U.S.-European Talks Next Week

Three Conferences On Peace, Security, Economic Stability

BRUSSELS (AP) — American and European negotiators next week begin three efforts toward peace, disarmament and economic stability in Europe.

The foreign ministers of the Common Market start an attempt in the Hague Monday to reach an agreement on security and economic affairs.

Tuesday in Geneva, U.S. and Soviet representatives begin the second phase of their Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, which are expected to deal with the question of nuclear weapons based in West Germany and capable of striking the Soviet Union.

Potentially the most far-reaching talks, however, begin Wednesday in Helsinki. Representatives of the United States, Canada and 32 European nations, including the Soviet Union, will start the most inclusive talks since World War II to decide if enough common ground exists to make a proposed conference on security and cooperation in Europe worth holding.

Only Albania, Communist China's ally in Europe, has refused to attend, but tiny Liechtenstein — population 29,000 — and the Vatican will participate.

The negotiators also must agree on a time — possibly mid-1973 — place, list of subjects and rules of procedure. This may take months.

The chief U.S. representative is former Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska, now ambassador to Finland.

Some Western countries want this conference made the "godfather" of another on mutual and balanced force reductions in Europe. Preparations for that meeting are due to start Jan. 31.

France, on the other hand, wants to keep away from military matters as much as possible. It will not take part in the January meeting, arguing that big maneuvers will turn down any arrangement the West could accept.

The Soviets have said little about what security measures they would discuss in Helsinki. They are more concerned with getting some general statements that would underpin recent East-West negotiations.

India Moves To Save Its Tigers NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Indian Board for Wildlife adopted the tiger today as India's national animal and announced a massive drive to save the animal from extinction.

Dr. Karan Singh, the minister for tourism, said the drive will begin next April and will cost $7 million.

The national animal has been the lion since 1907. Singh told the board the number of lions in the country had dwindled to 177 and that the king of beasts is found in only one state, Gujarat.

Singh said there were 60,000 tigers in India in 1900. Now there are only a few more than 2,000 scattered over 10 of the 24 states.

Shooting of tigers has been forbidden since last year. In World War II, had no sprinkler system. Besides the school offices, the building contained the offices of town engineer, public works, building inspector, public nurse and sanitation.

Southern U Investigation Under Way

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Edwin Edwards says law officers may have mistakenly fired buckshot instead of tear-gas cartridges at strife-torn Southern University, where two young men were killed during a campus disturbance.

"It's perfectly logical and reasonable," Edwards said Friday, "that one of the officers could have, in all the excitement, fired the wrong kind of ammunition. He may know of it now and not be willing to tell."

Shotgun shells and tear-gas cartridges, Edwards added, are similar in appearance. State police and sheriff's office spokesmen, however, stuck to their contention that officers at the scene fired nothing but tear-gas cartridges.

Three weeks of campus unrest climaxed Thursday morning when a force of sheriff's deputies and state police moved to flush occupying students from the predominantly black school's administration building. The two young black men died in the confrontation that followed.

Two days after the clash, only one of the victims, Denver Smith, 20, of New Roads, La., had been identified. Local, state and federal authorities said they were trying to identify the other dead man.

Autopsies by East Baton Rouge Parish Coroner Hypolite Landry showed both men, who fell at the same time and about three feet apart, had died of buckshot wounds to the head.

Edwards called Friday on the state attorney general's office to investigate the half-hour-long disturbance.

Bennet Boys Bake Bird

Thanksgiving came early for a Bennet Junior High School Thanksgiving class as Mrs. Frances Callahan, Odds are short that they won't be ready to sit down again at the festive board come Thursday. In addition, they will have some carving tips to pass on to Dad, thanks to a demonstration and expert advice yesterday by Frank P. Lattuca Jr., director of hotel and food service management at Manchester Community College.

Here he explains the do's and don'ts of sharpening a serrated knife. The carving finished on the 21-pound turkey, the boys sat down to a meal of mashed white potato, string beans, carrots, apple and apple crunch pie, and homemade vanilla ice cream. Another boys' class will prepare a Christmas dinner. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Several Colleges Plan Protests

By The Associated Press College campuses throughout Louisiana and parts of the rest of the country held or planned various types of demonstrations to protest the slaying of two young black men on the Baton Rouge campus of Southern University.

The two were killed Thursday during a confrontation between law officers and students after students at the predominantly black school took over the administration building.

About 200 persons at Stanford University and at the University of California at Berkeley quietly protested the killings Friday.

"There are no words to adequately express the tragedy of Louisiana," Acting Stanford President William Miller said. "About 30 students attending a meeting sponsored by the Students for a Democratic Society — SDS — at Berkeley voted to urge all UC students to wear black armbands and to call for a moment of silence at today's football game here with Stanford."

A delegation of students from Kent State University in Ohio planned to attend funeral services for the two killed at Southern. During a student demonstration at Kent in 1970, four students died and nine were wounded when National Guardsmen opened fire.

