South Windsor Teacher Evaluation Discussed

BEVERLY DUKETT
Correspondent

Teacher evaluation and the role of the State Board of Education will play in teacher evaluation was discussed by the South Windsor Board of Education at its meeting last night. Dr. Robert Goldman, superintendent of schools, presented the board with a copy of Public Act No. 73-456.

This act calls for the superintendent of each school district to annually evaluate each teacher and have each teacher evaluated and report the results of all evaluations to the town or regional board of education. Evaluation will be based on minimum performance criteria established by the State Board of Education, and any additional criteria the local board of education may establish on or before Feb. 1974.

South Windsor will use its own evaluative procedures presently being used. According to the Public Act No. 73-456, the board will evaluate and review its own evaluative procedures.

William Perry, assistant superintendent, stated that "the state is offering a base on which to operate," and it was his understanding that school

Security Council Adjourns Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
(AP) - The Security Council adjourned its debate on the Arab-Israeli war indefinitely Tuesday night because there was no prospect of agreement on a cease-fire resolution.

The Soviet Union boycotted the session for half an hour while Israel was blaming Moscow and the Arabs for the fighting. Diplomats predicted the council would take up no cease-fire resolution until it became clear which side was likely to win the war.

One European diplomat predicted that if Israel appears to be gaining on the battlefield and threatening new Arab territory, nonaligned nations will sponsor a resolution calling for a "cease-fire and nothing more."

He added that if the Arabs seem to be advancing successfully on Israel, there would be growing pressure on the United States to save Israel and that would be a dangerous situation.

At the Tuesday night council meeting, Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik broke in on the Israeli speech to say he would not hear "excuses from the representative of murderers and international gangsters."

Newer Old Roads Needed

The greatest public works project since the pyramids is taking just about as long to complete.

For the past 17 years, the nation has concentrated on building the Interstate Highway System, putting more than 33 billion federal dollars and 4.6 billion state dollars into it. The system is now almost 81 per cent finished.

Unlike the pyramids, however, the job won't be done when the last concrete is poured on the last mile of Interstate. In fact, the excellence of this system, which enables motorists to travel thousands of miles without a traffic light and with greater economy and safety than on ordinary roads, actually emphasizes the deficiencies of those other roads.

America has 3.7 million miles of streets and highways and 114 million drivers operate 115 million vehicles on them. Yet half these roads are unpaved or otherwise inadequate to handle the present load. By 1990, another 41 million drivers and 50 million vehicles will join the fray.

Sounds like a plug by the "highway lobby" for the country to embark on a "Interstate. Not at all."

To accommodate all the vehicles beginning to glug our roads, we don't require endless miles of new pavement," says Donald Stabler, president of the Road Information Program (TRIP), a nonprofit

Inside Report

Nixon vs. Agnew

WASHINGTON — The intensity of anti-Nixon feeling now beating in the collective breast of many backers of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew can best be gauged by the fact that his brass-knuckle attack on Assistant Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen was really aimed at Richard M. Nixon.

"Agnew," one informed Republican says, "wasn't hunting for a new game as Petersen. Petersen was simply his stand-in for Nixon."

Evidence in support of that contention is considerable, but one fact, unpublished until now, stands above all others: Agnew had vainly made a private but extremely vigorous appeal to President Nixon himself precisely along the lines of his later public attack on Petersen before the Republican women in Los Angeles.

But the President flatly rejected the Vice President's private appeal in dealing with the same attack Sept. 29 this year. Agnew said he was coming from Petersen and his aides. When Agnew repeated virtually the same attack Sept. 29 this year with maximum publicity and before a rapidly pro-Agnew partisan audience — the real target was not Petersen but the President.

Thus, the Vice President — admittedly near the end of the political road — harbors deep-seated hostility toward the President which could erupt dangerously. Parity to minimize that danger, Mr. Nixon tried to make clear in his unexpected press conference last week that he is not trying to "smother" the press.

"I'm telling his press conference that Agnew's decision not to resign if indicted is proper," Mr. Nixon was responding to intense heat from Agnew's political supporters but Mr. Nixon, perhaps intentionally ambiguous, left unclear whether he thought Agnew's decision is correct for the country as well as "proper" for Agnew. And he certainly did not endorse the Vice President's attacks on Petersen and the Justice Department investigation.

Indeed, assuaging emotional Agnew supporters firmly convinced that the White House has been trying to engineer Agnew's resignation may be wholly beyond the President's power, whatever he says. Suspensions grow of nefarious White House dealings against Agnew, even if always denied.

Take, for example, the curious, even exotic, trip to Phoenix, Ariz., on Sept. 14 for secret discussion about the Agnew affair with Sen. Barry Goldwater. Goldwater, the most respected Republican party elder, has made no effort to disseminate his strong repugnance for the way Mr. Nixon has handled the Agnew affair and has stoutly defended Agnew.

On Sept. 14, following earlier telephone talks with the Senator in Washington, presidential counselor Bryce Harlow and assistant White House counsel Fred J. Buzhardt, Jr. were dispatched to Phoenix in late afternoon with documents purporting to "prove" that (as Petersen has been quoted as saying) the prosecutors had evidence "cold" on Agnew.

None of the three principals in that extraordinary 90-minute session in Goldwater's hilltop home will talk about it. Other informed sources, however, told us it was perfectly obvious what Harlow and Buzhardt wanted, whether or not they were specially asked for it: convince Goldwater of Agnew's guilt in the conspiracy and bribery charges and thus end Agnew's political career.

Other signs crop up almost daily to feed the deepest suspicions in the House of Agnew against the House of Nixon. It was presidential counselor Melvin L. Laird who first tipped off a Republican congressional leader not to get out front defending Agnew. It was the White House that telephoned Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott, urging him to call a Republican conference to warn Senators against getting out on a pro-Agnew limb.

Some Agnew backers actually believe the whole case against Nixon was concocted by Mr. Nixon as a device to take the Watergate heat off himself. That, of course, is demonstrable nonsense.

But no longer is there any doubt at the highest levels of the Agnew camp that the White House — led by Mr. Nixon — has played dirty pool against the Vice President. Agnew personally made that clear privately to California friends. If he ever decides to go public against the President, he is well aware that the Watergate backdrop would provide a rich stockpile of targets.

A Vice President, Agnew personally made that clear privately to California friends. If he ever decides to go public against the President, he is well aware that the Watergate backdrop would provide a rich stockpile of targets.

He also suggested that Realtors ads would be much more effective if they would get a street location or closeness to a school and then name the school.

One of our readers suggests that we set aside space and perhaps more effectiveness for the Realtors also, we should try to pinpoint the location of the house for sale as close as possible.

The non-working housewife, one who doesn't hold a job outside the home, may be on the way toward becoming a rarity.

The last national census showed that 40 out of every 100 wives was in the labor force. The figure in 1950 was 25 out of every 100.

Among women with preschool children, 30 out of every 100 were working last year, compared to only 12 in 1960.

As a result, family income increased sharply, from $1,900 in 1960 to $13,900 in 1972.

Today, in most cases, families are having difficulty making ends meet even with two incomes.

Most polls get a lot of publicity but there wasn't a great deal of space devoted to a recent Gallup Poll which revealed that 80 per cent of the Americans surveyed think well of the United States and 74 per cent regard the nation in a "highly favorable" light.

Even in the 18 to 29 age bracket, 64 per cent expressed highest satisfaction with the nation.

The results should be heartening to all Americans.

As we have commented previously, in the course of the year, there are probably 200 proclamations calling the attention of our readers to various weekly observances.

One of our readers suggests that we set aside space and a separate heading, Proclamation of the Week, for such observance as easy reference. The idea may have some merit.

Being a sports fan, we enjoy the days of October more than any other. Football is all around us, the World Series starts Saturday, and of course the playoffs also stirred interest. They certainly help to take one's mind off Watergate, the local political scene, and the many other topics which occupy one's mind from day to day. They are a refreshing pause.

Today's Thought

The new "sandwich" coins have an actual value much less than the face value. These "sandwich" coins are still silver, so in fact, they have no value whatsoever on the silver market.

We too are susceptible. We may join the right groups, attend the right meetings, say the right words, sign the right hymns, but at the center may be a piece of brass.

The Psalmist gave us the prayer to pray: "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me."

Costs continue to mount in this business with the announcement that newspaper will be increased $25 per ton to $200 next Jan. 1 and take a further jump of $10 next July. Thus, not only will the commodity be difficult to obtain, it will also be more costly.

If everything goes as planned, there will also be a rate increase in second class postage, those who receive newspapers via the mail, next January.

Should there be a jump in first class postage, as proposed, the increased cost to all businesses for mailing statements, etc., would be considerable.

The Meriden Record says statements from candidates as well as letters from readers bearing on the forthcoming election must be limited to a maximum of 200 words each.

The restriction is dictated by the shortage of newspaper. We aren't adopting such a rule at the Herald but we appreciate the fact that letters from candidates, parties and letters to the Open Forum are being kept short and we will appreciate your further consideration.

We received a letter praising the Coventry police department but the only signature was "a grateful Coventry resident."

Gosh, in this day, both police and newspapers are thankful for words of praise and it is unfortunate the letter wasn't signed.

The Coventry writer said the number of burglaries has been substantially reduced from last year and one feels the police are much more responsive to citizens' calls.

"It is reassuring to see the cars checking around, especially at night, and commendation is due Chief Kjelquist."

In a move to combat the growing energy crisis, the governor of Oregon issued an order for businesses to turn off their air conditioning and most outdoor lights to conserve electricity.

The early indication is that most businesses are complying.

Throughout many parts of the country it appears there will be less outdoor lighting this Christmas. It perhaps is a real shame that the bulbs aren't presented with a great opportunity to steal the bulbs off Christmas trees.

While back we published a letter in the Open Forum from a former Manchester resident, Albert J. Jorsky, a disabled veteran in the Washington, Pa., hospital, who wanted to hear from folks in Manchester.

The other day we received a letter from him expressing thanks to the people who sent well cards and letters. He writes: "I am pleased that I have been receiving a good bit of mail and it helps to cheer me up."

It is with honor and humility that we acknowledge the trust which you the people have placed in us over the years, and rededicate ourselves, each and every one of us, to hold that trust sacred and to perform our duties and responsibilities with the highest integrity.

"It is to this end that the Democratic candidates make eight pledges.

"We pledge to continue the program of fiscal responsibility which will promote additional recreational facilities and expand those of our existing recreational area.

"We pledge to provide the leadership necessary to retain autonomy in government and to scrutinize and resist all unreasonable measures of the state and federal governments which would attempt to usurp the privileges and authority vested in each of us under our town meeting form of government.

"We pledge to continue the program of fiscal responsibility which will promote additional recreational facilities and expand those of our existing recreational area.

The Republican platform, known as "GOP in '73," takes a stand on supporting the character of the state and federal governments which will attempt to usurp the privileges and authority vested in each of us under our town meeting form of government.

It has often been said that experience is the best teacher, and we believe the experienced candidates of the Democratic party can best accomplish these ends.

It was this fiscal responsibility and experience that saw revenue sharing allocation increased because our First Selectman took an appeal

Hebron Parties Release Platforms

Both parties, the incumbent Democratic administration and the Republican hopefuls, have released their platforms for the 1973 election.

Democrats

"Experience Counts" keynotes the Democratic platform as it cites how the people of the town have entrusted the major responsibilities of government to the Democratic candidates.

"We believe," it states, "that we have honored that trust and discharged our duties and responsibilities with the highest integrity, keeping the public interest above those of personal consideration. We will continue to be dedicated to the principles of fiscal responsibility and sound and prudent government with integrity."

"The last four years have, in a sense, been threshold years — years of critical decisions — years replete with challenges — years in which action and reaction has been necessary to meet head on the many challenges which have faced us and which have so vitally affected each and every citizen of this community.

"Hebron is a growing community and is now beginning to feel the effects of the burgeoning urban sprawl of surrounding communities.

"The influx of more people seeking the benefits of a greenbelt community such as Hebron, will undoubtedly increase the demands upon our resources for many years to come. We shall do all things reasonably necessary to make this a town in which our young people will be anxious and proud to remain and rear their families.

"We pledge to preserve the rural character of the town yet provide the services and conveniences necessary to our well being consistent with a greenbelt community which will promote the development of progressive and low-impact programs which will promote additional recreational facilities and expand those of our existing recreational area.

"We pledge to provide the leadership necessary to retain autonomy in government and to scrutinize and resist all unreasonable measures of the state and federal governments which would attempt to usurp the privileges and authority vested in each of us under our town meeting form of government.

