Army Still Dominant In Greece

By VICTOR L. SIMPSON Associated Press Writer ATHENS (AP) — President George Papadopoulos' use of tanks and troops to quell student-sparked rioting demonstrated the dominant role the army still plays in the affairs of Greece.

One previous precedent was set in 1967 when the army toppled the parliamentary democracy, bringing the then-Col. Papadopoulos to power. Observers say only a counter-coup by the army could dislodge him. And there are no signs of that happening.

"They were scared this time so they called in the troops," said a politician who was prominent before the coup. "It was a sign of panic."

One theory circulating here says Papadopoulos brought in the army during the riots last week partly for fear of losing control of it if he let it stand during the disturbances. But other views hold that if the strongman president hadn't demonstrated the army's loyalty, the rioters would have had time to marshal more support for bringing down the government.

Students were prominent among the rioters. But George Mavros, an ex-Cabinet minister who was put under house arrest Tuesday night, said it was the additional support the students gained that led to the stiff reaction by the government.

Mavros was arrested along with another former cabinet minister John Zappas and Panayotis Canellopoulos, 71, the premier of the government that Papadopoulos toppled. The government consisted of 46 more dissidents in the capital, bringing the number in custody to 250, and said all schools of higher learning would be closed until Dec. 10.

Students had staged numerous protests earlier this year, beginning with purely academic grievances, but stood alone and were silenced by arrests and a government decree drafting them into the army.

New outbreaks arose after Nov. 4, when clashes took place between police and mourners attending a memorial service for popular Congressman Andreou, the former liberal premier. The sentencing of five persons in connection with the disturbances led to a four-day sit-in at the Athens Polytechnic Institute.

The sit-in leaders first called for an end to political trials and for academic freedom. But the demands became more radical, calling for the ouster of Papadopoulos, immediate elections and a withdrawal of NATO forces from Greece. Soldiers and police finally stormed the institute early Saturday and ousted the students. Eleven persons were killed in the clashes.

During the sit-in, Polytechnic students used a radio transmitter to appeal to workers to join the protest. About 5,000 of them, mostly construction workers in the Athens area, answered the call and strengthened the anti-government front.

Strap Throat Infections Increasing

HARTFORD (AP) — Strap throat cases this year are creeping up on last year's total, according to state Health Department figures. The department reports that 900 new cases of streptococcal sore throat were reported last week. That was 257 cases higher than the previous week and increased the 1973 total to 42,238.

Strap throat cases last year totaled 43,372, Health Commissioner Douglas S. Lloyd said. He said the disease usually begins suddenly and is accompanied by a sore throat and chills. The patient's temperature may rise to 102 degrees or more and the patient may complain of headache and nausea.

Heating Oil Rationing Anticipated

Manchester Follows Trend Buyers Favor Small Cars To Save On Gas

DOUG BEVINS (Herald Reporter) Increasing gasoline prices and the talk of rationing have resulted in good sales figures for some Manchester new car dealers and bad prospects for others.

Small car sales in Manchester are booming, said Herald survey of dealers shows, and several car retailers are getting hurt because big car sales have slacked off.

Most dealers agree that gasoline price hikes and the possibility of fuel rationing are causing greater consumer awareness about gasoline mileage, but a couple of dealers are convinced the energy crisis isn't as bad as some people think.

Whatever the reason, small cars are going like hotcakes, and dealers can't keep up with the demand.

Mike Lynch, president of Lynch Toyota, says the public's concern about gas mileage has stepped up sales of Toyotas considerably. "Last week we sold more cars than we did in any week in the last two or three months," Lynch said. Bill Kumick, sales manager at Dillon Sales & Service, said the firm's sales of smaller cars are selling much faster than the larger Fords, even though availability of the smaller cars is restricted.

Sam Churches of Churches Motors says he's still selling cars, but he's optimistic. Sales are strong, he said, but better in smaller cars. Dodge dealers are asking a lot more questions than usual. He said the energy crisis talk is scaring a lot of people.

William Schaller, president of Schaller Chevrolet, said the energy crisis is just starting to hurt his new car sales, and he expects an even more serious impact on his sales. Schaller said, though, that big cars aren't as bad as people think — Gas mileage on the larger models is better this year than last year, he said.

White House Ponders Means To Save Energy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon returned late Friday for a decision-making session on energy-saving measures with two top advisers, amid indications that a rationing system for a widely used heating oil is in the works.

No announcements were expected immediately following the morning meeting with energy chief John A. Love and domestic economist Melvin R. Laird, although a White House spokesman said the President and his advisers will be "hearing decisions, certainly."

Herbert Stein, chairman of Nixon's Council of Economic Advisors, said Friday the administration would soon ask refineries to produce less gasoline.

Meanwhile, in Boston, the executive vice president of the New England Fuel Institute said a government plan for nationwide, mandatory rationing of No. 2 heating oil is expected to be unveiled Monday or Tuesday but would not take effect for two or three weeks.

