Humanity Ahead Of Hardware

Nations like people seem to have a desire for status symbols. A casual review of the use of aid funds in the so-called underdeveloped or emerging nations reveals this all too often.

India, for one example, early in its independence used aid funds to develop a steel industry and all ignored investments in farm technology and land reforms which could have provided perhaps more jobs and certainly more food for its starving millions.

Tomato vines reminding one of Jack's beanstalk that reached the sky grow up to the roof of Steve Hillinski's home in Manchester. The vines are 12 feet above the ground. (Herald photo by Bucevicius)

Gardening with Frank Atwood

Squanto taught the Pilgrims at Plymouth the Indian way of making corn grow by planting a fish under each hill. Steve Hillinski of 110 S. Adams St. thinks his tomato plants grow tremendously tall for a similar reason.

He used to do a lot of fishing. Mr. Hillinski explains, and when he had cleaned a mess of fish he disposed of the heads and entrails by digging them into the ground. The soil in this area, says the evidence of his tomato plants, is extremely fertile.

He bought six tomato plants last spring and set them out close to the house. As they grew he provided stakes that were about four feet high, tying the vines to the stakes with narrow strips of cloth. The tomatoes grew taller than the stakes and he added extensions.

"I tore up two underbirds," he says, as he tried to hold the vines to the rough lattice he had constructed. Mr. Hillinski has never seen such tall tomato vines and neither have his neighbors, relatives and friends. The plants have also produced abundant fine tomatoes.

The tomatoes are of the Big Boy variety, introduced several years ago by the Burpee seed people and now widely grown. The variety is a hybrid, advertised as a heavy producer of large fruit. It has lived up to these claims in Mr. Hillinski's small patch.

Clock Repairing Steve Hillinski came to this country from Poland in 1911 when he was 18 years old. He was a carpenter for the Hartman Tobacco Co. in Backland for 33 years, then got into the watch and clock repair trade. For several years he had a shop in the North End until the depression drove him out of business. He had 75 watches hanging on the wall that were never cleaned or oiled.

Education Budget Complaint Target

The Board of Education's budget was the main target for complaint at the recent public hearing on the town budget.

Most of those who spoke against the school budget said teachers' salaries were "ridiculous and getting out of hand."

The board's budget is $822,076. Board member Harriet Lyman said the board has voted to decrease this by $15,000 and will be coming to the October town meeting with that request.

Board chairman Donald Tuttle said teachers' salaries, equipment and electricity take up a large part of the budget.

Adolph Gorman questioned the teachers' annual increment and the recent raise of $150 which brought the salaries up $500 in most cases.

He said teachers should not be getting raises when other people are getting cuts.

Tuttle said the increment ($350) is automatic, negotiated last year. There is no merit system, he said. He added that salary schedule of surrounding towns show Columbia is not at the bottom nor at the top.

In the Selectmen's budget, the Conservation Commission drew the most comment. The commission is seeking $250 and already has a grant of $750 from the Ford Foundation.

Bryant Andrews said when the commission was set up there was supposed to be no group but someone threw in $144 out of the miscellaneous account.

The CC is a special interest group, Andrews said, but someone threw in $144 out of the miscellaneous account.

Austin Doscher, co-chairman of the commission, said the state legislature governs and sanctions conservation commissions and that they weren't just a special interest group.

Someone spoke up and said "then let the state pay for it."

It was also brought out at the meeting that, contrary to state law, the selectmen have overspent eight accounts in the budget for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31.

According to the selectmen's handbook, in towns without a Board of Finance, any additional appropriations must be approved by town meeting.

No explanation was given by selectmen as to why these accounts were over.

Education Budget Complaint Target

counts were overextended without holding a town meeting. Town Treasurer Harriet Lyman said, "Legally, the treasurer should not sign checks for any accounts that exceed the budgeted amount."

Regarding the Columbia Lake and dam account which runs from $3,000 last year to $8,000 this year, First Selectman Howard Bates said there are requests to be done and the state has requested the raising of the dam by 1.5 feet and insists that town hire an engineer to prepare plans.

Bates said "The $9,000 is only an estimate. We don't know whether we will drain the lake or build a coffer dam until we get an engineer who will tell us the best way."

At the end of the hearing Mrs. Frances Alek asked selectmen to conduct town business on some other night than Saturday.

Film Of War To Be Shown

The Manchester Committee for Peace and Justice will present a film, "Village by Village," a report on the bombing of North Vietnam, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Assumption Church hall.

