Ethnic Education Planned by School

ANNE EMT Correspondent Tel. 222-3971

Ralph S. Saccuzzo, principal of the Gilead Hill School, has received the support of the Board of Education, with the exception of one member, Charles Barraso, to develop a program for sixth graders aimed at the elimination of racial prejudice through an appreciation of the contributions of various ethnic groups to the American way of life.

In presenting the proposed program at the board's last meeting, Saccuzzo said he felt the Gilead Hill students were leading an extremely sheltered life when it comes to an understanding of people whose cultural or ethnic backgrounds are different from their own. He stated that because of the mobility of populations today, and because of the proximity of people to one another due to advances in communications, it is essential that students learn to understand and appreciate differences in people and to judge these people on the basis of their own experiences and not on the prejudicial judgments of others.

Proposed Plans Proposed plans call for the development of an ethnic appreciation program for sixth grade students whereby they have contact with people of various ethnic backgrounds. Through exposure of this type, it is felt the students would gain some understanding and appreciation of these ethnic groups.

Underlying the entire program would be an effort by the faculty to help the students understand the harmful effects of prejudice and to put the differences among people into proper perspective.

Phases As outlined to the board by Saccuzzo, there will be five phases to the program. Phase I would have each sixth grade class, as part of their social studies program, being responsible for making an in-depth study of at least two ethnic groups of their choice. Particular emphasis would be made on the cultural impact these groups have had on the American way of life.

Under Phase II, each class, through their representative on a planning committee, would be responsible for arranging for speakers to represent their chosen ethnic groups to speak at an auditorium program for the combined sixth grade classes.

The third phase would have each participating class being responsible for putting on a program which would portray cultural or other contributions of their chosen ethnic groups to our way of life.

Phase IV would cover field trips for small groups of selected students and Phase V would be an essay contest based on the need to eliminate racial prejudice.

Planning A committee composed of six sixth grade teachers, one parent and four sixth grade students, one from each class, plus the principal, would be responsible for putting on the field trips and would oversee the operation of the program.

Pavement Plato's Platitudinous Platitudes

The Poor Man's Philosopher: Farewell to the Feminine Mystique.

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments by a Pavement Plato's Platitudinous Platitudes

Whatever happened to the feminine mystique? It has become as much a casualty of the 20th century as spat, the whalebone corset, or the nickel fairy of beer. The ordinary man never knew exactly what the feminine mystique was except that it was the intangible thing that made a woman a woman — and therefore a thing apart from man and his crude world.

It was the feminine mystique that led women to dress, think and act differently. They were expected to be more fragile, daintier and much nicer than men.

It was their feminine mystique that led women to be aloof and withdrawn and mysterious, and able to wield more power with silence and disapproval than by shouting their objections and demands. It was their feminine mystique that enabled women to convince men that sex was more a sacred experience than a physical pleasure.

Yes, almost since time began the feminine mystique has been woman's mightiest weapon in the endless war between the sexes. But alas, she has rapidly lost that weapon in recent years as she chose to descend from her Olympus to slug it out in the mire too-foe-too with man in a campaign for equal rights.

In this dubious campaign she has sought to imitate man's manners, morals, dress, value standards and even his vocabulary. A casual conversation between two teen-age girls today contains language that a truckdriver would hesitate to say out loud in a traffic jam in 103-degree weather.

If a man acts like an ape, he becomes apellike. And if a woman acts like a man, there can be but one result: she inevitably becomes manlike.

While there is nothing wrong with being a man, there is a lot wrong in being a manlike woman. She is flouting her own nature, violating the harmony of her own nature. She is being a traitor to her own sex, and it becomes absurd to speak of her feminine mystique. She has thrown away that precious birthright.

She has no special mystery. She has no special intuition. She is just another creature in the herd, another anonymous being in harness. There is nothing to set her apart, no reason for man to give her gallant deference, no reason for him to refrain from preying on her weakness to the utmost. She is just a pseudo-woman trying to be one of the boys.

It was the biggest air battle in the Middle East since the 1967 war. The military command said the Beirut airport was closed to all commercial traffic along with the Damascus airport. Beirut airport sources said they understood Israeli planes were raiding at or near Tartous, Syria's second largest port city on the Mediterranean. Tartous is about 70 miles north of Beirut.

Israelis Down 13 Syrian Jets

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli air force jets shot down 13 Syrian MIG21 fighters in a dogfight today over the Mediterranean, the military command reported. One Israeli plane was hit but the pilot was rescued from the sea unharmed.

Israeli and Syrian warplanes last clashed Jan. 8 when the Israeli command claimed its pilots shot down six Syrian MIG 21s — part of the arms shipments to Damascus from the Soviet Union.

Agnew Jury Meets Under Tight Cloak

By LEE LINDER Associated Press Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The special grand jury probing alleged political corruption in Maryland resumed work today under conditions of unprecedented secrecy.

Federal court house corridors leading to the grand jury room were sealed off by U.S. marshals with walkie-talkies who refused to allow newsmen within sight of the grand jury room or a nearby elevator.

"No public trials and no public hearings are in this area and it is closed to the public on the orders of the United States attorney," one assistant U.S. attorney told a newsmen.

The grand jury is investigating allegations of kickbacks and conspiracy which may involve Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

U.S. Atty. George Beall refused to comment earlier in the day on the grand jury plans for today, but courthouse sources indicated one or more indictments, probably of other local officials, might be forthcoming.

Asked why the strict secrecy provisions, never before undertaken during this investigation, Beall replied: "By tradition and statute, grand jury proceedings are secret. Certain steps have been taken to preserve that privacy. Even witnesses going before the grand jury are part of the privacy and we intend to have it. Within the area cordoned off by the marshals was an elevator by which witnesses appearing before the grand jury could come and go out of sight of reporters.

Beall heads the multi-pronged investigation centering on kickbacks by consulting engineers and architects for the award of sewer, water, road and building construction contracts. Already indicted is N. Dale Anderson, chief executive of Baltimore County, who succeeded Agnew in that post when Agnew became governor.

Anderson was arraigned Friday on counts of alleged extortion, bribery and conspiracy. The grand jury was sworn in last December and generally has met once a week since January.

It has yet to receive information on the Agnew phase of the corruption probe, which was (See Page Twenty-Two) require some clarification. For example, U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica ordered the President to give him the tapes subpoenaed by Cox so that he could listen to them in private and determine if Nixon had a valid claim for withholding them.

A spokesman for the special prosecutor acknowledged that an act of Congress extending the grand jury term beyond Dec. 5, is one of two alternatives now under consideration. The other would be resubmitting the evidence to a new grand jury.

There is concern within Cox's office that the battle over the tapes will not be resolved before the end of the grand jury's term.

A decision from the U.S. Court of Appeals is expected by Oct. 1, with a Supreme Court decision likely by Nov. 1.

But Cox's staff isn't certain that will be the end of the court battle.

The White House has stated repeatedly that the President will abide by a definitive decision of the Supreme Court. But neither presidential press spokesman nor Charles Alan Wright, the President's attorney in the tapes case, has been willing to say exactly what is meant by definitive.

There is a possibility that the Supreme Court could refer the case back to the lower courts or that its decision, if it went against the President, would

More Benefits Sought For Viet Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asserting that Vietnam-era veterans are worse than their fathers, an independent committee urged today that GI Bill educational benefits be increased substantially.

A gap between post-World War II and current benefits "serves to reinforce the belief of today's veteran that he fought an unpopular war and must deal with public apathy about his future," the Special Veterans' Opportunity Committee said.

The committee, chaired by Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., was formed by the National League of Cities and the U. S. Conference of Mayors. Its 39-page report was based on an eight-month study of veterans' problems, including public hearings at Newark, N. J., Cleveland and Seattle.

