Plane Crashes in Trees

A single-engine Piper Cherokee is suspended in pine trees north of Ellington Airport, where it crashed just after take-off Sunday afternoon. The pilot-owner, Milton Askiness, 51, of Wilbraham, Mass., and his wife, Elaine, were taken to Rockville General Hospital by ambulance after the 12:31 p.m. crash, and they were treated for minor injuries. They were removed from the plane, which was about 12 feet from the ground, by Ellington firemen. State Police and aviation officials are investigating. Airport officials said today the plane has been removed from the crash site, about a half mile north of the airport runway. (Photo by Ron Blake)

Cease-Fire Signs On The Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) - As captured enemy documents signaled a midweek intialing of a cease-fire accord, Henry A. Kissinger heads back to Paris today to join allied and Communist officials in the last steps toward ending the Vietnam war. Before the presidential assistant left Andrews Air Force Base, he received last-minute instructions from President

Nixon at a breakfast-hour White House meeting. Officially, the White House continued to portray the purpose of Kissinger's return to the French capital as "completing the text of an agreement" to end the fight. But a flurry of developments Sunday bolstered the belief that an agreement soon will be signed, calling for a cease-fire, the return of prisoners of war, and machinery to reshape the South Vietnamese government. The major developments: -Senior South Vietnamese officials said captured documents from the Communist high command stated that an agreement will be initiated at 8 a.m. EST Wednesday, that it will be formally signed on Saturday and that a cease-fire will go into effect on Sunday, Jan. 28.

-While shying away from specific dates, Washington sources indicated that Nixon has set a goal of wrapping up the Vietnam agreement this week and that, barring unexpected snags, the President is confident of hitting that target. -South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam told an interviewer as he departed for Paris that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will be in Saigon on Jan. 28, presumably to demonstrate that Washington and Saigon were entering the post-war era shoulder-to-shoulder.

-Agnew himself said he couldn't answer when asked whether he will be heading for Saigon, saying the President would have to make "that announcement." Kissinger and Tho interrupted their talks on Jan. 13, when the U.S. negotiator returned to Washington for consultation with Nixon. The next day, Nixon dispatched Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., his chief liaison officer with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, to Saigon and four other Asian capitals to outline terms of a tentative agreement.

Haig returned from his mission Sunday and went immediately into meetings with Kissinger and Nixon. They met for more than two hours in two separate sessions before and after private inaugural-weekend receptions for the President's relatives and political supporters. Indications were that Haig brought Nixon a personal message from Thieu confirming the South Vietnamese leader's acceptance of major points of the tentative agreement negotiated by Kissinger and Tho. There were signs too, that Nixon immediately dispatched a response to Thieu.

The officials denied knowledge of any date set by the allies for a cease-fire, but said Jan. 28 seems a logical one. They added that a truce is certain before Feb. 1.

U.S. sources in Saigon also have mentioned the Jan. 28 date. They say officials involved in logistics support for the South Vietnamese have been instructed to expect a cease-fire on that date.

Abortion Law Ruled Invalid

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court today barred the states from interfering with the decision of a woman and her doctor to end pregnancies within the first three months.

In the 7 to 2 decision striking down the Texas abortion law, Justice Harry A. Blackmun said medical data indicates abortion in the first three months "although not without its risk, is now relatively safe."

Therefore, he said, "any interest of the state in protecting the woman from an inherently hazardous procedure ... has largely disappeared."

The ruling followed two years of deliberations by the justices. It was based predominantly on what Blackmun called a right of privacy. He said the right "is broad enough to encompass a woman's decision whether or not to terminate her pregnancy."

Justices Byron R. White and William H. Rehnquist dissented, White said he could "find nothing in the language or history of the Constitution to support the court's judgment." Rehnquist, meanwhile, said "the court's sweeping invalidation of any restrictions on abortion during the first trimester is impossible to justify."

Blackmun's opinion rejected the theory pressed by abortion foes that a fetus is a "person" within constitutional terms and must be protected by the state. He said that in the Constitution "use of the word is such that it has application only postnatally."

Blackmun added: "We need not resolve the difficult question of when life begins. When those trained in the respective disciplines of medicine, philosophy and theology are unable to arrive at any consensus, the judiciary, at this point in the development of man's knowledge, is not in a position to speculate as to the answers."

HARTFORD (AP) - A lawyer trying to win liberalized abortion laws for Connecticut says today's U.S. Supreme Court decision regarding another state's abortion law appears to indicate that Connecticut's is unconstitutional.

Hartford attorney Marilyn Seichter, questioned shortly after the high court's ruling striking down the Texas law, said: "It would certainly indicate that our statute is unconstitutional."

State Atty. Gen. Robert K. Killian, who is appealing a lower court ruling that the Connecticut law also is unconstitutional, was unavailable because of a death in his family. A spokesman for Killian declined to speculate on how the ruling might affect Connecticut's appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Daniel Schaefer said he had been informed by the U.S. Supreme Court that today's action did not rule on Connecticut's appeal, which has not been heard yet.

Schaefer did not speculate on how the ruling might affect this state's appeal, but pointed out that the Texas law was very similar to Connecticut's. A group called "Women versus Connecticut," which Miss Seichter and other lawyers represent, has been successful twice recently in getting Connecticut anti-abortion laws ruled unconstitutional in U.S. District Court.

When the state's 112-year-old law was ruled unconstitutional last year, the General Assembly, at the urging of Gov. Thomas J. Meskill, passed a slightly reworded law containing the same restraints against any abortion except when the life of the mother is endangered.

"I would certainly hope at this point that the state would recognize the fact women are not going to sit around and allow their rights to be trampled," Miss Seichter said.

She added that she felt that the fight for a liberalized abortion law had gained widespread support because of the refusal of state officials to consider a liberalized version.

Ruling May Affect Connecticut Case

Gunmen Surrender Ending Long Siege

NEW YORK (AP) - Four gunmen who had vowed to die for Muslim paradise in a hail of police bullets have surrendered peacefully after their nine remaining hostages made a dramatic escape to signal the end of a two-day siege in a Brooklyn sporting goods store. The end came late Sunday afternoon, over 47 hours after a silent robbery alarm alerted police who surprised the young gunmen in the store. One patrolman was killed and two others wounded in a fury of gunfire.

The break came shortly before 1 p.m. Sunday when the hostages, led by a co-owner of the store, broke through plasterboard to a sealed off stairway and escaped to the roof while the gunmen were diverted.

Four hours later, following more negotiations with police and pleas from some relatives, the gunmen walked out. Two carried a stretcher with a third who was wounded and the fourth walked ahead. Police said preliminary reports indicated their marksmen had not fired a shot since the original gunbattle, although the gunmen had fired volleys from time to time.

Police identified the four by their Muslim names as Salih Ali Abdullah, Dawd Abdullah Ar-Rahm and Shulab Abdul Raheem, whose lawyer said he was also known as Carey Earl Robinson. The wounded man, Yusef Abdul, 29, was in fair condition after surgery at King's County Hospital.

Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Eugene Gold said he would go before a grand jury today with charges against the four that probably would include the murder of Patrolman Stephen R. Gilroy, the attempted murder of Patrolmen Jose Adorno and Frank Carpentier, kidnapping and weapons possession.

Dobkin's term as chairman will not expire until the spring of 1974. He was elected to the post in 1968, succeeding Francis Dellafera, who declined reelection. Dobkin expressed a desire to remain on the town committee, "in order to continue my support of the Republican party and to help the new leadership in any way possible."

He said he doesn't know who will succeed him as chairman but said his "personal choice" is A. Paul Berte of 57 Tuck Rd., a member of the town committee and a district leader.

"What has pleased me the most," said Dobkin, in looking back on his five years in office, "is that we have succeeded in involving many new and young people in our working ranks. Some are now town committee members, others have worked very hard for our committee and, certainly, are potential members. They surely will be an asset to any new leadership."

He concluded, "We have had good days and not so good days, but at all times the town committee's cooperation and loyalty on my behalf has been tremendous. It has been an interesting, enlightening and rewarding experience. I thank you all."

GOP Chairman To Step Down

M. Adler Dobkin has announced his resignation as chairman of the Manchester Republican Town Committee, a post he has held for five years. He said he will call a meeting of the committee in two or three weeks for the express purpose of electing a successor and that his resignation will be effective then.

"I feel strongly," wrote Dobkin in a letter to all GOP committee members, "that all organizations need periodic change in leadership, in order that the proper direction and level of enthusiasm be maintained. This thought, coupled with the increasing demands of my business, have brought about my decision to tender my resignation at this time."

Taking note there will be an election this fall "to determine control of Manchester's Board

Bus Plan Opposed By Union

HARTFORD (AP) - A request by The Connecticut Co. for permission to resume emergency, drastically reduced bus service is a "subterfuge" fostered by state officials, says a union official.

E. Clayton Gengras, ConnCo president, planned to spell out his proposal in detail at a Public Utilities Commission hearing today. He has already said the emergency plan would restore about 30 per cent of the company's runs in the Hartford, New Haven and Stamford areas.

The Amalgamated Transit Union, which struck ConnCo Nov. 25, has rejected the plan because it would provide jobs for only a minority of the striking drivers and mechanics. "This is just a subterfuge of trying to get a temporary permit, which (Gengras) would then reapply for as a full (permanent) permit," ATU president John Thompson said Sunday.

Greater Hartford Process Explains 'New Town' Plans

HOLLY GANTNER Correspondent

The Greater Hartford Community Development Corporation, development arm of Greater Hartford Process, came out in the open Saturday afternoon and informed a meeting of various town officials that it intends "to work closely with the residents and officials of Coventry to develop a mutually acceptable plan for a high quality, balanced new community which both Coventry and Process can be proud of."

The meeting, held less than 48 hours after Gov. Meskill's office informed the council that Coventry was indeed the site of Process's projected "new town," laid to rest some of the rumors and speculation that have run through the town for several weeks, in the wake of sudden sales of large parcels of land in the town's northwest corner.

Representatives of Process and Devco also said that Edwin Larkin, the attorney from Rochester, N. Y. whose three development groups have been buying up the land, will now just silently disappear. Patrick Cusick, president of Devco; Peter Libassi, president of Process; and J. Richard North, project manager for the proposed new community, admitted that Larkin's transactions in the town were "a blind" and that all land purchased by him will be deeded over to Process for the new town.

Saturday afternoon's session included members of the Town Council, Planning and Zoning Commission and various other officials such as Robert Young, director of the Windham Regional Planning Agency; Town Engineer Walter Fuss; Planner Frank Connelly; Town Attorney Jack Shea; and State Senator David Odegard. An hour and fifteen minutes into the meeting, reporters were invited to sit in on the remainder of it and ask questions.

Local Support The three Process officials stressed that "Only the people of Coventry can make the final decisions about the proposed new community, and we are going to do everything we can to earn their enthusiastic support for this undertaking. We are confident, that the people of Coventry, working together with us, are going to see the proposed new community as an asset to their town, in terms of controlling future development, providing optimum social services and having a positive financial effect on the community."

It was emphasized that the Coventry project has absolutely no connection with renewal work in Hartford being carried out by Process.

Cusick, Libassi and North explained that in-depth studies of 29 towns had been carried out, with the towns matched against a list of criteria such as efficiency of town government, accessibility by road, and many other factors, and that Coventry had stacked up the best, thus being chosen as the site.

No Plan Yet No development plan for the new community has been started, since Devco intends to work with the town on this. Cusick explained, "We will be guided by the wishes of the town. We propose to begin in the near future to work with the people and officials of Coventry in developing both a full understanding of what the new community can mean in positive terms to the town, and meaningful participation on the part of the town in developing the plan for the new community."

The projections as to size are pretty much as put forth in Process literature. Devco estimates a population of about 20,000 within 10 to 15 years, and a total of about 6,000 dwelling units. Type of housing will be varied, but will ultimately depend on what the people of Coventry decide. Suggested types of ownership were private homes, rentals, and possibly some condominiums. As to the funding of the project, Devco has borrowed money from private sources to buy land, and must pay this back over a period of time, with interest. Libassi said that nothing definite has been done about funding the actual construction phase of the project. He said there is some possibility of assistance from the Department of Community Affairs, but nothing certain. As for Title 7, under which H.U.D. can guarantee funds for new communities up to about 90 per cent, Libassi referred to it as a "bureaucratic quagmire" and said "we'd like to avoid it."

Process will concentrate its attention on the life support systems for the new community, such as recreation, health programs, improved social services, and problems of the aged and disadvantaged, while Devco will develop and implement the physical plan.

Private Enterprise. Much of the actual building would be done by private builders, although Devco would put up a small portion. All housing and building would be done under a sort of master plan of the new community site.

Hughes Reported Ailing

LONDON (AP) - Billionaire Howard Hughes has suffered an apparent heart attack, the Daily Mirror reported today. The mass-circulation tabloid said the 68-year-old Hughes has been confined to bed in his ninth-floor suite at the plush "Inn at the Park" hotel and ordered to stop work.

The paper reported Hughes aides as believing the American had suffered a heart attack, but also quoted a spokesman as saying: "It is true that Mr. Hughes has not been too well. But he is now fit and well. During the past week Mr. Hughes has been confined to bed."

Hurrah For Baltic Ave.

It was a refreshing departure from the usual dismal fare that makes up so much of daily newspaper reading—the hullabaloo stirred up by the "plot" of the Atlantic City Commission to change the names of Baltic and Mediterranean Avenues, which, along with other of the city's streets, have been immortalized on the Monopoly board.

The story is now history: How fans around the country rushed to the defense of lowly Baltic and Mediterranean, some collecting Monopoly money to finance the cause; the eloquent plea by Edward P. Parker, president of Parker Brothers, manufacturers of the game, comparing the two streets to "such thoroughfares as Broadway, Trafalgar Square and the Champs Elysees"; the stirring rally cry of Princeton University student Robert Baker, who organized "Students to Save Baltic and Mediterranean" and proclaimed that the struggle "represented the last resort of the underdog to hold out against the oppressive forces of Boardwalk and Park Place power mongers."

