ASSURE GRAND SLAM

Today's hand was played many years ago in a rubber bridge tournament. North and South were pretty far behind, and only a grand slam could help them.

By this time the opponents were out of clubs and diamonds. South could lead his four of clubs to dummy's five. This kind of entry management may be useful to you in some difficult hand of your own.

Tolland Six Arguments Advanced For Charter Changes

VIVIAN V. KENNISON
Correspondent
Tel. 875-4704

The co-chairman of the Citizens for Charter Revision, Kevin Cavanaugh and Robert Dumont, have advanced what they regard as six major arguments in favor of proposed charter revisions and have urged townspeople to support the changes in the April 11 election.

The six points are as follows:
1. The revised charter eliminates the present injustice of compensation for certain elected positions. All persons holding an elective position will serve without compensation.

2. Financial and clerical positions will be occupied by skilled personnel. Individuals seeking important positions such as assessor, tax collector and town clerk will be required to take competitive examinations.

3. The charter provides for a professional approach to town government. The business and professional functions are handled by people skilled in money matters.

4. The charter improves the candidate selection process. The day-to-day operation of the government is handled by a town manager and other hired individuals. The Board of Selectmen perform a policy making function. The candidates do not have to be available during the day.

5. The charter provides better citizen control over town government. The charter eliminates the six-year term and requires that the majority of a board or commission run for office at each municipal election.

6. The charter retains taxpayer involvement. The charter provides for the annual town budget meeting and right of taxpayers to seek a referendum.

The group has also prepared a question and answer sheet which they are distributing throughout town.

Bolton Students Make Subject Choices

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent
Tel. 646-4375

At the request of the Board of Education, High School Principal Norman Shaw reported on the scheduling of students. Initial meetings have been held with all students who will be attending Bolton High School.

Each was given two copies of a course selection sheet; the first filled out at the meeting, the second sent home for parental signature.

He said, "I feel Bolton has an excellent selection of subject matters." He further stated that the number of sections in any given subject is determined solely by the number of students who sign for it.

As far as curricular subjects are concerned, the students are able to take the course of their selection. He feels there has been an increased interest in obtaining necessary credits to graduate. When he first came, the freshman average credit earned at the end of the school year was 4% compared to 5% credits earned now.

Given the curriculum offered now, he sees no significant decrease possible in the staff, as it is being utilized to the fullest extent.

The Board of Education moved that he investigate the auditing of courses to determine whether or not community members could participate if an empty seat was available. He will report his findings in June to the Board.

The Board also requested he check into the possibility of adult education evening classes at the High School.

Superintendent's Contract
The Board of Education has approved a new 3-year contract for Mr. Joseph Castagna, Superintendent of Schools. The contract calls for an annual salary of $21,470, an $800 increase from last year. The salary can be negotiated each year.

MCC Therapy Students Training at Hospitals

Fourteen sophomore students in the Occupational Therapy Assistant program at Manchester Community College have entered several hospitals in the state for the clinical training stage of their studies.

The OTA program at MCC is the only one of its kind in the state that has been approved by the American Occupational Therapy Association.

The students leave the campus for 12 weeks of full-time experience in working directly with patients under the supervision of registered occupational therapists. Satisfactory completion of the clinical work is one of the requirements they must meet before receiving their associate in science degrees in June.

The students, and the hospitals in which they are studying, are:

- Janice Salek of New Britain and Jeffrey Winick of Coventry, Wheeler Clinic in Plainville.
- Marcia Roth of Newington and Mark Scullthess of 87 Wadsworth St., Manchester, Connecticut Valley Hospital in Middletown.
- Raymond Arnold of 16 Knox St., Manchester, and Jill Graves of Pawcatuck, Hartford Hospital's Department of Psychiatry.
- Paula Menard of Wetherfield and Sara Jane Smith of Glastonbury, Fairfield Hills Hospital in Newton.

Bolton Vietnam Vet Back At School

DONNA HOLLAND

Henry Thompson Jr. is a veteran of Vietnam who has returned to Bolton High School to obtain his diploma under the GI Bill.

Because of illness, the death of his foster father, and the feeling that he would "do okay in the world without a high school diploma," Henry became a dropout in his junior year. Hoping he could be successful in another school, Henry attended Manchester High School but found the situation no better and again dropped out.

Until he was drafted by the U.S. Army in January of 1971, he worked at various odd jobs in the vicinity.

Henry served a two-year tour of duty including ten months in Vietnam with the 2nd Infantry, a supporting division.

At Fort Carson, Colorado, where he was stationed after Vietnam, Henry was captain of the pistol team. The museum there contains his picture, jacket, boots, and a record of his achievements on the team. Not desiring to re-enlist,

"I'm a Parent of a Teen—Which Way Do I Go?" will be the subject of a seminar, sponsored by the Manchester Adult Evening School, to be held next Tuesday (7:30 p.m.) at the Manchester High School cafeteria.

Parents who feel they need help in communicating with their teen-age offspring are invited to attend and share their experiences and concerns with others. Local resources for helping teen-agers and parents will be discussed.

Leaders of the program will include members of the high school guidance department, social work department, and physical education department. The program may be continued following Tuesday, depending on interest.

Downey Turns Down Requests For Interviews

NEW BRITAIN (AP)—John T. Downey, the CIA agent who was released Sunday by the Communist Chinese because of his mother's illness, will refuse to give private interviews to the media, his brother said Wednesday.

Downey was released after more than 20 years imprisonment on an espionage charge. "Due to the great number of requests for private interviews, either in person or by phone, with John and other members of the family, it is impossible for any to be granted at the present, and there is no intention to conduct private interviews at any time in the future," said William Downey.