"Village by Village" is a new film shot by four Americans who visited North Vietnam in May. It records their experiences of the United States air war in the north, the effects of U.S. bombing of civilians, the use of anti-personnel weapons against civilians, and a rare interview with eight captured American pilots. The film was screened before Sen. Kennedy's Senate Subcommittee on Refugees as official testimony about the bombing of civilian targets on Aug. 17. It was also used by CBS on "60 Minutes."

David Martin, a representative from Medical Aid to Indochina, will be present to answer questions concerning the film. Another film, "The Evil Hour," will also be shown. This film documents the physical and psychological impact of war on the children of Saigon. Both films are free and open to the public.

Worm Farmer Selling Out Because Of Bad Back

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Raymond Mayo has about 50 million head of stock on his farm, but says he's going to sell out because of an ailment that's ruined for a man in his business.

Mayo is a worm farmer with a bad back, and a man who can't bend to tend the critters hasn't got much future in the worm raising game.

Raymond, 38, and his wife, Sue, run the Shannon Worm Farm, one of the world's largest — on four acres of rich soil just outside this Florida east coast city.

The soil is rich because anybody who runs a worm farm also has a suitable byproduct — manure. Mayo says that in a good week he'll sell more than 2,000 cups of worms to retailers from California to Maine.

But his wife says a recent back problem is getting a little too much for the worm rancher. Mayo bought the worm farm two years ago after selling his moving and transfer business in New York.

The worm farm employs about six part-time workers — plus the Mayo and their four children — to care for and harvest the estimated 50 million worms.

Weiss Appoints Jury Committee

Town Manager Robert Weiss has named a three-member jury committee to serve from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1973. Two of the members are repeats. The third is a replacement.

Renamed Henry Escott of 266 W. High St., a Republican Democrat, he replaces Raymond C. Johnson of 185 E. Center St., a Republican.

It is the function of the Jury Committee to furnish the clerk of the Hartford County Superior Court with a list of eligible jurors for a 12-month period.

Hebron Caron Bros. Appeals Subdivision Denial

The Planning and Zoning Commission has been summoned to appear before the Court of Common Pleas Oct. 24 to answer a complaint filed by Caron Bros., Inc. of Hebron in connection with the PZC's denial of approval of the proposed final plan of subdivision of approximately eight acres on Rt. 85 across from Rt. 207.

With only three members voting at the commission's Sept. 12 meeting, two members, George Alden and Russ Anderson voted in favor and Charles Eaton opposed the request. Chairman Roy Wirth disqualified himself from voting because he had not attended the public hearing. Thus the three necessary concurring votes for approval were not given and the request was denied.

Caron Bros. claims that the final plan complies with and meets all of the requirements of the zoning and subdivision regulations of the town and all of the necessary and feasible discretionary requirements suggested or imposed by the PZC.

In voting against the subdivision, Eaton had stated he was not in favor of areas of open drainage to the brook and expressed concern with future maintenance and upkeep in these areas.

The two concurring members felt that Hub Corp., engineers for Caron Bros., had complied with everything the commission had asked for and could see no reason for turning down the request.

Opposition.

Preliminary plans for the subdivision first came before the PZC in March of this year and proposed six lots.

At that time there was considerable opposition from commission members who felt that a hazard could exist with septic water flowing into the brook at the rear of the property.

First Selectman Aaron Reid expressed similar objections and presented a series of snapshots showing standing water in the area where some of the percolation tests had been taken.

It was also mentioned at that time that the Tolland County Soil Survey listed at least one of the proposed lots in the subdivision as being in the flood plain area.

The Conservation and Recreation Commission recommended that the two lower lots be left as open space.

Alden, on the other hand, said that the summons "didn't come as any surprise to me. I expected it after the vote of two weeks ago."

Town Counsel

The Board of Selectmen last night accepted with regret the resignation of Bruce Kalom as town counsel and unanimously appointed Sal Mastandrea of London Rd. to replace Kalom.

In his letter of resignation, Kalom said he regretted "the necessity of resigning, however, the press of business and the need to be able to represent clients before town agencies has made his resignation a practical necessity."

He thanked the board and other town officials and employees for the "opportunity of serving and for your constant cord and cooperation since the time of my appointment."

Mastandrea, whose appointment becomes effective immediately, is a practicing attorney and assistant counsel for Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company.

He holds a B.A. degree from the University of Bridgeport and a J.D. degree from Georgetown University Law Center and is a member of the American Bar Association.

When the final subdivision plan was approved in July, request for approval of the two lower lots was dropped from the plans.

