Piano Duo Play Well

By JOHN GRUBERT
Raymond Hanson and Leonard Seebor, local pianists, were featured last evening at the Bushnell as the Hartford Symphony presented another in its regular series of subscription concerts. Arthur Winograd conducted. The pair sounded very well together. Two-piano work is more difficult in the matter of ensemble than is two-violin work. The piano being a percussive instrument, any difference in attack, even the slightest, is immediately apparent, whereas a violin entering a fraction of a second later than its mate will blend in tone and the difference will be scarcely noticeable.

Eichenberg to Speak In Stairwell Series

Probably the most famous artist in the series of exhibits to date by the Stairwell Gallery of Manchester Community College will have a display of some of his work and speak tomorrow evening. He is Fritz Eichenberg, internationally known graphic artist, educator, and humanist. The exhibit will also include large drawings by Thomas Werle, assistant professor of fine arts at Greater Hartford Community College. The evening will open at 8 in the Hartford Rd. building cafeteria. Eichenberg will speak on "The Artist as an Activist." After his talk, a reception, with refreshments, will be held in the gallery. The public is invited. There is no admission charge. Viewing hours for the exhibition, which will remain until Nov. 24, are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Friday.

In New York City, he drew cartoons, taught, and was commissioned to do wood engravings and lithographs for a number of classics. Many of the prints are now in important collections. In 1966, he became chairman of the department of graphic arts at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N.Y., where he had taught since 1947, and he was chairman of the University of Rhode Island's art department.

Mock Elections Favor Republicans

Republicans won all contests in the mock elections held Wednesday at Rockville High School and Tolland High School with Congressman Robert Steele of Vernon leading the ticket at both schools.

At Rockville High School, the Nixon-Agnew ticket defeated the McGovern-Shriver ticket in a 974-416 vote. At Tolland High the Republican presidential and vice presidential candidates defeated the Democratic candidates in a 202-114 vote. At Rockville, 15 votes were cast for the George Wallace candidates and at Tolland, six votes.

South dealer North-South vulnerable Opening lead—Two of Hearts

West opened the deuce of hearts, and declarer finessed with dummy's jack. East took the king of hearts and returned a heart to dummy's ace.

Without giving the matter much thought, South went after the clubs. West refused the first two club tricks, and South went up to his danger. He led the king of diamonds and then the queen of diamonds. West refused these tricks also.

The rest was easy for the defenders. West took the next ace that was offered to him and led a third heart to the queen. After much sweat and toil, South wound up with two tricks in each suit. This left him one trick short of his contract.

Bolton Finance Board Denies School Wing Request

By JUDITH DONAHUE
(Herald Correspondent)

The Bolton Board of Finance has refused to approve a request of $875,000 for the addition of a cafeteria-auditorium at the high school, thus preventing the matter from coming to a town meeting again.

At its meeting Tuesday, the board voted 5 to 0 to deny the request mainly on the grounds that the townspeople have already said "no" to the project four times in the past decade, most recently in July.

The July 10 referendum seeking approval of preliminary plans and an appropriation of $615,000 was defeated by 13 votes.

At that time, school board members, who had hoped to present the matter to the town during the spring, expressed disappointment with the 30 per cent voter turnout and felt that poor turnout was an essential factor in the addition's defeat.

For this reason, the board felt that the item should be presented to the town again when a more representative vote could be obtained.

Lawrence Associates, the architects who prepared the plans, have explained that the estimate has decreased from $615,000 to $575,000 on the basis of current building-cost information supplied by the state Bureau of School Buildings. Under current funding provisions, fifty per cent of the total cost would be reimbursed to the town.

Several letters were read from residents urging the finance board to hold another referendum on the addition, and many of the writers were present at the meeting.

Finance board chairman Aloysius Ahearn, who did not cast his vote Tuesday, expressed his support of the high school addition in a lengthy statement which termed the addition "necessary, inevitable and educationally sound." He said it would be "economically unwise" not to let the matter go to the town again.

He stated that he has seen "money go down the drain" in town for such projects as rental of portable classrooms, adding that in some areas the town has been "penny-wise and pound-foolish."

Nothing that all town boards and the town planner have recognized the need for the addition and have endorsed the school project, Ahearn said.

The mill rate is lower than it has been in years, he observed, and the impact on the taxpayers would be minimal.

Legality Questioned
School board member Marilyn Breslow also spoke in favor of putting the item on another referendum and questioned the legality of the July proceedings. She implied that the town meeting prior to the vote was adjourned illegally, since debate was cut off before there was a "reasonable opportunity" for discussion.

Mrs. Breslow also stated that a disgruntled citizen might seek a writ of mandamus which would require the finance board to "show cause" why the school request should not be placed on a referendum.

She said, the school board to educate residents as to the needs for the facility.

There was also some discussion of approximately 20 "lost" votes which were not recorded on voting machines. There are often discrepancies in the number of those who are checked off voter lists and the number of votes actually registered in the machine, which could be caused by machine malfunction, but more probably by persons who are not properly instructed in the use of voting machines.

Finance board members Russell Moonan, Morris Silverstein and William Riley all stated the main reason for their disapproval was that the people have already expressed their opinions and they should not be called upon to come out to the polls again to vote on the same plan.

They did not feel the 15-vote margin to be significant, and noted that even if an election is lost by one vote, it is a final election.

They felt the town should have to bear the cost of another referendum, estimated to be about $400.

Silverstein said he would not be opposed to the putting of the matter before the people again if the board could be guaranteed it would not cost taxpayers another cent, and he suggested the possibility of putting the school question on the spring election ballot.

School board chairman Andrew Manegia said that cost estimates would probably increase significantly between now and spring since, according to Lawrence, several major trade contracts are being renegotiated this spring. New contracts will probably mean higher wage scales.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Joseph Castagna added a lighter note, stating that if the cost of the referendum was the only thing stopping the finance board from bringing the question to the people, he personally would sell donuts throughout the town to raise the $400.

Finance board member Levoy Peckham said the cost of the referendum is a "drop in the bucket" when compared with the entire project.

Can We Afford It?
Castagna felt the question for the finance board to consider are "Do we need the addition?" and "Can we afford it?"

Riley's comment was, as far as bonding limits are concerned, the school group during coming budget and negotiation sessions. Finance members declined, however, feeling that attendance at the many sessions would be a great burden on one board member and that the necessary information could be gained through one or two joint meetings between the two boards.

Manegia said he felt a representative at budget meetings could provide the finance people with a true picture of how requests are drawn up, and might help bridge any credibility gap that might exist at budget time.

Vice Chairman
The board appointed Moonan to serve as vice chairman of the board during the coming year.

CD Appropriation
The board authorized the transfer of $189 from the telephone to radio category in the civil defense budget and authorized appropriation of another $50 to enable CD director Richard Quinby to revamp the present system.

Present plans call for the removal of one base station from the CD room at the elementary school to the town hall and for the replacement of an antenna at the firehouse.

Quinby noted that after the initial expenditure of $1,100, the town will save $550 each year, the cost of leasing a telephone tie line.

CD Appropriation
The board authorized the transfer of $189 from the telephone to radio category in the civil defense budget and authorized appropriation of another $50 to enable CD director Richard Quinby to revamp the present system.

Present plans call for the removal of one base station from the CD room at the elementary school to the town hall and for the replacement of an antenna at the firehouse.

Quinby noted that after the initial expenditure of $1,100, the town will save $550 each year, the cost of leasing a telephone tie line.

Liason Request
In other business conducted Tuesday, the school board invited the finance board to appoint one of its members to sit with the school group during coming budget and negotiation sessions.

Finance members declined, however, feeling that attendance at the many sessions would be a great burden on one board member and that the necessary information could be gained through one or two joint meetings between the two boards.

