Democrats To Open Headquarters

Manchester Democrats will open their campaign headquarters officially at 8 p.m. tonight. The headquarters is at 249 Broad St., in the store formerly occupied by Miles and opposite Dairy Queen.

Democratic Town Chairman Ted Cummings said the evening will be devoted to meeting the candidates and speeches will be minimal, if at all.

"Because the campaign and election is a local one," he explained, "we will stick to local issues and local people. That's why we haven't invited any state or national figures to come and give us a pep talk." The only pep talk he mentioned was the many forward-looking accomplishments of our office-holders. Manchester voters know our record and they will continue to back us."

Parking Lot Bids Invited At Salters

Bids will be opened Oct. 5 in the Manchester Municipal Building for constructing a 66-stall parking lot at Salters Swimming Pool off Lydall St.

The Board of Directors Sept. 11 approved a $200,000 allocation from revenue-sharing funds — to pay for the parking lot, for a basketball court on its northwest corner, and for a walkway and bridge from Tracy Dr.

Bristol Plant Damaged by Fire

—Alice B. Fairbanks, 39, of 13 Milford Rd., was charged Friday night with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and failure to drive in the proper lane. Police said the charges were lodged after a 10:30 p.m. accident on Farker St. in which her car went out of control and struck two trees. She was arrested.

—Cars operated by Richard A. Miner, 35, of 11 Wells St., and Thomas W. Cray, 16, of 38 Elsie Dr., were in collision Saturday night on E. Middle Tpk. Miner was charged with reckless driving.

Court dates for all cases were set for Oct. 15.

Board to Honor Wigren, Kelley

The Manchester Board of Education, when it meets tonight, is expected to act favorably on a resolution naming the baseball diamond and track at Manchester High School to honor two local veteran sports figures.

Although the school board hasn't officially approved the naming, dedication ceremonies have already been scheduled — during halftime at Manchester High's first home CCLL football game, Oct. 20, vs. Maloney High of Meriden.

Action of rewritten, updated board policies on students (general, attendance, and admission) and instruction (curriculum, publications, and organization).

The board meeting is scheduled for 8 tonight at the school administrative offices, 45 N. School St.

Hearing Set On Hike In Sewer Rates

A proposed new rate hike for sewer charges is scheduled for Oct. 2 at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

The proposal, basically, is to establish sewer rates at 100 per cent of water-use fees. The sewer rates are at 90 per cent presently.

The Oct. 2 public hearing is to comply with Section 12-2 of the town charter, which specifies that sewer rates may be changed by the Board of Directors, but not until "after a public hearing."

Water and sewage bills to Manchester customers for the period ended Aug. 24 were on the basis of a sewer charge equal to 100 per cent of the water-use charge.

When it was pointed out to town officials that the Board of Directors had never officially approved the sewer rate hike, customers were told they would get credit for the overcharge and the public hearing was scheduled.

Skylab 2 Crew Returns Tonight

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab 2's astronauts return from man's longest space adventure today, guiding their slightly disabled Apollo 17 to rejoin with a tricky flying technique.

Alan L. Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma are returning from a 59-day voyage during which they traveled more than 24 million miles and gathered a wealth of scientific data on the earth, sun and man.

Although the entire firing procedure that the Skylab 2 astronauts must use has never been fully practiced in space, flight controllers are confident it will pose no problem for the spacecraft.

It is necessary because two of four steering rockets on the Apollo 17 ship have developed leaks. Techniques

Buckland Area Development Hearing Re-Set

Public hearings on zone changes requested to permit development of a major residential-commercial center at Buckland have been postponed a month, the Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) was informed Monday night.

The five parcels involved, totaling about 270 acres, are now in Rural Residence Zones.

The 10-to-15-year development project proposed by MAP Associates includes plans for a shopping center, a hotel-convention center, office buildings, and a condominium community which will include a library, church, and recreational facilities as well as housing.

The Sept. 10 public hearing on the application was apparently disrupted by opponents to the proposal. The Municipal Building's hearing room was overflowing at the hearing, and the PZC's decision on the application was postponed to Monday night's business meeting.

Business meetings, conducted on the last Monday of the month, are usually only attended by a handful of lawyers and the press.

Chairman Clarence Wellt told the small crowd that the commission still has insufficient information about water and sewer facilities in the area, and therefore could not yet act on the application.

Wellt said the commission "isn't trying to delay" action on the application, and he emphasized that tabling of the decision was done "without prejudice."

The applicants, A. Anderson and Frank and Albert Sedlack, are seeking a zone change from Rural Residence to Residence M Zone — on two parcels: 20 acres on Woodside St., and 30 acres on Hilltown Rd.

Democrats Launch Town Campaign

"We kept our pledge," is what Democratic Town Chairman Ted Cummings said, as he points to the slogan carried by Manchester Democrats in their 1971 election campaign. Looking on are, from the left, incumbent Town Director Phyllis Jackson, appointed in February to fill a vacancy and running for re-election; Robert Price, running for the seat on the Board of Directors being vacated by Jon Norris and Carolyn Becker, running for the seat on the Board of Education being vacated by Beldon Schaffner; and Phyllis Jackson, appointed in February to fill a vacancy and running for re-election; Robert Price, running for the seat on the Board of Directors being vacated by Jon Norris and Carolyn Becker, running for the seat on the Board of Education being vacated by Beldon Schaffner; and Phyllis Jackson, appointed in February to fill a vacancy and running for re-election; Robert Price, running for the seat on the Board of Directors being vacated by Jon Norris and Carolyn Becker, running for the seat on the Board of Education being vacated by Beldon Schaffner.

Fuel Controls Predicted

GLENEDEEN BEACH, Ore. (AP) — Interior Secretary Rogers C. Morton says he is urging President Nixon to ration heating oil this winter, but even if he does "there are going to be people who are going to be cold."

Morton was joined in his call for the rationing of heating oil by John A. Love, Nixon's special energy adviser. They made their remarks in appearances before the Western Governors Conference.

The two men said the administration had advanced to Nixon dealt only with rationing on a geographic basis and did not contemplate rationing to the consumer. Morton said he expected Nixon to decide on the proposals in two weeks.

He spoke of a plan that would allocate heating oil to perhaps 14 or 15 areas of the country. The idea then would be to have government officials in each of the areas to keep track of specific problems.

Love, a former Colorado governor, said the nation will experience "very real difficulties" in the energy field for the next three to five years.

"We must, as Americans, realize the depth and seriousness of this problem," Love told the 12 governors seated at a conference at this seaside resort. It devoted exclusively to the energy crisis.

Both Love and Morton appealed to the "American spirit."

"This country is not going to be in a handkerchief by this winter. We're probably going to be as much as five to seven per cent short" on heating oil, Morton said.

"There's going to be a lot of political writing about it. But I

Pension Reform Plans Brighten

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects that Congress will complete action this year on a pension reform bill have brightened after plans for House consideration were speeded up.

The acting chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., told his colleagues Monday that the committee will begin work on private pension reform next Monday. Ullman said the committee will start work on the bill passed last week by the House. The bill, which was attached to a rider to a minor House bill, was designed to coordinate the pension reform legislation by completing a one-way, besides Brainerd, Locust St., and part of Pearl St. The one-way designation is effective immediately, police say. Incidentally, the maximum penalty for conviction of going the wrong way on a one-way street is a $50 fine. (Herald photo by Bevins)

Hunt Suspects Baldwin Was Double Agent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt testified today that he suspects one of his own Watergate bugging crew was a double agent who helped the wiretappers to police.

Hunt told the Senate Watergate committee that "the most likely subject" to have been a double agent was Alfred Baldwin, who monitored the Watergate wiretap at Democratic headquarters for the conspirators, but who later testified against the others at their trial in January.

Former FBI agent Baldwin was never charged in the case. Hunt's double-agent theory was drawn out in questioning by Republican Sen. Edward J. Gurney of Florida.

He said he suspected Baldwin for a number of reasons. Hunt said Baldwin was hired without much checking on his background. Baldwin has strong opposition to the zone change request.

PZC members seemed surprised to see a crowd at Monday night's business meeting. Business meetings, conducted on the last Monday of the month, are usually only attended by a handful of lawyers and the press.

Chairman Clarence Wellt told the small crowd that the commission still has insufficient information about water and sewer facilities in the area, and therefore could not yet act on the application.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt testified today that he suspects one of his own Watergate bugging crew was a double agent who helped the wiretappers to police.

Hunt told the Senate Watergate committee that "the most likely subject" to have been a double agent was Alfred Baldwin, who monitored the Watergate wiretap at Democratic headquarters for the conspirators, but who later testified against the others at their trial in January.

