

Police Report Two Girls Arrested On Drug Charges

Manchester Police raided another local apartment Wednesday night and arrested two 18-year-old girls on drug charges.

Police, armed with a Circuit Court 12 search warrant, entered an apartment at 55 Clinton St. at about 7 p.m., and found a small quantity of a substance believed to be marijuana.

It was the second drug raid in two days. Tuesday night, police nabbed four Manchester girls and a Wethersfield man after a search of two apartments at 66-58 Wells St.

Arrested Wednesday night were Linda Bancroft and Sharon Terasch, both of 55 Clinton St. Both were charged with illegal possession of a controlled non-narcotic substance.

Both girls were released on $500 non-surety bonds. They are scheduled to appear in court at Manchester Jan. 8.

Both Tuesday and Wednesday night raids were made after lengthy investigation by Manchester Police.

The suspected drugs seized in the raids will be sent to the state's toxicology laboratory for testing.

A Manchester man, Michael G. Zolvik of 24 West St., was beat up at Cooper and Pleasant Sts. early this morning, according to police.

Zolvik told police the beating occurred at about 1 a.m. Police said he was not seriously hurt.

According to police reports, Zolvik was assaulted as he stopped his car at a stop sign at the Cooper and Pleasant Sts. intersection. Two unidentified men, who had been following Zolvik in another car, pulled the victim from his car at the intersection, police said.

Zolvik said he was beaten for about five minutes, and then the two assailants left. Investigation is continuing.

Ahola A. Willocks, 24, of East Hartford, was charged Wednesday night with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting) at King's Department Store at the Parkade, police said.

Willocks was released on a $250 non-surety bond for court appearance Jan. 8.

Ira Rutchik, 21, of 19 Florence St., was given a written warning for operating a motor vehicle at a speed too fast for conditions, after a Wednesday afternoon accident on Garden St.

Police said Rutchik's car struck a parked car owned by Desmond Vogelzang of 66 Garden St. The Volkswagen car was pushed into another parked vehicle owned by Northeast Fireproofing Corp. of 68 Garden St., police said.

The Rutchik and Vogelzang cars were towed from the scene.

A motorcycle owned by Leon Smith of 773 Spruce St. was stolen from 23 1/2 Church St. sometime Wednesday, police said.

A sewing machine and a cutting board, totally valued at about $275, were stolen from a car owned by Ronald Tuttle of 318 Main St., Vernon, sometime Wednesday night, police said.

The car was parked at the Parkade at the time.

Stereo sound equipment and camera equipment were taken in a Wednesday night break into an apartment at 12 Spruce St., police reported.

The victim, Paul Shurtlet, said the items were worth a total of about $700.

Robert Thayer, 28, of 332 Vernon Ave., Vernon, was charged Wednesday night with breach of the peace. He was released on a written promise to appear. Court date is Jan. 16 at Rockville.

knowing he gives up other rights, notably, running for public office."

Agostinelli replied, "Those arguments only prove the need for more politics among policemen than among lawyers weighing judgments and among judges — many of whom are politicians." He said that his decisions have been labeled political.

"We know how lawyers and doctors keep professional confidences — how, after a few cocktails, they'll tell you all their problems."

Dominic Squatrito, an attorney, agreed with Shea, that "certain people in our society have a fiduciary or trusted relationship to the rest of society," and that they must have a higher sense of ethics.

"Whether or not there is a problem is besides the point," said Squatrito. "The policeman can't be placed in a position where it even can be questioned. Can you not see there would be subtle pressures and influences working against him?"

Leonard Seader disagreed with Sullivan's argument that freedom of speech was threatened, and Robert Stone asked, "What political job in town would pay them a living?"

And Odegar said, "Conflict of interest would be hard to define. I can't escape the belief that everyone, with very few exceptions, should be able to run for public office and, if elected, to be able to set policy."

The discussion and the vote took up over a third of last night's three-hour meeting.

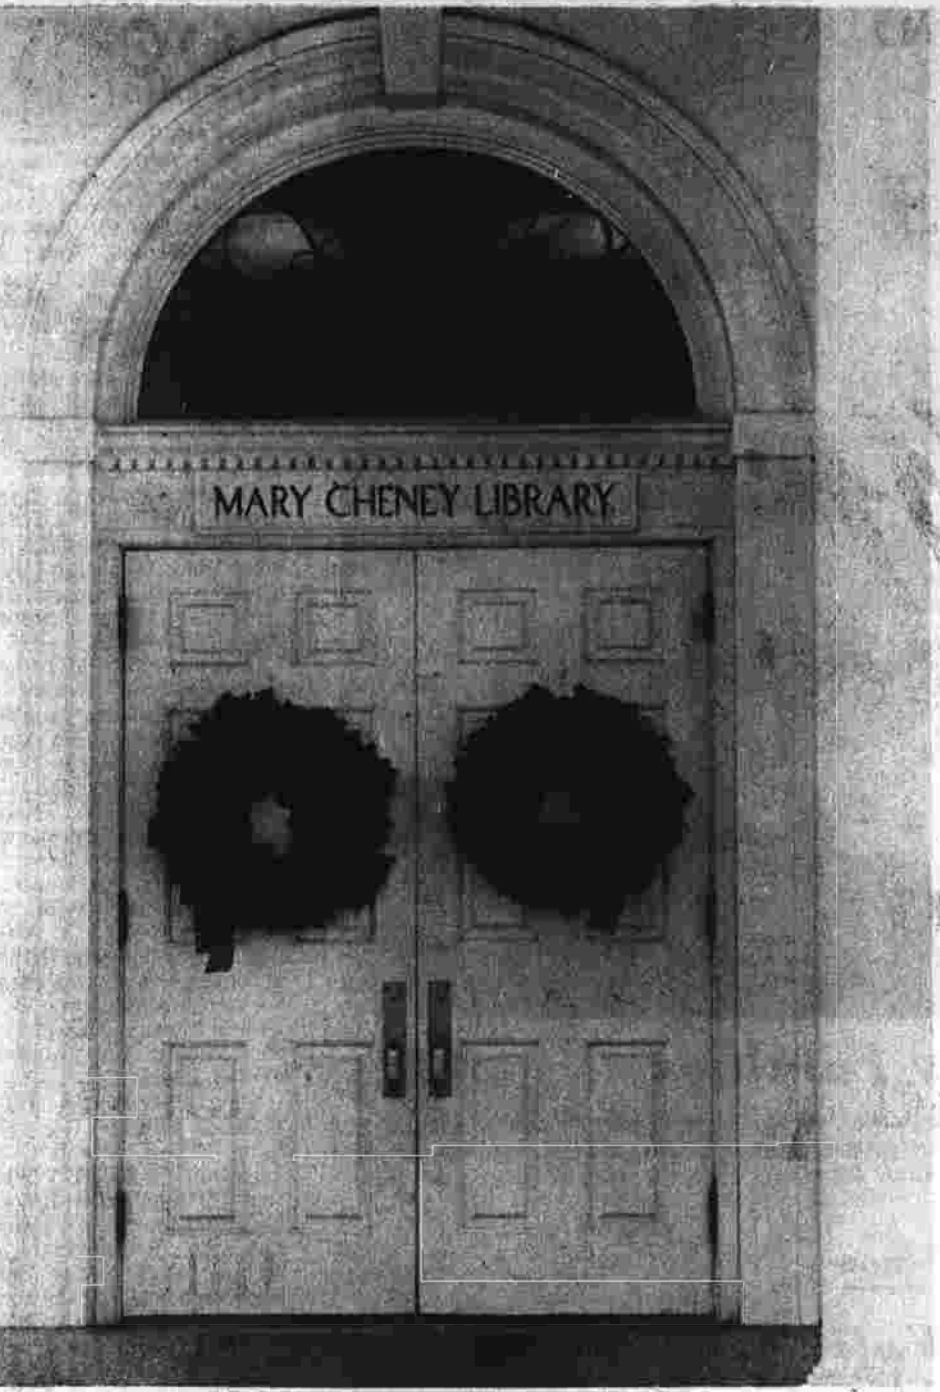

The CRC, by a 9 to 4 vote, backed a proposed charter change for doubling the pay of the nine town directors. Under the proposal, the mayor would get $1,500 a year, the board secretary $1,200 and the other seven directors $1,000 each. The scale since 1969 has been $750-$900-$500.

A motion by Agostinelli, to pay the mayor $5,000, the secretary $4,000 and the other seven directors $3,000, lost by an 11 to 2 vote. And a motion by Odegar, for a $1,500-$1,000-$750 was not seconded and didn't come to a vote.

Other proposed charter changes backed last night are:

— Inclusion of a merit system for town employees — to follow the outline of the classification system now used.

— Provision for emergency borrowing by the Board of Directors — to a limit not to exceed one (1) per cent of the

Truman Has Bad Night With Heart

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman's doctors reported he went through a period of dangerous cardiac instability early today, triggered by a decrease in blood pressure and a fluttering pulse, they said.

The 88-year-old former president had had and he remained in very serious condition.

John Dreyes, research hospital and medical center public relations director, said doctors had considered placing the 88-year-old former president on the critical list, but after the morning's period of heightened concern, his opinion he is not critical.

The kidney function continues to improve under the influence of a special essential amino acid diet, Dreyes said, but with such improvement, "potentially dangerous changes in body chemistry may occur."

Because of that, he said, the early morning irregularities were anticipated.

Milk Price Will Go Up In State

STORRS (AP) — Retail milk prices in Connecticut will increase in January and February and then remain stable until perhaps August or September, said a dairy marketing specialist at the University of Connecticut.

"I would think there might be a one-cent per quart increase in January and some modest increase beyond that in February," said Dr. Stewart Johnson of the university-affiliated Connecticut Cooperative Extension Service.

Police Hard To Sell On Realism

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Santa Claus and his helper were left out in the cold on a church roof this week and were further embarrassed by a police interrogation while trying to get to a children's Christmas party.

"I don't know if I want to play Santa Claus again," mused Hamilton Journal News Sunday Editor Rex Richardson, after the Wednesday night incident.

He and a friend decided to make the church party more authentic with a rooftop arrival. But someone swiped the ladder they were using and the two became stranded.

A policeman became suspicious and questioned them when they finally got down.

Once satisfied with their explanation, the officer told Richardson:

"I want a toy pistol for Christmas."

Survive October

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Two survivors of a crashed Uruguayan plane, who inordinately without snow and snow in the Andes, were rescued and said 14 others are still at risk in the mountains, police reported today.

The two men struggled down the mountain to seek aid for their companions still at the crash site and were found by a police patrol.

The plane, a twin-engine propeller-driven "Fairchild" of the Uruguayan air force, was carrying a crew of five and 40 rugby players when it crashed in the mountains of the Andes in a severe snow storm Oct. 13.

The plane crashed in a pass about 125 miles south of Santiago.

Police said a patrol found the two survivors at the crash site called Los Maitenes, about 30 miles inland from San Fernando, a town 110 miles south of Santiago.

Pope Fears Bombing May Threaten Peace

VATICAN CITY, (AP) — Pope Paul VI expressed fears today that the resumption of American bombing of Hanoi and Haliphong threatens a peace agreement.

The Pope, in his annual Christmas message to the College of Cardinals, spoke out against the breakdown in negotiations between Hanoi and Washington. He noted he had expressed the hope earlier that the stalemate would only be temporary.

But he said that the recent events had raised fears in world opinion that the peace pact was a satisfactory and equitable conclusion as soon as possible.

The Pope's message also expressed concern over violence in Northern Ireland and the Middle East.

