Police Report

MANCHESTER
Manchester Police are looking for a young long-haired man who they say was responsible for the Monday afternoon theft of a tape recorder from Consumer Sales, 320 Broad St. Police said a $130 tape recorder was taken at about 5:30 p.m. According to the case report, a white male—about 6-foot-2 with long blond hair, wearing dungarees and a plaid flannel shirt—entered the store, grabbed the tape recorder from a shelf, and ran out.

Another youth was apparently waiting outside the store, police said, and they both ran away.

Steven P. Rodrigue, 18, of 555 E. Middle Tpk., was charged Monday night with disorderly conduct, police said. Court date is Oct. 15.

Malcolm Miller, 20, of East Hartford, was charged Monday night with illegal possession of a non-narcotic controlled substance (marijuana), police reported.

Manchester Police said he was taken into custody on W. Middle Tpk., near the East Hartford town line, by two East Hartford policemen who observed him hitchhiking.

Miller was released on his written promise to appear in court Oct. 15.

Accidents reported by Manchester Police included: —A 4:44 a.m. collision Monday in which a car driven by Annie R. Kosak, 54, of 42 Birch St., struck a utility pole on Kenney St. She suffered minor injuries, police said.

—A 5:25 p.m. accident Monday, at Tolland Tpk., and Buckland Rd., involving car driven by Craig M. Hinson, 17, of 55 Grant Rd., and Robert F. Spagnoli, 27, of Highlander Park, Rockville. Hinson's car was towed.

—Alice B. Fairbanks, 39, of 13 Milford Rd., suffered multiple injuries in a Friday night auto accident, contrary to a report in Monday's Herald that she and her son's injured. Mrs. Fairbanks was listed in satisfactory condition today at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

VERNON
A 15-year-old Rockville girl—Gayle M. Coveny, of 1161 Hartford Tpk.—was treated at Rockville General Hospital Monday for injuries suffered when her bicycle was in collision with a car on Rt. 30, Vernon.

Vernon Police said the girl's bicycle was in collision with a vehicle operated by Jerome F. Jaminet, 33, of 4 Valerie Dr., Rockville, at about 2 p.m. No charges were lodged after the accident.

Governor Charged With Inaction To Halt Job Loss

HARTFORD (AP)—Gov. Thomas J. Meskill has done little or nothing to stop the loss of more than 50,000 manufacturing jobs in Connecticut during the past five years, state Labor Council President John J. Driscoll said Monday.

"High unemployment is Connecticut's number one economic problem. It blights the lives of 11 out of every 100 Connecticut working people," Driscoll said in his annual report to the council's annual convention.

Driscoll said the council estimated unemployment last June at more than 100,000 (11.2 per cent), compared to a state Labor Department estimate of 90,000 (8.3 per cent). The council's figure included more than 50,000 veterans and new entrants to the job market since June 1971 for whom it claims jobs need to be created.

"Our governor... has let his Republican party to overtax the people to build a big 1974 election year surplus. He refused to spend money already appropriated for the state's services in mental institutions. He has starved our community centers and day care centers, and threatened with loss of official approval," Driscoll said.

"He has under-funded our other state colleges and the university. He has refused to fill jobs in many other state agencies while building his personal staff and putting his political favorites in high-paying state jobs."

Driscoll said moving corporation headquarters from New York to Fairfield County has not made up for the state's loss of manufacturing jobs.

"And we still depend too much on military contracts in the manufacturing we still have," he added.

Ex-UMW Chief In Coma

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former United Mine Workers President W. A. "Tony" Boyle was in a coma today and listed in critical condition at a Washington hospital after suffering a possible stroke.

Boyle, who faces murder charges in the 1969 New Year's Eve slaying of union insurance Joseph A. "Jack" Yablonski, his wife and daughter, had not gained consciousness since being admitted to the hospital and was reported to be "extremely unstable."

At 8:30 a.m. EDT a hospital spokesman said Boyle was "in a very, very critical condition."

not made until the bill is paid," Carolyn Becker, the new candidate for the Board of Education, said in an interview with the campaign. She thanked the town committee for nominating her and said she will continue all suggestions for school betterment, if elected.

The Democrats chose as their slogan for the Nov. 6 election—E.S.P., Experience, Savings, Performance.

He also cautioned, "It isn't going to be an easy campaign."

Director Phyllis Jackson agreed, "We can't take anything for granted."

She said in answer to recent criticism from the board's minority Republicans, "We have been an easy majority to work with."

Mayor John Thompson, elaborating on Mrs. Jackson's statement, said, "We have held true to our 1971 platform of non-partisan government. In just two years, our directors have been honest with each other. We have had our fights and our differences, but we have come out of them with definite accomplishments."

"Our party," said Thompson, "is big enough and strong enough to stand up to all, to provide responsible government for all, and to make certain nobody is disfranchised. We have restored fiscal responsibility to the community, and we hope to stabilize it even more."

M Zone Industrial Arts Group Meets Wednesday

been installed beyond the point which the PZC approved. PZC members voted to order Grigipo to comply with the approved plan.

* Approved amendments to the Regulations regarding sidewalks and curbs. The new regulation calls for concrete sidewalks on both sides of streets built in new subdivisions. It also requires granite curbing on new streets and curbside, but permits bituminous curbs on temporary curbside.

* Approved a change in town zoning regulations, redefining streets built in new subdivisions as a group of people living together "related by blood, marriage, legal adoption, or guardianship." The regulation defined "family" as "any number of individuals living together as a single householding unit and doing their cooking upon the premises."

* Approved two changes in developer Raymond Damato's Homestead Park Village apartments of Homestead St. Telephone Co. (SNETCO) tract into two pieces, to meet Damato's financial requirements. The second change modifies the proposed apartment buildings. Sixteen two-bedroom units were changed to one-bedroom units.

* Revisited plans for three other subdivision proposals and set public hearings in November.

Board members were told that if it makes a changeover to the Intertel Communications, whose representatives were at the last board meeting, SNETCO lines will still be used by the Intertel as will its system, a private branch exchange, which is being improved to it and to the adjoining landfill area.

In addition to adopting the ordinance, which will be effective in 10 days (Oct. 5), the directors, again unanimously and without discussion, adopted two resolutions: one authorizing a $1,800 bond issue, the other authorizing $1,300 in temporary notes, pending the bond issue.

Town Counsel David Barry said the directors the town has obtained life insurance for the property, indicating a clear title.

The purchase price for the 110 acres, expected to add 20 years to the life of the landfill area, is $440,200. The agreement with the Demionens calls for a $127,600 payment within 30 days of the effective date of the ordinance and $212,700 during the period Jan. 1, 1974 to Jan. 15, 1974. The transfer will be finalized and the warrant deed recorded when the final payment is made.

Of the $942,061 available for improvements, an estimated $225,000 will be spent for relocating the brook on the existing landfill site, to comply with state orders and to be the first project here. An estimated $300,000 is for widening the brook on the Hockanum River, a long-range project, expected to take many years; $200,000 for a service road, $120,000 for landscaping; and the remainder for miscellaneous.

The state, when it approved the project, had specified it would evaluate the work in three years, to determine whether it complies with anti-pollution standards.

SNET To Study School Change

The Vernon Board of Education Monday night heard Southern New England Telephone Co. (SNETCO) representatives discuss a telephone changeover the board has proposed for the high school and the Board of Education officials.

Fields Given Names Of Sports Leaders

JUNE TOMPKINS
(Herald Reporter)

In short order and by unanimous vote, the Manchester Board of Education made it official last night that the baseball diamond and track at Manchester High School be named to honor two local veteran sports figures.

The baseball diamond is named for Thomas F. Kelley and the track for the late Charles "Pete" Wigren. The entire athletic field complex will maintain the name of Memorial Field.

The dedication ceremonies are scheduled during halftime at Manchester High's first home football game, Oct. 20, at Maloney High of Meriden. Although the game has been scheduled to be played on the restored field, it looks less probable every day because of the recent rains.

The dedication of Memorial Field of athletics for the Manchester schools.

In the event the opening football game cannot be played at MHS, arrangements have been made to play at Mt. Vernon.

Kelley and Wigren, both now retired, coached athletic teams at MHS for many years. Kelley served as football and baseball coach and athletic director for a total of 42 years before retiring in 1958.

Wigren, who was track and cross country coach for 33 years, retired in 1954. Both men led their teams to several state and regional titles.

Both Kelley and Wigren have been honored by the Connecticut Sports Writers Alliance with "Gold Keys" in recognition of their long years of service to sports, both in Manchester and the state.

The school board's adoption of the names was announced in a letter from Herald Sports Editor Earl Vost, who for many years has been suggesting the dedication of Memorial Field of athletics for the Manchester schools.

Memorial field was originally dedicated to honor Manchester's veterans.

But I Never Made Funerals Arrangements Before.

There is probably no more difficult period than that encountered immediately after the death of someone you love. This is especially true if you have never made funeral arrangements before. Many things must be considered. After the funeral, you cannot then do what you feel you should have done, but didn't. After the funeral, you can't undo or change what was done.

First, there is no one prescribed form for a funeral. You should arrange the kind of service that best meets your needs. But what are these things you should consider, so that you can make meaningful decisions of lasting satisfaction?

Town To Buy Laurel Lake

Squire Village Development Dedicated

SOL R. COHEN
(Herald Reporter)

The Manchester Board of Directors Tuesday night adopted an ordinance for purchasing the 110-acre Laurel Lake from Robert Case Demionens and Wells Case Demionens.

The action was unanimous and without discussion. It culminated a chain of events dating back to March 13, when Manchester voters approved a $1,300 appropriation for purchasing the property and for improvements to it and to the adjoining landfill area.

In addition to adopting the ordinance, which will be effective in 10 days (Oct. 5), the directors, again unanimously and without discussion, adopted two resolutions: one authorizing a $1,800 bond issue, the other authorizing $1,300 in temporary notes, pending the bond issue.

Rosh Hashanah Begins Tonight

Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, will begin this evening at sunset and will continue through tomorrow and Friday. These days will usher in the Year 5734 in the Jewish calendar, a date based on the Bible and computed from the biblical day of creation.

Holiday services will be conducted at Temple Beth Shalom this evening at 8:15 o'clock, tomorrow at 9 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. and Friday at 7:30 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. Rabbi Leon Wind, spiritual leader, announced.

The holiday begins a period called Ten Days of Repentance which culminates with the Day of Atonement. These are solemn spiritual days during which the Jewish people review their lives and their conduct during the past year to see what changes need to be made for improvement, Rabbi Wind said.

In the services on both days prayers are invoked for life, for peace and for the well being of all mankind. The lives of the patriarchs are recalled together with important episodes in Jewish history which have determined the destiny of the Jewish people and have helped to define the essence of the Jewish faith, he continued.

"Among the most inspiring parts of the services is the blowing of the shofar (ram's horn) which is used in ancient times in hours of crisis to call the people together or to arouse them to action. Today the sounding of the shofar symbolizes the call of Judaism to better our ways, to improve our world and to help save humanity from war, poverty and from all the evils and injustices that are prevalent on the world."

"The hope is expressed that all mankind would be united in one brotherhood under the Fatherhood of God and live together in harmony and in peace. These prayers and hopes are a logical consequence of the belief that Rosh Hashanah is the birthday of the world and that God meant it to be a world of brotherhood, justice and peace," Rabbi Wind said.

Watergate Enters New Phase Committee Chastised

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presidential speechwriter Patrick J. Buchanan accused the Senate Watergate committee staff today of maligning his reputation and denied he had any part in political sabotage against Democrats.

In an opening statement before a televised session of the committee, Buchanan said there was "an apparent campaign, orchestrated from within the committee staff, to malign my reputation in the public press prior to my appearance."

He said what he called a "campaign of vilification" is a direct violation of committee rules and asked:

"How can this select committee set itself up as the ultimate arbiter of American political ethics if it cannot even protect character assassinations within its own ranks?"

Buchanan addressed the committee as the panel opened its probe into political dirty tricks. He is said to have been sitting for the children after his wife had left for work.

Green and his wife had been separated a few days the time of the incident, police said.

The children were pronounced dead on arrival at Rockville General Hospital. Police said Sean died from asphyxiation, but the cause of Rachel's death has not been released.

Public Defender Lawrence Klaczak, representing Green Tuesday, agreed with State's Atty. Donald Caldwell's proposal to continue the case to Oct. 18. Klaczak said he needed more time to prepare the defense.

"Republicans were not responsible for the downfall of 'Uncle' Republicans were not responsible for the nomination of Sen. (George) McGovern," Buchanan said. "The McGovern people won their own nomination and they lost their own election."