Caron Bros. feel that this final plan incorporated as many of the Planning and Zoning Commission's recommendations as were necessary and feasible.

Reactions

Wirth said last night that the commission "will hand the summons over to its lawyer and take his advice as to where we should go." They plan to meet with the lawyer, Arthur Barrows of New London Wednesday evening to discuss the matter.

School Enrollment Increases

The Board of Education last night received the first official school enrollment figures for the new school year, and they bear out predictions of both the superintendent of schools and the superintendent of the town office that the June 30 enrollment of 2,283 students reflects an increase of 52 students over the June enrollment.

The increase, according to Dr. Donald Hardy, superintendent of schools, has come primarily at the Robertson School, which is up a total of 36 students over June's 330. The 36 new students there include 12 preschoolers participating in the new kindergarten (Sequential Learning) program.

At Coventry Grammar School, enrollment is down by four, actually, Hardy said, by 15, if the preschoolers are included, for a current enrollment of 618.

At the elementary schools next week will be Monday: Hot dog on roll, mashed potato, corn, chocolate pudding.

Tuesday: Chuckwagon patty, cranberry sauce, parsley potato, garden peas, fruit bar.

Wednesday: Sausage, applesauce, mashed potato, buttered carrots, brownie.

Thursday: Salami grinder with cheese and tomato, garden salad, potato sticks, fruit jelly.

Friday: Fishwich, french fries, cole slaw, peach.

Northeast Shriners Meet at Springfield

Shriners from 13 temples in the Northeast, which includes the six New England states and the Canadian provinces of Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, are meeting in Springfield, Mass., this weekend for the annual fall convention of the association.

Many Manchester-area Shriners are participating in the events which include a 2 1/2-mile parade tomorrow afternoon from Forest Park to the new Springfield Civic Center.

The color guard of Manchester's Omar Shrine Club will lead a contingent of Omar's marching unit in the parade.

Sphinx Temple is using the Ramada Inn off 191 at East Windsor as its weekend headquarters.

Many of the Shriners from distant points were arriving in the Springfield area today. Competition among motor units, patrols and oriental bands are scheduled tomorrow morning.

The Northeast Association business meeting for representatives is at the Civic Center at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The parade begins at 2 o'clock and its route is from Forest Park, Summer Ave. Ford Pleasant Ave. and Main St. to the Civic Center.

Sphinx Temple units convene at the Ramada Inn at 8:30. They will have a buffet lunch before departing at noon for the assembly area.

Formal events close tomorrow night at the Civic Center with a show that features Gordon Macrae, stage, screen and television star, and the first lady of

Girl Scouts To Gather To Organize Into Troops

All Junior Girl Scouts and those interested in becoming juniors will meet together Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the St. George's Church. Mothers are urged to attend.

The purpose of this meeting is to divide the girls into units to be organized into troops. The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Manning, a senior, is the only Bolton High student commended this year.

Heidi Hayes Veitch, well-known Bolton artist, has a picture in the Connecticut Watercolor Society Show at the Windsor Hotel.

The picture is called "Infinity" and is done in acrylics using as water color. The exhibit ends Oct. 8.

Bruce Ronson of Bolton Center, is compiling a new Bolton directory, which will contain, it is to be anything like the last one, the names of everyone living in every home in Bolton, plus bits of town history, since the last directory was published in 1960, what with population mobility, there have been many changes.

Stimac's Goal Decides MHS Still Unbeaten In Soccer

Allowing Platt High to score two goals on Manchester High's soccer team on Tuesday, the hard-nosed Indians fought off continuous challenges by Wetherfield High yesterday afternoon on the Eagle's field to blanky them 1-0 on Blaz Stimac's late fourth period goal.

The victory upped the Tribe's record to 5-0 in both the CCLL and overall while the Eagles, previously beaten by Concord, squared their CCLL record to 2-2.

With play pretty balanced in the first half of play, Manchester went on the attack in the third quarter, but it was Wetherfield which scored, but an offside violation nullified the goal and the score remained 0-0.

With 1:10 remaining in the final stanza, Stimac put forth his best offensive effort and finally capitalized when Phil Stoneman led Stimac with a beautiful pass and the leader booted it in the goal.

Sophomore goalie Ray Sullivan turned in a brilliant performance in the nets as he turned back 21 Wetherfield shots. Wetherfield's Rosetta stepped in to take the place of Sullivan.

Although Stimac got credit for the goal, the entire Manchester content with victories over Torrington High and Palski.