But the Pope also saw signs of hope in other countries. He noted the Red Cross talks conducted by North and South Korea and the recent exchange of prisoners between India and Pakistan.

Mud Time Weather Forecast

BOSTON (AP) — Robert Frost's two tramps would feel more at home in New England this Christmas than the jolly old gent from the North Pole.

Frost's two tramps, in the celebrated poem, came around in "Mud Time" — that never-never time in April when New England leech-letters between winter and spring.

Christmas will be a lot like Mud Time, according to the National Weather Service.

The forecast for Dec. 22, next Monday, is for mild weather across the entire region, with rain predicted for Vermont and Connecticut.

Massachusetts and Rhode Island may get some rain Christmas night.

It will be fair in New Hampshire and Maine Christmas Day, but the temperatures will be in the 40s in many areas, making the prospects for a brown Christmas better than those for a white Christmas."

Christmas Mail Peak Is Past

By JOHN A. JOHNSTON (Herald Reporter)

"Everything is going well, and we are in good condition right now," Edward Sauter, Manchester postmaster, summed up the handling of the volume of mail at the holiday season by Main Office and branch station employees.

He expressed his sincere appreciation to the people of Manchester and Bolton for mailing early and preparing packages properly for efficient and expeditious handling.

Sauter said that Wednesday was the peak day for incoming and outgoing mail, 337,000 pieces. Monday was the biggest day for cancellations — 156,150 pieces, including 147,411 letters. As of Wednesday night, he said, cancellations were ahead of last year by some 60,000 pieces.

This year, eight sorters were added to the regular staff, Sauter said, because Manchester assisted in handling Connecticut mail coming into Bradley International Airport from all over the United States. After sorting was completed, it was distributed to other state cities.

Since Nov. 11, when the two special Christmas stamps were issued, Sauter said, 947,648 eight-cent stamps were sold locally. Of this number, he added, the Santa Claus and St. Lucy Legend issues accounted for some 850,000, with sales divided about equally between the two.

Window service will be provided until noon tomorrow, but there will be none Sunday and Monday. The Main Office will be open both days from noon until 2 p.m. On Christmas, there will be one remaining and one outgoing mail. Special delivery mail and perishables will be delivered Christmas.

U.S. Air Attack Continuing Without Letup

SAIGON (AP) — Punishing U.S. air blows battered Hanoi and Haliphong without any indication of a letup today, and American casualties soared to their highest level in 19 months.

The U.S. Command reported the loss Thursday of two more B2 heavy bombers and two more fighter-bombers, with 16 more crewmen missing. The raised the toll since the massive attack began Monday night to eight B52, four fighter-bombers and 43 airmen.

It was the heaviest toll in U.S. personnel since the week of May 23-28, 1971, when 100 B-52s were reported killed in action or missing.

Radio Hanoi claimed a total of 34 American planes downed, including three more B52s and two fighter-bombers at dawn today. It has reported a number of airmen captured but has given no total.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency said that air strikes Wednesday and Thursday damaged the main American prisoner-of-war camp which the POWs have nicknamed the "Hanoi Hilton." The report said the bombing damaged many U.S. airmen captured this week had been sent to the camp.

The broadcast said singer Joan Baez, attorney Telford Taylor and two other American peace activists now in Hanoi visited the camp and inspected the damage.

Commentator China claimed that one of its merchant ships was damaged in Haliphong harbor during a raid Wednesday and its crew "gravely endangered." The Peking government said it "strongly protests this provocation on the part of U.S. imperialism and its closely allied satellites of expanding U.S. war activities."

Hanoi reported earlier that the bombing damaged the Cuban and Egyptian embassies in Hanoi, sank a Polish ship in Haliphong and damaged a Soviet ship.

North Vietnam has reported sections of Hanoi and Haliphong being cut off and hundreds of civilians killed or wounded. Although the Pentagon has denied the U.S. Command maintain that only military targets are being hit, American officials have acknowledged that some of these are in close proximity to population centers. In addition, the B52s drop their bomb loads — 30 tons each — in a saturation, carpet-type pattern rather than the precision targeting of the B52s.

U.S. officials indicate about 100 of the eight-1/2 Stratofortresses are being used each day in the attacks.

"Everything is going well, and we are in good condition right now," Edward Sauter, Manchester postmaster, summed up the handling of the volume of mail at the holiday season by Main Office and branch station employees.

He expressed his sincere appreciation to the people of Manchester and Bolton for mailing early and preparing packages properly for efficient and expeditious handling.

Sauter said that Wednesday was the peak day for incoming and outgoing mail, 337,000 pieces. Monday was the biggest day for cancellations — 156,150 pieces, including 147,411 letters. As of Wednesday night, he said, cancellations were ahead of last year by some 60,000 pieces.

This year, eight sorters were added to the regular staff, Sauter said, because Manchester assisted in handling Connecticut mail coming into Bradley International Airport from all over the United States. After sorting was completed, it was distributed to other state cities.

Since Nov. 11, when the two special Christmas stamps were issued, Sauter said, 947,648 eight-cent stamps were sold locally. Of this number, he added, the Santa Claus and St. Lucy Legend issues accounted for some 850,000, with sales divided about equally between the two.

Window service will be provided until noon tomorrow, but there will be none Sunday and Monday. The Main Office will be open both days from noon until 2 p.m. On Christmas, there will be one remaining and one outgoing mail. Special delivery mail and perishables will be delivered Christmas.

Dallas Woman Freed After Ransom Payment

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Kidnapers freed Mrs. Joe M. Dealey Jr., 22, an attractive international socialite, today after her newspaper executive father-in-law paid $250,000 ransom. She had been held 2 1/2 days.

Mrs. Dealey, the former Amanda Mayhew, was unharmed except for bruises caused by tape used to bind her, her husband said. Her jewelry had been taken.

YOU CANNOT DISDAIN FINESSE AT OVERBID
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD
In a team match the very same cards are played at two different tables. If results are different, nobody can say that one team had better cards. Take today's hand, played at two weeks ago in Lancaster, Pa., during a playoff to pick the North American team for the 1973 world championship. A member of the other team stopped at two trump on the North-South cards; my team bid three trump. Who do you think made his contract?

North dealer
Both sides vulnerable
Opening lead — Five of Hearts

At the first table, West led the five of hearts against two trump. South won with the ace and led a low club, hoping that the enemy would have to tackle spades or diamonds for him.

East returned a diamond, and South wound up taking two spades, two hearts, one diamond and two clubs. Down one.

At the second table, Lew Mahe (a member of my team) got to three trump and couldn't afford to disdain the club finesse. He won the first trick with the ace of hearts, led a spade to the ace and returned the jack of clubs for a finesse.

Continues Hearts

West won with the ace of clubs and led the deuce of hearts. South led a finesse to East, and now East made the natural return of the nine of diamonds. A spade would probably have defeated the contract.

South stepped up with the ace of diamonds, led a heart to the king and returned the nine of clubs for a finesse. East covered with the queen, and South won with the king and took two more clubs.

Mahe next led a diamond, thrusting West into the lead. West could take two diamonds.

Three Doctors To Be Serving Enfield Area

ENFIELD (AP) - The town of Enfield will receive the services of three doctors supplied by the federal government, officials say.

A local committee, after trying to recruit doctors for the area with limited success, discovered the town was eligible for federal help and filed an application.

The area need was proven in the town's application," said Henry Garvey, information officer for the National Health Service Corps (NHSC) regional office in Boston.

The physicians to be selected by NHSC will be recruited under provisions of the Emergency Health Personnel Act, which authorized $80 million to aid communities that are understaffed or have aging physicians handling large practices.

Garvey said the doctors are expected in July 1973. They will be paid partly from legislated funding and partly from fees for a period of two years. After that period, they may opt to set up their own practices in the town.

Enfield was one of four New England communities whose applications for such assistance were approved by the NHSC.

The others are Island Falls and Van Buren, Maine, and Waterbury, Vt.

The Enfield application was filed by the Health Planning Committee, headed by the Rev. Robert Lane, pastor of Enfield Congregational Church.

Groundbreaking for a new area hospital, the Johnson Memorial Hospital on Route 196 on the Somers-Stafford line is scheduled next month.

Meanwhile, Enfield's nearest hospitals are in Hartford, Conn., and Springfield, Mass.

Youth Accused Of Passing Bogus Bills

ORANGE (AP) — A West Haven youth was arrested Thursday in connection with counterfeit $10 bills that have been circulating across Connecticut, police said.

Charged with forgery was William Styles, 18.

Orange Police Detective Joseph Cybart said bills have been circulating in New York City for the past year and in Connecticut for the past month.

Orange Police reported recovering about $80 in the counterfeit bills and Ansonia Police said they recovered 20 of the bogus bills.

Cybart said an investigation into the counterfeiting was continuing.

Machinist Wins Big

ROCKY HILL (AP) — A Glastonbury machinist with five children, one of them crippled by cerebral palsy, held his only immediate plans were to take a vacation with his brother, "someplace warm."

The winning number picked in Thursday's lottery drawing was 50248.

Neuber's three-year-old daughter Christine, has been ill since birth and has recently undergone surgery. She requires periodic hospitalization and continual medical treatment.

Mrs. Neuber said the lottery money means "we'll never have to worry about Christine again."

Joseph P. DeMaio, 53, a bachelor from West Haven, held a winning $15,000 ticket. DeMaio, a produce clerk, said his only immediate plans were to take a vacation with his brother, "someplace warm."

'Fairness Doctrine,' A Real Threat

The Nixon Administration proposal to give the Federal Communications Commission new broader rules under which network radio and television newscasts would become the responsibility of local station management is ominous.

Ominous for two reasons. First, it continues the dangerous trend of more and more restrictions upon freedom of the press by federal government at a time when this freedom should be broadened.

Second, in the case of the electronic media, it represents a blatant attempt to exert economic pressure (that is the threat of lifting a station's operating license) to influence news content presumably in the direction that meets with federal bureaucratic favor.

Ironically, the concept of the so-called "fairness doctrine" in telecasting and radio, originally intended to protect the viewer or listener from slanted or bias news on the part of station owners, the networks and electronic news personnel; does not seem to apply to government officials who are the most prone to use slanted news or biased pronouncements as they defend their positions or attack their critics. Unfairness to most public officials, high and low, is most often a catch-all which really means, "Damn you, you aren't believing my lies."

This latest sortie into the field of "news" management by the administration is a very fundamental threat to our society because it goes beyond reasonable regulation into the area of thought control.

It is an insult to every thinking American in that it implies we are so enthralled by a newscaster's voice or beauty that we accept his pontifications as second only to the Sermon on the Mount.

A Worthy Example

Praise is due Town Manager Robert Weiss and Chief of Police James Reardon for their action in employing three disabled veterans to man the complex radio and dispatch center now being installed at the station.

Their employment will result in freeing trained officers for street du-

It disrupts the free flow of ideas, information, criticism, debate and news enterprise by degrading editorial content decisions from its lofty purpose of the people of the people's right to know, to what some federal bureaucratic snoop who got his job as political reward might think about it.

Before any of us go off the deep end and buy the idea that electronic news will become more "objective" because local stations can censor network news programs; just remember it is easier to browbeat a 50-pound economic weakling than it is a 220-pound professional boxer.

This is the essence of the new administration's tactic. It is designed solely to fragment the network not because they are biased, not because they are wrong; but because they have, in the highest tradition of a free press, refused to come to heel to the would-be evangelicals who permeate both major political structures today.

While we do not always agree with the editorial content and positions taken by our fellow newspaper editors and quite often are at odds with our counterparts in the electronic media; there is one thing we feel any journalist worth his salt will agree on. That is government, no matter how enlightened, no matter how benevolent, no matter how free, is the last thing which should have control over what we print, what we say, and how we do it.

