The Candidates Are Saying—

Mayor Frank McCoy
(Mayor McCoy is the GOP candidate seeking his third term as mayor of Vernon.)

"The planning and construction of the John Ashe Fire House, coupled with the purchase of a quantity of fire and police equipment is a significant contribution to this administration toward making Vernon a better place to live. During the last campaign I pledged improved fire and police protection for our community. We kept that promise."

"In May of 1971 I appointed a firehouse site committee, charged with the responsibility of site selection of a new and modern fire station facility. The committee consisted of Councilmen Morgan Campbell, Milton Tedford and Peter Humphry.

"They worked closely with Fire Chiefs Donald Maguire and William Johnson, Police Chief Edmund Dwyer, and the town planner, to select a site which met with the Fire Underwriters Laboratory requirements for geographic location and traffic flow."

"Construction work, started in late June of 1972, was under the direction of the Permanent Building Committee chaired by Robert Wehrli. Official dedication of the completed building took place May 29, 1973.

"The new firehouse, named in memory of former Rockville Fire Chief John F. Ashe, houses six trucks, all complimentary equipment and communication facilities, as well as meeting rooms and provisions for future use by resident firemen."

"New equipment acquired home with the kind of money I got from the state," he said. "And being an old man is useless. You can't find a job need a little money, but I ask for work, they think I'm crazy."

"This is my home," he declared in a husky voice. "And it's an expensive home. I'm just boiling away gas for nothing. Just driving. I stop here and there."

"The state took Herman's New London house four years ago to build an access road to Interstate 95. The Transportation Department's rights-of-way division says it paid him $17,500 in compensation."

"After working at odd jobs and living with friends, Herman settled into his present habitat. The dusty dashboard is a trowel with well-thumbed maps, newspaper clips, pencils, pens and one glove with a patterned tie stuffed inside. He rested his right arm against the dashboard and leaned back."

"Haven't been able to find a parking space in a while."

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Lucinda A. Custer (Cady) who passed away Oct. 18, 1962.
This day do we remember, her service to all, her love for one no longer with us, but in our hearts still lives.

Gift to Kiwanis Radio Auction

Manchester Probate Judge William FitzGerald (left), a member of the Manchester Kiwanis Club, happily receives a $150 pair of skis from John Groman of Groman's Sports Shop, 36 Cottage St., donated to the annual Kiwanis Radio Auction. Kiwanis members are now soliciting contributions from area merchants for the auction, which will be conducted over Radio Station WINP Nov. 13 and 14. (Herald photo by Pinto)

The police department has a new motorcycle for patrolling the city. The purchase of the motorcycle was paid for by federal funds searched out by the administration. A new radio communication system has been installed in police headquarters which allows for greatly decreased response time to standard and emergency calls. In addition, a police cruiser replacement program has been worked out on a long-range basis.

"We must continue to look ahead toward the future needs of our fire and police departments as they relate to the protection and safety of our citizens. As past officials we must have the foresight to recognize these needs and the courage to provide funds for their acquisition. This we pledge to do."

"The proclaimed cutback in Arab oil production should have little immediate effect on U.S. supplies, an American energy expert says. But Western Europe and Japan, the Arab's biggest customers, are expected to put pressure on the United States before long to reduce its support of Israel."

Arab oil ministers at a meeting in Kuwait Wednesday announced they would cut production at least 5 per cent a month until Israel gives up all territory it seized in the 1967 war and restores the rights of the Palestinian refugees.

Because the United States gets only about 6 per cent of the oil it uses from the Arab countries, the Arabs strategy was to squeeze the Europeans and Japanese in the hope that they in turn would put the screws on Washington, Israel's chief source of arms.

A 5 per cent cut in U.S. imports from the Arab countries would reduce the total supply in the United States only three-tenths of one per cent, the U.S. expert said in Washington. But he estimated the action would reduce Western Europe's supplies by 3 per cent and Japan's by 2 per cent.

The Nixon Administration is counting on imports of refined heating oil from Europe to meet the shortage expected this winter, and a reduced supply of crude to Europe would make refined products harder to get. Since production is being cut back rather than exports, the effects of the decision may not be felt for several weeks. Arab oil production will decline very slowly if the reductions continue, since each month's cut will be 5 per cent of the previous month's production. But oil exports in Beirut predicted a major world oil crisis if the cuts continued for as long as four months.

One London oil analyst called the cutback "an extremely astute scheme... it will make everyone suffer a little and put considerable pressure on Western countries to force Israel to come to an agreement with the Arabs."

Japan, dependent on the Middle East for 80 per cent of its petroleum imports, hoped its netral policy in the Arab-Israeli conflict might exempt it from the cutback. But the Japanese Ministry of International Trade and Industry acknowledged today that the Arab producers may hit it, too, in hopes that Tokyo will put pressure on the United States.

A question both in Japan and in Europe was whether Iran would follow the lead of its Arab neighbors. Iran, not an Arab nation, is the second largest Middle East producer. One American petroleum industry observer noted that a reduction in Arab output would have serious effects on such major international oil companies such as Texaco, Exxon, Mobil, Royal Dutch Shell, Gulf and Esso.

An Exxon spokesman, for example, said that half his company's crude oil last year came from the Middle East.

Tank Fights Still Rage In Desert

The Egyptian command said fighting was continuing Wednesday night in the central sector of the Sinai front, but neither side reported any change in the battle lines two and a half to 10 miles east of the Suez Canal.

