Gas Rationing Decision Anticipated

Case Mt. Grant Approved.

SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter

The State Bonding Commission today approved a $165,000 grant for Manchester, as the state's share toward town acquisition of Case Mt.

The action was unanimous—on a motion by State Comptroller Nathan Agostinelli, a member of the commission. The other members are Gov. Thomas Meskill, State Treasurer Alden Ives, Atty. Gen. Robert Killian, Finance Commissioner Adolf Carlson and Public Works Commissioner Paul Manafort.

The appropriation had the backing of the state Department of Environmental Protection, which has the responsibility for recommending state grants for open-space land and which had determined the sum is available.

The final step in the proposed purchase would be a matching $165,000 appropriation by the Town of Manchester. The Board of Directors' Jan. 8 agenda will include a public hearing on the proposed appropriation. The method for financing is still to be determined. An additional appropriation for an access road and for improvements will be scheduled for public hearing at a later date. Town Manager Robert Weiss said today.

Weiss said the board, at its meeting Tuesday at Case Mt. School, will be asked to confirm a resolution it adopted some time ago—when it voted its interest in purchasing the property.

The final cost figures for the 239.56-acre department of 82.744 per acre.

HUD (the federal department of Housing and Urban Development) had allocated $298,553 toward the cost, on the condition the town and the state split the $331,047 balance.

The breakdown of the total cost is as follows: $546,000 for 10.80 acres to Mrs. Dorothy Case Beach, Robert Case Denison and Wells Case Denison; $83,000 for 10.80 acres to the Tonic Springs Co. (Mrs. Beach, Robert Denison and Wells Denison); and $3,000 for 197 acres to Mrs. Mary A. Murphy.

In July 1972, downtown committee chairman William Steinhilber started action on the proposal, which remained dormant until Thursday, when Mayor John Thompson called attention to the idea.

Thompson told committee members that impending sale of the building— at the southeast corner of the Main and Center Sts. intersection— is a "great opportunity for the community to get traffic improvements at the intersection."

Thompson said he could visualize buying the property, raising the old structure, creating a small town park, and fixing "the worst traffic problem in the state."

Town Manager Robert Weiss said he's heard recently that the Odd Fellows Building is about to be sold, and he said

The Mayor's Downtown Action Committee Thursday endorsed Town purchase of the Odd Fellows Building at 489 Main St. It will be on the Tuesday agenda of the directors. Should the purchase be accomplished, the building could be razed to improve traffic flow at the intersection and create additional park space according to Mayor John Thompson. ### Town Purchase Of Odd Fellows Building Asked

A proposal for the Town of Manchester to buy the Odd Fellows Building at 489 Main St. to make way for improvements to the Main and Center Sts. intersection will come before the Manchester Board of Directors next Tuesday night.

The Mayor's Downtown Action Committee unanimously endorsed the proposal Thursday morning— for the second time— and Town Manager Robert Weiss said he'd put the item on the directors' agenda.

In July 1972, downtown committee chairman William Steinhilber started action on the proposal, which remained dormant until Thursday, when Mayor John Thompson called attention to the idea.

Thompson told committee members that impending sale of the building— at the southeast corner of the Main and Center Sts. intersection— is a "great opportunity for the community to get traffic improvements at the intersection."

Thompson said he could visualize buying the property, raising the old structure, creating a small town park, and fixing "the worst traffic problem in the state."

Town Manager Robert Weiss said he's heard recently that the Odd Fellows Building is about to be sold, and he said

Fuel Boss To Visit State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Robert H. Steele, R-Conn., said Thursday he has received personal assurances from President Nixon the administration would take pains to see that New England does not suffer more from the energy crisis than the rest of the nation.

At a special White House meeting, the President agreed to dispatch his top energy advisor, John A. Love, to New England as soon as possible. Steele said. The President also agreed to consider visiting New England himself, Steele added.