To allow this to happen is to open the door to thought control and the death of democracy as we know it in America today.

Our credo in the profession and as citizens today should be more than ever before: "I may disagree with what you say, but will defend to death your right to say it."

ty. But more important, we think, is that the veterans are being given an opportunity to follow a most satisfying and useful vocation.

It's good to see municipalities employing disabled veterans and where applicable, such a practice should also be encouraged by business and industry.

Ziegler, the presidential press secretary, denying speculation that a rift has developed between President Nixon and his chief peace negotiator, Henry A. Kissinger, over Vietnam policy.

"It is long past the time when we should consider people, not their positions." — Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Senate majority leader, anticipating that Congress will try to end the war in Vietnam if President Nixon's doesn't do it himself.

"The faith engendered on the first Christmas Day assures us of that abounding love which will magnify our little victories and blot out, as only love can, the memories of our defeat and failures. Wise Men?

Commuters wonder just how wise they are. As each proppis his mileage-weary car Through homebound traffic tied in vexing snarls.

When sleet or snow the whole procession snarls. No soft, supernal light upon them streams Only those, glaring, blinding headlight beams;

No peaceful, pious pilgrimage is this. But daily battle, bare of Christmas bliss. And yet there is a goal that proves them wise. The little homes and those they idolize

As, turning in the driveway, each can see His beacon star upon the Christmas tree. He has no gold like that of kings-immense. But love to share is fragrant frankincense.

No Magi magic guides him to the spot; He has no camel but he has his Camelot!

Jesus

By Hazel Gilbert
Christmas is a happy day
It is the birthday of a King
Let us bow down and worship Him
And our hearts unto Him let us bring

Every knee shall bow to Him some day
And confess that He is Lord
Why not bow down to Him now
And worship Christ the Lord

May the spirit of the Christ child
Rest upon us all today
May the star that shined in Bethlehem
Shine upon our way

May the singing of the angels
Peace on earth, good will to men,
Come to this earth once again.

Merry Christmas

To the editor:
I am only a drop in the ocean, and I am not finding fault with our President, or our wonderful country.

But couldn't the trip to the moon have been postponed until the war was over, or at least until our prisoners of war were home safely, in their country?

It is a challenge to the world, and also to one of God's gifts to the world.

I presume that three men, a few rockets and billions spent could have been spent to end the war and bring back our fighting men. Is it more important to exploit God's world above?

Christmas will soon be upon us and I am sure there are millions young and old, who could use a few dollars for food, or a few extra clothes for the winter ahead. Merry Christmas!

Sincerely,
Mrs. B. Klein

A Clerical Error

To the editor:
Is it possible that Dr. Peter in his "Peter Principle" was correct in saying that the educational process as well as the business establishment we are so much affected by?

After spending three months in anticipation that surely could have been avoided, I feel compelled to agree with the much disputed Dr. Peter.

In October of this year, I submitted a transfer application to the University of Connecticut in Storrs. The necessary paper work and documents were sent to UConn with the application. One month later, I received notice of who requesting my record from the first of two high schools I attended. The records were sent immediately.

Another month went by without a word from the university.
Time and patience were now growing short considering that in five weeks classes for the January term, would commence. At this time I called the office of admissions requesting some kind of word on what action had been taken on my application. I was told by the secretary that I was being refused admission for the reason that my high school records were never received. I then decided to pursue the matter in person.

Upon questioning the secretary, I found that all necessary documents were in order and the delay on my application was merely a clerical error on her part. Near speechless, she suggested I see an advisor.

I proceeded to make an appointment for the next day.
When I confronted the advisor, she for the first time scanned
the application and admitted that all necessary papers had been received and added that my grades were well above the standards required for admission.

She, also confused, advised

Thanked Our

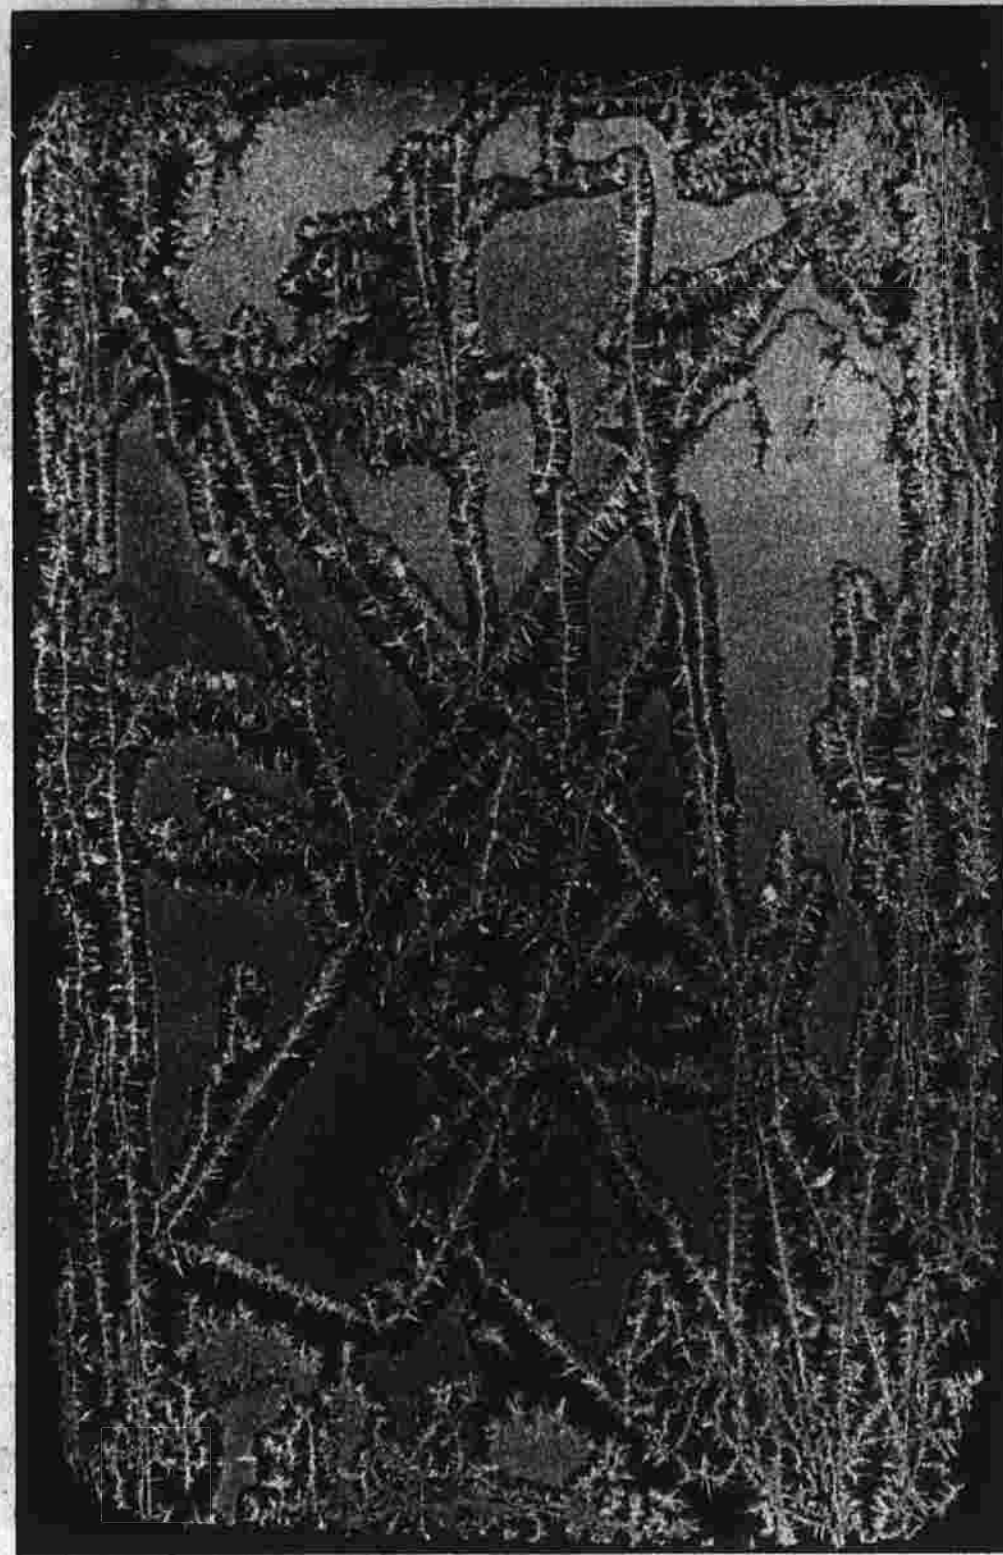

Touched

Dear editor:
Every Sunday since July 4 of this year, from 11 a.m. to noon, a small group of people assembled in a circle of hope in front of the Civil War Monument in Center Park.

Their commitment is a human monument to peace, a peace which is not at hand. A vignette for the millions who must die and the millions more who must endure torment and suffering that most of us cannot even imagine, much less think about.

To the unknown women who brought us coffee Dec. 17 as we stood in the snow and the 16 degree cold, your warmth touched our hearts. After all, this is what love and peace are all about.

Thank you and Godspeed.

A Collector's Item

WASHINGTON — So, all right, I realize White House Press Secretary Ron Ziegler can't go around saying the President's anti-inflation policies are a flop, but he doesn't have to be preposterous on the subject.

Commenting on the Labor Department's report that wholesale prices jumped ahead at an annual rate of 7.2 per cent last month, Ziegler told a news conference the administration has "made significant strides in bringing the rate of inflation down," and that "we feel the economy is healthy today."

Of the November figures, Ziegler said, "I am told by those who assess these things that we do not regard the November increases as a lessening of progress in the fight against inflation."

For those who treasure the outrageous, Ziegler's statement has got to be a collector's item. The price rise for November — 0.6 per cent both before and after seasonal adjustments — boosted the department's wholesale price index to 5.4 per cent above its level for November 1971. If that doesn't lessen progress in the fight against inflation, Einstein flunked mathematics.

These expressions are beyond comprehension. These feelings will be branded in the hearts, souls and minds of all who participated. A permanent injection of life.

My personal thanks to Jack Papp, John Debb of the Manchester Jaycees, Miss McCarthy of Burger King.

A Christmas experience that reflects 365 days a year.

"Pull Date" Aids Sharp Shopping

By GAYNOR MADDOX "Consumerism is a relatively new household word. It means a demand by consumers for quality, integrity and communication in the market place," according to Eileen Taylor, social science analyst of the Economic Research Service, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Some of the answers from among a wide variety of shoppers in different cities to the question, "Exactly what does the pull date mean to you?" were: "The date indicates the end of the product's useable life."

Tips On Fashion

'Joan' Coats - 'New' winter coats in Joan Crawford have slightly padded shoulders and suppressed waists and reach just below the knee.

Special Bath - Prepare yourself for a special evening with a hot bath in scented bubble bath. Besides easing tired muscles, the hot bath with oils will keep your skin well moisturized.

Solid Perfumes - Instead of carrying around liquid perfume and running the risk of spills, try the new solid cream perfumes that are so easy to carry around in your pocketbook or leave in the office desk without worrying about evaporation.

Gloves in Colors - Leather gloves come in all different colors so don't fall into the brown/black syndrome. Try bolder colors.

IF YOU GET ENGAGED THIS CHRISTMAS... HERE IS A LITTLE HELP

DIAMOND PRICE FACTS: Don't spend more than you can afford. A good rule to follow: Spend about a month of your salary on the engagement ring.