It was the second day on which the Israelis had claimed destruction of a large Arab tank force. On Tuesday they reported knocking out 163 Syrian and Iraqi tanks, while Syria that day claimed its forces destroyed 80 Israeli tanks.

Eliazar said Israeli forces were "initiating the attacks on both sides" of the canal. An Israeli spokesman said the commando task force that crossed the canal Tuesday was still in Egypt, "waiting to sabotage missiles and artillery. But an Egyptian general said the force had been destroyed.

Israel said its air force bombed military installations near Port Said, the Egyptian city at the northern end of the canal, and anti-aircraft missile batteries. It said 10 Egyptian planes were shot down. Egypt claimed that its air force shot down four Israeli planes in one dogfight while ground fire destroyed 12 Israeli planes and five helicopters. It admitted the loss of one plane.

An AP correspondent on the Syrian front said Arab artillery was continuing to blast away at Israeli columns bogged down on the road to Damascus. Eliazar, however, said "everlasting" in the northern theater of war.

A Syrian communique said that on the northern front, our armored forces and artillery foiled an enemy attack on two of our forward positions and forced the enemy to retreat."

The Palestinian news agency Wafa issued a statement saying no Palestinian guerrillas were involved in the incident. It said the leadership of the Palestinian Liberation Organization offered the Lebanese government "any help needed to cope with the situation."

There was no immediate information available on the "Lebanese Socialist Revolutionary Movement" group the gunmen claimed to belong to.

Deadline Today
WASHINGTON (AP) — Today was the deadline for President Nixon either to hand over the Watergate tapes or ask the Supreme Court to let him keep them. The U.S. Court of Appeals last Friday gave him one week to take his case to the Supreme Court. Otherwise, the court said Nixon must give the tapes to U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica so he can determine if the President's claim that they must be kept secret is valid.

Pipeline Bill
WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees on the Trans-Alaska pipeline legislation have reached agreement. Their proposed bill would allow immediate construction of the oil pipeline across 789 miles of Alaskan wilderness. The measure includes language designed to block lawsuits by environmentalists. The pipeline will carry crude oil from the North Slope to the port city of Valdez on the southern coast.

Police, Commandos Free 39 Hostages
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Security forces shot their way into a besieged Bank of America building today, killed two guerrillas and rescued 39 hostages being held for a $10 million ransom, authorities reported. An American hostage was killed in a final gunbattle. Police earlier announced they were rescuing the hostages. Several casualties brought out of the building during the fighting were in various stages of distress.

Police said there were wounded hostages, who had been forced to disrobe by the gunmen early in the 25-hour ordeal to show they were unarmed. One of the slain gunmen was identified as Aly Shabib, described as the No. 2 man in the Lebanese Socialist Revolutionary Movement, which staged the bank raid. The gunman, who are Lebanese leftists, demanded $10 million from the Bank of America to support the Palestinian guerrilla movement and the Arab war against Israel.

The siege began just before noon Thursday when the gunmen stormed into the seven-story bank building in Beirut's financial district and seized the Bank of America offices on the third, fourth and fifth floors. The building also houses local branches of the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. and the Chemical Bank of New York, as well as a West German and a Lebanese bank.

Police and army troops encircled the building and a battle erupted. A policeman was killed, one of the five wounded hostages, who had been forced to disrobe by the gunmen early in the 25-hour ordeal to show they were unarmed. Gale Warnings Issued For South Florida
MIAMI (AP) — Gale warnings were issued for South Florida today as tropical storm Gilda, its winds increasing, moved up the narrow stretch of ocean between Florida and the Bahamas.

The National Hurricane Center predicted Gilda would become a hurricane late tonight or early Saturday. Winds near hurricane force of 74 miles per hour were expected to hit the Bahamas, 170 miles west of Miami, this morning. Gale warnings were issued for Florida's Atlantic coast from Fort Lauderdale south to Key Largo.

At 6 a.m. EDT Gilda was 200 miles south-southeast of Miami, moving north at seven m.p.h. with winds of 40 m.p.h. "While Gilda is not presently a severe tropical storm, its intensity is uncertain at all interests along the Florida east coast and Keys" should listen for further advisories, Simpson added.

Small craft along South Florida were warned to stay in port. Bahamian vessels were asked to seek protection against shifting winds of near hurricane force with winds of 40 to 45 m.p.h. over the ground and to create muddy conditions. The work is being done by town forces.

The spring is owned by the owners of Case M. and will be retained by them and when the PUC purchases the station, the owners are permitting public use of the spring. If the town maintains it, only three are now operating.

Spring Closed
The Highland Park spring has been closed for cleaning and will be out of use until Monday or Tuesday, Jay Giles, Manchester director of public works, announced.

He said the shutdown is to clean the drain, which was plugged, causing water to run over the ground and to create muddy conditions. The work is being done by town forces. The spring is owned by the owners of Case M. and will be retained by them and when the PUC purchases the station, the owners are permitting public use of the spring. Kosygin Ends Talks In Egypt

By The Associated Press
New tank battles raged today on the Syrian front and in a crucial fight along the Suez Canal as Israel broadened its hold on the western bank with reinforcements ferried across the waterway, Tel Aviv claimed.

Cairo said the Israeli report of a major thrust into Egypt was false and claimed the large-scale attack had been repelled. Israeli units are infiltrating across the canal at night, Egypt conceded, but claimed they were being surrounded and one unit was wiped out.