"The family have been under great stress and, of course, we are still concerned about our mother," William Downey said.

South Windsor Wapping Plan Backers Oppose 6-3-3

A public hearing requested by the South Windsor Association of Citizens (SWAC) got off on the wrong foot Tuesday night with a confrontation between Mrs. Joan Cushman, Scott Drive, SWAC member, and James Arnold, chairman of the Board of Education. SWAC wanted the hearing to discuss with the board the change in educational format to 6-3-3.

Mrs. Cushman wanted to address a question to board member Vernon Peterson about how the change in format would affect homogeneous grouping in the system. Arnold repeatedly insisted that Mrs. Cushman address her questions to the chair and that the chair would decide who would answer the questions. He said the purpose of the hearing was to inform the public, and not to see how much an individual member of the board knows about education.

Procedure for the conduct of the hearing was finally settled, and Peterson said that in his opinion grouping was affected by the population in the schools at any given time, but by no change in format.

SWAC's main complaint is that the board's policy will reduce the quality of education in the town and will cost more than the Wapping Plan advocated by them.

Under the Wapping Plan students from the Wapping Elementary School which is adjacent to the high school would be distributed among the other elementary schools in town, the seventh and eighth grades would remain as they are, and a heated walkway would be conducted between the high school and the Wapping School which would be used by high school students to reduce overcrowded conditions at the high school.

SWAC, which was functioning without its chief spokesman, Alan Ober, who was admitted to the board yesterday for corrective surgery, is opposed to the board's plan which would move sixth graders into the elementary schools and ninth and tenth graders into the junior high schools, leaving only Grades 10-12 at the high school.

Stephen Cooney, of Market Rd., asked the board how it could reconcile the recommendation of portables at the elementary level now, when it was opposed to them when it was trying to sell the high school addition to the town. South Windsor voted down the addition last November.

Arnold told Cooney that at the time of the referendum the board was talking about a large number of portables but that with the elimination of home economics and industrial technology for seventh graders and personal typing for ninth graders, the number of portables requested was reduced from 12 to six.

Arnold said that the board was not the board that he had decided on the 6-3-3 format rather than the Wapping Plan. Arnold replied that there would be less disruption to the system with the 6-3-3 format than with the Wapping Plan. He said that with the Wapping Plan time would have to be added to the school day because of travel time between the high school and the proposed annex at the Wapping School. Mrs. Cite Decker, chairman of the Board's budget subcommittee, said the board also took into consideration the expense of construction of a heated walkway between the two buildings.

Superintendent of Schools Charles Warner said that the Wapping Plan would not relieve the overcrowded conditions at the high school because under that plan the same number of students would be passing in the hallways between classes and that the condition was a major problem at the high school now. SWAC member Mrs. Nancy Cuffey challenged the board's decision by alleging that by sending ninth graders with eleventh and eighth graders would create a severe discipline problem.

She asked Arnold if he thought grouping the three grades together would have an adverse effect on the younger students. He replied, "No."

Mrs. Cushman asked if the school administration supported the 6-3-3 plan and if so, why.

Supt. Warner replied that when the administration's options were reduced by the defeat of the high school addition, it made 19 reports to the board to explore alternative solutions to housing the school. He said the administration then chose to support the 6-3-3 plan.

Mrs. Cushman, "Why?"

Supt. Warner, "On the basis of professional judgment."

Mrs. Cuffey asked the board if it had sought the advice of the State Department of Education before making its decision. Arnold replied that board members did not consider it necessary to consult with the state. "We have people in the system who can make the state," Mrs. Cuffey said.

Mrs. Cuffey, "You didn't contact them because you didn't care if it (the 6-3-3 plan) was effective education."

Board members Fred DeGiacoia and Donald Burgess said that they opted for the 6-3-3 plan because it offered the greatest amount of flexibility to the system with the least cost.

Board member Vernon Peterson said the only real solution to the problem was the construction of more classrooms.

The Board of Education has made it mandatory for each child enrolled at the school to be properly immunized against polio.

Mrs. Davison said the Connecticut State Department of Health recommends that each child have a complete series of Sabin oral polio immunizations and two boosters.

Gypsy Moth Making Comeback In Some Areas Of The State

NEW HAVEN (AP)—The gypsy moth will make a comeback this year in eastern and northwestern Connecticut despite the demise of one of its pesky cousins, state researchers say.

The white or brownish moth, which lays its eggs in "tent-like" structures in trees and their tendency to cluster in groups around lights during the early summer as they die. But its moths in the caterpillar stage that do the damage to trees.

Caterpillars "will be abundant enough to cause defoliation" in a number of areas east of the Connecticut River and in the northwest quarter of the state, says Entomologist John Anderson of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station.

Many parts of the state were hosts last year to two kinds of leaf-eating caterpillars which later change into moths: the gypsy moth larva and the elm spanworm.

The spanworm, however, has fallen victim to a parasitic wasp which has eaten up most of the eggs laid last year, Anderson said.

As a result, Anderson said, residents in the designated areas will see mainly the gypsy moths and their larvae "but they're going to see a lot of them."

Anderson said the prediction is based so far on only a limited number of egg surveys requested by towns and on roadside observations by researchers.

Nineteen cities and towns have asked the experiment station for surveys, he said, and only half of the studies have been completed.

The results, however, suggest that the state will experience a decline in defoliation for the second consecutive year, largely because of the reduction in elm spanworms.

"I expect the total acreage defoliated will be less than in 1972," Anderson said. In that year more than 500,000 acres suffered noticeable loss of foliage.