Republicans

The Republican platform, known as "GOP in '73," takes a stand on supporting

New Fire Truck Used in Drill

Hebron Fire Chief Donald Griffin Sr. and Co. 2 Captain Bruce DeGray admire the new Engine Tank 7 recently purchased. It will be housed in Amston. (Herald photo by Em)

Hebron's New Tank Truck

ANNE EMT Correspondent Tel. 2283971

The Hebron Volunteer Fire Department's new fire truck, Engine Tank 7, arrived Monday afternoon and was immediately put to work Monday evening at the department's weekly drill. This new truck will be housed at Company 2 in Amston and Fire Chief Donald Griffin Sr. immediately turned over the keys to Bruce DeGray, Company 2 Captain.

With the purchase of the new truck, the department now has two tank engines with Engine Tank 14 being assigned to Company 3 in Gilead.

Chief Griffin feels that the new engine tank adds greatly to the town's fire protection. He also feels that "we will have adequate fire protection with the purchase of a new tank engine which cost $25,000 and for which sufficient funds have been appropriated.

It was Griffin who requested the allocation of $5,000 a year in the town's budget towards the purchase of a new tank engine giving three central fire protection locations for the town's residents.

It was also in 1969 that Company 3 was organized in the Gilead Section of town thus giving three central fire protection locations for the town's residents.

However, Griffin is disappointed that no funds were appropriated by the Board of Finance in this year's budget for future purchases.

Besides the two engine tanks, the department also has three engines; Engine 16, purchased in 1946; Engine 15, purchased in 1967; and Engine 14, purchased in 1953. Engines 14 and 15 will remain at Company 1 and Engine 16 will be at Company 3.

The department also has two service trucks, a 1967 model and a 1969 model.

Since 1955, when Company 1 two tank engines with Engine Tank 14 being assigned to Company 2 in Amston and Fire Chief Donald Griffin Sr. immediately turned over the keys to Bruce DeGray, Company 2 Captain.

With the purchase of the new truck, the department now has two tank engines with Engine Tank 14 being assigned to Company 3 in Gilead.

Chief Griffin feels that the new engine tank adds greatly to the town's fire protection. He also feels that "we will have adequate fire protection with the purchase of a new tank engine which cost $25,000 and for which sufficient funds have been appropriated.

Temple Plans Services To Mark Holidays

The nine-day holiday of Sukkot, the Feast of Tabernacles, starts today in commemoration of the 40-years of wandering of the Jewish people on their return from Egypt to the Promised Land and the celebration of the harvest season in Israel as well as in this country.

Cantor Marshall Press will conduct services at B'Nai Israel Synagogue, Talcott Ave., Rockville, tonight at 7 p.m. Thursday morning services will be conducted at 7 a.m. and evening services at 7 p.m. Friday services will be at 9 a.m. and Sabbath services will be at 7:45 p.m. Oct. 17 services will be at 7 p.m. and Oct. 18 Yizkor will be recited during a 9 a.m. service.

The annual Sukkah party for all children of the congregation will be Sunday at 11:15 a.m. Cantor Press said that to commemorate the years of wandering of the Jews during which time they lived in makeshift dwellings, a but or "Succah" is built, decorated and utilized for the duration of the holiday. Children of the religious school will aid in the decoration.

State's Jews Pledge Nearly $2 Million

MICHAEL W. MILLICAN
Associated Press Writer

Nearly $2 million has been pledged to Israel in a series of Connecticut rallies highlighted by a report from Golda Meir's sister that Mrs. Meir says Israel now controls the Middle East.

Clara Stern, Mrs. Meir's younger sister, told a fund-raising rally in Bridgeport Tuesday night the Israeli Premier telephoned Monday from Israel.

"She called to reassure and tell me that Israel is now in control of the situation. It wasn't so much what she said but how she said it," Mrs. Stern told the applauding crowd of about 1,000. "There was such relaxation, such relief in her voice we even kidded a little bit."

The rally raised more than $200,000 Tuesday night for a total of $226,000 from the Bridgeport area since the war began Saturday, organizers said.

Organizers of fund-raising affairs in other Connecticut cities Tuesday night reported the following results:

- New Haven, $757,000, including an interest-free loan of $250,000 offered by the Handen National Bank, to be added to $100,000 pledged Monday night.
- Stamford, $500,000.
- Waterbury, $100,000.
- Meriden, $75,000.
- Danbury, $60,000.

More than 2,000 Hartford-area Jews also held a meeting Tuesday night and by 9 p.m. at least 600 persons had made donations, said Irving Kessler, executive director of the Hartford Jewish Federation. But he said no count of the proceeds was made.

"I can't guess on the amount of money raised, and our goal wasn't money, quite frankly," Kessler said. "We're still trying to get people to pay the pledges they made eight months ago."

Rabbi Howard Singer told the Hartford rally the conflict between Jew and Arab hasn't changed since Egyptian Pharaoh Ramses chased Moses across the Red Sea.

Mrs. Stern, a retired executive director of the United Jewish Council who lives in Bridgeport, told the rally she was surprised to receive a telephone call from the Israeli Premier.

"Much to my amazement I was sitting near the telephone yesterday (Monday) trying to bring myself to have the courage to call her on the telephone and bother her and find out how everything was. The telephone rang and it was my sister Golda. It was the Bridgeport United Jewish Council said $100,000 in cash was expected to be raised by Sunday.

Mayor Julius M. Wilensky spoke at the gathering in his city "as one of Stamford's proud Jews, not as mayor."

"There are alternatives to our energy crisis, better and longer lasting solutions, than to sell Israel down the river for Arabian oil," Wilensky told the 1,700 people at the rally.

Another speaker, Dr. Ruth Gruber, said: "We are one people and our blood is flowing tonight in the Golan Heights and in the Sinai."

In Waterbury, Burton Lazarow, executive director of the local Jewish federation, said money raised in the U.S. would be sent to Israel through the United Jewish Appeal to be used for humanitarian programs. He said the funds would not go to the Israeli government.

Inflation Forcing Region Hospital Rates Up

By JERRY HARKAVY
Associated Press Writer

Hospital room rates in New England are like the weather: unpredictable.

You pay according to where you are. And, like the weather, a short trip can change conditions considerably.

For example, a semiprivate room costs $93 a day at Rhode Island Hospital in Providence.

A few miles to the north, a semiprivate room at Woonsocket Hospital costs $90 a day.

What you get at a hospital varies, of course, and not surprisingly the Associated Press found in a survey that the most expensive rooms in New England are at Massachusetts General Hospital, considered to be one of the nation's best.

At Mass. General, and at Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, both in Boston, the daily rate for a private room is $121.

The least expensive rooms were found to be $50 a day for a semiprivate room at Frisbie Memorial Hospital in Rochester, N.H., and for a bed in a four-bed ward at Thayer Hospital in Waterville, Maine.

Thayer, along with Augusta General Hospital, also in central Maine, bucked a trend of increases in hospital room rates this year but cutting prices.

Thayer's ward rate dropped as of April 1 from $51 to $50 a day and its semiprivate rate dropped from $54 to $53 a day. Its private room rate held steady at $64 a day.

Augusta General cut room rates from $63 to $57 a day, and the hospital's assistant director, Donald Bowker, said the decrease came because the volume of patients sharply exceeded hospital projections.

"Basically, our volume increased to the point where we could start returning some money back to our patients," he said.

However, the trend in hospital room rates in New England was definitely on the upswing, ranging from a $1 a day increase to an $11 a day increase.

Administrators say they are simply passing on to their patients the higher costs they are paying.

"We are impaled on the horns of inflation," said Armand A. Couture, acting administrator at Ludlow Hospital in Massachusetts, where room rates have gone up $5 a day.

In many places in New England, it will be more expensive to be in a hospital this fall than it was just this summer.

Many hospitals, especially in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, boosted their room rates Oct. 1 when they started their fiscal years.

The Associated Press found only two hospitals in central Maine that had been able to cut room prices.

Some hospitals have attempted to hold the line on increases in room and board charges but have raised the price of other services such as emergency room, intensive care, x-ray and laboratory tests.

The largest dollar increases in hospital room rates went into effect last week in Boston.

The $131 a day at Mass. General and Mass. Eye and Ear represents a boost of $8 a day.

At Boston's New England Medical Center, private rooms went up $11 a day to $129, while semiprivate rooms increased $10 to $117 a day.

Most administrators say the increases were triggered by inflation. They cite increases in salaries, food prices, utility rates and hospital equipment.

"It's directly associated with trends in the economy," said Thomas Barnett, spokesman for Connecticut's Yale-New Haven Hospital. "I don't think we can slice it any other way than you or I can our food bills."

At Eastern Maine Medical Center in Bangor, where room rates went up $4 a day last August, Executive Director Robert H. Brandow said only stringent economic controls enabled the hospital to hold its loss to $500,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30.

"And we lost $125,000 in July alone just before the increases," he said.

Brandow said he was awaiting new federal guidelines expected in January. "One of the problems," he said, "is that they keep changing the controls often enough that we don't have time enough to adjust."

Here's a rundown on hospital room prices in the six-state region:

CONNECTICUT — At least 23 of that state's 34 private hospitals filed notice of rate increases as of Oct. 1. Increases at Middlesex Memorial Hospital in Middletown were from $6 to $9 a day and $5 a day at Rockville General Hospital.

RHODE ISLAND — Most Rhode Island hospitals went up by Oct. 1, with Rhode Island Hospital, the state's largest, raising its daily room rate $4.

Semiprivate rooms there are now $93 and private rooms are $107 or $107. St. Joseph's Hospital also went up $4 on its room rates, and hiked the charge of pediatrics rooms from $61 to $75 a day and its nursery rates from $41 to $46.

VERMONT — Vermont's largest hospital, Medical Center Hospital in Burlington, raised its rates.

NEW HAMPSHIRE — Fourteen of 30 hospitals surveyed outside Boston raised their room rates Oct. 1, with increases generally ranging from $3 to $7. Holyoke and four other area hospitals have refused to sign contracts with Blue Cross, claiming its discount is discriminatory against other health insurers.

Holyoke administrator Harold B. Pine said his hospital is able to defer a $6 across-the-board increase and has improved its overall financial situation by eliminating the Blue Cross discount.

One of the state's largest hospitals, Mary Hitchcock in Hanover, did not increase its $75 semi-private rate, but went up about 3 per cent on over-all rates.

With the cold weather on its way, the seasonal rash of phony furnace inspectors will begin. Be on your guard against high-pressure furnace company inspectors.

The typical scheme works like this: A man comes to the door and announces that his is a furnace inspector. After getting permission to inspect the furnace, he says that the furnace is in bad shape, or says he must call in a furnace engineer. The worried consumer usually doesn't hesitate to let the inspector do this.

When the engineer arrives, often in a short time, he appears very alarmed. He tells the home owner the furnace is beyond repair and must be replaced immediately to avoid a serious explosion or poisonous fumes.

Using these scare tactics, the phony inspector will pressure the home owner into buying a new furnace or having the old one overhauled at great expense.

Many of these schemes take advantage of the fact that furnace do need cleaning periodically. Some furnace salesmen offer a free cleaning job, or a cleaning job at a very low rate as a come-on. When the furnace has been taken apart to be cleaned, then the salesmen uses the scare tactics to sell an expensive replacement or major repair job.

Use the following guidelines to help avoid these furnace schemes:

- Don't let anyone begin work on your furnace until you have verified his reputation and company by checking with the Better Business Bureau. Also get the names and address of other persons for whom the company has done work and get their opinions. If the company won't give your names, it is better to look elsewhere.
- Have any claim that your furnace is beyond repair verified by a qualified heating engineer.
- Get several bids on replacement or major overhauls of your furnace. Even then, beware of unusually low bids.

Coventry Mrs. Fowler Disputes GOP Stand on Lake Roads

MONICA SHEA
Correspondent
Tel. 742-9495

Rose Fowler, incumbent Democratic town council vice chairman, has taken exception to the opposition party's general statement concerning the town's takeover of lake association roads.

"Somewhere along the line," said Mrs. Fowler, "the Republicans have missed some very important facts."

"The Town of Coventry now owns over one third of the roads in the lake area through previous town meeting action," Mrs. Fowler said. "These roads were accepted without any criteria as to their standards and have been nearly impossible for the town to maintain because of their poor condition to begin with. There are further complications because most of the roads have very narrow rights-of-way and no drainage easements."