Manegia said he felt a representative at budget meetings could provide the finance people with a true picture of how requests are drawn up, and might help bridge any credibility gap that might exist at budget time.

Ban Leaf Burning

Manchester Town Manager Robert Weiss should take action to ban the burning of leaves.

In this day when the nation is spending millions to protect and clean up the environment, and it is only a token amount compared to what will be spent later, it is idiotic to permit leaf burning in the City of Yvonne Chalm.

It is hard for us to imagine how the State of Connecticut could leave the option of leaf burning to the various towns and cities when there is increased pressure on business and industry toward meeting rigid environmental controls.

Leaf burning shouldn't be permitted. We aren't a scientist, but it certainly could be a health hazard. In addition the burning fouls up the air and is a downright nuisance.

The Vietnam War

The negotiations toward a settlement of the war in South Vietnam have moved from the dead-center state that existed since the Paris talks began several years ago.

The apparent willingness of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to give serious consideration to a "temporary" peace plan is definite progress toward an eventual resolution of the Southeast Asian question.

Being realists, they realize further stalling will not be to their best national interests. The polls, since Sen. George McGovern's "end-the-war" speech, indicate strong support for President Richard Nixon's conduct of the war and his method of ending it. Thus the Communists have abandoned the possibility of a McGovern victory in November and must feel they can make a better deal now with candidate Nixon than they might be able to do with a re-elected Nixon.

If the progress over the weekend bears fruit before or in the days immediately after the election, McGovern must be given some of the credit. His decision to make the administration's conduct of the war and his unilateral peace plan have to his political disadvantage strengthened the President.

With the polls continuing to forecast a Nixon victory it is obvious the McGovern plan, while acceptable to millions of Americans fed up with the war, did not change the views of the majority who continue to support the President.

Thus McGovern solidified the issue to the point where the Communists have begun serious bi-lateral negotiations which could bring about a cease-fire; release of prisoners soon, and a more permanent settlement of other issues next year.

Should this cease-fire come about prior to the election, the President will no doubt reap the political advantage. On the other hand we believe Sen. McGovern, who stands to be the loser, is a winner too in that his political gamble to make the war a major issue paid off for the American people.

It has been said the strength of a political party is often the result of its opposition. This is confirmed by the apparent break-through in the Vietnam peace talk stalemate.

We feel the campaign in polarizing the issue has, in this instance, reaffirmed the viability of the two-party system in which candidates and parties may win elections but the nation comes out the big winner.

The long arduous road of negotiation lies ahead before all the issues are resolved but a start has been made and it would be well for all Americans to cast aside partisanship and unite anew to reinforce our negotiators in the days and weeks ahead. What has been a campaign issue should now become a common cause of a united people desiring an honorable peace.

Against Leaf Burning

Bob Weiss, Director
Town Manager
Board of Directors,
Town of Manchester
Gentlemen:

I strongly object to the burning of leaves. The burning of leaves in our community will present a potential health hazard to many of our citizens.

The following reasons will set off this danger:
1-The burning of leaves and other protein matter will send many allergens into the atmosphere making people who are sensitive and have allergies come down with symptoms of runny nose and eyes, respiratory difficulties, skin rashes, difficulty in thinking properly and depression.

2-Residues left on leaves, after subsequent spraying with pesticides, herbicides, will pollute the air with dangerous chemicals we may not even be aware of, and not determinable. However, the probability does exist and until we definitely know that it does not, we should abstain from burning. These chemicals can combine with the oxygen of the air, by burning, and create a more dangerous chemical than originally starting with.

By functioning as a Registered Pharmacist and practicing in the center core of our community, I see a good cross section of people from all areas coming in to fill prescriptions for their allergies and respiratory ailments. The number of people affected by allergens is greatest whenever there has been burning in the fall time of the year.

At the time when most of us, and the country as a whole, is thinking of cleaning up the environment, you should not be thinking of polluting it.

As an alternative the town should set aside an area, where citizens may drop their leaves and form a natural compost, which in subsequent years will serve as excellent top soil for anyone who would care to pick it up. This would serve as a more intelligent approach to the removal of leaves.

I strongly urge the board to prevent all burning of leaves at any time and thereby protect its citizens from potential harm.

Sincerely,
Michael Dworkin, B.S.
Pharmacist
President of Manchester Shopping Center
Drug Co., President of Manchester Parkade
Merchants Assn.

Let's Use Our Common Sense

To the editor:
May I respond to an Open Forum letter by J. Thomas Johnson?
Mr. Johnson states "If Senator McGovern were President, he would pave the way for the most atrocious blood bath the world has ever known."
May I ask you Mr. Johnson where you have been for the past several years? The blood bath has already occurred and in fact has increased in the last three years to become "the most atrocious blood bath the world has ever seen."

According to the Congressional Record, the Nixon administration, drawing upon the Rand Corporation's study for its basis, predicted a blood bath involving 100,000 victims if we were to leave Vietnam. So we stayed, we stayed to prevent a blood bath.

As a result, over 20,000 Americans have died, over 130,000 wounded, over 500 captured or missing in action. Over 4.5 million Indochinese civilians have been killed, wounded or maimed. Over 1.5 million soldiers on all sides have been killed or wounded, 40,000 South Vietnamese civilians have been killed or wounded. The Phoenix program, a CIA-directed project to eliminate suspected "enemy civilians" is estimated to have killed 197.3 million tons of bombs have been dropped. This last figure has greatly increased in the last few months.

These facts, and more, contrast sharply with the administration's rhetoric of a "potential" blood bath. We simply can no longer allow the "fear of a future blood bath" to blind us from what is going on today. So Mr. Johnson let us end the blood bath argument and see it for the hoax that it is.

Let's use our common sense for a change and in the name of God let's show that we have a conscience.

Capital Fare

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — Back to the dirty work. It would be easier and more felicitous to sing the praises of that military miracle, the American post, but the one must pretend to sterner stuff. There is no way successfully to pretend that Nov. 7 is just another tedious Tuesday.

If Richard Nixon blows this one, Congress should pass a law prohibiting the publication of polls and, indeed, any attempts in the press or on radio and television to predict the result of a Presidential election. Nixon can not lose — and yet there is that nagging suspicion that he will lose.

By any standards, George McGovern's campaign has been a catastrophe. Every poll shows him trailing Nixon. Dick Scammon, former Census Bureau head, whose credentials are impeccable, says McGovern will win only the District of Columbia, an exercise in soothing that would be hosted down if uttered by an ordinary observer of the sheep's misdeeds.

Unless Scammon has been bugging heaven, he's got to be wrong on that one. McGovern must do better, if only because of the innate perversity of the electorate. But barring a nationwide conspiracy to commit barfed perjury against the pollsters, it's hard to see how the South Dakotan can do much better.

Even his state apparently is numbered among the undecided neighborhoods. McGovern is the victim of a mass desertion by the voters, or, was he never the viable candidate he seemed? Almost from the moment he announced his candidacy two years ago, California had been considered one of the few states in which he stood an excellent chance. Yet the latest California Poll, operated by the polling genius, Mervin Field, says Nixon is leading McGovern there, 50 to 36 per cent.

Moreover, Field's findings give Nixon a much bigger lead than reported in his poll of early August. At that time, Nixon was ahead by only eight percentage points — 49 to 41. By this date, almost every observer capable of adding two and two and getting four had expected McGovern to be closing the California gap.

Hurry-Up Tanaka Tonic for Japan

By BRUCE BOSSAT

Improvement of U. S.-Japanese relations has a better prospect with faster decision-making, than Japan's new Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka may very well be good for us.