DIAMOND BUYING FACTS: About half of all engagement rings are chosen by boy and girl together, but in many cases the young man buys the diamond alone.

DIAMOND STYLING FACTS: Modern girls are individualists. Some want an absolutely perfect diamond even if it is smaller. Others want the largest stone possible even if it has slight flaws.

COME IN! AS SOON AS POSSIBLE! We have helped so many young couples. We can help you to come to the right decision. Let your wishes and our experience be the guide.

The Dial-A-Restaurant Service Solves a Problem for Parisians

The first step was to acquire a telephone number easy to memorize without having to refer to a little black book. Hence Rly 12.12.

There now exists in Paris a service which guarantees to answer that very question, on the minute and by telephone, and suggest a choice of restaurants.

The magic number is RLY 12.12 and the service, a world first and at no charge, is available from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day as well as Sundays and holidays.

The young Frenchman who created this "gastronomic SOS" for the moment is called "Allo Consell Restaurant" (Hello Dining Out Tip) is 26-year-old Jean-Paul Baudouin, son of a prosperous retired businessman. The idea was born one evening last May when a group of friends he vainly scoured Paris to find the type of restaurant they were after that evening.

"As a bachelor and a Parisian I have been lurching and dining out for some years now and my friends like myself, appreciate good food, without going service, without having to pay astronomical prices. We started by pooling all our favorite addresses, then by approaching the owners of the restaurants. It worked. The gastronomic advice service by telephone was in business."

Chimneys should always be inspected because in very old houses they can be dangerous. Many were built without proper air space and fireproof insulation between house frame and chimney.

Another tip - Keep firewood a safe distance from the hearth opening even though it looks more romantic stacked at the opening. A hot ember bouncing into a basket of wood may cause a fire.

DOORS: Always check doors for fastness. If one must work out of a house in winter, the house should be tight. If a kitchen door blows open on a cold day and the sink pipe bursts, you are inviting lots of problem and expense.

This career woman asked neighbors to water her plants when she took a winter vacation. Fortunately, on their rounds the neighbors noted the boiler of the hot water system had knocked out, the temperature in the house had dropped and the heating pipes "had turned to ice."

SEPTIC TANK or Cesspool: Overflow is not pleasant. This career woman confesses she didn't know the difference between the two. She might have been told before buying the house, but the terminology escaped her. When her cesspool overflowed, it was the neighbors who told her.

WATER in the Cellar: She had that too and regrets that she didn't have enough sense to query the house seller on water seepage. Encountering a cellar with five feet of water is frightening and pumping it out is a big expense especially during a rainy season. Fortunately she didn't walk into it and throw the light switch, she says. She has learned that it could have been fatal.

A career woman who must be away from her home for long intervals must get acquainted with neighbors, she advises. Many girls leave for work early in the morning and get home late and they are likely to be too busy on weekends to be active in their suburban community. But neighbors can be an invaluable source of assistance and comfort, a bulwark against discouragement one might feel as the result of various emergencies.

ments to join, many were placed which my friends and I knew well but we sent out "prospectors" to check. They had come in over two or three stories had appeared in the daily press, explained Baudouin. "The 20th listed right at the moment represent every type of establishment—elegant, discreet (for couples wishing to enjoy a good meal in a romantic setting) little restaurants where the owner does the cooking and where students and people with limited means can dine."

All a caller has to do is state how much he feels like paying and what district of Paris he prefers. For example, recently two English students called and wondered whether they could be told of a place for dinner which would not cost more than $4 each. Immediately the hostess said: "Go to Chez Faton. The metro station is Odéon. There is a choice of two menus: $9 and 16 francs each. They are also geared to advise on the best place for a business lunch or a family party of from 10 to 30 people."

should mention it when they make a reservation or on arriving. "We have tested it ourselves and it has never failed. The service is always good and there is always a drink on the house." Before they are engaged the hostesses are sent out to try two restaurants a day so that they know what they are recommending. Again, anonymous "control" visits to the places listed by "Allo Restaurant Consell" to verify whether they are living up to the quality and standards they supplied when they became subscribers. These qualities are: 1) quality for price; 2) welcome; 3) service; 4) atmosphere. "We are now working on a list of country weekend hostels on the same lines," added J. P. Baudouin.

In view of the instant success of his enterprise a couple of months back this dynamic 26-year-old Frenchman conceived the idea: "Why not create the same service in New York?"

"I have an associate who is now in that city laying the foundations of this very same service. I am certain it will succeed. Its very facility—a telephone number easily remembered—will appeal to New Yorkers and visitors. We plan to start operations sometime in March, 1973." London probably will be his next target.

Program Enlarges RPHNA Work Load

The hospital coordinator program, started a few months ago, has added to the work schedule of the Rockville Public Health Nursing Association with the nurses making 1,227 visits during November, according to the report issued by Miss Ruth Hoyt, administrative supervisor.

Of the total visits, 369 were for the purpose of administering bedside care and treatments and 743 were for health promotion, signifying a much higher percentage of therapeutic visits than evidenced in the past, Miss Hoyt said.

Divided into the towns serviced by the Rockville association, 147 visits were made in Vernon; 155, Tolland; 147, Ellington; 126, Somers, and 52, Bolton. The nurses administer home care to post-operative patients, who need dressings or treatment on a daily basis including Saturdays and Sundays.

Miss Hoyt explained that the more sophisticated treatments that are now being given in the home require time on the part of the nurses for study and preparation and sometimes a visit to the patient at a hospital, prior to discharge. At the immunization clinic Dr. Joseph Kristan, director of health for Vernon, immunized 197 infants and pre-school children. A total of 44 diphtheria inoculations were given, 1 measles, 43 oral polio, 28 rubella and 13 measles/rubella vaccinations were given.

Shooting Incident Leads To Arrests

MILFORD (AP) — Five Bridgeport youths have been charged in connection with an incident Wednesday night in which a Milford youth, claiming to have been an innocent bystander, was hit by a shotgun blast.

Police said Leslie Parker, 19, of Milford, suffered buckshot wounds in one arm. Parker later was arrested at Milford Hospital and charged with possession of marijuana, police said.

Arrested and charged with first-degree assault was Frank T. Draskovics, 16, of Bridgeport. He also was accused of carrying weapons in a motor vehicle. Bond was set at $5,000 for his arraignment.

Four other Bridgeport youths also were charged with carrying weapons in a motor vehicle and their bond was set at $1,000 each.

According to Milford Police, a car carrying the five Bridgeport youths pulled alongside a doublet car on a city street Wednesday night and occupants of the two vehicles exchanged comments. A shot was fired, police said, and Parker was struck by the pellets as he walked nearby.

"The problem is one of time, volume and manpower," said DiBenedetto in his report. But these problems, he said, "should never prevent the attempt at correcting procedures."

DiBenedetto, who worked for a time in the office of the chief of police, said that a public defender at the Circuit Court's Appellate Division in New Haven, said public defenders are often forced into

'The Bell That Couldn't Ring'

Mrs. June Hyde's Highland Park School second grade class gave two performances this morning of "The Bell That Couldn't Ring," whose plot concerns a church sexton's problem and its happy solution.

When he finds a bell missing, and with no money to buy a new one, he faces the prospect of losing his job. With his own savings, he buys an inexpensive one but discovers that it can't ring because of a wooden clapper. The other bells find a metal clapper and ring out a carol on Christmas Eve, thereby saving his job.

The main characters, standing from left, are Timothy Davis as the mone tone bell; Rebecca Abbut, fa; Julie Mercer, la; Dina Krupen,

William Taylor narrated, and John Guinan and Anthony Jaworski were the church member and choir director, respectively. Choir members were Linda Deane, Narda McKay, Coleen Breen, Eric Mathews, Robert Maltempo, Dawn Totten, Lisa Carlson, Matthew Falkowski, Charlene Senteio, Lisa Braat, Joanne Nadeau, Lauriaman Fuller, Maria Preston, and Scott Clayton.

Lack Of Time, Manpower Affects Quality Of Justice

HARTFORD (AP) — Shortages of time and manpower and poor procedures are being charged in connection with an incident Wednesday night in which a Milford youth, claiming to have been an innocent bystander, was hit by a shotgun blast.

Police said Leslie Parker, 19, of Milford, suffered buckshot wounds in one arm. Parker later was arrested at Milford Hospital and charged with possession of marijuana, police said.

Arrested and charged with first-degree assault was Frank T. Draskovics, 16, of Bridgeport. He also was accused of carrying weapons in a motor vehicle. Bond was set at $5,000 for his arraignment.

Four other Bridgeport youths also were charged with carrying weapons in a motor vehicle and their bond was set at $1,000 each.

According to Milford Police, a car carrying the five Bridgeport youths pulled alongside a doublet car on a city street Wednesday night and occupants of the two vehicles exchanged comments. A shot was fired, police said, and Parker was struck by the pellets as he walked nearby.

"The problem is one of time, volume and manpower," said DiBenedetto in his report. But these problems, he said, "should never prevent the attempt at correcting procedures."

DiBenedetto, who worked for a time in the office of the chief of police, said that a public defender at the Circuit Court's Appellate Division in New Haven, said public defenders are often forced into charge—that of being a youthful offender—rather than subjecting youths to prosecution on separate criminal charges. DiBenedetto said, "However, he said, 'Many courts are requiring that the defendant, although he has been found to be a youthful offender, plead to each and every count with which he was charged. In these cases, the courts also sentence the offender on each count.'"

DiBenedetto also criticized the "bind-over" system of transferring persons accused of a serious crime from Circuit Court to the jurisdiction of Superior Court. A defendant who doesn't have enough money to hire his own lawyer may be classified as an "indigent" by the Circuit Court, but fail to get a public defender assigned to his case for months while he is being held in jail awaiting Superior Court action, he said.

"Such indigent defendants are in a 'legal limbo,'" DiBenedetto said.

The bill, proposed by Republican Rep. John F. Mannix, would require that all meetings be open to the public unless personnel or security issues are under discussion.

Mannix said that closed sessions allow officials to hide the true reasoning for their decisions. "Unless you keep pressing this matter," Mannix said, "it is very easy for officials to make decisions that would not be made at a regular meeting."

Mannix said his bill is aimed particularly at the local level.

Christmas Lighting Winners

By Barbara Richmond (Herald Reporter)

The tastefully decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swinnerton on Bolton Rd., Vernon, was chosen by a three-judge panel as first prize winner in the over-all house category in the Christmas lighting contest, sponsored by the Vernon Recreation Commission.

Only those homes which the owners had pre-registered were judged even though the judges saw many more homes were deserving of prizes.

Judged the Number 1 beautiful doorway decoration was that at the home of Mrs. Ethel Parker, Hatch Hill Rd., Vernon and in the lawn display category, the home of Fred Burgess, Merline Rd., was given first prize.

Second and third place winners in the over-all category were the homes of Anthony Comerota, Discovery Rd., and Emanuel Cannistraro, Ridgewood Dr., for lawn display and the Rev. Robert Welner (St. John Church rectory) for over-all decorations.

The Swinnerton home, looking like an old fashioned Christmas card, glittered with tiny angel lights on the house and in the yard. Even the well house contained a spray and a light. The entire "picture" was bathed in floodlight.

Although the entire home of Mrs. Parker was artfully decorated, the judges focused their attention on the doorway where 800 milkweed pods were joined together to form a beautiful gold Christmas tree. This also was basking in light.

An old-fashioned sleigh piled high with brightly wrapped Christmas presents won Burgess the first prize in the yard displays. A tree in the window and attractive wreath on the door added to the picture.

