Turtleneck Trick
Give a favorite turtleneck sweater a whole new look. Top it off with a short-sleeved, deep plunging, wrap-around top in a bright print, glass or porcelain. It is then covered with a clear varnish, lacquer or other coating. Hinchliff has antiqued and refinished furniture as a personal hobby for many years. This past summer, he and his wife began to decoupage furniture. The work is all done by hand. The Hinchliffs have displayed several pieces of furniture at a number of fairs in the Hebron area. Baby sitting is available. For more information, contact the Manchester YWCA, 649-5682.

Bold Make-up
Today's bold make-up requires a steady hand and careful application, probably more now than with a more subtle make-up. Lip liner is a must for the well-defined lips, reminiscent of the '40s, and colorful cheeks must be carefully blended to avoid the rosy-cheeked-doll look.

Prepare for Winter
Follow a daily facial routine to keep your face in good condition during the long winter months. First wash with a medicated cleanser, then splash on an astringent. Finally, use a moisturizer to keep the skin from drying. Strong astringents and cleansers should be used for oily skin and a thicker moisturizer for dry skin.

Quick Set
For quick hair-sets cologne can be used instead of water. However, don't forget that perfume and cologne contain alcohol. So save the cologne-sets for emergency use and to dry and damage the hair.

Guests Enjoy Church Reception

Reception honoring guests from the Passamaquoddy Tribe in Princeton, Maine was highlight of the second annual Community Thanksgiving Service held at South United Methodist Church. Passamaquoddy Tribal Governor Is Guest At Community Service

The second annual Community Thanksgiving Service drew over 400 persons to South United Methodist Church, Sunday. Highlighting the evening was the appearance of Tribal Governor Allen Sockabasin of the Passamaquoddy Indian Tribal Council in Princeton, Maine, who brought greetings from his people. He and three other members of the council were given to Brainerd Field through the courtesy of Corporate Air Inc. of Hartford. Berry E. Lakin, president of Corporate Air, donated his services to pilot the guests to Hartford. The round trip flight, up and back twice to Princeton, Maine, covered 1,800 miles. Senator David Odegard, Deputy Mayor Pascal Prignano, the host families, Rev. Dr. George Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stager, and Jerome Prignano, who arranged for their plane, met the visitors at the airport. The visitors besides Gov. Sockabasin included Justin Lola, Eugene L. Stevens, and Edward E. Sockabasin. Many relatives of the Passamaquoddy Tribe, who live in Manchester and surrounding towns, attended the service to greet their fellow tribesmen. The Round Table Singers of Manchester High School, dressed in robes of their respective places of worship, gave their usual performance under the direction of Miss Martha White. Dance choirs from Center Congregational Church and North Methodist Churches gave their interpretation of the hymns. The Rev. Howard Foye, chaplain at Manchester Memorial Hospital, delivered the meditation on "A Preface to Thanksgiving."

Following the service, a reception for the Passamaquoddy guests and their host families was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stager of 30 Forest St. During the informal reception, Gov. Sockabasin played the guitar and sang folks songs. The guests returned to Maine Monday afternoon. A collection taken during the service amounted to $300. FISH of Manchester will receive $100, and $200 will be given to benefit the many needs of the Passamaquoddy Indians living on the reservation in Maine.

Today's Thought

Choice
Christ brings a disturbing influence into life. He upsets our comfortable rut, our cozy complacency. Response to His call may not change your sphere of life, but it will change your way of living. He may not ask you to serve him far abroad, to leave home and aid friends, your business world. He does ask you to choose between two ways of life, the way of pride and self-importance, of ambition and selfish pleasure, and the way of humble self-giving love which seeks no reward. His call is total and demanding, but it is to go along with Him, and not to live our lives alone. And this is the Good News. Bible Reading Fellowship Submitted by Rev. Stephen J. White, St. Mary's Episcopal Church

Democrats Head For a Fight

Influential members of the Democratic party would like to erase as easily as possible the traces of the stunning defeat of Senator George McGovern by President Nixon.

Those governors who were successful in the national elections despite McGovern's rout want his hand-picked national chairman, Mrs. Jean Westwood, to resign forthwith. Mrs. Westwood, the first woman ever to head a national party, has said she would fight efforts to oust her and believes she has sufficient support to win if the issue comes to a vote at the national committee meeting Dec. 9.

However, she faces formidable opposition and the party will suffer from an open fight. Already, members of the executive committee of the Democratic Governor's Caucus have called upon her to resign. They could adopt a formal resolution demanding her removal when they meet in St. Louis Dec. 13.

Gov. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas, one of the leaders of the ouster drive, said he didn't think it would come to that, suggesting Mrs. Westwood, "a gracious lady," might change her mind and retire without making a fight of it.

That may be wishful thinking on Bumpers' part, although the handwriting clearly is on the wall and Mrs. Westwood is on the way out, if only to serve as a sacrificial lamb for the party's mistake in nominating the weakest candidate in its history.

McGovern, anxious to keep a position of leadership despite his smashing defeat, pleaded with party leaders to mark time until the election results can be fully appraised and urged the committee not to be "too quick" in demanding change.

His voice isn't likely to carry much weight with the Democratic governors, who feel the election results speak for themselves, and that it is time to start a new drive under new leadership toward a majority for 1976.

The office of national chairman is important chiefly as a symbol and it is the symbol of McGovernism the party regulars want to rub out. It might indeed be best for the party if Mrs. Westwood resigned without a squabble. As Gov. Bumpers said, that would be "the gracious thing for her to do."

However, McGovern's anxiety to blame his defeat on George Wallace's refusal to endorse him promises further bitter debate. Many Democrats blame McGovern's platform of immediate surrender in Vietnam and his Populist reform proposals for alienation of voters who ordinarily would have supported the Democratic ticket.

To the editor:
I believe that our society is made up of mostly good guys and that includes the average man on the street, the business executive, the rich, the poor, our public officials, just everyone young and old who walks of life.

Our government gives us the right of a voice in its decisions, and I respect the rights of everyone, in fact I encourage them to express their rights to agree or disagree, with what whether public official or not.

But to agree with someone as Jay R. Stager did in the Open Forum of Nov. 18 without knowing the facts of what he agreed or disagreed with, is going a bit far.

Mr. Stager calls our efforts to inform the public, deceptive and sometimes devious in the nature of our advertising. I challenge Mr. Stager to prove deception on the part of our ads or public comment. If he spent as much time researching what he says, as we do before we say it, he could not in good conscience make such remarks.

I believe statements such as this insult the public who makes the final decision at the polls. In Mayor Thompson's news release, which you agree with, he had reason and facts when he disagreed with us right or wrong. Our answer has been submitted. I am sure those who also disagree will agree with us. So Mr. Stager, unless you have grounds for calling our efforts devious and deceptive, I think an apology is in order. Not because you may disagree with us, because you have a perfect right to do so, but because devious and deceptive remarks should be proven.

I also feel remarks made by a retiring member of our board of education are unethical. For as long as I have been president of the MPOA I can assure you that none of our ads were in any way a scare tactic to influence the voters.

Our ads are drawn up after many hours of research and investigation, and perhaps the voters listened to us because we gave them reason and facts. During the board's campaign to build two new schools in 1971, we enrolled a declining school year enrollment which this year they admit to. We were also told that billing could not be added to which now they admit they can and indeed tried this time to influence the voter to buy.

Talk about scare tactics. What do you call the board of education's attempt to rent a factory on Hilliard Street, because of over population and the loss of a street.

Do we work on a double standard? Even the teacher groups oppose additions for the sake of new programs when the ones we now have cannot have priority. I have been admitted in Dr. Scharff's statements that there is antagonism between teachers and the board of education. If there is antagonism with the board of education and teachers and groups in town, then maybe the board of education needs to take a good look at themselves.

I cannot let disagreement block our vision. I commend Dr. Scharff and the other retiring members of the board for taking the time to give us much of their free time to a cause they believed in. Much was done and much more can be done, if the board of education will learn to work with people and not set themselves up as the last word.

Sincerely,
Charles Pillard
President of MPOA

Support Trust
Gentlemen:
On behalf of the newly organized Manchester Land Conservation Trust, Inc., I would like to publicly express the thanks of our Trust's Board of Directors for the generous support of the many Manchester residents who have responded to our charter membership appeal.

Our Land Trust is modeled after the successful New Canaan Land Conservation Trust and is recognized by the State of Connecticut as a tax exempt organization. The trust includes a tax exempt membership drive Oct. 10. All local individuals, families, business and organizations are urged to support conservation in town by becoming charter members. Checks for $25 or more should be made out to the Manchester Land Conservation Trust, Inc., and sent to the office at 257 East Center St. All donations to the trust are tax deductible.

The basic objective of the trust is to foster conservation of Manchester's natural beauty by encouraging donations of open lands, marshes, streams and ponds to the trust for their permanent preservation in their natural state. I would like to emphasize that all donations of land are tax deductible for federal income tax purposes.

This attitude was tipped off Nov. 9 when Jean Westwood, McGovern's selected Democratic national chairman, hinted the mailing list might be denied the national committee if she were dumped as chairman. In an interview with the Washington Star-News last week, McGovern declared the "list belongs to me. It's a personal list." Since then, McGovern has privately let it be known that he intends using the list for selected candidates, antiwar campaigns and other liberal causes—but not necessarily the Democratic party.

Democratic politicians, assuming the list would be the McGovern campaign's one tangible asset bequeathed to the party, were flabbergasted. Their amazement is bolstered by Petrie's Sept. 1 letter to Morris Dees, the brilliant young direct-mail technician and McGovern fund-raiser.

Petrie's letter called it "desirable to become a bit more formal in dealing with these valuable properties and therefore the purpose of this letter is to set forth the entire transaction upon which you (Dees) and Henry Kinsman (McGovern's finance chairman) in behalf of the McGovern for President Committee and Jean Westwood and I in behalf of the Democratic National Committee have agreed."

