Truck Hits Stop Light

An out-of-order traffic light at Main and Bissell Sts. in Manchester, hit by a truck Thursday night, probably won't be repaired until next week, police said today. At about 9:30 p.m. Thursday, a tractor-trailer truck operated by Ronald L. Jackson of Sioux City, Iowa, hit the signal light as he was headed south on Main St. The lower (green light) part of the device was knocked off completely, but the light was still hanging from wires in its original position. Manchester Police installed temporary stop signs at the intersection.

Camp Kennedy Volunteers Again Win Accolades

By SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter) The Army and Navy Club of Manchester, which has been honoring the volunteer counselors of Camp Kennedy since 1964, when the summer day camp for the mentally retarded was established, last night honored them again with a Ninth Annual Reunion Dinner. In addition to serving a full-course roast beef dinner, for about 100 persons, the club has as its custom, presented a gift to each volunteer, to the camp staff and to other guests. Each girl received an electric mini hairdryer - each boy a micro mini pocket radio. The adult guests each received a box of candy.

A-N Club president James Fogarty, when presenting the gifts, said, "The Army and Navy Club is more than pleased to give its support in any way it can. The work you are doing is wonderful. This dinner and these gifts can never repay you for giving of yourselves."

If last night's event was not as festive and happy as previous ones - and it wasn't - it was because Harry Smith, camp director for eight of the nine sessions, was not present. Smith, known as "Uncle Harry" to the hundreds of counselors and campers he supervised since 1964, was home, recuperating from an illness. Smith resigned his post at the end of the 1972 camping season. He gave no reason for his action.

On behalf of all the counselors and staff, Cathy Johnson paid tribute to Smith with a short, yet moving, message. "We know he isn't here and we miss him very much. We want him to know it."

The recipients of the pins, designated the top volunteers by the unanimous vote of the paid staff, are: Beverly Brooks, Kathleen Charlebois, Stuart Flavel, Cathy Johnson, Gary LaBree, Laura Lofski, Timothy McConville, Mark Odell, Peter Pescosolido, John Tassilo and Jane Zammitis. The patch awards went to outstanding campers, chosen by the majority vote of the paid staff.

Police Report

MANCHESTER Two Manchester men were taken into custody by local police Thursday night after an alleged fight near Dairy Mart, 415 Main St. They were: Keith R. Matto, 31, of 111 E. Middle Tpke., charged with two counts of breach of peace and one count of intoxication; Lawrence M. Green, 23, of 17 Oakland St., charged with one count of breach of peace.

Police were called to Dairy Mart at about 6:30 p.m. on report of a fight in progress. The fight apparently broke up as police cruisers arrived, police said. Both men were taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital for emergency room treatment. Court date is Jan. 15 at Manchester.

Thomas C. Luzzi, 31, of 142 Spruce St., Apt. 4, was charged Thursday night with third-degree assault in connection with an alleged Dec. 21 beating of a Manchester man. Luzzi was taken into custody on a Circuit Court 12 arrest warrant. He was released on his written promise to appear in court Jan. 15.

The assault victim, Michael Zolvik of 24 West St., said he was dragged from his car at Esquire Dr. Wednesday night, and beaten by two men in the early morning of Dec. 21, according to police. The charges stem from a disturbance and minor accident involving two parked cars at A & Z Plaza, South Windsor, police said. Burke was held overnight and is in Circuit Court 12 at East Hartford today.

More Than 90 Of 167 Aboard Survive

Jumbo Jet Crashes

MIAMI (AP) - An Eastern Air Lines TriStar carrying 167 people crashed into the Everglades late Friday night, spilling men and women into the murky waters of the swamp. Authorities said more than half of those aboard survived the crash, the first fatal accident involving the new breed of jumbo jets. The Coast Guard said 93 survivors were pulled from the wreckage, water and much by rescuers laboring in darkness in the desolate and virtually inaccessible morass. The search for the living and the dead continued past dawn today. The big wide-bodied Lockheed L1011 was enroute from New York to Miami when it crashed just before midnight Friday, 17 miles northwest of Miami International Airport. The cause of the crash was not known at once, but an Eastern spokesman said there was no word from the pilot.