Town To Open Bulldozer Bids

Bids will be opened April 3 in the Municipal Building for a new bulldozer, complete with a multi-purpose bucket, for use at Manchester's sanitary landfill area.

Town Manager Robert Weiss told the Board of Directors March 6 that the present bulldozer is in critical need of repairs and that it hadn't been used since Nov. 29 of last year.

He said the 1965 piece of equipment needs repairs estimated to cost about $7,500. He recommended that a new bulldozer be purchased and that its cost, which he estimated at about $58,000, come out of the next installment of revolving-fund money to be received by the town (expected in April).

Weiss asked the directors for permission to advertise for bids for a new bulldozer, with no commitment from them that they will allocate the funds. He requested that permission and the advertising followed.

Beef Demand Down; But Appears To Be Temporary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spokesmen for the government and food industry say a sudden decline in consumer demand for beef may be only a brief phenomenon rather than something that will have an impact on high beef prices.

A Treasury Department economist said that with the economy "doing as well as it is, the demand for beef is likely to expand in spite of the price."

The decline in demand at the consumer level was reported Wednesday in a survey by the National Association of Food Chains, which said 15 of 16 food chains advised they were ordering less beef last week than in previous weeks.

A spokesman said most of the chains reported their orders were off 3 to 4 per cent, which he interpreted as being significant. But he added, "it could be just a one- or two-week phenomenon... that is not going to have any appreciable effect on the wholesale market."

The real question is whether this is going to continue," he added.

The Washington, D.C., division of Safeway, Inc., reported demand for beef was off in its 240 stores in Washington, Virginia, Maryland and Delaware.

"Prices are going up and people are looking for substitutes," said a spokesman.

But a decrease in consumer demand had not shown up at the wholesale level where packers reported slaughtering 630,000 head of cattle last week, the largest number since the first of the year.

A spokesman for the Cost of Living Council said there was "no evidence that we have seen a diminishing of consumer demand, as much as we might like to see it."

Democrats Reject Dean Offer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Democrats on the Senate Judiciary Committee have rejected an unacceptable offer by White House Counsel John W. Dean III to answer only selected questions in writing about his relationship with L. Patrick Gray III.

One of the four, Sen. Birch E. Bayh of Indiana, said "the committee would be derelict in its duty to the Senate and the people of this country if it gives any further consideration to the Gray nomination."

Gray is President Nixon's nominee to be director of the FBI.

There are no signs of an early showdown on the Gray nomination, pending completion of the nominee's testimony. He returns before the panel next Tuesday.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said he favors accepting the offer made by Dean Wednesday in response to the committee's unanimous invitation to appear for questioning.

"We can give it a try and see what information we get," Eastland told a reporter. "It's better than getting nothing."

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Nebr., agreed.

Bayh was joined by Sens. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va.; John V. Tunney, D-Calif.; and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., in voicing criticism of Dean.

College Beer Law Enacted

HARTFORD (AP)—Legislation allowing colleges to sell beer and clubs, restaurants and motels to sell alcoholic beverages on campus has been approved in the Connecticut Senate.

The latter bill goes to Gov. Thomas J. Meskill for signing while the former must return to the House for concurrence on a change that would permit it to take effect immediately instead of waiting until Oct. 1.

Elsewhere Wednesday in the General Assembly, House Democrats failed in an attempt to nullify recent salary increases for commissioners and their deputies.

The Senate chamber was filled with emotional debate on both alcoholic beverages bills.

Deputy Minority Leader J. Edward Caldwell, D-Bridgewater, said, "Let's keep education in the schools and keep drinking in the saloons."

But Sen. George Guidera, R-Weston, noting that many students now cross the state line into New York to drink, said the bill would keep them on campus and off the roads.

Sen. Joseph Fusillo, D-Hartford, called the Christmas

Nixon's America:

Use Executive Power To Reshape Government

By GAYLORD SHAW Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is making perhaps unprecedented use of executive power as he seeks in his second term to reshape America's government.

The issues range from whether the president has to spend the dollars Congress votes to whether White House aides can refuse a summons to appear before congressional committees.

At stake, in the view of many historians and presidential scholars, is the traditional executive-legislative balance of power.

Members of Congress contend that Nixon has ignored the Constitution and tipped the balance in his favor.

Nonetheless, respond Nixon aides. They contend the president is using "a limited number of government tools" in behalf of the public interest.

But Nixon's top domestic adviser, John Ehrlichman, acknowledged recently that the President exercises "one-man rule."

"This is because he has to 'step into the vacuum' left by congressional inaction," Ehrlichman said.

Examples abound of Nixon's use of executive powers, including: —Establishment of a so-called "super cabinet" by designating three Cabinet members as presidential counselors and giving them broad authority over the areas of natural resources, human resources and community development.

It appeared Nixon was implementing—without congressional approval—portions of a government-reorganization plan he proposed last year but which Congress failed to approve.

The White House denied this was the intention, but one ranking aide conceded the executive action "takes us down the road" toward the President's goal.

—A widespread series of freezes directed at programs he seeks to curb or eliminate in his second term.

He acted without consulting Congress, and protests quickly came from Capitol Hill.

Nixon dismissed them, telling a news conference that the White House is the "only ... place in this government where somebody is speaking not for the special interests which the Congress represents but for the general interest."

The making of foreign policy, for example, has been centralized in the White House under presidential adviser Henry Kissinger, rather than the State Department under Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Rogers, as a statutory Cabinet officer, testifies frequently before House and Senate committees. Kissinger never has, although the White House says he frequently meets informally with members of Congress.

Congressional unhappiness over Nixon's use of executive privilege has prompted a move to require Senate confirmation of his appointment of the director of the Office of Management and Budget.