The Russian Embassy in Cairo said Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin returned to Moscow today from Cairo after four days of secret talks with Egyptian officials. Kosygin said he had discussed with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin. But despite the high-level contact, officials predicted no quick end to the war. The fighting went on for the 14th day.

The Israeli command said its forces continued their attacks on Egyptian positions east of the Suez Canal in the Israeli-occupied Sinai Desert and around the bridgehead that Israel said Thursday it had established on the western bank of the canal, in Egyptian territory.

"A series of battles being waged since this morning, dozens of enemy tanks, missile batteries and infantry deploymenets have been destroyed," a communique said.

The Israeli beachhead on the western bank of the canal would be the first time the Middle East ground war came to the Suez Canal, although Israeli jets have been striking targets in the Nile Delta. But an Israeli spokesman in Cairo scoffed at the claim and depicted the Israeli force as commandos on a series of raids.

"A group of foreign correspondents are visiting the Sinai Desert today to prove that the Israeli claim is false," he added.

The Israelis said their planes and tanks on the Syrian front repulsed a combined attack by Syrian, Iraqi and Jordanian infantry and tanks. They claimed the Arabs took severe losses.

"A large battle by tanks and artillery is raging since the early hours of this morning between our forces and the enemy in the central and northern sectors," reported the Syrian communique. "The battle is still going on."

Extremists Announce Cease-Fire
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Ulster Volunteer Force, a splinter group of Protestant extremists, announced today a cease-fire in its bombing attacks on Roman Catholics and said it will watch political developments until the end of the year.

The force has claimed a number of bombing attacks on Catholic-owned saloons and similar properties. It has no connection with a group of Protestant ultras, the Ulster Freedom Fighters, which has claimed the assassination of 23 Catholics.

The Volunteer Force said it will renew its campaign against Catholics if political leaders in London and Belfast fail to implement what it called "constructive proposals."

The force said in a statement sent to newspapers that it was dedicated to fighting the Irish Republican Army and maintaining Northern Ireland within the United Kingdom.

Station Wagon Serves As Elderly Man's Home

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — Albert Herman is 82 and lives in a station wagon. He eats unheated canned foods in the front seat and sleeps in the back.

"This is my home," he declared in a husky voice. "And it's an expensive home. I'm just boiling away gas for nothing. Just driving. I stop here and there."

The state took Herman's New London house four years ago to build an access road to Interstate 95. The Transportation Department's rights-of-way division says it paid him $17,500 in compensation.

Program Leaders Named at MCC

Three new program coordinators have been added to the staff of Manchester Community College in the rapidly expanding area of health services careers.
Robert M. Dixon of East Longmeadow, Mass., heads the medical laboratory technician and surgical technician programs. M. Dean Fenlon of Glastonbury directs the respiratory therapy and dental assistant programs, and Lois Ann Saman of Bristol directs the nursing program. The dental assistant and nursing programs are scheduled to be offered for the first time for the fall semester of 1974.
Dixon received his BS and MS degrees from Springfield College and is an EdD candidate at the University of Massachusetts where he has majored in educational communications in the life and allied health sciences. He has also completed advanced study in radiation biology and electron microscopy at the University of Hawaii and the University of Chicago. He has 10 years of college teaching experience in anatomy and physiology at Bay Path Junior College in East Longmeadow. For nine of those years, he served as chairman of the science department. He also has had many years of background experience in television production and the production of motion pictures, slides and tapes, and programmed texts. He has produced 86 educational films on routine clinical procedures. A veteran of the Korean war, Dixon served as an interpreter while in Korea. Having lived for 12 years in North China, he speaks fluent Chinese. He is interested in fencing and gymnastics and has served as an instructor and coach of these sports. He is also an avid mountain climber, skier and winter camper. He is married and has three sons.
Fenlon received his BA degree in biology and psychology from Suffolk University, and his MS degree in science teaching from Syracuse University. He is currently engaged in the PhD program in educational administration at Syracuse. His experience in addition to teaching includes five years as a chemistry laboratory technician at Framingham (Massachusetts) Union Hospital, and a year as a hematology laboratory technician at Upstate Medical Center, Syracuse, N.Y. He enjoys sports, travel and cooking. He is married and has four children.
Saman received her BS degree in nursing from the University of Bridgeport and her MA degree in education from Trinity College. She has served as staff nurse at Bristol Hospital where she implemented an intravenous therapy department, and she served as an instructor for five years in the practical nurse education program at Hartford Hospital. For the past two years she has been project director at Hartford Hospital,

Impounding By Inaction

The amazing thing about self-government in a democracy is that we often find ourselves trying to march in two opposite directions.
Today, in Connecticut, there is a lot of talk about public education and its needs. There is draft of a Master Plan being reviewed. The mayors are asking the state to pick up more of the cost of education in the elementary and secondary schools. The colleges are not shy either in seeking more funding.

In the other corner is the state administration trying to hold the lid on expenditures which is a favorite partisan topic.

The community college system, of which Manchester Community College is a part, is more than concerned about just where the lines should be drawn in authority over the system's internal affairs.

Last spring, the regional accrediting agency quite bluntly stated the future accreditation of the system's 12 units was in jeopardy because of non-educational agency interference in the system's operations.
The adage of he who pays the piper, calls the tune, seems to apply because the final say-so in financial matters, even after budgets are approved and funds appropriated, seems to lie in the hands of the finance commissioner.

