Batista Dead, Ruled Cuba

MARBELLA, Spain (AP) — Fulgencio Batista, the stocky Cuban dictator overthrown by Fidel Castro in 1959, died early today at a resort colony near here on the southern coast of Spain. He was 72.

His son Ruben said the ex-sergeant, who staged two revolutions and ruled Cuba for 18 years, suffered a heart attack shortly after a meal with his family in his vacation villa at Guadalmina.

"It was really unexpected," Ruben said. "Everything happened within a few minutes."

A solid, robust man, Batista had given no indication of illness during the day and had no history of heart trouble, the family said.

Also with Batista at his death were his wife, Maria; three other sons, Jorge, Fulgencio and Roberto; and a daughter, Marta Maria.

The family said funeral services were set for Tuesday in Madrid with burial in San Isidro cemetery there. The coffin will be wrapped in a Cuban flag, the family said.

The Cuban Embassy in Madrid said it knew of Batista's death but had no official comment. Radio Havana mentioned the death briefly in an early morning newscast.

Batista maintained contact with his former cabinet members in Madrid but had little to do with the estimated 20,000 Cuban exiles in Spain. He was seldom seen in public.

When he was in Madrid, Batista was overshadowed by two other exiles, Juan D. Peron of Argentina and former Venezuelan president Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Batista arrived in Marbella Sunday for a two-month vacation on the Costa del Sol with his family. He came from Estoril, Portugal, the seaside resort near Lisbon where he had a home.

Batista in his triumphant days boasted "my destiny is to carry out revolutions without bloodshed." He called himself an "idealist but a practical one."

But his dictatorship in Cuba collapsed with bewildering suddenness on New Year's Day, 1959, and Castro, the leader of the successful revolution, accused him and his men of killing 20,000 Cubans by torture and terror.

He was a tough army sergeant on Aug. 12, 1933, when he joined in the overthrow of

Crash Survivor

BOSTON (AP) — The lone survivor of a Delta Airlines crash that killed 88 persons at Logan Airport was reported today in "critical, but stable condition at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Doctors said they would begin today to remove dead skin and perform a small amount of skin grafting if Leopold Chouinard's condition remains stable.

Chouinard, 20, of Marshfield, Vt., received third degree burns over 80 per cent of his body in the July 31 crash.

Doctors amputated both his legs in an operation Friday to lessen the risks of infection in what was the most severely burned portions of his body.

Dollar Gains

LONDON (AP) — The dollar moved sharply higher in early trading on European money markets today. Some dealers suggested higher interest rates in the United States accounted for some of the strong showing.

The American currency jumped four centimes to 4.15 French francs on the Paris exchange, two pfennigs to 2.3710 marks in Frankfurt and nearly half a centime to 2.8525 Swiss francs in Zurich.

In London the dollar rose more than one U.S. cent at the opening as the pound was quoted at $2.4980.

Gold was down 80 cents to $115.50 an ounce in early trading in London and Zurich.

Budget Overspent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon overspent its fiscal 1972 public-relations budget by more than 100 per cent, the General Accounting Office says.

In a report to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Sunday, GAO said the Defense Department went beyond its $22-million budget and the $22-million limit imposed by Congress by using a narrow definition of "public affairs."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Foreign Relations chairman, said the GAO findings indicate "how difficult it is to bring about effective congressional control over any entrenched Department of Defense practice, whether it is persuading the public to support more military spending or tolerating cost overruns on weapons systems."

Cambodians Said Killed In U.S. Bombing Error

By DENNIS NEEDL

Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — A misdirected U.S. bombing strike hit the Cambodian navy's Mekong River base at Neak Luong today, killing about 100 persons and wounding many others, military sources said.

The accidental bombing was carried out by either eight-jet B52 bombers or F111 fighter-bombers, the Cambodian sources added.

Another off-base U.S. air strike killed at least a dozen civilians Sunday in a village southeast of Phnom Penh, according to field reports. The reports said the bombing, at Prek Eng six miles southeast of Phnom Penh, was in close support of government forces in the area of Highway 1.

The navy and military base, 32 miles southeast of the capital of Phnom Penh, was hit with about 20 bombs, the sources said.

First reports said there were about 100 persons killed and at least another 100 wounded at the base.

More than 60 wounded soldiers and civilians were taken to Phnom Penh's Preah Ket Mealea Hospital. Some of the wounded were children.

"There was no warning," said army Pvt. Preap Tuot, who said he lost his wife and three children. "We were all sleeping."

A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy refused to confirm or deny the misdirected strikes.

At the navy base hit by U.S. bombs, government forces hold a four-square-mile perimeter around the base and the town of Neak Luong. The government forces also hold a six-mile stretch of road toward the south.

The base, virtually surrounded by Communist-led forces, has about 3,000 soldiers and is the home port for navy gunboats that support convoys carrying supplies from South Vietnam to Phnom Penh.

The area around the bases has been bombed for months by B52s and U.S. fighter-bombers. Reports from the countryside say the area has been devastated.

In Bangkok, Thailand, a government official said the deadline of Aug. 15 set by the U.S. Congress for ending the bombing in Cambodia was "irresponsible." The leader, Deputy Premier Praphas Charuathien, said the deadline was a clear indication of the United States abandoning its Asian allies.

In Saigon, the Viet Cong charged Monday that South Vietnamese bombers attacked a village 30 miles north of Saigon last Saturday, killing or injuring 50 persons and destroying homes.

A spokesman for the Saigon command declined to comment on the alleged bombing of the village, identified by the Viet Cong as Thanh An on the Saigon River.

The Cambodian army claimed meanwhile it had cleared insurgent forces from the village of Veal Sbau, three miles from Phnom Penh.

The army also said it had reopened the Phnom Penh-Saigon highway for 13 miles southeast of the capital.

Gray Thought Data Went To Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III said today ousted White House Counsel John W. Dean III assured him falsely last year that he was relaying FBI reports of the Watergate investigation directly to President Nixon.

Gray also said that when he began supplying Dean with FBI reports "I felt it was proper and I would do it even if Sen. (George) McGovern were president."

Gray told the Senate Watergate committee that he first started giving FBI information to Dean barely a month after the break-in at Democratic headquarters on June 17, 1972.

Gray began answering questions about his role in the Watergate scandal a day after a member of the committee, Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., said no evidence has been found to justify impeaching Nixon.

Talmadge said the only testimony so far which implicates Nixon are accounts of Dean and of Lt. Gen. Vernon A. Walters, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Gray has disputed Walters' second-hand version of a telephone call between Gray and Dean.

Bombing Faces New Court Test

By DAVID C. MARTIN

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. bombing in Cambodia, which survived an abbreviated Supreme Court test over the weekend, will be in for further judicial review by a federal appeals court this week.

On Saturday, Justice Thurgood Marshall overturned a bombing ban issued hours earlier by fellow Justice William O. Douglas. Marshall said he had consulted with and won the agreement of the seven other Supreme Court members in granting the Nixon administration's request to overturn Douglas' action.

During the brief period of time that Douglas' ruling was in effect, the bombing continued uninterrupted. The Pentagon declared that "pending appropriate legal action on this matter, we will abide by the congressional mandate to end the bombing on Aug. 15," the date selected by Congress for cutting off funds for the air war over Cambodia.

Any ban before that date apparently would have to come from the U.S. 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals in New York. That panel had stayed, pending appeal by the government, a lower-court ruling declaring U.S. participation in the Cambodia war unconstitutional and ordering a halt to the bombing.

The Circuit Court is scheduled to hear the government's appeal on Wednesday.

The legal challenge to the bombing was launched by Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., and four Air Force officers, who won a decision from U.S. District Court Judge Orrin G. Judd of New York ordering the bombing halted at 4 p.m. July 27. The 2nd Circuit Court stayed Judd's order pending the outcome of Wednesday's hearing.

With the Supreme Court in recess until Oct. 1, lawyers for Rep. Holtzman asked Justice Marshall to overturn the stay, but last Wednesday he refused, saying he lacked the legal authority as a lone justice to take action that would stop the bombing.

The petitioners had appealed to Marshall in accordance with the accepted procedure that applications and motions are directed to the justice normally responsible for that area of the nation. Marshall is the circuit justice for the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals, headquartered in New York.

Dissatisfied with the first ruling, the petitioners moved on to Douglas, a process called "justice shopping" that is frowned upon by the court. Justices receiving such a second attempt when the court is in session generally refer it to the full court automatically.

Arab Slayers Remain Silent

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Two Arab men who opened up with grenades and pistols in the crowded Athens airport Sunday today refused to answer police questions, the police reported.

The attack killed two Americans and an Austrian and wounded 55 persons.

The Americans were identified as Mrs. Jeannie Salandi, 23, of Highland Park, N.J., and Elbert Kersen, 53, a Union, N.J., plumbing contractor. Kersen's wife Kate, 49, was injured.

The Austrian was a 50-year-old attorney named Ullhofen.

In addition to the two men, two women were being questioned.

The two Arabs surrendered Sunday after crouching with 35 hostages behind the lounge's marble bar for two hours while they tried to get a plane to take them to the Middle East.

It was not known what promises, if any, were made to get them to surrender.

Witnesses said passengers were preparing to board Trans World Airlines flights to Tel Aviv and New York when one of the Arabs, about to check his baggage, threw a hand grenade to the ground. Then both men began firing pistols.

More than 1,000 persons were in the lounge. Flying glass struck many as they sought cover.

Airport police closed in, and the two Arabs took cover.

