Nixon Renews Watergate Clean-Up Now
WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon, in a speech to the party faithful and financial backers, promises that the guilty will be brought to justice in the Watergate scandal. But Senate testimony about high-level involvement in clandestine operations has raised new questions about the strange goings-on.

Downtown Action Committee Okays Study Agreement
The Mayor's Downtown Action Committee this morning approved a working agreement with Brown, Donald & Donald, the Farmington planning consultant firm selected to develop a plan of action for Downtown Manchester.

Problems and Opportunities... Hunt, a one-time CIA employe, has testified he took part in the September 1971 burglary of a Los Angeles psychiatric office in an attempt to photograph the doctor's files on Daniel Ellsberg, a defendant in the Pentagon papers case.

Development Opportunities in Downtown Manchester... A special report on future development of Downtown Manchester, prepared by the consultant, including a review of the city and a summary of previous downtown studies, is a summary of the problem as a framework for economic and physical solutions, and proposals for action. Estimated costs for preliminary and final reports are $8,000.

It is not clear what was done with the information before the CIA's involvement was disclosed by The New York Times this week. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said "it is clear and shocking" that the agency violated the 1947 National Security Act by allowing itself to be used as a "costume house" by White House officials involved in domestic covert operations.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, indicated he may expand his probe into the affair. In another development related to the 1972 election, The New York Times today quoted sources as saying a New York grand jury is expected to return indictments today against two former members of Nixon's Cabinet.

The Times said the indictments would be returned against former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who for a time headed the 1972 Nixon campaign, and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans, the President's chief fundraiser.

Meanwhile, the Senate Judiciary Committee continues hearings today on Nixon's nomination of Defense Secretary Elliot Richardson to be attorney general and in over-charge of the government's Watergate investigation.

Richardson told the committee Wednesday he would be amenable for what the attorney general does and what the special prosecutor does. But he said he would choose that special prosecutor with great care and give him the job of carrying out the probe.

As Richardson prepared to leave the Pentagon, his administration officials were reported searching for a replacement after the President's first choice, former Deputy Defense Secretary David M. Packard, turned down the job.

The lower crest were attributed by a National Weather Service spokesman to less runoff from flooded land that had been expected.

Richardson told the committee Wednesday he would be amenable for what the attorney general does and what the special prosecutor does. But he said he would choose that special prosecutor with great care and give him the job of carrying out the probe.

As Richardson prepared to leave the Pentagon, his administration officials were reported searching for a replacement after the President's first choice, former Deputy Defense Secretary David M. Packard, turned down the job.

Tolland Hull Appearance Highlights Banquet

VIVIAN V. KENNESON
Correspondent
Tel. 875-4704

Lt. Gov. T. Clark Hull highlighted the 4th annual Tri-Town Cooperative Work Experience Program banquet last night.

Dignitaries, students, employers, and staff of Rockville, Tolland and Ellington High Schools were present for the dinner-dance at the Italian-American Friendship Club.

Hull, in a highly emotional speech which stressed that Connecticut is not a "corporation," but a body of people, suggested several times that he might not have enough time left in office to do some things he wished. Hull also said that he has had a lot on his mind lately, and that an announcement would be seen in the press soon. He was alluding to reports that he is being considered for a Superior Court judgeship.

The approximately 140 students in the three schools involved in the work program raised the money for last night's affair by selling candy, bake sales and car washes.

One of the first work experiences in the state, the students are employed mainly in the tri-town area. Lt. Gov. Hull said it is the "outstanding program in the state — be very proud of the job you're doing."

Ben Dodge of Rockville High was the student chairman of the banquet, while Robert Noonan, coordinator of the Ellington program, was general chairman.

Representing Rockville High, Barbara Pero recognized the presence of Vernon Mayor Frank McCoy, Superintendent of Schools Raymond Ramsdell, Board of Education Chairman Joseph Powers, and introduced Louis O'Mara, Rockville High program coordinator.

O'Mara presented student awards for outstanding ability and interest to Miss Pero and Dodge.

Tolland High student Kathy Malkin acknowledged First Selectman Erwin Stoetzer, Principal Richard Olson, and introduced Tolland's coordinator, Frank Lucente.

Lucente presented outstanding student awards to Roland Shores and Miss Malkin.

Managers

Robert Noonan, work experience coordinator at Ellington High, presented awards to Barbara Bell and Bob Zarek. Miss Bell acknowledged the presence of First Selectman Francis Prichard and Superintendent of Schools Dayton Shephard.

Also among the 265 in attendance were Glen Roberts of the Rockville Chamber of Commerce and Joseph Carter, president of Roosevelt Mills. These two men are long-time supporters of the tri-town work experience program, sometimes referred to by Noonan as "guardian angels of the program."

Richard Longo was present, representing the State Department of Education, which provides staff salary aid. Music was provided by the Corona Quartet, a group led by Tolland High School teacher Donald Sierakowski.

Married-Only Restriction Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—A state's desire to promote family life is insufficient reason to deprive illegitimate children of welfare benefits granted the offspring of married couples, the Supreme Court has ruled.

The ruling knocked down the married-only provision of New Jersey's assistance to "families of the working poor."

For whatever its purpose, the eight-member majority said in an unsigned opinion, the program works to discriminate against illegitimate children in an unconstitutional manner.

The status of illegitimacy has expressed through the ages society's condemnation of irresponsible liaisons beyond the bonds of marriage," said the court, quoting from an earlier opinion on the same issue.

"But visiting this condemnation on the head of an infant is illogical and unjust," the majority said.

The New Jersey Welfare Rights Organization attacked the state law. The high court found in their favor without passing for a hearing, Justice William H. Rehnquist said he favored the state's position.

Policeman Sues Five In Beating

HARTFORD (AP)—Hartford Policeman Neil V. Hunt has filed a $100,000 civil suit against five persons who allegedly beat him up last February.

Hunt, of Winsted, is recuperating from a beating which he says occurred when he stopped five people for questioning at 5 a.m. Feb. 3 on Hungerford Street in Hartford.

In legal papers filed in Hartford Superior Court, Hunt claims that five persons began to verbally abuse him after being stopped for questioning and that he was violently attacked on the face and head, suffering a fractured nose, injuries to his teeth, and other bruises.

Three people named as defendants in Hunt's suit, Jose Rosato, 25, of Newburgh, N.Y.; Roberto Chacon, 21, and Jose Chacon, 27, both of Hartford, pleaded guilty April 23 in Superior Court to charges of first degree assault in the attack on Hunt.

Denmark Girl AFS Student

Helle Romme Hansen, a 17-year-old student from Denmark, will be the 1973-1974 exchange student at Manchester High School, the local chapter of the American Field Service has announced.

Miss Hansen will arrive in late August and will stay with the Jay Stager family of 30 Forest St., during the coming school year.

Miss Hansen, who lives with her family in Lolland, Denmark, has been a student at the Maribo Gymnasium (high school) and will complete her high school study in June 1974.

Her application to the AFS International Scholarships program says that she is interested in geography, gymnastics, English, and mathematics. Besides academic subjects, Miss Hansen lists interest in choir, creative art, sports, politics, and theater.

She has studied English for six years, and notes that she has about average proficiency in French, Latin, and German.

"I want to be a teacher," her application states. She adds that she isn't sure what she'll study at the university — perhaps, gymnastics or philosophy.

Miss Hansen's parents are both physical education teachers. Her father is also a farmer and her mother a saleswoman. She has an uncle living in Miami Beach, Fla.

Jay Stager, whose family will be host to Miss Hansen, is president of the Manchester Chapter of AFS. Stager, a charter member of the chapter when it was organized in 1961, has been a vice president and coordinator for the American Broad part of the program.

He is associate professor of philosophy at Manchester Community College and director of Med-O-Lark Camps in Washington, Maine.

Three at Parley For Registrars

Planning to attend Friday's annual spring meeting of the Connecticut Registrars of Voters Association are Fred Peck, Manchester's Republican registrar; Herbert Stevenson, Democratic registrar; and Paul Phillips, Democratic deputy-registrar.

The meeting, at the Seaman's Inn, Mystic, will be combined with an Election Officials Conference, planned by Secretary of the State Gloria Schuller and her staff.

The conference agenda includes workshops on preparation of the registry and enrollment lists, minority representation, admission and enrollment of electors, and new legislation.

Hi Neighbor!

It's true — and the truth always comes out. I've always wanted to be a pharmacist and wear one of those fancy white coats with all those buttons. Well, after buying out two drug-stores Bob finally put me in a white coat and I don't think I like it. It's a real disappointment — I can't move my arms at all, and why do they have all those buckles in the back where I can't reach them? Maybe I just don't understand the medical profession. Perhaps I ought to stick with the salvage business after all. It's better than crime.

Anyway we've got loads of goodies this weekend, and here's my 100% incomplete listing of what we will be peddling at half price or less:

A Matter of Ethics

While many of the Watergate revelations are frightening enough, the reaction of some people are even more frightening, in many respects.

Because "dirty politics" is not a new phenomena on the national scene, state scene, or even in Manchester, if we were to dig back far enough, there seems to be rather a blasé reaction to the whole affair. And this is not just locally but enough reports from other parts of the country indicate a similar nonchalance about the sordid mess.

To assess the full implications requires careful distinction between the criminal and political aspects of the case.

The actual burglary of Watergate, the bugging attempt, and the aiding and abetting of these acts are things which can be and are to be dealt with in courts of law.

The political aspects, that is the ethics of conceiving such political tactics, is more difficult to resolve. Ethical conduct, short of actual violation of the law, is usually beyond legal punishment.

True, careers can be ruined. Public opinion, if really aroused and indignant, can bring about laws which could deter future ethical aberrations but the fact remains that we in America have become too ingrained into accepting a certain amount of "dirty politics" as part of the game until it touches too close to home.

There hasn't been a political campaign in recent years that we can recall where some charges or allegations of political chicanery haven't been raised. In the past, these have faded away after the election. Watergate has not and will not for some time.

It appears then the time may be now for really coming to grips with the central issue of Watergate which is the question of political ethics and fair play.

We have had a fair campaign practices committee and code for years. We have select committees over the years make cursory examinations of alleged corruption in campaigns. We have had many half-hearted attempts at writing laws to control campaign contributions and campaign spending.

The problem has been that despite all these efforts, a Watergate has occurred. And the tragedy is that it can occur again unless we take a whole new fresh approach to the problem of political ethics.

There are three areas which could concern us about the ethical conduct of any campaign, whether for director of Manchester, governor of Connecticut, or any other political office.

First, the responsibility for the conduct of the campaign cannot be divorced from the candidate. There is no valid logic in assuming there will be moral leadership in office unless it is demonstrated prior to holding that office.

Second, the campaigns should be shortened to reduce the costs and in turn reduce time devoted to fund raising which would be better used to discuss the issues.

We believe that if and when the political parties concentrate on issues, instead of personalities, fund raising with its real or imaginary links with corruption would diminish in importance since financial support could be solicited without implied favors.

Present laws to list contributors and contributions have not "cleaned" up politics. Only when both parties and the candidates in both parties place ethics ahead of "winning" can this evil be eliminated.

So let's not fool ourselves. People back parties and candidates they believe will help their own interests best. As long as parties, all political parties, base their appeals to special interest groups, and they all do, they'll get special interest support and, once elected attempt to fulfill special interest favors.

Only with shorter campaigns conducted on broad issues, can the need for heavy contributions and the resultant obligation to special interests be placed in reasonable perspective.

And the third area is the individual American voter. The Democrats or the Republicans aren't running this town, state or country. They may be in control at various levels but they do not represent a true majority of Americans.

In Connecticut, the unaffiliated voter bloc is substantial enough to deny either party true claim to representing the majority.

President Nixon's landslide was cancelled out by Democratic control of the Congress. In many states, voters do not have to register party or non-party affiliation at all.

