Poll Favors Tax Mill Cut

NEW HAVEN (AP)—A comfortable majority of respondents to a newspaper poll says the city should use its revenue-sharing money to slice property taxes by more than the 3.1 mills recommended by city officials. The Board of Finance had called for the 3.1 mill cut, but 83 per cent of the citizens responding to a New Haven Journal-Courier poll published today called for a bigger reduction. Eleven per cent of the 231 respondents said the money should go to aid anti-poverty programs in financial trouble, while 2.5 per cent approved of the tax cut as recommended by the board.

Manchester School Purposes Outlined

DOUG BEVINS (Herald Reporter) The Manchester Board of Education Monday night adopted a statement of purpose, will give direction to the central administration as they attempt to plan ahead for the appropriate management of the Manchester public schools. The school board also adopted guidelines to administration for management of the schools, and approved charts detailing functional responsibilities and program structure within the school system. The statement of purpose, which describes the purpose of education and the mission of the schools, is basically a statement of philosophy. "A foundation has been laid for what we think and believe is important for all of the students in the Manchester public schools," Dr. James P. Kennedy, school superintendent, said. The purpose of education as described in the statement, Dr. Kennedy said, is to serve primarily as a basis for goals and objectives to be developed in all school programs. "The general goals for each of our programs must, in some way, be tied to this statement," Dr. Kennedy said. The management guidelines adopted Monday night, which will be placed in the Board of Education Policy Guide along with the statement of purpose, will give direction to the central administration as they attempt to plan ahead for the appropriate management of the Manchester public schools. Key items in the management guidelines include use of the school board policy as a "sound instrument" in management, an increase in public understanding and support of the schools, the assurance of continued development of school programs and staff, and improved management of facilities and resources. The statement of purpose, adopted by the school board, "The recognition of his own resources and the positive sense of his worth as a unique individual that will provide a perspective and a will to identify and make his own choices among life alternatives, and to achieve in those choices a balance between self-realization and social responsibility. CIA Official Reports On Watergate Coverup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The No. 2 man in the Central Intelligence Agency reportedly has accused former White House aides H.R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and John W. Dean III of trying to enlist CIA help in a Watergate coverup. CIA Deputy Director Vernon A. Walters testified in secret Monday before the Senate Armed Services Committee, later Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said Walters had testified that Haldeman, Ehrlichman and Dean were "heavily involved" in efforts to mislead the CIA. Another source said one effort had been a Watergate coverup. The account dovetails with statements by former acting FBI chief L. Patrick Gray III. He testified before Senate Watergate investigators last week, and The Associated Press has obtained an official written digest of his remarks. Gray said Walters got the FBI to postpone interviews with two Watergate witnesses last year on grounds the CIA had "some interest" in them. Walters later conceded under pressure that the CIA actually had no interest whatsoever in the two, Gray said, but not before Ehrlichman personally ordered Gray to cancel a meeting set up to straighten out the matter between the CIA and the FBI to postpone interviews with two Watergate witnesses last year on grounds the CIA had "some interest" in them. Alleged Registration Abuses To Be Probed

HARTFORD (AP)—Hartford County State's Attorney John D. LaBelle has agreed to investigate alleged registration irregularities in state civil service hiring and GOP voter recruitment. LaBelle was asked Monday by Gov. Thomas Meskill to initiate the probe. Earlier in the day, Democratic Senate leaders lost a 23-13 party-line vote on the proposal to debate the launching of a separate, legislative inquiry into the allegations. LaBelle said Monday that the probe would be conducted by investigators from his office and possibly from the state police. He said he was beginning the investigation with no more knowledge of the case than what was in the papers and that the matter would be handled like any other case in his office. He said he would feel free to initiate prosecutions and seek warrants without prior consultation with the governor, he said. Skylab Station Develops New Technical Problem

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The crippled Skylab space station developed a new problem today when temperatures of 100 degrees were recorded inside the laboratory. The space agency called it a serious problem but still hoped to launch three astronauts to link up with the station on Sunday. "It's too early to tell if we're in an anomalous situation," reported Flight Director Neil Hutchinson. "But the Skylab cluster is hot and it's a problem that we'll have to be able to solve if the mission is to continue." Hatchinson also reported a problem with a stabilizing gyroscope in the spaceship control system. "These add to the difficulties of space agency experts who are trying to salvage three manned missions from America's first space station. The laboratory was launched unmanned into a perfect 272-mile high orbit Monday, but suffered a severe blow when two of its solar panels failed to extend properly. The panels are designed to convert the sun's energy to electrical power. With two panels inoperative, the power supply of the Skylab was cut in half. Skylab 1 astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz were to have ridden another rocket into space today to link up with the station for a 28-day space adventure. But the space agency late Monday postponed the astronauts' liftoff until Sunday to give experts an opportunity to work out a new flight plan adapted to the reduced power supply. The paper said most of the alleged instances of misconduct occurred in the Hartford area, but that the Meriden, New Britain and New Haven areas were also involved. LaBelle said he would begin his investigation in Hartford but that "if it appears to go beyond Hartford, I'll go there of course." In the Senate, the Democratic bid for legislative inquiry ended in the referral of the matter to the Republican-controlled Elections Committee in November. The Senate Judiciary Committee continued gathering up the documents in a Virginia safe-deposit box, saying he was afraid someone might destroy them. He said they relate to the Watergate case, but otherwise gave no indication of what the documents say. Dean, meanwhile, turned over a batch of classified documents to federal court officials after Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica agreed to accept custody. Dean had stashed the documents in a Virginia safe-deposit box, saying he was afraid someone might destroy them. Community Thanked For School Support

DOUG BEVINS (Herald Reporter) The Manchester Board of Education Monday night thanked the community and the town's Board of Directors for their support of the school system. Dr. Kennedy reported that the central administration is now working on recommendations for what services will be cut to bring the operating budget into line. High priority will be given, however, to classroom supplies and maintenance items. Dr. Kennedy assured the school board that the 1973-1974 school budget is less than what the Board of Education had approved. Dr. Kennedy said the school administration felt it and the school board had requested a conservative budget based on needs. "We recognize our responsibility to make an even stronger case in the future, for support of the education budget," Dr. Kennedy said. The adopted $11.1 million school budget for 1973-1974 is about eight per cent more than the current 1972-1973 budget of $10,290,000. especially for a museum and not adapted for a museum," she said. The structure she hopes to build will be one-story tall with solid outer walls and windows looking toward a center courtyard. It would have a tiled roof, because "children like red," Miss Lutz said, and a free-swinging front door. "As a present for ELJEM on its 20th birthday, I am setting up a Lutz Junior Museum Building Fund to set aside more time and financial support," he said. Voters Reject School Budget Because of Cut

ANNE EMT. Correspondent
Hebron's fiscal picture for 1973-1974 still is undecided after last night's budget meeting at which residents voted to accept a general government budget of $454,223, reject the local Board of Education budget of $729,324, and accept Hebron's share of the regional Board of Education budget not to exceed $76,625.

