Smoking Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Women who work outside the home smoke more than do housewives, a new government study shows. The report also shows that smoking rates were highest for divorced or separated women and for those who ended their education with high school but that fewer women were smoking in 1970 than in 1966.

Political Snags

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three early Republican hopefuls for the 1976 presidential nomination have run into snags — perhaps demonstrating the unpredictability of premature presidential politics. California Gov. Ronald Reagan suffered a setback last week when California voters rejected a constitutional amendment he supported. New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller suffered an array of setbacks as a number of traditionally conservative GOP areas in upstate New York showed a decline in Republican voting strength. And former Texas Gov. John Connally's star dimmed amid last month's GOP outcry at the possibility he might become vice president.

Life Changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Life isn't what it used to be, says Elizabeth Ford, wife of Vice President-designate Gerald R. Ford. The Fords still live in the same unpretentious, four-bedroom home in Alexandria, Va., they've lived in for the past 19 years. But now a secret service van sits in their driveway and agents answer their telephone.

Find More Victims

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Two men in custody here on charges of 11 execution-style murders have information about at least six other killings, police say. Two unidentified bodies were found Sunday in the California Sierra Mountains. The search for bodies followed the zig-zag path of William Steelman, 28, of Lodi, Calif., and Douglas Gretzler, 22, of New York City, who were captured last Thursday in Sacramento, Calif. They were charged with nine counts of murder each in the mass execution slayings of nine persons last Tuesday in the home of Victor, Calif., food market owner Walter Parkin. They already were wanted in Arizona, charged with killing a young man and woman. Since their arrest, authorities say they have discovered five more murder victims in California and Arizona areas visited over the past month by Steelman and Gretzler.

Energy Crisis Dominates Congressional Schedules

WASHINGTON (AP) — With predictions of gasoline rationing coming again from the administration, the nation's energy crisis dominates this week's schedule of activity in Congress.

Three Senate committees called hearings for today on aspects of legislation requested by President Nixon to deal with the immediate problem.

The Public Works subcommittee on air and water pollution took up a bill by its chairman, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, for temporary waiver of clean-air standards to permit prompt conversion to high-sulphur fuels, such as coal.

The Senate Commerce Committee considered a bill to return the nation to daylight saving time. Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., promised committee approval Tuesday or Wednesday and possible passage by both houses of Congress by the end of the week.

The Senate Interior Committee expected to complete action by tonight on emergency legislation by its chairman, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., incorporating most of President Nixon's energy-saving proposals.

The House, meanwhile, planned to take up today the compromise bill to expedite construction of the Alaska oil pipeline. Senate action is due Tuesday.

The forecast of gasoline rationing came Sunday from Secretary of the Interior Rogers C.B. Morton. He said on the ABC program "Issues and Answers" that rationing could be a reality in the first quarter of next year and could last up to two years.

Meanwhile, Rep. Lester L. Wolff, D-N.Y., says he has asked the General Accounting Office to look into charges that American oil companies escaped Cost of Living Council regulations by shipping oil overseas for reimportation to the United States.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., assigned top Senate priority, possibly beginning Tuesday, to the Jackson emergency energy bill. The House Commerce Committee set a hearing on the emergency energy legislation for Wednesday. The committee will consider year-around daylight saving time Tuesday.

On other matters, the Senate Judiciary Committee and a House Judiciary subcommittee hold closed-door meetings Tuesday to consider legislation to authorize a special Watergate prosecutor to be appointed by the U.S. District Court.

The Senate Watergate Committee resumes hearings Tuesday, quizzing officials of seven companies involved in questioned contributions to Nixon's re-election campaign.

The Senate Rules Committee is due to complete hearings Wednesday on the nomination of Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., to be vice president. The House Judiciary Committee begins its hearings on Thursday.

The House will recess for Thanksgiving from the close of business Thursday until Nov. 26. The Senate Thanksgiving recess is set to begin with the close of business Nov. 21.

Nixon To Brief GOP Congressmen On Watergate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, intensifying efforts to explain his side of the Watergate matter to congressional Republicans, has scheduled a half-dozen meetings with GOP legislators this week.

The meetings, disclosed Sunday by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and confirmed by a Nixon spokesman, are in addition to a previously planned White House breakfast with the Republican Coordinating Committee today.

Speaking on the NBC program "Meet the Press," Percy said every GOP member of Congress would attend one of the six meetings, and "at least nine hours will be spent by the President being interrogated by members of the Congress."

The White House said three meetings would be held with House Republicans and three with GOP senators. Nixon eventually will meet with some Democratic congressmen, but no schedule for that has been set, it said. Nixon had conferred with GOP leaders of Congress Friday.

A presidential spokesman said Nixon wanted "to have full and open communications" with the Republican legislators

"on Watergate-related matters and on other matters as well." The lawmakers will be able to ask questions, and such White House locations as the state dining room and the library have been chosen so as to make the atmosphere less formal than the President's office, the spokesman said.

Nixon returned to the White House Sunday afternoon after a weekend stay at his Camp David mountaintop retreat in Maryland. Aides said the President cabled congratulations to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger on the Middle East truce agreement and gave Kissinger further instructions for his current talks in Peking.

Mostly clear tonight. Low around 30. Partly sunny Tuesday. High in the mid 50's. Precipitation probability 10 per cent tonight, 20 per cent Tuesday.

Commuter Bus Passes To Be Sold

Monthly passes for the Burr Corners-to-downtown Hartford commuter express buses will go on sale Nov. 27, the Connecticut Department of Transportation (DOT) has announced.

Monthly passes will cost $17, and will be sold at the DOT's Burr Corners bus terminal between 7 and 9 a.m.

State Transportation Commissioner Joseph Burns, announcing availability of monthly passes on all five of the DOT's Avon-to-Hartford commuter bus express bus operations, said the DOT wants to do everything possible "to make these commuter runs more attractive to potential riders."

"Reduced monthly fares, plus the rising cost of gasoline as well as the pressing need to conserve our energy resources, should draw more and more passengers onto these buses," Burns said.

Monthly commuter bus passes on the DOT's Avon-to-Hartford commuter bus have been in use for some time.

Kissinger Meets With Mao Tse-Tung

PEKING (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met with Mao Tse-tung for two hours Monday night, but details of their talks were not disclosed.

It was the third time Kissinger and the Communist party chairman met. The first time was in February 1972 during President Nixon's visit to China. The second was in February of this year.

Kissinger met earlier with Premier Chou En-lai for the third time in three days. Their third session lasted three hours amid much speculation, but no concrete information about their talks.

Tribute Paid To Veterans

America's armed forces veterans "are the thread that makes the fabric of our national life strong," Army National Guard Lt. Col. Nathan Agostinelli said Sunday, praising veterans in Veterans Day ceremonies conducted at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

The more-than-28 million living armed forces veterans, Agostinelli said, represent a cross-section of American society, but they have much in common. "They share an American hatred for war, for its destruction and desolation. They have known its ravages and the suffering it brings. They wish, like men of reason everywhere, for peace," Agostinelli said.