If the political party system is in sad shape a large share of the blame lies right at the door step of each us who "vote the man," don't contribute time or money to a political party; don't raise Cain when we witness hanky-panky going on or, and this is the greatest sin of all, don't take the time to read, listen or study about the problems of our democracy so that we really know what we are voting for, if and when we do vote.

This is where the real answer to an uncorruptible political system lies. Unless the people set the level of ethics they expect in public officials, unless they back this up with political and moral participation of a grass-roots level, and unless they are unswerving in demanding swift and just punishment of those who abuse the public trust; no code of ethics, no volume of laws, no number of special reports, and no periodic house cleaning is going to elevate politics to the professional level it should have in a democracy.

After all the politician and the political parties represent a constituency and to the extent this constituency has an ethical standard is the extent of the standard in politics today.

For in the final analysis, public morality is but a reflection of private morality, which means passing the buck does not depend entirely upon where it stops but where it starts as well, meaning you and I.

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, May 10, the 130th day of 1973. There are 235 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1869, a golden spike was driven at Ogden, Utah, marking the completion of the first railroad across the United States.

In 1492, the Italian navigator, Amerigo Vesputi, sailed on his first voyage to the new world. In 1775, Ethan Allen and a company of Vermont militiamen - the Green Mountain Boys - captured Ft. Ticonderoga, in New York, from the British.

In 1865, during the Civil War, Union forces captured Confederate President Jefferson Davis at Irwinville, Ga.

In 1971, France ceded Alsace-Lorraine to Germany after the Franco-Prussian War.

In 1940, during World War II, German forces invaded Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

In 1941, the Nazi leader, Rudolf Hess, parachuted into Scotland in a private attempt to make peace in World War II.

Friend of the Rich Supertex!

Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No, it's SUPERTEX. Faster than a depletion allowance, stronger than an oil import quota, able to leap over party lines in a single bound, it's... SUPERTEX!

Disguised as a humble Democratic Texas millionaire named John Connally, no one knows our hero is really Supertex - not even his attractive secretary, Lotus Lane.

The she is now, dabbling her tears as she enters his modest black-long office.

Lotus: Oh, Mr. Connally, I can't help feeling sorry for poor Dick and Pat. Their expensive spread back East is under water. Their top hands are deserting them. And they're surrounded by mean old elitist gossip who keep sniping at them.

John: Well, now, honey, that Dick's mighty rich and powerful feller. I reckon he can take care of himself.

Lotus (angrily stamping her foot and storming out): Oh, you Democrats are all alike. You don't give a fig for poor, rich, powerful people in trouble. I sure wish Supertex were here!

John (to himself): Lotus is right. This sounds like a job for... SUPERTEX!

(Stepping into the telephone booth building he owns next to his office, John whips off his Democratic voters jacket to reveal underneath a Republican cloth coat with a flag pin in the lapel.)

SUPERTEX: With the speed of Lear jet, he is soon at the side of Dick and Pat - both of whom are treating water!

Dick: Look, Pat, it's... SUPERTEX!

Pat: Oh, Dick, just knowing he's come to help us in our seven crisis gives me the strength to go on.

Inside Report

Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

'Watergating the Inflation'

WASHINGTON - The stage was actually set one week ago for Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz's total victory over the political instincts of President Nixon and the influential forces pressing him hard to impose a new price freeze.

Called by Mr. Nixon to "stand by" for a top-level anti-inflation huddle on April 27, these influential backers of a new price freeze to brake consumer price inflation (now roaring at an annual rate of 11.7 per cent) never did have their meeting.

At the last minute, Mr. Nixon cancelled the meeting because, as he confided to one intimate: "What's the use of meeting if George has decided not to change his mind?"

The decision by the all-powerful Shultz "not to change his mind" and to limit any change in Phase III to little more than cosmetics, may be even more significant than the Watergate cover-up, in short, was a calculated risk that somehow the whole dangerous mess would go away and disappear. Likewise, Shultz is now betting against similar high odds that the dangerous mess of inflation will also go away and disappear, if only given a little time.

"George," said a hostile witness, "is Watergating the inflation."

Only time will prove or disprove that accusation, but the risk that Shultz is taking in the face of the President's already devastating setback from Watergate is clear and ominous. If the huge, nearly 12 per cent increase (on an annual basis) in the February-to-March consumer price index continues at anything like that level, the political effect among rank-and-file voters will far outweigh the effects of Watergate.

That conclusion, transmitted to high officials in the Nixon administration, is unavoidable from the daily, spongelike consumer surveys of Albert Sindinger. Remove the deep and growing discontent of inflation, Sindinger is finding, and the impact of Watergate on rank-and-file voters is still surprisingly modest.

In short, Mr. Nixon's obvious political need today is to shore up his credibility and prestige with voters by a convincing demonstration that he is dealing with strength and confidence with inflation. Instead, all he offered in his long statement on Wednesday was hope. But even Shultz's understandable preoccupation with the economics, as contrasted to the politics, of the roaring Nixon inflation is highly suspect to such influential figures as Dr. Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, Rep. Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee, respected economists in the outside world and, most important, President George Meany of the AFL-CIO. These anti-Shultz advocates of much tighter inflation controls believe that the slight April decline in the wholesale price of agricultural products was the cutting edge of Shultz's latest success in persuading the President not to opt for a new freeze of retail prices.

That April decline of 11 per cent, however, was a drop in the bucket compared to the overall increase in wholesale agricultural prices this year, running at an annual rate of 103 per cent. Instead of showing the trend Shultz and the President are counting on, the slight April decline may prove to be an aberration.

Indeed, the conspicuous absence of Meany from the meeting of the Labor-Management Advisory Committee on Wednesday should be seen for what it was: one more signal of the rising anger of organized labor against the stand-pat inflation policies of the administration. Meany has summoned his executive council to a two-day meeting next week. The main question: should the AFL-CIO stay on the Labor-Management Advisory Committee or declare open warfare against Mr. Nixon?

That's not all that Mr. Nixon need worry about as his chief economic adviser prays for inflation to go away and disappear. With hedge-buying by consumers now reaching historic proportions, Mills and other experts are now privately predicting a real growth rate in the fourth quarter of 1973 of close to zero. If that forecast is even close to accurate, recession early next year is all but certain.

Today's Thought

"Imagination was given man to compensate for what he is not, and a sense of humor to console him for what he is."

The humor of Jesus to be appreciated, for He used it to console His disciples when they were lousy and of little faith.

When Peter the fisherman fussed about how they were going to pay their taxes, Jesus told him to go fishing.

"You will find a coin in the fish's mouth," He said.

To perpetuate us into persevering at our prayers, He compared us with a woman who was such a battle-axe that she wore down a weary judge.

We do Jesus an injustice if we think He was always as stiff and proper and humorless, as we often are.

12 Join 15-Year Club at MMH

Fifty-nine employees of Manchester Memorial Hospital representing a combined total of 1150 years of service were honored Wednesday night at the hospital's seventh annual 15-year club awards banquet.

The affair was in the hospital's new dining room and conference room, and was presided over by Jacob F. Miller, president of the hospital's board of trustees; and Edward M. Kenney, hospital administrator.

New members of the group with 15 years of service are: Mrs. Beatrice Belanger, Mrs. Antonette Brazzaukas, Mrs. Mona Daniels, Mrs. Katherine Habicht, Mrs. Henrietta Jason, Mrs. Jane LaPoli, Mrs. Elizabeth McElroy, Mrs. Lois Moore, Mrs. Cecile Ray and Mrs. Marjorie Roach, nursing.

Also Mrs. Helen Brooks and Mrs. Virginia Kosak, administrators. Retired members of the hospital's pension program were also honored.

After the dinner, entertainment was provided by Manchester High School's Round Table Singers.

Melander To Speak At Rham

ANNE EMT
Correspondent
Tel. 238-3971

Robert Melander, chairman of the National Association for Mental Health's Committee on Childhood Mental Health, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Connecticut Association of Parents of Children with Personal Learning Disabilities of Regional District 8 on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Rham High School.

Melander, who is also vice president of the Connecticut Association for Mental Health as well as legislative chairman for the association, will discuss "Understanding the problems of learning disabilities and working with school boards and administrators in meeting the needs of the learning disabled child as required by law."

He has been largely responsible for writing special education legislation and is dedicated to effecting its implementation. Melander will be available following his presentation to answer any questions concerning the legal requirements for public school education.

Avoids Pomp
FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — Dr. Ross Pritchard, new president of Hood College, says he will pass up a formal installation and instead put the $11,000 budgeted for it into a faculty pension plan.

"I would much prefer to celebrate the dedication and efforts of those who have built the college over the years than to participate in the pomp and ritual of an investiture that seems to me archaic," Pritchard said Tuesday.

The college board of trustees approved using the money to supplement the retirement income of faculty who served before present retirement plans were instituted.

Ex-POW Divorced
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A former Vietnam prisoner of war has been awarded a divorce after 11 years of marriage, eight years of which he spent in a North Vietnamese prison camp.

Air Force Maj. Hayden J. Lockhart Jr. is to give his British-born wife, Jill, a lump sum alimony payment of $5,000. She was awarded custody of their 7-year-old son, Jamie, and $100 monthly for his support.

Lockhart, 34, saw the boy for the first time when he returned to this country on Feb. 16.

The divorce was granted Tuesday on grounds of "gross neglect of duty" and extreme cruelty.

Army Offers Europe Duty

The Army is looking for young men and women who want to live in Europe, according to SFC Clifford L. Calverley, U.S. Army recruiter.

Young people who select Europe duty before they enlist are guaranteed at least 16 months in Europe after basic and advanced military training in the United States. They also are guaranteed their choice of one of over 300 job training courses offered by the Army.

Sgt. Calverley said his recruiting station has Army job openings for immediate placement in Europe. Applicants can also enlist now and delay their service up to six months under the Delayed Entry Program, the recruiter said.

The Army provides new enlistees with benefits such as free housing, free meals, free medical and dental care, more than four weeks annual paid vacation, and a starting salary of $307 a month, before taxes.

Additional information about the Army's European enlistment option is available from Sgt. Calverley at 555 Main St., or call 649-3069 for an appointment with benefits such as

Connally Faces Big Sales Job

An AP News Analysis By Walter R. Meers

WASHINGTON (AP) — For John B. Connally, there is a job of political salesmanship ahead if he is to establish firmly his new Republican credentials in time for what looks like a crowded 1976 presidential contest.

As he switched parties, Connally said he sought no office, appointment or elective. That is the kind of thing politicians say three years in advance of a presidential campaign.

It is also the kind of thing other politicians discount.

Formally joining the GOP in its hour of Watergate trouble, Connally has been warmly greeted by the party establishment. But some of the same Republican leaders who welcomed him aboard are likely to be his rivals in the years immediately ahead.

When that time comes, men like Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and Sen. Charles H. Percy may well be pointing out that Connally after all is a fledgling Republican with a long Democratic past.

Agnew, Percy, and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California all are potential entries in the 1976 Republican presidential competition. There may be more.

So Connally clearly is not going to move to the top of his new party without a fight.

Having forsaken his Democratic ties, the former Texas governor now needs to get his lines open and his alliances made in the Republican party.

Some already have been forged, during his days as Nixon's secretary of the treasury and 1972 campaign ally.

He has the advantage of his role as head man of Democrats for Nixon, an assignment that demonstrated his political preference, and leaves him out of what has become the Watergate scandal.

One obvious step for Connally now is to start on the Republican speechmaking, fund-raising circuit. Beyond that is the 1974 congressional and state election campaigns. By that time, if he is to make a move in 1976, Connally will have to be a Republican on active duty, working for GOP candidates for Senate, House and governor.

A more immediate, and more difficult question is the Watergate affair. How does he handle that one? So far, he has denounced the incident as stupid, while saying that it was not the work of the Republican party itself.

Associates had said Connally's long anticipated political switch was delayed because of the Watergate controversy. He denies that, saying the scandal had nothing to do with his timing.