Helicopters and volunteer drivers of aircraft - a shallow draft that skim over the swamp - were pressed into the difficult rescue effort. "It's the worst thing I've ever seen in my life," said Bill Hodges of Miami, a Coast Guard helicopter pilot. "Bodies were all over the place. The wreckage of the plane was intact, but a section of the cabin," Hodges said. "The rest of the plane was in a thousand pieces."

"Everywhere we tried to land there were bodies," Frank Borman, the astronaut who is now an Eastern vice president, flew to the scene to help direct recovery work in the knee-deep water. He described the survivors as exceptionally calm as they waited for helicopter and boats to ferry them from the scene. One passenger said a stewardess led the survivors in singing Christmas carols until the first rescue helicopter arrived, about 30 minutes after the crash. Rescuers set up a command post at a nearby Miccosukee Indian village. The Indians who live in the alligator-infested swamp helped in the rescue, but the tribal council refused to let them bring the injured or dead into the settlement. Police said the Indians explained that their religious beliefs dictated that the bodies be destroyed if someone dies in a Don't tagery, spokesman for the Dade County Sheriff's office, said the Indians' decision in no way hampered the rescue effort.

As he lay on a stretcher at Miami's Palmetto Hospital, one survivor, 32-year-old Michael Laurie of Syosset, N.Y., recalled his ordeal: a crawl through the slimy waters, the screams and moans of frightened and injured. "It was completely dark, cold and wet," he said. "Nothing left of the fuselage. We were in... a foot of water, I crawled as far as I could, a long way, 300 yards or so. I could hear people screaming. I yelled for them to get away from the plane. Laurie said he was tucked into a safety by a Coast Guard hover close to the ground because of the wet. "They dug us up just like you see in the movies," he said. Passengers said their was no warning.

Squire Village Permit Issued

A building permit, for more than $2 million, has been issued to the Utility Development Corp. of East Hartford for construction of the 374-unit Squire Village apartment complex on Spencer St. in Manchester. The permit, issued by the Manchester building department, lists the estimated construction cost at $2,192,300. The 374 apartment units will be in 18 buildings on 33 acres of land at 20-90 Spencer St. Also planned is a community building. Utility Development Corp. is the general contractor for the project, which is being developed by Squire Village Associates of East Hartford. The actual construction costs for the federally subsidized project are expected to be much higher than the estimate listed on the building permit. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), in approving interest and rent subsidies for the project earlier this month, noted that the project's cost would be in excess of $7 million. The HUD commitment means that the Federal Housing Administration will pay $340,489 annually to the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co. in interest subsidies on a mortgage of $6,999,000. HUD will also provide $46,741 annually in rent supplement funds to Squire Village Associates. The project is being federally funded under Section 236 of the Housing Act, which enables private developers to build low and moderate income housing by subsidizing mortgage and rental payments.

The 374 apartment units consist of 96 one-bedroom units, 200 two-bedroom units, 73 three-bedroom units, and three caretaker's units. The one-bedroom units will rent for $145 monthly; two-bedroom units, $198 monthly; and three-bedroom units, $188 monthly. These rents will be available only to a person or family whose annual income, at admission time, does not exceed maximums on a Squire Village schedule. The schedule of maximum incomes is: one-person family, $6,075; two-person family, $6,885; three-person family, $7,560; four-person family, $8,100; five-person family, $8,640; six-person family, $9,045. Any family whose income is above those levels would be required to pay a higher rent - about $70 more per month. In addition to the low rents, 50 per cent of the units may be rented to lower income families at rents equivalent to 25 per cent of the family income. Applications will be open to any person or family on a first-come, first-served basis, subject to the applicant's qualifications. The plans for the apartment complex were approved by the Manchester Planning and

Bombing Halted Peace Talks To Resume

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon has ordered the bombing of North Vietnam halted and Henry Kissinger's secret Paris peace talks will resume Jan. 8, the White House said today. Deputy press secretary Gerald L. Warren said the President ordered suspension of bombing raids above the 20th parallel "as soon as it was clear serious negotiations could be resumed."