This agreement followed: The McGovern for President Committee has agreed that on Nov. 7 it will transfer to the Democratic National Committee its present list of approximately 140,000 names augmented by accretions to McGovern's list developed after McGovern became the party's nominee. But physical possession rests with the McGovern for President Committee, Inc., whose board of trustees (outgoing Dees) will follow McGovern's wishes. Those wishes are plain: to cooperate with the Democratic party only to the extent that it is compatible with his ideological movement.

GOP Just Doesn't Capture Congress

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
There has been an incredible outpouring of nonsense about the fact President Nixon had no great coastal pull to help other Republicans as he swept to avalanche re-election.

Care to know the last time a GOP presidential victory was matched by big GOP U.S. House and Senate majorities? It was in 1928, with the election of Herbert Hoover.

Right after that, of course, came Franklin D. Roosevelt and the era of Democratic majorities. Nearly all the time since then, it's been bad news for the Republicans in Congress. Nobody has been able to do much about it. The evidence suggests a gang-team of Clydesdales couldn't drag them in in real numbers.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, the national hero? He surely had no stunning success at it. In 1952, when his landslide 55 per cent presidential victory gave him a 4.5 million vote margin, Republicans gained a modest 22 House seats and two in the Senate. Their new House total of 211 was just three more than the 208 needed for control.

They promptly lost control of both houses in off-year 1954. In 1956, Ike's re-election margin was 9.5 million votes, his percentage 57. The effect? His party lost two House seats and stayed dead even in the Senate at 47.

Actually, Mr. Nixon in 1968, though noising out Sen. Hubert Humphrey by less than one per cent, outdid Ike's 1956 pull. The GOP gained five House seats and seven in the Senate.

This year, as we know, with Mr. Nixon getting 41 per cent and a record-smashing margin of 17.4 million votes, his party picked up 11 House seats but lost two in the Senate.

Look at the fuller record and you'll see just how dismal has been the Republican competition for Congress since Hoover's days.

Gardening

with Frank Atwood

It is called Christmas cactus, but Thanksgiving cactus might be a better name for this plant, blooming now at the home of Mrs. L. E. Strickland in Columbia. The plant

One of the most reliable of winter-blooming house plants, known to generations of gardeners, is surely the Christmas cactus. It requires little attention, seems to have no insect enemies, grows larger every year and provides bright color at a season when it is most welcome.

The color of the petals is usually a true red, with the inner parts of the flowers a contrasting white, but there are interesting variations. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nemchick of 70 Indian Dr. have a Christmas cactus with 63 blossoms that are lovely, deep pink.

The cactus in the picture, grown by Mrs. L. E. Strickland of Columbia, has blossoms that might be described as salmon.

Mrs. Strickland also has a typical, old-fashioned red Christmas cactus that must be the champion for size. The plant is three feet across and the Stricklands gave up trying to count the blossoms long ago. There are several hundred.

The word "Christmas" is a misnomer. Some of the plants may bloom, as indicated, in late December, but they are more likely to blossom several weeks ahead of schedule.

The Nemchicks expect their plant to have a second set of blossoms in midwinter and to bloom a third time in early spring at the Easter season. Mrs. Strickland's cactus blossoms twice each year at Thanksgiving time and in the spring.

thrives on a heated sunporch, which may account for its early blooming date. (Photo by Atwood)

The Christmas cactus has no leaves. What we call leaves are jointed, flat segments of stem. These can be broken off and the parent plant will root easily in moist sand to make new plants. Mr. Nemchick says their first plant was purchased by his wife when it was quite small and their puppy, alone in the house and tired of his other playthings, knocked it off the stand and broke it in two pieces.

He put both pieces back in the pot and presently had two plants, one of which they gave their daughter. A single joint that was broken from the plant they now have was simply stuck in the pot and has rooted.

It really has a tiny bud. It is risky to give rules for the care of a Christmas cactus. The Nemchicks set their plant outside in the summer with the pot simply resting on the ground and let it manage with whatever rain may fall.

Mrs. Strickland had her big plant moved outdoors in early summer but so much rain fell this year that she thought it was close to drowning and had it brought back to the sunporch. It has grown more lustily than ever.

My Christmas cactus plants, a big one and several small ones, were put outdoors as usual, with the pots sunk in the ground under a forsythia bush, but this is not my year to brag about my Christmas cacti. They were left outdoors just

English novelist H. G. Wells made a remarkably prophetic prediction in 1914. The World Almanac recalls that in "The World Set Free," Wells wrote: "Nothing could have been more obvious to the people of the early 20th century than the rapidity with which war was becoming impossible... they did not see it until the atomic bombs burst in their fumbling hands."

High Court Issues Rules Of Evidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uniform rules of evidence to be followed in all federal and state courts will be issued by the Supreme Court.

Unless disapproved by Congress, the rules will take effect July 1. Although they do not call for very drastic changes in procedure, they are significant in that judges and lawyers moving from one court to another will know that one set of rules applies everywhere.

Albert E. Jenner Jr., a Chicago lawyer who is chairman of the advisory committee, said the rules are "monumental in the sense that the bar and the bench have been struggling forever to have the same rules of evidence applied in every trial court."

Since the rules were worked out with Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate criminal laws subcommittee, opposition in Congress is considered unlikely.

Justice William O. Douglas dissented when the rules were announced by the court. He took the view that they should be worked out by Congress and by the lower courts themselves.

The project began in 1965 under the supervision of the U.S. Judicial Conference. The new rules have been circulated twice to lawyers and judges in all states.

Jenner, in an Associated Press interview, said, "For the first time in history we will have a whole body of evidence rules in one code so that it's readily available to the trial lawyer and he can carry it to court under his arm and everyone will know what the rules are in that court."

Jenner said uniformly has become more important in recent years as judges are shifted from district to district to meet heavy calendars and lawyers similarly practice in various courts with now different rules. He said 60 per cent of his own trial work is in districts other than Chicago.

Jenner also noted that within one judicial circuit there are as many as 11 states, meaning that when the cases come up to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals from the various districts "the judges and the clerks have to wrestle with the rules of evidence."

Also, Jenner said, national businesses now appear in district courts all over the country, and so do government agencies.

The general thrust of the 45-page set of rules is to permit the use of more kinds of evidence and to discard many old restrictions.

Jenner said cross-examination will be wide open and the defendants will be permitted to use another man's confession to a crime if the confession is corroborated.

The rules will also apply to U.S. magistrates, and Jenner said he expects them to have an impact on state courts, as well.

EASY PREY — NEW YORK (AP) — Hunters are fanned out all over the nation in search of game with varying degrees of success, and many are leaving a trail of litter that could mark them as easy prey if they were the ones being stalked.

Game wardens in some states are authorized to arrest litter offenders, reports Keep America Beautiful, Inc., the national environmental improvement organization. In addition, tens of thousands of acres of land formerly used for hunting have been closed to sportsmen because of unsightly litter.

"If hunters will make an effort to clean-up after themselves — and this includes empty cartridges — it will go a long way in helping outdoor enthusiasts enjoy their favorite sport without the fear of having land posted," said Roger Powers, executive vice president of K.A.B.

New Jersey Begins Daily Lottery

By MICHAEL C. SINCLAIR
Associated Press Writer

New Jersey began selling daily lottery tickets today, becoming the first of six Northeastern states with lotteries to take on their major competition, organized crime, in dollar-to-dollar combat.

For the first time since the modern public lottery began in New Hampshire in 1964, lottery officials hope to make their system competitive with the illegal numbers racket.

The first of New Jersey's daily drawings will be on Wednesday and daily lotteries should be in operation in the other five states by next spring. The main objective for the states is to raise revenues, but the motive is even more basic, Gov. William F. Cahill of

New Jersey said his state—in addition to continuing its weekly lottery which eventually culminates in a $1 million drawing—will offer a 26-1/2 chance of winning on the daily tickets.

We know of no other lottery—legal or illegal—now in existence that can match those odds," he said. "Even if you lose, your money is going for a good purpose, rather than an evil purpose."

There is yet another reason for the daily drawings: the hopes of state officials to sustain the public's interest in lotteries.

New Hampshire's early experience with its Sweepstakes provided some indication of what would happen after the sweepstakes of the lottery faded.

The Granite State began with a schedule of several drawings a year and sold $3 tickets. The initial response was good, but Sweepstakes officials soon found that the system needed constant revision and special drawings to spark a renewed public interest. In each instance, after the first several drawings, ticket sales again began to decline.

Numbers bets range from a dime to a dollar or more in most communities, depending on what the market will bear, and payoffs are on a daily basis.

Regardless of whether the lotteries become an effective tool in the fight against illegal gambling, budget officials in six states are pleased with the results to date.

Ten to 15 per cent of lottery receipts generally are set aside for administrative costs. Another 40 to 45 per cent goes for prize money. The rest goes into the state treasury.

New York and New Hampshire apply their state shares exclusively to education, since June 1967, the New York lottery has produced sales of $368.8 million, with a net of $174.4 million for education. Connecticut's share goes into the general fund, Pennsylvania earmarks its profits for senior citizens' property tax relief, Massachusetts returns its net to its cities and towns and New Jersey allocates a portion for education and maintenance of state institutions.

While the lotteries roll on in the Northeast, Michigan holds the first drawing of its new state lottery today and several other states are investigating the possibility of getting into the field.

The Rev. William N. Pershing will assume his duties as rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church Dec. 3, replacing the Rev. Gordon Weeman who resigned in June.

Parishioners, as well as many area residents, attended a reception Sunday at Phelps Hall of St. Peter's for the new rector and his family.

The Rev. W. Pershing was chosen by a calling committee of nine church members. The appointment was then voted on by the parish and approved by the bishop.

The Rev. W. Pershing previously was priest-in-charge of the Good Shepherd Church in Hartford where he had been assigned as deacon in June of 1969 following his ordination. In April of 1964 he was ordained a priest in the Christ Church Cathedral, Hartford, by Bishop Walter H. Gray.

A graduate of the Berkeley Divinity School, New Haven in 1963, the Rev. Mr. Pershing received a BA in 1961 from Hobart College in Geneva, New York, and a MA in 1962 from Columbia University, New York.

Before entering the seminary in 1960, he was employed by the Royal Typewriter Co. in Stamford where he was responsible for credit and collections and commercial accounts for the northeastern business.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A runaway bull rammed a sheriff's patrol car and another vehicle recently during a four-hour escape on Syracuse's eastern outskirts, then was shot dead when cornered in a quarry.