"The second fact that the Republicans missed is that it was the incumbent Democratically controlled Town Council, that changed the matching road fund formula so that for every dollar the lake associations spend on their roads, the towns spends two dollars in matching funds."

Mrs. Fowler continued, "The incumbent town council had also recognized that the lake associations were legally constituted through acts of the State Legislature. These roads in the lake area are owned not only by the lake association but by private citizens with rights in their deeds, and these associations have by-laws which govern their actions. It was the present Town Council which prevented the formation of yet another lake association in Hemlock Point."

"So it is naive," Mrs. Fowler added, "of the GOP to suggest that lake associations not be considered when looking into the overall road problem."

"The Republicans should also recognize that, with the formation of the Lake Rehabilitation Study Committee, the present council initiated a long-range systematic development plan for the roads in the lake area. That committee was given the specific charge to upgrade the quality of life in the lake area and to bring forth a plan to correct pollution problems, road problems and housing density problems among others."

"The opposition party also apparently forgets that town equipment is presently used on lake association roads in cooperation with the associations, as part of the matching fund program. And perhaps the Republicans are not aware that, for reasons of safety, the town plows and sub-contracts for the plowing of all roads in the lake area."

"The cost factor in the town takeover of eight to ten-foot-wide dirt roads in the lake area is prohibitive, with just local tax dollars," Mrs. Fowler said. "There must be massive increases in state aid to increase our road budget before any consideration can be given to the upgrading of association roads by the town."

"The Town of Coventry is presently negotiating with the Lakewood Heights Association to take over their roads on a long-term basis, based on certain criteria which include drainage easements and a 40-foot right of way."

"Mrs. Fowler concluded, "that the residents of Coventry are beyond hearing just blanket, general statements from the candidates in this year's election. The problems facing Coventry are too vast and complicated for such statements; we need facts and solutions, and I am willing to continue to work toward just that."

Citizens Advisory Committee

In announcing the third meeting of the Coventry Citizens Advisory Committee (CCAC) William Miller, committee chairman, said he hoped there would be "a large audience of those people who want to know what's going on concerning the Process-DevCo proposal."

This week's meeting will be held tonight at the DevCo Planning Center on Rt. 44A at 7:30. The meeting is open to the public and Miller said he wants citizens to "feel free to ask questions. I will see that they are properly answered."

Miller added that the CCAC is still welcoming those who wish to attend meetings either to observe or with the thoughts of joining the committee. "We ask people to join us in the task of helping all sides to respond to each other," he said.

"We are particularly interested in younger people, who will be the prime beneficiaries of the Greater Hartford Process proposal," Miller said.

This week's agenda includes, in addition to status reports from two of the CCAC's sub-committees, Education and Sewage and Water, a slide presentation prepared by the Urban Land Institute. Committee for Preservation

The Committee for the Preservation of Coventry is backing Paul Diehl, local builder and member of the group, to conduct a study for a history of this rural community and its plans to stay rural. Diehl says that the study, conducted through interviews with all taxpayers and residents who have worked hard to purchase land and homes, will center on the idea that "we all have the right to determine our own destiny and future."

CPC, in sponsoring Diehl, hopes to print results in the CPC Forum and thereby give hope to many Coventry residents who are discouraged by the income made by Hartford Process-DevCo in their scheme to change this town into a city. "Many feel their success is inevitable, but this is not so, says Diehl.

He will be using written notes that will be supplemented by other material from similar communities across the nation who are also "fighting to retain their life-style and autonomy. Volunteers will transcribe the notes and the printed results should make residents aware that "although big business monopolies and limitless funds seem overwhelming, the final decision must and will rest with the people themselves."

Fire Damages

they requested help of off-duty firemen and volunteers, and within minutes an alarm was sounded at Box 44, Main and Oak Sts.

The fire was declared under control, but not out, at about 4 a.m., and the recall whistle was sounded at 4:07 a.m. Firemen remained at the scene all morning, though, cleaning up and probing the burned contents of the shoe store in an attempt to discover the fire's cause.

About 80 firemen fought the blaze, McKay said.

Fire Chief John Rivosca said at midday today that the cause of the fire hadn't yet been determined, and he was requesting assistance from the state fire marshal in investigating the incident.

The building in which the two stores are located is owned by Mrs. Rose Kronick of Hartford. The Johnson Frederick Shoe Store is operated by Jesse Johnson of Rocky Hill, and Land-O-Fashion is run by Carl Altshuler of West Hartford.

Estimates of financial loss in the fire weren't available, but firemen on the scene guessed that damage to the structure alone would run higher than $80,000.

The Main St. fire today comes on the fourth day of Fire Prevention Week, an annual event when fire departments spread the message of fire safety. Town firemen had to cancel planned visits to two Manchester schools today - part of the Fire Prevention Week program - because of the early morning blaze.

The interior of the Land-O-Fashion women's clothing store at 883 Main St. was badly damaged in a fire which started in the adjacent Johnson Frederick Shoe Store, 881 Main St., this morning, but clothing - apparently only slightly damaged - still hangs on the racks. Story is on Page One. (Herald photo by Ofiana)

Arcadia Director To Address MLCT

Robie Hubley, director of the Arcadia Wildlife Sanctuary, will be guest speaker at the semi-annual educational meeting of the Manchester Land Conservation Trust, Inc. Monday at 8 p.m. at the Manchester Country Club.

Hubley, a graduate of the University of Massachusetts with a BS in zoology, has traveled widely in the wilderness of the United States including the Everglades, Sawtooth Range in Idaho, Sierras, Maine, Yellowstone, and Glacier. In 1972 he visited Rapid City, S.D. a week after the flood to film the results of the disaster. In 1973 he filmed the spring floods with Dr. Lincoln Browner for the Environmental Defense Fund (EDF). At present, he is completing a film on flood management for the EDF.

Hubley taught biology in the Massachusetts area for five years. Arcadia is a 600-acre sanctuary on the flood plain of the Connecticut River on the town line between Northampton-Easthampton, Mass. It is one of the 10 major sanctuaries of the Massachusetts Audubon Society. Arcadia is now the headquarters of the Connecticut River Watershed Council, a non-profit, private conservation organization concentrating on the Connecticut River.

Hubley will speak on "Riverine Ecology" and will present a film entitled "The Flooding River" on which he was a consultant. The Rev. Clifford O. Simpson will be master of ceremonies for the meeting which is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Holy Family Church in Enfield was the scene Oct. 8 of the marriage of Miss Margaret Mary Simmons of Enfield and John Thomas O'Brian of South Windsor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Rago of Enfield. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Beth O'Brian of South Windsor and John T. O'Brian III of Unionville.

The Rev. Francis T. Kerwin of Enfield officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with white pompons and garlands.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, Francis J. Rago, wore a princess-style ivory gown with a fitted bodice, and matching train. Her tiered veil of silk illusion was attached to a Camelot headpiece of ivory tulle and lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Gary Herrick of Enfield was matron of honor. She wore a hunter green crepe gown fashioned with Empire waist with ecru lace trim. She carried a bouquet of autumn colored pompons.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Roger King of East Hartford and Mrs. Robert Ballok of Vernon. Their gowns were similar to that worn by the honor attendant except in emerald green crepe. They also carried autumn colored pompons.

Miss Gerriann Ruff of Manchester, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Roger King of East Hartford was best man. Ushers were Richard Simmons of Enfield, the bride's brother; and Robert Ballok of Vernon.

A reception was held at the Mountain Laurel Restaurant in Enfield, after which the couple left on a tour of the southern states. For traveling, Mrs. O'Brian wore a cranberry plaid pantsuit with matching accessories. The couple will reside in Vernon.

Greek Club Closed Because Of Music Choice: ATHENS (AP) - Police closed a popular club after it announced it would play the music of leftist exiled composer Mikis Theodorakis for the first time in seven years. The club in the old part of the Greek capital said it also would feature poems written by Alexander Panagoulis, the would-be assassin of Greek President George Papadopoulos. Panagoulis was pardoned in August after spending six years in prison. The owner of the club said that the police ordered him to close the club because they feared public disturbance.

Perruccio-Harrington

St. Bridget Church, Manchester was the scene Sept. 29 of the marriage of Miss Maureen Anne Harrington of Manchester and Vincent Joseph Perruccio of Tolland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Harrington of 388 Summit St. The bridegroom is the son of Vincent Perruccio of Hartford and Mrs. Barbara Perruccio of Tolland.

The Rev. William J. Killen of St. Bridget Church officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with white gladioli and daisy pom-poms. Raymond Murphy of Manchester was organist and soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk organza with Chantilly lace trim decorated with mandarin collar, Camello sleeves, Empire bodice, full A-line skirt trimmed with lace. Her chapel-length mantilla edged in lace was attached to a chapelet-type Camello headpiece. She carried an old-fashioned colonial bouquet of sweethearts, roses, pink miniature carnations, white daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Kathryn McVey of Bloomfield was maid of honor. She wore a Victorian style Nile green dotted Swiss gown fashioned with ruffled high neckline, ruffled edged bib bodice, long sleeves, natural waist accented with satin ribbon and semi A-line skirt with double flounced hemline. She wore a headpiece of Marguerite daisies and carried an old-fashioned colonial bouquet of daisies, long stems, Swiss gowns with matching ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Alice Hickey of Bolton, the bride's sister-in-law; Mrs. Laura Riley and Miss Denise Dupont both of Manchester. They wore gowns identical to that worn by the bride, attended except in yellow, blue and pink. Their flowers and headpieces were the same as those of the maid of honor.

Michael Hickey of Bolton, the bride's brother, was best man. Ushers were David Riley of Manchester; Eugene O'Riley of Hartford; and Thomas Mozer of Manchester.

A reception was held at

Mrs. Vincent J. Perruccio

Willie's Steak House in Manchester, after which the couple left on a trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania. For traveling Mrs. Perruccio wore a cranberry pantsuit with white accessories. The couple will reside at 609 Talcottville Rd., Vernon.

Mrs. Perruccio is employed by Beneficial Finance Co. of Manchester. Mr. Perruccio is employed as a service technician by Hobart Manufacturing Co., Hartford.

Wedding

Kataja-Porter

The marriage of Miss Gayle Frances Porter of Hebron to Peter Clements Kataja took place Sept. 1 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Hebron.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Earl Porter of Church St., Hebron. The bridegroom is the son of John Kataja of Glastonbury and Mrs. Grace Kataja of Farmington.

The Rev. Victor Ross of St. James Episcopal Church, Glastonbury, and the Rev. William Persing of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Hebron, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. David Bradley of South Windsor was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ivory voile gown designed with venise lace bodice and puffed sleeves, and a jewel neckline accented by satin ribbons. A-line skirt, Empire waist, and ruffled hemline and chapel train. She wore a picture hat with floor-length ribbons matching her gown and carried a bouquet of multi-colored flowers.

Miss Marjory Kissman of Marlborough was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Porter and Miss Kimberly Porter, both of Hebron, and both sisters of the bride; Miss Barbara Cattr of Portland, Maine; Miss Kyle Lewis of Poughkeepsie, N.Y. They wore floor-length jacket dresses of coranflower blue print fashioned with cutaway shoulders, mandarin neckline, Empire waist, with long sleeved wraparound jacket. They wore picture hats with coranflower blue ribbons and carried bouquets of bachelor buttons.

David Horton of Kitul, Kenya, East Africa, was best man. Ushers were Stanley Goldberg of Glastonbury; Gerold Goldberg of Plainville; Edward Garofalo of Hartford; and Thomas Hayes of Marlborough, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

A reception was held at St. Clements, Portland, after which the couple left for Cape Cod, Dennisport in Massachusetts. They will reside at Tudor Lane, Manchester.

Mrs. Kataja is a registered nurse and is employed by Hartford Hospital. Mr. Kataja is an actuarial student with The Hartford Insurance Group.

PLANS FOR GAZA

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel will spend almost $20 million for administration and development in the occupied Gaza Strip in 1974, the Finance Ministry says. An additional $25 million was to be spent by the military government on rehousing refugees during the next five years.

Five years ago, it was announced that Earl Warren would stay on as U.S. Chief Justice after a filibuster prevented a Senate vote on the nomination of John Fortas.

Today's birthdays: Actress Helen Hayes is 73. Pianist and composer Theonious Monk is 55.

Today In History

South Windsor Notes

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 10, the 283rd day of 1973. There are 82 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1911, Chinese revolutionaries under Dr. Sun Yat-sen overthrew the Manchu Dynasty in China.

On this date—

In 680, the grandson of Mohammed, Husain, was murdered in Iraq.

In 1845, the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., was opened.