The committee found that "Many veterans simply cannot afford to use the G. I. Bill."

It also concluded that: — Public reaction to the Vietnam war has been a severe obstacle for GI's trying to adjust to civilian life. — Those who help most are not getting it from the G. I. Bill.

The World War II veterans had more benefits and greater public acceptance. The committee recommended that the federal government add to the basic payment of $20 a month for single veterans a voucher to pay 80 per cent of his tuition and fees.

The committee did not estimate the cost of its proposals but noted that the G. I. Bill will cost $2.5 billion this year.

School Board Mounts Referendum Campaign

The Manchester Board of Education is mounting its usual public relations campaign in an effort to inform Manchester voters of the Nov. 6 referendum concerning a proposed $5.6 million for additions and renovations to Bennett and Lilling Junior High Schools.

After the CAC report was presented, the scaled-down plan for Bennett being voted through the Board of Education, the Town Building Committee, and the Board of Directors (the directors directed last month to put the item on the voting machines) — and the CAC was inactive.

Social Security

School Superintendent James P. Kennedy reported that the board has sent letters to every organization in the community, requesting time on their agenda before the Nov. 6 referendum. School board members are offering their services as speakers for various groups, clubs, and Parent-Teacher Associations in the community.

Kennedy said a brochure, which he termed a "public information service," will be published this month and will be distributed throughout town. The brochure to be printed at minimal cost at Bennett Junior High School's print shop, is essentially the same as a brochure distributed last year before the referendum for junior high school improvements.

This year's proposal, to be Question 1 on the voting machines, is basically a scaled-down version of the plan presented to Manchester voters last year. Last year's proposal, which called for a $8.5 million appropriation for junior high school additions and renovations, was defeated by 470 votes (more than 18,000 votes were cast).

File For Tax Relief

Ed Belleville, town assessor, reminds all veterans living in Manchester, that they may be eligible for an exemption.

All veterans of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force and Coast Guard are eligible for a minimum $1,000 exemption on taxable property if they have aged outside the state and application is made to the assessor.

State residents who are blind (not service connected) are entitled to a $3,000 property assessment exemption. This is in addition to any other exemption the resident may be entitled to.

Veterans with V.A. Disability ratings may receive additional exemption allowances as follows: Veterans with 20 per cent to 50 per cent may receive a total of $1,500; veterans with 50 per cent to 75 per cent a total of $2,500; veterans with 75 per cent to 100 per cent a total of $3,000.

Veterans who are victims of paraplegia, hemiplegia, total blindness or loss of at least two limbs while on active service, are entitled to an additional $10,000 exemption on their dwellings only.

New legislation passed by the 1973 legislature allows a $5,000 charge with the Manchester town clerk on or before Sept. 30. Any veteran who has filed his discharge in Manchester in a prior year need not refile again.

Any elderly person currently receiving elderly tax relief benefits will continue to receive their benefits without the necessity to reapply with the assessor annually. All new applicants for elderly tax relief may make application no sooner than April 15, 1974, and the application period will continue until Dec. 31, 1974.

Because the legislature has passed new legislation affecting tax relief for the elderly, it is recommended that elderly persons watch the newspaper for a notice of a special meeting which will be held to explain this legislation in detail.

No Rush Planned

Recently The Herald reprinted an editorial from The Meriden Morning Record commenting on the disappearance of tobacco lands in Connecticut and recent sale of Hartman Tobacco Co. lands in Manchester and South Windsor in particular.

The editorial stated, "Manchester officials are happy and have indicated they will rush through necessary zoning changes. The land, redeveloped with stores, hotel, condominiums, library, church, village green restaurants and food shops, will bring in more municipal revenue than the present acreage assessments on the land."

Exception, quite properly, has been taken to that particular portion of the editorial by Eric Potter, Manchester's town planner.

Plans for the proposed development will not be "rushed through" by "happy" officials, Potter states.

While the plans are under study in the town planner's office, much more legal work must be done before they become a reality.

Potter stresses neither the Planning and Zoning Commission, nor the Board of Directors, have been shown the detailed plans nor have any requests for zoning changes been presented to the PZC. Potter stressed the proposal will be presented to the public in advance of a required public hearing to obtain citizen viewpoints. He anticipates the hearing on the formal application and the plans at the developers will be set when it is presented to PZC.

He wishes to assure the citizens of Manchester, and especially those residing in the immediate vicinity of the proposed development, it is not, nor has it been the town's position, nor that of any of its officials, to "rush through" developer requests for zoning changes.

A Heinous Act

Ireland has been a troubled country back to the time of Cromwell and before. It has chafed under British rule and there is no reason that it will not continue to do so.

We believe that the unification of Ireland into one nation will be the ultimate answer for more relative tranquility than it has experienced in centuries.

It is ironic to us that even such relatively unimportant areas of the former British Empire, as the Bahamas, have attained independence while Ireland still is partitioned.

The IRA, however, has become an obstruction to such a step rather than an aide. We do not think its terrorist activities reflect the thinking of southern Ireland which recently named a Protestant as a successor to deValera.

The Irish and American descendants of Ireland must cease any support of the IRA as a strong indication of their completed disenchantment with its inhumane tactics.

Perpetrators of the most ugly crime in which a woman secretary in the British Embassy lost one hand and had another badly maimed through a mail bomb explosion are guilty of a heinous act of indiscriminate terrorism.

If indeed this inhumane act is the work of IRA fanatics it must create a revulsion in southern Ireland as well as throughout the world. The IRA has seen its status diminishing as the Irish people have sickened of the increased violence of the past several years.

While Ireland cannot be said to have had real peace for centuries, the current "troubles" are the worst it has had in many years.

It is no secret that many Americans of Irish ancestry have been supporters of the IRA and have contributed to their cause financially and in other ways.

In our opinion, this dreadful act should be sufficient reason for freezing any support which the organization has been getting from this country.

Find Christ

To the editor:
As I sat in my church and listened to the message, "A Nurturing Church," I knew that I must write this letter. We, the children of God, must tell the "good news" of our faith - all too often we keep it to ourselves and are ashamed to discuss it with anyone else. If all who read this letter would make a very, very special effort to attend their own place of worship next week and listen to the Word of God, and find the Christ deep within your soul, I know it could change your life. Don't keep the faith, give it away.

Today's Thought

Man has always been on the move. As a result he has needed, and always used available travel. We travel to work, to our stores, schools, leisure activities, on our vacations, and to see our families and friends. When our communities were smaller and transportation less convenient the distances covered were shorter but travel has always been with us, even if it was going next door.
We experience travel physically and it is a counterpart to the deepest part of life - our spiritual lives. Life is meant to include travel. Life is meant to be expanded and enriched as long as we live. Now that our vacations are over we can see again that they open our lives wider each year, and offer us a welcome change from the smaller circle in which each of us must live and work.
Travel is life on the move in a different direction and therefore each vacation enriches us. Spiritually we are to also have motion and direction, a life including a sense of travel. There is the introduction to life in Christ when we first learn of the invitation to "follow Him" as He shared it with each of the 12 disciples, and subsequently with us.
There is also the continued travel available into the life to which we are invited. Evidence of this motion and travel in the life He offered is that at one point in Jesus' ministry many began to turn back and walk no more with Him. He then said to the 12, will you also go away? Peter's response was, "Lord to whom shall we go? You alone have the words of eternal life." Our spiritual life is meant to continue motion and travel. It is meant to move onward and be expanded and enriched. The areas of this travel are many. We are to travel into loving kindness, giving, patience, friendship, concern, compassion, forgiveness, helpfulness, self-sacrifice, consideration and hospitality. We are to travel into all the areas which are in Christ's life, as we increasingly travel into them we are broadened and enriched and find ourselves growing to know the life of eternity.
Jesus said, "Come unto me all you who labor and are weighed down, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me; for I am gentle and lowly in heart and you will find rest for your souls." Math. 11:28-29