The 700-pound bull dashed to freedom as he was being unloaded from a truck at the DeWitt Packing Corp. and ran wild, putting dents in the patrol car and a car owned by the packing company manager.

The animal finally was trapped in the Jamestown Quarry, where it roamed for two hours until a sheriff's deputy shot it.

Foresees Two Germans In U.N. Next Fall

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — East and West Germany will formally enter the United Nations probably next September, according to an observer at the world organization reports.

By Walter Gehlbolt, told newsmen the two Germans now have an understanding to coordinate their U.N. applications and they will "enter together or not enter at all."

He predicted West Germany's application would be ready about next May, following action in the Bonn parliament on the new treaty normalizing relations with East Germany.

That would mean the next General Assembly, convening in September 1973, would seat the Germans, Gehlbolt said.

Mysterious Lights Spur Hunt

OSLO (AP) — The Norwegian Navy stepped up its great submarine search in the Sogafjord today and recalled two frigates from NATO commitments to hunt for an unidentified submerged object.

A communique from the Norwegian defense staff said two frigates that had served in the standing naval forces in the Atlantic had been recalled. They will relieve part of the fleet that had participated in the search since the first observations were reported Nov. 12.

One of the vessels engaged in the hunt earlier today reported another "possible contact" in the Sogafjord. The search will continue, the communique said.

There was no official confirmation that the object was a foreign submarine, but the recall of the two NATO frigates was seen by some observers as a strong indication that an object is there.

New Members Join School Board

Three new members of the Board of Education will take the oath of office at Monday's meeting, which will be held at Waddell School at 8 p. m.

They are Mrs. Eleanor D. Collins and Atty. John C. Yavis Jr., Democrats; and Robert S. Maltempo, Republican. They were elected in November last year to serve three-year terms starting this month. Retiring from the board are Mrs. Anita Murky and Roy Conyers, Republicans; and Walter M. Scharf, Democrat.

When the new members are seated, Democrats will hold a 6-3 majority on the board.

Items to be reported on by Dr. James P. Kennedy, superintendent of schools, will be the status of changes in state guidelines for evaluation and state certification of professional personnel; and new programs and personnel, including an updating of the learning disabilities program.

It is expected that Paul Greenberg, holding and sites committee chairman, will report out the discussion of the committee's recent meeting, relative to alternatives to the junior high school referendum, which was defeated Nov. 7.

Included in old business will be action on a request to the Board of Directors to add $2,000 to an existing account for salary adjustments for Project Head Start employees; and the administration's recommendation on new high school graduation requirements, which were presented at the board's last meeting.

The board will also conduct a grievance hearing.

Report Leukemia Progress

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Medical researchers have developed a method to treat leukemia more effectively by speeding up the long process of selecting the proper treatment drug.

The scientists say they have taken isolated human leukemia cells and induced them to multiply in the laboratory for periods of 36 to 96 hours. And for the first time, they say, these laboratory-grown cells are representative of the ones which grow in the patient.

The eight or nine drugs used to combat the incurable blood cancer disease can then be tested simultaneously on these leukemia cells growing in separate test tubes and the most effective drug can be used on the patient from whom the original cells were obtained.

Dr. Glenn A. Fischer, professor of biochemical pharmacology research at Brown University, said the standard drug-testing method involves using one drug at a time on the patient until the best one is found.

Testing Drug To Take High Out Of Heroin

NEW HAVEN (AP) — A program at the Connecticut Mental Health Center (CMHC) is testing a new, non-addictive drug that is supposed to take the high out of heroin.

"If you take naloxone in the dose we use, then if you use heroin or any other opiate you get no high at all," says Dr. Paul Pierson, medical director of the naloxone program at the CMHC's Drug Dependence Unit.

CMHC plans to publish a research paper soon on its use of the drug.

The advantage of the drug, Pierson says, is that it discourages participants in the center's rehabilitation program — who are supervised only seven hours a day — from seeking narcotics when they are away from their therapists.

Other drugs to prevent highs are known, according to Pierson, but they are mildly addictive. The chief of the CMHC's Drug Dependence Unit, Dr. Herbert D. Kleber, says the naloxone program is a pioneer effort with a non-addictive agent, now being used with actual addicts only in New Haven and Baltimore.

Patients on the naloxone program, whose median age is about 20, spend six to eight months in counseling, four to six months of that time on daily doses of naloxone.

Addicts in the early stages of the program are "still highly susceptible to the use of heroin," says Pierson, and naloxone gives them a respite from their need for narcotics. Patients in the program are introduced to naloxone about a week after they have withdrawn from heroin.

"It gives them a chance to start getting their feelings and their lives together," he says. Pierson and Kleber emphasize that the drug is only part of their treatment program. Other elements are discussions and confrontations and educational efforts.

"You shouldn't overemphasize the importance of drugs in the program," Pierson says. "Naloxone is probably a very valuable adjunct, but the drug effect against the effect of the whole program still has to be studied."

Pierson says that the program, which began in February 1970, has 150 alumni and current patients. Among recent alumni and present participants, he says, all but about 20 per cent stay drug free after treatment.

"If you take the total program, with naloxone and the other elements, it has been imposed on the patients by the program," says Pierson, "the results have been outstanding."

Other users of the drug, according to Pierson, include people who are addicted to heroin and who suffer withdrawal symptoms upon being given naloxone, he said.

He said the drug can also be useful in counteracting overdoses of heroin or methadone.

The overall naloxone program at CMHC is funded by equal grants from the National Institute of Mental Health and the state government. The drug is contributed free of charge by Endo Laboratories, of Garden City, N.Y., which produces it under the trade name Narcan. Pierson said.

Commercially, the drug would cost $8 per pill, according to Kleber. He said that cost could go down if the drug is produced on a mass scale.

Leader Sees Hazards In Women's Lib

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The leader of Mormon women, whose pioneer forbears threw themselves wholeheartedly into the struggle that early in this century won women the right to vote, says the modern extension of that movement sometimes goes too far.

"Anything that gets out of control becomes a hazard, whether it's fire, flood or women's lib," says Belle S. Spafford, president of the worldwide women's auxiliary of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

"But if properly controlled, these things mean power for us. We've reached the point in women's liberation where we need to look at ourselves objectively and see what we can do that's reasonable. We need a steady hand."
Asked if it wasn't somewhat paradoxical for the leader of a heretage that took such a vigorous part in the women's suffrage movement to have misgivings about its present-day counterpart, she said in an interview:

"Any good movement can become distorted. You can abuse any privilege and freedom can become license. That's not good."
Mrs. Spafford, a warmly good-humored, silver-haired woman of 77, said she sees dangers in some aspects of women's lib, such as tendencies in it to blur sexual identity and reject distinctive endowments of women and men.

"We want to preserve the nobility, dignity and femininity of women," she said. "There's a danger of some of that being lost. But I think we have too many common-sense women for that to happen."
The 450,000-member body of church women that Mrs. Spafford has headed for 27 years is formally titled the Relief Societies of the Church. It carries on extensive education programs in home-management, child-rearing and cultural development, as well as large-scale service in nursing care and home-teaching visits.

Mrs. Spafford, of Salt Lake City, also served as president in 1971-72 of the National Council of Women of the U.S., and now is on the executive committee of that umbrella group embracing 32 different women's organizations totaling about 25 million American women.

"It has taken a long pull" for women to gain their just status, Mrs. Spafford said, adding that much of the continued effort for women's rights is good, including the insistence on equal pay for equal work.
She said women also should have equal opportunities for top positions in government, industry and education if they are qualified and they're free from other responsibilities.
"But the primary role of women is in the home and family," she added, a conditional note she cited often.
"Men still need wives to welcome them home at the end of the day. Children still need a good mother to come to with their little troubles. Women should provide a place of refuge where the husband and children can return from a busy, confused and complex world."
Mrs. Spafford said she has "great reservations" about the proposed women's equality amendment to the U.S. Constitution, passed by Congress and now up for ratification by states.

"I don't know if we want equality in all areas," she said. "In some situations, there needs to be preferential treatment for men and women."
For instance, she cited the possibility of girls being drafted into combat service if total equality prevailed, and also of subjecting to challenge protective standards for working women in times of pregnancy.

As for women's lib, she said she supports "opening doors of opportunity to women if they keep in mind their primary roles," but that she disapproves the movement's "extremism and militancy," and its minimizing of the importance of home-making functions.
"Women's lib has levelled off though from what it was," she said. "For a while, we seemed to hear only the noisy ones. But this wasn't all that women are. The liberalism is swinging back. There is enough straight-

House Leadership Contest May Be Referendum

WASHINGTON (AP) — The contest for Democratic majority leader in the House of Representatives could become a referendum on congressional reform.

Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., one of two announced candidates, is proposing major changes in the way the House conducts its business, including less reliance on the seniority system.

His opponent, Democratic whip Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., of Massachusetts, is counting on the House tradition of promoting its officers to bring him victory. He is currently the heavy favorite.

House Democrats will choose their new leader at a caucus Jan. 2. The victor will succeed Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., who disappeared on an Alaskan flight Oct. 1.

Party leadership contests are decided by secret ballot and such matters as friendship, geography and personality are usually the determining factors. It is rare for candidates to take stands on issues, particularly controversial ones like congressional reform.

But Gibbons sent a letter last week to all the Democrats elected to the 93rd Congress criticizing current practices and proposing changes.

"The present system discourages and frustrates the newer members and those who fall short on seniority," he said. "We must infuse new blood and new ideas into our system if we are to regain public confidence."

Gibbons, who led a reform movement that made slight

Frost Hits Eastern Seaboard

Frost and a hard freeze stung most of the eastern third of the nation today, reaching south as far as Alabama and Georgia.

Strong winds blew over several sections of the country, particularly the eastern slopes of the Rockies in Montana and over the northern Great Lakes, where they reached gale force.

Temperatures were on the cold side for nearly the entire country with the exception of southern Florida and southern California.