While we believe there should be a balance between the colleges' desires and legislative appropriations, it would appear that the finance commissioner is going beyond this and in effect, "impounding by inaction," as has been charged.

At issue is his inaction on the promotions of 50 people in the system last May, June and July. Until he approves the promotions, which the state trustees have upon recommendation of the various units, these people are not getting the pay the position calls for. Ironically, they are not getting the normal increment due them even if they had not been promoted.

We appreciate thrift in government but we do believe the commissioner has overstepped his bounds in this case. The men and women who were promoted were recognized on the basis of their service and ability and the procedure was the same as used in the past. Budgets included funds for this additional cost. The state trustees approved the promotions. But now these are delayed because a non-educational agency, the bookkeepers, are procrastinating.
The finance commissioner may have an explanation but to date he has not communicated it to the trustees or the colleges.

What concerns us is that it is instances such as this that give credence to the charges by the accreditation agency that there is unwarranted intrusion by non-academic agencies of the state government into the educational system.

We are not saying the educators should not be responsible to the legislature or the executive branch in the matter of overall objectives, policies, and use of public monies.
But internal matters such as promotions, personnel and day-to-day administration, should be left to the trustees, administrators and others who are appointed and hired to do these jobs. If their actions are to be circumvented or ignored, why spend tax dollars for trustees and administrators?

We would expect the governor, who is the chief executive of this state, to assert his leadership and correct it. We are aware of his desire to control public expenditures but the finance commissioner's attitude could be costly beyond the few dollars saved. This type of political interference in the educational system makes the threat of accreditation loss more than a threat and almost a reality.

Veterans Day

Monday, Oct. 22, is printed in red on most calendars because nationally it is Veterans Day.

A few years back, the Congress shifted Veterans Day from Nov. 11 to the fourth Monday in October, along with some other holidays such as Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Columbus Day.

This change drew opposition from many veteran groups who preferred Nov. 11 because it was originally Armistice Day to commemorate the ending of World War I and after World War 2 became Veterans Day to pay tribute to those who served in all of the nation's conflicts.

Here in Connecticut, the veteran effort has borne fruit and the last General Assembly designated Nov. 11 as Veterans Day for Nutmeggers.

There is some confusion as it is anticipated federal offices will close Monday, Oct. 22, but will be open Monday, Nov. 12 (Nov. 11 is a Sunday this year) and just what banks and some of our larger businesses engaged in interstate activities will do remains to be seen.

But officially in Connecticut Veterans Day will be Nov. 11. The proponents of the traditional date have won out and now face the responsibility, we think, of making Nov. 11 a meaningful holiday.

Last year as we recall many veterans groups side-stepped observances in October and made a point of staging rites Nov. 11.
It would be our hope that this year, the Veterans Day observance will be more than the token parades, short speeches, etc., that have come to mark too many of our national holidays.

There is a challenge to the veterans, who demanded and received the restoration of the traditional date for Veterans Day, to plan, promote and execute an observance of the day throughout the state that will inspire the general public to get into the spirit of the observance instead of their cars and making it just another long weekend.

People of Manchester

To the editor:
Saturday, Oct. 20, two outstanding citizens of this community, Tom Kelley and Pete Wigren, will be honored at Memorial Field. At half-time of the Manchester-Maloney football game, these men will have portions of Memorial Field named in their behalf. The track will be called the Charles "Pete" Wigren Track and the baseball diamond will be known as the Thomas F. Kelley Baseball Diamond.
This tribute is richly deserved by both men. These two legends in the sports world guided athletes for a combined total of 75 years at Manchester High School. The values they taught are still remembered by the men who were fortunate enough to play under them. The statewide recognition they hope you will not lose sight of one factor far more important than promises, pledges, pictures and slogans — and this is performance. The performance of Jack Thompson has been immense.

Because a man of Jack Thompson's caliber and dedication comes along so infrequently, I feel that every voter in Manchester whether he be Democrat, Republican or Independent, must consider his performance and conclude that this man, Jack Thompson, deserves to be re-elected to the Board of Directors on Nov. 6.

Re-Elect Thompson
Manchester has been extremely fortunate to have had Jack Thompson as a member of the Board of Directors for the last two years. Having served with him for this period, I know as well as anyone the dedication that he has had toward the accomplishment of one goal — the betterment of the Town of Manchester.
With election time coming upon us rapidly, we will all be bombarded with promises, pledges, pictures and slogans from the candidates until it is all over on Nov. 6. I urge all people to be concerned with the coming campaign but sincerely hope you will not lose sight of one factor far more important than promises, pledges, pictures and slogans — and this is performance. The performance of Jack Thompson has been immense.

Inside Report

Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

Picking a Vice President
WASHINGTON — Only the selection of Rep. Gerald Ford as Vice President, an unexciting but supremely sensible choice, could have saved President Nixon from the menacing backwash of rebellion building in his own party.
In particular, Republican House members were working up a nasty temper waiting out a new Vice President. Months of growing resentment toward the President were reaching climax. Republican Congressmen grumbled that the elaborate selection ceremony planned by Mr. Nixon for the White House East Room ill suited the mood of melancholy caused by Spiro T. Agnew's disgrace. Worst of all, they believed the President had his own mind made up and was sure to ignore their overwhelming recommendation of minority leader Ford.
The choice of Ford, then, was a pleasant, air-clearing surprise to the Congressmen and other key Republicans. By inhibiting his normal impulse for a pleasurable, air-clearing surprise to the Congressmen and other key Republicans. By inhibiting his normal impulse for a pleasurable, air-clearing surprise to the Congressmen and other key Republicans. Today's Thought
You never know when someone will catch a dream from you. You never know when a little word or something you may do will open up the windows. Of a mind that seeks the light. You never know when it might matter at all.
And just in case it could be that another's life, through you, might possibly change for the better. With a broader and brighter view. It seems it might be worth a try.
At pointing the way to the right of course, it may not matter at all.
But you never know — it might.