In 1859, civil war broke out in Argentina.

In 1915, the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans were united by blowing up the Gamboa dam of the Panama Canal.

In 1938, Nazi Germany completed the occupation of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland.

In 1943, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was named president of China.

Ten years ago: An 873-foot-high dam collapsed near Belluno, Italy, and the resulting flood killed an estimated 1,800 persons.

Heads Campaign

Incumbent Democratic Councilwoman Mrs. Sandra Bender has named Joseph M. Walsh, 9 Birch Hill Dr., as manager of her re-election campaign.

Walsh, an assistant project engineer at Pratt and Whitney Aircraft, has been active with the South Windsor Democratic Party for a number of years serving on the Democratic Town Committee, and is currently chairman of the Third District Democratic Council. He has also served as chairman of the South Windsor Mass Transit Commission.

Commenting on the appointment, Walsh said, "I am happy

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Ladies Guild

Saint Margaret Mary Ladies Guild will hold a meeting on Oct. 15 at 8 p.m. at the church hall. The program will be "Chinese Cooking Guest."

This meeting will be combined with the ladies of the Wapping Community Church.

R: SAFE LIVING

MANCHESTER PUBLIC SAFETY COMMITTEE

FIRE PREVENTION

A fire can not only ruin your day; it can destroy your home, its contents, and its occupants (including you). Each year there are approximately 400,000 home fires that kill approximately 6,500 people and hurt almost 39,000, and cause $86,000,000 in property loss.

Where do fires start? Here are the room-by-room odds: 11.8% in the basement; 21.6% in the kitchen; 37.2% in the living room; 12.8% in bedrooms; 6.4% in closets, halls, etc.; and 2.4% in the attic.

How can we change these odds and stop this needless waste? Should we outlaw matches or fine people who have fires? What about banning smoking indoors? Maybe a bigger fire department is the answer.

The best way to stop a fire is to prevent it before it starts by getting rid of home fire traps. Here are a few things you should check.

Check your home heating system to make sure it's in good operating condition. A poorly maintained heating system can cause a good fire.

Electricity is your friend, but if you abuse it, it can make an ash out of you. Is your home wiring adequate to handle all your electric appliances? These warning signs should alert you to inadequate wiring: Blowing fuses, dimming lights, slow-heating appliances, and a shrinking TV picture.

Treat your appliances with tender loving care. Frayed or loose cords going into one outlet is a symptom of inadequate wiring. Never have cords hung around nails, pipes, plaid behind radiators, across walkways, hidden under rugs, or passed through door jambs.

Fire safe housekeeping is an art in itself. Fires thrive on piles of papers, heaps of old clothes, toys, and trash and miscellaneous junk. Think twice before you save something and don't give fire a place to start.

Boxes, bags, papers, clothes, etc. should be kept off of stairs and out of halls. Besides being fire traps, they can block your escape route.

Dust mops and cleaning materials should have ventilated, fire-safe storage places. Wax and polish cloths must be stored in closed metal cans to avoid their flaring up spontaneously.

Dry cleaning at home is dangerous. Frankly, it's not worth the risk.

Daily household trash should be kept in covered metal cans away from heat sources, newspapers, boxes, and other combustible materials. Get rid of rubbish frequently.

Group attic storage in separate boxes (winter clothes, family papers, Christmas decorations, etc.). Never use matches or candles for illumination in the attic.

Dry grass and trash around the yard will tempt and spread fire, especially when they are close to buildings. Keep your yard neat and fire-free.

Gasoline for power motors, outboard motors, etc. should be kept in approved metal safety cans. All refueling should be done outdoors.

Use flammable liquids outside or in well-ventilated areas. Clean up scraps, sawdust, and debris after each job. Keep all power tools lubricated and clean. Don't keep paint or oily rags after use because they can ignite spontaneously.

Escaping vapors from flammable liquids can cause a fire or explosion. Store them in tightly closed approved metal safety cans.

When using gas, insist on dependable appliances that display the American Gas Association seal of approval. Have only qualified servicemen install or repair your gas appliances and lines. If you smell gas, open windows and doors for ventilation; check to see if the burner valves are open or if the pilot flame is extinguished; and call the local gas company if you can't find the trouble spot and fix it yourself. Never look for a gas leak with matches.

Smoking can be a dangerous habit as far as fires are concerned. Have adequate ashtrays, designed to prevent the contents from accidentally falling out. Be sure ashtray contents are completely out before you throw them away. Don't smoke in bed. Avoid smoking or lighting matches in the attic, closets, or other confined places.

Children and matches don't agree with each other. Put matches away where children can't reach them and play with them.

When you leave your children with a baby sitter, give her some idea of what to do in case of fire. Be sure she knows where the exits are; alternate escape routes should be pointed out. Tell her to get the children out before she calls the fire department. List the numbers of the fire department, family doctor, and where you can be reached in case of emergency.

It's up to you to prevent home fires. Do more than your share.

Edward Hinchliff, hunter safety instructor for Hebron, has scheduled his next course of instruction in safe hunting practices and the safe handling and use of firearms to start at 8 p.m. Oct. 12 and recoveance at 7:30 a.m. Oct. 13.

The course will be at the Hinchliff home on Gilead St. and all applicants must contact him before Friday evening to register and to pick up a handbook.

Hinchliff said that proper study of the handbook will usually allow applicants to successfully complete the course in the six hours allotted. This hunter safety course is required of all persons intending to purchase a license to hunt in the state for the first time, or any person not licensed during the past ten years.

It is also necessary for youngsters between the ages of 12 and 16 who may legally hunt without a license if accompanied by a licensed hunter over 21.

Auxiliary of Jones-Keefe-Batson unit will hold a Fall Festival Nov. 3 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Legion Hall in Hebron Center.

Featured at the event will be home-made goods donated by the members, a white elephant table, Christmas candles and jewelry.

The auxiliary is also planning to hold a joint installation of officers with the post Oct. 27. The public is invited and there will be a buffet and social hour following.

Mrs. Geraldine S. Grant, president of the auxiliary, has announced the appointments of Mrs. Beatrice Kowalski as chairman of the auxiliary emergency fund, Mrs. Evelyn Croston as chairman of publications and Mrs. Elsie Porter as chairman of field services.

Mrs. Grant also named Paula Porter and Ann Kulnyck to make a greens and poppies wreath to place on the memorial at Veterans Park for Veterans Day.

In addition, she announced that the auxiliary's special project this year will be the collection of gifts for the Mansfield State Training School, and requested each member to knit or crocheta pair of mittens and to collect other suitable gifts. Contributions for this project are welcome from the public and may be left with Mrs. Grant at any time.

The annual party of the Department of Connecticut will be held Oct. 13 at the Rocky Hill Veterans Hospital and Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Eleanor Anderson and Mrs. Paula Porter are planning to attend.

From Scrap Pile to Finished Fence

That attractive basketweave fence on the right is not an expensive decoration in a suburban back yard. It is located at the South Windsor sanitary landfill area and it was made from wood in the scrap pile at the left. Kosta Berzenski, one of the South Windsor employees who helped make the fence, is holding two slats like the ones used in the construction. The wood, brought to the landfill area regularly by a South Windsor lumber processor, is in long strips about two inches wide of varying thicknesses. South Windsor Public Works Department officials hope the idea of recycling the scraps into fences appeals to residents who are welcome to take the wood away from the landfill and, in the process, help solve a waste disposal problem. (Herald photo by Ofiara)

South Windsor

Mixed Use Zone Proposed

Two years of work has produced a proposal of unprecedented land control by the PZC. Last night the commission presented this proposal of Planned Residential Zone Regulations (PRZ).

Most citizens were fearful that the PRZ zone will bring more people to South Windsor and create an economic burden on present residents.

The proposal was aimed at protecting the future of South Windsor. So futuristic was the atmosphere that one resident suggested that the plans submitted by the developer include not only roads for cars but also areas for other methods of transportation as they are developed.

A PRZ zone allows housing to be built in a mix made up of one-family and multi-family units including condominiums and housing for the elderly. The owner of 100 acres or more can apply for a zone change to a PRZ zone, but at the same time he must present exact and detailed plans of the proposed development. The PZC can either approve or reject the plan. If the plan is approved, the developer must follow the plans submitted to the letter.

The PZC believes that such tight control of large pieces of land is necessary since it prevents piecemeal development. Chairman William Grace called the proposed regulations an update of the Comprehensive Plan adopted by the Town in 1968.

Louise Evans of the commission said that in creating the new zone careful consideration was given to a conservation plan. Local, state and federal conservation services must be consulted on plans submitted and would make recommendations. In requiring this the PZC can be sure that conservation needs will be met.

A large public turnout brought about several recommendations. Frederick Edwin suggested that the entire proposed package be divided into two parts. One package would apply to single family units and the other to multi-family units. By eliminating the "mix" feature he felt that the town could curb the building multi-family housing since South Windsor is already "too saturated with apartments."

Missiles Hurting Israelis

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. military analysts say the heavy use by both Egypt and Syria of surface-to-air missiles is keeping Israel from gaining the easy mastery of the air it had in the 1967 war.

Most of the Israeli warplanes that have been lost since the war began last Saturday have fallen to these Soviet-built missiles, according to U.S. intelligence sources.

Unless the Israelis can neutralize these weapons, they'll be able to push Egyptian and Syrian forces out of the Sinai Peninsula and the Golan Heights only at very considerable costs, say the analysts.

"The Arabs are doing better this time than they have in the past," said one official. Defense Department and other U.S. government analysts say they are not ready to accept claims made by some Israeli generals that the tide in the war has turned for the Israelis.

McLean-Bowe

Miss Janice Marie Bowe of North Kingston, R.I., formerly of Manchester, and Louis Joseph McLean of Sturbridge, Mass., were united in marriage Oct. 8 at St. Anne's Shrine in Fiskdale, Mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Bowe of North Kingston, R.I. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James McLean Sr. of Sturbridge, Mass.

A nuptial Mass was offered and a double-ring ceremony performed. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and the pews were marked with bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white French lace gown designed with bishop sleeves, sculptured neckline, Empire bodice, A-line skirt with rows of matching shell medallions. She wore a matching mantilla edged with scalloped lace and a veil of silk tulle. She carried a staff covered with Eucharist lilies and stephanotis.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Bowe of Manchester was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a wine, A-line gown, fashioned with Empire waist, leg-of-mutton sleeves partially made of lace and lace yoke. She wore a headpiece of mixed flowers and carried a variety of pink carnations and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were Miss Candace Flaherty of Litchfield, the bride's cousin; Miss Sally Cesana of East Hartford and Miss Karen Cochini of Glastonbury. They wore gowns identical to that worn by the honor attendant.

James McLean Jr. of Sturbridge, Mass., was his brother's best man. Ushers were Jerry Charlier of Tolland, Mass.; Rodney McLean of Burlington, Mass.; and John Grocchia of Sturmountain, Amish Country and the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. The couple will reside in Boothwyn, Pa. Mrs. McLean will resume her nursing studies in January. Mr. McLean is employed as a chemical engineer by Standard Oil Co.

Retirees Meeting Oct. 17

All retired persons from Pratt & Whitney Aircraft are invited to attend the Retirees Group meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 17, at the P&W Club, 200 Clement Rd., East Hartford. Coffee and refreshments will be served before the meeting, which will start promptly at 10 a.m.

Following the brief business meeting a program by "The Manchester Sunshine Group" will be presented. Members of this group are: Mrs. Ida Cormier, pianist; David Hutchinson and Mrs. Beatrice Maher, soloists; and Mrs. Helen Burnford, Mrs. Lena Speed, Emmet Farrell and Henry Cormier who will offer song in trio and duets.

Also, Thomas O'Neill, Irish fiddler; Jack Jaslowki, tap dancer; Irven Kirpena, guitar and songs; Mrs. Cecile Carroll and Mrs. Bernadette Noel, alternate pianists; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Strauss, group singing.

Facilities of the club are available every weekday by contacting Thomas Braheney, 565-6236.

College Note

Miss Marian Tomasiak of 66 Meadow Lane, has been awarded a $600 Allocated Scholarship from the Elks National Foundation. Some 23 high school students have been awarded scholarships totaling more than $14,000 by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of Connecticut.

Sinon To Head Campaign

Walter R. Sinon of 280 Hollister St. has been named campaign chairman for Roger M. Negro, Democrat, who is running for re-election as town treasurer.

Walter R. Sinon

Sinon, who was Negro's campaign chairman in 1971 when the latter won election, is a veteran member of the Democratic Town Committee and served three terms on the Citizens Advisory Committee. He is a member of Manchester Elks, the Knights of Columbus and the British-American Club. He has been a coach in Manchester's Little League.