"But these veterans know, better than anyone else could know, that peace can only be won and preserved by a people who are willing and strong enough to defend it," he said, adding, "They know that its defense requires continued vigilance and sacrifice."

Agostinelli, former Manchester mayor and now state comptroller, was main speaker for the Veterans Day ceremonies on the hospital's front lawn. (The text of Agostinelli's speech is on Page 2)

In his remarks, Agostinelli thanked Connecticut Gov. Thomas Meskill and the state's General Assembly for the opportunity to celebrate Veterans Day on its "proper anniversary date" — Nov. 11. Connecticut is one of only four states still observing the holiday on the original date, originally proclaimed as Armistice Day by President Woodrow Wilson on Nov. 11, 1918, when World War I ended. Most other states, and the federal government, observed the holiday Oct. 22.

Because Nov. 11 fell on a Sunday this year, many businesses, as well as governmental offices and schools, were noting the day today. Sunday's ceremonies at Manchester Memorial Hospital featured several other speakers besides Agostinelli. They were Peter Vendrillo, past chairman of the Veterans Council of Manchester; Ed Dupre, present Veterans Council chairman; and Jonathan Laws, commander of Manchester's World War I barracks.

The East Hampton Fire and Drum Corps offered a musical selection, and Wilbur Little, past commander of the American Legion in Manchester, recited "Flanders Field."

The invocation and benediction were offered by the Rev. Jean Gilbert, Manchester Memorial Hospital chaplain.

Israel May Be Given Guarantee Of American Defense

By The Associated Press

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger may propose a treaty in which the U.S. government would guarantee to defend Israel if attacked, American officials with Kissinger in Peking reported today.

Associated Press correspondent Barry Schweid reported from the Chinese capital that such a treaty would assure Israel the permanent support of its only large ally.

But Israel also would be warned that any strike against an Arab neighbor would have to be maintained without U.S. support.

In the wake of the signing, Sunday of the new cease-fire agreement, Kissinger-negotiated last week, Israeli and Egyptian officers met today at the cease-fire line on the west bank of the Suez Canal for negotiations to carry out the agreement.

As they did, Premier Golda Meir of Israel told newsmen in London that Egypt must quickly lift its blockade of the Bab el-Mandeb Strait at the entrance to the Red Sea.

"A cease-fire does not mean merely the end of artillery and bombing attacks," Mrs. Meir added. She was in London for a meeting of the Socialist International, of which her Labor party is a member.

The 75-year-old Israeli leader said despite the cease-fire accord with Egypt the situation in Syria is "extremely dangerous." The Syrians have stayed clear of the latest truce agreement, although abiding by the U.N. cease-fire of Oct. 23. They were not participating in the talks at Kilometer 101 on the Suez-Cairo highway in

Nixon Releases Notes To Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today that he will turn over to a federal court additional personal notes and dictation belts and further reels of White House tapes in an effort to clear up "once and for all" doubts about two crucial Watergate conversations.

The White House announced two weeks ago that subpoenaed tapes of the two conversations did not exist. Today, a White House lawyer said a subpoenaed recording supposedly dictated by Nixon did not exist.

In an announcement, Nixon said he has also agreed that a court-approved independent expert "employing the most advanced technological methods can examine all tapes in ques-

SBA Loan Bill Faces Delay Pending Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Potentially criminal abuses in the Small Business Administration's lending operations have been reported by a House Banking subcommittee.

A member of the subcommittee told The Associated Press the allegations include the possible influence of organized crime on SBA loan activities and the discovery of millions of dollars in bad debts.

The subcommittee on Small Business turned its evidence over to the Justice Department last week and has summoned the SBA's top auditor, Frank Nicholas, to appear before it Wednesday.

It also recommended, in effect, that Congress stop the SBA from making more loans until criminal investigations are completed.

In a letter to Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman, subcommittee chairman Robert Stephens said his group had "uncovered some serious problems in the administration of SBA offices and their loan and guarantee programs. Some of the problems are so severe that criminal prosecution may be in order."

Because of this, Stephens said, "it would be unwise for Egypt, where the new truce was signed Sunday.

The Egyptians were anxious to get a corridor opened through the Israeli lines to the town of Suez and the Egyptian 3rd Army on the east bank of the canal.

The Israelis gave top priority to arranging an exchange of prisoners of war and removal of Egypt's blockade on Israeli shipping at the southern end of the Red Sea.

The cease-fire pact, worked out during U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's swing through the Middle East last week, was signed Sunday by Maj. Gen. Aharon Yariv, the assistant Israeli chief of staff, and Maj. Gen. Mohammed Abdul Ghani Gamazy, the second-ranking officer in the Egyptian army.

They met in a U.N. tent at Kilometer 101 on the Cairo-Suez road, 60 miles from the Egyptian capital.

It was the first formal agreement signed by Arab and Israeli representatives in a face-to-face meeting since the 1949 armistice that ended the first Arab-Israeli war.

tion for any evidence of alteration to the tapes."

Nixon said he is taking these steps to "help determine the substance of all nine conversations subpoenaed by the court."

Watergate prosecutors had subpoenaed nine White House Watergate-related tape recordings and allied documents.

Nixon said "there is no question in my mind but that the open court hearing, now being conducted, will demonstrate the truth of our statements that these conversations were never recorded."

He referred to a four-minute talk with former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell on June 20, 1972 and a 55-minute session with former White House counsel John W. Dean III on April 15, 1973.

Congress to grant the agency more than $2 billion of new loan authority until the problems are corrected and criminal investigations are concluded.

Stephens asked Patman for the full committee's concurrence in the subcommittee's action last Thursday, to table a pending Senate-passed bill which would raise the SBA lending ceiling to $6.6 billion.

The SBA was created to help small businessmen who can't get credit through traditional channels. It can lend only up to its statutory ceiling, currently $4.3 billion, and then is precluded from further activity until outstanding loans are repaid.

Stephens noted that the SBA is expected to exhaust its supply of loan money by late November.

Proclaiming the first Armistice Day, President Wilson said: "To us in America, the reflections of Armistice Day will be filled with solemn pride in the heroism of those who died in the country's service, and with gratitude for the victory, both because of the thing from which it has freed us, and because of the opportunity it gives America to show her sympathy with peace and justice in the council of nations."

Array of LTM Stars Score in 'Fiddler'

June B. Tompkins Had it been in Hollywood, the cast would have been like an array of stars from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios. Instead, the array of stars from the Little Theatre of Manchester filled the stage for LTM's presentation of "Fiddler on the Roof."