Steele said he spent part of the 40 minute session with the President explaining that New England faces greater fuel shortages than the rest of the nation because of the region's heavy dependence on Arab imported oil.

The Connecticut Republican presented Nixon with figures showing that 70 per cent of the homes, and buildings in New England are heated by oil and that 70 per cent of its electricity is generated from oil.

Steele said he recommended to the President that New England's oil allocation be reduced less than that for warmer areas of the country and that arrangements be made to funnel electricity from southern generating plants.

Steele, who recently returned from a fact-finding mission to the Arab-oil producing nations, said he was pleased with his meeting with the President but that its real value would depend on what practical steps came next.

Fuel Oil Dealers Optimistic; School Closing Opposed

HARTFORD (AP)—Oil dealers say Connecticut can warm this winter if energy-saving steps are taken. But school officials oppose one conservation proposal—a one-month suspension of classes.

In a meeting with Gov. Thomas J. Meskill Thursday, fuel dealers and the Independent Connecticut Petroleum Association said the oil shortage wasn't as bleak as Meskill had said at a meeting earlier this week with mayors and first selectmen. Meskill said he hoped he'd been wrong.

Walter P. Macaulay, vice president of a New Haven oil company, told the governor predictions of major shortages were unfounded. And, with conservation, major problems should be avoided, he said.

Raymond L. Langfield, president of the association, urged increasing the weight limit on state highways so tank trucks could carry full loads. He also said more oil storage facilities were needed and the Connecticut River should be dredged to help barges carry full loads.

Meskill urged the dealers to distribute supplies equitably and to tell customers how to conserve fuel.

The Connecticut Education Association said Thursday night that closing schools should be a last resort action to cut energy consumption.

CEA president Arthur S. Colley said a recommendation by acting State Education Commissioner Maurice Ross to stretch Christmas vacation from mid-December to mid-January would disrupt both education and the lives of

Officials Meet To Discuss Alternatives

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon may be nearing a decision on whether to impose gasoline rationing, higher gasoline taxes or both.

He scheduled a meeting for today with his cabinet-level energy group. Such a move usually means that a decision is near.

Sources said the energy group is leaning heavily toward recommending rationing to Nixon. Senior administration officials have concluded that Congress would not approve a large increase in the federal tax on gasoline to discourage driving the sources away.

However, Nixon is known to view rationing as a last resort. On Nov. 7 he said the American people would resent peacetime rationing "very, very much" and that he personally disliked driving the sources away.

In other developments:— Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., criticized continuing U.S. oil shipments to South Vietnam, Cambodia and Thailand during the domestic oil shortage. The Pentagon said the amount of oil has been reduced but the policy of providing fuel to the three nations remains unchanged.

The Arab oil-producing countries promised to relax the energy squeeze on Britain, France, Spain and those African nations that broke relations with Israel. The Arabs have cut off all oil for the United States.

Chrysler Corp. said it will close seven auto assembly plants for varying periods in January. Chrysler said the move was to change production to meet a demand for more than a million workers would lose jobs.

Steen said Americans can expect sharply higher fuel prices. He said the government

Kreskin's Failure Blamed On Sponsors

JUNE TOMPKINS
(Herald Reporter)

Kreskin's failure to find his check in Manchester Wednesday night was because the performance "had not been conducted in an honest fashion," according to his personal manager, Lou Reda of Easton, Pa.

In a telephone conversation this morning, Reda said that because a member of the committee which sponsored Kreskin's engagement in Manchester admittedly told the group hiding the check to "think outside," Kreskin does not feel the performance was handled "in an honest fashion."

Attempts to reach Kreskin in position have been unsuccessful, but Reda said today that Kreskin will make personal contact, probably later today. Kreskin performed Thursday night at Holy Cross College in Worcester, Mass. He refused to accept any calls before his performance because it is against his traveling manager.

Lasaggio said that Kreskin did find his check in the Worcester audience.