His slowness to be much quicker at decisions than the Japanese people are accustomed to, is a handicap that is weighing and considering endlessly until a decision sort of comes into being instead of being made.

When economic trouble developed over the wide trade gap between our two countries, this slowness was a serious handicap to negotiations. Our irritations over it were a factor in the blunt, precipitate action we finally took in mid-1971 to restrict Japanese trade and force currency changes.

Tanaka's quite different makeup made a good impression on President Nixon in his Hawaii meeting. Realistically, hopes should be a little higher than before that deeper inroads can be made into the sticky trade gap dilemma.

Word from Tokyo is, too, that Tanaka is having a tonic effect in his own country. The Japanese often have seen decision delayed so long that the time for action went by without any, whereupon McGovern and his new, quick ways are proving very popular in Japan. It is recognized that he probably will make more mistakes than some of his predecessors, but this does not seem to be worrisome.

The important thing is that the mood of the Japanese today is evidently a good deal brighter than it has been for more than a year.

None of this means a magic solvent suddenly has been introduced into the somewhat stiffened relations between Japan and the United States. A great deal remains to be accomplished. Anti-Americanism still is running fairly high. The Japanese have not yet forgotten what they regard as the rude shocks of 1971, when we applied trade limits and Nixon announced his own trip to China.

Other Editors Say City Schools Act On Drug Abuse

The stepped up effort to halt drug abuse in New Haven's school system makes 49 somewhat for time lost. A few years ago, awareness of the dope threat in our schools was minimal despite the epidemic nature of the problem in this area.

Now, we are glad to see, practical attempts are being made by educators to combat the dope menace that can make their normal work so much more difficult while destroying the health and character of students.

This kind of communication is crucial. It takes the problem out of the realm of theory and into the realm of action. The workshops considered methods by which outsiders are kept out of the schools so they cannot push drug among the students.

In this connection, use of a student's identity card is being considered. It's not pleasing to resort to such checking — certainly it takes away from a free feeling — but if it can protect students, it's worth doing.

The workshops acquainted school personnel with ways to recognize marijuana. Such briefings are increasing awareness of drug abuse on the part of those who are in a position to move swiftly upon recognition of the problem.

By next year, as a result of the anti-dope drive, the extent of drug usage in New Haven's schools will be reported on. A three-year study is now being carried out, with the conclusions to be announced next year.

Obviously this makes the question of Japan strengthening its own armed forces a more crucial matter, and it will be hotly debated in the months ahead. Popular feelings against a bigger, tougher army continue to run strong in the aftermath of World War II, and the question will be very difficult.

While the withdrawals of Atlanta is disappointing and a setback to those promoting greater use of the big airfield, Bradley will continue to grow. The aviation industry is expanding in the Southeast, Boston, Kennedy and Laguardia in New York have long been jammed.

Efforts to build a third major New York Metropolitan field have run into nothing, but opposition. Attempts to construct a major airport in the New London area have leveled off.

Bradley is too far from Boston and New York to be more than a partial solution to the congestion at Logan and Kennedy. Traffic at Bradley will increase as more people fly for business and pleasure and as flights to all sections of the United States become known.

Travelers generally have more confidence in scheduled airlines than in charter carriers. Bradley will not be the less of a problem if it continues to serve more people going more places. Atlanta's cancellation is a short-term setback for a long-term prospect.

South Windsor Football Field To Be Dedicated To Shepard

At 1:30 p.m. Saturday, the newly completed football field alongside Wapping Elementary School will be dedicated to the late Jean E. Shepard and will then be known as the "Red Shepard Memorial Field."

The dedication speech will be made by Mrs. Cle Decker, Board of Education member who, as liaison to the board for the football program, was instrumental in having the work on the new field completed by volunteers and made available for South Windsor High School's first season in conference football.

On hand at the dedication will be Edward Heardon, Robert Davin and Peter Nicholas, members of the South Windsor Boosters Club who, along with students and faculty members, took an active part in rededding the field this year.

Guest of honor at the dedication will be Mrs. Shepard, wife of the late humanitarian.

Students of the school will be on hand to receive the dedication. The price is all transportation from airport to hotels and returns, and first class accommodations at the Tourtel in Munich, based on double occupancy. Travelers will receive continental breakfast, lunch and dinner throughout their stay in Munich.

Fashion Show Tickets
Tickets are available for the St. Margaret Mary's Ladies Guild annual Fashion Show "Fall Fashion" and may be obtained from Mrs. John Patrick of 68 Mountain

Memorial Rites Set For John Wild

Hebron Building Permit Case Must Go To Hearing

Judge Lake F. Martin of the Court of Common Pleas in Rockville ruled yesterday that the case of Don Robinson vs. Hebron's building inspector, Richard Keefe, regarding failure to issue building permits for two family dwellings, must come before a court hearing.

Attorneys for both sides argued in court yesterday the point of quashing (suppressing) a motion to bring the case to a court hearing. Regulations pertaining to duplex houses in Hebron were suspended in January just after Robinson had presented preliminary plans to the Planning and Zoning Commission for a proposed subdivision of two-family houses on his property on Rt. 8.

Attorney Jerome Walsh, representing Robinson, argued that the zoning by-law which the building permits, has no right to suspend regulations and the building inspector failed to perform his duties.

Attorney Arthur Barrows, representing Keefe and the PZC, argued that the zoning by-law duplicates is only temporary until the new town plan is approved.

After the session had adjourned Judge Martin met with the attorneys from both sides and ruled that the case must go to court. A date for the hearing is expected to be set within the next two weeks.

Attorney Discusses Land Trusts At Tolland Meeting

"Land trusts are vehicles for action, involving educational and participatory programs, and young people in the community," Attorney Russell Brennan told an audience of about 35 people attending last night's open membership meeting for the Tolland Land Trust.

An acknowledged authority on land trusts in the state, Brennan explained the principles of a land trust and offered valuable hints and suggestions for goals to be reached by the fledgling trust.

He warned of the urgency involved if land is to be preserved now, for future generations, before it is overrun by development. "No one is going to stem the tide of land development in Tolland, except you."

Land trusts accomplish goals by private means, that government would otherwise have to do, according to Brennan, and are generally welcomed by towns. To date land held by a land trust is exempt from local property taxes.

The land trust was formed by a group of residents several months ago, and is financed initially by a Ford Foundation grant.

The "Old Fashioned Bazaar" in the Parish Village, is being held tonight and tomorrow by the Women's Fellowship of the United Congregational Church.

The Parish Village theme features shops representing historical landmarks of the town, reflecting the church's 250th anniversary this year.

Among the sites represented are the Old Blacksmith Shoppe; Meacham's Pond; Donkeyville Cotton Mill; Candie Beam; and Crandall's Gist Mill. The event will be held in the Religious Education Building of the church tonight from 7 until 10 and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Cider and donuts will be available Friday evening and coffee and donuts all day Saturday. Lunch will be available Saturday from 11:30 until 1:30.

Grange Wines Award

The Tolland Grange won a third place award in the state grange rankings for its community betterment program, which includes the recycling program and the establishment of a scholarship for a graduating student at the high school, interested in ecology.

McCoy Chairman Of CROCO Unit

Vernon Mayor Frank McCoy has been named chairman of the Capitol Region Council of Governments (CROCO) transportation committee, CROCO Chairman Richard Blackstone, East Hartford mayor, has announced.

McCoy's appointment, effective immediately, also makes him chairman of the CROCO-sponsored Interagency Transportation Task Force, which is presently assessing transportation problems, programs, and priorities for the Capitol Region.

Mayor McCoy, in his first statement as committee chairman, said two things are needed to sustain transit service and improve transportation facilities in the region: First, a commitment by the state transportation department for necessary support of mass transit, and second, a coordinated effort by all agencies involved to develop a unified approach to solving the region's transportation problems.