"They herded as many persons as they could behind a marble bar in the transit lounge and waited it out, brandishing their pistols and grenades," said Dimitra Michapoulou, a TWA ground hostess.

The two terrorists told police: "We have accomplished what we wanted to do." But authorities said they may have planned to attack passengers on an Israeli airliner that left 10 minutes before the shooting began.

Police said the Israeli flight still was listed on the information board as awaiting departure and this may have confused the terrorists.

The gunmen, who reportedly had no passports, identified themselves to police as Zehod Mohammed, 21, of Palestine and Palast Hussam, 21, of Cairo.

Two young, Arab-speaking women also were arrested for questioning. They were carried kicking and screaming from the terminal. Police said one grenade was thrown from a balcony overlooking the lounge, indicating that someone other than the two Arab men took part in the attack.

In Beirut, a spokesman for the major Palestinian guerrilla organizations denied any connection with the attack and said it "proves... there are certain suspicious forces operating to do harm to the Palestinian struggle."

Chamber Backs Purnell Project

The Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce announced today its wholehearted endorsement of the recommendations developed by the Mayor's Downtown Action Committee in support of the allocation of $50,000 for the improvements of Purnell Place.

The announcement, made by Edward M. Kenney, Chamber president, reflected the Chamber's positive stand on the revitalization of all business areas with major concentration on downtown.

According to Kenney: "In light of the fact that Purnell Pl. is a town-owned street and the improvement of same, as indicated by Dennis Brown of Brown, Donald & Donald, is in keeping with future development of the area; allocated funds are to be used exclusively for road improvements;

"a demonstration has been made on the part of area merchants and financial institutions to commit private funds for the improvement of adjacent portions of their buildings; and

"said Purnell Place seems to be a key to the over-all climate and success of the revitalization of downtown.

"The Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce, by action of the Executive Board of Directors' wholehearted endorsement of the Mayor's Downtown Action Committee in allocating said $50,000 for the improvement of Purnell Pl."

"The future success of a completely revitalized business district, especially as it relates to downtown, will be possible only with the combined efforts of public and private investments," according to Richard G. Clark, Chamber executive vice president.

"The allocation of this money will not only make the vitally needed improvements to a town owned street but additionally will create the concrete incentive for the adjacent business to proceed with their plans for their individual building improvements," Clark said.

The Chamber will be officially stating its position to the Board of Directors at the public hearing Tuesday in the auditorium of Waddell School.

Starts In New Post

Alan M. Mason, at left, who started work today in the newly created post of Manchester director of human resources, checks some statistics shown him by Acting Town Manager John Harkins. Mason, whose office will be on the second floor of the old Spruce St. Firehouse, will assist in planning and coordinating the community's social services programs. He will work closely with the town's social services agencies in locating new sources for funding and in developing federal grant applications. Mason, 34, resides in Bloomfield with his wife and two children. He was community development representative since last fall in the Hartford office of HUD (U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development), and will be in Manchester on a two-year leave-of-absence from his HUD job. HUD will pay 49 per cent of his Manchester salary, under a federal program known as the Intergovernmental Personnel Act. (Herald photo by Klemens)

Asian Spy Missions Killed 102 Americans

SAIGON (AP) — The Pentagon has disclosed that 102 Americans were killed on spy missions in Laos and Cambodia since 1965. But it has not told whether any Americans died on similar missions inside North Vietnam.

Prior to 1968, secret patrols were frequently sent into North Vietnam as well as into Laos and Cambodia to gather intelligence. The patrols were made up of Indo-Chinese directed by American team chiefs. Such operations were given the general code name "Daniel Boone," and they were directed by the mysterious

SOG, the Studies and Observations Group.

Newsmen in Vietnam reported some of these missions at the time. But generally the U.S. public and Congress chose to accept the official response to the reports: denial, no comment or the phony cover story that American troops were in "hot pursuit" of enemy forces or U.S. aircraft had accidentally strayed over the border.

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong also reported on the spy missions; the standard response from the U.S. Com-

Standards Set For Naming Cuts of Meat

HARTFORD (AP) — The Connecticut Department of Consumer Protection has come to the rescue of housewives who are confused by such terms as "chicken steak," "his and her steak."

The department has adopted regulations, effective Oct. 2, requiring all retail food stores to use standard terms to describe meat cuts in all labeling and advertising.

"Consumers will no longer run any risk of not knowing exactly what cut of meat they're buying," state Consumer Protection Commissioner Barbara Dunn said.

Market Is Hurt Two Ways

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Those rising interest rates are like a searing wind blowing over the already parched stock market, where a few weary bulls still struggle toward an oasis that the bears have already declared is a mirage.

With the prime lending rate already up to 9 per cent, and expected to go higher, the market is hurt in at least two ways:

1. Investors will be drawn away from stocks by a high, almost reckless return from lending rather than investing their money.

2. Corporations will find their expenses rising, thus reducing the profits which attract investors.

The aridity of the market is probably best illustrated by the failure of the Big Three automotive companies, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, to attract great numbers of bulls despite record high earnings.

Even before the major banks announced a lending rate of 9 per cent to big corporate customers, General Motors was selling at only 8 times earnings, Ford at 5 and Chrysler at 4.

These incredibly low price-earnings ratios follow reports by GM of one of the best years in its history, by Ford of the best quarter in its history, and by Chrysler of the best April-May-June period ever.

Match those ratios — or multiples of current earnings at the time — which these stocks are selling with the 50s and 60s so common seven years ago among some stocks that offered little but promise.

Those were the days of the so-called performance game. If a stock performed, it offered a lot of action, then it was considered a stock to watch. The "fundamentals" don't nearly so important.

How ironic. The fact was that many of those companies really didn't perform; they were, to some degree, a product of the imagination — of hopes, publicity, promotion and, it is suspected, even of manipulation.

In contrast, some corporations today are performing as never before, but their stocks aren't. There is no vast public in the market as there was 10 years ago. It is an institutionalized market, a

Some days, in fact, the major portion of trading is by insurers, bond banks and funds. But these institutions aren't investing in the market as a whole. They have selected some 50 to 80 stocks to which to participate.

A glance at the price-earnings ratios of these select stocks shows the impact of this concentration. All have P-Es in the double figures, most of them well over 30.

An article in the "Institutional Investor" magazine describes the perplexity of an investment adviser who still believes in some of the once-powerful blue chips such as General Motors, and some of the smaller emerging stocks of tomorrow.

The adviser showed a visitor two specially prepared charts. One showed Kodak passing General Motors last year in total market value although GM's earnings exceeded Kodak's net worth.

The other chart, "similarly constructed to depict irrationality in the way market values have been assigned, matched IBM against the total value of all stocks listed on the Amex. or American Stock Exchange.

The explanation lies in the PEs. Kodak sells at 38 times current earnings. IBM sells at 33 times, earnings, or eight times the P-Es of Chrysler.

The relatively few stocks with high P-Es now make up the oasis in the desert which not long ago was a lush and productive garden. And with interest rates rising, some analysts fear that the oasis also might dry up.

Coventry

4-H Town Fair Set Aug. 11

MONICA SHEA Correspondent 743-9405 The Coventry 4-H Town Fair will be held Aug. 11 at the Second Congregational Church Community House. Bicycle races will be the featured events. The races will be open to all.

Coventry residents with the exception of the obstacle race which is limited to children age 12 or under. No preliminary registration or entry fee is required. The obstacle course race will begin in the Meadowbrook Shopping Plaza at 9 a.m. Prizes will be awarded to the top three contestants.

There will be three speed races if interest warrants it. These will start at 10 p.m. The first race will be ten miles long and for those with ten-speed bikes; the second will be five miles long for those with five- and three-speed bikes. The third race will be for two miles long for those with one-speed bikes. Prizes will be awarded to the top three in each race.

All races will be in North Coventry in the vicinity of the church. The police will block off the roads for the safety of the participants. The Coventry Policemen's Auxiliary is assisting the 4-H Town Fair Association in the organization of the event. There will be a bicycle safety check at 9 a.m. Qualified inspectors will look over the bikes and make suggestions for improving safety features.

Persons wishing to participate in the bike races should send name, address, telephone number and type of bike to Anne Aronson, Burnside Lane. Further information may be obtained by calling Miss Aronson at 742-8119.

AL Will Vote On New Slate

ANNE EMT Correspondent Tel. 238-3971

A slate of officers for 1973-1974 for the Jones-Keeffe-Batson Post of the American Legion will be presented for election at the Legion's meeting Wednesday evening. The slate, which was presented by the nominating committee consisting of Warren Holbrook, Malcolm Parker, John Kulynyck, Walter W. Donald, Richard Parker and Leonard Larson, was presented at the Legion's July meeting for consideration.

On the slate are Malcolm Parker, commander; John Kulynyck, senior vice commander; Warren Holbrook, junior vice commander; Russell C. Anderson, adjutant; Richard Grant, finance officer; Robert F. Cafazzo, chaplain; G. Carl Porter, judge advocate; Robert Creston, historian; Richard A. Keefe, service officer; George Smith, assistant service officer; and Edward G. Grant, sergeant-at-arms. Nominations may also be made from the floor.

Clam bake The Legion announced it will hold its 17th annual Clam Bake on Aug. 19 at Leary's Field on St. St. Tickets are $10 per person and are available from post members and the Grant Agency, Church St.

Taxpayers The Hebron Taxpayers Association has requested the Board of Selectmen and the Regional District Board of Education to initiate a procedure at their meetings to determine the eligibility of persons who attend the meetings. Expressing his concern with the voting eligibility of some persons who attend these meetings recently, the association recommends that each person entering the meeting be verified as to his or her eligibility to vote — by the town clerk, or their deputies, using the Grand List and voter's registry.

