March Building At $1.2 Million

The estimated cost of Manchester construction for which permits were issued last month totaled $1,269,344, according to a report by the building inspector's office. The sum was $100,000 more than last month's total of $1,169,344.

The report for March last month listed 10 single-family dwellings; 2 two-family dwellings; 1 tool shed; 5 signs; a theater marquee ($7,000); 2 Burr Corners; 4 truckloads, including 2 industrial buildings on Progress Dr. at $120,000 each, and a $90,000 building adjacent to Pilgrim Mills on Oakland St.; 4 fences; and 4 demolitions.

Also, 7 affidavits (additional costs for permits issued previously); 74 electrical permits for a $211,629 total; 67 plumbing permits; 58 heating permits; 25 certificates of occupancy; and 30 alterations to existing buildings, including a $120,000 addition for Mail Tool on Adams St.

In addition, 50 permits were issued, at a fee of $5 each, for the removal of abandoned vehicles.

Darrell M. Trent, acting director of the president's Office of Emergency Preparedness, Thursday said gasoline inventories dropped to 212 million barrels and added that U.S. refinery operations last week dropped to 88.7 per cent of capacity.

He said there is "an extremely tight inventory situation" developing on the East Coast and in Texas and Louisiana Gulf Coast areas where gasoline stocks last week were 15 per cent below a year ago.

"If significant localized shortages and market disruptions are to be minimized, it is imperative that refineries increase production to a level closer to operating capacities and to concentrate a larger share of the yield to gasoline," he said.

Federal Library Fund Cut Termed 'Catastrophic'

HARTFORD (AP) — President Nixon's plan to eliminate federal funding for libraries was termed "catastrophic," according to John Short, chairman of the state Library Advisory Council.

In a statement, Short warned that "the imminent cutoff of federal funding for public libraries will severely curtail library services to every adult and child in the state."

He noted that this far, "local officials have not allocated any significant amount of current revenue sharing money to operate libraries." Short also pointed out that "libraries are not included in the President's proposal for special revenue sharing for education, the Better Schools Act."

Since most federal money for libraries is paid directly to the towns, Short predicted that many communities soon will find themselves in a "double bind." They will "lose revenues for special services" as well as specialized assistance from the state library which also faced with federal funding cutbacks, he said.

At a time when library services are needed more than ever as a backup for schools, he explained, the towns will be forced to rely on strained local resources.

"The towns simply do not have the money to keep up with the large numbers and varieties of books and information their adult and student populations require," he said.

Blaze Causes Smoke Damage At New Herald Heads Emblem

A wastebasket fire caused some smoke damage Thursday afternoon at the Herald's new 10 Steiger Ave. office.

The blaze, which apparently started when a visiting equipment repairman emptied his pipe into a wastebasket, was put out by Herald personnel using a fire extinguisher.

Town firemen, called to the Herald office, at 3:40 p.m., used fans to rid the office area of the large clouds of smoke. The smoke was probably caused by chemically treated paper in the wastebasket.

Other town fire calls included: Thursday, 8:18 p.m. — False alarm at Box 28 (Hidge and Cedar Sts.).
Today, 8:42 a.m. — Order of smoke reported at 146 Maple St., no fire.

The Manchester Square Dance is scheduled for Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Manchester High School.

Vernon Council To Act On Sewer Vote

The Town Council will consider an ordinance on a proposed $10 million sewer referendum at its April 16 meeting and set a date for a public hearing before going to referendum.

Some $8 million of the amount is a previously estimated cost of a new sewage treatment plant. A new estimate is expected to be given later this month. The rest of the amount will be for sewer lines in the Rock Hill and Overbrook Heights areas.

The good news is that the actual cost to the taxpayers will only be about $1 million because the new treatment plant will be built mostly with federal funds. The homeowners who are serviced by the sewer lines pay for them through a special user charge.

The town has been ordered by the state to build the new plant to abate pollution of the Hockamock River. The Town Council several months ago approved a new treatment method. The pollution stemmed mostly from the type of industrial wastes going into the system.

Streets to be sewered under the proposed plan will include Rock Hill, Berkley Rd., a portion of Box Mt. Dr., Rosewood Dr., Tunnel Rd. (a section of which is already sewered), Montauk Dr., Hubbard Dr., a portion of Phoenix and Washington Sts., and a section of Warren Ave.

Also to be sewered are Sunset Dr., Pleasant View Dr., Overbrook Rd., Kenwood Rd., Fernwood Rd., and Riverside Dr. in the Overbrook Heights area.

