

Lon Nol Dismisses Air Chief

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — President Lon Nol has fired the commander of his air force as a disciplinary follow-up to the bombing of the presidential palace by an air force officer in a stolen aircraft plane.

Brig. Gen. So Sato was replaced by his deputy, Col. Cem Ramma.

Lon Nol's palace was bombed Saturday by Capt. So Potra, a liaison officer between the air force and the main body of the special forces.

He dropped two bombs on the palace compound. Both missed the palace itself but leveled a barracks nearby for the palace guards and their families.

Forty-seven persons were killed and more than 50 injured, but Lon Nol was unhurt.

So Potra landed at an air strip in the area under Communist control, Peking's Hsinhua news service said.

CIA To Reduce Its Personnel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The personnel records of some 15,000 employees of the Central Intelligence Agency will be reviewed, leading to what one intelligence source says will be a substantial reduction of "marginal performers."

The employees are in the four CIA directorates of administration, plans, intelligence operations and science and technology.

The source said that, while a reduction of CIA staff had been ordered by agency Director James Schlesinger, who was named to the post by President Nixon in February.

The source said that, while a reduction of CIA staff had been ordered by agency Director James Schlesinger, who was named to the post by President Nixon in February.

One report has said that from 1,000 to 1,800 CIA employees will be released, but sources also say that reports of a 10 per cent reduction are high.

In some cases, sources have said, some employees have been transferred to other jobs, and some administrative personnel have been reassigned. Also, the source said, a small number of experts are being brought into the agency.

The CIA staff reductions, informants said, would be phased over a period of time, but there was no indication whether they would continue beyond the fiscal year ending June 30.

This is not the first cutback for the CIA. The first, 10 years ago, was conducted by Director John McCone. Then, during Nixon's first term, cutbacks were ordered by the State and Defense departments in what was called BALPA (Balance of Payments) and OPRED (Operation Reduction).

Committees Voted Funds By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House approved almost $10 million in operating funds for 19 of its committees Tuesday.

The money is for use in connection with committee studies and investigations and approved travel this year. It is in addition to $250,000 each standing committee receives annually for staff salaries.

Larger allotments included $1.8 million for the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, $1.2 million for the Public Works Committee, $1.22 million to the Government Operations Committee, and $1.44 million for the Education and Labor Committee.

Funds for five other committees, including the Internal Security Committee, are scheduled for votes Thursday.

The device was developed by a Los Angeles man, Finley Markley, a former associate physicist at the AEC Argonne National Laboratory, which helped to develop the device.

The device measures two by two by 1/2 inches and, like all artificial kidney machines, passes waste products in the blood through a membrane into specially prepared fluid.

The device is similar to the type that is used for caiking on comically produced sausage.

As with other disposable machines, after one treatment the unit is discarded and replaced by another. The announcement said that, despite its compact size, the unit has a larger membrane area than other disposable devices.

Vernon HUD Explains Denial of Funds

Lack of funds was given as the reason by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)

The town had applied for some $250,000 in federal funds.

Stating he knew the project was important to the town, Thompson expressed regret that his department had been unable to approve the application.

The rejected application asked for funds to purchase about 63 acres of land adjacent to Valley Falls Park.

Suggestions For IRS

With less than a month remaining to get squared away with Uncle Sam, a friend of ours is about ready to climb the wall.
He prepares his own Form 1040 and since he is always short he uses the long form hoping to cut the bite a bit.
The IRS, which he says means individual Revenue Sharing (to the government), has offered to help because some of the private tax helpers may or may not be quite honest. However, there is something about a tax collector which makes him doubt whose best interests the IRS would have at heart.
His wife has offered to help too but our friend took one look at her application of mathematical principles in the family check book and after looking up the mean temperatures for Danbury, Leavenworth and McNeill Island, passed.
Left to his own resources, he is getting an education since the forms have been mystified again and again since he first started making enough to report.
He has come up with the following suggestions for the new IRS director for next year:
First, use bigger print in the instructions so John Q. Taxpayer, who postponed the purchase of deductible bifocals won't be unduly punished for this patriotic gesture.
While recognizing the realities of women's lib, he hopes the IRS will down play references to "married women filing separately" before the gals get the idea, whether they earned anything or not, this will lend some status to their cause.
After revenue sharing with Uncle with each pay check throughout the year, couldn't IRS, especially now that

Art Hoppe

The Great Steak Robbery

Narrator: It was 11:32 a.m. on Tuesday, April 24, 1973, in the heavily-guarded inner sanctum of the First National Butcher Shop, a sweating Belgian expert peered through his loupe at the priceless 205-karat Hope Fillet Mignon—preparing nervously to make all-important first cut.
Unbeknownst to the dignitaries present, the infamous Little Caesar Salade Mob had over powered the security forces outside and were about to pull off the crime of the century.
Accompanying the cigar-chewing Little Caesar were his henchmen: the dapper French burglar, Beau Jodelis; the tiny Japanese inside man, Shirimp Tempura; the Algerian terrorist, Keesa Lurain; and the notorious stranger, Artie (Chokes) Vinagreto.
Little Caesar (kicking the door, chopper in hand): Don't nobody move! Okay, let 'em up, Artie. But not around the neck.
Beau Jodelis (admiring the Hope Fillet Mignon): Mon Dieu, what a gem! It would grace the throat of an empress.
Shirimp Tempura (nodding in awe): Observe the pattern of the grains. See the way the light glimmers on that little silver of...

A Thought For Today

"If there is righteousness in the heart, there will be beauty in the character. If there is beauty in the character, there will be harmony in the home. If there is harmony in the home, there will be order in the nation, and if there is order in the nation, there will be peace in the world."
This is an old Chinese proverb written many years ago but what a volume of thought these words contain.
With conditions in the world as they are in our day, you will occasionally hear some people ask the question, "Why does God let these things go on?" It is not God's will that the world should be as it is. Are not all of the ills and woes of today man-made?
God gave His commandments to Moses and if we honestly tried to live by them, who could argue that this old world would not be a better place to live in.
Let us start to live by the Old Testament and see the change that can come over our world. It applies to the present day just as it did years ago to the Chinese.

Exceller

The editorial by Vermont Royster in the March 17 paper was excellent. You are to be congratulated for publishing it. Rarely has an issue received such one-sided coverage in the press as has the shield law issue.
Adding my own two cents to the debate, I question the legality of allowing the members of the press to keep secret the names of those who would anonymously expose wrongdoing and corruption within the government or anywhere else for that matter. Article VI of the Bill of Rights allows that "In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right...to be confronted with the witnesses against him." This clause is thought to embody the right to attack the veracity of the witnesses and in practice provides the opportunity to cross-examine, under oath.
We are asked to allow the press to keep their sources anonymous. Anonymity is the traditional shield of blackmailers, the Klan, writers of poison-pen letters, and only occasionally a poet.
I am willing, as is Mr. Royster, to risk another 200 years to the first amendment as our shield.
Anonymously, Hill Gallagher 242 Center St. Manchester

'Enriched Rice'