Monday, he turned up in Key Biscayne, Fla., to confer with President Nixon at the President's request. He left without taking a new assignment in the administration, but that may yet happen, at least on a part-time or temporary basis.

There had been reports he might be offered appointment as secretary of defense, but the word was that he wasn't interested.

There have been suggestions that he might have had that job in the first Nixon term had he not decided in the waning days of the 1968 campaign to stick with the Democratic ticket instead of openly boosting Nixon in Texas.

The President is a Connally admirer. He once said the Texas could handle any job in the nation or the world. Nixon is said to have told a White House visitor early this year that Connally is likely to top the GOP ticket next time.

More recently, Nixon has been quoted as saying that Illinois Sen. Percy will never be nominated if he has anything to say about it, in an angry response to Percy's pressure for a special prosecutor in the Watergate case.

But it now appears that Nixon may not have much to say about it. He would enter 1976 as a politician serving his last year in his last office, with dwindling powers to reward or punish politically.

And whatever the outcome of the Watergate case, it will scar the administration.

Republicans are not likely to take their 1976 directions from an outgoing President whose

Ex-Skipper Of Pueblo Plans Tour

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Former Pueblo skipper Lloyd M. Bucher and his wife Rose will travel in Europe after he retires from the Navy on June 1.

"We haven't decided on the future," Mrs. Bucher told the San Diego Evening Tribune. She said she has "mixed feelings" about Cmdr. Bucher's decision to retire after 22 years in the Navy.

Mrs. Bucher was interviewed by telephone from Guam, where her husband returned Monday after commanding an element of the U.S. minesweeper force clearing mines from North Vietnamese waters.

Bucher, 45, was commander of the Navy ship Pueblo when it was captured by a North Korean naval force Jan. 23, 1968.

The crew spent 11 months in captivity before being released. After a three-month court of inquiry, a panel of five admirals recommended that Bucher be tried by general court-martial for surrendering his ship. But Secretary of the Navy John Chafee ruled Bucher and his crew had "suffered enough."

AMSTERDAM, Mo. (AP) — What makes a champion fisherman?

"Hard work," says Virgil Ward, former world and national freshwater fishing champion. "You've got to get out early to find the best spots and figure out the lures and retrieve to use. Ward fishes on an average of 60 hours a week most of the year.

State Bar Study Recommends Changes

By THOMAS KENT
Associated Press Writer
HARTFORD (AP) - Police should reduce the number of people they take into custody and give more suspects written notices to appear in court, a committee of the Connecticut Bar Association recommends.

The proposal is one in a series of recommendations contained in a 350-page, 10-month study of Connecticut criminal laws and procedures prepared by a committee of the association's Junior Bar Section. The study is based on a comparison of Connecticut law with model standards of the American Bar Association.

Other recommendations are that jurors receive more money for their services and that public defenders be given better facilities and more job security.

The report recommends that police be required to issue the written notices to appear in court in some felony matters that do not involve violence. With increased reliance on such notices and increased manpower to make sure they are obeyed, the report says "Connecticut could become a model jurisdiction."

Discussion Planned
The report is to be discussed in detail at a series of Hartford seminars May 14 and 15.

George Browne, the director of the study, said in an interview that Connecticut law are largely in agreement with the ABA standards. The report points particularly to matters of probation, appeals, and electronic surveillance as areas of accord.

But on a few subjects, the report says, the differences are significant.

The report cites "uncertainty" in Connecticut's definition of what satisfies an accused person's right to a speedy trial. As a remedy, it urges that prosecutors be required to conduct their cases in accordance with strict timetables.

"The expiration of an established period... would result in the dismissal of criminal charges," the report says.

On another topic, the report says criminal defendants should be able to appeal their sentences without the fear that a new trial will result in punishment stiffer than their original penalty.

Better Jury Pay
Jurors are supposed to receive "reasonable" compensation for their services under the ABA standards, but the report says the $10 per day Connecticut jurors receive "is inadequate to make up for the lost wages of the average working man or woman who is summoned to jury duty."

"This in turn may diminish the representative character of juries," according to the report. "In many places juries consist largely of retired persons or those employed by large businesses which continue to pay their employees during jury service."

The report recalls that Connecticut became in 1971 the first state to create a statewide public defender system. But it says the system now suffers from inadequate facilities and support services made available to the public defenders.

Inadequate Manpower
"Manpower is inadequate, the minimum goal of parity with the prosecutor's office has not been met," the report says.

"The ABA standards... call for career service, appointment under a merit system and a guaranteed tenure for both the public defender and his staff."

"These goals are not met in Connecticut. The statutory

Teacher Wins Case

HARTFORD (AP) - A Woodbridge woman who claimed she had been forced to resign her teaching position in Seymour because she became pregnant, has been reinstated to that post with back pay.

Yvonne Klancick said she had been forced to resign during pregnancy, contrary to state laws and federal guidelines that assure equal treatment of all employees. She had claimed that a pregnancy should be treated as any other temporary disabling illness.

Students To Try Government Posts

HOLLY GANTNER
Correspondent
Tel. 742-8795

Coventry will hold its first town government day May 30, with high school students filling elective and appointive offices in an honorary capacity for one day.

Participants in the project will be mainly high school seniors, through their modern problems course. Election procedures are now being set up at the school, and the students will elect representatives to the Town Council, Board of Education and other elective posts. Once elected, appointments will be made to the various appointive boards and commissions by the elected officials.

The project, under the direction of George Coon, who is head of the social studies department at the high school, has received the blessing of the Town Council, and a special, student-run town council meeting has been scheduled for the evening of May 30.

Meeting recently, the council paid tribute to former Town Assessor Ernest Starzel, and presented to him a plaque in recognition of his service to the town. Starzel, who retired from the post last year, said he was very grateful for the recognition, and added "It was nice of you to think of me. He said he had enjoyed his employment with the town."

Town Manager Dennis Moore informed the council that on May 4, Building Inspector John Willnauer received his certification as a building official. Moore explained that under the state statutes, it is required that certifications be established for building officials. Certain training is required in addition to experience to qualify for the various categories, he said, and Willnauer is the 30th building inspector in the state to be certified as a building official.

"We are fortunate," Moore said, "to have a building official so certified, explaining the qualifications for this classification."

Historical Society Display
The Historical Society's shelves in the Town Hall for the month of May feature a display assembled by the American Legion with the annual Poppy Sale as the theme.

A book of verse opened to "In Flanders Field" by John McCrae, a small cemetery with miniature white crosses, a rehabilitation scene and posters are all graphically displayed.

The American Legion Auxiliary annual Gold Star Mothers' Tea will be held on May 20 at 3 p.m. at St. Mary's Church in Coventry, Rt. 31. Mrs. Corinne Cyclopedia of Willington is in charge of the affair. Reservations should be sent to Mrs. Walter Blomalis, 11 Ellsworth Rd., Broad Brook, 06016, before May 14.

Student Cited
Thomas B. Hazuka, Mark Dr., is one of two students in the UConn School of Business who will receive the Wall Street Journal Achievement Award at the May 13 Commencement Day services.

The Honor Roll at Coventry High School for the third semester has been announced by Principal Milton Wilde. Receiving High Honors (all A's) in the 12th grade was Christopher Carmichael; in the 11th grade, Virginia Dickerson and Raymond Jean; in the 10th grade, Isabel Broderson and Patricia White. Foot Health Week

A teenager's shyness or inferiority complex can, in many cases, be traced directly to foot problems, according to Dr. Steven Buchbinder, president of the Hartford County Podiatry Society.

"In many instances, problems such as a pigeon-toed gait, often the result of a birth defect, can bring on such feelings of inferiority," he said. "But by scientifically fitting a basically good shoe with pads and inlays, the condition can be corrected with a resulting personality gain for the teenager."

Dr. Buchbinder outlined his views as the local association of foot specialists marks the 1973 observation of Foot Health Week. The special week is observed nationally May 9-15 in order to educate Americans in proper foot health techniques.

"Shoes are really not the culprit when it comes to pigeon-toes," he said, "despite parents' tendencies to blame them when they see the youngster running over heels as well.

Class Reunion

Manchester High School, class of 1963, is planning its 10th and, Saturday, June 2, at the Holiday Inn in Meriden. A social hour will begin at 7 p.m. followed by a complete roast beef dinner and dancing to the "Main Street" Musical Band.

Class members who have not been contacted, are asked to call Judi Morrison Adalberto, 104 W. Center St. Others are reminded that reservations and money must be in by the May 21 deadline. Tickets are $11 per person, and $22 per couple.

Neighbor's Kitchen

By Vivian F. Ferguson

We finally have the secret of the fermented fruit which was discussed in this column in March of 1970.

Los Sinitella of 11 Wilby St. had told us about the fruit which is served atop ice cream, sherbet or cake. As the story went, one had to be "worthy" to receive a portion of the fruit from a friend.

The mixture consists of peaches, pineapple and marshmallow cherries. While it has a mild brandy-type flavor, no spirits are used. Every two weeks, the recipient of the fruit adds to her supply to keep the fruit jar filled forever or to give away.

Branded Fruits... A Perfect Gift

At the time of the story, I received letters and phone calls from several people requesting the starter recipe if I ever found it. Jane Squires, who now lives in Minnesota, wrote me at the time. She included a column that had been in the Minneapolis paper on the same topic but also without a recipe.

I searched high and low for the answer, studying also the fermentation of wine. I missed the answer completely. The secret of the starter is so simple I don't know why it didn't come to mind.

It's yeast! Ann Maluccio of Bolton called me several weeks ago to tell me that a friend of hers had found the recipe on the back of instant dry yeast. Here is the recipe as Ann gave it to me. You must make the starter before making the fruit sauce itself. Allow two weeks for the starter to ferment before going on to the second process for the sauce itself.

Starter for Fruit Sauce
1/2 cup drained canned peaches, cut in pieces
1/2 cup drained pineapple tidbits
6 maraschino cherries, cut in half
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 package instant blend dry yeast

Combine all ingredients and place in glass jar with loose cover. Stir several times first day, then stir once a day thereafter. At end of two weeks, sufficient fermentation will have occurred so you can make sauce.

Fruit Sauce
1 cup fermented fruit (starter)
1/2 cup drained peaches, cut up
1/2 cup drained pineapple tidbits
6 maraschino cherries cut in half
1 cup sugar

Combine all ingredients; stir. Set in warm place. Stir once a day for a week. Fruit and sugar must be repeated every two weeks.

Sauce can be used over ice cream, sherbet, pound cake, angel or sponge cake, plain cheese cake, in a parfait, over ham slices. Some like it over cottage cheese as a salad.

A few rules of thumb. When we say, set in a warm place, it means at room temperature. Don't make the mistake of setting it in the sun as one lady did. Absolutely nothing happened. This is because too high a temperature will kill the action of the yeast.

At first, you will think you have made a mistake because the fruit will not smell or taste too well. The longer you keep it, the mellower it will get.

School Menus

- The Cafeteria menus for the Manchester Public Schools, May 14-18:
- Monday: Sloppy Joe on roll, potato sticks, buttered green beans, bread, butter, milk, sliced peaches.
 - Tuesday: Hamburg patty on roll, French fried potatoes, buttered peas and carrots, milk, apple crisp.
 - Wednesday: Baked meat loaf, parried potato, whole kernel corn, bread, butter, milk, mixed fruit.
 - Thursday: Grider, applesauce, milk, ice cream.
 - Friday: Baked fish sticks, mashed potato, cole slaw, oatmeal, bread, butter, milk, chocolate pudding.

