Maine Elks Lodges Lose Permits

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — Lodges would have to eliminate the discriminatory clause and wait the statutory six-month period to reapply after a denial, a protracted legal battle over a controversial "whites-only" clause in the Elks' national charter.

The order, contained in certified letters from the Bureau of Alcoholic Beverages, was mailed to Elks lodges across the state and to Maine's lone Moose lodge in identification of the U.S. Supreme Court recently upheld a Maine law which bars liquor licenses to organizations which discriminate on the basis of race.

The lodges had been serving liquor under temporary permits issued early this year while the case was pending before the high court.

California Grand Jury May Call Watergate Trio

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nation-spanning journey appears in prospect for three convicted Watergate conspirators whose release was authorized from a federal prison so they could testify before a Los Angeles grand jury.

Los Angeles District Attorney Joseph Betch says he wants the men—E. Howard Hunt, Bernard L. Barker and Eugenio Martinez—to testify before a county grand jury that will look into the office burglary of a psychiatrist who treated Daniel Ellsberg.

That grand jury is scheduled to begin its proceedings next week. Special Watergate

Meskill Lauds Legislature

HARTFORD (AP) — "I want to congratulate you on a job well done and on a session which will, I hope, become a model for future sessions," Gov. Thomas J. Meskill told a joint session of the General Assembly on the last night of the 1973 regular session.

The occasion Friday night was a contrast to previous final nights which usually ended sometime after midnight following a flourish of last-minute legislation.

By contrast, the 1973 session, with the first Republican controlled legislature in roughly two decades, finished its business last week, a full two weeks ahead of its constitutional deadline of June 6.

In a speech lasting less than 15 minutes Meskill said that in addition to its efficiency the 1973 General Assembly would be remembered best for what it had produced.

The governor singled out tax reform and creation of a hospital cost commission as major accomplishments of the session.

"The letter which will review irvate hospital and nursing home budgets," promises us a unified, coherent and logical health care delivery system in Connecticut at the lowest possible cost," he said.

"The 1973 session... will also be remembered as the first session in a quarter of a century to reduce the sales tax," he said.

"Connecticut's dubious honor of having the highest sales tax in the nation has become a thing of the past," he added.

The legislature lowered the sales tax from 7 to 6.5 per cent.

Clark Hall as lieutenant and provided for tax relief for elderly home owners and renters starting in 1974.

prosecutor Archibald Cox said Friday the men would be released temporarily from federal prison in Danbury, Conn., to testify when they are called.

Cox also disclosed that he and Samuel Dash—the chief counsel for the Senate Watergate investigating committee—had agreed to meet to talk over problems Cox sees arising from the Senate hearings.

In a statement, Cox said the hearings posed "the risk of serious damage to investigations and any resulting prosecutions." He said topics discussed with Dash at a preliminary session Wednesday included "possible ways of reducing the harm."

The three men were convicted with four others in the June 17, 1972, break-in and bugging of Democratic National Headquarters at the Watergate office building. They were transferred from a Washington jail last week to Danbury, where they are awaiting a June 18 date for final determination of their sentences.

In another grand jury action, U.S. Atty. John L. Briggs said in Tampa, Fla., that he had not been pressured by Cox to halt or delay his investigation that has resulted in indictments of Donald F. Segretti and two others. Segretti is to have been involved in campaign spying, was charged with the others in connection with distribution of a phony campaign letter in the 1972 Florida presidential primary.

The letter accused two Democratic candidates of sexual misconduct.

Republican leaders from both houses said afterward they were proud to associate themselves with the accomplishments of the 1973 session.

Democrats, by contrast, were less enthusiastic.

"There could have been more tax reductions," said Senate Minority Leader Charles T. Alfano, D-Suffield. "He (Meskill) didn't bother to mention that he has been responsible for a 40 per cent increase in taxes during his administration," he said.

House Minority Leader Carl R. Ajello, D-Ansonia, criticized Meskill for taking credit for things that were done previously by Democratic administrations such as the hospital cost bill.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab's astronauts resumed their research today while ground experts considered a space walk to repair a solar panel and the possibility of extending the mission beyond 28 days.

Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz were rechecked after a space holiday Friday and pitched in on their experiments today, their ninth day in orbit.

Mission Control wakened the astronauts today by wishing Commander Conrad Happy Birthday.

"Oh, you remembered," he said.

"It's a bouncing 43 years old today," Weitz commented.

"I'm to the point where I should be 39 and forgetting it," the commander said.

On the schedule were a series of sun and star observations, more medical investigations and an earth resources pass to make geologic, agricultural and oceanographic surveys in a 2,750-mile strip ranging from northwest of San Francisco to Mexico City.

In space laboratories here and at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., specialists are testing repair techniques which might be used by the astronauts.

A sun shield ripped away during the launch of Skylab on May 14 and one solar panel was torn away and another jammed.

If the jammed panel could be swung out, its solar cells would almost double the amount of electrical power available to the space station, which has been running on half-power since the launch accident.

Four smaller solar panels are providing energy for the laboratory. But on reduced power, the astronauts have had to curtail some experiments.

Rocco A. Petrone, director of the Marshall Center where testing is being conducted, said the jammed panel could be released, there's a possibility the mission could be extended beyond the planned four weeks.

"It's certainly worth looking at," Petrone said. He added much would depend on what doctors on the ground think of the astronauts' physical condition late in the journey. They would consult with Kerwin, who is the first physician to fly in space.

Petrone said the space walk panel repair job has received greater emphasis since it was discovered some of the station batteries were degraded by solar heat during the 10 days the lab was unattended after it was launched.

The astronauts were to have been launched the next day, but were delayed while a makeshift sun shade was developed for them to erect over an exposed area of the vehicle to cool it down.

As a result of the battery degradation, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced Friday it had advanced the launch date of the Skylab 2 astronauts 14 days, from Aug. 8 to July 27.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has given its approval to an $8 billion trade agreement that is the largest in history between the Soviet Union and a Western power.

Under the agreement, Occidental Petroleum Corp. and the USSR will exchange $200 million worth of chemical products annually for 20 years.

The agreement was negotiated by Armand Hammer, Occidental president, last September.

Dr. Richard S. Wilbur, the Pentagon's top health officer, said Friday that all 566 American U.S. POWs suffered what doctors call "stress reaction" after coming home. He said, however, that these manifestations of depression, fright and euphoria "will not last with them."

U.S. servicemen "did badly in the first three years" after leaving Japanese prison camps in World War II and Korean camps in the Korean war, Wilbur said.

Cease-Fire Differences Said Great

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong said today there are great differences between it and the Saigon government in implementing a real cease-fire in Vietnam.

The official statement, made at the Viet Cong's weekly news conference, added to growing skepticism about prospects for a realistic, long-term peace in Vietnam.

Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho are scheduled to meet in Paris Wednesday in the second round of negotiations aimed at implementing provisions of the Jan. 27 agreement that have never been put into effect. The two met for six days in Paris last month.

Col. Vo Dong Giang, a senior spokesman for the Viet Cong delegation to the two-party Joint Military Commission, told newsmen the Saigon government "has not displayed any change in its attitude to a solution" for a total cease-fire.

Medical Watch

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst says the uproar of Watergate may be threatening to drown out the judicial system's historic concern for the protection of individual rights.

The televised Senate Watergate investigation hearings and news leaks from government attorneys and the FBI have created an atmosphere in which it would be hard to "imagine that any one of those persons could get a fair trial," Kleindienst told newsmen Friday.