Board of Education—Rejection of the Board of Education budget, which represents a $65,709 increase over the present operating budget in spite of a $40,000 cut by the Board of Finance, was not due to the large increase. Concern was expressed with the finance board's $1,100 cut for transportation for double sessions at Rham High School, a figure the school board estimates as its share of providing transportation for Hebron's students to Rham.

It was apparent that many felt the local board should not be handicapped with operating at a possible $17,100 deficit when it has no control over the regional board's vote to have double sessions next year. An attempt to reduce the budget by $17,100 was ruled out of order by Harry Wirth, moderator, who explained that the budget could only be accepted as presented, cut by a lump sum or rejected.

In other actions, residents approved an appropriation of $7,000 from surplus to the Board of Education to cover an operating deficit in this year's budget. As for the method of paying taxes, residents approved each year levy for real estate, personal property and motor vehicles in an amount of $100 or less shall become due and payable in one installment July 1, 1973.

Other Actions
The report said the committee approved an appropriation of $7,000 from surplus to the Board of Education to cover an operating deficit in this year's budget.

While citing the school's excellent traditional academic program, the committee said it has some concern that students can be locked into programs too easily. "The flexibility that is needed to respond to the school's philosophy of meeting the needs of the individual is not readily apparent in this particular area," the report states, adding that much has been done for the less gifted student, but not as much for the more gifted.

Further commendations included: A favorable teacher-pupil ratio of 1:8; the beginning of a program in work experience and projected programs for the gifted and talented student; a well-planned program involving health and medical services. Recommendations included: Provision of a more clearly defined system for handling discipline problems; that a long-range plan include a projection related to the phasing out of obsolete school buildings; that the school board and the townspeople be urged to maintain competitive growth in its salary schedule in order to sustain the quality of instructional and supervisory personnel; that the school board encourage teachers to take advanced graduate study in the light of the changing role of instruction and the advances being made in specific academic areas such as Harvard Physics and team teaching.

While the committee evaluating Rockville High School had nothing but high praise for the staff and administrators, the need for additional space at that level was the common thread woven throughout the evaluation report.

Constitutional Crisis?

The United States bombing in support of the Cambodian government, at its request, is under critical fire in the Congress.

Last week, the House voted to deny supplemental funds to the Defense Department for this operation. Secretary of Defense Elliot Richardson has stated funds will be siphoned off from other defense sources.

It is in this background that Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has raised the point that Congress and the administration may be on a collision course toward a constitutional crisis.

The elements of such a confrontation are basically three: First, there is no question of the right of Congress to control the purse strings of the federal government for defense or any other purpose.

Second, the Constitution charges the President, as commander-in-chief of the armed forces, with the full responsibility of the nation's defense.

Third, the first two elements are blurred a bit by the constitutional provision that the Congress only has the right to declare war.

Until our involvement in Indochina, there has really never been any question raised as serious as the one now posed by the House action and Mansfield's expression of a need for a test.

In the past our involvements in conflicts have stemmed either from presidential requests for a declaration of war following attacks on the United States, fulfillment of treaties, including such misadventures as South Korea and the Vietnam; or protection of the national interests, such as our frequent incursions in Latin America in the 1920s and more recently, the landing of troops in Lebanon, under then President Eisenhower.

So until now, the powers of Congress to declare war or Gulf of Tonkin resolutions, have for the main been formalities recognizing or, if you prefer, legalizing the actions already taken by the commander-in-chief.

The attitude has been that the President as commander-in-chief has the responsibility for deciding what does or does not threaten the nation's security and the Congress, rightly or wrongly, has up to now, never really challenged this interpretation.

Obviously in cases like Pearl Harbor there would be no dispute. There has been criticism, mostly after the fact, of our involvement in Korea and Latin America.

But today, in the wake of South Vietnam and an almost obsessive desire to disengage the United States from Indochina entirely, we are faced with what Mansfield has labeled a true "constitutional crisis."

For the moment it must be considered a "headline" crisis for the Senate has yet to follow the House lead. A critical decision is expected today and as this is being written there is undoubtedly a log of behind-the-scenes jawboning going on.

For if the Senate affirms the House action the full implications for too awesome to contemplate.

On the one extreme, should the Congress win its point that it, and it alone, can involve this country in combat. Whether it is a brigade of Marines to protect American citizens and property in a nation involved in internal turmoil as had happened so often in Latin America, send troops and weapons in meeting Senate-approved treaties, or tie the commander in chief's hands at defending the nation from attack until Congress has formally declared war; we are dead in the water in this nuclear-missile age. On the other extreme, should the President's power all but ignore the Congress in the committing of men and materials in conflicts not directly involving the United States be ruled supreme, the present bombing venture in Cambodia could be just small potatoes.

In effect his constitutional duty to defend the nation will then be expanded to permit him, rightly or wrongly, to wage a foreign policy once trial-ballooned in the first few years after World War II, the concept of "defensive attack" which simply meant striking at potential enemies before they attained military strength to pose a real threat.

Thus a constitutional test, such as Sen. Mansfield foresees, could open up a can of worms.

It might be far better for the Congress to more earnestly and diligently perform the constitutional functions it now has rather than "rubber stamp" Gulf of Tonkin Resolutions and other presidential requests which are more often acted on in heat of emotion instead of the light of reason.

