He added, "Without unity, elections will be lost. We know now it takes all of us to win."

The house-to-house canvass, mandated by state law, is for removing from the lists the names of persons who are deceased or have moved from town. There were 721 names removed from the unaffiliated total, 538 from the Democratic, and 411 from the Republican.

Fire Prevention Week

Each year during Fire Prevention Week members of the Manchester Town and District 8 Fire Departments conduct sessions in the schools to bring to the students, and hopefully to their parents, the necessity of each residence having a periodic check for potential fire hazards and an escape plan for the family in the event of a fire.

The children are given material to bring home. The question is whether we, as parents, will read and heed it, or relegate to that pile of old newspapers and magazines, which under certain conditions can also become a fire hazard.

This past week, firemen have delivered materials to school children. Take a few minutes to read them over and a few more minutes to check your home. As we approach the winter season, when the fire danger in homes is the greatest, this is just common sense.

Almost every day the fire engines roll in Manchester. The firemen are skilled in putting out fires once they start. But only your own common sense and a continued effort to be better fire-prevention housekeepers will keep fires from starting.

Once week a year, the firemen of our community make a concerted effort to make us fire prevention conscious. It is up to us to respond not only this week but every week of the year.

The Legacy Of Columbus

Oct. 12, 1492, Christopher Columbus set foot on the New World and is officially recognized as the discoverer of America — or perhaps more correctly the first to discover the western hemisphere and make it stick.

He is recognized annually on Columbus Day which is now observed in the United States on the second Monday in October.

While the scholars debate the "firstness" of his discovery, each of us might reflect a bit more on what has happened since that date which is really the significant thing.

The opening of the America, for whatever reason good or bad in the years that followed that 1492 voyage, marks a period of great human advance.

And while we can reflect at length on the achievements that came about and the New World's rise in status, we should not forget that with the exception of North America many of the nations that comprise a part of this discovery still languish in various forms of economic and political bondage.

There has been and continues to be exploitation of human and natural resources. There has been and continues to be self-centered nationalistic regimes seeking power and empires rather than humanistic goals.

Let's look at what we have not yet done to achieve the full potential of our hemisphere. Columbus discovered, or rediscovered it if you prefer, but that was not the end but the beginning.

We might well consider what our stewardship for tomorrow is going to be for it is evident that we have failed in too many instances in the past.

We can best honor Columbus and those who followed him by working toward a true hemispheric unity, based not on the sword, economic advantage, nor superior technology, but in cooperating to meet challenges that lie ahead.

Just as Columbus was not afraid to chart a course into the vast unknown we, too, should not be hesitant about charting new courses in seeking ways to discover means of helping our American neighbors achieve legitimate economic and social goals.

We are correct to honor the discoverer of our hemisphere but it takes more than one day each year to fully meet the obligations of his legacy which opened up a new world, not only geographically but in a political sense too, for the rise of democratic government closely parallels the emergence of the New World.

Wrong Foot

To the editor:
Regarding DevCo Advisory Board:

As a taxpayer in the Town of Coventry, I feel part of this group has started off on the wrong foot. The very thought of operating and holding their meetings in secret. Looks like the other wrong step taken by DevCo-Process when the big secret land purchase was made.

This group of advisors is nothing other than a step by DevCo to help DevCo to get federal funds in the future for their planned city. They are trying to paint a pretty picture to further their own aims. DevCo is likened to a politician. So far they have talked of building us sewers, schools, helping with the lake, recreation areas and just about anything else they think will make DevCo look good. But just wait until the time comes, they won't give a dime to see the

Sidewalk Placement

Dear editor:
As to the pros and cons concerning placement of sidewalks on Hackmatack Street, the south side is justified.

With sidewalks on the north side, a child living on the south side has to cross the street twice. With sidewalks on the south side, a child living on the north side crosses the street only once. Common sense. After all, sidewalks are to protect children from traffic, right? A child crossing the street twice is in more danger than one crossing but once. There are 42 houses on the south side but only 37 on the north.

By the logic of Kreisky's decision, another capture of hostages would succeed in stopping the flow of individual refugees as well as groups.

Today's Thought

There are many people who are keeping themselves unhappy and ruining their health by nursing grudges.

A wise person has said, "No matter how long you nurse a grudge, it won't get better."

The way to happiness is outlined in Paul's letter to Philipian Christians:

Open Forum

He was on the spot, and the fact that he is himself the first Jewish chancellor of Austria made him the more vulnerable, perhaps making him lean backward. He felt aggrieved that Austria was becoming a secondary theater of the Middle East conflict. He saved his conscience by "compro-mising": to yield to the terrorists' demands and shut down the transit center, while continuing to admit individual refugees.

It was a cave-in just the same. It delighted the guerrilla organizations, dismayed the Israelis, embarrassed the Russians, spread despair among emigrants waiting to leave Russia for Israel. In human terms, it blasts the future for tens of thousands.

By the logic of Kreisky's decision, another capture of hostages would succeed in stopping the flow of individual refugees as well as groups.

A World Community

NEW YORK, N.Y. — H.G. Wells was wrong to speculate on a world state as a sure thing, nor do I feel it would be a particularly good thing, given the corruptions of concentrated power. But a world community is something else, and I feel stirrings in the air which say it may be in the making.