Several homeowners in the Tumblebrook Dr., Deerfield Dr. and Trout Stream Dr. area have petitioned for sewers as have residents of the Meadowlark Rd. area. While the council intends to eventually sewer the entire town the mayor explained that those ordered to be done, by the state, have top priority. The Overbrook Rd. area will be the next to be considered.

Several areas have petitioned for sewers, in some cases the lines have been installed and then some of the residents did not want to pay the cost to tie-in.

Most sales remained off in most parts of the nation with some price reductions by retailers, but there was no general drop in prices.

An Associated Press spot check on Monday and again on Thursday showed only scattered changes.

The boycott continued to take its toll of layoffs at meat packing houses, and livestock markets reported trade was generally light.

Leaders of the boycott have announced plans to meet in Washington next Wednesday to discuss future moves.

One of the directors of Fight for Inflation (FIT), the organization that sparked the boycott, said the group will ask members to contact their congressmen expressing support for what he said is a recommendation by the House Banking and Currency Committee that meat prices be rolled back to the Jan. 10 level.

FIT plans to boycott meat on Tuesdays and Thursdays, with other week-long boycotts called as necessary.

Ethel Rosen of the Women's War on Prices in Chicago said her group is urging consumers to continue the boycott on Tuesdays and Thursdays, with other week-long boycotts called as necessary.

In Louisville, Ky., Patty Twyman, leader of that city's boycott action, called for a one-week extension of the boycott.

"The farmer answered our boycott by withholding his livestock from the market, now we're answering him with our own holding action. We'll see who can hold the longest," she said.

Linda Akulian, policy board member of the Consumer Federation of California in San Francisco, said her group would adopt a no-meat-on-Tuesdays-and-Thursdays-only policy because one of the victims of the boycott has been the meat cutters.

Ferns said if there isn't any positive action by the government, wholesalers, and retailers, the CFC and San Francisco area consumers group will unite in a total meat boycott beginning May 1 until prices are brought back to levels seen in 1967.

Twelve boycott organizers from Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine met in Manchester to discuss the boycott for reduced meat

Tolland Okays Addition To School Plant

Plans for the $1.8 million Tolland Middle School addition were unanimously approved by a 69-0 vote at last night's town meeting — despite this week's last minute confusion over the school's septic fields.

The addition is the first school construction project to receive taxpayer approval in the area during the past couple of years.

The approval was granted without discussion, and no reference was made to the Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) disapproval of the plans Monday night, or the subsequent investigation of the school's leeching fields.

Included in the addition are a gym; home economics; industrial arts; art and science facilities as well as five classrooms.

The school is currently overcrowded with approximately 900 students enrolled in the school.

Next year's incoming fourth grades will add a net increase of about 50 youngsters to the current enrollment.

It is hoped that four of the new classrooms will be ready for use by mid year to relieve the overcrowding.

Meskill 'Raids' New York For New Business

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Thomas J. Meskill of Connecticut, leading a delegation of 40 industrialists from his state into New York City, has urged corporations to leave the city and relocate in what he called "the good life" of Connecticut.

A city official quickly responded that life was good here and business was better.

Meskill's public selling points in the Friday visit included lack of a state income tax in Connecticut, the presence of an expanding labor pool still running at a 6 per cent unemployment rate and the chance to work in what he called "a good lifestyle to live and raise a family."

The Republican governor denied reports that he was attempting to "raid" the city, but Ken Patton, Mayor John V. Lindsay's Economic Development Administrator, didn't agree.

"It does not serve much of a purpose for neighbors to come from about 9 per cent to about 6 per cent in Connecticut, but he added that 22,000 new jobs must be created each Friday night that keep up with the present unemployment rate."

"My kids are doing all right living in the Park Slope section of Brooklyn," Meskill added. "As for business, New York City is the incubator of business for the whole nation."

Meskill was asked if his group perhaps had "hinted" that New York presented disadvantages for living as he praised his own state.

"We don't feel hints are necessary to do so," Meskill said. "I'm going to get out of town right after this news conference."

Rockies Blanketed By Snow

A flash-flood watch was issued for Mississippi where floods already have caused an estimated $120 million in damages and forced the evacuation of 800 homes.

At St. Louis, the river crest earlier than expected and the pressure shifted downstream from Arkansas to Louisiana. The Mississippi and its tributaries have backed up into low-lying areas and are putting pressure on the levee system at many points.

State highland areas east of the Continental Divide from the Canadian border to northern Colorado are east into Minnesota. The storm system turned to rain from the northern Mississippi Valley to the lower Great Lakes region.

A heavy-snow warning was posted for eastern and northern Wyoming, Colorado and Wyoming.