Former FBI agent Baldwin was never charged in the case. Hunt's double-agent theory was drawn out in questioning by Republican Sen. Edward J. Gurney of Florida.

He said he suspected Baldwin for a number of reasons. Hunt said Baldwin was hired without much checking on his background. Baldwin has strong opposition to the zone change request.

PZC members seemed surprised to see a crowd at Monday night's business meeting. Business meetings, conducted on the last Monday of the month, are usually only attended by a handful of lawyers and the press.

Chairman Clarence Wellt told the small crowd that the commission still has insufficient information about water and sewer facilities in the area, and therefore could not yet act on the application.

Wellt said the commission "isn't trying to delay" action on the application, and he emphasized that tabling of the decision was done "without prejudice."

The applicants, A. Anderson and Frank and Albert Sedlack, are seeking a zone change from Rural Residence to Residence M Zone — on two parcels: 20 acres on Woodside St., and 30 acres on Hilltown Rd.

If The Price Is Right

If the price is right people will buy almost anything and too often it is something they do not really want nor need.
When the experimental "Nickel Day" for Connecticut Co. buses was tried, people came out in droves to ride the buses.

While the nickel fare may be unrealistically low, it is estimated the cost of the promotion was more than $40,000 it does prove that price is a factor which must be considered in mass transit planning.

For in addition to service, reasonable schedules, and routing, the price must be right also.

Price is important, we think. Where price is not object, the person wishing to travel (or who has to commute to work) will use his car. On the other hand, the person who needs some form of mass transit is most likely to be the person who is too old to drive, or one on a fixed income which makes car ownership too costly, or, and we think this is most important, the working husband and wife who really cannot afford two cars for commuting purposes.

The promotion will of course be partially subsidized by the state which is subsidizing the bus firm.

We commend the firm and the State Transportation Department for conducting the experiment.

We would hope it leads to other innovative attempts to make bus use popular and more economical.

It is interesting to note that the nickel fare doubled ridership. A higher fare, but yet a bit lower than existing ones, might not produce such spectacular results but we would suggest the idea of reduced fares be more fully explored because it doesn't cost any more to haul four passengers than it does 40 if you get the 40 to use the bus regularly.

This may mean a higher subsidy for awhile until bus use habits are re-established. But it would appear a lower fare, plus improved equipment which has been promised from federal funds in the near future, may help mass transit reach a point where private operation will be profitable again.

If the price is right, service good, schedules fit riders' needs, busing can be an attractive alternative to the ever-increasing cost of the luxury of one-man, one-car transportation.

Selective Buying

Beef prices failed to take a sharp increase in price in the first few days after the lifting of price controls and industry spokesmen pointed to consumer resistance as the reason.

With artificial controls now lifted, it remains in the power of the consumer to control prices, barring unusual and unpredictable circumstances such as drought, crop failure or loss of beef cattle due to severe weather.

Beef is moving slowly in many areas and food lot operators who speculated on a quick price rise after the freeze, found themselves with prices far lower than they had anticipated due to consumer reluctance to pay high prices.

We have an idea that beef for the table can be purchased now at lower prices than were in effect at the time of scarce buying which saw stocks of freezers depleted as frantic buyers bought beef, as if there never was going to be any more.

The housewife controls the market, all other factors being equal. If she shies away from high priced merchandise, be it meat or foodstuffs, or other commodities, the price will inevitably go down. If she buys at any price, prices will go up.

And there's good news on the horizon for prices to remain reasonable in the future. A bumper corn and grain crop is predicted this harvest. If feed grains are plentiful stockmen can bring cattle to market at lower prices than have prevailed this year, partly because of mass sales of grain to the Soviet Union and to China.

We do not think there is any substance to the worry of beef producers that the American taste for a good steak has been diminished by resort to other protein sources during the period of high prices.

We do hope, however, that the public is aware that there are other foods and will choose wisely if shortages in any particular commodity arise in the future.

Today In History

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 25, the 268th day of 1973. There are 97 days left in the year.
In 1959, Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Great Britain visited the United States.
In 1960, the first Japanese military meeting in New York, adopted 12 amendments to the Constitution. Ten of the Amendments became the bill of rights.
On this date —
In 1513, the Spanish explorer, Balboa, crossed the Isthmus of Panama and discovered the Pacific Ocean.
In 1775, the American Revolutionary War hero, Ethan Allen, was captured by the British and Indians as he led an attack on Montreal.
In 1890, Yosemite National Park in California was established.
In 1940, in World War II the pro-Nazi quisling government was set up in Norway.
In 1947, U.S. Army troops escorted nine young Negroes into

Today's Thought

It is a divine law that self-discipline is essential to victorious living. Happiness is never achieved by self-indulgence. To cater to my sensual appetites and momentary urges produces ill-health, emotional uneasiness over my immaturity, and alienation of people who suffer from my selfish hedonism.
To follow Jesus demands self-denial, Matt. 16:24, meaning the subordination of personal inclinations to a higher purpose. Temperance (self-control) is listed among the graces leading to the abundant life here and hereafter (2 Peter 1:5-11). Sooner or later the self-indulgent hedonist faces the discomfiture of knowing he is a slave to the momentary, while lasting values have eluded him.

Max Lerner Comments On Linkage

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The word linkage (unit). It is a word Henry Kissinger uses frequently. For world politics comprises a myriad of interrelations, as if it were an electronic circuit. It is not-as it has been sometimes defined—the science of the enemy. World politics is the science and art of the quid pro quo, the trade-off of something you want against something the other nation wants, something it has for something you have. In fact, one might define peace not as the absence of violence (there can be cold war tensions without a shot being fired), but as a situation in which such trade-offs become daily and habitual. That, I take it, is what the new secretary of state is driving at. If he succeeds, history may know him as the trade-off or linkage secretary.

Take as two instances the current linkage problem of the United States and Western Europe, and the United States and the Soviet Union.
Helmuth Sonnenfeldt, a crucial member of the Kissinger team on Europe, is quoted as saying that the United States has found it harder to negotiate with its European allies than with its Soviet opponent. The reason is that Soviet leaders are old hands at practicing trade-offs, while the Europeans are not yet a political community and have yet to develop mobility of decision and unity of action. Each member nation watches the others jealously, and all of them together are wary lest their giant brother across the Atlantic best them in the linkage operation.

Expect More From Spiro

WASHINGTON — Reports came by the estimable Wall Street Journal that Vice President Agnew gets his vittles and booze gratis from a super-market chain and a friendly Maryland banker recall—fully — a story about the late Mayor Jim Curley of Boston. Curley, a politician Diogenes would have passed over swiftly in his search for an honest man, appeared before the Golden Gates for admission into Heaven. He was met by St. Peter, who asked a few questions and then withdrew to check the records. When Peter returned, Curley was gone — and so were the Golden Gates. "O temporal O mores!" We don't even have any good, get-your-teeth-into scandals anymore. Curley may not have stolen the Golden Gates, but he was of a generation that thought big. In Curley's day, a politician risked being dropped by his club members, most Republicans and Democrats, circa 1973, flich in a year.

Whatever goodies Agnew received from his well-to-do pals, it sounds like nickel-and-dime stuff comparable to the weekly bottle of pop that he extorted from the corner saloonkeeper by his friendly constable in the good days. Have our leaders fallen upon such penny that they are reduced to looting piggy banks? Probably not. I suspect politicians of both parties are still stealing respectable amounts of the taxpayers' dough and getting away with it. Agnew's misfortune is that the atmosphere produced by Watergate has so fouled the air that every stolen steak furtively donated to a VIP becomes a cause celebre.

Moreover, the timing was bad. Agnew is linked to Watergate only as a player on the Nixon team, but the Journal's story of that free food and liquor for the Vice President was confronted with revelations that the Justice Department was investigating his possible involvement in bribery, extortion and tax fraud during his public service in Maryland.

The Russian leaders don't regard detente as too high a price to pay for the chance to buy American crops and other products on a par with other countries. The trade-off against this has been, presumably, a sympathetic Soviet attitude toward American problems in Southeast Asia, and perhaps in the Middle East, and a willingness to go on with another round of SALT talks on nuclear weapons.

At this point the problem of Soviet repression of its intellectual dissenters comes into the linkage equation. Leonid Brezhnev has combined detente abroad, toward the United States (although not toward China), with repression at home. The Soviet intellectual leaders—notably Alexander Solzhenitsyn and Andrei D. Sakharov, who are the European and let the United States get off the economic hook. It is on, with dollar weakness and unfavorable trade balances.

