Mayor John Thompson is urging Manchester residents to protest two actions last week by the legislature's appropriations committee.

Highway Project Bill Signed

HARTFORD (AP) — Gov. Thomas J. Meskill gave final approval today to a $270 million construction bill that labels 37 highway projects "top priority."

proportions committee has given unfavorable reports to both proposals, the issues can still be debated in the General Assembly. Favorable actions there could go far in helping local communities grant tax relief.

Watergate Affair Heats Up

'Twas A Beautiful Day For Fishing

Easter Sunday's balmy temperature was perfect for fishing, even if they did not cooperate fully, sightseeing, boating and other outdoor recreation.

Dean Reportedly May Implicate Other Nixon Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House Counsel John W. Dean III, who has declared he will not be made a scapegoat for the Watergate affair, appears ready to implicate other presidential aides, says a source close to him.

In another development, The Washington Post quotes sources today as saying President Nixon was told by members of his own staff last year that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and Dean probably were involved in both the wiretapping of Democratic party headquarters and a subsequent coverup.

Nixon, said the Post's sources, responded, "Give me some evidence." Mitchell, former campaign director for Nixon, testified last week before a grand jury investigating Watergate. He told newsmen afterwards that he had heard discussion of wiretapping plans in the 1972 campaign but disapproved them.

Dean reportedly has been named by former Nixon campaign aide Jeb Stuart Magruder as among those present at a meeting where bugging of the Democratic headquarters was planned.

Dean, presidential counsel, conducted the initial investigation into the case, which was followed by Nixon's statement that no White House aides were involved. Nixon said April 7, however, that he had learned of major new developments pointing to the truth in the case.

Prayers And Holidaying Mark Easter Observance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Christian world celebrated Easter Sunday with religious services, prayers for peace and holidaying. The Roman Catholic vicar to the U.S. armed forces appealed for "true compassion" for those who wouldn't fight in Vietnam, and President Nixon heard a sermon about sin.

"It is too much to hope that our nation's leaders will be able to balance a genuine respect for the laws of our land with true compassion in the cases of those who for sincere reasons would not serve in the military," asked Terrence Cardinal Cooke, archbishop of New York, in his Easter message.

"We pray that they will discover a way for those young men to offer a fitting substitute in service and return to their homes."

Outside on New York's Fifth Avenue, sunny, 85-degree weather brought out an estimated 20,000 persons for the traditional Easter Parade.

President Nixon and his family attended services at the Key Biscayne Presbyterian Church near the Florida White House and heard the Rev. John A. Huffman Jr. preach: "I don't like to talk about sin; but let's face it, it's a fact of our society and a fact in your life."

"We can sweep it under the rug and dismiss it and walk out of here into the sunshine, to the tennis court, to the yacht club and to the beach and say, 'Well it was nice to have been in church on Easter.' Or you can walk out of here transformed. The time is perhaps for you to fish or cut bait."

Pope Paul VI, celebrating an open air mass before 250,000 in St. Peter's Square in Rome, appealed for peace in Indochina, the Middle East and especially Northern Ireland.

He said the conflict in Ulster, "contrary to the aspirations and will of the majority of the people themselves, is an affront not only to humanity but to the Christian name."

Northern Ireland's Roman Catholics took part in more than 30 marches to mark the 1916 Easter Rising that led to Irish independence. No disturbances were reported at any of the parades, but gunmen shot at troops in Belfast, injuring a bystander.

There also was no violence in Jerusalem as thousands attended services that began at sunrise.

Shooting Rampage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A gunman wielding a 20-gauge shotgun went on an Easter Sunday rampage and when it was over six persons were dead and ten wounded at eight locations. Police shot and wounded William Ray Bonner, 25, an unemployed service station attendant, during a shootout that followed a chase by sheriff's deputies. Bonner was booked for investigation of murder, officers said. His hospital condition was satisfactory.

Among those killed in the shooting spree were Bonner's grandmother, girlfriend and a 12-year-old girl.

Egg Roll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of young children swarmed across the White House lawn today in the traditional White House Easter Egg Roll.

The children, accompanied by parents, were led onto the South Lawn by a hippy-hopping Easter bunny. Other entertainment included the Emmett Kelly Junior Circus and the U.S. service bands playing on the outdoor bandstand.

Blast Kills Seven

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — "I heard a girl scream, 'Help me!' I went running to this first apartment. We started digging those people out of this wreckage, all this mess."

Edna Williams was describing the scene immediately after a natural gas explosion early Easter Sunday killed seven persons and leveled much of an apartment complex about half a mile east of the downtown section.

Nixon Returns

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon returned to the Florida White House today after an 18-hour overnight visit to Grand Cay Island in the Bahamas.

He helicoptered back the 100 miles over the Atlantic with his Florida friend C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo. Deputy press secretary Gerald L. Warren said the quick overnight trip was "not unusual" and there was no particular reason for the President's return at this time.

Busing Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today hears arguments for the first time on whether federal judges may order busing across school-district boundaries in pursuit of desegregation.

The immediate issue is a district-court order for consolidation of the mostly black schools of Richmond, Va., with the predominantly white school districts in neighboring Henrico and Chesterfield counties.

The source said Dean's April 19 comment that he would not be made a scapegoat was "a clear indication that he is now going to help the President clear the White House staff of those that have besmirched the office of the presidency to the end that President Nixon will have better and purer advisers in the future."