Charles Burkhardt said the plan would require residential customers to cut back their fuel consumption by 15 per cent from their 1972 level, and to make a 10 per cent reduction and commercial businesses a cutback of about 18 to 20 per cent. Retail oil dealers would monitor and control the system, he said.

An Interior Department report predicted recently that diverting production away from gasoline to such products as home heating oil, diesel fuel and jet fuel would increase the expected 11 per cent shortage of No. 2 fuel by early next year.

Nixon interrupted a four-day Thanksgiving weekend with his family at his Camp David, Md., mountain-top retreat to return to Washington for the 10 a.m. meeting. Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said Nixon had been spending some of his time at Camp David reviewing recommendations that were sent to him by a cabinet-level Energy Emergency Action Group after a lengthy meeting Wednesday.

Government action is needed because an agreement between private businessmen to decide who will be open and when, would violate federal antitrust laws, he said.

Nixon Energy Address Set For Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today he will go on national television at 7 p.m. Sunday to announce "tough, strong action" to meet the energy crisis.

Oil Firms Try To Blunt Arab Nation Embargoes

BRUSSELS (AP) — International oil companies may be taking over the job of trying to blunt the effects of Arab oil embargoes, an action that governments have thus far chosen not to take.

Using oil as a diplomatic weapon, the Arabs are rewarding nations whose Middle East policies are considered pro-Arab and punishing those countries whose policies lean toward Israel.

As a result, the multinational oil firms, many of which are owned by Americans and whose assets and customers are chief-ly in the United States, have begun to act on a number of fronts.

Their aim, sources said, is to establish distribution guidelines to assure that those countries the Arabs consider enemies do not suffer too much.

Will These Come Back? Are we coming to this again? The "again" is for those who remember the gasoline rationing cards issued during World War II.

WALLACE received $7,200 in prize money and a chance to make as much as $100,000 more in earnings during his one-year reign.

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese bombers pounded a Communist air base near the Cambodian border in retaliation for the rocketing of the Pleiku air base hours before, military sources said.

Heavy thunderstorms lashed the Ozarks today while snow lingered in the Northwest and fog shrouded much of the eastern half of the nation.

A flash-flood watch was issued for western Arkansas and most of southwestern Missouri. Winds up to 50 miles an hour whistled through the Ozark Mountains.

Periods of rain likely tonight and Sunday. Lows tonight near 40. Highs tomorrow around 50. Precipitation probably 70 per cent eastward by Sunday.

There are two bills to lower the 6.5 per cent sales tax — one by Reps. William H. Hoffmeister, R-Milford, Rep. Daniel L. McKeever, R-Elington, and Sen. Winthrop S. Smith, R-Milford, reducing to 6 per cent. Another by Smith and Hoffmeister would cut it to 5.5 per cent.

Rationing Favored By Gas Dealer

HARTFORD (AP) — Charles Matties, president of the Connecticut Gasoline Retailers Association, says stamp rationing like the ration used during World War II is the fairest way of dealing with the gasoline shortage.

Gov. John D. DeLoach said he would support a stamp rationing system if it would increase the expected 11 per cent shortage of No. 2 fuel by early next year.

Appraising Appraisers

Over the years, this state and others, have through their legislatures, taken upon the regulation and licensing of various services performed in the state.

Thus we have a host of boards and agencies devoted to setting standards for barbers, doctors, podiatrists, real estate salesmen, and demolition experts, to name a few of the more than 30 listed in the Connecticut Register and Manual.

Now we will grant that these created in the public interest to protect it from unscrupulous practitioners and insure certain standards of performance.

And we grant too that most of them do serve this function relatively well because, in most instances, the examining boards are made up of competent practitioners in that field and they know any deterioration of standards can adversely affect the whole field.

Before the Assembly next year will be a bill to bring appraisers of real estate under similar type of regulation. If enacted, Connecticut will be the first state to do so.

The motivating force seems to be based on evidence that present appraisals, without regulation, have cost the taxpayers of the state money because of the wide divergence in appraisals resulting in costly condemnation suits, etc.

At a recent hearing, Sen. David Odgard of Manchester pointed out that while "most appraisers agree that a 15, 20 or even 30 per cent difference in appraisal value is not unreasonable for competent, ethical appraisers, the average divergence in state condemnation cases in 1971-72 was 49 per cent."

Can TV Solve The Energy Crisis?