Kissinger's private negotiations with Hanoi politicians had resumed on Dec. 11, the head of the North Vietnamese delegation in Paris, Xuan Thuy, was the resuming after a nearly one-month. The talks broke off Dec. 13 and Nixon began the heaviest bombing of the war on Dec. 18. Warren said technical talks between experts from both sides will resume on Dec. 19. There has been some argument over the meaning of the constitutional amendment, and the Democrats who controlled the House and Senate on the committee over the bill-drafting process, and the bill's passage. Other important changes are a requirement for roll call votes in the House and Senate on all major bills, tighter control by committees of the rules committee, most of whose functions were absorbed by the Legislative Management Committee several years ago. The mandatory adjournment date set by the state Constitution is June 6, but if the tightened-up schedule is adhered to, the legislature would apply to its business in March, according to the new senate president pro tempore, Peter L. Cadman of Lyme, and the new house speaker, Francis J. Collins of Brookfield. Gov. Thomas J. Meskill is expected to call for early adjournment in his "state of the state" message to be delivered to the House and Senate in joint session next Wednesday afternoon. With the Republicans in firm 23-13 control of the Senate and 93-58 control of the House, the announced goal of the legislative leaders is to give the Republican governor's proposals prompt consideration and action. Also included in the proposed rules for the next two years is a restriction on the three-month session of 1974, which may raise some opposition among the minority Democrats.

State Assembly Faces Speeded Up Schedule

HARTFORD (AP) - A speeded up legislative schedule geared for an early and orderly adjournment has been designed by the Republican leaders to consider any bill on any subject brought out by committees during the short even-numbered year sessions, the proposed rule change would limit those committee bills to "budgetary, revenue and financial matters."

Vernon

Town Gets Park Land

A deed, which turns over 63 acres of land adjacent to Valley Falls Park, to the town of Vernon, was filed at the office of the town clerk Friday.

The "Christmas present" was given to the town by Samuel Jones and William Lyon. Lyon lives in Essex and Jones in Old Saybrook. The two men purchased the land, which was part of the Charles Beech property, several years ago. In 1968, prior to consolidation of the town governments, the then Vernon Five District purchased 130 acres of the parcel from the two men. That portion was made into a nature park and swimming area for the town.

About a week ago Jones and Lyon offered the land, as a gift with "no strings attached" to the town. Last Monday the Town Council gave Mayor Frank McCoy approval to accept the land as a gift and the move will allow the town to expand Valley Falls Park to a much greater depth.

The original acreage purchased in 1968 cost the Fire District $33,000. Recent appraisals have set the value of the donated land at from $1,000 to $1,500 an acre. Mayor McCoy said the question now arises as to whether the value of the property can be used as the town's contribution toward an open space application which has been on file for some time along with more than 140 others submitted by other towns.

Mayor McCoy said he does not think Vernon will be included in the first-round funding as he feels the cities have more hardware problems.

DECIDE WHAT IS BEST FOR INDIVIDUAL HAND BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In the early days of bridge these were rules for defensive play: second hand low, third hand high, fourth hand win the trick if you can. Good players don't rely on such generalizations. Each hand is a case by itself, and you should try to work out what is right for this individual hand—not what is usually right in a large number of hands.

West opens the deuce of hearts, and declarer plays low from the dummy. East correctly fineses with the ten, breaking one of the old rules (never finesse against your partner). East's play is correct since West cannot be leading from the ace. South therefore has the ace of hearts, and East cannot gain by playing the king.

The ten suffices to drive out the ace. South leads the queen

Legislative Coverage

Connecticut Public Television (CPTV) starts coverage of the Connecticut General Assembly with a special report on opening day activities Wednesday (Jan. 3) at 9 p.m. The CPTV programs are seen on Channel 34 in Hartford.

Legion Field on Regan Rd. will be opened to snowmobiles but only if there is six inches or more of snow, according to Donald Berger, recreation director.