The sun shines through cloudy skies over flood-ravaged West Altan, Mo., perhaps signaling the start of lower water levels in the Mississippi River area. (AP photo)

Utilities Ask PUC For Rate Increases

HARTFORD (AP) — Two Connecticut power companies, blaming rising costs and a need to show a profit in order to attract new capital, have filed for their second rate increase in a little more than a year.

An Hartford-based citizen interest group, blaming the companies' own policies for their need for more funds, plans to continue its legal battle against rate increases for the two Northeast Utilities subsidiaries.

The HELCO request, if granted in full, would mean an electric bill increase of 2.2 cents per yard for customers using 6,000 kilowatt hours of electricity per year for cooking and other uses. Electric heating customers using 20,000 kilowatt hours per year would pay an annual increase of $13.00.

The companies said in statements issued Friday that their new need for funds resulted largely from the increased cost of materials for new construction programs to keep pace with the demand for power and the need to show a healthy profit in order to attract new capital.

Northeast Utilities had a 24 per cent rise in profits for the year ending Feb. 28. A spokesman said the profit rise was not really as large as it seemed because of nonutility increases in earnings two years ago and uncertain years ahead.

Steele Proposes Stiffer Penalties For Drug Violators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert H. Steele, R-Conn., introduced legislation Friday calling for mandatory 5-to-10-year prison terms for public officials convicted of conspiring to protect or participate in illicit drug trafficking.

The measure, which also would set mandatory 10-to-20-year terms for nonpublic officials convicted of similar offenses, was introduced only two days after a Maryland legislator was charged with covering up a drug-trafficking case.

The bill would limit eligibility for parole and other leniency measures into effect immediately. Steele served 75 per cent of a sentence and would prohibit probation or suspended sentences.

Military Action Option List Given Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked for and received from the Pentagon a list of possible military actions to back up his warnings to the North Vietnamese for cease-fire violations, says Deputy Secretary of Defense William P. Clements Jr.

"We'll be there, one way or another," Moffett said. "You can count on us."

HELCO and CLP asked the PUC Friday to let them put 50 per cent of their proposed increases into effect immediately. They would refund the additional money they collect if

'Some Facts'

General Thieu, South Vietnam's client dictator, was in the U.S. as a guest of President Nixon. The subject of his trip was the continuation of funds, weaponry, and military power to protect his dreadfully unpopular regime. Now, let us look at some facts.

Misleading

The headline in the April 3rd newspaper is indeed misleading. It reads: Message from 'Cut Tax Rate.' Clear to whom? Perhaps to an editor with ultra-microscopic eyes.

Otherwise the emphasis is on the opinions of 10 people who spoke in favor of this idea. It is estimated that approximately 50,000 people live in the White House area.

The real loss is that the White House is not the political desire of administration opponents to fade away by the opposition, but other casualties may follow.

The real loss is that we believe J. Patrick Gray has become the first political casualty of the Watergate Affair. We fear that unless the administration recognizes this, it cannot and will not be allowed to fade away by the opposition, but other casualties may follow.

Haldeman's Revenge

WASHINGTON — The morale of Dr. Henry A. Kissinger's second Nixon administration, the White House domestic staff has produced three undersecretaries, six assistant secretaries, six members of presidential commissions and over 20 deputy assistant secretaries.

The sense of persecution is well-founded and its symbol is undeniable: National Security Council (NSC) staffers are not given the perquisites of other White House aides. More important, Kissinger's men are members of a special White House underclass.

At that, Vaky fared better than another brilliant Foreign Service officer, Soviet expert Helmut Sonnenfeldt, who has been Kissinger's invaluable lieutenant in the SALT negotiations. Sonnenfeldt, ostracized by both the Defense and State Departments, is without a new assignment at this writing — and Haldeman has refused to intervene in his behalf.

Fred Rondon, Kissinger's top staffer for Africa and the UN, is being exiled by the State Department bureaucracy to the political section in Lima, Peru.

Kissinger's men can easily bear such minor indignities. What has really damaged their morale is the vivid contrast between what is happening to their careers and those of Mr.

The Bible Speaks

By Eugene Brewer

Jesus said, "Behold I stand at the door and knock; if anyone opens the door, I will come in . . ." Rev. 3:20.

A minister once took a month's rent money to the home of a desperately poor woman. He knocked repeatedly but received no answer. The next day he returned, knocking on doors and windows until he timidly opened the door. She was fearful it was the landlord, she explained, for he had come and knocked the previous day.

The minister explained how he had visited the day before, with money for her rent. Ruthlessly she said, "It was my Lord who sent you, and I would not let you in."