He is married to the former Lucille Hogan. The couple has three married children. Sinon said of his appointment, "Roger's record over the past two years makes it a pleasure for me to serve again as his campaign manager. With earnings of nearly half a million dollars, I am sure the people of Manchester will return Roger to the office of town treasurer on his record alone."

Negro announced the following as his campaign workers:

- Treasurer — David Golas
- Secretary — Mrs. Barbara Hillon
- Personal Campaign Aides — Cindy DiDonato; Melanina Michelle, Marlene and Melissa Coulombe; Mrs. Dottie Tully; Robbie Taylor; Wally Smolenski; Dean Alan Kim and Dottie Tully.
- Signs — Walt Smolenski, Joe Maceri, Bob and Michael Coulombe.
- District Managers — Joe Tully, Karl Then, John DiDonato, Bob Tryska, Don Squatrito, Mrs. Del Coulombe, Dennis Mozzner, Philip Bayer, Bob Taylor, Mrs. Mary Gaudin.

- Typists — Mrs. Judi Mozzner, Mrs. Candy Davidson, Gail Fuller.
- Special Events — Mrs. Ruth Maceri, Mrs. Evelyn Cooley, Mrs. Theresa Negro, Mrs. Marion Lentini, Mrs. Lucille Sinon.

Nessy Not Patriotic

LONDON (AP) — The Japanese expedition searching for Scotland's Loch Ness monster thinks Nessie isn't patriotic.

Tomoko Sudo, one of two women on the 16-member team, exchanged her traditional kimono for a Scottish kilt and strolled along the shore blowing bagpipes.

Nessie did not rise to the occasion. "Must have some English blood in him," sighed Tomoko, a 22-year-old folk singer.

LWV Plans Candidates Meeting

The Manchester League of Women Voters and the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce will cosponsor a 1973 Candidates Meeting in the Manchester High School cafeteria Tuesday, Oct. 23, at 7 p.m.

The Manchester Junior Women's Club will assist. Invitations to appear are being extended to all candidates for the Board of Directors, the Board of Education, and town treasurer. The public is invited to attend and meet and talk with the candidates on an informal basis.

After opening remarks by Mrs. Rockwell Potter, LWV president; and Edward M. Kenney, Chamber president, the candidates will make brief opening statements. They will be introduced by Mrs. Ira Epstein, LWV voters service chairman.

A "carousel" arrangement will be used whereby each of more than 20 tables will be presided over by LWV hostesses and a Chamber host who will be introduced by Richard G. Clark, Chamber executive vice president. Visitors will be seated at the tables and the candidates will move, at a pre-arranged signal, from table to table and will answer questions

Stamps in The News
AP Newsfeatures
By SYD KRONISH

The 1973 pair of U.S. Christmas postage stamps is in keeping with recent tradition — one of a religious nature and the other of whimsical design. The two 8-centers will be issued simultaneously on Nov. 7 in Washington, D.C., at the National Gallery of Art.

The religious design is adapted from a madonna and child painted by Raphael, noted Italian artist of the Renaissance. This painting now hangs in the National Gallery.

The nonreligious adhesive features an old-fashioned Christmas tree and is the first U.S. stamp ever designed in neopentagon. The design was by Doll Tingle.

First-day cancellation requests may be sent to "Christmas Stamp, Postmaster, Washington, D.C. 20511." On the upper right corner of the enclosed envelope, pencil lightly which stamp you desire. Combinations may be ordered. Requests with proper remittance (8 cents per stamp in money order or certified check only) must be postmarked no later than Nov. 7.

Here's another interesting item for U.S. collectors. A philatelic souvenir card has just been issued in conjunction with the 25th anniversary of the National Philatelic Exhibition and the 50th anniversary of the American Air Mail Society.

The card depicts reproductions of the engraved vignette and frame used in printing the first airmail stamp issued by the U.S. The central design, produced in the 24-cent denomination, shows the type of army airplane which carried mail on this nation's first airmail route, established in May 1918. Also pictured are replicas of the three stamps issued in 1923 in connection with the inauguration of night flying.

The souvenir cards cost $1 each and may be ordered directly from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the address is: NAPEX '73 Card, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington, D.C. 20228. The limit is five cards per order and the purchaser's name, address and zip code should appear on both the request and the transmittal envelope. Allow up to six weeks for delivery.

The H.E. Harris 1973-74 edition of his "Top Buying Prices" booklet lists more than 2,600 increases for U.S. and British North America stamps. Price quotations are the highest ever and reflect the continuing upsurge of interest in this particular market.

The booklet may be obtained directly for 25 cents by writing to H. E. Harris & Co. Inc., Dept. TBP, Boston, Mass. 02117.

Social Security

Q. I am 64 and getting reduced Social Security payments. I've been told that I'll be enrolled automatically in Medicare when I become 65. What should I do if I don't want medical insurance coverage?

A. Social Security will send you information about your Medicare insurance a few months before you're 65. You will also get your Medicare insurance card. If you decide you don't want medical insurance, just fill out the back of the card, sign it, and return it to Social Security before the month you're 65.

Q. A friend told me that my grandson, who lives with me, might be able to get Social Security payments when I retire this year. Is this true?

A. In certain cases, a grandchild can get payments based on a grandparent's earnings record. The grandchild's parents must be disabled or must have died before the grandparent started getting monthly benefits. The grandchild must have been under 18 when he began living with the grandparent.

Q. I recently opened a savings account for my grandson. When I went to the bank to open an account, the bank clerk told me I needed my grandson's Social Security number. Can you tell me why?

A. The bank reports earned interest over $10 a year to Internal Revenue by name and Social Security number. If your grandson does not have a number ask his parents to contact the Social Security office for information about applying for one.

Q. I'll be 72 this year. How much can I earn this year and still get full Social Security payments?

A. You can earn $2,100 for the months of 1973 before the month you reach 72. No matter how much you earn in that period, however, you can get your full Social Security payment for any month you receive less than $100 for doing substantial work in self-employment. After you're 72, your Social Security payments will not be affected by your earnings.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Collision With Ambulance

Driving home from work, Harold crashed into an ambulance at a busy intersection. In short order he found himself facing a charge of "failing to yield the right-of-way to an emergency vehicle."

But in court, Harold came up with the following facts in his own defense:

- 1) that the traffic light had been in his favor;
- 2) that he had not heard the siren because he had his windows up and his radio on; and
- 3) that he had not seen the ambulance until the last moment, because other cars were obscuring his vision.

Under these circumstances the court could find nothing negligent in Harold's conduct, and dismissed the charge.

Traffic codes generally do give special privileges to ambulances. However, these privileges are not absolute. In case of a collision between an ambulance and a private car, the court will weigh the entire situation on its merits.

Furthermore, ambulances have privileges only when there is (or at least appears to be) a true emergency.

Thus, in another case, an ambulance that was merely returning to its home office was held not entitled to go through a stop sign.

And an ambulance transporting a patient to the hospital, with no apparent need for haste, was held not entitled to disregard a red light.

Still, in most situations, the ambulance's right-of-way will be upheld. One indignant citizen decided this preference was a form of unfair discrimination against the motoring public. But when he challenged it in court, the judge held that he had no kick coming.

"The grant of special privileges to an emergency vehicle," said the judge, "is a proper exercise of the police power of the state. When human life may be at stake, prompt performance of the duties imposed upon the driver of emergency vehicles is imperative."

Tom Crockett Barbara Weinberg

GRI Designates

Two sales associates of Manchester Realtor T. J. Crockett - Barbara Weinberg and Tom Crockett - have passed requirements set by the National Association of Real Estate Boards and have earned the "GRI" designation.

The GRI (Graduate Realtors Institute) designation requires attendance of three weeks of real estate courses and successful completion of comprehensive examinations.

Mrs. Weinberg and Crockett have been involved in the real estate business for one and a half years. They will be honored at the annual Connecticut Real Estate Board banquet Friday.

ASSISTANT MANAGER
Mrs. Sharon Beaupre of East Hartford has been appointed assistant manager of LaBonne Travel World, 67 E. Center St., Manchester.

NAMED OFFICERS
Three Manchester area men have been elected officers of the Savings Banks' Association of Connecticut. Elections took place at the association's annual convention held in Bermuda this week.

Kerwin A. Spencer of 50 Thomas Dr., Manchester, was re-elected administrative vice president and treasurer of the association.

Donald B. Eden of 19 Seneca Dr., Vernon, was re-elected assistant secretary of the association.

Donald F. Morganson of Tolland was elected to the association's executive committee.

About 700 members of the association attended the three-day convention in Bermuda. The Savings Banks' Association of Connecticut represents the state's 88 mutual savings banks.

JOINS LAW FIRM
Joel J. Rottner of Glastonbury has become associated with the Hartford law firm of Stelley and Walsh, P.C., in the general practice of law.

Mrs. Beaupre, who has been associated with LaBonne Travel World for nearly two years, recently returned from an education tour of Bermuda sponsored by the Bermuda Department of Tourism.

NAMED PRESIDENT
Santo Sipala, owner of Sam's Barber Shop, 22 E. Main St., Rockville, for the past 35 years, has been elected president of the Connecticut Master Barbers Protective Association.

Sipala, who resides at 65 Walker St., was elected at the association's convention Sunday held at the Italian-American Independent club in Hamden.

Robert O. St. Pierre of 312 Main St., was elected third vice president.

DIVIDEND
The Travelers Corp. has declared a dividend per share of $2 cumulative convertible preferred stock outstanding Nov. 1.

The company also announced a dividend of 25 cents a share on common stock on record as of Nov. 1.

Both dividends are payable Dec. 10.

MINORITY PUPIL TREND ASSESSED

HARTFORD (AP) - More blacks and Puerto Ricans are going to parochial schools in Connecticut cities and the trend isn't completely healthy, says a nonprofit school administrator.

"I think you need a blending of races. You need a blending of children coming from different economic-standing families. That's the ideal," said Raymond A. Allen Jr. in a telephone interview.

He's afraid that if the trend continues, too many minority pupils will be enrolled in urban parochial schools.

Allen is administrative assistant for federal and state programs in nonprofit schools in Hartford, New Haven and Litchfield counties.

He said people still believe that parochial schools are populated almost exclusively by middle-class whites.

"Perhaps in past years your city schools were enrolled heavily with white students," he said. But within the last 10 years "this picture has changed drastically."

"You go into a city like Philadelphia with a high concentration of minority youngsters, you'll find Catholic schools which are perhaps entirely black or Puerto Rican," Allen said.

In Hartford, he said, up to 25 per cent of the parochial school pupils are from families with annual incomes of less than $4,000 or who are on welfare. About 16 per cent of the pupils in those schools pay no tuition, he added.

Allen said the percentage of minority pupils in those schools has risen from about 10 per cent five years ago to 20 per cent today. One reason for the shift, he said, is the movement of white families out of the city, he said.

At three Hartford parochial schools more than half of the pupils are black or Puerto Rican, he said.

In Hartford's public schools, more than 70 per cent of the students are black or Puerto Rican.

Allen said he doesn't think it is in the "best interests of the education" of pupils at the three parochial schools for the percentage of minority enrollment to rise further.

"But I don't think it will stop," he added.

Some parochial schools are weighted heavily toward a particular nationality group, Allen said.

One school in Hartford has about 200 Polish, three Spanish-speaking and no black pupils. Another is predominantly French-Canadian, he said.

"There is emphasis in these schools on their culture - the French culture, the Polish culture," Allen said. But, he added, "I think it's good to have a mixture of cultures" within each school.

Supreme Court To Hear Cable TV Copyright Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court agreed to settle a nine-year copyright battle between the cable television industry and a national TV network, a case with potential impact on millions of TV viewers.

The high court will review a U.S. Circuit Court decision that CATV operators are subject to copyright laws for programs imported, usually by microwave, from stations in distant communities.

The decision is potentially "devastating to much of the cable television industry in terms of money and lost service to the public," said the National Cable Television Association Inc., which offered friend-of-the-court support to the Teleprompter Corp. bid for Supreme Court review.

The appeals court ruling last March stemmed from a suit brought against Teleprompter, the nation's largest CATV system, by the Columbia Broadcasting System Inc. and three production companies which sell programs to the network.

CBS and the producers' contend that they have been deprived of revenue because the cable operators have imported distant signals for broadcast in communities which could not normally receive them. As a result, the network and the producers argue, they are deprived of later, non-network distribution fees because the programs no longer are saleable in those communities.