About 40 persons from a group calling itself Youth Against War and Fascism demonstrated outside the offices of the Louisiana Land and Exploration Co. They handed out leaflets blaming the Southern University deaths on "racist Louisiana sheriffs."

At the University of Southern California, Dean Leonard Bonds said he had suspended classes until after Thanksgiving.

Amid forecasts of an unprecedented 90 per cent or better turnout among 40 million eligible voters Sunday, the election still appeared undecided.

Brant skillfully focused attention this week on his popular, Nobel Prize-winning drive for East-West friendship.

Heath Concludes Visit To Belfast

BELFAST (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath's two-day fact-finding tour of Northern Ireland has concluded.

This time, he toured the province extensively, meeting politicians, churchmen, business and labor leaders, students and workers to sample public opinion.

His conclusion, announced at a press conference Friday before his departure for London, was that there has been a great improvement in Northern Ireland since he was last here.

Government sources here believe Britain is slowly winning the war against terrorism. At the height of the violence earlier this year, there were some 70 bomb explosions a week in the province and 50 British troops killed or wounded.

This week, there were about 20 bomb blasts and one soldier was wounded by a sniper.

The Irish Republican Army now admits it is not winning the fight against 20,000 British troops.

Unofficial sources reported the plane was returning to Lexington, Ky., from the Richmond Madison-Trigg County high school football game when the crash occurred.

State police said the plane crashed at Hopkinsville Memorial Airfield before departing. It went down about nine miles north of Elton near Allegheny, Ky. The crash site is about 15 miles east of Hopkinsville.

Evans, 35, was found in his apartment with seven hatch wounds in his head. Medical Examiner George Molnar said death occurred within two days of when the body was found.

Evans was last seen Monday afternoon at the university. He did not show up for two classes on Tuesday.

People earlier said Evans might have known the assailant because there was no sign of forced entry or robbery. And neighbors said they heard no struggle or screams or barking by Evans' dog.

Evans had been at the University of Bridgeport since 1964. He directed the debating team and was considered an outgoing man with good rapport with his students.

His body was sent to Fort Smith, Ark., his birthplace, for the funeral.

Plane Crash Kills 10

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A twin-engine plane, believed to have been carrying 10 persons home from a high school football game, crashed early today at Todd County in western Kentucky.

State Trooper Jim McRae said that as far as police can determine there were no survivors.

McRae said the victims were believed to be from the Richmond, Ky., area, although none had yet been identified.

Todd County Coroner E.P. Latham said when he went to the scene of the crash this morning there were bodies and wreckage scattered over a wide area.

The national animal has been the lion since 1907. Singh told the board the number of lions in the country had dwindled to 177 and that the king of beasts is found in only one state, Gujarat.

Singh said there were 60,000 tigers in India in 1900. Now there are only a few more than 2,000 scattered over 10 of the 24 states.

Shooting of tigers has been forbidden since last year. In World War II, had no sprinkler system. Besides the school offices, the building contained the offices of town engineer, public works, building inspector, public nurse and sanitation.

Firemen did not immediately determine the cause, but said they found a rear glass door shattered. They also reported a structure fire and three grass fires in the same area during the night.

The fire was under control at 6 a.m. Firemen said the building, used as a USO center

News for Senior Citizens

By WALLY FORTIN

Hello everybody! Well now, have I got some great news for you folks. A man representing a Travel Agency walked into my office this past week, and told me he heard that our group liked to travel. I told him it was the understatement of the day as "love" was the word.

He said then, "I'll tell you what I've got" and so here it is. For some time now different people have been asking me about another week trip to an unusual place. This man tells me he has come up with a "honey" and will make at least 40 local seniors to be able to swing the deal. It's to big to give the idea to the Wethersfield Senior Citizens and also Rockville because what he wants to do is to load a plane with just senior citizens.

Yes, I said plane because the trip is to none other than Hawaii. Yes, that's spelled "HAWAII". Now listen to this. It will be an eight-day, seven-night trip leaving Bradley Field on a DC 707 on Saturday morning, April 7, and arriving in Hawaii that afternoon. We will stay at the Ala Moana Hotel, Hawaii's tallest hotel, and is located at the entrance to Waikiki Beach. You'll spend seven big days at this hotel, and once you arrive you'll be more or less on your own to do as you please.

The complete package deal will include round trip air transportation, open bar and meals in flight, deluxe hotel accommodations, let greeting on arrival, round trip airport transfers, welcome cocktail party, a fancy drink and a Polynesian Show at the Hawaiian Hut, taxes, tips for one piece of luggage per person, and your bus fare from our Center to Bradley Field and home again. All this for $980.00 per person (two a room).

This trip isn't until Saturday, April 7, however to assure us space on the plane we will need $100.00 deposit by Wednesday, Dec. 6. The remainder must be paid in full on February 15th, so this should give you a chance to pay some now, and later as we did for our out-of-town friends. Because we will take as many over the 40 people we need, we can take reservations over the phone, or by dropping in, just as long as you'll be sure to have the $100 deposit on or before Dec. 6.

