

Energy Crisis Solutions

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON — Before the century ends, the process that gives the H-bomb its big bang may be harnessed to produce electricity. Coal, now a frequent cause of pollution, may be a major source of natural gas. Uranium supplies may last for hundreds of years.

These are among possibilities being assessed by scientists under White House orders to come up with ways of easing the nation's energy crisis.

Some proposals, using so-called unconventional sources of energy such as the winds, the tides and tropical currents, may not be practical until the 21st century. Other, more conventional possibilities, from coal gasification to controlled thermonuclear reaction, are under immediate consideration.

The dimensions of the energy crisis are clear. For example, demand for electricity doubles each decade, but supplies of gas and oil that today furnish 75 percent of the nation's energy are running out. Estimates are that current domestic supplies of natural gas will be exhausted in the 1990s.

Reports from 11 panels of specialists appointed by the White House's Office of Science Technology are due soon and are expected to provide the basis for Nixon's administration recommendations for further funding of energy research. The OST says money for such research has increased 75 percent in the past five years and will run at a $600-million level in fiscal 1973.

The panels, each dealing with a different area of the crisis, are expected to pin down more precisely timetables for developing additional resources and recommend which projects should be developed by government, industry or both.

The highest priority list for developing conventional sources of energy include:

- The liquid metal fueled breeder reactor, an atomic power plant that would create more fissionable fuel than it burns in sustaining a chain reaction.
- Such reactors are expected to be demonstrated as feasible by 1980 and may help ease power shortages by the mid-1990s, OST scientists say. They add that the reactors offer possibilities for storing that domestic uranium supplies last for centuries.
- Coal gasification for the production of synthetic natural gas.
- OST scientists say some process to convert coal into gas are beginning to emerge and more sophisticated ones should be available by 1976. But they add that gasification may not make a significant impact on the national energy picture until the 1980-1985.
- Projects designed to liquefy coal to produce fuels similar to petroleum are rated as "a little further away" from payoff.
- Development of technology for removing sulfur dioxide, one of the major environmental pollutants, from the stack gases of coal-burning industrial plants.
- The objective is to permit the plants to continue using high-sulfur coals, the most abundant type of coal, but currently the plants to continue using low-sulfur coals, the most abundant in the eastern and central United States.

Dr. Richard E. Balzhiser, assistant director of OST, said that stack-gas technology has yet to be demonstrated to try them at temperatures exceeding 100 million degrees and cause the cracking of hydrogen to form hydrogen atoms.

In the newer concept, powerful laser beams would be directed at hundreds of marble-sized solid pellets of hydrogen to try them at temperatures exceeding 100 million degrees and cause the cracking of hydrogen to form hydrogen atoms.

In theory, the process is simpler and easier to achieve than that based on an older concept in which hydrogen is converted to an electrified gas before you burn it, or to use advanced combustion systems, such as so-called fluidized beds wherein you have a material that reacts with the sulfur as you burn the coal, thus yielding sulfur-free hot gases for making steam. "The steam then would be used to generate electricity.

"Hopefully," he said in an interview, "these clean-up and advanced combustion techniques will begin to become available before the end of this decade."

Administration scientists recently have given priority to research on controlled thermonuclear reaction, the quest to harness the hydrogen fusion process that accounts for the H-bomb's explosion.

If perfected, as now appears probable, reactors using this process could literally generate power forever because the virtually limitless hydrogen from the world's oceans would be the fuel.

Balzhiser said the hope exists that the technical feasibility of at least one type of fusion reactor can be demonstrated by 1982, but he adds that any significant commercialization of such devices is not envisioned before the year 2000.

Such time scales could be further stretched, he indicates, if a relatively new concept in the controlled-fusion field bears fruit.

Kiwanis Radio Auction Nights of Nov. 14-15

The 13th annual Manchester Kiwanis Club fund-raising event for fun and a Yankee bargain will be held on the nights of Nov. 14 and 15 when the radio auction is broadcast from the window of Watkins Bros. on Main St. Station WINF will carry the auction each night from 7:30 to 10:30. Items donated by Manchester and area merchants will be on display in Watkins' window a week or 10 days before the auction.

All proceeds will be used for Kiwanis awards made through the Manchester Kiwanis Scholarship Foundation each June, as well as other community projects.

On each night of the auction, groups of 10 articles will go up for bid every 12 minutes. When the auctioneer's gong sounds, the highest bidder on each item will be named. There will also be bidding on special items over the two-night period. The winners of these items will be determined until the conclusion of the second night of bidding. Successful bidders on both classes of merchandise may claim their purchases at Watkins Bros. Thursday through Saturday, after the auction.

Last year, Kiwanis netted about $3,000 on 200 items having a retail value of $4,635. This year, the club has set a goal of 250-300 pieces of merchandise that would retail at about $5,000.

Medico Worries About Future

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The medical profession has found another thing to worry about — the belly button — and it's all because of the bikini.

Dr. Martin Markowitz of Brooklyn reports that after a summer of beach watching, "A girl does not begin to rate unless she can display a smooth, round, symmetrical depression in her midriff."

This state of affairs has now revolutionized my approach of the newborn female baby," writes Markowitz in a recent issue of the "New York Family Physician."

"Now my first consideration is the umbilicus," he said. "I clean it, I strap it up — I worry over it. I am constantly plagued with the fear that some day a sweet young thing will appear on an exclusive beach, for all the world to see, with a protruding belly button and turn out to have been my of my babies."

McGovern Hammers On War Policies Nixon Urges Unity

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Nixon has completed a confetti- and cheer-filled political sortie into the South, while challenger George McGovern hammered away at the President's Vietnam-war policies and sliced a big university crowd in the process.

Nixon flew back to Washington Thursday night after his six-hour trip to Atlanta, his first public campaign appearance in two weeks.

In Atlanta, the President rode down Peachtree Street and received a shower of cheers and confetti. The White House said police estimated up to 700,000 turned out to greet Nixon.

Nixon later told 200 campaign officials and Republican party leaders at an invitation-only reception that it is now essential that "we find a way to make this nation one nation, that we find a way to work together ..."

"That is why I am campaigning in all regions, among all races, among all religions, among all age groups," he said. "What I am trying to do is appeal to all. That is why we seek what I call a new American majority."

Southern Republicans predicted a Nixon sweep of the South but cautioned against over-enthusiasm.

Meanwhile, McGovern hit the issue that launched his presidential campaign — the Vietnam war.

In Minneapolis, the Democratic nominee played a tape of a young man's account of the Vietnam war. The audience in the east mall of the University of Minnesota was silent as the voice told of napalm bodies, devastation from U.S. bombs, and his thoughts about returning home and then condescending the bombing.

McGovern said the voice on the tape was that of a "young GI back from Vietnam." He did not identify him or offer documentation of the tape.