To the editor:
I was panic stricken this week when I learned that our government has removed rice from the grocery shelves. The "instant" varieties are still available but not the old-fashioned, long grained variety which I have been using to make rice pudding for my husband these nearly 32 years of our marriage.
I have tried the "instant" rice for rice pudding, and it was a flop, doesn't come out rich and creamy, like the regular, longer cooking kind.
I discovered by phoning the Office of Consumer Protection, that the government had given an ultimatum to the rice manufacturers: they had 60 days (which expired the end of February) to add vitamins to their rice and label it "enriched rice." They did not comply or haven't as of this date.
Rice pudding has always been my husband's favorite dessert. He goes ecstatic every time I make it and raves to all our friends about my rice pudding, to the point sometimes that I become downright embarrassed. Now I learn that I have been using inferior rice all these years, why it's enough to shatter one's self-confidence.
Rice pudding's been a "thing" with us, whenever I wanted to please or surprise my husband, I always knew a rice pudding would do the trick. His compliments have made me feel like Julia Childs with a halo at times and I've loved him for it. Who among us doesn't love a compliment?
I only hope that this new "enriched" rice-to-be, when thrown at newlyweds, will enrich their marriage half as much as rice pudding of inferior rice has helped cement our many years of marriage.
Sincerely,
Mrs. Evelyn Barracliffe 98 W. Middle Tpke. Manchester

THE SON OF GOD
The next day John saw Jesus coming toward him and said, "Look! This is the Lamb of God who takes away the world's sin!" This is the one I was talking about when I said, "Soon a Man far greater than I am is coming who existed long before me!" I didn't know He was the one, but I am here baptizing with water in order to point Him out to the nation of Israel.
Then John told about seeing the Holy Spirit in the form of a dove descending from heaven and resting upon Jesus.
"I didn't know He was the one," John said again, "but at the time God sent me to baptize, He told me, 'When you see the Holy Spirit descending and resting upon Someone — He is the One you are looking for. He is the one who baptizes with the Holy Spirit.'"
I saw it happen to this Man, and I therefore testify that He is the Son of God. — (John 1:23-34)
God blesses those who obey Him: happy the man who trusts in the Lord. (Proverbs 16:20)

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, March 23, the 82nd day of 1973. There are 283 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1919, Benito Mussolini founded a new political movement in Italy.
On this date — In 1743, a London audience that included King George II heard George Frederick Handel's "Messiah" performed for the first time.
Ma Caroni: Pa's right. Once in a while, something's too big for even us to handle. And today, that's hot meat.
Narrator: It was a gloomy scene that night around the table in the mob's hideaway, the 13th Century Chateau Briand. Caesar's moll, Ma Onassis, sat on the arm of his chair, trying unsuccessfully to cheer him up.
Little Caesar (grimly): We ain't got no choice. Cut up the loot, Artie. We'll eat the evidence.
Ma Onassis (pleadingly): Couldn't I wear mine to the Gala Matzo Ball? It'd knock 'em dead.
Artie (chopping up the meat and frying it): No way, Mae. But his really hurts. I'm vegetarian and I was only in this for money, Pa...
Elliot Locke Nes (bursting in the door, chopper in hand): You're all under arrest!
Little Caesar: You got nothing on us, copper! Just a few little pieces of meat.
Nes (triumphantly): Oh, yeah, Caesar? What jury's ever going to believe in honest men could afford that stuff these days?

OLD CODGER'S CODGATIONS

He Geoffrey Chaucer were here today it would not be necessary for him to hike all the way to Canterbury to get subjects, to write about, from his fellow pilgrims. He would only need to visit the Tonica Spring at Highland Park.
There meet a motley group, friendly because they all seek the same thing and are willing to share it. We never hear anyone complain because they must wait while others fill numerous jugs, jars and bottles. And the friendly chatter must be very much like that of Chaucer's group of wayfarers.
A family formerly of Manchester makes a regular weekly trip now from Springfield Mass. Another car with a trunk full of jugs comes from Hartford. They are apparently Italian and the several kiddies are having a ball getting things back and forth between car and spring to be filled by "Grampa." A wonderful spring!
His patrons all seem to be imbued with a common friendliness. Earstwhile strangers initiate it remarking about the fine quality of the water and the owners' generosity. The only fault finding heard is about those brainless lookers who litter and defile the surroundings.
Only local caterer uses only that water in his business and his coffee.
Carrying his empties toward the spring, O.C. met a man carrying his full ones away. A little dog was waddling along beside him. It seemed to O.C. the pup must be very odd. In developing he had used up all the dimension of length for his body so there was none of it left for his hair.
He had his legs drawn up into his body like a kid hand and coat-sleeves, so it appeared only the feet and ankles were outside.
Once read a rhyme that described it better than we can.

Hebron Bus Costs Reduce Expected School Savings

ANN EMT Correspondent
Tel. 228-3971

Although the administration has cut almost $50,000 from the proposed 1973-1974 Board of Education budget, as directed by the board, over half of the cut has been offset by the addition of $29,926, since the first draft, for transportation in case of double sessions at Rham High School.

The revised total now amounts to $770,338, or $107,331 over the amount budgeted this year. However, the administration bases the increase on what was expended this year and using these figures, the increase amounts to $96,245, because the present budget shows a deficit of a little over $1,000, for a total of $97,471.

According to the administration, using estimated expenditures for this year, not the amount budgeted, the proposed budget represents a 14.7 per cent increase. Six per cent is for increased transportation with 4.4 per cent for additional transportation for Rham-High School, and 1.6 per cent for increased costs in renewing the present transportation contract.

Another 7.4 per cent of the increases is for salaries, or 3.2 per cent for individual increases and 4.2 per cent for additional personnel.

According to these percentages, 3 per cent absorbs any remaining increases. The administration also estimates expenditures for this year, not the amount budgeted, over total increase, after absorbing all of the 8 per cent increase in the town's Grand List and in-lieu of taxes almost $25,000 in increased revenues, the increase amounts to approximately $18,000 or a little over one mill. Cuts

Most of the cuts made by the administration since the first draft of the budget fall under maintenance of the school buildings and capital outlay for site, buildings and equipment. In these two categories alone, $27,475 has been cut.

In addition, almost $12,000 has been cut from salaries and $3,990 from private school tuitions.

Meat Prices

Farmers in town urge any residents who might be interested in learning reasons for the high prices of beef to watch Don Tuttle's RFD # 3 Channel 3, WVIC, tomorrow at noon.

Red Cross Drive Ends March 31

ANNE EMT Correspondent
Tel. 228-3971

The 1973 annual Red Cross Drive for the Columbia-Hebron-Andover Chapter has begun in Andover and will continue through March 31, according to Mrs. Andrew Gasper, a member of the finance committee.

Besides over-all programs such as services to members of the armed forces and veterans, hospital services, blood programs, safety programs and nursing and health programs, contributions locally support the town's swimming and life saving course and first aid courses.

Serving as canvassers for the drive are Mrs. Lucas Moe, Mrs. Monica Langlo, Mrs. David Carr, Miss Marylin Gasper, Miss Laura Taylor, Mrs. William Hegener, Mrs. George Mannon, Mrs. Ray Gardiner, Mrs. Donald Dressel, Mrs. Thomas Lariviere, Mrs. Ronald Krafman, Mrs. Ronald Mooney, Mrs. Thomas Bonneau,

Mrs. Richard Clark, Mrs. Robert Burbank, Mrs. James McNamara, Mrs. Beverly Armstrong, George Neuber, Mrs. Ronald Haveri, Mrs. George Knox, Mrs. Samuel Keller, Mrs. Richard Osborne, Mrs. Paul Marotta, Jr., Mrs. Martin Starin, Mrs. John McGinn, Mrs. Arlene Negro, Mrs. Peter Manoggia, Mrs. Richard Walton, Mrs. Walter Lorenc, Mrs. Gordon MacDonald, Mrs. Ralph Ransom, Mrs. Virginia Donlon, Mrs. Eric Anderson Jr., Mrs. John Harris, Mrs. Robert Hancock, Mrs. Lionel Bernard, Mrs. Mack Moricz, Mrs. Nelson Warner Sr., Mrs. Jack Barton, Mrs. Willard Bessell, George Parks, Mrs. Henry Wolinski, Mrs. John Kostic and Mrs. Clarence Gosz.