The White House is fighting the effort, with Ehrlichman contending in a recent CBS interview that the Constitution protects presidential aides from such proceedings.

They are useful and informative, he adds, but "they are kind of show-and-tell sessions where people come and give explanations that should be understood by the Cabinet at large."

Q. But you're getting into the area of one-man rule. A. Sure. Well that's what the president of the United States is.

Q. One-man rule? A. Yes sir, and he is the only elected officer elected by all the people of the United States, unlike the senators and congressmen.

Some of Nixon's moves can be traced to his distrust of the bureaucracy. A month after his landslide re-election, the President told newsmen at Camp David that "it has been my convicition for years that elected officials in this country too often become prisoners of ... the bureaucracy which they are supposed to run."

It was at the mountaintop retreat in the Maryland mountains during November and December that Nixon charted a series of steps to tighten White House control of the bureaucracy.

He shifted trusted White House aides to key management posts at Interior, Transportation and other departments and ordered his Office of Management and Budget to squeeze more efficiency out of the federal workforce.

He ordered that administration lobbying efforts on Capitol Hill be coordinated from the White House, and approved moves to bring public-relations operations through government more under the wing of the executive office.

Nixon's wielding of executive power should not have come as a surprise to Congress. He telegraphed his plans even before his election in 1968, saying in a campaign speech that "the days of a passive presidency belong to a simpler past. Let me be very clear about this: The next president must take an activist view of his office."

An activist president he has been, scholars agree. "The President steps into power vacuums," Prof. Alexander Riebel of Yale Law

School recently told a group of congressmen. "If no one is there, he steps in."

At the same conference, arranged by congressmen to obtain scholars' views on the constitutional confrontation with the executive, one historian chided liberals who in the past had advocated a strong presidency.

"Those who praised and promoted presidential power in behalf of social progress during the Roosevelt, Truman and Kennedy years, and who now wish to diminish the president's capacity for economic and social leadership are exhibiting short memories," said Prof. James MacGregor Burns of Williams College.

"And," Burns added, "they may be helping to produce in the future another impasse in which an innovative, progressive and socially conscious president will be trying vainly to enact and implement programs thwarted by an essentially unresponsive and unrepresentative Congress."

Most scholars give Nixon the edge in his struggle with Congress. But the Democrats on Capitol Hill aren't giving up without a fight.

It is time, said Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, for members of Congress "to dig their heels in and be damned if they are going to be shoved any further" by the executive branch.

"For my own," Hughes said, "I've been pushed about as far as I intend to be pushed."

The DEP order to stop pollution of the state's waters through the Secondary Treatment Plant, constructed at a cost of $3.2 million and opened and dedicated in July 1971.

The measured flow, from July 1 to Oct. 1, 1973, equalled the capacity estimated for the plant by the year 1985.

And, during the months of November and December of last year and January of this year, the measured flow exceeded the 1985 estimate by over 17 per cent.

The engineering firm of Melcalf and Eddy, in its 1967 study and plant design, estimated the average daily sewage flow through the plant at 6.75 million gallons in the year 1985.

The average daily flow in November, December and January was 7.83 million gallons, about 42 per cent higher than in the same period a year ago.

Scramble Still On For NHL Playoffs

By The Associated Press

With a chance to make some vital progress in their respective scrambles for National Hockey League playoff berths, the New York Rangers, Detroit Red Wings and Philadelphia Flyers all fumbled the puck Wednesday night.

So the status in three tight playoff battles remained quo.

The Rangers could have picked up some ground on idle Boston in the battle for second place in the East, but Chicago mixed that idea, beating New York 4-2, trying to fight off the Buffalo for fourth place in the East, got no help from Montreal with the Canadiens taking the match.

Philadelphia stayed one slim point ahead of Minnesota in the second-place battle in the West because Toronto downed the Flyers 5-1.

Elsewhere in the NHL, St. Louis tied Atlanta 1-1, Pittsburgh topped Los Angeles 4-2 and Vancouver whipped California 5-2.

Jim Pappin scored a pair of goals as the Black Hawks whipped the Rangers. Lou Angotti and Cliff Koroll had the other Black Hawk goals while Ted Irvine and Rod Gilbert connected for New York.

The loss left the Rangers two points ahead of third-place Boston in the East. Both teams have nine games remaining including two against each other.

The victory left the Black Hawks a comfortable 10 points ahead of second-place Philadelphia. The Flyers are more concerned at the moment with third-place Minnesota, a single point behind.

Toronto kept it that way, using first-period goals 14 seconds apart by Rick Kehoe and Dave Keon to tie the Bruins. Defenseman Joe Lundrign scored his first NHL goal for the Leafs. Montreal bunched three goals in the third period and then stood off a late Detroit comeback to tag the Red Wings with a vital loss.

Mickey Redmond scored his 44th for the Red Wings.

The loss kept the Wings a single point ahead of Buffalo for the fourth and final playoff spot in the East. Both teams have nine games to go.

Jacques Richard's third-period goal boosted Atlanta into its tie with St. Louis and Coach Boone boom Geoffrion credited the Flames' fans with helping his club get the deadlock.

"The crowd was a big difference for us," said Geoffrion. "I don't think we would have had near the effort anywhere else. I got exactly what I asked for out of my club. They didn't quit."

Pierre Plante had the only goal for St. Louis.

The tie enabled St. Louis to pick up a point on pursuing Los Angeles in the race for the fourth and final playoff berth in the West. The Kings dropped a close one to Pittsburgh and fell four points behind St. Louis. The Blues have eight games remaining, one more than the Kings.