How often we deprive ourselves of life's richest blessings by fearfully refusing our Lord entrance into our hearts. He does not tap lightly once and leave, but neither will he make a forcible entry.

Gay Brewer Man Feared In Masters Final Half

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — When Gay Brewer seizes the green—the color of U.S. currency and also the color of the Masters' jacket—he says all sorts of things happen.

The adrenalin starts flowing," the 41-year-old veteran says. "I get nervous and excited. I concentrate more. My swing improves. I hit with greater ease."

Brewer was the man most feared as the 37th Masters Golf Tournament went into its last-half showdown today with a four-way tie at the head of the elite pack and defending champion Jack Nicklaus' putter sputtering.

Nicklaus stumbled to a fiveover-par 77 that left him five shots back of Brewer, and a trio of other top regulars tied at 141—Tommy Aaron, Bob Dickson and J. C. Sneed. But the big move was made by Brewer, who stormed back from an opening 75 with a brilliant skunker-par 66 that allowed him to pick up 11 shots on the heavily favored Nicklaus, bidding for his fifth Masters crown.

Brewer's surge was all the more remarkable when one considers that this time a year ago he was in an Augusta hospital fighting a gastric ulcer.

Going into today's third round, only five other players besides the four leaders were under Augusta's par and five were even. Puerto Rico's Chi Chi Rodriguez, chipping in for birdies on the final two holes and using only 22 putts, was a shot out of the lead with 72-70; Grier Jones, 71-72; Britain's Peter Oosterhuis, 73-70, and Masashi "Jumbo" Ozaki, the long-hitting former baseball player from Tokyo, 69-74, all tied at 143.

The even par 144 group included four stalwarts Gardner Dickinson, 74-70; Jim Jamieson, 73-71; Mason Rudolph, 72-72; young John Miller, 75-69; and New Zealand's left-handed Bob Charles, 74-70.

Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino, who leads the year's money-winning parade with more than $100,000, were hanging on at 149.

Brewer played a remarkable round, starting with an eaglethree at the 355-yard second hole where he laced a threewood within a foot of the hole. He played the last 11 holes in six under par, knocking in his last birdie with a 20-foot putt on the 17th.

The forecast for the final two days was rain.

'Hang on for Your Life'

Bruins on Road Without Esposito

NEW YORK (AP) — For the Boston Bruins, Buffalo Sabres and St. Louis Blues, tonight begins "hang on for your life" time.

For Philadelphia and Minnesota, the National Hockey League quarterfinal playoffs resume as a best three-out-of-five series.

The Bruins, the defending Stanley Cup champions, skate into New York to face a square of Rangers which, after skidding erratically through the final week of the regular season, outmuscled, outplayed and out goaltended Boston on its home ice for 6-2, 4-2 triumphs last Wednesday and Thursday nights. To make it worse for the Bruins, they'll rely on goalie Phil Esposito, out of action with ligament damage to his right knee.

The Sabres, the young Cinderella team of these playoffs, are having trouble with the flying Frenchmen of Montreal. But they're hoping their own "French Connection" line can begin to click as they return to their home ice for weekend games against the Canadiens, who beat them 2-1 and 7-3.

St. Louis comes home to resume its series against Chicago's West Division champion Black Hawks, who squeezed past the Blues 1-0 after lambasting them 7-1 in the first game.

It's a whole new playoff for the Flyers and New Stars, though. The teams split the first two games in Philadelphia, with the Flyers winning the opener 3-0, then dropping the second game 4-1. Sunday's game in this clash of highly physical teams will be nationally televised.

In the World Hockey Association, meanwhile, Houston's Astros tonight after whipping the Sharks 7-1. The Bruins' 2-1 following last Wednesday night's 3-2 overtime triumph. Ottawa is at New England in a series starter. In Friday night's only game, the Winnipeg Jets took a 1-0 lead over Minnesota with a 3-1 victory over the Fighting Saints.

Player-coach Bobby Hull scored two goals to pace the Jets.

"We're two games down," said Boston's Derek Sanderson. "Without Esposito, I'd say it's desperate." And Coach Bep Guidolin was barely more optimistic. "The coffin is still open," he said. "It's not closed yet. They're just getting the hammer and nails now."

Home Run History For Twins' Oliva

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Oliva made home run history as a designated hitter Friday night but the Minnesota Twins were just as happy over a couple of designated-out fielders.

Oliva, who played in only 10 games last season after a pair of knee operations, smashed a two-run homer off Oakland's Catfish Hunter in the first inning, his first since 1971, and outfielders Larry Hise and Jim Holt added solo blasts as the Twins split the A's opening game as baseball's world champions 6-3.

