Dr. Turek Tells Start Of Town Health Program

Dr. Turek announced that schedules are already being set up for physical examinations for school children, and members of the school and fire departments. Of particular interest was the announcement of a program for the elderly. Dr. Turek plans for a blood pressure clinic to be held soon at the Central Fire Station which will be available to the public.

Dr. Turek said he recognizes the services of social agencies as a requisite for preventative health care. Newly appointed Human Services Director Allan Mansingh said he will begin identifying the needs of the community, the gaps in available services, finding solutions and finally, putting the agencies together.

Dr. Turek said he anticipates a productive, exciting stay at the volunteer program. He is being held at the Connecticut Correctional Center, Hartford, in lieu of a $150 surety bond. Court date is Oct. 1.

Items valued at a total of $685 were taken in a Wednesday night break into the Parkway Restaurant on Center St., police reported. Items taken included a cash register, five canned hams, and a milkshake mixer, police said.

A radio and a starter pistol were taken in a break Thursday night into the Army Package Store on Main St., police said. An attempt to gain entrance to the adjacent Army Tavern failed, police said.

Robert Long, 32, of 60 Davis Ave., Rockville, was charged Thursday night with taking a motor vehicle without the owner's permission. Vernon Police reported.

He was released on a $250 non-surety bond for court appearance Oct. 16. Dr. James J. Kennedy, Manchester school superintendent, explained the facts of the school referendum on Nov. 6 concerning additions and renovations to meet and filling junior high schools.

"I hope people will understand," he said, "that the $5.8 figures given do not represent the net cost to the town." Dr. Kennedy explained that state reimbursement for billing will be 50 per cent, and to Bennett about 37 per cent. This will leave a net cost to the town of about $1.1, he said.

He reminded those present that the referendum would allow the town to establish a VD clinic at MMH as in the works, said Paul Moss, MMH administrative assistant. He said that extensive planning processes are needed to utilize family services to relieve the crowded emergency room conditions at the hospital. There are nearly 37,000 visits per year to the hospital emergency room, he said.

As a result of the overwhelming success of the referendum, the town is now in a position to begin the first time recently, Mrs. Jean Bates, director of the Manchester Public Health and Nursing Association hopes for the expansion of the program. She expressed the need to encourage each family to have its own family doctor.

Joseph Panza said the increase will give the retailers some relief from rising wholesale costs that couldn't be passed on to the consumer. "It's a partial victory. It's a help, but it's far from what we wanted," he said in a telephone interview Friday night.

Panza said the association will have to study the new program and the new base prices before the full impact of the council's ruling will be clear. Under the new formula, the retail price may be based on the selling price May 15, plus the increased wholesale cost between May 15 and Sept. 26.

Gasoline Price Rules Termed Discriminatory

NORTH HAVEN (AP) — The head of the Connecticut Gasoline Retailers Association says new federal rules setting prices motorists pay at the pumps discriminate against service station operators.

The federal Cost of Living Council Friday approved a formula that will increase the cost of a gallon of gasoline between 1 and 2.5 cents. The latest controls will allow the retailers to charge higher prices because they will be able to change the dates on which they can base their new ceiling prices.

Joseph Panza said the increase will give the retailers some relief from rising wholesale costs that couldn't be passed on to the consumer. "It's a partial victory. It's a help, but it's far from what we wanted," he said in a telephone interview Friday night.

Chicago insurance executive W. Clement Stone was far and away the biggest donor, with $2 million, in a list made public Friday under court order by the Finance Committee to Reelect the President.

Stone, who publicly has acknowledged giving $4.8 million to Nixon campaigns since 1968, contributed the $2 million last year before a new federal law requiring disclosure of campaign contributions and expenditures went into effect on April 7.

The three-inch thick report of those who gave more than $100 in 1971 and April 6, 1972 also included $1 million from Mellon heir Richard Scudder, $200,000 from members of the Rockefeller family and $588,000 from Mr. and Mrs. John Mulcahy of New York, president of Pfizer pharmaceuticals.