And while it lasted it was a punster's dream. There were threats of sending the commissioners to "jail, directly to jail."
"We have turned the corner," said one observer after the commission backed down. A bit of Americana has been saved and it is now "Go" in the larger struggle to preserve our threatened American values and traditions. Well, it was all in fun, but there just could be more truth than jest in the last sentiment.

If Americans care so much about Baltic and Mediterranean, the low-traffic district of the Monopoly board so often scorned by Boardwalk and Park Place power mongers, maybe there's cause for hope that the communities we actually live in can be revitalized.

Nixon Flexes His Muscle Of Office

By BRUCE BOSSAT
People in this town seem absolutely obsessed with President Nixon's behavior since his re-election. Yet, with all the reporting and all the comment on his isolation, his failure to consult and explain, there is something elusive here.

Maybe the mystery is that there is no mystery. We may simply be witnessing a coming together of elements about Mr. Nixon, and about the presidency, which are highly familiar both to the professional White House watcher and the average American. If this is so, then it could be that the only really new thing is that these elements somehow are reinforcing each other as never before.

Let's look at some of them, one by one.
• First, the growth in the use of presidential power relative to congressional power has been going on a long time. Historians mark its beginnings with Abraham Lincoln and the Civil War, find it got a huge boost with Woodrow Wilson in World War I, then another with Franklin D. Roosevelt in the depression and World War II.

From that time forward, the progression has been steady, moderated only slightly by Dwight D. Eisenhower's more limited concept of his office.
Wars showed presidential power—and people—how the presidency could be used. After that, people perceived the White House as the great power center. The perception was underscored by a constant run of foreign crises, in which the president acted both with speed and great constitutional freedom.

• Second, this entire trend was quickly recognized as peculiarly suited to the interests and the special make-up of Richard Nixon.

The foreign field is his great strength.

Today's Thought

KEY 73 AND YOU
The KEY 73 committee of a certain church was trying to find someone to help them in the evangelistic effort to share Christ and Christian faith.

How about asking Bill to give us a hand? asked one of the members.
"That's out!" replied another member. "The only time you will ever be able to get any work out of Bill will be the day they cremate him and use his ashes in an hour glass!"

One of the most discouraging things to a minister or Sunday school superintendent is to ask an individual to take over some task and be turned down or for another individual to promise to do some task and then fall down on the job. Of course, there are times when ill health or some other legitimate reason compels us to say no; but we should be very sure that it is neither laziness nor indifference that prevents us from doing our part.

In KEY 73 Christians will be working together to share Christ with every person in the USA and Canada. It is hoped that 50 to 100 million professing Christians will give their witness to the balance of the 250 millions in North America.

But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them...The harvest truly is plentiful, but the labourers are few; Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest."

Betting 5-4 Nixon Court

WASHINGTON—Attaches in the marble palace occupied by the Supreme Court, who enjoy a bit of gossip as much as the next bureaucrat, are betting that a solid 5-4 Nixon Court will come into being this year.

Only one more appointee is needed to achieve that goal, and the morning line dispensed in the Court's corridors is that either Justice William O. Douglas or Justice Thurgood Marshall will retire in 1973 to clear the way for a fifth Nixon man. The administration lineup on the highest bench now includes Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, and Justices Harry A. Blackmun, Lewis F. Powell Jr., and William H. Rehnquist.

At 74, Douglas is the Court's oldest member. He wears an electronic heart pacemaker in his breast, a circumstance which suggests he could be having thoughts about retirement. Marshall, the only black justice, is only 64, but he has been ill off and on for the past few years.

Appointed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Douglas is the justice Nixon would most like to rid of—the last of the New Dealers. A fierce libertarian who led the 1971-72 Court session in dissent with 56. But despite his heart condition, Douglas just will might be the healthiest man on the Court. He is still an outdoors buff and an enthusiastic long-distance hiker. He seems in robust good health and his mind may be the sharpest on the bench; his mental processes certainly are the most stubborn.

Moreover, Douglas is determined not to quit. He recently told a close friend, "They'll have to carry me out in a pine box unless I decide my mind is failing." Douglas sees himself as the Court's foremost guardian of individual rights, and he has a low opinion of Richard Nixon's attitude toward those rights.

Still, the man will be 75 next October, and even a William O. Douglas is not immune to the hazards accompanying old age. It is logical rather than brutal to suggest that those hazards could catch up with him and force his retirement this year. Although 10 years Douglas' junior, Marshall might be the first to go simply because he has never enjoyed the latter's vigorous good health.

A fifth Nixon appointee would make the Court solidly conservative. The team of Burger, Blackmun, Powell and Rehnquist thinks alike most of the time; the four justices cast exactly the same votes in 64 of the 64 cases in which all participated. For example, all four dissented in the Court's decisions to outlaw the death penalty and to force integration of the Emporia, Va., school district.

Indeed, even without a consistent majority on the conservative side, the Supreme Court already has swung to the right. Justice Byron R. White, a former Justice Department official, frequently has joined the Burger team in 5-to-4 rulings. Less often, the four conservative justices have been joined by Justice Potter Stewart in civil rights and welfare decisions. Stewart is an Eisenhower appointee; White was named to the Court by President Kennedy.

Age could be a factor on both liberal and conservative aides in Nixon's plans to redo the Court. The other Warren Court liberal, the youthful-looking William J. Brennan, at 65 is the second oldest justice. Burger and Powell are 66; Blackmun is 64; Stewart 57; White 55, and Rehnquist the baby at 48. They are all in good health, although Burger suffers from a chronic back ailment, but the older justices are also subject to nature's laws.

But the fact remains that however nature deals its hand, the Court will retain its conservative flavor for many years to come. Richard Nixon would name no liberal to replace a Burger or a Blackmun or a Powell, and he'll have the power of appointment for four more years. Senate opposition to the contrary notwithstanding, any neutral actuary would have to bet that the child born today will find a Nixon Court still sitting when he reaches voting age.

Mayor Explains Stand On Revenue Sharing

Mayor John Thompson said in a talk last week that he doesn't agree with "the President and with some local Republicans" that revenue-sharing funds should be used at this time to reduce Manchester property taxes.

"The money," he told members of the Democratic Club of Manchester, "should be used to help the town meet current needs — such as road repair and sidewalk construction."

He conceded that "a long-range goal could be to use the money to reduce taxes," but added, "right now, however, the money should be used for self-service."

Thompson noted that the Connecticut Conference of Mayors, with bi-partisan support, adopted a resolution which objects to cutbacks in such federal-aid programs as housing, school lunches, employment, and many others.

"If revenue-sharing is intended to replace other grant programs, instead of supplementing them, then the cities and towns would be receiving less, and not more, federal aid," said Thompson.

In that event, "there would be a big trouble. Such a situation would be scandalous."

Use Of Salt On Roads May Be Cut

HARTFORD (AP) — State Transportation Commissioner Earl Wood says his department found a way to cut down on the amount of salt used to melt ice on highways but that the Health Department warned against the plan.

Last week a Health Department official said the "salting" could be responsible for raising the level of sodium in state reservoirs located near highways.