The three other games on the opening day of the American League season also featured long balls. Carlton Fisk belted two homers, one a grand slam, and drove in six runs as the Boston Red Sox shelled the New York Yankees 15-5.

Baltimore's Brooks Robinson drove in four runs with a pair of homers and Don Baylor delivered a homer, triple and two doubles in the Orioles' 10-0 rout of the Milwaukee Brewers and Frank Robinson homered on the first pitch he saw in his return to the AL to start the California Angels and fireballing Nolan Ryan to a 3-2 triumph over the Kansas City Royals.

Rangers were rained out while the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians get under way today.

Twins-A's
Oliva, who batted in the cleanup spot in the Twins' lineup, was 2-for-4 in his new role, including a run-scoring single off Bob Gardner in the fourth inning which gave the Twins a 6-0 lead.

Designated Hitters Post .250 Average

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins took advantage of the most revolutionary change in recent baseball history Friday night by becoming the first player to hit a home run as a designated hitter.

Oliva connected off Oakland's Catfish Hunter in the first inning of the Twins' 8-3 victory over the world champion A's. With Rod Carew on base, Oliva hammered the first pitch thrown to him by Hunter 400 feet into the right field seats, giving the Twins a 3-0 lead.

Oliva later singled in a third run and wound up 2-for-4. Oakland's Bill North singled twice in five trips to the plate. There were eight designated hitters in the four American League opening games.

Celts Surprised On Home Surface

NEW YORK (AP) — The Atlanta Hawks staged a little tea party in Boston Friday night—but the Hawks got all the chocolate. The Boston Celtics were left muddling the dregs of sympathy.

The Hawks stepped the Boston Celtics 118-105 and gained their first National Basketball Association quarter-final round victory to reduce Boston's series' lead to 2-1.

In Friday night's other NBA playoff action, Baltimore averted elimination in the best-of-7 series by defeating the Knicks 97-89 and the Chicago Bulls topped the Lakers 96-86.

Over in the American Basketball Association, the New York Nets became the first playoff casualty losing to the Carolina Cougars in five games, this time by a score of 136-113. Kentucky gained a 3-1 advantage with a 108-90 victory over the Virginia Squires.

Atlanta's Pete Maravich and Lou Hudson found the final period to their liking to the tune of 21 points. Hudson eventually tallied 37 points for his night's work while Maravich had 24.

The Bulls never trailed as Elvin Hayes scored 34 points and combined with Wes Unseld to control the boards. They split 26 rebounds.

Baltimore's Archie Clark chipped in with 21 points and 10 assists.

In Chicago, forwards Chuck Walker and Bob Love combined for 54 points to give the Bulls their first playoff victory against the Lakers in two seasons.

The Bulls, who had been having trouble off the boards, Lakers' guards Jerry West and Gail Goodrich, who had teamed for 112 points in the two Los Angeles victories. In game No. 3, the backcourt duo was limited to 32 points.

TaeKwon-Do Blue Belt Awarded to Kim Fazzino

By Earl Yost

Highlighting the promotional efforts of the TaeKwon-Do Blue Belt Award recently was the achievement of 17-year-old Kim Fazzino, who was awarded the honor last year but still went without a victory.

"We're all a lot more confident now," said Maurice Anderson, president of the American TaeKwon-Do Association, which awarded the honor to Fazzino last year but still went without a victory.

Swimmer Not Ranked Losing to Shane Gould

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Lynn Colella wasn't about to let a little thing like a loss to the heralded Shane Gould rankle her.

"I wanted to win even more after I lost," said the University of Washington graduate student of Friday night after her American 200-yard breaststroke victory in the national Amateur Athletic Union indoor short course swimming meet.

Miss Colella, a Phi Beta Kappa in electrical engineering, could rest just 30 minutes after her narrow loss to Miss Gould's national record in the 200 butterfly.

Yet she wiped out her own record with 2:20.584 and ironically though the butterfly girl helped her in the breaststroke.

Jones' Team of Racers Will Be Tough to Beat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We're gonna be tough. I guarantee you that," grins Parnelli Jones as his "super team" of defending USAC champion Joe Leonard and former Indianapolis 500 winners Al Unser and Mario Andretti prepares for the season's first race at what are already easily passing 200 miles an hour.

Jones, who runs the team with his partner Vel Mileich, said, "These cars are quite a bit faster than last year."

Andretti, who blasted Texas World Speedway in his Viceroy Special at an unofficial record 211.76 miles an hour, was quick to agree.

"Right out of the box they're good time for ceiling repair. Free estimates!

NEW YORK (AP) — They said, "Play ball!" and the Pittsburgh Pirates charged from the dugout onto the field in their gleaming white uniforms, laced in black and gold.