The Nation's Energy Crisis was finally resolved by the simple expedient of turning down the heat. But before that happy day, numerous desperate measures were tried and found wanting.
One of the first was reducing the national speed limit to 28.3 miles per hour. While this conserved gasoline by the tankful, it unfortunately resulted in the country's mental hospitals quickly overflowing.
As the crisis worsened, the President's decision to turn off outdoor lighting was inevitably followed by the President's decision to turn off indoor lighting. But there were drawbacks to a darkened Nation. Not only did the crime rate increase, which people were used to, but the birth rate soared.
This was attributed not to the absence of light, but to the absence of television. Without television, most American couples simply couldn't think of anything else to do.
The trouble with this country, grumbled the President, "is that the people have become so used to watching television that they can't think of anything else to do."
Yet it was this second Energy

Crisis that led to the most ingenious solution—The National Football & Pornography Network.
"We have found," said the President happily, "that the number of people driving cars, reading under bright lights or otherwise wasting energy is dramatically reduced during Monday night football telecasts. We are therefore going to bring Americans what they have long dreamed of—a football from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. daily!"
As for the pornography, the President said he was regretfully throwing that in "for those perverts who don't like football."
"That's it! A plan that will not only give some of our energy problems, because the Federal network offered no commercials, several middle-aged men were found in front of their sets starved to death. This was solved by introducing Presidential appeals to save energy anything else to do.
With no one on the streets from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. the Energy Crisis appeared over. But after six days, the most ardent convert lost his zest for

How Come They Are Silent

To the editor:
After the 12 year Vietnam war nightmare and the extreme difficulty experienced in extracting our servicemen, it seems the United States should have learned a bitter lesson that would last at least a century. However, it took less than 10 months to forget all the tragedies of the 35,000 plus Americans killed and missing in action, to say nothing of the at least as many more maimed and crippled in the longest war in U.S. history.
It took only until October for Congress and President Nixon to submit to the super-pressure bloc demanding sharply increased and accelerated aid to Israel. Not only did these government leaders furnish all the latest in tanks, planes, missiles, and laser weapons and everything just short of the A-bomb, but even approved the landing of U.S. military personnel once more on foreign soil. This is precisely how the Kennedy administration stumbled and dove headlong into the Vietnam war, remember?

It took only until October for Congress and President Nixon to submit to the super-pressure bloc demanding sharply increased and accelerated aid to Israel. Not only did these government leaders furnish all the latest in tanks, planes, missiles, and laser weapons and everything just short of the A-bomb, but even approved the landing of U.S. military personnel once more on foreign soil. This is precisely how the Kennedy administration stumbled and dove headlong into the Vietnam war, remember?

In recent developments surrounding the Middle East cease fire talks, our roving Secretary of State Henry Kissinger was reported to be willing to commit this country to defend Israel in case of any future attacks. Quite an order. This is the most responsible proposal that a man in his position could make. He has absolutely no right or authority to deal us into World War III. All of the Middle East and Israel thrown in are certainly not worth the sacrifice of one American soldier boy.

President Nixon and the Congress had better blow the whistle on Mr. Kissinger and his attempts to involve us in any Middle East hostilities. Whatever became of the United Nations and their peace keeping activities? Are they just as impotent as ever?

With all of the Middle East in an uproar, it is real strange that we haven't heard anything about the anti-war demonstrators, the peaceoids, the student placards, or the "Non-Violent Activities" with their fire bombs and Molotov cocktails. Where are those darlings of the media, the Jane Fonda's, the Berrigan brothers, etc., and the American flag burners?

Unheard of also are the Vietnam war draft dodgers, their college professor advisers, and the lunatic letting gentry. How come they are so silent about United States present activities in the Middle East? Give you one guess.
Yours sincerely,

Manchester Scholarship Foundation

To the editor:
Monday at 7:30 p.m., the Board of Directors of the Manchester Scholarship Foundation (MSF) will hold its annual orientation meeting in the Teachers' Lounge of Manchester High School.
Anyone interested in learning more about MSF — how it began, how it administers its funds, how it determines the scholarship recipients is invited to attend.
This is an organization that Manchester can be proud of and we would love to have you know more about it. Refreshments will be served.

Let Women Run
To the editor:
I am a ninth grade student and I was reading the sports page the other night when I came across the article on the Turkey Day Races in Manchester. On the application used for the race, it says "male only," but if a woman has the same qualifications as a man in the running, why don't they give her a chance?
Next year, I hope the director of the race comes to his senses and lets a woman cross the finish line. I'm sure he won't regret it.
This, by early December, the Energy Crisis was at last resolved. Every American beset by problems, happily went into hibernation.

News for Senior Citizens

by Wally Fortin

Hi everyone!
Well, we're back from an enjoyable seven-day cruise, and from all reports everyone had a wonderful time. It was quite a ride, and as always the bus ride home is the longest part. After everyone arrived at the center, and picked up their bags, I was told there was one bag left over. Taking a look at it, it was supposed to be yours. To some person in New Jersey.
Somehow the bag with the letter was tossed in with ours, and ended up on our bus. When Paul went to call the person, he found it was an unlisted number, so he mailed out the bag and sent a letter explaining it.
Bridge Winners
While on the trip, some of our members participated in a bridge tournament, and three of our members won certificates. Mrs. Florence F. Ferguson was the champ, and runner-up was Mrs. Betty Jensen. Other winners were: Mrs. Mary Nackowski, 689; Ann Young; Joseph Windsor, 603; Walter Wilkinson, 611; Betty Jensen, 653; Alfred Hallin, 651; Beat Moanan, 609; Robert Ahearn, 641; Lee Steinmeyer, 638; Mrs. Edna G. Galloway, 628; Catherine Gleason, 627; Mabel Wilson, 625; Frances Fike, 625, and Mary Hope, 610.
Over the weekend we were sorry to learn that two of our members passed away—Edith Wirtella and Albert Ryan. We send our sincere condolences to the families of both, as well as to Mrs. Elizabeth Galloway on the loss of her son, William.
The next night the announcer called Wally Fortin to come up and call a game.
It was a nice trip but to be back home.
My luck ran true for me. In one game I needed B-11 for $80 and they called me right before the bridge tournament, and three of our members won certificates.