Other homes entered in the overall category included those of Keith Philbrick, Woodland St., Rockville, who has a wide variety of decorations from manger scenes and Santa Claus to snowmen; the Joseph Roberts home on Windsor Ave., Rockville, had added to its other attractive decorations four small live cats huddled by the doorway.

Neighbors at 97 and 99 Cemetery Rd. combined their efforts and joined their two homes together with strings of lights. These were the homes of Edward Barrett, Valerie Dr. for his doorway decoration; Mrs. Mary Sampieri, Ridgewood Dr., for lawn display and the Rev. Robert Welner (St. John Church rectory) for over-all decorations.

Cathedral President Suspends Meat Import Quotas Dies At 82

PETERBOROUGH, N.H. (AP)—Douglas Sloane, 82, who founded the Cathedral of the Pines in Ridge, N.H., to honor the nation's war dead, died Thursday at his home after a short illness. Friends may make contributions to a charity of their choice.

President Nixon has suspended meat import quotas for 1973 in an effort to stop the rise in supermarket meat prices. Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, who announced the decision Thursday, cautioned that consumers should not expect a reduction in meat prices.

Shultz declined to comment on whether other steps would be taken to halt a rise in prices. "This action," he said, "demonstrates the President's firm determination to hold the cost of food to the American consumer. He said the decision Thursday, cautioned that consumers should not expect a reduction in meat prices.

Shultz said the suspension is expected to continue throughout 1973 but added that quotas could be reinstated if market conditions changed substantially. He said the secretary of agriculture would review the situation every three months.

When Manchester High and East Catholic High officials sat down last week and discussed the possibility of the schools getting together on the athletic scene, James Kennedy and Wilson Deakin, superintendent, and assistant superintendent, at Manchester, sat in on the conference along with George Emmerling, principal, and the Rev. Edward Saunders of East Catholic. Talk skimming while the Green Bay Packers tackle the Washington Redskins in Sunday's other game.

No Rush to Super Bowl

Startling statistics in the January issue of Sport show that in the last six years, not a single rushing leader during the regular NFL season made it to the Super Bowl and only one, Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, made it to a league title game. Also, in the last dozen years, the only rushing champs who have played for title teams were Jim Taylor with Green Bay in 1956, Jimmy Brown with Cleveland in 1964, Billy Cannon and Ernie Ladd with the Oakland Raiders for Buffalo in 1964. Phil Esposito, the bruising Boston Bruins scorer, described the Russian hockey players' style like this: "I'll tell you, these guys were a damned army. Never smiled. Just drilled and drilled and drilled and drilled their cokes. Mineral water and cokes. That's all they drank. It must have done them some good."

Good Old 'Potato Power'

If any football player comes up with any ankle troubles, Rickie Harris of New England Patriots has a remedy which has proven effective: its treatment is called "Potato Power" around the clubhouse. Unable to put any weight on his ankle one day, the safetyman applied slices of raw potato to the ankle. The next day he was back on the practice field.

Vernon Double Sessions Approved

By Barbara Richmond
(Herald Reporter)
Double sessions with six class periods each session and an open period in between sessions was approved for the high school for next year by the Board of Education last night, along with a plan to house all Grade 6 students at the Sykes School.

Final action came after a lengthy discussion during which several motions were made and defeated and consideration was given to a four-day school week with schools open five days.

The four-day week was discussed briefly at the last regular meeting of the board and the administration was asked to investigate if such a plan would be legal in this state. Dr. Robert Linstone, assistant superintendent, explained that the plan would be legal but with the stipulation that all students attend school a minimum of 180 days. He told board members that the plan would not be suitable to Vernon as it would mean keeping school open through most of the month of July. He added that this would present the problem of having to air-condition the school and this would be expensive.

In approving the plan for the double sessions, the board called for schools to open at 7:30 a.m. and the last class of the second session to end at 5 p.m. and that the administration report the educational impact of the program at a meeting of the board in December 1973.

The board could not reach agreement as to how the students should be bused to the high school. Several board members felt all students should be bused to and from school due to the early hour of the first morning class and the logistics of the final class of the day.

Motions to bus the students partial to partial, not to bus students to and from school at mid-day unless they live more than two miles from the high school, were all defeated with chairman Joseph Powers breaking tie votes in most cases.

The board then, in a 3-2 vote with one abstention, voted to turn the matter of busing over to the administration and the transportation committee of the board with a request that the matter be brought to the first board meeting in January.

While some of the board members said they would not be in favor of a one-grade school, the motion to house all

Grade 6 students in the Sykes School passed the Sykes board, Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, outlined the proposal for the sixth grade housing program, noting that this would be accomplished with few problems and would also be more economical.

The Middle School which would house Grades 6, 7 and 8, was filled to more than its 1,500-student capacity this year, thus making it necessary to house nine Grade 6 classes in the town's elementary schools.

The Sykes School was left to the town by the Sykes family of Rockville. They stipulated that pupils housed in the building must be at least 10 years of age and must be offered home economics and industrial arts. These subjects will be offered to the Grade 6 students, Dr. Ramsdell said.

It was originally considered to have the Sykes School house Grade 6, 7 and 8 students. Dr. Ramsdell said a survey would be assigned to indicate there would be 500 students in these grades who live within walking distance of Sykes and this would result in a neighborhood school population. He termed using it for just Grade 6 as a preferable plan, thus students would come from all sections of town.

For the past several years Sykes has been used for the freshman class of the high school. Dr. Ramsdell explained that students are being bused from all sections of town to that school now so the proposed plan would not mean any additional transportation cost.

The superintendent also said the one-grade plan would solve the problem of staff since all sixth grade teachers would teach in the one building. If, as originally proposed, the school housed the three grades and became an arm of the Middle School, there would have been a need for a shuttle bus for special programs and for an intercom system to coordinate programs.

The original plan was to keep the Sykes School under the supervision of David Parker who is principal of Middle School. Parker now has two assistants and it was proposed to have one of these assistants be vice principal of Sykes. Parker asked the board to reconsider this proposal as he did not feel it was the wisest way to handle the situation. The administration was then asked to study the matter and report back to the next board meeting with alternate proposals.

Drinking Detector Under Test

WARREN, Mich. (AP) — A 10-second test to prevent an alcohol or drug-impaired driver from starting his car is being experimentally evaluated by the General Motors Corp. The engineering staff at the GM Technical Center in this Detroit suburb is testing a steering wheel which controls a needle on a dial in the instrument panel. When the ignition is turned on, the needle starts to fluctuate. The objective is to steer well enough to keep the needle in a shaded area, allowing the driver to start the engine.

If the driver's reactions are impaired, the needle swings back and forth outside the shaded area, a red "reset" button lights and the starter is immobilized.

The driver has two more chances to pass the test. He pushes the "reset button" and the needle again begins swinging.

Whenever a driver is able to keep the needle in the center shaded area, a green "pass" light and the car can be started. GM officials say early experiments indicate a 50 per cent intoxicated failure rate among persons with a blood alcohol concentration of 0.1 per cent or more, the limit of Michigan's implied consent law. No failures have occurred among sober persons currently tested, according to officials.

Antonio Peracchio, Rt. 44A, is the winner of the Rotary Club's Christmas Lighting Contest, according to an announcement from club spokesman Mike Spink.

The contest was conducted throughout the week, with members of the Beautification Committee's award committee driving around town judging outdoor decor.

This marks the first year the Rotary Club has sponsored such an effort, although a similar contest several years ago, sponsored by the Coventry's Businessmen's Association, was very successful.

Placing second in this year's contest was D. Silva, Forge Rd., with Herman LeDoyt, Main St., third.

The top three prize winners will receive $15, $10 and $5, respectively.

Honorable mention in the contest went to John Scarbuck, Owen Trask, John Feeney, John Erickson, Ralph Rambois, Cameron Johnson, J. E. Roland, Robert McCormack, Garland Heely and Mrs. Allan Cahill.

The annual Christmas Carol Sing scheduled to be held tonight on Bolton Green has been cancelled.

Scant Details Revealed
On Drug Probe by Navy
GROTON (AP) — Naval officials have revealed only scant details of a drug investigation involving an undisciplined number of crewmen on the missile-carrying submarine Thomas Edison.

The submarine's home port is the Groton submarine base but officials said its present location was classified. A source at the base, however, said the submarine was at Rota, Spain.

Lt. Cmdr. Charles Lasch, a Submarine Flotilla 2 public affairs officer at the base, said Thursday night that the probe was in progress and that some members of the Edison's crew had been taken off the ship in connection with the inquiry.

"Naval authorities are currently investigating the reported use of drugs by members of the Blue crew of the fleet ballistic missile submarine Thomas Edison," Lasch said in a statement prepared in answer to a newsmen's query. "The people involved have been transferred from the ship."

Lasch said the term "Blue crew" refers to the Edison crew currently on board. A second crew, known as the "off crew" or "Gold crew," is at the New London base, he said.

"Pending the results of this investigation," Lasch said, "no further information can be provided."

Municipal 'Shopping List' Issued

HARTFORD (AP) — Connecticut's 169 municipalities have received a "shopping list" of official data they can obtain on their own natural resources, the state Department of Environmental Protection said Thursday.

The lists summarize the different kinds of natural resource data currently available and which agencies and organizations can supply the information.

Effective resources planning depends on knowing where to obtain and how to use applicable data and expertise, DEP Commissioner Dan W. Lufkin said.

"The summary sheets should help municipal authorities, planning boards and other persons involved in town planning by giving them a basic understanding of each kind of data, its application to town planning problems and agencies which can provide needed information and expertise."

The sheets will be updated periodically to show new categories and sources of information, Lufkin said.

Merry little elves, Santas, choir boys and angels all make merry in a Christmas setting in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Ghusky, 12A Bluefield Dr.

Herald Photos by Albert Bucevicius

This demure deer is a bottle cover-up.

Mrs. Ghusky sits among some of the many Christmas trimmings and figurines she and her husband have collected since they were married 42 years ago. Three little angels, one holding a cross, on the top row of the hanging wall shelf, were given to Mrs. Ghusky by her mother for their first Christmas. Some of the items are handmade by friends. Mrs. Ghusky has made some of the trimmings herself, like the reindeer bottle cover. Every year, they have picked up something to add to their collection which fills every room. The little angel comes from Nebraska; a Santa Claus comes from Kansas and other items come from places where the Ghuskys have visited. The Ghuskys consider Christmas a very special season and decorating their home with a different arrangement each year is a joyous occasion.

OLD CODGER'S CODGITATIONS
About where the present Masonic temple stands was the location of the old wooden building which stood way back from the street with many trees around it.

Charles Ratenburg's family had a house on the top. It required a very long flight of stairs to reach the lawn from the street. When the trolley line was built it was necessary to cut into the base of the hill and erect a masonry retaining wall to prevent Ratenburg's door yard from boarding the passing cars.

Year-End Steps Offered To Reduce Income Tax

Millions of taxpayers who will benefit from a change in the income tax laws can take certain actions before the end of the year, according to the president of the Connecticut Society of Certified Public Accountants, Earle E. Jacobs Jr.

Effective with federal income tax returns for 1972, the standard deduction used by those who do not itemize their deductions was increased to 15 per cent of adjusted gross income, up to a maximum of $2,000, a sizable jump over the standard deduction in 1971 of 13 per cent of $1,500.

Personal Income Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government says personal income rose $8.7 billion in November after a revised October increase of $17 billion. The Commerce Department reports that the November increase raised the annual personal income rate to $972.5 billion on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The Bureau of Economic Analysis, which compiled the figures, said the October increase was double November's because Social Security benefits were stepped up 20 per cent in October. Without that boost, the October figure was $9 billion—$300 million more than November.