Even in his own political terms Kreisky is unlikely to gain anything. It is doubtful whether the Austrian people will relish the self-image they will see in the mirror that Kreisky holds up to them.

It was a harsh choice that confronted that anguished chancellor. But life is tragic, and you don't escape its harsh choices by a failure of nerve. Golda Meir is an example of that truth. When she arrived at Strasbourg, for the Council of Europe's Consultative Assembly, she was the embodiment of everything that had happened to Israel, on the life-and-death line, since its inception as a state. If she doesn't shift the burden of obligation to other countries, as Kreisky did when he challenged the United States to take over an airlift for the Soviet refugees. Any nation, in an extreme situation, has the right to ask help of others, but the final responsibility must be its own.

"The worst thing in this matter would be to put pressure on us," warns Kreisky. And he seems amazed at the near-unanimous world protest against his cave-in. These are not pressures: they are the expression of widespread shock.

The recoil from the surrender to blackmail may prove a healthy thing in the long-range struggle against terrorism. Statesmen will have to learn (in Jefferson's phrase) "a decent respect for the opinions of mankind." But what is involved here goes beyond the vague concept of world opinion. It reaches to the idea of a world intellectual and moral community which cuts across the national boundaries and even ideologies.

Hans Morgenthau, writing in the New Leader, quotes Edward Gibbon on "the system of arts, and laws, and manners," which was common property in 18th-century Europe, and he argues powerfully that something like the Soviet-American detente cannot operate without a moral consensus similar to Gibbon's which doesn't exist. The trouble here is the old chicken-egg riddle of which comes first. I suspect that the consensus must be as much the product of detente as the detente must be the product of consensus.

But one thing is clear: The global debate is raging, and it is raging in what can become a global intellectual community. When West European and American scientists and writers join hands with Andrei Sakharov and Alexander Solzhenitsyn in the struggle against Soviet repression, when they stand with the artists everywhere feel that the army's savage crackdown on the Chilean intellectual community comes home close to them, too, when a weak-kneed surrender to terrorism in Vienna evokes the world response that it does, then we may not have arrived at a moral consensus, but we have taken the first steps and we are on the way.

I call your attention to an error in a previous column in this space entitled "There a Young Apathy?" In my closing paragraph, I referred to Jeb Magruder as telling young people to stay away from politics. The comment, of course, was made by Gordon Strachan, instead of Jeb Magruder.

Secret Government of Rich Men

WASHINGTON — That Gallup Poll showing that 46 percent of those interviewed favor financing of federal campaigns by the U.S. Treasury suggests that it finally has occurred to Main Street that the nation might wind up under a secret government of rich men.

President Nixon didn't invent this system of furtive covenants furtively arrived at, although his campaign chiefs in 1972 set a world record by raising an appalling $60.2-million. To name just a couple of predecessors, neither Ike Eisenhower nor John Kennedy went around gratuitously insulting big contributors to their campaigns.

Wilson had his little coterie of fat cats he regularly consulted on major issues. But even allowing for the sleaziness of big-time politics, there is something especially sordid in the revelation — forced by a court order — that the Nixon campaign secretly raised more than $6-million, nearly $1.5-million of it in cash, in the 48-hour period before a new Federal disclosure law took effect on April 7, 1972.

In all, just under $9-million was contributed before the legislation became law. This should tell even the village idiot that those wonderful folks who opened their fat purses didn't want their fellow citizens to know they were doing so. Why? I don't know, but I have the inalienable right to wonder about the motives involved. Presidential candidates tend to think kindly thoughts about people whose dough helped them win the Big Bananas.

One of the contributors who had the right to figure his donation would never be revealed was financier Robert L. Vesco, who gave $200,000 — in (naturally) cash. Vesco now is under indictment with former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans for obstruction of justice in a Securities and Exchange Commission case.

Another philanthropist was Calvin Kovens, head of a Florida construction company, who gave $30,000, also in currency. (If you think these cash transactions have a Mafia flavor, you said it, I didn't.) Anyway, Kovens was convicted of mail fraud with Jimmy Hoffa, ex-president of the Teamsters Union. Senate Watergate committee testimony has disclosed that Kovens was pardoned early from a Federal prison in January 1972.

Thus there is the matter of "prepayments" for campaign purchases. The General Accounting Office's regulations prohibit concealing such "prepayments" for services performed after April 7, 1972. Just so. But comes now the "citizens' lobby" — Common Cause, to offer evidence that the Nixon reelection committee secretly spent $5-million on April 5 and 6, 1972, alone, in "prepayments." These included $2.5-million paid to the Heusen Donnelly Corp. on April 6 for direct mail advertising; $1-million to Walter Weintz & Co. for "mailing" $925,000 to the official Republican Party advertising company, and $120,000 to Market Opinion Research for "polling."

Well now. It is no fun kicking people when they're down but the kindest thing that can be said about all this is that the Nixon committee should not be confuted with a panel of Eagle Scouts. Indeed, the committee in effect finally admitted as much.

Although the committee contended that under the pre-April 7 law, it had no obligation to disclose gifts or expenditures, it did agree to an interim pre-election compromise and identified the donors of some $8-million between January 1971 and March 9, 1972 — releasing the data five days before last November's election. Finally, Common Cause won a court order for the names of contributors during the period between March 10 and April 7, 1972. Only then did the committee come totally clean.