Reda said that, with every engagement that is made with Kreskin, a contract and book of rules is sent to whoever arranges the event. The rules describe the situation under which Kreskin is to appear; that is, requesting complete

Bowers School Pupils Give Views On Closing

JUNE TOMPKINS
(Herald Reporter)

If anybody is concerned with the fuel crisis and how it may affect the schools in Manchester with regard to possible closing, it's the kids themselves.

Members of Mrs. Bowers' fifth grade class at Bowers School have definite opinions as to the state proposed extended Christmas vacation from Dec. 14 to Jan. 13.

Many of their reasons are selfish because the makeup time in the summer would be a pain. And all so we can't go camping.

Another said, "I think it's the most stupid thing I've ever heard of. We'll have to make it up in the hot, sticky summer when we won't be able to think as well as when we are comfortable. It doesn't exist because it's causing a lot of trouble everywhere!"

One sports enthusiast probably expresses the feeling of most of the other pupils: "I think it's a pretty good idea. I can go skiing all month and even bring our car. I think the idea will save a lot of fuel oil the only thing; it will use their jobs."

Some even considered the imposition on their parents. "I hate the idea of going to school in the summer. We could be outside playing, when we're in school working. If we stay home in the winter, all they do is watch TV and get on our mother's nerves."

It's obvious that the youth do not react to cold temperatures as much as adults. Said one, "I think that it's dumb to close schools in the winter. So we get cold big. I would want the whole summer off. Instead of the winter."

Opinions are candid: "I think it smells! Well you would if you were a kid. Kids like to get out of the house. I would care if we had to work by candle light and dress warm!"

The general consensus is to arrange somehow for school closing anytime but summer.

There's one pupil who is objective about the whole thing. "I sort of think we should have no school in the summer. I don't think we should. I think we shouldn't because of the energy shortage and the paper shortage but I think we should make up the time during the summer. We could be outside playing, when we're in

In 1969, intersection improvements were again proposed— with widening work to be done on the Center Church front lawn. Parishioners objected at that time, and the plan was scrapped.

Downtown planning consultant Dennis Brown, commenting on the purchase proposal at Thursday's downtown committee meeting, said "it's so clearly a good idea that we don't need further study."

According to records in the town office, the Odd Fellows Building is assessed at $42,960. The assessment, officials explained, is based on about 65 per cent of the property's $65,000 value.

Kenney's Son Leavess Hospital
WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward M. Kennedy Jr., whose right leg was amputated Nov. 17 in an attempt to arrest bone cancer, left the hospital today with his parents, Sen. and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy.

The 12-year-old boy walked unassisted except for crutches and was holding a football given by Coach George Allen of the National Football League's Washington Redskins.

Doctors at Georgetown University Hospital said after the operation there is "an excellent chance" the surgery arrested the cancer.

The Matter of Time

There is a phrase in common use that "time is on our side."
Human nature being what it is, and politicians being human, this has come to mean in too many instances, "stall and maybe in time the problem will go away or solve itself."
The point in question still remains, however, is time on our side on the many problems we seem to have before us?
The State of Connecticut, by belatedly agreeing to subsidize mass transit into 1974, bought some time. But this time cannot be said to be on the side of commuters unless there is a long-range plan developed to continue and expand mass transit. In fact, as time slips by, we are increasingly confronted with the prospect of an even greater transit crisis in the light of projected energy deficiencies through the end of this decade.

in time for Christmas shopping spree.
But here is a case where, we fear, the politician being human knows that time is really running out. That surplus is now a tempting morsel to be distributed for political gain despite the increasing uneasiness in the economy.
Again the energy shortage may be the culprit. Already there are signs on the horizon that as fuels become shorter in supply there may be economic slowdowns and according to some, there might even be a recession. Prudence then would dictate keeping the sales tax in effect until we know better what the economy will be doing next summer, next fall, and in 1974. That surplus might be needed for more pressing needs than a tax cut now.