There were several other developments over the weekend. —Charles W. Colson, a former White House consultant, reiterated Sunday that he had no involvement in Watergate. He characterized as "just plain wrong" a story in the Los Angeles Times saying that Colson was prepared to document an administration coverup of Watergate. The Times stood by its story.

—Ridder Publications' Washington bureau quoted sources as saying Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst may resign after Watergate investigations are over because he has fallen out of favor with Nixon over his handling of the matter. He already has withdrawn from the case.

—Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., said Sunday it is difficult to understand how persons working with the President would not have told Nixon about the Watergate bugging before it was done.

But later Brooke said, "I am not trying to make a case for him (the President), but conceivably they could have concealed it from him."

State Records Five Weekend Traffic Deaths

By The Associated Press At least five persons, including a four-year-old girl, died in Connecticut traffic accidents, two Connecticut residents were killed Sunday in accidents in Massachusetts, and three state residents were killed in Vermont mishaps during the three-day Easter weekend, according to police reports.

In addition, a search was to continue today for a New Haven boy who was believed to have slipped under water Friday after a raft accident on West River in the New Haven area.

Keith Quigley, 16, of Granby died when the car he was driving failed to negotiate a curve on Route 10 in Southwick, Mass., ran off the road and hit a tree, police said.

In Auburn, Mass., Sunday, Dianna Hazard, 25, of New Haven was killed when the car she was riding in crashed through guard rails on the Massachusetts Turnpike, police reported.

East Hampton police said that Lloyd D. Martin, 29, of East Hampton was killed Saturday night when the motorcycle he was riding was hit from behind by a car on Route 66.

Authorities said four-year-old Sheryl Leach was killed on High Street in Mystic Saturday after she apparently ran into the path of a car. The accident occurred near the little girl's home, police said.

A Stamford youth driving an Alpha Romeo roadster died early Saturday in his home town when he collided with another car, according to police. Officers said David Long, 19, was killed in the High Ridge Road collision with a car driven by Sherwood R. Spelke, also of Stamford.

Spelke was unharmed but his wife, Laura, was treated and released at Stamford Hospital for minor injuries, police said.

In Middletown, 17-year-old Howard E. Lamarre was hit by a car Friday while riding a bicycle on Millbridge Road, police said. Officers said he died the same day at Hartford Hospital of injuries sustained in the crash.

John Dasconio, 16, of Higganum was charged in connection with the incident with reckless driving, speeding and evading responsibility, police said.

In another state traffic accident, Howard J. Knepler, 23, of Trumbull died in a three-car pile-up Sunday on the Connecticut Turnpike in Fairfield, police said. They said Knepler's car collided with another car and a third car apparently then bounced off the other two.

New Haven police identify as Gordon Herring, 10, of New Haven the youth they are searching for after the sinking of a makeshift raft Friday in West River. The river divides New Haven and West Haven.

Police said a witness reported seeing four youths on the foundering raft, and that three of the boys failed in keeping a fourth afloat.

Three boys made it to shore, police said.

Vermont state police have listed as accidental the shooting death Friday of Michael Angeliastro, 17, of New Canaan. Troopers said Angeliastro was shot in the head while he and three companions were in the back of a pickup truck during a hunt for woodchucks. The incident occurred in Benson, Vt., the troopers said.

An East Hartford man and his wife were killed Sunday afternoon when their auto crashed into a bridge abutment on Interstate Route 89, near Waterbury, Vt., state police said. The Vermont troopers identified the victims as Victor W. Coburn, 62, and Olive Coburn, 56.

New Atlantic Charter Nixon's Latest Goal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger said today President Nixon seeks to build a new Atlantic Charter with America's European allies this year, based on an easing of economic frictions and on the continued presence of U.S. forces in Europe.

The President's chief foreign policy adviser outlined a blueprint for a revitalized Atlantic alliance in an address prepared for the annual meeting of The Associated Press, presenting the administration's first major policy statement in what Nixon has called "the year of Europe."

The blueprint, Kissinger said, "is not an American prescription but an appeal for a joint effort" to agree upon "a clear set of common objectives."

Boston Firemen Have Extremely Busy Sunday

BOSTON (AP) — Boston firemen spent most of Easter Sunday coming and going, answering 148-one-alarm, false-alarm and miscellaneous calls between 8 a.m. and midnight.

"This is ridiculous. You'd only expect it on a full moon," said Robert McCarthy, senior operator at fire headquarters. "I've been here for 10 years and I've never seen anything like this."

structure of international relations for the decades ahead. A revitalized Atlantic partnership is indispensable for it."

Kissinger said Nixon is holding a series of talks with leaders of such Western European allies as Britain, Italy, West Germany and France because he believes that the political, military and economic issues "must be addressed at the highest level."

"The United States proposes to its Atlantic partners that, by the time the President travels to Europe toward the end of the year, we will have worked out a new Atlantic Charter setting the goals for the future," Kissinger said.

A cornerstone of the charter is the continued presence of U.S. forces in Europe. Kissinger stressed this when he told the gathering of editors: "The President has asked me to state that America remains committed to doing its fair share in Atlantic defense. He is adamantly opposed to unilateral withdrawals of U.S. forces from Europe."

But Nixon's assistant for national security affairs added that "we owe to our peoples a rational defense posture, at the safest minimum size and cost, with burdens equitably shared."

The necessary American forces will be maintained in Europe," Kissinger continued, "not simply as a hostage to trigger our nuclear weapons but as an essential contribution to an agreed and intelligible structure of western defense."