The musical drama opened Friday night at East Catholic High School for LTM's final theatrical show of the current season. What more is there to be said than has already been said about the story of an ethnic group who adheres to tradition in the old country in the face of obstacles — a story which has become immortalized with the memorable, haunting tunes by Bock and Hartwick. The character Tevye, who is the hero of the show, is also known behind the scenes as Buzh Hal.

Heralding Politics

In this age of specialization, when more and more functions are being pigeonholed and when more and more organizations are being formed to represent special groups, it's no wonder that even such a community-minded body as Manchester's Human Relations Commission is being caught in the squeeze — its purpose being diminished and its functions reduced. As a consequence, the commission is requesting revisions in its ordinance — adopted in August 1964 and unchanged to the present.

Manchester's nine directors receive $4,850 combined per year. The voters Tuesday rejected a pay raise which would have brought the figure to $9,700 combined per year. In comparison, the town manager gets $27,000, and the assistant town manager $16,200. The $4,850 combined total for all nine directors compares also with other elected officials — the town clerk, who gets $17,100; the town treasurer, $5,000; and the registrar of voters, $5,000.

Campaign Spending Law

In Congress and in the Connecticut Assembly it is almost a certainty that campaign fundraising activities and campaign spending laws are going to be changed.
Already many suggestions are being made and in the Congress actual bills are under study by committees.
The main thrust of the thinking at this time seems to be in the area of limits on individual contributions on the one side and limits on spending by a candidate on the other side.
The problem is a complex one.
First, while large contributions can be made with strings attached, it is also a fact that many are not.
Second, large contributions from individuals or "fat cats" have been a part of political life since the beginning because there haven't been enough small contributions to fill candidate and party war chests. The fact is that it costs money to seek public office and it costs money to maintain yourself in public office.
Third, certain political personalities can attract money and votes more easily than others. It is not uncommon for a candidate with a large popular following to be literally wallowing in money while his party has to resort to the devious practice of "loans" which we have stated before can be just as compromising as a large contribution with strings attached.
Fourth, limiting a candidate to certain limits, five or ten cents a voter, is only part of the answer since one of the real problem areas of campaign financing is the "committees for..." which are set up to represent almost every ethnic, religious, professional, and what-have-you special interest group in the country. Clamping down on what a candidate can personally spend is but the tip of the iceberg.
And finally, can we constitutionally really limit what an individual wants to give to a candidate or a party? We can provide penalties if the contribution is actually a proven payment for legislation or lack of legislation contrary to the public interest. But can we really, by law, say no man can give a million bucks to the Republicans or Democrats or a candidate he believes in when he does so without expecting anything in return except victory for his party or candidate?

It appears to us that perhaps the limitation approach is being looked from the wrong end of the telescope. Instead of limiting candidate expenditures we should seek out a formula which would limit party spending.
In other words, it should be established what is a reasonable and justified cost for a campaign for each office and relate this to the constituency represented by that office.
By limiting through an equitable formula what each party can spend we can pinpoint the accountability for the funds to the party, not only as to source, but where and how expended.
The party would be custodian of all funds raised and fund disbursements. There would no competition within the party for funds on behalf of individual candidates; no "paper" committees to circumvent the law; and no need for hundreds of disclosure reports since there would be but one from each major political party engaged in the campaign.
The individual could give what he wanted and would know his contribution would be a matter of public record. The onus of raising political funds would rest with the party and therefore the party would either have to make a concerted effort to sell itself as a party worthy of public money support or explain why it continues to rely on the "fat cats."
The lid must be put on political spending. It must be fair to the candidates, to the parties, and above all to the people. It must be legitimized. We think this can be done by putting the lid on the top — and forget about limiting what each candidate can spend or each individual can give because we have tried these before and the record is clear that such limitations can and have been easily circumvented.
By making the political parties the fund-raisers and the campaign financiers, then the candidates can devote their time to the issues and bring the party's cause to the people without the need for passing the hat or rattling a tainted political tin cup.
This would put our political parties in the driver's seat — but isn't that what the party system of democracy is all about?

Will Baghdad Play?

BAGHDAD — Unprecedented strains on Iraq's relationship with its less militant neighbors, particularly Syria, and with its treaty benefactor, the Soviet Union, may be opening the way for a far more flexible Baghdad foreign and commercial policy, with important prospects for Washington.
Possibly reflecting this change, Saddam Hussein, the most resourceful and powerful figure here as vice president of the ruling Revolutionary Command Council (RCC), hinted to us in his first postwar interview with a Western reporter that a reappraisal of relations with the U.S. might be in order.
"Severance of diplomatic relations (broken during the six-day war of 1972)," he said, "should not be permanent. As a matter of fact, there are many countries with disagreements who maintain diplomatic relations."
Likewise, the suave and dapper handsome Hussein carelessly indicated that Iraq's awards of multi-million-dollar development contracts to U.S. concerns in the last few months would not be revoked (assuming the war isn't renewed).
"If America makes a bid better than others, we waste no time to make the award," he told us. "We cannot lock up in a safe."
Often viewed by the West as Arab enemy No. 1, Iraq was treated by other Arab states as a poor relation before, during and after the war of Yom Kippur. It was relentlessly ignored.
For example, despite the clear language of Article 8 in its 1972 treaty with Moscow — that Iraq had no right to unilateral consultation for immediate consultation in "situations... which threaten the peace of either" — the RCC had no hint from Moscow that war was imminent. Nor did it have a word of consultation on Moscow's sudden decision to try to end it with a joint U.S. ceasefire appeal.
The first public comment on the war by Iraq's tightly controlled press on Oct. 6, the day Israeli forces were attacked, was a short radio commentary calling the war just another "imperialist plot." On Sunday, Oct. 7, a key Arab diplomat here received this urgent question from the RCC: "Is this war serious?"
On being told it was, Iraq immediately dispatched two armored brigades and part of a third division to the Syrian Mt. Hermon front on the Golan Heights. Its air force went into action both on the Syrian and Egyptian fronts.
So unprepared was Iraq that it had to send its tanks to the Syrian front on their own tracks; some 500 miles over paved roads. Carriers were borrowed from Saudi Arabia and possibly Kuwait, which picked up the tanks halfway. Although Iraq casualties in the bloody Golan battles were extremely high, Arab diplomats here claim Iraq closed a gap on Syria's northern Golan front

Rejoice

WASHINGTON — A couple of Supreme Court votes should be of more than cursory interest to the citizen who can differentiate between basic constitutional rights and the right of a businessman to run his own shop.
In a unanimous decision, the Court properly reversed the disorderly conduct conviction of a 60-year-old Cincinnati man on the grounds that the city ordinance involved "operated" to punish his constitutionally protected speech. By an 8-to-1 vote, the Court upheld the right of a New Orleans hotel to refuse to serve women in its men's grill.
Edward Norwell, the Cincinnati defendant, had reacted even as you and I might have done when a policeman tried to question him while he was walking home late at night. He objected. Or, as the Court put it, "he verbally and negatively protested." The Court found Norwell had not used any "abusive language or fighting words" and ruled that "one is not to be punished for non-provocatively voicing his objection to what he obviously felt was a highly questionable detention."
As a veteran law-and-order type, I can buy that. A cop has a right to approach an individual and ask him if he'd mind answering a few questions, especially at nighttime in these wild days. But whether the individual is a junkie or an errant husband creeping home from a lodge meeting, he has the right to say, in effect, yup, I do mind. More, he has a right to protest the cop's action, as long as his language is reasonably civil and contains no threats.
Cops, bless their oft-frustrated hearts, are neither judges nor juries. They cannot conduct a trial on a street corner and may poke their noses into an individual's business only with permission. True, this constitutional dictum frequently is more honored in the breach, but it remains on the books.
There was no evidence that Norwell was accused in the vicinity of a just-committed crime, nor that he was what police call a "known" suspect.