Kleindienst said some persons are being asked to appear before TV cameras to discuss matters that ultimately may involve them in criminal proceedings.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A five-year medical watch program for returned Indochina POWs has been drafted by the Pentagon in hopes of avoiding the high rate of violent deaths experienced by U.S. POWs of World War II and Korea.

Ambitious Agenda Before Directors

The Manchester Board of Directors Tuesday will be faced by one of the most ambitious agendas before it in several years. Tuesday's meeting is for explanation and public discussion of the agenda items. Board of Directors discussion and possible actions will take place at a June 12 meeting.

Both will be at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

Public hearings will be held Tuesday on 9 proposed additional appropriations to the current budget, all to be financed by equal grants or contributions; on 15 proposed allocations totaling $237,000 from revenue-sharing funds; and on a proposed ordinance approving the merger of the Capitol Region Council of Governments and the Capitol Region Planning Agency.

Also on the agenda are the following proposals:

- Abandonment of Parker St. from Colonial Rd. to Mitchell Dr.
- Adoption of a resolution to provide a sewer swap with South Windsor in conjunction with the development of Hartman Tobacco Co. land in Buckland.
- Establishment of a blue ribbon committee to study different forms of government and to come in with a recommendation.
- Consideration of new rules governing Manchester cemeteries.
- Approval of acquisition of Laurel Lake property from Robert and Wells Demoss, in accordance with an option agreement and with state approval of permits for the sanitary landfill area.
- Consideration of a referendum in November for additional improvements to filling and Denree Junior High Schools.
- The proposal will be explained by school personnel. A similar referendum was defeated last November and one for constructing a new junior high in 1971.
- Approval of a new salary plan for department heads and assistants.
- Approval of a Suspense Tax Collection List.
- Designating the town clerk as the responsible individual for the maintenance of Board of Directors minutes.
- Appointment of a member to the Commission on Aging, to fill the unexpired term of the Rev. Robert J. Burbank, who has been assigned to a post in Milford.
- Appointment of a member to the Building Committee, to fill the unexpired term of Wilfred Dion, compelled to resign when he became assistant supervisor for buildings and grounds.

Still other items on the agenda are the following proposed fiscal actions:

- A $2,284 appropriation to the Recreation Departments for special courses in arts and crafts to be financed by equal fees.
- A $2,196 allocation from the Special Downtown Taxing District Reserve Fund for a payment due on an Oak St. property.
- Allocations totaling $24,500 from the Water Reserve Fund for three projects, with $23,013 of it for relocating water mains in Gardner and Wyllis Sts.
- A $13,239 allocation from the Capital Improvement Reserve Fund for constructing drainage facilities under Main and Charter Oak Sts. in the vicinity of I-84.
- A $840 allocation from the Capital Improvement Reserve Fund, for the final payment on the Trotter Block.
- The transfer of funds totaling $26,800 from six accounts into five others.

COLLEGE BRIDGE STARS TALK TO MAKE RISKS

Today's hand was played in an intercollegiate bridge tournament, staged in a couple of hundred colleges some years ago. One way or another, South was expected to get to four spades, a good aggressive contract. West usually led the king of clubs, and it was up to our collegiate South to show his stuff.

West dealer

King of Clubs
Clearly, South needed a successful diamond finesse, but this was not enough to assure the contract. South needed four diamond tricks in order to get rid of a club or a heart. Obviously, he would lose three hearts and one club.

How could declarer keep an entry to dummy's fourth diamond? The king of spades was dummy's only side entry. For this reason, South could afford to draw only two rounds of trumps before developing the diamonds.

Pursuing this plan, South draws two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen. Then he abandons trumps, leaving one trump still out.

South now leads the queen of diamonds for a finesse. West covers the first or second diamond with his king, and South must bravely continue with a third round of diamonds even though a trump is still out. The risk must be taken since there is no other chance to make the contract.

MAYORS ACT TO STALL FUND CUT
NEW HAVEN (AP) — Mayors and selectmen of Connecticut's larger cities and towns have voted to stall a federal effort to forestall further cutbacks in their federal assistance until alternate financing is provided.

The chief executives, members of the Connecticut Conference of Mayors and Municipalities, say they unilaterally oppose the Nixon Administration's so-called Better Communities Act, which would set funding starting next year and continuing the next three or four years.

The conference voted to take its stand in a recent meeting and is notifying President Nixon and Connecticut's congressional delegation in letters, saying that the act would be a change of pace from the busy previous days.

160 For Cards
Friday after a real fine turnout for our kitchen social in federal funding to 28 of the state's 31 largest municipalities.

Only three, Groton, Meriden and Norwich, could expect increases, they said.

Letters bearing the signature of conference president John J. Sullivan, first selectman of Fairfield, ask the federal government to provide full funding of existing programs until reliable and adequate alternate funding programs are enacted and implemented.

Programs which would be affected by the Nixon proposal include urban renewal, low and moderate-income housing, sewer and water improvements, model cities and public housing.

Under the proposal, funds are earmarked for 31 so-called "metropolitan cities," some of which are in the state. The amount of aid, if any, to the state's remaining 13 cities and towns would be decided by the state government, the conference said.

Between 1974 and the last year of funding under the act either 1968 or 1979, aid to 23 of the state's 31 largest communities would be reduced 50 per cent or more, it said.

The municipalities, with the percentage cut in parentheses, are: New London (93); New Haven (82); New Britain (75); Waterbury (72); Hartford (70); Vernon (68); East Haddam (67); Ansonia, Bloomfield, Derby, East Haven, Fairfield, Farmington, Glastonbury, Middletown, Portland, Stratford, Suffield, West Hartford, Windsor Locks and Willimantic (all 58); Norwich (63), and Danbury (50).

Municipalities which will experience lesser cuts if the measure is passed are Bristol (45); Bridgeport (39); Stamford (37); West Haven (20) and Milford (5).

Groton is expected to receive a 237 per cent increase, Meriden 56 per cent and Norwich 24 per cent, the conference said.

It was noted that although the fire insurance severely curtailed business for the period after the first June 30, 1972, that sales had increased 10 per cent from the year previous, and resulted in destruction of more than 75 per cent of the fire insurance loss from the fire resulted in a net loss for the year ending June 1972 of two cents per share.

For the period ending Dec. 31, 1972 sales of $83,699 reflected an increase of 15 per cent over the comparable period the year before with net income per share of four cents.

The third-quarter sales were reported to be more than $400,000 and sales for the full year of 1973 were projected to be 23 per cent higher than 1972, with record per share earnings.

Many of the golfers will be playing in Wildwood N.J., next week, but those staying at home will be playing at Blackledge. So men, here's a chance for you to get in the act of joining other members of our Center, and playing some golf. We've got a nice gang of fellows playing, and we welcome newcomers, so why not plan on going to Blackledge this coming Monday morning at 8 o'clock.

On Thursday, 44 express folded into a bus and headed for Suffolk Downs. The weather turned out to be real nice and sunny, but a wee bit cool. And that's the way the horses ran for me, anyway.

Some of our members did real well. Well, they really didn't win that kind of money, but did better than breaking even, so I guess everybody enjoyed the day. It certainly was a change of pace from the busy previous days.

'180-Degree Turn Tom'

Whatever opinions people may have about Gov. Thomas J. Meskill, most we think will agree he is a pretty astute fellow when it comes to politics.