The question of our present involvement in Cambodia is being debated and will continue to be. The question raised by Sen. Mansfield deserves an airing. The real question remaining is that by the time the constitutional issue is resolved, the Cambodian and whole Indochina misadventure may be ancient history.

The question of the President's war making or defense powers and its relationship to Congress' purse string powers should, we think, be resolved not in the light of Cambodia but in the light of the United States is now committed by Senate-ratified treaties to aid allies in the future.

The issue is much too important to be decided on one currently highly-emotional, highly-controversial, and, at this writing, rather restrained involvement on our part in what appears to be a battle that is already lost.

For we cannot see anything in the news dispatching which indicates the bombing in Cambodia is going to save Cambodia as such. The objective, we believe, was and is to preserve what is left of the cease-fire in South Vietnam and Henry Kissinger and Le Duc Tho will be addressing themselves to that issue in Paris within a few days.

Congress cannot and should not give the present or any future administration a blanket green light to do what it pleases when it involves American lives and material; nor should it arbitrarily turn on the stop light because of popular displeasure with a particular aspect of foreign policy.

The House has flashed the caution light. We feel it will go unheeded but the time for really sound discussion and resolution of the divisions of powers among the three branches of government is not in the climate of crisis but in an atmosphere of reason.

For this nuclear age, there is no time for hindsight, and what is needed now is foresight to avert the South Vietnamese, Cambodians, and Bay of Pigs.

This will not be done by building constitutional curtains between the three branches of government but improving communication and interchange of ideas between them. Presidential rights and powers, congressional rights and powers, we must remember are granted by the people through the Constitution and what is best for the people, not the egos of public officials, should be the prime consideration.

Today in History

By The Associated Press Today is Tuesday, May 15, the 155th day of 1973. There are 230 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history — On this date in 1940, the Netherlands surrendered to Germany in World War II.

On this date — In 1971, Moscow was burned by the Tartars.

In 1767, Genoa sold the island of Corsica to France.

In 1862, the U.S. Congress established the Department of Agriculture.