McGovern received the tape recording, which he was interviewed by Jerry Williams of Boston radio station WBZ, made when the unknown young man phoned the radio station on Labor Day night.

Williams, in Boston, said he got the tape to McGovern from personal use, rather than for the campaign. Williams said the caller was asking to identify himself and there was no response but "as far as I am concerned it's legitimate."

"This is a young man who has spoken the truth and now I think it's up to us to take the next step, which is to change the kind of leadership that put the young man in the position out of which he's just come," McGovern said.

The Democratic vice-presidential nominee, Sargent Shriver, told a beer-and-pretzels rally in Parma, Ohio, that Nixon has degraded politics, corrupted the government and failed to live up to the most important promise he made — to end the war.

"The honor of the Republican party is dead," Shriver said. "And now under Nixon it looks as if you can't succeed in politics unless you have a spy, an electronic bug to put on your opponent's telephone, unless you forge, unless you steal, unless you go burking in the night — that's the degradation of politics."

Earlier Thursday, Shriver proposed a program to encourage every life and said every member of a Democratic administration would be involved in it.

In East Lansing, Mich., Shriver told a Michigan State University audience the program would include plans that give priority to families and neighborhoods, day-care centers, and the involvement of adolescents and the elderly, over highway building and "thoughtless redevelopment."

"We're called out in support of a nationwide teaching strike to express their opposition to Allen's socialist program."

When Chileans woke up today, they discovered that the government had established a "national network" of all Chilean radio stations "until further notice."

This meant that the president's press office was in charge of broadcasting news, music and public service announcements, thus denying opposition radio stations any voice in criticizing the government.

Policeman Killed In Belfast

BELFAST (AP) — A detective and an off-duty soldier drove through a military roadblock in the center of Belfast early today, and the troops killed the police officer, army announced.

The spokesman said two men in the orange Volkswagen ignored two orders to stop, and two soldiers had to jump to keep from being run down.

The army said an investigation was being made of the reason the two men did not stop.

The detective was the first policeman killed in Northern Ireland since July and the 46th confirmed death in more than three years of communal violence.

Elsewhere in Belfast during the night, Protestant gangs set two bars and a bakery afire with gasoline bombs, a gunman in a passing car slightly injured a man in a Catholic section and a gang of young Protestants stoned three Catholic homes.

Congress May Face Adjournment Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an effort to whittle down the last-minute crush, Congress passed the compromise $74.5-billion defense appropriations bill, one of the largest in history. The Senate planned to vote on it today and send it to the President.

The House cleared the compromise revenue-sharing bill and sent it to the President. The House also passed the Social Security amendments, one of the largest in history. The measure would distribute $30 billion in federal funds to the state and local governments over five years.

The spending-ceiling measure Thursday sessions into the night in an effort to whittle down the last-minute crush.

Confirm Freedman As Federal Judge

PHILIP E. FREEDMAN of 62 Grant Rd., a Democrat and a former town director received some happy news yesterday. His brother, Frank H. Freedman, a Republican and mayor of Springfield, Mass., was confirmed by the U.S. Senate to be a federal judge.

Mayor Freedman, nominated by President Richard Nixon on a recommendation by Massachusetts Sen. Edward W. Brooke, will serve in the U.S. District Court for Massachusetts.

Mayor Freedman, now in the middle of his third consecutive term, has informed the Springfield Town Council he will leave his post when he gets formal confirmation from President Nixon — expected within two weeks. He will be sworn in at Springfield.

He will be succeeded as mayor by the president of the Town Council — a Democrat. A special election for the mayor's post is expected early next year.

Freedman, an attorney, is a former assistant attorney general for Massachusetts. He served 12 years on the Springfield Town Council.

Mayor Freedman, a Springfield native, as is his brother, will be in Manchester tonight, attending the Bas Mitzvah of his niece, Judith, at Temple Beth Shalom.

He and his wife, the former Eleanor Labinger of Hartford, have three children — Joan, 16, Wendy, 14, and Barry, 5.

High Court Hears Remapping Appeal

HARTFORD (AP) — Democratic lawyers made a last-ditch attempt today to head off the Nov. 7 General Assembly election by appealing to the state Supreme Court for an injunction.

Most of the arguments were similar to those made at previous federal and state court hearings. State Supreme Court Justice Elmer W. Ryan was hearing the arguments for the first time and found them complicated.

"As I listen to this," Ryan observed, "I can't help but think that Justice Frankfurter must be chuckling." Ryan was referring to the late U.S. Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter's warning that reapportionment was a "legal thicket" which the courts should not be involved in.

The hearing was expected to continue into the afternoon with Republicans defending the reapportionment plan ordered into effect by Superior Court Judge Walter Sidor.

It was Sidor's order implementing the so-called Sidor plan that the Democrats wanted the state's highest court to nullify.

The Senate confirmed the nomination of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, former commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, to be Army chief of staff. He succeeds Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

The vote was 84 to 2 and ended debate for this year on issues raised by a Senate Armed Services Committee investigation into unauthorized bombing raids against North Vietnam. Abrams' Air Force deputy, Gen. John LaVelle, was relieved of his command as a result of the raids.

Man Dies In Fire

NEW HAVEN (AP) — One man was killed and five people, including three children, were injured in a two-alarm fire that burned through a three-story house early today, police said.

The dead man, identified as Clarence Woods, 21, was found in a bedroom on the third floor.

Police said three families lived in the building at 78 Arch St.

At least two of those injured were hurt jumping from the second floor.

Children Thomas, 34, and her two brothers, Eva, 12, and 3-year-old Linda, were hospitalized. Police said the Thomas woman jumped from the second floor with another baby, one-year-old Lennon Brown, in her arms. All were hospitalized at Yale-New Haven Hospital.

Joannice Brown, 21, was hospitalized at St. Raphael's. Firemen said the fire alarm sounded at 1:50 a.m.

Neighbors lay the blame on a defective alarm clock.

"I just killed my motorcycle," Zelek, 34, admitted.

Nearly by the cycle — with five slugs in it.

At a hearing Thursday on charges of firearms violation and intoxication, Zelek told the magistrate that the shooting followed an argument with his wife over the motorcycle.

The charges were dismissed by Magistrate Robert Duser, who said Zelek had inflicted no harm.

Wreck Injuries Fatal To Driver

WOLFCOTT (AP) — Joseph DiFerrari, 21, of New Haven was fatally injured early today when his car went out of control on Meriden Road, hit a tree and caught fire, local police said.

A passenger, 18-year-old Joseph Sciarino of Wolcott, was hospitalized at St. Mary's Hospital in Waterbury with multiple injuries.

Police said the accident happened about 1 a.m.

Angela Davis Back From Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — Back from a six-week tour of Socialist and Communist countries in Latin America, Eastern Europe, Angela Davis says she was amazed at how well acquainted her countries were with her causes.

The black former UCLA philosophy instructor also obtained her return to the United States Thursday night that "racial discrimination and racism has disappeared" in Cuba.