Aaron: Record, Retirement

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Writer

Old-time baseball fans who were steadfast in their belief that Babe Ruth's hallowed record of 714 home runs would never be broken, now must face reality—Babe Ruth will go it ... barring injury.

The 39-year-old Atlanta Braves slugger, needing only 41 homers to tie Ruth's long-standing record and 42 to break it, made it emphatically clear Wednesday he was not taking dead aim on the Babe's total—and if he reaches it this season, he will quit.

"If I do it, I'm planning on quitting," said Aaron. "I don't want to be like Babe Ruth, who hit 42 in two seasons."

Aaron, with a career total of 673 homers, including 34 last season, said his goal this year is 35 homers. That would leave him six short of Ruth's record, and make the buildup overwhelming for the 1974 campaign.

Aaron didn't hit any homers Wednesday as the winless Braves lost their fifth exhibition game, 4-2 to the Chicago White Sox. Tony Muser led the White Sox with three runs batted in, including two in a double during a three-run first inning.

Meanwhile, rookie outfielder Jerry Grote had two hits, including a run-scoring double and a game-winning single, helping the Baltimore Orioles edge the Minnesota Twins 4-3.

Coach Ken Griffin and his charges don't expect an easy time against the Sabres. The last time Rorty visited here, they were routed by the Sabres 7-3.

The Sabres have a good reason to be up for the game. They also are fighting Detroit for the last playoff position in the division.

Veteran Jacques Plante has been tapped to tend the nets against Buffalo.

Wing man Mike Walton was sent back to Boston Wednesday and will work out with Gene Berde, a physiotherapist.

Walton has been in less-than-excellent shape since an accident in January at St. Louis when he fell through a plate glass door.

Joe Hague drove in three runs and rookie Ken Griffey knocked in two, leading the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-3 victory over the Houston Astros.

Not only do the Astros have a 7-6 victory over the Montreal Expos on Ben Oglive's run-scoring double in the eighth, but they also have a 4-0-0 record over the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1.

Jerry Grote had two hits, drove in one run and scored another, sparking the New York Mets to a 6-4 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Ben Oglive, a forgotten man in the Yankees' rotation, was named to the Red Sox roster for spring training.

He checked into camp last week and said he had not received any word to come to the Red Sox playing winter ball, he was able to stay right in and in the seventh and eighth innings as the Red Sox overcame a 6-2 deficit to fashion their fifth victory in eight pre-season games.

The Dry Side of Sports

Area Tracks List Dates

As the warm weather sets in, followers of the auto racing world have begun to come out of hiding. The first official NASCAR event for modifieds is slated for March 25 at Martinsville, Va.

Following this Sunday race, Seokook Speedway in Rhode Island will make its 1973 debut April 1.

Thompson Speedway, tucked in the northeast corner of the state, has also scheduled an April 1 show.

Connecticut Dragway, in Colchester, according to track owner Frank Maratta, will open its gates April 15 with a Pro Stock Show.

Maratta also noted that many of his big shows of 1972 were hampered by bad weather. The promotional genius is hoping for better weather to bring the attendance of drag racing back up.

Ron Zavarella of Manchester in his ET Shaker, along with a few others in the altered class of drag racing, is seeking springs throughout New England and New York.

Stafford Springs Motor Speedway will open its season April 15 with the Spring Sizzler. The following week the NASCAR state will open with Fred DeSarbo racing to defend his track title.

This weekend, ABC's Wide World of Sports will telecast the Phoenix 150 for Indy Champ cars. This is the first time out for the low-slung, fast-moving machines. Next on the USAF trail will be the 'Trentonian 300' at the one-and-a-half-mile Trenton Speedway. This is scheduled to be the last event before the Indy 500.

The Indianapolis 500 auto race will be shown during prime time Monday, May 28, in a delayed telecast. The event will be aired from 9 to 11 p.m. ABC will be carrying this racing spectacle.

Bare Spots On Slopes Skiers, it's almost time to call it quits for the season. According to the latest ski reports, it appears as though the north is washed out.

The unseasonably mild temperatures may feel nice, but at the same time they have turned the southern New England ski areas from white to green.

With the temperatures at night in the high 30's, snowmaking is impossible.

The Super Hot Dog skiers will be back on the East Coast April 7-5, at Mt. Snow, Vt. A prize of $5,000 will go to the first-place finisher. More than 100 entries are expected for the event.

The Final Word As I look back at last Saturday night's CIAC Class I quarterfinal game between East Catholic High and Shelton High, the incident that sticks most in my mind is the fight.

Why did it happen? Tension? Conditions? Fans? Your guess is as good as mine, but I'll express a few of my feelings. One is the sportsmanship of the fans, Shelton's in particular. East followers were considerate of the opposition at all times. On the other hand, the Gaels' supporters were always hooping East.

Also, when students view a game, peace and quiet is there. It's the adults, many of whom aren't associated with the game through a player, who criticize the officials and make fools of themselves.

If there are grognos who feel that they can foul better than the veteran officials that worked the game, Frank Corkin and Fred Rota, the IAABO is always looking for new whistle tooters.

Bruins Open Defense Of NCAA Title Today The UCLA Bruins, a team with the strongest finishing kick the last six years, jump into the playoff pool tonight to begin defense of its NCAA basketball title.

Bruins have tradition going for them—but also the home court advantage.

"I hope that Arizona State, the University of San Francisco and Long Beach are very aware of it," says UCLA coach John Wooden. "I want all their players to read it and think about the fact that we're playing in Pauley Pavilion."

The top-ranked Bruins have not only been unbeatable at home, though—they're also been perfect on the road. Their record 71 straight victories is the talk of college basketball.