Grand Jury Indicts Green For Murders

Richard Green, 26, of Vernon, was indicted on two counts of murder - in connection with the Aug. 30 slaying of his two children by an 18-member grand jury sitting in Tolland County Superior Court Tuesday.

Judge Paul J. Driscoll continued the case to Oct. 18 for Green's plea. Bond was maintained at $100,000, and Green was returned to the Connecticut Correctional Center at Hartford, where he has been held since Aug. 30.

The grand jury returned the indictments after hearing evidence for about three hours. A jury foreman Jerome Rosen announced the decision. Green quietly remained seated.

Green, a graduate student at the University of Hartford, was arrested in a part-time waiter at an Ellington restaurant, was arrested Aug. 30 after he reported the deaths of his two children - Sean, 2, and Rachel, 3 months.

Leaders Ponder Course Of Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spiro T. Agnew has asked the House of Representatives to hear his case against allegations of political corruption, contending the Constitution forbids criminal actions against him while he is vice president.

What action the House might take on Agnew's request remained unclear.

Leaders said such an indictment might be made by a House committee, but would not rule out the possibility of a hearing through impeachment procedures or even a rejection of Agnew's request.

Agnew asked for the House investigation Tuesday after secret negotiations between Agnew's lawyers and Justice Department officials broke down and Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson announced he had authorized a federal grand jury in Baltimore to begin hearing the Agnew case Thursday.

The Washington Post said in today's editions that Richardson had offered to allow Agnew to plead guilty to a minor offense if Agnew authorized a statement making it clear he had accepted bribes.

The Post attributed the account to informed sources. It said that offer, along with several subsequent ones, was rejected by Agnew.

The Justice Department had no comment on the Post account. Agnew's press secretary, J. Marshall Thomson, said he would not comment on the report except "to reiterate as strongly as I can that the vice president has not had and does not now have any intention of resigning."

President Nixon, who met with Agnew Tuesday morning, said the vice president had again personally assured him of his innocence of any wrongdoing.

Agnew requested the Capitol Hill hearing in a letter that he hand-delivered to House Speaker Carl Albert. Agnew then met for more than an hour with Albert and other House leaders.

"After the most careful study, my counsel has advised me that the Constitution bars a criminal proceeding of any kind... against a president or a vice president while he holds office," the Agnew letter said.

Accordingly, I cannot acquiesce in any criminal proceeding being lodged against me in Maryland or elsewhere, and I cannot look or have any such proceeding for vindication. In these circumstances, I believe, it is the right and duty of the vice president to turn to the House.

"I am confident that... I shall be vindicated by the House," Agnew wrote.

A spokesman for Richardson said that despite Agnew's posture, the decision to go to the grand jury would stand. Agnew's request caught House members by surprise, and they were unsure what to do about it. Albert said there was no decision during the meeting with the vice president.

Agnew emerged from the session smiling but declined to comment on the matter.

Following the session with Agnew, Albert held an informal leadership meeting in his office, then said he didn't have any idea when a decision would be reached on Agnew's request.

Asked whether an impeachment proceeding had been ruled out, Albert responded: "Nothing has been ruled out."

In the Senate, Republicans held a hastily assembled conference and agreed to call for a vote on Agnew's case in view of the fact they may be called on to vote on a jury should there be an impeachment case.

Impeachment cases are initiated in the House and tried by the Senate.

The case has been simmering since first publicly disclosed Aug. 6.

On that day, Agnew announced that he had been indicted by federal prosecutors in Baltimore that he was under investigation for possible violation of tax, bribery, extortion and conspiracy laws. Agnew has repeatedly proclaimed his innocence.

Skylab 2 Completes Record Space Flight

Dr. Royce Hawkins, the chief astronaut physician, credited their good health to a rigid exercise program while they were in space.

The astronauts will be under careful medical scrutiny for another 18 days. They will maintain a strict diet and collect all urine and fecal samples for examination as they have done since 21 days before they were launched July 28.

The report said there was some evidence of "vestibular disturbance," such as dizziness. But this was expected as part of the process of readapting to earth's gravity.

All three crewmen are in excellent spirits and they feel well," said the report.

"Physicians are very elated with the crew condition at this point."

As required, the "letter of interest" states that the town, after conducting a public hearing on the grant proposal, would consider putting up an estimated $1,500 in "front money" for the project - for site acquisition, surveys, preliminary planning and the like. The sum would be reimbursed by the state.

Directors Seek Grant For Project

A "letter of interest," indicating the town definitely is interested in a recommended $500,000 state grant for 60 days of housing for the elderly, was approved by the Manchester Board of Directors unanimously Tuesday night.

The letter is to Hubert Figueroa, commissioner of the state Department of Community Affairs. It is Figueroa who is recommending the $500,000 grant. His recommendation will be acted upon by the State Bonding Commission Friday, when it conducts its monthly meeting.

Within an hour after the grant was approved, the town's carrier Tuesday, they talked with their families and received a message of congratulations from President Nixon.

Dahlquists Find Comfort, Economy In Fireplace

CLINTON (AP) — While some homeowners this fall are worrying about fuel-oil shortages and soaring electric prices, the Dahlquists find comfort—and economy—in their fireplace.

Emil and Lee Dahlquist recently began using their relatively small fireplace to do much of their cooking while it heats their home.

Today, especially during colder weather, they prepare much of their cooked foods, from meat to pudding, in front of the hearth.

Dahlquist, 59, has invented and hopes to patent a slanted fireplace grate designed to radiate more heat into the room.

"It's like a wedding with something old and something new," he said, referring to the use of a modern development to improve an ancient cooking method.

ELECTRICAL SAFETY

How many times a day do you use electrical appliances? The average housewife uses them all day to help her do the housework. Think through a typical day. Perhaps it goes like this:

In the morning, you use the toaster, the electric can opener, the coffee pot, and the electric frying pan to help make breakfast. After your husband leaves for work, you wash and dry the clothes in electrical appliances, put the dishes in the dishwasher, and run the vacuum cleaner to pick up the dirt.

The waffle iron/grill comes in handy for toasting these sandwiches for lunch. After lunch, it's nice to listen to the radio or watch TV while you iron the clothes. An hour before your husband comes home, you wash your hair and use the hair dryer to dry it and the electric curlers to complete the job. While the curlers are in, you start making dinner on your electric range and keep it on the warming tray until it's time to eat.

Ten minutes before your husband arrives, you take out the curlers, brush your hair, and apply your make-up in front of the lighted make-up mirror. As your husband walks in the door, you kiss him and hand him a refreshing drink you made using the blender. After dinner, you put all the dishes in the dishwasher and join your husband for a relaxing evening of TV viewing.

Sounds like a pretty normal day, doesn't it? But it could turn out to be really tragic if you don't watch out. Approximately 1,000 people are killed by electrical shock each year. About 300 of these deaths occur in the home. Also, there are an undetermined number of burn injuries and deaths resulting from the 140,000 fires caused by faulty electrical appliances or wiring each year.

Unfortunately, many people don't understand how electricity works or respect it enough to realize the possible hazards. To avoid becoming a victim of electric shock, follow these basic safety rules:

Make sure the controls on small appliances are clearly marked, conveniently located, and easy to operate. Covers should fit tightly. Handles should be heat-resistant and made of non-conductive material. The appliance should be well insulated. The appliance, plug, and cord should carry a UL label. The electric cord should be shortened to eliminate dangling or a reel for winding and storing extra cord should be provided.

The appliance should be well balanced and should stand flat on the counter surface.

Be sure you use your small appliances properly. Consult the instruction booklet for special safety precautions and directions for correct use.

Major electrical appliances should carry a warranty or guarantee by the manufacturer. The purpose of each one should be clearly indicated. Doors should be light and well fitted. The construction of the appliance should be smooth, sturdy, and easy to clean.

Motors should be shielded from water and grounded. You can find out if they are by asking the salesman or service representative.

The appliance should be equipped with an emergency electrical safety switch if there are children in the home.

Major appliances should be installed, adjusted, and repaired by a competent repairman.

Adequate ventilation should be allowed for appliances which are not vented, and consume fuel.

Most important of all, don't overload a circuit.

Cutting Paper Work Could Save Millions

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — It was often claimed in the past that the level of a nation's progress was indicated by the amount of paper it used. Today it could be the very undoing of progress. Brokers are still digging out from an overabundance of experience with a blizzard of paper, not the kind that comes fluttering down in ticker tape parades, but lost stock certificates and other unfilled documents. Talk to a small- or medium-sized businessman and he'll probably complain of his inability to fill out all the forms required of him by the Internal Revenue Service, Social Security Administration, safety regulators and others. In fact, recall your mood of last April, as you made out your income tax returns, and you'll need no further convincing that the old chestnut about paper and civilization is a burned ember. Nobody knows this more than the Government Accounting Office — GAO — which published this month a report on how the Department of Defense could

Income Tax Must Be Part Of Tax Reform

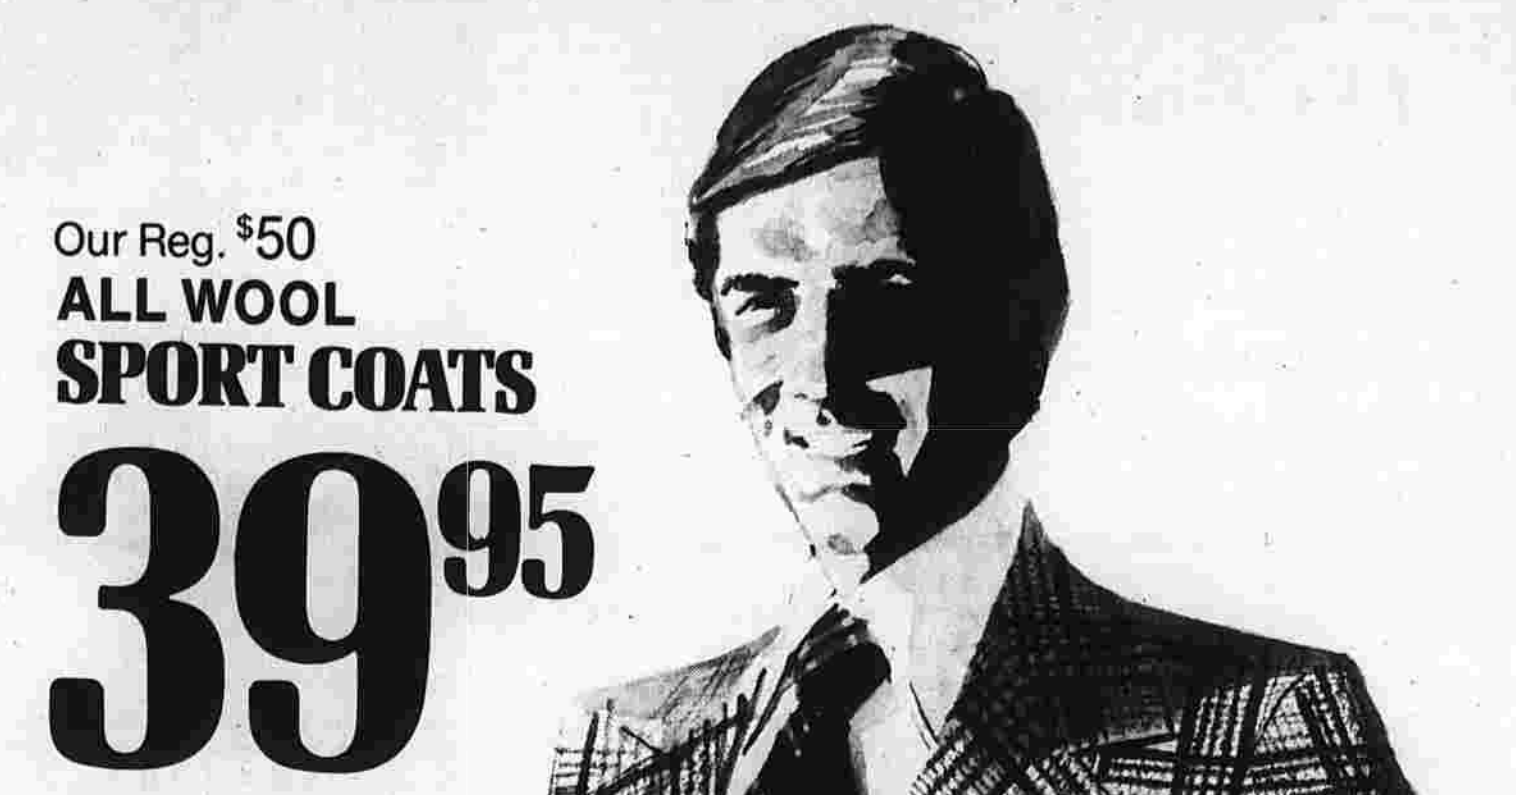

CHESHIRE (AP) — Homer D. Babbidge Jr., one of several persons interested in the Democratic nomination for governor next year, says he could support a personal state income tax if it were included in a reform of taxes. Babbidge, the master of a Yale University residential unit, told a gathering recently that he was not calling for immediate adoption of the tax and did not believe it even would be an issue in next year's race. The former University of Connecticut president said Gov. Thomas J. Meskill will try to reduce the sales tax on the eve of the election. "Such an approach is not a substitute for tax reform, he argued. "The highest priority should be reform of local property taxation," he added. "It's uneven and burdensome." To do that, he said, the state might have to resort to a tax on income to raise the necessary funds. The General Assembly passed an income tax in 1971 but then repealed it before it took effect because of the public's reaction. Babbidge said he backed the tax then.

reduce its administrative costs in awarding negotiated contracts. Unlike private businesses, the Defense Department must be concerned with more than quality and cost. In awarding contracts it must reflect the goals of small-business programs, the labor surplus area program, the Buy American Act, and so on. The GAO suggests, however, that in seeking to be fair the department is relying too heavily on paper. It reached its decision by comparing its methods with those of 38 private companies. Solicitations for defense contracts, for instance, generally run 30 pages or more. "Industry generally uses a two-page solicitation document and two-page purchase order," the GAO noted. By simplifying the document and making only two copies of it, the Defense Department could save $900,000, the GAO said. "Substantial annual savings," not specifically listed, could be realized if defense procurers sought bids from fewer companies, the report states. Solicitation packages, the GAO said, are sent to firms that can't meet requirements.