Whenever it appears his political opponents may have him boxed in on an issue, the governor manages somehow to extricate himself and, more often than not, come out on top.
In recent months, as one was had put it, he has earned the name of "180-Degree Turn Tom" as he has taken what seemed to be an inflexible position on various issues and suddenly reversed course.

In the bus crisis he was quite insistent that subsidy solution to the problem be on a district level instead of a state level. What happened is that the buses are running with a state subsidy but with a qualification that actually is not too binding. The subsidy supposedly will end in two years by which time the governor hopes transit districts will be organized to take over.
His option is still open. While he made a concession; his record, should state subsidy costs become too high or not really provide the service the people want, shows his strong opposition to the idea in the first place. If it works and the public demands it to be continued, he can still reap some credit. So on the bus issue, as we see it, he stands to lose little and gain much.

While "180-Degree Turn Tom" was getting a lot of heat on his tax reform bills and his opponents were almost watering at the mouth to nail his political hide permanently to the side of the state's corporate interests, he was not standing still.
Lo, and behold, after passage of the sales tax cut and elimination of capital gains taxes, he started speaking out critically against the state's leading public utility firms which are seeking rate hikes. This places him squarely on the side of the consumer and should this result in a reduced, or even denied, rate increase; he'll be able to tally a plus at the polls because basic arithmetic tells us there are more consumers of electric power than there are corporations. His latest switch, however, is the most intriguing.

After taking the slings and arrows of outrage from his opponents and leaders of state employees unions for successfully stopping the Assembly from enacting an across-the-board pay raise, he tosses them a $300 bonus.

This has to be about the shrewdest political tactic of the year. It is a one-shot deal using a chunk of this year's surplus and while it doesn't meet worker desires (they wanted about $750 over the next year) it isn't to sneeze at.
In effect, the governor has, for the next year deftly but yet decidedly given state employees a message. That message, we think, is simply this: Because the surplus is larger than expected and because cost of living has risen markedly in the last few months, I am doing this, but next year, there may or may not be a surplus and this depends a lot on how efficient we are in state administration.

Gov. Meskill, without a doubt, wants to seek re-election with the state in a surplus situation and his bonus idea, if he employs get it right message, could increase their productivity since future bonuses appear to be contingent on savings in government rather than appropriations.
The play has put the workers on the defensive and the governor has gotten out of another box.
Right now we can't help but wonder what "180-Degree Turn Tom" will do for an encore but we are certain there will be many between now and November 1974.

Paranoia — The Key To Happiness

It was during the Watergate affair that young Freddie Frisbee first developed the initial symptoms of a classic case of paranoia.
As he read the daily revelations of widespread buggings, wire-tappings, spyings, infiltrations and burglaries by Government agents, his sense of unease grew.
The first outward sign that he was suffering from delusions of persecution came on a Monday evening. He picked up the phone to call a liberal attorney he knew and then, after a moment's thought, hung up the receiver.
"There's a good chance they've tapped his line," he explained to his wife, Felicia, "or ours."
"Really, dear," said Felicia blithely, "you're just overwrought."
But when a friend attempted to take a jolly group picture at a picnic the following Sunday, Frisbee dove head first into the sand, burying his head up to his ears.
"You know Army intelligence agents are always taking crowd shots to compile dossiers," he explained to Felicia. "Well, there's no sense taking chances."

A worried Felicia insisted he see a psychiatrist. The first psychiatrist Frisbee was dragged to the offices of Dr. Hermann Schrick.
"Now, Mr. Frisbee," said Dr. Schrick, folding his hands, "just tell me what seems to be bothering you."
"I would, doctor," said Frisbee cautiously. "But the evidence shows there's a good chance your office will be burglarized by the CIA who will seize the records of our intimate conversation for who knows what ends."
Dr. Schrick shook his head sadly. "It's the times we live in," he said. "I'm afraid they've made you an incurable paranoid. All I can offer you, Mr. Frisbee, is my deepest sympathy."
"Really, dear," said Felicia blithely, "you're just overwrought."

Watergate Thoughts

By Lee Roderick

(Special to The Herald)

WASHINGTON — Like a small boy watching a venomous cobra uncoil from its basket, this city has been mesmerized for weeks by the Watergate scandal.
Only one thing fascinates the politicians here more than the rise of men to great power. And that is the fall of men from power. It appears that it will be a good while yet before the machinery of government will return to "business as usual."
The revelations of alleged wrong-doing, that have been cascading over the White House, remind this reporter of a political seminar more than a year ago where GOP Congressional candidates were being groomed for the 1972 campaign.
In an opening address, a Californian who is one of the best known professional political managers in the country advised aides to the candidates thusly: "Your only job is to win for your boss. And anything you do goes if it advances that end. Anything else is a waste of time. The 'anything' philosophy, of course, is what is now reaping shame to the highest offices of the land and is bringing dishonor and tragedy to individuals whose lives have been indelibly branded by the hideous affair.
Among all the reforms that are being advanced to prevent future Watergate, perhaps none could be as effective as putting the "professional" political managers out of business. These men, who like to refer to themselves as "consultants" too often capture the very minds of their clients, refuse to let them open their mouths on any relevant campaign issue — especially if they haven't already thoroughly tested the wits of public opinion on the issue — and have an endless array of dirty tricks, ala Watergate to pull at the slightest provocation.
After voluntarily stepping down from his post as secretary of Housing and Urban Development, George Romney confessed that one key reason for his resignation was that he would never consider doing as individuals acting alone."
Romney's statement could well serve as an epiphany on the entire Watergate affair.
Is there any possible good that can come from Watergate? Perhaps there is. Although there is going to be a heavy toll on the individuals who have been and may yet be implicated or convicted, in a strange way, Watergate has shown the enormous strength and wisdom in our system of government. As President Nixon noted, by a free, vigorous press, a courageous judge — John Sirica — and a tenacious Grand Jury. It was a quiescent case that the American constitutional system of checks and balances at work against those who would make a mockery of our political system. Once more, the wisdom of the founding fathers in fashioning such a system has been vindicated.

It will likely be many months before all of the Watergate bodies have been counted and identified. Until then, the American public would do well to remember the first rule that any cub reporter is told: Accusations and indictments are far different from convictions. It would be a tragic mistake to forget that, in the United States of America, a person is still innocent until proven guilty.

What "180-Degree Turn Tom" will do for an encore but we are certain there will be many between now and November 1974.

Felicia felt him. He burned all his membership cards, including that of the Red Cross. He slept with his hi-fi in case he ever emerged from the house without his red wig and black moustache.
His friends never called any more, nor did his neighbors speak to him, considering him, as best, "odd."
Then came The Coup of 1964. One by one, his former friends and neighbors were led off to jail on the evidence compiled in their thick dossiers. And it came as no surprise to Frisbee to see Dr. Schrick being dragged off to a Government mental institution for "rehabilitation."
"It's you who are the incurable paranoid," the struggling Dr. Schrick shouted angrily at Frisbee as he passed. "Not I!"
"All I can offer you, Doctor," said sobbing, "tell me what's the matter."