COOKING IS FUN

- CHINESE SUPPER
Stir-fry Beef and Asparagus
Rice
Bean Sprout Salad
Preserved Kumquats
Stir-fry Beef and ASPARAGUS
- Stretch that beef!
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon sherry
1 garlic clove, minced
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 pound flank or sirloin beef, diagonally and thinly sliced across grain in 1-inch wide pieces
1/4 cup corn oil
1 pound asparagus, diagonally and thinly sliced into 2-inch long pieces
1 cup beef broth
1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
- Mix together soy sauce, sherry, garlic, sugar and ginger; add beef, stir well, cover and marinate at least 1 hour. If meat has not absorbed marinade, drain it and reserve. In a large heavy skillet over moderate heat, heat corn oil. Add beef and cook, turning it over with a wide spatula, until it loses its red color. Add asparagus and stir quickly for about 3 minutes. Mix together broth, cornstarch and any marinade; stir into beef mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is clear, thickened and boiling. Makes 3 or 4 servings.
- Note: With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare outer covering from asparagus spears up to bud before slicing.

R: SAFE LIVING

MANCHESTER PUBLIC SAFETY COMMITTEE

The Public Safety Advisory Committee asks that Manchesterites be cautious this spring with the use of pesticides.

Some pesticides are not harmful to humans. For instance, pyrethrum is a pesticide made from a species of chrysanthemum. It is as harmless as a rule to humans. However, most pesticides contain chemicals which can be fatal if taken internally, inhaled or absorbed through the skin. Some compounds are so potent that even small amounts can kill.

Although it's safest to purchase pesticides which are not harmful to humans in some cases it's just not practical. Still the label should be read and instructions should be followed carefully.

Exact figures on the number of deaths to occur annually due to pesticide poisoning are not available, but the National Safety Council says that approximately 50,000 non-fatal poisonings occur each year.

A few safety practices could prevent such poisoning incidents, usually caused by carelessness.

- Only buy as much pesticide as needed.
- Store pesticides only in a locked cabinet, out of children's reach. Never store in containers other than the original.
- Use only the amount of pesticide recommended on the label.
- Over-strength preparations can be harmful or fatal.
- When applying pesticides, cover as much skin as possible with clothing to avoid unnecessary skin contact.
- Always wash thoroughly after using pesticides.
- Dispose of the empty containers immediately. If possible, wash them before discarding.

Service School Applications

Applications of Connecticut young men seeking to compete for admission to the U.S. service academies next year are being accepted by Connecticut Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr. The deadline for filing applications for competition is Oct. 31, 1973.

The candidates must be between 17 and 22 years of age, with good scholastic standing, ability to meet physical requirements and a strong desire for a service career," Sen. Weicker said.

Those interested in attending the Merchant Marine Academy, the Air Force Academy or the U.S. Military Academy should write Sen. Weicker at his district office, U.S. Federal Bldg., 915 Lafayette Blvd., Bridgeport, Conn. 06605.

There are three vacancies for the Military Academy at West Point and one for the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. In addition, Sen. Weicker will name 10 young men to compete for Connecticut's five vacancies at the Merchant Marine Academy, Sen. Weicker said.

Saunda Taylor Elected By Republican Women

Mrs. Harlan D. (Saunda) Taylor of 39 Harlan St. was elected and installed as president of the Manchester Republican Women's Club at its annual meeting and luncheon at Manchester Country Club Wednesday. She succeeds Mrs. Rosalind Quish.

Mrs. Taylor recently retired as vice chairman of the Republican Town Committee after nine years in the post.

Other officers are Mrs. Darden Haslett, first vice president; Mrs. Richard Denison, second vice president; Mrs. Norman Hoovey, recording secretary; Mrs. Roger Bagley, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Henry Sinnamon, treasurer.

Mrs. John Fletcher Jr., a past president of the club, conducted the candlelight installation ceremonies.

After lunch, Mrs. Anna-Mae Switaski, the first woman to be appointed to the State Liquor Control Commission, spoke to the group. She said, "I am thrilled with the new job, not just for myself but for what it has done for women." She called her appointment "a real breakthrough for women," and said that Gov. Thomas Meskill had named more women to state posts than any of the governors of other states.

Mrs. Switaski, who was vice chairman of the GOP state organization from 1969 until her appointment to the commission on May 1, said, "I'm proud to start on a new career in politics at the age of 68." Renouncing about her 14-hour days as vice chairman, she said, "Being a commissioner is like retiring."

She said that the majority cards were one of the commission's greatest problems. "Once a person shows his majority card, he now has to fill out a paper, which protects the permittee, making the customer responsible for perjury," she said.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Taylor announced future events including the annual fashion show, which will be Oct. 17 at Manchester Country Club.

About Town

An attic sale will be sponsored by the paragon committee of South United Methodist Church Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Jesse Lee House of the church. Items no longer needed at the church paragon will be on sale.

The Boy Scouts of Emanuel Lutheran Church will conduct a paper drive Saturday and Sunday. Those wishing papers picked up should contact the church office before Saturday.

The Board of Christian Concern of Center Congregational Church will meet tonight at 7:30 in the church library.

Sunday Library Hours

Over 12,000 items circulated from the Adult and Juvenile Departments during the 26 Sunday afternoons the Mary Cheney Library was open.

This experimental project began on Nov. 26 and ended April 29. Sunday library hours were planned to make library service available to members of the community who might have difficulty using the library during its regularly scheduled hours.

According to John F. Jackson, head librarian for the Town of Manchester, community response was most encouraging.

Selected statistics supporting the preceding statement are as follows: Materials circulated (adult and juvenile), 12,154; materials returned (adult and juvenile), 9,536; estimated attendance (adult and juvenile), 5,728.

More adults (3,089) used the library during the four-hour periods than did young people (2,637).

Adults borrowed 7,435 items while young people borrowed 4,719 items; 6,195 items were returned by adults while 3,341 items were returned by youngsters; 406 people used the Reference Department service with requests for magazines for Research purposes totaling 802.

Fifteen special programs were offered, 13 for children and two for adults, including a dramatization; 381 young people attended and participated in their programs.

Admen Ask Equal Time From CBS

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Advertising Federation, whose members include national advertisers and ad agencies, thinks CBS News gave the business of TV commercials a bad image—and right on television, too.

So now it's asking the network to "consider an appropriate vehicle in which to present points of view that balance those expressed" April 26 in a CBS-TV documentary called "You and the Commercial."

The AAF made the request in a two-page letter to its president, Howard Bell, sent to Richard Salant, president of CBS News.

In the letter, the AAF said there was a "lack of fairness and objectivity" in the show's study of TV commercials; it also complained that the "general treatment and emphasis of the program was to portray advertising as a con game."

It said that although advertising spokesmen were interviewed on the show, "there was no opportunity to respond to the one-sided opinion expressed by others on such critical matters as counter-advertising, social impact and economic value."

Salant, who said he got the letter Monday, declined to publicly comment right now on its charges. He said he felt that Bell, "as an old friend of mine, is entitled to first word of my reply."

He said he would write Bell this week and respond both to the letter's complaints and request for time to "balance" what the AAF considered to be "one-sided opinions" expressed on the un-sponsored show.

The two-page letter nowhere asked for the time under the Federal Communications Commission's "fairness doctrine."

"We haven't faced that yet," said Joseph Gillitz, executive vice president of the Washington-based AAF. "We're waiting to see what kind of response we get."

Gillitz, whose group has a total membership of 450 major advertisers, advertising agencies and media companies, said the AAF wasn't specifying how CBS should let the ad industry express its views.

CBS' unprecedented documentary about TV commercials drew a few disgruntled harrumphs from advertising agency officials right after it was broadcast, but no official complaints until the AAF's letter.

A CBS spokesman this week said there still have been no formal gripes about the show from either advertisers or ad agencies. He said none have threatened to withdraw their advertising from CBS either.

Until the AAF's letter, the strongest industry growl had been a bitter editorial in the April 10 edition of "Advertising Age," a magazine widely read by advertising men and women.

The editorial described "You and the Commercial" as "an unfair and slanted as any program we have seen in a long time. Not a single 'good' commercial was shown."

Geology Research Journal Started

Washington—A new scientific journal, to be published six times a year, has been started by the U.S. Geological Survey, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, for $8.50 a year.

Called the Journal of Research of the U.S. Geological Survey, it can be ordered from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, for $8.50 a year.

Featured authors speaking about their latest publications, Rhea Stewart gave an informal talk about her book, "Fires in Afghanistan," and Jean Martin Mazziolo spoke about her book, "Learning Through Play."

Because of the interested response, Jackson feels that should next year's budget allow, the program will be tried again during the late fall and early spring of the coming year.

Obituary

Lottery Winners Named

Mrs. Christina L. Trotman, 83, of 845 Main St., died Wednesday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. She was the widow of Walter G. Trotman.

Mrs. Trotman was born in London, England, and had lived in the Hartford area for many years. She was a member of the Universalist Church of West Hartford.

Survivors are a son, E. Russell Trotman of South Windsor; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be Friday at Newkirk and Whitney Funeral Home, 318 Burnside Ave., East Hartford, followed by cremation.

There are no calling hours.

The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to the Heart Association of Greater Hartford, 310 Collins St., Hartford.

Approves Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Agriculture Committee has approved a farm bill that would cut farm costs to the government when the market is high but boost subsidies when the market is low.

The bill, approved Wednesday, works this way: It sets an "established price" for wheat, feed grain and cotton amounting to 70 per cent of what would be paid in the open market.

As long as the market price remains at the established price, farmers would get no cash from the government. But if the established price falls below the market price, the government would make up the difference.

The established prices, set at $2.28 a bushel for wheat, $1.53 per bushel for corn and 48 cents per pound for cotton, would be adjusted annually for five years. The set dairy price, which varies for products, will be in effect for only one year.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., committee chairman, said the plan would give the administration "the benefit of the doubt."

"If the predictions have heard about expanded foreign and domestic markets for agriculture come true, it won't cost the taxpayers one thin dime for supplemental payments. However, if the experts miss their predictions, which would have the major hand in creating any possible crop surpluses, would share the cost of the error with the farmers," Talmadge said.

Police Report

Steven R. Moquin, 16, of 185 Astoria St., was charged Wednesday with fourth-degree larceny (three counts) and third-degree burglary (three counts) in connection with three recent burglaries.

A fifteen-year-old Manchester boy has been referred to juvenile authorities in connection with the breaks.

Police say that the charges stem from investigations into burglaries at 38 and 43 Meadow Lane Saturday and another at 75 Edmund St. Wednesday.

Moquin was to be presented in court today.

Manchester Police have charged two juvenile boys in connection with three burglaries which occurred last month.

The two have been referred to juvenile authorities in connection with a break at the office in East Cemetery on April 3, a burglary at 43 Richard Rd. on April 19 and an April 30 break on Grandview St.

State Man Dies In Home Fire

SAN CARLOS, Calif. (AP) — A 24-year-old Connecticut man died Wednesday in a fire that caused $30,000 damage to a home here, fire officials said.

David Godfrey Wardley of Branford, Conn., was found dead with his head on a window sill by firemen who said the blaze in the Spanish-style home was caused by a smoldering object lodged in a sofa.

Seven people lived in the home, one of whom was the Connecticut man's fiancée, police said.

Armed Force Reduction Meeting Set

VIENNA (AP) — Representatives of the United States and the Soviet Union, in a joint appearance today, announced that the first plenary session of preparatory talks on European troop reductions will be held here next Monday.

A statement read first by the U.S. delegate and then by the Soviet representative, said: "Representatives of the 19 states who are the participants in the preparatory consultations related to central Europe which began in Vienna on Jan. 31, 1973 will hold a plenary meeting in the board room of the IAEA — International Atomic Energy Agency — building on Monday, May 14, 1973, at 10:30 a.m. — 5:30 a.m. EDT."

Although no details were disclosed, the announcement meant a break-through in the talks, deadlocked since Jan. 31 and that some kind of compromise had been reached.

Since the delegates from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Soviet bloc's Warsaw Pact began meeting in January, they have held only informal private talks.

Probe Derailment

REDDING (AP) — Railroad and state investigators continued their efforts today to learn the cause of a five-car commuter train derailment that killed one passenger and left two others injured.