She was acquitted last June of murder-kidnap-conspiracy charges stemming from a 1970 Marin County (Calif.) courthouse shooting which claimed four lives. The trip was paid for by the Communist party and by various organizations in different countries, such as the Women's Trade Union in Chile, Miss Davis told newsmen.

Transit Districts Offered DOT Aid

HARTFORD (AP) — The state Transportation Department has offered to pay 25 percent of any operating deficits incurred by local transit districts for bus service.

The offer, made by DOT Commissioner A. Earl Wood, represents a compromise by the state government. Until Thursday the administration of Gov. Thomas J. Meskill had refused to help pay operating costs, and had limited its financial aid to the purchase of buses.

Under Wood's offer, transit districts that took over local bus operations would be required to pay administrative costs as well as any operating deficits.

Gov. Meskill has viewed transit districts as the answer to the crisis which this week stopped Connecticut Railway & Light Co. buses in Bridgeport, Waterbury and New Britain. CR&L said it could no longer operate at a loss and the state government refused to take a pay cut.

The Public Utilities Commission gave four bus lines temporary permission to operate on the CR&L's routes in the three cities.

The largest bus company in the state, Connecticut Co. is operating in the Hartford, New Haven and Stamford areas under a day-to-day agreement with its union employees, whose contract expired Oct. 31. The company said even if the drivers took a pay cut of 40 cents per hour, the company would continue service until Oct. 31.

CHILDHOOD MEMORIO... FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Richard Smiley brought home recently a childhood memento which had been lying abandoned at his former residence — a 7,000-pound wall covering built by his grandfather. "I went by the old place about a year ago and they had torn down all of the buildings and everything, and there was the old well sitting there in the front yard by itself. It looked kind of lonesome and I just decided that I'd bring it home," Smiley said. "I put it right in front of my house. It's a monument to my dad and my grandfather."

Yale Deficit Reduced To $1.2 Million

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Underestimation in "every major component of Yale's income" helped to turn an expected $5.7 million deficit into a $1.2 million one, a university official reported Wednesday. The university received $2.9 million more than expected during the 1971-72 academic year, Provost Richard Cooper said. Much of that resulted from increased alumni giving and more federal aid. Tightened economies at Yale also produced unexpected savings, he said. Cooper was directed by Yale President King Brewster Jr. to determine why the actual deficit was $4.5 million less than Yale Treasurer John Ecklund's initial prediction last year. Ecklund had said he later warned that the deficit might be reduced. The budget discrepancy, Cooper concluded, was the result of "random and fortuitous events" that were not easily foreseen and not likely to recur.

National Priorities Reverse in Four Years

Although one of the key issues in the current presidential campaign is the charge that the United States is becoming more militaristic, at the expense of domestic needs, the dollars and cents record of the Nixon administration indicates otherwise.

Lyndon Johnson's last budget, in the 1969 fiscal year, included $79 billion for defense, or 45 per cent of the total budget. Expenditures for domestic human needs that year accounted for 32 per cent of the budget. The Nixon administration's budget for the current year turned those percentages around: 45 per cent of it is earmarked for domestic needs; 32 per cent of it for defense.

Why hasn't this dramatic shift in priorities in just four years been more widely recognized? Probably the main reason is this nation's continuing preoccupation with Vietnam. Although Vietnam is still very much to be reckoned with, it was with us when the current administration assumed the reins of government. Beyond the regrettable facts of the war is an even bigger story of where this country is headed and what it wants to accomplish for its citizens.

benefits for those who qualify; additional training opportunities for the handicapped and disadvantaged; increased educational opportunities for lower income youths, and better health care for all citizens.