The Old Codgers' Codgitations

Between the high school building and teacher's hall was a white wooden flag pole much bigger in diameter than the present metal one but the same height. It had a big gold ball on top.
Now in those days most sleeping rooms had chamber sets of several china pieces. Two of them had handles and like the battery on a baseball team one was the pitcher. Now wouldn't that be a pitcher? The next morning the ball had a white hack down over its ears to its neck and the handle wired to the neck.
The decoration remained there all day but the next morning it was gone. Only the wire was there, and it probably was still there when that pole was replaced by the metal one there now.
Jeff Moriarty was the custodian of the building then. We always thought Jeff was a good sport about news from about now it is thought he probably was a twopenny street and could leak tips up as well as down.
Jeff was at the door with a big grin when O.C. arrived that morning.
He said, "Zip shot it down with his rifle."
"Shot what down?" "Oh innocent baby!"
Anyway, Zip said, "I'm pretty sure I could put my finger on the one who put that up there. But anyone that would do that up that slippery pole in a hard rainstorm, carrying that thing in place, doesn't deserve any punishment."
Wonder why the guy didn't have his pal send the freight up to him with the rope? He was not able to climb without the rope hold and had to get it around his leg in order to stay up there to work.
Mr. and Mrs. Verplank invited the senior high school class to a reception at their home. That could be done at that time because there were only 18 members in the class, 12 girls and six boys.
That's a bad arrangement because a fellow has to see two girls home and unless he figures out the route right he's liable to have to let go first the one he would prefer to be alone with.
Back to the party.
We had a very enjoyable evening playing games that had required considerable thought and time in their preparation. One in particular is remembered by O.C.
Each person was given a pencil and card, and shown into a room where there was a large table with two rows of numbered exhibits. Each exhibit illustrated some historical event. Each contestant was to write the number of each exhibit with his or her name for the event portrayed.
There was some little prize for the person able to get the

Jewish Peasant Life Woven into 'Fiddler'

Understanding the customs and the production of "Fiddler on the Roof" says Fred T. Blush III, stage director for the upcoming Little Theatre of Manchester production.

The author goes on to explain a "hasanlik," a pauper who has not allowed poverty to degrade him. "Like everyone of us," continues Tevye, "a fiddler on the roof trying to scratch out a pleasant simple tune without breaking his neck."

SOLDIERS WERE SAFER than BABIES

Incredible as it seems, soldiers on the battlefields of World War I were safer than babies of that era. While one soldier in 13 was killed or wounded in those days, one baby in 10 died before his first birthday. Today, only slightly more than 25 out of every 1,000 babies fail to survive their first year. Better pre-natal care, hospital births and modern medicine are making baby's future brighter than ever.

Comment Session

A riddle asked of Mayor John Thompson Thursday night by a Manchester woman was answered today by Town Assessor Edgar Belleville. Thompson was musing a Board of Directors' comment session.

The woman said she purchased a car in 1971, it was assessed on the Oct. 1, 1972 Grand List, was stolen and demolished on Nov. 11, 1972, and her insurance company settled her claim on Dec. 1, 1972.

She wanted to know why she was taxed on the car for the year 1973-74 when she had it only one month beyond the Oct. 1, 1972 Grand List assessment. Belleville said owners of vehicles assume tax liability on whatever vehicles they own on Oct. 1 - assessment day. He said that persons who buy vehicles on Oct. 2 or later are not assessed at all until the following Oct. 1, and that assessors do not pro-rate assessments on vehicles.

He said that if the woman bought another vehicle with the Dec. 1, 1972 insurance settlement, no assessment was made of that vehicle until Oct. 1, 1973, and no tax will be paid on it until July 1, 1974.

A husband and wife who appeared at the comment session complained of an open ditch on Keeney St. which, they said, is a hazard for drivers. They recommended it be filled in or that an improved protective barrier be placed there.

They complained of a poorly maintained cemetery lot, in back of the field reserved for veterans. And they complained of beer cans, bottles and the like thrown on private property by youths who frequent the Teen Center. They said there is considerable drinking behind the Teen Center on Saturday nights, and recommended tighter police control.

Air Force Obligates Funds To P&W
EAST HARTFORD, (AP) — The Air Force has obligated the first funds for long-awaited production of engines for the F-15 jet fighter plane, the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft division said Thursday.

The military released $70.6 million for production of 72 F100 engines for the fighter, a spokesman for the United Aircraft Corp. division said. A series of problems made the test "more stringent than any previously required on any aircraft engine," a Pentagon spokesman said Wednesday in announcing successful completion of the trial.

The $70.6 million in released funds increases the estimated total contract with Pratt & Whitney to $778.5 million, Pratt & Whitney announced. The production work will be done in East Hartford.

There are two types of influenza virus — A and B. Hong Kong flu Type A struck in the winter of 1968-69 and was blamed for killing 27,900 Americans and leaving hundreds of thousands memorably ill. The new Type B Hong Kong flu has been occurring in Japan, Australia and England, said Rubin.