Austria Closes Transit Center To Save Hostages

Two Arab terrorists released four hostages in Vienna after an Austrian promise to close a Jewish transit center, then hoppedscotch across the Mediterranean today in search of a place of refuge.

Their small two-engine plane landed at Cagliari, Sardinia after three Arab nations — Algeria, Libya and Tunisia — refused them permission to land, according to Italian police.

Earlier the Arabs ordered their two Austrian pilots to land at Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia and Palermo, Sicily to retel. The terrorists had stopped a train Friday after it had crossed into Austria from Czechoslovakia and abducted three Jewish Soviet emigrants and an Austrian border guard.

The hostages were freed after the Austrian government agreed to shut down a Jewish transit center south of Vienna. The center has been the first stop for Jews emigrating from the Communist bloc nations to Israel.

Vienna police freed the four, the Arabs, who were members of the Eagles of Palestine Revolution, were allowed to fly out of Austria aboard the twin-engine Cessna 441.

Rev. Philip J. Hussey
 Pastor
St. Bartholomew's Church

Father Hussey is the first pastor of St. Bartholomew's Church and was responsible for the construction of the church building, school, auditorium and convent. He came to Manchester Oct. 2, 1958 and was assigned to St. Bartholomew's Parish, which was then in the process of being separated from St. Bridget and St. James Parishes. The parish had no church, and Father Hussey with the help of his parishioners converted a two-car garage at the rectory into a chapel which was used until the present church edifice was built. He observed the 50th anniversary of his ordination May 28. Before coming to Manchester he was assistant pastor at Immaculate Conception Church, Waterbury, and St. Lawrence O'Toole Church in Hartford, (Herald photo by Olfaria)

The Bible Speaks by Eugene Brewer
 Few people are inclined to abide by the principle contained in the motto made famous by its presence on President Truman's desk: "The buck stops here." Blaming the blame as old as sin itself. In Eden Adam tried to blame his wife, even implying that God was blameworthy for giving her to him. Millions today crowd psychiatrists' offices, hoping something might be found in the dark corners of their childhood that would shift the blame for their behavior onto a generation dead and buried. Israel tried this, saying, "The fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children's teeth are set on edge." But Jehovah would not buy it, replying that "The soul that sins shall die. The father shall not bear the iniquity of the son; neither shall the son bear the iniquity of the father." (Ezek. 18:20)

Is A Vice President Needed?

While the President and vice president are heavily engaged in what might be the battles for their respective political lives, the Democratic National Vice Presidential Committee has been engaged in some lively debate in Boston as to whether the office of vice president should be continued, or if continued, what might be done to make the selection process more than a ticket-balancing political tightrope walk.

The Democratic concern obviously stems from the unfortunate selection without thorough investigation of Sen. Thomas Eagleton as Sen. George McGovern's original running mate in the last election.

Republicans too should be concerned in the light of the yet-to-be proven but never-the-less politically damaging allegations against Vice President Spiro Agnew.

The sole function of the vice president is to preside over the Senate and be on tap in the event the president suffers death or some disability so he cannot serve.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, being German-born, is not qualified at least on a constitutional basis.

An alternative to avoid the Eagleton fiasco and Agnew embarrassment was a suggestion that more time be allotted for selecting a vice president and that a committee present conventions with a slate of acceptable (and presumably thoroughly screened) choices from which the successful nominee could pick his running mate.

While we don't expect there will be anything coming out of the discussions, other than possible suggestions which still would have to clear the Congress and be ratified by the states in the form of an amendment to the Constitution, the whole thing does raise an important question.

Is the American vice presidency, as one commission member phrased it, "a way of tossing a bone to the faction that has lost the nomination," or is it necessary at all?

As with all things of this sort, discussion and debate will continue, perhaps for years, but with today's controversy involving the White House, it could be that changes may come sooner than we think. Some action could solve the problem which every recent president has pledged to do something about but has always failed and that is to expand the duties of the vice president to better prepare him to succeed should it become necessary.

Maybe the interim answer would be legally defined functions of importance enough to make selection of the vice president as important as selection of the president.