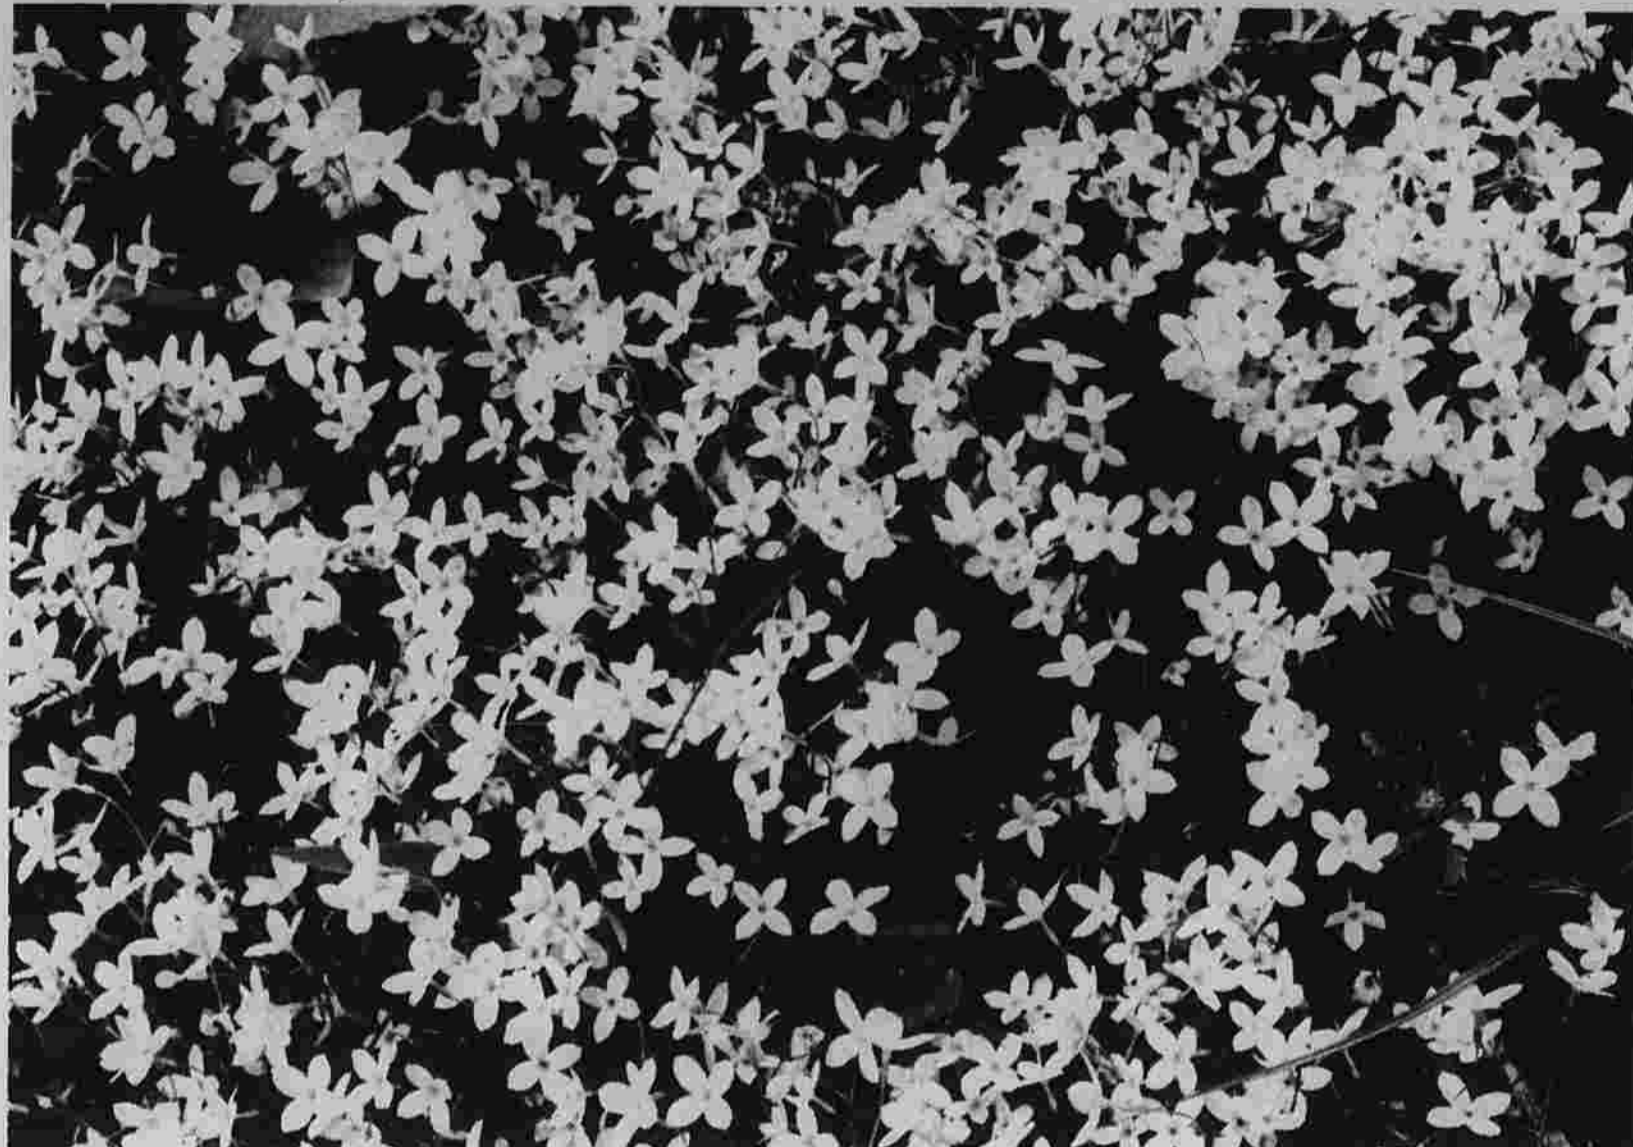

In 1918, the first regular air mail service was started — between New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

In 1924, the Congress passed a bill putting immigration into the United States on a quota basis.

In 1948, the new state of Israel was attacked by Egyptian planes and invaded in the north and east by troops from Lebanon and Trans-Jordan.

The Deadbeats

To the editor: Mrs. Virginia Butterfield hit the nail on the head in her statement to the Courant and Herald (town news) May 8.

Voters of Bolton, where were you on Election Day? The hours were such, to accommodate nearly anyone, but 50 per cent stayed home.

It was also a pathetic lack of faith in a basic American freedom. In years ahead it could be that we no longer have the right to vote.

Many of you who couldn't take the time to vote are the same people who complain the loudest about issues of town government but who are content to sit back and let others do the work. This holds true for both parties.

Furthermore, a divided party cannot win. Mrs. Butterfield stood practically alone in her efforts toward election. Few candidates tried harder and fewer yet would accept their loss as an opportunity to serve their townsmen in the battle for a better Bolton. Fortunately for

I would like to extend happy birthday greetings to a lucky thief who picked up a carton of clothing that was addressed to my son for his birthday. He picked it up minutes after I left off my car, and I hoped the return address would find its way back to me.

If you are in dire need of these clothes, wear them in good health, but if you took them for kicks, please do me a favor and make an anonymous phone call to Regals as they are waiting for a post office receipt as proof that I was mailing the clothes to California.

This will save me from paying the tax, and if you like my selection, why don't you just pay for them. Perhaps you are a good Samaritan and you mailed it, if so, a reward is due you.

Sincerely, Lillian Topping 100 Ambassador Drive Manchester

WASHINGTON — I suppose we should tolerate the United Nations as a refuge for rich men's sons who failed bar examinations, unfrocked chiropractors, rejected politicians, academic hustlers, unemployed upstarts and silly women, but there should be a limit placed on financing the comforts and luxuries provided for these flounders.

Thus, I find comfort in the attempt by the United States to crack down on the deadbeats within that spurious collection of international mischief-makers, William E. Schaefle Jr., of the U.S. delegation, has rebuked foreign diplomats for not paying rent, charge accounts, loans and other bills, and has threatened to expose the crooks to their colleagues.

Schaefle told a UN committee meeting that delegates have left New York "leaving strings of unpaid bills." One delegation, he said, was seven months behind on office rent and another had not paid telephone or Telex bills for seven months. In the future, he said, the U.S. would provide a list of the welters to committee members.

Naturally, UN officialsdom was outraged by Schaefle's airing of the problem, but not for any reasons concerned with war and peace. Constantine Stavropoulos, UN legal counsel, deplored the threat to settle on the offenders. He declared, apparently with a straight face, that identifying the deadbeats to their colleagues would result in the situation becoming "public gossip."

Although admittedly most UN bureaucrats would have difficulty discovering the time of day, Stavropoulos had to be kidding. The casually thievish attitude of many UN diplomats toward honest debts has been public knowledge among New York stockpayers ever since the Rockefeller family burdened us with this colony of cupids.

And no wonder. Under international law, diplomats serving in a foreign country get a license to steal called diplomatic immunity. That means they may not be dragged into court to pay their champagne and caviar bills, or even for shooting dead a merchant who audaciously suggests they remit a couple of bucks on an account going back to June 1965.

Indeed, during the Truman administration one of these miming scoundrels announced that he could not guarantee the safety of our embassy in his country if an automobile dealer continued to harass him about an unpaid repair bill. "Tell him for me," Truman informed UN Ambassador Warren Austin, "that if one American is so much as nudged off a sidewalk

I'll send in the Marines."

Although the UN spends most of its time doing nothing about international disturbances of the peace, its delegates also have become one of New York City's biggest traffic problems. Schaefle announced that during the past 26 months 7,800 parking tickets had been served on diplomatic vehicles — and, of course, ignored. He did not mention that New Yorkers whose cars were wrecked in accidents with cars driven by UN diplomats were balked by diplomatic immunity from collecting damages.

Anyway, Schaefle's has decreed that beginning June 1, our UN guests will find traffic violations a touch more inconvenient. After that date, if a diplomat is caught with a parking ticket may even delay the mission rather than by subordinate members. This requirement may even delay the cocktail hour by a few minutes.

You're right. The Soviet Union was heard from on this one. Sergei Smirnov complained that U.S. complaints about UN parking violations had "damaged the reputation" of the diplomatic community.