It also recommends that those not qualified to vote be seated in a separate and distinct section of the meeting place and that each meeting's moderator state the voter qualifications for the purpose of clarification and record at the beginning of a meeting. Both boards were asked that should they disagree with the association's request would they please state their full reasons in writing citing the specific state statutes covering these areas.

Meeting Andrew Mulligan, president of the association, announced that Richard Lafferty, director of the Municipal Consulting Service of the Connecticut Public Expenditure Council, Inc., will be the guest speaker at the association's meeting Wednesday evening at 8 at the Town Office Building. All members and interested general public are invited to attend.

Youth Corps The Neighborhood Youth Corps, under the direction of Don Milton of Willimantic, is seeking applicants in the local area for employment that will continue through the end of this month.

Application forms are available in the town clerk's office at the Town Office Building.

Officials To Inspect Ledgestone Apartments

Although the Town of Vernon does not own the Ledgestone Apartment complex in the redevelopment area, it does concern itself with problems connected with the building as far as the town's building code is concerned. The complex was built by Alco Development Corp., developers of the renewal area. Building Inspector, Francis McNulty issued temporary certificates of occupancy for the building but the 17 stipulations for issuance of permanent occupancy certificates have not been complied with.

Problems caused the town because of improper drainage systems and improper retaining wall were discussed at a meeting last week. The building, although privately owned by Alco, was financed with some federal funds, therefore Housing and Urban Development (HUD) officials are involved in the problems. Alco pays taxes to the town for the building. The other apartment complex in the redevelopment area was federally funded, built by Alco, and turned over to the town for elderly housing.

Tomorrow, a major inspection of the building will be made by McNulty, HUD officials, and John Darcy, Vernon's housing code inspector. Mayor Frank McCoy said inadequate drainage and the unsatisfactory retaining wall seem to be causing the major problems. He said Alco did install a second drain but the problem has not been solved of the water running down into the street and into the parking area.

The mayor said the problem is especially bad in the winter when the water freezes. He also said the water is washing the soil away from the trees causing the roots to be exposed and creating a danger that the trees might fall on the parking area. Mayor McCoy said the meeting Thursday did not come to any decision as to what will be done about the problems but he suggested that part of an final payment to Alco, as developer of the urban renewal area, may be held up until corrections are made.

Havens Reports He'll Run Again

Edward E. Havens announced today he will seek reelection to the Town Council in November. Havens, a Democrat, said he will run on his record.

Havens is a resident of South Windsor for 15 years and has served on the Democratic Town Committee since 1968. He has served as First District chairman and an active fund raiser for his party. He is completing his first term on the Town Council, served for four years on the Zoning Board of Appeals (two as chairman), and also served six years on the Economic Development Commission.

He was co-founder of the South Windsor Chamber of Commerce and was elected as the second president of that organization. He is also a member of the Rotary Club, the VFW, American Legion and the advisory board of the South Windsor Bank and Trust Co. Criticizing "Republican zoning," Havens said his ideas for a new "downtown" South Windsor demand that this residential, suburban atmosphere be retained and never marred by unruly growth or erratic development.

Havens proposes that a new committee of liaison with the Economic Developer and the Town Council be formed. He said the Republican re-zoning responsible for the rapid spurt of bricks and mortar springing up all over town. Havens credits the Democratic administration, for the past two years, for a 3.5 reduction in the mill rate. "In spite of Nixonian policies which have fostered high prices for everything," Havens commented. Havens lives at 25 Imperial Dr. with his wife, Angelina and their three children. He owns and operates Imperial Oil and Plumbing Co. of South Windsor.

About Town

The Manchester WATES will meet Tuesday at the Italian-American Club, weighing in from 7 to 8 p.m. Members with names beginning from A-C are reminded to bring fruit for the basket.

The Manchester Grange Fair committee workshop will meet Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Grange Hall.

The spellings are direct copies from the reports. In the book, "Meet the Men Who Sailed the Seas," the main character is listed by a child as "The Mayflower." "The English did not want to be ruled by a king. So they wanted to go to America. So they went across the Atlantic. And stayed there."

And about the famous explorer "Magellan," "Magellan was a man. He took four ships. He found a way to pass America. He called the ocean Pacific."

Children who did not want to miss out took books from the library when they went on vacation and reports were sent to Miss Menard from Mississippi, Mexico, Florida, the Grand Canyon, California and Massachusetts.

Young Readers Report On Books They've Read

BARBARA RICHMOND (Herald Reporter)

Books as read through the eyes of a child take on a whole new meaning and even adults can learn a lot about people, places and things after reading reports written by the young readers.

Such is the case in the summer reading program conducted at the Rockville Public Library where some 350 children are keeping Mary Menard, a college student, busy checking reports and awarding prizes. The theme of the program is the American Indian and as the child completes a certain number of reports he is rewarded with an item to complete his own little Indian Village.

Space Walk Slated

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two Skylab 2 astronauts planned a 3½-hour space walk today to load telescope film and to install an awning over their orbiting laboratory.

Dr. Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma were to leave the space station through an airlock just before noon EDT while orbiting 271 miles above the earth.

Skylab 2's commander, Alan L. Bean, was to monitor the walk from inside the station, relaying instructions from mission control.

Ground experts continued to study problems that caused leaks in two jet engines on the Apollo taxi ship, which is docked with the space station. They still are hopeful the astronauts will be able to return to earth in the craft Sept. 22 after a 59-day flight.

In case they can't, around-the-clock work went on at Cape Kennedy, Fla., to prepare the Skylab 3 rocket and Apollo 16 possible rescue vehicles that could be launched Sept. 10 or later.

Although mission control doesn't understand fully the jet thruster problem, experts feel confident the Apollo could bring the astronauts home safely if necessary before the rescue ship is ready.

They emphasize the rescue craft is being prepared as a precaution and they hope to launch it as planned to ferry the Skylab 3 crew to the station.

On Sunday night, mission control told the astronauts of a potential long-term problem. Analysis disclosed leaks in two systems that cool certain electronic systems.

The control center said experts had been studying the leaks and determining that the primary system still had about 16 days' supply of coolant. A backup system had enough for 60 days — enough to complete the mission.

The spacewalkers were to link rods into two 55-foot poles, join the poles in a V and attach them to a strut on the telescope assembly. The 22- by 24-foot aluminum-covered shade is to be fitted over the poles.

The shade will supplement a large parasol installed in May by the Skylab 1 crew to cool the laboratory by reflecting away the sun's rays.

The space walk originally was scheduled last Tuesday but was postponed four times while the astronauts recovered from motion sickness and mission control troubleshooted the Apollo problem, which at one time had officials considering a quick return to earth.

A female spider made her debut aboard Skylab on Sunday. The common cross spider, named Arabella, will be studied to determine how well she can spin a web in space weightlessness. Garriott moved her from a small vial into a transparent cage.

"I tossed her out of the vial with all my legs flailing," he reported, adding that the spider bounced a few times before she settled in one corner of her cage.

Arabella will be given a week to spin a web. If she fails, a backup spider named Anna will be given a chance.

Twenty per cent of the companies we surveyed move their executives about once every two years. A third of the companies moved every five years, Thorne said.

The Atlas survey showed that nearly half the transferred personnel are between the ages of 30 and 35 and nearly all are between 30 and 40.

Atlas, one of the nation's largest moving firms, surveyed 208 corporations in 1972 and 1973 to find out who is moving and what the companies do for transferred personnel.

"Many companies used to have no policy about what they would pay for in an employee's move. Now, just about all of them do," Thorne said.

Most companies won't move a third automobile, a camper van or firewood, Thorne said. About half of the companies will pay for moving pets.

Industry To Label Phosphates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission announced today that virtually all detergent manufacturers have agreed to label their household detergents with phosphate content.

Phosphates have been linked to accelerated "aging" of lakes because the chemicals stimulate the growth of aquatic plants which can choke off other forms of life.

At the same time the FTC agreed to permit household detergents to bear labels declaring their ingredients to be biodegradable, in the sense that the ingredients are broken down into simpler compounds by natural biological action.

Raymond L. Rhine, the FTC attorney in charge of the phosphate plan, said the agency has received promises from 33 manufacturers to provide the labeling. He said the 33 represent "as close to 100 per cent as you can expect" an agreement.

Phosphorus content statement is to be on laundry, dishwashing and general household detergents and will, in two short years, achieved an impressive record of accomplishment and including fiscal responsibility.

David E. Cobe has been named campaign coordinator for the Democratic party.

The appointment was made by Democratic Town Chairman Dennis Morrill who said, "Cohen has had the experience of organizing campaigns for individuals in local and state elections. He was selected on the basis of his past performance as an enthusiastic, hard working member of the Democratic party."

Cohen is currently a member of the South Windsor Board of Education. He is a graduate of Central Connecticut State College, with a master's degree, and is a former teacher. He is a member of the Democratic Town Committee, a director of the Connecticut Vegetable and Bedding Plant Growers Association, and he grows bedding plants and vegetables at his Main St. farm.

Old Family Winery Still in Production

By JAMES STEVENSON

Associated Press Writer

SOUTH BASS ISLAND, Ohio (AP) — Progress, changing public taste, even Prohibition — none of these has left much of a mark on the old Heineman family winery on this rocky Lake Erie island.

Heineman wine is still stored in the old cellar walls. Gustav Heineman founded together back in 1888.

