Simmons led off with singles against Jim McAndrew, 11-7, then rookie Ken Rhee poked another hit and Jorge Roque a ground ball scoring Simmons.

Mike Tyson and Jose Cruz singled with one out in the Cards' eighth. Joe Torre hit a sacrifice fly and Rhee again singled to deliver the other two runs.

"That's 12 days rest I'd had," remarked Santorini, 8-10, whose complete game and shutout were his third in each category for the season.

Only 3,380, the smallest crowd in Busch Stadium history, watched the Cards finish with a 40-37 home record. Attendance for the season was 1,198,714, down from 1,608,671 in 1971.

Aaron After 35 Homers, Bench Streak Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Aaron just goes on and on while Johnny Bench goes in and out. But no matter which way they go, they're both quite satisfied with their season, thank you.

"I'd like to hit a few more home runs this year," Aaron said Wednesday night after slugging his 33rd of the season and 672nd in the opening inning but pitched out of trouble with the help of a double play. The veteran right-hander was equally effective

What started out as a race in the quiet streets of Watkins Glen in 1948 the U.S. Grand Prix has turned into the richest event on the Grand Prix circuit in 1972, with a guaranteed purse of $275,000.

In conjunction with the race, there will be a camera day and Concours d'Elegance Saturday Oct. 7.

Traveling a few hours south of Watkins Glen, in Trenton, N.J., the mighty modified will take to the one and half mile oval Sunday, Oct. 8, in the Race of Champions.

Although the event isn't NASCAR-sanctioned, defending and present point leader, Jerry Cook, three-time national champ Bugs Stevens, hard-running Fred DeMarco, and the man who won two major races in September, Denis Giroux, will appear for the top money.

This group will be challenged by Geoff Bodine, Brian Osgood and Mr. Modified, Ray Hendrick.

Mike Mistretta, the favorite target of quarterback John Wigan at Manchester High, who set a new pass catching mark at the school, will be playing both offensive and defensive end for the Trinity Freshmen this fall.

Mistretta is also the statistician for the 1972 football season at Manchester High.

John Wiggins, quarterback with the Trinity Frosh, also plays safety and punts.

Bob Digan has returned as the cameraman for the Tribe at grid games. Digan usually sits high up during the action taking movies of every play, so Coach Dave Wiggins can later pin-point his team weakness.

Walker Briggs has also returned, as the Tribe "medicine man." The veteran trainer watches over all athletes' ailments at the school.

Official Subpoenaed

HARTFORD (AP) — State Finance Commissioner Adolf G. Carlson was subpoenaed Wednesday to testify before the legislature's Appropriations Committee, which is seeking information on whether a tax cut is justified.
"Political grandstanding in the cheapest fashion," is what Carlson called the subpoena, served by Chief Deputy Sheriff Julius Spisio as newsmen looked on.
"I have heard many people who have been in political life for many, many years and involved in national political campaigns—feel that this is a very well organized campaign," she said.
"We are working exceedingly well together," she said, "and merging and melding the old wisdom of the party with the new wisdom. It is a time of transition, but I believe we are doing marvelously well."

McGovern Campaign Defended

McGovern, wife of the Democratic presidential nominee, says her husband's campaign is "doing marvelously well" at organizing itself even though "it is a time of transition" for the Democratic party.
When a television newsmen asked her Wednesday about reports that the campaign was disorganized, she answered: "Everything you have read about is highly magnified out of all proportion. It is not a disorganized campaign."

'Political Hack' List Issued By Killian

HARTFORD (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert K. Killian Wednesday released a list of job descriptions which he said described "political hacks" appointed to government jobs under the administration of Gov. Thomas M. Meskill.
Killian refused to attach names to them. An aide released a set of names to a reporter but later refused to allow the list to be attributed to him. The aide said he had supplied the list to the reporter for convenience.
Killian said "I won't name them because I don't want to have the burden of naming them."
The list follows Meskill's "political hacks." In his state-of-the-art address, Killian suggested that Meskill could get the information more directly from the Personnel Department because "it is the statutory obligation to enforce provisions of the Merit System."
The descriptions were:
"Unsuccessful candidate for mayor of Hartford, with an annual salary of $16,000 as special assistant in the Department of Community Affairs."
"Former city clerk of New Britain, unsuccessful in bid for re-election, now at annual salary of approximately $16,000 in the Department of Finance and Control."
"Unsuccessful candidate for state Senate now being paid an annual salary of approximately $20,000 from federal funds in governor's office."