Mayor Backs Bonding For Filter Plant

Manchester Mayor John Thompson, recognizing complaints from West Side residents on the quality of town water, Tuesday night supported a proposed $650,000 bond issue to finance renovation of the Cooper Hill Water Treatment Plant.

In prepared statement, Thompson recommended the renovation which will include facilities to treat the taste and odor problems.

The proposed bond issue is a referendum question on the Nov. 7 voting machines.

The source of taste and odor problems, Thompson said, have been pinpointed at the Cooper Hill facility. The town's Love Lane well, at one time suspected of drawing inferior water, is apparently not the source of the problem, Thompson said.

The renovations, Thompson added, can be financed without an increase in water rates.

It is also important to remember that this expenditure cannot be funded from general taxation—therefore, it will not increase the tax rate," Thompson said.

The treatment plant was constructed by Cheney Bros. more than 50 years ago, and the facility was designed to improve water quality to better suit Thompson's manufacturing process, Thompson noted.

Francis J. Mahoney Democrat

State Rep. Francis J. Mahoney is serving his second term in the General Assembly. He served four years as Manchester mayor and was on the Board of Directors. He is employed at Hamilton Standard in Windsor Locks as a program scheduler.

He resides at 19 Hamlin St. with his wife, the former Lucille Murphy. Both are Manchester natives. Mrs. Murphy was born on the street where they live. The couple has two married daughters and three grandchildren.

Mahoney is a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Elks and the British American Club, is an incorporator of Manchester Memorial Hospital, member of the Manchester Charter Revision Commission, and head of the West Side Oldtimers.

In the General Assembly, he is clerk of the appropriations committee and is on the human rights and opportunities committee, state and urban affairs committee, and labor and industrial relations committee.

Mayor Sets Office Hours

Manchester Mayor John Thompson will conduct his regular office hours Saturday, Oct. 28, from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Municipal Building, 41 Center St.

Any residents are invited to meet with the mayor and groups of citizens are also welcome.

Interpretators Required At Polling Places

HARTFORD (AP)—U.S. Atty. General John N. Mitchell said state officials that federal law requires the use of interpreters at polling places where voters don't understand English.

"The failure to provide such bilingual assistance, wherever appropriate, would clearly appear to violate the Voting Rights Act and the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution," Jones said in a letter to Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer.

"We believe that the obligation is clear to provide at least one bilingual official from each party in all election districts where there are non-English speaking voters in all but the most insignificant amounts," said Jones.

Mrs. Schaffer sent copies of Jones' letter to all registrars of voters.

Conducting Workshop

Thomas R. Lewis Jr., assistant professor of geography at Manchester Community College, is conducting a workshop, "Preparing Behavioral Objectives for College Geography," at the annual meeting of the National Council for Geographic Education. It is being held today through Saturday in Milwaukie, Wis.

Since joining the MCC faculty in 1969, Lewis has taught an introductory geography course; and has worked on the development of alternative learning methods, particularly the audio-visual-tutorial method by which the student learns at his own pace through a combination of instructional techniques.

He has written and lectured about geographic education for elementary, secondary, and college teachers. His articles have appeared in "Journal of Geography," "The Professional Geographer," "The Social Studies," and "The Bulletin of the Connecticut League of Historical Societies." His personal project, a history of the old South Manchester Railroad, is nearing completion.

As advisor to the MCC Travel-Study Club, he accompanied a group of students on a field trip to Bermuda last spring.

Before coming to MCC, Lewis taught geography at Pennsy High in East Hartford, Eastern Connecticut State College, and Rutgers University.

Hi Neighbor!

Because of the nature of this ad, we should entitle it "THE NAKED TRUTH" BARE FACT 1:

The casual atmosphere, the congenial employees, the complimentary refreshments may appear to the casual observer as the outward trappings of simple, homespun merchants who really don't care if you buy anything or not as long as you enjoy yourself. Don't kid yourself! We care!

BARE FACT 2: Neither we nor our merchandise are 100% perfect. Because the merchandise is not 100% perfect, we sell it cheap, and because we are not 100% perfect, we try extra hard to make up for our shortcomings... We offer a stronger guarantee (satisfaction—or your money back... no strings!).

BARE FACT 3: We run a bargain store. We think it's the best bargain store in New England. We check... re-check... and double check... to be sure that every item is a genuine, bona-fide "good-enough-to-brag-about" bargain. We're sure that every single price (we've got 14,931 different items—you're welcome to count them if you don't believe it) is the lowest price in all New England. If we goofed... if you find the same item for less money... we'll appreciate the information and refund more than the difference.

BARE FACT 4: In order to save a lot, you have to suffer a little!... Like no credit cards or charge accounts... no matter who you are or who you know... and no free delivery... and sometimes you have to crawl over cartons or squeeze through narrow aisles, so don't wear your best clothes.

Bill Cotter's strong protest to President Nixon last winter insisting that he correct the failure of his administration to halt rising food prices, was among the first and most forceful, and prompted many more Congressman into action. This protest caused the administration to confront major food suppliers and resulted in lower food prices, if only temporarily.

"As any wage earner and his wife what they think of the wage and price control program. He will tell you his wages are controlled and she will tell you the prices she pays for food, electricity, telephone, rent and a host of other items are not controlled.

"Figures from the Price Commission and Pay Board substantiate the charge that the Republican's New Economic Policy" has done little to halt inflation but has been very successful in freezing the wages of millions of workers.

"I have continually objected to the Republican administration's unfair approach to wage-price controls. I have recommended action that should be taken to roll back the astronomical rise in food costs, curb the automatic approval of utility rate increases averaging 10 percent or more.

"I have insisted that the American consumer be given the same break the Republican Administration is giving big business.

"If the Administration continues to ignore inflation, then I will lead an effort in Congress to write strong legislation to combat it."

and sign the agreement on Oct. 31 in order to end the war and restore peace in Vietnam," the statement said.

Hanoi ridiculed the "claim of so-called difficulties in Saigon," calling it "simply an excuse which the U.S. side borrows to postpone the realization of those matters on which the United States has already given its promise."

The North Vietnamese statement gave this account of the recent peace negotiations:

Hanoi submitted its proposal for a cease-fire and election of a coalition government to Kissinger in Paris on Oct. 6, when the American began five days of secret talks with Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo.

The United States indicated its satisfaction with the proposal and agreed to this timetable: bombing of North Vietnam to stop Oct. 18, representatives of the two sides to initial the peace agreement in Hanoi on Oct. 19 and Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh of North Vietnam to sign it in Paris on Oct. 26.

On Oct. 11, Kissinger's fourth day in Paris, he proposed—and the Nixon tapes and film clips for the quasi-debate.

McGovern said he did not know when the program would be shown.

The format had McGovern responding extemporaneously to Nixon's statements on the war, the economy and other issues. McGovern said the Nixon films were chosen in an effort to fairly represent the President's positions, "with leant over backwards not to pick things that make him look bad," he said.

McGovern was to campaign later today at the University of Iowa, in Ames, then in Sacramento, Calif.

In California, McGovern dealt again with the issue of school busing for racial balance, a dominant issue in the Michigan campaign.

"There isn't anything either Mr. Nixon or I can do about that issue here in Michigan," he said. McGovern said busing is a matter for the courts, not the President, to settle.

At a rally at a suburban high school, McGovern repeated a pledge that the first Supreme Court appointment he would make as president would go to a woman.

The retail value of items vandalized Monday at W.T. Grant Co., the Manchester Parkade is nearly $4,000, Manchester Police reported today. Damages reported at six other Parkade stores amounted to about $3,800.