Much of Texas was pelted with rain which changed to snow over the Southern Rockies. A heavy snow blanketed portions of New Mexico east of the Rio Grande Valley.

Rain also soaked the Pacific Northwest, turning to snow in the mountains of Idaho and Montana. Dense fog in the central valley of California made driving hazardous as visibility dropped near zero.

Sandra and Rick Repko, enjoy festivities with Robert Bellino of Willimantic, vice-president of ECO, Inc.

A master of continental and gourmet cuisine is Chef Urbano of Italy.

Located on Main St., Willimantic, the restaurant's distinctive design and luminous lights extend a warm welcome.

Repko Designs 'Caesar's I' With a 'Flair'

By Betty Hyder

Unusual ideas in the concept of design are evident from the moment you view Caesar's I. Designed by Rick A. Repko, founder of Flair Home Furnishings Unlimited in Manchester, this plush, new restaurant located on Main St. in Willimantic, blends the modern of tomorrow—with the warmth of today.

Built by 12 residents of Willimantic under the name of ECO, Inc., Caesar's I offers the ultimate in decor, only surpassed by its excellent cuisine.

Repko in 1967 founded Repko Design Industries which designed the award winning "Marshmallow Sofa". In 1969 he founded Flair Home Furnishings. Yale University and Paier School educated Repko in architecture, interior design, structural design and fine arts, and presently he is forming a new company which will produce his own fine custom modern concepts for the average budget.

At Caesar's, Repko's most recent undertaking, brown, lime, silver and plum are blended in a soft, appealing decor. Silver archways lead into the dining area, which are carpeted with plush shag. The modern contour chairs are white on the inside and plum on the outside and a "haci" chair at each table is lime.

The built-topped parsons tables are brown-topped with black legs. No tablecloths are used. Instead, there are black place mats with "Caesar's I" imprinted in silver. White dishes with brown accent pieces are featured and no piece of silverware is the place of the same pattern in the place setting. The all-over effect is great.

Large 100-light chandeliers illuminate the rooms adding sparkle as well as mystery as shadows play on the silver walls.

The affable young designer has tastefully added touches to suit most personalities.

The entrance foyer is walled with paintings, a large gold-leaf mirror, sculpture—a potpourri of distinctive works of art. Still another wall is adorned with a black and white graphic sketch which maybe viewed well from the dance floor. Throughout the facility there is a feeling of elegance, all created under the watchful eye and supervision of Repko.

Focal point of the large banquet facility which can accommodate 300, is a 40 foot black and white graphic sketch, striking against a white background.

Nothing has been left to chance. The youthful waitresses' costumes have been especially designed for them and are grey jersey mid-dresses worn with a brown apron. The waiters wear brown turtle knit sweaters with grey pants and a tunic vest. All the employees of Caesar's were a plain silver wrist band especially designed for them by Agatha Walter, noted Connecticut designer.

The intimate cocktail lounge has brown walls, accented with lime chairs and brown-topped tables.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Pat Brest of Columbia, who serves as manager-overseer, Caesar's I offers the ultimate in service and unforgettable cuisine.

Chef Urbano of Italy, who trained in Switzerland for many years, offers fare to suit the most fastidious gourmet.

In the "VIP" dining area, Chef Urbano sans menu, offers his guests such specialties as Beef Wellington and other succulent repast not appearing on the menu.

If you're curious about the fabulous car parked in front of Caesar's I in the photo above, that belongs to Rick Repko. It's a Rally R Hopper Razor Edge Coupe, purchased in England, and is one of the rarest models ever made by Rolls Royce. Handmade out of aluminum, it is one of four such cars in the world and was formerly owned by an English diplomat.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Pat Brest of Columbia, who serves as manager-overseer, Caesar's I offers the ultimate in service and unforgettable cuisine.

Tolland Thifault Speaks Out On Attempt To Oust Him

Charles Thifault, chairman of Tolland's Democratic Town Committee, has issued a statement regarding last week's attempt to unseat him as chairman. The 35-member town committee had, on a 15-8 vote, voted on Thifault to step down as town chairman, but the vote was later ruled illegal.

In his statement, Thifault said, "In spite of the vote, even if it were legal, it was only a request that I resign as town chairman. That will be given further consideration."

Thifault continued, referring to last week's meeting, that "one newspaper (The Herald) carried the story that I objected to a secret ballot vote. This is not true. What I did Friday evening, as chairman of the committee, was to inform the members present as the chairman that it was my opinion that the vote taken would be illegal, since the motion to put it to the call."

"I did not try in any way to prevent the members from voting, I could see as the meeting progressed that the momentum on behalf of the dissidents was to push for a vote; and what I did was to request the members present if they insisted on a vote, was to vote by open roll call vote. The same procedure was used earlier this year when I was re-elected to my third term as chairman, by a mandate vote of 25-0 over challenger Kevin Cavanaugh. This request was not accepted.

"I certainly question remarks of irresponsibility by dissenting members of the town committee," said Thifault, "when she openly informed the Hartford Times on Monday, when she stated quite frankly, 'We are not interested in the question of legality.' Mrs. Dean called me a loser and a Mayor Richard Daley type of politician in her quoted statements."

"May I remind Mrs. Dean of my political success in the town of Tolland."

Thifault's statement continues, "In 1968, the Democratic Town Committee elected me to my first term as chairman of the Democratic Town Committee by a vote of 19-8. In 1969, the voters of Tolland elected me as the first Democrat to be elected first selectman in 22 years.

"In 1970, I was unanimously endorsed by a Democratic caucus for the office of justice of the peace. In 1971, the voters of Tolland defeated me in my bid for re-election to the first selectman's post, but elected me to a selectman's position over my running mate, Charles Regan. All other candidates running for top office were defeated, except the tax collector's post, which was not contested by the Republican party."

"In 1972, Thifault continues, 'the Democratic Town Committee re-elected me to my third straight two-year term by a mandate vote of 25-0. In every vote as a delegate to conventions in a secret ballot vote, I always came in high on the voting, and represented the Town Committee at conventions.'

"In 1972, for the post of justice of the peace, I again pulled a strong vote, as the minutes of the committee meetings will show. In a primary challenge this past June, as a delegate to the state convention by people who called themselves the McGovern slate, two other commitments and myself was a primary in Tolland by a comfortable margin."

Thifault continued, "When I became a candidate for state representative, the three delegates from Tolland unanimously supported me at the convention for this office, losing the convention by two votes. I decided with the support of many people in Tolland to primary. Requiring only 100 signatures of registered Democrats to do so, I filed 400 signatures in just a few days, because of the support I received from Tolland people."

"In my primary, I received the unanimous endorsement of the officers of the Democratic Town Committee, except for two people; the registrar of voters, deputy registrar and tax collector, and the unanimous endorsement of the Young Democrats as well as the president, Rudy Kowalski, who sent letters to all newspapers stating why he supported me. I lost my primary bid by only 30 votes in three towns of the 3rd district.

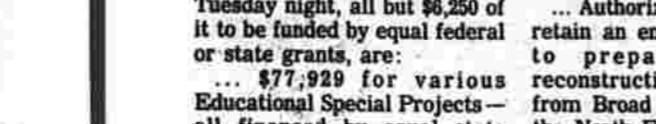

"The same night we elected officers, Mrs. Dean was seeking a delegate nomination to the 2nd district Congressional convention; the records show she was soundly defeated."

"Mrs. Dean recently challenged registrar of voters Mike Murray for the registrar's post, and again she was defeated; the statement continues, 'The same night she also became a candidate for justice of the peace; again she was defeated. This past year she chose to seek a post as second vice president in the Tolland Junior Women's Club.

$273,862 in Appropriations Approved by Town Directors

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter

Among items totaling $273,862 approved by the Manchester Board of Directors Tuesday night was one for $145,500, under the Federal Emergency Employment Program.

Also on the agenda was $25,000 for the TOPICS (Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety) projects, also in the Special Grants Account. The sum to be used by the Police Department for engineering services, will be financed by $18,750 from a state grant and $6,250 from the town, as its required 25 per cent cost share.

In other business Tuesday night, the board:

- Approved two allocations from the Capital Improvement Reserve Fund $4,500 for improvements at the Nike Site recreational area, and $47,141 for improvements to Colonial Industrial Park, under the town's industrial guidelines.
- Designated the United Bank and Trust Co. of Hartford as a town depository.
- Approved early retirement of Alfred H. Ober, retroactive to Nov. 1, 1972.
- Authorized the manager to retain an engineering service, or state grants, for reconstructing Hilliard St., from Broad St. to the edge of the North End Renewal Area. The project was authorized in a Nov. 7 referendum. Whether it will be financed by a bond issue, as voted, or by revenue-sharing funds, as proposed by the board's Democratic majority, will be clarified at a subsequent board meeting.
- Authorized the manager to accept bids for two dump-truck bodies, a tractor and a low-bed trailer, at a total estimated cost of about $48,500.

Public Works Director William O'Neill explained that the town's new transfer station and recycling center at the Olcott St. Disposal Area and that the low-bed trailer and the tractor for transporting a portable bandstand to various town locations.

Directors James Farr and Vivian Ferguson childed Weiss for placing the item on the board's agenda — on the basis that the board had not approved the construction of a refuse transfer station, yet it was constructed. Mrs. Ferguson called it "a surprise," and Farr said it "was an inspiration and way of informing the directors."

Mayor John Thompson asked Weiss to prepare an explanation of the concept and construction of the transfer station, and Weiss to prepare an explanation of the equipment, and directors eliminated the wording which refers to the board's approval of the transfer station, yet it was constructed.

Tabbed setting a date for a public hearing relative to the construction of a refuse transfer station, yet it was constructed.

Reassigned

Capt. Elmer G. Hance of Tolland, a Connecticut Army National Guard officer who was cited in Vietnam for "a display of courage above and beyond the call of duty," has been reassigned from the position of communication officer with the 1st Battalion, 16th Infantry at Manchester, to liaison officer with the 3rd Brigade, 25th Infantry at Hartford.

Capt. Hance, a loan officer with the Rockville Branch of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., was awarded the Vietnam Cross of Gallantry for his part in the safe return of a flight of helicopters. The citation from the Vietnam government stated that "Lt. E. G. Hance standing alone under heavy mortar and small arms fire, provided radio direction to a flight of helicopters transporting battle casualties."