The Russian case is an even more drastic instance of the linkage idea. What the Russians need most badly from the United States is food and technology. Although Communist regimes are primarily agricultural, they have notoriously failed to raise enough food. On this score, the Communist world has done far better and is becoming a kind of food basket even for the Communist world.

The Nixon-Kissinger team is reluctant to push the linkage idea this far, and Kissinger has publicly stated his fear that American pressure on this score would mean damage to the detente and a renewal of the nuclear race. Yet the event has proved his public fears wrong, whatever his private hopes. The Russians couldn't stand the heat of world opinion, and they got out of the kitchen. For the moment, at least, while the Jackson amendment was before the Senate, they called off their organized campaign against Sakharov.

It is living proof that, even in global politics, the power of the media may be more powerful than the idea of power, and it is a living illustration of the surprising uses of linkage.

Lobbyists Watch Proposed Rules

HARTFORD (AP) — Connecticut lobbyists, who earned nearly a quarter of a million dollars during the last legislative session, will be watching with keen interest as the 1974 General Assembly moves to regulate their activities.

A subcommittee is preparing a bill that would increase registration and financial reporting requirements. Currently only paid lobbyists must register with the secretary of the state and only their employers must file expense reports.

Fred K. Biemel Jr., whose Stratford-based corporation, Mace, received more than $20,000 in lobbying fees this year, told The Associated Press he would object to telling the legislature anything if he wanted to know about the organizations he represents.

Legislator-turned-lobbyist Roy H. Ervin of Fairfield said he might be willing to file a single expense report at the end of a session, but to require more than one would be asking too much.

"I'd be wasting time figuring out every trip I made to Hartford, I have enough trouble doing that once a year for income tax," he said.

The subcommittee is studying California's law, which requires lobbyists to file financial reports twice each month, even when the legislature is not in session.

"We can be tough in the areas we want without eliminating all contact between lobbyists and legislators," said Rep. Joseph M. Pugliese, R-Plainville.

Lobbyists and legislators agree that the professional lobbyist often is useful in furnishing information about a particular subject.

"People think of lobbyists as persons who go to the Capitol and twist arms. But public lobbying is only the tip of the iceberg. Ninety per cent of a lobbyist's time is spent in months of research and preparing legislation," Biemel said.

"The registered lobbyist isn't a Voter Session. A 4 to 8 p.m. voter-making session will be held Saturday in the town clerk's office in the Manchester Municipal Building. Eligible applicants must be at least 18 years of age, residents of Manchester and U.S. citizens. New voters may sign up also on any weekday, during regular office hours, in the town clerk's and registrar of voters' offices. The latter also is in the Municipal Building.

Huge Crop Forecast By CLC

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — The country will have the "largest crops in history this fall," a U.S. Coast of Living Council official predicted Monday.

Hazen F. Gale, director of the Council's Policy Analysis Division, said the farm boom will continue through 1974 and the eventual result will be a decrease in food costs, but not this year.

Addressing 240 delegates and officials at the 56th annual convention of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture, Gale said price increases will slow down through the end of this year.

"We'll turn the corner on food prices and see a turn downward in them a year from now," he said. Setbacks in the Nixon administration's economic policies were caused by the "economic cycles in several commodities peaking at the same time," Gale said. Beef, poultry, pork and eggs were all high concurrently, with no other high-protein food at a low price. "To take the pressure off,"

Fire Leaves 1,500 Jobless

BRISTOL (AP) — About 1,500 employees of the New Departure Hyatt Ball Bearing plant are out of work because of the fire that swept through part of the factory Sunday night.

No injuries were reported in the blaze. Officials of the plant and General Motors Corp., which owns the factory, haven't yet determined the amount of damage.

John B. Depot, personnel director, said all employees in the assembly division will be able to return to work Tuesday, but those in the "grind" section will be out indefinitely.

Officials said the fire started when one of the machines overheated and ignited oil. The flames spread and damaged about 40 machines in the "grind" section, they said.

Heralding Politics

By Sol R. Cohen

Manchester Democrats padded their lead over Manchester Republicans by about 400 during the period Sept. 1, 1972 to Aug. 31, 1973, figures released by the secretary of the state's office reveal. The Democratic lead was 1,397 a year ago, compared to 1,765 this year.

Manchester registrations increased by 2,138 during the 12 months — from 26,451 in 1972 to this year. The Democrats, with 11,082 voters as of Aug. 31, gained 615; the Republicans, with 9,287, gained 217; the unaffiliated, with 8,220, showed the biggest gain by far — 1,316.

The Manchester trend in the past 12 months reversed the statewide trend, which saw Republicans outregistering Democrats for the first time in two decades. However, statewide as in Manchester new unaffiliated voters out-numbered new voters for both parties.

As of Aug. 31, new registered Republicans statewide numbered 21,580 and new registered Democrats 20,707, for a 813 Republican margin. New unaffiliated numbered 62,016 during the same period. Connecticut Democrats still hold a 153,905 lead over the Republicans. Of the state's 1,811,988 voters, 594,995 are Democrats, 441,790 are unaffiliated and 574,833 are Republican. The remaining 625 are members of minor parties.

Rare Fever Case Reported

HARTFORD (AP) — A two-year-old Hartford girl developed Rocky Mountain spotted fever last month, becoming only the eighth person ever reported to have the disease in Connecticut, the state Health Department said Monday.

State Health Commissioner Franklin M. Foose said the girl began showing signs of the disease after returning from a trip to Virginia. Ten days after developing a sore throat, fever and a rash she was hospitalized and while being treated went into shock once and was near death twice, Foose said. He said the child is home now.

"Holiday Goodies" with Frank P. Lattuca Jr. as guest speaker is the theme of the Monday meeting of the Ladies Guild of Assumption. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the church hall.

John Stamp and Dale Swett each scored two extra points. Craig Jensen, who caught a 30-yard pass from Dane Ward, also had three other receptions. Three extra points were kicked by Kevin Shorey. Dane Ward threw six passes, completing five.

Defensive linemen Randy Fish, Kevin Shorey, Billy Gram, Hal Sanborn, Brett Hussey, Craig Jensen and Jay Fontanella were tremendous as usual said Head Coach Gil Boissoneau, repeatedly throwing the Newton backs for losses. The Bolton Tigers were not so lucky in their third game of the midweek season, losing to the Ellington Roadrunners 40-0. The game did not count for the Southern Division Conference Championship.

In the conference the Tigers have a record of one win and one loss with two games yet to be played. Herrick Memorial Park will see a doubleheader Sunday with the Tigers leading off against

Manchester at 1:30 followed by the Bulldogs against Windsor.

Planning Seminars Start Wednesday

Vernon

Mayor Frank McCoy has arranged with the University of Connecticut, the presentation of a seminar on planning and urban development starting Wednesday.

The series of 12 meetings will be held in the Circuit Court Rooms, Memorial Building, Park Place at 7:30 p.m. on consecutive Wednesday nights.

Mayor McCoy said while the seminar is primarily intended for town officials and members of town commissions, it will also be open to the public. Interested persons from adjoining towns may also attend.

The program has been made available to municipal officials under an interagency agreement between the State Personnel Department and the Institute of Public Service of the university.

George E. Hill, associate extension professor of the Institute of Public Service, will serve as moderator for the series. The subjects to be discussed, after the first meeting which will be an introduction to the course, will include planning in the social context; goals formulation and the general plan, planning tools (two meetings); urban design and urban appearance; organization and administration of local planning; and a summary of the total series.

Mayor McCoy has notified all commissions of the seminar as well as having notified officials of area towns. Several months ago Mayor Frank McCoy appointed a Zoning Task Force to study in depth the town's zoning laws.

Guest Speaker

"Holiday Goodies" with Frank P. Lattuca Jr. as guest speaker is the theme of the Monday meeting of the Ladies Guild of Assumption. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the church hall.

John Stamp and Dale Swett each scored two extra points. Craig Jensen, who caught a 30-yard pass from Dane Ward, also had three other receptions. Three extra points were kicked by Kevin Shorey. Dane Ward threw six passes, completing five.

Defensive linemen Randy Fish, Kevin Shorey, Billy Gram, Hal Sanborn, Brett Hussey, Craig Jensen and Jay Fontanella were tremendous as usual said Head Coach Gil Boissoneau, repeatedly throwing the Newton backs for losses. The Bolton Tigers were not so lucky in their third game of the midweek season, losing to the Ellington Roadrunners 40-0. The game did not count for the Southern Division Conference Championship.

In the conference the Tigers have a record of one win and one loss with two games yet to be played. Herrick Memorial Park will see a doubleheader Sunday with the Tigers leading off against

Manchester at 1:30 followed by the Bulldogs against Windsor.