Richard Woodhull, chief of the Health Department's water supply division, said the level of sodium in Milford and Farmington reservoirs exceeded the maximum amount.

Wood said he planned to contact state Health Commissioner Franklin Frote in an effort to further explore the use of propylene glycol.

Jaycee Week

This is Jaycee Week, and the Manchester chapter will celebrate it at a meeting tonight, by donating when the Bloodmobile visits Concordia Lutheran Church tomorrow, and a unique recruiting program.

Mayor John Thompson has declared it "Jaycee Week" in Manchester.

Tonight, the Jaycees will hear Earl L. Lyons, Herald publisher, when he meets at the British American Club, 75 Maple St., at 8 o'clock. He will discuss what contributions Jaycees can make to their town.

John Esche is chairman of the chapter's blood program, and has issued a challenge to other civic clubs to try and outdo the Jaycees at tomorrow's bloodmobile visit, 12:45 to 5:30 p.m. He is asking for 100 percent participation from Jaycees.

During the week, Jaycees will conduct a recruiting program called "Operation Manpower." It is part of a combined effort by the state Jaycee organization and the Society for Savings to support the 1973 Cerebral Palsy campaign in Connecticut. During the week, the Society for Savings will pledge a dollar to CP for each new Jaycee recruited. Don Lappen is Manchester Jaycee membership chairman and he says the major emphasis in the drive will coincide with the CP Tenthon Jan. 27 and 28.

Young men between 18 and 35 interested in joining Jaycees should contact Lappen at 649-5261 or 872-4447.

Heralding Politics

Reports filtering out of the Democratic Town Committee's executive board indicate that Mrs. Nicholas (Kayles) Jackson of 405 Hackmatack St. has its backing for a vacancy on the Manchester Board of Directors. The vacancy, for the unexpired period to November of this year, was created when William Fitzgerald assumed the position of judge of probate. He resigned from the board effective Dec. 31.

The town committee's executive board, meeting as a screening committee, had interviewed and considered seven candidates for the vacancy. The 17 committee members at a meeting last Tuesday, the reports state, backed Mrs. Jackson by a majority vote.

The screening committee's recommendation will be presented to the board of directors, which is expected to meet on Wednesday at 2 p.m. In addition, each will hold only one regular session next week - also on Wednesday at 2 p.m.

James B. Holmes of 37 Elizabeth Dr., one of the founders two years ago of the Democratic Club of Manchester, is being proposed for nomination to the board of directors. The election will be at the club's February meeting. John FitzPatrick is the current president.

It was 56 years ago today that President Woodrow Wilson gave his famous "Peace without Victory" speech to the U.S. Senate. He called for a "peace of reconciliation," and for the establishment of a postwar League of Nations.

The Board of Directors, which is controlled 5 to 3 by Democrats, is expected to fill the vacancy at its Feb. 6 meeting. Although the five Democratic directors are members of the town committee's executive board, none of them participated in the screening, on the basis that they are the final appointing authority.

Nicholas Jackson, only this month, assumed the post of chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals. Apparently, in order to avoid any charges of conflict of interest, Jackson has said he will resign from the ZBA if his wife is named a town director.

Mrs. Jackson is a past president of the Democratic Women's Club of Manchester, was the executive board of the Hartford County Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs and is a director of the State Federation.

She is a former member of the CDAF task force on general government and is serving on the 15-member Charter Revision Commission, serving as its secretary. She lost a bid in 1969 for election to the Board of Education. She is employed by Utility Developers of East Hartford, builders of Squire Village on Spencer St.

The annual Democratic Jackson-Jefferson dinner, Feb. 24 at the Hartford Hilton Hotel, will be a $100-plate fundraiser. The identity of the main speaker will be announced at a later date.

Former State Sen. Alden Ives, the Republican leader in the Senate in the 1971-72 General Assembly, has moved to Glastonbury from his former residence in Morris. He did not seek election last November. Ives now resides in the district which is represented by Manchester State Sen. David Odgaard. He has been appointed a Republican research assistant to State Sen. Lewis Rome of Bloomfield, the majority leader, at $4,500 annually.

The House and the State Senate will convene for one session each this week on Wednesday at 2 p.m. In addition, each will hold only one regular session next week - also on Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Program For Veterans Developed At MCC

Manchester Community College has broadened its "open door" admissions policy and established several innovative programs for veterans. Under these programs, veterans are given special assistance to help them clarify and pursue their educational and career objectives.

The admissions policy grants immediate acceptance to the veteran for the next semester. The MCC spring semester begins today. It also means that he may pursue a college education, regardless of whether he has or has not completed a regular high school program or an equivalency program, according to William Graver, veterans' counselor at the college.

To assist the serviceman's adjustment from military to civilian life, MCC has instituted a highly individualized, self-paced special learning program for review and acquisition of basic academic skills in reading, writing, and mathematics. At the same time, the veteran is enrolled in a college level course that carries credit toward a degree.

The college has also established a Veterans Outreach Program, in which veterans who are students at MCC contact as many recently discharged veterans as possible on a personal basis. The workers are trained to familiarize their contacts with the greatly expanded VA benefits and many educational and training opportunities in the Greater Hartford area.

Despite the publicity given to increased veterans' benefits, Graver said, many discharged persons are still unaware that a veteran has approximately $8,000 available to him with which to pursue his education. For the veteran who needs special assistance, an additional $450 is available for tutorial help.

Veterans who would like to learn more about their educational benefits and explore the special programs may visit Graver at the college counseling center, located in the Bidwell St. campus administration building, or call him at 646-4900, Ext. 222.

Columbia Town Learns PUC Dropping Cable TV

VIRGINIA CARLSON Correspondent Tel. 228-9224 First Selectman Howard Bates told the board at its recent meeting that he had received a letter from Robert Young, planning director of the Windham Regional Planning Agency (WRPA), notifying him that the Public Utilities Commission was withdrawing any action on cable TV franchises in the area.

A copy of a letter from Howard Hausman, chairman of the PUC to the WRPA said, "With letters from the first selectmen from all the towns except Lebanon and in accordance with the desires of the elected representatives of the people of these towns, we will not take up CABLE TV franchises in the near future." Bates had sent a letter to the PUC in December.

Bates said he will look into the possibility of widening the roadway in front of the town hall to provide diagonal parking. He said the parking situation at the hall, which is also the Congregational Church parking area, is acute.

The board appointed Dr. Carlos Stern, a Democrat, to fill the vacancy on the Zoning Board of Appeals created by the resignation of Edmund Lamber in November.

Stern is an assistant professor of environmental economics at the University of Connecticut and holds a PhD in conservation. He has lived in town about three years.

Bates also said he had received a letter from the State Traffic Commission asking that plans for a parade or other special events to be on state roads be submitted at least 90 days prior to the date.

Bates said the Lions Club would be contacted to see if the annual Fourth of July parade was planned yet so the request for permission to use Rts. 66 and 87 could be submitted in the required time limit.