Grandson Louis Heineman still catches a first yeast sample of the wine to verify its taste en route to purification and bottling.

Heineman's customers like it that way. At least, they seem to. It's one of a handful of American wineries which refuse to sell wholesale, and customers must come to the island for the wine.

Progress came to South Bass Island in the form of automatic presses that smash the grape more surely and cleanly than hand presses or islanders' feet.

But Heineman's winery proceeds at an unhurried pace, the few employees and Louis scheduling their day no further or faster than the grape requires.

At most, the winery has an annual production of 25,000 gallons. Heineman said it has never processed more than is grown on the island's few acres of vineyards.

Prohibition, which came next, "was great," he said. "All the public taste began to change after World War II. Heineman said, with the return of soldiers used to drinking wine in Europe, "Now, more people are drinking wine every day," Heineman said. It has pushed Heineman's toward offering more sweet wines, since that seems to be the direction of public taste, he said.

Richard Weawits, deputy of the State Correctional Center at Hartford, will speak about the new "Community Release Program" Tuesday at the Manchester Rotary Club meeting at 4:30 p.m. at Manchester Country Club. The club will also discuss continuing its annual antique show project.

Some groups begin to sprout little growths on the sides of their heads in the fall. By winter, these have grown into a miniature set of snowflakes for the bird.

Small Illinois Town Relic of Last Century

By DENNIS MONTGOMERY

Associated Press Writer

ELSAH, Ill. (AP) — Caught in an historical eddy hard by the Mississippi River are Elsie and the 19th century.

Here, by economic and geographic accident, nuggets of the golden age of life along the river are trapped in a narrow green valley where a village of the late 1800s has been preserved nearly intact.

A red bird swoops down to the stoop of a clapboard hotel where steamboat men and drummers elbowed one another for grub in the 1880s.

There were hopes Elsie would become a big port on the narrow streets between ancient limestone and brick buildings.

Charles Hoerner, 41, a history professor at nearby Principia College and an Elsie resident, says the narrow valley and the railroad displaced the steamboat.

"It could not grow in any direction," Hoerner says. "The town reached an economic peak in 1881, from which it has been declining ever since."

And until about eight years ago, he says, the town had the "essential ingredient" for thwarting progress — poverty.

What sets Elsie apart today, Hoerner says, "aside from its fine natural setting, is that there is considerable architectural continuity."

"The bulk of Elsie's buildings were all built within seven years. Most date from 1853 to 1860. Most houses are a rustic Greek revival, mostly stone with a few brick buildings," he says.

"The strange thing is that this prevailing character of the 1860s is still there — in rows. This is important. Usually no single building is worth saving but a district is. And in Elsie the trees are still there."

Even four saloons built before 1870 are still standing, although Elsie is dry.

There were hopes Elsie would become a big port on the narrow streets between ancient limestone and brick buildings.

Charles Hoerner, 41, a history professor at nearby Principia College and an Elsie resident, says the narrow valley and the railroad displaced the steamboat.

"It could not grow in any direction," Hoerner says. "The town reached an economic peak in 1881, from which it has been declining ever since."

And until about eight years ago, he says, the town had the "essential ingredient" for thwarting progress — poverty.

What sets Elsie apart today, Hoerner says, "aside from its fine natural setting, is that there is considerable architectural continuity."

Lures Dangled Before Recruits

By HENRY BRYAN Trenton Times Writer TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Out of work? Can't get into college? Try this job: $307.20-a-month to start, free medical and dental care, free meals, housing, clothing and legal aid, 30 days paid vacation, guaranteed job security and retire at 58 with benefits. Interested in Army opportunities, man? asks Sgt. Frank Atkinson at the Army recruiting office here. "Did you graduate from high school? Do you have a record for anything — drugs, theft?" Would you mind taking this test? "Why not," says the prospect, who disappears for a half hour with a 48-question test, about evenly divided among verbal, mathematics, tool and matching squares categories. Getting the prospect to take the Army screening test is a key hurdle toward adding his name to the "All-Volunteer Modern Army." Today's Army Pitch is about the same as it was 10 years ago, but instead of offering a man — or woman — $38-a-month under the threat of the draft, it's offering $307-a-month with no threat of the draft. The Army has budgeted $27 million in recruiting advertising to help sell the Army on its own merits. Gordon Sinclair, spokesman for N. W. Ayer & Son Inc. of Philadelphia, which has the advertising contract for the Army, says the firm is not selling anything that isn't there. "You know the story about the Philadelphia advertising man who was hired to sell a product to a man who was a truck driver out of a cook and a cook out of a truck driver," Sinclair says. "One of the Army's main objectives is to close the credibility gap and make sure that a man gets what he's trained for." The brochures put out by the Philadelphia advertising firm are called "An Army People Want" and "Today's Army Wants To Join You." Among other things, they are slick-color magazine publications that stress everything from the diversity in Army jobs to the modernization of family living facilities. "We're not selling war, killing, and challenge," he says. "We're selling a job. We're selling a career. We're selling a future. We're selling a life." The Army is training a corps of super-recruiters to enlist the generally antimilitaristic modern generation in the new Army. Many of the potential salesmen are sent to Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., for five weeks to learn the trade. One of the Army's modern slogans is that it isn't "promising" any more, but it is "guaranteeing."

Brazil To Build New Jungle City

By DENNIS REDMONT Associated Press Writer RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil has unveiled plans to build a unique "21st century" model city, deep in the heart of the Amazon rain forest, where an international team of scientists will exploit some of the world's richest mineral deposits. The model city, named after the late German scientist Alexander von Humboldt, will attempt to preserve a perfect ecological balance in one of the last places in the world where man can start from scratch. Brazil's Ministry of Planning will spend $1.5 million this year to fly in the nucleus of the city from Cuba, capital of the sparsely populated western state of Mato Grosso in which Humboldt will be located. Humboldt is the Brazilian reply to the United Nations Conference on Environment, held last year in Sweden. Planning Minister Jose Paulo dos Reis Velloso explained, "It is the start of a civilization based on a technology and culture adapted to equatorial environment — something without historical precedent." The model city will be initially inhabited by 200 persons. It will lie in an area of more than 50,000 square miles with a present population of only 2,142, mostly Indians and settlers scattered around the village of Ariquans, 500 miles from Cuba. The area is rich in tin, manganese, iron, diamonds, titanium and other rare minerals. Hundreds have tried to settle in the area but have given up due to the 80 inches of rainfall every year. "American mining companies paid fantastic salaries to their engineers, built swimming pools and other ultramodern conveniences for their employees. But they all got so depressed, they left," explains Prof. Pedro Paulo Lombas of the University of Mato Grosso and one of the planners of the city. "No one has ever succeeded in living a modern life in a rain forest. In that region there are two seasons a year: the first, when it rains every day and the second when it rains all day. The heat is over 100 degrees Fahrenheit. The rivers increase in volume by 1,000 per cent, and five months of the year air traffic is impossible. Everything crumbles and waterlogs, even plastic. People get irritated." To beat the rain, most of the construction will be on stilts. As soon as clearings become crowded, other clearings will be built at a distance to avoid big city-type concentrations.

Groman's ASA Champs Before Crowd of 2,000

Groman's Sports Shop was crowned 1973 Connecticut Amateur Softball Association (ASA) champions at Fitzgerald Field Saturday night before a crowd estimated at 2,000.

The slick-fielding and hard-hitting Groman array took the championship game, 8-2, over the Socialites of New Haven. The locals bused it open with six runs in the fifth inning.

Groman's now move on to Plainville Friday night to the regionals, where they will meet Rhode Island's 1972 regional champs in an 8-15 game. The winner of the Regionals will advance to the National Tournament in Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 30-Sept. 3.

In the semifinals, Pauline White of the Socialites shut out W.I.N.F. on seven hits, but Bev Edmonds had two bingles and Evelyn Gibbs closed two homers for the winners. Judy DeRench collected three safeties for W.I.N.F. Mary Favale tossed a six-hitter in the championship game for Groman's. Betsy Gilmarten, Julie Bradley, Sandy Hamm and Jean McAdam produced two singles apiece for the newly crowned State ASA champs. Groman's gained the State finals by virtue of victories over the Fairfieldettes (Fairfield), Italian Club (Wallingford), Socialites (New Haven), and W.I.N.F. (Manchester). Groman's went through the tournament undefeated, sporting a 5-0 mark.

The championship and runner-up trophies were presented by Robert Haubert, district manager for F & M Schaeffer Brewing Co., which donated the plaques for the tournament.

Three-time NASCAR modified stock car driving champion, Carl Stevens easily won the Ferrara 100-lap feature race Saturday night at Stafford Speedway. A capacity crowd enjoyed the evening.

Stevens, making a determined bid to win his fourth NASCAR modified title, picked up his second feature win at the first half-mile oval. On the 37th lap Stevens got past Fred DeSarro and proceeded to open up an eight-second margin over second place.

Late in the grind Stevens came out of the fourth turn, spun, regained control of the No. 15, and still managed to win the five-event evening.

"All seats will be ringed," Silver Dollar's Bill Kowalezyk said. "We have more for 1,045 people, and no one will be more than 30 feet from the ring."

Featured in Tuesday night's title bout was New England welterweight champion Larry Butler, 142 pounds, from Portland, Maine, vs. George Altus, 142 pounds, from Pawtucket, R.I.

Specialists of New Haven handed the locals a 7-6 setback in the double elimination tournament, Sunday night. Silver Dollar of Branford, a perennial state power, took advantage of five Groman errors to win 14-5.