Today's Thought

"He brought me forth also into a large place" Ps. 18:19
A vision of God gives us new horizons, a mind free to learn and grow in appreciation, for truth and beauty and goodness have endless forms and wide dwellings, and all of them come from the mind and love of God.
When confronted with difficulties, we need to tap the potential resources placed within us by God. For example, the incentive of love enables us to great things, giving us the courage to confront our difficulties and by God's help and grace to solve them.

Lottery Winnings Unclaimed

HARTFORD (AP) — Forty-five people holding winning Connecticut lottery tickets have not picked up their prize money, and for 22 of them it's too late, lottery Director John F. Winchester reports.
He said all 45 were entitled to at least $5,000 each but 22 failed to submit their winning tickets before time ran out.
Winners have one year from the date of their ticket purchase to claim their money.
Unclaimed prize money is put back into the lottery pool.
Winchester said the 23 people still eligible have not yet passed the year deadline and still are entitled to $5,000 each and have a chance for the top $75,000 prize or the second place $15,000 award.
Sales of the 50-cent state lottery tickets totaled $124,944,082 since the lottery was born in February 1972 through Oct. 25 this year, he said.

Financial Procedure Hearing Set

By GARY LUHR

Associated Press Writer HARTFORD (AP) - A hearing at the capital Nov. 29 will give state lawmakers their first taste of public reaction to a proposed major overhaul of local financing procedures - a fundamental issue that will come before the 1974 general assembly.

The legislature's Finance Committee has prepared a 96-page bill recommending more than 20 changes in municipal financing procedures including:

- A uniform fiscal year for every town including a uniform property assessment date.

- Full value assessment.

- Greater restrictions on local debts.

- Greater control by local governments over school board budgets.

Copies of the bill have been sent to officials in all 169 Connecticut towns. The measure is designed, the committee says, to "modernize" local finance systems, give citizens greater control over financial matters and carry out many recommendations of the governor's tax reform commission.

Proposed assessment changes are likely to stir the greatest controversy. A bill requiring all towns to assess property at 100 per cent of its fair market value was introduced late in the 1973 session and never passed.

Currently, property is assessed at levels ranging from 50 per cent to 100 per cent with most towns assessing it at 60-85 per cent of actual value.

To avoid the tremendous tax increase full reassessment would cause in most towns, the bill prohibits municipalities from adopting budgets that would cause the local tax rate to increase more than two mills or 3 per cent (whichever is greater) from one year to the next. The limit could be exceeded if a majority of voters in a town approved a higher rate in a referendum.

The bill would set July 1 to June 30 as the standard fiscal year for all towns and require all property to be assessed on Oct. 1 each year.

Another major change would give local governments limited control over school district budgets. In addition to setting spending limits for specific school budget items, the bill allows towns to transfer the unspent portion of any itemized appropriation to non-school functions.

It also requires town approval for teachers' contracts before binding as opposed to the present system which makes them binding automatically unless a town specifically rejects them.

Unspent portions of any itemized appropriation to non-school functions.

The Bayers will receive the State of Israel "Shalom Award," in recognition of their devoted service to Israel. Meister is professor of Sacred Scriptures at Holy Cross Monastery, Exopus, N.Y., and director of the Ramapo Institute, a "think tank," in Rockland County, N.Y., specializing in international law and international relations. Hong Kong Faces Influx Of Chinese

HONG KONG (AP) - China is allowing more legal emigration than at any time since the Communists took over the mainland in 1949. This has created a serious housing and welfare problem for already overcrowded Hong Kong because the emigrants have nowhere to go here.

Building up throughout most of the year, the influx of Chinese to the Communist-occupied mainland privately call "near crisis" stage late in October.

Some 7,000 Chinese with legal exit visas crossed the border into Hong Kong in October, and 2,100 crossed in the first five days of November.

Since the first of the year, more than 46,000 Chinese have been permitted to leave China. In all of 1972, there were about 5,800. And in 1971, 5,200.

These figures do not include the "illegal" Chinese refugees who flee China in fishing junks or by swimming to Hong Kong. Government officials and social workers estimated that between 12,000 and 15,000 a year but no one knows for sure. Once in Hong Kong, the "illegals" lose themselves to hillside squatter but areas and jammed tenement buildings.

Social service officials say virtually all of the 46,000 legal emigrants so far this year are still in Hong Kong because they have no onward visas to enter other countries. There is a general feeling here that many will not be able to get these visas. "They are here. It looks like they are going to have to stay here. And if the influx continues at this pace, we are going to have very serious difficulties indeed in caring for them," said one social service official.

Officials here say they they don't know for sure why China has permitted so many more legal exits this year.

These officials do point out, however, that a considerable number are overseas Chinese from Southeast Asian countries who returned to China in the 1960s.

There are indications that many of these had become disillusioned with life in China and have wanted out for several years - but no explanation of why China has suddenly agreed to let them depart at this time.

Many came originally from Indonesia, Malaysia, Cambodia, and South Vietnam. When they left for China they lost their citizenship or residence rights in those countries.

"And," said one Hong Kong official, "those countries don't seem to want them back and other countries don't want them - and so Hong Kong has to absorb them."

Answers Printing Needs
Perhaps you know what you need but you don't know how to get it. Perhaps you have a message that you need to get across to the recipient. From all of this, you can see that Community Press is certainly a busy place, but the reason is a very good one. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Larson, owners of the business are experts in the field of printing. Both are always interested in the problems of their customers; they take a very real and personal interest in seeing that every printing job turned out here is done exactly as their clients expect.