"They come right at you," stated Eagles' Coach Cliff Demers. "The do nothing fancy, but do use the Wishbone offense."

"Our defense must show improvement if we expect to be in the game. We must contain their fullback Skip Tyler and quarterback Bud Hickey," Demers added.

Saturday's predictions: East Catholic edging Northwest Catholic 7-6, while Manchester romps over Platt High 21-8.

Manchester's Blaz Stimac Scores on Breakaway

Injuries Riddle Eagles, Manchester Homecoming

STOPPERS — Ready to stop Platt High's offense is the defensive unit for Manchester High. Against Maloney last week the Tribe's defense allowed only 76 yards. Linemen include, front row — John Murphy, Don Pagan, Dallas Dodge, Jim Mihalik. Back row — Bob Walsh, Jack Maloney, Steve Dwyer and Dave Hunt. This unit will have its work cut out for them as Platt enters the game with two victories.

With no noticeable difference between his first and second teams.

Last season Platt tied Concord High for the CCLL's top position with a 9-1 record. Manchester lost to Platt on the Panther's home ground 13-8 last year.

Halfback John Hardrick is Platt's speedster, who must be stopped.

Another fine defensive effort by Manchester's front line should control the tempo of the game.

East Catholic, suffering from a key player loss, will still go with the quarterback combination of Ron Roy and Jay Murphy.

Senior end Lyle Eastman hauled in a 39-yard Milka TD aerial and also intercepted an enemy pass.

Against Maloney, Wiggin inserted his entire 33-man unit, with no noticeable difference between his first and second teams.

Rally for Team Canada Gives Edge over Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Before the game was five minutes old, more than 3,000 emotional Canadian hockey fans were chanting "Let's go home... Let's go home..." as they pulled the Canadiens away from the melee and escorted him across the ice to the players' bench.

Winger Jean-Paul Parise was ejected in the first period for going after referee Josef Kompania, and stick-swinging Canadian players later had to rescue team director Alan Eagleson from a crowd of Russian police.

Parise was ejected for disputing an interference call. He protested and Kompania added a 10-minute misconduct. Players restrained him from attacking the referee, who then ejected him.

At that point the Canadian bench threw a stool, then a metal chair onto the ice. Then, when Kompania skated near someone in the bench area threw a towel at him.

Then, the Canadian fans, unhappy at a pre-game compromise on the naming of officials to work the game, began their slow chant of "Let's Go Home."

The Eagleson incident erupted when the goal light behind Russian goalie Vladislav Tretjak failed to come on when Cournoyer poked in the tying goal midway through the third period.

Many in the crowd, including Eagleson, thought the goal was being disallowed. Actually, the light had failed—it didn't work on Eagleson's game-winning goal, either.

Egleson said he was en route to the timekeeper's bench to discuss the situation when several Russian police interrupted him. The players on the ice—led by Pete Mahovlich—went over the boards to try and rescue their beleaguered leader.

Coaches Harry Sinden and John Ferguson ran across the ice to help.

"This is the happiest moment of my career," said Eagleson. "I was more emotional in this series than I ever was in the Stanley Cup." He said, "The biggest thing that got to me was that first game, which

Home Runs Sink Tigers As Lyle Wins in Relief

DETROIT (AP)—One bad turn pulled another. Wednesday night the Detroit Tigers suffered defeat from the fire with a dramatic 6-5 victory over New York Yankees. But Thursday night it was the Yankees turn to pull out, taking a 3-2, 12-inning triumph over the Tigers which prevented New York from falling hopelessly out of the American League East's playoff picture.

Relief ace Sparky Lyle, Wednesday loser, turned the tables to notch his ninth victory in 14 decisions. Meanwhile, Mickey Lolich lost his eighth game in 12 decisions since the All-Star break.

"The last half I've lost a lot of heartbreakers, but this one is probably the toughest," Lolich said sullenly, staring at the floor of the nearby silent Tiger clubhouse.

He was the victim of gopher balls to Thurman Munson, pitcher Lindy McDaniel, and Roy White in the eighth, ninth and 12th innings.

A triumph would have kept Detroit within a half game of division leader Boston, a 3-1 victor over Kansas City earlier. And it would have put the third-place Yankees an insurmountable 4½ games back.

Instead, the Tigers fell 1½ games behind with six to go. They are to host Milwaukee for a three-game set beginning tonight, with Woodie Fryman, 8-3, expected to pitch against Jim Lonborg, 13-11, of the Brewers. A sweep could put Detroit in a good shape, particularly if Baltimore knocks off the Red Sox a couple times in the next few days.