Selectmen accepted the resignation of Richard Dann of Whitney Rd. as justice of the peace to be effective Jan. 31. Dann, who also resigned as chairman of the Republican Town Committee, is moving to Cleveland, Ohio where he has accepted a job as assistant editor of a trade journal for engineers.

ZBA Hearing The Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) has scheduled a public hearing Jan. 26 at 8 p.m. in Yeomans Hall to hear an application concerning relief from town zoning regulations.

Black Book Jottings

Bruising Larry Conka of the Miami Dolphins has been voted the most beautiful football player in the National Football League by the Miami-based Bryna Cosmetic Co. Usually the form gives its trophy to one of its female consultants but this year the employees voted unanimously to give the award to the football star who has broken his nose 10 times during his career. Friday night will be Family Night at the Springfield Civic Center when the Kings entertain the Virginia Wings at 8. For this promotion, Mom or Day pays only half price for all members of their family after they buy their own ticket at the full price. The game will mark the return of the Kings to home ice after six straight road engagements. Former National Football League running back, Tommy Mason, 33, left the ranks of the bachelors last Saturday when he took pretty Cathy Rigby as his bride. Miss Rigby, 20, starred with the United States Olympic gymnastic team last summer. Johnny Egan, new head coach of the Houston Rockets in the NBA, is a former sports announcer at WINF in Manchester. Egan, out of Weaver High in Hartford, resides in Westersfield during the off-season. Tonight's world heavyweight boxing bout between Joe Frazier and Ken Norton Foreman may be seen on closed circuit teevue at Northwest High in West Hartford. Tickets will be available at the door, Promoter Hyde Spear reports.

Here 'n There
Can East Catholic High beat Manchester High on the basketball court? One will never know until the two schools meet - and there is a good possibility this answer may be forthcoming in another year. When Nick Nicolau decided to pick up and leave UConn the college lost not only a fine assistant football coach but a top-grade recruiter and one of the funniest after-dinner speakers in the East. Nicolau will move on to big time football as an assistant at Connecticut. Walt Luckett is averaging 10 points per game as a freshman starter with the varsity at Ohio University. The team has an 8-4 won-lost record. The ice skating season at Center Spring Pond was a short one - just one day this winter and hopes for additional time at the area are not bright. New bowling balls have been requested for use at the reconditioned lanes at the Community Y but may not be purchased until next year. Manchester High's next four basketball games will be at home while East Catholic will hit the road for its next six tests. Cheney Tech has three of its next five starts at home. It would be a break for the talented O.J. Simpson to get with a contending team as that he would receive some of the recognition due as a premier ball carrier in the NFL.

Colonels Minus Key But Manage Triumph

By The Associated Press
The Kentucky Colonels played without two key men but managed to beat the Denver Rockets anyway Sunday night. With their long jinx over the Colonels, you might expect the Colonels to win without any men. Despite the absence of guard Rick Mount and forward Claude Virden, the Colonels defeated Denver 118-111 in their 10th straight victory over the Rockets in two years.

Mike Gale, substituting for Mount, scored 10 points as the Colonels came up with 37 points in the third period. Gale finished with 19.

In the other ABA games Sunday, the Dallas Chaparrals defeated the New York Nets 105-98 and the San Diego Conquistadors scored a 97-92 decision over the Utah Stars.

John Egan Winner In Debut as Coach

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Rockets have a new coach, a new winning streak and perhaps a new philosophy in the wake of Sunday's firing of Coach Tex Winter. Rockets President and General Manager Ray Patterson announced shortly before gametime that Winter had been fired and that assistant coach Johnny Egan would take Winter's place.

With Egan in command, the Rockets then went out and shocked the rugged New York Knicks 107-103 in a regionally televised game that ended a 10-game losing streak. Ignoring any personal considerations, Egan said "when you've been 0-10, any game you win is important. It doesn't mean anything personally. We've still got some more games this season."

Patterson said Winter was fired because the Rockets had not improved as had been expected. Going into Sunday's game, they were 17-30, identical to last year. The end came Saturday night when the Rockets played one of their worst games of the season losing 130-115 to the Portland Trail Blazers, who have the second worst record in the NBA.

We used the excuses of the referees, excuses about players getting hot against us," Patterson said, "but it started to develop into a pattern that we would bring out the best in the offense of the team we were playing."

Winter, 50, was in the midst of his second season as Rocket coach. He has one more year to go on his contract and Patterson said Winter would be retiring from coaching with the Rockets.

Winter, a highly successful college coach Jack Kelly of the New England Whalers' team going to Winnipeg's No. 1 line of Bobby Hull, Chris Bourque and Norm Beaudin beat him again. And his strategy worked—offensively as well as defensively.

Kelly assembled a checking line of Kevin Ahearn, John Danby and Mike Hyndman to handle the Hull trio. Not only did the Whalers' specialists keep Hull and his linemates off the scoreboard, but they scored three goals of their own in New England's 7-2 World Hockey Association romp over Winnipeg.

Elsewhere in WHA games Sunday, Houston whipped Ottawa 5-2 and Los Angeles shredded Cleveland 3-2. Ahearn had two goals and Danby one to pace New England's victory over Winnipeg. John French, Larry Pleau, Tom Webster and Tim Sheehy had the other Whaler goals.

Don Grierson scored two goals and assisted on another in the second period, leading Houston to a comeback victory over Ottawa.

The Aeros spotted Ottawa two goals before Grierson sparked the rally. He scored two goals in less than a minute and then set up Ted Taylor's go-ahead score as Houston moved within eight points of first place Winnipeg in the West.

Jerry Odrowski, Gary Veneruzo and Mike Byers produced the Sharks' goals while Ron Buchanan and Greg Erickson scored for the Crusaders.

Knicks Lost Shoe, Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Egan found a job. Walt Frazier lost his shoe and the New York Knicks lost a game. The three events happened in Houston Sunday when Johnny Egan was named head coach of the Houston Rockets. Walt Frazier lost his sneaker with five seconds left in the game and the Knicks lost the game 107-103 in National Basketball Association play.

Egan said he hadn't thought too much about being named coach and beating the Knicks in his first game. "If it had been for the championship or something, maybe so, but we've got to play more games next week."

Mike Newlin scored the winning basket with five seconds left after Frazier lost his sneaker. Newlin said, "It was just our turn to win that's all. It's a funny thing in basketball, sometimes you win and it has nothing to do with talent, like a guy falls down or loses his shoe."

The Rockets led by 14 points late in the third quarter, but the Knicks charged back in the final quarter and tied it 103-103 with 22 seconds to go on a basket by Dean Meminger. In other NBA action, Milwaukee rolled over Golden State 124-108, Boston stopped Buffalo 104-97, Baltimore beat the hapless Philadelphia 76ers 108-97 and the Los Angeles Lakers crushed the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 123-102.

Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello said the return of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar shows what a strong player the Buck star is. "He has to be strong after what happened to him," Costello said, referring to the recent shootings at 27 points as the Bucks rolled to a 14-point victory over Golden State.

Rick Barry suffered an ankle injury in the first half and the Warriors never the same. Lucius Allen added 27 points as the Bucks rolled to a 14-point victory over Golden State.