The Fitzgerald Affair

In 1968 Ernest Fitzgerald, an Air Force financial analyst, testified before Senator William Proxmire's (D-Wis.) subcommittee that cost overrun on the C-5A jet transport would run $2 billion over the estimated $3.5 billion budgeted to develop the plane. That was where his troubles started.

Twelve days later Fitzgerald was stripped of his Civil Service tenure, granted only several months before. He then was reassigned to unimportant tasks, where presumably, he would be less troublesome.

Early in January 1970 Fitzgerald was fired from his job, ostensibly in an economy move by the Air Force. His job at that time paid him more than $31,000 per year.

In his 1968 testimony Fitzgerald blamed the tremendous cost overrun on inefficiency, poor planning and inadequate controls among other things.

After 26 days of hearings subsequent to his firing the Civil Service Commissioner ruled that Fitzgerald had no recourse since he had been hired outside of the Civil Service System and hence had no tenure. Of course, Fitzgerald had received tenure prior to his testimony before the Proxmire group, but it was quickly withdrawn.

An Air Force spokesman said that there was absolutely no connection whatsoever between Fitzgerald's testimony and his firing. Fitzgerald thought differently saying that a supervisor had told him that "there would be blood all over the floor" if he testified.

The Civil Service Commission has now reversed itself and ordered the Air Force to reinstate Fitzgerald in his former position, which now pays $36,000 per year. It was also ordered to pay back pay since 1970. In its decision the commission stuck to the line that Fitzgerald's firing had nothing to do with his testimony of the Air Force's gross error in the cost of the C-5A development.

Senator Proxmire commented, "this is a complete vindication of the rights of a dedicated civil servant." In spite of statements to the contrary, we feel Fitzgerald's firing was an attempt to muzzle and get rid of a man who was doing a good job for the people of the country who were paying his salary.

Perhaps the Fitzgerald affair will lend heat to those in public service who see misfeasance but are afraid to report it because of possible retribution.

Cultism Growing

A peculiar phenomenon has risen in many places across the United States in the growth of cults which claim to be religiously oriented. They seem to be offshoots of fundamentalist or primitive religions and the young people who are cultists usually have such a background.

Cultist leaders gain almost complete control over the young people who espouse the groups. So much so that "deprogramming" has arisen, whose task and purpose is to release young cultists from the psychological bonds which the cults seem to weave around them.

Recently two girls from a cult in the East were flown to San Diego to undergo the deprogramming methods of a man there who has worked with young cultists before to get them thinking for themselves and not accept as pure "gospel" the teachings of the cult leaders.

The sway of the leaders over their young followers is total. One 20-year-old girl enmeshed with a cultist group told her father that if her leader ordered her to kill her father and her mother that she would do so.

The cultist teach that they are the ordained of God and that everyone else is evil and followers of the devil. They gain such control over their followers that the youngest often suffers in school work and mental attitudes, particularly towards those who do not belong to the cult.

Perhaps the movement is a further development of the type of mental enslavement which led to the aberrations of the Manson Family and their subsequent criminal acts. Programmers claim that cult leaders use psychological and drug-type stimuli to brain wash the youngster and gain complete control over them.

Another movement which may be akin to the cultists are the Jesus freaks who sprang up as a sort of post-hippy trend.

Perhaps organized and established religion does not meet the needs of these young people who espouse the ultra-primitive and fundamentalist teachings of the cultists.

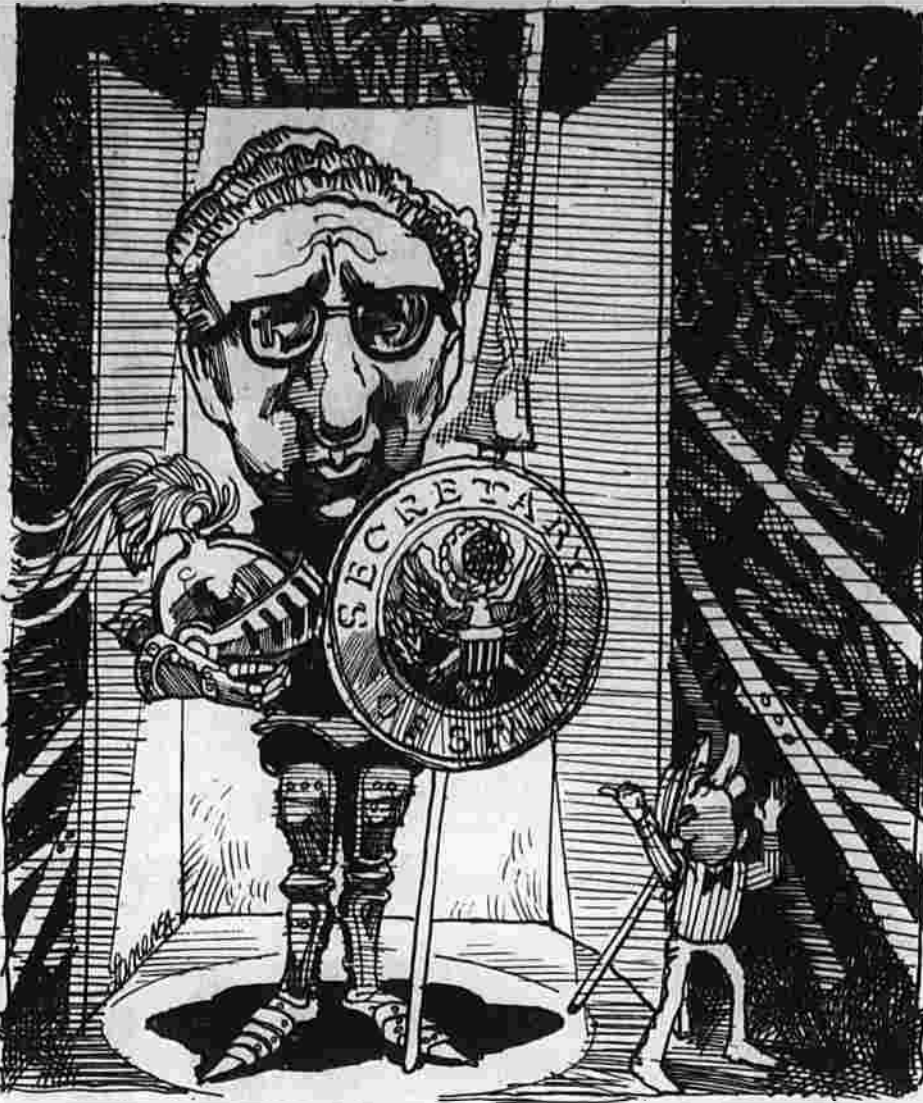

Strange aberrations and enchantment with the spiritual and religiously exotic are nothing new in the history of developing adults who find it easy to rebel against the teachings, practices and religions of their parents.

They seem to be looking for some religious experience to cling to and feel that they are following a life which will be more meaningful than that which has been offered to them by more conservative faiths.

Parents and teachers say that the cultist often reduce their young followers to mental wrecks who are unable to think for themselves and are totally under control of the leaders of these far-out religious sects.

Hopefully and probably the era of the cultists will be as short lived as some of the other fads which have lured youngsters since the Children's Crusade and the incident which may have been the basis of the story of the Pied Piper of Hamelin.

"More Light on the Star! More Light on the Star!"

Main Street's Joe Garman says the store hours for downtown firms aren't as varied as some people, probably this writer, have been led to believe.

Joe knows what he is talking about because he has just completed a one-man survey in which he visited every store on Main Street and talked about store hours. He plans to issue his report to the Mayor's Downtown Action Committee shortly.

Joe says there are only about six firms that have what one might call, fluctuating hours, and there is a good possibility that some of them may make some changes in hours in the near future.

Some of the town's citizenry were more than excited when some charges were nolleed in court in a case in which a Manchester policeman was assaulted.

However, if it is any comfort to the citizenry, the case as it related to one charge was continued until Oct. 1.

Much of our mail here revolves around our courts and charges in courts that are nolleed. We don't believe any case should be tried in the press but the citizenry's patience, in regard to our court system, is growing thinner each day.

Lewis Rome, majority leader of the Connecticut State Senate, made a good point in addressing the Manchester Rotary Club when he recalled the old adage: "No man's life or property is safe while the legislature is in session."

Rome stressed that legislators always hear from special interest groups but since nearly every piece of legislation in some fashion affects a family, business, or community, there should be more involvement by all the citizenry.

It seems that in this day there is no one more frustrated than the zealous environmentalist who is reluctant to travel to the unspoiled regions of the wilderness because gasoline for his car is in short supply and so is the fuel for his cabin.

He said the government controls caused farmers to withhold cattle from the market, creating a "beef shortage" and causing "reasonably stable price levels" to skyrocket.

In addition, "incoming representatives on the board worked out very well. They were active on several committees, including text books, curriculum and drugs. The board is planning to have the student representatives' term staggered with the board."

Even so, Lyng said: "I'm basically optimistic. This country has the capacity to produce an ample supply of food, and the overall cost to the consumer, proportionate to his income, can be the same as it has been in the last few years."

Organized consumer boycotts of meat this year brought about "the purely political response" of price controls on meat, said Jess Harvat, vice president of Swift Fresh Meats Co.

He said the government controls caused farmers to withhold cattle from the market, creating a "beef shortage" and causing "reasonably stable price levels" to skyrocket.

In the meantime we saw farmers slaughtering pregnant sows and drowning chicks because they were afraid they were going to lose money.

He said the government controls caused farmers to withhold cattle from the market, creating a "beef shortage" and causing "reasonably stable price levels" to skyrocket.

In addition, "incoming representatives on the board worked out very well. They were active on several committees, including text books, curriculum and drugs. The board is planning to have the student representatives' term staggered with the board."

Even so, Lyng said: "I'm basically optimistic. This country has the capacity to produce an ample supply of food, and the overall cost to the consumer, proportionate to his income, can be the same as it has been in the last few years."

Organized consumer boycotts of meat this year brought about "the purely political response" of price controls on meat, said Jess Harvat, vice president of Swift Fresh Meats Co.

Vernon Board to Explain Plan To Expand High School

Vernon voters will have an opportunity to learn more about the proposed Rockville High School expansion plan at an open meeting Oct. 11 at Rockville High School.

The decision to hold such a meeting, where the plan will be explained and the public can have their questions answered, was made by the Board of Education at its meeting Monday night.

The Permanent Building Committee has called a special meeting Thursday night to explain what it feels to be a quicker way to expand Rockville High School.

The "fast tract" building plan, which recently has been approved by the state, would still use the present plans for the expansion program, but the work would be speeded up as the building would be erected as each section is approved.

The board would spend a little more effort on the high school expansion program which will go on the ballot of the November elections.

Robert DuBeau said: "To further discuss the referendum, the board will have a special space meeting Oct. 1. Albert Kerkin, assistant superintendent, in speaking about Project HELP, said that three Vernon youngsters attended the food service classes at Manchester Community College last year, and two of the three have been placed in full-time employment."