Kissinger said, the United States will present its suggestions to NATO for negotiations beginning later this year on mutual and balanced forced reductions in Europe.

He gave no specifics but did say that "our position will reflect the President's view that these negotiations are not a substitute for withdrawing U.S. forces regardless of consequences."

Turning to coming trade negotiations with Europe and Japan, Kissinger said a new equilibrium must be achieved.

Steak House Robbed Of $20,000

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Police are searching for a young man who held up Valle's steak house this morning and escaped with $20,000.

Police said the restaurant's owner, Louis Valle of Rocky Hill, Conn., was alone in the restaurant around 1:30 a.m. when a man armed with a knife threatened him and made him open the safe.

Flying Model Helicopters Presents Fans Big Challenge

WESTPORT (AP) — Barry Blaisdell has flown the big ones. But the little ones, he says, are the real challenge.

After two years as an Army helicopter pilot, the 31-year-old Bridgeport native has joined the 60 model chopper enthusiasts who take their radio-controlled craft for weekend flights at Sherwood Island State Park.

"You have to concentrate every minute," he says. And he says knowing how to fly the real thing isn't much help when all you have is a radio with four buttons to control a hovering, six-foot-long chopper eight feet off the ground.

"Flying a real one, you're sitting in it and you can feel what's happening to it. With a model, you have to look at it and try to sense what's going on," he said.

The price tag on a fully equipped chopper comes to about $1,000, club members say. At present, they say, it's mainly a sport for adults.

"The diehard radio control flyers are not kids. These are grown men," said Jerry Jarvis, 39, a flier and owner of a Norwalk hobby shop. "Out of about 100 steady customers, I don't think I have five kid customers."

What is the attraction of flying model helicopters around a grassy field?

To the flier of radio-controlled fixed-wing aircraft, it's a whole new challenge in flying, said Sam Tartaglia of Norwalk.

Tartaglia, a 10-year flier of fixed-wing models who says he may have been the first Connecticut resident to have flown a model chopper, noted that fixed-wing craft are also controlled by four buttons but can be operated one by one.

"With a helicopter," he said, "you're using them at the same time." Blaisdell says the coordination necessary "is like playing the drums."

Sheinwold on Bridge

Can't Afford Loss
 Can't afford loss if South gets to dummy with a club in order to try a heart finesse, he will lose his queen of hearts to the singleton king. Later on, he will lose a second trump trick to East's ten. This will doom the contract, for South cannot afford to lose two trump tricks.

South didn't expect to drop the singleton king of trumps. He was merely taking out insurance against the only 4-1 trump break that he could handle. If either opponent had four trumps headed by the king, South was in trouble. But if the singleton trump were the king, South could survive as long as he didn't try a finesse.

South really expected the trumps to break 3-2. In that case, he would win the ace of trumps and give up one trump. This was all right since South could afford to give up one trump trick. The important thing was to avoid the loss of two trump tricks.

"THE WAY I HEARD IT"

by John Gruber

I'm very happy to report that the Greater Hartford Youth Orchestra has been invited to give a concert tour of Romania this summer. This is a group of about 90 young people of high school age who really play well, and whose concerts I have frequently attended in the past. It has, in fact, been in existence for 35 years under a number of different conductors, the first of whom was the late Rubin Segal, himself a Romanian who came to this country and worked himself up to head the string department at what by 1928. So now the orchestra will go to Romania after having been started by a Romanian.

While it is composed of students of high school age, it definitely is not a high school type of orchestra. It is made up of students from all the communities round about and picks only the best ones. The result is something that sounds better than the "All-Star" groups I have heard, and comes very close to true professionalism.

At present, it is conducted by Bernard Lurie, concertmaster of the Hartford Symphony Orchestra and a member of the faculty at Hart. He's done very well with the group, although I thought he pushed them a little bit too hard on their last concert. It was amazing that they got through the notes, but apparently they had devoted so much time to the technical problems, not enough was left for artistry.

The Romanian government is underwriting part of the expenses of this tour, but the rest has to be raised somewhere else. Accordingly they plan a concert on the evening of May 20 in the gymnasium at the University of Hartford, to raise money for expenses.

Ordinarily they play in Millard Auditorium, and fill it, by the way, but the seating is limited there so I assume they moved to the gym in order to have a larger possible seat sale. Off hand I don't know whether there are any Manchester youngsters in the group this year or not, although we have usually had a few in the past. Do plan to go. You'll be amazed at what these young people accomplish. Further, the proceeds are for a good cause. These young people will see something of Europe, not as the average tourist does, but as honored, performing guests.

Fulbright's Move and Hanoi's

Senator J.W. Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, wants Congress to declare the end of the Vietnam War. Just what good this would accomplish is difficult to see in the light of Hanoi's actions in continuing to violate the cease fire agreement.

It may be assumed that Fulbright wants to end all American activity in Indo-China, such as the bombing of Laos and Cambodia, where the Communists are pushing new offensives.

True, we could lose some airplanes and men in the efforts to check the Communists drives. The alternative would be to let the North Vietnamese and their allies over-run these tragically beset nations.

From the moment its representatives signed the peace agreement, Hanoi has violated it in the most cynical and brazen manner.

A Canadian peace keeping investigator hotly disputed a Viet Cong claim that a helicopter carrying a peace keeping mission was victim of an accident. Major General Duncan McAlpine said the fact was the helicopter was shot down by a missile. Our state department called the incident a "totally callous" violation.