This is like saying a report that a Matfoso bites his nails is grounds for libel. Nor can I work myself up into a frenzy of indignation over Smirnov's complaint that the publicity has inspired vandalism against diplomats' horseless carriages.

am against vandalism, even when directed against petty chiselers in striped pants. But we're all human, and I expect that if I emerged from Cwendolpy's Olde English Tea Shoppe to find my car ticketed and that of a UN flunky undetected, the temptation would be strong to kick the diplomatic conveyance in the pants.

of Consumer Concern

Connecticut Department of Consumer Protection Barbara B. Dunn, Commissioner Terry Wigton, Director of Consumer Education

When you have a prescription filled at a pharmacy or buy packaged medicine or cosmetics, not only do you expect the same quality merchandise and services that you would at any other type of store, but you expect much more. The pharmacist is a professional and his job is to work with your physician, dentist or any other medical practitioner to insure your health and safety.

With this in mind, it is important that you become an aware consumer regarding the role of the pharmacist. Even before you go into a pharmacy, you can exercise alertness by checking to see that the name of the registered pharmacist manager appears on the door or window. State law requires that his name appear and that it be readable from the street or sidewalk.

Once inside the pharmacy, remember that it is also state law that a registered pharmacist be on the premises at all times. Also the pharmacist's license must be conspicuously displayed in or around the prescription area. This is the pharmacist's "credentials." If you don't see the license, ask the pharmacist to show it to you.

A pharmacist is not merely someone who takes your prescription blank, fills your prescription, and then hands you a sealed bag with a bottle of pills in it. You deserve his personal attention. If you are unsure about prescription dosage, especially in cases where your physician has asked "Use as directed," and you have forgotten the directions, ask the pharmacist. Also, ask the pharmacist about storage of your prescription. Some medicines must be kept in a cool place. Usually this statement will appear on the prescription label, but ask the pharmacist to be double sure.

Of course, always be sure to tell your doctor if you are taking medicine prescribed by another physician so he can judge if they are compatible. If you are buying "over-the-counter" or packaged medicines such as cold tablets, cough syrup, skin lotion, etc., look at the container for the expiration date. This date indicates how long the preparation is expected to be effective. If the expiration date has passed, don't buy the product and show the container to the pharmacist. If the container looks old or unusual, don't buy it.

When buying packaged preparations, ask the pharmacist if there is anything about the medicine that you should know. Most diseases on the medicine itself are pretty clear, but your age, sex, weight or physical condition may make a difference. The pharmacist would be the person to tell you. Here are several tips to help you become a more aware pharmacy shopper.

Inspect eye drops, ear drops or eye washes. These preparations normally should be clear and contain no solid particles.

If aspirin has a pink tinge, usually this is an indication that the aspirin is spoiled. Always be sure that you follow the "Shake Well" rule. This is especially true when it applies to lotions for skin irritations.

Also be careful when using rubs for aching muscles or arthritis. Overusage could cause painful burns. Be careful when using chest or back plasters. Never keep these on longer than directed, and if abnormal burning or irritation appears, stop usage.

Any reaction to either a prescription or "over-the-counter" medicine that is abnormal or disturbing should be reported to your physician or pharmacist. Also be sure to ask your doctor or pharmacist if a drug will make you less alert and if it is safe to consume alcoholic beverages while taking the medicine.

When directed to store a medicine in a cool place, be sure that you know if this means refrigeration or merely a cool place. If a medicine is refrigerated, store it in a bottom shelf of your refrigerator to keep it from the freezer.

Probably the most potentially hazardous cosmetic you can buy at a pharmacy is in an aerosol can. Never puncture an aerosol can or store near heat. If the aerosol nozzle breaks or clogs while working, there is still some of the product left, don't try to repair it yourself. Return the can to the store or throw it away. If the spray nozzle breaks, the pressure is still present and the can could explode if you foot around with it.

If you are dissatisfied with conditions in a pharmacy, or spot violations of state law, call our Pharmacy Division. Inspectors from this division routinely inspect all pharmacies in the state, but they cannot be everywhere at once. Protect your health by exercising your rights. We welcome suggestions and questions. Write "Of Consumer Concern," Department of Consumer Protection, State Office Building, Hartford 06115.

Tolland Town May Buy Building From Bank

VIVIAN V. KENNEDON
Correspondent
Tel. 875-47104
Board of Education Chairman James Cornish has confirmed that $100,000 was offered to buy the Savings Bank of Tolland building on the Green.

The town has been given first option months ago at a price of $175,000, which includes the bank, a house to the rear of the bank, and over seven acres of land. If the offer is accepted, $50,000 would be reimbursed by the state.
The board has been looking for administration space for several years, and had hopes of sharing the Administration Building when the town took over a few years ago. Now that a business manager will be hired, the need for space has increased. The superintendent of schools has a very small office off the main hallway at Hicks School, while his secretary has a tiny cubicle in the hallway.

Meeting Canceled

Foot Health Week

Walking barefoot may be beautiful, but only if you pick the right place, and know what to expect with each step, according to the Hartford County Podiatry Society.

"Barefoot walkers today aren't doing anything different than their grandparents did years ago," said Dr. Steven Buchbinder, president of the organization representing area foot specialists. "The big difference today is that the grassy pastures and dirt roads that grandma and grandpa walked on have turned into city streets."

He said this makes barefoot walking a different proposition. In addition to the risk of injury from broken glass, stones, and other objects, bare feet are exposed to athlete's foot and other infections.

"One of the most painful is the planter wart," he said. "It is a virus infection that penetrates the sole of the foot. It enters through small cuts caused by walking barefoot on hard, unclean surfaces. Once contracted, the wart needs professional care to be eliminated."

The Intrigue Of India

This spring, my son's third grade teacher asked a few mothers to help with a social studies enrichment program. My turn to help came up last week and my assigned subject was India.

When I told my son I was going to visit his classroom, his response was unimpressed. "YOU'RE coming?" he questioned incredulously. His message was very clear to me. As a result I vowed to do my best and totally immerse myself in the study of India.

First, I boned up on geography and history. Then I found some Hindustani words like "Namaste" (which means hello AND goodbye).