Protect Your Child Against Accidental Poisoning

ASPIRIN . . .
... is the most common cause of accidental poisoning. It is found in every home—in the bedroom, the bathroom, the kitchen, and living room. Keep it out of sight and out of reach—even if it has a "safety cap."

HOUSEHOLD PRODUCTS
Read labels before using any household product and follow the directions carefully. These instructions have been written for your protection.

KEEP ALL PRODUCTS IN ORIGINAL CONTAINERS
Never place kerosene, anti-freeze, paints, or solvents in cups, glasses, milk or soft-drink bottles, or other utensils customarily used for food or drinks.

NEVER CALL MEDICINE "CANDY"
Children should not be deceived by having flavored medicines called "candy." When left alone, they may locate the bottle and eat or drink its contents.

DESTROY OLD PRODUCTS
Pour contents down drain or toilet, and rinse container before discarding. Do not put container with its contents into refuse can.

GROWING CHILDREN ARE CURIOUS ABOUT . . .
... things that glitter . . . pretty colored pills . . . bottles and containers of all kinds. These arouse their natural curiosity. If a child is in the crawling stage, arrange to keep household products in places other than below the kitchen sink unless the cabinet is locked. If the child is walking, be certain that bottles and boxes containing medicine or household products are put away before answering the telephone or doorbell. If he is able to climb, find a shelf that is completely beyond his ability to reach, or, better yet, lock these products in a cabinet or closet.

ALWAYS RETURN TO SAFE STORAGE IMMEDIATELY
Never leave a bottle of aspirin or other pills out of place. Return it to a safe place immediately after using.

Coventry CHS Band in Maryland

HOLLY GANTNER Correspondent
Tel. 742-8795

The Coventry High School Band left late last night for the first round of its annual exchange concert, this year with the band at Galtersburg High School in Galtersburg, Md.

The second half of the exchange will take place on March 31, when the Maryland group journeys to Coventry for the weekend, which will include a concert that night at Coventry High School at 7:45.

The "away" half of the event will include a concert tomorrow night in Galtersburg.

When not performing or practicing, the Coventry contingent will be attending some of the various concerts and music festivals, or sightseeing in and around Washington, D. C.

Each group acts as host when its visitors are in town, with the

Coventry Krowka Suspension Will Stand: Dwyer

Vernon Police Chief Edmund Dwyer said today he is standing by his decision concerning suspension of Vernon resident Krowka.

Policeman Robert Krowka and denying the grievance filed by the Police Union on Krowka's behalf.

Krowka was arrested Sunday at the home of Chief Dwyer in connection with the investigation of a disturbance caused when Krowka allegedly went to the chief's home to protest a change in shift from the second to the third and which would be effective this coming Sunday.

Following the alleged disturbance Krowka was charged with breach of peace and disorderly conduct and was suspended from the force until further notice.

In the grievance, the union, an affiliate of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, charges that Krowka was suspended without just cause and without hearing.

Chief Dwyer said the next move will be for Krowka to file a petition with the mayor, if not satisfied with that decision the officer may then go to the Town Council and the final step would be to take it to mediation.

Bolton Michael Grunske Wins Pinewood Derby

DONNA HOLLAND Correspondent
Tel. 646-0375

An aura of high excitement, turning to joy for some, disappointment for others, was evident last night as the fourth annual Cub Scout Pack 157 Pinewood Derby took place.

The grand winner, having the fastest car in the pack, was Michael Grunske.

David Jones, Den 1; Michael Grunske, Den 2; Paul Higgins, Den 3; Jeffrey Warner, Den 4; Michael Maynard, Den 5; Robert Cays, Den 6; and Michael Harpin, Webelos each received a trophy for having the fastest car in his den.

A trophy for having the best designed car was presented to Travis Cassella.

Judges for the event were Charles Minicucci, Trooper Robert Peterson and Warren Potter.

Zone Revision Hearing

A public hearing to consider revisions to the zoning laws, will be held Monday at 8 p.m. at Community Hall.

Zoning Board Chairman Philip Dooley described the proposed changes as "extensive," and said townspeople will have an opportunity to express their opinions on all aspects of the regulations at the hearing.

The changes include protection of the town's natural resources; a public hearing before construction of schools, churches or civic buildings in a residential zone; and increased zoning commission involvement in construction of multiple dwellings.

A copy of the proposed revisions is on file at the town clerk's office.

Commemorative Stamp Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, D-Conn., is calling for a commemorative stamp to honor the founding of agricultural experiments stations in this country in New Haven, Conn., nearly 100 years ago.

The North Haven Democrat said Thursday he had asked the U.S. Postal Service to honor the innovative work of the stations with a centennial stamp in 1975.

Hebron Town To Build Tennis Courts

Bids will be opened April 12 in the Municipal Building for reconstructing two existing tennis courts at Manchester High School and for constructing two new tennis courts at Bennett Junior High School.

The two courts at the high school are the two closest to the school buildings and are not to be confused with the ones nearer to E. Center St.

The two new courts at Bennett will be to the west of the Main Building, on the site of two unused and deteriorated clay-surfaced courts.

The Board of Directors already has approved the work on the four courts, on the basis the cost will be covered by a state grant for 50 per cent of the cost of courts reconstructed last year at Robertson Park and the West Side Oval.

Rep. Hanzalek Named To Group

HARTFORD (AP) — State Rep. Astrid T. Hanzalek, R-Suffield, has been appointed to the Education Commission of the States, a group which serves as a clearing house for information on educational problems.

Mrs. Hanzalek, an assistant majority leader, is a member of the legislature's Education Committee.

The Manchester State Bank has contributed $100 to the Manchester 4-H Clubs to help them defray the expenses of building a float for the sesquicentennial parade in June.

Measles Clinic

A free Measles-Rubella Clinic will be sponsored by the Manchester Public Health Nurses Association May 9 from 9 a.m. to noon and from 5 to 8 p.m. at the KofC Home. The clinic is primarily for pre-school children and those entering school next fall.

However, because of the continuing rise in the incidence of measles in Connecticut, the clinic will accept school children for boosters.

Parents should check with their physicians if their children receive regular medical care.

Names of the 4-Hers should be sent to Mrs. Roberta Gioia, 708 Bush Hill Rd., by the week of April 1. Parents' approval of the float must be obtained.

Art Association To Give Awards

The Manchester Art Association will award two scholarships this year, the annual Art Association Scholarship for members and members children, and the Nora Addy Drake Memorial Scholarship for 1973 area high school graduates.

The memorial scholarship is being given only this year and is in memory of Mrs. Drake, an area artist and member of the Association, who died last fall. Scholarship applications may be obtained at any area high school or at Mary Cheney Library and Whiton Memorial Library. Applications should be sent to the Manchester Art Association, P.O. Box 123, Manchester, no later than April 30. Upon receipt, each applicant will be assigned a number and notified by mail. The assigned numbers are to be shown on portfolios, which will be submitted. The portfolios should include representative work in whatever media the artist uses.

Gardening

with FRANK ATWOOD

June Owen loves house plants and for her they serve two purposes. They add beauty to the Owen home in Vernon and they appear as subjects in the paintings that have brought Mrs. Owen state and national recognition.