Inside Report

Rouland Evans and Robert Novak
Strauss in Labor

WASHINGTON - Organized labor's operatives who helped elect Robert Strauss Democratic national chairman nine months ago have a private new grievance against him: his formula for distributing funds from the national party treasury will benefit "new politics" forces dominating the state parties in California and New York.
The Sept. 15 telethon, expected to net over $2 million and possibly twice that amount, is Strauss's prize and joy. He sees the healing balm of money joining party regulars and reformers in joyous solvency. But sharing precious dollars with his foes, Strauss's labor supporters grumble, is only the latest example of his compulsive desire to appease his enemies while neglecting his friends.
This is the heart of the steadily escalating unhappiness between Strauss and Alexander Barkan, head of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE). Big labor's political operatives feel Strauss was elected not as a unity candidate but as the vehicle for traditional Democrats to regain control following the McGovern revolution. Consequently, they resent Strauss's role as honest broker between the factions.

Travel is life on the move in a different direction and therefore each vacation enriches us. Spiritually we are to also have motion and direction, a life including a sense of travel. There is the introduction to life in Christ when we first learn of the invitation to "follow Him" as He shared it with each of the 12 disciples, and subsequently with us.

How To Handle Sticky Tapes

It was in mid-October that the White House finally gave up its battle with the cowboys and released 183 Watergate tapes. In a brilliant public relations gesture, the tapes were released in the form of an LP album, produced by John Ehrlichman and edited to solve for national security (reasons) by H.R. Haldeman.
Critics agreed that the first tape on the album, if somewhat scrappy in places, was by far the most interesting.
It opens with a rousing rendition of the Star Spangled Banner. A woman's voice then says, "There goes your alarm, dear, time to get up."
Man's Voice: Yes, by golly, it's 5 a.m. Time to start another day striving to build a better world for all Americans. But first, I want to make one tooth perfectly clean at a time. (Sounds of brushing teeth.)
Woman's Voice: I couldn't sleep a wink worrying about Watergate.
Man's Voice: I'll never get caught (click-bleep) with bad breath. What is a Watergate?
Woman's Voice: There've leaks in the papers about it for six months, dear.
Man's Voice: Leaks? Call in my plumbers! I want them to break into (click-bleep) the trap on this sink. It seems to be stopped up. As to the papers, you know I've been too busy to read them, what with creating a lasting peace for future generations 24 hours a day.

Woman's Voice: Yes, dear. But they say your top aides are involved in illegal activities.
Man's Voice: They'll never get caught (click-bleep) unless I make every known fact public immediately. Call my honest, trustworthy young legal counsel as I jog in place while singing "America, The Beautiful." (He sings.)
Young Man's Voice: You wanted to see me, sir?
Man's Voice: Yes, John. I wanted to tell you what a good job you're doing supervising the cover up (click-bleep) of the tulip beds in the Rose Garden.
Young Man's Voice: Thank you, sir. But we'll need another million dollars. There is a growing cancer (click-bleep) here.
Man's Voice: Raising a million dollars will be easy (click-bleep) to fight cancer. The health of every American is a matter of deep concern to 24 hours a day.
Young Man's Voice: Yes, sir. They also demand a guarantee of an executive pardon (click-bleep) me. Was I standing on your toes?

Man's Voice: I see no serious difficulty there. Certainly, in view of the services rendered, I'll be glad to pardon (click-bleep) you.
Young Man's Voice: I should also confess, sir, that John and Bob and I have all been obstructing just... (click-bleep) as much as we can, the evil forces that have been causing rising food prices.
Man's Voice: Don't worry. Nobody around here is going to get caught (click-bleep) not doing his best to protect the American consumer 24 hours a day. Thank you for your efforts to hide (click-bleep) not a single fact from the public.
Woman's Voice: Oh, dear, I haven't slept a wink (click-bleep) tonight now that I know all these terrible... (click-bleep) things you and your honest staff are doing for every American 24 hours a day.
The other 182 tapes on the record all began, "And one, and a two and a three... and appear to be the collected works of Lawrence Welk.
The album, which conclusively proved the innocence of every member of the White House staff, immediately went on sale in stores across the Nation. Unfortunately, nobody bought it.

meeting, at which visitors and guests are welcome, will open with greetings by Dr. Frederick W. Love Jr., president of Manchester Community College; Christie McCormick, president of Manchester Historical Society; and Mrs. Janet G. Jainschigg, president of the League of Historical Societies.

After these brief formalities, the morning session will be devoted to a consideration of "The Local Public Library and 'The Local Historical Society,'" and how they do, or should, relate to each other.

This presentation, in the form of a dialogue, will be given by Mrs. Mary Anna Tien, director of the Middletown Library Service Center of the Connecticut State Library; and Mr. Bruce S. Kershner, town librarian, Fairfield Public Library.

The afternoon session will begin at 1 with a business session of the League of Historical Societies, followed by Lewis' talk.

After adjournment those in attendance are invited to visit the Cheney Homestead.

Historical Societies Meet Sept. 22 at MCC

The Manchester Historical Society will inaugurate its 1973-74 season on Sept. 22 by serving as co-host for a day-long meeting of the Connecticut League of Historical Societies.

The Institute of Local History of Manchester Community College is joining with the society in making arrangements for and sponsoring the event, which will be held in the MCC auditorium beginning at 10 a.m.

Highlighting the afternoon session will be a slide lecture entitled "A View from Cheney's Goat," given by Thomas R. Lewis Jr., assistant professor of geography at the college. Lewis is a Connecticut native, educated at Central Connecticut State College and at Clark and Rutgers Universities.

In his research and writings he has concentrated on historical geography, especially in the area of industrial development. His talk will detail the interaction of railroad and the silk industry in an earlier Manchester.

BEST WISHES TO ANOTHER HAPPY JARVIS TENANT

WASHINGTON - Organized labor's operatives who helped elect Robert Strauss Democratic national chairman nine months ago have a private new grievance against him: his formula for distributing funds from the national party treasury will benefit "new politics" forces dominating the state parties in California and New York.
The Sept. 15 telethon, expected to net over $2 million and possibly twice that amount, is Strauss's prize and joy. He sees the healing balm of money joining party regulars and reformers in joyous solvency. But sharing precious dollars with his foes, Strauss's labor supporters grumble, is only the latest example of his compulsive desire to appease his enemies while neglecting his friends.
This is the heart of the steadily escalating unhappiness between Strauss and Alexander Barkan, head of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE). Big labor's political operatives feel Strauss was elected not as a unity candidate but as the vehicle for traditional Democrats to regain control following the McGovern revolution. Consequently, they resent Strauss's role as honest broker between the factions.

MANCHESTER STORE HOURS Mon. thru Fri. 10 to 9 Sat. to 6

Just 7 months ago, we announced a revolutionary Change of Policy: Famous Brand Menswear, priced far below the current retail market value. With living costs rising by leaps and bounds, the response of Hartford area men has been phenomenal - so great that we are opening a second Cripps store today to make our extra-ordinary values more convenient for additional thousands of suburban residents!

Men's Famous Brand Fashions 1973 Fall Styles... 1963 Prices!

This is what we're doing to lower the cost of men's better clothing:

WE BELIEVE THE RETAIL PRICE OF MEN'S CLOTHING TO BE TOO HIGH... much too high... and we've taken several steps to help bring them down! To fight inflation... to bring prices down where they belong... to where every man can afford not just one good suit a year, but several... And, you always are assured of the personal attention of Les or Lou - if it isn't right for you they won't let you go! All garments custom-fitted by Nino, and altered (at a nominal extra charge) by our own tailors on the premises.