An agreement has been made with Post 14, AL for use of the field and snowmobiles cannot be operated on school grounds or other recreation areas.

When the recreation commission meets in January, Berger said a proposal will be made to open a section of the Ecker Farm on West Rd., also for the use of snowmobiles. The proposed area is bounded by the sliding and tobogganing area.

A series of regulations pertaining to the use of Legion field for snowmobiling may be obtained at the recreation office in the Lottie Fisk Building, Henry Park.

Snowmobile operators must be at least 16 years old. Anyone younger must have a parent or guardian on the vehicle with them, Berger said.

The field is open to Vernon residents only, and the snowmobile must be registered with the recreation department. The legion area may be used only during the hours of 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. A certificate of liability insurance is required and a "hold harmless" agreement must be made with the town. All equipment must meet standards set by the state and the snowmobile must be registered with the state.

The Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on Jan. 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the Administration Building to hear two requests.

Green Manor Estates is requesting a subdivision of property it owns on Taylor St. in Talcottville. One appeal for a subdivision was granted on May 11, 1971. The new request concerns the portion of the original map covering site lots.

The other request is that of Elaine Meehan of 51 Götter Dr., asking for a special, permit under the zoning laws relating to single family dwellings, to allow the use of one room in the Meehan home for use as a real estate office.

MAY HAVE TEN
If South has started with the doubleton Q-10 of diamonds, East can take the jack of diamonds, cash two hearts and seth take a club or two. But it would be fatal to play the jack of diamonds if South started with the singleton queen. South ruffs, takes the ace and queen of spades, ruffs another diamond and leads a trump to dummy to discard two losers on the good nine and eight of diamonds. If South has a six-card trump suit he will make six trump tricks, three diamonds and the ace of hearts.

East should play low because he can probably defeat the contract even if South started with Q-10. In that case South wins with the ten of diamonds, takes the ace and queen of spades and leads the nine of diamonds. East can play low for West still has a trump and will be out of diamonds also. South will get six trumps, two diamonds and the ace of hearts, but nothing else.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: Spades, 8-6-2; Hearts, 10-7-5-2; Diamonds, K-10-7; Clubs, 9-6-3.

What do you say?
Answer: Pass. The hand is slightly too weak for a response. If partner opened with one heart, you would raise to two hearts since you could add a point for the queen of partner's bid.

Vernon Notes

AL Field Open For Snowcars

Legion Field on Regan Rd. will be opened to snowmobiles but only if there is six inches or more of snow, according to Donald Berger, recreation director.

An agreement has been made with Post 14, AL for use of the field and snowmobiles cannot be operated on school grounds or other recreation areas.

When the recreation commission meets in January, Berger said a proposal will be made to open a section of the Ecker Farm on West Rd., also for the use of snowmobiles. The proposed area is bounded by the sliding and tobogganing area.

A series of regulations pertaining to the use of Legion field for snowmobiling may be obtained at the recreation office in the Lottie Fisk Building, Henry Park.

Snowmobile operators must be at least 16 years old. Anyone younger must have a parent or guardian on the vehicle with them, Berger said.

The field is open to Vernon residents only, and the snowmobile must be registered with the recreation department. The legion area may be used only during the hours of 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. A certificate of liability insurance is required and a "hold harmless" agreement must be made with the town. All equipment must meet standards set by the state and the snowmobile must be registered with the state.

And Now for the Follow-through

Happy New Year

The sands of time are trickling out on the old year.
It has been an eventful year, marked by great achievements, such as the re-opening of diplomatic relationships with Communist China and also one of tremendous human disappointment in that the high hopes of peace in Southeast Asia of only a few weeks ago have been dashed for the time being.

Each of us as we prepare for the traditional New Year's celebration will be reviewing the past year in the terms of personal accomplishments as well as losses; but hopefully each of our Herald readers will be able to see 1973 as a better and bigger year in their personal lives.

For no matter what the disappointments of the past might have been, now is a time of resolution to make the new year better. It can be the little things formerly left undone, the thoughtful things we may have "never had the time to do," or the bigger decisions we might ever make in our lives.