So here's one chance in a lifetime for you all to take a real trip because whenever dreamed that Hawaii was close enough to even think about, and at such a reasonable price. Take the week off, and think about it, then call us at 643-5310 on Monday. We'll take at least two buses, or maybe more, as long as we can fill them. Man, can you imagine leaving Bradley Field in the morning, and being in beautiful Hawaii, taking Hawaii that afternoon, Holy Cow!

I guess I'd better get down off cloud nine, and give you the happenings here at the Center. Last Friday night we had 42 players for softball and the lucky winners were: Floyd Post, 187; Ann Fisher, 125; Ted Rivard, 123; Ann Welskopp, 120; Paul Schuetz, 130; Thomas Murphy, 119; Cora Bow, 118; Bertha Duhring, 118; Mary Nacowski, 117; Slim Duhring, 115, and Michael DeSimone, 114.

By the way this coming Monday we will be signing up for our Mystery Ride scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 29. This is a one day trip and a chance to stop along the way to browse around a bit. Price is $3. This is a one day trip and a chance to stop along the way to browse around a bit. Price is $3.

PRECISE TIMING AVERTS DEFEAT

By Alfred Sheinwold
South coasters will lose three club tricks in today's hand, and he had to time his plays precisely to avoid defeat.

West opened the bidding with 100 clubs, and East overtook with the ace. East returned the six of clubs, and it was clear to everybody at the table that East hoped to overruff the dummy on a third round of clubs.

West led a third club, and South put up dummy's ten of trumps and lead another trump, for West would not be able to cash a high club. Instead, South led his last club and ruffed with dummy's last trump.

East had discarded a diamond, but South looked at the hand and saw an advantage in it. He led out the ace and king of diamonds and continued with another high diamond from the dummy.

Second Step
East ruffed, since otherwise South would discard his last trump for the week.

Resident Appeals Ban on Bees

An appeal to the Manchester Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) brought by Mrs. Nellie Eicholtzer in an attempt to keep bees at her 16 Oak Grove St. property, is scheduled for a public hearing Monday night.

The decision to hear the case again was made by the ZBA last month, after Town Counsel David Barry advised the board that all appeals from orders of the zoning enforcement officer should be scheduled for public hearings Monday night.

Other items scheduled for public hearings Monday are: A variance requested by Elmer Thall, owner of the Manchester Bus Service, to allow parking of school buses on the south side of 184, west of Glen Rd. (Rural Residence Zone).

In May, the ZBA denied a variance to allow school buses parking at the site, the former Boise Cascade Corp. property, earlier the Case Bros. property. The variance was granted by the ZBA in May.

Today in History

Today is Saturday, Nov. 18, the 323rd day of 1972. There are 43 days left in this year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1903, the United States and Panama signed a treaty granting U.S. rights to build the Panama Canal. In 1869, St. Peter's Basilica in Rome was consecrated by Pope Urban VIII. In 1885, 39 women met at the home of Mrs. Silas Lee in Wiscasset, Maine, and organized what is believed to be the first women's club in the United States.

Who Will Guard the Guardians

In these days of traditional politics, not only is everyone complaining about the government, but they are also trying to do something about it. One of the latest things in government reform comes from political scientist Theodore Becker, a professor at the University of Hawaii. Becker proposes that a counter-government be elected to do nothing else but keep track of what the established government is doing.

In a new book, "Government Anarchy and the POGONOGO Alternative," Becker writes that we must "reverse the apparently relentless trend toward a government beyond law that has become the American political tragedy of the 20th century." Becker's evidence for this trend includes unhappily such familiar incidents as the Chicago "police riot" during the 1968 Democratic convention, the Kent State shootings, My Lai and the Chicago 7 Conspiracy trial (his book was written before the LaVelle case and the charges of alleged corruption in the Nixon administration became public). But one doesn't necessarily have to agree with his specific complaints to agree with his basic premise that our governmental system needs help.

His solution is an escalation of the ombudsman system - instead of just one man or a committee performing the watchdog function within the government apparatus, he would create a new parallel government. This would be something like the British "shadow government," in which members of the out-of-power party pick individual government officials and spend a lot of time kibitzing.

Thus, we might have a counter-Secretary of Defense with the legal power, expertise, and access to information necessary to keep an eye on the regular secretary of Defense, or on a local level we could have a counter-police force. Becker's unfortunately flippant term "POGONOGO" comes from "policymaking positive government" and "negative other-government." But when he insists that we have to do something, it is difficult to disagree with him. And even if his counter-government idea is only a starting point from which we can compromise down to something that is less revolutionary but still makes use of the competitive drive this country thrives on, it is an idea worth pursuing.