A week later, he performed an act of heroism for which he was awarded the U. S. Army Commendation Medal for Valor. For other meritorious achievements, Capt. Hance received the Bronze Star and the Vietnam Medal of Honor.

A native of Port Chester, N. Y., Capt. Hance graduated from Archbishop Stepien High School in White Plains, N. Y., and attended Niagara University. While in college he enlisted in the U. S. Army, and in 1967 was selected for artillery training at Ft. Sill, Okla., where he later attended Officer Candidate School.

In 1968, he went to Vietnam as an advisor to the South Vietnamese Army in the Mekong Delta and in September 1969 received his honorable discharge. He then returned to Niagara University where he completed his studies and was awarded his degree in American History. He joined the Connecticut Army National Guard in New Britain in 1970, was later assigned to the West Hartford unit, and was promoted to captain last year.

Capt. Hance is now studying for a master's degree in business administration at the University of Hartford. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. George V. Hance, of Manchester, N. Y. He and his wife live on Robbie Rd. in Tolland and have three children.

Vehicle Use Hearing Set

HARTFORD (AP) — The state Department of Motor Vehicles has proposed new regulations requiring the registration of all "terrain vehicles."

"It is our intention to keep such vehicles as minibikes off our highways," says vehicles Commissioner Robert C. Leuba.

The regulations define all-terrain vehicles as those which are unsuitable for roads and highways because they have wheels of 10 inches or less in diameter, wheelbases of less than 62 inches, and are unable to sustain a speed of at least 40 miles per hour on a paved road for at least one hour.

A public hearing on the regulations is scheduled for 10 a. m. Wednesday at the Motor Vehicles Department headquarters in Wethersfield.

Burfoot Repeats as Five Mile Champ

Outduels Vitale in Breaking Course Record

10,000 View Field of 430 in 28-Degree Weather

By Earl Yost
Sports Editor

Tall, methodical, long-striding Amby Burfoot saves his best running performances for late in the year. Running true to form, Burfoot came up with a super effort yesterday morning when he thrilled an estimated crowd of 10,000 by showing his heels to a record field in winning the 36th edition of Manchester's Five Mile Road Race.

The 26-year-old, 140-pound, six-foot, one-inch schoolteacher bettered his own record of 22:34 set in 1968 with a clocking of 22:21.9 in the holiday trot which attracted 430 official starters, plus 75 unregistered post-entries, in 28 degree temperature. Unlike a year ago when eight inches of snow and ice covered the course, the sun was at its brilliant November best during the running. There were 429 official finishers. The previous high was 38:19 in 1970. A grand total of 560 entries were received, also a new mark, easily eclipsing the old standard of 506 last year. Second best for the second straight year was John Vitale, former University of Connecticut standout, now with the New Haven Track Club. Vitale, too, broke the existing record with a clocking of 22:29, but it just wasn't good enough for it to be Burfoot's day in the sun.

It was strictly a two-man race, from start to finish, with Vitale setting the pace for better than four miles. Hal Turkington, who followed the progress of the race in the lead police car, reported not more than three yards separated the two leaders over the first four miles once the pack started to spread out on Charter Oak Street. Burfoot assumed the lead just before reaching the center and coming down Main Street he gradually opened the margin until he broke the tape some 70 yards ahead of Vitale.

Third place was won by Dan Moynihan of Tufts College, the reigning New England intercollegiate cross country champion.

Rounding out the top 10 were: (4) Charlie Duggan, sensational Springfield College star out of Hartford Public, (5) Steve Flanagan, ex-UConn runner who competed unattached, (6) Pete Bortolotti of the Spartan A.C. of Brockton, Mass., (7) Ray Crothers, a one-time winner and ex-Central Connecticut State College standout, now with the Central Connecticut A.A., (8) ex-Princeton cross country captain Eamon Downey, unattached, lead two University of Massachusetts runners across the line, (9) Chris Chambers and (10) Mike McCusker.

'Crowds are Warm and Responsive'

Champ Either First Or Second Since 1966

By Earl Yost

"I love running here. I've never had a bad race," Amby Burfoot recalled as he relaxed after a record-shattering performance in the 36th Five Mile Road Race yesterday over Manchester's paved streets. The latest success was the fourth in 10 starts for the 26-year-old, bearded schoolteacher. Over the past seven years, he ex-Wesleyan University standout has either been No. 1 or No. 2 and has quickly faken over the spotlight which was dominated in the past by retired Joe McCusker and later by Little Johnny Kelley who is still running. McCusker won four Five Miles and Kelley has six to his credit.

"I felt relaxed last Sunday (in winning the Middletown race) but today I was really hanging on for dear life. I have never concentrated so hard for any race in my life." Burfoot teaches the sixth grade at the Mary Morrison School in Groton. "I was a little apprehensive today because I had a sore throat several days. I hoped to grab the lead but I couldn't get ahead of John (Vitale). Every time I pulled even, he would pull away a stride or two. "The first two miles were very fast and I was sure we were running ahead of the record. I figured we would slow down the last three but we didn't. "This was a fast running day, good cold weather," the former Boston Marathon winner noted. "Would he like to equal Kelley's record of six wins? "Right now I'm shooting for three straight. If I can win three in a row, that would be a major accomplishment. It won't be easy, either," he added. If it wasn't for Vitale's success in 1970 Burfoot would have been able to boast an unprecedented string of four straight. Kelley's string ran from 1951 thru 1953. He also won in 1957 and 1961 and also notched four second placements. The 1972 King runs on the 1971 King. His next goal is the Boston Marathon in April.

Amby Burfoot Doing His Thing - Winning

'I'll Come Back Until I Can Win Again'

Second Best Vitale Unhappy With Finish

By Earl Yost

"I'm not happy," a dejected John Vitale said, still wearing his running togs, after he had finished yesterday in an effort to top his No. 1 rival, Amby Burfoot, in the Five Mile Road Race - but it wasn't good enough. Although the 24-year-old, 5-7, 140-pounder spent around the course in record time, he had to be content with second place as Burfoot covered the distance in 22:21.9. Eight seconds slower was Vitale, ex-UConn runner, who plans to enter Southern Connecticut in January in pursuit of enough credits to teach school. "I ran the race I planned but I didn't run fast enough," the East Haven man said. "This is a very competitive race. "I don't know why I can't beat Amby over five miles. I know I can beat him over 10. "Amby ran a fabulous race. I can't believe that he can run that fast. The next time it may be our way around when we meet. I'm disappointed but I gave it all I had. If we ran the same race again tomorrow, I would follow the same plan, but I would have to run faster." Vitale led for the better part of four miles until Burfoot, who was running just a stride or two behind, made his move at the center, coming down Main Street, and the shorter man could not stay with the defending champion. Both Burfoot and Vitale just missed making the 1972 Olympic team. "My goal as a runner is to be able to compete in national meets in the 20,000 meters," the long-haired Vitale said as he awaited the presentation of awards at the East Side Rec. "I'll be back next year. I'll come back until I can win again. It's as simple as that," he said as he moved up to take the second place award. One had the feeling that Vitale won't be smiling again until he can't be first in line at the awards' table.

Bridgeport Skein On Line Tonight

BOSTON (AP)—The University of Bridgeport seeks its 21st consecutive victory in a repeat bowl performance tonight, kicking off a light but important football weekend with New England's 1972 mythical college championship on the line.

Key Grid Battles Saturday

Bridgeport, which swept through 10 games on its regular season schedule, will defend its laurels in the Knute Rockne Bowl, facing Slippery Rock at Convention Hall in Atlantic City. Slippery Rock has an 8-1-1 record.

Yale in 'The Game,' UConn Meets Cross

Yale and Connecticut are preparing for key games Saturday as both teams wind up their football seasons with different sets of problems. The Elis will travel to Cambridge, Mass. for the 89th edition of "The Game"—the traditional rivalry with Harvard. Yale, shooting for a piece of the Ivy League title, has not beaten Harvard at Harvard Stadium since 1960, the year Yale was undefeated.

Connecticut's Yankee Conference title hopes were eliminated earlier in the year but the Huskies still have a mark to break as they meet Holy Cross Saturday in Worcester, Mass. UConn, 4-4 for the season, would like to finish 5-4, an achievement that would be slightly less than last year's 5-5 by the narrow margin of 35 plus points. The traditional New England rivalry with Brown is set for Dec. 2. Connecticut has a 4-4 mark entering its finale. Middlebury, Northeastern and Williams, ranked eighth, ninth and 10th, respectively, in this week's AP poll, have completed their seasons.

Central Co-Captains

NEW BRITAIN (AP)—Seniors Bob Hammie of Bradford, Conn., and Bill Wendt of Norwich, Conn., have been chosen co-captains of the 1972-73 Central Connecticut College basketball team.

Bowling

CHICAGO—Defending champion Don Johnson of Akron, Ohio, clung to first place by the narrow margin of 35 plus points over runner-up Bill Brunsnik. Johnson won the 1972-73 Brunswick World Open Tournament.

Tennis

ROME—Second-seeded Arthur Ashe easily beat Yugoslav veteran Nikola Pietrangeli, 6-1 to advance to the semifinals of the World Championship Tennis Tournament.

Football

PITTSBURGH—Veteran Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Pittsburly suffered a pulled hamstring during practice and will be out for an indefinite period.

Cliff Demers Resigns As East Grid Coach

By Earl Yost
East Catholic High is in the market for a sixth head football coach in its 12-year history at the local school. In a surprise announcement to the squad following last Wednesday's practice, Cliff Demers announced he was resigning after Thursday's (yesterday) final game against South Catholic. Demers, a University of Connecticut grad, will continue as director of athletics. He served six years as head coach and compiled an overall record of 26 wins, 30 defeats and one tie. The Eagles were 7-3 in both 1968-69 and tied South for the HCC title in '69. Demers said he would sit down the Rev. Robert Saunders, principal, and discuss the football vacancy next week. He dropped its finale, 14-13, for a 2-6-1 record. Other Eagle grid mentors were Larry Iannaci, Andy Baylock, Norm Gerber and Don Robert.