"Now I know he is really gone...now I know I am the rightfielder," said Manny Sanguin.

Sanguin, playing the position once occupied by Clemente, swallowed a fly ball for the last out of the game as the Pirates opened their 1973 National League baseball season Friday with a 7-5 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cubs scored their tying and winning runs on base-loaded walks to Randy Hundley and Rick Monday in the ninth inning, Reliever Mike Marshall gave up both walks as the Cubs came back from a 2-1 deficit.

Astro-Braves
Cesar Cedeno drove home Tommy Helms with the winning run with two out in the 13th inning, sent Astro's dramatic victory over the Braves. Helms opened the rally with a two-out single to short and then raced home with the winning run as Cedeno drilled a Cecil Upshaw pick up the left-center field alley in Atlanta Stadium.

Padres-Dodgers
Leron Lee, who had tied the game with a base hit in the sixth inning, sent home the winning run with an eighth-inning single as San Diego rallied for three runs to beat Los Angeles.

IOH To Orient New Volunteers

The Instructors of the Handicapped, Inc. (IOH) will hold a general organizational meeting for prospective members Sunday from 1 to 1:30 p.m. at the Manchester High School pool.

The IOH is a volunteer organization run by high school students to teach swimming to mentally retarded and physically handicapped children and adults. IOH meets for four hours every Sunday afternoon from October through May. Instruction is conducted at the Manchester High School pool. There are five 35-minute classes and each instructor has at least three classes a day. There are currently 120 students and 80 instructors participating in the program.

This year a change is being made in the application procedure for prospective IOH members. The new procedure will give them a better understanding of the nature and structure of the organization and will allow members to experience IOH first-hand before joining. This procedure will also enable IOH to know who the new members are before the start of IOH next fall. Anyone interested in becoming a member is urged to apply now.

It is not necessary that prospective members have a Red Cross lifesaving certificate to apply to IOH. The organization has benefited hundreds of students and instructors in its 16 years of operation.

Chaison To Head School for Adults

Joel R. Chaison of 375 Summit St., Manchester, head of Bessel Junior High School's guidance department, has been appointed Manchester coordinator of the Adult Basic Education (ABE) program.

Chaison, who has been actively involved in the ABE program for four years, will replace Ronald Moadlo, who has accepted a supervisory position, associate director of staff development in guidance, for ABE on the state level.

The personnel change was announced by George Keenan, regional director of ABE. Working with Moadlo, Chaison has helped to build up Manchester's present ABE program to include classes in reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, consumer education, citizenship training, and English as a second language.

The evening classes, which meet at Illing Junior High School, have more than 40 adult students participating, according to Keenan.

In addition to his work at Illing, Chaison will also be responsible for the ever-growing morning program conducted by Ruth Kukulka at Center Congregational Church, Keenan said.

ECHS 'King and I' A Great Performance

JUNE B. TOMPKINS
(Herald Reporter)

Hopefully this will be remedied for the group's two more performances. "The dance scene, 'Shall We Dance,' drew spontaneous applause. And the tender and dramatic portrayal of the dying King handing over the reins of responsibility to the crown prince left hardly a dry eye.

There were others, many others in the cast, who did a most creditable performance. The English teacher's son, Louis as played by David Daraskovich—Tuplin played by Mary Barrett—and Kevin Costello who acted as The Interpreter were outstanding. Also, Lisa Parks gave to Lady Thing the gentleness and deep understanding required of the one who played the King's number one wife and mother of the Crown Prince.

The stage set was artistically suggestive of the interior of a royal Oriental palace. The stage crew worked quickly and smoothly to effect the necessary scene changes, even efficiently to remedy an unexpected emergency.

A musical show anywhere must depend almost entirely on the musical accompaniment. "The King and I" has the dependable combination of trained music students from the Hart School of Music of the University of Hartford directed by Gary Good who teaches music education at Hart. The total orchestral sound was not unlike that from the pit of a New York theater.

The credit for the direction of this splendid performance goes to James F. Quinn, and to Sister Ellen Agriello for her astute sense of good musical direction. And also to the many young students without whose enthusiastic cooperation, "The King and I" would not have been.

This is fine entertainment for anyone. The family can go and enjoy something without it being rated "X". It is more than just a school production. It is a great performance.

"King" will be presented again tonight at 8:15 and Sunday night at 7:30 in ECHS auditorium. Tickets will be available at the door.

FRIDAY
4:28 p.m. — Eighth District firemen to 210 Main St. on report of car fire; smoke but no fire.
9:30 p.m. — Town firemen to Box 44 (Main and Oak Sts.); false alarm.