Teleprompter, however, argued that the CBS lawsuit was an effort to limit the variety of independent CATV programming and thus harness a rapidly growing competitor. According to briefs filed with the high court, the case immediately affects some 2.3 million homes receiving distant signals from about 650 CATV systems, predominantly west of the Mississippi River.

BOOK REVIEWS

THE BEST OF LIFE. Edited by David E. Scherman. Time-Life Books, 304 Pages, $19.95.

"To see life, to see the world; to eyewitness great events," was the goal Henry R. Luce aimed for when he issued Life magazine's prospectus in 1935 and for the 38 years that the magazine appeared its staff strove to achieve that promise.

How well they succeeded may be seen in this big, big book which includes nearly 700 photographs — many of them in color — selected from the 1,854 issues that measured Life's life. The selections, for the large part, have been excellent ones. Pictures that years ago captured the eye and the mind appear in all their power again and they are just as striking today as they were when they were new.

The book is divided into 20 sections, each with a unifying theme, and they range from war to sports to children to entertainers to fashions.

It is impressive, unforgettably so, to comment on each picture but among the many which remain etched in the memory after the book has been closed are those showing the terrible Hindenburg burning, the flaming American ships at Pearl Harbor, the emaciated bodies of prisoners at Buchenwald, the flag raising at Iwo Jima and a terrified Vietnamese girl fleeing in horror after she had been raped.

And there are the assassinations which have been burned into the mind. A dramatic sequence shows President John F. Kennedy being shot and close by is another photo which shows Lee Harvey Oswald being shot. In another stark picture, the assassin's body is explained. Robert Kennedy lies gravely wounded while a young boy tries to comfort him and a few pages on George Wallace are wound as his wife tries to comfort him.

These are powerful photographs, not to be forgotten. The shock of recognition comes often as the pages of this book are turned — a tribute to the men who took these memorable photographs.

THE HONORARY CONSUL. By Graham Greene. Simon and Schuster, 315 Pages, $7.95.

Graham Greene has an extraordinary talent for peopling his novels with terribly complex characters who in lesser hands would be sterile symbols and very interesting.

Greene also has a great talent for telling an utterly gripping story, while at the same time discussing such things as the nature of God, without distracting from the pace of his narrative. In his hands these seemingly extraneous matters enhance rather than detract from his story.

In "The Honorary Consul," he combines these talents to produce a story of human love emerging from political violence. Set in Argentina, the story tells of Charley Fortnum, a 61-year-old drunkard, who is seized by urban guerrillas who mistake him for the American consul. One of the revolutionaries is an excommunicated priest, Leon Rivar, who still believes although he has broken with the church. Drawn into the kidnapping of Dr. Eduardo Plarr, a man unable to love or to understand love.

But as the novel progresses, Plarr, for whom "caring is the only dangerous thing," comes to learn that caring is not dangerous and that to love is good. Learning this he also finds that he is jealous of Fortnum, for while Fortnum is a drunkard and a seeming failure he has never lost the ability to hope and to love. And from Rivar, the outcast priest, Plarr learns of spiritual love — enough so that he can forgive Rivar for the agony he has caused.

"For heaven's sake," says Plarr, as the government nose draws "lighter" around the trapped revolutionaries and their hostages, "let this comedy end in comedy. None of us are suited to tragedy."

The ending is neither — or both. Greene is not a writer who indulges in simplistic solutions. The problems he poses on all of the various levels on which he writes are complex ones, deserving of attention and thought. Which is what the reader should bring to "The Honorary Consul."

Town Plans To Refund Rev-Share Overpayment

VIRGINIA CARLSON
Correspondent
Tel. 258-9224

The town will meet its obligation to pay back a surplus of $18,642 of revenue sharing funds, overpaid last year by the U.S. government, sometime between July 1975 and June 1976, Howard Bates, first selectman, says.

"The debt will be paid off sometime during the second quarter of the sixth entitlement period," Bates said.

The town received notice in August that it had to return overpaid funds to the U.S. Treasury. The errors were result of adjustments made for the first three "entitlement periods," according to Bates.

Bates knew the town had been overpaid and contacted federal officials in New Haven and Hartford but was told "everything would be all right."

This assured, the town spent all but $15,147 of the $68,000 received.

Revenue sharing funds under the present legislation are allocated in seven entitlement periods, the first three being the last six months of 1972 and the first half of 1973. The fourth entitlement period will run for one year from July, 1973 to June 1974, according to U.S. Rep. Robert Stolle's office.

The remaining three entitlement periods run from July 1974 to June 30, 1975, July 1975 to June 30, 1976 and from July 1976 to Dec. 31, 1976.

The town will not receive the balance from the fourth payment nor any part of the fifth payment, nor part of the sixth payment — about $8,054 — to pay back the debt, Bates said.

The town had spent $28,000 for a landfill site and $38,000 was appropriated to the selectmen's budget to lower the mill rate.

School Use Cost
Mrs. Patricia Brett of Pine St. wants an "accurate estimate" of all costs to the town for church use of the school for religious education so she can deduct whatever is necessary from her taxes.

Mrs. Brett said in her letter to the selectmen whether expenses are paid by the church in part or total, is not the issue. She said "to use public school facilities for tax money in any

New Beetles Debut
Two 1974 Beetles — The Custom, left, and the Super, right — will go on display Oct. 25 at Ted Hudson Volkswagen, Inc. authorized Volkswagen sales, service and parts facility at Tolland Pike, in Talcottville. The Custom shares many of the improvements engineered into the Super, including stronger front and rear bumpers and increased computer diagnostic capabilities. Both come with VW's exclusive "Owner's Security Blanket with Computer Analysis" which provides warranty coverage — and free-free driving — for 12 months or 20,000 miles on everything but fluids, filters and lubricants.

The Candidates Are Saying—

James Roche
(Roche is Democratic candidate for mayor of Vernon.)

"The primitive walkways presently being laid down in Vernon area disgrace to the community and will require constant repair and replacement. These walks have no foundation to them and in many cases are so narrow that they represent a clear hazard."

"On West Road, there is a stretch which falls away to revine on one side and after the first rainfall, patchwork will have exceeded any savings that might have been achieved by allowing a contractor to build walks which certainly could not have had engineering approval."

"Beyond the engineering shortcomings, these walkways are aesthetically ugly. Weaving in and around trees and poles, varying in width and elevation, these walks will depreciate, rather than add to the property they border."

"As they now stand these walks are another example of poor planning where the taxpayer will pay over and over again for items that were not thought out. The system of checks and balances, where the council exercises its rightful check over the actions of mayor, is not working under the present administration. What results is the inevitable after expense for repairs of a job which was poorly carried out in the first place."

YMCA To Sponsor Course for Coaches

The Indian Valley YMCA is sponsoring a course for youth coaches, parents and all others who work with children in a physical education or recreational program.

The course will be conducted by Dr. Edward Meyers, an area youth sport coach and physical education director. The first class will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the "Y" office, Vernon Circle.

Arthur Theroux, executive director for the Indian Valley "Y," said Dr. Meyers, and "Y" officials are quite concerned that many of the volunteers in the youth sports area are not updated on knowing enough about the psychological concepts that apply to teaching and psychomotor skills to youth.

Theroux said this is an area of great importance in the proper development of young athletes.

"Once we accept a position as a youth coach, whether it be baseball, basketball, football, hockey or any other sport, we are also responsible for the total development of the young athlete," Theroux added.

Although the Indian Valley "Y" is the sponsor of only three youth sport leagues — High School, Church Baseball League, youth soccer, and wrestling — it feels a total responsibility in helping all area youth sports leagues.

Registration and information may be obtained by calling the "Y" office, 676-4718.

Vernon Parents To Discuss Plans for Education

The wide range of post-high school education, selection and admission procedures and finances, will be topics discussed at a meeting for parents of Rockville High School juniors and seniors planning education after high school.

The meeting will be held Oct. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 75 at the high school. The guidance directors of the school will explain some important changes in financing for education.

Seniors at the school have been notified that the closing date for registration for the November College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test, is Oct. 11.

This test is required by most colleges and is required for the Connecticut Scholarship Program. Scholarships are awarded on the basis of class rank, SAT scores, and financial need. Applications for the test and for the Connecticut State Scholarships, are available in the guidance office.

College bound juniors have been urged to take the PSAT-NMSAT at the high school on Oct. 27 from 8:30 to 11:15 a.m. This test is a short form of the SAT and is a predictor of College Board scores. Top scorers will be in competition for National Merit Scholarships. Students may register in the guidance office by paying a $2 fee.

Other plans for high school students include a career day to be co-sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the school's Cooperative Work Experience Program.

This program will be conducted during the school day and some special emphasis will be placed on careers for those not going to college, the guidance instructors said.

Boos Only Made Hero Pete Rose Play Harder

NEW YORK (AP) — They threw an apple, a tennis ball and an egg at Pete Rose, but the only flying object he cared about was a baseball.

Rose hit it over the fence for a home run in the 12th inning to give the Cincinnati Reds a 2-1 victory over the New York Mets and tie the National League playoffs at two games apiece.

"I wasn't thinking about a home run, I must confess, but I wanted to hit that ball all the way to the airport," said Rose, who apparently felt he struck a blow back at the Mets' fans for their animosity toward him.

Rose had been the object of scorn here, ever since his fight with New York shortstop Bud Harrelson, a scuffle that triggered a full-scale riot during Monday's bizarre game.

"Sure, I heard them booing at me in every time I showed my face," said Rose. "They kept throwing things at me, too. But that only makes me play harder."

East as the villain, Rose heard the boos once more as he stepped to the plate in the top of the 12th inning to face New York reliever Harry Parker.

Someone threw an apple at Rose, but he brushed it aside with his bat, looking darkly toward the stands. They came the tennis ball and the egg.

It was reminiscent of Monday's affair, when Rose was showered by pop bottles, beer cans, batteries and a whiskey bottle in left field. The garbage shower took place after the Rose-Harrelson fight and the resulting battle royal.

The fans remembered Monday's infamous "Rose-Bud Incident" and continually hissed the Cincinnati left fielder before he pumped Parker's 2-1 fastball out of sight over the right field fence.

Then the 30,786 fans were dramatically silent, for the most part, as Rose circled the bases, raising his right hand high in a clenched-fist gesture of victory.

"I wasn't trying to rub it into their faces, even though I heard them booing me," said Rose. "I was just happy. I would have given a week's pay to have gone four-for-four today and to have scored four runs."

He didn't have a bad day, as it was. Rose singled twice and walked before smiting his second homer of this five game series.

Until Rose's winning hit, the fourth game of the National League playoffs was the third of other pulsating drama. The Mets had taken a 1-0 lead in the third inning on Felix Millan's run-scoring single and George Stone projected that aim advantage until the seventh. At that point, Tony Perez slugged a home run, his first in 15 at-bats in this series, to tie the score at 1-1. After Stone walked Andy Kosco with two out, Tug McGraw came on the scene and pitched scored relief through the 11th inning. But he couldn't work out of jams, especially two bases-loaded problems in the ninth and 10th innings.

"Those innings set me back a couple of years," said New York Manager Yogi Berra, who had to watch his left-handed relief start squirm out of constant hot water.

"I just didn't feel like I was in a groove," said McGraw. "I don't know if a long layoff hurt me or not. I don't like giving excuses. I wasn't really sharp today, though."

McGraw hadn't pitched since a week ago Monday, when he helped the Mets win the National League East title. Until Tuesday, he hadn't been used in the playoffs because of the Mets' superior pitching. Before Stone faltered, all the New York starters had pitched complete games.

One of the belts hit McGraw was caught by right fielder Rusty Staub, but it cost him a costly play for the Mets. The hot-hitting outfielder suffered bruises while smashing into the right field wall to catch the ball hit by Dan Driessen in the 11th inning. The Mets were uncertain whether Staub would be ready to play today.

The rest of them are ready, however, especially starting pitcher Tom Seaver. The ace of the staff pitched the opener on Saturday, but felt that just three days' rest wouldn't hurt him.

"We've got Seaver," says Berra. "There's no question in my mind he's the one to go."

There's no question in the minds of the Cincinnati Reds, either. Many of them admire the New York right-hander who won 19 games for the Mets this season.

"It'll be tough," says Rose. "We have to face one of the best pitchers in baseball."

"I agree," says Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson, whose starting choice is right-hander Jack Billingham, also a 19-game winner in 1973.

Anderson embellished Rose's description of the smooth right-hander.