The New Britain Museum of American Art is currently holding a one-man show of Mrs. Owen's work, with 22 of her pieces displayed in two museum galleries. The show continues through Sunday, April 1.

The basement studio in the home where Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Owen live with their two daughters has two windows filled with plants. It is on Tumblebrook Dr. Outside there is a view of trees, hills and sky which sometimes appears also in a painting. Coming to the door, one first meets Minty, the family's beagle. Minty lies on the floor in the painting reproduced on this page. This one is a family keepsake, not for sale.

One of the paintings at New Britain, called "Studio, Vernon," bears a close resemblance to what we saw. Another is "Still Life with Delphiniums" including also a spray of heather and some of the foliage plants. One is called simply "Cyclamens" and another is "Geraniums." One is "Potted Plants."

Talbotville Greenhouses are another of Mrs. Owen's favorite subjects. The first of her paintings that came to my attention, in an exhibition a few years ago, was called "Talbotville Greenhouse." It was the greenhouse at Vinton's Garden Center on Tolland Tpk., with plants in hanging baskets and others below them on the greenhouse benches.

Mrs. Owen had just walked in one day and asked if she could make some sketches. Her method is to sketch a scene she likes and to make color prints with a small camera, then work from the drawings, the snapshots and memory, back at her studio for the finished painting. She may not reproduce the scene exactly as recorded on the film. She may leave out something that the camera showed or add something from her own imagination. Her paintings are, she says, "personal statements."

Solid Waste Project Display

Jeff Frislen's independent study project can be seen in the MHS library. It is a research on Manchester's solid waste refuse and recycling concerns. (HSW photo by Segal)

Upeaval, Reversal Or Reform?

The student-faculty administration advisory board recently met to discuss a topic which is extremely complex, re-scheduling at Manchester High. This complexity is basically due to the fact that MHS offers such a flexible and extreme course program when we have only limited space, time, and staff to handle this program. Our system runs with roughly half the courses on a semester basis and the other half on a full-year basis; and it is from recent statistics showed over 1,200 students requested changes their past December and the result was that there were 4,000 course changes. Priority was given to individual course changes among students. Attempts were made to keep most of the students with the same academic areas such as language, science labs and math. However, it was found that 200 students could not get the course requested without changing teachers. Many students who were upset were allowed to try and fling their schedule in order to remain with their first semester teacher, although this was often impossible. Overall, mass confusion and readjustment were the rule, not the exception. Students, administrators, teachers, and especially guidance personnel feel the impact of re-scheduling. A review of the entire re-scheduling process is being undertaken by the guidance staff and the administration in the hope of alleviating the conflicts that have arisen. Presently, departments are planning new curricula for the coming year and are attempting to re-organize and re-evaluate their courses into two semester courses. If the present method of re-scheduling is continued next year, an earlier review of student conflicts and new classes will be taken in December with the hope of relieving the mass traffic jams in the main offices. Also, students would be released a week earlier. However, our flexible program will always create at least mild havoc for certain individuals. There are alternatives to scheduling problems. One would be able to get back to the old system where two-thirds of the courses offered were full year courses and one-third were on a semester basis. More students in certain times and teachers. This approach lends itself to a system in the computer with many full year courses, since there would be very little interchange. Unfortunately, with this system there is less flexibility and less opportunity for the student to gain from a varied curriculum. This system is basically monolithic. Another alternative (pluralistic in nature) is to lean to complete "semesterization" where all courses would be offered for a half year. Present full year courses would have to be broken down into semester courses and new courses objectives would have to be decided whether the Civil War would be offered for a semester of U.S. History; different teachers like to spend more time on different subjects and they don't always end the same period in history. A student entering the second semester of U.S. history has not been left out when she shifts teachers. Semesterization would greatly increase flexibility, but it would not insure the student of having the same initial courses (taught in most colleges) requires that students adjust themselves to a possible change in teachers and class periods. It would be like starting school fresh again in January. Realistically, both alternatives are possible and have many strong points. It just remains a question of the priorities of the students and teachers. Under our present system, students must begin to realize that the school day is eight periods and quite often this concept is misunderstood. Naturally, students would like to get out of school early or come in late, and they are upset with their new schedules when they realize that such un-prescribed privileges have been removed. Not being able to get out of school after 5th period seems to shock many students, but this is an unrealistic attitude. Aside from this, it is generally agreed that the students have to become more aware of their thoughts with the student member of CABE. What's next on the docket? Jeff and Rick are now pushing for student evaluation of teachers both for tenure purposes and as a means of measuring teachers' effectiveness. The "reps" feel that if student opinion augments administrative opinion, a more representative judgment can be made. Students and any other matter. A student suggestion box should be set up in the main office, for written opinions. In the meantime, the Student Assembly Office (next to the auditorium) is open throughout the day and anyone who is inclined can drop a note or suggestion of their just ideas. After a reasonably successful first meeting, Rick and Jeff are anxious to share their thoughts with the student member of CABE. What's next on the docket? I'd Rather Grow A Rose

As I was sitting in the vast wasteland of our scenic cafeteria I was confronted with just one more piece of garbage. A rather shy looking girl finally, after much personal deliberation, approached me with a petition.

Now when it comes to signing petitions I'm somewhat of a school. I'll support just about anything that anyone, anytime, has seen fit to protest. However this cause is where I draw the line. The petition was a little more than ridiculous. It started out: "We, the undersigned" (so good, so far) "do request a certain sexist activity." This statement served to perk up one's attention. From there on, it was all down hill. It seems that modern dance, a physical education course offered to girls is under protest. Are you confused? Well, I don't blame you; I was confused too. After deciphering what was written, it seemed that some of the female pupils feel it is degrading to pretend to be a flower swaying in the breeze! Evidently upon imitating a shaking violet, they looked more like a drooping daisy. Totally disgusted with such a poor performance they sought to protest with dignity. If you can't do an activity, condemn it. The petition stated that modern dance was degrading and should be eliminated or included as a co-educational activity. The protest was quite valid. I suppose that the guys really should not be deprived of the chance to watch a girl. I have a better protest thought, and all those in agreement with me, regardless of sex, can sign my petition. My Petition I, the undersigned, male or female, do protest. I feel that this constant provocation between sexes, constant bickering as to what's right and wrong, and constant discussion as to what's superior to what is pure and simple garbage. I don't want to be more masculine or more feminine. I don't need to be told how to look, what to wear or how to spend my life. Sure, there are problems. Sometimes extremely serious problems. I'm not eliminating anything for one reason or another. Sure, the world is not perfect, but I believe that that is no problem so great and no question so unreasonable that could cause me to lose what I know belongs to me. No activity can be degrading to my mentality, if something is requested of me I will adjust it to suit my needs. Those who simply stand by and feel degraded are greater fools than any for complaining. My life is the only one I have. If you choose to spend your time protesting the ridiculous and accomplishing nothing, I feel great sorrow at the waste of something so precious as time. My time is all I have and I'm going to use it well. All you may ever accomplish is the absolute of drooping daisies. I'd much rather grow a rose. - Bridget Bossley

'Hello, Dolly'

Don't Miss It Saturday nights to see this masterpiece don't give up hope! This year there will be a matinee performance Sunday at 2:15, in addition to the Friday and Saturday evening shows, in response to popular demand. Don't forget! Come tonight, tomorrow night, or Sunday afternoon to see Dolly Levi!