Carlton Records 300th Strikeout A's Clinch A.L. West Crown After Trailing by 7-0 Count

NEW YORK (AP)—The happy Oakland A's and desperate New York Yankees were at opposite ends of an emotional see-saw today as baseball's 1972 season headed into its final regular week of play.

The A's, wearing the American League's West Division crown, were happy that they had clinched into the title and the Yankees, still nursing an outside shot at the A.L.'s East title, were grateful that they had backed out of the division championship.

Oakland wiped out a seven-run deficit and clinched the West with a pulsating 9-7 victory over Minnesota while the Yankees, peering at the fate of instant elimination, fought back for a 3-2 victory over Detroit.

The Tigers' loss, combined with Boston's 3-1 victory over Kansas City, moved the Red Sox 1½ games ahead of Detroit in the A.L. East scramble. Each team has six to play including a season-ending three-game series against each other.

The Yankees, almost doomed by that last-week schedule, are third, 3½ games behind with five to play, and idle Baltimore followed to fourth place, four behind with five to play.

In the only National League game played Thursday, Philadelphia topped Pittsburgh 2-1 as Steve Carlton became the eighth pitcher in major league history to strike out 300 batters in a season.

Oakland led behind 7-0 in the first 4½ innings against the Twins but battled its way back, finally tying the score on Angel Mangual's two-run single in the eighth inning.

In the ninth, leadoff batter Sal Bando was hit by a pitch and then circled the bases on a double by the winning run.

"I've had hits before," said Maxvill, batting .222 since coming to the A's from the St. Louis Cardinals last month, "but this was one of the most important hits I've ever had. I guess you could say the most important."

Mike Epstein's 26th homer of the season started the A's comeback and he was one of the happiest players in the dressing room.

"What a way to win it!" Although no one could accuse the A's of lacking in spirit, New York very nearly backed right out of their race in the East. But Roy White's 12th inning homer gave the Yankees the victory and kept them mathematically alive.

Had Detroit beaten the Yankees, New York's chances would have ended simply because it would have given the club 72 losses and either Boston or Detroit would have mathematically been assured of finishing with a better record. Which one did would depend on next week's three-game series.

But New York hung on and eventually beat Mickey Lolich, dealing the Tigers' chances a tough blow. In order to catch Boston, Detroit will have to win two more games than the Red Sox of the six that both teams have left.

PHILIPPINES—In the only National League game, Carlton span a six-day career and struck out 11 to beat Pittsburgh for Philadelphia. It was the 26th victory of the season for the Phillies' ace left-hander and gave him 302 strikeouts. The only other National Leaguer to reach the 300 plateau was Hall of Famer Sandy Koufax.

"I had one of the best fast balls I've had all year and the best curve ball," said Carlton. He called the 300-strikeout plateau "a great accomplishment. I feel very good about that."

One of the hits of Roberto Clemente's career. Clemente, keeping his word that he would try for No. 3,000 in Pittsburgh, led the game for pitcher Bob Robertson in the sixth inning as Robertson became Carlton's 300th strikeout victim.

STRIKES—Carlton, Phi., 303; Seaver, N.Y., 228.

Lee Trevino Two Off Pace, Long-Shot Players Lead

BETTENDORF, Iowa (AP)—Lee Trevino lurked just two strokes off the pace of a pair of youthful, long-shot leaders today as officials attempted to complete the storm-interrupted first round of the $100,000 Quad Cities Open Golf Tournament.

Jack Lewis, 35, and Don Iverson, 36, a pair of non-winners on the pro tour, posted four-under-par 67s Thursday secured Thursday morning before the threat of a tornado—forced suspension of play with some 200 men pro still on the 6300 yard Crow Valley Golf Club course.

Gibby Gilbert, with a 58, and Trevino, completed their rounds moments before play was suspended.

Players were still on the course to complete their rounds Friday morning before the start of the second round in this event that is being played as a major tournament for the first time.

Home Advantage Not Vital Kasko Feels in Last Week

BOSTON (AP)—Despite his team's problems away from Fenway Park, Boston Manager Eddie Kasko is not worried about the Red Sox trying to hang on to first place in the American League East while playing their last six games of the season on the road.

"I don't think the home advantage is going to make that much a difference during the middle of the season," Kasko said Thursday after the Red Sox defeated Kansas City 3-1 in their final home game and moved 1½ games in front of the Tigers, who lost to New York, 3-2.