Inside Report

Roland Evans and Robert Novak

Operation Cowpasture

WASHINGTON - The extent of irreparable losses in the conservative front rank of the House can be traced to the spectacularly successful beginning of a long-range campaign to purge the bipartisan conservative oligarchy that has controlled the House for more than a generation.

The campaign was covertly planned and conducted by the National Committee for an Effective Congress (NCEC), long active supporting liberal candidates in general elections but now deeply involved in primary elections for the first time. Of 21 senior and powerful House conservatives of both parties put on NCEC's "cowpasture list," 14 will not be re-elected.

Not all those scalps can properly be claimed by NCEC. Nevertheless, their two-year drive to send the Congressional barons back to the cowpasture has deep short-range and long-range implications.

For the next Congress, the absence of 14 senior conservatives easily neutralizes the 13 House seats gained by the Republicans. Indeed, the White House privately believes the new House will be less receptive to President Nixon's desires.

For the years ahead, Operation Cowpasture's impact is even more ominous to the conservatives. Encouraged by the success of 1972, NCEC plans to keep pressuring this year's survivors as well as other Congressional oligarchs. In kids who do have to attend these over-crowded and out-of-date schools? Don't we have the right to get the attention we need?

In my hometown there are 33 kids. In science we have to fit chairs to the tables to fit. In home economics there are 16 sewing machines and a capacity of 16 girls in the cooking units. We have 25 girls. Whenever possible we have to use the adjoining room for more space.

We do not have a decent sized gym. The floor of the gym is warped. The track and baseball diamond have not been constructed at Bennet Athletic Field as scheduled. Between the periods it often takes two minutes to get from one classroom to the one next to it because of congestion in the corridors.

Bennet does not have a proper sized library. Illing's ninth grade students are being housed at Manchester High School because of the over-crowding.

Most of the classrooms are so dull looking. They are painted in dull shades of gray. Very few are pleasant looking. The paint is peeling off the walls. It makes a person more cheerful and happy to be in a bright room.

Shouldn't we be able to make education an interesting and joyful segment of our lives? Alison Crofta (8th grade, Bennet Jr. High School) 79 Anasidi Rd. Manchester

'The Only Way'

WASHINGTON - On the same day Justice Department officials began "wrestling" with the question of what charges should be brought against 500 armed and militant Indians who wrecked the Bureau of Indian Affairs building during a seven-day occupation, Ramsey Clark explained how attractive of that kind can happen.

Arguing in a "freedom of information" case, Lyndon Johnson's Attorney General and sometime unofficial ambassador to Hanoi told the Supreme Court "the Ellsberg way is the only way" the public can overcome excessive government secrecy. Clark, of course, was referring to Daniel Ellsberg, who fled the Pentagon Papers and distributed them to selected news media.

The Indians who wrecked about $2 million damage to the BIA buildings, might be said to have anticipated Clark's counsel. They seized thousands of documents, which their leaders said constituted "highly incriminating evidence" on Indian affairs against present and past members of Congress. They took the documents with them or shipped them to Canada when the White House permitted them to leave the building and go home.

It was a sad and vicious incident and, despite the justice of the Indians' brief against the government, some sane judgment should be found to throw the book at them. Yet the nagging question persists: Why shouldn't angry and dangerous redskins indulge in such pillage?

After all, in this case they were only doing what in the past several years has become a way of life among revolutionaries and gaudy variety crazies. What they did was not nice, but it was no worse than what has been done by college kids, black rebels, welfare leaders and an occasional "intellectual." How does the occupation of the BIA building rate on the criminal scale with the seizures and bombing of assorted halls of academe? With the trashing and destruction of public property by black militants and antiwar "activities"? With the bombing-murder of a University of Wisconsin scholar?

The Indians involved have been discovered by Indian leaders as representing only themselves - a tiny minority, "a few urban Indians." Chief Two Hawk, president of the National Tribal Association, which represents the 147 tribes living on federally regulated reservations, was dumfounded that federal officials "allowed this to happen. When we've been consulted with this (rebellion) on our reservations, we've kicked them out. If you and I did the same thing, we'd be in the Bastille."

Probably, but the dissent redskins, with their knives, clubs, guns and Molotov cocktails, were not living all that dangerously. What passes for law enforcement in this curious Republic is not to be equated with that practiced by Indian chiefs, and the building wreckers knew it. They could count on the fingers of only a few hands the malicious nuts who have been haled into court for similar outrages. They were well aware that in this politicized country a mob can get away with practically any malfeasance, including murder, if it claims to represent an "oppressed minority," or a candidate for public office.

No Indian in his right mind would do this," said Chief Roger Jourdain of the Chippewas. "We want them prosecuted. They have been funded by do-gooders and subversive elements." You're right the first time, Chief. But I fear you're also a dreamer. Usually as you hold, our revolutionaries are funded by do-gooders, and the resources of these drawers are unlimited. Besides, there is always Ramsey Clark to remind the would-be guerrilla that it's all the government's fault.