Tribe Opens Practice

Spring is in the air, and baseball players clean the cobwebs from their gloves, then put their names and homerooms on a piece of paper, which says they are officially try-out for the Manchester High School Baseball team. Although practice begins in the gym, spikes are staked and a ball field is dug under their belts. Other returning faces will include Roy, Bill, David, John Berger and Connie McCarty.

As Dolly Levi (Donna Healy) leaves for New York, you can get a preview of the marvelous talent (and scenery) in the production of "Hello, Dolly," which begins at 8 o'clock tonight in Bailey Auditorium at Manchester High School. (HSW photo by Segal)

On Board - Update

"All in favor signify by saying 'aye', those opposed," may be familiar words to members of the Student Assembly, but twice a month they are also heard at meetings of the Manchester Board of Education. And there's a good chance that before an item concerning students at the High School, comes up for a vote, your student representatives in the Board of Education have expressed their own views, the views of the Student Assembly, and opinions of individual students. In order to do so, they've joined a youth branch of CABE (Connecticut Association of Board of Education), which hopes to bring the more than 90 "student reps" together at meetings where common student related issues can be discussed. After a reasonably successful first meeting, Rick and Jeff are anxious to share

Culp, Bolin, Rookie, Impress Sox' Manager

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Veteran Ray Culp shows signs of regaining his old form, Rookie Greg Skok continues to look like a good long shot choice and Bob Bolin keeps rolling along in the battle for pitching jobs with the Boston Red Sox.

Culp and Skok each pitched four innings and Bolin mopped up in decisive fashion Thursday as they combined for a three-hitter in a 9-0 exhibition victory over the Minnesota Twins at Orlando.

"I thought Culp looked much like his old self, even though he had a little trouble pinpointing the corners," Boston manager Eddie Kasko said.

"Any young pitcher like Skok who has a tough job making this club, but if he keeps it up, he'll be with us when we go North. Bolin looked sharp."

Culp, who was the ace of the Boston staff before he suffered a shoulder injury which required extensive surgery last summer, rebounded from a couple of disappointing efforts and blanked the Twins on two hits in the first four innings. He walked five, but struck out three and was tough in the clutch.

A non-roster player, Culp is ineligible to rejoin the Sox until May 15. However, he wants to show what he can do in Florida.

Skok, a 25-year-old left hander, was given a double chance to make the Red Sox staff although he, Tommy Harper, Reggie Smith, Orlando Cepeda and Doug Giffen had two hits apiece.

Cepeda pitched seven innings at first base while hobbling on his bad knees. However, the general consensus was he should have been charged with an error for a ground ball which went for the only hit off Skok.

The Sox headed for Florida's West Coast to take on the White Sox at Sarasota Friday. Lynn McCloughan, Bob Veale, and Ken Tatum were named to pitch against Chicago.

Baseball's Hospital Saga

NEW YORK (AP) — Sudden Sam, Stretch and the Say Hey Kid. The names sound like they might be about to look down each other's girds on some dusty street in the old West. Instead, they're two members of the San Francisco Giants and one ex-Giant, the stars in baseball's continuing saga of General Hospital.

The saga was encouraged Thursday for San Francisco's Sudden Sam McDowell and Willie "Stretch" McCovey but not for Willie "Say Hey" Mays, now playing his trade—or trying to for the New York Mets.

McDowell, a tall left-handed pitcher who earlier in the week had considered retiring because of back pains and arm troubles, worked four innings in bad weather for the Giants' 'B' squad against the Milwaukee Brewers' 'B' unit and said, "There was no pain in the arm or back. I felt good."

The game went seven innings to a 5-5 tie.

"He definitely showed improvement," said Manager Charlie Fox after McDowell pitched three third-inning runs of a scratchy variety. Only one ball was hit hard in the rally.

Neither Mays nor Manager Yogi Berra would comment immediately on the latest development.

Greg Luzinski hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning and a key single in the 10th to pace the Phillies' victory. The Phils tied the game in the ninth on a pinch single by Del Unser and won it in the 10th when Tom Seaver walked, went to third on Luzinski's single and scored on an infield out.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees, who pounded former teammate Stan Bahnen several times last season, did it again Thursday. They blanked Boston 18-1, including homers by Otto Velez and Ron Swoboda, and routed the Chicago White Sox 12-1.

The Pittsburgh Pirates rallied for five runs in the eighth inning and came within one run of beating the Reds in the 10th for an 8-7 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

The Cincinnati Reds wiped out a 3-1 Houston lead when Pete Rose hit a two-run homer and went on to beat the Astros 5-4.

In other games it was Boston 9, Minnesota 6; Baltimore 4, Los Angeles 1; Chicago Cubs 8, San Diego 4; Texas Rangers 5, Atlanta 3; Cleveland 10, Milwaukee 8; Oakland 4, Arizona State 1; Detroit 4, St. Louis 3.

We're Number Two Too, Four Clubs Deadlocked

NEW YORK (AP) — The North Stars and favorite rallying cry of Philadelphia Flyers would sports fans these days is "We're Number One," but the Boston Bruins, New York Rangers, Minnesota prerogative today, since the battles for second place in both divisions of the National Hockey League are deadlocked following Boston's 5-3 victory over Minnesota Thursday night.

Minnesota's 4-1 triumph over Atlanta and Philadelphia's 9-0 pounding of Vancouver.

The World Hockey Association went the NHL one better as Ottawa defeated New England 4-2 and moved into a three-way tie with Philadelphia and New York for third place in the East Division. Elsewhere, Winnipeg clinched the West Division title by tying Alberta 1-1 while Minnesota nipped Chicago 2-1 in sudden death overtime.

Veteran Johnny Bucyk scored twice in the second period as Boston defeated Minnesota in a penalty-filled game and retained lead with New York for second place in the East. The two teams met Saturday in Boston and next Wednesday in New York.

Jean Ratelle scored his 40th goal of the season as the Rangers trimmed Atlanta 2-1. Atlanta's goal came early in the third period and increased the New York advantage to 3-1.

Philadelphia also clinched a playoff berth in the West Division by burying Vancouver and pulling even with Minnesota for second place.

Money Important, Kip Faces Ryun

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I'm running for Kip." The omniscient smile of Kenya's national hero, Kipchoge Keino, one of the brightest lights in sports, is attempting to explain why he turned professional with the International Track Association.

"Before I was representing Kenya. Now I am representing Kip Keino. I cannot serve two masters. My family doesn't like it, but I can't do anything about it. I have to go."

The main reason Kip turned pro: a reported $30,000 bonus to sign with IFA boss Mike "Buz" Szeft. Only two other IFA athletes have contracts like Kip's, Jim Ryan and Bob Segaren.

The money is important, he says, so he can educate his children, four girls and two boys who live with their mother on a farm in Nyeri, 200 miles from Nairobi in the land of his Nandi tribe.

"The public wonders, however, who the real Kip Keino is. He's remembered for the gold medals he won in Olympic competition: at 1,500 meters, beating Jim Ryan in 1968 at high-altitude Mexico City, and the one in the 3,000-meter steeplechase at Munich last year, in a race he never liked. He's remembered for holding the world two-mile record, becoming the second fastest miler (3:53.1) of all time and for finishing his wide grin almost constantly.

"The fact is Kip is one of sport's truly amazing people. He has always worked hard to win but losing never bothered him. "Take part and do your best," he says.

"Doesn't losing bother him?" "When you lose, if you did well, then somebody else did better."