Bulletin Board
The football executive board will meet Tuesday at 9 p.m. at Town Hall.

Bolton Town Meeting Oct. 1st

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent

Bolton's annual town meeting has been set for Oct. 1 at 8 p.m. at the town hall.

Along with receiving annual reports from boards and commissions as required by law five times are on the agenda.

Townpeople qualified to vote will be asked to approve the appropriation of $45,000 from capital and non-recurring for the acquisition of the Maxwell property on Bolton Center Rd.

Voters will be asked to accept the following as town roads: Rolling Hills Trail, Brookside Lane and Rosewood Lane.

Voters will be asked to accept a parcel of land from Antonio Giuliani and Maria Giuliani for the purpose of establishing the street line along Tinker Pond, Birch Mountain and Villa Louisa Rds. where said roads about the Anthony Heights subdivision.

The agenda includes a request for voters to act on an ordinance concerning the possession and consumption of alcoholic liquor on public property.

Also voters will be asked to act on a request for Bolton to become a member of the Capitol Region Council of Government (CROG).

By a vote of 4-2 the Board of Finance approved the appropriation of $45,000 for the purchase of the Maxwell property so that it could be included on the agenda for the annual town meeting Oct. 1 for residents to either approve or disapprove.

Board members William Riley and Sidling Sattar voted against the appropriation, feeling the price was too high for a half acre of land and a 70-year old house that would require maintenance and renovation.

Other board members voted to approve the appropriation as they felt the property was located in an area the town hopes to expand as its administrative center.

Bolton's Selectmen attended the finance board meeting to express their approval of the purchase of First Selectman Richard Morris recommending bonding the purchase price for a period of five years.

Revenue Adjustment Dana Hanson, director of the CROG, notified the selectmen that Bolton should be receiving a check for $20,570 as a net adjustment from previous grants received in federal revenue sharing funds.

Payments for periods 1, 2 and 3 were $20,801, 19,961 and $24,804 respectively, compared to the entitlements for the same periods of $20,800 and $24,224 respectively, leaving the net adjustment, $20,570.

Civil Defense Eugene Gagliardone was appointed by the selectmen as the senior citizen representative to the civil defense advisory council to fill a vacancy.

Scott F. Leonard has completed the Aeronautical Maintenance Technology Course at East Coast Aero Technical School, Hamson Field, Lexington, Mass. where he prepared for the Federal Aviation Agency examination to become a licensed Airframe and Powerplant Technician.

Scott is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Richard Leonard, 66 Cider Mill Rd., Bolton.

Morra To Meet Bryant First Selectman Richard Morra planned to meet today with Mrs. Jacqueline Bryant, representative from the Greater Hartford Brotherhood Club of Hartford, to discuss how Bolton may participate in sustaining work being carried out on behalf of alcoholics by the club.

Morra will report on the results of the meeting at the next Selectmen's meeting.

Girl Scout Troop 666 Girl Scout Troop 666 will begin meeting Thursday at 8:30 a.m. at the Bolton Congregational Church under the co-leadership of Mrs. Sidling Sattar and Mrs. Charles Anderson.

Other board members voted to approve the appropriation as they felt the property was located in an area the town hopes to expand as its administrative center.

Rham Middle School Plan Undecided

ANNE EMT
Correspondent
Tel. 248-3971

Even though the Regional District 8 Board of Education Monday evening set Nov. 13 at 8 p.m. at Rham High School as the date for a district meeting on a proposed middle school, it is still undecided as to what proposal to submit.

The original specifications for the proposed school, as drawn up by Dr. David Cattanch, superintendent of the schools, call for approximately 145,784 square feet to house 900 students with core facilities to allow expansion to 1,400 pupils.

However, the state Board of Education, after review of the specifications, recommended a 600 pupil school with core facilities to 800.

According to Dr. Cattanch, rough estimates of cost of construction for the first, with 150,000 square feet and the latter with 130,000 square feet, would run between six and seven million dollars.

Realizing this to be highly imprecise, Dr. Cattanch informed the board he had consulted with four different architects asking them for estimates on a 600 pupil school, with expansion to 800, exclusive of site purchase but including site development.

The estimates ranged from $3,000,000 for 70,000 square feet to $4,125,000 for 80,000 square feet. Averaging out all four estimates, Dr. Cattanch guessed that the minimum of a 600-pupil school with expansion to 800 "would be somewhat in the vicinity" of 70,000 square feet at a cost of $3,600,000, two-thirds of which would be reimbursable by the state.

He further estimated that it would be necessary, if this proposal were approved, to raise approximately $7,000 per year, over a 20-year period, through taxes from the district towns of Hebron, Andover and Marlborough to cover the interest. This would amount to a member from Hebron, also pointed out the possibility that by 1980 there could be full regionalization of the schools, as required by the state, instead of only Grades 7 through 12 as presently exists.

Considering all these possibilities, the board requested Dr. Cattanch to investigate further cost figures for a proposed school for 600 pupils but with core facilities to expand to 900 or even 1,000 students.

Thompson also requested a breakdown on exactly what core facilities, such as gymnasium, auditorium, etc. would be included in the cost figures. However, Dr. Cattanch stated this would be impossible until such time as an architect is hired to determine the exact layout of the building.

The new cost figures will be presented to the board at its Oct. 15 meeting at which time it will reach a definite decision on exactly what proposal should be brought before the district meeting.

Most of us have had the frustrating experience of putting our nickels, dimes or quarters into a vending machine only to get coffee without a cup, a stale ham sandwich, or worse, nothing and no return of our money. The vending machine cannot listen to our complaints but the owners can. By law, the name, address, and telephone number (where someone can be reached 24 hours a day) of the vending machine operator must appear on the machine.

Besides this requirement, all vending machine operators whose machines dispense food or drink that is not hermetically sealed (canned) must be licensed by our department. Our Food Division not only inspects the vending machines to assure that the food or drink is wholesome and safe, but it also inspects the places where the product is prepared and the vehicles in which it is transported.

If you ever find a vending machine in an unsanitary condition or containing food unfit to eat, write or call our Food Division. The address is below and the phone number is 566-2388.

A one-semester, three-credit course in general psychology will be offered by the Extension Services Division of Manchester Community College starting Wednesday at Glastonbury High School.

An introductory course, Psychology 111 will cover such areas as the history and systems of psychology, learning principles, thinking and problem solving, intelligence, emotion, motivation, personality theory and social psychology.

The instructor of the 16-week course will be Barry Shekling, a lecturer in psychology, director of the MCC Model Cities Training Institute, and cross country coach.

Further information can be obtained by calling the MCC Extension Division at 666-2157 or 666-2158.

Low Bus Fare Plan May Be Tried Again

HARTFORD (AP) - The state may support low-fare or free bus service in the future, according to Joseph B. Burns, who takes over as Connecticut transportation commissioner Oct. 10.

However, he said in an interview, "I'd have to see what the difference is between bus costs and the money used for new highway maintenance" before deciding on reduced fares.

Last Thursday, the state Department of Transportation lowered fares for the day to five cents in New Haven, Hartford and Stamford.

A spokesman said ridership more than doubled from its usual Thursday volume of 70,000.

Bush Served Up Home Run No. 714

When Babe Ruth collected the 714th home run of his major league career while wearing the uniform of the Boston Braves, less than 10,000 fans were in old Forbes Field in Pittsburgh.

Who was the pitcher who served up the home run Ruth, No. 714?
Pat McCarthy, a die-hard wool baseball fan who was a proponent for several years at The Herald, did some research and came up with the answer.

It was the veteran Guy Bush, who earlier had established himself as a standout pitcher with the Chicago Cubs.

Bush, in fact, served up the last two homers Ruth ever hit.

On that memorable day, May 25, 1935, Ruth called it a career after a three-homer performance. In the first inning, with Bill Urbanski on base, the Bambino tied into a Red Lucas pitch and sent it into the stands.

Ruth also had a single in a perfect four-for-four performance in which he drew in six of the Braves' seven runs in an 11-7 loss.

The Associated Press had this to say about Ruth's exit in the big show:

Ruth left the game amid an ovation at the end of the seventh inning after his third home run - a prodigious clout that carried clear over the rightfield grandstand, bounded onto the street and rolled into Schenley Park. Baseball men said it was the longest drive ever made at Forbes Field.

With Hank Aaron of Atlanta just two homers away from Ruth's magic four-base total, the pitcher who serves up No. 715 for the Braves' slugger will be a man whose name will be remembered for years to come. No research will be necessary as in Ruth's case.

Another Sponsor Willing
Sam Crispino, owner of Supreme Foods, said he will sponsor a team in the proposed adult baseball league in Manchester next summer.