Supports SAM

Dear Sir: In recent weeks, SAM (Summer Activities in Manchester) has been the subject of both commendation and rebuke. As another youth-oriented organization, the Manchester Teen Center would like its approval of SAM to be known. It does, though, seem a shame that this letter has to be written in defense, as well as in support, of this worthy summer program.

SAM, initiated through the combined efforts of town government and concerned, ambitious young people, has proved successful in its first two years. This success can be measured in the number of young people who have participated in SAM activities. It says rock concerts, craft fairs, movies, and summer theater productions have all been well attended providing entertainment for Manchester teens. But SAM is not only an entertainment agency; along with the concerts and fairs, SAM has held summer courses in topics ranging from macramé to guitar instruction.

In addition, SAM, in conjunction with the town, has worked to provide summer jobs for many Manchester teenagers.

After all that SAM has accomplished and provided for kids in Manchester, it seems foolish for some to condemn the entire SAM program for violations of the town ordinance forbidding drinking on public property at the concerts. Those who inspect SAM's record fairly see that the "good" far outweighs the "bad."

SAM has been the topic of regular discussion at meetings of the Teen Center Council. We enjoy their activities, admire their accomplishments, and support their efforts without reservation.

Sincerely, Jeff Stone, President of the Teen Center Council, Nike Cite, Manchester

Disappointed

Dear editor: I am a member of Bennet Junior High School. I was incredibly disappointed when the referendum question referring to the renovation of these over-crowded and out-of-date schools? Don't we have the right to get the attention we need?

In my hometown there are 33 kids. In science we have to fit chairs to the tables to fit. In home economics there are 16 sewing machines and a capacity of 16 girls in the cooking units. We have 25 girls. Whenever possible we have to use the adjoining room for more space.

We do not have a decent sized gym. The floor of the gym is warped. The track and baseball diamond have not been constructed at Bennet Athletic Field as scheduled. Between the periods it often takes two minutes to get from one classroom to the one next to it because of congestion in the corridors.

Bennet does not have a proper sized library. Illing's ninth grade students are being housed at Manchester High School because of the over-crowding.

Most of the classrooms are so dull looking. They are painted in dull shades of gray. Very few are pleasant looking. The paint is peeling off the walls. It makes a person more cheerful and happy to be in a bright room.

Shouldn't we be able to make education an interesting and joyful segment of our lives? Alison Crofta (8th grade, Bennet Jr. High School) 79 Anasidi Rd. Manchester

MANCHESTER PET CENTER

Everyone loves a pet. At least that's what it looks like if you could see the large clientele of pet lovers who visit and patronize the Manchester Pet Center, now located at 9 Maple St. in downtown Manchester—just around the corner from Main. They are in their new and larger quarters, formerly occupied by Lucky Lady Laundromat. There is plenty of drive-up parking at the front door.

Started in 1953 by "Ben" Gozdo, it is now a friendly family business with his wife, Daisy, and his son, Greg, bringing 40 years of experience. Ben believes that satisfying his patrons is the utmost importance; and up to this day, Manchester Pet Center has served over 45,000 customers.

"We stand behind every quality product that we sell. We are Manchester's oldest existing pet shop in continuous operation in this area," Mr. Gozdo says.

He feels that anyone who has a problem should feel free to ask him for advice. "Regardless of where you purchased your products, we still do our best to solve your problem. We feel that your pet problems are ours.

Living at 83 Ralph Rd. in Manchester, also gives us a personal pride, not only in our line store, but also in our lovely town," he says. When the weather is warm or hot, you'll be

Painting Headquarters

If you are a novice at paint-tured by National Lead Co. and ing, ask someone in the Johnson Paint Co. to advise you which kind of paint is best for you to use. There is a paint for every purpose, one designed to stand up and give you the kind of wear that you have always hoped to get.

In these particular rooms in your house that get all kinds of house wear? If so, choose Dutch Boy Satin Eggshell Enamel. This paint has been especially formulated to bring a lovely, lasting appeal to areas that get a lot of hard usage. It resists wear, liquids, moisture and dirt as no other enamel you have ever used. Special alkyl resins give Satin Eggshell a tough film that absolutely will not dull, no matter how many times you scrub it!

Think of how wonderful this would be to paint it and then wash it, time after time without diminishing its lovely color. Then there are these wonderful Dutch Boy flat wall finishes that make a home decorator just long to get a paint brush and start to work.

Thanksgiving Proclaimed
WASHINGTON (AP) — Issuing his annual Thanksgiving day proclamation, President Nixon said Friday that "in an age of too much fashionable despair," the world badly needs to hear America's harvest message: "Take heart! Give thanks!"
Designating Nov. 23 as the holiday, Nixon said in his proclamation:
"At this Thanksgiving time our country can look back with special gratitude across the events of a year which has brought more progress toward lasting peace than any other year for a generation past; and we can look forward with trust in divine providence toward the opportunities which peace will bring."