Governor Urges Bus Contract Settlement

Strike Could Affect 50,000 Regular Riders

By DOUG BIVINS
Special Reporter
About 190 silver and blue Connecticut Co. buses roll through some 15 Hartford area towns daily, carrying more than 50,000 passengers to schools, employment, and shopping areas.
If a threatened strike brings the buses to a halt this weekend, hardest hit will be the poor and the elderly, thousands of workers and their employers.
Within a few days, most people would probably adjust to the bus stoppage — commuter car pools would be formed and family schedules might be rearranged.
In the greater Hartford area, the Connecticut Company operates about 25 bus routes, including two routes serving Manchester and one serving Rockville.
The Connecticut Co. also operates two express commuter bus operations, one linking Manchester's Burr Corners Shopping Plaza to downtown Hartford.
The Vermont lines "Z" Route, stops at Tolland St. and Anchor Rd. in East Hartford, Hilliard Rd. in Manchester, and Depot Square in Manchester Center, Manchester Green, and Depot Square.
The Vernon lines "Z" Route, stops at Tolland St. and Anchor Rd. in East Hartford, Hilliard Rd. in Manchester, and Depot Square in Manchester Center, Manchester Green, and Depot Square.
None of the three routes operate on Sundays or holidays.
Despite the continuing decline in bus ridership, many people — especially those without cars — depend on buses as their only means of transportation.
Nearly 3,500 passengers on the two Hartford-Manchester routes and about 800 passengers on the Hartford-Vernon route would be affected by a strike.
The state-subsidized express buses from Manchester's Burr Corners started in July and are just now nearing the financial break-even point. The express buses are now averaging about 230 passengers a day.
The Burr Corners operation, initiated by the state transportation department, is an attempt to relieve traffic congestion on Hartford area highways, solve parking problems in the city, and "sell" buses to commuters.
Commuters might get out of the habit of using the express buses if the service is halted by a strike, but transportation department officials don't consider this a threat to the experimental service.
The consequences of a bus strike could be severe, although bus transportation only accounts for a minor share of Hartford area travel.
According to a study prepared for the Capitol Region Council of Governments, buses account for only about 3 per cent of all trips in the Hartford area — there are an estimated 13 million daily automobile trips.

Reclaimed Union Pond Dedication Set For Sunday

By JOHN JOHNSON
Herald Reporter
The new Union Pond, purchased 11 years ago and drained, dredged, and refilled in recent years at a cost of approximately $75,000, will be opened to the public Sunday during official ceremonies.
Dedication ceremonies will start at 11 a.m. near the boat ramp (shown above) of the redeveloped recreational area off N. School St. The public is invited. Speakers will include town, state, and federal persons who have been associated with the project. The formalities will be followed by canoe and kayak races, being organized by Don Lappen for the Jaycees, who are in charge of the event.
Pond plans for rejuvenation will be Harold A. Turkington, who served five terms as mayor. He was in office when the town acquired the site in 1961.
Guest speakers representing the state will be Nathan G. Agostinelli, state comptroller and former Manchester mayor; and Ted Hampton, deputy commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection.
Harry Madmitt, chairman of the Hookamum River Linear Park Committee, will outline that group's plans for picnic areas, walkways, and bicycle paths above, around, and below the pond. General Manager Robert Weiss will convey the town's thanks to all those who saw the project through to its completion, and Mayor John W. Thompson will unveil the dedication plaque.
The canoe and kayak races will start at noon and will be conducted at various distances for all age groups. Any person owning or able to obtain a canoe or kayak is invited to participate. Applications will be accepted by Lappen until noon Sunday. ## Philippine Bureaucrats Told To Quit

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos fired 461 civil servants today and directed the entire civil service corps of thousands, including his cabinet, to submit their resignations no later than Oct. 15 in a sweeping effort to reform Philippine bureaucracy.
Marcos, who made the announcement in his third television address since imposing martial law last Friday, said the only exceptions to his order were members of the Supreme Court, the auditor general's office, the Court of Appeals and other constitutional officers.
"It is necessary that we now first clean up our bureaucracy, remove the corrupt, the inefficient and the ignorant as well as those who are not essential," the president declared. The order will affect thousands of civil servants, many of whom were appointed by Marcos or his appointees.