Canadian officials have expressed grave doubts about the usefulness of their mission, so long as it is hampered by the veto power of Poland and Hungary, which have refused to investigate Communist infractions. They have agreed to remain for a while longer in the hope of a political settlement.

The cease fire agreement has been damaged by the Communists violations.

President Nixon may again send Dr. Henry Kissinger to Paris to take up the issue with the North Vietnamese. We can hope for a political settlement but peace hopes are idle so long as Hanoi seeks to crush Indo-China.

Watergate Heat

The heat must have finally reached the kitchen.

The President apparently has responded to the increasing demands from within his own party that the Watergate affair be given a full airing and let the chips fall where they may.

We do not know just exactly what triggered this decision to deal more openly with the sordid affair but suspect Sen. Barry Goldwater may have touched a nerve when he cited the prospect of a prolonged effort to cover the mess might have a drying effect on potential sources of campaign funds for the Republican party.

The problem now rests more in the fact the damage has already been done by the delay and obstruction of the White House in the whole affair. We are not blaming the President personally for this bum decision but never-the-less, whoever it was that decided to try and brush the whole affair under the carpet hoping it would go away once the election was over, should be publicly determined.

To attempt to "bug" the Democratic party headquarters in Watergate was doubly stupid. First, it is illegal, and second, we cannot conceive of any information that "bugging" could have revealed that couldn't have been found with a little harder work through legitimate sources.

We trust now that the President has indicated a willingness to let White House aides testify before the Senate Special Committee as to what they know about the Watergate affair that the matter can be cleared up and hopefully both the administration and the Congress can get on to more pressing matters, like balancing the budget, if they really want a challenge.

Capital Punishment

Connecticut will have a capital punishment law on a limited basis.

Applied to specific crimes under special circumstances, the newly-passed statute is expected to have some deterrent effect in these areas. The debate was hot and heavy in the General Assembly and it is expected the new law will be tested in the courts.

However, that test may be some time in coming since there will first have to be a conviction of a crime covered by the new statute and the death penalty imposed.

The general public, according to most polls in the nation, favor some form of capital punishment.

The General Assembly apparently agrees the sentiment of most Nutmeggers is the same. As a result there will be capital punishment for certain crimes in the state once the act is signed by the governor. The legal aspect of capital punishment however may not be fully resolved until a national law, now proposed by the President, is enacted and tested in the courts. It would appear that, under previous court rulings, a capital offense in Connecticut might be construed as "cruel and unusual punishment" unless the same offense is a capital one in the other 49 states also.

The issue, it appears to us, is not whether the state or federal government can impose a death penalty for specific crimes but whether such penalties are uniformly imposed throughout the land. On this basis, state laws may be an exercise in futility since only a federal law would be paramount and applicable equally throughout the nation.

Never-the-less the General Assembly has acted and the Congress has before it a proposal. As seems to be the rule rather than the exception these days, the courts of the land will probably make the ultimate decision.

The Watergate Crunch

WASHINGTON—Comes now the real crunch in the Watergate bugging caper. It is spelled MONEY, in caps, and at long last Republican candidates for office in 1974 and 1976 have discovered the possibility that President Nixon's refusal to let his aides testify under oath before a Congressional committee could hurt their campaign pocketbooks.

Debating principle is all right in high schools and colleges but the professional politician knows that a candidate's No. 1 requirement is cash. It can be fairly said about most Democrats and Republicans that a scandal is important only in direct ratio to its effect on citizens accustomed to constant executive privilege in the Watergate case Nixon might be admitting his own involvement. Clifford noted that the privilege couldn't conceivably cover the Watergate affair unless the President knew of it and talked about it with his staff "before and after the events took place."

Clifford, of course, is an old Harry Truman and Lyndon Johnson hand and his interest must be suspect. But without supporting his view, the detached observer should point out that by precedent executive privilege covers only confidential communications between a President and his subordinates. Democrats are not entirely out of line in wondering aloud if Nixon's invoking of the privilege means he knew something about the mess.

That is the danger I expect men of politics like Barry Goldwater are worried about. While reaffirming loyalty to their chief, they are yet aware that Main Street's confusion over the caper may turn to outrage. That seems already to have happened to Goldwater's friends "all around the country."

With unaccustomed haste for a White House staffer, Mrs. Armstrong agreed with Goldwater's gloomy appraisal. She told reporters "I think he is absolutely right at the present. We are being hurt now."

Watergate, it seems, won't go away until the White House comes clean and sends some top hands to the Hill to let what they know, or don't know, to Sen. Sam Ervin's Select Senate Committee investigating the bugging of Democratic headquarters last June. One Republican Senator, who naturally demanded anonymity, fears that even that action by Nixon won't soothe the electorate.

"Hell," he said, "I don't really think the White House has been engaged in a cover-up. I don't think Dick Nixon was involved in the break-in. But what I think doesn't matter. It's what the voters think, and I'm afraid they're having some nasty

The Cambodian Menace

SAIGON—Far more than chronic ceasefire violations by the Communists, the greatest threat of a total breakdown in the fragile Paris agreement is the possible reopening of the port of Sihanoukville in Cambodia to supply North Vietnamese armies in South Vietnam.