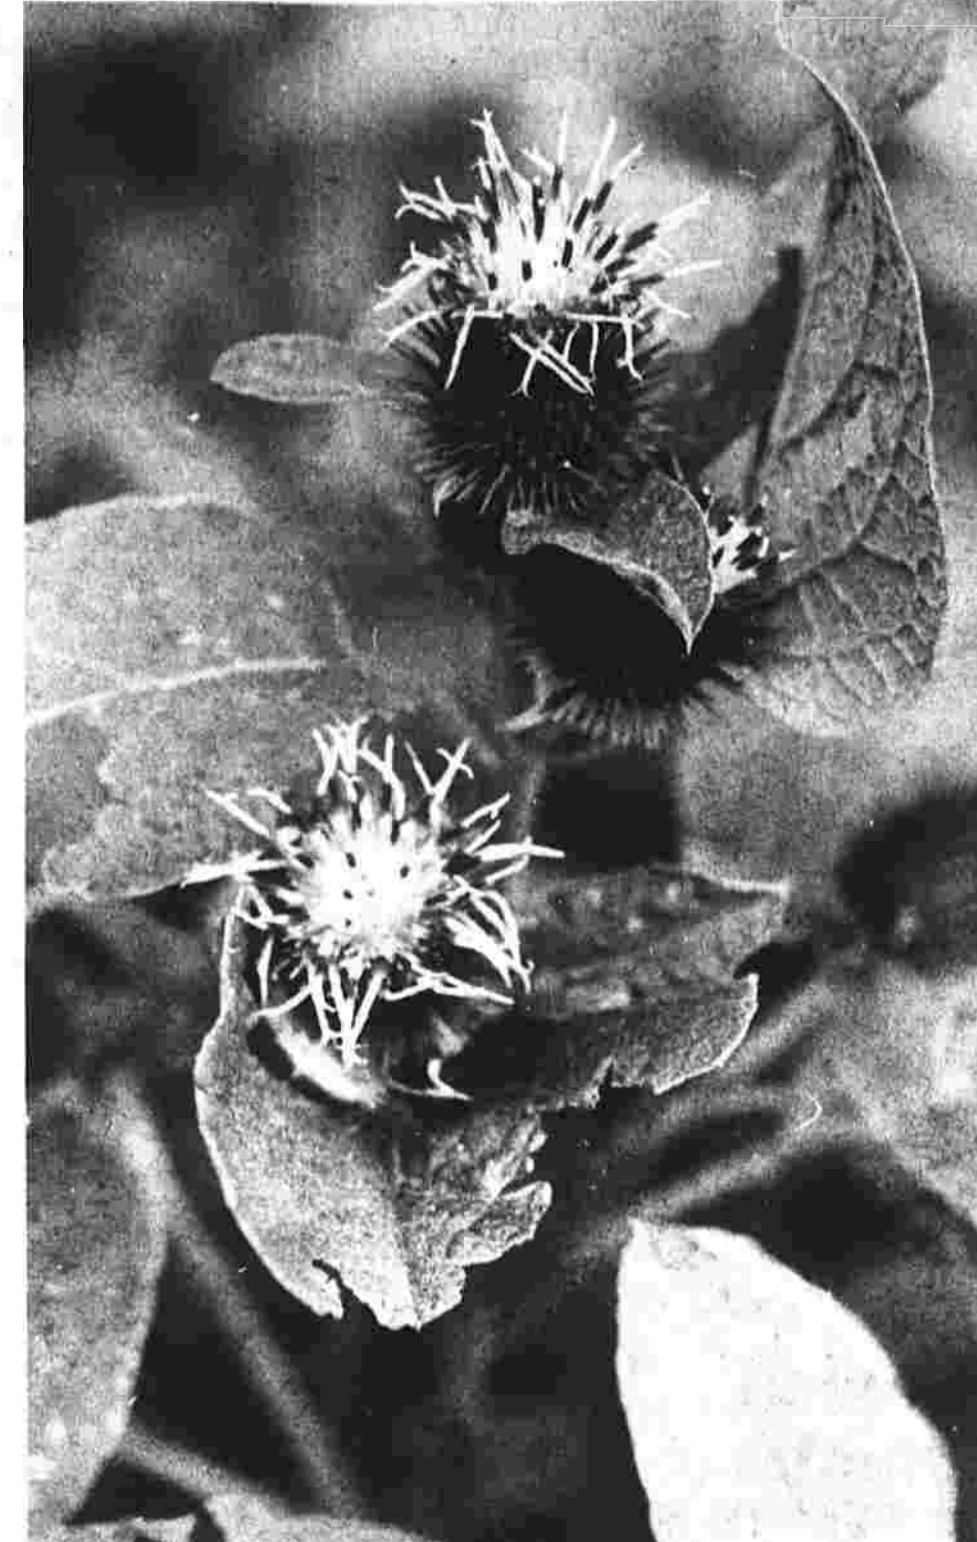

Although it is easy to quarrel over whether White House intrusions or Capitol Hill politics is to blame for lack of progress on some of these funds, it is difficult to quarrel with the administration intent as laid out on the $250 billion blueprint called the federal budget.

One of the world's most respected political thinkers, Milovan Djilas of Yugoslavia, recently summarized much better than any budget figures can what trends in American society mean for this nation and for the world.

"The new left and those influenced by it think the U.S. is racked by crisis, but the so-called crisis in American society is largely imaginary," Djilas said in a remarkable interview with C.L. Sulzberger of the New York Times. "Race and class and generation gaps do exist but there is no fundamental crisis. The crises you have are aspects of the difficulty of adjusting to the electronic and technological revolution of our time," he added.

Djilas, who is perhaps the most famous unhappy Communist theoretician living, stated flatly that the U.S. "won the cold war," and has "emerged stronger on the world scene because the Communist world divided into factions, while, at the same time, the United States succeeded in enlarging some of the basic democratic ideas — like individual human rights — thus helping to erode the Communist system."

Coming in the midst of a quadrennial presidential campaign, marked by hot rhetoric about the state of this nation, Djilas' words are refreshing evidence that the United States has more reason to hold its head high than some of its critics claim. As one reporter remarked, "Djilas' words are as welcome as a summer breeze on the Dalmatian coast."

Gray Has An Open Mind

WASHINGTON — An old friend who worked long and faithfully for the FBI under J. Edgar Hoover without falling prey to sycophancy offers a capsule comment on FBI Boss L. Patrick Gray's transfer of the Special Agent in Charge in Hawaii because the wives of several agents complained about their husbands' working conditions.

Under Hoover, the wives knew better than to complain. It says this source, who is still an FBI official. "But if they had Hoover never had an open mind about how the show should be run. As a result, every report from inside the bureau is that the FBI not only is a tighter but a happier ship. Gray has made it plain he cares about the working staff, while cracking down on bureaucratic inefficiency and the kind of politicking by straw bosses that is aimed at currying favor with the director.

"This is all to the good. Without derogating Hoover's high competence as a lawman and administrator, he ran the FBI as his personal fiefdom. The name of the game was to please Hoover, and down that path beckoned promotion and juicy assignments. Agents who disagreed with Hoover over the time of day or the color of a necktie usually wound up in some isolated post.

A personal reminiscence seems relevant. Several years ago I wrote a book on the FBI and the publisher threw a party for Hoover, the press and a few agents who had helped get the book into print. During the evening, the comely wife of one of the agents approached Hoover for a handshake. The boss was all smiles until the lady mentioned rather tentatively that she didn't like his perfume. Hoover was taken aback but those to whom he delegated authority were immune to the second guess.

"Perhaps the fact that Hoover was a bachelor and Gray is married and the father of a big family explains the difference in their operation of the FBI. Marriage softens the dictator in her own male, or at least accustoms him to the necessity for accommodation. He relinquishes some of his divine right as an individual, and if there are absolute monarchs it is slowly but inexorably clipped away.

I suspect this was a subconscious part of Pat Gray's thinking when he was confronted with the complaints submitted by the wives of those agents out in Honolulu. As a married man, he could put himself in the agents' shoes. Indeed, he might even have thought — a little — about the hell he might catch at home if he turned a deaf ear to the grievances of members in good standing of a union whose No. 1 priority often seems aimed at cutting males down to manageable size.

Too often, communities wait for a tragedy to occur before they act. Earlier installment of signal lights at Spring Street and Hartford Road, and at McKee Street and E. Center Street may have saved two lives this past year in Manchester. We have an opportunity to prevent additional fatalities in these two critical areas by taking action to eliminate the risks now. It is time to declare that Colonial Drive need not become a thoroughway, to straighten out the Parker Street puzzle, and time to correct the major traffic situation that exists at the Bidwell Street intersection. I strongly urge that a proportion of the savings be taken immediately to improve these conditions now.

Television Will Destroy America

In his determination to take hard-hitting stands on controversial issues, Mr. Nixon, if he isn't stopped, may well wipe out the American people as we have come to know and love them.

The first controversial issue on which Mr. Nixon took a hard-hitting stand was television. Without caring a whit how the electorate might feel, he came out foursquare against them.

Critical Traffic Condition

Dear Mr. Editor:

Now that the Town Directors have announced that a surplus exists in the budget many are hoping to get a "piece of the pie" while others such as the MPOA are seeking a tax reduction. In the meantime Manchester has two critical traffic conditions that need immediate attention to the many children of the area. The temporary closing of Parker Street has left a confusing situation for drivers using that road. The residents who live on the Colonial Drive area have expressed strong opposition to this proposal and have presented strong and logical evidence that shows that this re-routing of traffic will be potentially dangerous to the many children of the area.

The second danger spot concerns the corner of Bidwell Street and Hartford Road. Anyone driving in this area when classes are changing at the community college is risking an accident and possible serious injury. Several minor accidents have occurred on a regular basis. A person driving in this area at this time can easily see 15 or 20 cars backed in every direction. We can be thankful that the college students realize the seriousness of the situation. This is probably the major reason that someone hasn't been killed there to date.