Manchester Mayor Favors Direct State Funding Of Bus Lines

Mayor John W. Thompson announces he has received a telegram from Gov. Thomas Meskill indicating that the governor's proposal to increase the Town Aid Highway Fund from $12 million to $15 million will mean an additional $47,484 to Manchester.
In the telegram, the governor specified that these funds can be used for mass transit at the option of the community. He also requested Mayor Thompson's assistance and the assistance of area legislators.
In response to the governor's request, Thompson stated that in the last General Assembly he proposed the release of the full funding for Town Aid Highway Fund from $12 million to $15 million. The General Assembly had previously approved in its Appropriation Act a sum of $15 million to be distributed to the towns and cities through the Highway Fund.
Thompson pointed out, however, the enabling statute to release this appropriation contained a provision that the best approach to meet the emergency that the attention of the General

Peace Talk Silence Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Kissinger has delivered a personal report to President Nixon on his latest talks with North Vietnamese negotiators in Paris, but the administration is standing by its statement that no peace settlement has been reached.
Nixon returned to Washington from a West Coast campaign tour Thursday night and rendezvoused with his national-security adviser at a dinner meeting on board the presidential yacht.
The White House kept silent about the report Nixon received from Kissinger, who returned Wednesday night after two days in Paris for his 18th session with the North Vietnamese delegates, Xuan Thuy and Le Duc Tho.
Although both the White House and the North Vietnamese denied reports of an imminent agreement, the press reported that the two sides had fulfilled the conditions of release set by Hanoi by remaining with their accompanying peace group in Hanoi.
"I know how your hopes must go up and down with this story," he was quoted as saying. "Hang on... this is an important time."

Freed POW Trio Home After 12-Day Journey

Dressed in military uniforms and wearing combat decorations, three American prisoners of war returned to the United States, separated from the peace group that escorted them from Hanoi and scattered to different parts of the country.
The arrival at New York's Kennedy International Airport Thursday night ended a 12-day trip that was followed with political attention at home. The end of the trip, however, did not mean the end of the ordeal.
The three POWs had rejected offers to turn themselves over to U.S. government officials at various points along their journey, which included stops in Peking, Moscow and Copenhagen. One of the three, Maj. Edward Elias, said about the plane that he felt they had fulfilled the conditions of release set by Hanoi by remaining with their accompanying peace group in Hanoi.

Senior Driver Quits While He Is Ahead

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. (AP) — T. Walter Taylor, who has been driving a car for 71 years, has decided to turn in his license. At 86, he figures he's too old and "might get a kick in the pants."
He wrote the state Registry of Motor Vehicles that "for many, many years I have been given the good health, but when you get to 80 you're kidding yourself if you don't realize you might get a kick in the pants. You could have a heart attack and possibly hurt somebody," he said.
In an interview Thursday, Taylor said, "I felt it was ridiculous for me to continue to drive... I have good vision and good health, but when you get to 80 you're kidding yourself if you don't realize you might get a kick in the pants. You could have a heart attack and possibly hurt somebody," he said.

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Elton Clark of Woodburn walked into the city hospital Thursday to pay $282 bill for the July 18 birth of his first child.
He carried 26,200 pennies in a five-gallon jug, which he dropped and broke in the lobby.
Hospital employees said they retrieved all the pennies but are now faced with a massive counting job.

Ordinance Hearing Tuesday

Under a proposed ordinance for prohibiting the use of motor boats on Union Pond, there are several exceptions.
As written, the ordinance would not apply to any motorboats operated by employees or agents of the Town of Manchester in connection with the police, fire, safety and public health functions. It would apply to "special recreational events and uses, as shall be licensed from time to time by the general manager."
The ordinance provides for fines of not more than $50 for each violation, upon conviction in Circuit Court.
A public hearing on the proposed ordinance will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.