Peace Talks Monday
WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger, armed with final instructions from President Nixon, will start a new round of Vietnam peace talks Monday in Paris.
The White House announced Friday that Kissinger will fly to Paris Sunday for the talks with Hanoi's Le Duc Tho.
Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler declined to predict if the new sessions would end the lengthy negotiating process. But he said he expected the talks to last for "several days—perhaps longer."
Ziegler said the new talks would be followed by "further consultations with the South Vietnamese and perhaps with the North Vietnamese." And he added the United States "is entering into these talks with a constructive attitude."
"If the other side enters into these negotiations with the same spirit of good will that has characterized these sessions since Oct. 8, we would expect a successful outcome," he said.
Kissinger announced Oct. 26 that a final set of meetings, lasting perhaps three or four days, should wrap up the talks. His announcement came after North Vietnam released details of a tentative nine-point plan for a cease-fire.
Since then, South Vietnam has raised several questions that have appeared to delay final agreement. And North Vietnam said Thursday it will resist any effort to make substantive changes in the original draft settlement.
Kissinger and Nixon met for 40 minutes Friday at Camp David, Md. Ziegler described the President as "providing direction to Dr. Kissinger." He said the two men are in daily contact by telephone.

Peron To Address Huge Mass Rally

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Former dictator Juan D. Peron won approval from the ruling military junta early today to address a mass rally of his followers after 17 years of exile.
The armed forces chief also said the 77-year-old Peron and his third wife, Isabel, could leave the airport hotel where they spent the night and move to a $96,000 villa in suburban Vicente Lopez purchased by loyal Peronists last March.
Peron had protested the massive security measures covering his arrival Friday at Ezeiza International Airport, including an order that limited the welcoming delegation to 300.
Peronist leaders had predicted more than a million persons would go to the airport 30 miles west of Buenos Aires to greet the former populist president who ruled from 1946 to 1955. Thousands tried, forming at least nine marching columns, but they were turned back by some 30,000 troops firing volleys of tear-gas grenades.
One of Peron's first acts was to cancel a news conference scheduled for Friday afternoon, saying he would not meet with journalists before he could "make contact" with his party followers.
Militant Peronists, enraged that they were not permitted onto the airport grounds, charged that Peron was "a prisoner of the army."
Delicate negotiations went on into the early hours this morning between the junta generals at the Presidential Palace and Peron and his advisers at the airport hotel.
Then Brig. Gen. Ezequiel

Martinez, secretary to the junta, told an impromptu news conference in front of the hotel that Peron's demands to address his followers and move from the hotel were approved, with certain stipulations.
He said Peron and his wife could leave for the Vicente Lopez mansion at any time, if they gave the armed forces three hours notice so security could be arranged.
He added the Peronists could arrange a rally but it would have to be in a closed area, such as a soccer stadium or the Autodrome, and authorities would have to be told in advance of the location. The rally could be held after 6 p.m. — 4 p.m. EST — today, he said.
Several stadiums here can each accommodate 100,000 persons.

Killed In New York
SOMERS, N.Y. (AP) — A Connecticut man was killed Friday night when his car went out of control and struck a tree near here, New York State Police said.
Officers identified the victim as Peter Sweeney, 26, of Brookfield. Police said the wreck happened about 7:25 p.m., and that Sweeney was pronounced dead at the scene.

Steinkraus Winner At Toronto Show

TORONTO (AP) — Bill Steinkraus of Norton, Conn., will go out a winner when he retires from international horse show jumping today.
Steinkraus, 45, won the international championship event Friday night at the Royal Winter Fair horse show.
Steinkraus, riding Mainspring, and teammate Neal Shapiro of Glen Jhead, N.Y., aboard Trick Track, were the only riders of 13 competitors to complete two rounds of the grand prix course without knocking down a fence.
In the subsequent jump-off, Shapiro hit a fence and had to settle for second.
Ironically, Mainspring is a Canadian-born horse—but his luck didn't rub off on the members of Canada's team.
"I blew it," said newcomer Liz Ashton, nicknamed the "Daredevil Kid" by increasing numbers of fans.
The 22-year-old Toronto girl, whose strong showing in her first appearance with the Canadian team has placed her second in the show, was the only Canadian rider to have a faultless first round.
Canada's ribbon chances tumbled when the young equestrian was thrown over the head of her horse, incurring an eight-fault penalty in addition to eight more faults for fences down. Miss Ashton was unhurt.

Arrest Guard

WETHERSFIELD (AP) — A security guard at the state Motor Vehicles Department was arrested Friday on charges of taking money and an adding machine from the deputy commissioner's office, state police said.

An investigation began early this month, police said, of small amounts of money disappearing from the desk of Deputy Motor Vehicles Commissioner Matthew Kolva's secretary.