The work on the addition to the Talcottville School is progressing well, Kerkin said. Some of the classrooms in the new addition are now being utilized, and the roof and walls on the gymnasium are up and work on the interior is now in progress, he said.

Dr. Daniel Woolwich said that having school representatives on the board worked out very well. They were active on several committees, including text books, curriculum and drugs. The board is planning to have the student representatives' term staggered with the board.

Even so, Lyng said: "I'm basically optimistic. This country has the capacity to produce an ample supply of food, and the overall cost to the consumer, proportionate to his income, can be the same as it has been in the last few years."

Santa Claus Full Of Sass And Vigor

NEW YORK (AP) — Santa Claus was a muscle man Monday, full of sass and vigor.

"Are you looking for a punch in the nose?" he asked an interviewer who inquired about his age.

"Santa" was Larry Lewis, a 106-year-old showman who jogs daily.

With two other oldsters, Lewis dressed in Santa red clothing and bush white whiskers to help promote a St. Nick rental service.

"As you age, you mellow away," Lewis philosophized. "You're never old."

The oldest of 13 children, Lewis joined the circus in 1882 as an aerialist, and then assisted the Great Houdini for 30 years. He has starred in a film, "The Long Life of Happy Larry."

His appearance was at a Santa training session, so Lewis was asked what he had learned. "I'm not learning anything," he spouted. "I've already accomplished my studies."

A physical culturist who drinks three gallons of spring water a day, Lewis demonstrated his century of strength by hoisting a television newswoman off the floor.

"Are you satisfied?" he belted. The newswoman apparently was, for once, he was at a loss for words.

EPA Auto Fuel Economy, Emission Tests Described

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — To get these new auto fuel-economy figures, the Environmental Protection Agency drove 144 hours, 17 minutes and 18 seconds; burned up some 188 gallons of gasoline; and never moved an inch. The agency reported last Wednesday the miles-per-gallon performance of 376 new 1974-model cars, ranging from a high of 29.1 for a Honda Civic down to a low of 6.4 for a 4,000-pound Ferrari.

The over-all average was a little better than 15 miles per gallon. EPA first released gasoline mileage figures for the 1973 cars last May, and has now listed the EPA performances in the hope that car buyers will choose economy and aid both the environment and the energy crisis at one stroke.

But, as EPA pointed out, a new car's fuel economy in real life may vary widely, depending on how it is driven. To achieve valid comparison among all 376 makes and models, EPA drove each car through 7.5 miles of urban starts and stops, but never took it out of the garage. Instead, EPA tested each car on a chassis dynamometer, with its drive wheels running on inertia-loaded rollers instead of a road surface while a fan blew an artificial wind-stream through the car's radiator. Each car was driven through exactly the same pattern: 22 minutes and 52 seconds of acceleration, deceleration, cruising and idling, in various speeds and spurts guided by a second-by-second timetable. The test began with a cold engine startup followed by 20 seconds of idling. Then, working against roller resistance simulating actual driving, the car was put through two regular accelerations to cruising speeds of about 30-32 miles per hour and 55-56 m.p.h. with full stops and idling after each segment. That made up the first quarter of the test. The second quarter put the car through a series of six starts and stops with top speeds from 25 to 27, and from 30 to 36 miles an hour, separated by brief idling periods. The third quarter consisted of almost nonstop driving in a series of peaks ranging from 25 to 34 m.p.h., separated by reduced speeds or touch-and-go near-stops. The test ended with a series of five short start-and-stop reaches no better than 28 m.p.h., as the simulated commuter caught all those simulated traffic lights in the last five simulated blocks from his office. EPA considers those 22 minutes, 52 seconds as the equivalent of 7.5 miles of urban driving. Not EPA, they do it the hard way, except that for them it's easy. The official purpose of the testing, after all, was not to determine fuel economy but to measure emissions of carbon monoxide, nitrogen oxides and carbon dioxide coming out of the tailpipe to make sure the emissions fall within federal clean air limits. Since all of the gasoline that enters the motor comes out the tailpipe in one of those three forms, EPA's emission measurements automatically measure fuel consumption — at least, once you crank in a few numbers to account for the chemical changes during combustion. To figure a car's fuel economy in miles per gallon, EPA simply plugs its measured tailpipe emissions into a formula that goes like this: Fuel economy equals 2,423 divided by the sum of 0.866 times hydrocarbon plus 0.429 times carbon monoxide plus 0.273 times carbon dioxide, expressing the emissions in grams per mile. Nothing to it. For the rest of us, however, it's still just a shade easier to set the trip-meter and check the tank.

Mini-Bus Rules Could Cost Up To $100,000

HARTFORD (AP) — Proposed regulations setting minimum standards for "mini" school buses could cost the state and local school boards more than $100,000 next year, the state motor vehicle commissioner said Tuesday.

Commissioner Edward J. Kozlowski said that more than 100 of the van-type vehicles that carry 16 or fewer pupils would have to be replaced if the regulations are adopted in their present form. His department held hearings on the regulations Tuesday.

Richard L. Krentzinger, vice president of the Motor Transport Association of Connecticut, Inc., said school boards might have trouble getting new buses in time to meet the deadline. He said the normal delivery time for such vehicles was six to nine months.

In addition to setting strength standards the regulations would require mini-buses to have the same lights, signals and markings as regular school buses.

John E. Blasko, executive vice president of the Motor Transport Association of Connecticut, Inc., said school boards might have trouble getting new buses in time to meet the deadline. He said the normal delivery time for such vehicles was six to nine months.

In addition to setting strength standards the regulations would require mini-buses to have the same lights, signals and markings as regular school buses.

Just 7 months ago, we announced a revolutionary Change of Policy. Famous Brand Menswear, priced far below the current retail market value. With living costs rising by leaps and bounds, the response of Hartford area men has been phenomenal — so great that we have opened a second Cripps store to make our extra-ordinary values more convenient for additional thousands of suburban residents!

Men's Famous Brand Fashions 1973 Fall Styles... 1963 Prices!

This is what we're doing to lower the cost of men's better clothing:

WE BELIEVE THE RETAIL PRICE OF MEN'S CLOTHING TO BE TOO HIGH... much too high... and we've taken several steps to help bring them down! To fight inflation... to bring prices down where they belong... to where every man can afford not just one good suit a year, but several... And, you always are assured of the personal attention of Les or Lou — if it isn't right for you they won't let you buy it. All garments custom-fitted by Nino, and altered (at a nominal extra charge) by our own tailors on the premises.

WE HAVE JOINED HANDS WITH A NATIONAL RETAIL BUYING GROUP, WITH MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR BUYING POWER, to scour the country's top makers — for overstock buyouts... credit cancellations... the need for cash, in every case, we buy for less than the original wholesale... in many instances, at less than manufacturing cost!

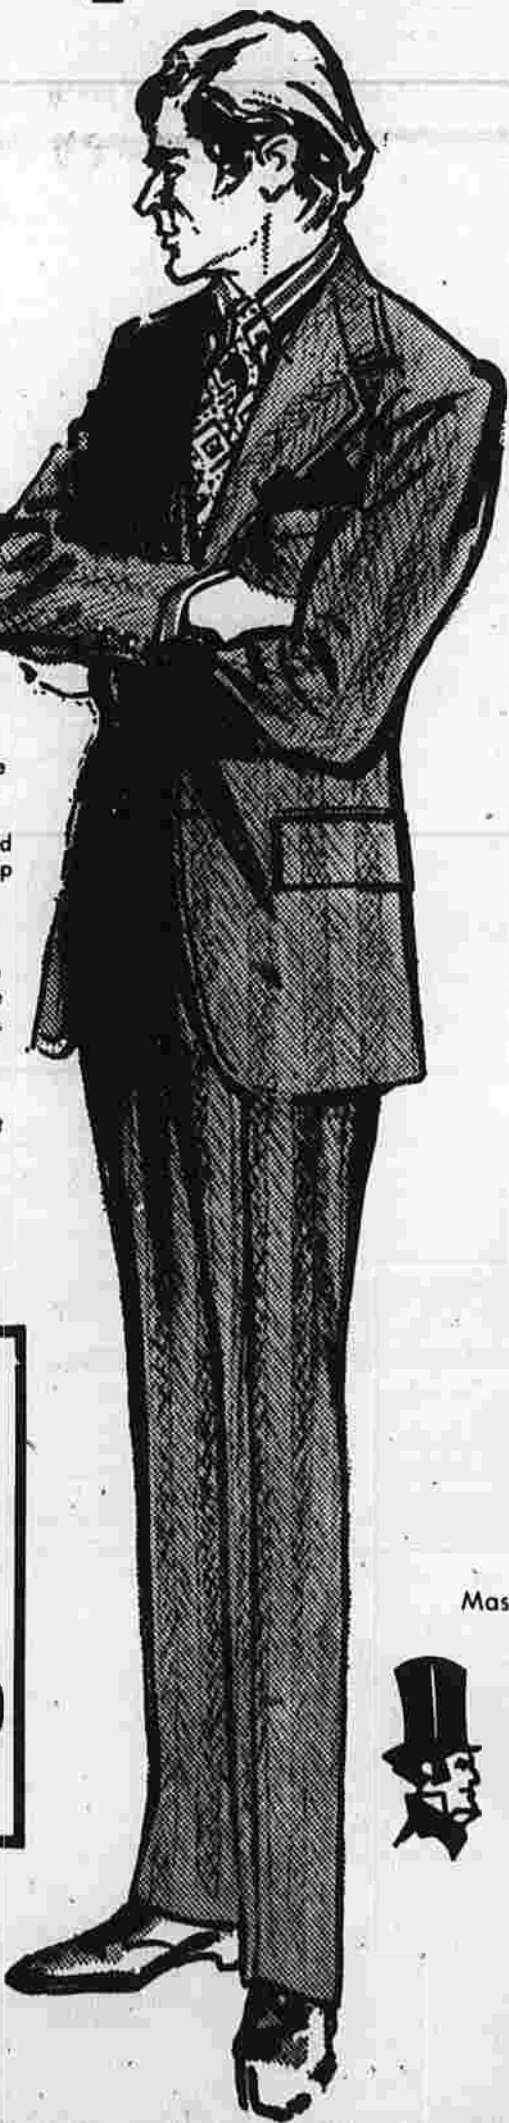

WE HAVE ELIMINATED THE FANCY AND EXPENSIVE RETAIL FRILLS, WHICH DO NOTHING BUT RAISE COSTS. We operate our store with a minimum of personnel... better qualified to help you. Nobody will try to sell you anything. You do the selecting... you choose from a huge display, neatly arranged and clearly marked for easy, self-selection. Our people will help you, if you want help.

WE REMOVE THE LABELS — WILL NOT QUOTE NAMES. We have no desire to color your friendly manufacturer's ability to sell at regular prices to their regular outlets. So, we remove the labels and agree not to mention their names in our advertising.

YOU'LL FIND A CONSTANT FLOW OF FRESH, NEW FINDS in our store every day, because we are not tied to any one manufacturer. Because our sources of supply range throughout the country, and because "buyouts" become available many times a month, we make it possible for you to return day after day and discover whole racks of fresh, new clothing for your selections... everything right out of current-season production and up-to-the-minute in style.

'Europe Can Be Fun,' Happy Traveler Says

BETTY RYDER (Women's Editor)

In a recent article in the Herald entitled "Tourists Receive Cool Reception in Europe," we depicted some of the woes which befall area residents this summer when they visited abroad.

The story prompted Mrs. Linda Paananen, of 44 Hawthorne St. to write us a letter reporting on a much happier trip she and her family took to Europe.

Mrs. Paananen wrote, "We traveled for one month through Great Britain, the Netherlands, Denmark, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy and France. Our trip was two summers ago but I believe our experiences are still valid."

"We did some preliminary planning that really helped us. We purchased Eurail passes that entitled us to unlimited first-class rail travel for one month. We met exciting, friendly people from several countries while en route on trains. Taxi use is unnecessary as bus service is superior in almost all cities."

Her letter continues, "We camped in beautiful camping areas for less than $3 a night, and campers from France helped us in a rain shower. "When we stayed in hotels we never paid more than $5 a night for clean double rooms including breakfast."

"Why should a tourist expect to be catered to?" Mrs. Paananen wrote, "When people visit our country we don't change our customs to please them. We use the maxim, 'When in Rome, do as the Romans do.'"

Mrs. Paananen further noted, "We always attempted to speak the native language and people respected us for it. They always did their best to help us with directions and advice. "We bought many meals in grocery stores and ate them as picnics, but found numerous fine, inexpensive restaurants, and bargains were unbelievable in the Florence St. markets."