Monday we had a tournament of 87 members for our kitchen social bingo, and after lunch we had 15 tables for pinocle with the following winners: Mary Nackowski, 689; Ann Young; Joseph Windsor, 603; Walter Wilkinson, 611; Betty Jensen, 653; Alfred Hallin, 651; Beat Moanan, 609; Robert Ahearn, 641; Lee Steinmeyer, 638; Mrs. Edna G. Galloway, 628; Catherine Gleason, 627; Mabel Wilson, 625; Frances Fike, 625, and Mary Hope, 610.

The Bible Speaks Eugene Brewer

In a recent conversation, a high school English teacher expressed some frustration over his students' almost total incapacity for comprehending allusions to the Bible in literature. This bears out the revelation of your abysmal ignorance of even bare facts of the Bible.
My teaching acquaintance was deploring this situation solely because of the literary handicap it imposes upon his victims. But as lamentable as this result is, the spiritual consequences are even sadder. Aesthetic freedom is realized in knowing the truth (John 8:32). God's Word (John 17:17). Little wonder that its daily study is commended (Acts 17:11).
Yet, a declining percentage of our population is enrolled in "Sunday School," and many of these receive little or no Bible instruction, a denominational curricula never further and further from this verbal revelation of the divine will.

Reuben Plen's Texaco

Plen's Texaco sells only top name products such as Firestone tires, Havoline motor oil, Texaco and Delco batteries, AD, Champion spark plugs. You can depend on Reuben Plen to replace your car's worn out parts with only the best made parts. Reuben often tells a customer, "You can buy a cheaper tire but how soon will you need to buy another one to replace it?" Now you can see when the man said "PLAY with Plen" he was really saying "Let Plen's Texaco take care of your car and you can PLAN to save PLENTY dollars and much unnecessary aggravation. The nicest thing about trading with Plen's Texaco is that you can be certain that there is no guess work there. Perhaps some owners have had buying trouble and had the misfortune to fall into the hands of a trial and error "mechanic." This "operator" usually starts with a new heavy duty battery, then if that doesn't cure it, a new starter, voltage regulator, generator etc. In the end the owner winds up taking it to someone like Reuben who, immediately diagnoses the trouble and burns valves. In this case all of the replaced parts were unnecessary and represents money down the drain. Plen's Texaco has the tools, equipment and the know-how to properly diagnose any ailment without guessing. When they say "will the real mechanic stand up"—Reuben Plen will stand with the best of them. The best mechanic usually is the least expensive because guess work, trial and error costs the car owner for unnecessary parts and wasted effort. An experienced mechanic such as Reuben Plen can determine the problem positively and experience dictates the remedy. Another thing about Plen's Texaco is that Mr. Plen keeps abreast of the times by purchasing all the newest manuals and trade publications detailing engine changes and the newest innovations by the car manufacturers. Reuben also keeps his tools and equipment up-to-date so that he can service your new car the way it is supposed to be done. You can bet that Plen's Texaco is as modern as tomorrow, so PLAY with Plen and be PLENTY happy. One old time Indian (Pocahontas) recently was heard to say, "Car Owners Who Plan With Plen to be PLENTY Happy." He was of course referring to Reuben Plen of Plen's Texaco, 381 Main St., Manchester. The reason the old sage uttered this bit of wisdom is that more and more people are coming to realize the Reuben Plen is not just a run-of-the-mill gasoline station operator. No sir—Reuben Plen is a skilled, well trained mechanic with a background covering many years of experience. Like any real craftsman in any trade, Reuben is FUSSY, FUSSY, FUSSY... one who just can't Spindel watch bands are carried here and these watch bands are designed to make your watch look even more beautiful. Stop in and see the different styles.