Manchester Police detectives are continuing to investigate the vandalism, which occurred in mid-afternoon Monday.

Detective Capt. Joseph Sartor said he is keeping in touch with police in Vernon and Enfield, where similar incidents have been reported this week.

The damages done at Parkade stores Monday involved slashing of clothing and furniture, razor blades, and spilling of paint or ink on clothing and rug, police said.

Approximate values of damaged goods at the seven Parkade stores, according to police, are:

- Batterfield's department store — leather coats, $1,400.
- W.T. Grant Co. — furniture and clothing, $3,940.
- Davidson & Leventhal Inc. — fur coats, $800.
- King's Department Store — coats, $250.
- Martin Ltd. — men's coats, $900.
- Seal's Department Store — clothing, rugs and furniture, $120.
- Treasure City Department Store — clothing, $625.

In other Manchester Police activity, Edward S. Adams, 46, of 31 E. Maple St., was charged Wednesday with evading responsibility for injuries suffered in an 11 a.m. accident on S. Main St.

Police said the Madox car was in collision with a vehicle owned by Carl Everett of 168 S. Main St. Investigation was incomplete this morning.

Polio Epidemic Declared At Daycroft School

GREENWICH (AP) — A polio epidemic was declared by federal officials today at Daycroft School, where a number of students hadn't been immunized against the disease for religious reasons.

Survivors are a son, Stanley Green of South Windsor, 2 daughters, Mrs. Joseph Shary of South Windsor and Mrs. Paul Bielski of Manchester; eight grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 8:15 a.m. at the Callahan Funeral Home, 1602 Main St., East Hartford, with a burial in the St. Cyril and Methodius Church at 9:30. Burial will be in Mt. St. Benedict Cemetery, Bloomfield. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 and Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Wanted: One Lampighter

YORKTOWN, Va. (AP) — The Virginia Electric & Power Co. is to undertake the task today of disconnecting the 34 street lights here, one by one, because Yorktown hasn't paid its electric bill for four months.

York County Administrator William P. Larew asked the utility company to discontinue service because of the overdue bill.

In the past the bill has been paid by the town trustees, but last April they informed the county they no longer would pay it.

The trustees said the county should pay the bill, since it now receives what formerly was Yorktown's share of Alcoholic Beverage Control Board funds — used to pay the light bill.

In a recent census, Yorktown — an unincorporated town — wasn't mentioned as a separate entity, but for that reason it lost its eligibility for ABC funds, which total about $8,000 a year.

Apartment Fire Laid To Arson

NEW HAVEN (AP) — An apartment house fire that took one life and injured five persons Oct. 13 was started by an arsonist, a fire marshal said Wednesday.

Investigators found signs that someone had thrown a highly flammable liquid on the stairway of the wooden building, Fire Marshal Thomas F. Lyden said.

"The speed with which the fire spread indicates it had to be supported by an outside agent," he added.

The body of Clarence Woods, 21, was found in a second-floor bedroom after the fire had been extinguished.

A woman and her two children were hurt when they jumped to safety from a second-floor porch and two other residents also suffered injuries during the fire.

Searchers Continue Efforts

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Two RF4C Phantom reconnaissance planes were to complete a photographic mission today over the southern end of the primary area being searched for a missing light airplane landing House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs and three other persons.

More than 2,000 airborne hours have been logged during the fruitless 10-day search for the plane missing since Oct. 16 on a flight from Anchorage to Juneau.

Air Force Maj. Henry Stocker, search coordinator, said it's "a possibility, an assumption that the missing Cessna 310 is in the Sitka area. Stocker said the two jets photographed 75 per cent of the southern portion Wednesday.

Aboard the missing plane were Boggs, 58; Nick Bagch, 40, Alaska's House member; Russell L. Brown, 37, a Begich aide; and the pilot, Don E. Jozz, 38, of Fairbanks.

Stocker said Jozz was known to have used Sitka as an alternative landing site several times when bad weather prevented landings at Juneau. The weather around Juneau was foggy with a heavy overcast on the day the plane disappeared.

Stocker, head of the Rescue Coordination Center at Elmendorf Air Force Base near Anchorage, said 47 aircraft searched Wednesday and reported "no sightings, no incidents, no reports."

Meanwhile, the Coast Guard in Juneau reported it was sending its rescue aircraft back to the Annette Island Air Station, where they normally are based, from a temporary base in Juneau.

Advocates Stronger Wiretap Law

A strong wiretap law "and" a more organized pursuit of the drug and criminal element will be pursued by Thomas Carruthers, Republican candidate for senator from the 33rd District according to a statement issued by Carruthers today.

Carruthers termed the increasing use of drugs in Connecticut to a statement issued by Carruthers today.

While noting that the cost of drug addiction in terms of human suffering and degradation is immeasurable, Carruthers explained that the economic loss traced to drug-related crime in this state far exceeds $2 million weekly. He said that law enforcement agencies have estimated that 70 per cent of all purse snatching, mugging and shoplifting is committed by addicts who need money to feed their expensive habit.

Swift and stiffer penalties for pushers and more rehabilitation centers for addicts would help not only in terms of human suffering but save millions in tax dollars, Carruthers said.

Carruthers said Connecticut's wiretap law, being very weak, is almost useless for crime detection and creates a haven in this state from which underworld leaders may direct and control drug traffic and other criminal activities in this and surrounding states.

"A more organized pursuit of our drug and criminal element is a must for the citizens of Connecticut if we are to maintain our

South Windsor Hornish Reviews Results Of Talks With Citizens

This week's Thursday Night Citizens' Hours held by Town Councilman Robert Hornish to hear opinions and complaints of residents, has been successful for the town, Hornish said, and a request was made to expand land purchases to include land bordering Orchard Hill School property for recreation and open space use.

Hornish was successful in getting a stop sign at the corner of Hillside Dr. and Pleasant Valley Rd. after the matter was brought to his attention. Hornish wrote to Police Chief John Kerrigan and complained of the busy traffic flow near the town recreational park. The sign was installed Oct. 16, he said.

Also asked for were signs depicting a map of the area to be rezoned or projected building plans with the date of the public hearing on the sign included. He said many asked for curtilage of all apartment units in the southwest corner of the town.

A request was made for a traffic light at the intersection of Governor's Highway and Rt. 5 because of considerable traffic

They Seek SPEBSQSA Title

By BETTY BYDER
(Herald Reporter)

"Only a rose give you" are the lyrics of one of their selections...but the Silk City Chorus of Manchester gives much more to all those fortunate enough to be within hearing range of their melodious voices.

The 49-member chorus, comprised of 21 Manchester men and 27 from nine area towns and cities, is a chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., and was chartered in December 1963. The chapter is one of 14 chapters that comprise Division III of SPEBSQSA's Northeastern District. All Division III chapters are located in Connecticut.

Directed by Vincent A. Zito of 240 Woodbridge St., who also directs Mountain Laurel Chapter of West Adams, Hartford, the chorus is currently preparing for competition against 28 other choruses from the Northeast and parts of Canada Saturday in Montreal.

The determined members, all in good voice, have been on double rehearsals, Monday and Wednesday nights, at either the Army & Navy Club or the KofC Hall.

Their serious, nimble-footed director, while adding spurs of humor to each rehearsal, manages to extract vocally just the sound he is listening for, and puts it all together with great aplomb.

It's all eyes on the director, as they laymen musically that "Somebody Mr. Gal" or add a toe-tapping rendition of "Cross That Mason-Dixon Line."

A few smiles cross their faces, as the director, with a "hit me" as he searches for a "certain" sound, or when he stops completely and says, "Gentlemen, what happened?"