Bids Opened On New State Building

HARTFORD (AP) — An apparent low bid of $2,045,238 was announced by the Public Works Department Friday for a new school and recreation building for emotionally disturbed children at Connecticut Valley Hospital in Middletown.
The low bid was submitted by the F.W. Brown Co., Inc., of Norwich.
The steel-frame building will contain a gymnasium, auditorium and a swimming pool as well as 21 classrooms.

Media Repression Scored By SDX

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, issued a report today condemning "judicial repression of the media" and other governmental actions it said inhibit the flow of information to the public.
"When courts coerce the media with contempt orders, they assume power which they should not," said the report, prepared by the society's Advancement of Freedom of Information Committee.

"When petty, despotic bureaucrats withhold news, when executive privilege is asserted, when legislators confer in secrecy, all are usurping power from the citizens and all are lessening the public's ability to make effective, collective judgments and decisions," it said.
The report, presented to representatives of the 25,000-member society at a convention, said the lesson from the recent conflicts between media and government is: "... The people will have to firmly establish their power to govern."

"It's the lesson of the Pentagon papers; it's the lesson of the imprisoned reporter Peter Bridge; it's the lesson of the Defense Department's suppression of the Peers Report about the My Lai investigation," said Dick Fogel of the Oakland (Calif.) Tribune, chairman of the committee.
The report also described the work of the News Access Committee, a group of journalists which joined a battle to assure unimpeded rights of news access at the United Nations.

The controversy began when the U.N. ousted two Taiwan journalists on the demand of the People's Republic of China, which replaced Taiwan as a U.N. member.
The group announced they will wage a protracted fight to get Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim to make good on his pledge to help resolve the problem.

The report also detailed the ordeal of New Jersey reporter Peter Bridge, who was jailed for civil contempt for refusing to answer grand jury questions beyond the scope of one of his stories and recounted the "incredible treatment" of Los Angeles reporter William T. Farr who was cited for contempt when he refused to disclose the source of a story about the Charles Manson murder case.
Farr was ordered jailed Thursday but released on a writ of habeas corpus.

Newhart Has Fingers Crossed

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD—(N E A)—
 The jury is still out on whether or not The Bob Newhart Show will be a hit on CBS. Newhart hopes it is because he doesn't feel like dropping $100,000 for nothing.

He's figured out that it's cost him that much in canceled nightclub bookings to do the show. Anytime a man turns his back on $100,000 he'd like it to be for a good cause.

"I didn't take the show for the money," he says. "I took it for the long-term investment."

He's finding it tough in one area. He has to memorize a whole mess of lines. In his nightclub act he just sort of talks it. He's been doing it so long it's all second nature. But on the TV show he has lines to learn and he has to stick pretty close to what's in the script.

He says at first he pasted them up on convenient spots on the set — behind chairs, on the back of lamps, anywhere the camera wouldn't show them. But he found that looked kind of awkward. He'd be supposed to be talking to his costar Suzanne Pleshette and on the screen there he'd be, talking to the back of a lamp. So now he's doing it the hard way—committing every line to memory.

On the set he's not above a little kidding around. When the director Alan Rafkin suggested he back up a hair, he pulled out a hair from his head and backed up.

Later, Rafkin focused on Marcia Wallace, who plays his receptionist, and Newhart, with mock sarcasm, said, "If I'm getting in Marcia's picture, just tell me."

But he had his lines memorized. He'd check with the script girl—"Is that right, Rosemary?"—and 9 times out of 11, he was right.

It's not like his nightclub act. There he can play around. He has his stock bits and he tells them in whatever order he thinks will suit a particular audience.

"It's like going down a long corridor with many doors leading off it," he says. "Sometimes I walk straight through, sometimes I take one side door, sometimes another."

Here, though, he's trapped by the script. So far, he's enjoying it and he thinks the show is coming together. There's one big plus. He's home most of the time and spends more time with his family.

For one member of the Newhart clan—Robert, 9—the series has another big plus. Young Robert is a big fan of the reruns of I Dream of Jeannie, the Barbara Eden series. One of the stars of that show was Bill Daily, and Daily is now on Newhart's show.

Newhart says one of the big drawbacks is the all-too-real problem of raising children while being a celebrity.

"Timmy, who is 5, goes up to people in supermarkets," Bob says, "and says, 'My Daddy has a TV show. He knows his Daddy is different from other Daddys, from the lawyers and the garagemen."

The Virginia Thanksgiving Story of 1619

"The First Thanksgiving" is the name of a painting that hangs in a shrine at Berkeley Plantation near the 1619 landing.

On December 4, 1619, a small group of Englishmen landed at Berkeley Plantation on the James River near what is today Charles City, Virginia. When they stepped ashore, they held one of the first Thanksgiving services in English speaking America.

This Thanksgiving was held one year and 17 days before the landing of the Pilgrims on December 21, 1620 and just about two years before the Thanksgiving feast in Plymouth on October 15, 1621.