While almost anyone can be a figurehead, which the vice presidency presently seems to be, the people expect and demand more of a president and his stand-by quarterback should be equally qualified and prepared for the task.

Strauss and Reform

WASHINGTON — With the Delegate Selection Commission clearly controlled by the reformers, chances of the Democratic party avoiding a repetition of the horrors of 1972 now depend primarily on the toughness and determination of Democratic national chairman Robert S. Strauss.

Hopes for consensus within the commission were radically diminished in the first hours of the commission meeting here. The same circle of reformers that wrote the McGovern Commission guidelines four years ago was in iron control. That means the commission's final decisions probably will too closely resemble 1972 to please the party's mainstream.

But Strauss, enjoying immense prestige after his debuting telephone, intends to intervene against any such outcome. He plans to be increasingly critical of the reformers and, if necessary, appeal to the Democratic National Committee to reverse commission decisions.

The basic problem is stacked deck identified by Strauss when elected national chairman in December. His predecessor, Jean Westwood, had appointed a commission dominated by reformers and reformers and including the chief guru of reform: Dr. Kenneth Bode, a leftist political scientist who fathered the McGovern reforms.

Moreover, Strauss miscalculated in hoping to moderate the 73-member commission by aligning himself closely with its chairman, Baltimore city councilwoman Barbara Mikulski — a maneuver that antagonized Strauss's supporters in the AFL-CIO hierarchy. By last weekend, it had failed completely.

Miss Mikulski and her McGovern Commission staff were working intimately with the reformers in procedural voting. It seemed the McGovern Commission would be revisited. The better organized reformers overwhelmed their opponents, divided in tactics and weakened by absenteeism. Dr. Bode and his allies, unrepentant about the calamity of 1972, gave no thought to compromise.

Although nearly all commission members give lip service to abolishing the noxious quota system, reform members spawned the quotas. What's more, they will battle Strauss's attempt to seat Congressmen as national convention delegates, oppose legislation of streamlining and advocate proportional representation at the level of state.

There remains an outside chance that a reasonable compromise will emerge from the centrist reformers' camp. It is picked by Miss Mikulski with a decided edge for reformers. The commission vice chairman Alex Smith, a 39-year-old Chicago lawyer connected with Mayor Richard J. Daley's forces, is hopeful. He might conceivably succeed if supported in the drafting committee by Gov. John J. Gilligan of Ohio, not clearly aligned with either camp.

But more likely the commission's final product will not be acceptable to the coalition that elected Strauss national chairman: regulars, governors

News for Senior Citizens

by Wally Fortin

Hello everybody! Here we go again, and first of all tomorrow we go to Yankee Stadium to witness the final sport event to be played at the stadium.

Those going to the game must remember that we are going to meet at the Municipal Parking lot behind the town hall at 9:30 a.m. Reason being that parking around our center will be loaded with cars because of the church services at the Emanuel Lutheran Church. So we'll be looking at you then, and I'll be passing out the tickets on the bus.

Last Friday night we had 40 players for setback with the following winners: Thomas Murphy, 136; Louis Weber, 138; Wilfred Messier, 129; Emma Russell, 126; Floyd Post; Edith Wirtella, 124; Hans Fredrickson, 121; Grace Windsor, 117; and Jennie Fogarty, 117.

Monday came and Gloria was off with a busload of travelers heading for Penn. Dutch country, and I'll tell her you stated that Oct. 5 is the absolute deadline for paying up the remainder of your bill. Don't forget that we have a briefing meeting scheduled for Friday, Oct. 5 at 1:30 p.m.

The day, we have some exciting plans for next February, a trip to California, and when we get to Los Angeles, we will take a trip up the Pacific Coast to San Francisco. Want to hear more about it? Give us a call here at the Center, 643-5310, or better yet stop in for a flyer giving you all the details. It will be a severe winter, and all of things to see and do, and an opportunity for you to go west, Senior Citizens, go west. At least enjoy them with a week's vacation.