MONTREAL EXPOS

National League East

PROSPECTUS: This may be the year the Expos make their move to fourth place. Not so much to be so good as because everybody else is not getting any better. Rusty Staub is a big locked good first year and should look better, with Tim Lincecum and Jim Bouton, pitching in from regular duty. Pitching is also steadier and even though baseball catching may improve if rookie Jerry Royster can make jump from Quebec. Anyway, a team whose roster lists two Paps (Fitzing and Monaghan), can be expected to be good.

FITCHING: Mike Torres and Bill Stoneman are young and strong. If Pat Jarvis from Atlanta returns to form, manager Gene Mauch will have three out-pitches of a Big Four. Mike Marshall, the thinking man's pitcher, Eddie Murray and rookie Dale Murray are best of rest of staff.

INFIELD: Expos could do worse at first than veteran Ron Fairly. They would, however, like younger men at second to replace human target, Ron Wash. Full time, in the outfield, Mike Boddie, Jr. and Mike are adequate as third. To avoid hurting the feelings of utility men Hector Torres, his 1972 batting average will not be discussed here.

OUTFIELD: The very slighton hit .274 with 14 homers. Expos hope Jose Brera (104 of St. Louis) will hit right in the center. Ron Wash is best of better outfielders; sorry, Boots Day, Clyde Mathone and Jim Feiveson.

CATCHING: Fouts clubbed 16 circuits of Quebec and will take job away from Terry Humphrey. Mike Boddie, Jr. is a .300 and can throw the ball as far as the pitcher's mound.

Predicted Finish: Fourth in East.

Bama Drive Stops Minnesota's Power

NEW YORK (AP) — It was Minnesota's power against Alabama's finesse, the hammer vs. the scalpel. But the handle fell off the hammer and Minnesota got the axe.

The Pittsburg Pirates rallied for five runs in the eighth inning and came within one run of beating the Reds in the 10th for an 8-7 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Win Means Trip to Masters

Brilliant Round—Elder, Could Settle Controversy

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lee Elder says he won't be worried about Augusta, Ga. during today's second round of the $125,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament.

"I won't let it put extra pressure on me. I'll just play the golf I know how to play. But if he does — if he lets the pressure defeat him — he's a very good excuse. He's gaining 98 yards, still a club record."

The controversy arose when he was the innocent center of a racial controversy involving the masters. It's all-white history and the rules of eligibility for several days.

"I would like to go to the Masters," said the 38-year-old, a non-winning regular on the tour since 1968. "But I won't let it make me change my game plan."

Jets' Matt Snell Calls It Quits

NEW YORK (AP) — Matt Snell, veteran fullback of the New York Jets, has announced his retirement from pro football after an outstanding but injury plagued nine-year career.

Snell, 32, was the American Football League's Rookie of the Year in 1964 after gaining 948 yards, still a club record.

He was a prize catch in the war between the AFL and the National Football League that eventually led to a merger, and the Jets obtained the cross-town rival New York Giants for him after he graduated from Ohio State.

His most memorable moment came in the 1969 Super Bowl when he rushed for 121 yards and scored the Jets' only touchdown in a 16-7 upset of the Baltimore Colts.

But he missed much of the 1967 season with torn knee ligaments, suffered a torn Achilles tendon in 1970, a severe knee bruise in 1971 and a ruptured spleen in a game against Miami last Oct. 8. During the past three seasons he appeared in only 12 games.

"Because of the years, injuries and the general wear and tear of pro sports, I feel it is time to move on to other endeavors," Snell said Thursday. "I've had a great career and I don't want anything to detract from it. I came to the realization last fall, when players were visiting me in the hospital, that it was time to call it quits."

Snell is a partner in a restaurant and an East Side restaurateur and is co-director of business development for a suburban bank.

Big O Keeps Bucks on Move

OAKLAND (AP) — Milwaukee Bucks Coach Larry Costello credits Oscar Robertson with helping the Bucks to 11 straight victories.

"Robertson has been great," Costello said after Thursday night's 108-96 victory over the Golden State Warriors. "He's moving the ball and controlling the game."

The triumph in which Robertson made 25 points, was the fifth for Milwaukee in six meetings with the Warriors this season.

The Bucks-Warriors game was the only one in the National Basketball Association Thursday night.

Curtis Perry, who scored 16 for Milwaukee, said, "We won because of good team defense. We shut off Rick Barry and Jeff Mullins inside."

Barry and Mullins, Golden State's two top scorers, scored only one point each in the first half and missed all 11 shots they attempted from the floor.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar was high for Milwaukee with 27 points and Cazzie Russell had 23 for the Warriors.

The only two American Basketball Association games, Carolina blasted Dallas 137-117 and Utah beat Virginia 134-92.

The Cougars moved another step closer to their first American Basketball Association title with a victory over the Chaparrals.

Joe Hamilton and Larry Jones had 28 and 26 points respectively.

The Stars also closed in on the Western Division title with a 18-point pasting of the Squires.

Carolina led all the way, building up a 18-point margin late in the first period and ran the lead up to 28 points, midway in the fourth period at 120-92.

Joe Caldwell topped Carolina scorers with 22 points and Mack Calvin had 21, Steve Jones 18 and Billy Cunningham 16.

REAL ESTATE CORNER
by Ralph A. Paeek
Don't wait - buy a house now! . . . If you're in need of a home but hesitating with the hope that interest rates will go higher, you might want to consider one major bank's analysis of why it could be cheaper, all told, to buy now rather than wait. . . . For example: A house that costs $25,000 with a 25-year mortgage at 7 1/2%, could be financed for $136,720 monthly. But two years from now, if home prices keep rising at the average rate over the past five years, the new $25,000 house would likely cost $28,000, and even 6 1/2% interest would bring monthly payments to $141.80, while at 7 1/2% the payments would come to $155.19. . . . Something to consider, wouldn't you say? . . .

McKinney Seeks Easing of New Postal Rates
WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. Rep. Stewart B. McKinney, R-Conn., says a bill he is introducing today would give second class mail users twice the time to pay for recent postal rate increases.

Without such a measure, he said, some magazines, especially those with a small circulation, may be forced to cease publication because of the postal rate increases.

Under the bill, second class users would be allowed to pay for the increases over a 10-year period instead of the current five years.

McKinney said the measure also would allow publications with circulation under $20,000 to pay only one-third of the rate increases.

"I'm certain that unless Congress acts favorably on this measure, magazines with 250,000 circulation or less will encounter a real crisis in surviving in the coming years," McKinney said in a statement.

McKinney, who is co-sponsoring the bill with U.S. Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., said the measure would also provide relief to non-profit magazines, which are faced with 400 to 600 per cent increases. He said any rate increases for these magazines would be equally shared by the publisher and the consumer.

Customers Close Up Market

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - His customers closed down Ed Carroll's J&H Market, Portland's only horsemeat store.

They bought so much horsemeat Carroll couldn't keep up with the demand.

"They're working me to death," Carroll said. "I had to get my sister and two high school kids to come down and help out."

It began when Portland's morning paper, the Oregonian, ran a front page story about one of Carroll's customers, Mrs. Edward Rooney, who had been serving her husband horsemeat for three years without telling him.

As Carroll sees it, many who were willing to buy horsemeat especially during the current cost of other meats - didn't know until they read the Oregonian's story that it was available.

Carroll isn't shut down for good. He plans to reopen March 26.

George Haag, manager of Horsemeat Packer, Inc., in Hubbard, Ore., says he's ready to cope with Carroll's needs when the store reopens.

"He's got the inside track," Haag said.