WE HAVE JOINED HANDS WITH A NATIONAL RETAIL BUYING GROUP, WITH MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR BUYING POWER, to scour the country's top makers - for overstock buyouts... credit cancellations... the need for cash, in every case, we buy for less than the original wholesale... in many instances, less than manufacturing cost!

WE HAVE ELIMINATED THE FANCY AND EXPENSIVE RETAIL FRILLS, WHICH DO NOTHING BUT RAISE COSTS. We operate our store with a minimum of personnel... better qualified to help you. Nobody will try to sell you anything. You do the selecting... you choose from a huge display, neatly arranged and clearly marked for easy, self-selection. Our people will help you, if you want help.

WE REMOVE THE LABELS - WILL NOT QUOTE NAMES. We have no desire to destroy our friendly manufacturer's ability to sell at regular prices to their regular outlets. So, we remove the labels and agree not to mention their names in our advertising.

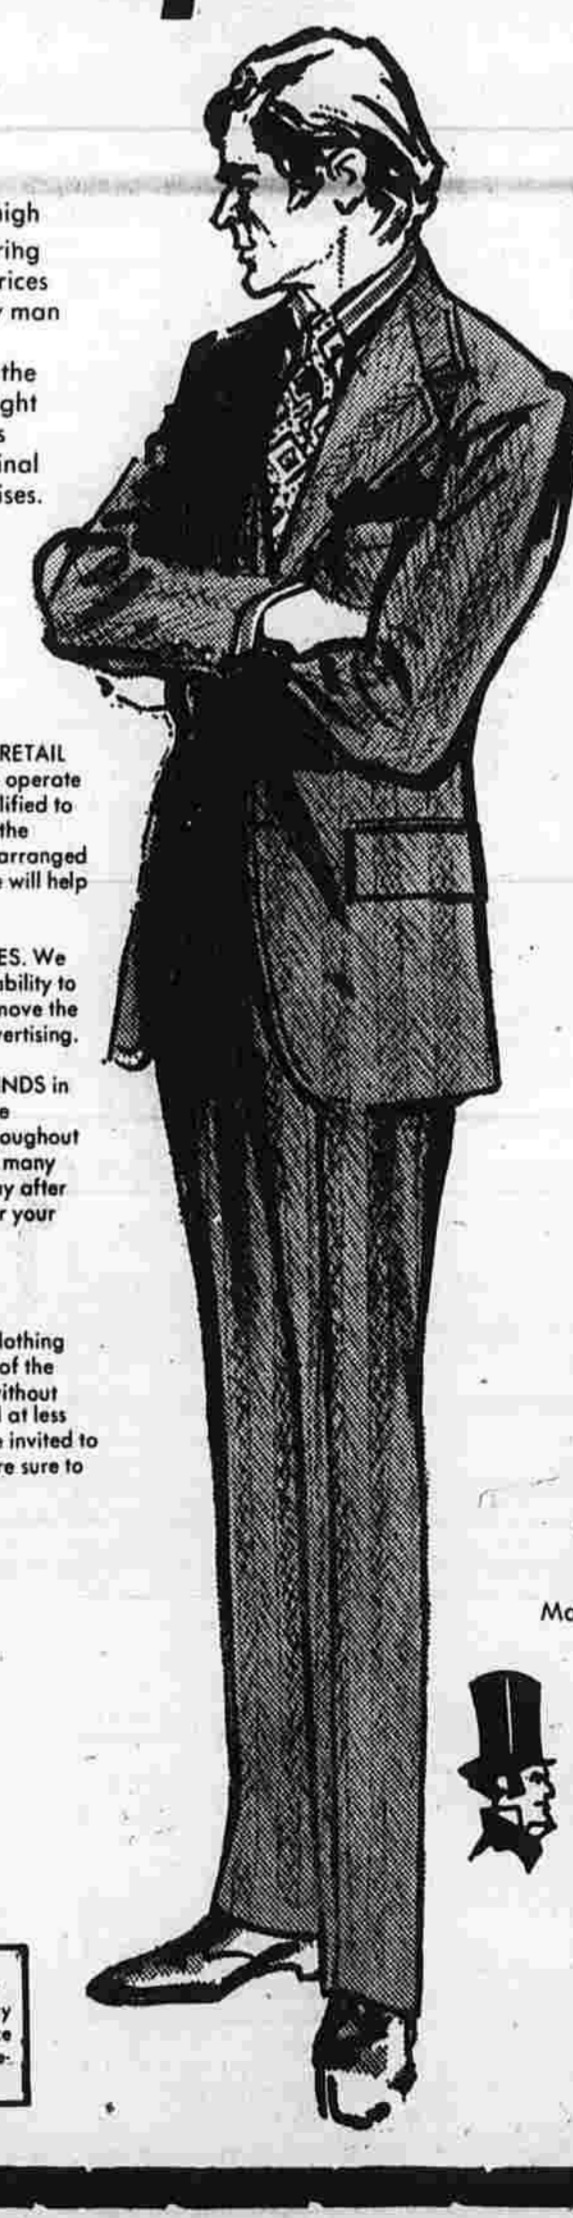

YOU'LL FIND A CONSTANT FLOW OF FRESH, NEW FINDS in our store every day, because we are not tied to any one manufacturer. Because our sources of supply range throughout the country, and because "buyouts" become available many times a month, we make it possible for you to return day after day and discover whole racks of fresh, new clothing for your selections... everything right out of current-season production and up-to-the-minute in style.

WHAT KIND OF MAN SHOPS AT CRIPPS? He's a discriminating man... one who's tired of seeing his clothing costs going up, up and up... who knows the quality of the suits he wishes to buy, and who can recognize values without benefit of labels... who can spot a $125 suit tagged at less than $80, or a $22.50 pair of slacks for $10.90. You're invited to come in, look by on, compare. You'll find clothes you're sure to like, at a price that's easy to afford!

WE OFFER A MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE. Because we know the quality and value of every garment that we sell, we'll refund the purchase price - with no questions asked - on any garment returned, unaltered, within one week of purchase.

Neighbor's Kitchen

By Vivian F. Ferguson

One of the tastiest recipes I have encountered in the past year is Sicilian Beef Roll. It is really "one spicy meatball".

One of my teen-age children asked what my latest venture would be when I unwrapped the ground beef. "I'm going to stuff it," I replied. Next, I unwrapped the boiled ham and mozzarella cheese. They thought it was a put-on.

The beef is mixed with garlic, herbs, etc., then rolled up and baked in the oven with the ham and cheese inside. It's excellent served hot and superb eaten cold. On a hot night, it's a pleasant surprise served with a nice crisp salad or fresh tomatoes.

The recipe calls for "soft bread crumbs. You won't find these in boxes at the store. If you own an electric blender, you can make soft crumbs in a matter of minutes. Break day-old, or even better, two-day old bread into pieces. Whirl around and you're in business.

If you wish, you can add chopped parsley or any other herbs of your choice.

During the extremely hot spell just before Labor Day weekend, I made some crumbs and put them into a jar with a screw top. I left the jar open for one day, then covered it. No humidity of the bread which I anticipated because of the humidity.

With the blender, you can make up any quantity you like, whenever you like. I don't bother removing the crusts. You can also use leftover rolls. For the beef roll, the ground meat is mixed with other ingredients as you would for a meat loaf. I find that chilling the mixture first facilitates rolling. Also, I chilled the rolls before baking which I feel keeps the meat together in cooking. This was especially valuable during the hot weather as it is surprising how rapidly the meat will cool down while you are mixing it.