CIA Question for Nixon

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's statement, with its remarkable admission that he did after all impose national security limitations on the Watergate investigation, instead of winning sympathy from Capitol Hill supporters of his hard-line foreign policy, has now spawned two steeled questions from them.
Question No. 1: It has been long standing practice for the President of the United States personally to approve or "sign off" on a secure secretarial system of checks and balances at work against those who would make a mockery of our political system. Once more, the wisdom of the founding fathers in fashioning such a system has been vindicated.
It will likely be many months before all of the Watergate bodies have been counted and identified. Until then, the American public would do well to remember the first rule that any cub reporter is told: Accusations and indictments are far different from convictions. It would be a tragic mistake to forget that, in the United States of America, a person is still innocent until proven guilty.

WASHINGTON — A House vote the other day refusing to override President Nixon's veto of a bill requiring Senate confirmation of his budget director was illustrative of the difficulties any move to impeach Nixon would encounter.
Although a majority of 236 to 178 supported the bill, the count fell short of the two-thirds required to upset the veto. What happened is that the Republicans, however concerned they may be about the Watergate scandal, stood firm. Only 18 voted to override, while 167 voted no.
There is no evidence of course, constitutional considerations involved. The bill was made retroactive to cover both the incumbent director of the Office of Management and Budget, Roy Ash, and his deputy, Frederick W. Mahk. That was a mistake, because the courts have held that Congress may not remove an official of the Executive Branch except by impeachment. Even Rep. Paul McCloskey, Re-Calif., who challenged Nixon's re-nomination last year, voted with Nixon on this issue.
But the significant fact is that Republicans in Congress do not yet feel they have a grassroots movement to punish the President for Watergate by deserting him on irrelevant issues. Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., put it in particular terms when he admitted that Watergate had no impact on the vote, and said this was "shocking because the country

Today's Thought

A sign in the lobby of a large high school apparently fostered by a thoughtful student with a keen sense of humor expressed a strong opinion on the issue of prayers in public schools. It read: "As long as there are mid-years and final exams there will be prayers in these schools."
We are never free of crises in this life but the people of God can "come with confidence to the throne of God for mercy and find grace to help in time of need."

Life of Jesus

The Coming of the Holy Spirit
When the day of Pentecost arrived, all the believers were gathered together in one place. Suddenly there was a noise from the sky which sounded like a strong wind blowing, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting. Then they saw what looked like tongues of fire spreading out; and each person there was touched by a tongue. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to talk in other languages, as the Spirit enabled them to speak.
There were Jews living in Jerusalem, religious men who had come from every country in the world. When they heard this noise, a large crowd gathered. They were all excited, because each one of them heard the believers talking in his own language. In amazement and wonder they exclaimed, "These men who are talking like this—they are all Galileans! How is it that all of us hear them speaking in our own native language? We are from Parthia, Media, and Elam; from Mesopotamia, Judea, and Cappadocia; from Pontus and Asia, from Phrygia and Pamphylia, from Egypt and the regions of Libya near Cyrene; some of us are from Rome, both Jews and Gentiles converted to Judaism; and some of us are from Crete and Arabia—yet all of us hear them speaking in our own languages of the great things that God has done!" Amazed and confused they all kept asking each other, "What does this mean?" The White House hopes they will find that Mr. Nixon was merely incompetent.

Conducts Crusade

The Rev. Robert J. Lundstrom, an evangelist from Abington, Mass., will conduct a five-day Proletarian Pentecost Crusade starting Wednesday at Calvary Church, 647 E. Middle Tpk. Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday and at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. on June 10.
The evangelist is pastor of Glad Tidings Assembly of God Church in Abington and a part-time instructor at Zion Bible Institute, East Providence, R.I. He is a graduate of Central Bible College, Springfield, Mo., and has served parishes in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.
Tomorrow, a film, "Like a River," will be shown at the 7 p.m. service at Calvary Church. A documentary of the spiritual and numerical growth of the Assemblies of God during its first 50 years, "Like a River" recounts development of the church from a relatively small organization to one of substantial outreach. Included are interviews with pioneers of the church.
Services are open to the public.

The Bible Speaks
by Eugene Brewer
A youngster once asked his father what a Christian is. His father replied that he is a person who obeys God, loves his fellowmen, prays often, and reveres God's holy name. He is kind, considerate, gentle and holy, and never misses an opportunity to meet with other Christians. Then, with that directness so characteristic of children, the little boy asked, "Dad, have I ever seen one?"
We may well ponder this question relative to ourselves. Have my fellow-workers, my neighbors, my family ever seen a Christian? Of course, the most Christian do not expect to find such. But they have a right to look for a relatively advanced spirituality. What are we showing them? "Even so let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven." Matt. 5:16

South Windsor GOP Seeks Candidates

The South Windsor Republican Town Committee has formed a Candidate Development Committee which will seek to find candidates for consideration of local caucus to be held in August.

In addition to Robert Sklenar, chairman of the town committee, other members of the new committee are Fred DeGiacomo, Howard Pitts, Fenton Putner, Jane Romany, Sklenar said the party caucus will be usually important this year in choosing candidates for the Board of Education and Planning and Zoning Commission. He said, "Because of actions of the present Town Council in delaying appointment of a Charter Revision Commission until too late to affect this fall's elections, there will be no contest in the general election for vacancies on the Board of Education and Planning and Zoning Commission, hence the nominees of the caucus are virtually assured of election."

"This situation once again points up the importance of registering with a party," Sklenar said. He added, "The unaffiliated voter in South Windsor will have no voice in filling these vitally important positions. I would urge any Republicans interested in becoming candidates to contact any member of the Candidate Development Committee."

School Lunches
The following lunches will be served in the South Windsor Schools next week.
Monday: Italian roll, salami, bologna, cheese, lettuce and tomato, potato chips, pickle chips, spice cake.
Tuesday: Hamburger on bun, whipped potato with gravy, carrot and celery sticks, sliced peaches.
Wednesday: Pizza, tossed salad with dressing, Italian bread and butter, ice cream.
Thursday: Hot dog on bun, potato chips, macaroni salad, orange juice, pudding with topping.
Friday: Tuna sub with lettuce and tomato, cole slaw, potato chips, pineapple chunks. Milk is served with all meals.
Tag Sale
An auction-tag sale, is being held today from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the First Congregational Church, 893 Main St., South Windsor. A food sale and luncheon will also be held with baby sitting provided. The event will be held rain or shine.
Proceeds from the auction and sale will help pay for repairs to the organ and for the music program of the church. Members of the auction committee are Beverly Nielsen, Betty Brown, Lisa Clapp, Priscilla Sanford, Lodiase Levaek, Grace Nicolson, Jim McGuire, Pat McGuire, Jewell Burnham, Audrey Dinse, Marjorie Trotman, Helen Bancroft, Pat Pearson, Lee Anderson and Gary Adams.
Friends of Muscue
The Friends For Music Club will meet June 8 at 8 p.m. in the music room at the high school. A complete account of the recent band uniform drive will be given.

Soybeans: Glamor Stock

By MARY GANZ
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — If you've never seen a bushel of soybeans it's hard to imagine why scores of men would be willing to pay $10 for them.

But scores of men are willing to pay that much and more for a bushel of the only, pea-shaped beans. And many don't even know what soybeans look like. Yet they buy and sell thousands of bushels of soybeans by dealing in commodities futures, contracts promising delivery at some future date.

Thousands, and sometimes hundreds of thousands, of dollars are won and lost daily in such dealings at the Board of Trade.

In the past few weeks, the traders have been mostly making money. The commodities futures boom has nearly tripled the price of soybeans in a year and almost doubled that of wheat and corn.