Police were said to be studying the possibility that recent rains had weakened the Danbury-branch embankment causing the rails to move and send half the 10-car train plunging off the tracks at about 7:15 a.m. Wednesday. It was raining at the time of the derailment.

Fire Calls

The Town Fire Department was called to 122 Wetherell St. at 4:46 p.m. Wednesday to extinguish a small fire burning in a stove. The fire was no damage, firemen reported.

Ice Cream Antidote Prescribed

HARTFORD (AP) — The state Poison Information Center used ice cream to deal with one of its poison emergencies in April.

A report issued Wednesday by the center said a mother called for advice after her daughter got some diluted toilet bowl cleaner in her mouth. The center advised ice cream as a means to neutralize the sodium bisulfate in the cleaner and remove the sour taste from the girl's mouth.

The center received 100 calls in April, with 90 of the cases involving children under five. None of the people involved required extended hospital care, the center said.

The center has received 25,197 calls since it was established in 1967.

Its Hartford telephone number is 566-3458.

Murphey Returns Home To Be Parade Marshal

Horace Murphey, former Manchester superintendent of parks, has accepted the invitation to be the Sociocultural Parade grand marshal.

John Lavitow of Glastonbury, a former Navy veteran and holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, will be the parade's honorary grand marshal.

Murphey, who served as park superintendent from 1958 until his retirement in 1967, presently resides in Sarasota, Fla., with his wife Gladys. Both are 194 Manchester High School graduates and Mrs. Murphey rode on the "Spirit of Education" float in the Manchester Centennial Parade.

Murphey, a past president of the New England Institute of Park and Recreation Administration Association, is a Mason and a member of Natick Forest Tall Cedars of Lebanon.

Murphey served in the Army for 23 years, combined service in the reserves, National Guard and in federal service, and achieved the rank of major. He served in the China, Burma, India Theater in World War II with the Chinese Combat Command and holds the Bronze Star.

Industry pays thousands of dollars a pound for powdered diamonds, compared with 30 cents a pound for other abrasives, but the labor and time savings are tremendous.

Downtown Contributions

The Mayor's Downtown Action Committee has received $4,880 in contributions and another $810 in pledges toward the one-year cost of a downtown planning consultant.

The figures are up-to-date as of Wednesday afternoon, and were reported by the assistant town manager's office.

The downtown committee is attempting to raise $10,000 from downtown interests to supplement a $10,000 Town of Manchester contribution, which is contingent upon downtown participation.

A planning consultant — the Farmington firm of Brown, Donald & Donald — has been selected but has not yet been "signed."

Contributions and pledges received by the downtown committee since April 20, when The Herald acknowledged the contributors, include:

- Glacier's Corset and Uniform Shop, 631 Main St.
- Carter Chevrolet Co., Inc., 1229 Main St.
- Quinn's Pharmacy, Inc., 873 Main St.
- Manchester Drug, 717 Main St.

Federal Fuel Oil Control Requested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Democratic congressmen from Connecticut have urged new federal controls on fuel supplies.

Meanwhile, a Republican representative has introduced legislation designed to hold down hospital rates by giving the institutions a longer period of time to pay some $300 million they owe the federal government.

In a letter addressed to U.S. Treasury officials and released Wednesday, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff urged the creation of an office in the Treasury Department to deal with disputes over scarce fuel.

Such an office would encourage prompt, voluntary settlement of such disputes through information consultation, Ribicoff said. If President Nixon should announce fuel allocation controls, he added,

Postcard Registration Passes Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed and sent to an uncertain fate in the House a bill that would allow Americans to register for federal elections by mailing a postcard.

The White House opposes the measure, which won 57-37 Senate passage Wednesday only after a month-long filibuster by Southern and conservative Democrats.

Twice earlier the Senate had failed to cut off debate and bring the bill to a vote. Opponents, led by Sens. James Allen, D-Ala., and Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, contended registration by mail would promote election fraud.

The vote on halting the filibuster was 67 to 32, with all senators voting except John C. Stennis, D-Miss., who is recovering from gunshot wounds.

The bill, which was killed in the Senate last year, would create a voter-registration administration. The Census Bureau would identify potential voters and the Postal Service would deliver registration cards. The voter would register simply by returning the card. The maximum penalty for false registration would be a $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

Oil Firm Target Of Federal Suit

HARTFORD (AP)—A U.S. District Court judge has signed a restraining order barring Chevron Oil Co. from cutting off supplies of petroleum products to a Vermont gasoline distributor.

Judge M. Joseph Blumfield signed the order after Farmoil, Inc., of Rockville filed an antitrust suit against Chevron Monday. Chevron was ordered to show cause at a hearing today in Hartford why the court should not issue a permanent injunction in the case.

Farmoil contends the action constitutes an antitrust law violation and that it was part of a move by Chevron to force independent gasoline distributors out of business.

Three To Attend 2-Day Institute

Three Manchester persons will take part in a two-day Institute on Police Relations with Troubled Juveniles, to be held May 22-23 at the University of Bridgeport. They are Youth Services Officer Patricia Graves, a member of the Manchester Police Department; Robert J. Digan of the Manchester Board of Education's Youth Service Department; and Thomas Connor, the director of Social Science & Public Careers programs at Manchester Community College.

Connor and Miss Graves will be members of a panel of reactors, who will respond to the keynote address titled "Problems of Troubled Juveniles." Connor will also speak on the "Disciplinary Rights of the Policeman" in a dual presentation with Judge Thomas D. Gill, chief justice of the Connecticut Juvenile Court. Digan will be a member of a panel discussing alternative community resources.

The office "would be empowered" to order that adequate supplies be held at reasonable prices to persons and communities from any reserve supply established by the allocation program.

On a voluntary level, Ribicoff said Treasury Department intervention had already been effective in several instances in Connecticut. He cited a recent appeal he made to the department on behalf of a Norwich, Conn. heating oil dealer reportedly threatened with a cutback by its suppliers. Treasury officials met with the supplier and told Ribicoff they had agreed to give the dealer the oil.

"Shortages and price increases affecting small businesses, consumers and communities are recurring daily throughout the country," Ribicoff said in his letter.

"Accordingly, I believe new procedures should be established to provide for speedy remedies to these growing problems."

The procedures should emphasize speed and simplicity. Long, complex forms and lengthy legal proceedings should be avoided. This will promote compliance with the formulas and assure efficient distribution of petroleum products.

U.S. Rep. Ella T. Grasso introduced legislation Wednesday to give the President temporary authority to allocate and distribute all forms of energy in the event of a shortage.

The language of the bill provides for the special presidential powers in the event of "imminent shortages or dislocations in the national fuel distribution system."

The controls, which would expire Sept. 1, 1974, could be administered by the secretary of the interior. Periodic reports on the effectiveness of the measures would have to be filed with Congress.

U.S. Rep. Stewart B. McKinney has proposed that

South Windsor New Sewer Line Ready for Tie-In

Residents of South Windsor, served by the recent sewer line extensions, may now connect their homes to the line. James Thorne, chairman of the Sewer Commission, said.

The area of town now serviced by the line are generally the southeast portion plus areas along Oakland Rd., Buckland Rd., Deming St., Clark St., and Chapel Rd.

The residents who wish to tie in to the line must first pay the town a connection charge of $400. This amount is the charge to each individual homeowner for his proportionate share of the construction costs of sewerage treatment and sewage handling facilities such as pumping stations, trunk lines and the treatment plant itself.

The $400 should be paid either in person or by mailing it to the collector of revenue for the town. Checks should be made payable to the Town of South Windsor.

Upon receiving the payment, the collector of revenue will provide the homeowner with a receipt which must be shown to the superintendent of the Department of Pollution Control by the contractor doing the work for the homeowner and he will then receive a permit for the construction of the sewer connection.

The cost of the permit is $20 which also is payable to the town and should be paid to the collector of revenue, Edward Montz. Anyone wishing additional information should contact the Department of Pollution Control.

The project, which received more than $1.6 million in state and federal funds is now in operating condition as the result of completion of a critical pumping station on Clark St., Thorne said.

Due to the numerous serious pollution and health problems in connection with septic tank systems, Thorne said he expects many homes will tie in to the lines within the next few months.

Vernon Notes

Mrs. Allen Beaverstock of Ellington was installed as president of the Rockville Emblem Club at ceremonies recently at the Rockville Elk's Club. Mrs. Beaverstock succeeds Mrs. Earl Garity as president.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Theodore Ventura, vice president; Mrs. James Josephic, financial secretary; Mrs. William Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Leonard Friedrich, recording secretary; Mrs. William Pease, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Lida Duncan was elected chairman of the trustees; Mrs. John O'Connell, second trustee; Mrs. Joan Carter, third trustee; Mrs. Ward Day, marshal; Mrs. Arthur Folsie, first assistant marshal; and Miss Kay Marley, second assistant; Mrs. Elton Campbell, chaplain; Mrs. Paul Jones, president; Mrs. Charles Lyons and Mrs. Walter Driama will be in charge of the deserts.

Tickets will be $1 for students, $1.50 for adults and $4 for a family. Proceeds will go to support the foreign student who will spend the school year in South Windsor. Tickets may be purchased from any AFS member or at the door.

PELTS VALUE FIXED
Ottawa — In 17th century Canada, beaver pelts became the standard by which all else was valued in the absence of coin. Their value was fixed by law to prevent disputes.

Church Show
The young people of St. Bernard's Church will present a variety show, "Fun & Frolics," May 18 at 7:15 p.m. at the Vernon Center Middle School.

It will be the third annual show of the OCD and more than 25 acts will be presented. Among the acts will be the Rev. Anthony Mitchell singing some ballads and the Rev. William Schneifler's barbershop quartet. Tickets are now on sale at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Scout Awards
Lake O'Connor and Daniel Tripp of Boy Scout Troop 815 of Rockville, were presented the Ad Altare Dei award, an annual Catholic scout award, at ceremonies held in Norwich last Sunday.

The award is given in recognition of an above average expression of the faith through prayer, study and action. The presentations were made by the Most Rev. Vincent J. Hines, Bishop of Norwich.

Not Northeast
Tokyo — Superstitious Japanese never have doors or windows on the northeast side of their homes. And when they move they are reluctant to move to the northeast. Some auto drivers will travel a circuitous route to avoid going straight northeast.

The reason? The zodiac calendar, which features animals, is circular. The unluckiest sign is the Ox, the Gate of the Devil, which lies on the northeast, between the ox and the tiger.

Pony Express Short-lived
St. Joseph, Mo. — The Pony Express carried mail between St. Joseph and San Francisco in less than 10 days in 1860 and 1861. Eight riders and 400 horses were used. When telegraph wires crossed the continent, the Pony Express folded.

South Windsor AFS Plans Supper

The South Windsor Chapter of American Field Service (AFS) will sponsor a spaghetti supper with international desserts Friday from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

Mrs. Walter Morse is chairman for the event and the Junior Chapter of the high school will be in charge of table set-up and decorations.

Mrs. Walter Varo and Mrs. Walter Mealy are ticket chairmen and Mrs. Charles Lyons and Mrs. Walter Driama will be in charge of the deserts.

Tickets will be $1 for students, $1.50 for adults and $4 for a family. Proceeds will go to support the foreign student who will spend the school year in South Windsor. Tickets may be purchased from any AFS member or at the door.

Groundbreaking

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the addition to the Talcottville School will be held Saturday at 11 a.m.

The construction contract was awarded to Alma Construction Co. of Vernon. The addition will include a physical education facility for the handicapped and a classroom for the pre-school children.

The following lunches will be served in the Vernon schools next week:

Monday: Ravioli with meat sauce, was beans, bread and butter and apple crisp.
Tuesday: Pork chops with applesauce, mashed potato, carrots and Jello with topping.
Wednesday: Beef stew with vegetables, saltines, peanut butter sandwich, fruit cocktail.
Thursday: Hot turkey sandwich, fritters, green beans and brownies.