Westown Winner

Four-year-old Michelle Somoza gets a lift out the seat of this 10-speed bicycle she won during the 25th anniversary celebration of Westown Pharmacy. Helping her is Westown owner Abe Zubrow. Her year-and-a-half-old brother Aaron tries to find out where he's supposed to sit. Michelle's name was drawn by Mayor John Thompson. Auto Firms Issue Recalls

DETROIT (AP) — Two U.S. automakers are recalling more than 383,000 Cadillacs and school buses.
General Motors Corp. announced Friday the recall of 380,000 1971 and 1972 model Cadillacs, and Ford Motor Co. said it was recalling 3,527 of its 1973 and 1974 model school buses.
GM's Cadillac Division said owners were being asked to return cars to dealers to correct insufficient lubrication on the steering control if corrosion becomes serious. Eldorado models are not included in the recall, GM said.
Ford said its recall was begun to check buses for possible incorrect routing of nylon air pressure brake tubes. Ford said tubes improperly routed could melt due to contact with the exhaust pipe, cutting rear wheel braking performance.
Loss of air pressure to the parking brake could cause the rear brakes to be applied unexpectedly, an official said.

First Aid Effort Hampered

HARTFORD (AP) — A sidewalk fight broke out because a crowd of Spanish-speaking people apparently misunderstood the actions of three policemen working to save a heart attack victim, authorities said.
Police said they wielded nightsticks to hold back the crowd trying to prevent the officers from giving oxygen and heart massage to Mrs. Evangelica Echevacria, 59, who later died at St. Francis Hospital.
Police said they tried to explain in Spanish that they were giving emergency aid to the woman, but the crowd apparently thought she was being beaten. Heart massage involves pounding the victim's chest to get the heart beating again, officials said.
The woman's son, Cecilio F. Echevacria, 21, allegedly punched one policeman in the jaw and tried to pull another off his stricken mother, police said. He was charged with assault on an officer, breach of peace and interfering with an officer, and was held in lieu of $10,000 bond.
Officer Hector Marrero suffered a broken hand and several bruises in the melee, according to a spokesman at Hartford Hospital where he was treated and discharged.
A spokesman at St. Francis Hospital said an autopsy would be performed to determine the cause of Mrs. Echevacria's death.

Hebron Man Turns To Self-Reliance

HEBRON, Conn. (AP) — "I'm going to be warm this winter," stated James R. West, a handy man who believes people have lost the ability to be take care of themselves.
With fuel shortages looming, West spent one weekend modifying his house's propane gas heating system to use wood. He fashioned a coil of black iron pipe, installed it beneath the grate in the living room fireplace and tied it into the baseboard hot water system.
With a couple of shutoff switches and another thermostat, the fireplace has become an alternate source of heat.
At most, West estimates that he will use one quarter of the gas used last winter, mostly on weekends when the family leaves home.

Mistrial Declared In PC's Barnes' Case

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A mistrial has been declared in the assault trial of Marvin Barnes, the star center for the Providence College basketball team.
Barnes had been charged with assaulting Larry Ketteris, a former teammate, with a tire iron in October 1972.
Superior Court Judge Eugene Gallant granted a defense motion for a mistrial after it was discovered that newspaper clippings about the case which were not admitted as evidence in the trial had been sent to the jury.
A court clerk said the clippings, which had been presented to the court in

Vernon Notes

The Midget Basketball League for boys in the rural Vernon area will open its season on Dec. 15 at the Vernon Elementary School, Rt. 30, with the first game to be at 11 a.m.
Based on the enrollment of boys, the American League will have eight teams this year. Sponsors of teams are Bury Enterprises, Aldon Associates, Zahner Mens Shop, VFW Post 10121, Howard Johnson Restaurant, R. Charest Co., Wittner Garden Center and Norms.
The fundamental classes for the players will start Dec. 1 and coaches have requested that no more than 12 boys be on a team. The balance of the boys, after the teams have been picked, will go into these classes. If a boy displays top basketball playing ability, he will be moved from the fundamental classes to the regular league.
Upon completion of the season, the Stephen J. Von Eaw trophy will be awarded to the winning team. This will end the five-year period that the trophy was to be awarded.
Other five-year trophies have been donated by Alfred Cavendon and Dr. Raymond Ramsdell. A new five-year trophy will be unveiled at the completion of this season and will be announced at the annual banquet.
Roller Skating
Roller skating sessions, sponsored by the Vernon Recreation Department, started Wednesday night at the Northeast School and will continue alternate Wednesday nights through the winter months.
The next session will be Dec. 5. There will be two sessions with boys and girls in Grades 4

The conversion only cost a few dollars and West has an agreement to cut old timber from a woodlot. He uses a chain saw, and splits the wood at home.
"People are too dependent on other people doing their work for them," said West a telephone repairman, "and they don't have the adaptability to do anything for themselves."
West, his wife and five children grow most of their own food. Part of the basement is a root cellar. And the family buys meat in big sections, cuts it and makes corned beef.
"I know that I'm starting to live 100 years in the past but I think that it's something that people are going to have to do," said West.
"No one knows how to do anything any more, but they better start learning again."

pretrial motions, had become mixed with proper exhibits sent to the jury.
The defense made the motion for mistrial after the jury foreman sent a note to the judge asking if the jury should have the clippings.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coal waste piles are to be inspected during regular federal mine inspections, the Interior Department announced. A waste dump in West Virginia collapsed in February, blocking a stream and causing a flood that killed 125 persons.