Passing Up No Bet

HARTFORD (AP) - Frank H. Smith received a letter recently from state Sen. John F. French saying he had just learned of your release from a successful tour of active duty.

The major general expressed the hope that the letter "will serve to remind you that the honor you acquired need not be lost because the Connecticut National Guard can use your experience right here at home."

Smith, 74, was discharged in December 1914, a month after the armistice ending World War I.

George Haag, manager of Horsemeat Packer, Inc., in Hubbard, Ore., says he's ready to cope with Carroll's needs when the store reopens.

"He's got the inside track," Haag said.

South Windsor Sprenkel Asks $3,420,434 For General Government

A general government budget of $3,420,434, reflecting a 1.25 decrease in mill rate, has been recommended to the Town Council by Town Manager Terry Sprenkel of South Windsor.

In his message accompanying the proposed budget, Sprenkel explained that a combination of Revenue Sharing funds resulted in his being able to present the budget reflecting the tax decrease.

He explained that operation of the general government will require $24,617 less than raised last year by property taxes. However, he noted that the proposed gross budget reflects an overall increase when compared to last year's budget proposal of $2,265,418.

Sprenkel explained that Revenue Sharing funds totaling $115,265 have been directly applied to the operating expenses of several of the town departments.

These departments include libraries, Public Health Nursing, recreation, fire department, Community Services Council and the microfilming of town records.

According to Sprenkel, department requests received by him totaled $3,768,288 and he cut the requests by $395,774. He said the budget proposal was written in anticipation of a $6,300,000 increase in the Grand List which is expected to total $118,000,000.

Sprenkel has also recommended a 100 per cent increase in the funds for highway construction programs. This amount would be $253,000 and an additional clerk-typer at the Town Hall and a social services advisor for the proposed new Department of Social Services as well as a part-time library page.

Police Report

Alan H. Goldstein of Cook Hill Rd., Columbia, was charged with failure to grant half the highway Wednesday in connection with an accident on McKee St. south of W. Center St. when his car, southbound, struck northbound vehicles driven by Ruth Brennan of 28 Campfield Rd., and Carol A. Buccino of School Rd., Bolton. The accident occurred at 3 p.m. Goldstein is scheduled to appear in Circuit Court at Manchester April 9.

Cars driven by Paul A. White of Coventry and Charles Forica of 127 School St. collided yesterday at 8:45 a.m. on Center St. near Love Lane when White signaled for a left turn and pulled to the right, according to police, and was struck in the rear.

Cars driven by Richard Stebbins of Plainville and Harvey E. Fortier of East Hartford collided Thursday at 9:17 a.m. on Center St. east of Trout St. when Stebbins pulled from the curb into the traffic lane, police report.

Vehicles driven by Robert D. Jensen of West Hartford and Peter A. Bull, of Rockyville operation," said McCord, a long-time former agent for the Central Intelligence Agency. "I know for a fact it was not," he added calling attention to the fact that four of the other defendants are of Cuban background and participated in the Bay of Pigs invasion of 1961.

McCord was the former security chief of President Nixon's re-election committee. Liddy and McCord were convicted Jan. 30 of conspiracy, burglary and illegal wiretapping after a 15-day trial.

Their co-defendants who pleaded guilty at the trial's start, were E. Howard Hunt, a former White House consultant and CIA agent; Bernard L. Barker, 55, of Newington; and Virgilio R. Gonzalez, 46, of the latter four all are from Miami, of Cuban background and had worked with Hunt in the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion.

Sentenced To Jail

WASHINGTON (AP) - G. Gordon Liddy, 42, described as the mastermind of the Watergate bugging, was sentenced today to serve up to 20 years in prison and pay a $40,000 fine.

The letter was read in open court by Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, sentencing the seven men, five of whom pleaded guilty in the case and two of whom were convicted after trial.

The letter came as an apparent surprise to McCord's

Foxgrove Developer Builds First Models

The first model homes in an $18.7 million, 375-lot subdivision off Keeney St. will be ready for public inspection between April 15 and May 1, according to developers of the housing project.

The single-family homes, to be built at the rate of 100 to 120 a year, will be either raised ranch or colonial styles. Home buyers will have a choice of nine exteriors, according to the developers, and all of the houses have four or five bedrooms.

The homes are being built on a 270-acre tract on the west side of Keeney St., formerly the Fox Grove golf course. The developer is a new firm, Foxgrove Ltd., headed by a New York developer.

Four model homes are now under construction at the site, and full-scale construction is expected to start in mid-April. Foxgrove will employ a total of 700 to 750 persons on the development, with 200 to 350 people working at any one time.

Foxgrove Ltd. was created earlier this month to handle the housing project, and many of the details in the firm haven't yet been worked out.

Foxgrove is headed by Enril Ramet of Rockland County, N.Y., who was President of a large New York development corporation last year. His Partner in the venture is Bernard Waldman, president of the Stoneham Construction Co. of West Hartford.

Stoneham bought the subdivision land from Sol Lavitt last November. Lavitt had previously bought out his Partner, local developer James McCarthy.

Banks, Packers

The council expects such decreases to be passed through the distribution chain to the ultimate consumer," Dunlop said.

The regulation previously had applied to meat packers with more than $50 million in annual sales and the new order extended it to virtually all meat packers.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said Thursday that consumer boycotts against high costs may have contributed to the decline in wholesale meat prices.

Stein predicted the rate of increase in food prices, which was 2.2 per cent in February alone, will decline to an annual rate of 2.5 per cent or less by December. He said this would be an acceptable increase because real wages should be increasing faster.

"It is only when they hit 2.5 per cent in a month that everybody knows there is a food crisis," he said.

UAW Seeks 30 And Out Retirement

DETROIT (AP) - United Auto Workers demands for a "30 and out" retirement plan will be teamed with a $650 per month pension, UAW President Leonard Woodcock has promised.

The retirement plan and the accompanying pension have top priority here as UAW delegates meet to decide what demands they will present in upcoming contract talks with the Big Three automakers.

The "30 and out" proposal would allow an assembly plant worker to retire after 30 years of employment, regardless of his age. The demand also would allow retirement for foundry workers after 25 years.

Bicycle Safety Road Test

Friday morning Verplanck School students took part in a bicycle safety road test on the school's road, Cedar St. The ride was sponsored as a part of the bicycle safety program that has been recently launched in most Manchester grade schools under the direction of the Bicycle Safety Committee, a sub-committee of the Public Safety Advisory Committee. The ride was led by Mrs. Malene Donnelly (not shown) with Kim Shifer, a fifth grade teacher at Verplanck, bringing up the rear for safety's sake.

Bugging Case Takes New Twist

WASHINGTON (AP) - The six Watergate conspirators still awaiting sentencing are under new pressure to tell what they know about the bugging of Democratic party headquarters and other political espionage.

James W. McCord Jr., former security chief of President Nixon's re-election committee, said he will disclose new facts to the trial judge next week in hopes for a lighter sentence.

McCord charged there was perjury in the trial where he was convicted with G. Gordon Liddy, a top Nixon cabinet official, and political pressure was brought on the defendants "to plead guilty and remain silent."

Liddy was sentenced Friday by Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to a prison term of 30 years. McCord's sentencing was delayed for one week. The final sentence for the others will be imposed after three months in which they can testify before a grand jury and Senate investigators.

"I recommend your full cooperation with the grand jury and the Senate Select Committee," Sirica told the five defendants who pleaded guilty at the start of the Watergate trial.

"You must understand that I hold out no promises or hopes of any kind to you in this matter, but I do say that should you decide to speak freely, I would have to weigh that against the raising what sentence will be finally imposed in each case."