Call Your Mother

(the smart way)

Mother's Day means cards and flowers and, of course, thousands of long distance calls. And last year it meant so many calls that if your Mom lives outside of Connecticut you may have had trouble getting your call through.

So this year, take these tips from The Phone Store. Get Mom's number from out-of-state Directory Assistance before Mother's Day. Just dial 1 plus the area code plus 555-1212. And you might even beat the rush by phoning Mom ahead of time. On Saturday.

Follow these tips and you'll have the best chance of getting through to wish her a "Happy Mother's Day!"

Once Lowly Onion Now Status Symbol

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) - I have always cried when I peel onions. These days I cry when I buy them.
That once lowly vegetable, scribbled nonchalantly on the grocery list and thrown carelessly into the shopping cart, is now a major purchase, to be budgeted for along with next winter's coat.
With its sudden rise in price the onion has also undergone a rise in status.
Talk around the afternoon bridge table is no longer confined to a discussion of the latest courtier creation picked up at that expensive boutique. A casually dropped mention that it's time to go home and fix onion soup for supper is what really wins instant respect.
So what if the customer ahead of you in the supermarket checkout line ostentatiously places a pound package of ground chuck on the counter with an extravagant shrug? You can practice one-upmanship by arranging the groceries so that the three-pound bag of onions proclaims who is really in the affluent class.
On second thought, maybe you should forget the pretentious display of solvency and strike up a friendship with a view to matrimony - the joining of both your purchase in a heavenly union of hamburger with onion.
After spending a lifetime munching on bread meats and talking with my mouth closed to make certain nobody knows I've been eating onions, I suddenly find it's an ego trip to make sure everyone within nose-shot is aware that I have the sweet smell of financial success.
Where in the past a pound of the little bulbs would last so long that they started sprouting forlornly away from lack of attention, now every recipe I tackle contains onions as one of its main ingredients.

Speaker Tells RPHNA Health Care System Third Major Industry

BARBARA RICHMOND (Herald Reporter)
"The health care system in this nation has become the third major industry," Morton Coleman, dean of the University of Connecticut School of Social Work, told the members of the Rockville Public Health Nursing Association Tuesday night.
Dean Coleman spoke at the annual meeting of the association. He said that the health care system has jumped from third to second largest industry in this country. "In 1970 the United States expended $53 billion for health and medical care and employs 3.5 million people in the delivery of health services," Dean Coleman said.
Although this country has the best trained physicians and nurses in the world and more superior hospitals, the health care system has problems and many of them critical, Dean Coleman said.
He said these ambulatory methods will more and more utilize concepts such as neighborhood health centers, group practice, nursing home facilities and home care, and in the process heavier reliance will have to be made on ancillary personnel.
He said this new personnel configuration would have to establish new sets of relationships and roles and will differ from the more rigid hierarchical relationship found in the hospital.
The Public Health Nurses, nurses aides, physicians and social workers would be included in these health teams, he said. "One characteristic of the treatment system would be the treatment of the patient in his home or in a non-institutional setting," Dean Coleman explained.
"Cost, impersonality, routinization of hospitals make home care seem to have major therapeutic benefits," Dean Coleman said.

Today's health system is dominated by the hospital and the physician. The hospital has undergone an evolution from the place of last resort and no return into the nexus of medical care," Dean Coleman said.
He described the hospital as becoming the center stage where all the forces and vested interest in the medical care structure are being played out.
Even though there has been a major expansion of the training of physicians and an increase in the number of medical schools since World War II, there is still a significant shortage of physicians, Coleman said. He added that the cost of producing a physician runs about $14,000 a year.

Turning again to reorganization, Dean Coleman suggested that it is most likely to develop on regional lines based on a complex of inter-related personnel and facilities suitable for different levels of care. He said this would include arrangements to assure ease of referral and transfer from one level to another with cost perhaps the paramount issue.

Noting he did not have the expertise to predict, in detail, how such a system would be developed, Dean Coleman did hazard some general assumptions. He listed as one that the growing costliness of the hospital will force concentration on the treatment of serious disease while less complicated care and preventative services will be delegated to less expensive and more conveniently

Heritage Day Dies in House

HARTFORD (AP) - A proposal to give Connecticut "national Heritage Day" died in the state House of Representatives but a separate bill to make Martin Luther King's birthday a state holiday was given new life.
The former bill was referred to the legislature's General Law Committee after some representatives described it as "meaningless" and "approaching the ridiculous."
The bill would have set aside the first Sunday in October to honor the ancestors of Connecticut Citizens.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bohme, left, reminisces with Mrs. Efrida Junger and "Heidi" tries to get in on the conversation. (Herald photo by Richmond)

Vernon Girlhood Friends Reunited

BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter Mrs. Elizabeth Bohme of Warren Ave., Vernon, and Mrs. Efrida Junger of West Germany, girlhood friends, were reunited this past week after 37 years. Mrs. Junger arrived in this country by plane, her first visit and her first air trip, and she is very impressed with both. The two women went to school together and also worked together. Mrs. Bohme came to this country in 1936 and has lived in Vernon about 23 years. It was a happy moment when Mrs. Junger landed at Bradley Field because, at both women confessed, they thought they would never see each other again. Mrs. Junger spent two years in a refugee camp during the war and during the period following she said she experienced a lot of disappointments and a lot of hardships. With pay she received as a part-time bookkeeper and widow's pension, she managed to save enough money to make the trip to the states. Mrs. Junger doesn't speak English but Mrs. Bohme speaks English and German fluently so she acted as interpreter. Through her, Mrs. Junger said she thinks Vernon and Manchester are beautiful and she was impressed by how nice the towns are kept. Mrs. Junger will spend another week in Vernon and then will go to Toronto to see another friend she hasn't seen for a long time.

Business Mirror Small Businesses Seek To Protect Their Status

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—Attempting to improve an environment they feel should be more friendly, many businessmen next week observe Small Business Week, appropriately enough in Washington, close, they feel, to both problem and solution. There are, by all reliable estimates, between five million and eight million small businesses in America today, employing 44 per cent of all employees and producing 37 per cent of the Gross National Product. From their point of view, these small, independently owned businesses form the backbone of many American towns and small cities, providing jobs, taxes, and leadership. They feel also that they are the spiritual guardians of innovation and invention. You might also say that they keep their bigger cousins supplied. General Motors, the largest manufacturer of all, depends upon 26,000 suppliers, 64 per cent of which employ less than 100 people, and 89 per cent less than 500. But small business, so obvious to the eye wherever you go, is afraid of being perpetually eclipsed, shadowed by big business, which grows bigger and perhaps less representative of "business" each year. What's good for big business isn't always so for smaller companies. In fact, says Lewis A. Shattuck, an especially clear articulator of its views, "there is some doubt that some businessmen ever would have gone into business if the same environment today existed 10 to 20 years ago." Shattuck is executive vice president of the Smaller Business Association of New England, for 30 years one of the most active small-business groups, and formulator of a presentation to be presented to congressmen May 16. Joining in the presentation this year are the Independent Business Association of Wisconsin, and the Smaller Manufacturers Council, Pittsburgh, and other groups from Ohio and New York. More are expected to join next year. "The average small-business man spends some 200 hours a year completing forms, calculating and paying his taxes, and responding to various government questionnaires," the presentation continues. The moral: Cut the paperwork. "We ask for recognition of the fact that the paperwork requirement thrown on small business by the federal government is in some cases the extra margin that threatens to drive a small business under," Shattuck states. "The average small-business man spends some 200 hours a year completing forms, calculating and paying his taxes, and responding to various government questionnaires," the presentation continues. The moral: Cut the paperwork. "If a hypothetical small business earned exactly $100,000, its present taxes would amount to $41,500," the businessman state, arguing that such a bite causes financing problems for businesses seeking to expand.

Leone Cards Fine 71 Round

Indians Record At 9-1-0

Playing in a slight drizzle, Manchester High's varsity golf team rebounded from a defeat Tuesday to turn back Bulkley High and East Hartford High at the local Country Club yesterday.

The Tribe downed the Hartford school, 4-1, while the Hornets were blanked, 5-0. Steady Scott Leone copped medalist honors with a blazing 71 on the par 69 course. He carried a 38-33, and played the back nine in even par.

All four Manchester golfers fired in the 70's with Jim Thomas carding a 75, Lon Annulli 76 and Brad Downey a 79.

The difference between this year's team and the past is that we don't have the bad round. Everyone is playing well. As a team, we talked 300 which isn't bad at Manchester, coach Tom Kelley noted.

Originally Ellington High was scheduled to have played yesterday, but due to the weather conditions, decided not to come.

This afternoon in Willimantic the Tribe went up against Penney and Windham High in another CCIL match.

Results: Manchester vs. Bulkley — Leone def. Conforto (B), 4-3; Ouellette (B) def. Downey (M), 4-3; Annulli (M) def. Burke (B), 5-4; Thomas (M) def. Deep (B), 4-3.

Manchester vs. East Hartford — Leone (M) def. Alexander (EH) 8-6; Downey (M) def. Vignati (EH) 4-3; Annulli (M) def. Lavey (EH), 4-3; Thomas (M) def. Pechusick (EH) 4-3.

The Lowell bouts climaxed a month-long competition involving 175 youngsters in nine classes. A crowd of 500 viewed the championship program.

A year ago, Everett gained the semifinal round before being sidelined. Last week, in the title event, he gained a three-round unanimous decision over Alvin Robidoux of Webster, Mass. The latter had won championships in two lighter weight classes the two previous years.

In the balloting for the most outstanding boxer at the Lowell Boys' Club, Everett came in with the second greatest number of votes.

The champ's brothers are Steve, and Ron, both 12, Randy, 10, and Mike, 7.

Next for Chris Everett will be Alumni Junior League baseball in the Manchester Rec Department summer program.

The Everetts are all all around athletes.

Silver Mittens Biggest Victory

By Earl Yost

Proudly wearing a bright red jacket these cool mornings and possessor of a large trophy one quarter his height is 13-year-old Chris Everett of 178 S. Main St.

The eighth grade student at Bennet Junior High won the 100-pound division of the Silver Mittens Boxing Tournament last Friday night at Lowell, Mass. The jacket and trophy were rewards for bringing the ring championship back to Manchester.

Everett, one of five brothers, all boxers, is the oldest and the best. The champ is managed by his father, Earle, and trained by ex-pro, Johnny Duke. The latter directs the Believe Square Boys' Club of which Everett is a member.

The local boy has been boxing for five years. His previous best showing was a triumph in the Bronze Mittens Tournament in Hartford.

The Lowell bouts climaxed a month-long competition involving 175 youngsters in nine classes. A crowd of 500 viewed the championship program.

A year ago, Everett gained the semifinal round before being sidelined. Last week, in the title event, he gained a three-round unanimous decision over Alvin Robidoux of Webster, Mass. The latter had won championships in two lighter weight classes the two previous years.

In the balloting for the most outstanding boxer at the Lowell Boys' Club, Everett came in with the second greatest number of votes.

The champ's brothers are Steve, and Ron, both 12, Randy, 10, and Mike, 7.

Next for Chris Everett will be Alumni Junior League baseball in the Manchester Rec Department summer program.

The Everetts are all all around athletes.

SIX ARMS WITH TRIBE - Keeping Manchester in contention in the CCIL baseball flag chase are hurlers, left to right, Don Pagan, Ken Irish, John Koepsel, Dave Bidwell, Connie McCurry and Ron Roy.

Schedule Cut

Rain curtailed diamond play yesterday of the Manchester High baseball team, Manchester Community College doubleheader with Eastern Connecticut JV's and Cheney Tech's once postponed game with Windham Tech.

The Tribe-Knight contest was played this afternoon in East Hartford.

MCC will make up the game Friday in Willimantic in a solo affair.

Cheney's outing has been rescheduled for May 24 in Willimantic.