through 6 skating from 6 to 7:30, and those in Grades 7 and 8 from 7:30 to 9 p.m.
The admission charge is 50 cents a person and shoe skates are provided free. Persons using their own skates must also pay the 50-cent admission charge.
Parents are invited to attend and skate free when they accompany their child.
Leaf Pickup
Nov. 30 will be the last day for pickup of leaves with the vacuum, Director of Public Works Andrew Tricarico has announced.
Tricarico said the vacuum program has been cut short due to the need for conservation of gasoline. All leaves to be picked up must now be put in bags.
The town will continue to pick up the bagged leaves by means of a special truck which will follow the regular trash collection routes and as soon as possible after the regular collection.
League Party
The Vernon League of Women Voters will sponsor a reception and cocktail party in honor of the elected officials of the Town of Vernon.
The party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Meehan, Gottier Dr., Vernon, on Nov. 30 starting at 9 p.m.
The purpose of the party, league members said, is to allow the league members and town officials to become acquainted.

Chamber Polls Members Over Energy Crisis

The Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce is polling all of its members in an effort to determine what various businesses plan to do to help during the energy crisis.
In a letter to members, William Repoli, president of the chamber board of directors, said, "That there is an energy crisis, that it will be with us for some time, are not only facts but understatements."
At its meeting two weeks ago, the board organized an energy use committee which is headed by Howard Wolfanger. The committee, at its organizational meeting, agreed that the greatest potential for conserving energy is "probably in the area of encouraging specific proposals and 'waving the flag.'"
Therefore, the committee is asking chamber members to briefly state what they are planning to do to reduce energy consumption.
The committee would also like to hear from housewives concerning what they are doing, and noted the potential number of useful proposals is almost endless.

Francis E. Rudenauer Jr., 23, of 30 Windemere Ave., Rockville, was charged early today with failure to grant half the highway and with disorderly conduct in connection with the investigation of an accident on Windemere Ave. There were no injuries and damage was minor.

Steele Urges United Front On Boycott

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. Robert H. Steele, R-Conn., Friday urged the United States, Europe and Japan join forces to combat the Arab oil boycott.
In a letter to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, Steele said the current "disarray and lack of cooperation among the Western oil consuming countries was allowing the Arab states to walk all over us."
He said initial Arab reaction to a joint move by the oil-consuming nations might be to stop oil production completely. But such states as Algeria, Iraq and Libya "could not economically afford to halt all production and would have no choice but to continue exporting petroleum," he added.

Girl Accused Of Killing Boy Friend

WATERBURY (AP) — A 14-year-old girl was turned over to juvenile authorities Friday night in the stabbing death of a youth reported to be her boyfriend, police said.
The girl's name wasn't released because of her age, police said.
A spokesman at St. Mary's Hospital identified the victim as Cecil Riddick, 17, of Waterbury. The spokesman said he was dead on arrival about 8:30 p.m. from a stab wound just below the heart.
Police said they thought Riddick was stabbed during an argument on L.cust St. near his home.
The wounded youth staggered into his family's first-floor apartment before collapsing, police said. Police recovered a knife with a three-inch blade which they said was used in the incident.

South Windsor Fireplace Caution Urged

JUDITH KUEHNEL
Correspondent
644-1364

In a letter to Councilman Robert Hornish, William Lanning, fire marshal, stated that certain fire safety measures must be kept in mind when using the fireplace.
Due to the energy crisis and the resulting rise in the cost of fuel, more and more people will be using the fireplace and wood burning stoves as a source of heat.

Fire Marshal Lanning suggested that each chimney should be checked to be sure it is free from large accumulations of soot, and that no cracks or openings exist that would allow sparks to gain access to the interior walls or attics.
Most modern chimneys are lined with a tile which greatly reduces the problem of cracks, however, older brick chimneys should be examined to be sure the concrete has not fallen from between the brick leaving openings.

A chimney can be checked for excessive amounts of soot by looking down the chimney from the top, using a good flashlight. This can be accomplished with the use of mirror from down below, during daylight hours.

A soot-filled chimney can be cleaned by dragging a chain or a piece of rope up and down along the sides, or by pulling a ball of burlap up through the chimney. The chimney will stay clean longer if soft wood is not burned.

Fire Marshal Lanning warned against the use of liquid flammable fire starters, and the hanging of combustible materials from the mantle.

If a chimney fire is suspected, call the fire department immediately at 644-2411. If you have any questions concerning the installation of a metal fireplace or wood burning stove, call the fire marshal's office at the town hall, 644-2511.

Why Not Cultivate Some Little Green Friends?

With the recent increased interest in ecology and planting, houseplants have become more popular than ever.

Some people look upon plants as little living friends. Just like real friends, they like and need attention.

Watering

Overwatering is one of the biggest problems in the proper care of plants. Feel the top of the soil. If the top one half inch feels dry, it's time to water. The water should be at room temperature.