Sicilian Beef Roll

3 tablespoons minced parsley
8 slices cooked ham
8 slices mozzarella cheese
Mix together all ingredients except ham and cheese. On a large piece of aluminum foil, put one meat mixture into a large rectangle, approximately 10x16. Arrange ham, then cheese on top. Roll up like jelly roll, using foil to help with the rolling. Place meat dish in a greased baking dish. Bake about an hour at 350. Allow to stand 15 minutes at room temperature before slicing. Serves 6-8.

The tomato juice that came from a recipe once made by my mother is good. I don't bother to pre-mix my eggs. You can blend them in nicely by breaking right onto the meat. As for the garlic, there is nothing like a garlic press. I can never be without one.

I suggest you use only one teaspoon of salt the first time you make this. It really depends on how salty the ham is. I used mild boiled ham as the beef mixture is spicy in itself. In the photograph above, the ham is on top of the cheese. I have made this several times and think it is best the other way around the cheese put on last.

Action Set This Month On RHS Accreditation

The executive committee of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges will be acting this month on the recommendation of the Commission on Public Secondary Schools that Rockville High School be accredited for a five-year period.

The report recommended the procedure for carrying out the recommendations and a two-year progress report, due on June 1, 1975.

The letter from Richard J. Bradley, the commission's director of education, advised the board to continue the necessary procedures for attaining the commitment from the townspeople to build additional facilities.

The board made its recommendations for another referendum, to the Town Council, and the council set Nov. 6, election day, to put the question of additional facilities to the voters who have facilities before turned down proposals.

The commission has advised the board to develop and implement the proposed new organizational structure (house plan) prior to the occupancy of additional facilities.

Fagan said, in effect, this is being done with the high school on double sessions. He now has two assistant principals and one works the morning session and one the afternoon.

Wednesday: Orange juice, grinders, potato chips, peaches. Thursday: Pork fritters, apple sauce, mashed potato, chicken bread and butter, lemon tart.

Friday: Baked macaroni and cheese, peas, tomato and lettuce, bread and butter, speed apple sauce.

Church Show. "Methodist Madness II" will be presented by the Rockville Methodist Church members, Oct. 12 and 13 at the Vernon Center Middle School.

Women's Club. The Suburban Women's Club of Vernon, Ellington and Tolland, will sponsor a "Fun Fair" Sept. 21 from 4 to 9 p.m.

There will be games for children of all ages, a train ride, moon walk, handcraft booths, a food booth with hot dogs, hamburgers and sno-cones and a booth featuring home-baked goods.

Trinity Church Plans Weekend Activities. James M. Troy, president of Vernon National Bank, will attend the Strategic Growth Options for Banks conference in New York City, Sept. 28 through 29.

Lunch Program Aims To Stay Solvent

Barbara Richmond (Herald Reporter). The Vernon school system runs a large restaurant service but unlike most restaurants the school cafeteria is not operated for profit and would consider it a good year if all schools could just come out in the black.

Each day nearly 2,050 students in the town's 10 schools, are served Type A lunches. This number does not include students at the high school, with the exception of 72, who order ala carte lunches or snacks.

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, said some townspeople might question why, with cash on hand, the cost of the meals couldn't be reduced. He explained that most towns have gone up on their meal costs but Vernon has remained stable. He said the State Board of Education recommends that school systems keep enough money in the cafeteria account to operate at least two months. He said the operating cost is about $20,000 a month so there really isn't enough in the account.

Dr. Ramsdell said the cost of food is increasing but the Board of Education and school officials are trying not to go up on lunch prices.

Some children, due to family income and the number of children in the family, are given free lunches. He said the ratio of children given free lunch to those paying is about 1-4.

The Vernon Center Middle School and the Rockville High School operate in the black most of the time and the elementary schools, in the red, therefore most of the time the two schools are the supporting element for the other schools, Dr. Ramsdell said.

Bolton's Ecumenical Council has scheduled a meeting for Sunday, Sept. 30 at 4:30 p.m. at St. Maurice Parish Center for all interested town groups and individuals to discuss the possibility of establishing a townwide calendar to prevent conflict of events.

Last year on several occasions, events were scheduled for the same time, making it difficult for both the people involved and the people wishing to attend.

The calendar would be maintained in the town clerk's office or another responsible place in the community.

Expos Confuse East Race, Cards 1/2 Game Behind Bucs

NEW YORK (AP) — "It wasn't my best night with the fastball," said Steve Rogers. "It wasn't my best night with the slider. And it wasn't my best night with the curve."

All the Montreal Wonder Boy could do Wednesday night was throw the ball, hope for the best—and win. "I guess you could say my pitching was good but my throwing was bad," said the 23-year-old rookie after leading the Expos to a 2-1 victory over St. Louis that further confused the National League East race.

"I just had to pump myself up," said Rogers, who twice loaded the bases with none out but escaped trouble each time. "I guess I was a little tight. I probably didn't warm up enough."

While giving up six walks and six hits, Rogers held the Cardinals down long enough for Bob Bielek to deliver the knockout blow—a ninth-inning homer.

The victory, the ninth in 12 decisions for the rookie right-hander, moved the Expos within one game of the top in the zany East race.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2 to move into first place by a half game over the Cardinals and the New York Mets nipped the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 to move two games back in fourth place. The Cubs were in fifth, three games behind.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds tripped the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-3 and the Atlanta Braves whipped the San Francisco Giants 10-4.

Yanks Latest Victim Of Unstoppable Moret

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston's Rogelio Moret was in a hurry Thursday night. He wanted the game against the Yankees to end before he ran out of good pitches.

Things haven't been going that well for the 24-year-old left-hander, despite an 11-0 record in four of his last five outings. Moret hadn't lasted more than 5 2/3 innings.

"I had been behind the hitters and getting into trouble in the Puerto Rico native said. "I was very happy the game was played quickly," said Moret of the two-hour, 13-minute 7-1 Red Sox victory.

"When I have to sit on the bench for a long time, it bothers me," he said.

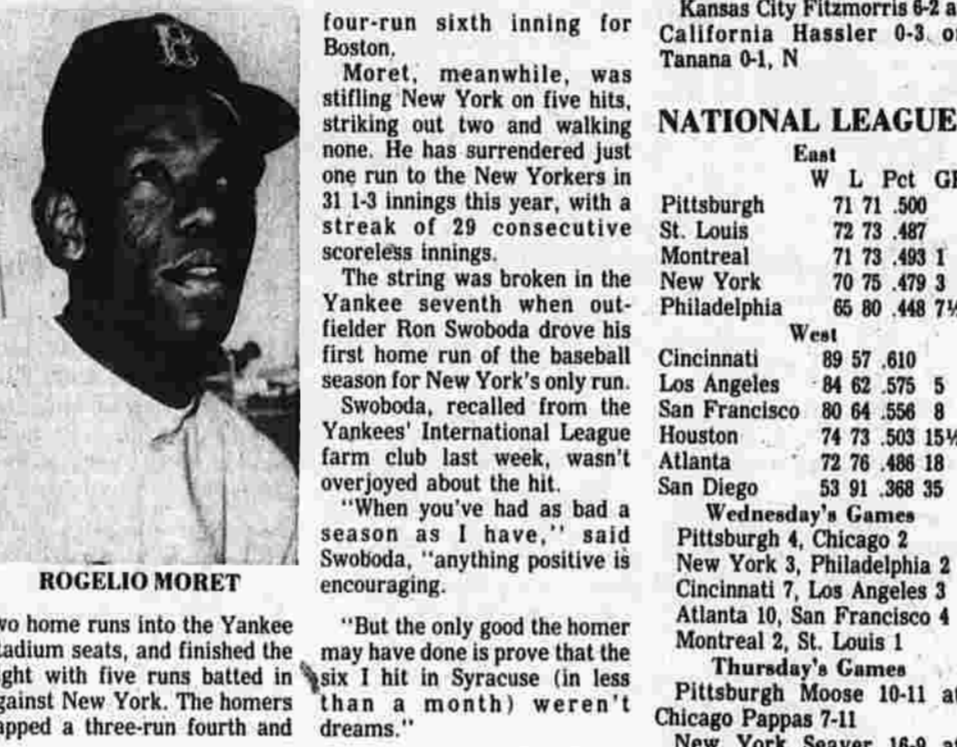

The game may have passed quickly for Moret and the Red Sox, but it was a long one for the Yankees, who dropped their fifth game in six starts.