Our sick call revealed that Margaret Schaller and Rose Conti are patients at the Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Thursday is our fun-day, so in place of it here at the Center, we took 125 over to the Jerry Lewis Twin Theatre at Burr's Court to spend the afternoon enjoying the delightful movie "Sound of Music."

No Silver Lining

WASHINGTON — When the Labor Department announced the other day that retail grocery prices were 23.3 percent higher than a year ago, an aide tried to comfort Republican National Chairman George Bush by pointing out that wholesale prices had fallen a bit and said that was a good sign.

"I suppose it is," Bush replied wearily. "At least, I hope it is."

It is of course George Bush's job to elect Republican candidates for Congress and assorted other offices next year, and he could be forgiven if he was thinking he had heard that before. Indeed, Bush and everybody else had heard those pining noises from the Nixon administration ever since it took office in January 1969.

Besides, the White House is talking long-range. Bush's candidates are running now and what's worrying them is whether there will be any considerable improvement in the price picture in time to take them off the hook. The voters go to the polls. Sen. Barry Goldwater, the determinedly cheerful gentleman from Arizona, has been telling pals the economy will still be an issue in the Presidential campaign of 1976.

The fact is it takes time for the cost of living to drop once continuing price increases become a way of life, as has happened during the past few years. A sudden substantial slowdown of inflation's momentum is just not in the cards, barring a government rollback of prices — and that's not going to happen. Indeed, President Nixon is committed to the gradual elimination of all controls.

Meanwhile, the latest bad news is merely the prelude to a worst that is yet to come. Higher prices are still moving money in its pay envelope. The housewife moving mood-

Today In History

By The Associated Press

In 1741, in World War II, the 27th day of 1973. There are 92 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1066, William the Conqueror invaded England to claim the English throne.

On this date —

In 1789, the U.S. War Department established a regular army with a strength of 70,000 men.

In 1918, Allied forces in World War I scored a decisive breakthrough at the Hindenburg Line in Germany.

In 1923, Britain began to rule Palestine under a mandate from the League of Nations.

In 1941, in World War II, the United States and Britain agreed to send war supplies to the Soviet Union to help resistance to Nazi invaders.

In 1944, also in World War II, Soviet troops invaded Yugoslavia.

In 1962, President John F. Kennedy nationalized the Mississippi National Guard to enforce federal orders to enroll Negro James H. Meredith at the University of Mississippi.

Ten years ago Pope Paul VI opened the second session of the Roman Catholic Vatican Council.

Play Ball! It's the World Series Time of Year!

October is the World Series time of year. Baseball fans all over the country are waiting to watch the American League champions play the National League champions in the annual best-of-seven games series. The first team to win four games will be the new world champion. This contest marks the end of the season that began back in April. Each professional team was scheduled to play at least 162 games. The first World Series was played in 1903 at the Huntington Avenue Baseball Grounds in Boston. In this series, the Boston Americans won when they defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates. The World Series has been played every year since then, except for 1904, when there was no contest. The leagues take turns when it comes to the opening games of the series. The 1972 Series opened in Cincinnati, the home of the Cincinnati Reds, a National League team. This year the series is scheduled to open in an American League city. The teams play two games in the first city, then move to the other team's park for the next two games, and so for the fifth game, if one is necessary. If more than five games are necessary, the teams go back to the opening day park. In order to make certain that the Series gets prime TV coverage, the opening games will be played on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The teams will have a day off. The following three games will be played at night. If one or two more games are necessary, they will be played on the next Saturday and Sunday. Last year's winning team was the American League's Oakland Athletics. Each member of that team received $20,705.01 prize money. The losing team was the Cincinnati Reds. Each member received $15,080.25. The 1972 Series made more money than any in baseball history, with a total of nearly four million dollars. The first series held in 1903 made $50,000. Each year, the World Series winning team is awarded a big trophy. Each player on the team gets a World Series ring. The Most Valuable Player gets a new car.

Twenty-six year old Gene Tenace, a catcher for the Oakland Athletics, was voted the Most Valuable Player of the 1972 World Series ring. Above is the few home runs in one series. The New York Mets' 1969 ring.