But regardless of what decisions we make and for what purpose, we can be thankful and should be especially grateful that we do live in a nation where we are allowed great freedom of choice in planning our own lives, in solving or re-solving our problems, or in striving for greater goals.
This is why we, as Americans, can and celebrate the New Year. It is our annual ritual of self-reflection and resolution in an atmosphere of freedom and happiness. More than any other time of the year the New Year's advent focuses on our right to "pursue happiness," not only individually but as a people.
Happy New Year to each of you and may it be a productive and prosperous one.
P. S.—Keep the happy in Happy New Year by sober driving throughout the holidays and all of 1973.

"We felt so comfortable, all of us here in Independence, knowing he was down the street in his big white house." — Mary Dowell, another resident of Independence.

"They both have taken this with the great style and grace they have always exhibited." — Randall Jesse, a spokesman for the former president's family, discussing how Truman's widow, Bess, and daughter, Margaret Truman Daniel, accepted the news of his death.

"The Army, like the rest of the nation, wants Mr. Truman's funeral to go off without a hitch. That's what we've been working so hard for, and that's why we're here." — Lt. Col. Inside Report

Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

Nixon's Bombing Decision

WASHINGTON—President Nixon's difficult decision to resume mining Haiphong harbor and unleash full-scale bombing of North Vietnam's sea lanes exactly fits the tough strategy he has followed at every climactic point since he took office four years ago. The President, reacting typically to Hanoi's apparent judgment that he was in a domestic political bind and simply had to produce a peace agreement, scarcely hesitated. He slipped both Moscow and Peking advance word—but not advance enough to permit interference with his decision-making and then sent his infantry units or draftees serving in Vietnam, he is related about domestic upheavals. As for Moscow and Peking, Mr. Nixon counts on screams of protest but not much more than that. Having decided to use force to break the enemy's will, his problem is not Moscow and Peking but whether he now will be trapped in open-ended aerial warfare, further swelling his runaway budget.

When Hanoi made the offer that produced Kissinger's Oct. 26 "peace is at hand" prediction, Mr. Nixon had two options: Even so, the paris negotiations were going so smoothly as of Dec. 10 that Kissinger sent his deputy, Gen. Alexander Haig, to Washington to discuss one major sticking point with the President. Tentative arrangements had already been made to send Haig and a top-level U.S. delegation to Saigon with the complete agreement for Thieu's inspection.

What happened in new history. At the negotiating session Dec. 11, Le Duc Tho, Hanoi's chief negotiator, showed suspicious signs of stalling. He produced a new set of protocols for the post-ceasefire machinery that would have made a mockery of any serious policing of the agreement. To Mr. Nixon, Tho added still other demands. To Mr. Nixon, this sudden change meant, what it had: He had decided that the American President was tied to a peace-at-any-price pledge and would have to kneel under whatever right or wrong in that judgment, Mr. Nixon reacted characteristically by unleashing his bombers and mine layers. Now it is Hanoi's move.

South Windsor Manager Asks Advice On Spending

Appearing before the Town Council's capital improvement committee, Town Manager Terry Sprekel suggested that the committee take an active role in recommending how the $308,796 of revenue-sharing money received by the town should be spent.

Sprekel said he would like to see 50 per cent of the money set aside for capital improvements. Sprekel, in discussing capital improvements, said that the construction of a new school building would offer a service to the entire community. He listed the reconstruction of some of the major roads in town as being high on the list of capital priorities.

In addition, Sprekel said that fire station 1 should be replaced by a building that would serve as a central fire headquarters. He also mentioned that an addition to the town hall may be necessary within the next five years.

The committee is responsible for making recommendations concerning capital expenditures.

South Windsor Electric Cord Caused Fire

A fire which resulted in extensive damage to a Farnham Estates home yesterday was caused by a warm electric cord from a refrigerator.

Fire Marshal William Lanning said today.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Gagnon of 108 Seaside Meadow Rd., owners of the home, were asleep when the fire broke out at about 1:40 a.m. but were able to flee the building using the stairs.