They fell one short, but clubbed the Tigers 14-0 Monday night, rattling the fences off four young pitchers while Marty Patten was shutting out Detroit to raise his record to 14-15.

It was no way to treat a Family Night crowd of 12,108 in the final home game of the 1973 season.

But why should the Red Sox worry about hurting feelings? The Tigers beat them 15 out of 16 games this year.

"We look it all out in one game - all the frustration," said Boston manager Eddie Kasko.

In the opposite clubhouse Tiger Manager Joe Schultz said, "He can have that one. I'll take the other 15."

The loss dropped Detroit back to third place a game behind the Red Sox in the American League East. But they more clinched first Saturday.

Detroit has six games left on the road, beginning tonight when the Tigers open a three-game series in Baltimore with Jim Perry, 14-12, pitching against Jesse Jefferson, 5-5, of the Orioles.

It could be the 36-year-old Perry's last game as a Tiger. General Manager Jim Campbell already has started cleaning house for next year and chances are Perry won't be around.

Smith poked a two-run homer in the first inning, singled in a run in the third and drove one in with a sacrifice fly in the ninth. Yastrzemski hit a ninth-inning three-run shot in the fifth, while Harper hit a grand slam in the sixth after Farmer had given up three straight hits and a walk. Cooper doubled in a run in the seventh. Montgomery's RBI came on a bases-loaded walk in the eighth.

Three Divisional Races Settled

NEW YORK (AP) — ...and then, there was one. The third of baseball's four divisional races was settled Monday night when the Cincinnati Reds nailed down their third National League West crown in four seasons by defeating San Diego 2-1.

That leaves only the NL East still undecided with five teams still alive in the season's final week. Pittsburgh remains one-half game behind the New York Mets there after splitting a twilight doubleheader with Montreal.

The second place Pirates lost the opener to the Expos 5-4 but took the nightcap 3-0. Elsewhere in the NL, it was Houston 10, San Francisco 6. In the American League, Boston walloped Detroit 14-3, California beat Texas 10-9 and Minnesota nipped Oakland 7-6.

The Reds took the traditional champagne shower in stride after clinching the NL West. "I think we're more subdued this time," said catcher Johnny Bench. "We're waiting for the third spot - the World Series - rather than getting excited over the first one."

The Reds also won West titles and NL pennants in 1970 and 1972 only to be beaten in the Series both times.

One guy who did get worked up over the clinching was pitcher Dick Boney, who hasn't been through this before. "It's the ultimate," said Boney. "The day I dreamed about as a kid."

Boney, who spent the first part of this season being cut by two minor league clubs, got to pitch the clincher and earned the victory on home runs by Tony Perez and Andy Kosco.

The Reds' clinching victory was their 58th in 81 games since July 1 when they were 11 games behind.

Expos 5-0, Pirates 4-3
Willie Stargell homered in each game as Pittsburgh split with Montreal, losing the first game 5-4 but taking the nightcap 3-0. The two homers gave the Pirates slugger 44, tops in the majors. He has had 33 hits in 90 at bats with eight homers and 24 runs batted in this month.

Their first game loss left the Pirates even in that important category with the New York Mets. The Mets have six games remaining and the Pirates, who have one less victory than New York, have seven to play.

Mike Marshall nailed down the Expos' first game victory, picking up his 30th save of the season when he retired Al Oliver with runners at second and third in the ninth inning.

The nightcap belonged to Stargell, who homered, made an outstanding catch on Ken Stangtion and threw out a runner trying to score.

Lee May and Cesar Cedeno crashed home runs, leading Houston to a 10-4 victory over San Francisco. May's homer was his 28th and Cedeno's three-run shot was No. 24 for him.

Jerry Reuss earned the victory with ninth inning help from Ken Forsch.

California 10, Texas 9
Lee Stanton's pinch double capped a two-out ninth inning rally that carried California past Texas, 10-9.

The Rangers had scored seven runs in the top of the ninth to take the lead but the Angels loaded the bases in the bottom of the ninth with two out. A pair of walks to Richie Scheinblum and Charlie Sands forced home two runs before Stanton delivered the decisive hit.

Alex Johnson had three singles and three RBIs for Texas.

Twins 7, A's 6
Minnesota roared from behind with five runs in the seventh inning, two of them on a double by George Mitterwald, to overtake Oakland 7-6.

Reggie Jackson blasted a three-run homer for the A's, his 32nd of the season but first since Aug. 22.

Oakland Manager Dick Williams, preparing for a possible World Series when his pitchers will have to bat, used four of them as pinch hitters. Catfish Hunter singled, Ken Holtzman walked, Dorell Knowles delivered a sacrifice fly and Vida Blue tripled.

Trailed By 11 Games in July

Champagne Taste Sweet In Flag-Clinching Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dick Boney's champagne had a sweet taste to it Monday night.

"Nobody wanted me in July, and now this," said the 25-year-old Cincinnati pitcher, who stopped bouncing around baseball long enough to win the biggest game of his life.

Boney, drawing his first National League salary, tossed seven out innings against the San Diego Padres in a pennant-clinching 2-1 victory.

Solo homers by Tony Perez and Andy Kosco were all Boney, 2-1, needed. Boos greeted Manager George "Sparky" Anderson when he elected to mop up the last two innings with Tom Hall and Pedro Borbon, who gave up a two-out home to Ivan Murrell in the ninth.

The victory capped the Reds' greatest pennant rally, trailing by 11 games on July 4, Cincinnati reeled off 58 wins over the last 81 games to overtake the Los Angeles Dodgers and clinch the team's third Western Division title in four years.

The Reds hold a six-game lead with five games remaining.

"We've got a great momentum going for us and it will carry us right through," said Pete Rose, the Reds' record-breaking hitting star.

Rose's one hit for the night gave him a record mark of 180 singles in a season by a switchhitter. It broke Maury Wills' 1962 record.

"This club has 100 per cent heart," said Anderson.

Los Angeles 10, Texas 9
Lee Stanton's pinch double capped a two-out ninth inning rally that carried California past Texas, 10-9.

"This is some kind of team," added Perez, whose 26th homer gave him the team lead.

Barnes thought his career was at a dead end when he was cut for the second time this summer. He was told to find a new profession.

But the soft-spoken Californian made the most of a minor league coach's faith in him.

"After getting cut by the Oakland A's Birmingham team I spent $60 in phone calls trying to catch on with somebody," he said.

"Vern Hopp of the Reds' Indianapolis farm team called me and said I had another chance. But after losing my first two starts and giving up 23 runs in 19 innings for an 11-0 earned run average I went to him with a ticket in my hand and told him I was going to embarrass him anyway," said Barnes.

Temp fore up the ticket and Boney tore up the league, winning seven straight starts.

"I survived it all, and it's made me stronger. God's been good to me. I'm a tremendous believer.

Boney isn't eligible to pitch in the National League playoffs or the World Series, should the Reds make it.

"They told me they might take me along anyway. If they tell me I can't go, I'll just be happy to play for the best batting practice pitcher they ever had," said Boney, who tossed 12 no-hitters in his high school career.

Basketball Big Bore

NEW YORK (AP) — Basketball has become a $600,000-a-year bore for Will Chamberlain.

"It's true that I don't get any fun out of training any more, and I even find it tough to get ready for game after game," the 7-foot-11 millionaire ball dunker acknowledged.

"I have done a lot of soul searching on the matter. Frankly, I just don't know what is the alternative for me."

The 37-year-old all-time great of the National Basketball Association debated today alternatives open to men whether to play another year for the Los Angeles Lakers or the NBA or accept a $600,000 offer from the San Diego Conquistadors of the rival American Basketball Association.

"Money is not a factor - I've just decided whether I want to continue playing basketball. It has taken most of my life, but I do owe my whole life to it."

"Maybe I'd rather be a civilian."

Chamberlain flew into New York Monday to play his autobiography, which is appropriately entitled "WILT," with the intriguing subtitle, "Just Like Any Other 7-Foot Black Millionaire Who Lives Next Door."

The book deals in depth with his early life in a Philadelphia ghetto hustling pennies, his rise to basketball stardom, the innumerable controversies and even his sex life.

"I guess I'm something of a sex symbol to a lot of girls," he said with unbecoming pride. He indicated that strange girls give him more trouble than a zone defense.

Natally attired in a yellow plaid jacket, blue slacks and yellow shoes with a walnut-sized diamond ring glistening from the little finger of his left hand, Chamberlain told his literary agent that he was finding it increasingly difficult to

The Cowboys, who have been to a record seven consecutive NFL playoffs, have won 80 games in the last seven years under Landry.