Wage and salary disbursements rose $4.6 billion in November, compared with $7 billion in October, the department said. It said the slowdown came in the private sector.

The department said that commodity producing industries increased $2.3 billion, compared with $2.2 billion in October. Distributive payrolls rose $500 million in November and transfer payments increased $3.3 billion.

Service payrolls showed a November increase of $500 million—about half the October increase—and government wages and salaries rose $1.3 billion, the department said. It said manufacturing payrolls rose $2.2 billion in November and transfer payments increased $3.3 billion.

The department said manufacturing payrolls rose because of increases in employment, hours worked and earnings in the durables goods industries. The largest payroll gains were in transportation equipment, machinery, primary and fabricated metals, it said.

Abandoned Amy Doing Just Fine

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Her adopted parents "have a devil of a time keeping the bright, cheerful child out of the presents piled beneath the Christmas tree."

"Amy" was born March 26, 1971, then wrapped in a towel by her unved teen-age mother and left in a smoldering trash barrel. She was badly burned, barely alive.

Authorities, in reconstructing "Amy's" story relate that the temperature fell to 45 degrees. The trash in the barrel was smoldering. About 8 p.m. a man came with more trash. He heard a curious sound and by flashlight saw what he first thought was an abandoned kitten dumped in the barrel.

He pulled the towel-wrapped bundle from the barrel, discovered it was an infant, and rushed to his home where he called police.

The baby was taken to Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City, Mo. Doctors said her chances of living were "almost zero. Burns covered 70 per cent of the tiny body, almost everywhere but the face."

She's doing just fine," says Mrs. Braud. "She weighs 27 pounds, her hair is growing and she can walk a little bit with help. She's a pretty child. It's all a miracle."

Amy has been back to the Shriners hospital for additional therapy and treatment three times since her release and will continue to return periodically for many years.

SOUTH WINDSOR

Mannal Swass Jr., 41, of Mansfield Center, was charged Thursday night with evading responsibility, in connection with an alleged head-on accident on Sullivan Ave., South Windsor.

South Windsor Police said pedestrian Wade Gallo, 15, of 46 Manor Lane, South Windsor, was struck by a van truck as he was walking west on Sullivan Ave. at about 7 p.m.

Gallo suffered a broken nose and lacerations, police said. He was walking west on Sullivan Ave. at about 7 p.m.

Police investigation identified the vehicle involved in the accident, and the suspected hit-and-run truck was found parked at Civie's Restaurant on R. 5, South Windsor. Swass was charged and later released on a $1,000 non-surety bond. He is to appear in Circuit Court 12 at East Hartford Jan. 12.

Police said they believe Gallo was hit by an external rear-view mirror on the passenger side of the van. The tap occurred near the Colony Shops on Sullivan Ave.

VERNON A Stafford Springs motorist and his passenger were released from Manchester Memorial Hospital Thursday afternoon after suffering injuries in a 3:37 p.m. accident at Rts. 30 and 83 in Vernon.

Suffering apparently minor injuries were driver John Pantera and passenger Maxine Cyr of Vernon.

Fanciera's car collided with a tractor-trailer truck operated by Erland Anderson, 35, of Wayland, Mass., Vernon Police said. Anderson was charged with making an improper left turn, police said.

Robert Paquette, 23, of 13 Village St., Roxbury, was charged early today with operating a motor vehicle while his license is suspended, Vernon police said. Court date is Jan. 16.

TOLLAND An unidentified man held up the Calico and Denim Shop on Rt. 94, Tolland, Thursday night and made off with about $50 in cash, State Police reported.

The robber entered the store at about 9 p.m., displayed a gun, and demanded all the money.

The victim, Mrs. June K. Barrows, was just closing the shop at the time of the robbery. Mrs. Barrows' eight-year-old daughter was with her.

State Police from the Stafford Barracks are investigating.

Operation Checkmate State Police assigned to "Operation Checkmate" made seven drunken driving arrests last week, bringing the total arrests on that charge since the operation started four weeks ago to 32.

The 31 troopers, most of them recent police school graduates, also made 59 arrests on other motor vehicle charges last week. During the week, police issued 187 warnings, assisted 59 motorists, and checked 792 vehicles.

"Operation Checkmate," a statewide highway safety program, is designed to identify and apprehend drunken, reckless, and speeding drivers. Troopers assigned to the special detail work from 7:30 p.m. to 3 a.m., the critical period on the state's highways.

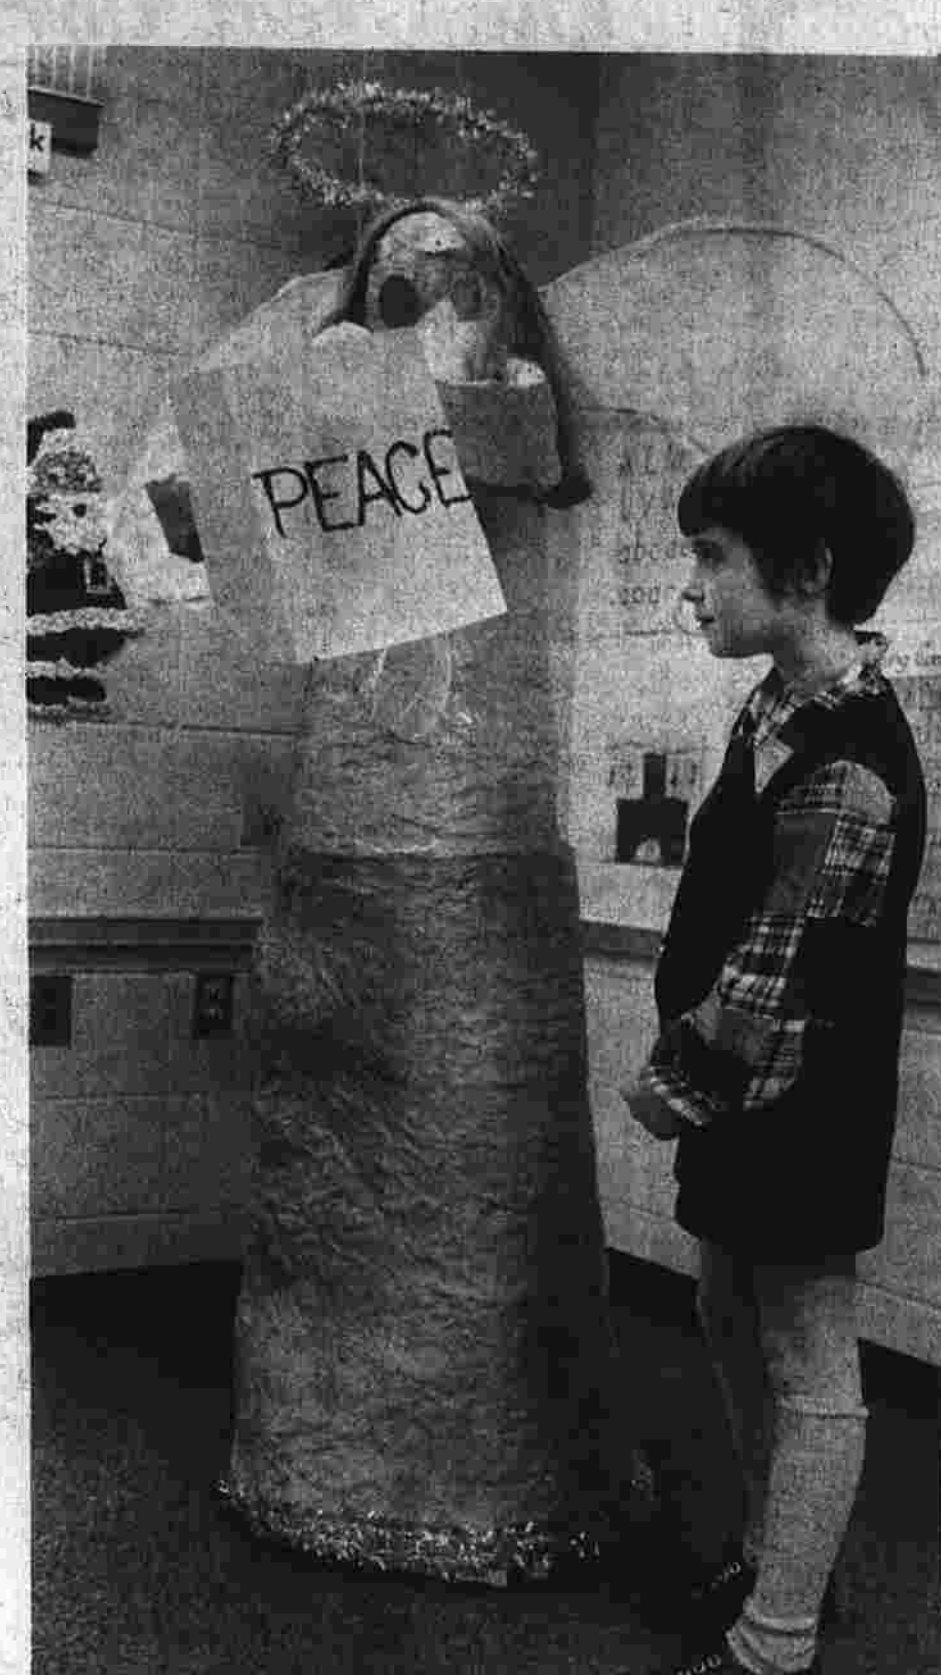

About Town The Senior High Fellowship of South United Methodist Church will meet tonight at 7:30 at the church to go caroling. Later, they will go to the Delmont St. paragon for refreshments.

Manchester Junior Women's Club will have its annual children's Christmas party Saturday at 2 p.m. at Mott's Community Hall.

The British-American Club will have a New Year's Eve dance for members and their guests. Tickets are now available at the clubhouse.

The Young Marines will meet tonight at 6:50 at the Marine Home.

The Rev. Ronald Fournier, co-pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran Church, will conduct a service Sunday at 10 a.m. on radio station WINP. The program is sponsored by the Manchester Area Council of Churches and the Clergy Association of the Manchester Area.

Two Found Guilty In Rifle Case

HARTFORD (AP) — Two Rhode Island men were convicted Thursday in U.S. District Court of charges relating to possession of M1A automatic rifles allegedly stolen from a Westerly, R.I. armory.

A federal jury deliberated 4 1/2 hours before returning a verdict against William Marrapese, 35, and Nicholas Zinni, 33, both of Cranston, R.I.

The maximum punishment Marrapese faces for possession of the weapons is 10 years in prison. Zinni faces five years on a conspiracy count.

The bug, placed on LaPolla in March, recorded a conversation among himself, Marrapese and Zinni about arrangements to sell the automatic weapons, Coffey said. Defense lawyers disputed the identity of the voices on the tape.

During the three-day trial, Marrapese, who runs a gold business in Cranston, denied personal possession of the automatic weapons. He said he first heard of the rifles in March, when LaPolla approached him about using them to settle a debt between them.

Zinni never took the witness stand. Suspects in LaPolla's murder still have not been apprehended.

Key evidence in the trial came from the tape recording of a conversation involving a man who later died. The tape, according to the prosecution, was produced from a bug placed on the person of Daniel LaPolla, formerly of the Oneco section of Sterling, LaPolla was killed Sept. 29, 1971 when a dynamic explosion ripped through his home. He was to have been the star witness against Marrapese and Zinni, Asst. U.S. Attorney Paul E. Coffey said.