The Boston Celtics staved off a late period rally by the Buffalo Braves thanks to baskets by John Havlicek and Jo Jo White and defeated the Braves for the ninth consecutive win. Elmore Smith was the games high scorer with 32 points.

The Baltimore Bullets, led by the newest 10,000-point scorer in NBA history, Elvin Hayes, increased the Philadelphia losing streak to nine.

Will Chamberlain's 20 points and 12 rebounds powered the Los Angeles Lakers over the Kansas City-Omaha Kings. It was the biggest point output of the season for Chamberlain. Nate Archibald, the NBA's leading scorer was held to 23 points, 10 below his average.

BOSTON (AP) — John Havlicek and Dave Cowens attract most of the attention, but Jo Jo White deserves a huge share of the credit for the Boston Celtics' amazing success so far in the National Basketball Association race.

White scored 20 points, earned 13 assists and grabbed six rebounds as the Celtics defeated the pesky Buffalo Braves 104-97 for their ninth consecutive victory Sunday before 8,063 fans at the Garden.

"He was the guy who gave us the spark today," Coach Tom Heinsohn said in praising his backcourt star. "He got some big hoops, and when he saw the open man there he hit him."

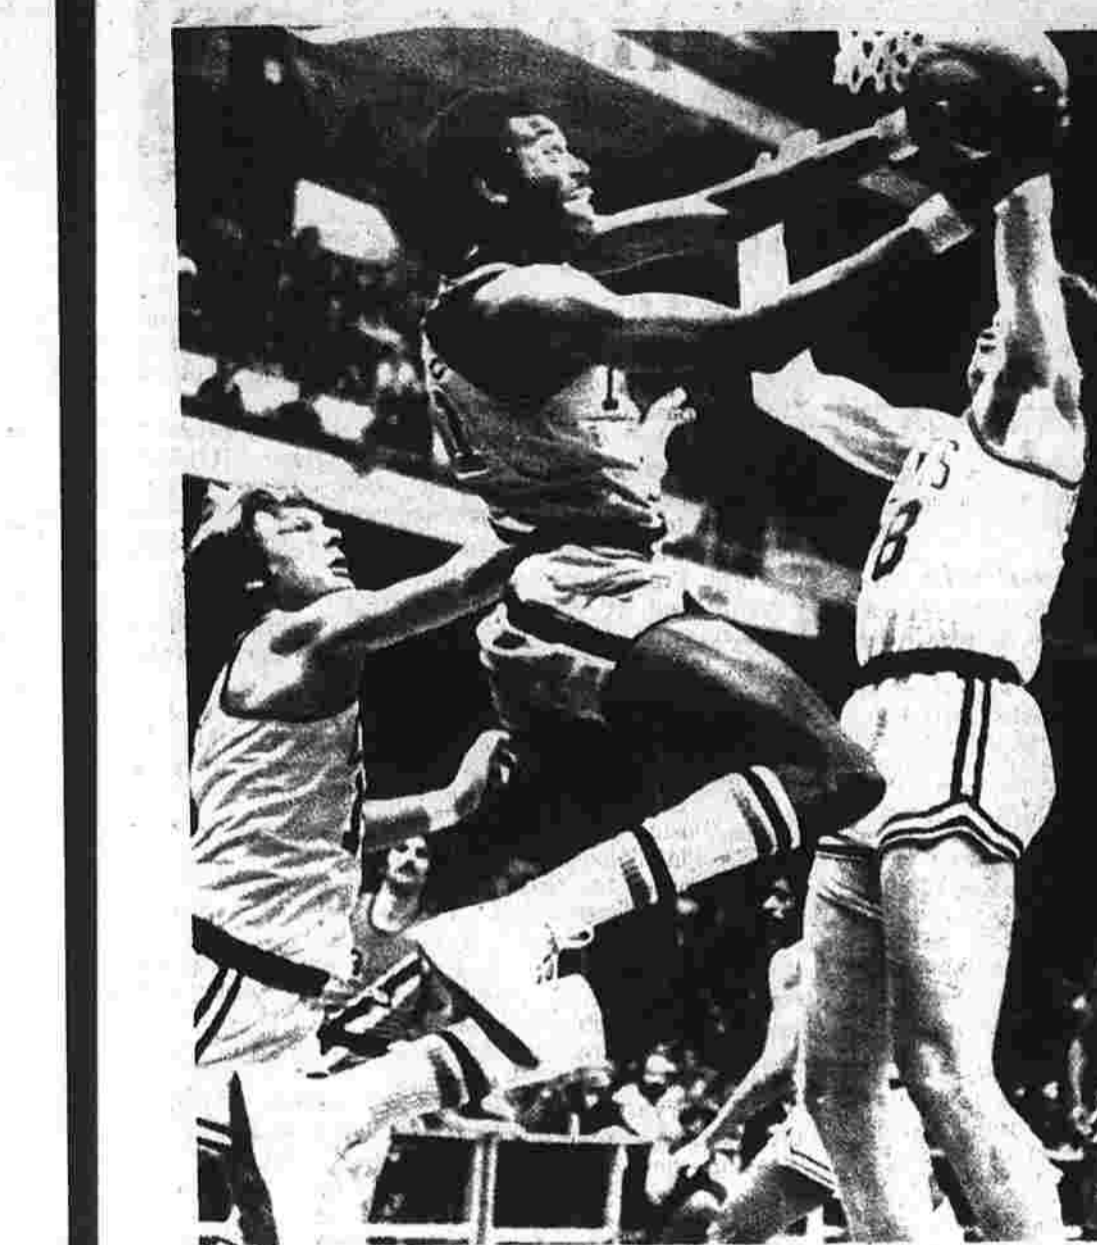

The victory enabled the Celtics to reach the All-Star Game break with a 39-7 record. Heinsohn will coach the East, with Havlicek, Cowens and White as three of his players, in the All-Star game Tuesday night in Chicago.

The Celtics made it 15 in a row over Buffalo since the Braves joined the NBA three years ago. However, the Braves gave the Celtics a rough time as usual.

"I don't know how they play against other clubs in the league, we seem to always have a tough time with them," Heinsohn said.

Buffalo pulled away from a 47-47 halftime standoff to a 61-54 lead, but the Celtics rallied to go in front 79-71 after three periods.

The victory brought the Celtics to a 39-7 record. Heinsohn will coach the East, with Havlicek, Cowens and White as three of his players, in the All-Star game Tuesday night in Chicago.

Crampton Win Streak Stands Today at Two

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Bruce Crampton has taken two in a row, but the Australian veteran harbors no illusions about winning three consecutive events on the tough American pro golf tour.

"No, I don't think so," Crampton said with an almost sad smile when asked if he planned to make this week's Big Crosby National Pro-Am his third successive triumph. "This one took a lot out of me," Crampton said Sunday after his easy, front-running victory in the Dean Martin-Tucson Open, a decision that was tarnished just a trifle by a meaningless triple bogey seven on Crampton's finishing hole.

"I'm pretty tired," he said. "I didn't sleep very well all week. I came in here knowing I was playing well. I was keyed up, ready to get on with it."