Chiefs Leading Flops in NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—Kansas City's Chiefs, who've spent so many Christmas playing football, may get to spend the holidays and the mistletoe. And, they'll hate it. The Chiefs are the National Football League's leading flops of 1972 with a 5-5 record and a lopsided Sunday against the Oakland Raiders will almost erase any playoff hopes. The choice here is for a 33-13 Raider victory, vaulting Oakland into a 2 1/2-game lead in the American Conference Western Division with three weeks to play. Washington is a 2-10 pick to blow Green Bay's comeback, spiraling the Packers back into a three-team shootout with Detroit and Minnesota in the National Conference. The Lions trail the Pack by a half game after smashing the New York Jets 27-20 in a Thanksgiving Day game and the Vikings are one notch behind. Washington should win its eighth straight, the longest string of victories since Franklin D. Roosevelt shared the capital with the Redskins. Minnesota outgamed Los Angeles 45-41 last week, but this week we're going with Pittsburgh's defense to rebound and whip the Vikings 17-14. Unbeaten Miami will have to suffer the letdown of the year to keep from going 11-0 against St. Louis in what appears to be a Monday night television mismatch at the Orange Bowl. It's the Dolphins to do it by 24-16. With a 5-5-1 prediction record, a 723 percent, here's our call on the other seven games scheduled Sunday in the NFL.

Colts 24, Patriots 14: Two in a row for "new era" Baltimore against a New England team that has lost seven straight and is just getting started. Chargers 26, Oilers 10: San Diego finally learned it was fun to play error-free football in last week's 27-17 mop-up of Kansas City. Houston is still learning. Browns 24, Bills 17: Cleveland keeps pace in the NFC Central in final home game before roadside windups at Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and New York Jets. Rams 26, Saints 7: After dropping 3 of 4, Los Angeles had better stop slipping or they'll be joining Kansas City in sitting out the lucrative postseason. Falcons 17, Broncos 10: Floyd Little is hurting and Bob Anderson is out for Denver, making up-and-down Atlanta a solid choice. Giants 24, Eagles 7: New York clings to thin hopes of making the playoffs as a "wild card" team while Philadelphia lives with an offense that has made seven touchdowns in 10 weeks. Bengals 14, Bears 7: Each team has lost three straight, dropping from contenders to nobodies in division races. The winner gets a last chance to make a comeback.

Bruins Thankful For Holiday Wins

BOSTON (AP)—With the Rangers leading 5-2, Rene Robert scored on a 55-foot roller to tie the score, then Gerry Mehan put the Sabres thanks for victories in their last eight years they have played on the holiday. The Bruins posted their fourth consecutive victory and extended their record to 6-1-1 in the last eight games by defeating the California Golden Seals 2-4 Thursday night before the usual packed crowd of 15,003 at the Boston Garden. The Bruins built a 3-1 lead on a pair of goals by superstar Bobby Orr and one by rookie Gregg Sheppard, but had to survive a scare as the Seals came to life in the third period of the National Hockey League game. In the only other NHL game Thursday night, the Buffalo Sabres came out and one by rookie Gerry Sheppard, but had to survive a scare as the Seals came to life in the third period of the National Hockey League game. Indians Rally to Nip Windham, 16-15

Dave Fleishman Registers Both Touchdowns

By Dean Yost
Herald Sports Writer

"It definitely wasn't one of our better games," remarked a frozen but smiling Dave Wiggins, football coach at Manchester High, as his charges defeated Windham High, 16-15, in a CCLL battle yesterday morning in the Thrush City. More than 2,000 fans braved the 27 degree temperature at Windham High's new football field to watch the play.

The victory upped the Tribe's record to 6-3 for the season while the Whippets dipped to 3-6 in the CCLL and 3-7 overall.

Also, with the triumph, the locals retired the Army & Navy football trophy which will be added to the showcase. An indication of the freezing temperatures was brought out in that there were six fumbles overall, four by the Silk Towners, plus one interception thrown by Manchester's Rick Milka.

Following a scoreless first period in which both clubs had trouble moving the ball, Windham had total yards while the Indians ran for 13, play picked up considerably in the second 12 minutes.

Both clubs had touchdowns called back in the first half. The Whip's Skip Wilson rambled 74 yards to paydirt only to have an illegal procedure penalty kill the score. Manchester was also victimized by a penalty. Lyle Eastman fielded Bruce Jones' punt on the 40-yard line and handed off to Steve Samiotis. The latter scampered down the left sideline to score, but the officials ruled a forward handoff was made.

Windham was first on the scoreboard as they covered 51 yards in five plays capped by a 14-yard run by workhorse John Warinsky and a 30-yard aerial from quarterback Steve Parent to Warinsky at the 2:29 mark of the second period. The extra point attempt by Kevin Musial was good and Windham opened up a 7-0 margin. Windham's score was set up by a poor four-yard punt by Manchester's Al McCulloch.

Three penalties against Windham, totaling 35 yards, helped Manchester to its first TD. With a fourth and nine situation on the 30-yard line, McCulloch punted but a clip gave the Tribe possession now on their own 46-yard line. Dave Fleishman, showing shades of his great running ability before being sidelined a few weeks back, brought the ball down to the Windham 21. A five-yard offside penalty by the Whip's advanced the pigskin to the 16 and a personal foul put the ball on the nine-yard stripe. Fleishman, following a wall of blockers, danced into the endzone and the two-point conversion was successful when Milka hit Ron Roy with a pass. Manchester now led 6-7.

The lead was short-lived however, as Windham bounced back with a 14-yard strike on a pass option from Warinsky to end Pete Switchenko. Edging to go for two points, the hosts succeeded and now lead MHS 15-8 with 8:41 showing in the final stanza.

Manchester marched downfield behind three Milka aeriels covering 54 yards and the hard running of Fleishman and Samiotis. The score came on a Milka to Fleishman bomb covering 40 yards. Again going for the go-ahead two points, Samiotis went wide left and twisted and turned into paydirt. Now Manchester held the upper hand, 16-15, with 5:05 left on the clock.

Aggressive defensive efforts by Jack Maloney, Mark Odell, Don Corcoran, and the rest of the fired-up

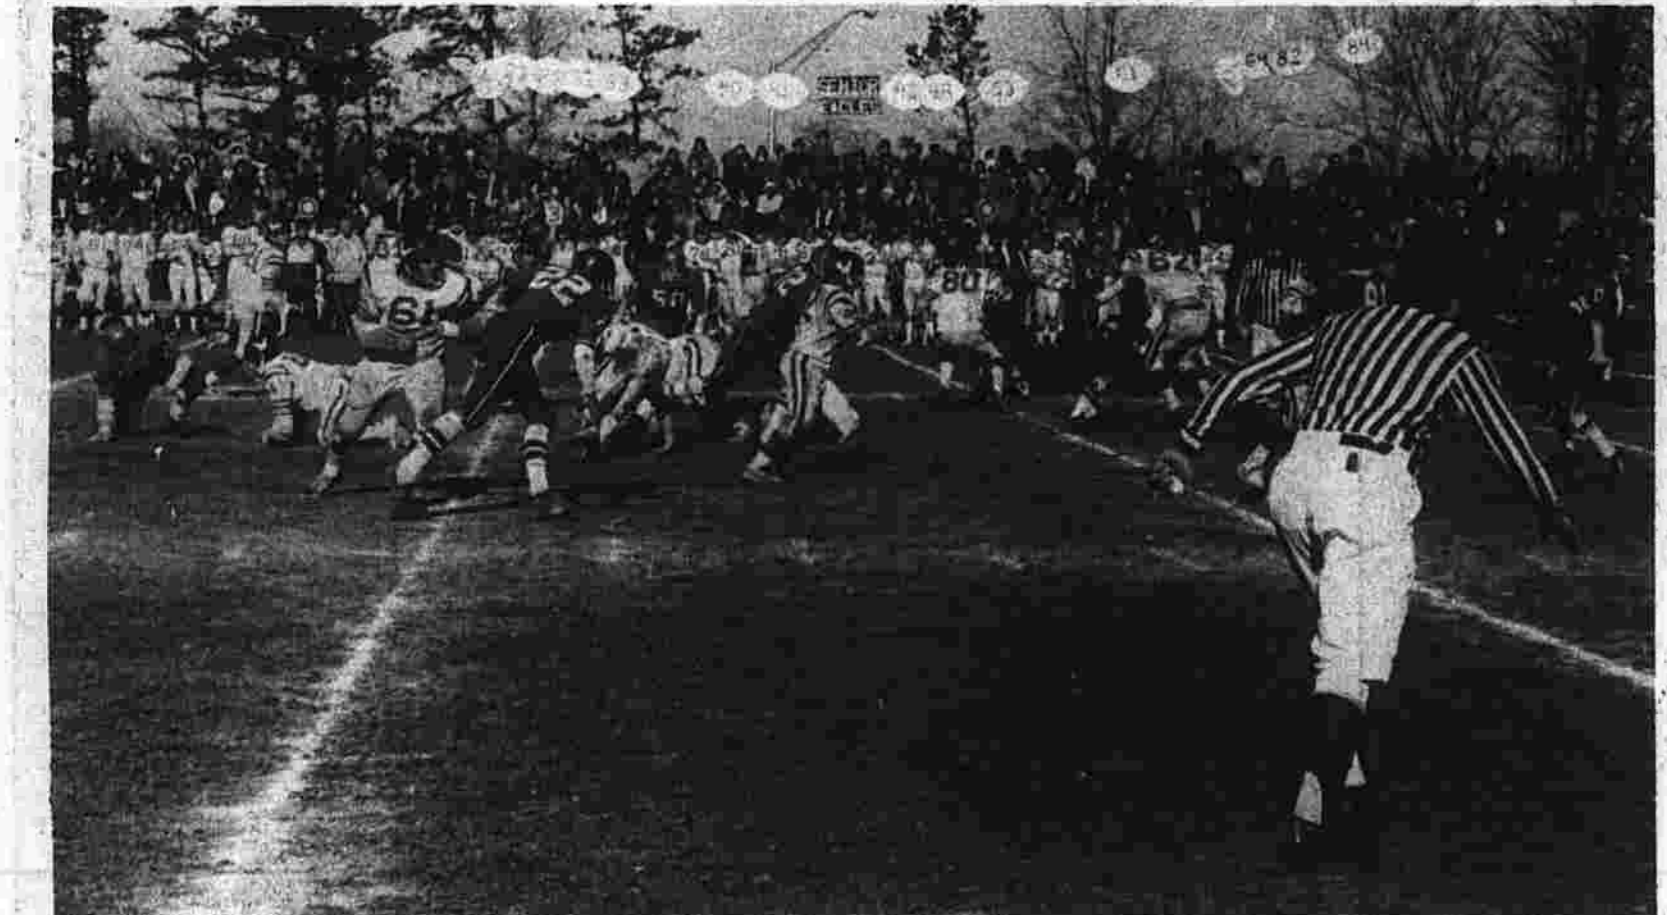

Manchester unit stalled a Windham drive and took over possession on the 49-yard line with 3:31 left.