Then, of course, there is the shattering blow, when he adds, "You're never gonna make it. But, when they put it all together, they know from the look on his face that he is pleased, and that the sound of harmony coming forth from 48 dedicated men is just what he was waiting for.

Robert Staiger of 31 Bolden Rd., South Windsor, is this year's president, with Robert J. Mortenson of 250A New State Rd., Manchester, vice president. Richard F. Anton of 171 Brent Rd., Manchester, assistant director, directs the group in Zito's absence, and "pitchers" in with his pitch pipe to get the chorus off on the right note.

About the Candidates

U.S. Rep. Robert Steele (R-Second District) will wind up his re-election campaign with a "Steele on Wheels" motorcade through his district's 60 towns from Nov. 3 through 9.

The motorcade, expected to cover 1,000 miles, will enable Steele to visit all the Second District towns which he was unable to get to earlier because of his attendance at the 92nd Congress in Washington.

In addition to announcing the motorcade, Steele headquarters said the incumbent from Vernon is one of four Republicans to win endorsement of the Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO.

The others endorsed by that union were Sen. Edward Brooke and Margaret Heckler of Massachusetts, and Frank Horton of New York.

Rep. William Cotter (D-First District) said Tuesday he has called upon the Nixon Administration to release more than 200 million bushels of wheat now owned by the government.

Cotter said he requested the action after learning that Connecticut bakers are suffering a severe profit squeeze caused by flour price increases. The cost of wheat flour, Cotter says, has increased dramatically because of the massive sale of wheat to Russia.

Carl Zinsner of Manchester, 7.

Republican candidate for General Assembly from the 14th District seat in the General Assembly, has asked for stiffer laws on drug pushers.

Zinsner, saying that a pusher whose drug crime a death in a murder, pledged to introduce a bill that would require that such criminals be tried "in the same manner as any criminal who takes another life."

"It is now time for us to give our police and courts the tools needed to get the pusher and make his punishment fit his crime," Zinsner said.

Ole Decker, Democratic candidate for the 14th District seat in the General Assembly, has applauded recent Congressional action creating the federal revenue sharing program.

Noting that Connecticut will get $66.1 million in revenue sharing funds, Mrs. Decker said it is urgent that the savings be passed on to the taxpayers as soon as possible.

Richard M. Rittenband, First District GOP Congressional candidate, said Wednesday, "There will be an average income tax increase per family in Connecticut of $2,619 a year if Sen. George McGovern's spending proposals are adopted. This would be the highest increase in the country," Rittenband said.

Rittenband called for rejection of the entire McGovern ticket Nov. 7.

They March for St. Jude's

It will be off and walking and collecting, tomorrow through Sunday, for some 1,000 Manchester area young people in the Danny Thomas Teen-agers March to raise funds for St. Jude's Children's Hospital. Town Treasurer Roger M. Negro, Manchester district honorary chairman, pins an official identification badge on a volunteer canvasser. She is Sue Moseley, Illing Junior High student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Moseley, 50 Clyde Rd. Mrs. Anthony Muro of Bolton is county director and a director of the hospital. St. Jude's Hospital will receive 97 per cent of all money collected. The $15 million, non-sectarian research institution treats children afflicted with cancer, leukemia, sickle cell anemia, muscular dystrophy, and malnutrition. The hospital was founded when Thomas, TV and night club entertainer, made a pledge in 1957 at a low point in his career to St. Jude Thaddeus, patron saint of the hopeless.

This is the third year the Manchester Jaycees have run the "Do Something" program. Inspired by President Nixon's Volunteer Action Program, it is a campaign to encourage local residents to help each other. The Jaycees solicit the volunteer needs of various organizations and attempt to fill those needs through the "Do something" program. Some of the volunteer needs to be fulfilled are: Adults to help with group games, instruct in simple arts and crafts and to help with field trips from the M.E.A.D.O.W.S. CONVALESCENT CENTER. Youths can also help at the center by attending to those patients confined to wheel chairs or by entertaining at afternoon gatherings. ### Group Told Of Housing Policy

HARTFORD (AP)—The Real Estate Boards of Connecticut are a vital link in the process that makes better housing a reality instead of a nice, well-intentioned idea, Gov. Thomas J. Meskill said Wednesday. He told the boards of new state housing policy and urged them to "contribute effectively" to the effort to provide adequate housing throughout the state. Those needs, he said, aren't only in the inner cities but everywhere in our state not just in those areas that get the most diligent coverage in our news media.

Whither Cy Young?

Steve Carlton of Philadelphia, right, is a heavy favorite to win the 1972 Cy Young award as the National League's best pitcher, having recorded a league-leading 27 wins and 1.98 earned run average with the last place Phillies. But the American League award is up for grabs. The leading contenders are Cleveland's Cleveland Perry (24-16, 1.92 ERA), below left; Detroit's Micky Lolich (22-14, 2.50), below center; Oakland's Jim Hunter (21-7, 2.04), bottom left; and Baltimore's Jim Palmer (21-10, 2.07), bottom right.

Wills on Waivers, Haller to Phillies

NEW YORK (AP)—Maury Wills, the baseball player who often mentioned as the possible first black manager in the major leagues, was traded to Pittsburgh in 1967 and Montreal in 1969 before returning to Los Angeles. His career batting average was .224.

Wills was best known as a baserunner. In 1962, he stole 104 bases, breaking Cobb's mark of 96. He stole 588 bases in his career.

He is one of the veteran black ballplayers who is often mentioned as the possible first black manager in the major leagues.

Under the major league waiver rule, he can be claimed until Monday, after which he would be a free agent able to negotiate his own contract.

Julian Javier, another veteran infielder, was put on waivers by the Cincinnati Reds for the purpose of giving him his outright release.

Sabres Continue Unbeaten Pace

Young Buffalo Club in Rally To Earn Tie With Boston

NEW YORK (AP)—It was supposed to be the moment of truth for Buffalo's surprising young Sabres.

Surprise, surprise! The Sabres are still unbeaten. The National Hockey League's young Buffalo club rallied for a 2-1 tie against the defending Stanley Cup champion Boston Bruins Wednesday night. That extended the Sabres' unbeaten streak to eight games, and that is some surprise.

Elsewhere in the NHL Wednesday night, the New York Rangers ripped Philadelphia 6-1, Toronto edged Minnesota 4-3 and Atlanta topped California 4-1.

In the World Hockey Association, it was Cleveland, Philadelphia 2 and Ottawa 8, Los Angeles 5.

The Sabres managed just 15 victories last season, lowest total of any NHL club. But they've turned things around this year with five victories and three ties in their first six games. When they rallied for Wednesday's tie against Boston, they moved into a first place deadlock with Montreal in the NHL East.

Yale Alumni Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—Yale, winner of its first four games, ranks among the nation's major college football leaders in both rushing offense and rushing defense.

NCAA statistics disclosed today that the Elis, led by senior Dick Jenson, rank sixth in ground-gaining with an average of 311.3 yards a game. On defense, they rank eighth, allowing just 97 yards rushing per game.

Gilbert Forgot Pain To Spark Rangers

NEW YORK (AP)—When Rod Gilbert arrived at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, he wasn't quite sure he would be able to take the ice for the New York Rangers against the Philadelphia Flyers.

There was an angry red welt on Gilbert's right thigh—a souvenir of Frank Mahovlich's knee delivered in the Rangers' last game.

"I skated around noon and it was pretty tight," said Gilbert. "I wasn't sure I'd be able to go."

But medical science—at least the brand practiced around the National Hockey League—has learned to deal with charley horses of the type suffered by Gilbert.

"First, they froze it, then they gave me a heat treatment right before the game," said Gilbert. "I went out to warm up and it seemed tight. But once the game started, it seem to loosen up very quickly."