Reynolds-St. Germain

St. Bernard's Church, Rockville, was the scene Sept. 22 of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth G. St. Germain of East Hartford and David T. Reynolds of Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien St. Germain of 221 W. Main St., Rockville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert A. Reynolds of 38 Quaker Rd., Rockville. The Rev. John White of St. Bernard's Church, Rockville, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with two floral arrangements of white and yellow pompons.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of satin pean, with princess front of Venice lace and designed with high neck, Empire waist, long bishop sleeves and ruffled hemline. Her matching mantle was attached to a Cameo collar trimmed with Venice lace. She carried white roses and white pompons surrounded with green ivy.

Hopefully, the experiences of the Paananen family's travels will encourage some reluctant tourists to give Europe a try. The book Mrs. Paananen mentioned is available at most bookstores and perhaps would give just the right incentive into overseas travel that novice travelers need.

Mrs. Gilbert Moon of Southington was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a floor-length blue and ecru print gown designed with vee-neckline, A-line skirt, Empire waist, and ruffled hemline. She wore a blue Dior bow headpiece and carried yellow pompons, baby's breath and blue streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Edwin Cardin of West Willington; Miss Gloria Deske of East Hartford; Mrs. Donald O'Neill of Tolland; and Mrs. Wayne Reynolds of Ellington. They wore gowns of orange and ecru print designed similar to that worn by the bride.

MCC Names Veterans Director

Ralph R. Braithwaite of 374 Hilliard St., has been appointed as director of veterans affairs at Manchester Community College. The appointment, announced by MCC President Frederick W. Lowe Jr., is a major step in expanding services to veterans. The expansion is being made possible by a federal grant.

Braithwaite has identified three basic problems in dealing with the approximately 350 veterans who are taking courses at MCC. Many of the vets, especially those recently discharged, attempt too many courses before they have readjusted to civilian life, so he has to convince them to resume their studies slowly and thereby reduce the risk of failure. Many who fail become seriously discouraged and do not return to college.

Ralph R. Braithwaite counters this problem in part through a "veteran's outreach" program which places vets at the college in personal communication with other vets who have the same variety of situations that are, for the most part, concerned with the re-adjustment to civilian life and the problems of the State Labor Department; Emilie Bartoletti, education counselor with the Veterans Administration in Hartford; Jon Norris, committee chairman and member of the Manchester Board of Directors, William Graver, veterans counselor at Manchester Community College; MCC Dean of Students Harry S. Godd; David Lirio, president of the MCC Veterans Club; and Stephen Cassano, ombudsman at Manchester Community College.

And he will work with the directors of veterans affairs at other colleges and universities in the state.

Braithwaite's office is in room 125 in the student center building on the main campus of the college. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, 10 to 4 on Wednesday, and 9 to 4 on Friday. The phone number is 646-4000, ext. 323.

A Summer Assistant for Sen. Weicker

Susan Silhavy of Manchester worked during the summer in the Washington office of U.S. Sen. Lowell Weicker Jr. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Silhavy of 45 Ridgewood St., she teaches music in the West Hartford school system. Here, she discusses with Sen. Weicker some of the pending business she has in the nation's Capitol. During her stay in Washington, one of her main responsibilities was to coordinate the Connecticut Internship Program, which brings high school students to Washington to observe first-hand the operation of the federal government. She also did much of the research and liaison work on the senator's recommendation for constructing a new veterans' hospital in Farmington, near the University of Connecticut Medical and Dental School.

South Windsor GOP To Open Quarters

BEVERLY DIKETT
Correspondent

South Windsor Republican Campaign Headquarters will hold its grand opening and open house tonight at 8 p.m. The headquarters is located at 964 Sullivan Ave. in the Colony Shops Plaza, on the second floor over the Bicycle Shoppe.

State Treasurer Alden A. Ives of Morris, Conn., will be the featured speaker. Long active in state government, Ives has served continuously since 1966, first as state representative from Morris and then for 12 years in the state Senate. He was recently appointed state treasurer to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Robert Berdon.

Other honored guests at the open house include the entire local Republican slate for the Nov. 6 election. Campaign materials will be available and refreshments will be served.

Bridge Classes to Start

The South Windsor Recreation Department announces the start of bridge lessons to be held at South Windsor High School on Tuesday evenings in room 115. The classes will run for eight weeks starting Oct. 2 and concluding Nov. 27. Beginner classes will be from 6:45 to 8:15 p.m.; intermediate classes will be held 8:30 to 10 p.m.

The fee is $8 per person payable the first night of the session. Class size is limited to 20 persons, and pre-registration is required. Interested persons may register by calling the recreationist's desk, Town Hall, 644-2511. Judy Pyka of Manchester will be the instructor.

Friends for Music

The South Windsor Friends for Music will hold their first meeting of the year Oct. 3, at 8 p.m. in the music room of South Windsor High School. Having completed a successful band uniform drive, plans will be made for projects for the coming year, including the establishing of a permanent music scholarship fund and providing the opportunity for South Windsor bands and choral groups to participate more extensively in exchange concerts.

COLLECTED STORIES. By Graham Greene, Viking, 56c. Pages 410.

In his introduction to this best-selling collection of fine stories, Graham Greene notes that "writing is a form of therapy; sometimes I wonder how all those who do not write, compose or paint can manage to escape the madness, the melancholia, the panic fear which is inherent in the human situation."

The answer is a relatively simple one: by listening to the compositions, by looking at the paintings and by reading the writings of such excellent stylists as Greene himself.

The stories included in this volume cover a wide span of years, from 1929 almost up to the present. But even the oldest show no signs of aging nor do they lose any of their relief the second time around.

Laid in such divergent places as Andalus, Nice, Jamaica and England, among others, they deal with a wide variety of situations that are, for the most part, concerned with the re-adjustment to civilian life and the problems of the State Labor Department; Emilie Bartoletti, education counselor with the Veterans Administration in Hartford; Jon Norris, com-

WORLD WITHOUT END. AMEN. By Jimmy Breslin, Viking, 59c. Pages 210.

Dermot Davy is a New York City cop and not a very good one. Dermot, the lead character in Jimmy Breslin's new novel, also isn't a very good one. He's a completely balding guy - he does have some nice traits - it's just that at age 29 he's completely unprepared to deal meaningfully with life - his own and those that impinge upon his.

Instead of trying to direct his life, Dermot prefers to follow the line of least resistance. In only one year before the goal can be reached and drinking, drinking, drinking. The amount of booze he puts away in the brief span of days covered in this book would keep any normal person drunk for a year.

Breslin tries to make a case for his character's flaws by putting the bulk of the blame on Dermot's Irish-American background. It's difficult to feel sympathy for him and impossible to empathize.

Despite its clay-footed hero, this novel is worth the reading if only for its many sections of excellent writing. It's a long, long, beautifully-written section in which Dermot, who has gone to Northern Ireland on forced vacation, is trapped in a Belfast house while the British Army and the IRA have a violent shootout on the street outside. Using his words magically, Breslin brings the ominous bundle of the armored cars, the chattering of machine guns, the choking tear gas frighteningly alive.

It's a scene that reaches out and grabs the reader and forces him to keep reading. There are other all-time great good throughout the book. If only Dermot Davy wasn't such

THE BERLIN ENDING. BY E. Howard Hunt, Putnam, 310 Pages, $6.95.

Advertising on a book's dust jacket that it is "a novel that is being tried by one of the Watergate Seven" probably won't hurt its sales any, but it may cause a little apprehension as to just how good a book it is.

No problem here. This really is a dandy novel, intriguing and former-CIA agent E. Howard Hunt has done well by the genre. Hunt, who has earned out some 10 novels over the past 20 years, centers his attention here on "Agents of Influence." These are the men who rank high in government, high enough to be capable of altering the attitudes of an entire country. If these men happen to be under Communist domination but hold their positions of power in non-Communist countries then the damage they can do the Free World is immense.

Hunt's Communist-leaning Agent of Influence here happens to be the West German

Auto Show To Aid Hospital

The fourth annual Antique Auto Show to be held Sunday at the Antique Auto Museum on Slater St., will benefit the Manchester Memorial Hospital. About 50,000 stillbirths and equal number of deaths within the first four weeks after birth are recorded each year in this country. Manufacturers of the fetal heart monitor say a good number of these deaths as well as incidents of brain damage could be prevented by monitoring deviations from the normal fetal heart range, which may be an indication of the unborn child in distress.

The Antique Auto Show at the Manchester Memorial Hospital Fund toward the purchase of a fetal heart monitor. The event is sponsored by the Manchester Jaycees who have pledged to raise one half of the cost of the monitor.

The fetal heart monitor is a major advance in detecting and preventing birth defects caused by unforeseen problems in labor. This device is most valuable with "high risk" pregnancies. In this category are women who have had previous preterm pregnancies, such as stillbirths or those who suffer from ailments like hypertension, anemia, heart and kidney disease, and diabetes.

The $6,000 machine measures the heart rate of the unborn infant continuously during labor and delivery. Each heart beat is not only heard and amplified, but recorded by graph, meter, and electrocardiogram.

Students participating in the program will be asked to tape a five minute speech on the 1973-74 theme, "My Responsibility As A Citizen."

Each participating high school will have a winner and a cash award will be made by the Vernon VFW Post. The state winner will be provided with a five-day trip to Washington, D.C., with all expenses paid, plus an opportunity to compete for national scholarships.

Public Meeting
Old age assistance, aid to dependent children, child abuse and foster homes are some of the topics to be discussed tonight at 8 at Rockville United Methodist Church.

The meeting, which is sponsored by the commission on missions of the church, is open to the public. Coffee will be served after the program.

Marvin Harris, a social worker with the Protective Services of the State Welfare Department, will be the guest speaker. There will be an opportunity for questions.

Guest Speaker

Krister Stendahl, dean of Harvard Divinity School, will be guest speaker Friday at 7:15 p.m. in Kaiser Hall at Concordia Lutheran Church. The program will be based on Early Communication Practices and the Sacraments.

Dean Stendahl has taught at the Divinity School since 1964. He was named John H. Morison Professor of New Testament Studies in 1958 and was Frothingham Professor of Biblical Studies from 1963 to 1968 when he took up his present position and became John Lord O'Brien Professor of Divinity. He taught at Uppsala University in Sweden from 1961 to 1964 and at the Institute for Theological Education at the University of Ghana in 1968.

Ordained a priest of the Church of Sweden in 1944, Dean Stendahl was an assistant pastor in the diocese of Stockholm from 1944 to 1946 and Chaplain at Uppsala University from 1948 to 1950.

He received his Th.D. degree from Uppsala in 1954. He studied in Cambridge, England and in Paris in 1953 and was a recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1959. He has received a Litt.D. from Uppsala College in New Jersey and from Thiel College in Pennsylvania and a D.D. from Colby College.

Dean and Mrs. Stendahl live in Cambridge, Mass., and became citizens of the United States in 1967. Mrs. Stendahl, a scholar in Swedish literature, is a Senior Fellow of the Radcliffe Institute for Independent Study.

Vernon Notes

Bob Tucker, senior vice commander of the Vernon VFW Post, has been appointed chairman of the VFW's Voice of Democracy program for Rockville and Ellington High Schools, which are in the post's area.

Students participating in the program will be asked to tape a five minute speech on the 1973-74 theme, "My Responsibility As A Citizen."

Each participating high school will have a winner and a cash award will be made by the Vernon VFW Post. The state winner will be provided with a five-day trip to Washington, D.C., with all expenses paid, plus an opportunity to compete for national scholarships.

Parents Invited To Attend Classes

ANNE EMT Correspondent Tel. 228-3971

The school visitation program for parents, initiated at Rham High School last spring, was so successful for those who participated that the program will operate again this year starting this week.

The program allows any student in Grades 7 through 12 to have his parent or guardian substitute for him up to two days (preferably non-consecutive).

The parent follows the student's schedule completely and is responsible for attending all classes; however, participation in physical education activities is optional. Also, students should not have their parents substitute for them on a day when a major examination is scheduled.

Parents need not call the office prior to taking their children's places and may drive to school or take the school bus.

Band
Andrey Senkbeil has been elected president of the Rham Symphonic Band for the 1973-74 school year.

Other officers elected were: Cheryl Dixon, vice president; Darylne Johnson, secretary; Karen Bergeron, treasurer; Judy Spinney, Jeff Sirois, Dianne Collette, and Valerie Schwarzmann, council members; and Renee Pratt and Cindy Robinson, librarians.