"The Gallery With A Difference"
Is it just a slogan or is there a real difference? Yes, there is a difference! We have been at our present location for 5 1/2 years, in the Volatile World of Art that alone is enough to make us unique and to assure you, our client, that your purchase, be it oils, linoleum, prints, or other artifacts, can be cared for by someone you know and trust. Hugh Foster and Judy Anderson have been with Scherle Galleries of Manchester since its inception. High, the owner and manager, is here at least five days a week and his knowledge and experience with artists from the local area, as well as international figures in the art world, is uniquely qualified to select works of art that have a high potential for growth in value. With his background and experience in purchasing the large volume of art which passes through the gallery annually, he is sure to be able to help you select the necessary works and framing to create the mood and accents for the most effective and beautiful home. "Layaway" is one of our services to you—use it. It allows you to own works of art that would otherwise be only a wish or a dream. "Layaway" does make it possible to do your shopping for those special people on your list. Share the beauty you enjoy so much with a lasting and unique gift for those you love. Your own home decorated with fine quality art and great gifts for those special people on your list. Share the beauty you enjoy so much with a lasting and unique gift for those you love. Never fear that the gift of an original will not please—our exchange policy will assure that the recipient will be satisfied. Yes, indeed this is a "Gallery With A Difference." Personal service by people who care. Known and respected business establishment. We believe quality should be the primary consideration with price being secondary. We believe customer satisfaction is our most valuable asset. Hugh says that now is the time to get your custom framing of needlework, prints, photos, or other objects that you will need before the holidays to avoid the last minute rush.

A public hearing on a proposed 120-bed convalescent home on Regan Rd., Vernon, will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Administration Building, by the Planning Commission. Dr. Duard Bok of Rt. 30, Vernon, is asking for a special permit to construct the facility in a residential zone. The state Department of Health has approved a 96-bed facility and the remaining beds would be used for ambulatory patients. The estimated cost of the home is $1.8 million and the site consists of 10 acres which was proposed for multi-family construction several years ago and at that time residents of the area opposed the project. At Tuesday's hearing, Dr. Bok is expected to bring a comprehensive development plan to include landscaping, drainage and lighting proposals. The commission will also hear a request from Connecticut Light and Power, for a special permit on Maple St. property owned by the town and in a residential zone. CL&P has a plan of development for the property. At a meeting to follow the

Save Fuel, Says McCoy

A memorandum from Mayor Frank McCoy, directed to all Vernon departments, including the Board of Education, urges all town departments to conserve fuel and gasoline. The mayor said, "Until further regulations are issued, every department head should give immediate consideration to control of motor vehicle and other gas consuming equipment in order to conserve materials that are in short supply." He said that conservation applies particularly to the use of fuel oil in public buildings and he recommended that the temperature be kept at from 65 to 67 degrees. He suggested that the temperature be further reduced when offices and buildings are closed for the weekends or holidays. In a letter to Mayor Richard Lindsay, Vernon Police Department is keeping with the spirit of the conservation program. The temperature in the police station is being kept at 65 to 67 degrees. Vernon Notes

In celebration of National Children's Book Week the Rockville Public Library's junior wing will feature an exhibit of more than 300 new books for children. The theme for the week is "Live, Read." For the youngest library patrons, new picture books have been added and much of the non-fiction area has been expanded with very simple books so that all children can learn the same factual material at any age from books geared to their reading level, Mrs. Luella Danley, librarian said. There are books on ecology, flying saucers, rocketry and lasers. Mrs. Danley said this collection is in keeping with the knowledge that children are far more sophisticated than they were several years ago. Grant Considered An application for a grant of $4,350, submitted by the Town of Vernon, is being considered by the Planning Commission on Criminal Administration when it meets Wednesday in Hartford. The town has applied for the grant to purchase a three-wheel motorcycle to change the foot patrol of the Vernon Police Department to a mobile patrol in the Rockville area. The Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church of Vernon will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. when a panel discussion on "A Women's Fellowship" will be held. MACC News

The Division of Special Ministries of the Manchester Area Conference of Churches met recently at Concordia Lutheran Church under the chairmanship of Miss Barbara Baker. Elected as co-chairperson for the division was Mrs. JoAnn Marshall.

"People need people" could be called the theme of the meeting. The division operates on the philosophy that where groups of people have special needs which are not being met by public or private agencies, programs should be designed and generated to minister to those needs.

The former Manchester Council of Churches arose to meet such a flat need — a minister serves for patients at Manchester Memorial Hospital who were not affiliated to a church. Within the enlarged scope of the Manchester Area Conference of Churches, the maintenance and expansion of the chaplaincy program is a function of a subdivision of this same division.

Cooperation between the division and community groups occurs consistently within the capacity of the division personnel and its resources. Their assistance is sought increasingly in enlisting church members to give some time to helping others.

The Voluntary Action Program of the Community College needs people for a variety of tasks. Those concerned for the rights of the retarded seek advocates for people at Mansfield and for individuals who are able to live in the community but lack the bridge between themselves and the community. These are some of the concerns of the division.

Most recently, the handicapped have indicated the need for assistance in transportation if they are to meet. Persons interested in assisting in any of these areas may contact the division through Miss Baker at 649-9249.

The T and A Club is alive. Some members who are in their "twenties and almost" met under the aegis of the division. The group is presently engaged in organizational planning and will announce its next meeting. Projected for December is a Christmas party, the date to be set soon.

The conference office has distributed brochures received from the Connecticut Council of Churches regarding the Conference of Christian-Jewish Relations scheduled for Nov. 19. The Conference is sponsored

Road Crews Said Understaffed

HARTFORD (AP) — A Democratic state representative has stated state highway maintenance crews are understaffed by 86 men.

Rep. Thomas O'Dea, D-New Haven, released a copy of a personnel request from the Department of Transportation to state Finance Commissioner Adolf Carlson requesting authority to fill the positions.

The request, dated Nov. 1, said the department presently has 1,823 hourly paid employees in its four highway districts. It said the number recommended in the Eberington Report was 1,918.

The request said the manpower shortage had been alleviated slightly through employe transfers but "in some maintenance sections, standards are now being adversely affected due to reduced numbers of highway maintainers."

"This certainly tells us why so many of our highways are deteriorating and why the snow removal program collapsed last winter," O'Dea said.

He said Gov. Thomas J. Meskill apparently was unmoved by "widespread public dissatisfaction" with the Transportation Department's snow removal efforts last year.

A department spokesman contacted later said most of the 95 unfilled positions were seasonal jobs for the winter months.

New Heart Attack Detection Method Refined At Mt. Sinai

HARTFORD (AP) — A life-saving and cost-saving heart attack detection technique has been refined at Mt. Sinai Hospital.

The value of the test is that it is a quick way to detect a heart attack and will make it possible to screen patients with chest pains who enter a hospital's emergency room or doctor's office, says Dr. Stanley H. Bernstein, chief of medicine at Mt. Sinai.

He made his report Friday at the 46th annual scientific symposium of the American Heart Association in Atlantic City, N.J.

Bernstein said he and Harry Saranchak, a fourth year student at the University of Connecticut, refined the test so that it indicates almost immediately whether a patient with chest pains has had a heart attack.

In an interview prior to the symposium Bernstein said that 60 per cent of the patients who visit Mt. Sinai's coronary care unit don't have a heart attack but their doctor doesn't know that for several days because current tests are not always reliable and they take too long.