Consumers will eventually feel the price increase at the meat counter, say many traders. The commodities bought and sold at the Board of Trade are used primarily as livestock feed.
"The farmer is getting pressure from both ends," one broker said. "He's faced with paying more and more for his feed grains, yet not being able to raise prices above the government ceiling. He has no choice but to cut production."
Soybeans are the "glamor stock" of the futures market. But other futures prices have been soaring, too.
"Most traders say, with conviction, that prices are hitting record levels because the supply of food commodities simply can't keep pace with demand. But there is another view expressed by one trader: "The only thing that's worth a damn in this country is its agriculture."
"They're not producing cameras or televisions any more in this country. Pretty soon they're not going to be making cars. Who wants to buy a 300 horsepower car that breaks down twice a week?"
Board of Trade brokers say money has been flowing into commodities markets from Wall Street speculators who are discouraged with the sluggish stock market.
"We're seeing people move from securities markets to grain markets," said one. "The stock market is under pressure. People who used to buy stocks as a hedge against inflation aren't sure they can do that now."
"There simply isn't enough food to go around," said one trader, a buyer for a large Midwest corn and soybean processing firm. "Prices can go a lot higher."

Service of Sincerity
Everyday living is more complicated today no matter what your particular role in life may be, and surely this is the case when it comes to a funeral director. Because of these complications, many people have come to depend on the Holmes Funeral Home to handle the largest service, intimate enough for the smallest. Each chapel has its own private family room and each has its private entrance. The detection is done with impeccable taste, and all families are assured absolute privacy if this is their wish.
A flower room where all flowers sent to a service are handled carefully and arranged tastefully to the best advantage.
Members of the clergy appreciate the fact that this Home offers a special room for them. Of course, the Home is air conditioned throughout and a very fine loud speaker system is in operation all over the Home. To insure against fire, there is a fire detection system that gives complete protection 24 hours a day.
If you would like to consult with any member of the Holmes family, just call their consultation room on the street level on Bigelow St. Call the Home and make an appointment, and here in seclusion you may ask any questions you wish. There is no obligation on your part and any one of the Holmes family will be pleased to help you.
A large, brightly illuminated parking area, large enough for 75 cars, is available at the rear of the Holmes Funeral Home. Park here and walk part way around the Home to the north to the nearest entrance. The Holmes Funeral Home lives up to the motto of the Order of the Golden Rule. "Service measured not by gold—but by the Golden Rule."

Aaron Called Great And Then Greatest

CHICAGO (AP) — They honored Hank Aaron again Friday night — they called him great, greater than—and finally, the greatest. And though he smiled through it all, a tiredness crept into his face from time to time.

That's because Hank Aaron, a black man, is looking to break the home-run record of Babe Ruth, a white man, and there are some hateful men—and women and children—who can't see that.

"God only knows what kind of hell I've been going through," he said of the crowd at the headquarters of Operation PUSH (People United to Support the Struggle for Human Rights) in Chicago.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, head of PUSH, had asked him to speak, but Aaron said he preferred to hit home runs. He said he was tired of the talk of hate mail. He also said he was tired of talking about the record held by the immortal Babe.

"As long as I can keep my mind clear and play the type of baseball I know how to play, I'll hit more than 714 home runs," Aaron said.

"I'm going to let the umpires call the balls and I'll handle the strikes," he added in a soft, resonant voice.

Although he received most of the attention, Aaron was there to help one of his colleagues, Chicago Cubs pitcher Ferguson Jenkins. Jenkins was promoting a book he has written, but said little about his book, preferring to talk about Aaron.

"There's only one Hank Aaron, and he's one hell of an individual," Jenkins said. "He's a better man now because of the abuse he's taken. When they start talking about home runs, they'll talk about a black man, and it will be Hank Aaron."

Asked if any of Aaron's 686 homers were hit off him, Jenkins smiled and said, "Only by me, in 1968. I was pretty lucky."

Billy Williams, the Cubs left fielder, was there too, and he called Aaron "magnificent, amazing, and I'm glad we're from the same home town." Aaron and Williams are from Mobile, Ala.

Chef Walker of the Chicago Bulls spoke of Aaron's assault on the record as "the greatest motivating factor to blacks in the history of sports. What he's after means more to the little black youngster now going into sports than at any other time in history."

Aaron, dressed in a gray suit, moved through the crowd with the same easy motion he displays on a baseball field—confident and smooth. He first took the evening posing for photographs with the youngsters who came out to see their heroes.

And when one of his admirers would approach him with yet another question about his home run record or his recent problem with hate mail, he would smile and answer that the mail incident is behind him now and the record will be broken in due time, and with a little patience and some luck he would do it.

That he would walk away and answer the same questions all over again.

Pirates Waking Up And Winning Games

NEW YORK (AP) — That distinct rumble you hear in the National League East Division is probably the Pittsburgh Pirates, waking up at last.

The first eight weeks of the baseball season have been frustrating time for the Pirates. The ninth week has been a scary time for the rest of the division.

The Pirates stretched their longest winning streak of the season to five games Friday night, outslugging Cincinnati 6-5. The victory moved Pittsburgh, NL east champs for three straight years, within 3½ games of the pace-setting Chicago Cubs.

Elsewhere in the National League Friday, Atlanta edged the Cubs 6-2, St. Louis defeated Houston 4-2, San Diego shut out the New York Mets 4-0, Los Angeles nipped Montreal 5-2 and San Francisco beat Philadelphia 2-1.

Pirates-Reds
Richie Hebner, Willie Stargell and Manny Sanguillen hit Pittsburgh home runs and Heber added a double and a sacrifice fly for four runs in the Pirates' home run was his 15th of the year.

The Pirates started the week in third place, 4½ games behind the Cubs. They have cut that deficit almost in half and moved up a notch in the standings.

Cards-Astros
St. Louis reliever Diego Segui is having a pretty good week. He recorded his eighth save of the season and third this week as the Cardinals trimmed Houston.

Segui came on in the eighth inning with runners on first and second and none out.

Dodgers-Expos
Don Sutton's five-hitter beat Montreal for Los Angeles' seventh straight victory. It was the fourth straight victory for Sutton, 7-3. Joe Ferguson, the National League's winningest batter in leader, had one RBI, increasing his total for the season to 43.

Giants-Phillies
Reliever Mac Scarce's wild pitch in the bottom of the eighth inning allowed pitcher Ron Bryant to score San Francisco's winning run against Philadelphia. Bryant had doubled the inning. He pitched a four-hitter for the victory.

Luis Aparicio Does Burn Over Washed Up Claims

BOSTON (AP) — Luis Aparicio, the Boston Red Sox's ageless shortstop, burns with anger every time he thinks of a recent news report that he's all washed up.

However, 39-year-old Looie is taking out his wrath on rival American League pitchers and batters.

"Playing on my reputation," is what one Boston writer wrote. "Aparicio said Friday night after helping the Red Sox to a 6-2 victory over the Oakland A's: 'I guess I have something to prove.'"

"Maybe that writer didn't know that I've been sick and had a bad ankle early in the season," Aparicio said. "Anyway, nobody will have to tell me when I've had it. I have my pride and will know when it's time to quit. Right now I think I can help plenty."

Aparicio, who has a lifetime batting average of .261 in 17 previous AL campaigns, had a pair of singles and drove in a base bag to grab a grounder, whirled and threw to first in his hitting streak to 14 games.