Landry said it was nice to win 100 but he'll still take the 24-3 victory over Miami in Super Bowl VI as his personal highlight.

The most memorable highlight has to be the Super Bowl victory, Landry said as he beamed at his players who gathered around the cake.

"Go for another hundred," the players shouted.

Landry said his low point as a coach wasn't the disaster year of 1960 but a 1967 loss to Green Bay for the NFL title.

Sports in Brief

Football
NEW YORK (AP) — New York Jets quarterback Joe Namath probably will not have to undergo surgery for the shoulder separation suffered in Sunday's 34-10 victory over Baltimore, but could be lost for most of the 1973 season.

Dr. James A. Nicholas, Jets' team physician, said the final decision on whether to operate would not be made for a few days but "as of now there is no plan to operate."

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Billy Kinard was fired as football coach of the University of Mississippi early Tuesday morning and was replaced by ex-coach John Vaughn, who is coming out of retirement.

Vaughn had coached the Rebels to 14 straight bowl games before being sidelined with a heart attack.

Volleyball

Riggs Rematch Nixed By King

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Billie Jean King says she's delighted with the fruits of her recent tennis victory over Bobby Riggs, but doesn't want a rematch.

"I didn't want to play Bobby in the first place, and I rejected the match three years ago and last January," the 28-year-old Ms. King said Monday of her much-publicized "battle of the sexes."

But the 52-year-old Riggs kept pressing to play a woman, and he finally smashed Margaret Court on Mother's Day, so Billie King agreed to the nationally televised match at Houston's Astoria, which he won handily in three sets last week.

"Margaret opened the door, I closed it," she said. "There isn't any more reason to play Bobby again. We proved Bobby wrong when he said he could beat any woman."

The fruits of her decision over the former Wimbledon and U.S. Open champion continue to delight her.

Ms. King, in town to be introduced as the playing coach of Philadelphia's team in the new World Team Tennis League (WTT), was received warmly at a noon open-air gathering and later at a news conference Monday.

Two Philadelphia housewives, walking dreadingly to lunch, screamed "Billie Jean!" when she passed in a Cadillac. "You were tremendous. Great! My husband was mouthing off so bad. He's been doing dishes ever since."

"Did you hear that?" Billie Jean laughed heartily. Attempting to imitate the woman's Philadelphia accent, she said: "My husband's been doing dishes all week. Beautiful. Great."

Billie Jean had the highest praise for Riggs, although she giggled about how he was down-in-the-mouth after the match. "Bobby is great show biz for tennis," admitted Billie Jean, herself a five-time Wimbledon champ.

She said she didn't bet on their match, but teased "Bobby lost some do-re-me." She said she didn't know how much she had bet.

Billie Jean, who said she is phasing out of tennis tournament play, painted a rosy picture for the WTT's future, adding, "I want a winner in Philadelphia, Numero Uno in the WTT. The fans deserve it."

She noted the mixed doubles play "turns everybody on." It's very exciting and fast. I was playing tennis with Arthur Ashe in Hilton Head (S.C.) and he said, 'this is fun.'"

Tribute to Jim
The telephone rang last week and the operator said it was long distance. My brother was on the other end in Manchester.

"I've got some bad news for you," he said. "Jim Foley passed away this morning."

Throughout all my remembrance of him, he was always a sports-minded individual, steadfast in his convictions, slow to anger, quick to help, and above all, he had an honest love for his fellow man.

Since the greatest part of my association with him concerned baseball, I feel that the following is befitting and I am sure Jim and all of his loved ones will understand.

We were the Bluefields before the rest came along. But always we had Jim Foley, he was surely close about.

We won some, lost some and had a few rained out. But always we had Jim Foley, he was surely close about.

He kept the scoreboard humming and always wore a smile. These Times brought fond memories and we had Jim all the while.

Old Jim and the Bluefields have gone their separate ways. But both leave us fond memories of happy bygone days.

I feel Jim loved his baseball more than anything else he'd done.

And comparing his life to baseball, this game to surely won.

He has left us with much sadness but no matter where we roam.

We'll think about his leaving as rounding third and heading for home.

Wiggin Says Sports Gain For Girls

June Tompkins (Herald Reporter) Girls involved in athletics in the Manchester Junior and High Schools need not take a back seat during the school year, Manchester has become a forerunner in girls' organized teams in cross country and track, Davis E. Wiggin, director of physical education and athletics, told the Manchester Board of Education last night. A firm believer in athletics for girls, Wiggin feels a full program fills a physical and emotional need for them. He said that the program has expanded from four to seven sports including field hockey. Coeducational participation in growing in sports activities, said Wiggin. Rifle teams, swimming and golf have become coeducational, he said. Last year's captain of the rifle team was a girl. Wiggin announced plans to begin a golf team next spring for girls. A girls' field hockey team at Benet has already begun. It will operate on club competition until there are enough other school teams for intercollegiate competition. The Central Connecticut Interscholastic League has mandated every school board to offer a girls' athletic program. Wiggin, he thinks the future of girls' athletics looks good for MHS and for the whole Manchester school system. With the increasing physical education program activities, Wiggin expects to see the high school gymnasium used six days a week from 3 to 8 p.m. daily in order to fit in a complete program. Wiggin said he would like to see a soccer field superimposed on the football field because the present soccer facilities are inadequate. He feels that the combined field would draw larger crowds. Dr. James Kennedy, superintendent of Manchester schools, said it is not the intention of the Board this year to put soccer on that field. He indicated, however, that it might be considered in the future. Wiggin would restrict certain track events and football to the Lincoln Center at its own expense in anticipation of relocating the workshop. Norman Fendell, workshop director, said today that MAHRIC expects to have its work completed within a week or 10 days. However, the moving date is indefinite pending the completion of new washrooms and repairs to the heating system by the town. Fendell emphasized that volunteers have been the backbone of the remodeling. Members and friends of MAHRIC have been joined by members of Civitan of Manchester, Manchester Lodge and students at Manchester Community College. He stated that bazaar expects to hold an open house after the workshop is completed.

Police Report

MANCHESTER
Manchester Police are looking for a young long-haired man who they say was responsible for the Monday afternoon theft of a tape recorder from Consumer Sales, 320 Broad St. Police said a $130 tape recorder was taken at about 5:30 p.m. According to the case report, a white male—about 6-foot-2 with long blond hair, wearing dungarees and a plaid flannel shirt—entered the store, grabbed the tape recorder from a shelf, and ran out.

Another youth was apparently waiting outside the store, police said, and they both ran away.

Steven P. Rodrigue, 18, of 555 E. Middle Tpk., was charged Monday night with disorderly conduct, police said. Court date is Oct. 15.

Malcolm Miller, 20, of East Hartford, was charged Monday night with illegal possession of a non-narcotic controlled substance (marijuana), police reported.

Manchester Police said he was taken into custody on W. Middle Tpk., near the East Hartford town line, by two East Hartford policemen who observed him hitchhiking.

Miller was released on his written promise to appear in court Oct. 15.

Accidents reported by Manchester Police included: —A 4:44 p.m. collision Monday in which a car driven by Annie R. Kosak, 54, of 42 Birch St., struck a utility pole on Kenney St. She suffered minor injuries, police said.

—A 5:25 p.m. accident Monday, at Tolland Tpk., and Buckland Rd., involving car driven by Craig M. Hinson, 17, of 55 Grant Rd., and Robert F. Spagnoli, 27, of Highlander Park, Rockville. Hinson's car was towed.

—Alice B. Fairbanks, 39, of 13 Milford Rd., suffered multiple injuries in a Friday night auto accident, contrary to a report in Monday's Herald that she and her son's injured. Mrs. Fairbanks was listed in satisfactory condition today at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

VERNON
A 15-year-old Rockville girl—Gayle M. Coveny, of 1161 Hartford Tpk.—was treated at Rockville General Hospital Monday for injuries suffered when her bicycle was in collision with a car on Rt. 30, Vernon.

Vernon Police said the girl's bicycle was in collision with a vehicle operated by Jerome F. Jamniet, 33, of 4 Valerie Dr., Rockville, at about 2 p.m. No charges were lodged after the accident.

Governor Charged With Inaction To Halt Job Loss

HARTFORD (AP)—Gov. Thomas J. Meskill has done little or nothing to stop the loss of more than 50,000 manufacturing jobs in Connecticut during the past five years, state Labor Council President John J. Driscoll said Monday.

"High unemployment is Connecticut's number one economic problem. It blights the lives of 11 out of every 100 Connecticut working people," Driscoll said in a report to the council's annual convention.