Potting and Soil

Many experts prefer clay pots, but you can use plastic ones. Plants in plastic pots need less water. The bottom of any pot should have a hole for drainage. Cover bottom with gravel and then soil. Leave about three fourths of an inch from the top of the soil to the top of the pot.

You can buy potting soil at some dime stores or at any garden center. You can mix your own by mixing one-third garden dirt, one-third peat moss and one-third sand or perlite.

Peat moss is a mixture of decayed plants, such as moss and ferns. Perlite is a manufactured product that may be used in place of sand. It helps drainage.

Fertilizer

Ask Mom or Dad to mix water with soluble fertilizer. Use it on your plant about every three weeks. Don't use it until the plant has been in the new pot for at least a month and a half. Otherwise, it might damage the roots.

Place

Each plant has its own special sunlight needs. Keep them out of drafts. It's often a good idea to put them in the kitchen where the humidity is highest. (Humidity is the amount of water in the air.) It's also a good idea to group plants together.

On this page are five plants that are easy for children to grow.

Snake plants are the easiest to grow in any warm temperature.

Heartleaf plants grow very well in warm temperatures (65°F). Wash leaves once a month with soap and water. Do not get soap on the soil.

Pepper Face plants grow best in bright light. They will rot if overwatered, so be extra careful.

Rubber plants grow best in warm, moist places. Wipe leaves often with a wet cloth.

Chinese evergreens will grow for years in the dark parts of a room. They need little care.

The specific names are printed on the labels placed in front of the flower plant.

In the past two years, terrariums have become very popular throughout the country. They are easy to plant and need little care. Above, two young indoor gardeners inspect their terrarium.

How to Plant a Terrarium

You can use a fish bowl, brandy snifter or any clear glass or clear plastic container. Big mayonnaise jars make good terrarium containers.

1. Spread an inch of gravel or pebbles in the bottom of the container. If you wish you can add a layer of charcoal. Use the type you get for an Aquarium.
2. Dig moss from the woods. Use it to line the sides of the container below where the soil will be.
3. Dig topsoil from the woods, or use a mixture of garden soil, perlite and peat moss. Add soil one to two inches deep.

4. If necessary, use tweezers or sticks tied together to make tweezers to put plants in place.
5. Spray plants lightly with water. Mom's clothes sprinkler makes a good plant sprinkler.
6. Cover the container with a sheet of glass or piece of plastic film. If using a bottle, put on the top.

7. Place it where the light is bright, but avoid direct sunlight.
8. Don't overwater. Water only if plants begin to droop. If the inside of the terrarium becomes fogged, open the cover slightly and let in some air.
9. In the fall, summer or spring, you can get plants from the woods. In winter, you can plant miniature ivy, African violets or ferns.

Animal of the Week: The Tigon

A tigon is a very rare animal. There are only four in the world. The tigon is an animal whose father was a tiger and whose mother was a lion.

Tanya is a tigon who lives in Sarasota, Florida. She travels around the country in a specially built bus. She puts on shows for children. She is 12 years old and weighs 550 pounds.

Tanya gets the best of care. She eats two dozen eggs and fifteen pounds of beef a day. Someone must be with her around the clock. She is also given two soap and water baths a day.

Super Sport: O. J. Simpson

His name is Orenthel James Simpson, but most people call him O. J. Others know him as "Orange Juice" Simpson. Regardless of what they call him, the Buffalo Bills' veteran is one of the best running backs in professional football. In '72, his fourth year in the pros, O. J. gained 1,251 yards to lead the league. Before joining the pros, Simpson was a Heisman Trophy winner and All-American at Southern Cal. He grew up in a rough section of San Francisco and admittedly could have gotten into trouble if football had not entered his life. O. J., who is married and has a family, has a home in the Bel Air section of California. He is also interested in working with young people.

Mini Do: How to Root Plants

Here's how you can use a cutting from a growing plant to start another plant.

1. Cut off a stem containing four or five leaves.
2. Put the cutting in a pot containing wet perlite. (You can root some plants by putting them in water.)
3. Cover the pot with a plastic bag. Use sticks stuck in the soil to hold up the bag and keep it from touching the plant.
4. About once a week, take off the bag and test the cutting by pulling it gently. When it resists a gentle pull, its roots have begun to grow.

Happy Holidays!

Here are some of the favorite flowers that are sent at Christmas time:

The Poinsettia

Dr. Joe Robert Poinsett brought the first poinsettias to this country from Mexico in 1828. There is an old story about a small child who did not have an offering to take to church on Christmas morning. He picked a weed and laid it on the altar. As it lay there, it turned into a beautiful, star-shaped flower.

If your family gets a poinsettia for Christmas, here are some pointers about its care.

Poinsettia Care

1. Place in the bright part of a room.
2. Water when soil surface is dry.
3. You can transplant it outside when risk of frost is over.
4. Ideal temperatures are 72°F during daytime, 65°F at night.