The Dry Side of Sports

By Dean R. Yost

Sore Spots in Racing
Race fans, have you been to Stafford Springs Motor Speedway lately, paid $4 for admission, heard the announcing, and arrived home late?

To this writer, these are the problems that have developed at the million dollar racing facility in Stafford.

Lou Morton, former area disc jockey, and once the voice of the Atlanta International Speedway, does the announcing, but somewhere along the route, Morton's commentary for describing the action has slipped.

When the modifiers are on the track and running either in the heats or feature event, more than once Morton had referred to the cars by numbers instead of names, which means more to the fans than numbers; they can read those by themselves. For example, he says "There goes car No. 15," while it should be there goes Bugs Steves in the No. 15, or something along this line.

Although many people criticized Jim Powers who handled the mike at Stafford for two consecutive seasons for talking too much, he gave the paying spectators more than their money's worth.

Powers would give detailed accounts of the modifieds and six cylinders alike, their crews, past performances, and accurate eye-witness accounts of the fierce action.

Powers would prepare himself each Saturday night by going into the pits and mixing with the drivers, seeking worthwhile information which he passed on to the fans.

Talking with Seymour the Clown, a personal friend, he commented, "Last year Seymour was up on top, now I'm down on the bottom. Although I had never prepared any of my antics with Jim (Powers), we communicated perfectly. With the present announcing, I've been having my problems trying to keep the fans amused," added the well-liked Stafford clown.

Also, with the increased modified purse, the last-place car guaranteed $100 in the feature, the money for this payoff has to come from somewhere, like your pockets.

Another item is the time element. As advertised via the radio, the feature would be over at or close to 11 p.m. Contrary to this, the main event Saturday was completed at 11:20. Taking into consideration the rain, it's still a long evening to keep avid race fans there.

Stafford Speedway had come a long way since the days of dirt racing, but slowly the half-mile oval is digging a hole that soon could be too deep to climb out of.

Making A Determined Bid
Carl "Bugs" Stevens, campaigning again in the Sonny Kozela stable, is making a determined bid to regain the NASCAR modified driving championship that has eluded him the past two seasons.

Currently the Rehoboth, Mass., chauffeur leads the national point chase with 809 points while two-time champion Jerry Cook is second, only 86 points off the pace.

Paul Radford, Richie Evans and Bernie Miller round out the top five. Leo Cleary who ranked fourth going into the past weekend, remains in the top 10.

Rule Clarification
Monday during Manchester High's baseball game with Windham, Coach Harold Parks questioned Plate Umpire John Risley's decision on a dead ball that hit batter Bruce Peck.

According to section 2.0, definition of terms, it states, a strike is a legal pitch when so called by the umpire, which touches the batter as he strikes at it; in section 6.08, the ruling is further explained: Approved Ruling: When the batter is touched by a pitched ball which does not entitle him to first base, the ball is dead and no runner may advance.

Field personnel report that trout fishing is good in the Housatonic River, the West Branch of the Farmington River, Norwalk River, Kemperaug River, Pequonnock River, East Aspetuck River, Muddy River, Mill River, Blackledge River, Salmon River, Jermy's River, Hammonasset River, Eight Mile River, Latimer Brook, Natchaug River, Yankee River, Pachaug River, Moosauk River and Blackwells Brook.

Trot fishing is also reported to be good in West Hill Pond, Congamond Lake, East Twin Lake, Lake Quassapaug, Ball Pond, Lake Quonnapog, Gardner Lake, Beach Pond, Amos Lake, Long Pond and Mashapaug Pond.

Fishing for panfish is good in the Housatonic River at Kent, Lake Waramaug, Mudge Pond, Lake Lillimont, Lake Zear, Rogers Lake, Palaganus Lake, Moodus Reservoir, Rachaug Pond, Quaddick Reservoir, Aspinook Pond, Hopewille Pond, Glasgo Pond and Williams Pond.

Peterson, Lyle Combine Talents To Pitch Shutout For New York

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Sparky Lyle, ace reliever of the New York Yankees, picked up the official boxscore save in Wednesday night's game against the Minnesota Twins.

But as an amused Ralph Houk pointed out to Lyle after the game, the man who made the key "save" won't appear in the pitching summaries.

"What did you do?" Houk asked Lyle after he faced six men and retired them all, saving Fritz Peterson's 2-0 victory over the Twins. "There's the man who made the big throw over there."

Houk was referring to Yankee right fielder Matty Alou, whose perfect peg home in the seventh inning cut down Danny Thompson trying to score from second on a single with two out.

Peterson, improving his record to 3-4, was totally surprised by the game's big defensive play.

"At first I didn't even think Thompson would try to score," said Peterson. "I thought he'd hold up, so I didn't even back up the play. It was a lucky break I didn't have to."

The ball arrived with one hop in catcher Thurman Munson's mitt. Thompson slammed into Munson, but the Yankee catcher held the ball, snuffing out a potential big inning.

"Alou is doing a heck of a defensive job in the outfield," said Houk. "He's made three or four crucial throws for us this year. He's thrown guys out at second on hits down the line. He's not only great in the outfield, but he's hitting better than .300. He's one of the better players in baseball."

Alou was nonchalant about the hero's role.

"I wasn't surprised he tried to score," said Alou, obtained in an off-season trade with Oakland. "I knew I had a chance to get him. The ball was moving toward me pretty fast and I had to keep it."

Peterson left the game after giving up his ninth hit, a double to Larry Hulse with none out in the eighth.

Lyle then got Rod Carew on a grounder and struck out Harmon Killebrew and Bob Darwin, and retired the Twins in order in the ninth.

The Yankees received run-scoring singles in the first from Jim Ray Hart and in the fourth from Gene Michael.

The Twins now have lost all five games they've played against New York this season, falling 5-12 games off the West Division leading Chicago White Sox.

New York remained in the middle of the tight East Division race with all six teams bunched within one game of each other.

Kaat, who gave up nine hits to the Yankees, said he pitched his best game of the season in falling to 4-2.

"I had my best stuff," said Kaat. "But I liked the other results better."

Manager Frank Quilici was optimistic that the club, 11-12 for the year, would pull out of its slump after losing eight of its last 10 games.

"The club has to keep its confidence up and it is," said Quilici. "We've been hitting line drives right at somebody. They'll start falling in."

Tigers Catch Up With Busby And Turn Back Kansas City

NEW YORK (AP) — Steve Busby has been looking like someone diving from outer space to the Detroit Tigers but came down to earth in a hurry Wednesday night.

The Tigers, who had hardly gotten a diving object of the Kansas City right-hander in three games, launched seven hits in each of the fourth and fifth innings enroute to a 4-1 victory.

"The law of averages caught up with me," said Busby, who had combined on a no-hitter against the Tigers in spring training and then pitched a no-hitter himself last April 27 in Detroit.

"I was getting behind a little more tonight than I did in Detroit," explained Busby. "But in Detroit I came back with good pitches—not tight. I was throwing a little too fine. I've got to challenge the hitters. They hit the heck out of the ball, didn't they?" Ironically, Busby faced Jim Perry again—the same pitcher who was on the mound in the no-hit feat.

Perry whipped Busby this time with relief help from John Hiller.

In the other American League games, the Cleveland Indians trounced the California Angels 10-3; the Oakland A's nipped the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 in 10 innings; the Milwaukee Brewers trimmed the Texas Rangers 5-1 and the New York Yankees blanked the Minnesota Twins 2-0.

The Tigers settled the no-hit stigma at once by getting a bit in the first inning off Busby, a single to right by Gates Britt. The Tigers scored two runs off the right-hander in the second on an error and Aurelio Rodriguez' run-scoring single.

Busby's single off Busby's leg, which forced the pitcher to leave the game after the third, sparked another rally in the third.

Joe Rudi doubled home the winning run after an error by third baseman Brooks Robinson opened the door to give Oakland its victory over Baltimore.

"I had time to make a good throw and I should have taken that time, when the throw left my hand. I thought it was perfect but it sailed," said Robinson about his error that allowed Jim North to reach second base and set up the A's winning run.

Brewers-Rangers Jim Colborn pitched a no-hitter—Jeff Burroughs' fifth-inning homer—and Dave May drilled two home runs as Milwaukee beat Texas.

Lakers Slight Favorites

Sharman Confident Club Will Rebound

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Bill Sharman of the Los Angeles Lakers maintains his National Basketball Association club has the ability to crack the odds barrier and overcome the New York Knicks starting tonight. The odds are against him since the Knickerbockers of the East go into the second round of the playoffs with a 2-1 edge in the best-of-7 final playoff series and need only one more victory to take the crown from the 1972 champions. "This team is capable of winning the next three games," Sharman says of his Lakers, who took the measure of New York 4-1 a year ago. "But we must minimize our mistakes and turnovers and be better on the boards."

Hoop Team in Making For Contests in China

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A United States basketball team is being organized for a three-week tour of the People's Republic of China starting June 9. The Springfield Union reported National Basketball Federation, were consulted by the State Department concerning plans for the tour. The team will be composed of college players and will be sponsored by the U.S. State Department in conjunction with the U.S. Collegiate Sports Council, the Union's sponsor. Although a coach and players for the team have not been named officially, several top college players were mentioned in the Union story as probable team members. Marvin Barnes, a center, and Kevin Stacom, a guard, from Providence College would be among the players chosen. Also under consideration are Tom Barlow of North Carolina State and Tom McMillen of Maryland, the paper said. Ernie DiGregorio, an All-American guard from Providence College who led a U.S. team in a series with the Soviet National team last year, is expected to make the trip, the Union said. The story said Nick Rodis, director of Springfield College, and William D. Edwards, president of the U.S. Basketball

Weirdest Tilt Ever Laments Bob Cousy

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bob Cousy sat on a storage locker and shook his head. "That was the weirdest basketball game I've ever seen," lamented the U.S. coach after his squad lost to Russia 72-64 in the final game of a six-city American tour Wednesday. "You might say they out-nathamed us." The series, won by the United States 4-2, was characterized by rugged, elbow swinging play, and the finale followed that pattern. The referees whistled 41 personal fouls against the Soviets, 40 against the Americans Wednesday. Three U.S. players and six Russians fouled out, including the visitors' Aleksandr Shahev, who picked up his fifth personal with 6:02 remaining in the first half. In addition, Sven Nater, the backup center from UCLA, was ejected from the game late in the second half for striking a Russian player. "I don't think that's basketball we played out there tonight," Ron Behagen, the Minnesota forward who was himself thrown out of an earlier game for fighting, said in the locker room. "It may be their game, but it's not ours. Somebody could get hurt out there if they're not careful."

Rough Play Has Marked ABA Playoff

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Through the first five games of their American Basketball Association championship series, the Indiana Pacers and Kentucky Colonels have gone after each other like two big cats in a small bag. There's no reason to think tonight's sixth game will be any different. The series has seen a fist-fight, a coach ejected on technical fouls, a lot of pushing and some hard-nosed, bruising defense that has held both teams under 100 points the last three games. Indiana holds a 3-2 advantage and a victory tonight would give the Pacers their second straight ABA crown and third in the last four years. No other ABA title has won more than one year.

Skylab Crew Rehearsing For Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Wearing space suits, Charles Conrad Jr., Paul J. Weitz and Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin scheduled most of the day in a simulator at the Johnson Space Center in Houston.

The Skylab, large as a three-bedroom house, is to be launched by a Saturn 5 rocket at 1:30 p.m. EDT Monday into an orbit 270 miles high. The astronauts will follow at 1 p.m. the next day.

Conrad, Weitz and Kerwin are to execute a series of intricate maneuvers over a 7½-hour period as they track down and link up with the big laboratory. Once aboard they will conduct numerous medical, scientific and earth resources experiments in an effort to learn whether man can live and perform useful tasks in space over long periods.

The Skylab 2 and 3 crews will rocket up to the same skylab in August and November, each for eight-week stays.