"Seaver is the best pitcher in baseball—I've always said it," said Anderson, emphatically. "With all due credit to my pitchers, who have done such a great job, I can't discount this guy."

Woykovsky Sets Pace For Harriers

The Manchester Community College harriers upped their unbeaten record to 3-0 here yesterday with a balanced 21-34 victory over Waterbury Technical College.

Larry Woykovsky set the pace for the field as he took the lead at the half-mile point and held his position for the remainder of the mile to finish first with a record breaking time of 17:00. That was almost a half-minute faster than the nearest Waterbury pursuer.

The Cougar captain's 20:00 effort marks the third time in as many outings that he established a new course standard.

Leo Laudone and Roger Hunt also contributed fine individual performances for the Cougars. Laudone displayed his stylish form as he outdistanced Waterbury's Rick Basquin to capture second for MCC. Hunt dropped over a minute off his previous best to come across with his best finish of the season in seventh position.

MCC Coach Barry Shekspir praised his team's performance. "Today's victory should put us in a good frame of mind for our first meet of the season Friday against Mattatuck Community College and Southeastern UConn. Both schools are represented by several top runners this year. The meet should be very interesting."

PHOENIX, Ariz. — The Phoenix Suns traded reserve center Walt Wesley to the Connecticut 1974 and 1975 third-round draft choices in a National Basketball Association transaction.

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland shortstop Bert Campaneris, the 155-pounder dubbed "Baby Ruth" after home runs in two straight games, predicts the A's will win their way into the World Series again today.

"I don't care who's pitching, we'll win," declared the explosive little infielder whose 11th-inning leadoff home run beat Baltimore 2-1 Tuesday and gave Oakland a 2-1 edge in the American League playoffs.

The defending world champions will represent the American League a second straight year if they beat the Orioles' ace right-hander, Jim Palmer, today. He shut them out 6-0 in the opener of the best-of-five playoff series.

Oakland left-hander Vida Blue didn't last through the first inning in that one but he'll be back facing the Orioles again.

"We have a well-rested Blue who has shown he can pitch well against anybody," said Oakland Manager Dick Williams. "Certainly we have a chance against Palmer."

Campaneris hit only four home runs during the regular season but he led off the second game of the championship series with a homer and ended the third game with one. That provided the pitching victory to southpaw Ken Holtzman, who threw a three-hitter.

Campaneris, who was suspended the final three games of last year's playoffs when he threw his bat at a rival pitcher, said he hit a slider, low and inside, for his game-winning homer.

Holtzman then retired 14 batters in order before walking Tommy Davis in the seventh.

Oakland didn't score until the eighth, when Manager Williams' strategy paid off.

He sent Jesus Alou up to hit for catcher Ray Fosse and Alou golfed a blooper into left field for a single. Fleet Allan Lewis went in to run for Alou.

Williams had selected Angel Mangual originally as the pinch hitter for second baseman Dick Green but, with a bunt the obvious play, he switched and used Mike Andrews.

The bunt went to Cuellar, who was off balance when he fielded it. So he threw to first—the sacrifice working. Campaneris struck out but Joe Rudi banged a broken-bat single off his fists to score Lewis from second.

'Love to Play Baseball'

SHEA STADIUM, New York — "This day doesn't mean anything if we don't win tomorrow," Cincinnati hero Pete Rose said as he was surrounded by the news media after his 12th inning home run had given the Reds a 2-1 win over New York yesterday to square the National League playoffs at two games each.

Standing on a wooden table, the controversial Rose fielded questions with the same poise as he displays with a bat in his hand.

"I love to play baseball," the three-time National League batting champion said "and I can't wait to get out there tomorrow. I wish that it was a 30-game series."

Rose became the target of the Shea Stadium wolves when he barreled into shortstop Bud Harrelson while unsuccessfully trying to break up a doubleplay Monday. It set off a now-famous brawl.

"No one likes to be booed but I know that there are a half million fans out in Cincinnati rooting for me, too," he said after being roasted by a majority of the 50,786 fans on hand yesterday. The booing started when Rose made his appearance on the field for pre-game drills and continued right on until he drove a Harry Parker pitch far over the rightfield wall to provide the victory margin in the 12th.

"I would have given a week's pay to go four-for-four today," the likely most valuable player in the senior league said. As it was, Rose came up with three hits, two scorching line shots to rightfield before his four-base blast.

Happy Circling Bases

"I was really happy as I circled the bases," Rose recalled. "I felt that we were good shape, but I was a little worried knowing that Rusty Staub and the heart of the Met batting order was coming up."

Rose handled every question like the pro that he is. Like him or not, he's one of the super stars of our generation in the game.

"I didn't even read the papers this morning I was so damn mad," he said. "I knew what kind of a reception I would get at the ball park, but I didn't care. I knew we had to win the game and that's all that mattered."

"We earned the game today. We had to battle back, just like we did last year against Pittsburgh. We were down, two games to one, and we won, he recalled.

Rose, in addition to being the target for catcalls from all directions, admitted he had "two or three people cheering for me out near leftfield...but they were all in our bullpen."

Eggs and apples were tossed at the "villain" but none connected. There were many uniformed police patrolling the area yesterday. "I didn't think of some of the signs. They didn't have much. You know you can try too hard sometimes. I got a big kick out of the 10th inning when they (the Mets) (McGraw) walked me intentionally to get at Joe Morgan. I would never walk anyone, including myself, to get at that guy. He's a helluva hitter."

New York fans may not like Rose but the Redleg fielder likes the big city. "I've always played good here against the Mets. I really enjoy playing in New York. The fans don't bother me until they start throwing bottles, like they did Monday."

Does Rose have any hard feelings about Harrelson? "If the Mets can beat us tomorrow (today), I'll be the first to go over there (clubhouse) and congratulate them," Harrelson included. "I'll be rooting for the team that wins tomorrow in the World Series — and I just hope that it's us," he said as he headed for the showers.

Pair of Defeats

Not one but two losses were suffered yesterday by Manchester High's girls field hockey teams at the hands of E.O. Smith High of Storrs, both by 4-0 margins.

Despite the losing efforts, officials and Smith coaches complimented the play of the Tribe E.O. Smith High of Storrs, both.

Roomie Bench Speaks Up

Don't Get Pete Mad

By Earl Yost

SHEA STADIUM, New York — "Don't get Pete Rose mad," Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench said of his roommate shortly after Rose had delivered the big hit that squared the National League East playoffs in New York at two games each.

"I've seen several times in the past when the fans or teams got on Rose and he always rose to the occasion. I know, Pete Rose is one of the greatest all-around baseball players of any time. There isn't anything that he can't do. His goal is to be the greatest switch-hitter ever."

"He's the only non-home run hitter who is in the six figure salary bracket only because he set a goal of attaining that figure and he did. He's the complete ball player, the best that I've ever seen," the outstanding Redleg receiver said.

"I knew in the fifth inning that we were going to win," a confident Bench said. "We were hitting the ball good and getting men on bases but the Mets were coming up with one great defensive play after another."

"When Rose hit his shot, we were all shouting, 'Let's see Staub (Rusty Staub, Met rightfielder) catch that ball,'" Staub would have required a sky-hook to bring down the ball that evened the series and forced a fifth and final game today.

"The countdown is now one and one. I wonder what the oddsmakers are saying today," he added.

Incidentally, the Mets are 11-0 favored, according to Las Vegas, with Tom Seaver slated to oppose the Reds' Jack Billingham.

"I don't make any predictions but I know that they (Mets) have their best pitcher ready to go and we do, too. Consistent pitching won't be our strength for us today and our relief pitching was just super. I haven't seen Don Gullett any faster all year."

Bench added that his roomie was more determined when angry "and he was angry Monday night. I wasn't about to hang around the room in case someone was looking for him," he laughed.

There's no tomorrow for either the Mets or Reds. It's the World Series for the winner and next season for the loser.

Cougar Booters in Tie

Manchester Community College into a 2-2 tie with the Coast Guard yesterday in a non-league soccer battle at New London.

Campbell's unassisted goal brightened a frustrating afternoon for the Cougar front line. All told, MCC launched 25 shots on the Kadets goal.

Gary Green booted a rebound into the Manchester nets after a corner kick to provide the Kadets a 1-1 lead.

After a scoreless first half, Sean Burns got the Academy on the board at 9:15 of the second stanza by heading a stray shot into the cords.

Greg DeVries knotted the count for Manchester scoring off a corner kick at the 20 minute mark of the second quarter.

In corner kicks, MCC held a 10-3 goal. The hosts totalled 23 shot-on-goal.

Larry Olsen Checks Play Book With Assistant Coach Steve Lindberg

Coaches' Corner

By Larry Olsen Manchester High

There is a much overused expression regarding the game, but I feel it applies here very much. "A tie is like kissing your sister." When you get that close, there just isn't much thrill. And this was particularly the case in our Conard game because it's been so long since we've been able to beat them and we wanted the revenge, and we knew that we should have beaten them. But, it wasn't in the cards for Oct. 6 (The teams tied 6-6).

I was not displeased with the total effort of our team Saturday, only disappointed in the end result. We came back being put in the hole on the second play of the game on a 64-yard running run, and tied up the game the second time we had the ball. Thereafter it was a defensive struggle the entire remaining three quarters. But, our defensive team did an outstanding job for the second consecutive week. Our defensive corner game was much improved with the tackling of our two corner men, John Kunz and Jack Maloney. Taking away the 64-yard scamper, we yielded only 65 yards the rest of the way including one pass completion for four yards. It's impossible and unfair to single out one or two individuals for their game, so let it suffice to say that we were proud of each and everyone of these people.

Our offensive game was sub-par this week in statistics, gaining about 180 yards, but we can continue to see improvement in individuals each week which will only make us stronger as the season progresses. Bob Digan, playing in his second game, came on very well and showed good progress. I think that the biggest things that hampered our offensive game were a lack of backfield timing and the inability to develop a passing threat early in the game. A few missed assignments at key situations kept us from developing a sustained drive, and a lack of attaining decent field position in exchanging the ball never enabled us to put Conard in a hole.

We will have to concentrate this week on "tuning up" our offense, getting it to roll in high gear and thus taking some of the pressure of the defense. We will also be looking hard to find improvement in our kicking department, which is a must to enable a team to attain any field position.

Our boys are very high this week. They know that even though the score was a tie, the game should have belonged to them, and we should now stand 2-1 instead of 1-1-1. We have a big challenge facing us this week in unbeaten Bristol Central. The game will be played at Muzzy Field against a very strong Central team. Bristol's offensive and defensive lines outweigh us by 100 pounds per man and they have two running backs in Dennis Hernandez and Richard Godbout who can break a game wide open if given any running room. But, we feel we're ready to put together a complete game, and if this is to be the week, then we'll have ourselves another upset.

Mattatuck CC Cops Golf Event

Manchester Community College hosted the second annual Connecticut Community College Athletic Assn. Fall Invitational Tournament yesterday.

In the nine hole coaches' event, Lois Dagle of Manchester defeated all competitors with a blistering 40.

Presented to the first place team winners and the individual low scores were: Lois Dagle of Manchester, 40; John B. Duggan of Mattatuck, 41; and John B. Duggan of Mattatuck, 41.

Results: 1. John B. Duggan, 2. Lynn B. Duggan, 4. Teigen B. O'Reilly, 5. Falcione, 6. Cote, B. Sweet, E. Williams, E. Wilson, E.

Bennet Harriers Triumph

With its top three performers placing first, second and fourth, the Bennet Junior High cross country team triumphed over Timothy Edwards 23-32 here yesterday.

Bret Jones capped individual honors with a 9:05 clocking over the 1.9 Charter Oak course. Bennet cohorts Bob Lyon and Rich Telenger were in close pursuit in leading their team to victory.

Results: 1. Jones B. 9:05, 2. Lyon B. 9:20, 4. Teigen B. 9:45, 5. Falcione, E. 9:50, 6. Cote B. 9:55, 7. Williams E. 10. Wilson E.

Skein Now Eight For High Booters

With three goals in the first quarter, Manchester High's soccer team went on to defeat winless Penney High 5-0 in a game played yesterday. The triumph extends the Tribe's seasonal and CCLL mark to 8-0.

The goal keepers for Manchester were Reiner Cacace, Rick Wasserman, Connie McCurry, Rick Taylor and John Paquette. The Indians scored three times in the first stanza and singled in the second and third periods to register the win over 0-8 Penney.

Penney was led by fullback Lou Conforto, but they were outclassed and found themselves in their own half of the field most of the time. Manchester was gracious as Coach Dick Danielson played his reserves most of the way.