"Now that it's over, I'm really tired." Crampton's victory, following his triumph at the Phoenix Open just the week before, made him the first man to win consecutive American tournaments since Arnie Palmer took the last two events of the 1969 season. Palmer also is the last player to win three in a row, in 1962.

Crampton opened the final day's play—the start was delayed 1 1/2 hours by frozen greens and biting, 20-degree temperatures—with a three-stroke lead, eagled the second hole and wasn't threatened as he breezed home with a 71 for 277, 11 under par on the 7,200-yard Tucson National Golf Club course.

George Archer, who lost to Miller Barber in a playoff for the Tucson title a year ago, Labron Harris and Gay Brewer tied for second at 282. Archer had a 72 while Harris and Brewer matched 70s in the weather that changed from bitter cold to mild and sunny.

Rod Funseth, winner of the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open three weeks ago, Bobby Nichols and Richie Kral were next at 283. Nichols shot 72, Karl 73 and Funseth 74. Lee Trevino, a two-time Tucson champion and the pre-tourney favorite, really was never in it. He had a final round 70 for 285.

Crampton, winner of 12 titles in his 17 years on the American tour, picked up $30,000 from the total purse of $150,000 and pushed his earnings to $60,000 for just two weeks.

AFC Has Every Right To Throw Out Chest

By The Associated Press
The American Football Conference, formed in a fiery merger with the old National Football League, had every right to be chasty today—at least for a year.

The AFC made it a historic clean sweep over the National Football Conference in Sunday's 33-28 Pro Bowl victory.

Previously, the AFC had captured the exhibition season 27-25-4 and the regular season 20-19-1 from their old rivals and Miami dropped NFC member Washington 14-7 in the Super Bowl.

Sunday was the clincher in a collision of All-Stars between the two leagues.

"Last year the NFC got the most in rushing with 1251 yards, scored one touchdown, rushed for 112 yards and caught three passes for 58 yards.

The victory before 47,879 chilled fans in Texas Stadium gave the AFC a 2-1 lead over the NFC in the series.

At Illing's gym Saturday night, Wapping defeated Emanuel, 41-22. In the first of four Church League basketball games, Rob Reeves led the winners with eight points while Dave Yavoroff netted 14 markers in the third contest.

South Glastonbury bombed Trinity, 60-37, behind Bob Greene's 17 points. Teammate Charlie Hain and Dick Ballard followed with 13 and 10 markers in that order. For the losers, Ken Irish and Jim Nelson canned 20 and 16 points respectively.

Temple bested North 44-22, with Steve Hodge pumped in 10 layups for North Methodist.

In the final outing, Center overcame the undermanned Bolton array, 53-15. For Center, Jim Aldrich (16), Bill Taylor (13) and Greg Denein (10) scored for the winners.

John McCarty's six points paced the Bolton effort.

Fifth Title Defense Frazier Choice With Foreman

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Joe Frazier makes the fifth defense of his world heavyweight ring title tonight against young, bull-strong George Foreman with the shadow of Muhammad Ali still haunting him from the wings.

A definite crisis in the three-year reign of the savage, swarming champion, who was born on a South Carolina plantation, reared in a Philadelphia ghetto and prepared for his profession by work as a butcher in a slaughterhouse.

Should Frazier lose, the heavyweight division could be thrown into temporary turmoil and all the wind would be knocked out of the awaited Frazier-Ali rematch, which has promoters dreaming of a $20 million or $30 million extravaganza.

"Don't worry, I'm not gonna lose," the bearded Frazier says grimly. "I have never been more ready than I am for this fight. Then I'll talk about Clay."

The day before the showdown, Foreman appeared loose and confident, saying: "Look at the records. Most heavyweight champions don't last more than two or three years. Frazier has had his day. Now it's my turn. I will win."

Las Vegas oddsmakers have made the 29-year-old champion a 3-1 favorite over the 24-year-old challenger, who, like Frazier, is a former Olympic gold medalist and is unbeaten in his pro career.

Still, nobody knows for sure. Foreman is an enigma. As a pro, he has never been floored and rindsiders wonder if he has the fiber to come off the deck and keep fighting.

It's certain to be a rough-and-lumber physical brawl, unlikely to go the 15-round limit. Frazier is a punishing, boric slugger, a black Rocky Marciano, who disdains person-to-person to mete out punishment to his foes. Foreman is a powerful giant with none of Ali's grace and speed. He doesn't swing arms, he swings wagon tongues.

Fight time is 10:15 p.m., EST, and the place is the outdoor National Stadium, an oval built for soccer and cycling.

The fight will not be on home television but will be beamed by cable to 225 sites in the United States and Canada and by satellite to special theaters in Britain, France, Japan and a half-dozen other countries.

Son of a railroad construction worker, Foreman, at 24 is five years younger than Frazier, yet has more pro fights under his belt. His record is 37-0, with 34 knockout victims. Frazier has had 29 pro fights and won them all, 25 by knockout.

A strapping, handsome athlete, Foreman is 6-foot-3, has a five-inch-long reach than Frazier and probably will carry a 10-pound weight advantage into the ring. He is expected to weigh in at around 220 pounds, with Frazier between 208 and 210.

Tourney Qualification Goal of School Fives

By Dean Yost

Moving into the second half of the scholastic basketball season this week, only one club has already qualified for CIAC postseason activity.

Ellington High (11-1) holds that honor. The Knights, coached by Bob Healy are the current Class S state champions. The only loss by Ellington was administered by East Lyme in a tournament during Christmas.

East Catholic, the defending Class L titleholder needs three wins in its next six games to enter the tournament. The Eagles are 8-3 and presently 3-2 in the Hartford County Conference.

Cheney Tech, 6-6, and Coventry High, 7-4, both only need three triumphs to enter the play. Tech has five games left in order to turn the trick while the Patriots have nine games remaining.

Clubs facing almost impossible tasks include Manchester High (4-4) which must win six of its remaining nine starts. Six of the games are by opponents who have beaten the Tribe earlier. South Windsor, unable to gain any winning momentum sports a 4-4 record and must win seven of its last 10 games.

So the postseason looks bright for some clubs while the hand writing is on the wall for others.

Dave Wottle Breaks Tape Just Ahead of Kip Keino in Mile Run

World Pole Vault Record for Smith

By The Associated Press

Steve Smith owed a favor and he paid it off in a big way. Smith, the brassy pole vaulter from Long Beach State, soared to a world record of 17 feet, 11 inches Saturday night in the Sunkist Invitational indoor track meet at Los Angeles and then explained later that he owed the performance to meet promoter Al Franken.

"He's been very good to me," said Smith, "allowing me to compete when I wasn't always at my best."

Other big winners in the Sunkist meet included Steve Prefontaine of Oregon, timed in 8 minutes, 27.2 seconds to beat Marty Liquori in the two-mile test.

Dave Wottle took the mile in 4:06.1, nipping Kenya's Kip Keino at the tape. "I wasn't sure I had won until we hit the tape," said Wottle, who took the Olympic 800 in a photo finish over Russia's Yevgeny Arzhanov. "I was more sure at Munich," he added.