I organized a group of slides including one of a tiger, one of a maharaja's palace, and one of a snake charmer charming a cobra. I ferreted out some Indian jewelry and a red turban and a beautiful purple sari. Finally, to add atmosphere to my presentation, I bought a box of incense and Gregor Valente, silver arrow.

William Adams of the Connecticut Parachute, Inc. a group which jumps at the Ellington Airport, demonstrated parachute jumping equipment, showed a film on jumping and answered catch questions.

ZBA To Hear Four Requests

ANNE EMT
Correspondent
Tel. 228-3971

The Zoning Board of Appeals will hold a public hearing Wednesday evening at 8 in the Town Office Building to hear four appeals.

The first is a request from James L. Bunker of Hickory Dr. for a variance to construct an addition to a house where the front yard is only 54 feet and 75 feet is required.

The second is a request from Edward and Marie Kessler of Manchester to construct a year-round house on a lot on Baisola Rd. where the lot width is only 100 feet and 200 feet is required.

The third is a request from Ronald R. and Norman Nadeau of Hartford to carry on light manufacturing storage, construction equipment and a custodian on premises in an area not having required Business R 40 zone.

Fourth is a request from John J. and Frances Gaudino of Manchester for variances to construct a garage and an addition to an existing house on Lake Rd.

Variances are necessary because the lot size, front yard size and side yard are all under the requirements.

Indians Trounce Maloney, Near Tourney Qualification

By Dean Yost

Playing nip-and-tuck baseball for eight and one-third innings yesterday, Manchester's potent bats exploded and turned the Maloney affair into a rout as the Silk Towners posted an 10-4 CCLL triumph at Ceppa Field.

The victory enabled the locals to step a game closer to post-season tournament qualification. The magic number is now lowered to one. The win upped the Tribe's record to 8-3 with seven games remaining, including this afternoon's tilt with Conard High. Also, Manchester remained on the tail of Bristol Central which leads the CCLL with a 9-2 mark.

McCurry, workhorse of the Manchester staff, hurled a brilliant three-hitter, but was a victim of two ineffectual errors which allowed two runs to score. He also tossed a home run ball to Ken Hewitt who parked it some 300 feet from home plate with a man on to account for Maloney's scoring total.

A year ago Manchester was in the CCLL cellar with a dismal 3-14 mark. This afternoon Manchester played Conard at Memorial Field with another battle scheduled at the same location Wednesday against Bristol Eastern. Friday the locals travel to Platt High in Meriden.

Ray Sullivan started the opening frame with an infield single. Don Pagan sacrificed him to second. Eastman went down swinging and Jack Maloney delivered a single, sending Sullivan to third. Maloney stole second, John Burger lined a hard shot to right, scoring both Sullivan and Maloney.

McCurry, working like a master, whiffed 11 enemy batters while surrendering five walks. The offense was spearheaded by Sullivan, Eastman, Maloney, Burger and Mickey Miller, all with two hits. Burger also collected three RBIs.

The last time Manchester passed ball to account for the uprising. McCurry, working like a master, whiffed 11 enemy batters while surrendering five walks. The offense was spearheaded by Sullivan, Eastman, Maloney, Burger and Mickey Miller, all with two hits. Burger also collected three RBIs.

McCurry, in the right groove, struck out seven of the last eight batters he faced. He was supported in the eighth by Sullivan who pitched a gem, striking out seven batters in the ninth.

Manchester jumped on starting and losing pitcher Steve Polivan for two runs in the first, a solo in the second and two more in the fifth before he was relieved by Ken Hewitt who surrendered five runs in the ninth.

Little League baseball fields were all manicured by the Park Department and in fine condition for Sunday's opener at six different sites. One of the veteran umpires in the Little League system, all of whom are volunteers, Ed McKeever was on hand to work behind the plate in the American League opener at Waddell Field. Active in the program for two decades, McKeever unveiled his favorite "brush" to clean home plate - a paint brush. He was teamed with one of the youngest boys in the umpiring ranks, 13-year-old Scott Linsenbiger, a graduate of the Little League program.

Moe Morhardt's Gilbert High baseball team in Winsted boosted an undefeated record in nine games after polishing off East Catholic High on the weekend. The former Manchester High athlete, who later went all the way up the baseball ladder to the Chicago Cubs in the National League, has turned out one winner after another since taking over the baseball reins at Gilbert.

Little Mickey Miller may only be an understudy to talented Jack Maloney as a catcher with Manchester High but the fireball would be a regular on practically every high school team in the area. Park Supt. Ernie Turek hopes the night lighting system at Robertson Park will be operating by the weekend. Rainy weather has been one of the reasons for the delay. If one thinks tennis hasn't caught on in Manchester, try to get an open court on the weekends or evenings at areas that have lighting units.

Little League regular season will end July 4, which means for the better part of the summer months the playing fields will get little evening use. Historic Day Coming Wednesday will be an historic day for local schoolboy golfers when Manchester High engages East Catholic High for the first time at the Manchester Country Club. Coach Tom Kelley of the Tribe reports he has the best balanced, and talented, team since he took over the reins. Jim Leber, Little League president, reports the Buckland Field will not be used for farm league play this season. An innovation for the Rookie League will be the elimination of pitchers in lieu of a batting tee. Each younger when his time at bat comes will step up and hit the ball off a stationary tee. This system has proven popular in many other areas as it eliminates both strikeouts and bases on balls.

Off the press is the Book of Baseball Records, available for $4.95 from the Elias Sports Bureau, 11 West 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10036. Editor Seymour Swire reports the book is being sold on a money-back guarantee. It's the only book of its kind endorsed by both the American and National Leagues and is most valuable to any baseball buff or figure fiend. What lathered pitcher won the most shutout games during the American League season? The answer, surprisingly, is Babe Ruth. The New York Jets will open the 1973 National Football League Monday night twelve o'clock Sept. 17th against Green Bay Packers in Milwaukee. Road trips to Baltimore and Buffalo follow before the home opener Oct. 7 against the Miami Dolphins. Steve Chotiner, outstanding High High athlete, will enroll at Central Connecticut in the fall. Dave Cowens of the Boston Celtics has been hailed as the most valuable player in the NBA yet he wound up on the second all-star NBA team. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar was tabbed the No. 1 center by writers and broadcasters. Richard Dand of 36 Bolton St. caught a six-pound, 25-inch shad last week off the Windsor Locks bridge.