Police Report

Hugh R. Hamilton, 28, of Carpenter Rd., Bolton, was charged Friday night with breach of peace and resisting arrest, police reported today.

Hamilton is also charged with reckless driving, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and disregarding an officer's signal in connection with a high-speed chase on town streets, police say.

Pension Protection Discussed

WATERBURY (AP)— Retroactive legislation designed to boost the funds in long-standing employe pension plans could force some older companies to go out of business, a spokesman for the Greater Waterbury Chamber of Commerce told a congressional committee Friday.

The companies would risk financial ruin under such laws because of the "sins of past management," Vincent B. Largay said in testimony before the House Subcommittee on Labor.

Over the years, only one-half of one per cent of people covered by pension plans have been unable to collect their pensions, Largay said.

But he said he did support compulsory private termination insurance for private pension plans that are not completely funded.

The congressional committee, which includes U.S. Rep. Ronald A. Sarasin, R-Conn., among its members, wound up two days of public hearings Friday at the local Federal Building on the subject of private welfare and pension plan legislation.

The committee is also holding public hearings in Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit and San Francisco.

State Comptroller Nathan G. Agostinelli told the lawmakers that the pension system for state employes is overextended by $26 million.

The state judicial system offers overly generous pensions, Agostinelli said. He said a state judge contributes 5 per cent of his salary toward his retirement but after retirement receives two-thirds of his salary for the rest of his life.

Extortion Charge Faces Boy of 16

William J. Street, 16, of 41 Cedar St., was charged Friday afternoon on a Circuit Court 12 arrest warrant with first-degree attempted larceny by extortion or false statement and risk of injury to a minor. He is being held in lieu of $20,000 bond and is to be presented in court Monday.

Police allege that Street kept a 14-year-old runaway girl at his home March 2 through 5. According to the girl's statement, during this time Street gave her liquor and marijuana.

Police further say that Street is suspected of having called the girl's mother and telling her that he was holding the girl and if she wanted the girl returned, she was to deliver $100 to a prearranged location. Police say however, that the money was never picked up.

'Old Times' Now At Stage Company

The Hartford Stage Company opened Friday night with Harold Pinter's "Old Times," the latest work from the pen of England's leading playwright. It will play through May 13.

"Old Times" is a probing evocation of the mysterious, shifting nature of memory and the effect that time has on it. Three people get together to talk about old times they may or may not have spent with each other twenty years earlier, and stumble into dim recollections that rearrange their present relationships. As the past is increasingly refracted, memory itself becomes an elusive character, heightening the dramatic ambiguity.

James Broderick makes his Hartford debut in the role of Deeley. He is joined by Barbara Caruso as Anna and Maureen Quinn as Kate.

The Pinter play is the fifth production in the Hartford Stage Company's current six-play season. For reservations, phone 525-4258.

Get Ahead! Read! It's National Library Week!

"Charlotte's Web" by E. B. White is a children's classic that is now in paperback.

An Ostrich doesn't read and he does okay.

So can you, if you want to bury your head in the sand. But if you want to get ahead in life and get your fair share, reading is a must. How else will you get to know what you have to know to succeed? Read all you can. Reading feeds your mind, makes it grow, and makes you the bigger person you the have a right to be.

This week is National Library Week. This is a good time to take a look at what is going on in children's libraries around the country.

Not Just for Books
Libraries are not just for books anymore. Now you can borrow such things as films, film strips, records and even copies of famous paintings.

Learning Centers
Many schools have developed learning centers. A learning center is really a large area with the library as a very important part. The center can be used in many ways: as a library, an auditorium, a place to study and even as a gym.

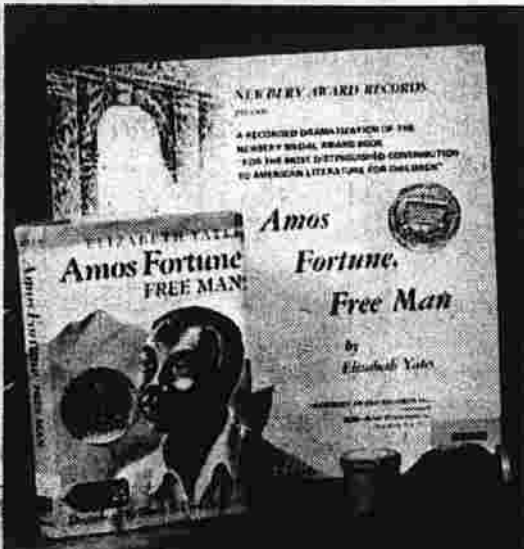

Sounds and Visuals
Entire books, or parts of books, are being put on film strips to be played along with a record or a cassette tape carrying the sound track.