Sprucing Up For The Fashion Show
Members of the Manchester Jaycees plan to take about 300 senior citizens of the Manchester area on a tour of the autumn foliage Sunday. This is the 12th consecutive year that the project has been sponsored by the club.

Thomas Hefron, chairman of the event, has announced that two buses, plus additional private drivers, will be used from residents of local rest homes and convalescent hospitals.

The Bloodmobile will make its monthly visit Tuesday, at St. Mary's Church from 10:45 to 5:30 p.m. Mrs. Elaine Sweet, local Red Cross director, urges all those who make appointments to keep them. Last month's collection fell short of the regular 150-pint per visit quota. Despite the over-all increase in donations, the demand constantly escalates. The blood bank is never full enough. Appointments may be made through the local Red Cross office. Walk-in donors will be welcome.

Some of the first moon rocks brought back by the Apollo 11 mission were estimated to be 4.6 billion years old.

There are two theories as to how a new strain appears. One is that it simply is a variation in an existing virus. The other is that it results from a recombination or genetic interchange between a human type of virus and one that affects animals or birds.

Many Gas Stations Reported Failing To Renew Licenses

HARTFORD (AP) — The state Motor Vehicles Department said Thursday 300 Connecticut gasoline stations haven't renewed their business licenses for the coming 12 months. "We were quite taken aback by the number of non-renewals," said Charles Matties, president of the national Retailers Association. He said the 300 stations not applying to stay in business are about 20 per cent of the state's total number of service stations.

Matties said the reduction indicates the large oil companies are trying to eliminate independent dealers. Scarcity of gasoline and federal regulations also have hurt the dealers, he added. Edward L. Simmons, acting director of the Motor Vehicle Department's dealers and repairers division, said the number of service stations in Connecticut is declining after several years of relative stability.

Between the 1971 to 1973 licensing years, the number of authorized stations ranged from 3,782 to 3,750, he said, with new stations roughly offsetting those that went out of business. But for the 1974 licensing period, which began Oct. 1, 895 stations filed for licenses. Simmons said another 280 applications came in after the deadline.

Simmons said the decrease suggested that few new dealers were entering the business. Matties, who also runs a station in Hartford and is vice president of the national Retailers Association, said his group still is trying to analyze the licensing data. But, he said, short supplies of gasoline, policies of the major oil companies and federal price regulations have caused economic problems for independent dealers.

If the bulk of the independents were forced out of business, he said, the major firms would control the flow of gasoline "from the well to the nozzle" at the station pumps. And, he said, dealers leaving their stations from the major firms are receiving letters saying their leases will not be renewed when they expire. Matties leases his station from Exxon.

Simmons said the fuel shortage has reduced the major firms' desire to have "a gas station on every corner." But at the same time, the major firms haven't given up retailing operations, he said. The large firms now are closing some small-volume stations, but are opening other large-volume stations, he said.

SUPPORT A TOTAL PROGRAM to meet our secondary school needs

Complete
This program will benefit all three schools: Manchester High School plus Bennet and Illing Junior Highs

Sensible

The cost has been reduced to $5,600,000. Of this, Manchester's net cost will be $3,159,500.

Reasonable

There is no foreseeable way in which the funding of this program could result in a significant tax increase because older school bonds are due to be retired.

First Time on Top

NEW YORK — This is the first time all season that we have been on top. This has been a very testing year for us, Tom Seaver said as he peeled off his thermal undershorts last night at Shea Stadium shortly after the New York Mets had taken a 2-0 decision over Oakland.

The success gave the Mets a 3-2 edge in the best-of-seven set with the scene now shifting back to Oakland.

Seaver, considered the ace of the Mets' pitching staff, will go against Jim Hunter, Oakland's best in Saturday's sixth game.

"I'm ready," Tom Terrific said as he looked forward to a second meeting with Hunter and the A's. "My job is to give it from the word go with the best that I've got. I'll pitch aggressively, just as I did all year," he said as he fielded questions outside his locker.

Next door, in the manager's office, a happy Yogi Berra was packing his gear for the long trip West. "I've got to pack my glove because I'll be pitching batting practice. We don't have anyone else," he uttered.

No Relaxing Yet

In Berra relaxed now that his club is one game away from a second World Series win?

"I can't relax until this thing is over," came the reply as he plunked down in his swivel chair.

"Pitching got us this far and I have a feeling that it's going to get us all the way," he expressed with a little bit of confidence.

"We just gotta win one more. Hey, this is a funny game. Look at that (Sal) Bando, he got all the easy hops at third base. (Wayne) Garrett didn't have an easy one all night and that catch he made off Jesus Alou was a beauty. I told Garrett to shade the line and not give up any extra base hits on balls down the line." It was a strategic move by Berra and Alou lined a vicious shot at Garrett with runners on first and second. If the ball had gotten through, it would have scored one run and the A's would have had runners on second and third. It was the defensive gem of many turned in on another frosty night before 54,817 fans, to match the attendance figures for the first two games at Shea.

Good Pitching Continues

"We've always believed that good pitching will offset good hitting," Berra said, "and we have been getting good pitching, just like we did in the last month of the season and in the playoffs. It's hard to beat."

Oakland, with a power-laden batting lineup, has yet to reach Met pitching for a home run in five games.

Someone mentioned before the game that Berra was a baseball genius.