That is why the Cambodian crisis was critical enough to dispatch Gen. Alexander Haig, vice chief of staff of the U.S. Army, on an emergency mission to Indochina. To U.S. officials here, the prospect of Sihanoukville generals are deeply opposed by former Defense Secretary Patrick J. Buchanan, who is now in Saigon, and President Nguyen Van Thieu on the premise, always doubtful, that Hanoi's army would not be supplied through Laos and Cambodia. Sihanoukville reopened would provide a firm logistical base for Communist troops to launch offensives in the heavily populated Saigon area on Mekong River delta.

So far, the Saigon government, markedly more scrupulous than Hanoi in respecting the Paris agreement, has been restrained about Cambodia. Prime Minister Tran Thien Khai privately informed U.S. officials that the government has decided against South Vietnamese naval vessels protecting a supply convoy up the Mekong into Phnom Penh, much less broader intervention. In any event, Thieu's absence step-up in local small-unit actions. Military experts here believe there is simply not enough North Vietnamese in-lantry now in South Vietnam to mount a major offensive.

Nevertheless, Hanoi is preparing for the future: building new supply roads and airstrips in South Vietnam, bringing down tanks and long-range artillery. This is intended to give the Communists the option, by next year perhaps, of attacking nationwide if military subversion fails.

A less shattering military action is also being considered by the Saigon high command. In flagrant violation of its ceasefire, North Vietnamese troops have surrounded 200 South Vietnamese rangers at Tong Le Chan, a fortified camp some 50 miles north of here which blocks a Communist supply route along the Saigon River.

The 200 Rangers, brave ethnic Cambodians of South Vietnamese nationality, have refused to surrender despite a relentless artillery assault. The international control commission, hamstrung by Hungarian and Polish members, ignores the Communist attack. Thus, to end what they properly consider an intolerable situation, South Vietnamese generals are privately pushing for a relief expedition of two ARVN regiments to raise the siege of Tong Le Chan.

Anger is also visibly rising in government and army circles here on another score: the fact, ignored by world public opinion, that the Communists have released only 5,000 South Vietnamese POWs, less than one-tenth the number believed captured. Many South Vietnamese prisoners who have survived the cruel Communist captivity are working as slave laborers on North Vietnamese military construction projects.

But Thieu has learned a little about international public relations over the years. He most likely will suppress South Vietnamese anger rather than offend the rest of the world and risk a cutoff of U.S. aid by taking unilateral military action. The one event which might break that self-control, however, would be the reopening of Sihanoukville, guaranteeing constant and assured supply for North Vietnamese legions in the south and radically reducing the ARVN's present bright military prospects.

Tax Double, How about Your Pay?

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP)—A column of numbers might never know if he didn't open his mail.
 Has your income doubled in the last 10 years? Well, your federal taxes have.
 According to the Tax Foundation, federal taxes for the 1974 fiscal year, which starts July 1, will average $1,170 for every American, more than double the $522 they were a decade ago.

 It was hard to tell what time it was in 1964. Although Daylight Saving Time had not then been heralded, there were 50 different standard times in use in the United States.

Do you have any idea where the following common everyday phrases came from?
 "Thanks for nothing...To give the devil his due...A peck of trouble...Every dog has his day...A finger in every pie...Let the worst come to the worst...A wild goose chase..."
 Well, every one of them came from a single book, "Don Quixote," written more than 300 years ago by Miguel de Cervantes.

 Christopher Latham Sholes, who in 1873 invented the first successful typewriter, also composed the sentence that has been connected with it ever since: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party." Sholes, who sold his valuable patent for only $12,000, later commented wryly: "All my life I have been trying to escape being a millionaire, and at last I think I have succeeded."

 Quotable notables: "I hate mankind for I think myself one of the best of them, and I know how bad I am."—Samuel Johnson.

 Nature notes: Many people think snakes are slimy; actually their skins are clean and quite dry. Wasps have a better sense of smell than you do and use it to hunt food. Although the wild turkey usually prefers to escape its enemies by running through cover, it can fly quite well. If your child had an appetite like a mole, he could eat his bodyweight in food once a day.

 Worth remembering: "Be not disturbed at being misunderstood; be disturbed at not understanding."

Hebron Budget Hearing Tonight

ANNE EMT
Correspondent
Tel. 238-3771
The Board of Finance has scheduled a budget hearing for this evening at 7 at the Hebron Elementary School to review the proposed general government and Board of Education budgets for 1973-1974.

These two budgets, $445,702 for the general government and $771,254 for the Board of Education, plus $738,000 which represents Hebron's share of the Regional District Board of Education budget, total $1,954,956 as compared to $1,697,336 this year. The total increase, if all budgets are approved as submitted, would amount to $257,620.

Hebron's share of the regional budget already taken into consideration anticipated revenue for next year, thus the figure of $738,000 is firm. This represents a $114,200 increase in the town's levy if the budget is approved at the district budget meeting on May 7.

The school board's proposed budget of $771,254 is a $107,709 increase over the current budget. The board does anticipate an additional $24,156 over actual revenues received this year for a total of $815,410 to be applied against the proposed budget leaving $419,301 to be raised through taxes. This leaves the town faced with the possibility of raising for the three budget, through property taxes, approximately $1,460,706 or $241,246 more than last year.

However, there was a $1,430,250 increase in the Grand List which will help to some degree. Still it appears that if all three budgets are approved, as submitted, there will be a considerable increase in the mill rate.

The Board of Finance urges residents to attend this evening's hearing to speak out on any proposed item, either the general government or board of education budgets. The board has scheduled two executive sessions before the town's budget meeting May 14 to consider requests and make any recommendations or cuts.