Carl Yastrzemski powered four-run sixth inning for Moret, meanwhile, was stilling New York on five hits, striking out two and walking none. He has surrendered just one run to the New Yorkers in 31 1/3 innings this year, with a streak of 29 consecutive scoreless innings.

The string was broken in the Yankees seventh when outfielder Ron Swoboda drove his first home run of the baseball season for New York's only run. Swoboda, recalled from the Yankees' International League farm club last week, wasn't covered by the hit.

"When you've had as bad a season as I have," said Swoboda, "anything positive is encouraging."

Two home runs into the Yankee Stadium seats, and finished the night with five runs batted in against New York. The homers capped a three-run fourth and

A's, Birds Begin Countdown

NEW YORK (AP) — There is magic in the American League air these brisk September days and almost as if it is centered in Baltimore and Oakland, where the Orioles and A's are beginning to count.

The numbers game intrigues teams in the West, where both of these clubs have been spending their time for the last month.

The Orioles swept a Wednesday twin-night doubleheader from Milwaukee 4-1 and 5-3, reducing their number for clinching the East Division title to 12. Any combination of Baltimore victories and Oakland defeats totaling a dozen, puts the Orioles in the playoffs.

Oakland's favorite digit right now is 13. That's what it will take to win the West for the A's after they dropped a 5-0 decision to the Kansas City Royals.

Elsewhere in the AL Wednesday night, Boston defeated the New York Yankees 7-1, Texas beat Minnesota 5-2 and California edged Chicago 6-5. Cleveland and Detroit were not scheduled.

Baltimore's Jim Palmer won his 20th game in the opener, marking the fourth straight year he's reached that measure of pitching excellence. Rich Coggins drove in two of the Orioles runs and stole two bases in the opener.

Then the rookie outfielder tripled, touching off a two-run Oriole rally that broke an eighth-inning tie and completed the sweep.

Palmer shrugged off talk that he might be zerging in on the American League Cy Young Award. "You don't think much about that," he said. "A pennant and World Series are more important than personal goals."

Royals 5, A's 0
Oakland ran into Hal McRae's hot bat. McRae boomed a pair of home runs, one of them with two Royals on base, leading Kansas City to victory.

Paul Splittorf and Doug Bird combined to pitch the shutout which left the Royals five games back of the A's in the AL West.

Rangers 5, Twins 2
Tom Grive's two-run homer helped Texas to a 5-2 victory over Minnesota with rookie Rick Henninger earning his first major league victory.

Rich Billings also drove in two runs for the Rangers with a single.

Angels 6, White Sox 5
Bob Oliver's two-out single in the bottom of the eighth inning broke a tie and gave California a 4-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

Rules Enforced

Two new football rules will be in effect for the 1973 high school season. The first noted change will be on the fair catch rule. The receiving player of a punt must hold his hand up straight and wave it in a back and forth motion. Failure to do this will result in a normal punt situation with the ball being in play. Second change is all football candidates must wear mouth protectors at all times, which includes practices and games. If a club shows up for an actual game and fails to have the mouth protectors, the officials will award the team with mouth guards the contest.

Ticket Policy

East Catholic High will institute a new ticket policy for the 1973-74 season. Before each football and basketball game, tickets will go on sale at both the school and the open position's school. Students will be charged $1 while adults' price is $2. Price of tickets on game day will be $2 for everyone, except children. The aim of the policy is to give people ample time to buy tickets.

The Final Word

Tuesday night at Northwest Catholic High a capacity crowd filled both the auditorium and gym to witness (via closed-circuit television) the rematch of the Ken Norton and Muhammad Ali fight. Result saw Ali win in a very close decision.

During pre-fight activities, heavyweight boxing champion George Foreman was introduced, but what followed must have bored the ex-Olympian boxer because he departed the Fort Forum in the sixth round.

If Foreman ever signs to fight Ali, the latter won't be able to dance fast enough to avoid Foreman's devastating punches. In this writer's opinion, Foreman will be around a long time as boxing's heavyweight kingpin.

Article Mystifies Butkus; Dale Waived by Packers

NEW YORK (AP) — Pick the word that most appropriately completes this sentence:

Dick Butkus (will) (won't) start at middle linebacker for the Chicago Bears this Sunday.

The answer to that question depends on who you listen to, but what followed The Chicago Daily News said Wednesday that "sources close to Butkus reported that the middle-linebacker fears he may have reached the end of his battle-scarred career," and that the 30-year-old Butkus was suffering severe pain in his left knee.

But Bears coach Abe Gibron retorted with, "Dick Butkus is my starting middle linebacker against Dallas, and he'll play on the specialty teams, too. I have no idea where that story came from."

Butkus appeared mystified by the article, not to mention team physician, Dr. Theodore Fox. "As far as I'm concerned, there is no foundation to the story... As far as I know, he is going to play against Dallas," Fox said.

"I'm no doctor," informed Gibron. "I can't practice medicine and I can't say what his physical condition is."

There are two NFL stars who won't have to worry about injuries this season: Carroll Dale of the Green Bay Packers and Johnny Holland of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Dale, one of the few remaining members of the Vince Lombardi-built Packers dynasty of the mid-60s, was placed on waivers by the club. In a 16-year career, Dale caught 48 passes for 4,079 yards and 52 touchdowns, averaging 10 yards per recep-

Fireballer After Mark Ryan's Success Strain on Wife

ANAHEIM (AP) — Ruth Ryan had a lifetime of suspense in three days.

She didn't sit on the edge of her chair; she didn't bite her fingernails; she didn't take tranquilizers. She just watched as her husband Nolan Ryan pitched two no-hitlers—and nearly a third—for the California Angels this year.

"It's really been fun and hectic around here since then," the self-spoken blonde beauty said. "After the second no-hitter against Detroit, I was getting up with the baby and I opened the door to a television camera crew standing on our driveway. They didn't call, just came over and got Nolan out of bed."

Ryan is convinced that the pressure of his no-hitlers and his quest of Sandy Koufax's major league streakout record is far worse for his wife of six years than for himself.

"Ruth is an athlete herself, a tennis player and a real com-

Over-The-Hill-Gang Favored in NFC East, Packers Get Nod in Central Division

NEW YORK (AP) — A Grade-A quarterback can mean the difference between cream and skimmed milk in the National Football League.

Or can it?

Or is it the defense that really counts the most?

Just look at the Minnesota Vikings and the Green Bay Packers.

A year ago, with Fran Tarkenton back at the helm of the Viking offense, Minnesota was supposed to be unbeatable. The Vikings piled up lots of offensive yardage with the scrambling Tarkenton having one of his best NFL seasons. So what happened to the Vikings?

Their Purple Gang defense gave up points like Santa Claus handing out toys at an orphanage, and the Vikings failed to make the playoffs.