On the Saturn 5 launch pad today, crews purged fuel tanks on the rocket and fed electrical power to the Skylab vehicle to test its electrical systems and miles of wiring.

Gray Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Patrick Gray III, the former submarine commander from Stonington who abruptly resigned as acting commander of the FBI, says he's confident President Nixon isn't involved in the Watergate scandal.

Gray's closed-door testimony Thursday before the Senate select committee investigating the Watergate episode. Before his appearance, Gray told newsmen he was certain Nixon was not implicated in the bugging affair or the subsequent cover-up attempt.

Steel Prices Raised

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp. has announced price increases effective June 15 of $8 to $9 a ton on major sheet products widely used in the automotive and appliance industries.

The nation's largest steel company said the hikes would apply to flat-rolled products, or sheet and strip steel. Flat-rolled products account for about 40 per cent of all industry shipments.

Helicopters Downed

SAIGON (AP) — Two Joint Military Commission helicopters carrying to Viet Cong and two South Vietnamese officers were forced down by gunfire today in Communist-controlled territory near An Loc, the Saigon command said.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the command spokesman, said there was no immediate word on casualties.

The two helicopters were returning to Saigon from a liaison mission to the Communist-controlled capital of Loc Ninh near the Cambodian border when they encountered enemy gunfire, Hien said.

Peace Plan Review Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho will meet in Paris next Thursday to talk about implementing the Indochina peace accord, the White House announced today.

Kissinger, who returned Thursday night from conferences in Moscow and London, is expected to engage Le Duc Tho in three to four days of talks, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said.

President Nixon's assistant for National Security Affairs and Tho, a member of the North Vietnamese Politburo, last met in Hanoi on Feb. 10-13.

The text of a joint announcement on the new round of meetings said:

"The governments of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam and the United States have agreed to hold discussions in order to review the implementation of the Paris agreement on ending the war and restoring peace in Vietnam and to find measures to bring about strict implementation of that agreement."

"Mr. Le Duc Tho, representative of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, assistant to the President of the United States will meet for this purpose in Paris on May 17, 1973."

When White House officials last month predicted a Kissinger-Tho meeting in Paris in mid-May, Hanoi representatives in the French capital discounted the possibility, suggesting such a session would be contingent on resumption of U.S. mine sweeping operations along the North Vietnamese coast and resumption of talks on U.S. economic assistance to Hanoi.

Ziegler said these items were among the topics to be discussed by Kissinger and Tho, which indicated there was no prior agreement by the United States to resume mine sweeping or the aid talks.

McCord Claims Mitchell Approved Watergate Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although much of what McCord said was reported second-hand before, the 383-page transcript of his testimony in his first sworn statement as a witness in the Watergate operation without assurances that Attorney General John N. Mitchell had approved the plan.

McCord also swore that fellow convicted conspirator G. Gordon Liddy told him Mitchell received logs of wiretapped conversations while President Nixon's campaign chairman, after he quit as attorney general.

McCord said Liddy had told him in Mitchell argued the wiretappers to get started in mid-April 1972, and later prodded the bugging crew to make its second entry into Democratic headquarters on June 17, when five of them were arrested.

McCord's testimony, given April 30 and May 1 in connection with the Democratic party's lawsuit against the Nixon campaign for $6.4 million in damages from the Watergate raid, was made public Thursday.

Guerrillas Reported Returning To Syria

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Palestinian guerrillas from Syria shelled a border post in northern Lebanon today, but were moving back into Syria.

An army spokesman said the border post at Arida came under "an intensive attack by rockets and mortars" before dawn, and the Lebanese troops returned the fire. The army said the guerrillas withdrew into Syria, and there were no Lebanese casualties.

An army spokesman said the general withdrawal of the guerrillas who invaded from Syria during the fighting Tuesday between the army and

Meskill Nominates Shea Superior Court Judge

SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter)

John F. Shea Jr. of Manchester was nominated today by Gov. Thomas Meskill to be a judge of the Superior Court. Shea's term will start Sept. 1.

Also nominated today to a seat on the Superior Court is James P. Stapleton of Bridgeport. His term will start Aug. 1.

Yesterday, the governor nominated three other superior court judges — Lt. Gov. T. Clark Hall of Danbury, State Treasurer Robert I. Berdon of Bradford, and Chief Circuit Court Judge John J. Daly of Hartford. Shea's term will start June 1, Berdon's July 1, and Daly's Oct. 1. The salary for a Superior Court judge is $31,630 annually.

The General Assembly last year increased the number of Superior Court judges from 35 to 40.

To fill the vacancy created by the elevation of Judge Daly to the Superior Court, Gov. Meskill today appointed M. Morgan Klein of Bloomfield to the Circuit Court.

Shea, who was informed yesterday of his appointment, commented briefly, as is his custom. He has never been one to dwell for any length of time on honors he received.

"Naturally, I'm thrilled with this appointment, and I hope to prove worthy for the honor which has been bestowed on me," he said.

Shea, an attorney, is a member of the Manchester law firm of Martz, Shea and Keita. He is a Manchester native, the son of Mrs. Irene Shea of 185 E.

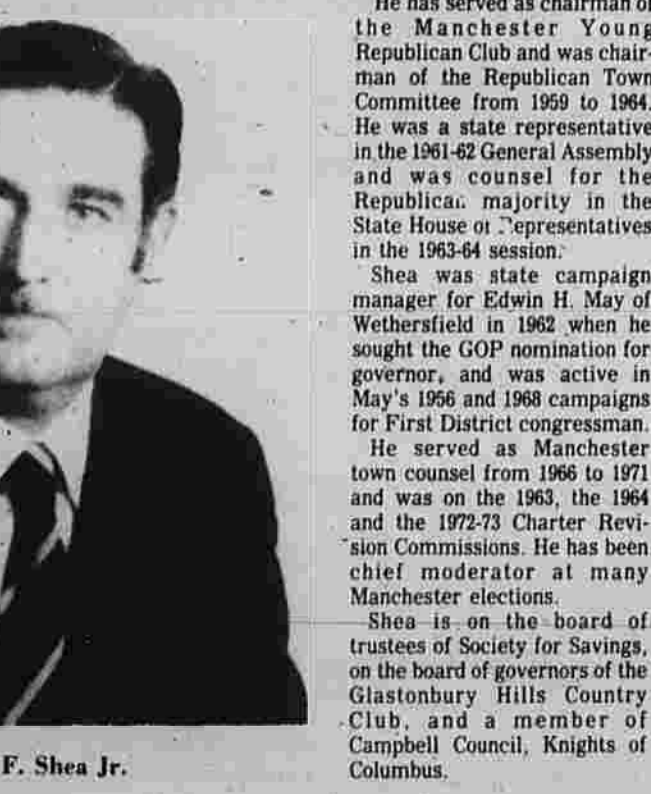

Center St., and the late John F. Shea. His uncle, the late William J. Shea, had been a Superior Court judge and was a justice of the State Supreme Court at the time of his death in 1965.

The judge-designate will join two other Manchester residents on high state courts — Chief Justice Charles S. House of the Supreme Court and Judge Jay E. Rubinow of the Superior Court.

Shea graduated from Manchester High School in 1946, from Providence College with a B.A. degree in 1950, and from the University of Connecticut School of Law with a Juris Doctor degree in 1953. He was admitted to the Connecticut Bar in 1954. He will be 45 years of age on Sept. 11.

He is a member of the Manchester, Hartford County, Connecticut and American Bar Associations and has been admitted to practice before the State, Federal and U.S. Supreme Courts. He is a member of the Judicial Council of the State of Connecticut.

Shea and his wife, the former Gracie Kimmel of West Hartford, reside at 37 Boulder Rd. with their four children. The children are: Martin, 16, a sophomore at East Catholic High School; twins Kevin and

Mitchell, Stans Confident Facts Vindicate Them

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans say they believe they will be vindicated when the facts behind their indictments are known.

They were indicted Thursday on charges of obstruction of justice, conspiracy and perjury in connection with their roles as cabinet officers and leaders of President Nixon's re-election campaign. The case involves a secret campaign contribution and alleged improper government influence.

Financier Robert L. Vesco, a fugitive, and New Jersey Republican leader Harry L. Sears, Vesco's lawyer, were charged in the indictments with conspiracy and obstruction of justice.

The four will be arraigned in U.S. District Court here May 21 if later convicted of all charges. Mitchell and Stans would face maximum prison terms of up to 30 years, Vesco and Sears, 20 years.

Mitchell denied any wrongdoing Thursday and said "I am certain that the judicial proceedings in this case will fully vindicate and confirm the absence of any wrongdoing."

Stans said he was "greatly dismayed" by the grand jury action and added: "I expect that when all the facts are heard, I will be vindicated."

The indictments allege that Vesco, 37, made a secret $200,000 cash contribution to the campaign on April 10 in an attempt to influence a Securities and Exchange Commission probe of his far-flung financial operations.

The SEC filed a civil complaint on Nov. 27, charging that Vesco, 20 other persons and a score of corporations looted $224 million from Investors Overseas Services (IOS), four foreign mutual funds they controlled.

U.S. Atty. Whitney North Seymour Jr., who announced the indictments, said there was nothing to implicate President Nixon in the alleged conspiracy. The President's former counsel, John W. Dean III, was mentioned in the indictments.

Mitchell, who resigned last July as director of Nixon's re-election campaign, is alleged to have arranged a meeting between Sears and William J. Casey, then chairman of the SEC, on the day the $200,000 contribution from Vesco was received by Stans.

Subsequent meetings were held by Sears, Casey and G. Bradford Cook, who succeeded Casey as SEC chairman.

Mitchell was also said to have asked Dean to delay the SEC investigations and to have suppressed a written threat from Vesco to discontinue the $200,000 gift unless the SEC dropped its subpoena of the financier.

Indochina War Fund Request Voted Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — To a backdrop of cheers and chants, the House has turned administration Indochina war policy for the first time by rejecting a presidential request for more funds for Cambodian bombing.

The House rejected President Nixon's spending proposal 219 to 188 Thursday. Then, by a 224-172 vote, the House added a prohibition against using any of a $2.8-billion supplemental appropriation for bombing in Cambodia.

The actions came during consideration of the supplemental appropriation, which was passed 284 to 96 and sent to the Senate.

"We've gotten out of Southeast Asia," said Rep. Robert N. Gajmon, D-Conn. "Let's stay out."

Secretary of Defense Elliot L. Richardson has said that Congress' rejection of the spending authority would not halt the Cambodia bombing because the Pentagon can use other funds for it.

House antiwar forces cheered and chanted during a roll call as the House approved an amendment by Rep. Joseph P. Addabbo, D-N.Y., to deny $430 million in military spending authority, including at least $175 million for Indochina later in the year.

Approved later was an amendment by Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., to prohibit use of any of the $2.8-billion supplemental bill for "combat activities in, over or from the shores of Cambodia by U.S. forces."

"I want to put another lock on the door," Long said.

Supporters of President Nixon were dismayed.

Governors Discuss Connally

NEW YORK (AP) — Several moderate Republican governors say former Democrat John B. Connally faces a difficult task in establishing his Republican credentials sufficiently to win the 1976 GOP presidential nomination.

That view was expressed in interviews during the Republican governor's conference by Govs. Daniel J. Evans of Washington, Francis W. Sargent of Massachusetts, Christopher S. Bond of Missouri, Robert D. Hay of Iowa and John A. Love of Colorado.

However, two conservatives, Govs. Stanley K. Hathaway of Wyoming and Jack Williams of Arizona, said they thought the former Texas governor, named Thursday as a part-time White House consultant by President Nixon, won't be at any disadvantage if he challenges more established Republicans for the 1976 nomination.

The three-day GOP governors' conference winds up tonight with a state dinner at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The New York scheduled a day-long political session today at New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's Pocantico Hills estate in suburban Westchester County, Newswest were excluded.