The refined detection technique, a urine test which picks up oxygen carrying protein called myoglobin, could save physician fees and hospital costs and, ultimately, a patient's life, Bernstein said.

He explained that myoglobin is usually found in heart muscle cells and when those cells are damaged the protein escapes into the blood stream, passing quickly into the urine.

The protein passes into the urine within a few hours after an attack and is detectable for two to three days afterward, he said.

Map Shows Town's Park, Rec Areas

The Town of Manchester planning office, at the request of Mayor John Thompson, has prepared a map for newcomers showing the town's parks and recreational facilities.

The map, drawn by Ronald Blake, assistant town planner, was suggested by Thompson after he received comments from new people in town who weren't aware of public park and recreational facilities.

"Manchester has a wealth of recreational facilities," Thompson said. The map, titled "Join the Fun in Manchester," urges residents to take advantage of the opportunities.

In green, the map shows location of all town parks, schools, the Northview Ski Slope, town recreation center at the former Nike Site, the Oak Grove Nature Center property, Manchester Country Club, and Red Rock Country Club.

In blue, the map locates Y. Lutz Junior Museum, the Cheney Homestead, town libraries, indoor recreation centers, the town hall, hospital, swimming pools, and bodies of water.

The maps' third color, black, is used for the street layout. Blake said the initial printing of the maps was a run of about 2,000 copies.

Thompson noted that the recently distributed Annual Report of the Town of Manchester contains a similar map of recreation facilities prepared by the planning office for the Conservation Commission.

Council Picks Mayor At Meeting Tonight

JUDITH KUEHNEL
Correspondent
A special meeting of the Town Council will be held tonight at 8. Heading the agenda will be the election of mayor for a term ending November 1975.
Sandra Bender, who received the highest number of votes in Tuesday's election, has stated that if nominated she would withdraw her name. The six newly elected council Democrats announced they would support Deputy Mayor Robert Smith for mayor and Mrs. Bender for deputy mayor.

Young Wives Club
The regular meeting of the South Windsor Young Wives club will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the St. Margaret Mary's Church Hall on Hayes Rd. The public is invited to "Meet the Stars." A variety of handmade items, seasonal decorations and things of special interest to the members will be displayed. A talent show will be presented following the business meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Senior Citizens
Mrs. Dorothy Dietrich announced that the regular meeting of the South Windsor Citizens will be held on Wednesday at 1 p.m. Members will meet at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Hall on Sand Hill.
Milk Price Drops
Herbert T. Rylander, South Windsor School food service director, said Friday that effective Dec. 3, the price of one-half pint carton milk will be reduced from nine cents to five cents. The price reduction has been made possible through the signing by President Nixon of the Agriculture Appropriations Bill on Oct. 24. Rylander commended the parents who send letters of concern to Congress.

Thrift Shop
The Community Thrift Shop, located in the Sullivan Ave. Plaza, has just completed installation of new clothing racks to facilitate customer shopping. Merchandise can now be displayed in a more orderly fashion.

Manned entirely by volunteers from the South Windsor Women's Club and non-member volunteers, the shop features clothing for the entire family, small appliances, knit-crochet, leather and ski boots. There is a separate toy and book room.

Hand-crafted items are accepted on consignment and displayed in the "Kraft Korner." Anyone interested is welcome to bring in crafts for sale on Wednesdays during shop hours.
Donations of good, usable clothing and bric-a-brac are always welcome and may be left at the shop during business hours. Anyone wishing to volunteer time toward this community project may call Phyllis Striebel at 664-0147. All money earned is returned to the community via donations to scholarships, charities and community oriented projects.

The thrift shop is open every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the second and fourth Saturdays of each month from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. The shop will be closed Thanksgiving weekend.

Midget Football
Frank Lynch of the South Windsor Admirals will coach the Northern Division team in the Senior Bowl football game to be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Mt. Nebo Field in Manchester.
The Southern Division team will be coached by Robert Hauck of the South Windsor Oilers.
The purpose of the Senior Bowl game is to foster a cooperative as well as competitive spirit between boys of the participating towns. It will also be the boys' introduction to Pony Football as the game will be played under Pony rules.

Marshall Taylor, commissioner of the Eastern Conference Football League, urges the public to attend, and he predicted that those in attendance will leave proud of the achievement of their young men.

LWV
The South Windsor League of Women Voters will hold a membership meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Evelyn Thomas, 23 Deerfield Lane. Topics under discussion will be campaign financing and male membership in the league.
The 1973 national convention of the League of Women Voters defeated the proposal to admit men to full membership. It is, however, expected to be brought up again at the 1974 national convention. The Connecticut State League is presently conducting an informal poll of local leagues for their opinions.

Bicentennial Committee
The South Windsor Bicentennial Committee will hold its next meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall.
Mrs. Cynthia Wotel, committee chairman, said that suggestions from the public are welcome. Any interested persons are invited to attend the meeting. Representatives from local schools, clubs, and organizations are welcome to send representatives to join the committee. The committee hopes that the nation's 200th anniversary will be a communitywide project.

PZC Acts on Bids Today

MONICA SHEA

The Planning and Zoning Commission will act today on the application of Sterling MacPherson to rent his property at Main and Mason Sts. to the Mansfield Training School for housing 10 school-age children.
These students would attend special classes at the Talbotville School and it was thought that the town would be responsible for the cost of educating these children. The costs could run as high as $17,000.

At its last meeting the commission referred MacPherson's request to the Board of Education because of this cost factor.
Over the weekend, Steve Lyzin, chairman of the commission, said he had been assured by the governor's office and the state deputy commissioner of health that the town will not be called upon to pay the cost of educating these students.

Moving the ten children and their two foster parents into the house on Main St. would be a part of the training school's program to deinstitutionalize educable residents.
There will be an informal discussion with representatives of the Salvation Army regarding its plans to develop a permanent campus on its property of 270 acres recently purchased in North Coventry.
Other items on the agenda include the Nathan Hale School driveway and the rear lot regulations.

Garden Club
The Coventry Garden Club will hold its November meeting

School Board To Get Family Life Report

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent
646-0375
The Family Life Committee report concerning its recent presentation to the community will be given to Board of Education members Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Bolton Center School library by John Flek.
Following Flek's report, any resident having an interest in the program may relate his feelings concerning the program to board members.
Flek's report was originally scheduled to be given to board members at their last meeting. A resident has requested the open discussion period for anyone concerned following.

Joseph Castagna, superintendent of schools, said in his report, "Despite the preoccupation with the negative aspect of the meeting in the newspaper report of the presentation of the Family Life curriculum guides, reports I have received appear to be favorable. Legitimate concerns expressed at the meeting would seem to indicate a delay in implementation beyond the originally anticipated January-February time frame."