"It's the fact that they've won the NCAA title six straight times."

"Arizona State has a chance but I won't bet on 'em," said Long Beach State Coach Jerry Turkman about UCLA's opponent in the West Regional semifinal last.

Before UCLA hosts Arizona State, Long Beach will meet San Francisco in the West Regional. Arizona State advanced to the regional semis with a victory last week over Oklahoma City.

The Red Sox, who have played only one game at their home base in Winter Haven, Fla., continued on the road today, meeting the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland.

Tom Nissalke Suing Sonics SEATTLE (AP) — Tom Nissalke, fired earlier this year as coach of the Seattle SuperSonics, planned to file a $1.2 million suit Thursday against the National Basketball Association team.

Leonard W. Schroeter, an attorney for Nissalke, filed the suit demanding that he be named a total breakdown in payments and negotiations between the ex-Sonics coach and the team's owners, the NBA team.

Nissalke originally signed for two years as coach of the Sonics from Aug. 1, 1972, through July 31, 1973.

Celtics Win 60th, 76ers Drop No. 67

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics won their 60th game of the National Basketball Association season Wednesday night as Philadelphia 76ers lost their 67th.

The Celtics can tie the NBA record for victories set by the Los Angeles Lakers last season with 69 by winning their remaining games. All the 76ers have to do to set an NBA record for most losses in one season is to lose one game out of their remaining nine.

The Celtics beat the Baltimore Bullets 111-107 and the 76ers fell to the Phoenix Suns 124-114.

In the only other NBA game, Los Angeles beat Detroit 121-122.

In the American Basketball Association Wednesday, San Diego clipped the New York Nets 108-88, Indiana beat Utah 114-108 and Virginia dumped Dallas 125-114.

John Havlicek's four points in the final 15 seconds of the game were the margin of victory for the Celtics. Havlicek made a fall away jump shot with two seconds left on the clock. Celtics' captain let go from the corner with a leaping, twisting desperation jumper that brought the ball down but missed a shot. Havlicek grabbed the rebound, was fouled, sank two free throws and Boston won the game 111-107.

"I still don't believe it went in," Havlicek said. "I was just shooting for the Celtics and I was just shooting for the Celtics and I was just shooting for the Celtics."

Summie Hill led the way for San Diego with 23 points and Chuck Williams added 25.

As expected, the visiting Bullets were difficult to beat. "I wasn't surprised at Baltimore's performance because they're always tough. With two seconds left on the 24-second clock and 13 seconds remaining in the game against Baltimore, we were down by two points and I was down by two points and I was down by two points."

Down most of the fourth quarter, Baltimore charged into the game and broke a 107-107 tie. Havlicek grabbed the rebound, was fouled, sank two free throws and Boston won the game 111-107.

HERALD BOX LETTERS

For Your Information
 THE HERALD will not disclose the identity of any advertiser using box letters. Readers answering blind box ads who desire to protect their identity can follow this procedure:

Enclose your reply to the box in an envelope — address to the Classified Manager, Manchester Evening Herald, together with a memo listing the companies you do NOT want to see your letter. Your letter will be destroyed if the one you've mentioned. If not it will be handled in the usual manner.

PLEASE READ YOUR AD

Classified or "Want Ads" are taken over the phone as a convenience. The advertiser should read his ad the FIRST DAY IT APPEARS and REPORT ERRORS in time for the next insertion. The advertiser is responsible for only one incorrect or omitted insertion for any advertisement and then only in the event of a "make good" insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by "make good" insertion.

Group Begins Drive To Make State Aware Of MIAs

STRATFORD (AP)—A statewide organization of families of POW and MIA servicemen launched a low-key campaign today to bring attention to Americans who are still missing in action.

"It's amazing how many people think all the prisoners of war are coming home," said Dennis Banks, a leader of the campaign. "We need to let the public know that there are still 1,328 men unaccounted for."

The league knows of about 12 Connecticut families that have members who are missing in action, she said in an interview Wednesday.

Mrs. Shepard said the campaign, part of a nationwide effort by the national League of Families of POWs and MIAs, will also include speaking engagements and newspaper advertisements.

The Connecticut organization's past efforts to draw attention to MIAs have encountered "so many people that really understand what it's all about," she said.

But, Banks said, "The blizzard and the conditions it's caused make us more determined to fight it out. We're thinking of this as a long-term effort."

Justice Department spokesman Jack Huben said National Council of Churches Department to provide in-home services to elderly persons.

"We believe that other persons will be happier and live longer if we can provide care for them at home with relatives or in the community," Meskill said.

Meskill said the Welfare Department will carefully determine the level of care needed by each individual selected for the program. These might include home visits by doctors or nurses, medical equipment, transportation to clinics or meals. The program is underway, the governor said.

Blizzard Prevents Negotiations

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D.—Negotiations stalled by a severe blizzard between the federal government and an occupation force of Indian rebels Tuesday.

The Indians say that neither the cold weather nor the food rationing they initiated Wednesday would force them out.

"I'd say we could last three days on the food we have," said Dennis Banks, a leader of the Indian group that took over Wounded Knee 16 days ago. "Each person will have one meal a day."

Another Indian leader, Russell Means, said the need for medicine, including insulin for diabetics, was "critical."

But, Banks said, "The blizzard and the conditions it's caused make us more determined to fight it out. We're thinking of this as a long-term effort."

Mrs. Butterfield Says Mrs. Miller Wrong About Bill

Bolton

Mrs. Virginia Butterfield, Democratic nominee for first Selectman, Bolton, today took exception to a statement made by Republican State Representative Dorothy Miller concerning a bill which would establish an urban development corporation.