Quickly enough for Gilbert to deflect Brad Park's shot for the Rangers' opening goal in a 6-1 romp over the Flyers. It was the 250th goal of Gilbert's NHL career, making him only the third Ranger in history to reach that plateau. The others were Andy Bathgate, the alternate club leader with 272, and Camille Henry, who had 256.

"I deflected it into the net, and I felt pretty good. I'll tell you an early goal like that can make you feel better in a hurry."

Gilbert added an assist on a second period goal by linemate Vye Hadfield and then scored career No. 23 and his seventh this year in the third period as the Rangers blanked the Flyers goal. Bob Taylor with 49 shots while allowing the Flyers only 19.

Other Ranger scorers were defenseman Rod Seiling, with a short-handed goal, Ab DeMarco and Park, who also had a pair of assists. Gary Dorroh scored for the Flyers.

General Manager Coach Emile Francis was prepared to go into the Flyers game without Gilbert.

After all, Rod had missed two days of practice.

"If that's how he comes back from a charley horse," said Francis, "I think I'll prescribe a couple of more of them for him."

Also elected recently at the fall meeting at Springfield College were Bill Olson of Babson College, vice president, and Gerry Friel of New Hampshire, secretary-treasurer.

Waterbury Back in EL

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP)—The Class AA Eastern League will return to Waterbury for the 1973 baseball season after a one-year absence.

The league's board of directors approved Wednesday transfer of the Elmira, N.Y., franchise to a Waterbury group headed by Probate Judge Frederick Mascolo.

Waterbury was a member of the league from 1866 until 1971, when the franchise was moved to Sherbrooke, Que. Elmira was named to replace the team because of the park was inundated by floods. Several games had to be played in Waterbury.

Roy Jackson of Pawtucket, Pa., and Pawtucket Red owner Joe Buzas were re-elected president and vice president of the Eastern League, which also has clubs in West Haven, Reading, Pittsfield, Quebec City and Three Rivers.

Tops in Organization

Steve Boros and Dale McLeyne are the top two players in the Kansas City Royals' baseball organization for 1972.

Sixth Win In Soccer For Bears

The Bennett varsity soccer team got win No. 6, yesterday against a tough Coventry club at Coventry, 2-1.

The Bears played very well despite injuries in previous games.

Scoring first for Bennett was John Paquette and after Coventry had tied the score, Brian Bolduc made the tie-breaking goal to put the Bears out in front and into the victory column.

Bennet now boasts 6-0-1 record.

Best defensively for the Bears were fullbacks Jeff Gorman, Bruce Ballard and Bob Stanley, halfbacks Mario Ortiz and Jim McNickie. Offensive attacks were led by Tony Barrett, Bolduc, Paquette, Tayo Simac and Tim Castagna.

Bennet travels to Enfield Monday seeking win No. 7 against a team which tied the Bears earlier.

Nov. 4 Bennett meets cross-town rival Junior High. The game will be played at Memorial Field.

Hoop Clinic At Central

Central Connecticut's annual Basketball Clinic will be held on Saturday at Kater Hall.

Featured speakers will be Bruce Webster, head basketball coach at Bridgeport; Nick Macarulla, assistant at Providence College; and Dick Percudani, Darien High coach.

Webster will discuss the fast break and the importance of offense, with Percudani commenting on Man-to-Man offenses.

Central Coach Bill Detrick, who serves as program director, indicates the sessions will start with a coffee hour from 8:30 to 9:25, compliments of the Converse Rubber Company, and will conclude at 12:30.

Following lunch, those attending will be guests of Central as the Blue Devil football team meets Gloucester State in a 1:30 game at Arato Field.

The 1973 Volkswagen is still $1999.

While you can see the new 1973 Beetle is still at a nice low price, you really can't begin to see the value until you know what you're getting for your money.

A warranty, for instance, that's twice what you get with any other small car: 24 months or 24,000 miles.

A bargain is a bargain.

But then, we wouldn't be offering it if it weren't for our own legendary resale value. When you compare it with other cars after three years, it makes our $1999* sound absolutely amazing!

Everything adding up to one important point: there's a big difference between being cheap, and being a bargain.

Solons Assess Peace Proposal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"To me this is good news," Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said Thursday of presidential aide Henry Kissinger's announcement that peace in Vietnam is at hand. "I've been for the end of the Vietnam war for years," the senator added. "I'm glad it is ending."

Asked whether the news would help President Nixon's re-election bid, Ribicoff said, "I would expect, if we had a definite peace by election day, this would be a plus for President Nixon. I'm also convinced that if it had not been for George McGovern's making an issue out of Vietnam and pushing it, an agreement would not have been reached at this time."

"It seems to me that an agreement of this nature could have been reached years ago," Ribicoff said. "It is unfortunate that so many lives have been lost in these years."

Ribicoff also said South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu "has no alternative but to give in to American pressure. In the final analysis he is a creature of American foreign policy."

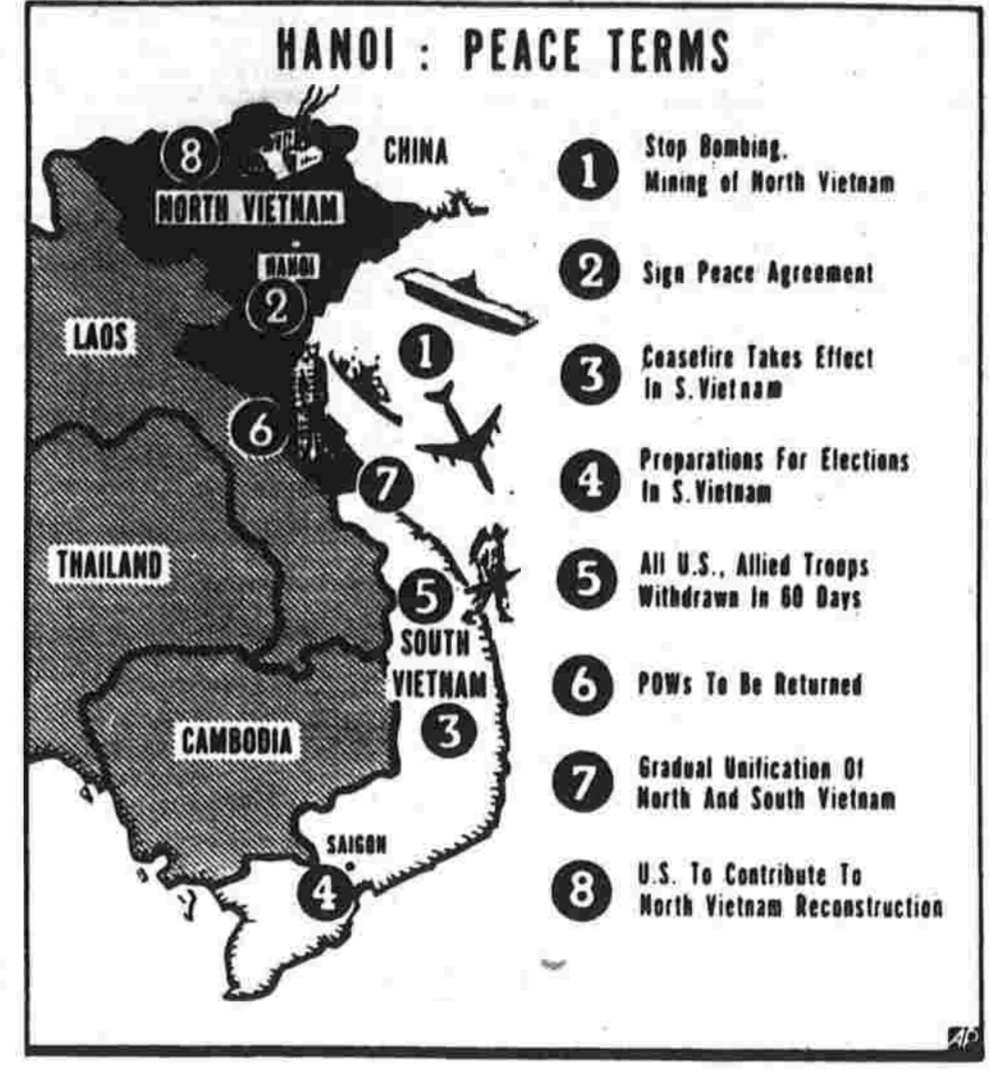

Democratic state Chairman John M. Bailey, asked if the Kissinger announcement doomed the presidential campaign of McGovern, said, "No, I think that George McGovern is very much in the race."