PBS To Present Television Opera, 'Myshkin', Tonight

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Music Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - The Public Broadcasting Service tonight is presenting a made-for-television opera that is the first of its kind to originate outside of London, New York or Boston. "Myshkin" was composed by John Eaton, an Indiana University faculty member, performed by 17 students and a teacher at the school and produced by WTU-TV in Bloomington, Ind. It isn't the first opera ever written for television. But it is the first in the National Educational Television Opera Theater series to come from other than a traditional opera center.

Although it has its problems, "Myshkin" is worth watching. And the impulse behind it can be applauded, hopefully continued and improved on.

Its major drawback is that its plot, based on Fyodor Dostoevsky's novel, "The Idiot," is extremely hard to follow. And a synopsis by the composer at the beginning doesn't reveal how the opera ends. This viewer couldn't figure it out.

It may be that the novel is too complex to survive the transition to a one-hour opera in English. Then, too, the singers don't make their words understood. But there are good things in "Myshkin," particularly composer Eaton's logical and effective use of different types of music to describe the spirit of Myshkin, an epileptic. Eaton employs electronic music and wonderfully distorted images when Myshkin becomes irrational or suffers seizures; traditional, though modern, music accompanies Myshkin's lucid periods.

The cast members, despite troubles with the opera's words, sing well, act well and look good. All are from the university's music school, which is best known for its opera department. The production of "Myshkin" also is good, undoubtedly because WTU, a public television station, already has done some 20 television opera productions, starting with "The Magic Flute" in 1954. The Corporation of Public Broadcasting provided $50,000 for this production, one of 12 selected for CPB funding from more than 80 proposals submitted by public television stations in the United States. The "Myshkin" libretto was written by Patrick Creagh, an Irish poet whom Eaton met when he was living and composing in Rome.

Linear Park Bill Vote Explained by Mahoney

Manchester State Rep. Francis Mahoney, a member of the legislature's appropriations committee, today explained an apparently contradictory action by the committee on a bill concerning the creation of a linear park along the Hockanum River.

The committee gave the bill a favorable report, but deleted a proposed $20,000 appropriation for a planning and feasibility study.

The bill, backed by the Manchester Jaycees, is cosponsored by Manchester legislators Mahoney, Donald Genova and David O'Leary. The same bill died in the 1972 session.

Mahoney explained that the appropriations committee, in feeling the feasibility study within its budgeted funds.

The DEP indicated it could make the feasibility study within its budgeted funds.

The proposed linear park would be along the Hockanum River in the towns of Manchester, East Hartford, Vernon and Ellington.

Mahoney said he received the most mail and calls on bills concerning disability compensation for certain state employees, cost of living adjustments for retired state employees, cost of living adjustments for present state employees, public school programs for disadvantaged children, cost of living adjustments for public school teachers, permitted retirement

Vernon Bissell Scholars Named

Two Rockville High School seniors, Paul Robert Menard and Louise Casadei, have been named to receive the Bissell Scholarship awards. The scholarship fund was established in 1964 by the late Lebbeus Bissell of Rockville.

Mrs. Casadei is the daughter of Mrs. George Casadei of 160 Washington St., Vernon, and the late Gene Casadei. Menard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Menard, 7 Ridgewood Dr., Rockville.

Bissell, who died a year ago, was head of the Bissell Insurance Agency, Rockville. He established the trust fund, which is now handled by the Hartford Foundation For Giving, to be as flexible as possible. The fund was primarily established for residents of Vernon and Rockville but has been expanded to include Ellington and Tolland and Tolland County should no one be eligible in the other three towns.

Should the time come when no eligible students can be found in the county, then the trust will be dissolved. If this should be the case, the trust provides for half the money to go to Yale University and half to Phillips Academy, Bissell was a graduate of both schools.

Paul R. Menard

Louise Casadei

The scholarship provides complete four-year tuition to the college of the recipient's choice and the student is not required to pay back the amount spent.

Menard is top student in his high school class. He has 11 brothers and sisters. His father is a former member of the Vernon Board of Education.

Paul plans to study architecture at MIT. Although he has carried a heavy workload in school, he also has held an after-school job. He is also a tennis player and participates in wrestling besides being active in a church group. He is a National Merit Scholar.

Mrs. Casadei is a National Merit Scholar and a member of the Student Council and also has an after-school job. She hopes to attend either Brown University or Holy Cross and to major in languages.

Columbia School Board Approves Education Questionnaire

VIRGINIA CARLSON
 Correspondent
 Tel. 228-9284
 The Board of Education has approved sending a questionnaire on education to residents. The questionnaire will be drawn up and sent by the school study committee.
 It was brought out that only two members of the school board are on the committee, in order to allow an "independent" study. Originally, all five school board members were on the ten-person committee.
 Clarence Edmondson, assistant superintendent/principal, said that school architect Roy Ferguson will have the subcontractor look at the roof on the new wing of the school. Edmondson reported that the roof has large water bubbles and there has been leakage in the classrooms and the main building.
 He said Pescatello recommended the use of metal for safety reasons.
 This will be checked out with the insurance company to see if there will be any effect on coverage.
 The board also approved the eighth grade class trip to Washington, D.C., which will take place June 6 and 7. Reservations have already been made.