Unprecedented visitor in Manchester yesterday was Willis Reed, star of the New York Knicks, champions of the National Basketball Assn. Reed stopped in town clerk's office for a Connecticut fishing license, good for one year. As a non-state resident he paid $8.35 for the license. Reed gave his address as Rego Park, L.L., N.Y. Reed said he was on his way to Coventry, where he visits a friend four or five times a year and where he plans to do his fishing.

Four-game Rockville High winning streak came to an end as host Windsor Locks stopped the Rams, 8-5, on John Bastie's home run. The Locktowners upped their mark to 8-5 while the Rams are 10-3. It was the second time this season Rockville bowed to W.L. Ellington High erred for eight runs in the sixth inning to defeat neighboring Tolland High, 9-2, in a NCCC contest on the Knights' diamond.

John Basci and Glen Landmann each had two hits for Ellington which raised its record to 10-21 overall. Catcher Carl Upton went 3-4 and scored three runs as Bacon Academy defeated Bolton High, 8-4, on the victims' diamond. Bacon scored five times in the first inning to raise their record to 6-5 in the COC. Bolton's John Struff collected three hits while Karl Preuss and Phil Manning each punched out two safeties.

He hit another tie-breaking homer off Bries in a game won by the Expos earlier this season. And back in 1965, while playing for the Los Angeles Dodgers, Fairly again beat the Pirates with a last-inning homer. In other National League baseball games, Philadelphia whipped St. Louis 10-5, Atlanta topped Houston 7-1 and San Diego beat San Francisco, also by a 7-1 count.

The New York Mets' game against the Cubs in Chicago was postponed due to cold weather, and Los Angeles and Cincinnati were not scheduled. Expos-Pirates The defeat was the 14th in the last 19 games for the Pirates, last year's NL East champions. And Bries, who suffered his fourth defeat in five decisions, feels its the pitchers who must pull the club out of its rut.

Phil-Cards Philadelphia scored six runs on six singles in the fourth inning to beat the Cardinals. Greg Luzinski had a single, double and triple and rookie Mike Schmidt drove in three runs. Braves-Astros Atlanta's Mike Lam had a three-run double and a solo homer in the Braves' victory.

Scoreboard Filled With Goose Eggs Until Orlando Cepeda Delivered

BOSTON (AP) - The Fenway Park scoreboard was filled with goose eggs as the Baltimore Orioles and the Red Sox looked up in the first extra-inning scoreless game in two years. Finally, with starting pitcher Doyle Alexander of Baltimore and Bill Lee of Boston in the clubhouse, designated hitter Orlando Cepeda drilled a run-scoring single in the 11th inning, boosting the Red Sox to a 1-0 victory Monday night.

"It was unbelievable, just unbelievable, but I've learned to expect the unbelievable in this game," Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver said. Alexander, a young right-hander, and Lee, a veteran southpaw, were sensational in a duel between a couple of refugees from the bullpen. Alexander allowed four hits in 10 innings while Lee surrendered five in nine innings.

"Doyle was upset when I decided to take him out," Weaver said. "However, he's only 22 years old and I don't want to hurt him. He told me he felt good, and I told him I wanted him to feel that way for another 12 years." "I don't know how anyone can do much better than Lee," Manager Eddie Kasko said. "He would still be in there, but he worked up a blister on his thumb. It was ready to pop in the ninth inning and if it had he would be out for 10 days or so."

Veteran right-hander Bob Bolin replaced Lee and checked the Orioles on one hit in earning the victory. Bob Reynolds took over for Baltimore in the 11th and took the loss. "After looking at my slow stuff, the Orioles must have thought they were facing Nolan Ryan when Bolin came in," Lee joked. "I battled as long as I could. The blister started to develop in the fifth inning. It's the first one I've ever had. However, I did the job the way I should, and the game came out the way it should."

Cepeda, rescued from baseball's graveyard with American League adoption of the designated hitter rule, came through again with a clutch hit. Rookie Mike Guerrero, filling in for ailing Luis Aparicio, opened the 11th with a ground single over the second base bag. Carl Yastrzemski sacrificed and Reggie Smith was walked intentionally. Cepeda looked at a disputed strike and then lined a shot to left center, scoring Guerrero.

"That big guy certainly gets big hits," Kasko said after Cepeda's 19th run batted in hit No. 2,198 of his career. In other American League action, Detroit shut out the New York Yankees 8-0. California outlasted Kansas City 3-2 in 10 innings, Minnesota needed 11 innings to defeat Texas 6-4 in the second game after dropping the opener 7-4. Oakland beat Chicago 5-1 and Cleveland edged Milwaukee 2-1.

At Milwaukee, Dick Tidrow hurled a three-hitter over eight innings, but needed relief help in the ninth from Tom Hilgendorf and Jerry Johnson to defeat the Brewers. "A game like this when two guys come in and do a job can turn everything around," said Cleveland Manager Ken Aspromonte. Pinch hitter Tom McCraw singled home Jim Spencer in the 10th to give California and Bill Singer the victory over Kansas City. It was Singer's sixth triumph in seven decisions.

Goin' Fishing

An unexpected visitor in Manchester yesterday was Willis Reed, star of the New York Knicks, champions of the National Basketball Assn. Reed stopped in town clerk's office for a Connecticut fishing license, good for one year. As a non-state resident he paid $8.35 for the license. Reed gave his address as Rego Park, L.L., N.Y. Reed said he was on his way to Coventry, where he visits a friend four or five times a year and where he plans to do his fishing.

Rams' Streak Ends, Bobcats Trounced

A four-game Rockville High winning streak came to an end as host Windsor Locks stopped the Rams, 8-5, on John Bastie's home run. The Locktowners upped their mark to 8-5 while the Rams are 10-3. It was the second time this season Rockville bowed to W.L. Ellington High erred for eight runs in the sixth inning to defeat neighboring Tolland High, 9-2, in a NCCC contest on the Knights' diamond.