According to Lanning, the cord became frayed because the refrigerator was standing on it. He also said an improper fuse in the home's fuse box caused the refrigerator cord to burn instead of blowing the fuse.

Damage to the home is estimated at about $10,000.

He's Happy He Won

"To one Manchester man, the state lottery is a miracle and the greatest thing that ever happened to me."

Alfred L. Lavoie, 63, of 49 Rachel Rd. has won four times.

He's not a big winner but, because never before in his lifetime has he won anything, he wants everyone to know how happy he is and that it's been a Happy Old Year. Consequently, he placed a "Happy Ad" in today's Manchester Herald.

Lavoie, who retired nine weeks ago from Pratt & Whitney, won $200 once and twice in the Connecticut lottery, and won $25 once in the Massachusetts lottery.

He says, "Sure, I'm not a $5,000 or $75,000 winner, but I'm just as happy as a topographer, in fact. Just knowing that I'm a winner, makes me happy."

Columbia Constables Absent From Bingo Night

VIRGINIA CARLSON

Tel. 228-4224

Local constables, who have questioned their own effectiveness in town because they have no power to arrest, were not on duty at St. Columba's bingo night as is the custom.

Chief Constable Guy Beck has previously told the selectmen that he would inform the other constables not to stand duty anywhere unless the orders were issued from the first selectmen's office.

Constables have no power to arrest, according to a dictum from the Colchester State Police. State police have told the selectmen they would enforce the laws within the town, if called to do so, but the person making the complaint must appear in court.

According to identification cards, constables are officers of the Columbia Police Department and are authorized to apprehend and arrest any person violating the general statutes or town regulations.

The card is signed by the first selectman who is also chief of police.

Beck said, "The town has not seen fit to come out and support the constabulary in a way I feel they should be supported."

HOEY RETIRES

A pharmacist, who became one-bank in the days when one's only requirement to become registered was to work as an apprentice under another registered pharmacist, will retire after the first of the year.

Thomas A. Hoey, 26 Indian Dr., for the last ten years a pharmacist at the Bolton Pharmacy in Bolton, will soon complete about 20 years of employment in local and area drug stores.

In 1918, when Hoey was attending Manchester High School, he began working for Dr. Thomas Weldon at the soda fountain in Weldon's Drug Store.

After graduation, he continued working at soda fountains, and graduated and began to work into the field of pharmacy. After a brief period of employment in Hartford, he returned to Manchester.

In 1929 he worked at Miner's Pharmacy on Main St., and in 1930 he became a registered pharmacist. He worked in Packard's Pharmacy, later known as the Center Pharmacy, located in the Odd Fellows building.

From there, he went to work in Quinn's Pharmacy in 1943 where he remained until the business was sold in 1962. From then until now he has been employed at the Bolton Pharmacy.

After Hoey's retirement, he will still work as a pharmacist, he says, on a part-time basis, filling in during vacations, holidays, and so forth. Mr. and Mrs. Hoey plan to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leggett in Jupiter, Fla., soon after the first of the year.

Hoey will also be able to devote more time to his favorite avocation which he and his wife have shared since they were married more than 40 years ago—that of raising Boston terriers. At present, they have a litter of three pups besides two grown dogs. They also show their dogs throughout New England. Hoey is treasurer of the Boston Terrier Club of Connecticut.

House said in the 1967-68 court calendar, running from September to September, 2,271 criminal cases had been handled. In the 1971-72 year, House said the caseload was 4,790 cases.

One conspicuous element running through the later cases, according to the chief justice, was the number of drug-related cases in the past court calendar. He said drug-related cases had increased from 338 in the 1967-68 period to 1,560 in 1971-72.

The chief justice said he would address the state legislature, if invited, and relate to them the problems of the Connecticut judiciary. If House accepted such an invitation, it would be the first time for such an address since colonial times.

House said interpretations of constitutional law had made recent cases increasingly complex. He referred to new procedures for arrest, use of search warrants, confessions, and requirements for providing the accused with legal advice as established in recent Supreme Court decisions.