Ugh. It is a mess that defies disinfection. Let us leave these petty confidences: men to heaven while imparting a heretofore self-serving Congress to change the rules.

Ronald Reagan, Bleeding Heart

Well, there goes Ronald Reagan's hopes of ever becoming President. After happily signing a bill restoring California's beloved death penalty, he said he was against the gas chamber.

He suggested there might be a nicer way to kill people, perhaps with a lethal injection or with tranquilizers. "I think maybe there should be more study on this to find out," he said. "Is there a more humane way? Can we still improve our humanity?"

Horrors! It's bleeding hearts like Gov. Reagan who would destroy the death penalty as we have come to know and love it. Any fool can see where mushy-headed, soft-on-crime thinking like this will lead.

San Quentin — Vito (Sticky Fingers) Spumoni, convicted ax murderer of '69, was guest of honor yesterday at a Joyous Passing On to Eternal Happiness Rehabilitation Program Blessed Event.

As is customary, the Blessed event was presided by a Happy Hour Family Get-Together & No-Host Cocktail Party in Mr. Spumoni's penthouse suite high atop the North Cell Block. Mrs. Spumoni served home-made cheese blintzes. A good time was had by all.

Accompanied by four attendants in white ties and tails, Mr. Spumoni eagerly led the way to the rose-covered Blessed Event Cottage just outside the walls.

Company 3 of the Department will hold its next paper drive Oct. 20 from 9 to 11 a.m. in the north end of town. Rain date will be Oct. 27.

According to Harvey Desruisseaux, department secretary, paper drives are now very advantageous due to the increased monies received for used paper and therefore this drive is scheduled earlier than anticipated.

Residents are requested to bundle and tie papers and leave them on the curb. For special pick-ups, contact Dick Bergeron, Jack Kreeger or Jim Lee.

Personnel
Bruce Griffin, after moving back into town after a short absence, was reinstated as a member of the department.

Chief Griffin and Deputy Chief Karl Berglund will be representing the department Oct. 17 and 18 at a two-day course in forest fire fighting to be sponsored by the State Department of Preparedness. All department members wishing to attend the last day of classes (Oct. 18) at the Williamantic Training School should contact the chief immediately.

Town Put Out 16 Fires During Month

Manchester's Town Fire Department extinguished 16 fires during September. Fire Chief John Rivosa has reported. Those 16 fires, plus five fires which were out before the fire department arrived, included five residential fires, four businesses, two brush fires, three vehicular or equipment fires, and seven unclassified fires.

The September total of 21 fires in the town's district compares with a total of 20 for September 1972, Rivosa noted. Alarms recorded by the town last month totaled 56, of which one was a rescue, five were false alarms, and 29 calls were "other."

Sisterhood Meets Tuesday

Rabbi Aaron Blumenthal of the Emanuel Jewish Center, Mt. Vernon, N.Y., will be guest speaker at the Sisterhood meeting of Temple Beth Shalom Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. at the Temple.

Rabbi Blumenthal is a member of the committee on Jewish law and standards of the Rabbinical Assembly. In 1956 he wrote "An Allyah for Women" which persuaded the law committee to extend the privilege of Allyah to women.

He wrote a paper this year on the status of women which became the basis of the recent decision by the law committee to include women in the minyan.

Month's Building Double September 1972 Figure

The estimated value of Manchester construction for which building permits were issued last month was almost double that of a year ago, a report by Thomas Monahan, chief building inspector, indicates.

The figures were $1,002,736 for September of this year compared to $503,859 for September 1972.

Affidavits totaling $207,000, for two commercial buildings on Progress Dr., accounted for over 20 per cent of last month's total. An affidavit is the additional value of construction for which a building permit was issued previously.

Included in last month's permits was one for $50,000, to repair tornado damage to the apartments on Tudor Lane; and one for $40,000, to repair tornado damage to Shawmut Equipment Co. on Tolland Tpk.

Permits were issued also for 14 single-family dwellings, at an average construction cost of $29,000 each; 3 two-family dwellings; 1 garage; 4 tool sheds, a temporary tent; 3 plastic greenhouses; a $75,000 new building for a Spencer St. package store; 5 signs; 3 fences and 3 swimming pools.

Also, 4 demolitions; 5 affidavits; 35 alterations and additions; 74 electrical, 53 heating and 15 plumbing permits.

In addition, $135 was collected and turned over to the contractor involved for the removal of 27 junked and abandoned cars.

Bob Smith, deputy mayor of South Windsor, has announced the appointment of Gary Mueller as his campaign manager for re-election to town council.

Commenting on Smith, Mueller said, "Bob has shown a great deal of pride in our community. His interest in municipal beautification and planned controlled growth was evident in his ideas on what should occur in South Windsor in the next five years. He has demonstrated leadership on the council with his thoughts on reorganization of the council standing committees. Anyone interested in spending one hour working for Bob between now and election day should call me at 644-8728."

Meeting Canceled

The South Windsor American Legion Post will not meet Tuesday due to fire damage in the Community Hall. The meeting will be held at a later date to be announced.

Some 2.3 million barrels of crude oil moved along Canadian pipelines.