The five are E. Howard Hunt, a former CIA agent who lives in the Washington area, the others are from Miami.

State Blue Law Change Offered To Lawmakers

HARTFORD (AP) - You can buy an antique table on Sunday in Connecticut but you're not supposed to buy a new one.

You can go to an X-rated movie but buying a book is technically against the law.

And the Connecticut General Assembly is renewing its annual quest to see if the controversial and widely-ignored "blue laws" that govern Sunday retailing should be changed.

The Sunday closing laws are a legacy from the 17th century that represent "a bridge-peddle to the living or the dead," Meyer Dorn of West Hartford told lawmakers Friday at a state Capitol hearing. He urged "a quick burial to the King's laws."

Rep. Albert Webber, D-New Haven, told the committee that the American shopping pattern has changed and that Sunday has become a major shopping day.

A religious argument against the laws came from Seventh-day Adventist Elder Melvin Adams of Washington, D.C. He said the laws serve the customs of some religions but discriminate against Seventh day Adventists, who hold religious observances on Saturday.

The present Sunday closing laws state that any person who sells general merchandise on Sunday is subject to a $50 fine.

Excluded from the merchandise category are dairy and fresh agricultural products, fruits, confectionary and horticultural items, tobacco and smokers' supplies, ice, ice cream, non-alcoholic beverages, newspapers and magazines, drugs and medical supplies and

Storms Hit Nation's Midsection

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes, hail and violent thunderstorms whipped across Texas today, and the spinnoff from the storm dumped heavy rain and snow across the nation's midsection.

The National Weather Service reported all six states nationwide hoppedscotched across northwest and southeast portions of Texas. Some property damage was reported from hail nearly two inches in diameter and winds up to 58 miles per hour.

Estimates of damage were not immediately available. There were no reports of injuries.

Oil Import Limitations Liberalized

WASHINGTON (AP) - With a warning of possible gasoline shortages this summer, the government has eliminated limits on imports of foreign oil for hardship cases.

A White House spokesman Friday said the move was intended to give a break to independent petroleum operators. The announcement from the White House coincided with a warning from the Office of Emergency Preparedness of possible gasoline shortages this summer.

Durrell M. Trent, acting director of OEP, said, "Unless gasoline production is increased in the consumer demand lessens, spot shortages could occur."

Many independent refiners and dealers purchase their crude oil or finished products on the open market from the major producers.

When oil supplies run short, the majors fill their own needs up. They were asked to send representatives to Washington Monday to discuss their actions with Frank A. Burt, chairman of the administration's Committee on Interest and Dividends. Other banks were summoned earlier.

Some Banks Resisting Jawboning

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite administration jawboning, some more banks have raised their prime rate. A few institutions have refused to increase their prime rate and returned to lower rates.

The Chemical Bank of New York and First National Bank of Chicago increased their prime rate to 10 1/2 per cent, a charge on loans for preferred customers from 8 1/2 per cent to 9 1/2 per cent.

They were asked to send representatives to Washington Monday to discuss their actions with Frank A. Burt, chairman of the administration's Committee on Interest and Dividends. Other banks were summoned earlier.

Viet Releases Conditional List Of POWs

SAIGON (AP) - The United States announced today it has received a list of 23 American prisoners from the Viet Cong but indicated that new conditions attached to their release "appears to set forth conditions, some of which are not in accordance with the agreement and the protocols" of the Jan. 27 cease-fire.

The spokesman emphasized that Brig. Gen. John A. Wickham, head of the American delegation to the four-party Joint Military Commission said that a letter accompanying the list "appears to set forth conditions, some of which are not in accordance with the agreement and the protocols" of the Jan. 27 cease-fire.

The spokesman said the list included 23 American prisoners held by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong could begin Monday if the conditions are met.

Wetlands Act Changes Sought

The State Department of Environmental Protection, recognizing problems with the Inland Wetlands and Water Courses Act, will seek changes in the act in the current General Assembly, Manchester Mayor John Thompson reported today.

The changes were mentioned at a Wednesday meeting of the Connecticut Conference of Mayors, Thompson said, and included:

- Extension of the Jan. 1, 1974 deadline for local implementation of the wetlands act to July 1, 1974.
- Clarify the "taking" of land provision and make it the state's responsibility in the event of lawsuit brought by a disappointed land owner.
- Clarify notification of the designation of wetlands to local assessors.

The wetlands act, approved by the General Assembly last May, is essentially a piece of enabling legislation which would allow strict control over land inventoried as wetlands or water courses.

The act authorizes municipalities to designate an executive committee member, put it another way: "This was a magnificent meeting because everybody goes away mildly dissatisfied."

At its two-hour session, the executive committee rejected at least two Strachan choices. Philadelphia Democratic leader Peter Camille and Utah Wayne Black, and picked a list that included a black, a Mexican-American and a pro-Governor leader.

Earlier, old-line party leaders failed in a bid to remove more reform-minded members of the executive committee after the legislative changes are made.

Mayor Thompson has recommended, in the meantime, that the Board of Directors appoint an "Advisory Com-

Demo Session Ends Amicably

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Democrats have concluded an amicable series of meetings that resulted in a series of compromises for party positions and saw rival factions each get some satisfaction.

Despite several rebuffs in the selection of six members Friday afternoon for the party's executive committee, chairman Robert S. Strauss told reporters he was pleased. "I had a big day today and I know it," he said.

Alabama's Democratic chairman Robert Vance, an executive committee member, put it another way: "This was a magnificent meeting because everybody goes away mildly dissatisfied."

At its two-hour session, the executive committee rejected at least two Strachan choices. Philadelphia Democratic leader Peter Camille and Utah Wayne Black, and picked a list that included a black, a Mexican-American and a pro-Governor leader.

Solid Waste Disposal Plan Objections Aired At Hearing authority might by administrative regulation require participation by cities which already had waste disposal systems geared to their own needs, he said.

The system also would depend on "an as yet undeveloped market for recycled waste materials...to hold down user costs," he said. If the market doesn't materialize and if construction costs are higher than expected, the fee charged to municipalities can "go up and in turn be passed on," property owners he added.

Sullivan also said the authority should be required to return any profits from the system to the municipalities in the form of reduced fees.

The solid waste authority is simply an attempt to substitute authority for planning," said Joe Schiavone, president of the Resource Recovery Through Recycling Institute, a non-profit association of secondary materials dealers in Connecticut.

He recommended that discussion of the authority be postponed until the legislature approved a state solid waste plan. The bill does not require such approval.

At present, Schiavone said, there is no technology available to do economically what the authority wants to do.

The bill calls for the sale of $250 million in bonds to build the recycling plants. The first probably would be ready in 3-5 years.

Sen. Anthony M. Clorione, D-New Haven, said the bill didn't include adequate safeguards against unlimited state funds going to the authority.

Sen. Joseph I. Lieberman, D-New Haven, said he questioned the authority's power of eminent domain, its apparent power to let "no-bid" contracts and what he considered inadequate representation on its board of directors.

The bill calls for an eight-member board of four persons appointed by the governor plus the commissioners of Transportation and Finance and Control and the Executive Director of the Connecticut Development Commission.

Lieberman urged the committee to hold off approving the bill during this session of the General Assembly.

Dañ W. Lufkin, state environmental commissioner, defended the bill as urgently needed and said the authority would achieve the greatest results in the shortest time with the least amount of money.

He said he would offer amendments to meet some of the objections to the bill.