"Everybody's adrenaline is flowing now," Kasko said. "They all know it's a big series and you've got to win wherever you are."

The Red Sox open a three game series with the Orioles tonight then play three games with the Tigers.

If the Red Sox manage to play 500 ball games or better at Baltimore and Detroit, they will be making a sharp break with form. This year their record on the road is 30-41, a 42.3 percentage, including 3-3 at Baltimore and 1-4 at Detroit. On the other hand, their record at Fenway Park is 52-26, a 66.7 percentage.

"One thing is for sure, now," Kasko said when asked if his team could win it on the road: "We can't win it at home."

'Great Can Win Anywhere' Player Levels Blast At Top U.S. Golfers

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—Gary Player, reigning U.S. PGA champion, says some harsh words for some of the American professional circuit.

"Some of those making $100,000 a year in America could hardly burst a grape if they stepped outside their own country," the 35-year-old South African said Thursday.

"A great golfer is a man who can win anywhere in the world," Player, survivor of the cracky A-lia championship links, where he is competing in the $134,750 John Player Classic Tournament, said.

"They would have trouble breaking here. This is one of the world's great courses." The 7,060-yard, par 36-35-71 course has taken a heavy toll in the 31-man field competing in Europe's richest tournament. Only nine competitors stayed below par after Thursday's second round of the event, which ends Saturday.

Even Player, the pre-tournament favorite, is struggling to stay in contention.

$2 Ticket Worth $15,005

LINCOLN, R.I. (AP)—A 93-to-1 shot figured in a $15,005 daily double payoff Thursday night at Lincoln Downs, believed to be the largest daily double payoff in the history of that form of race track betting.

Two unidentified ticket holders, each with $2 tickets, pocketed $15,005 each. The winner in the first race was Pawn, a 93-to-1 shot, which won by a length and a half and returned $157.00, $82.00 and $25.00.

The winner in the second race was Selected Set, a 22-to-1 shot, which won by half a length and paid $46, $14.60 and $9.

The highest previous recorded daily double payoff was $12,724.80 at Aqueduct race track at Jamaica, Mexico, believed to be the largest daily double payoff recorded in the United States, where the daily double was inaugurated in 1932, was $10,772.40 at Washington Park near Chicago in 1939.

Major College Grid Roundup Top 20 Elevens In Weekend Play

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Pepper Rodgers' UCLA Bruins, who found the Michigan Wolverines too large, try the smaller Oregon Ducks on for size tonight in a Pacific-8 Conference game.

The Bruins, 21, rate as two-touchdown favorites over the 1-2 Ducks, who last Saturday suffered their second worst defeat in 1972, a 29-10 loss to Michigan. Rodgers says those scores are meaningless when Pacific-8 teams meet.

The Bruins-Ducks clash starts off a busy weekend for the collegians in living it Top 20 AP teams.

The Washburn rushing talents of UCLA's Kernal Johnson and Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty said the Trojans "deserve all the nice things said about them. They have great personnel and have put together a happy blend of running and passing. But if we can control the ball we'll be in it."

Other games involving teams in the AP Top Ten find teams at No. 2 Oklahoma, No. 3 Colorado at Oklahoma State.

Fenway Jottings

The biggest rap against Kasko, according to insiders, is that he hasn't been able to warm up to the fans, and vice versa, in his two years at the helm.

Also, the front office is afraid of losing Darrell Johnson who has established a great record as a manager in the Boston farm system. Johnson, a former pitching coach with the Red Sox, led Louisville to the American Assn. flag this season. Several of his young players are now up with the big club, Dwight Evans and Rick Miller to name two.

"Johnson is just great with young players," columnist Tim Horgan reported yesterday. "He's (Johnson) too good a man to keep down in the minors. If the Red Sox don't bring him up, some other club will grab him."

While the attendance was only 1,096 yesterday it brought the Red Sox drew more than 1.6 million to Fenway Park. There were 78 home dates this season, three less than last year due to the players' strike. A year ago Boston drew 1,678,732 faithful to Fenway. The average turnout was better than 19,000, best in the American League.

Going into Baltimore tonight the RSox stand 3-3 at Municipal Stadium and 9-6 for the year. Against Detroit, Boston is 4-7 overall and 1-4 in the Motor City.

The league playoffs will be best of five-game sets, the first two will be in Oakland in the American League and the next one and two or three, if necessary, in either Boston or Detroit.

If the Red Sox win, World Series headquarters will be at the Statter. If Boston wins the division, playoff games are set for Oct. 1 and Oct. 12, if needed. All will be day games.