The troop program for the coming year will be outlined at the meeting. Among the upcoming activities will be a trip to the Old Ringneck Aerodrome at Rhinebeck, N.Y. The troop will also conduct a paper drive in the Wapping section of South Windsor Saturday, Nov. 3.

The South Windsor Community Hall on Main St., South Windsor, was ablaze early Sunday morning and firemen from South Windsor and several neighboring towns fought the fire for three hours before bringing it under control. The structure was considered a total loss. (E.J.P. photo)

South Windsor Community Hall Guttled By 'Suspicious' Blaze

About 125 firemen from South Windsor and several surrounding towns battled a Sunday morning fire at the South Windsor Community Hall for three hours before bringing the blaze under control. The old structure, on Main St. in South Windsor, was completely gutted in the blaze and is considered a total loss. The walls of the structure are still standing, but the roof burned away and interior floors are badly burned.

South Windsor Police have arrested a Vernon man - Dale J. Ransom, 21, of 253 Kelly Rd. - in connection with their investigation of the "suspicious" fire. Ransom is charged with reckless burning and criminal impersonation; he is scheduled to appear in court Oct. 29.

South Windsor Police Chief John Kerrigan said Ransom was apprehended near the scene of the early morning fire. Kerrigan said Ransom, who is a former auxiliary state trooper, was impersonating a police officer.

South Windsor Fire Marshal William Lanning said the fire started in the northeast corner of the Community Hall basement and spread throughout the building rapidly. The exact cause of the fire hasn't yet been pinpointed, he said, and the investigation is continuing.

The first alarm came into South Windsor fire headquarters at 11:54 p.m. Saturday. Lanning said firemen at first thought they could control the blaze, but flames broke through the roof and a second alarm was sounded at 12:20 a.m. Sunday.

Wilson, Broad Brook, East Hartford, and Manchester's Eighth District Fire Department sent men and equipment to fight the fire. Firemen from Windsor and Vernon also went to South Windsor on a "stand-by" basis.

The fire was declared under control, but not out, at 3:15 a.m., when firemen determined there was no further danger of the blaze spreading. Firemen remained on the scene until 6 a.m. Sunday cleaning up and wetting down the building.

The Community Hall is owned by the Town of South Windsor. South Windsor Town Manager Terry Sprentel estimated that damage to the building, which was insured, would run about $70,000 to $80,000. Estimates of cost of replacing the building run about two or three times higher than those figures.

No one was injured in the blaze. Firemen said a party was being held in the Community Hall when the fire was discovered, but the 50 persons involved were able to get out of the building in time.

Observers said the partygoers took beer out of the building when they left, and set them up across the street, apparently continuing the party.

St. Bridget Rosary Society will open its first meeting of the season with a Mass tonight at 7:30 at the Masonic Temple. There will be rehearsal at 6:30 for officers. Following the Mass, refreshments will be served by Mrs. Harold Livingston. The advisory board will meet at 7.

Vernon DOT Will Consider Bus Route Changes

The State Department of Transportation (DOT) will be meeting tomorrow and among the matters to be considered will be a request of Mayor Frank McCoy that new bus routes be discontinued by the Connecticut Company and old ones be restored.

Mayor McCoy said that in view of problems which have arisen out of the new schedule which was initiated on Sept. 15, he reviewed the matter with Charles Abel, vice president of the bus company.

The mayor requested that the original bus route, which served workers at Roosevelt Mills, and other persons in that area, be reinstated. He said an afternoon bus route which leaves E. Main and Grove Sts. about 4:15 p.m. was renewed but the people still have problems getting to work in the morning.

Mayor McCoy asked Abel to analyze the new bus routes which serve South St. as to ridership and for determination as to whether they should be continued or whether they should be eliminated and the old schedules completely restored.

As of Friday, Abel had informed the mayor that ridership was very sparse on South St. and in view of the need for service in other areas he would request the DOT to allow the elimination of the South St. route and the reinstatement of the old routes.

The mayor said if the DOT agrees with Abel, and makes its decision tomorrow, the new routes would be suspended after notice to riders and the old routes renewed within the next few days.

The mayor explained that the extreme shortage of buses would make it impossible to continue the South St. route along with reinstating the E. Main St. route. He said, "I don't see how routes will be considered in any future review and plan of the DOT, the bus company and the Greater Hartford Transit District."

Tolland Building Fee Decision Reversed by Committee

VIVIAN KENNESON Correspondent

The Middle School Building Committee previously moved to rescind a previous motion to return the $6,100 building fee to Nasin Construction Co. The fee was paid by the construction company this summer after much controversy, and then returned after a decision by the Board of Selectmen and the building committee.

Stewart Joslin, finance board chairman and Republican selectman candidate, in a statement a week ago, accused both groups of illegally returning the fee.

Specifications for the $1.8 million Middle School addition had included the building fee, but apparently Nasin did not check and did not include the fee in his low bid of $1,525,000. Building Inspector Frank Merrill demanded the full fee this summer and ordered a stop-work order before the fee was paid.

Robert Smith, building committee chairman, said the committee had been told that the power to waive the fee and that it wanted to keep the addition construction on schedule and avoid a court battle that could halt the job for months. First Selectman Erwin Stoetzer told the committee he had been informed by the state building inspector's office that the fee could be waived if approved by the Board of Selectmen. The selectmen voted accordingly, once the contractor promised to pay the amount Merrill had said he would collect as his fee - approximately $750.