Too often, communities wait for a tragedy to occur before they act. Earlier installment of signal lights at Spring Street and Hartford Road, and at McKee Street and E. Center Street may have saved two lives this past year in Manchester. We have an opportunity to prevent additional fatalities in these two critical areas by taking action to eliminate the risks now. Hospitals Ask For Welfare Fee Increase HARTFORD (AP) — Connecticut's general hospitals have asked the state Hospital Cost Commission for an average 16 per cent increase in payments for welfare patients hospitalized from September 1970 to September 1972.

Federal regulations require that hospitals be paid their true costs and exact rates won't be known until all bills are in. But the commission must set interim rates so welfare patients experience no interruption in care.

The commission made no decision at a meeting Wednesday and asked for more financial records.

A Disappointing Governor

In 1970 many people including these newspapers, supported Thomas J. Meskell in his bid to bring a Republican administration to Hartford for the first time in 16 years, believing he would institute good business management to halt the runaway spiral of state expenses and inflation.

Instead of business management, the governor has instituted a policy of a political maneuvering in which he appears to be setting the groundwork for a political machine reminiscent of the glory days for the GOP of the late Henry Bonebrake.

Emerging deep from many of the decisions and workings of the Meskell Administration is a systematic pattern of political maneuvering, not necessarily in the best interests of the state, which indicate the Meskell mind is more in tune to the campaign in 1974 than to efficient government in 1972.

The latest example of this policy is the revelation that there were 761 "special assistants" as of Sept. 1 in the administration, who took no state exams for their posts and are outside the state merit system.

Included in the list are former GOP town and party officials and their relatives, with backgrounds deeply entrenched in Republican politics.

Some of the salaries involved are paid through federal funds.

Yet this does not detract from the basic fact that some of the beneficiaries are receiving such money as a result of political background, to the exclusion of those unemployed in Connecticut who would be equally as willing and, in some cases, far more capable of fulfilling the duties of the jobs involved.

The situation further reveals the policy of state government to create jobs when federal funds are available, not because the jobs may be necessary, but because the money is handy and may be spent in firming up a political base. The taxpayers' money is spent regardless of whether it needs to be spent.

The overwhirling number listed as "special assistants" further hinders state government by undermining state employees in the submitting through a system by which many high-paying positions go to Meskell appointees rather than to dedicated state servants.

The governor has pointed proudly to his contention that he has reduced the state payroll since he took office. In a speech delivered Sept. 13 in the Greater Bridgeport Board of Realtors, the governor said, "I am happy to be able to tell you that we have managed to trim our number of full-time employees by 1,803 as of June 30, 1972." This the governor maintained, had been reduced from the 37,779 full-time employees in the beginning of 1971. He also maintained 2,281 of the 6,132 part-time employees had been cut from the payroll.

Yet, has the governor reduced the payroll by such a figure or has he allowed the policy of attrition to be used with federal funds, a tool to substitute his own people, many of them referred to by state Atty. Gen. Robert K. Killian as "political hacks," in place of those in state service when Meskell took office?

The governor provided a promising figure to those who thing, blooms things, ripens things, knows things, raises things, buries things. The taxpayers' money is spent regardless of whether it needs to be spent.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Quit Drinking To Solve Problem

Dear Dr. Lamb—My husband drinks heavily on weekends and it makes him quite ill. He complains after a few days of stomach burning. For relief he drinks milk, takes Maalox and soda water to help with his drinking habits. In addition to stomach problems excessive drinking can cause damage to the liver and the heart. In men it is a frequent cause of impotency. If more men realized what alcohol does to their sex life rather than try to quit drinking, it might be a lot less drinking. Then there is the gradual brain damage that comes from drinking too much.

By the time I got there a few days later the flowers had started to fade. Now the plant has produced a late fall set of blossoms, just as lovely and more numerous than at any time all summer.

One will have an opportunity to witness this feat on Saturday night, Oct. 23 when Dr. Daniel Pai of Hawaii will perform his skills at Manchester High's Clarke Arena.

Redleg Manager Cautious on Eve of Series, Orioles Made Anderson Eat Words in '70

CINCINNATI (AP) - Two years ago Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson boasted: "Bring on the big bad Birds, We'll beat 'em." Anderson's first Cincinnati team had won the National League pennant in a three game playoff sweep over Pittsburgh. He looked down his nose at the American League champion Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles made Anderson choke on his words, beating the Reds in the Series four games to one. Anderson hasn't forgotten. He's not about to make the same mistake. "I have to be honest," said Anderson Thursday as he watched the Oakland Athletics win the American League pennant over the Detroit Tigers. "After the beating we took '70, I'll make no comment. I'm not going to give Dick (Oakland Manager Dick Williams) any ammunition."

Anderson added, "I never dreamed an American League club would beat us, but I've changed my thinking about the AL now. Dick's team plays good baseball."

The 38-year-old Anderson recalled his outlook before the 1970 Series. "In 1970 I was naive," he said. "I had never been to a World Series. I was just so glad to be there. I came in awe. The whole season was that way. I remember the reaction in Cincinnati when I got the job. They said Sparky who? 'Everybody at the Series couldn't understand how I could be so nice after losing. Well, I was so glad to be there I didn't realize until I got home that we had lost four out of five.' Anderson watched the A's go ahead of the Tigers 2-1, then win by that score.

"Oakland has great balance," Anderson said. "They can run, have good pitching and a fine defense. And they've got some good bats in Reggie Jackson, Joe Rudi, Mike Epstein and Sal Bando."

The Cincinnati manager said Oakland posed a different problem from a pitching standpoint than Detroit would have presented. "If the Tigers had won, we would have had to look at Lolich maybe three times," Anderson noted. "The A's have Jim Hunter, John Odum, Ken Holtzman, Vida Blue and a darn good bullpen."