"He has 20 hits in 56 times at bat during the torrid stretch, raising his average from .229 to .285. He has failed to hit safely

"I'm not worried about the spitter particularly, though, because I'm only hitting .230 and they're getting me out with a lot of other pitches as well."

White singled during a rally in the Yankee first, when they took a 1-0 lead of Singer. But the Angel right-hander then retired 13 Phillies in order while his teammates were scoring runs.

Ken Berry did the most damage against Mike Kekich with a three-run homer in the third inning for the winning runs.

But Short pitched six strong innings, allowing six hits and only one run, while the Brewers jolted Wood for 11 hits and all their runs in five innings-plus—he faced four batters and didn't retire any of them in the sixth—en route to a 5-3 triumph.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit Tigers whipped the Minnesota Twins 8-3, the California Angels downed the New York Yankees 5-2, the Boston Red Sox trimmed the Oakland A's 6-2, the Texas Rangers edged the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 in 14 innings and the Kansas City Royals nipped the Cleveland Indians 5-4.

Singer Lost Shirt, Game to Red Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Both pitchers started wearing No. 33. Then Oakland's Dave Hamilton lost his shirt and finished with No. 27. Marty Pattin of the Boston Red Sox retained his uniform and finished with a well-deserved victory.

Hamilton, a young southpaw recently recalled from Tucson of the Pacific Coast League, had to borrow Jim Hunter's jersey, with No. 27 and "Hunter" on the back Friday night after umpires noticed that the number 33 was white instead of green, like the rest of the team.

"That was in the third inning, and the Red Sox already had done the major damage to me," Hamilton, who took loss as Pattin fired a seven-hitter and struck out 11 in a 6-2 triumph.

Pattin, going the distance for the only third time in a 4-7 record, was tagged for two-out homers by Sal Bando in the first and Alvin Dark in the third, but was in command the rest of the way.

The Red Sox jumped on Hamilton for three runs in the first. John Kennedy led off with the first of his three singles and Carlton Fisk drilled his ninth homer into the bleachers in dead center. A walk, a double by Rico Petrocelli and a Danny Cater's single accounted for the three runs. Petrocelli hoisted his eighth homer into the left field screen to make the count 4-2 in the third.

Pattin worked his way out of a jam with his 10th and 11th strikeouts after the A's put runners on first and second with one out in the eighth. He fanned Bando and slugger Reggie Jackson.

The Red Sox shelled Hamilton in a two-run eighth. Carter led off with his third hit and second double and Rick Miller was walked intentionally with his third out. Kennedy singled for a run, and Luis Aparicio, hitting in his 14th consecutive game, followed with another run-producing single.

"It seems I'm always falling behind," Pattin said. "It also seems that every time I make a mistake I get hurt. I've got to be down all the time and maintain concentration. After Mangual's homer, I just tried to stay on top of them. The eighth inning was a big turning point. They got those two runners on and I just had to bear down and get two tough hitters."

The Red Sox still two victories shy in struggling to get back to .500, named southpaw Lee, 5-1, to try to make it two in a row against Oakland tonight.

The A's, who expect Manager Dick Williams back on the bench, named Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 5-3, to oppose Lee. Williams missed the series opener because of his daughter's high school graduation in Florida.

Wet Ball Claims Cry By Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Singer, a spit ball pitcher? Yes, say the New York Yankees, to a man.

"It's not a cry, it's not a slider and it's not a spinning slider—no, it has to be illegal," said New York Yankee Manager Ralph Houk after his team was beaten 5-2 by the California Angels Friday night.

"He does something with the ball, all right, and he uses that pitch whenever he's in a jam or has a two-strike count on the batter. Sure, he has a good record (9-2) but it wouldn't be that good without the pitch."

Houk, who makes it a policy usually not to talk about so-called spit ball pitchers because he feels it "just helps those guys", was absolutely furious and extremely talkative about Singer's performance Friday night.

"If the umpires aren't going to stop it, we might as well join 'em," said an angry Houk. "I'll have to get my pitchers to start learning how to throw the spitter."

Matty Alou said that Singer fed him about 10 spit balls Friday night.

"It was the same pitch he used when he hit with the Los Angeles Dodgers," said Alou. "But for some reason, he stopped throwing the spitter."

"He threw me three or four," said Ron Blomberg. Bobby Murcer noticed it, too, although none was thrown to him. "He sure threw some strange looking stuff to Matty," said Murcer. "The way I'm hitting, though, I'm not sure what the pitcher is throwing."

Roy White said that he's been told by "other players about Singer's spitter."

"I'm not worried about the spitter particularly, though, because I'm only hitting .230 and they're getting me out with a lot of other pitches as well."

The overdue gang, headed by a couple of Bobbys — Stefanik and Hart — will be trying to make some noise tonight at Riverside Park Speedway. Stefanik's eighth modified stock car program of the season.

Stefanik, the champion in 1970 and '71 and third in points a year ago, is still looking for his first feature win of the new campaign. The Wilbraham favorite's last success at Riverside was in the 150-lap race last August.

Stefanik will play the 150-lap race in the modified racing tonight in the rescheduled 100-lap Memorial Day Classic NASCAR National Championship event.

Over 65 cars are expected for the race which was rescheduled when rain washed out all attempts to run last Monday.

Leading the entry list are current NASCAR point leader Jerry Cook, New York star Richie Evans, Virginia Paul Radford, all-time Stafford winner Bugs Stevens, Permatex 200 star Denis Groulx and veteran Ed Flemke. Gates will open at 5 o'clock with time trials starting at 6:30. The main event is scheduled for 6:30. Over $1,200 and a load of national points await the winner.

Golfers Place Second, State Tournery Monday

Tuning up for Monday's State CIAC Golf Tournament at the Hartford Golf Club, Coach Tom Kelley's talented Manchester High golf team took part in the Lyman Meadows Invitational Tournament yesterday and came away with several prizes.

This tournery is played in flights with Double L, Large, Medium and Small Schools participating.

The locals took part in the Double L section and wound up second to Cheshire. Maloney was third and defending champion, Hartford Bulkeley, fourth.

Scott Leone was co-medalist for the day with a 76, using Tom Walsh of South Catholic. Pete Sosson of Cheshire was third with a 77 and Len Ammull of Manchester tied for fourth with a 79. The latter was one under on the front side.

Each winning school team in each division received a $150 scholarship for a student attending its school, Kelley noted.

"We're looking forward to Monday. Hal, Maloney, Holy Cross and Manchester High will play in the first group. We think we can win it all at Hartford because no team has this course as a home advantage," Kelley noted. The locals will tee off at 8 o'clock.

Following are the CIAC Division I-Large School qualifiers: 1. Hall, 2. Maloney, 3. Holy Cross of Waterbury, 4. Manchester, 5. Handen, 6. Greenwich, 7. Cheshire, 8. Bristol Eastern, 9. Staples, 10. Waterfield, 11. Norwich, 12. Bulkeley, 13. Simsbury, 14. Torrington, 15. Fitch, 16. Notre Dame of West Haven, 17. Conard, 18. Ludlowe, 19. Darien, 20. Trumbull.

The first four teams play their No. 1, 2, 3 and 4 men together.

Nixon Aides Call Franco-American Talks Successful

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is making a determined effort to dispel notions that President Nixon's summit talks with French President Georges Pompidou were anything less than a total success.

As President Nixon flew here Friday from two days of talks with Pompidou in Iceland, his assistant Henry A. Kissinger told reporters aboard the plane, "We achieved what we set out to do."