Two Council Robert King said he believed both groups acted in good faith and that the controversy seemed to come from the building inspector's decision to waive his normal 80 per cent, as well as misinformation from the state building inspector's office.

The Board of Selectmen can waive a building fee in towns where the building inspector is on a salary, but not in Tolland where he is on a percentage basis. When Merrill received the 80 per cent fee for himself, he meant for the entire fee to be paid and deposited in the general fund.

King will attempt to recover the fee from the contractor. Fire Prevention Week The Tolland Volunteer Fire Department will mark Fire Prevention Week with activities at the schools. A film, "Two Ways Out," will be shown at the schools. There will be demonstrations at Hicks Memorial School Tuesday, an talks on fire prevention will be given on Friday and visits will be made to three nursery schools. Pictures taken at local fires, as well as booklets, will be shown at the library, and booklets will be available at the Tolland Savings Bank.

Girl Scout Council Seeks Area Leaders

The Connecticut Valley Girl Scout Council is seeking new leaders for area troops, so that more girls interested in scouting can participate in the program.

One local leader who has found great fulfillment in her work in scouting is Marge Kelsey.

Marge, who is leader of Cadette Troop 10, fairly teems with enthusiasm when talking about "her" girls.

"Just love the kids. Scouting must bring out the best in them. Working with them you get an inward satisfaction you just can't get anywhere else."

In her troop Marge stresses health and safety. "You have to have discipline. I have rules. I try to channel or steer the girls in the right direction. I feel that if you have to love kids. And you should have a sense of humor. A certain amount of common sense is necessary, too."

Women interested in learning more about joining the scouting program should contact the Connecticut Valley Girl Scout Council, 922-0103.

The Candidates Are Saying—

Hillery Gallagher

(Gallagher is a Republican candidate for the Board of Directors.) Ordinarily, one of the advantages of indoor plumbing is that you don't have to worry about which way the wind is blowing. Unfortunately, this isn't the case here in Manchester. We are told that something went wrong over at the sewage treatment plant. We are told that nothing can be done about the odor which frequently blankets three-fourths of the town. We are not told who is responsible for this condition and we are not told when it will end.

Close Not Good Enough, Eagles Bow By Point

By Marc Rick

Winston East Catholic almost pulled it off last Saturday night at Mt. Nebo... but it wasn't enough.

The winless Eagles (0-4) dropped a 15-14 see-saw battle to Hartford County Conference rival St. Bernard's which came up with some fourth period heroics to once again stymie the Manchester club.

The unique night contest obviously affected the Eagles who rarely play under the lights. The highly depended upon aerial attack was minimized, with rushing plays dominating the action.

In contrast, the Unicaeville squad plays at night and is accustomed to the numerous pitfalls of nocturnal football.

East appeared to be off and running as it took the opening kickoff, marched 87 yards in 10 plays and scored as Joel Desimone busted over from the seven. The conversion run by Bob Love gave the Eagles an 8-0 first period surplus.

The Saints wasted little time themselves hitting paydirt four attempts into the second stanza. An electrifying passing connection from Jim Farpa to Ron St. Louis produced the six-pointers. Two more points registered on a run to knot the count.

The Silk Towers capitalized on a third quarter Saint fumble on the visiting 35. Helped by timely penalty calls, the locals converted with the hard-nosed Desimone again tallying on a one-yard run.

The ensuing missed conversion gave the Eagles a 14-8 third

Conard-Tribe in Tie As Defense Features

By Len Auster

"We should have won that game," Manchester High's gridiron head coach Larry Olsen lamented. He didn't lose it either, however.

The Tribe and Conard High West Hartford battled it out Saturday, and with the defense predominating, wound up in a 6-6 deadlock before approximately 800 onlookers. Manchester had a chance for the win in the last 30 seconds but a Jack Maloney 28-yard field goal attempt fell just short under the crossbar.

On the second play from scrimmage, Chiefline halfback Bob Barwald gave the visiting Manchester eleven a rude awakening as he swept left end for 64 yards, breaking past the last Indian defender at the Tribe 40, and scored with only 44 seconds left.

The extra point was made, but nullified on an illegal procedure call. The second conversion was missed, and this proved to be decisive.

Manchester, on its second possession, tied it up. John Kunz returned a Kurt Oberg punt to the Conard 35 and it took Olsen's crew eight plays to score with quarterback Rick Milka bootlegging it from the four. Maloney's conversion try was wide left and that was to be all the scoring as the defenses took command.

The extended Conard's unbeaten streak to 18. But, "It's not satisfying running up the streak with ties," Chiefline veteran head coach Bob McKee stated. Conard is now 1-3-2 this year, while the left Manchester with a 1-1-1 over-all and CCHL record.

Conard had only one real threat going, besides its score, midway through the second quarter, reaching the Manchester 11-yard line. A fourth down Cliff Faribota pass fell incomplete in the end zone and that was it for the Chiefline. They mustered just 36 yards the entire second half as the Manchester defense throttled the "Big Red's" vaunted ground game.

Steelers Rolled Up Big Lead Before Scare By Chargers

NEW YORK (AP) — "That was the longest second half I've ever been in," Pittsburgh Steelers' Coach Chuck Noll said.

Harland Stave of the San Diego Chargers could've said the same thing about Sunday's first half.