Magic Number Three for Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Traditionally, baseball managers like to play "em one at a time. But the New York Mets did much better Friday, playing "em none at a time.

Rain in Chicago postponed a contest between the first-place Mets and the Cubs. That bit of moisture helped them pick up another half-game on Pittsburgh when the Pirates, defying the elements, lost to Montreal 3-2.

As the race steams into its final weekend, the Mets have a magic number of three to clinch the National League East race. Yet five teams retain a mathematical chance to either win or tie for the division title.

New York has a 1½-game edge on the Pirates. St. Louis is two games behind after defeating Philadelphia 3-0. Montreal is three games out and Chicago four behind. The Mets, Pittsburgh and St. Louis all can win the title and Montreal and Chicago still can tie for the crown with any or all of the other three.

On Friday night's other National League games, San Francisco beat Cincinnati 3-2 in 14 innings and Los Angeles defeated San Diego 5-2. Atlanta and Houston had the day off.

Friday's rainfall forced the Mets into consecutive doubleheaders today and Sunday against the Cubs. It's not the ideal situation for any team and certainly not for a team trying to nail down half a pennant.

But the Pirates lessened the pressure by losing to the Expos when Al Oliver's error set up three unearned runs in the seventh inning for Montreal.

The Pirates were leading 2-0 on Dock Ellis' one-hitter until the seventh when Larry Lint opened with a single and raced to third on Ken Singleton's one-out single. Jim LITTLE grounded to first but Oliver threw the ball away, allowing Lint to score. Moments later, John Boccabella looped a double to center as Gene Clines barely missed a shoestring catch. Two more runs scored on that was enough to finish Pittsburgh. For the night if not for the season.

Cardinals 3, Phillies 0
Mike Thompson and Diego Segui combined for a two-hitter and St. Louis stayed alive in the NL East by defeating Philadelphia 3-0.

Giants 5, Reds 3
Dave Rader's third run-producing hit of the game drove in Mike Phillips with the winning run in the 14th inning as San Francisco defeated Cincinnati 5-3.

Pitching Seen Key For Mets

CHICAGO (AP) — Pitching is their forte, and the New York Mets will need it today and Sunday as they defend their precarious National League East lead in a pair of season closing doubleheaders against the Chicago Cubs.

Friday's opener of the Mets' four-game set with the still mathematically alive Cubs was rained out, taking a windup twin bill Sunday onto Saturday's previously scheduled doubleheader.

A 50-50 chance of rain was predicted for today which could predict the Met-Cub series into next week. There's a little more pressure on us playing four games in two days," said Met Manager Yogi Berra. "I'd much rather play them one at a time. But we still saved a pitcher by not trying to play Friday's game. If the game only went three or four innings, and we suspended, we'd have lost Jon Matlack for the weekend."

Father and Son Team Dissolved

Connecticut's only father and son sports editor-sports writer team came to an end yesterday when my son Dean left The Herald for greener fields.

It was a rewarding five years, for both parties. Little did I dream when he was a toddler that someday we would be working side-by-side covering sports and punching a typewriter for a living.

It was five short years ago, following a four-year hitch in the Army, most of the time served overseas, that Dean filled a vacancy that existed in the sports department.

Originally, Dean's joining The Herald family was on a temporary basis as he had been discharged too late to start college in the fall semester. Sports writing, he soon found, was fascinating and interesting and he remained in the newspaper field.

Fortunately, our relationship as father and son was as strong at the office as at home.

Dean had a perfect attendance record and never once reported later than the appointed hour. Often he worked well into the night, and on weekends, covering his assigned beat, often on his own time and with never a whimper of protest.

"I'll miss his efforts on the staff in the days and weeks ahead.

Thus, he joins a fine list of former assistants including Hal Furkington, current managing editor at The Herald, Howie Holcomb and Pete Zanardi, fine sportswriters with the Hartford Times, and the late Pat Bolduc who went on to be a top member of the Hartford Courant sports staff, plus Maurice Simoncelli and Barry Cowles.