Choir
The Rham Regional 8 adult choir is looking for members and anyone interested in singing all kinds of music is welcome to join the group which meets Wednesday evenings at 7:30 in the Rham

Governor Criticizes Fishing Pact

GLoucester, Mass. (AP) — International fishing agreements are not working and should be withdrawn, says Gov. Francis W. Sargent.

Sargent renewed his request that the United States withdraw from the International Commission for the Northwest Atlantic Fisheries, on which Sargent served as a commissioner from 1961 to 1962.

He said cod, haddock and lobster have disappeared from the area and added "The threat to these species originates not in Boston or Gloucester or New Bedford, but in Poland, Russia and Japan."

The governor's remarks were made Tuesday.

I only eat when I'm depressed.	My metabolism changed.	It's rude to refuse food.
I'm under pressure.	My mother makes me eat.	I have to taste what I cook.
I'm gluttonous.	Some very famous people were fat.	It's just water retention.
I get sick when I diet.	I had a depressed childhood.	I can't stand to throw out food while children are staying in Europe.

Over the course of a year, a local volunteer fire department might receive several letters from residents thanking the department for its services during an emergency.

However, it is a rare case when the department itself sends a thank you letter to a resident. Such is the case with the Hebron Volunteer Fire Department.

According to a letter sent to Thomas L. Kelly of Rt. 94, signed by Harvey A. Desruisseaux, department secretary, the members voted unanimously at their September meeting "to express their heartfelt appreciation" to Kelly "for the assistance" he "afforded the Department during clearing operations in the wake of the severe storm which struck our fine town on Friday evening, August 31, 1973."

The department thanked Kelly for his "unselfish contribution to our community" and stated that "it is certainly gratifying to know that your volunteer fire department can count on individuals, such as yourself, during a time of emergency."

According to Desruisseaux, Kelly was instrumental in clearing the highways of fallen trees to enable the fire department to respond to call the evening of the storm.

Synagogue High Holiday Services, in observance of Rosh Hana will be held Thursday and Friday at 9 a.m. at the United Brethren of Hebron Synagogue on Rt. 85. The Synagogue will also hold a service Saturday at 9 a.m.

Then on Oct. 2 there will be an important meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Synagogue and on Oct. 5 and 6 there will be services at 6 p.m. and 9 a.m., respectively in commemoration of Yom Kippur.

Homicide Rates Linked To Lax Gun Controls

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An absence of gun control legislation in Southern cities may be one reason why those metropolitan areas are dominating the nation's murder statistics, according to some FBI officials.

FBI data shows Atlanta leading the nation in 1973 with a rate of 23 slayings per 100,000 population, followed by Gainesville, Fla.; Little Rock, Ark.; Greenville, S.C.; Columbus, Ga.; Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Richmond, Va., and Savannah, Ga.

Based on per 100,000 population, New York reported 19.1 murders last year while Los Angeles reported 12.8. Las Vegas had 18.3, Baltimore 17.6, Detroit 17.3 and Chicago 11.5. By comparison, Gainesville had 22.3, Little Rock and Greenville 20.4, Columbus and Tuscaloosa 20.2, Richmond 19.8, Savannah 19.2, Raleigh, N.C., 18.7, Lubbock, Tex., and Memphis, Tenn., 18.6, New Orleans and Jackson, Miss., 17.9, Charlotte, N.C., 17.6, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Jacksonville, Fla., 17.4.

Houston reported 17.3 murders per 100,000 population, Birmingham, Ala., and Augusta, Ga., reported 17.1, and Wilmington, N.C., had 17.

"If I had my way they would take every handgun ever made and throw them in the river," said Georgia Division of Investigation director William Beardsley.

Obituaries

Mrs. Rosalind G. Goodell ROCKVILLE - Mrs. Rosalind Goodell, formerly of Lynn, Mass., died this morning at a local convalescent home after a long illness.

Born Jan. 29, 1909, in Barre, Wis., she lived in Stafford Springs before moving to Lynn, Mass., more than 20 years ago.

Survivors are a son, Lee F. Goodell of South Willington; a daughter, Mrs. Melvin Ungewitter of Ellington; a brother, Elmore P. Goodell of East Hartford; and seven granddaughters.

Funeral services are Friday at 11 a.m. at the Ladd Funeral Home, 19 Ellington Ave., Rockville, with the Rev. Paul J. Bowman, pastor of the Union Congregational Church, officiating. Burial will be in Grove Hill Cemetery, Rockville.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Those wishing to do so may make memorial contributions to the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Annie Beeler COVENTRY - Mrs. Annie Beeler, 68, of South St., died Tuesday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. She was the widow of George H. Beeler Sr.

Mrs. Beeler was born in Cheshire, Mass., and had been employed for 28 years at the Pratt and Whitney Small Tool Division of Colt Industries, West Hartford, before her retirement two years ago.

Survivors are a son, George Beeler Jr. of New Milford; two daughters, Mrs. Valentine Dynes of Coventry and Mrs. Russell Scott of Tucson, Ariz.; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2 p.m. at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church. Burial will be at the convenience of the family.

The Bacon Funeral Home, 71 Prospect St., Willimantic, is in charge of arrangements.

There are no calling hours. The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to the Public Health Nursing Association or to the Cancer Aid and Research Fund of the Andrew B. Mygatt VFW Auxiliary, Milford.

Postal Rate Hikes Protested WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., has told the Cost of Living Council should make sure Phase 4 regulations are applied to proposed hikes in postal rates.

In other police case reports: -A money bag containing $317 was reported missing from Dip & Six Donuts, 335 Center St., Monday.

-A car owned by Angel M. Ayuso of Hartford was stolen Monday night while it was parked off Regent St. It is a 1970 Plymouth Road Runner, orange with a black racing stripe.

-A car owned by Mary Greer of East Hartford, reported stolen from that town recently, respects to the late Alpha Beruby, a member of the Barracks.

Police Report

MANCHESTER

A 12-year-old Manchester girl - Karen S. Cramer of 49 Flower St. - was listed in satisfactory condition today at Manchester Memorial Hospital with injuries suffered when she was hit by a car Tuesday afternoon.

Manchester Police said the girl apparently ran out in front of a westbound car on E. Center St. at about 4:45 p.m. The car was driven by Michael J. Krawfsky, 19, of East Hartford.

Police didn't lodge charges in the case.

Other accidents reported by Manchester Police included: A 7:02 p.m. Monday accident at Highland and Willys Sts., involving vehicles operated by Jane A. Morrison, 19, of Santa Barbara, Calif., and Joan T. Hopper, 38, of Birch Mountain Ext., Bolton. Miss Morrison was charged with failure to obey traffic control signal; court date is Oct. 15. No injuries were reported; the Morrison car was towed.

-A two-car collision Monday night involving cars driven by Ronald Larsen, 37, of 386 Parker St., and Roland G. Chasse, 40, of 180 New Bolton Rd., the accident occurred on Tuesday at about 9 p.m. The Larsen car was towed.

Arrests made or summonses issued by Manchester Police included: -George D. Glidden, 27, of 2 Mountain Rd., charged Monday night with disorderly conduct, at a Maple St. address. Court date is Oct. 15.

Two 16-year-old South Windsor girls involved in a one-car accident in Tolland Tuesday are listed in serious condition at Rockville General Hospital, State Police reported today.

The girls are Susan Sullivan of 25 Sharon Dr. and Cindy Hitchborn of 79 Hillton Dr. Police said Miss Sullivan was driving a car west on Rt. 15, Tolland, at 12:40 p.m., when the vehicle went out of control, swerved, spun around, struck a cliff, and rolled over.

Miss Sullivan and her passenger, Miss Hitchborn, were thrown from the car, police said. The car was demolished.

Werner P. Geall, 46, of Kingsbury Ave., Rockville, was charged Tuesday afternoon with reckless driving after a two-car accident on Saltpetre Lake Rd., Tolland, State Police said.

Geall's car was in a collision with a vehicle driven by Richard Parisseau, 17, of 67 Hammond St., Rockville, police said. Both drivers suffered minor injuries in the 12:45 p.m. crash, police said.

Geall was summoned to appear in court at Manchester next month.

ELLINGTON

David A. Vaicunas, 24, of Windsor Locks was taken into custody by State Police Tuesday on charges of risk of injury to a minor child and third-degree assault.

The charges, lodged against Vaicunas on a bench warrant issued by Tolland County Superior Court, stem from a Sept. 4 incident in Ellington involving a 15-year-old girl, police said.

Police said the bench warrant arrest supersedes an arrest made earlier requiring Vaicunas to appear in Circuit Court.

Vaicunas was released on a $5,000 bond.

VERNON Thomas P. Lynch, 21, of 75 High St., Rockville, was charged Tuesday with disorderly conduct. Vernon Police reported.

Police said Lynch became abusive when a policeman was investigating an abandoned car complaint on High St. at about 9:30 a.m.

Lynch was released on a $100 surety bond for court appearance Oct. 16.

John Montague, 44, of East Hartford, was charged early today with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Police said they stopped Montague's car on Rt. 83.

He was released on a $150 non-surety bond for court appearance Oct. 16.

TOLLAND Two 16-year-old South Windsor girls involved in a one-car accident in Tolland Tuesday are listed in serious condition at Rockville General Hospital, State Police reported today.

The girls are Susan Sullivan of 25 Sharon Dr. and Cindy Hitchborn of 79 Hillton Dr. Police said Miss Sullivan was driving a car west on Rt. 15, Tolland, at 12:40 p.m., when the vehicle went out of control, swerved, spun around, struck a cliff, and rolled over.

Miss Sullivan and her passenger, Miss Hitchborn, were thrown from the car, police said. The car was demolished.

Werner P. Geall, 46, of Kingsbury Ave., Rockville, was charged Tuesday afternoon with reckless driving after a two-car accident on Saltpetre Lake Rd., Tolland, State Police said.

Geall's car was in a collision with a vehicle driven by Richard Parisseau, 17, of 67 Hammond St., Rockville, police said. Both drivers suffered minor injuries in the 12:45 p.m. crash, police said.

Geall was summoned to appear in court at Manchester next month.

South Windsor School Salaries Approved

BEVERLY DUKETT Correspondent

The 1973-74 salary agreement between the South Windsor Board of Education and the South Windsor Education Association (SWEA) was formally ratified by the board at its meeting last night.

The salary agreement has already been approved by SWEA and will now be presented to the Town Council for its ratification.

Under the present agreement the maximum salary a teacher with a master's degree can earn is $16,096.

The board gave its approval to the high school Booster Club to build a concession stand on the football field. The board will now provide the Booster Club with a letter requesting a building permit. Proceeds earned by the Booster Club at the concession stand are used toward promoting high school athletics.

Last year the club supported three athletic banquets and donated money toward buying hockey uniforms and band uniforms. Board member Fred Degiacomo requested that the Booster Club be informed as to what it is doing with the proceeds from the booth. Once the building is completed it will be donated to the high school.

The board voted to allocate $225 in order to provide a soccer program for ninth graders at Timothy Edwards School. In the past the ninth graders played the junior varsity squad at the high school.

Correction The Guild of Our Lady at St. Bartholomew's Church Mass and Communion supper will be Wednesday, Oct. 3, instead of tonight as reported in The Herald Tuesday.

Tolland Building Purchase Voting Tonight

Townpeople will be asked to vote on the purchase of the bank building on the Green for use by the Board of Education at a town meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Hicks Memorial School.

The Board of Finance has approved the purchase price plus professional fees and renovation cost totaling $115,800. The state will pay $50,400 toward the property and renovation.

Board of Education chairman James Cornish has released information in the hopes of "purging the doubtful and convincing the determined."

The bank property was first offered to the town at the price of $175,000. After much discussion and counter offers, the Board of Education, Board of Finance, and the bank's board of directors, reached a compromise figure of $108,000. This includes the building, two-story rentable dwelling located behind the bank, and 1.95 acres of land which borders on present school playground property.

The fair market value of this property has been appraised by an outside appraisal firm as being worth some $20,000 more than the agreed-upon price. Considering that the usable floor area (not including the vault) is approximately 4700 sq. ft., it is conceivable that comparable square footage with $175,000 would cost between $175,000 and $200,000, Cornish said.

The vault is much needed by the Board of Education to store some of its permanent records. "We should benefit from Ellington's unfortunate experience of a few years ago when records not in such a vault were consumed by fire. Some records can never be replaced," he added.

Cornish said the bank building proper would be used to house the superintendent of schools and his secretary, the business manager and his clerk, the bookkeeper, and assistant bookkeeper, the Board of Education meeting room, the director of special services, the speech therapist, and other service personnel. This would free needed space at Hicks Memorial School for teachers without adequate office, teaching and parking areas.

The downstairs space at the bank would make an excellent meeting room for town groups, such as scouts, and service organizations. The house could be eventually utilized by the library which desperately needs more space.