In those first 30 minutes of their National Football League game, the Steelers rolled up 36 points while holding San Diego scoreless.

So Noll decided to give his first-stringers a rest and go with substitutes. It didn't really come close to costing the game, but it threw a scare into the Steelers.

They kept their record unblemished with their 38-21 victory. Two other teams remained perfect as well, the Los Angeles Rams riding John Hadji's pinpoint passing to a 31-28 triumph over the Houston Oilers and the Minnesota Vikings jumping on a five-play Detroit mistake and turning them into touchdowns en route to a 23-9 victory over the Lions. The only other unbeaten team, the Dallas Cowboys, face the Redskins in Washington tonight.

In other NFL action Sunday, New Orleans surprised Chicago 21-16, Miami mangled the New York Jets 31-3, Green Bay edged the New York Giants 16-14, Cleveland dumped Cincinnati 17-10, New England beat Baltimore 24-16, Buffalo squeaked past Philadelphia 27-28, San Francisco 8fers topped Atlanta 13-9, Oakland defeated St. Louis 17-10 and Kansas City trimmed Denver 16-14.

In the Pittsburgh-San Diego game, Terry Bradshaw and Terry Hanratty each threw touchdown passes to Ron Shanklin. Bradshaw first hit Shanklin on a 12-yard pass and later scored himself from one yard out. After a Roy Green field goal, safety Mike Wagner set up another touchdown, returning an interception 23 yards to the Chargers' nine. Steve Davis scored his second field goal of the game. Hank Stram threw a 46-yard pass to Shanklin with a 37-yard pass.

The Chargers scored three touchdowns on Dan Fouts' 13-yard pass to Jerry LeVias and short runs by Clint Jones and Robert Holmes in the fourth period.

Rams 31, Oilers 26

John Hadji, once known as a mad bomber in San Diego but now the most accurate passer in the NFL, was fourth and 15 yards for the Rams' points. He completed scoring passes of 15 and 69 yards to Harold Jackson and 38 yards to Jack Snow.

The Oilers got four field goals from Skip Butler but didn't make it close until the fourth quarter, when they got touchdowns on a four-yard Bob Gresham run and a 14-yard scamper with a blocked punt by Larry Eglin. It was Houston's fourth straight loss this year and 15th in a row going back to last season.

Detroit coughed up the ball twice in the first five minutes and Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton turned them into touchdown passes of 12 and eight yards to Ed Marinaro.

St. Louis 17, Bengals 16

"We won, but we could have scored a lot more," said Archie Manning. "I felt the score should have been much bigger."

Two said John North. "It sounded strange, considering Manning is like the West Siders' party. Good to see Norm Clark up and around following a short hospital stay. He's one of the hardest workers for the Manchester County Club's interests that the membership could ever boast. He also edits the timely and informative monthly MCC news letter... One will have to go a long way to see a better band than the UConn Marching Band which also won the admiration of all at Storrs last Saturday. Not far behind was the New Hampshire game, which, too, was big league in both appearance and execution. Following the UConn-New Hampshire grid game, the two bands marched to the center of the field and entertained on what was a beautiful afternoon, thanks to the weatherman... Does it pay to be a sports editor? Guess, a long-time friend of the Atlantic Constitution, was shot after the Atlanta-San Francisco NFL game yesterday in a robbery attempt."

San Francisco 24, Colts 16

"Now I can go home and enjoy my Sunday dinner for a change," Randy Vataha said after his touchdown — a 46-yard run following a teammate's fumble — locked up the Patriots' first victory of 1973.

Buffalo 27, Eagles 26

Buffalo marched on its own 28-yard line to Philadelphia's 40. Less than four minutes remained. Coning up a fourth and 15 yards. And John Lyzdek kicked a 47-yard field goal to put the Bills ahead 27-26.

The Jets scored punt was also blocked and recovered by Stafford's Todd Rose on the Jets' two-yard strike. Quarterback Tom Butler plunged in for the score making the count 20-8. The extra point try was blocked by Mark Doyon, who along with Kevin Williams, Kurt Boucher, Ken Anderson and Gary Salvatore played well in a losing effort.

Let quarterback Gary Morneau hit Chris Valente, who dashed 60-yards for a third quarter score. Halback Jeff Dolin crashed over for the two points and a 14-8 tally.

Defensively, the Jets were led by Bob Boucher, Don White, John Lynn and Tim Valente. Boucher also recovered a fumble.

Pass Theft Tied Record

Saturday's University of Connecticut football team treks to Delaware to meet one of the nation's best small college teams.

Coach Larry Naviaux had better make sure that defensive back Rich Fenton of Suffolk is aboard. The talented sophomore from Enfield picked off three New Hampshire passes last Saturday to spark the defense as the Huskies whipped the Wildcats, 7-3, before 13,828 fans on sun-baked Memorial Stadium turf.

Fenton's three thefts topped his total to six after only three games to tie the all-time season record set by Lemmy Reed. How many remember King, the fine running halfback, who set some kind of a college record for the most jerseys ripped during his fine career at Storrs.

Naviaux didn't hesitate to single out the defense as the key to the Yankee Conference win over the stubborn Wildcats. The northern visitors had taken a 3-0 lead on Dave Teggert's second period field goal. The latter also starred in a morning soccer match against Connecticut, scoring one goal in a 4-2 loss.