He also said courtroom facilities, particularly in the circuit courts, were fast becoming inadequate. His description of the condition of the facilities in one Connecticut city was "nothing but a disgrace."

Peace Talks

Communists were ready to alter their negotiating stance, Warren responded that he could not yet discuss the content of discussions with the other side.

But he referred to Kissinger's statement on Dec. 16 when the presidential adviser said he would remain in contact with Hanoi and that talks could resume when the other side was ready to meet for serious negotiations.

The White House stressed that the bombing halt applies only above the 20th parallel. This means that the Hanoi and Haiphong heartland will gain back off limits to U.S. air attacks but lower portions of North Vietnam will still be subject to bombardment.

Kissinger, who has been vacationing on the West Coast, has been in daily telephone contact with the President.

Martin Siminiero, 22, of Long Island, one of the survivors, said there was no word from the pilot, no explosion and almost no warning before the plane hit.

"The plane was flying fine," Siminiero said. "We just went down slightly and then came back up. I thought nothing of it. The next thing I knew we hit."

"Everywhere we tried to land there were bodies." The plane slammed into a marsh about 300 yards off the Tamiami Trail, a state highway that cuts across the Everglades from Miami to Florida's west coast.

Despite its nearness to the road, the wreckage was accessible only by helicopter, swamp buggies and shallow-draft airboats driven by air-plane propellers.

Rev-Sharing Checks Due Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury will mail the second installment of 1972 revenue-sharing funds next Friday, but it's holding back 5 per cent of each allotment to cover the cost of correcting mistakes and inequities.

Only 1 per cent was withheld from the first installment sent to state and local governments recently.

Deputy Undersecretary James Smith said at a news conference Friday that holding back a larger sum will speed the distribution of extra funds to compensate government units shortchanged because of errors.

Jim Plunkett

Jim Plunkett, who was a quarterback for Stanford University in California, was picked first in the National Football League draft of 1971. He now plays for the New England Patriots.

The Professional Football Draft

Professional clubs draft most of their players from stars that have completed their college educations. Each pro team has a staff of scouts that closely watches outstanding college players. Each of the 26 teams is able to pick as many as 17 players in a 17 round pro draft. This draft usually lasts for two days. It will start on Tuesday, January 30. The team with the poorest record in the previous season of play gets to pick first. The coaches from each pro team are in touch by telephone to the National Football League offices in New York. They announce their choices and records are kept.

The teams then notify the players they pick. Most players have agents that help them work out contracts with the clubs' owners. For a period of a year, a player must play for the club that picks him, unless he is traded or sold to another team or unless he is dropped from the team. When he is dropped, his contract is "waived" and he is eligible to be drafted again by other clubs in a certain order that is established. If no club drafts him, then he becomes a "free agent" and can sign with any club.

Super Sport: Larry Csonka

Larry Csonka (pronounced Zonka) of the Miami Dolphins is one of the best running backs in professional football. "Zonk" joined the Dolphins in 1968 and quickly developed into a big ground gainer. He is six-feet, three inches tall and weighs 235 pounds. Before going to Miami, Larry attended Syracuse University, where he made All-American and broke the school rushing record. Csonka, who was born in Stowe, Ohio, also enjoys hunting, fishing, and playing the harmonica.

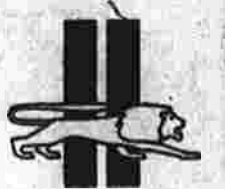

Mini Page Quiz-a-roo!

What are some of the differences between college and professional football?

The pros try for more field goals than college players. In pro ball, the team does not score two points after a touchdown as in college ball. It can score only one. Also, in college football, a player is down if his knees touch the ground. In pro ball, the player is down only if he is stopped by contact. For example, if he were to trip and fall, and no one touched him, he could get up and run.

When was the first pro football game played?

The first pro football game was played in 1895 when members of two Pennsylvania teams received $10 each for playing. The town of Latrobe defeated Jeannette, 12-0.