Driscoll said the council estimated unemployment last June at more than 100,000 (11.2 per cent), compared to a state Labor Department estimate of 90,000 (8.3 per cent). The council's figure included more than 50,000 veterans and new entrants to the job market since June 1971 for whom it claims jobs need to be created.

"Our governor... has let his Republican party to overtax the people to build a big 1974 election year surplus. He refused to spend money already appropriated for the state's services in mental institutions. He has starved our community centers and day care centers, and threatened with loss of official approval," Driscoll said.

"He has under-funded our other state colleges and the university. He has refused to fill jobs in many other state agencies while building his personal staff and putting his political favorites in high-paying state jobs."

Driscoll said moving corporation headquarters from New York to Fairfield County would not make up for the state's loss of manufacturing jobs.

"And we still depend too much on military contracts in the manufacturing we still have," he added.

Ex-UMW Chief In Coma

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former United Mine Workers President W. A. "Tony" Boyle was in a coma today and listed in critical condition at a Washington hospital after suffering a possible stroke.

Boyle, who faces murder charges in the 1969 New Year's Eve slaying of union insurance Joseph A. "Jack" Yablonski, his wife and daughter, had not gained consciousness since being admitted to the hospital and was reported to be "extremely unstable."

At 3:30 a.m. EDT a hospital spokesman said Boyle was "in a very, very critical condition."

not made until the bill is paid," Carolyn Becker, the new candidate for the Board of Education, said in an interview in connection with the school referendum, if elected.

The Democrats chose as their slogan for the Nov. 6 election—E.S.P., Experience, Savings, Performance.

He also cautioned, "It isn't going to be an easy campaign."

Director Phyllis Jackson agreed, "We can't take anything for granted."

She said, in answer to recent criticism from the board's minority Republicans, "We have been an easy majority to work with."

Mayor John Thompson, elaborating on Mrs. Jackson's statement, said, "We have held true to our 1971 platform of non-partisan government. In just two years, our directors have been honest with each other. We have had our fights and our differences, but we have come out of them with definite accomplishments."

"Our party," said Thompson, "is big enough and strong enough to stand up to all, to provide responsible government for all, and to make certain nobody is disfranchised. We have restored fiscal responsibility to the community, and we hope to stabilize it even more."

But I Never Made Funerary Arrangements Before.

There is probably no more difficult period than that encountered immediately after the death of someone you love. This is especially true if you have never made funeral arrangements before. Many things must be considered. After the funeral, you cannot then do what you feel you should have done, but didn't. After the funeral, you can't undo or change what was done.

First, there is no one prescribed form for a funeral. You should arrange the kind of service that best meets your needs. But what are these things you should consider, so that you can make meaningful decisions of lasting satisfaction?

Most of them are contained in an informative brochure that makes funeral arrangements that you will find most beneficial at that crucial hour. It is published in your interest by the National Funeral Directors Association.

Five other NFDA brochures discuss: funeral costs, thoughts about the funeral, the presence of a minister, a condolence visit, and children and death. You will find them all most helpful because they are based on experience, research and knowledge.

M Zone Industrial Arts Group Meets Wednesday

been installed beyond the point which the PZC approved. PZC members voted to order Grigipo to comply with the approved plan.

* Approved amendments to the Regulations subdivision regarding sidewalks and curbs. The new regulation calls for concrete sidewalks on both sides of streets built in new subdivisions. It also requires granite curbing on new streets and curbside, but permits bituminous curbs on temporary curbside.

* Approved a change in town zoning regulations, redefining streets built in new subdivisions as a group of people living together "related by blood, marriage, legal adoption, or guardianship." The old regulation defined "family" as "any number of individuals living together as a single householding unit and doing their cooking upon the premises."

* Approved two changes in developer Raymond Damato's Homestead Park Village apartments of Homestead St. The first change divides the tract into two pieces, to meet Damato's financial requirements. The second change modifies the proposed apartment buildings. Sixteen two-bedroom units were changed to one-bedroom units.

* Revisited plans for three other subdivision proposals and set public hearings in November.

Board members were told that if it makes a changeover to the Intertel Communications, whose representatives spoke at the last board meeting, the SNETCO lines will still be used by the Intertel as will its system, a private branch exchange, which is being improved to it and to the adjoining landfill area.

In addition to adopting the ordinance, which will be effective in 10 days (Oct. 5), the directors, again unanimously and without discussion, adopted two resolutions: one authorizing a $1,800,000 bond issue, the other authorizing $1,300,000 in temporary notes, pending the bond issue.

Town Counsel David Barry said the directors the town has obtained life insurance for the property, indicating a clear title.

The purchase price for the 110 acres, expected to add 20 years to the life of the landfill area, is $440,200. The agreement with the Denisons calls for a $127,600 payment within 30 days of the effective date of the ordinance and $212,700 during the period Jan. 1, 1974 to Jan. 15, 1974. The transfer will be finalized and the warrant deed recorded when the final payment is made.

Of the $942,001 available for improvements, an estimated $225,000 will be spent for relocating the brook on the existing landfill site, to comply with state orders and to be the first project here. An estimated $500,000 is for widening the brook on the Hockanum River, a long-range project, expected to take many years; $200,000 for a service road, $150,000 for landscaping; and the remainder for miscellaneous.

The state, when it approved the project, had specified it would evaluate the work in three years, to determine whether it complies with anti-pollution standards.

SNET To Study School Change

(Herald Reporter)
The Vernon Board of Education Monday night heard Southern New England Telephone Co. (SNETCO) representatives discuss a telephone changeover the board has proposed for the high school and the Board of Education officials.

Fields Given Names Of Sports Leaders

(Herald Reporter)
The dedication ceremonies are scheduled during halftime at Manchester High's first home football game, Oct. 20, at Maloney High of Meriden. Although the game has been scheduled to be played on the restored field, it looks less probable every day because of the recent rains.

The dedication of Memorial Field of athletics for the Manchester schools.

In the event the opening football game cannot be played at the restored football field at MHS, arrangements have been made to play at Mt. Vernon.

Kelley and Wigren, both now retired, coached athletic teams at MHS for many years. Kelley served as football and baseball coach and athletic director for a total of 42 years before retiring in 1958.

Wigren, who was track and cross country coach for 33 years, retired in 1954. Both men led their teams to several state and regional titles.

Both Kelley and Wigren have been honored by the Connecticut Sports Writers Alliance with "Gold Keys" in recognition of their long years of service to sports, both in Manchester and the state.

The school board's adoption of the name was announced in a letter from Herald Sports Editor Earl Vost, who for many years has been suggesting the dedication of Memorial Field of athletics for the Manchester schools.

Memorial field was originally dedicated to honor Manchester's veterans.

In short order and by unanimous vote, the Manchester Board of Education made it official last night that the baseball diamond and track at Manchester High School be named to honor two local veteran sports figures.

The baseball diamond is named for Thomas F. Kelley and the track for Peter Wigren. The entire athletic field complex will maintain the name of Memorial Field.

The dedication ceremonies are scheduled during halftime at Manchester High's first home football game, Oct. 20, at Maloney High of Meriden. Although the game has been scheduled to be played on the restored field, it looks less probable every day because of the recent rains.

Agnew Asks For House Probe

Ushering In The Year 5734

Leaders Ponder Course Of Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spiro T. Agnew has asked the House of Representatives to hear his case against allegations of political corruption, contending the Constitution forbids criminal actions against him while he is vice president.

What action the House might take on Agnew's request remained unclear.

Leaders said such an inquiry might be made by a House committee, but would not rule out the possibility of a hearing through impeachment procedures or even a rejection of Agnew's request.

Agnew asked for the House investigation Tuesday after secret negotiations between Agnew's lawyers and Justice Department officials broke down and Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson announced he had authorized a federal grand jury in Baltimore to begin hearing the Agnew case Thursday.

The Washington Post said in today's editions that Richardson had offered to allow Agnew to plead guilty to a minor offense if Agnew authorized a statement making it clear he had accepted bribes.

The Post attributed the account to informed sources. It said that offer, along with several subsequent ones, was rejected by Agnew.

The Justice Department had no comment on the Post account. Agnew's press secretary, J. Marshall Thomson, said he would not comment on the report except "to reiterate as strongly as I can that the vice president has not had and does not now have any intention of resigning."

President Nixon, who met with Agnew Tuesday morning, said the vice president had again personally assured him of his innocence of any wrongdoing.

Agnew requested the Capitol Hill hearing in a letter that he hand-delivered to House Speaker Carl Albert. Agnew then met for more than an hour with Albert and other House leaders.

"After the most careful study, my counsel has advised me that the Constitution bars a criminal proceeding of any kind... against a president or a vice president while he holds office," the Agnew letter said.