"You said that," Berra answered, "not me. If you win, you're a genius and if you lose you are a bum. It's O.K. with me if you guys want to call me a genius if we win and if we lose, I know a lot of writers will call me a bum."

"I've only got one decision and there are 50,000 second guessers in the stands, and you had better be right. If you aren't, you hear about it," he added with a smile.

Berra's moves in both the playoffs and series have left little room for criticism.

Letters Offer Help

The manager's desk was cluttered with several hundred pieces of mail. What in most of them became a question.

"I guess most of them are the usual, asking for my autograph or telling me who to pitch and how to play guys on my club and things like that. I'll open the letters when we get back from Oakland."

Berra made one point. "You know when the wind is blowing, like it has been all three nights here, it's worse on the pitchers than just cold weather. All my guys have been complaining about how cold it is."

Southpaw pitching is a big plus with the Mets and last night a toss-up, comprised of starter Jerry Kosman and reliever Tug McGraw set the A's down with only three hits, all singles and all off the former.

Best Relief Ever

"McGraw has got three good pitches, the screwball, his best pitch, and a curve and fast ball. He's the best relief pitcher that I've ever seen. Yah, he's better than Ryne Duren, Joe Page and Luis Arroyo. They all had just one big pitch. McGraw can get you out with any one of three.

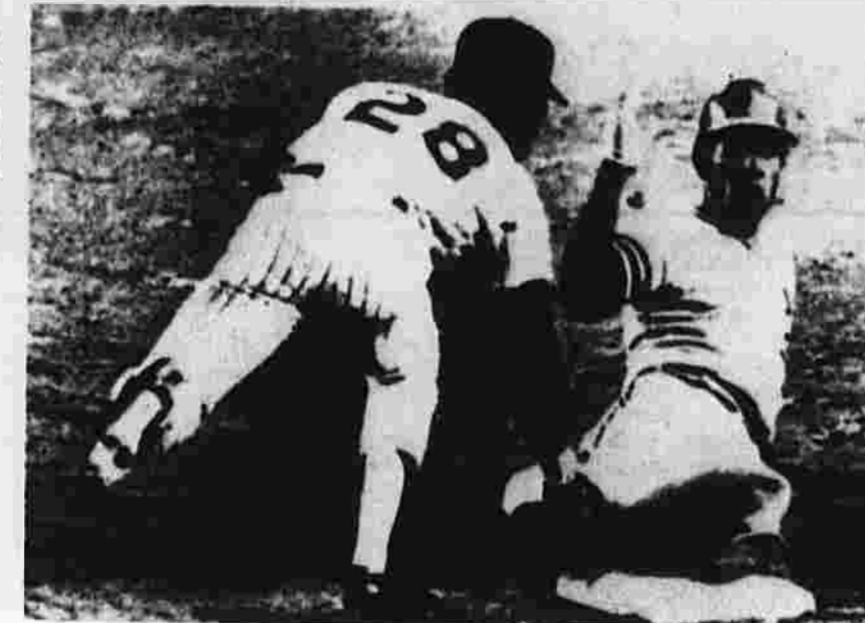

"We've got the best reliever in baseball, and McGraw proved it again tonight."

Good scouting has helped us. Hell, we've not only got the best reliever in baseball but the best pitching staff. It got us this far and I wouldn't trade my pitching coach, Rube Walker, for anyone.

The Mets hope that good mound crew will get them just one more win either Saturday or Sunday.

Amazing Mets Bank on Seaver To Wrap Up Set in Oakland

OAKLAND (AP) — The New York Mets tonight took a 2-0 World Series lead back to Oakland today, hoping to finish the sinking A's with the right-hand punch of ace Tom Seaver.

Although Manager Yogi Berra wouldn't say directly, the New York pilot indicated Thursday night that Seaver would start in Saturday's sixth game in Oakland against the A's Jim "Catfish" Hunter.

"Seaver's arm is fine," said Berra after the Mets won the fifth game 2-0 in New York. "Let's just say that it's a good chance that it might be Seaver."

The hard-throwing ace is the only right-hander among the Mets' starters, but it really doesn't matter which side they've been throwing from in this best-of-seven series. They've shackled the A's power.

Left-handers especially have been awfully tough on the predominantly right-hand Oakland batting order — and Thursday night's performance was a good example.

Southpaw Jerry Kosman started and shut out the A's for 5.5 innings. Left-handed Tug McGraw finished up with a stunning relief performance.

"We've got the best pitching in baseball," said Berra after the victory before a packed house of 54,817 at cold, windy Shea stadium.

"That's what got us here in the first place," he said.

It was apparent from the start that pitching would dominate Thursday night's game. Kosman and Oakland's

Oakland's Campy Campaneris Caught Napping John Milner of Mets Applies Tag in Fifth Inning

Vida Blue were locked in a tense early struggle as the Mets took a 1-0 lead in the second inning on a double by fly-stricken Cleon Jones and a run-scoring single by John Milner.

The Mets had Blue on the ropes in the fourth when Rusty Staub and Jones singled to start the inning, but failed to deliver a knockout blow. Blue pitched out of the jam. He failed, however to survive the sixth, when the Mets scored their second run on a single by Jerry Grote and triple play by Don Hahn.

"I was the most important hit of my life," said Hahn, who isn't normally known for game-winning hits. "It gave Jerry more of a cushion to work with."

Blue exploded a fastball inside and Hahn hit it into the left-center field alley.