The group of Virginia settlers was led by Captain John Woodliffe. His tiny ship was the "Margaret." It had set sail for the New World from Bristol, England on September 16, 1619.

We know about this Thanksgiving from the old papers of the London Company, the group that owned the land and sent the settlers. The order to them read:

"... the day of our ships arrival at the Plantation in the land of Virginia shall be yearly... kept holy as a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God."

One reason that we have heard so little about this Thanksgiving is the fact that just about all the settlers were killed in Indian raids in 1622.

Religious services are an important part of Thanksgiving. Churches all over the country will be having their own Thanksgiving services, a custom observed years ago by the early settlers, in Virginia and later in Massachusetts.

Thanksgiving 1972

As his sons look on, the Reverend Jack Hunter of Raleigh, N.C., signs a letter telling the members of his church about the plans for Thanksgiving services. Mike is 11. Doug is 7. Churches all over the country will be holding religious services this week.

A Mini Play about the Plymouth Thanksgiving, October, 1621

This is a very short play with a cast of only two people. You can have more parts by giving each person a different line. Girls can make their costumes by using sheets as capes and a kerchief to cover their head. Boys can cut big Pilgrim collars out of paper. Happy Thanksgiving play!

October 1621
at Plymouth,
Massachusetts

SCENE: October 1621 at Plymouth, Massachusetts. (Someone can announce this or you can print it on a chart and hang it up so your audience can see it)

CAST: Pilgrim mother (or it could be father)
Pilgrim child (boy or girl)

The Plymouth Thanksgiving

Pilgrim mother: Guess who's coming to dinner!

Pilgrim child: Governor Bradford has asked the Indian Chief Massasoit and 90 of his braves, squaws and children from the Wampanoag tribe. There will be 51 Pilgrims. That makes a total of 142 people. We will play games with the Indians. Captain Miles Standish and some of his men will put on a marching drill.

Pilgrim mother: Guess what we're planning to serve!

Pilgrim child: Turkey, venison, duck, goose, clams, and other shellfish, eel, salad greens, peas, corn pones, chowder and succotash. The feast will last for three days.

Pilgrim mother: Why are we having this dinner?

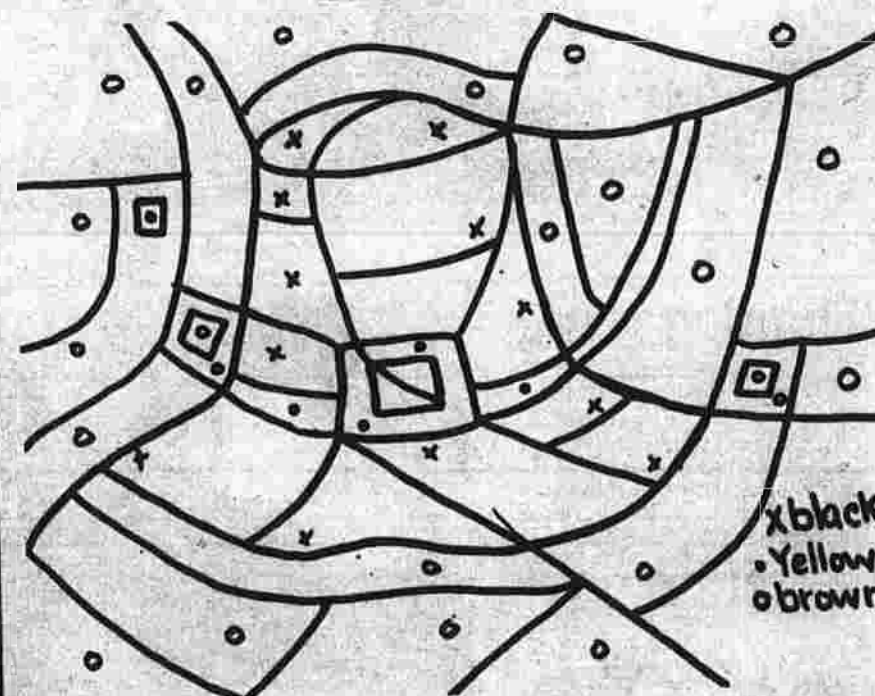

Pilgrim child: We landed at Plymouth Rock in December of last year. Last winter we were very cold and hungry. But since then we have been blessed with Indian friends and lots to eat. In fact, we have plenty to last us through this winter. We want to celebrate by sharing food and thanking God.

Pilgrim mother: Let's bow our heads and say a prayer: Our blessings are many, our wants are few, We wish you a Happy Thanksgiving Day, too. With bowed heads we would like to say, We're thankful for this wonderful day.

Animal of the Week: The Turkey

The Pilgrims had never seen a turkey until they landed in this country. A wild turkey can fly but not very far. It sleeps in the trees at night. Today the turkeys raised on farms cannot fly. Minnesota and California are the leading turkey growing states. The female turkey is called a "hen." The male is called a "tom." The baby is called a "poult."