In the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championships at Kansas City, Mike Bolt of Eastern New Mexico was the lone double winner. Bolt took the mile in 4:12.3 and captured the 800 in 1:57.4.

Cougars Lose Lead, Game to Norwalk

Leading by as many as 12 points in the first half, Manchester Community College watched its lead dwindle as Norwalk C.C. caught the Cougars and then stormed away leaving the locals with an 81-61 defeat Saturday night in Norwalk.

The loss, Manchester's fourth in a row puts the season record at 7-5 while they sport a 4-3 conference mark. All three CCCAA setbacks have occurred in this losing skid.

Trailing by six-point margin, 38-32, at halftime, Norwalk came out using an effective fullcourt press to convert many steals into important hours.

Losing Coach Pat Mistretta noted, "This was the team's worst game to date and unless they improve quickly, their tournament hopes will be slim."

The only bright spot for the Cougars was Stan Alexander's 23-point production. Ellie Grant pumped in 13 markers and hauled in 10 rebounds. Bob Guerin netted 10 points.

Caught Short!

BOSTON (AP) — What does a race track do when it doesn't have money to pay off winners? Why, it just keeps on taking bets, of course.

Suffolk Downs was left without working capital with 10,102 horseplayers on hand and a $650,000 bankroll.

While Wells Fargo tried vainly to open the vault in its Wakefield office, track officials went on a money hunt.

"We called everybody with money we could think of," General Manager Ed Sullivan said.

A couple of big restaurants had deposited Saturday night receipts. Two other tracks, Rockingham Park and Bay State Raceway, were unable to help. Their dough was locked in time vaults.

After delaying the first race for one hour, Suffolk President Joe Cresci told the crowd on the public address system what was happening. He apologized, offered rain checks and announced that winning tickets would be cashed as soon as money was available.

The track's largest crowd of the season was lured by reduced admission, a nickel cup of coffee, 10 cent draft beer and 15-cent hot dogs. Cresci said he had expected a handle of $750,000 to $800,000 on the nine-race program, but that business was hurt.

One better said he arrived at the track with $22, but it all on the first two races, held a winning ticket on the third race but didn't have any money to bet on the third race perfecta.

The handle was $644,658.

Cronin Tells Conference Designated Hitter Vote Margin 8-4

BOSTON (AP) — American League President Joe Cronin disclosed recently that the vote to adopt the revolutionary designated hitter rule for a three-year trial was 8-4 at the club owners' meeting in Chicago last week.

Cronin told a news conference in his office that the baseball rules committee approved on a 9-0 vote the change which will permit designated hitters to hit for pitchers.

As initially worded, the rule changed called the batter a "designated pinchrunner." However, Cronin said it had been changed to avoid confusion with the usual pinchrunner.

Under the rule, a club may designate a hitter for the pitcher prior to a game. The designated hitter must remain in the original pitcher's spot in the batting order.

Cronin said that a designated hitter may be used defensively, continuing to bat in the same position in the batting order. The pitcher then would have to bat in the place of the substituted defensive player.

A pinchrunner may be used for a designated batter, remaining in the latter's spot in the order. However, a designated batter is eliminated from the game if a pinch runner is used for him.

Cronin conceded that the new rule may need more reviewing and he plans to confer soon with umpires. One area may require teams to list players by positions.

As things stand now, a club with a good hitting pitcher could start him in the outfield, let an outfielder pitch to one batter with the designated hitter batting in the latter's spot. That would leave the designated hitter batting for an outfielder with the good hitting pitcher taking his own rips at the plate.

"From what I've seen of the designated hitter in spring training the last couple of years I've liked it, liked it a great deal," Cronin said. "I'm also not against another possible change to use a designated pinch runner, but let's get over this plateau first."

51,000 Watch Donohue Win

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Mark Donohue, a member of Philadelphia's social set, has officially joined the exclusive club that belongs to the "good old boys" of Southern stock car racing.

He acquired his membership Sunday when he drove a boxlike American Motors Matador to an easy victory in the $100,000 Winston-Western 500 at Riverside International Raceway.

The race opened a 31-event schedule for the National Association of Stock Car Racing and it drew 51,000 persons into the sprawling road course grounds.

Donohue, 35, who lives in the Philadelphia suburb of Newtown Square, Pa., didn't become involved in NASCAR until last year, when he made his debut in Roger Penske's untried Matador in the traditional Riverside opener.

His Matador wasn't reliable or strong enough to cause the stock car boys even mild concern last year, but the modest Pennsylvania was hot as a pistol elsewhere. He won the Indianapolis 500, among other racing plums.

This year he came back to Riverside and qualified the red, white and blue machine four fastest among 40 starters—just slightly behind front-row sitters David Pearson in a Mercury and Bobby Allison in a Chevrolet. Next to Donohue in the second row was Hershel McGriff, third fastest qualifier, in a Dodge.

But when the race got under way, it became evident that the combination of Donohue's road course ability and the Matador's handling qualities would become a major factor over the 500-mile distance.

He raced strongly with early leaders Pearson, Allison and Richard Petty, stock car racing's all-time champion. When Pearson was forced out by mechanical woes, he followed a short time later by Petty's Dodge. Donohue had things pretty much his own way.

Allison drove the final miles with a sick engine and was almost two laps behind at the finish.

Third place went to Ray Elder, Garthurs, Calif., in a Dodge, fourth to Bobby Unser of Albuquerque in a Ford and fifth to Jimmy Inso, Mission Hills, Calif., in a Chevrolet.

Seats Excellent For Parade View

Connecticut's delegation to Pres. Nixon's second inauguration had excellent seats to view the passing parade, whose route was "The Spirit of '76." They were just about the best in the house, directly across from the Presidential reviewing stand and next to the press box.

It was about as perfect as any parade could be, surpassing the one four years ago.

Leading the parade was a musical unit from Old Saybrook, appropriately garbed for the theme in colonial uniforms. The Governor's Foot Guard Bands and units of the Post and Horse Guards represented our state.

On Inauguration Day, it is traditional for Congress to open their offices to people from their areas. Many Connecticut people went to Rep. Robert Steele's office for refreshments before and after the swearing-in ceremony.

Steele arrived a few minutes late, having returned from his South American trip in the early hours of the morning. His son-in-law, a member of the Connecticut residents, particularly our youngsters, against their own exuberance and enthusiasm.

Computerized Bus Service Must Wait

HARTFORD (AP) - A State Transportation Department official says a proposal for a computerized bus system in Greater Hartford can't go into operation until the state's current bus crisis is settled.

This is a pretty ambitious project, and we would be mis-handling the taxpayers' money if we did anything like this before we got the present system running again," said Israel Resnikoff, deputy commissioner for planning.

Warren D. Goodrich, a Union Aircraft Corp. research engineer, said the Transportation Department paid him $60,000 to develop the plan, which would use computers to schedule minute-by-minute runs of 40 buses among depots in Hartford, East Hartford, Windsor Locks, and West Hartford.

The fare would be 10 cents per passenger mile. "This system eliminates the indignities of the fixed route bus system," Goodrich said. "It doesn't leave little old ladies standing out in the cold, waiting for the bus."