Groman's Dave White and Bob Kowalski each went 2-3. Mike Reardon was credited with an inside-the-park homer while one of White's hits was a 300-foot homer.

Silver Dollars' George Amath and Len Swanson each went 4-5 with one of Swanson's hits being a home run.

Five individual Groman errors proved to be the downfall. One bunt came in separate innings.

Groman's Men's Team Ousted in State Event

Winning the state sectionals in convincing fashion last week, Groman's Sport Shop took an early seat in the Connecticut ASA Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament at Raybestos Field in Stratford, Friday night.

Specialists of New Haven handed the locals a 7-6 setback in the double elimination tournament, Sunday night. Silver Dollar of Branford, a perennial state power, took advantage of five Groman errors to win 14-5.

Holland's No. 1 Player Falls Before Billie Jean

DENVER (AP) — The self-styled "old lady" of tennis headed for New Haven, Conn., and the second stop on the women's pro tennis circuit today after pocketing $7,000 in the championship bracket of the opening meet Sunday.

Billie Jean King overcame a blazing start by her taller, stronger opponent, Betty Stove, and beat Holland's No. 1 player 6-4, 6-2.

"Betty had a great tournament. I had to play very well to win," said Mrs. King, winner at Wimbledon this year and the top seed at the Denver meet.

Miss Stove's concentration faltered in the three game after she stopped serving to avoid several parents to remove

Bell's Field Goal Sparks Patriots

POXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Strange things can happen when National Football League rivals get together on a playing field, and nothing surprises veteran place-kicker Bill Bell any more, particularly in Schaeffer Stadium.

Bell, a three-year pro from Kansas, is seeking a steady job with the New England Patriots after being cut loose by the Atlanta Falcons. There's a touch of irony, but Bell is all business.

A year ago, Bell was a goat with a capital "G" as Atlanta invaded Schaeffer Stadium. He missed a 10-yard field goal attempt with just seconds remaining and the Falcons suffered a 21-20 loss. It was one of New England's three victories during the entire season.

Bell returned to the scene of his humiliation Sunday night in an exhibition game. He watched Oakland's George Blanda, the highest scorer in pro football history, boot a first period field goal and then have an attempt blocked in the third quarter. That helped New England tie the Raiders 17-17.

With the Patriots trailing 17-0, Bell got the call to try a 46-yard boot midway through the third period. He lined up facing the same goal post he missed from short range early last fall. However, he was on target, the ball made the cross bar and he was swarmed by happy team-mates.

"Bell's field goal gave us momentum," New England coach Chuck Fairbanks said.

after his local debut at the helm of the Patriots. "That really moved the club and got us going."

The Patriots, unable to move past miffed in the first half, took command after Bell's long effort. They scored two touchdowns early in the fourth period, John Taylor tallying a short run and Jim Plunkett hitting Tommy Reynolds on a 57-yard alleyoop pass. Bell booted both conversions and the Patriots spoiled Oakland's 1973 debut while improving their record to 6-1.

Blanda, who connected on a 17-yard field goal in the first period, added conversions after touchdowns by Cliff Branch and Steve Sweeney in the second quarter. He had a field goal attempt blocked by Don Martin of Yale in the third quarter and then was low and short with a 49-yard boot as the final gun sounded.

Playoffs Tuesday

The Silk City Slow-Pitch Softball League playoffs begin Tuesday night at Fitzgerald Field with two games on the slate. The top four teams in the regular season standings qualified for the double elimination tourney.

The first game pits league champ Groman's Sports Shop against Dillon Ford. Groman's sports an impressive 22-2 mark. Dillon, third in the final standings, finished at 18-9. Play starts at 7:30.

Following that tilt, Sportsman Tavern meets fourth-place Moriarty Brothers at 8:45. Sportsman takes a 19-5 record and a runner-up finish into the contest. Moriarty's boast a 17-8 standard.

Nichols Snaps Long Drought

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Bobby Nichols went home to Ohio to wage a fight for the first time in a long time.

Tom Weiskopf went home to Ohio unhappy and disgruntled again—for the first time in a long time.

"All I'm going to say is that I'm glad to be going home to Ohio. That's all I'll say about it," the obviously angry Weiskopf said after a 10-hole, quadruple-bogey eight and the end of his winning streak.

"Nichols, meanwhile, was bubbling happily after his dramatic triumph in the 37-hole windup Sunday in the rich Westchester Golf Classic.

The 37-year-old veteran did it in thrilling fashion. He came from nowhere with a blazing, five-under-par 31 on the ninth hole to tie the Bob Murphy and then won the ensuing playoff by dropping a 56-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole.

Nichols, five strokes back when the second of Sunday's two rounds started, closed up with a 65, seven under par on the 6,614-yard Westchester Country Club course, and finished with a 22-under-73 Murphy had a final round of 67.

Weiskopf, meanwhile, took a fat grin on the par four fourth hole and his rally just short when he missed an eagle putt on the 18th hole.

He left him with a 71 last round and a 273 total—just one shot out of the playoff and tied with veteran Dan Sikes.

Two of the completions were soft lob, but the other was a bullet that traveled about 20 yards.

"It's going to be a tough decision between them," said Gitan's coach Alex Webster. "Sneed had a great year last year and he's starting off at the same pace this year, but Johnson also looks very good."

If the Chargers' overall offensive performance was a failure, the San Diego debut of quarterback John Unitas was at least a modest success. The 40-year-old ex-Baltimore great played his first quarter and completed three of four passes for 45 yards, all to tight end Pettis Norman.

"We think we've found another fallback in Clifton," Webster said.

San Diego coach Harland Svere said he's "not worried about the results."

"We saw everybody we had to see," said Svere, an old New York teammate of Webster. "We used three sets of linebackers and you can see what happens when you've got inexperienced linebackers on the outside. That's all they did all night — was work our linebackers."

Enfield in Sweep Of Weekend Set

Enfield's Legion put a disappointing ending on Manchester's comeback story by sweeping a weekend set, 7-5 and 6-4. Both Zone Eight titles were played at Fern High in Enfield.

Enfield also edged Windsor yesterday, 4-2, and the two clubs finished in a dead heat for the title with 12-6 marks. The winner will be determined by playoff.

Manchester saw its six-game win streak snap on Saturday. The local final Zone Eight record is 10-8.

Saturday, Enfield dashed Manchester's title hopes with the victory. The hosts crased a 4-1 Manchester budge with a four-run fourth frame, and added two insurance runs in the sixth inning.

The locals broke a 1-1 tie in the third with three markers. Five consecutive singles and three Enfield throwing errors, along with a double steal, paved the way.

In the home half of the fourth, Enfield sent nine men to the plate and capitalized on two Manchester errors. Pitcher Dan Donnelly lashed bases-loaded triple and scored on Jack Taylor's single.

Manchester mounted a last-ditch threat in the seventh. A walk and a single chased Enfield starter Donnelly with one out. Reliever Jack Taylor threw two wild pitches, the initial one resulting in a run, before retiring the first batter he faced. But Taylor got the flea out to save the triumph.

Donnelly was credited with the win in a gutsy performance. Dave Bidwell, who fanned seven and didn't walk a batter, took the loss in a route-going effort.

Bob Francoeur, along with Donnelly, paced the Enfield hitting attack. Francoeur topped three safeties and Donnelly collected a pair of bingles. Ray Sullivan and Dan Smacchetti had two base hits each for Manchester.

Sunday's game saw only six hits by both teams, but 10 runs scored over-all. The

Veteran Pitchers Set to Duel Here

By Dean Yost

Two former Westfield high school teammates are scheduled to oppose each other tomorrow night at Mt. Nebo at 5:45 in a Hartford Twilight League contest. Moriarty Brothers, leaders in the Eastern Division with a 10-4 mark, will oppose Volkswagon, 6-13, of the Western Division.

Ageless Lew Spencer will get the call from player-manager Gene Johnson while the coach of the VW nine, Bill Maher, will get the assignment.

Maher, a Manchester resident, will attempt to do something that never before happened in Twilight history. While he is pitching, his son Bill Jr. will be catching. This will be the first time a father-son combination has performed in the league.

Before making a comeback against Herb's Sport Shop last week, in which he won, the last time Maher pitched was eight years ago. The right-hander was also voted the Most Valuable Player in the 1952 season.

John Cherrone, a member of the AIC baseball nine and VW performer, will be in the lineup to give it a Manchester favor.

This will be the third meeting between these two clubs. Volkswagen snapped a three-game winning skein by Moriarty's, 7-3, while the local Gas House won the next meeting, 3-1, on John Serafini's two-hitter.

Moriarty's will busy this week with four games scheduled. Tonight the East Hartford Merchants are Moriarty's opposites at St. Thomas Seminary with the game time being 5:45. Tuesday, Volkswagen plays the MB's at Mt. Nebo and Thursday the locals trek to Henry Park in Rockville to face the Orioles. Friday night at St. Thomas the two division leaders, Hartford Insurance and Moriarty's clash.

Marathon Set In Davis Cup

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Tennis has its own version of the Boston Marathon.

It's called the American Zone finals of the Davis Cup.

The tennis marathon began Friday when Tom Germon of Seattle, Wash., and Jaime Filioi of Chile played the second of the American Zone meets for Manchester. The Davis Cup is the Soviet Union during the weekend. The United States has won the Davis Cup five straight years.

Special adviser to the Davis Cup committee, said the second set of the doubles match was the "finest set I have seen in watching 20 years of Davis Cup play."