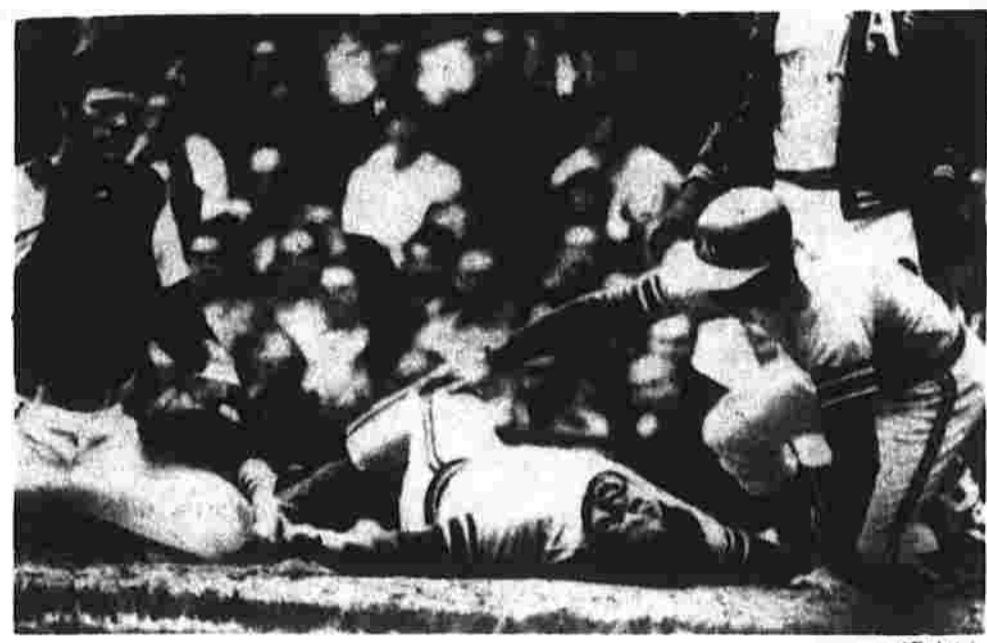

Cincinnati does have one pitching question mark, right-hander Gary Nolan. Nolan finished with a 15-5 record in the regular season, but was almost unmissed the last two months because of a sore shoulder and neck. "Nolan will be our opening game pitcher," Anderson said, but the manager can't be sure that until Nolan warms up before the game Saturday. Nolan worked six innings of the third National League playoff game. He left leading 2-1 when his arm stiffened. Should Nolan be unable to pitch, Anderson says Jack Billingham will get the assignment, followed in order by Ross Gimsley and Don Gullett. Oakland probably will open with left-hander Ken Holtzman.

Dramatic Ending To Memorable Day

DETROIT (AP) - It was a memorable, dramatic ending to a memorable day. Oakland center fielder Reggie Jackson made his way on crutches slowly and deliberately, down an echoing, virtually empty corridor at Tiger Stadium to the Tiger clubhouse. Jackson, wearing only a torn, champagne-soaked T-shirt, a bath towel around his waist and show slippers, hobbled all the way to shake the hand of Tiger manager Billy Martin. Jackson pulled a hamstring muscle when he stole home in the second inning, sliding into burly catcher Bill Freehan in the A's 2-1 victory that clinched the American League pennant three games to two. He had to be helped off the field and was replaced by George Hendrick—who scored the winning run with another slide into Freehan. Jackson hopped through the door into the carpeted room. Only a few of the Tigers remained. Al Kalline approached and shook Jackson's hand.

"I've been calling on the phone over there trying to get you to nobody answers," Kalline said. "How's your leg?" "It's okay. I hope to be able to play in the Series," Jackson said. Then Martin walked over from across the room to greet him. "You're a heck of a guy," Jackson told Martin, shaking his hand. "Believe me, I don't like playing against you guys." "You showed me a lot of class," Martin said in return. "I like guys like you." Jackson shook the hands of Duke Sims and Aurelio Rodriguez, and said, "You guys have a great amount of pride and that's all I came over here to say. Then he left, hobbling slowly. Jackson said if chances are 50-50 he can play against Cincinnati in the Series. "I'll play. If I can hobble, I can play. I've got all winter to heal, so I can go all out."

'Just Another Game' Blue Spotlited For Relief Role

DETROIT (AP) - "Just another ball game" for Vida Blue boosted the Oakland Athletics into the World Series. "I got lucky," the 23-year-old told a well wisher as he sat upon a stool in a corner of the A's raucous locker room after preserving Thursday's 2-1 victory over Detroit in the final game of the American League playoffs. Blue's latest effort was four scoreless innings as he scattered three Detroit singles after replacing John "Blue Moon" Odum in the top of the sixth inning. That meant Blue, who didn't start a playoff game, had turned in 5 1/3 scoreless innings as a reliever, allowed five hits while striking out five and walking only one batter. "I wanted to win like I always do," Blue said of Thursday's game. Then, he concentrated on his unhappiness. Blue claimed Wednesday that A's owner Charlie Finley, in an attempt to hurt him at contract time, had ordered Manager Dick Williams not to start the 1971 Cy Young Award winner and Most Valuable Player in the American League. Williams denied any knowledge of such instructions but Blue, who slumped to a 6-10 mark this year after winning 24 games in 1971, didn't start in the playoffs. "But me not starting isn't my complaint," Blue said as the champagne of celebration sparkled in his hair. "It's not being told. Nobody has come to me. They kept away from me like it was a cardinal sin to tell me." "If Jim (Hunter, who started the fourth game after Williams said earlier he might use Blue) was going to start and not me, I'm not going to shoot, kill or kick someone. I just wanted to be told. "I'm no superhero. I'm no superhero. I'm like everybody else on this club and like to play," Blue insisted.

Williams exulted that Blue "showed me something today. Our man Blue will pitch in the series." But Blue played down his performance, saying, "It was just another ball game. We still have seven more ball games. I'm not really excited... there have been other days like today." Blue came on Thursday when Odum became nauseated. Odum said, he was "very, very nervous... I was sick to my stomach. I couldn't catch my breath." Williams said Odum had been ill for three days. Odum sat at the rear of the clubhouse and sobbed as the A's celebrated. Blue hugged him while teammates clustered protectively about the pitcher. Williams refused to be drawn into Blue's dispute with Finley saying, "Everything I've asked him to do, he has done and done well. His contract dispute is between him and Mr. Finley."

Jacklin, Trevino Opponents

VIRGINIA WATER, ENGLAND (AP) - Lee Trevino and Tony Jacklin, who both dislike the unerring twists and turns of match-play golf, were pitted against each other today in just the kind of man-to-man clash they prefer to avoid.

The target was a place in the final of the Piccadilly Match Play Championship, just about the only major tournament still run at match play.

After an opening round that saw the elimination of South Africa's defending champion Gary Player, two Americans and two Britons were left in the battle over the 6,997-yard Wentworth Course.

Trevino, the American who holds the British Open crown and Jacklin, the Englishman who took the U.S. Open title in 1970, were matched in one 36-hole semi final.

Peter Oosterhuis, the 24-year-old Briton who ousted Player by one hole Thursday, was up against the Englishman who took the U.S. Open title in 1970, were matched in one 36-hole semi final.

Jacklin claimed, is how many shots it takes to finish the round. "Anyone can beat anyone on his day," said Jacklin, who crushed Grier Jones of Wichita, Kan., 7 and 6 in the opening round.

Trevino, rated favorite to win the Piccadilly crown for the first time, agreed with Jacklin. "Over a 18-hole match play over 36 holes in one go is just too much." 179-191-528.

Coach Wiggin Tackles 100th Career Victory

What can be said about the second half performance of the MHS football team as they shut down the Eagles of Wethersfield High 36-9? Coach Wiggin walked off the field with a smile, for two big reasons: a very important CCIL victory for his club and his one hundredth career victory as head coach.