Coventry Film Set On Brazil

HOLLY GANTNER
 Correspondent
 Tel. 742-9788
 William Stockdale of Putnam will present in person his new full-length color motion picture, "Brazil," at Coventry High School in April 27 at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of the First Congregational Church. Proceeds from the event will benefit the church vestry fund.
 The film is a behind-the-scenes examination of a country that Americans should know more about, but don't. Fifth largest nation in the world, traditional friend of the United States, Brazil is a fascinating, exotic and a paradox. From Brazil, the world's newest, middle-order capital, to the green jungles of the Amazon and from the world's fastest growing city, Sao Paulo to incomparable Rio, Brazil is unbelievable, except for pictures to prove it.
 Highlights of the film will include a visit to remote Igazu Falls, the world's most thunderous avalanche of water, and an exploration by small plane into the forbidding Amazon jungle, replete with beauty.
 Added surprises include a jungle hospital where open heart surgery is performed, and floating church operated by fearless missionaries a thousand miles up the Amazon.
 Unusual foods, flowers and wildlife plus the everyday life of native Brazilians add variety to this fast-paced film, as well as visits with gem craftsmen, tapestry artists and practicing with doctors.
 Stockdale is one of America's foremost travelers and lecturers, devoting all his time to writing and lecturing. He has written for prominent national magazines and his travel articles appear frequently in the New York Times. His photographs and films have appeared in magazines and on television, and his lectures have been enthusiastically received by audiences all over the country.
 Coventry-To-Coventry According to Owen Trask, special events coordinator for the Boosters Club, four special things make the program a must for the Coventry-To-Coventry exchange program in August, when a contingent of local area travelers will go to Coventry, England for three weeks.
 Special trips include a two-day tour of Wales and the Lake Country, and five-day trips to Belgium, Holland and Scotland. The latter two trips are for the same dates, Aug. 13 to 17, while the shorter tours will be completed during the week of Aug. 6.
 Those persons wishing to take part in these trips are urged to attend the next meeting of the Coventry High School Boosters Club, sponsor of the exchange program. The meeting will be held on April 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the high school. Forms will be available for people to sign up for their choices. This is necessary at this time. Trask said, so that reservations for transportation, room and meals may be made in advance.
 Although the Aug. 2-21 charter trip plane is now full, people in Coventry and surrounding towns may become members of the Boosters Club and register on a stand-by basis, should there be cancellations. Interested persons should attend the April 25 meeting to obtain further information.

 The Coventry Historical Society will meet at 8 p.m. on April 24 at the society's house on South St. Shaker furniture, costumes and textiles will be the subject of a slide presentation, with narrative. The slides are on loan from the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C.
 The Fiddie, Prop and Sall Club will hold its first meeting of the season on Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Crawford home on Woodland Rd.
KNIGHTS ON CLIFF NEW YORK (AP) — In days of old, when knights were bold, they carried a form of protection card.
 In the Middle Ages, knights on the road looking for adventure in distress found it inconvenient to carry large amounts of coin, and they used to affix a seal to bills of livery and merchants. The bills were then forwarded for payment to the Lord the knight represented.

Hickey and Love Spark Eagle Win

By Dick Leadbetter

Sparked by Bob Love's three hits and the gutsy pitching of sophomore Terry Hickey, East Catholic notched a 3-2 win over Hartford Saturday at Mt. Nebo. The victory brought the Eagles' record to 2-3 while the visitors are 2-2.

Terry Hickey

East Hartford rallied in the ninth and almost tied the score. Dave Palla, who absorbed the loss, reached on a single, moved up on a wild pitch and sallied on a single by Craig Pinney to cut the local lead to 3-2. Pinney swiped second and when he tried to advance on an infield roller, he was stopped at third. Hickey went on to retire the side and preserve the triumph.

The Eagles had taken a 2-0 lead in the second on a walk to John McKee, Love's first single and a walk, which loaded the bases. Dan Smacchetti blooped a single to right for one run and designated hitter Mark Wagner rescued the second.

The visitors scored on a single run in the sixth on two walks, an error and a fielder's choice. Love and Socha were the batting stars for East. Love coming through with three singles and Socha had the other Eagle hits, both singles.

Jack Nicklaus Responds

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP)—"Oh, that's fun," Jack Nicklaus said. "That's the whole thing."

"That's what this game is about. Here we live in a sport and then I made birdies on three of the last seven holes."

"That's the whole thing—responding to a challenge, playing the way you want to play, doing the things you want to do, and winning. On the other hand, if you lose, it kills you."

Nicklaus had just scored a record fourth career victory in 604, fashioned a rallying fourth- under-par 68 on the tough, demanding, 7,114-yard La Costa Country Club course. He had a 72-hole total of 278, 12 four par.

"When I was able to come back like that, with three birdies on the last seven holes, well, that's the way to finish a tournament. I'm doubly pleased about it because my other two wins this year were both marginal, in playoffs."

The Golden Bear, who stretched his season's leading money-winning total to $165,000, fashioned a rallying fourth- under-par 68 on the tough, demanding, 7,114-yard La Costa Country Club course. He had a 72-hole total of 278, 12 four par.

10th Inning Rally Decides for MHS

Scoring five runs on four hits in the 10th inning, Manchester High turned back Conard High, 9-5, Saturday morning at Sterling Field in West Hartford in a CCIL baseball game. The win was the Tribe's second of the season against no losses while Conard is winless in two starts.