"This wasn't like having four palookas," he said. "This was the world champion (Smith) and three other guys who rose to the occasion. It was a great tribute to four fantastic athletes."

King and Court In Benefit Tilt

The King and His Court, the famed four man softball team, will take part in a benefit game on Monday, Aug. 13, at Dillon Stadium in Hartford.

The starting lineup, a member of the fast pitch Greater Hartford Softball League with an overall record of 23-4, will furnish the opposition.

The game is being staged for the benefit of the Newtonington Children's Hospital and the Doc Hartung Foundation.

The feature attraction of the King and His Court is Eddie Peiger, the World's greatest pitcher. Peiger, who will be pitching blindfolded, behind his back, between his legs, and with one foot in the second round.

The four contestants had removed gay attire from some young trees along the course in violation of LPGA rules.

Mrs. Rankin, who now has 11 tour victories in 15 years, said she played well all week in scoring the top-sided triumph.

"I had only one three-putt Saturday and only one today. I didn't hit a sand trap all week."

Judy Rankin Wins Third Golf Event

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Judy Rankin defied her normal mental stance to win her third Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament of the year.

"I usually can feel when I'm going to win a tournament," Rankin said. "I didn't have that feeling today," she said.

The No. 1 women's pro money winner this year after posting a par 72 on Monday, four-under-par 212 total and an LPGA Classic victory.

"I normally don't feel this nervous either," she said of her three-shot victory over young Debbie Austin in the tournament marred by four last-round disqualifications.

Pitched out by LPGA officials were Betty Burtinck, Jane Black, Beth Stone and Jo Ann Prentice for what LPGA co-director Rene Mondina termed "improper relief from tree wires in the second round."

Truthful, Objective, That's Bosox' Curtis

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Curtis, a perspiring pitcher and an aspiring sports writer, handled the post-game interview with understanding and answered with unusual candor.

"I think we're both relating to the public—through my performance and your critique," said the Boston left-hander.

"It's important that both of us are truthful and objective."

Even with those self-imposed ground rules, however, Curtis found it difficult to explain his turnaround to an 11-8 record after being 3-7 on June 14. "I guess it's just a question of breaks," he said Sunday, after beating the Baltimore Orioles 7-4 for his eighth victory in the last nine decisions. "Balls that were dribbling through, are now being caught and turned into outs."

"Maybe I'm concentrating better, too. I lost some close games early in the season on one pitch, and that made me more aware."

After taking a 7-1 lead into the ninth inning Sunday, though, Curtis conceded he became a bit careless and made some "thoughtless pitches."

Harper, who walked and stole a base before scoring on a double by Carl Yastrzemski in the first, also stole third base after his base-clearing double in the seventh. He then tried to steal home, and was safe when catcher Andy Etchebarren dropped the ball for an error.

By winning, the fourth-place Red Sox moved to within 1 1/2 games of division-leading Baltimore in the tight American League East. Detroit and New York are in a virtual tie for second, one-half game behind.

"That was a big game for us, even if it wasn't for the Orioles," Boston Manager Eddie Kasko said. "We play them again Monday, and we couldn't afford to leave here 4 1/2 games behind before making our last western swing."

"If any team is in fourth place, about five or six games back, when September starts, it's going to have a helluva time climbing over three clubs."

Curtis said a writing stint with the Spartanburg, S.C., Herald Journal two winters ago helped his rapport with sportswriters.

He said he evaluates writers mostly through conversation and is "more disappointed than angry" when confronted with stupid questions because "it's a writer's responsibility to know the subject he's covering."

Curtis contended Boston writers fail to take into account the long season of peaks, valleys and cycles.

"They either jump on you when you have a bad streak, or lay at your feet when you're going good," he said.

Curtis was graduated from Clemson University in 1971 with a bachelor's degree in history, while minorning in English.

He compiled an 11-0 pitching record as a freshman, including three no-hitters, but pointed out in reporters' language: "Let me qualify that—it was against freshmen competition, not varsity."

Curtis, only 25 and a long way from ending his baseball career, said he would eventually like to become a free lance sports writer.

"My goal, above everything else," he said, "is to write a book about baseball. Not the gossip type, but one that gives a true picture of the demands of this life and the responsibilities and joys of being the finest in your craft."

With one out, he failed to hold a drive back through the box by Bobby Grich that went for Baltimore's third hit of the game. Then, after a walk to Paul Blair, Tommy Davis cleared a three-run homer.

Brooks Robinson also singled before Curtis ended the rally.

Boston scored five unearned runs in the seventh, three on a double by Tommy Harper, following a two-out error by Baltimore first baseman Earl Williams.

"I appreciated those runs," Curtis said, "but I didn't think we needed all of them. Then, all of a sudden, three runs are on the board and if another batter gets on base, the tying run comes to the plate."

After Williams singled home a run in the second, Curtis faced the minimum 18 batters over the next six innings. Meaning, lose Mike Cuellar, (6-12), tied the minimum 15 in five innings after giving up two runs in the opening frame.

14-Year Veteran Enjoying Big Season

McAuliffe's Final Year, Big Bat Sinks Yankees

DETROIT (AP)—Dick McAuliffe says he's going to hang up his spikes at the end of this baseball season.

The New York Yankee probably will decide to do that last year, and the Detroit Tigers probably want him to change his mind.

McAuliffe, who is having one of his best years in 14 seasons with Detroit, drove in four runs with a three-run homer and a solo blast as the Tigers outlasted the New York Yankees 8-6 Sunday.

Jim Northrup hit a homer and triple in a 4-for-4 performance for Detroit and raised his batting average to .301, while Mickey Stanley added a two-run homer to help pitcher Joe Coleman to his 18th victory.

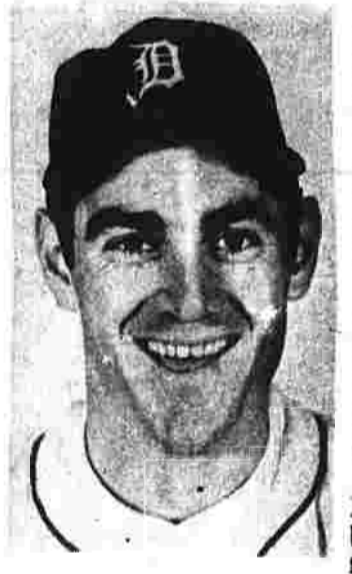

John Hiller relieved and picked up his 24th save, taking some of the sting out of his 14-inning, 3-2 loss to the Yankees Saturday night. He gave up a hit that scored the tying run in the ninth and Horace Clarke opened the 14th with his first homer of the year.

Detroit, which dipped to third behind New York Saturday, changed places again Sunday and is in a virtual three-way tie with Baltimore and the Yankees in the American League East. Baltimore leads Detroit by one percentage point with the Tigers holding that same slim margin over New York.

McAuliffe, who has mentioned retirement several times before, seemed pretty definite when he said it again Sunday.

"I told Mr. Campbell this would be my last year," Mac said, referring to General Manager Jim Campbell. "I wanted to get prepared for it, but I don't think about bringing a second baseman (from the minors), or whatever."

McAuliffe said even a

great year wouldn't change his mind.

"I'll make a statement at the end of the season," he said.

"I don't like living in the city, for one thing. And the kids need daddy home more. They're growing up. There's just too much travel that takes you away from your family."

He said he sold his house in suburban Detroit last week. He bought one in his home state of Connecticut several months ago and is set to move his family there.

"No matter when I get out of baseball I have to work," Mac said. "I might as well get a head start."

The 33-year-old second baseman said he has had several offers to go into business and add that he'd like to become a scout in the Eastern League. He also reportedly has an offer to manage a Yankee farm club in Connecticut.

McAuliffe's three-run homer came in the fifth and knocked starter-loser Pat Dobson, 6-4, from the mound, the blast, his 12th, landed some 20 rows deep in the upper deck in right field.

McAuliffe left off the fourth with a homer, while Northrup opened the Tiger first with a towering drive off the third deck facing in right. He hit a 400-foot triple in the third in front of Stanley's 13th homer of the year.

Northrup also sparked in right field, robbing Johnny Callison of a possible home run in the second with a leaping catch at the fence.

McAuliffe, who batted .234, .208 and .240 the last three years, is up to .275 now in his platoon role with Tony Taylor. He has 44 runs batted in, just two less than team leader Horton.

Stanley has 40 and Aurelio Rodriguez, who squeezed out a run home in the fourth, also has 44.

Detroit rallied ex-Tiger Dobson for nine hits and all its runs in 4 2-3 innings to win its 10th game of 12 starts since the All-Star break.

Rookie Tom Brunkey, just called up from Syracuse Saturday, gave up one single in 3 1-3 innings of relief.