Mrs. Miller, in a statement made Monday, said of the legislation, HB 842, "There is no way HB 842 will ever be passed."

She added that the bill has previously been boxed twice and only by Democratic political endeavors is it again being brought before the legislature.

Robert W. Meserve, ABA president, said today that the panel will hold its first session next month.

Members are Judge David Brofman of Denver; Vincent E. Whelan of San Diego, Calif.; Daniel A. Rzeznick of Washington; Paul A. Nejelet of New York; Jerome J. Shestak of Philadelphia, and George Saunders of Chicago.

Home Care Test Planned

HARTFORD (AP)—Gov. Thomas J. Meskill today announced a two-year test program by the state Welfare Department to provide in-home services to elderly persons.

"We believe that other persons will be happier and live longer if we can provide care for them at home with relatives or in the community," Meskill said.

Meskill said the Welfare Department will carefully determine the level of care needed by each individual selected for the program. These might include home visits by doctors or nurses, medical equipment, transportation to clinics or meals. The program is underway, the governor said.

Bombs Found

MYREY, Australia (AP)—Two live bombs were found in Sydney today, one of them along the route Britain's Prince Philip was to take into the city from the airport. Experts defused the bombs, and the police altered his route.

The second bomb was found in a locker in the central railway station. A third bomb was reported planted in a government office building opposite a club the husband of Queen Elizabeth II was opening tonight, but this proved to be a false alarm.

Rec Program Budget Explained

ALEX GIRELLI (City Editor)

An added full-time employee for Recreation Department supervision is provided for at a proposed salary of $19,350 compared to a budget of $15,057 this year.

Besides the addition of a full-time supervisor, the request calls for pay increases to part-time rec workers under a reorganizing plan which places them in eight categories instead of the present 29 categories with different rates of pay.

Siebold said his original request was for $21,385, but that he cut $20,000 from it at the suggestion of Weiss.

One possibility for making up part of the new full-time salary, Siebold said, would be eliminating two of the three present administrative assistants.

In support of his budget request, Siebold cited additions to the rec program, particularly activities for women, and an increase in the number of athletic teams over the past few years.

To reduce his request by $20,000, Siebold said he has eliminated the following reduction in his plans:

Eliminate the playground program at Green School and at Martin School.

Drop two special instructors, probably in dance and baton twirling.

Reduce gymnastic instruction from 8 to 7 weeks.

Eliminate tennis instruction for adults or set a fee for it which will make it self-supporting.

Take the same action with scuba diving instruction.

Plans to open the Ice Center two nights a week instead of one night and one other night.

Operate the rec centers 25 weeks during the winter season instead of 26, eliminating the first week.

Require the Ten Center, which has some funds of its own, to pay for the services of one of two policemen on duty during events there.

Cut the program at Camp Kennedy from nine weeks to eight.

(Siebold said in response to a question that he does not expect Camp Kennedy to operate at a deficit next year although it did have a deficit of about $400 this year.)

Siebold said he expects that the Recreation Department will return about $15,300 to the General Fund in the 1973-74 operation.

While no formal vote was taken, members of the commission appeared to favor Siebold's request for a full-time supervisor to assist in the over-all supervision of evening recreation activities.

Bruce Tapped For Peking Assignment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will send an advance team to Peking within two to three weeks to prepare for the May 1 opening of a liaison office headed by senior diplomat David K. E. Bruce.

The five-man team, headed by Chinese-speaking expert William Jenkins and building specialists who will prepare the quarters of the first American diplomatic outpost on the Chinese mainland.

President Nixon announced the latest appointment for Bruce '75, a former ambassador to Britain, Germany, France and the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, at a news conference Thursday.

"I thought it was very important to appoint a man of great stature to this position. The Chinese accepted that view themselves, and we expect soon to hear from them as to the appointment of the man they will have as his opposite number here in Washington."

The President also stressed he regards the opening of a liaison office as "a long journey—a journey in which we will have our differences, but one in which the most populous nation of the world and the United States of America can work together, where their interests coincide, for the cause of peace and better relations in the Pacific and in the world."

Speculation on whom China might appoint to the Washington post centered on China's Vice Premier, the vice foreign minister and a man close to Premier Chou En-lai: Chang Wen-chin, assistant foreign minister and an expert on American and European affairs, and Marshal Yueh Chieh-

Executive Privilege Test Unlikely

WASHINGTON—Senate Judiciary Committee members are showing no disposition to take President Nixon to court for refusing to let his official lawyer testify on the nomination of L. Patrick Gray III to be FBI director.

"The committee has other action it can take," said Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., a member of the panel.

He said, for example, that the committee could simply tell Nixon it would not act on Gray's nomination unless White House Counsel John W. Dean III appears for questioning.

Nixon said Thursday he does not believe the committee would hold Gray "hostage," but the members appear closely divided. The issue may come to a vote next week.

State Department officials said the appointment signifies the Nixon administration's desire to develop improving relations with mainland China to the maximum extent possible.

Bruce's two top deputies, Alton S. Saxon and John Holdridge, both speak Chinese and both have accompanied presidential adviser Dr. Henry Kissinger on his trips to China. Both were at the side of Nixon when he flew to Peking one year ago for talks with Chinese Premier Mao Tse-tung.

Chinese Nationalist diplomats in Washington were silent on the latest developments between the United States and Peking.

There was more concern by the Nationalist diplomats about a speech by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield in which the Montana senator advocated scrapping U.S. ties with Taiwan and restoring remaining American forces from the island and from South Korea.