The Indians next game is Thursday in Bristol to take on 3-5 Eastern.

Play Unbeaten Foe Next

Optimism Reins In Indians' Camp

By Len Auster

Disappointed but still full of optimism, Manchester High's head football coach Larry Olsen sends his troops into the fray again in traveling to Bristol Saturday to take on undefeated CCLL foe Central in a 1:30 start.

Last week's 6-0 statement with Conard High of West Hartford, which extended its unbeaten skein to 10, was encouraging but Olsen still hasn't come up with the desired formula. "Defensively, we played extremely well. But, our backfield timing was way off Saturday. The holes were there but the backs didn't hit them quick enough. We must improve our running game, get it polished to a high gleam," Olsen said.

The 1-1-1 Silk City entry goes into Saturday's encounter with two questionable performers. Linebacker Steve Melia suffered a concussion in the course of action against Conard and is a doubtful starter. Senior guard Mike Coughlin, who missed the Chieftain game, is still a day-to-day proposition. Tackle Steve Georgetti, who played sporadically week ago, will be in the starting lineup. Central is 5-0 in CCLL action thus far and will show a multiple offensive stance, using the Wing-T, Power I, and other formation sets depending on the situation. Central boasts a powerful rushing attack which is spearheaded by Rick Godbout and Dennis Hernandez, the 1972 CCLL 100-yard dash champion.

Defensively, the Central standout is junior linebacker Doug Couture. Bristol will have the size advantage over the Indians, with both of its lines averaging close to 200 pounds. Manchester will counter offensively with quarterback Rick Mika, who will be out to redeem himself after a poor passing day against Conard. The running game depends on the stunts of junior Jack Maloney and senior fullback Scott Odell, who plowed his way for 50 yards against the "Big Red."

The defensive platoon is headed by linebacker Steve Dwyer and tackle Ken Irish. For the second straight week, safety Ed Budanowsky sparked.

The Tribe and Central have had one common opponent, Platt. Both teams walked away with victories, Manchester by a 20-18 count and Central by a 3-6 ledger. Central has averaged over 22 points per game but should have its hands full with Manchester.

"The attitude of the team is great. They know they have a very good shot at Central. We've played them about even the last few years and it should be a real good game Saturday," Olsen said. Olsen has announced that Monday night at 8, the preceding week game film will be shown in the Manchester High faculty cafeteria, sponsored by the Manchester Booster Club.

Whalers Score First

Whalers, defending World Hockey Association champions, rebounded from that opening loss of the season to defeat the Quebec Nordiques 3-2 Tuesday.

NHL Opens Play Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks — with the Philadelphia Flyers looking right over their shoulders — open defenses of their National Hockey League West Division crown tonight.

The Hawks, who made it to the Stanley Cup finals before losing to the Montreal Canadiens last spring, are preseason favorites to repeat as Western champions. But the "Fighting Flyers," the most penalized team in hockey history with 1,794 minutes last season, are hopeful of bulging back from a crippling knee injury and Bobby Orr always anything to say about it, the Flyers' goalie Ken Dryden has made it clear his charges will be doing more hitting in 1973-74.

Hitting, that is — not fighting. "I want my team to become more physical," says Shero, whose club was easily the heaviest hitting bunch in the NHL in 1972-73. Dave Schultz, Bob Kelly, Andre Dupont and Don Salko each amassed over 200 minutes in penalties while lifting the Flyers to second place behind the Hawks in the West. "We plan to devote at least 20 minutes every practice to body checking," Shero added.

Elsewhere in the West, there will be the usual scramble for playoff spots among the Minnesota North Stars, St. Louis Blues, Vancouver Canucks, Los Angeles Kings and California Golden Seals. Since the NHL expanded in 1967, the order of finish has never been the same, and with the improvement of the Atlanta Flames the playoff situation will be up in the air in the West. In the East, the Montreal Canadiens are the favorites to repeat as Stanley Cup winners.

Optimism Reins In Indians' Camp

By Len Auster

Disappointed but still full of optimism, Manchester High's head football coach Larry Olsen sends his troops into the fray again in traveling to Bristol Saturday to take on undefeated CCLL foe Central in a 1:30 start.

Last week's 6-0 statement with Conard High of West Hartford, which extended its unbeaten skein to 10, was encouraging but Olsen still hasn't come up with the desired formula. "Defensively, we played extremely well. But, our backfield timing was way off Saturday. The holes were there but the backs didn't hit them quick enough. We must improve our running game, get it polished to a high gleam," Olsen said.

The 1-1-1 Silk City entry goes into Saturday's encounter with two questionable performers. Linebacker Steve Melia suffered a concussion in the course of action against Conard and is a doubtful starter. Senior guard Mike Coughlin, who missed the Chieftain game, is still a day-to-day proposition. Tackle Steve Georgetti, who played sporadically week ago, will be in the starting lineup. Central is 5-0 in CCLL action thus far and will show a multiple offensive stance, using the Wing-T, Power I, and other formation sets depending on the situation. Central boasts a powerful rushing attack which is spearheaded by Rick Godbout and Dennis Hernandez, the 1972 CCLL 100-yard dash champion.

Defensively, the Central standout is junior linebacker Doug Couture. Bristol will have the size advantage over the Indians, with both of its lines averaging close to 200 pounds. Manchester will counter offensively with quarterback Rick Mika, who will be out to redeem himself after a poor passing day against Conard. The running game depends on the stunts of junior Jack Maloney and senior fullback Scott Odell, who plowed his way for 50 yards against the "Big Red."

The defensive platoon is headed by linebacker Steve Dwyer and tackle Ken Irish. For the second straight week, safety Ed Budanowsky sparked.

The Tribe and Central have had one common opponent, Platt. Both teams walked away with victories, Manchester by a 20-18 count and Central by a 3-6 ledger. Central has averaged over 22 points per game but should have its hands full with Manchester.

"The attitude of the team is great. They know they have a very good shot at Central. We've played them about even the last few years and it should be a real good game Saturday," Olsen said. Olsen has announced that Monday night at 8, the preceding week game film will be shown in the Manchester High faculty cafeteria, sponsored by the Manchester Booster Club.

Simpson Threatens Untouchable Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League record for rushing in a single season is 1,863 yards — and the record, that is.

Look out, Jim Brown. Your own "untouchable" record may be crumbling.

With less than one-third of the season gone, O.J. Simpson is more than one-third of the way to breaking it. And if guard Reggie McKenzie and his teammates on Buffalo's offensive line have anything to say about it, he'll run it into the ground — which just happens to be what O.J. has been doing to the opposition.

Take last Sunday. Take any Sunday for that matter. But last Sunday is typical. The Bills gave O.J. the ball 27 times and he ran with it, and ran, and ran.

When he finished he had piled up 171 yards against Philadelphia. He only scored one touchdown but he also set up with successive scampers of 29 and 49 yards and kept bringing the Bills close enough to set up two field goals, including the one in the closing minutes that beat the Eagles 27-20.

For his performance, Simpson was the unanimous choice today as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week in the NFL.

It was the second time this season that the former Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California has been awarded the honor. He was also named unanimous choice when he demolished the league's single-game rushing record with his 250 yards in the Bills' 31-13 season-opening romp against New England.

"These guys have been telling me I'm going to get 1,800 yards or more," Simpson said after the victory over Philadelphia, "and Reggie keeps saying I'm going to get 2,000."

"And if they said it, I've got to believe them, because they're the guys who'll get it for me. If they say I can get it, then I'm going to get it."

Impossible? Hardly. He's already got a brilliant 647 in his four games, more than half the 1,251 he amassed last year when he won the league rushing title. And if he can stay healthy and keep up this phenomenal pace, he'll wind up this year with well over 2,200 yards.

Others nominated for Offensive Player of the Week included quarterback John Hadl of Los Angeles, rookie running back Chuck Foreman of Minnesota, and with a specialized mention, punter Jerrel Wilson of Kansas City.

Hadl completed 10 of 18 passes for 179 yards — including touchdown plays of 38, 15 and 69 yards — in the unbeaten Rams' 31-28 victory over Houston.

Foreman rushed for 114 yards on 16 carries in the unbeaten Vikings' 23-9 triumph over Detroit.

And Wilson averaged a booming 59.8 yards on six punts, the last one a 62-yarder that landed in the end zone.

Denver had to play for a game-winning field goal and preserved the Chiefs' 16-14 victory over the Broncos.

MIAMI (AP) — About the only thing Miami Dolphin defensive end Bill Stanfill didn't do the New York Jets last Sunday was get them penalized for having an extra man — Stanfill — in their backfield.

Stanfill sacked Jet quarterback Al Woodall four times, dropped rookie backup Bill Demoy once and credited with five assists as the Dolphins kept the Jets to 139 net yards while winning 31-3.

Frank Coates, coach named the 6-foot-5, 250-pound Stanfill as National Football League Defensive Player of the Week wanted to contact ABA's attorney, in Denver, before officially resolving the dispute.

Efforts to call Prebid were unsuccessful but the league was hopeful of reaching him early today.

ABA's chairman, James Starnes, also was in Denver for the telephone hookup.

If the players and the club owners fail to settle the contract differences involving pension rights and travel accommodations, the ABA season may not get under way.

Melchioni, who said from Indianapolis where the Nets were scheduled to play the Indiana Pacers tonight, is over the players. The players are demanding that the age of eligibility for receiving a pension be lowered from 65 to 55.

Players also are demanding first-class travel on trips of more than one hour. Currently, the ABA furnishes second-class or coach fares on trips of less than two hours' duration.

Tonight's schedule, which would be postponed unless a late settlement is reached, has New York at Indiana, Memphis at Utah and San Diego at San Antonio.

Nicklaus is once again on top of the money-winning list after capturing the Ohio-Kings Island Open last weekend.

Chamberlain said he sympathized with the players' demands for first-class travel instead of coach.

"The National Basketball Association has flown first class for several years now," he said. "Because of the seats, it's kind of tough on us, back there in coach."

Stanfill Efforts Lauded

Strike Seen Out For ABA Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Mike Storen of the American Basketball Association said the league had reached a tentative agreement early this morning to ward off a possible players' strike.

Storen was meeting in Indianapolis with the league's player representatives, Bill Melchioni of the New York Nets and Roger Brown of the Indiana Pacers. Storen said the two representatives wanted to contact ABA's attorney, in Denver, before officially resolving the dispute.

Efforts to call Prebid were unsuccessful but the league was hopeful of reaching him early today.

ABA's chairman, James Starnes, also was in Denver for the telephone hookup.

Republican Future Dampened By Watergate

CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Bush thought his main job as Republican national chairman would be to convert President Nixon's 1972 landslide victory into a "New Republican Majority." Then came Watergate.

among minorities and among ethnic groups. Bush forecast close races in two gubernatorial elections next month.

running as an independent. In New Jersey, Rep. Charles Sandman, who unseated GOP Gov. William Cahill in the primary, is running against Democrat Brendan Byrne.

test of Watergate." He said if the GOP lost the governorships, both captured by the Democrats four years ago, "it wouldn't look good at all. We wouldn't like that."

for GOP congressional candidates. Bush noted that President Nixon has said he will campaign for Republican candidates in 1974, and the chairman said those who hope to succeed the chief executive should follow the example of Nixon's all-out 1966 stumping seeking to separate the Republicans from the scandal enveloping their own administration.

"There has been a need to put the party role into perspective," the former ambassador to the United Nations explained in an interview.

Though Bush renewed the now-familiar Republican litany that Watergate won't hurt the GOP at the polls, he conceded he has become more cautious about party prospects in the 1974 congressional elections.

He said the least next month of Republican-held governorships in New Jersey and Virginia, which some party leaders see as a growing possibility, "wouldn't look good at all" but added that a string of GOP successes in recent local elections is proof "this isn't going to wipe out the Republican party."

Discussing his eight months on the job at GOP headquarters on Capitol Hill, Bush also said: "There's been a recovery" in the flow of contributions, and the committee will be able to meet its $5.5-million budget, about three times as much as the Democrats, without further staff cuts or borrowing.

The controversy surrounding Vice President Spiro T. Agnew cannot help the GOP but, as for the effect on elections, "I don't think one could possibly measure that at this point," Bush said Agnew's 1970 presidential prospects certainly have not been enhanced, but he added that vindication could change that.

The launching of 1976 presidential soundings by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Ronald Reagan, Sen. Charles H. Percy and John Connally is encouraging. "We seem to have a wealth of qualified talent," he said. "I can't help but look at the Democrats and think in this particular area, we're in pretty good shape compared to them."