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, chatting separately with reporters, was similarly confident, saying, "It went very well. It lived up to our expectations."

Kissinger, who has rarely voiced serious criticism of the news media, contended "the press had the wrong image" about the Reykjavik summit. Some newsmen who covered the summit, on the other hand, came away with the impression that French officials had done a more zealous job of providing information about the discussions.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Zielger said the summit was never designed to produce agreements on such knotty problems as trade, monetary reform, the wisdom of a super summit of the Atlantic community or adoption of a "new Atlantic charter."

Kissinger said Nixon had achieved a goal of setting up procedures for negotiations aimed at reshaping and modernizing the alliance, including a deputy foreign ministers conference that could be held as early as July "to pull all these things together."

In discussing the meetings with Pompidou, Rogers said he had noted that past exchanges between the United States and France have been marked by "little edges." At Reykjavik, he said, "there was less controversy... less sharpness in comment than in any meeting with France before... and I've had a lot of them." He described the atmosphere between the two presidents as "very good."

Police Report

Philip C. Lisk, 19, of 94 Coleman Rd., was charged Friday with third-degree larceny (two counts) and third-degree criminal mischief (two counts) in connection with recent thefts from coin-operated businesses.

Lisk is also wanted by the Marine Corps for being absent without official leave.

He was released on a $250 non-surety bond for court June 4.

Jeffrey L. Acqua, 18, of East Hartford, was charged Friday with threatening on a Circuit Court 12 arrest warrant. Police say that Acqua is charged in connection with a Tuesday bomb scare at East Catholic High School.

Police allege that Acqua called several radio stations and told station personnel that he had planted an "electronic bomb" somewhere in the school.

An employe of WCCC Radio, New Haven, alerted police to the threat.

Police searched the building in an effort to find the device, but results of the search were negative.

Acqua was released on his written promise to appear in court June 18.

Edward Dzikiewicz, 22, of East Hartford, was charged Thursday with reckless driving in connection with a one-car accident on W. Middle Tpke, near Wickham Park.

Police say the Dzikiewicz car was traveling east on the road when the driver down-shifted the car. Police say that the shifting apparently "locked-up" the car's wheels, causing the car to skid across the west-bound lane striking two fence posts.

One of the fence posts apparently acted as a ramp, and launched the car into the air. The car landed in a swampy area by the park, police said.

There was one minor injury in the accident, police said.

Court date is June 11.

CSEA Creates Political Action Arm

HARTFORD (AP) — A special convention of the Connecticut State Employees Association Friday night approved the creation of a political arm to further the goals of the organization.

The approval would permit CSEA for the first time to endorse political candidates. Officials also said legally-permitted political contributions would be solicited.

President Thomas Lyon said CSEA wasn't satisfied with the $300 bonus for state employes announced this week by Gov. Thomas J. Meskill.

Lyon said CSEA thought it had an agreement with the legislature for a $750 raise for each state employe. He added that political pressure had been brought to bear on the Republican majority to reject the $750 figure.

Mauldin was sentenced Friday by Superior Court Judge Robert J. Testo after pleading guilty to second-degree manslaughter in the case.

Asst. State's Atty. Richard Schatz said there was conflicting evidence as to who started the argument that preceded the shooting of Wilson.

The prosecution could not prove how much money was taken from purses at the Bristol home partly because neither Baldaccini woman knew how much cash was in the purses, Schatz said.

One of the defendants allegedly befriended the elderly Mrs. Baldaccini while the other ransacked her home, Schatz said.

The guilty pleas were entered because of difficulties in traveling from their New York homes to court and because one of the defendants suffered from arthritis, according to defense attorney Louis Mattioli.

Hull said good-by to political life, at least for the time being, Friday as he was sworn in by Gov. Thomas J. Meskill as a judge of the Connecticut Superior Court.

"It's going to be very hard leaving political life," said Hull, a former state senator from Danbury and lieutenant governor since 1970.

"It's going to be hard not being able to speak out whenever I see injustices," he said, commenting on the cloak of non-partisanship judges are honor-bound to wear.

Standing among family and friends in Meskill's office at the state Capitol, Hull said, "I've been a lucky man to have 11 years in this building as an elected public official."

"I never knew I had so many friends. What better legacy could a man have."

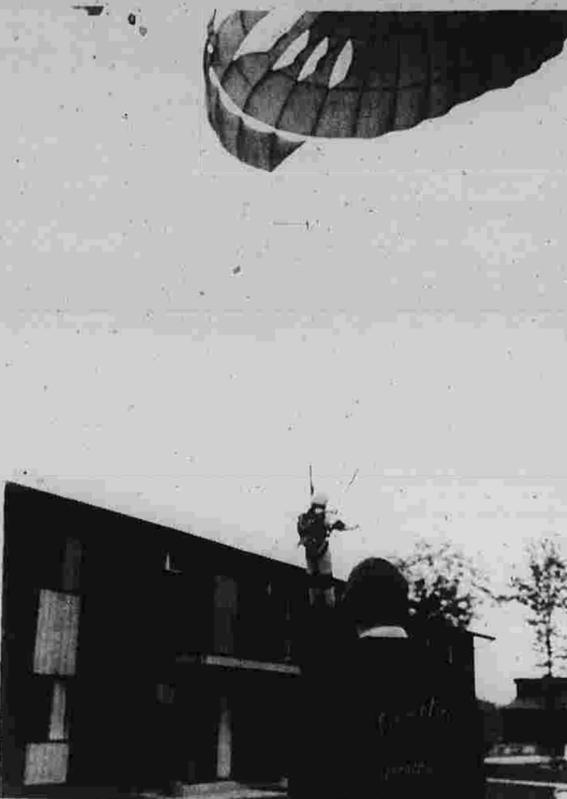

Hull said he couldn't wait to go home to start brushing up on Connecticut case law and judicial procedure. He is scheduled to begin his new career Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Stamford.

Standing beside Hull as he took the oath of office before television cameras were his wife Betty Jane and sons Josh, 22, and Steven, 18. His oldest son, T. Clark III, 23, was away at school in Toronto.

One of those who watched the ceremony couldn't remember when there had been such a crowd for a wearing-in. Another said he wanted to be present to witness "the end of an era."

There is general agreement that the office of lieutenant governor and the senate, over which he presides, won't be the same with Hull gone. His ready wit made him a popular figure with Republicans and Democrats alike—a fact attested by the bipartisan turnout at both the oath-taking and an honorary luncheon afterward.

Mauldin Sentenced

HARTFORD (AP) — John W. Mauldin, 37, of Hartford has been sentenced to four to eight years in prison in the shooting death of former boxer Oliver Lee Wilson.

Wilson, a well-known heavyweight boxer in the 1950s and 1960s and a one-time opponent of champion fighter George Foreman, was shot at a Hartford party Jan. 5.

Mauldin was sentenced Friday by Superior Court Judge Robert J. Testo after pleading guilty to second-degree manslaughter in the case.

Asst. State's Atty. Richard Schatz said there was conflicting evidence as to who started the argument that preceded the shooting of Wilson.

Two Women Fined In Theft Case

HARTFORD (AP) — Two Jamaica, N.Y. women pleaded guilty to reduced charges Friday and were fined $250 each in the alleged theft of thousands of dollars from an elderly Bristol woman and her daughter in January.

Bizoro Pappas and Maka Dyko, originally charged with first degree larceny, pleaded guilty to a charge of third degree larceny before Superior Court Judge Robert Testo.