Equal Rights Amendment Gets State Senate Approval

HARTFORD (AP)—A sharp Connecticut battle over the full-time supervisors now together with Mrs. Bea Sheffel, who directs women's activities. She is employed under the Emergency Employment Act and Siebold proposes that she remain on a full-time supervisor.

In support of his budget request, Siebold cited additions to the rec program, particularly activities for women, and an increase in the number of athletic teams over the past few years.

Carruthers' 5th District consists of all of Vernon, Ellington, Tolland, Ashford, Brooklyn, Chaplin, Eastford, Hampton, Pomfret, Somers, Stafford, Union, Willington and Woodstock, plus a portion of Mansfield.

Scali Lashes Back At Cuban Oratory

PANAMA (AP)—U.S. Ambassador John Scali took a relaxed attitude Thursday night toward criticism of the United States by his Panamanian host, but lashed back at a Cuban attack during the special U.N. Security Council meeting being held in Panama.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa of Cuba told the council the United States aspires to maintain "Green Beret factories" in the Panama Canal Zone. He characterized the United States as a nation with "clawing and peridious appetites" around the world.

"The highest aspiration of the Panamanian people was always that of a canal for humanity and not for an aquatic monopoly, a canal flanked by shipyards and factories, not by military bases," Roa declared.

"Using his right of reply, Scali, in his debut before the council, called the Cuban speech a self-appointed spokesman of a people whose condition must improve as rapidly as possible."

"His accusations are so unkind and reckless that they are unworthy of reply," President Nixon's new chief delegate to the U.N. said.

Scali's remarks were in marked contrast to his comments welcoming speech earlier by Panama's strongman, Brig. Gen. Omar Torrijos. Setting the theme for the week-long council meeting, the first ever held in Latin America, the general accused the United States of "clawing and peridious appetites" around the world.

"We ask the moral support of the world here present in this fight which is now reaching the limits of the patience of our people," Torrijos declared.

"We hope he urges his people to cool it," he added. "The patience of his people is directly related to what he says."

"Panama expecting to be pilloried because of its hold on the canal zone, which has been the subject of negotiations between the Panamanian and U.S. governments for years. But State Department officials fear that the publicity given to the attacks on the United States will harden the attitudes of congressmen back home.

Key Points Of Nixon Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are key points made by President Nixon at his news conference Thursday:

FOOD PRICES: He ruled out price control on food and said decisions of the American housewife on what she buys are a powerful weapon in combating high prices.

CHINA: Veteran diplomat David K. E. Bruce will lead a five-man advance team to Peking to prepare for the opening of a liaison office.

EXECUTIVE PRIVILEGE: He challenged the Senate to Supreme Court test over his refusal to allow his legal counsel, John W. Dean III, to testify at hearings on the nomination of L. Patrick Gray III to be FBI director.

STOCK PRICES: The administration will sell metals and other materials from its stockpile in a move to push down prices.

Today's Barney In Sadness We Say St. Patrick's Day Weather Will Be Windy And Rainy

Mrs. Downey In A Coma

NEW BRITAIN (AP)—The chances for the mother of a repatriated spy John Downey to survive after suffering a stroke Tuesday were slim, doctors said.

Downey, 50, was struck by a stroke while crossing the street with his father, according to police. He was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital with multiple contusions and was released Tuesday.

On Monday afternoon, police said, 8-year-old Jeffrey Deschamps of 154 Charter Oak St. ran into the path of a car operated by James J. Downey, 50, on Spruce St.

Police say that the McVeigh was struck by a car on Wednesday night and was in no way at fault in the accident.

The boy was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital where he was given emergency treatment for a broken collarbone and bruises and was released.

Thomas C. Luzzi, 31, of Pawcatuck, was charged Wednesday with 12 rearrest warrant with third-degree assault. He was charged with 12 rearrest warrant with third-degree assault. New Britain Man Dies In Collision

EGREMONT, Mass. (AP)—Police say Thomas Stanton, 30, of New Britain, Conn., died Wednesday when his car and a cement truck collided on State Rt. 22 in Egremont.

He was pronounced dead at the scene. Stanton leaves his wife, Frieda, and a son, Robert, of Southington, Conn.

Episcopal Church told the committee that the church vestry had gone on record in support of the proposal stating "it was believed this would be far better than any other commercial use possible in that zone."

A representative of the Sacred Heart Church said the motel would be a welcome addition if traffic could be adequately controlled.

In other action, the commission approved a recommendation for an amendment to the zoning regulations which will require detailed information on the adequacy of public water supply to be included in applications for both personal use and fire safety purposes.

It also approved a request for 15-acre addition to St. Bernard Cemetery off Rt. 30; construction of a small utility building off Spruce St. between Rockville Water and Aqueduct Co.; the subdivision of property into three lots for Conyers Construction Co.

The commission denied the request of Bolten Advertising Co. to construct a billboard on Rt. 30 citing as a reason that such a billboard might create a traffic hazard and visual pollution.

Action Tabled On Ramada Inn

A request made by Valentino Fazio, Manchester realtor, to construct a Ramada Inn on property he owns on Rt. 30 in Vernon, has been tabled by the Vernon Planning Commission pending recommendations forthcoming from the Mayor's Zoning Study Task Force.

The inn would include a restaurant which has been tentatively under the town's zoning regulations pertaining to the Howard Johnson motel and restaurant.

The Planning and Zoning Commissions have been asked to defer action on any zoning changes for six months to permit time for a detailed study by the recently appointed task force. Complaints about the building off Spruce St. popping up along Rt. 83 and Rt. 30 led to the mayor's appointing of the force.

Planning Commission members did not indicate they would object to the construction of the inn nor did representatives of two nearby churches who attended the meeting of the commission.