There isn't much that can be said about the game that isn't already obvious. Manchester scored in the second period and the visiting Eagles found pay dirt before the first half and the Tribe led 7-0.

Something fired up the hometown Indians during intermission as they came out to start the second half. They looked ready to explode, and they did, following an exchange of punts. Dan Fleishman completely outran the Eagle defense and rambled 81 yards up the score to 13-0. The Tribe took no time to breathe as Fleishman struck twice more. Steve Samolits scored and before Wethersfield knew what hit them the Home towners led 25-0, which turned out to be the final score.

Fleishman again was the offensive power for the Indians as he finished the day with 256 yards rushing on 110 yards on the ground. All totaled the Tribe had over 400 yards on the ground to show the offensive power of Manchester.

The defense was again convincing. The tribe gave up a total of 181 yards. The Indians have scored a total of 104 points while giving up only 28 in three games. Mike Coughlin, Jack Maloney and Lyle Eastman were again defensive standouts for the tribe. Coach Wiggin finally reached the century mark in wins after 18 seasons. His total win loss record is 100-37 with 4 ties. He suffered his first losing season last year, after 17 winning or 500 campaigns. He has been known for taking a crowd of so-called football players and molding them into a football team. Many a player met the challenge head on and come out on top.

I am sure football players at Manchester High, present, and past say thanks and congratulations to Mr. Wiggin. Bob Walsh

Round Table Singers Have Been Chosen

In case you've been wondering what the air of excitement was down in the music room, it's because the callback list for Round Table was up. All these who were on the list had to come back for one final test.

This consisted of sight-reading your particular part in a quartet. They sang "Joy To The World" and did some scale work. All the excited vocalists sang to an unbiased auditing committee made up of Miss Martha White, director of the Round Table Singers, and Mrs. Kay Domstad, a music teacher at Penney High.

Out of a group of 371, 76 were chosen to be in the select singing group. The names of the 1972-73 Round Table Singers, by part, are: Sopranos - Linda Alibekki, Linaea Nelson, Jeanette Bidwell, Bridget Bossidy, Danette Corneilus, Paula Dahlem, Belinda Dorey, Karen Frost, Nancy Hann, Donna Healy, Mary Ellen Hevey, Diane Kellely, Cathy Larivee, Carol Larivee, Darlene Lougher, Ellen Platak, Debby Venter, Janet Vel and Kendy West.

Basses - Mark Belliaro, Ronald Brown, Dennis Gilha, Keith Gradow, Boyd Halsteadman, Greg Harlan, Peter Hoard, Russ Herbert, David Holmes, Steven Ide, Jed Kravacki, Eric Mann, David Nevin, Mark Purcell, Mark Silbery, Curt Siggler, Rick Taylor, Stanley Wojcicki, David Whitehouse and Gary Zito.

The group has a busy year ahead of them, as usual, commented Miss White. Some of the upcoming dates are October 23, when they sing for the 50th anniversary of the Parkside in Manchester, October 24, United Nations Day and November 3 when they will sponsor the annual Talent Show.

They will also perform for the Thanksgiving Service sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches and November 7 in Hartford at the South Congregational Church for the anniversary celebration of the United Women's League.

This group performs many worth while concerts throughout the year which help to unite the youth with many other groups. For this, we wish to thank not only Round Table, but Miss Patsy Ryan, Lee Snuffer, Neil Snuffer and Curtis Wiley.

The High School World

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13 VOL. XXXV, No. 4

School Can Be Fun

At least 90 per cent of the non-zombie population of this high school have at one time or another compared it to a concentration camp or prison or the like. I cannot plead innocent to these charges myself. But, the truth is, Manchester High School is not as bad as most make it out to be.

With the new 'open campus' system and the liberal dress code, school does not have to be the horrendous experience it becomes for hundreds of MHS students. If you used your imagination, you could even make it fun.

For instance, don't get tied up in that annual ritual of 'soredom' that comes from repeating the same schedule for 180 days of the year. Even the most boring, mundane schedule in the world can be brightened up; all it takes is a little originality and a lot of guts.

For instance, say you have sixth period lunch and gym school as crazy as spending a study hall in a tree. But don't let something get you. There are many ways you can enjoy it if you try.

Cross Country Leaps On At MHS

The MHS Cross Country team is having a very successful season this year with a 5-1 record in CCIL competition. With three more meets to go the team is guaranteed a winning season.

Manchester is led by team captain Jeff Geyer, who has taken a first place in every meet this year. Jeff's best time on Manchester's course of about 3 miles is 16:31. That is a record for the new course.

Usually following Jeff's pace are sophomores Scott Moffat, Dave Lemieux, James Crafty and senior Jeff Bay. These boys often finish in the top ten places. Manchester's only defeat has been to Platt. Jeff Geyer broke the school record in that meet but Platt followed right behind him. The final score was Platt -

Editorial Library Closed...

Throughout the years, the library has never seemed a high point in student life. I'm even willing to wager that there are some who have never set foot into it. During the day, it isn't likely that more than 10 to 15 people will occupy the seats from one period to the next. This is not to say that the library is not serving its purpose.

Club Revived

By a very good showing at the last meeting the German Club was revived. Those of you who are interested in joining the club should plan to attend the meetings and bring a dollar for your dues. This dollar, incidentally, will not be lost to you. On homecoming bus trips, students who have paid their dues, will get a dollar off bus fare.

And The Band Plays On

When people think of high school football games, they think of the weather and the football players that worked so hard to perform in front of paying spectators. The football players get all the glory of the football games, but little do the onlookers know of the other performers who try to catch their eye. The high school band is the one who is missing.

Plant Thief Has Impeccable Good Taste

STORRS, Conn. (AP) - Plants valued at $2,000 have been stolen from a University of Connecticut greenhouse over the past six months, most since classes began last month, security officials report.

Dr. Howard W. Pfeiffer, associate professor of biology, said some of the plants were irreplaceable and had been the subject of years of research. New specimens would require trips to Latin America and the Far East, he said.

The most recent theft occurred Monday night and included two half-dozen large rare tropical plants valued at several hundred dollars.

Pfeiffer said the flowering plants might have a great deal of value as ornaments in someone's living room... but the irreplaceable ones were the most valuable. He said the stolen plants were "well chosen... we think it's somebody who knows what he's doing. He's got impeccable taste."

Costumes Get Star Billing In Fashions

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Kennedy, who was at the preview, particularly praised Shangri-La suits for men star billed in the week's California Fashion Creators showings for next spring and summer.

The description applies to dozens of looks - from the classic blazer suit to boutique nostalgia outfits to movie costumes from the new musical "Lost Horizon."

To the "new faces" of West Coast fashion, young boutique firms as W.W. Duke and Gunne Sax, costume means a look of the past. Gunne Sax specializes in long Victorian fluffery with nuton sleeves and apron fronts.