"The purchase of this property," Cornish concludes, "could fulfill many needs in Tolland and I can only strongly urge Tolland's citizens to support the purchase of this property."

The Board of Selectmen went on record at its last meeting to support the purchase.

Also on the agenda tonight is approval of the Planning and Zoning Commission as controllers of the new state inland wetland act, to comply with state regulations effective Jan. 1.

The third item is approval of the sewer feasibility study committee. The Planning and Zoning Commission has requested the selectmen to appoint such a committee to study all of Tolland west of Paulk Hill, including the Industrial Park, for possible tie-in to Vernon's new sewer project.

Two items previously planned to be on the call of the meeting are not included. These are the Arts of Tolland request to lease land on the Community House property on Cedar Hill Rd. and the Ambulance Association request to use the town barn located behind the Administration Building.

According to the town clerk, both of these items must be okayed by the Planning and Zoning Commission before going to a town meeting.

Tolland Town Treasurer Resigns Post

VIVIAN KENNESON
Correspondent

The Board of Selectmen accepted, with regret, the resignation of Town Treasurer Elaine Smith Tuesday night.

First Selectman Erwin Stoetzer said this was Mrs. Smith's second letter of resignation in two weeks, and that he convinced her to withdraw the first one.

Mrs. Smith is resigning for personal reasons, as she finds the job too time-consuming. She made the effective date Oct. 23 to give the present board time to appoint a new treasurer before the election and a new board takes over.

The selectmen will write to the two town committees for recommendations to fill the job.

Traffic Light
Stoetzer reported last night that he is working with the Tolland Volunteer Fire Department (TVFD) to request a traffic light on Rt. 195 near the fire house.

He said that as a result of a recent radar unit set up on Rt. 195, in which the operator was nearly "wiped out," the state has agreed that there is a traffic problem at the site.

Fire Chief Ronald Little had said a previous survey by the state resulted in the request for a signal being denied on the grounds that there was too little traffic to warrant it.

Stoetzer said the decision to install a traffic control was reached after state officials met with members of the TVFD and the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Vacancies
Stoetzer reported last night that, according to Robert T. King, town counsel, the Tolland Middle School Building Committee will appoint persons to fill the two vacancies.

King has said that the committee was given the power to fill its own vacancies at a previous town meeting.

All present members of the committee are Republican, with the exception of two independent voters. King had previously ruled that both of the vacancies be filled by other than Republicans.

South Windsor PZC Hears Plan For Restaurant

The South Windsor Planning and Zoning Commission heard a proposal for construction of a restaurant on the corner of Fitch Blvd. at its meeting last night.

The proposal was presented by Arthur Johnson of Harlee's Restaurants. Louise Evans, a commission member, said that South Windsor does not favor drive-in type restaurants. Johnson assured the commission that the proposed facility would be basically an eat-in family restaurant. The facility would have a seating capacity of 100 with a parking area for 72 vehicles.

Representatives of International Transport, a Minnesota based trucking firm, presented the second proposal. The site is industrially zoned and also located on John Fitch Blvd. The firm will use the property as a terminal for empty trailers. The trailers will be seen from the road since they will be parked under a tree area and an existing house, according to the firm.

The commission seemed favorable to this proposal, but Chairman William Grace did suggest that the driveway to be paved.

Richard Gregorian, owner and operator of the skating arena in South Windsor, proposed that the arena be allowed to rent a track made of artificial snow for running the snowmobiles. Gregorian said that the primary reason for his proposal is "to provide South Fitch Blvd. with a family recreation center."

Louise Evans brought up the question of noise pollution and Gregorian said that "in the spirit of neighborliness the events at the arena will not create a public nuisance."

At 63.3-acre open space subdivision to be located on property owned by Arnold Chase presented the proposal which would involve 67 lots with the average lot size being about 20,000 square feet. Most of the commission members expressed concern at the small size of the lots. Chairman Grace directed the developers to the fire marshal and the Engineering Department of the town to work out some of the details.

On Monday at the commission decided against changing the name of a portion of Foster St. to Beelezbub Rd. after residents voiced objection at a hearing. The change had been proposed by Fire Marshal William Lanning who said the present situation confuses motorists. The proposal would have changed to Beelezbub Rd. the portion of Foster St. between its intersection with Beelezbub Rd. and Ellington Rd.

Instruction will be given each and every Thursday, Oct. 11 to Nov. 8, from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. at Herrick Memorial Park.

The course is restricted to the first 10 paid registrants.

For more information or to register, call Mrs. Betty Dufraine, 643-5296.

Fair Plans Under Way
The Ladies Benevolent Society of Bolton Congregational Church will present the 15th annual "It was the Month Before Christmas Fair" Saturday, Nov. 3 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

In addition to the various booths the previous years a special attraction this year will be a glass blower, Peter Esak, from Mystic.

The fair will be in the education building of the church.

Mrs. Edith Banz is general chairman for the event.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is minimal food intake and is devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important) while reducing. You keep "full" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home.

This is honestly a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Fasten if you need all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $3.00 ($3.25 for Rush Service) — Cash is O.K. — to: Jorma Products Co., P.O. Box 2176, Leucadia, CA 92024. Don't order unless you expect to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do!

Peter Anselmo Pleads Innocent

HARTFORD (AP) — An executive aide to the state public works commissioner pleaded innocent in Superior Court Tuesday to charges that he illegally used his state job for political purposes.

Peter Anselmo, a Hartford Republican, declared his innocence on five counts of falsifying an oath and four counts of improperly using labors of state employees.

His lawyer, Edward J. Daly Jr., said Anselmo was charged before it reaches trial.

Judge William P. Barber, however, continued the case for jury trial after the pleas.

Fancy ring-a-ding. For the best room in the house.

This phone doesn't just sit there. It tells people you like special things. And it lives up to its surroundings. Because it takes more than just being a phone to earn a place next to that antique you spent two years restoring. Four expressive decorator cradlephones to choose from. Antique white, Antique gold, Mediterranean and with pickled finish base and black and gold. Early American with simulated maple base. Fancy ring-a-dings. Not nearly as expensive as your friends will imagine.

Stamps in The News

Royal weddings are always cause for international celebration — and, simultaneously, cause for the issuance of postage stamps honoring the big event.

The upcoming marital merriment celebrating the platonic application of millions is the joining of Britain's HRH Princess Anne to commander Capt. Mark Phillips on Nov. 14.

The British Post Office, as is customary on such occasions, will issue a set of two stamps on that date. Many of the countries in the Commonwealth will also release adhesives commemorating the wedding to be held in London's Westminster Abbey.

One of the first to announce its designs is the Channel Islands of Jersey. The photographs used in the main design were approved by Queen Elizabeth, Phillips is shown in the patrol jacket of his regiment, the Queen's Dragoon Guards.

The five-color stamps of Jersey will come in two values, 3 pence and 20 pence.

Several stamp albums will be published to commemorate the royal wedding. Stanley Gibbons of London is planning one similar to its successful book for the Royal Silver Wedding issued November 1972.

While the British are planning for their historical event, the U.S. is making a big effort to hail the 200th anniversary of the American Revolution in 1976, which the English may be rather forgetful.

Another in the Collector Series of the American Revolution Bicentennial Covers by the International Stamp Collectors Society will feature three covers honoring Francis Key, the composer of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Each of the covers carries two stamps — the Key stamp of 1948 and the Key Crede stamp issued in 1960. In full color, each of the Star Spangled Banner covers is illustrated with a reproduction of an appropriate painting of that period and an excerpt from the national anthem.

The complete set of three covers is available for $3.50 from: Bicentennial Collection, International Stamp Collectors Society, P.O. Box 4806, Los Angeles, Calif. 90048.

Two stamps commemorating athletic events have been issued by The Netherlands. One stamp marks the 75th anniversary of the Royal Netherlands Hockey Assn, and also the world championship hockey games at Amstelveen. The design depicts an action scene during a game. The other stamp is for the world championship modern rhythmic gymnastics competitions in Rotterdam. Shown is a woman practicing this form of gymnastics. Sponsor of the international event is the Royal Netherlands Gymnastics Federation.

Speaking of sports, the Republic of Indonesia has issued three stamps honoring its eighth National Sports Week, according to the World Wide Philatelic Agency. Depicted are karate, hurdle racing and chess. Colored stripes appear on each adhesive adding to the stylized designs.

FROM THE MAIL BAG... To Lillian S. Will of Allentown, Pa., the canceled stamps you describe are not valuable but

Citizen Help Solicited

HARTFORD (AP) — In light of potential new drug selling in Connecticut because of a New York State law against purveyors, local police have asked for increased citizen help to fight drug traffic.

"Because a strict law against pushers has been enacted in New York, there is the possibility that some criminals in the drug trade will seek to change their base of operations to Connecticut," Police Chief Thomas J. Vaughan said.

In a statement he urged citizens to work with police to prevent the social deterioration that results from illegal drug operations.

He reminded the public to write anonymously to Post Office Box 66, Hartford, with any information on the drug trade.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Dollar Value Of A Housewife

How much is a housewife worth in dollars and cents? This unromantic question comes up every day in our courtooms...

In most cases, the key issue is how much it would cost to hire a substitute housekeeper to do approximately the same work as long as necessary...

For example, an award may be based on such items (per week) as 10 hours of services as a cook, 2 hours of services as a waitress, 7 hours of services as a laundress...

Of course, there are endless variables. Suppose, for instance, that the decedent was exceptionally capable in her domestic chores...

In another case, the figure was higher because the woman helped her husband in his plumbing business; in another, because she worked part-time as a nurse driver...

Does the law allow compensation also for the "society, care, and attention" she gave to her husband and children?

Other courts, however, don't go that far, saying such benefits are too intangible to be measured in money.

Furthermore, factors that may be plus in one situation may be minus in another. In one case an award of $75,000 was held too high, largely because the woman had functioned at a below-average level in family matters...

Teacher Ill, Rec Cancels Some Classes

Because of the severe illness of Dr. Homer Grasseier who taught cultural classes at the West Side Recreation Center, the Rec Department has been forced to cancel, at least temporarily, a number of classes. The classes will be reinstated as other teachers are located to teach the courses.

The classes involved are: How to buy a home, Law for the consumer, French Conversations 1, 2, 3, 4, effective writing, current events, public speaking, psychology and guitar.

Anyone who feels qualified to teach any of these classes during the day should contact Bea Sheffel at 643-0795 or Mel Schoold at 646-5010. Consideration will be given to teachers who are now working part time or who are retired. Free child care is available during the day for teachers with children two years old and older. If necessary these classes can be rearranged for evenings or Saturdays.

Participants who have registered and paid tuition for these classes may come in to the rec and pick up their refund. Anyone registering for these classes will be notified when they will again be offered.

The other craft and exercise classes will be offered as planned. Registration is in person this week and next at the West Side Rec, 110 Cedar St., Manchester.

Stairwell Gallery Opens Friday

Manchester Community College's Stairwell Gallery will open its sixth season Friday with an exhibition of photographs by Siegfried Halus and paintings by Marilyn Robert.

Halus, a native of Austria, has been living in the U.S. since 1951. He is senior photographer for Actus Life and Casualty, Hartford. He has taught at the Aspen (Col.) School of Art, the Wadsworth Atheneum, Hartford Art School, and MATRIX in Hartford. A contributor to numerous publications, Halus has been staff photographer for the Hartford Stage Co., the Hartford Symphony, and the Hartford Ballet. He was photography exhibit chairman at the 1973 Hartford Civic & Arts Festival.

Miss Harder holds a BFA degree from the University of Florida and an MFA degree from Syracuse University. Her exhibition credits include one woman and group shows in New York and Connecticut. At MOC, she will exhibit large oil paintings of blow-ups of material folds executed in a sharp-focus style. Miss Harder lives in Hartford.

The photograph and painting exhibit will remain on view until Oct. 19, Manning said. Both the film and exhibit will be at MCC's Hartford Rd. campus.

QUARTERLY DIVIDEND
The directors of Southern New England Telephone have declared a quarterly dividend on the company's common stock of 71 cents a share. This dividend increase is well within the guidelines established by the federal government, and is consistent with the company's policy of declaring modest dividends.

SNET last increased its dividend in September 1972 and prior to that the last increase was in 1967.

The quarterly dividend for preferred shares remains at 85.5 cents per share, payable Oct. 15 to preferred shareholders of record on September 24.

In announcing the board action, Alfred W. Van Sinderen, SNET president, said "This dividend increase is well within the guidelines established by the federal government, and is consistent with the company's policy of declaring modest dividends."