If the Red Sox win the pennant, the two or three week scheduled games will be at night. Brre! It was bitter cold yesterday for a day game.

Yale-UConn Top State Games

Yale has a lot of tradition going for it as it opens its 100th season of football at the Yale Bowl Saturday in New Haven.

The Bulldogs will host the University of Connecticut, at Northeastern University at Boston, and Central Connecticut State College at Clinton, Pa., State College.

Also, Wesleyan University travels to Vermont to play Middlebury College and Western Connecticut visits New England College in Henniker, N.H.

One of UConn's biggest worries as it tries to snap its bad luck streak at the Bowl comes in the person of Yale halfback Dick Jauron, the senior from Swampscott, Mass., who has collected a bunch of records in his two years on the varsity.

Among them are Yale's season and single game rushing marks. Jauron also ranked 12th nationally in rushing last season with 116.3 yards a game.

"We have a great deal of respect for him," says Jauron of the last two years he has almost singlehandedly beaten up," says Connecticut Coach Bob Casella. "As a sophomore he did it, and last year as a junior he broke out with a play early in the second half which put the game over on us."

And that was when Jauron was playing fullback, an unnatural position for him.

Yale Coach Carm Cozza says Jauron is a natural halfback and he hoped he can be kept there this season with less of the ball-carrying and blocking load than he has had to shoulder in the past two years.

Yale goes to the scrimmage line with senior quarterback Roy Parrington, who was starting with the Bulldogs at the end of last season, while UConn will put Ray Teller at the helm again.

Casella said after last weekend's 7-0 victory over Vermont that Teller made a couple of mistakes and some of the receivers made Teller "look bad." But, says Casella, the Hawks will attack with the ground game.

Yale also plans to initiate the wishbone offense this season, a multiple-attack pattern which keeps the defense guessing, right up until the ball is snapped.

"It's a challenge," admits Casella. "They say it can't be stopped."

Trinity's 1972 debut is enhanced by the return of one of the finest passing-receiving combinations in New England. Junior quarterback Saul Wisenbald passed for over 1,300 yards and 12 touchdowns last season while New England receiving champion Ron Duckett snared 41 aerials for 729 yards and five scores.

Coach Don Miller and his Bulldogs try to beat last season's 5-3 record, bearing in mind that one of those losses came in an open contest against the same team visiting Trinity Saturday in Williams.

Two of the Connecticut teams suiting up this weekend are undefeated Central Connecticut and Bridgeport.

UP's Purple Knights will be trying for their 13th straight victory over two years, while Central hopes to beat Bridgeport the following weekend with three wins under its belt this season.

Wesleyan, coming off an open weekend following its opening loss to Southern Connecticut two weeks ago, will rely on defense to stop Middlebury quarterback Doug Crampton, a former Simsbury ace now in his junior year at the Vermont college.

"Crampton is an excellent quarterback," says Wesleyan Coach William Macdermott. "He moves around a great deal and we've worked on staying in our alley on defense. We're hoping the secondary can contain the passing."

Coast Guard will be trying for its second win of the season, following an opening loss to Southwestern at Memphis two weeks ago and a victory last weekend over Massachusetts Polytechnic Institute.

Both Maine Maritime and Southern Connecticut will be trying to recover from losses when they meet Saturday in New Haven. Southern, 1-1 on the season, faces Maine after a year's absence. In the two teams' only meeting, 1970, Southern won, 17-7.

Western Connecticut, playing its first eight-game schedule ever, lost its season opener to Curry College last weekend, 28-7.

PRIX ROUGE $2.39 1 Pt. 8 Oz.

A Fragrant, Vel. Dry, Red French Wine

In this wine you'll find the prized clarity and softness of color which have made France's red table wines the envy of the world. One of the distinguishing characteristics of Prix Rouge is its rich and fragrant aroma. Its taste is pleasantly crisp and deeply satisfying. It goes well with almost any food, but it has a special talent for bringing out the hidden flavors in roasts, steaks and game meats. If you serve it with your wine, most to chill it slightly. But with food you'll enjoy it most at room temperature.

PRIX BLANC $2.39 1 Pt. 8 Oz.

A Pale Dry White Wine from France

Although it's been popular in France for generations, this wine is right in keeping with today's trends to lightness and dryness. Its color is pale golden. The bouquet is delicately crisp—the very essence of a great French white wine. It's a good white. Prix Blanc is recommended for serving with fish and shellfish, with veal, with young lamb—and a good food for any wine-lover. Cheese. Always enjoy it chilled but not iced.