But it would appear the state transportation experts and their beloved transit districts are letting the clock run out.
Then too there is the matter of a tax cut, meaning a reduction of the sales tax, in the light of an anticipated $100 million surplus in state revenues. One legislator has suggested a special session to cut the tax to benefit all of us

The problem with "time being on our side" is recognizing when it is and when it isn't. This isn't always easy for each of us, as well as the politicians, would prefer not to think in terms of decisions but we'd rather stall for time in the hope that the problem will go away—whether it is mass transit, economic dislocations, or a visiting mother-in-law.
But, alas, time and tide wait for no man.

Reclamation Profitable

Coal is one of the most abundant minerals in the United States. Estimates of known coal reserves run to as great as 500-600 years' supply at our present rate of usage.
With a grave energy crisis facing the country coal has been looked to as a possible alternative energy source which could ameliorate the oil shortage which has been objected to by environmentalists on several grounds. High sulfur coal is a pollutant which has been found offensive.

One operator in Western Pennsylvania, after leasing a tract for striping operations, bought the land for $100 per acre. He then restored it, making a lake in a swampy area, a swimming pool and a wooded area.
It is now turning it into a mobile home park for 1,000 homes which will rent for $50 per month per site. In addition to land beautification it will also contain a community center for those living there.
In another area poor land for farming has actually been improved by the mining operator. Steep hills have been turned into rolling countryside. Topsoil which was found in an over-abundance in the valleys has been spread evenly over the hills, from which it had washed, and the land is now going to be used for cattle raising.

Coal which can be mined by the strip process is easily uncovered in most cases. But the process often has left a scarred earth surface which was unsightly and would not support vegetable or animal life.
The hills of West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and parts of Pennsylvania were mined in this manner, often with disastrous results.
There seems to be hope, however, of recovering coal in the strip mining process, and avoiding these two undesirable results. Scrubbers have been perfected which remove sulfur content from coal smoke and produce a perfectly acceptable emission content.

Land restoration can be practiced in mining other materials besides coal. Oil companies entering the uranium mining field have promised restoration and beautification in Wyoming sites.
Most states have enacted strict laws regarding strip mining operations after nationwide publicity was given to the earlier deprivations in Appalachia.
But the profit motive may prove to be the greatest incentive for perfect restoration of all.
If money can be made by restoration of the land it will prove to be a drive which goes far beyond statute or fear of punishment for non-compliance.
We may find scraggly land over coal deposits made better than it ever was before and at a profit. This should please coal operators and environmentalists alike.

Andrew Tully
Oilman Comments

WASHINGTON — Even St. Peter is not going to persuade me that the oil industry is without sin in the energy crisis, but it would be selfish not to share with readers of this pillar some comments by Graham P. Stewart Jr., an oilman based in Casper, Wyo.

Although I've never met Stewart, I know him pretty well. We have exchanged correspondence and whenever his free enterprise heart is particularly outraged, he gets on the phone to me. I was moved to write to his wife when I learned she was dying of cancer. Graham Stewart is one of those friends a body usually disagrees with, but always in good clean fun.

Came now a missive from Greenville, W. Va., where Stewart is consultant to a company looking for natural gas. His working clothes prose gave attention. Answering his own question, Stewart blames the energy mess on "stupidity at all levels of government, Congressional, Executive, Judicial and administrative."
Specifically, he cites the Hope Natural Gas case after the World War II, in which "the Supreme Court stupidly held that the Federal Power Commission had power to regulate the price of gas at the well head. The result, the search for gas was certainly not short of adrenalin. Then, Eisenhower's noble, but stupid, veto of the bill which would have nullified the Court decision because Mr. L. tried to give Senator What's-His-Name $10,000, or whatever."