Rick Milka started the 10th inning uprising with a line single to left field. Bruce Peck, playing third base, attempted a sacrifice, but since no one fielded the ball he was credited with a base hit. Mickey Miller, who replaced Joe Erardi at second base in the seventh, also attempted a sacrifice bunt, but again the Conard defense watched the ball roll off the bat. # MCC Sweeps Pair On Solid Pitching

By Chris Blake

Pitching was the keynote for Manchester Community College last Saturday as the Cougars rolled to a 6-0 victory over Norwalk Community College at Henry Park in Rockville, 4-1 and 8-0.

In the first game, MCC's Ray Camarco fanned eight and allowed only two hits in going the route. Norwalk averted a shutout by scoring a run in the sixth inning on an opposite field single, two walks and a sacrifice fly. Otherwise, Camarco was in complete command.

Russ Biledeau

Dan Nowak

The locals got Camarco all the runs he needed in the third inning. Jim Lehan singled to center and moved up on Camarco's sacrifice. Lehan tallied on a throwing error. Dan Nowak singled in a second run and scored a third on Joe Calais's sacrifice fly.

For seven, and Bruce Tracey for the third quarter in a pair of RBIs, all in the second game.

Next start for Coach Jim DeWitt's Cougars will be tomorrow afternoon at Thames Valley in New London.

Meanwhile, the Cougars reached Norwalk's Bud Scudder on one run in the second frame and three more in the third before retired a batter. In all, 10 MCC batters came to the plate with five scoring for a 6-0 edge.

The locals struck for two more runs in the sixth to complete the scoring. Nowak's double and Gardi McCormac's single produced the tally.

The win was the first this season for Biledeau as he pitched a complete game history today but the record books will have to be overhauled to include eight new university-college and open division marks.

Mike Bott of Eastern New Mexico will go down as the most outstanding performer in the four-day carnival.

Green Winner In Florida Golf
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Young Herbert Green says he didn't even think about the disaster of two years ago when it looked like he again would blow it. The Tallahassee Open tournament, which he won, was a relief.

"This proves once again that without question Margaret Court is the greatest in the world and will continue to be as long as she continues to play," said Rosemary Casals after losing 7-6, 6-3, 6-1 to the Australian in Sunday's final.

Mrs. Court picked up $60,000 for the victory. That boosted her earnings on the Virginia Slims tour to $83,000 this year.

Surprise Homers Beat R Sox, Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Whoever said that anyone with a bat in his hand is dangerous certainly wasn't referring to Ron Lolicch or John Yokuovich, until Sunday.

A 26-year-old Cleveland outfielder, had failed to hit in his previous at-bat this season and came into the campaign with a lifetime mark of .182 and only two home runs in 83 trips.

But he stepped to the plate with the bases loaded and two out in the bottom of the ninth inning and crashed a grand slam home run off Boston's Sonny Siebert to give the Indians a thrilling 8-7 victory in the first part of a doubleheader. The Red Sox came back to take the nightcap 5-2.

Yokuovich's statistics were even worse than Lolicch's. The 25-year-old infielder spent part of the 1970 and 1971 seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies and showed a meager .164 average in 225 at-bats with only a home run—over a triple, for that matter.

So it was a distinct surprise when he unloaded a three-run homer off relief pitcher Lyle in the seventh inning that lifted the Milwaukee Brewers, who obtained him in an off-season trade, to a 4-3 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City split a twin bill with the Chicago White Sox, losing 8-6 before winning 6-1. Baltimore and Detroit split a doubleheader with Chicago 3-2 in 10 innings and Minnesota beat Texas 6-4.

INDIANS-RED SOX
Home runs by Rico Petrocelli, Reggie Smith and Carl Yastrzemski helped the Red Sox open the 7-4 lead that Lolicch wiped out with one swing.

Knicks Game Away From Gaining Finals

NEW YORK (AP)—The Boston Celtics won the first three periods Sunday afternoon — but the New York Knicks came back to tie the game, 3-3, in the fourth quarter.

The key matchup in the late going proved to be Frazier versus Knicks guard Walt Frazier. Frazier, who had 34 points for the game, but was scoreless in the two overtimes.

Frazier, meanwhile, hit 10 points in the extra periods and seemed to get stronger as the game went along.

Gibson Loses Out On Rookie's Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Gibson pumped and pitched. It was just down Mike Schmidt's alley—a juicy fastball inside.

"I was looking for something there," said Schmidt after hitting a two-out, ninth-inning home run off the Philadelphia Phillies' 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and a sweep of their doubleheader.

Schmidt, who also got a hit as the Phillies won the opener 4-2 behind Steve Carlton, didn't find Gibson an easy mark until the ninth.

"He was everything I ever dreamed he would be," said the Phillies' rookie. "But he threw me down and in and that is the pitch I hit out of the park."

How does a rookie feel hitting one out of the Cardinal star? "I'll never remember being this excited about anything," said Schmidt, who only got into 13 games last season.

The Phillies' victories gave them a three-game sweep of the Cardinals and put them over .500 with a 7-6 record—euphoric status considering last year's disastrous 59-97 record.

In the other National League games, the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2; the Houston Astros nipped the San Diego Padres 4-3; the Cincinnati Reds beat the Atlanta Braves 6-3; the Montreal Expos defeated the New York Mets 2-1 in the 10th inning of the first game of a doubleheader, then lost the second game 10-3, and Pittsburgh and Chicago split a doubleheader with the Pirates winning the opener 10-4 and the Cubs the nightcap, 11-3.