McCurry's Goal in Second Overtime Period Vaults Indian Booters into Semifinal Round

By Len Auster

"That was the prettiest sight I've seen in years," a smiling Dick Danielson said moments after senior Co-captain Connie McCurry's tally in the second sudden death period gave the Manchester High soccer team a 3-2 come-from-behind triumph over Hall High of West Hartford in the CIAC Class A quarterfinal round game Saturday morning at Hall before 500 hearty souls.

Despite the injury, X-rays revealed a hairline fracture of the left ulna (broken bone below the left elbow), Sullivan reentered the contest in the warning moments of regulation play. He was forced, however, to come out again and George Kanehl, the jack-of-all-trades, returned to net-minding duties.

The two CCIL arch rivals met once before with Manchester winning by a decisive 3-0 margin. Saturday, Hall vaulted to a 1-0 lead with 5:45 left in the second period as a shot caromed off a Manchester defender into the nets. Jim Fishman was credited with the tally.

Minutes into the final period as a shot by Fishman went off Kanehl's hands and opportunistic Kevin Godardza was standing there to put it in the empty net.

High Gridders Blow Lead And Bow to Eastern, 14-13

By Len Auster

Wethersfield, Saturday the Indians succumbed to Bristol Eastern 14-13 at Memorial Field before 700 bone-chilled spectators.

Manchester clearly had the better of play, not letting the Lancers past midfield in the second half, but two fumbles and five interceptions along with Frank Saunders' 63-yard TD jaunt tied the Silk City club in.

Artificial Surfaces Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill Curry of the Houston Oilers said today that artificial turf causes such tremendous heat, burns, infection and increased injuries and maintenance costs that it cannot understand why anyone would buy it.

UConn's Near Crown, Win Streak Extended

Connecticut, with 1,000-yard gainer Eric Torkelson in the backfield, could run on a run by fullback Dennis McLaughlin.

Williams took advantage of numerous Wesleyan errors as it piled on scores after score to clobber the Cardinals 44-0. The losers were held to 56 net offensive yards.

Cowboys in First Place But No Super Bowl Team

NEW HAVEN (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys are still in first place but, says Coach Tom Landry, not quite a Super Bowl team.

"Being a Super Bowl team is something we have to work up to," Landry said after the opportunity Cowboys beat the New York Giants, 23-10, Sunday to hang on to a piece of the National Football Conference's eastern division lead with the Washington Redskins.

One Game Away From Division Title

Veteran Running Backs Keep Vikings Unbeaten

NEW YORK (AP) — In 1969, running backs Bill Brown and Dave O'Brien helped the Minnesota Vikings get to the Super Bowl.

On Sunday the veteran duo boosted the Vikings a step closer toward returning to the championship contention when they ran 101 yards and 13 yards respectively to lead Minnesota to a 28-7 victory over Detroit in the National Football League.

Things that happen and never the good," said soccer-style kicker Horst Muhlmann after making himself hard to forget by kicking a field goal with three seconds remaining to give Cincinnati a 16-13 victory over Buffalo.

Muhlmann's three field goals broke a tie brought on by O.J. Simpson's 32-yard third-quarter touchdown. Simpson picked up 90 yards on 20 carries to raise his nine-game total to 1,290.

Redskins 33, 49ers 9

Sonny Jurgensen and Billy Kilmer, the ailing Washington quarterbacking duet, provided the one-time punch which brought the Redskins out to a two-game losing streak with a 39-9 victory.

Browns 23, Oilers 13

During the Cleveland Coach Nick Skorich called "probably our best quarter of the season," the Browns scored 17 points in the first quarter to defeat Houston 23-13. Despite their 166 total yards in that first period, the Browns quickly bogged down, gaining only 18 total yards in the second and 15 in the third.

Bengals 16, Bills 13

"People always remember the bad," said Coach Tom Landry.

Ground Game Powers Jets

NEW YORK (AP) — The big question in the days before the game was, would Joe Namath play?

He didn't and the New York Jets didn't miss him one bit. He was hardly noticed on the sidelines, ambling around in his fur coat. And, for that matter, the Jets' quarterbacks on the field weren't noticed much either.

First Al Woodall, then Bill Demory, guided the Jets against the New England Patriots Sunday. And, for the most part, all that was hand the ball to John Riggins and Emerson Bozer.

And Riggins and Bozer were very much noticed as they combined to pound out 175 yards and score one touchdown apiece in the 33-13 pasting of the Patriots. In all, New York ran roughshod over New England for 287 yards with Woodall and Demory teamed for just 85 yards passing.

STOCKHOLM — American Tom Gorman overcame Bjorn Borg of Sweden 6-3, 4-6, 7-6, 6-4 to win the men's singles title in the $50,000 Australian Indoor Tennis Championships.

And Namath only added: "Weeb's told you everything there is to tell. Naturally, I want to play."

CINCINNATI (AP) — Groundbreaking was to be held today for Cincinnati's new $16 million hockey-basketball coliseum adjacent to Riverfront Stadium.

Howfield had two more field goals for the day, from the 28 and the 39, and Demory added a 31-yard scoring pass to Jerome Barkum.

"If our team gets behind by one or two touchdowns, the beleaguered Fairbanks sighed, "they feel it all over."

Mideast Peace PEKING (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says a formal guarantee of Israel's security by the United States is one of the ways under consideration to safeguard the Jewish nation if it agrees to a peace treaty with the Arabs occupying Arab territory. Kissinger told American TV newsmen visiting China yesterday that Israel's security might also be guaranteed by several countries. But he said the matter of guarantees would arise until after a peace agreement is concluded.

Attack Viet Cong SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese bombers made more than 50 attacks on the airstrip and other targets at Thien Son, a Viet Cong town 75 miles northwest of Saigon, government military sources reported today. The Viet Cong claimed the town was attacked for three hours Monday and there was a heavy loss of life and severe damage to property. In Cambodia, military sources said heavy fighting has stalled the government's operation to retake the town of Kep, on the south coast near the Vietnamese border.

Ford Defends Administration WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-designate Gerald R. Ford declared today that Watergate has neither paralyzed President Nixon nor made him a prisoner. Ford conceded that Watergate has created a "public confidence" problem for the President. But he predicted that both Nixon and the American political system will be strengthened when he said the full truth comes out in the days ahead. "There are and always will be periods of crisis when emotion, even hysteria, get the upper hand," Ford said. "But, in a free society, good sense wins out in the end — good sense and fair play."