Notes On The Staff

Manchester will have an entry in the Southern New England Hockey League which opens Nov. 3 at the Bolton Ice Palace. The local entry campaigned last year as the East Hartford Huskies. The locals will continue to be known as the Huskies. Vernon will replace the Colchester Jets and Willimantic will take over for the New Haven Flyers. Returning will be the Bristol Champlains with the Hartford French Club a new entry. John Wiggin, an all-COIL quarterback two years ago while playing for Manchester High, has been moved to a defensive back spot with the Trinitis varsity this fall. Don Burns, former director of athletics and varsity baseball and basketball coach at East Catholic High, has been elected president of the Greater New Haven Soccer Officials. The New England Colonials of the Atlantic Coast Football League attracted $3,600, including free-loaders, to their first home start at Schaefer Stadium last week. The New England Patriots of the NFL, playing in the same stadium, attracts nearly 60,000. Ray LaGace of Manchester and former Boston College performer, and a second lieutenant in the Connecticut National Guard, will handle the GI basketball team this season. The Guards plan an early scrimmage against Manchester Community College. The Manchester Country Club will lose a most valued member when John Dymont picks up his stakes and moves to the Boston area. Dymont, a member of the Board of Directors and chairman of the Tournament Committee, has been promoted by Westinghouse to manage its Boston office. Joe Garman reports the Manchester Sportsman's Assn. will enter a team in the Eastern Connecticut Skeet Shoot Assn. this fall. The clubhouse is located on Merrow Road in Coventry. Have a nice weekend.

Yanks 4, Tigers 1

Yankee Mel Stottlemyre hurled a four-hitter for a 4-1 victory over the Tigers, with help from Bobby Murcer's three-run blast.

Rich Billings slammed a two-run homer in the eighth inning that capped a three-run rally and gave the Texas Rangers a 3-4 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Twins 7, Angels 1
Dan Fife hurled a five-hitter for the first complete game of his major league career in pitching the Minnesota Twins to a 7-1 victory over the California Angels.

A's 4, White Sox 1
Sal Bando drove in two runs with a pair of doubles, leading the Oakland A's to a 4-1 victory over Chicago.

Tiant, Harper Achieve Goals

BOSTON (AP) — Veterans Tommy Harper and Luis Tiant of the Red Sox passed milestones as Boston swept an 11-2 and 4-3 doubleheader from the Milwaukee Brewers and clinched second place in the American League East for the second consecutive year.

The crafty, herky-jerky Tiant pitched his 20th victory of the year Friday to go with 13 losses, marking the second time he has achieved the 20-game plateau in his career. In 1968, with the Cleveland Indians, he pitched a 21-8 season.

"When people say you're all through and you came back it makes you feel good," he continued. "Maybe I was a better pitcher in 1968, but I didn't do good this year. I missed four or five starts because of a little shoulder trouble and the pulled groin muscle. I also lost some very close games when I didn't get any runs. Despite that, I win 20 and that makes me feel good."

While the first game was a feet-floated outfielder Harper was the man of the hour in the nightcap.

After hitting a single in the fourth inning, with the crowd chanting "go... go... go," the 35-year-old speedster waited for an 0-3 count on Luis Aparicio and took off for second base.

He slid under the high throw of Milwaukee catcher Charlie Moore for his 53rd theft of the season, breaking the club record set by Hall of Famer Tim Lincecum in 1912.

Harper received a standing ovation from the crowd of 13,221 and the game was held up while the bag was removed and carried to the dugout for Harper's permanent possession. The theft also tied Harper with Bill North of Oakland for the league lead.

Elsewhere in the American League, Texas nipped Kansas City 5-4; New York beat Detroit 4-1; Cleveland took the first game from Baltimore 6-4, then got mauled by the Orioles 14-4; Minnesota topped California 7-1 and Oakland fanned Chicago 4-1.

The Red Sox made it easy for Tiant in the opener, scoring four runs in the first on Carl Yastrzemski's fifth career grand slam and totaling nine before the game was two innings old.

Dwight Evans' three-run homer in the second game did the most damage to Milwaukee.