The Packers? Well, they had one of the best defensive records in the National Football Conference, but the quarterbacking of Scott Hunter was not outstanding. But the Packers won the NFC's Central Division title and went to the playoffs.

With this in mind, how do you figure the Central Division race for the 1973 campaign, keeping in mind that the Vikings had a perfect exhibition season?

The Central Division picture may be the toughest to figure that doesn't mean that the others are easy—except possibly for the East, where Washington should win the title.

That's if Roger Staubach remains healthy and the Dallas Cowboys can overcome their internal problems.

The San Francisco 49ers and Atlanta Falcons will slug it out in the NFC West and, as coaches repeatedly say, the schedule and injuries will have a lot to do with the final outcome.

Here's the way this (forecaster sees the races, by divisions):

Kiner Rejoins Patriots Fold

BOSTON (AP)—Linebacker Steve Kiner, who was expelled from the New England Patriots' training camp two years ago, is back in a Patriots uniform.

The team announced that it is reclaiming Kiner, who had been expelled by former Coach John Mazur.

"It came as a surprise, but I'm glad I'm back," said Kiner. "I liked playing with the Patriots before." Kiner went to Miami on a trade, then finished his season with the Washington Redskins. This year he lost a Redskins starting job to veteran Dave Robinson.

"I just want a chance to be a starter," said Kiner. "I thought I could be one in Washington."

The Patriots also announced that they had placed Charles McKee and Ralph Cindrich on waivers.

McKee is a rookie wide receiver from the University of Arizona. Cindrich is a second-year linebacker from the University of Pittsburgh. He was a starter for the Patriots in the last three games of the 1972 season.

Hwang Eligible For Olympic Job

By Earl Vost

Only 29 men in the world, five in the United States and one in New England, Kwang Sung Hwang of Manchester, are now certified to umpire Tae-Kwon Do international competition, including the 1976 Olympic Games in Montreal.

This honor was gained by Hwang during a 10-day, 60-hour course last month conducted by the International Tae-Kwon Do Federation in Montreal, Canada.

Hwang resides with his wife in the Presidential Apartments. He has his own School of Tae-Kwon Do (karate) on Hilliard St.

The diminutive Korean native, who rose to the rank of captain in the Korean army during the Vietnam conflict, is looking forward to umpiring in the Olympics.

The 30-year-old Hwang stands only 5-5 and weighs 132 pounds.

Certificates in both International Tae-Kwon Do Federation Training and Umpiring were presented to the transplanted Silk Towner. Hwang has umpired in Tae-Kwon Do competitions at a number of Eastern colleges, including Yale University in New Haven and Howard University in Washington, D.C. He has been an instructor in Tae-Kwon Do since 1968.

Hwang became interested in karate while only 11. "I had to because of my size. I was so small that the bigger boys picked on me," he recalled. At age 11, he started taking lessons and four years later at 15 and under 90 pounds, he was awarded a junior black belt.

At 16 and 105 pounds, Hwang gained his first black belt and has added four more black belts since.

Today, Hwang has over 200 students in his local school, including 20 women. Six classes are meeting, one working towards blue belt requirements, two each for green and yellow and one for white. The minimum course runs six months and most students enroll for a one-year period. Hwang is also an instructor in karate at Manchester Community College.

During the Korean War, Hwang was an instructor with the United States Marines' combat troops.

Kwang Sung Hwang

He's been in the United States only 21 months but speaks English fluently. How would a 130-pounder handle a six-six, 250-pound strongman? "Without any trouble," Hwang replied. The '76 Olympics may seem a long way off but Hwang has his sights set on serving as an umpire.

Veteran Bob Sharp Debuts IMSA Event

By Dean Yost

Five-time national Sports Car Club of America (SCCA) titleholder, Bob Sharp, will make his debut in IMSA racing Saturday afternoon at Lime Rock Park behind the wheel of a Datsun 240Z 2.7 litre creation.

The tall, slender driver from Willton will be entered in the Camel GT Twin-100's, a two-stage 100-mile race, featuring Corvettes and Porsches pitted against the Datsun.

When Sharp drives the 240Z on the SCCA circuit, it's powered by a 2.4 litre engine delivering some 230 horsepower. Coming to Lime Rock, Sharp's Datsun will be bolstered by a 2.7 litre powerplant which he feels is competitive with the Corvettes and Porsches.

During practice the Nutmegger was clocked at 58.05 or at a speed of 94.15 mph.

Favored in the Camel GT event will be British Grand Prix champion Pete Revson and Sam Posey.

Also slated on Saturday's card, but in separate events will be the B.F. Goodrich 100 for 'baby grands' which includes Pinto's, Capri's and Toyota's.

In all five separate races, covering some 325 miles will be offered at the scenic, 1.5 mile road course in the northwest section of the state.

Sharp has won two Class C Production SCCA titles behind the wheel of the 240Z, 2.4 litre car, and two Class B sedan championships with a Datsun 610. The other title he holds was captured back in 1967.

Sharp, 34, has been racing competitively since 1960, when he passed his driver's test at Lime Rock, his home course. He has won nearly 30 events at the road course.

It was in 1969 when he opened his dealership that he became associated with the Datsun racing.

Elks Lodge In Groton Bars Blacks
GROTON, Conn. (AP) — The Groton Elks lodge has voted to continue the fraternity's whites only policy, despite the loss of its liquor license and the wishes of the national Elks convention. The vote was taken during a secret meeting Tuesday night. It was confirmed by two members who were present.

The local Elks voted to keep a clause which restricts membership in the fraternity to white men who believe in God. Last July, the national Elks convention voted to abolish the clause, subject to ratification by a majority of the 2,182 lodge. A spokesman for the national organization said Wednesday the vote was run after the plan of repealing the 1888 clause.

Two years ago, the Groton lodge refused to admit Lewis Cornelius Jr., a black from Groton. A federal lawsuit filed by Cornelius against the lodge is pending.

Potter Says Town Should Control Its Wetlands

(Continued from Page 1) Agriculture. Botanical species which are characteristic of wetlands are also used in regulation of wetlands. The wetlands act encourages municipal participation in regulation of wetlands. The act has extended to July 1, 1974, the deadline for local implementation of the act.

If a municipality doesn't take action by then, the Department of Environmental Protection will assume control. If and when Manchester designates a wetlands agency, the initial step would be to promulgate regulations and prepare a precise map of wetlands and water courses in town, advisory committee members agreed Wednesday night.

"Careful designation of the wetlands is the hard part," Potter said. "The local wetlands agency would also have to write regulations, advisory committee members agreed. The state's model regulations could be adopted, but they might be 'too severe' for Manchester," Potter explained.

Once the map and regulations are prepared and approved by the state, the local agency would have to set up a procedure for handling applications and conducting business, members thought. Advisory committee members agreed that the agency would need some kind of staff to handle daily business, and to promulgate regulations and prepare a precise map of wetlands and water courses in town, advisory committee members agreed Wednesday night.

Meadowbrook School Now Parker School

VIVIAN KENNESON Correspondent
The Meadowbrook School has been changed to the Donald M. Parker School.

James Parrish, Board of Education chairman, requested Wednesday night that in recognition of his 18 years in the Tolland school system and that, in effect, Meadowbrook is the Donald M. Parker school, the name be changed. The board voted unanimously.

A resolution was presented by Dr. Kenneth MacKenzie, superintendent of schools, which reads: "Whereas Mr. Donald M. Parker was an elementary principal in the public schools of Tolland from Oct. 1, 1956 to Sept. 2, 1973, and, whereas Mr. Parker, through his devotion to the highest ideals of his chosen profession, touched the lives of many people in this community with inspiration and affection and, whereas God, working in mysterious ways as yet unfathomable to us, called him from his labors on Sept. 2, 1973, therefore, be it resolved that the Tolland Board of Education recognize the untimely passing of this inspired principal and express sympathy to the family of Mr. Donald Parker."