Asst. State's Atty. Richard Schatz said the two women agreed to make substantial restitution to Mrs. Theresa Baldaccini, 83, and her daughter, both of 9 Jeters Court, Bristol.

The prosecution could not prove how much money was taken from purses at the Bristol home partly because neither Baldaccini woman knew how much cash was in the purses, Schatz said.

P&W Signs Jet Engine Agreement

EAST HARTFORD (AP) — The Pratt & Whitney Division of United Aircraft Corp. said today that it had signed agreements with two overseas firms for the joint development and production of a new commercial aircraft engine.

The engine, to be known as the JT10D, will supply 25,000 to 30,000 pounds of thrust and will incorporate "the latest improvements in noise control and exhaust emission technology," a P&W statement said.

Joining P&W in the agreement are the Motoren-und Turbinen-Union Munchen G.mH (MTU) of Germany and the IRI-Finmeccanica Group of Italy.

Nets Rotate Coverage Of Watergate Hearings

In order to assure "live" nationwide TV coverage of the Watergate phase of the Senate Select Committee hearings, the three major television networks — ABC, CBS, and NBC — will experiment with broadcasting the hearings on a rotational basis.

Each of the networks, in turn, will assume primary responsibility for carrying the hearings when they resume.

Networks may, however, provide either complete or partial coverage even if it isn't their day of primary responsibility.

NBC will carry the hearings Tuesday (June 5); CBS covers Wednesday (June 6); and ABC covers Thursday (June 7). Continuation of the rotating coverage depends on results of this week's experiment.

June 14 Is the Birthday of Our Flag, the Stars and Stripes!

These girls will be flying their flag on Flag Day, if it's a pretty day. In good weather the flag is usually flown outdoors from sunrise to sunset. On special occasions it may be flown at night.

Thursday, June 14 marks the 196th birthday of the Stars and Stripes. This special day, called Flag Day, is celebrated in memory of June 14, 1777. This was the day that the Continental Congress picked a flag with 13 stripes and 13 stars as the national emblem of our country. Flag Day was first set as a national celebration in 1916.

Each star stood for one of the original 13 colonies. Can you name them?

They were: Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

Flags of Importance in the History of Our Country.....

 The Vikings carried a flag with a black raven on it.	 Columbus flew a flag with two red lions and two yellow castles.	 The French flag was carried by Samuel de Champlain when he explored in 1604.	 The British flag was the flag of the early colonists for over 100 years.	 In 1818, Congress passed a law that the flag shall have only 13 stripes, with a new star added on the July 4th after a state joins the union. The last star was added in 1960, after Hawaii became a state.
 LIBERTY	 During the Revolution, there were many colonial flags. This flag was flown by Colonel William Moultrie's men when they defended Charleston, S.C., in 1776.	 The Grand Union Flag was raised by Washington at Cambridge, Mass., in 1776 and was the flag of the Continental Army.
 The Stars and Stripes was adopted in 1777. There was no rule about how to arrange the stars.	 From 1795 to 1818, the flag had 15 stars. A flag like this inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner."	 The Grand Union Flag was raised by Washington at Cambridge, Mass., in 1776 and was the flag of the Continental Army.

The Star Spangled Banner was the flag that inspired Francis Scott Key to write the words for our national anthem. Today, the flag hangs in the main hall of the Museum of History and Technology at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

The flag is huge. When first made, it measured 30 by 42 feet. Today it measures 30 x 34 feet. The flag was damaged, either during battle or by souvenir hunters, and about eight feet of it was destroyed.

The Star Spangled Banner

This flag was flown at Fort McHenry at Baltimore, Maryland, during the War of 1812.

Just before the British attack, in 1814, a lawyer, Francis Scott Key, went aboard a British ship to arrange for the release of an American prisoner held there. The British agreed to let the prisoner go, but held Scott captive overnight. The American watched the attack on Fort McHenry during the night of September 13-14. Early the next morning, when Key saw the flag still flying, he wrote the first few lines of poetry about the attack.

What is the new rule in American League Baseball?

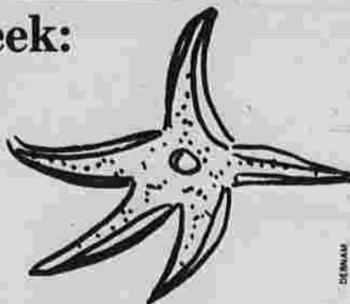

Did you know that pitchers are usually very poor hitters? When they go to bat, they usually strike out. For example, Vida Blue, who won the 1971 Cy Young award for the outstanding pitcher in his league, had a batting average of .118 for that year. A star pinch hitter for his same team, the Oakland Athletics, Gonzalo Marquez, had a batting average of .438 last year.

The American League is doing something about this. They will try a new rule. This year, American League teams can use a pinch hitter, or a player who can bat in place of the pitcher. Under the old rules, the pitcher had to leave the game if he didn't bat. Under the new rules, the pitcher can stay in. The pinch hitter also runs for the pitcher, too.

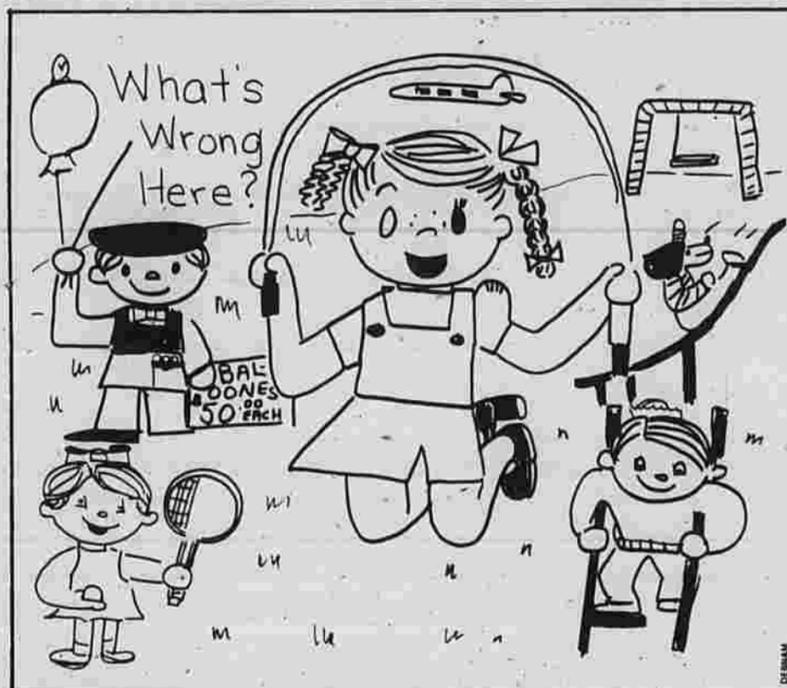

The National League will not play under this rule this year.

Animal of the Week: The Starfish

The starfish is an animal that can be found in all oceans. It usually has five arms and looks like a star. However, there are some types that have short arms and others that have lots of arms.

On the underside, in the center, the starfish has a mouth that opens into a most unusual stomach. After prying open an oyster's shell, some starfish can send their stomachs out through their mouth, through the tiny crack and around the oyster's body. They then digest it. The starfish has eyespots at the end of each point. It is able to tell light from dark only. A starfish can grow another arm if one is cut off. Two animals would grow if one starfish were cut exactly in half.