Each shirt has a legend of ancient peddlers who made their cloaks from scrap. Miss Davis handles a colorful and neat lot of scraps, but panels of varicolored cloth, patchwork, strips, plaids and gingham.

Editorial 'Good Morning'

Most of the students of MHS have no idea how frustrating it is to bring matters of great consequence to the attention of the student body.

The major purpose of homework is to gather students to listen to the daily notices; however, many classes have deteriorated to the point where it is impossible to hear the announcements over the noise.

Also, I believe the importance of listening is not stressed strongly enough by teachers. Club members advertising upcoming activities, and announcers who must come to school 20 minutes early to tape the notices, are performing services which are much more to us than they deserve five minutes of your time.

So unless you don't mind mindless deadlines and the latest news, SHUT UP!

Harold Feats Crosses The Street

harold feats crossed the street. Harold is a student teacher at the South Congregational Church. He has been teaching physical ed. classes, and helping Coach Danielson with the soccer team.

Prom Plans Under Way

The Junior Class has started planning and arranging for the November 11 prom. "Moonlight and Bop" Barbara Goodman has been chosen chairman of the prom. All committee chairmen have been chosen and are anxiously getting ready for that big night.

The committees and their chairmen are the Decorations Committee - Kim Mandy and Nora Agostini; the Publicity Committee - Lisa Silbery and Lorraine Roberts; the Ticket Committee - Kathy White and Cathy Larivee; the Social Committee - Holly Franklin; and the Program Committee - Karen Miskunas.

All acts are welcome, from the Great Grasshopper and his singing fleas to Little Long John's musical snails.

Tolland Board Tables Fund Transfer For Athletics

Faced with two alternatives, either to appropriate more money to run a complete athletic program, or to eliminate substantial parts of the program for lack of funds, the Board of Education Wednesday night tabled a recommended transfer of $21,711 from the teacher aide account to cover the athletic deficit.

The athletic department budget was drastically cut as a result of the over $450,000 school budget cut, leaving only $3,000 in the account. All but $288 of the budget will be eaten up by transportation costs to get the teams to previously scheduled games.

According to Dr. Kenneth MacKenzie, superintendent of schools, the athletic department will still be short of funds after the transfer which he recommended, but no other Ryan, raise to the departments budget will be made.

Dramatists Spattered In Debut

By JUNE TOMPKINS In the sense that a vehicle is commonly thought of as a car of some kind as well as an art form or device used to convey an effect, the first performance of the Tri-Town Players in "Any Wednesday" spattered along for four scenes and two acts and finally just about made it. Like a spouting vehicle that needs a good charge of energy to keep it going, the vital portrayal of Sharon Wilson's Dorothy Cleves was the high voltage that kept the vehicle rolling.

Fire and terror. The words become synonymous. That sudden uncontrollable blaze can threaten lives, consume forests and wildlife, destroy a business. Completely. Irrevocably. It could have been prevented—with care. The mundane, everyday breeding areas for fire—litter and unremoved trash, inadequate wiring, cigarettes and campfires left smoldering—could be eliminated. Unexpectedly, fire prevention and anti-pollution become synonymous, too. Both affect our environment, the quality of life.

The goal is clear. The path to that goal is within each person's scope. The hazards of fire and pollution—at home or at play—must be removed. Care and concern is everyone's job. Going about the job is everyone's obligation. It is no longer a matter of choice. It's a matter of survival. Our lives are at stake.

FIRE PREVENTION IS EVERYBODY'S JOB

Nixon Budget Control Plan Rejected

District Primary Monday

Registered Democrats in the three-town 5th District will cast ballots Monday to determine who will be the party's candidate for state representative.

The polls in the three towns will be open from noon until 8 p.m.

The Army announced Thursday the signing of a $760,000 contract with Artistic Caterers, Inc. of Boston which will provide mess attendant services at the base.

Critic has continually leveled criticism at Republican Governor Thomas Meskill, ignoring his primary opponent, Thifault has stated his positions and stressed support of labor and industry.

Revenue-Sharing Bill Sent To President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has refused to grant President Nixon's request for unfettered budget-cutting authority in a move that heightened uncertainty about the time of final congressional adjournment.

The defeat for Nixon came Friday night a few hours after Congress had given him a victory—final passage of the $30-billion five-year revenue-sharing bill he first proposed more than three years ago.

Both the House and Senate planned sessions today in an effort to wrap up final business, adjourn the 92nd Congress, and take off campaigning in home districts.

Snarls on major legislation made the prospect of adjournment today—the legislators' target—an off-again-on-again situation.

The revenue-sharing bill was thrown into a House-Senate conference committee to resolve differences after the Senate approved amendments restricting the authority Nixon sought.

The House had passed the measure in the form he requested.

By a 46-28 vote, the Senate approved exemptions and limitations to the authority Nixon had requested to hold federal spending to $250 billion in the current fiscal year.

The President said he needed the authority to avert a tax increase and a new round of inflation.

One of the chief stumbling blocks to adjournment is a massive Social Security welfare bill. Senate-Senate conferees were laboring to reach a compromise on the differing versions passed by each branch.

The revenue-sharing bill, passed by the Senate 59 to 39 and previously passed by the House, provides for grants to state and local governments to use largely as they see fit.

One-third of the funds will go to the states and the rest to cities, counties and townships.

The program is retroactive Jan. 1 of this year and, within a few days of the President's signing of the bill, the Treasury is ready to start the money flowing.

One provision in the bill, strongly protested by some senators, places a $2.5-billion annual ceiling on federal grants to the states for social services for welfare recipients and potential recipients.

Some states will lose more social services money than they will gain through revenue-sharing.

Restrictions on the discretionary authority Nixon requested to hold down government spending to $250 billion through June 30 were written into a bill temporarily increasing the federal debt ceiling to $463 billion.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Iowa, was adopted by the Senate but he was unwilling to transfer Congress' power over appropriations to the chief executive.

But the House, when it passed the debt-ceiling bill earlier in the week, gave the President authority to hold back appropriations as he saw fit in order to keep spending down to $250 billion.

Jordan's amendment provides that no appropriations could be withheld by the President for interest on the national debt, veterans benefits and services, Social Security, Medicaid, public assistance grants, social service grants, food stamps, military retirement, and judicial pay.

It also provides that no program or activity could be cut more than 10 percent and that cuts must be distributed proportionately rather than at the expense of one program over another.

Vietnam War Issue Dominates McGovern Drive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Democrat George McGovern continues to hammer away at the issue he started his presidential campaign with—opposition to the Vietnam war—while President Nixon prepares to take up the questions of crime and drugs.

With thousands of supporters overflowing San Francisco's Cow Palace, McGovern said Nixon should be held accountable on Nov. 7 for his failure to end the war in Vietnam.

"If we do not hold this president accountable for his own actions in Vietnam, what hope is there of ever having a president who will honor his commitments to the people of America?"