"Our players didn't give up. They kept coming back throughout the entire game. I guess we were just a little rusty, but started to move the ball pretty good in the second half," the beaming Wiggins added.

Following presentation of the Army & Navy Trophy weary Indian gridders, chanted, "Allright. Allright. We won!"

Everyone got the message.

Fall Scale Action as East and South Tangled Yesterday at Mt. Nebo.

Eagles' Pete Hornat Romps for Short Gain

Winless South Triumphs, Eagles Drop 14-13 Tilt

By Marc Rick

In the annual Thanksgiving Day game at Mt. Nebo it was South Catholic besting arch-rival East Catholic by a 14-13 score on a sunny but bitter cold morning. It was the fourth straight triumph over the Silk Towners and the second one-point victory in three years. For South it was the first win of the season after eight straight defeats.

It was a heartbreaking loss for the locals who led 13-0 at the end of the opening period and 13-9 at the half.

The Eagles took the opening kickoff and tallied three plays later with Pete Hornat taking it over from the 12. Hornat carried the pigskin all three times on the drive for a total of 62 yards.

The final points for East were scored after a 12-play series with Captain Joe Davin busting into paydirt from one yard out. Mark Belloody added the extra point and East held a quick 13-point lead.

Senior running ace Hornat galloped for 168 yards in 21 attempts with an amazing 157 in the first half. Most of the large gains were helped by blockers Gary Bilodeau and Mark Branchetti.

It was a seemingly unjust climax for many outstanding players most notably all-conference linebacker Joe Davin who is one of the finest players ever to wear a blue uniform.

Also, some stellar offensive line play which made both running and passing plays work effectively. The blue-clads racked up their best offensive display of the year with some 301 yards in total offense with nine of 22 in the air for 98 yards. They also had 14 first downs plus 53 offensive plays.

Both South TD's were made by quarterback Mark Kastie who scored on three-yard runs. The deciding touchdown came with little more than four minutes left in the game. The actual winning points came on a conversion pass from Kastie to Frank DeRoza. It was the only completion of the day for the Rebels who attempted three in all.

Kastie led the Hartford club with 98 yards rushing in 30 chances. The entire team gained 183 yards in total offense with 10 first downs and 180 on the ground.

The locals seemed to move the ball easily in the initial stanza with sweep plays by Hornat the mainstay of the attack. They also occasionally used pass and draw plays to keep the defense honest.

As could be expected the cold weather induced numerous turnovers with six fumbles and five interceptions and many dropped passes as an indicator.

Most players wore sneakers instead of spikes because of the frozen turf which felt like cement when being tackled on it.

East ends its season with a disappointing 2-6-1 slate. In a total of nine contests they were outscored 150-96 with their biggest win 25-8 and the biggest loss 27-0.

Next year East should have a strong offensive nucleus with numerous starters returning including QB Bob Love, receivers Dave Bemer and Joe Banning and running back Cephus Nolen.

The Eagles lose some 15 seniors including Dave, Hornat, Glen Gabrielle, Lou Casavant, Marty Boldi, Andy Fazzino, Bill Lodge, Bilodeau, Branchetti, Jay Murphy, Steve Arretz, Rich Krauskas, Bucky Paquette, Jim Koop and Jim Quinn.

49er' Defense Corral Cowboys, Craig Morton Finds Going Tough

DALLAS (AP) — George Allen and his Washington Redskins, sitting all comfy in their living rooms, were the recipients of a Thanksgiving Day present from San Francisco, which shattered a succession of jinxes with a 31-10 rout of defending Super Bowl champion Dallas.

Of course, the 49ers had purely selfish motives as they surged a half game ahead of Los Angeles in the National Conference West with the sweet victory on a 6-1 record.

However, the Redskins can clinch the best spot in the NFC East with victories in two out of their last four games, leaving the Cowboys to scramble for the "wild card" berth.

Dallas is 8-3 and 1 1/2 games behind the Redskins. The "wild card" spot in the National Football League playoffs is given to the division runnerup with the best record. Right now, that's Dallas in the NFC.

In Thursday's other NFL clash, Detroit quarterback Greg Landry tossed for one touchdown and scored two others on quarterback sneaks as the Lions beat the New York Jets 37-20. The expected passing duel between Landry and New York's Joe Namath never materialized as three players broke 100 yards rushing — Albie Taylor of the Lions and John Riggins and Cliff McClain of the Jets.

Taylor scored on a 30-yard touchdown run with 1:49 left after linebacker Charlie Weaver intercepted a Namath pass.

Vanderbundt said, "The ball took one bounce and there it was. I just scooped it up and ran. It may have looked as if I was trotting, but I was running for my life."

Vanderbundt teamed for a spectacular play that turned the nationally televised game around in the second quarter. Wilcox clobbered Cowboy quarterback Craig Morton.

Lions Win Battle on Ground

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Namath of the New York Jets and Greg Landry of the Detroit Lions were supposed to have a passing duel Thursday before a capacity crowd of 54,418 at Tiger Stadium and a national television audience.

Instead, the teams went after each other on the ground and, despite the Jets having two 100-yard rushers to Detroit's one, it was the Lions who finished on top, 37-20.

Cliff McClain and John Riggins rushed for 121 and 105 yards respectively for New York, while Albie Taylor totaled 123 for Detroit.

Among New York's runs from scrimmage were bursts of 30, 30, 21, and 15 yards, while Detroit spiced the game with sprints of 33, 28, and 22 yards plus kick returns of 49 and 37 yards.

"I thought they'd throw the ball out of us," said Lions Coach Joe Schmidt.

"We didn't have the ball a lot, and we were running good so we threw less," said Namath, who completed just two of five passes the first half. He finished with nine of 21 for 180 yards, including a 23-yard TD pass to tight end Rich Carter in the third quarter.

Landry completed six of 18 passes for 125 yards.

The game was tied 20-20 going into the fourth quarter. Then Detroit's Errol Mann snapped the tie with a 37-yard field goal. Landry scored on a six-yard quarterback sneak, and Albie Taylor sprinted 38 yards for a TD with 1:49 remaining.

Although Landry's six-yard score came with just 2:57 left and put Detroit 10 points ahead, Namath insisted later, "I thought we could break it open then."

But linebacker Charlie Weaver intercepted a Namath pass and moments later Taylor put the game on ice with his touchdown.

In pure passing, Namath's the best there is," Landry said.

Tolland Hearing Set on Land Values

BETTE QUATRALE
Correspondent
Tel. 875-2845

The Board of Selectmen will call a public hearing Dec. 12 to attempt to iron out the continuing controversy over land value assessments.

The meeting was called on the repeated request of Stanley Gonds, spokesman for a large group of landowners who have been attempting to repeal their land assessments since revaluation figures were announced last year.

Gonds is specifically attempting to determine the new formula used by the assessors on the Grand List now being completed.

The assessors, meanwhile have noted the town's Grand List was reduced by $720,000 as the result of the placing of about 30 per cent of the land under Public Act 490 on applications made by the landowners.

Since the revaluation, 163 taxpayers have taken advantage of the benefits offered under Public Act 490, having their land certified for either forest or farm land, according to the assessors.

The $720,000 reduction in the grand list will cost each Tolland homeowner slightly under a one mill increase in his taxes to recover the lost revenue, the assessors claim.

There are only three true farms left in town, the assessors claim, others having their land classified as farm land, rent the land for hay or pasture, and a few rented acres were planted for alfalfa corn.

Gonds has repeatedly threatened to hold up major town expenditures until the assessment question is resolved.

Government Proposes To Redistrict Competition From Vending Stands

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an attempt to improve cafeteria business in federal buildings, the government has proposed redistricting competition from vending stands, which are usually operated by the blind and poor.

New regulations for vending stands in government buildings seek to curtail food and beverage sales, limiting vendors to newspapers, magazines, packaged candy, tobacco products and "such other articles as may be determined on a case-by-case basis."

The General Services Administration published the regulations in the Federal Register of Oct. 5. They will become law after 60 days, or about Dec. 4, unless challenged.

Blind and socially and economically deprived persons by law are given preference as operators of the stands and vending machines. A GSA spokesman said the new restrictions will not be applied to the blind persons who presently operate 465 stands.

But, he said, the new restrictions will apply to any new stand and to existing stands when they change hands.

The GSA said the change is designed to ease the financial problems of cafeteria operators in federal buildings and GSA's problems in obtaining bids for the cafeterias.

"Detailed studies have demonstrated that vending stands and machines which provide food and beverage in competition with a cafeteria facility cause higher prices, limited menu selections, inferior food quality, smaller portion sizes, and reduced efficiency in the cafeterias," the GSA said.

One example of the problem, the GSA said, occurred when the concessionaire at the federal office building in Richmond, Va., quit, blaming his high losses on competition from a vending stand in the building.

The GSA said, "The new policy would insure that federal employees who have a limited lunch period of usually 30 minutes are provided high-quality and convenient basic food service, such as a cafeteria or restaurant, under sanitary and healthful conditions, in clean, attractive and pleasant surroundings at the most reasonable prices possible."