John Basci and Glen Landmann each had two hits for Ellington which raised its record to 10-21 overall. Catcher Carl Upton went 3-4 and scored three runs as Bacon Academy defeated Bolton High, 8-4, on the victims' diamond. Bacon scored five times in the first inning to raise their record to 6-5 in the COC. Bolton's John Struff collected three hits while Karl Preuss and Phil Manning each punched out two safeties.

He hit another tie-breaking homer off Bries in a game won by the Expos earlier this season. And back in 1965, while playing for the Los Angeles Dodgers, Fairly again beat the Pirates with a last-inning homer. In other National League baseball games, Philadelphia whipped St. Louis 10-5, Atlanta topped Houston 7-1 and San Diego beat San Francisco, also by a 7-1 count.

The New York Mets' game against the Cubs in Chicago was postponed due to cold weather, and Los Angeles and Cincinnati were not scheduled. Expos-Pirates The defeat was the 14th in the last 19 games for the Pirates, last year's NL East champions. And Bries, who suffered his fourth defeat in five decisions, feels its the pitchers who must pull the club out of its rut.

Phil-Cards Philadelphia scored six runs on six singles in the fourth inning to beat the Cardinals. Greg Luzinski had a single, double and triple and rookie Mike Schmidt drove in three runs. Braves-Astros Atlanta's Mike Lam had a three-run double and a solo homer in the Braves' victory.

Fairly's Lone Hit Defeats Pittsburgh

NEW YORK (AP) - Ron Fairly has a good memory - but then again, nights like Monday aren't that hard to remember. Fairly got only one hit in five times at bat against the Pirates, but it was the big one - a solo home run in the 10th inning that lifted the Montreal Expos to a 2-1 victory and sent Pittsburgh to its sixth consecutive loss.

"I think it was a fast ball," said Fairly of his game-winning shot off Nelson Briles. "I'm not sure. All I know is, I hit it well." "It's easy to remember the good days," observed Fairly, who had fond memories of Briles and the Pirates even before his blast. He hit another tie-breaking homer off Bries in a game won by the Expos earlier this season. And back in 1965, while playing for the Los Angeles Dodgers, Fairly again beat the Pirates with a last-inning homer.

'House Tony Rebuilt' Ready for 500 Miler

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - The Indianapolis 500-mile auto race will run the 57th time May 28 through another colorful show drawing more than 500,000 persons and heard and seen by millions more around the world. But it hasn't always been so. In 1946, when "Tony" Hulman of Terre Haute, Ind., bought the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, it was in disrepair. Interest in the Memorial Day classic had diminished after the track was closed four years during World War II. The Speedway, which was built in 1909 as a proving ground for automobiles, is now known in some racing circles as "the house that Tony rebuilt."

Little Man Big in Poll

NEW YORK (AP) - Nate Archibald, Kansas City-Omaha's relatively small guard, was the biggest vote collector on the Monday, White House Associated 1972-73 All-Star squad announced Monday. While Bobby Love, the league's most valuable player, failed to make the team. The 6-foot-3 Archibald, the NBA leader in scoring with 2,719 points for a .44 average in 39 games, in assists with 910 for an 11.4 average and in minutes played with 3,881, received 15,488 points from a panel of sportswriters and broadcasters in the league's 17 cities. Each city received a full vote, meaning 17,000 would be the maximum. Joining Archibald on the first team were forwards John Havlicek of Boston and Spencer Haywood of Seattle, center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of Milwaukee, and guard Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers. The closest voting was for center, where Abdul-Jabbar edged Cowens, 10,822 to 10,536. The 7-2 Abdul-Jabbar, named to the first team for the third straight season, finished second in scoring, third in field goal percentage and fourth in rebounding. Cowens, 6-9, was third in rebounding and recently was chosen as the league's MVP in halting by the NBA players. Cowens was chosen to the second team, along with forwards Elvin Hayes of the Baltimore (now Capital) Bullets and Rick Barry of Golden State, and guards Walt Frazier of New York and Pete Maravich of Atlanta. Each player on the first team will receive $500, while each second-team member will get $250. For Havlicek, it was the third straight year he made the first team. Haywood has been a first-team pick in each of his two full seasons in the NBA, while Archibald's selection was his first. Havlicek was the second leading vote getter with 15,724, followed by West with 13,255, Haywood with 12,621 and Abdul-Jabbar.

Offer Riggs Evert Next

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) - Bobby Riggs made a fuss about giving up 25 years to Margaret Court in their celebrated tennis match Sunday. He now has ponder whether to give up 37 years and play Chris Evert. Fort Lauderdale promoter George Liddy announced Monday he was willing to put up $30,000 for a confrontation between Riggs, 55, and Miss Evert, 18, here Sept. 22. "The women's lib movement in tennis is working quickly to match me with someone who might be tougher than Mrs. Court," said Riggs. He smashed Mrs. Court, the leading money winner on the Virginia Slims circuit, 6-2, 6-1. "Chris would be the toughest one they could come up with," said Riggs by telephone from San Diego. He has already expressed a desire to accept a challenge next from defending Wimbledon champion Billie Jean King. "I don't know if I want her on clay," said Riggs of the advantage Miss Evert would have on playing on the clay surface on which she was wanted and has been unshakable. Miss Evert completely dominated the United States Lawn Tennis Association women's tour this spring with the advantage of playing on friendly Florida clay courts in half of the eight tournaments. "It would certainly be a challenge," said Miss Evert, admitting that thoughts of how she would do against Riggs occupied her mind while watching the latest of the Riggs-Court matches. "I hope I could do better," she said. "I don't know why not. The pressure was on Mrs. Court. If I play, the pressure will all be on him."

Weiskopf Improves 21 Places on List

NEW YORK (AP) - Tom Weiskopf improved his position on the Professional Golf Association's money-winning list 21 places by backing into the $30,000 first prize in the Colonial National Invitation Tournament. Weiskopf's one-shot victory, achieved as tournament front-runner Bruce Crampton took a double-bogey six on the final hole, raised his 1973 earnings to $64,722 from $54,722. Weiskopf, previously 29th in last year's rankings, now stands eighth in Crampton, although falling in a bid for his fourth victory of the year, increased his lead over Jack Nicklaus in the money race to $21,487. He has won $187,561 on the year to $146,064 for the Golden Bear.