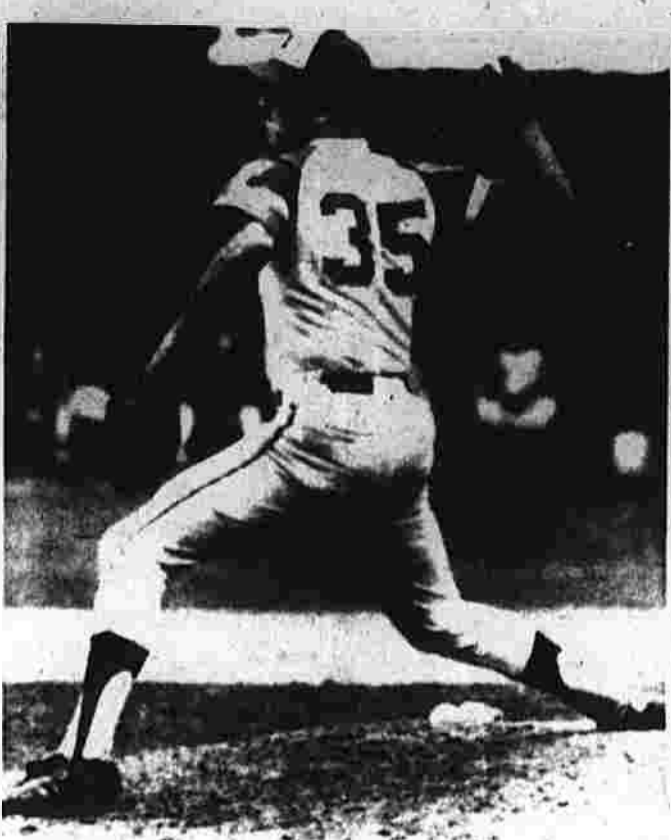

Graig Nettles, a solo shot by Roy White singled in a run in the fifth for the losers after a sacrifice by Matty Alou, who greeted Hiller with an RBI single in the eighth. Johnny Callison also singled in a run in the eighth.

Rodriguez' RBI punt came after Northrup doubled and reached third on a deep fly by Duke Sims in the fourth.

The four home runs increased Detroit's league lead in the category to 114. New York has 88.

Phil Niekro

National League Roundup

Niekro Matches Spahn No-Hitter

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Niekro beat Warren Spahn to the Hall of Fame Sunday.

Spahn, the former Milwaukee Braves' ace and the winningest left-handed pitcher in baseball history, was to be inducted into the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., today.

Niekro, the Atlanta Braves' 34-year-old knuckleballer, probably won't make it career-wise, but he flattered past pitcher Spahn and singled to left in the ninth to win the game Sunday.

Niekro walked three and struck out four in hurling the Braves' first no-hitter since Spahn did it against San Francisco 12 years ago. Two other Padres reached on infield throwing errors.

Niekro's was the fifth no-hitter of the season but the first in the National League.

"I knew I had a no-hitter going. You're usually aware until the first guy gets a hit. When they came up for the second time around I knew they didn't have a hit. After that, no one on the bench spoke to me," he said.

Niekro, a native of Blaine, Ohio, was signed by the Braves for a $500 bonus after attending a tryout camp in 1958. The no-hitter boosted his record to 11-5 and capped a season which he began in the bullpen. He didn't make his first start until May 15.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers edged the San Francisco Giants 4-3, the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the Houston Astros 7-1, the St. Louis Cardinals won a pair from the New York Mets 3-2 and 4-1, the Montreal Expos nipped the Chicago Cubs 3-2 and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies 4-1.

Dodgers 4, Giants 3

Bill Buckner's two-run homer and Jim Brewer's clutch relief pitching highlighted the Dodgers' victory, which kept them three games ahead of Cincinnati in the West Division and dropped the third-place Giants 7 1/2 out.

Tommy John limited the Giants to four hits and one unearned run before he rallied on Bobby Bonds' two-run homer in the eighth, his 30th.

Bonds became the second player in history to hit 30 home runs and steal 30 bases in the same season twice. Willie Mays is the other.

Reds 7, Astros 1

Pete Rose and Joe Morgan drove in three of Cincinnati's four second-inning unearned runs with singles and Ross Grimsley speeded eight hits. The only damaging blow was Jim Wynn's 17th homer. The Reds added three runs in the fifth, triggered by Dan Driessen's triple which stretched his hitting streak to 17 games.

Expos 3, Cubs 2

The Cubs lost for the 18th time in 24 starts when Ron Fairly's two-run single off reliever Dave LaRoche in the seventh inning gave the Expos their victory before a record crowd of 31,019 at Montreal's Jarry Park.

Pirates 4, Phillies 1

Richie Zisk doubled to set up Pittsburgh's first run and doubled home a pair of runs in the seventh. Willie Stargell singled to open the second inning and took third on Zisk's first double. Loser Wayne Twitchell then uncorked a wild pitch, allowing a run to score.

It remained 1-0 until the eighth, when Rennie Stennett walked, Dave Parker was hit by a pitch and Stargell was purposely passed after Al Oliver's long fly moved the runners up. Zisk followed with his second double.

Cards Stop Mets' Ace

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets led with ace Tom Seaver Sunday but St. Louis Manager Red Schoendienst trumped him with a couple of Cards named Rick Wise and Alan Foster.

Schoendienst held out Wise, his winningest pitcher, for the second game, virtually conceding the opener to Seaver. Instead, the Cardinals came away with a 3-2, 4-1 sweep that boosted their lead in the National League's East Division to five games over Chicago.

"Wise and Seaver hooked up in St. Louis after the All-Star Game and Seaver beat him 2-1," Schoendienst recalled. "There's no question that Seaver's an outstanding pitcher. I thought we'd have a better chance to win the second game with Rick pitching. If they'd switched Seaver, Rick would have pitched the first game."

As it turned out, Wise pitched a five-hitter and drove in two runs with a homer and sacrifice fly. In the opener, rookie Bake McBride knocked in the tying run with a pinch single in the seventh inning against Seaver and scored the winner on Lou Brock's single.

Schoendienst disclaimed any credit for the sweep.

"A manager doesn't win any ballgames," he said. "They just execute the plan."

"When we were losing early in the season, the boys didn't panic. Though we were losing, we could have won every game but two or three with a hit or a big play at the right time. They hustled all the way. The big thing, when you're on the ballfield you're out there to perform 100 per cent for the fans, and they did."

Wise, 13-4, started the scoring in the nightcap with his third home run of the baseball season, a leadoff shot in the third inning off Jim McAndrew. Lou Brock followed with a triple and scored on a single by Tim McCarver. Brock doubled in the fifth and came around on a bun and McCarver's sacrifice fly and the Cards made it 4-0 in the sixth on singles by Joe Torre and Jose Cruz and a sacrifice fly by Wise. John Mitter's homer in the seventh accounted for New York's run.

"Brock wasn't hitting real well at the start of the year, along with Simmons," Schoendienst said, "but we figured they'd hit."

The Cards trailed 2-1 in the opener when Jose Cruz led off the seventh inning with an infield hit off Seaver, 13-4, and was bunted to second. McBride batted for winning pitcher Foster and singled to left to tie the score. He took second on Cleon Jones' futile throw to the plate and Brock followed with his game-winning hit.

"Foster also has great stuff," Schoendienst pointed out. "He had a real good fast ball and curve. I think we'd be tough to beat from here on."

American League Roundup

Strom Stops Losing Skain

NEW YORK (AP) — Brent Strom's on a winning streak—one in a row. Well, for him it's a winning streak.

"I have been wondering when I would win again," said the Cleveland Indian pitcher after stopping a personal 13-game losing streak with a four-hit, 4-1 decision over the Milwaukee Brewers in the second game of a Sunday doubleheader. The Indians won the first game, 6-5.

The last time Strom won a game in the major leagues was April 9 this season. He beat the New York Yankees 5-1 with an eight-hitter.

Strom's first victory in more than four months was fashioned with the help of George Hendrick's 21st home run of the year, a solo shot, and Oscar Gamble's two hits and sacrifice fly.

The Indians won the first game with a aid of an error. Frank Duffy came home on shortstop Tim Johnson's miscue in the ninth for the go-ahead run.

In the other American League games, the Chicago White Sox took a doubleheader from the Texas Rangers, 7-5 and 5-4; the Detroit Tigers topped the New York Yankees 8-4; the Minnesota Twins trimmed the Kansas City Royals 7-1; the Boston Red Sox tripped the Baltimore Orioles 7-4 and the Oakland A's whipped the California Angels 6-2.

Carlos May drove in four runs with a homer, double and sacrifice fly to pace Chicago to a 7-3 victory over Texas in their first game.

The White Sox took the second 5-4 as John Jeter doubled home the winning run in the fifth inning.

Twins 7, Royals 1

Bert Blyleven hurled six perfect innings and finished with a three-hitter, leading Minnesota over Kansas City 7-1. The lost stopper the Royals' winning streak at seven games.

Kansas City shortstop Fred Patek broke up Blyleven's no-hit bid with a triple off the left field wall leading off the seventh. Cookie Rojas followed with a run-scoring single.

A's 6, Angels 2

Dick Green slugged a grand slam home run in the eighth inning to power Oakland to a 6-3 success over California.

Coventry Town Council Meets Tonight

MONICA SHEA Correspondent Tel. 743-9496 The Town Council will meet tonight at the Town Hall at 7:30.

There will be a communication from the Steering Committee in reference to Lisieck Park and a report from the Recreation Committee concerning activities at the park.

The Paddle and Prop Club and the chief administrator will have communications regarding boating regulations.

The council hopes to rescind the action of previous meetings establishing priorities for improving dirt roads and to set new priorities.

There are requests that the council approve the administrator's appointment of a tree warden and to approve the police contract.

There will be a discussion of the acquisition of the roads and beach of Waterfront Heights.

A request asks transfer of funds from the Contingency Funds to the Ambulance Fund to cover a previously approved contract.

Other items on the agenda are charter revision, inland wetlands, and attendance at the Police Academy.

Watergate Hearings Tom Drago, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Drago of Jones Crossing Rd. was one of 49 Connecticut high school students participating in the Government Intern Program in Washington, D.C.

The highlight of the trip for the Coventry High School student was the opportunity to attend the Watergate hearings during the week of July 23.