"I was kind of tight in the first four games," said the softspoken center fielder. "But Buddy (Hareless) told me I'd been too tight standing at the plate. So I went up there super relaxed tonight."

"I felt I could hit anybody. I had super confidence. That insurance run looked big in the late going when Kosman got into trouble. In the seventh inning, he walked Gene Tenace and gave up a one-out double to Ray Fosse that put men on se-

Hero Role for Mets Passed by Fielders

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets' outfield has passed the hero role around.

Last Sunday, left fielder Cleon Jones hit a home run in the second game of the World Series against the Oakland A's.

Wednesday night it was Rusty Staub. He played with a sore right shoulder, without a sweatshirt and had three singles and a three-run homer as the Mets won 6-1.

Thursday night it was Don Hahn, who keeps warm by playing with a sweatshirt. He had a RBI-triple in the Mets' 2-0 victory.

The triumph gave New York a 3-2 lead and hopes of ending the season Sunday in Oakland, where Tom Seaver, probably, and Jim "Catfish" Hunter battle in game No. 6.

"I'm not unaccustomed to the hero's role," said Hahn, whose sixth-inning triple sent Jerry Grote home with an insurance run. "Remember I won the big game in Pittsburgh."

Their scouting report must have called for me to hit to right-center," said the 25-year-old blond outfielder. "The last three weeks I've been hitting the ball well, but not getting too much."

In a col and wet afternoon, Timothy Edward's Peter Denno shattered the Center Spring's record in a clocking of 9:46 over the 1.6-mile distance.

His team, however, could only manage a split in the triangular meet yesterday, defeating Brent's 25-29 and losing to Hing 24-33. Hing defeated Brent 23-36 as they garnered enough top positions to nail down a double victory.

Results: 1. Denno E 9:46, 2. Federich J 3, Jones B 4, Lemieux J 5, Lyon B 6, Anderson L 7, Falicelli B 8, Baker I 9, Sweet E 10, O'Reilly E 11, Cole B 12, Anderson I 13, Billard I 14, Talbot I 15, Williams B.

Tribe Plays Home, Dedication Listed

Dallas Dodge

MANCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL GRIDIRON elevens didn't fail too well a week ago. In fact, they were miserable.

East Catholic got clobbered by East Hartford, 64-44 at the same time, Coach Larry Olsen's Manchester team was getting murdered by the abysmal score of 8-0 by Bristol Central, the eighth ranked high school team in latest Connecticut polls.

You say things can't get much worse. Well, Eagle Coach John LaFontana runs into a monumental task of facing the No. 1 team in the state, the Xavier Falcons of Middletown Saturday night at Middletown's Palmer Field. Coach Larry McHugh's Xavier team is 9-0 this year and has an unbeaten streak stretching to 32, which is just one short of the state record held by New Canaan High.

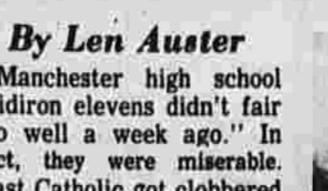

The Falcons are deep in Homecoming for Manchester High as they host Maloney High of Meriden on newly re-dedicated Memorial Field. The 1-30 game will include at halftime dedication ceremonies of the track and baseball field in honor of Pete Wigren and tailback Joseph Outlaw.

Manchester is 1-31 while Maloney is 1-31 OCL action. 4 overall, so Saturday's game will go a long way in some face-saving.

Maloney, under Coach Ray Mainville, depends upon quarterback Robert Sternberg and tailback Joseph Outlaw to generate the offense. They will follow by the interference provided by Co-Captain Gerald Miller from his guard slot.

Defensively, Miller is the standard to watch.

Olsen will counter with Rick Maloney at the signal-caller, Jack Maloney and Scott Odeli join Mike on the offensive platoon. The Manchester mentor has mentioned the possibility of some changes in the forward wall, being displeased with what has seen thus far, but any change depends on how well certain individuals performed in practice sessions.

Defensively, the talents of tackle Dallas Dodge and linebackers Steve Dwyer and Steve Melia are utilized to stop any thrusts forward.

Olsen's biggest concern this week was getting his team "emotionally ready" for Maloney. His team must be demoralized after last week's shattering loss to Maloney. He has been practically from the ground up.

Not being in enemy territory for a change of pace should lighten the load somewhat. His team wants to make a good showing before local boosters and Olsen definitely wants to impress Birk City fans with a win in his home debut.

Soccer Practice Listed for Grids

The annual Manchester High Alumni-Varsity soccer game is scheduled Saturday, Nov. 3, at the high school soccer field.

All former members of the Manchester varsity soccer team are invited to attend practice Saturday morning at 10:30 and to participate in this event.

For further information, contact assistant soccer coach Doug Pearson at 872-8828.

Tech Booters Blanked By Coventry High, 6-0

With hopes of coming back after trailing only 14-0 at halftime, the Cheney Tech soccer team couldn't stand properly as it was assailed for five second half goals and lost a 6-0 decision to Coventry High yesterday.

The Patriots had a well-balanced offense as five different performers put points on the board. Scoring twice for Coventry was Whipple while singletons were registered by Ewell, Carleton, Taylor and Phillips. They got one tally in the first, three in the third quarter and two in the final stanza.

Coventry kept pressure on throughout as Cheney nemineer Mike Herrick was called on to make 30 saves. His teammates could, however, only launch six shots-on-goal.