"Be it further resolved that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Tolland Board of Education and a copy sent to his family."

Contribution Fund
Mr. Parker's family has requested that any contributions be sent to the school fund for special children. The fund is in the process of being set up by Hicks Principal Andrew Winans, the Rev. Donald Miller, and Bette Quatrala.

Junta In Chile
(Continued from Page 1) tradition of the Chilean military, which staged its first coup in 46 years last Tuesday. Pinochet came to public attention for the first time last fall when Allende, heading the Western Hemisphere's first elected Marxist government, declared Santiago a military zone with Pinochet in command. Anti-government strikes and rioting shook the country and Pinochet warned that if the army was forced to take to the streets it would be very dangerous "because the army, unlike the police, goes out to kill."

Pinchet had been the army commander-in-chief last year while Gen. Carlos Prats was in command. Last Nov. 2, Prats became commander-in-chief again and Pinchet served as his chief of staff until Prats broke with him on Aug. 23 and retired.

Hoping to keep the military army commander, naming Pinchet army commander.

The three other junta members are the navy and air force commanders-in-chief, Adm. Jose Toribio and Gen. Gaston Leigh Guzman, and the chief of the uniformed police, Gen. Cesar Mendoza.

MCC Students Challenged To Seek Out Broader Goals

June Tompkins
Herald Reporter
Students at Manchester community college are not there only to receive an education to help them earn a living but to help them become a better citizen in today's world. This was the thought that was conveyed by Dr. Frederick W. Lowe Thursday at MCC's 11th annual fall academic convocation in the open amphitheater at the main campus north.

Under his theme, "Education for a Better World," Lowe urged students to seek out broader goals than just a degree. He said that education should be a means to an end, not an end in itself. He encouraged students to get involved in community service and to seek out opportunities to make a difference in the world.

Aillon Given Life Sentences

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Guillermo Aillon was sentenced to three consecutive life terms in prison today for the slayings of his estranged wife and in-laws last year. Superior Court Judge Simon S. Cohen ordered Aillon to prison from 25 years-to-life for each count of murder. Aillon was convicted Sept. 1 of the fatal slayings of his wife, Barbara Montano Aillon, and Mr. and Mrs. J. George Montano in North Haven.

A 12-member jury convicted Aillon of all three murder counts on Sept. 1 after deliberating five days for a total of 47 hours, unprecedented in the state. The Bolivian-born civic worker was accused of going to the Montanos' luxurious 11-room house, entering with a key and stabbing the three victims with a large knife. The Aillons' infant daughter, Catherine, was found under a chair the next day when she was two weeks after Mrs. Aillon left the couple's Wallingford apartment and took Catherine to live with her parents.

Several state witnesses testified that she had said Aillon threatened to kill her and take the baby to South America during an argument. He was drunk at the time, she said. Aillon was cited by the Greater Hartford Juvenile as one of the area's 10 outstanding businessmen of the year.

Tax To Cool Economy Chilled By Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hail of Congressional opposition has greeted a suggestion that President Nixon try to fight inflation by increasing income taxes temporarily and returning the extra funds to taxpayers later. The purpose of the tax increase would be to take money out of the economy, to help slow the current economic boom. If the report given newsmen Thursday by Presidential Counselor Martin R. Laird was intended as a trial balloon — as some congressmen suggested — it may well have been punctured.

Laird, Nixon's principal domestic aide, emphasized there had been no decision to send Congress the plan, which he attributed to Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns. Listing it as one of a number of ideas under consideration, Laird said the proposal was to impose a surcharge, probably of 10 per cent, so that a person who normally paid $1,000 in taxes would pay $1,100 instead. The extra $100 would be refunded in two to five years, after inflation abated. "This is not the same as a tax increase," Laird argued, holding the plan would not violate Nixon's pledge against increasing taxes. But most representatives and senators who commented didn't see it that way. "It looks like a trial balloon they are already backing away from," said Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., acting chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee. Throughout last year's campaign, Nixon promised spending controls and tax cuts would avoid the need to raise taxes. He said, for example, in an Oct. 7, 1972, radio speech, "America needs not a tax increase, but tax relief."

Nixon Lawyers Pondering Court's Tape Compromise Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an unusual move, the U.S. Circuit Court issued an unsigned memorandum asking Nixon, Cox and the President's lawyer, Charles Alan Wright, to listen to the tapes and decide among themselves which portions should be submitted to the grand jury. The court said the memo was not intended as a cue to its leaning on the constitutional questions. The White House had no comment on the proposal. Nixon has refused to allow anyone other than some present and former aides to hear the tapes. Cox said he would be "more than glad to meet with the President or his delegate or any of his attorneys in a sincere effort to determine which, if any, parts should be delivered to the grand jury. Cox subpoenaed the tapes of Nixon's conversations with former White House aides implicated in the scandal. The prosecutor claims that not even the President can resist a court order to provide information vital for a criminal investigation. Nixon claims that the constitutional separation of powers guarantees that a court cannot compel a president to produce confidential information against his will. He also asserts that the tradition of executive privilege shields the confidentiality of a president's communications with his aides. In a four-page memorandum, the appeals court said: "If the President and the special prosecutor agree as to the material needed for the grand jury's functioning, the national interest will be served. At the same time, neither the President nor the special prosecutor would in any way have surrendered or subjected the principles for which they have contended."

State Police Chiefs Install Reardon

John F. Mulcahy Jr., deputy chief state's attorney, in the new Division of Criminal Justice for the State of Connecticut. He said the goal of the division is the attainment of justice in the court system through a uniform system of justice and pledged full cooperation in working with the chiefs of police. Earlier in the day, the association went on record urging that the state's court officers be included in the 100 Club which lends financial assistance to the families of policemen and firemen killed in the line of duty.

Manchester Police Chief James Reardon was installed as president of the Connecticut Chiefs of Police Association at its fall meeting Thursday at the Colony in Vernon. Reardon has served as chief of the Manchester department since 1969, and prior to that spent 23 years with the Connecticut State Police. In his acceptance speech, Chief Reardon expressed his appreciation to all for the confidence placed in him and presented gifts to the retiring president, Jacob Tufano of Monroe.

Other installed officers are: Joseph Pascarella, East Haven, first vice president; Alfred Quinlano, Rocky Hill, second vice president; Frank J. Mariano, Naugatuck, secretary; Joseph A. Ciriello, Watertown, treasurer; and Richard Carlo, Bethel, sergeant-at-arms. At the luncheon, words of welcome were extended by Manchester Mayor Frank McCoy, Robert Weiss, town manager, and Vernon Mayor Frank McGaughey. Robert T. Agostinelli said the "most challenging job of our time is being a chief of police, and we are pleased and honored that you have chosen Chief Reardon to head your group. He is a most respected member of a community in a most difficult task."

Words of appreciation were also expressed by Mrs. Vivian Ferguson and Mrs. Phyllis Jackson of the Board of Directors. Mrs. Ferguson presented the chief with the gift of a gentleman's bank from the gift shop at Manchester Memorial Hospital complete with one penny because the chief (in reference to submitting a budget) knows that 99 cents doesn't make a dollar. Mark Kravitz of the Colony said the association's treasury is richer because of the appreciation fund by Manchester area businessmen who were introduced at the luncheon. The luncheon speaker was

The case reached the appellate court after U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica ordered Nixon to turn over nine tapes to him for a private inspection to determine which, if any, parts should be delivered to the grand jury. Cox subpoenaed the tapes of Nixon's conversations with former White House aides implicated in the scandal.