Most Popular Game in New York Comparing Mets to '69 Club

NEW YORK (AP) — The most popular game in town these days is trying to compare the New York Mets' current pennant drive with the "Miracle Mets" of 1969. Relief ace Tom Seaver doesn't like that game at all. "I'm just trying to concentrate on one game at a time," he said after posting his 24th save in the Mets' 5-1 victory over the Montreal Expos Tuesday night. "Playing one game at a time is what got us out of the rut we were in and got us here now."

Where the Mets are now is 1 1/2 games ahead of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who lost to Philadelphia 2-1, with five games remaining, although the Pirates may have to play a rain-out game against San Diego next Monday if it affects the race.

"This was the biggest game of the year," McGraw continued, "but this game is over. Now the next one is the biggest game of the year. That's this club's philosophy—one game at a time. I don't want to look too far ahead. I don't want to compare this club with '69. If we win, I'll have to winter to do that."

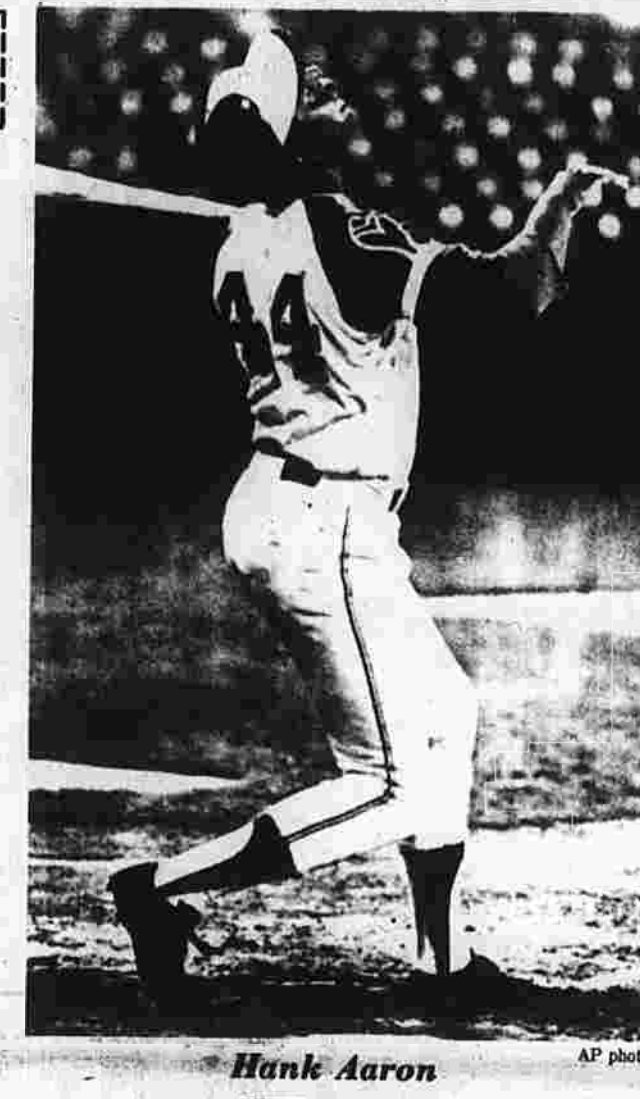

The Mets have been playing them one at a time for the last seven games, all victories. And most of them have been the scary type, like this one.

Each side had a tainted run before Cleon Jones walloped a

Hank Hopeful This Season

ATLANTA (AP) — "I still feel I have a chance," says Hank Aaron. "I think I can hit two homers in four games."

These are the magic figures remaining for the 39-year-old Atlanta Braves' star as he attempts to equal Babe Ruth's lifetime record of 714 home runs before the end of the 1973 season.

Aaron, who belted No. 712 Saturday night at Houston, went hitless in four trips against Los Angeles' right-hander Don Sutton Tuesday night as the Dodgers whipped the Braves 5-1.

"When Sutton has control, he can be one of the toughest in the National League," Aaron said.

Sutton had it all Tuesday night, yielding only four hits and losing his shutout in the eighth inning on a sacrifice fly by Marty Perez that chased home an unearned run.

Aaron bounced out twice, fouled out once and brought the seventh of 10:21 to its feet in the seventh with a long drive to dead center, speared by Willie Davis on the warning track.

"I thought he had it," Sutton said. "I thought it was gone. It really jumped. I was getting ready to tell people how I felt. And, he hit a good pitch."

Aaron said he didn't think it was because I didn't follow through on it."

Sutton gave Aaron a tantalizingly slow pitch in the fourth inning which Hammerin' Hank took for a ball.

"I haven't seen it before, I don't know what it was and I don't particularly like it," said Dodger Manager Al Walton.

Sutton called it a "slow drop" pitch, saying "I try to mess with Henry's mind as much as I can because he darn sure messes with mine. I try to give him something he's never seen before every time I face him."

National League Roundup

Pirates Have Bats But Not Pitching

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets hold the upper hand in the National League East as they prepared to deal their ace in the remaining games of high stakes.

"The Met pitching is coming on strong now," says Manager Danny Ozark of the Philadelphia Phillies, assessing the wild pennant shuffle. "And pitching is very important in the stretch."

The front-running Mets strengthened their lead to 1 1/2 games over Pittsburgh with a 2-1 decision over the Montreal Expos Tuesday night while the Phillies defeated the Pirates by the same score.

Tonight, the Mets will pitch right-handed star Tom Seaver against Montreal in the window of their series at Shea Stadium.

"The Pittsburgh club definitely has the bats and good defense but I know (Manager) Danny Murtaugh is pressing for pitching," said Ozark. "They may be a little weak as far as putting a starting pitcher out there."

"We're going to have to go with what we have," said Murtaugh, who'll have to go with rookie Jim McKees against the Phillies tonight.

Still, Pirate center fielder Al Oliver wasn't discouraged over the situation.

"We've never been down on ourselves, even when things are really going bad," said Oliver. "No one likes to lose, but the next day you have to man back, and that's what we will do."

In the other National League games, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Atlanta Braves 5-1; the Cincinnati Reds nipped the San Diego Padres 3-2; the Houston Astros stopped the San Francisco Giants 5-1 and the Chicago Cubs nudged the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3.

Phillies 2, Pirates 1 — Mike Anderson and Bill Ripstein clouted home runs to back the five-hit pitching of Steve Carlton in Philadelphia's 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh.

Dodgers 5, Braves 1 — Cesar Geronimo and Denis Menck cracked successive doubles to drive in two runs and Jack Billingham limited San Diego to five hits as Cincinnati downed the Padres 3-2.

Astros 5, Giants 1 — Tom Griffin fired a three-hitter and Bob Watson knocked in two runs with a homer and single to pace Houston over San Francisco 5-1.

Cubs 4, Cardinals 3 — Jose Cardenas' two-run double in the ninth highlighted a three-run rally that powered Chicago past St. Louis 4-3.

American League Roundup

Orioles Rookie Homers Twice

NEW YORK (AP) — The rich get rich and the poor... well, the poor lose ball games.

Baltimore's talent-laden Orioles, marking time until baseball's American League playoffs, rested a regular and inserted rookie Jim Fuller in their lineup Tuesday night.

Tearful Mays Given Salute

NEW YORK (AP) — Just as Willie Mays' emergence as a raw rookie in 1951 sparked the so-called "Miracle of Coogan's Bluff," his retirement in 1973 may produce another bit of baseball magic, predicts an old rival.

"The coincidence is almost eerie when you think about it," said Joe Black, who played with Willie in the Brooklyn Dodgers and was a rival Brooklyn Dodger when Willie was beginning his illustrious career with the New York Giants in the early 1950s.

"Look at it. It was Willie largely who brought the Giants out of the doldrums and now it's Willie's inspiration—in another way—that I think will carry the New York Mets to the National League championship and maybe to their second World Series title," said Black.

Black was one of the many baseball contemporaries who helped honor the Met's 42-year-old star at Shea Stadium Tuesday night.

Black, a right-handed pitcher, was just one of several former Dodgers and Giants—Duke Snider, Peeewe Reese, Ralph Branca, Bobby Thomson, Sal Yvars and Dusty Rhodes—who joined in the tearful, poignant salute before a sellout crowd of more than 50,000.

"From all I could gather, away out in Arizona where I live, Willie put Yogi (Manager Yogi Berra) of the Mets in precarious position," Black said. "It appears that when Willie, who admittedly is aging and hurting and without his old skills, retired, it took a load off Yogi and the team."

"There must have been some relief there. At the same time, he offered them a great deal of inspiration. I could just feel out on the field the guys saying, 'We've got to win for old Willie.'"

Mays, who less than a week ago announced his retirement

Cards' Torre Out for Year

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Veteran infielder Joe Torre of the St. Louis Cardinals has been forced out of the lineup for the remainder of the season by a shoulder injury received nearly a month ago.

The Cardinals said Tuesday night that the 33-year-old first baseman's right shoulder would keep him out of the team's final five games. He did not dress for Tuesday night's game against the Chicago Cubs.

Torre ended the year with his lowest marks since 1968, with a batting average of .267 and 99 runs batted in. He was voted the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1971.

Assent In Soviet Union Assessed

EDITOR'S NOTE — Andrei D. Sakharov, a nuclear physicist, and Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, the Russian novelist, are perhaps the best known dissenters in the Soviet Union today. Who are the others? What chance do they have in changing the Soviet system? What is the Kremlin doing about them? Following is the first of three articles on the Soviet civil rights movement.

Yuli Daniel and Andrei Sinyavsky were arrested for having written critically of the Soviet system. Their writings had found their way to the West. This was a benchmark case since the harsh sentences the two drew led to open protests. One protest group calling itself SMOG, the Russ acronym for "Word, Thought, Image, Depth," issued a manifesto and even staged a demonstration in December.

—April 1968: The chronicle of Current Events appeared. This underground, typewritten newspaper, circulated hand to hand in carbon copies, carried names, dates, places, prison terms, types of persecution and other information of interest to dissidents. It appeared regularly every two months until October 1972.

—August 1968: The Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia to strangle a Communist party liberalization brought a public protest demonstration in Moscow. In the words of the young poet Natalya Gorbanevskaya, soon to be imprisoned: "The KGB in civilian clothes fell upon us. Rushing up to us they shouted, 'These are all Jews. Beat the anti-Soviets.' Some were beaten, many arrested."

—November 1970: Sakharov, with two other physicists, formed the Human Rights Committee, later joined by many other eminent figures, including Solzhenitsyn as a "corresponding member."

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
The Kremlin today seems to be searching cautiously for a safe way to snuff out what remains of the Soviet civil rights movement; but while it has won some battles, it is far from winning the war.

It has moved deliberately, anxious to avoid arousing the sort of protest outcry that could endanger its quest for important economic concessions from the United States and the West.

This latest in a series of repression campaigns, launched almost two years ago, has wounded the movement severely, but it remains alive. The drive began when the Kremlin was building its current policy of peaceful coexistence.

It has silenced the underground press, the cement that has kept a frail rights movement together. However, the Kremlin ran head-on into a highly publicized challenge, a situation unique in the history of Communist power, when it turned its heaviest artillery on the outstanding figures of the rights movement.

Stubborn voices, like those of Andrei D. Sakharov, the nuclear physicist, and Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, the Nobel Prize-winning novelist, refused to be silenced.

The Communist party couldn't remain aloof to this challenge. But these stalwarts were not ordinary men. It would not be as easy to deal with them as the way others had been dealt with: shipment to insane asylums, forced labor or exile.

Their towering reputations made their voices too clearly heard. The dissenters are scientists, writers, other intellectuals. In relation to the Soviet population of 240 million, they are just a handful.

Historically, Russians never have been a revolutionary people. In their past, they have been under the very few who dared challenge the status quo.

Today's dissenters have programs, dreams, ambitions, ideas—but little in the way of organization or cohesion. Their demands by Western standards would seem extraordinarily mild, nor are these accompanied by the violent clashes with authority so familiar in the West.

Many seeking change come from the ranks of survivors of Stalin's terrible concentration camps. After Stalin died in 1953, some had hope for a more open society, not through overthrow of the existing system but through liberalization.

Dissent had been impossible under Stalin's one-man dictatorship, but for a brief time of thaw under Nikita S. Khrushchev, some hopes were stirred.

These hopes became somewhat clouded in Khrushchev's later years even though as late as 1962 it had been possible for Solzhenitsyn to publish his "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich," an account of the horrors of a Stalinist labor camp.

It remained to Khrushchev's successors under the leadership of Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Communist party chief, to stage a series of repression waves reminiscent of the Stalin era. The repression began in 1965 and culminated early in 1972 with the wave that is still in progress.