Bailey said he was "very happy" at the news it is near an end.

Rep. Robert N. Giaino, D-Conn., said, "I hope it is so and I hope it comes as quickly as possible." He commended Kissinger and President Nixon for their peace efforts.

Fifth District Congressman John S. Monagan also welcomed "any substantial move toward achieving peace in Vietnam."

"It is not completely clear what

Peace Terms Pinpointed On Map

This map shows the major points, according to Hanoi, governing the peace agreement proposal announced Thursday. The United States has asked for another meeting to clarify minor points in the plan. (AP map)

Peace Prospect Reaction Varied Among Candidates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

On the heels of reports that an end of the Vietnam war is near, President Nixon says 1972 "is perhaps seeing more progress toward true peace than any time since World War II."

But Democratic challenger George McGovern greeted announcements of an imminent Vietnam settlement by asking that the President explain why it took "another four years to put an end to this tragic war."

Responding to statements from Hanoi of a cease-fire agreement and from presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger that "peace is at hand," candidates had this to say:

—Nixon said he is confident the nation can succeed in obtaining

"peace with honor and not peace with surrender. There are still some differences to be resolved. I believe they will be resolved."

—McGovern: "I hope that these reports of a peace settlement prove to be correct... But the question that haunts my mind... is this: Why, Mr. Nixon, did you take another four years to put an end to this tragic war?"

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said he will make no further mention of Vietnam in his campaign speeches. "I don't want to put the administration in the position where some nuncio in what I say will seem to conflict to what Henry Kissinger said."

—Democratic vice-presidential nominee Sargent Shriver: "The United States will realize that this

Peace Settlement Signing Hinges On Final Negotiating Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States waited for a direct signal from Hanoi to open the last round of secret talks that Kissinger promised could bring peace to Vietnam "in a matter of weeks, or less."

The presidential adviser, saying "peace is at hand," said an agreement is within sight, "I think it will be done by the end of the week."

But in Saigon, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu raised questions today about just how near at hand peace might be in Indochina, and North Vietnam also cast doubts on a quick settlement.

In London, meantime, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said that, in line with Kissinger's promise to North Vietnam, U.S. warplanes have halted all bombing operations on that nation north of the 20th Parallel.

Although American mines in Haiphong harbor are included in the U.S. military activities above the 20th Parallel, Laird declined, at a news conference to say when the mines might be deactivated or how long the process would take.

Kissinger said the North Vietnamese were asked last Sunday to set the time and place for setting the ambiguities that arose in the push to meet a Hanoi-requested rush timetable.

Opposes Delay

North Vietnam said today, however, it had rejected prolonging of the negotiations and Washington must bear "full responsibility for the fact that the already complete peace agreement has not been signed."

The statement came in the form of an editorial in the official newspaper Nhan Dan, but it did not mention Kissinger, and it was not immediately clear whether it was a response to his comments.

The statement, broadcast by radio Hanoi, said all conditions of an agreement to end the fighting have been agreed to and North Vietnam is ready to sign the agreement with the United States.

In his first public reaction to the Kissinger announcement, "I heard about the cease-fire on the radio at 3 o'clock this morning," said Spec. 4 Donald McGuire. "I know nothing is signed yet, but when it comes, it will only affect the bombing of Vietnam."

Lawrence, Pablo and many other GIs at this largest American base in Vietnam found it hard to believe that a cease-fire might be imminent. Some thought it was "politician's talk before the election."

"It'll be great if it goes through, but I'll believe it when it

GI Reactions Reflect Change In U.S. Role

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — "I never thought my plans would be screwed up by a cease-fire," said Sgt. Steven R. Lawrence of Portland, Mich.

"Vietnam is better than stateside duty. I work in the PX. You don't have to do anything. I enjoy it, and as long as I've got to stay in the Army I'd prefer to do it here. I just volunteered for another six months here."

The 21-year-old post exchange clerk said he woke up to a broadcast of presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger's news conference and "thought it was still a dream."

Spec. 4 Roy Pablo, 19, of Talofno, Guam, said he would like to spend eight more months in Vietnam to finish out his one-year tour.

"I like it here," he confessed. "We aren't fighting any war at Long Binh. I've never been outside the base, and I've never seen a Viet Cong in my four months here. We get a swimming pool, movies, so what's to dislike?"

POW Return Procedures Outlined

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — American prisoners of war released after an end to the fighting in Vietnam will be flown to one of three processing sites in Guam, the Philippines and Okinawa, it was reported today.

In a copyright story, the San Diego Union said the Defense Department's top official for POW affairs, Dr. Roger Shields, has outlined a procedure under which released POWs will remain in the centers until judged physically able to return to the United States.

"It could be a week, 10 days or longer, depending on his health conditions and the doctors' recommendations," the paper quoted a military official.

A processing center has already been chosen for each POW, the report said. On arrival he will receive a new uniform, any ribbons and medals he has earned and information about his family.

The center will have doctors, chaplains, legal experts, psychiatrists and a friend in the same military branch, the Union said.

The friend will escort the POW by air to the United States, to Travis and Norton Air Force bases in California and from there to military hospitals, the newspaper said.

"We plan to take them to the service hospital of his own particular branch of service that is nearest to his home," a Pentagon spokesman was quoted as saying.

"Air Force patients would go to the nearest Air Force hospital and so forth."

If the hospital is in different city, the military will fly the POW's family there, the Union quoted the spokesman as saying.

Court Order Ends Strike

HARTFORD (AP) — Connecticut construction sites are humming with activity today as striking laborers return to work under the shadow not only of tall steel girders but also a federal court order.

The strikers walked off their jobs Monday in a dispute over a so called union dues checkoff system which contractors claim is illegal.

A guarantee that the laborers would return to work today came Thursday night from Arthur Cole, an international vice president of the Laborers' Union.

He responded positively after receiving documentation of a temporary restraining order from U.S. District Court Judge M. Joseph Blumenthal. The order brought an end to the walkout by some 12,000 laborers whose strike brought to a grinding halt virtually all the state's major construction projects.

Union officials were summoned to appear in court Monday to answer contractors' charges in their quest for a permanent injunction against the strike.

Blumenthal's order followed separate requests by the two major contractors associations, the Connecticut Construction Industries Association and the Associated General Contractors of Connecticut, Inc.

The contractors continued to claim that the checkoff is not only illegal but also that the Laborers' Unit Board in Washington had no jurisdiction recommending it.

Under the checkoff, 10 cents would be deducted by the contractors for each hour an employe worked. This would be paid directly to the union for what it claims would pay the regular union dues for unemployed members.

Contractors say the union only wants the money to strengthen itself.

The contractors and the union have a pact due to expire in March 1973 and under the terms of the agreement, any the employes, Monday's strike was illegal because the pact contains a no-strike clause.

Also, the checkoff system is not in that contract which can't be altered now, said the contractors.