Paperbacks
Paperback books are becoming more popular as the price of hard cover books continues to rise. Many of the children's classics are being printed in paperback.

More True to Life Stories
Children's books are more realistic than they used to be. Characters express unhappy as well as happy feelings so we get a more true to life picture of problems.

Books about Different Children
More books are being published about children of different races and backgrounds. These books help readers better understand and appreciate people different from themselves.

Books Without Words
Some publishers are printing picture books that have no words. The children make up their own stories to go along with the pictures. Books with black and white pictures are also popular.

Film strips and records based on the Newbery Award winner, "Amos Fortune, Free Man" by Elizabeth Yates are typical of the many sound and visual materials available.

"Alexander and the Terrible, Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Day," written by Judith Viorst and illustrated by Ray Cruz, is about a boy who runs into everyday problems.

"The Midnight Adventures of Kelly, Dot and Esmeralda" by John S. Goodall, is a book without words.

Both awards are presented by the Children's Services Division of the American Library Association.

Super Sport: Larry Brown

People in the American Basketball Association are raving about Larry Brown. In his first season as a head coach, Brown has led the Carolina Cougars in an outstanding season. Though he is only five-feet nine-inches tall, Larry was an outstanding player before he became a coach. He starred at the University of North Carolina in the early 1960's. He made the U.S. Olympic team in 1964. Then he played five years in the pros. Larry's hobbies are reading, listening to music, and playing racquet ball. He also likes to wear fashionable clothes.

Librarians and interested readers all over the country are making plans to observe National Library Week this week. National Library Week is sponsored by The National Book Committee and the American Library Association.

What Is National Library Week?

National Library Week is a special week held each year to call attention to our country's libraries. It is sponsored by The National Book Committee in cooperation with the American Library Association. The National Book Committee is made up of outstanding citizens who are interested in encouraging people to read and in keeping books free. The American Library Association is made up of more than 36,000 librarians from the United States, Canada and many foreign countries. During this week, which was first observed in 1958, there will be television programs, editorials, articles and radio programs about libraries. It is hoped that this week will call attention to how much reading can help the reader enlarge his world and become a better, more informed and responsible citizen.

Animal of the Week: The Turtle

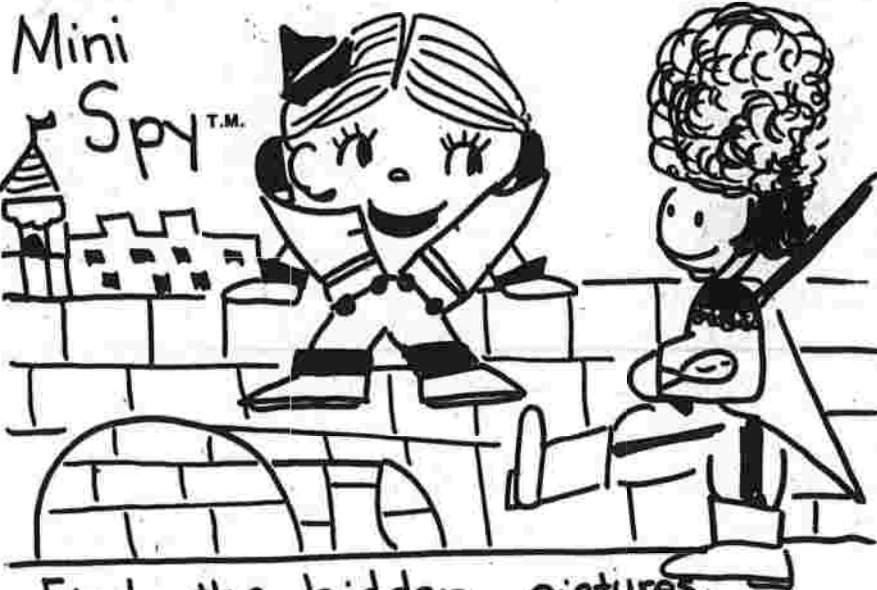

Sea Turtle

Water and Land Turtle

Turtles are reptiles. They do not live in cold climates. Some live in the water all the time. Others live entirely on land. Still others can live both in water and on land. There are over 44 kinds of turtles in the United States. Turtles do not have any teeth, but they do have very sharp jaws. They eat plants and animals. Sea turtles can grow to weigh as much as a ton. Turtles can remain alive much longer than any other animal with a backbone. Some have lived as long as 200 years. Turtles hatch from eggs. The mother never cares for them. The babies are born with very strong instincts.