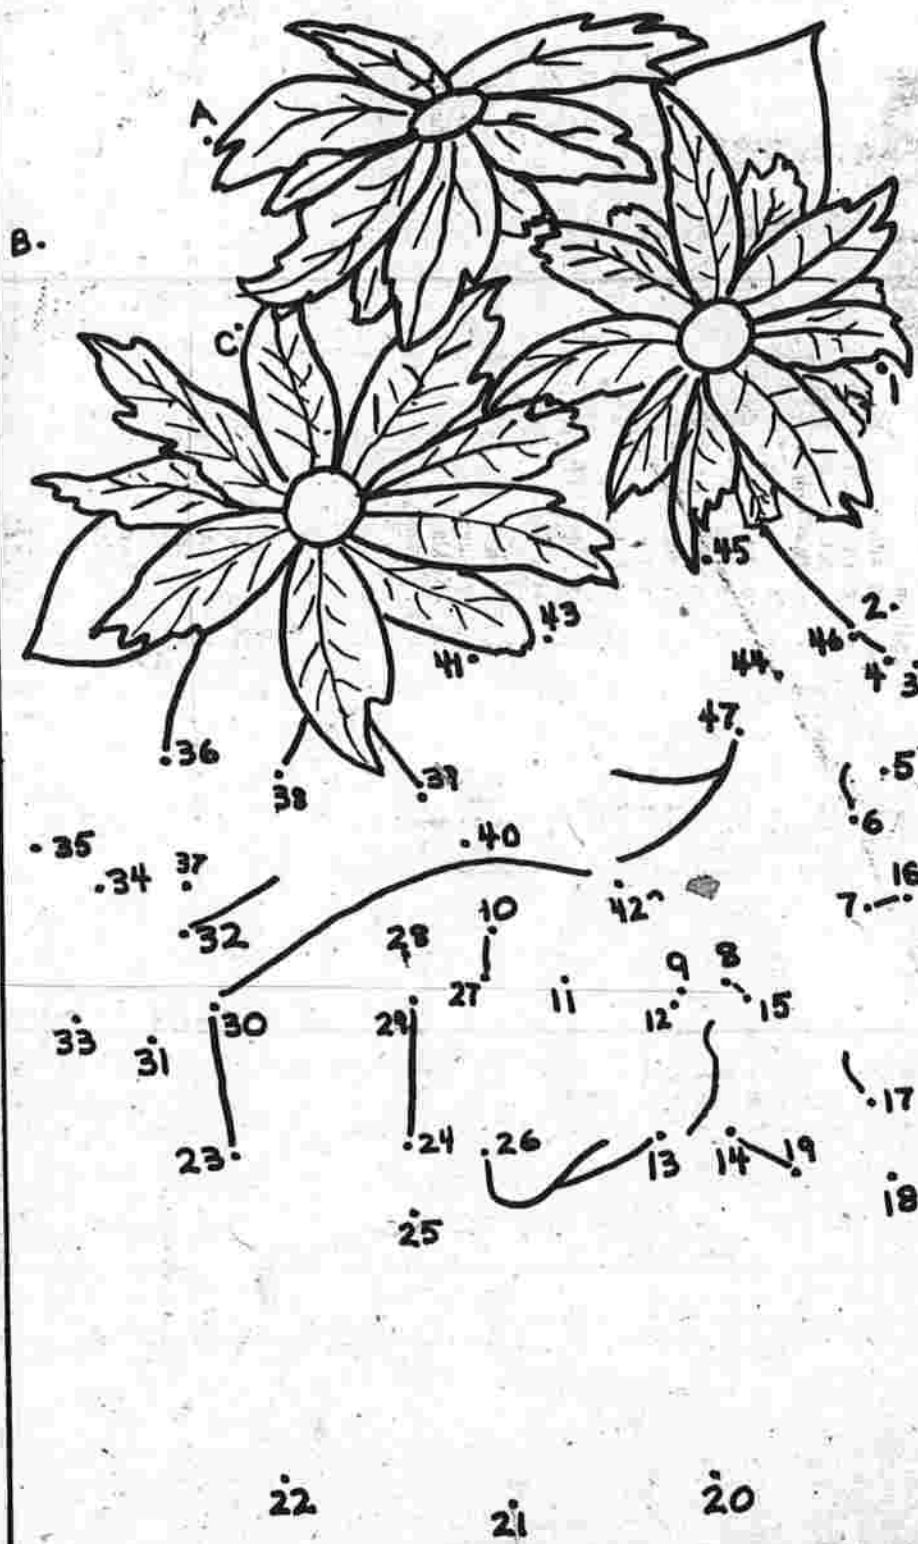

Azaleas Are Popular Christmas Plants

You will see many azaleas at Christmas, too. They come in many colors, but red and white are especially popular at this time of year.

The Begonia

A new type of begonia called "The Reiger" is becoming more and more popular as a Christmas plant.