Freshman Bernie Palmer, who starred in UConn's first three games, especially the previous week against Yale, was off target all during the first half and was finally replaced by Ramon Sanchez. The latter got the Huskies moving in the third, taking a fumble recovery at the UConn 47. Ray Jackson picked up six yards and Lou Allen added 16 yards to the 30. Jackson's number was called again and he took a handoff and raced down the north sideline behind some nifty blocking for the go-ahead and winning score. Greg Siny added the seventh point that concluded the scoring for the day between the two hard-hitting conference foes.

UConn, now 3-1, moves into the fire Saturday at Delaware. It will take an extra effort for the Huskies to bring home the bacon.

Matlack Better Than Seaver As Mets Deadlock Playoffs

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds rolled to 17 more regular-season victories against the New York Mets, but their National League playoff season was tied at one win apiece as it switched to Shea Stadium here today.

The Mets, who underwhelmed the East Division with an 82-79 record, squared the best-of-five series Sunday at Cincinnati with a 5-0 triumph. The remaining games will be played here.

Lefty Jon Matlack, a 19-year-old minor leaguer when the Miracle Mets won the World Series in 1969, fired a masterful two-hitter in the Mets' win Sunday.

The day before Mets hurler Tom Seaver set a 11-NL record with 13 strikeouts but still lost on a ninth-inning homer by Johnny Bench.

"Matlack pitched a better

game than Seaver did," acknowledged Pete Rose, the sparkling Cincinnati Big Red Machine.

Today the Reds sent Ross Grimsley, 18-10, against another Mets lefty, Jerry Kosman, 14-15.

"I sat here yesterday and said I don't expect Matlack to pitch as well as Seaver," Rose declared from his locker stool. "Now doggone," he said with a grimace. "I sure don't expect Kosman to throw as good as Matlack."

With the exception of Sunday's ninth inning when the Mets scored four runs on a walk and five singles, Rose's plying has also been outstanding.

"You take away that ninth-inning and nobody has been hitting the cover off the ball," said Rose.

"And that'll happen in the National League," he added. "You face good pitching every game than Seaver did," acknowledged Pete Rose, the sparkling Cincinnati Big Red Machine.

Athletics Back Home, Confident of Victory

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Athletics are having trouble to get back to Baltimore Orioles aren't invincible in American League playoff competition, return home today with confidence they can win the current best-of-five series.

"I think we have the advantage," Oakland manager Billy Williams said Sunday. "We have a home run barrage gave the A's a 6-3 victory Sunday and evened the series at one game apiece.

"We're going back to our own park, and we have two 20-game winners to throw weight into the series."

Manager Earl Weaver of the Orioles, having suffered his first playoff defeat after 10 consecutive wins, said Sunday that he was more than a little disappointed.

"I think we're still even. We have to win two out of three games, and so do they. We've won our four home games, but we've lost three of our four away games. It's a little behind the A's in the series, but we're confident we can win the series."

Left-hander Ken Holtzman was to start for the Oakland in today's game, 3:30 p.m. EDT, against Baltimore lefty Mike Cuellar, an 18-game winner during the regular season.

Lefty Vida Blue, who was knocked from the mound in the first inning of Saturday's opener, has been named by Williams to start game No. 4.

Weaver said he would stick with his six original plans to pitch young Alexander in the fourth game. While Alexander won just 12 games in the regular season, one of those was a one-run, complete game victory over the A's.

The Orioles out-homered the A's 18-16 during regular season series, won by Oakland 7-5, but five of those hits were A's came off Vida McCarty, who was rapped for four more on Sunday.

Biggest Field Goal Sinks Giants

NEW HAVEN (AP) — "If you can't make this kind of a field goal, you'd better pack your bags and go home," said Chester Marcol after his 32-yard boot cleared the uprights with one second left to play to propel the Packers to a 16-14 National Football League victory over the Saints.

The man who kicked it didn't think it was much to fuss over.

"You have to watch films every day like I do to realize it. Defense has become so tough that you have one chance in a million to make a diving catch in the end zone on a 10-yard touchdown pass from Tom Herrmann and a 20-yard pass by the Packers' Jon Staggers on a reverse play accounted for the first half scoring.

Eighth District firemen poured about 2,000 gallons of water on a pile of cedar shavings Saturday night, extinguishing a fire apparently set by a group of children. Firemen were called to the Burr nursery, 420 N. Main St. at 4:48 p.m. Saturday. The blaze in the pile of shavings, used for growing roses, required continual "wetting down," firemen said. Firemen used two trucks, 1 1/2-inch hose and booster lines, firemen said. Water was tanked from N. Main St. for the fire, they said.

Israelis Bomb Damascus, Cairo

Pro-Israeli Rallies Set For Tonight

CONNECTICUT'S Israeli supporters pledged $200,000 in the first two days of the Middle East war and more than $1 million was expected by the end of the week. Several pro-Israeli rallies were scheduled across Connecticut today.

In Stamford, fund drive coordinator Harvey A. Peltz said $125,000 had been pledged by Monday night and that he expected $750,000 after tonight's rally.