IL FLORENTINO $2.39 1 Pt. 8 Oz.

A Full-Bodied, Dry Red Wine from Tuscany

This excellent wine is very popular with Italians. Its color is vibrant red. In its ripe and grapey aroma you can almost smell the sun-drenched hillsides of Tuscany. The taste is crisp and dry, so you can enjoy it even without food. But to appreciate all its tones and nuances, try it along with your favorite spaghetti or macaroni dish—or with any meat. With food it is served at room temperature. As a cocktail wine, pour it over ice.

ALPINO BIANCO $2.39 1 Pt. 7 1/2 Oz.

A Delightful Dry White Alpine Wine

Vineyards in other parts of the world have tried to duplicate the fine, light, high altitude character of this true Alpine white. The aroma is clean, fresh, bracing. It's a favorite in neighboring Austria—perhaps because of its similarity to the famous, entire range of Viennese cooking, from the most delicate fish to the most savory lamb steaks. The cafes of Bolzano here serve it with slices of lemon and orange as a refreshing aperitif. Always enjoy it thoroughly chilled.

ALPINO ROSSO $2.39 1 Pt. 7 1/2 Oz.

The Authentic Tyrolean Red Wine

Certain wines seem to mirror the distinctive character of the countryside which produces them. Alpino Rosso is one of these. The bouquet is this brilliant red wine is fresh as the clean winds that sweep down from the Italian Alps. And the truly tasty is smooth and velvety. Like the plump grapes from which it's pressed, Bon-Sol recommends it especially with hearty roasts, steaks, chops. To relax the full range of its excellent qualities, serve it at room temperature.

GOSTA ROSADA $2.19 1 Pt. 8 Oz.

A Pleasant, Light Portuquese Rose

This is the wine young American travelers discovered in Portugal recently and adopted as their own. It's medium-pink in color and like all top-bred roses—it appeals to lovers of both red and white wines. The aroma is pleasantly fiery. The taste is dry and light. It's marvelous balance of both. Bon-Sol and Douro roses makes Costa Rosada a happy, spirited companion with almost any food.

The specially raised chilled "Al Americano" (on the rocks) or serve it in tall glasses with cracked ice and soda.

SANGRIA ROSE $1.99 1 Pt. 8 Oz.

A New, Light Rose Wine with a Hint of Sangria Taste

Throughout Spain, Valencia has long been noted for producing a particularly delicate pale pink rose. To this much-admired rose, Bon-Sol has added a whiff of the light, bubbly Sangria taste that comes from tall lemon and plum pump oranges. The result: Delicous and completely intriguing. Drink it higher than any Sangria, it's more flavorful than an ordinary rose. You'll find it delightful with all food—fish or meat, hot dishes or cold. It's a special treat with light summer meals. And now Sangria Rose is fast becoming one of the world's most popular cocktail wines. Always enjoy it iced.

Tolland Town Meeting To Be Called For School Addition Vote
The Board of Education will call a town meeting next week to authorize the preparation of working drawings and to okay obtaining bids for the $1.9 million addition to the middle school.
Plans for the school's 48,000-square-foot addition were aired at a poorly attended public hearing Wednesday night. The school and the architect's fees will be 50 per cent reimbursable from the state upon completion of the construction.

The school board is pushing hard for the project's start by January to assure construction of an additional five classrooms for use in September of next year to relieve the existing overcrowded condition of the school.

At present there are 910 students in the school designed for occupancy by 700 students.
School enrollment is expected to increase by 50 students per year for the next several years. The addition would boost the existing enrollment capacity to 1,200 students.

The addition planned for is the original plans for the building, but postponed due to the town's lack of bonding capacity at that time. The school board is now working to secure the necessary bonding from the Board of Education.

Folke Ericson, a leader of the town's off-called budget referendum, warned that the school board is overbuilding schools, which would end up unoccupied in a few years. While admitting that Tolland's school enrollment figures are "unique" since they increase rather than decrease as other towns do, Ericson recommended the town take advantage of a free survey which will be conducted by the State Public Education Council.
The survey would state whether Tolland really needs the addition or if it could be for a few years with temporary provisions.
Cornish agreed that the need for the addition is a long-term problem and that the town should request the survey and was committed to pay for it.

Registration for the first session of the new organization will be held at the Tolland High School on Oct. 2 from 7 until 9 p.m. in the Tolland High School office.
Eight courses will be offered initially ranging from airplane piloting, and ballooning to other facilities in the addition.