Energy-Saving Measures Advance In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bills authorizing imposition of energy fuel saving measures and construction of the Alaska pipeline have the legislative calendar in what Sen. Henry M. Jackson has dubbed "energy week in Congress." The emergency petroleum act directing President Nixon to ration scarce fuels, including gasoline and home heating oil, was approved by the Senate Interim Committee Monday and is expected to reach the floor on Wednesday. The Alaska pipeline bill is expected to gain easy Senate passage today. The bill, approved by the House Monday, would allow construction of the 800-mile pipeline from Alaska's North Slope to a port in the south. A Senate-House conference report that would result in the mandatory allocation of all fuel from crude oil to gasoline, is expected to pass both houses some time this week. Waiting in the wings are bills that would provide year-round daylight saving time, waive clean air guidelines to permit the burning of dirtier fuels, and authorize $20 billion for the long-range development of new energy sources. The House Commerce Committee scheduled hearings for today on a return to daylight saving time while its Senate counterpart considers a similar proposal in closed session. Jackson said his Interior Committee hoped to take up the multibillion dollar energy research and development bill in the afternoon. Also under consideration but less likely to be enacted before the winter recess are measures approved Monday by the House Interior subcommittee on the environment that would regulate the surface mining of coal and license deep water ports to accommodate supertankers.

In the Senate, an Interior subcommittee scheduled hearings on a bill that would authorize a general takeover of offshore wells in California's Santa Barbara Channel, where drilling has been suspended since a massive oil spill in 1969. Administrator Russell Train of the Environmental Protection Agency gave his support to a proposal authorizing temporary suspension of clean air standards for individual power plants and factories. Meanwhile, an executive of an American firm holding oil in Saudi Arabia, was quoted as saying the effect of the Arab oil boycott will be felt within emergency petroleum act authorized by Jackson. In addition to rationing, the bill would authorize the President to order such energy-saving steps as lower speed limits and shorter school hours in an effort to reduce by 25 per cent the nation's current consumption of roughly 18 billion barrels of oil a day. Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey refused to elaborate. Kissinger arrived an hour and a half late for his meeting with the president on many days with the secretary of state's agrarian secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. He also refused to predict when Washington might break with President Chiang Kai-shek's government, saying, "How can you predict what the secretary of state will do?" He said the question to Dr. Kissinger? "But the premier told the newsmen President Nixon is welcome to make a second trip to China. Kissinger met for nearly three hours with Chairman Mao Tse-tung at his home in the Forbidden City, and Chou said today that Mao spoke in English when he asked the secretary of state to convey his regards to Nixon. Mao said it was the longest meeting Mao had had with a foreign visitor in two years. A joint Chinese-American announcement said they discussed "a wide range of subjects in a friendly atmosphere." Watergate Committee Renews Request For Nixon Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee today called for a meeting with President Nixon at his earliest convenience to question him on Watergate matters. Sources said the vote in executive session was 50-45 in favor of a resolution introduced by Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., to formally request the meeting and ask the President to make available all tape recordings and documents relevant to the panel's investigation. Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., sent the only vote against the resolution, and Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., was absent, the sources said. President Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Monday that Nixon is considering a committee proposal for a face-to-face meeting at part of the renewed White House effort to clear up the scandal. It was understood that Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., committee vice chairman, and Weicker would refuse presidential invitations to question Nixon at White House meetings being held for Republican senators and congressmen and some Democrats this week. Weicker had suggested that committee members not participate in the closed-door sessions but be invited to attend. Weicker's resolution called for a meeting with the full committee.

Chou Rules Out U.S. Visit

PEKING (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai told American newsmen today that he won't visit the United States until Washington breaks relations with the Nationalist regime on Taiwan. "As long as there is a representative of the Chiang Kai-shek government, how can I go there?" said Chou's No. 2 secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. He also refused to predict when Washington might break with President Chiang Kai-shek's government, saying, "How can you predict what the secretary of state will do?" He said the question to Dr. Kissinger? "But the premier told the newsmen President Nixon is welcome to make a second trip to China. Age No Deterrent To Manchester's Jogging Jurist

By SOL R. COHEN Ask Superior Court Judge Jay Robinson who he runs and the 61-year-old Manchester jurist will tell you. "There's a famous saying among runners, swimmers, mountain climbers and the like, 'To those who do it, no explanation is necessary, to those who don't, no explanation is possible.'" Judge Robinson would be running this year in his fourth Manchester Five-Mile Road Race. His first was in 1959. He passed up the one in 1971 because of a minor foot ailment but was back in 1972. He says his best time was in 1970, when he covered the course in 25:45. He is in excellent condition. He says he finishes every race he enters. "I'm not watching the race and you see a 5 foot 8, 150-pound man in a blue and white suit and he will — give him a hand. Judge Jay Robinson never runs away from a challenge. He runs for a cause.

SBA Boss Denies Protecting Area Director

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Small Business Administration has denied he protected the director of an area SBA office whose loan operations are being investigated by the Justice Department and a House subcommittee. The administrator acknowledged that there appeared to be substantial losses in the loan portfolio of the Richmond office, but he declined to give a dollar amount. He said he reported the losses reached into the millions. Hamilton said in Philadelphia that he had discovered irregularities in Richmond in 1970 and 1971, but was overruled by Kleppe. New discrepancies were surfacing in the Richmond office last summer, he said. Kleppe said Hamilton never told SBA's management board of the problems until Oct. 25. Monday, Kleppe reassigned Hamilton and Regan to the agency's Washington headquarters. "It's my impression that I was relieved because Kleppe has to testify before the House Banking Committee this week and wanted to know what he had taken some action," Hamilton said. The Banking Committee was to hold a hearing on the SBA's loan fund until it was used this year. Instead of the 4,500 used to decorate the 1972 tree, Kleppe said that even with the curtailed decoration the electricity used by the tree would be enough to power 250 household light bulbs of 100 watts each. The Capitol tree is not the "national Christmas tree" but a feature among the current limit has been nearly reached.

Israel Holds Onto Control Of Suez Road

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Israel is refusing to turn over to the U.N. peacekeeping force full control of the highway to the town of Suez and the Egyptian 3rd Army across the Suez Canal until Egypt fixes a prisoner of war exchange, a high-ranking Israeli official reported today. The official said Finnish U.N. soldiers set up a roadblock on the Cairo-Suez highway outside Suez Monday evening, but the Israelis maintained a checkpoint of their own nearby. The official said Israeli and U.N. troops also were maintaining separate checkpoints at Kilometer 101, where the highway crosses the cease-fire line, despite a report Monday by the Israeli state radio that Israel had turned its checkpoint over to the U.N. force. The cease-fire agreement negotiated by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger last week provided for both the prisoner exchange and U.N. control of the highway. The Egyptian lines to Suez, giving Egypt access to the town and its isolated troops. "According to the agreement signed by the Israeli and U.N. officials, the United Nations is to replace the Israeli checkpoints as soon as it is established that a prisoner of war is to be exchanged. There is not yet an agreement on the prisoners so we could not agree to replacing the checkpoints."

To Light Or Not To Light

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although nobody seems to want to go out on a limb about it, Congress may wind up with fewer lights on its Christmas tree next month because of the energy crisis. "It's my impression that I was relieved because Kleppe has to testify before the House Banking Committee this week and wanted to know what he had taken some action," Hamilton said.