Turnpike Project Goes to Bid Soon

A road widening project of E. Middle Tpk. in Manchester will be put out to bid by the Connecticut Department of Transportation (DOT) in February, according to the DOT, and work is expected to start next spring.

The "minor widening" project would start at the vicinity of Woodbridge St. and would end 600 feet east of Lake St. That stretch of E. Middle Tpk. is a part of U.S. Rts. 8 and 4A.

The project was to be advertised for bids this month, but it was delayed for unknown reasons, a DOT spokesman said.

According to the DOT's schedule of projects to be advertised, the E. Middle Tpk. project is expected to cost between $500,000 and $600,000. No closer estimate was available.

The DOT has already prepared plans for the widening, according to Manchester Mayor John Thompson. The plans call for widening to two lanes in each direction, within the existing right-of-way, and resurfacing of the 0.8-mile segment.

Also included in the work will be intersectional improvements, as well as signal light revisions, at three locations, Mayor Thompson noted. Construction of these improvements is being done as part of the Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety (TOPICS) program, the mayor said.

More detailed information concerning the project is available at the DOT's Bureau of Highways office, 24 Wolcott Hill Rd., Westfield. The details include plans, a design study report, and an environmental impact statement.

Mayor Thompson said the impact statement determined that the proposed work will have no adverse effects on the environment.

Disappointments Of The Magi

Once upon a time there were three wise men, and for a long time they followed a star in the East. Finally they came to a place where the star seemed to be almost directly overhead, and they saw a town off in the distance. Upon coming nearer, they could discern a large crowd all around the town. They entered the fringe of the mob, a man with an open cart stopped them, and said, "Good day, gentlemen! Just wondering if you would like to take a real bargain of a purchase."

"What?" exclaimed the wise men. "Oh, you mean, what is happening here?" "Wade ya mean, wise guy? This is the nativity, of course."

"Oh, I see. Could you tell us where we might find the child?" "Over yonder," the information man gruffly replied, "Hey! Wanna buy a program?" But the wise men were already gone, lighting their way through the crowd in the direction that the man had pointed out to them. They finally reached a large open space with a huge structure in the middle. It was the manger.

"How about an authentic Birth-of-Christ souvenir? Or, perhaps I can interest you in a gift for the little lady?" Shocked, the wise men pushed through the crowd, away from the man. The further they pushed through the crowd, though, the more they were approached by other enterprising merchants, selling every possible kind of ware—souvenirs, popcorn, programs.

Growing frustrated, the men of Orient searched desperately through the crowd for signs of the miracle they had come so far to find. One of the men sighted a sign that read "Information," and told the others of his discovery. With this faint hope of finding out what was going on, the three pushed their way through the crowd again.

After a 20-minute wait, they finally reached the booth. "Well!" demanded the man.

IOH Up And Away

Dozens of children, teenagers and adults celebrated the coming holiday at the annual IOH Christmas party last Sunday at the Concordia Lutheran Church. Each recruit was paired with a student in most cases one he knew fairly well, and was responsible for the day for the entire evening. The highlight of the afternoon for many of the youngsters was a special visit by good old Saint Nick himself. Stationing the kids were entertained by presents, he called each student up to sit on his lap and receive his very own Christmas present.

Here we have the beginning of our Sports Circle, otherwise known as the gathering-of-greats. This is a new endeavor for the editors of the World.

The Great Christmas Tree Caper

Sunday evening, Dec. 17, a party of four youths undertook the task of suspending a Christmas tree and banner in the quadrangle of MHS. No sooner did they arrive, than the local law enforcement agency appeared on the scene. Hastily retreating with the tree, 600 feet of rope, and a ladder, three members of the band fled into the near-by woods (leaving one upon the roof). Twenty minutes later the three people had circled around the police via Summit Street and, following the departure of the police car in question, they rescued their compatriot from the roof (he jumped down).

Rapidly driving their autos from the parking lot (nearly crippling a utility pole in the process), the group went to Horton's house. It was there learned that the police had traced the license plates of the group's cars. The night watchman at the school had detected some unusual noise below. It was too late, they were seen. Hoping for the impossible, they froze against the building (literally and figuratively). The watchman asked if they were frozen, to which they replied "Yes" (accompanied by laughter). Not to be denied, they continued their "seige" upon the quadrangle. At long last the entire group had achieved its ultimate destination: the quadrangle roof. The police returned and gave them ten minutes to be completely gone. The time limit established, the group worked feverishly to complete the job. Another youth took charge, and cinched the rope around the exhaust ducts while a pal struggled on the other end to prevent himself from being dragged into the quadrangle. The rope was cut and the banner threaded on. The tree was decked with that time.

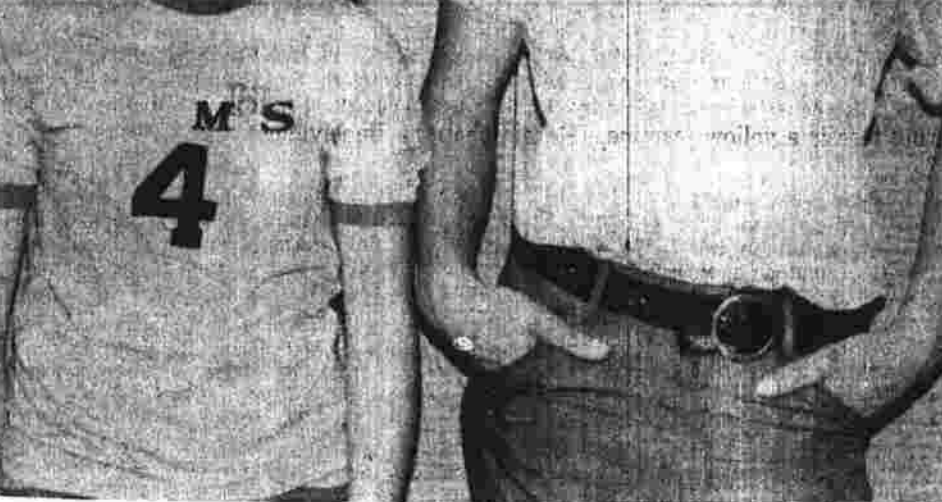

However, the team had little time to admire their handiwork. Thus the tree wasn't in the middle, and the sign wasn't attached firmly. When all was secured, they soaked for the safety of their own bones.

As they were walking to their cars, the policeman made one final appearance, and asked if they were finally through. The answer was yes, and he was relieved for he had been there only to make certain that they got down safely. So, will you please appreciate the WORK that went into making your Christmas a little more merry.

He eventually left, and the group decided to continue with the operation. Dragging the banner and tree, one youth cautiously crept along the ledge by Mr. Moriarty's room. Another returned from a higher roof to render his assistance. He talked away as his pal sped the night watchman from below. It was too late, they were seen. Hoping for the impossible, they froze against the building (literally and figuratively). The watchman asked if they were frozen, to which they replied "Yes" (accompanied by laughter). Although Manchester finished ahead of Concord in the medley relay, the officials awarded the race to Concord because of a false start. This was a tough break for Manchester, which proved decisive in the Concord victory. Despite the defeat, Manchester did have its bright spots. Jay Murphy, named "Swimmer of the Week" for his efforts against Concord, won the 100 yard Breaststroke with a fast 1:10.9. He also had a good showing in the medley relay. In the 100 yard Butterfly, Jeff Stone of Manchester High was the victor with a time of 1:04.7. Ed Adams, also of Manchester was second.

The 300 Individual Medley was won by Peter Naktenis. His winning time was 2:28.6. In the diving competition, Captain Steve Hagedt of Manchester was first with a total of 151.68 points. Steve Dwyer, having dived for only a couple of weeks, was second for M.H.S. The next meet for Manchester is today against Bristol Central in a home meet at 3:30. — John Mrozek

Joy To The World

The words "Joy to the World" rang throughout the halls of Manchester High last Thursday as the MHS Band and a combination of all the choirs (Round Table Singers, Advanced and Regular) put on a most fantastic performance for the High School Annual Christmas Concert.

The evening started out with an overture (Christmas Fantasy) played by the band directed by Andrew Sreves.

The Round Table then made their glorious entrance proceeding down the aisles of the auditorium singing to the tune Adagio Fugato (more commonly known as "Come All ye Faithful") with instrumental accompaniment by the band.

Upon reaching their positions at the front of the stage, the Round Table Singers led off with several songs, directed by Martha White, two of which featured "In the Snow" and "Christmas Day" the soloists were Janet Brewer and Keith Grabow. In "Twas the Night before Christmas" the soloists were Rick Taylor and Patrick Ryan. Illustrations for "It was the Night before Christmas" were created by Janet Brewer, Eleanor Bujak, Ted Kravacki, Karen Mitty, and Debra Vatef. The Souffler Twiss, Lee and Neil, held up the drawings while Carol and Kathy Larives (dressed as elves) handed the pictures to Santa's two helpers.

Debra Vatef, Nancy Donovan, Dave Hornes and Rick Horton sang to the sound of Kurt Stagers guitar, "Lute Book Lullaby." Then the advanced choir mixed with the Round Table, sang five beautiful songs under the direction of Martha White. The band then came back with seven tunes told by which were played by a brass ensemble. "In Dulci Jubilo" and "March of the Kings". As the band completed its place in the concert, the curtains on stage opened for the last time that evening. The audience stared in awe as the saw in all its glory and splendor, the combination of all the High School Chorus.

Two songs sung by the combined Chorus also featured soloists. Jeff Frithsen (in elves) handed the pictures to Santa's two helpers.

At the end of the performance Martha White was presented with a bouquet of roses while the choir sang "Bravo Bravissimo" to top off the evening. Andrew Sreves conducted the brass ensemble in the lobby of Bailey Auditorium.

MHS Student Assembly

The Manchester High school Student Assembly is off and rolling toward the midway point of an enjoyable and successful year. Amidst the fun and hard work of its members, it has produced two major successes. They are the charity March of Dimes Walk-a-thon and the Alumni Dunce-thon held last November.

Although the Walk-a-thon was mainly for fun, not profit, Manchester High has the positive reputation of being the school that sent the most members to this event. This achievement came about mainly from the widespread publicity and promotion that the Assembly gave it. It helped the March of Dimes amass about $20,000.

Another major success the Student Assembly achieved was the November Alumni Dance. Hundreds of students and graduates flocked to listen to the extremely popular "music" of the groups Bull and Hibiscus. At the dance's end, the Assembly earned what might have been its largest sum of the year. By far, this was the best financial effort to date.

Presently, the Advisory Board's Physical Education Committee is working on renovating the program here at MHS. Ideas the students and faculty of the Advisory Board have come up with are possible electives for the senior year in physical education.

This year, much of the success of these Assembly-sponsored events can be credited to some of the officers. Glenn Cooper has done a great job so far as Chief Executive of the Student Assembly. Doing just as impressive jobs are the student representatives to the Board of Education, Jeff Stone and Rick Wasserman. They have clearly fulfilled their duties so far in both reporting to the Assembly on important decisions of the Board and projecting student views to the Board members. Although the officers have been doing great jobs, the members themselves cannot be overlooked.

In order to do an efficient job the Assembly needs student opinion and suggestions. All meetings are open to students. In an effort to smooth out the process, the Assembly has a c. stinker

FBLA Has The Spirit

The Future Business Leaders of America of Manchester High School has had its most active and exciting year so far. We have been involved in many community service projects. The Jaycees of Manchester have accepted our proposal to act as advisors to the club. Some of the members of FBLA and the local Jaycees visited Mansfield Training School and had a Christmas party for two of the resident houses. Now the FBLA membership is acting as Santa Claus for the children of Manchester and answering any letters that we receive from children.