ADULT AND RETIREMENT HOMES
Homes are not shell homes, but are completely finished and furnished with no extras to buy. All of Jensen's pre-built homes and mobilehomes are built to American Standard Association's Code A119-1 or above. Professionally Landscaped Lots - you will be surprised at the layout and planning on each lot. Perky evergreens, sturdy shade trees and colorful flowering shrubs highlight this development. Adult Home Villages are engineered, planned and built around the theory that pre-built and mobilehome living is practical and enjoyable for couples. We do not recommend this type of living for people with school children.

PRESTIGE COUNTRY CLUB LIVING
The sophisticated home owners who live in our country club development are kind, gentle, sociable, real down to earth people, a large per cent of whom are professionals. Many of them are quite well-to-do. They are the kind of people you may have always wanted as friends. Without sacrificing standards many of these well off people are saving money due to the economy of retirement country club living. They use the extra savings for trips, investment, sending grandchildren to college, etc.

CLUBHOUSE - SAUNA - POOL
The recreation clubs are independently organized. Card parties, anniversaries, bingo, suppers, dances, pool parties, cookouts, birthday parties, etc., are the order of the day. Privacy is supreme. If you wish to be alone, no one will bother you. If you want to visit, you need never be alone. This is living at its very best.

LOW PRICES - EASY FINANCING
The cost is extremely low. Easy financing - No extras to buy - No gimmicks - No points - No closing costs.

For charm, prestige, comfort and the greatest value in low cost Housing contact for appointment... Mrs. Smith, Rolling Hills, 429-1291. Mr. Olson, Main Office, 247-3269.

Wild Animal Park In Red
SAN DIEGO (AP) - The new wild animal park run by the San Diego Zoological Society lost $65,000 during its first fiscal year even though attendance was higher than expected, the city auditor says.

It was anticipated the park would lose money at first," auditor William Sage reported. The San Diego Zoological Society animal care still required large sums. Operational expenditures were $1.1 million while income from the park and contributions to it was $623,000, Sage said.

The park, northeast of the city near Escondido, is operated by the zoological society, a private, nonprofit organization which also runs the San Diego Zoo as a service to the city.

A park spokesman said the initial feasibility study for the facility predicted it would take at least three years to become self-supporting.

MHS Groups Help To Spread Bounty

Manchester High School students in Mrs. Nancy Grasselli's distributive education class of the Cooperative Occupational Education Program made yesterday a little brighter for some Hartford residents by distributing about 200 Thanksgiving dinners.

After receiving the names and addresses of the recipients at Salvation Army headquarters, they drove to the "Homestead to pick up the hot turkey dinners and bags of food. At 11 a.m., they started out on their missions and finished about 12:30 p.m. The students used their own cars, and eventually were escorted to their destination by a police officer. Including themselves, Mrs. Grasselli and Robert Baker to carry a few minutes and then out from the chill of the 20-degree weather. It was a success. Beverly commented, "Everyone was very thankful."

Neighbors provided the directions in helping Loren Pelletier, James Duffy, and James Sylvester to run down their addresses. Said Loren Pelletier, "It was real cool giving away turkey dinners. It made me feel great."

At one stop, a lady who lives alone in a tiny, immaculate apartment prevailed upon Mrs. Grasselli, Michael Halliwell, and Robert Baker to carry a few minutes and then out from the chill of the 20-degree weather. It was a success. Beverly commented, "Everyone was very thankful."

Club members collected four food baskets, with the help of the student body and faculty members. Turkey for the baskets were donated by Top Notch Supermarket, Everybody's Supermarket, and Finast of Manchester, which donated a gift certificate.

The American Red Cross helped distribute the baskets.

HUD Says Vernon Must Find Site For Package Store

If the town does not relocate a former tenant of the area which is now the town's renewal project, the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) may withhold a final payment due information come up.

Although it was noted that Lyga would not be the owner but just the permittee of the liquor shop, HUD officials indicated this would not make any difference. It was still the responsibility of the Renewal Agency or the town to see that he was relocated.

A letter from HUD to Abbott Schwabel, town attorney, stated that HUD does not feel the town's responsibility has been fully discharged and that the agency was continuing to withhold the final payment pending the satisfactory relocation of Lyga. If the payment is not made it will be the town's responsibility to appropriate the money in order to retire the project bonds. Since the third time the Zoning Board of Appeals took action on Lyga's request, no other request has been filed.

Named Secretary

HARTFORD (AP) - State Rep. James F. Bingham, R-Stamford, has been appointed co-chairman of the Joint Committee in the 1973 General Assembly.

The variance was necessary because the proposed shop would be closer than zoning regulations allow, to a church, a school and another liquor outlet.

The zoning group denied the appeal the first time it was heard, labled action the second time and the third time denied it "without prejudice" which left the way open for reconsideration should new information come up.

Strike Suspends Bus Service

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam announced today that the secret peace talks between Hanoi and the United States were interrupted until Dec. 4.

A communiqué of the North Vietnamese delegation, issued a few hours after Kissinger and the Hanoi envoi met for the sixth time in succession, said Tho and his fellow negotiator Xuan Thuy "will meet Dr. Kissinger again on Dec. 4, 1972."

In New York, meanwhile, Kissinger was to arrive at Ronald Reagan's residence to reach a cease-fire agreement, Ziegler said, "I would caution you against any excessive speculation."

Asked if some obstacles had been encountered in the efforts to reach a cease-fire agreement, Ziegler said, "I would caution you against any excessive speculation."

In Paris, U.S. delegation spokesman David Lambertson said he had no comment on the announcement, which came amid reports of a crisis in the negotiations.

The Washington Post story said Kissinger had informed Tho and Xuan Thuy of the secret talks Monday that the United States, in deference to objections from South Vietnam, would accept a Council of Ministers agreement.

Thien has described the agreement as a sell-out by the United States, and he warned the United States he will not accept any deal made against his will.

The Washington Post said that Tho, angered by the American refusal, promptly threatened to withdraw the concessions made by Hanoi in the October draft.

This included abandonment of the old Communist demand for a simultaneous political and military settlement, and an agreement to allow Thieu to remain at the head of the Saigon government pending elections.

release of jailed members of the West German Baader-Meinhof anarchist gang. Officials in Frankfurt, acting with the assistance of a psychologist, implemented a plan of psychological warfare.

The man, who described himself as a former inmate of a Nazi concentration camp who wants to go down in history, began his bizarre list of demands with a call for the release of the young Czech hijacker waiting trial in Weiden for the slaying of a Czechoslovak pilot June 8.

Smouldering Crisis Comes To A Head

Pickets marched at Connecticut Co. garages in Hartford, New Haven and Stamford today as a marathon bus crisis climaxed in a strike against the state's largest bus company.

John Thompson, head of the Amalgamated Transit Union, said the union, which has been working on a day-to-day basis since last year's contract expired Sept. 30, has given the state and local governments enough time to solve the problem of subsidies.

The union and the company had reportedly agreed on provisions for a new contract but ConnCo, claiming weekly losses of $100,000, refused to sign without a written promise of state or local subsidies.

Thompson said, "I'll concede that I can't operate without subsidies. All three cities have worked out emergency plans to cope with the strike when its full impact is felt on Monday."

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norwegian navy frigates after a six-day search in the open part of the Sognefjord on Friday night discovered a submarine.

The spokesman did not disclose details of the new contract. He said the company's phone call to the union, "We know the union says it's going to strike."

The strike accomplished what, in effect, the company tried to do Oct. 24: shut off bus service but prevent from doing by a court injunction.

Superior Court Judge George J. Ziegler said he will extend the injunction against a shutdown for another week, but he said the injunction could be dissolved by a strike.

The injunction was obtained by Hartford, with New Haven and Stamford later joining in the action. In addition, Stamford is asking that ConnCo be put into receivership, and ConnCo wants the court to order the state to pay the company's subsidies from the Public Service Trust Fund.

Another meeting was held Friday between the state Department of Transportation and the Public Service Trust Fund.

Oct. 2-Gov. Milliken vetoes the bus subsidy bill, claiming it is too expensive a way to solve the bus crisis.

President Gets Big Greeting

A crowd of hundreds welcomed President Richard M. Nixon late Friday as he visited New York City on a surprise visit described as a private weekend. He shakes hands with city wishers in the city's financial district. It is his first visit to the city since he was re-elected. (AP photo)

President Nixon, enjoying a New York holiday weekend with his family, says he will have a "very exciting second term" with both the foreign and domestic scenes.

The President took time out from planning sessions for the four years ahead to come here Friday for theater-going, shopping and visiting old friends.

In a relaxed mood, Nixon met his first public crowds since his landslide re-election victory, and he waded in to shake hands and chat in the financial and theater districts of the city.

With wife, Pat, daughters Julie and Tricia, son-in-law Edward Cox and Florida friend C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo, the president dined in the city.

Search For Missing Solons Suspended

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — After 39 futile days, the search for House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs has been abandoned because of the onset of winter.

Boggs, Alaska Rep. Nick Begich and two other men have been missing since Oct. 16 on a flight from Anchorage to Juneau.

Air Force Maj. Ken Shelly said the search, officially suspended Friday, will be reopened if any new clues or significant information is uncovered.

Military and civilian airplanes logged more than 3,500 hours in the air and covered 32,000 square miles in the search, the largest in Alaskan history — for the missing Congressmen.

The plane left Anchorage about 9 a.m. (ADT), and Jonz filled a few days that could lead to declaring open the West Coast search.

Official proceedings are expected to begin in Alaska within a few days, that could lead to declaring open the West Coast search.

Search for missing solons suspended. Bogs, Alaska Rep. Nick Begich and two other men have been missing since Oct. 16 on a flight from Anchorage to Juneau.

Air Force Maj. Ken Shelly said the search, officially suspended Friday, will be reopened if any new clues or significant information is uncovered.

Military and civilian airplanes logged more than 3,500 hours in the air and covered 32,000 square miles in the search, the largest in Alaskan history — for the missing Congressmen.

The plane left Anchorage about 9 a.m. (ADT), and Jonz filled a few days that could lead to declaring open the West Coast search.

Official proceedings are expected to begin in Alaska within a few days, that could lead to declaring open the West Coast search.