Arthur Spiegel, director of the New Haven Jewish Community Council, said Monday his organization "has been swamped" with calls offering help and money to Israel. He said $100,000 had been pledged close to 2,000 people to attend. Kessler said the federation hoped to collect half a million dollars in cash by Saturday.

The council is one of two New Haven groups planning rallies tonight. The Yale Israel Community has scheduled a demonstration of support at a Yale chapel.

The rally will be called to discuss what we can do to help and to show the people of Israel that we care," said Edward Zelenky, spokesman for the Yale organization.

Other rallies were planned tonight in Waterbury, Bridgeport, Norwalk, Stamford and Meriden. Charlotte Berman of the Hartford federation said there's been a flood of offers of money and assistance.

"People have even been calling in to offer blood," she said. Mrs. Berman added that all the money collected will be used for "strictly humanitarian purposes," not military supplies.

Discuss Middle East War

The Israeli jets launched bombing raids on Damascus and Cairo today in a major escalation of the Middle East war. Ground battles raged along the Suez Canal and the Golan Heights.

Associated Press correspondent C.C. Mintzler reported from Cairo that "we are in the middle of an air raid." He made the report in a telephone call to the AP bureau in Athens, but the line went dead immediately thereafter.

Israeli Phantom jets bombing in Damascus heavily damaged the Syrian Defense Ministry and the Syrian broadcasting headquarters across the street. He said the bombing struck five buildings and more than half a dozen ambulances carried away the dead and wounded.

A house about half a mile away also was hit, Antar reported. The Lebanese Defense Ministry said Israeli jets struck an army radar station 18 miles east of Beirut and there were reports of Israeli armor crossing into noncombatant Lebanon as the four-day-old conflict widened.

Polish diplomatic emissaries leaving Syria after their embassy was hit during the Israeli raid on Damascus called the strike "a terrible tragedy that killed many civilians."

Local Jewish Groups To Participate

All Manchester Jewish organizations are cooperating in a Greater Hartford "Solidarity With Israel" rally tonight in West Hartford. It will be at Emanuel Synagogue, with expectations that about 5,000 people from Hartford-area towns will attend.

Dr. Martin Rubin, chairman of the Manchester UJA (United Jewish Appeal), is coordinating the local effort. He said transportation will be provided for those Manchester residents wishing to attend and that buses will leave from Temple Beth Shalom at 7.

Dr. Rubin said the main purpose of the "Solidarity With Israel" rally is to raise emergency funds for Israel, through the auspices of the UJA.

The funds, he explained, will be earmarked specifically for the care of immigrants to Israel, thus freeing that country's resources toward the war effort and the defense of its shores.

Because of the West Hartford rally, tonight's meeting of the Temple Sisterhood has been canceled.

Energy Report WASHINGTON (AP) — The Middle East war casting new shadows over U.S. fuel importers. President Nixon announced that he had signed a bill authorizing the construction of a new oil pipeline from the Persian Gulf to the United States.

Watergate Resumes WASHINGTON (AP) — Michael W. McInerney and John Buckley, two private detectives reported to have been Nixon campaign spies planted in Democratic camps, were scheduled to go before the Senate Watergate committee today. McInerney has been identified in news accounts as having worked in Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign under the code name "Sedan Chair 2." Buckley has been identified by Watergate consultant E. Howard Hunt as the man working under the code name of "Fat Jack" who helped gather information on Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

Bill Amended WASHINGTON (AP) — A strip mining regulation bill has been broadened by the Senate to help ease predicted fuel shortages this winter by setting home thermostats at slightly lower levels.

Reject Bid WASHINGTON (AP) — The state of Georgia today lost its bid to take the issue of presidential impeachment out of the hands of the Supreme Court. Georgia's plea had the backing of the Nixon administration which, although the target of the state's suit, nevertheless asked the high court to accept original jurisdiction.

News Capsules

The Israeli strikes on Cairo and Damascus were taken as an indication that the power was having its way in the Middle East skies despite Egyptian and Syrian claims of having downed nearly a third of Tel Aviv's some 400 planes.

But Cairo said that on the ground its tanks were pushing Israeli armor in the Sinai and had stabbed nine miles into the desert captured by Israel in the 1967 war.

Syrian communiqué said the Israeli jets hit civilian targets in the capital of Damascus and the outskirts of Homs, 90 miles to the north. "This aggression caused some civilian casualties," the communiqué said.

The United Nations headquarters in Jerusalem said a Norwegian air force captain working as a U.N. military observer was killed in his home along with his wife and young daughter in the Damascus strikes.

Israeli officials in Tel Aviv said their jets in Syria were hitting headquarters and radar sites. The raids were in direct retaliation for Syrian missile attacks on civilian targets in Israel, they claimed. An Israeli military spokesman said the Phantom pilots reported "very good hits."

Syria threatened retaliation for the raid on Damascus and Tel Aviv residents were warned by loudspeakers trucks to double-check blackout measures and stock up supplies in their air raid shelters.

The Lebanese Defense Ministry said Israeli jets struck an army radar station 18 miles east of Beirut and there were reports of Israeli armor crossing into noncombatant Lebanon as the four-day-old conflict widened.

Polish diplomatic emissaries leaving Syria after their embassy was hit during the Israeli raid on Damascus called the strike "a terrible tragedy that killed many civilians."

Foreign newsmen were barred from both fronts and independent checks on the conflicting claims were impossible.