After attending the hearings, Drago expressed the opinion that "People who break the law should be brought to justice."

Among the speakers who addressed the student group were U.S. Rep. Robert H. Steele and U.S. Sen. Robert N. Glavin and U.S. Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr.

All of the legislators urged their young guests to "become involved in government."

Drago said the Republican Town Committee helped pay for Drago's expenses. He was chosen from several other high school history students interviewed.

Restoration Study Robert H. Gantzer, Coventry architect, will be doing the study for the renovation and restoration of the Johnson house on Main St. in Willimantic.

Announcement was made by Betty Lou Williams, Willimantic Redevelopment Agency (WRA) director.

Dellafera Named To Hospital Group

Francis P. Dellafera of Manchester, director of Crestfield Convalescent Home, has been named by Gov. Thomas J. Meskill to serve on Connecticut's new Commission on Hospitals and Health Care.

Dellafera will represent the nursing home industry on the commission. His term ends June 30, 1974.

Meskill named James D. Whitten, a Suffolk field broker, as chairman of the commission. The commission was created by the 1973 General Assembly to review private hospital and nursing home budgets and impose ceilings where necessary.

Whitten will serve two years as chairman and continue as a member of the commission through June 30, 1976. Elizabeth W. Cathels of West Simsbury, was named vice chairman for two years and a commission member through June 30, 1976.

Meskill also appointed Sidney L. Grammer, M.C., Hartford, representing the Connecticut State Medical Society for a term ending June 30, 1976.

Charles B. Womer, Woodbridge, representing the Connecticut Hospital Association for a term ending June 30, 1974. Appointed to represent the public were: Glen W. Moon, Stamford, for a term ending June 30, 1978.

Howard V. Wry, New Britain, for a term ending June 30, 1978. John E. Powers, Storrs, for a term ending June 30, 1978. Whitten and Mrs. Cathels also represent the public on the commission.

Nancy Dolan, Bethal, and Darius J. Spain, Danbury, previously were appointed respectively by Francis J. Collins, speaker of the state House of Representatives, and the commission.

Kleindienst Testifies News Stunned Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon was "dumbfounded" when told that his closest aides had been accused in the Watergate case in mid-April of this year, former Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst said today.

Kleindienst told the Senate Watergate committee that he first learned of accusations by White House counsel John W. Dean III and former Nixon campaign deputy Job Stuart Magruder early in the morning of April 15.

He said he immediately sought a meeting with Nixon, and relayed the information to him early that afternoon in Nixon's office.

"He was dumbfounded, he was very upset," Kleindienst said. Kleindienst said Justice Department officials told him, and he told the President, that Dean and Magruder had implicated former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, campaign aide Frederick C. LaRue, themselves, White House aides H.R. Halderman and John D. Ehrlichman, former campaign aide Robert C. Mardian, "you name it."

"This is the first time since June 17, 1972, that anybody had given me any credible evidence that any of them were involved in any way," Kleindienst said. The hearing was disrupted for about 10 minutes during the morning session by a half-dozen young people who took turns reading aloud from a statement they called themselves representatives of "the National Caucus of Labor Committees."

Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., ordered the disruptors ejected and they were taken by Capitol police to a room in the basement of the Russell Senate Office Building. Kleindienst testified that he was in a room in the basement of the Russell Senate Office Building. He said he testified that he was in a room in the basement of the Russell Senate Office Building.

House To Study Interest Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the prime interest rate at an all-time high, the House Banking Committee is preparing to investigate the nation's financial structure and its impact on the credit crunch.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the committee, says he wants the panel to write a plan for stabilizing soaring interest rates. The prime lending rate, the figure charged banks' most creditworthy customers, reached 9 per cent throughout the industry Monday, the highest rate on record.

The prime rate was 6 per cent at the beginning of the year. Since January, the Banking Committee staff has been preparing an analysis of financial institutions and regulations and considering possible reforms.

Before Congress began a month-long recess last Friday, Patman, a persistent critic of high lending rates, said his panel will hold hearings in September to "consider all aspects of the current credit crunch and the manner in which it is related to financial structure and regulation."

He promised the committee will draft specific legislation in September or early October of 1973. The prime rate was 6 per cent at the beginning of the year.

Nixon Accounts For Secret Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — million in spending for security and administrative support of the President and his family because of "the atmosphere that exists today government wide."

He said virtually all the work was requested by the Secret Service in line with its duty to protect the President and his family "both from malicious at the same time, presidential spokesman Gerald L. Warren announced that Nixon had hired a private auditing firm to prepare "a complete, detailed accounting of the acquisition of the homes and property" he has purchased since taking office in San Clemente, Calif., and Key Biscayne, Fla.

That report will be released within a month, Warren said as he told newsmen it would "include everything... on which you have had questions."

The White House has been barraged with questions since May, when it disclosed that Nixon had borrowed $25,000 from industrialist friend Robert M. Abplanalp to purchase the San Clemente estate in July 1969 and that the loan was canceled in a complex transaction 18 months later when Nixon sold to Abplanalp 23 of the 29 acres in the ocean-side tract.

Tape Subpoenas Invalid, Nixon Lawyers Argue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawyers for President Nixon told a federal judge today that the court lacks jurisdiction to enforce the subpoena served on the President by Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox.

An attempt to enforce the subpoena demanding presidential tape recordings, they said, "would be an unwarranted and unconstitutional doctrine of separation of powers."

J. Fred Buzhardt, special White House counsel, in a court appearance lasting less than two minutes, filed a lengthy legal brief supporting the President's refusal to turn over White House tapes subpoenaed by Cox.

The action came shortly after the Senate Watergate committee decided to postpone any legal action of its own to obtain tapes and related documents. (See Page Fourteen)

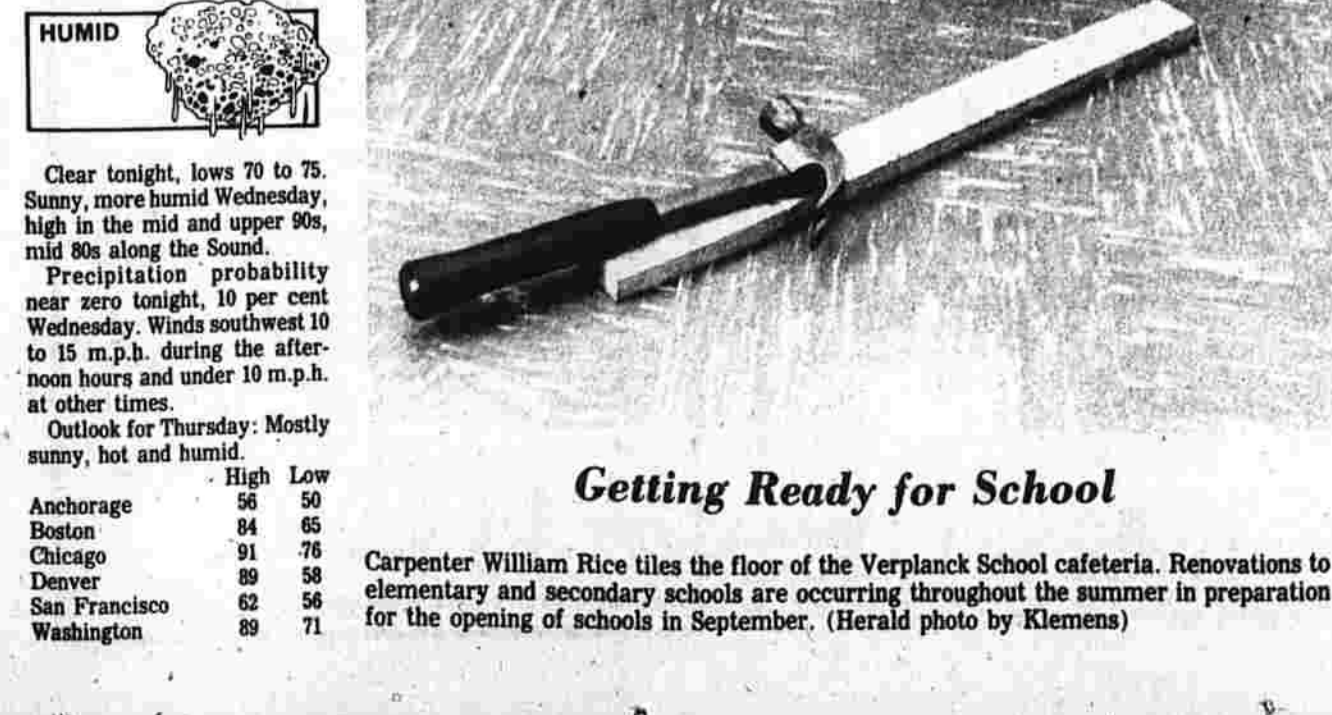

Pollution Potential Key to New Policy

HARTFORD (AP) — A power line doesn't give off much pollution. But consider what effect a power line could have on the development of a rural, uninhabited area: Power for homes, schools, stores and factories.

A new policy is stirring within the state Department of Environmental Protection, one which seeks to predict future air pollution on projects approved today.

In preparation for new regulations, DEP has lumped race tracks, shopping centers, highways, amusement parks and utility lines into a new category of "complex sources."

Simply stated, a complex source is one that could increase air pollution by itself and also from traffic and related development. An example is a shopping center which, by itself, might not raise the level of pollution in an area above an acceptable limit. If, however, the center causes a town to widen roads to accommodate more traffic, and if other businesses such as gas stations, hamburger stands and movie theaters move in, the center could lead to a violation of federal clean air standards.