The Santa Claus letter project has been most successful. In fact, we have not only been able to answer letters but also arranged for

As they were walking to their cars, the policeman made one final appearance, and asked if they were finally through. The answer was yes, and he was relieved for he had been there only to make certain that they got down safely. So, will you please appreciate the WORK that went into making your Christmas a little more merry.

Lessons and Carols Planned at Church

South United Methodist Church will have its annual Festival of Lessons and Carols Sunday at the 9 and 10:45 a.m. services in the church sanctuary.

The first four of the nine lessons, prophesying the coming of Christ, are taken from the books of the Old Testament, Genesis, Isaiah and Micah. The fifth lesson, from the Book of Luke, tells of the visit of the Angel Gabriel to the Virgin Mary. The last four lessons, taken from the Books of Matthew, Luke and John, tell of the birth of Christ.

The lesson will be read by a Christian exchange student, a member of the Manchester Council of Churches, and individuals from the church organizations.

The Chancel Choir will present "How Lovely Shines the Morning Star" by Michael Praetorius, "Tidings of Peace" by Roy Fuller, "Still, Still, Still" arranged by Luboff, "Adoration of the Magi" by Rosa and "The Holy and the Ivy." Soloists will be Kay Donastad, John C. Beggs and Deborah Benson.

The Rhythm Choir will interpret "My Dancing Day," arranged by Alice Parker. The Junior Choir and the Junior-Senior High School Bell Singers will present "Caroling, Caroling" by Albert Bratt. The Youth Choir will sing "Come Ye to Bethlehem" by K.K. Davis. The choir will also sing the "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah" by Handel in the closing choral response.

Shelz's Chairs CofC Accreditation Unit

Paul Shelz has been appointed chairman of the accreditation committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in 1972. The accreditation process takes place every five years.

The Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce was first accredited by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in 1967. The accreditation process takes place every five years.

As applied to a local chamber, accreditation means a self-analysis of the organization; that it maintains high and desirable standards of performance; and that it is recognized, understood and adhering to the generally accepted requirements for an outstanding chamber.

The fourfold purpose of the process is to define standards of performance; to evaluate the chamber work; measure achievement; give recognition and encouragement to its members who meet basic standards of operation and performance; and upgrade and improve voluntary organizations of business and professional men.

Accreditation team members are selected by invitation of the Chamber of Commerce from the broad membership base on the basis of their knowledgeability of the organization, its operation and goals.

Although the entire parcel in question is 7 1/2 acres, the board changed the zone for only six acres, making Bolton Pond Brook the western boundary.

The change was granted effective Jan. 1, with three restrictions. 1. There is to be no construction or paving within 50 feet of Bolton Lake or Bolton Pond Brook and a 15-foot buffer screen of trees is to be placed along the western boundary of the property.

2. No multiple dwellings may be constructed under the present zoning regulations. (Proposed changes in the regulations relative to multiple dwellings are expected to be presented to townpeople at a public hearing in January.)

3. No type of automotive business may be conducted on the premises. The zoning board made its decision three weeks after a public hearing at which no opposition was voiced. Board members feel that the general business use is most appropriate for the area. Those sitting on the board were Chairman Phil Dooley, Louis Albani, Russell Mooney, and Edward Zakowski substituting for vacationing Oscar Kreigh.

It was assumed previously that a lack of coordination was the only immediate effect of drinking. But Hulbert says muscle coordination is affected first after a decrease in the attention span.

Professional racing instructor Bob Bondurant set up a special course through which drivers maneuvered before and after consuming alcohol. In every case — including those where alcohol below legal intoxication levels was consumed — driving was impaired the second time on the course, Hulbert said.

Bondurant raced through the course sober in 1:39. But it took him 2:18 after drinking, even though the blood-alcohol level was .08 per cent — considerably less than the 10 per cent standard used in California to determine if a person is legally drunk.

Law enforcement officers and Dr. Slade Hulbert of the University of California at Los Angeles supervised a demonstration of drinking drivers at Ontario Motor Speedway.

Hulbert, a researcher at UCLA's Institute of Traffic Engineering, has found that alcohol affects one's attention span at the outset and can impair driving with no noticeable effect on motor skills.

Town To Recycle Christmas Trees

The Manchester Park Department, is expanding its program for recycling Christmas trees and is designating six locations where discarded trees may be left. Last year, the first for the program, all trees were brought to the Olcott St. disposal area, where they were fed through a chipping machine.

This season, they may be left at six sand pile locations: Love Lane at the sand pit, School and Autumn Sts., Tolland Pike, sand pit, Harrison and E. Center Sts., Keeney St. near Primer Rd., and Edgerton St. at the rear of the lumber yard.

Park superintendent Ernest Tureck said his crews will begin chipping the stockpiled Christmas trees the week of Jan. 8. The chips will provide much and trail base materials for use in parks.

"With resident cooperation," said Tureck, "a wooded area for discarded trees can be developed, with no detrimental environmental effects."

Tureck reminded residents to remove all nails or other metals from the trees and to pile them adjacent to the sand piles, to prevent the trees from being blown around.

A SEARCH is a journey to find one's self through song, small group discussions, the Liturgy, and an openness to accept each other for what they are.

"Respect for Life"
On Dec. 8 a "Respect For Life Day" was held at East. It was inspired from a report at the Resolution of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops adopted April 3, 1972 in Atlanta, Ga.

Medical Viewpoint. He presented his views on abortion and answered questions posed by the students.

"Christmas Eve"
Malcolm Boyd wrote in his "Book of Days," "Dec. 24 is Christmas Eve. The big mistake we have made is to place it 'back there.' We have made it ancient history instead of modern life. It concerns angels, shepherds, Mary,

Joseph and an inn keeper, but not us.
We have decided, too, to confine Christmas to Christmas. On Dec. 24, it has not yet arrived (Santa Claus does not come, Johnny, until tomorrow.) On Dec. 25, it's over (We've got to get the tree outside, sweep the room, and clean up. It's all over dear.)

Vacation
This column will not be included in next week's paper, as East will be on vacation, but will reappear the week of Jan. 1. We at East extend our warm wishes to all for a happy and joyous holiday.

Gymnastics
Dec. 13 was the first meet for the newly established Gymnastics team. It was a tri-meet between East, Glastonbury, and Penney High. Here are the results of that meet.

Girls' Basketball
The Girls' Basketball Team is now in full swing. They have brand new uniforms and, as I hear it, a few dynamic plays.

Santa Uses Airplane In Alaska

Native Scene In Manchester's Center Park

ARCTIC VILLAGE, Alaska (AP) - The C130 Air Force cargo plane - its drone echoing off a long, barren, snow-capped mountain ridge - made three rumbling passes over a nearby frozen lake.

Below, park-clad old women and red-checked children, giggling with excitement, huddled close to a roaring bonfire to keep warm.

On the third pass, a handful of paratroopers - clad in red jump suits, one of them wearing a white beard - dropped from the belly of the big plane.

On the way down, the airman shouted, "Merry Christmas," but their voices were lost in the 40-below-zero temperatures that gripped this isolated corner of Alaska where caribou outnumber the Athabaskan Indian inhabitants.

Christmas had come to Arctic Village, 150 miles north of the Arctic Circle and 75 miles from the nearest community.

Santa Claus came five days early, forsaking his sleigh for a C130. It was the shortest day of the year, when the moon shines brightly at noon and daylight comes and goes in a few hours.

The occasion was the eighth Christmas mission to the village by members of the 17th Tactical Air Lift Squadron from Elmendorf Air Force Base near Anchorage.

The plane lumbered in for a landing on the frozen lake, where airman were greeted by nearly all of the 160 villagers as they unloaded 7,300 pounds of toys, clothes and food donated by Anchorage merchants. When the presents had been passed out, the entourage traveled by snow machine and dog sleds the mile to the village for a buffet lunch in the community hall.

Despite his heavy arctic gear, Santa Claus suffered a frostbitten ear, but the kids didn't seem to notice.

One enterprising youngster apparently wanted to make sure Christmas would come again next year to the village, linked to the outside world by two radios and twice-a-month supply flights.

He had erected a sign on the trail winding back to the plane: "Santa Claus, come back next year."

The Greatest Story Ever Told

And it came to pass in those days that there went a degree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.
(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)
And all went to be taxed, every one unto his own city.
And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)
To be taxed with his espoused wife, being great with child.
And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.
And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.
And there was in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.
And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them and the glory of the Lord shone round about them and they were sore afraid.

Father To Son Talk About Christmas

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
Dear Son:
You're 12 now, and after that many Christmases you're probably as jaded by the day as you are delighted. It's a jumbled up time: Crowded stores, music, spending, decorating and lost fantasies.

There's no reason for people to slump around like that, though, now that Christmas has come, now that Jesus has put his reluctant realization, usually unspoken, but plainly evident and gradually a seasonal joke.

Sometimes that sort of thing, the mixture of playing-acting and the real, the getting and giving, the piled up packages and their suggestion of mingled greed and generosity, makes the whole affair seem a kind of hokey-up game.

The actual meaning gets blurred and covered up in the clutter. But it's there somewhere, behind the noise and hectic shuffling behind the over-wanting and over-buying, behind the excitement and sometimes tears of that oddly amalgamated morning.

It's not that the basic point of Christmas is not always there, but simply that we often clog it up, bury it and crowd it out with our ruddled-headed foolishness. And that's not so good. Because we really ought to pay a little more mind to just what the occasion is all about.

Of course, you know, maybe a little vaguely something that it's all about. You see the little models of the kids make at church, the woman with the baby, the animals standing around some strange guys on camels bringing gifts to the Christ child.

It's a strange story, a sort of curiosity. But don't let the fanciful qualities of it make you put it on the same level with Santa Claus. Despite its seeming remoteness from the present, and with all the muddling elements of Christmas, it's about something great and true, right now, this day.

The thing is that when Jesus was born, a new light came into this world, a person who showed us the way of real living and total goodness, who made clear what the mystery of God is really like, and what He wants us to do, and be.

Now, you ask, just what is that? Well, as we Christians see it, you only have to look at Jesus and you know. This man, this very special man, set in a quite surprising, peculiar way. There was a difference here, a newness.

You might even call him a little kooky. Because you know what? He had a chance at being rich and powerful, and he turned it down. He had a chance to head up a big army, be a king, but he wouldn't do it.

He said he had more important things to do, straightening out people who were mixed up and sad, giving them hope, helping people who were poor, hurt or sick, being nice to kids. He said this was more important than being a bigshot or making money; just plain old loving people, bracing them up, assuring them that God stood with them, that the life given us, even though we often foul it up, has a solid eternal purpose.

That's a pretty nice thing to be sure of, you know. It adds a zing to just being alive. It keeps everything around that sort of grim - all the nastiness and meanness we get messed up in, the rotten war, the crookedness and cruelty that goes on, the slothful types coping out, giving up, so pampered they feel pointless, wandering about, turned in on themselves, inflated with desire but short on hope.

There's no reason for people to slump around like that, though, now that Christmas has come, now that Jesus has put his reluctant realization, usually unspoken, but plainly evident and gradually a seasonal joke.

Christmas Heat Wave Down Under
SYDNEY (AP) - Australians prepared for Christmas today as the temperature soared to 104 in downtown Sydney, six major brushfires raged in the eastern part of the country and two infants were reported killed by a four-day-old heat wave.

The temperature also cut into the usual heavy flow of pre-Christmas traffic to vacation resorts. One beach inspector commented: "I think it's just too hot for many people to bother coming here to try to cool down."