Agnew accordingly, I cannot acquiesce in any criminal proceeding being lodged against me in Maryland or elsewhere, and I cannot look or any such proceeding for vindication. In these circumstances, I believe, it is the right and duty of the vice president to turn to the House.

"I am confident that... I shall be vindicated by the House," Agnew wrote.

A spokesman for Richardson said that despite Agnew's posture, the decision to go to the grand jury would stand. Agnew's request caught House members by surprise, and they were unsure what to do about it. Albert said there was no decision during the meeting with the vice president.

Agnew emerged from the session smiling but declined to comment on the matter.

Following the session with Agnew, Albert held an informal leadership meeting in his office, then said he didn't have any idea when a decision would be reached on Agnew's request.

Asked whether an impeachment proceeding had been ruled out, Albert responded: "Nothing has been ruled out."

In the Senate, Republican members held a hastily assembled conference and agreed to call for a vote on Agnew's case in view of the fact they may be called on to vote on a jury should there be an impeachment case.

Impeachment cases are initiated by the House and tried by the Senate.

The case has been simmering since first publicly disclosed Aug. 6.

On that day, Agnew announced that he had been indicted by federal prosecutors in Baltimore that he was under investigation for possible violation of tax, bribery, extortion and conspiracy laws. Agnew has repeatedly proclaimed his innocence.

Squire Village Development Dedicated

DOUG BEVINS
(Herald Reporter)
The new 374-unit Squire Village apartment complex on Spencer St. in Manchester was officially dedicated Tuesday afternoon and probably that about 180 of the apartments for low and moderate income housing by the Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission last night.

The complex, consisting of 31 buildings on 33 acres of land, is the largest and probably the largest federally subsidized low and moderate income housing development in Connecticut.

An inscription of the complex started last December. About 180 apartments have been occupied, and another 100 units are under construction.

Squire Village rests on land formerly known as the Duane tract and the Zelvic tract. Plans for the complex were approved by the Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission last year.

Two other men involved in the development—Richard Ranganon of Manchester Development Corp. and William Hirsch of the Greater Hartford Housing Development Fund—were on the Governor's Task Force of Housing while planning the project.

Utility Development Corp. says Squire Village serves the low and moderate income families targeted by the governor's task force as most in need of decent housing.

The schedule of maximum income is: One-person family, $6,075; two-person family, $6,285; three-person family, $7,590; four-person family, $8,100; five-person family, $9,040; six-person family, $9,040.

Any person or family whose annual income is higher than the specified levels must pay a higher rent—about $70 more per month.

Applications for housing at Squire Village will be available on a first-come, first-served basis, subject to the applicant's qualifications.

Eleven per cent of the tenants are Spanish-speaking or black. The remainder are a mixture of races, according to Harold Rothstein, the key man behind the Squire Village development.

The federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) provides up to $40,741 annually in rent supplements. HUD also pays subsidies on mortgage interest for the project.

The development of Squire Village is costing an estimated $7.8 million.

Rosh Hashanah Begins Tonight

Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, will begin this evening at sunset and will continue through tomorrow and Friday. These days will usher in the Year 5734 in the Jewish calendar, a date based on the Bible and computed from the biblical day of creation.

Holiday services will be conducted at Temple Beth Shalom this evening at 8:15 o'clock, tomorrow at 9 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. and Friday at 7:30 a.m. and 8:30 p.m., Rabbi Leon Wind, spiritual leader, announced.

The holiday begins a period called Ten Days of Repentance which culminates with the Day of Atonement. These are solemn spiritual days during which the Jewish people review their lives and their conduct during the past year to see what changes need to be made for improvement, Rabbi Wind said.

In the services on both days prayers are invoked for life, for peace and for the well being of all mankind. The lives of the patriarchs are recalled together with important episodes in Jewish history which have determined the destiny of the Jewish people and have helped to define the essence of the Jewish faith, he continued.

"Among the most inspiring parts of the services is the blowing of the Shofar (ram's horn) which is used in ancient times in hours of crisis to call the people together or to arouse them to action. Today the sounding of the Shofar symbolizes the call of Judaism to better our ways, to improve our world and to help save humanity from war, poverty and from all the evils and injustices that are prevalent on the world."

"The hope is expressed that all mankind would be united in one brotherhood under the Fatherhood of God and live together in harmony and in peace. These prayers and hopes are a logical consequence of the belief that Rosh Hashanah is the birthday of the world and that God meant it to be a world of brotherhood, justice and peace," Rabbi Wind said.

Skylab 2 Completes Record Space Flight

Dr. Royce Hawkins, the chief astronaut physician, credited their good health to a rigid exercise program while they were in space.

The astronauts will be under careful medical scrutiny for another 18 days. They will maintain a strict diet and collect all urine and fecal samples for examination as they have done since 21 days before they were launched July 28.

The report said there was some evidence of "vestibular disturbance," such as dizziness. But this was expected as part of the process of readapting to earth's gravity.

All three crewmen are in excellent spirits and they feel well," said the report.

"Physicians are very elated with the crew condition at this point."

As required, the "letter of interest" states that the town, after conducting a public hearing on the grant proposal, would consider putting up an estimated $1,500 in "front money" for the project—for site acquisition, surveys, preliminary planning and the like. The sum would be reimbursed by the state.

Watergate Enters New Phase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presidential speechwriter Patrick J. Buchanan accused the Senate Watergate committee staff today of maligning his reputation and denied he had any part in political sabotage against Democrats.

In an opening statement before a televised session of the committee, Buchanan said there was "an apparent campaign, orchestrated from within the committee staff, to malign my reputation in the public press prior to my appearance."

He said what he called a "campaign of vilification" is a direct violation of committee rules and asked:

"How can this select committee set itself up as the ultimate arbiter of American political ethics if it cannot even protect character assassinations within its own ranks?"

Buchanan said he neither recommended, authorized nor was aware of "any ongoing campaign of political sabotage against Sen. (Edmund S.) Muskie or any other Democratic candidate."

Buchanan addressed the committee as the panel opened its probe into political dirty tricks. He is said to have been the author of White House memos that reportedly set the tone and basic strategy for President Nixon's 1972 presidential campaign.

The presidential speechwriter said the contention that Nixon's 1972 presidential campaign committee infiltrated opponents' campaigns in an attempt to select its weakest opponent was "a gross distortion of the truth."

"Republicans were not responsible for the downfall of 'Uncle' Republicans were not responsible for the nomination of Sen. (George) McGovern," Buchanan said. "The McGovern people won their own nomination and they lost their own election."

Committee Chastised

Richard Green, 26, of Vernon, was indicted on two counts of murder—in connection with the Aug. 30 death of his two children by an 18-member grand jury sitting in Tolland County Superior Court Tuesday.

Judge Paul J. Driscoll continued the case to Oct. 18 for Green's plea. Bond was maintained at $100,000, and Green was returned to the Connecticut Correctional Center at Hartford, where he has been held since Aug. 30.

The grand jury returned the indictments after hearing evidence for about three hours.

A jury foreman Jerome Rosen announced the decision. Green quietly remained seated.

Green, a graduate student at the University of Hartford, was arrested while at a part-time waiter at an Ellington restaurant, was arrested Aug. 30 after he reported the deaths of his two children—Sean, 2, and Rachel, 3 months.

Directors Seek Grant For Project

A "letter of interest," indicating the town definitely is interested in a recommended $500,000 state grant for 40 units of housing for the elderly, was approved by the Manchester Board of Directors unanimously Tuesday night.

The letter is to Hubert Figueroa, commissioner of the state Department of Community Affairs. It is Figueroa who is recommending the $500,000 grant. His recommendation will be acted upon by the State Bonding Commission Friday, when it conducts its monthly meeting.

Within an hour after the grant was approved, the town's carrier Tuesday, they talked with their families and received a message of congratulations from President Nixon.

But I Never Made Funerary Arrangements Before.

There is probably no more difficult period than that encountered immediately after the death of someone you love. This is especially true if you have never made funeral arrangements before. Many things must be considered. After the funeral, you cannot then do what you feel you should have done, but didn't. After the funeral, you can't undo or change what was done.

First, there is no one prescribed form for a funeral. You should arrange the kind of service that best meets your needs. But what are these things you should consider, so that you can make meaningful decisions of lasting satisfaction?

Most of them are contained in an informative brochure that makes funeral arrangements that you will find most beneficial at that crucial hour. It is published in your interest by the National Funeral Directors Association.

Five other NFDA brochures discuss: funeral costs, thoughts about the funeral, the presence of a minister, a condolence visit, and children and death. You will find them all most helpful because they are based on experience, research and knowledge.

Send for your FREE copies today. You will be glad you did.