"The reduction of the depletion allowance when it should have been increased, thanks to the running vendetta of people like Williams (former Sen. John) of Delaware. You will note they always come from states where there ain't no oil. This didn't kill the majors, but it saddy hurt the drilling funds... the main source of capital for domestic wildcat exploration."
"The laws passed by some of our recent Mad Dog Congresses... having to do with environmental control, sulphur emissions, environmental impact studies. So a car now uses 10 per cent more gas to get where it's going. They even wanted to extend impact studies to well-drilling. Can you imagine an operator with expiring leases, rushing to get started before the last day, having to submit to six months or more of an impact study? And of course, the case of the one-man coal operator in Wyoming who had to shut down until he could provide, among other things, a stretcher."
"I rate the last three or four Congresses as about equal to the Board of County Commissioners in Duval, Tex. ... They are men with no sense of history... They are incapable of anticipating the results of their actions. They have allowed themselves to be stamped by a ravens pack of way-out ecologists..."

Important Observation

Dear Sir: Your editorial of Nov. 13 entitled "Public Advocate Not Needed" points to the very important observation that while "it is politically popular to support lower utility rates and make a concerted effort to hold the lid on hospital costs" it is also important to "insure a rate structure which will contain a reasonable quality level of service."

A Chance To Be Heard

To the editor: The importance of public hearings on zone change applications and the role of the public at these hearings is in need of restatement.
The hospitals of Connecticut are deeply enmeshed in the administrative detail of working with a new Commission on Hospitals and Health Care, a process which has gotten off to a somewhat shaky start but which may still contain a promise of cooperative work to strike that balance between maintaining quality services and providing these services at a reasonable cost.

Whether or not a "public advocate" would help in the kind of process which takes place between regulated industries and regulating commissions is a question which the hospitals have not seriously considered, although it may be a very important one at this time to make sure that the regulating process takes place within the guarantees of the law, and is not merely a response to an effort by the governor and his parliament to gain short-range political advantage at the expense of the quality of those services which Connecticut's hospitals have traditionally provided.
I think there is little cause for you to fear that the hospital cost commission may be more pro hospital than pro citizen, but great cause to fear that the process of the commission should be considered by the public as well as the hospitals. Every Manchester resident who feels that a particular proposal is of significance either to himself personally, to his neighborhood, to the town, or even to the region should attend the public hearing concerning the proposal. Anyone who has an opinion in favor of or opposed to the proposal should speak at the hearing and make his feelings known to the commission. People who have questions or points they feel should be considered by the commission should raise these issues at the public hearings. Petitions should be presented at the hearing so that they be part of the hearing record. Someone who is unable to attend the hearing should send his comments to the commission asking that his letter be read into the hearing record. Public affairs committees, and petitions presented to the commission after the public hearing are not part of the record. Copies of applications are filed in the town-clerk's office prior to the public hearings and are available for inspection in the town clerk's office. Interested parties should read this information so they may ask more informed and pertinent questions at the public hearing.
Comments of the public made at the public hearing are important for another reason. State law requires that if, at the public hearing, the owners of 30 per cent or more of the property within 500 feet of a proposed zone change protest the change, then a vote to approve the change must be at least four to one instead of the simple majority. This would make the difference between approval and denial in the event of a three to two vote. In order to invoke this provision, the protest must be filed at the public hearing.
The next public hearing to be held by the Planning and Zoning Commission will be Dec. 3. This hearing will be a continuation of the Nov. 5 public hearing concerning applications for a group of related zone changes in the Buckland area. The continuation of this public hearing will afford the public an unusual second opportunity to make its feelings about this important proposal known to the PZC.

Don't Need An Enfield Mall

To the editor: Since the emphasis today is on ecology, I personally must consider this aspect of the proposed development of Buckland Commons.
What would be the ecological affect? Right now, we have acres of tobacco farm land bordering I-86 and the towns of Manchester and South Windsor. There are tobacco barns, trees, natural springs, lots of green grass and open uninhabited space. It is one of the few remaining large tracts of open land around it. It is foolish to assume, however, that it will always remain that way. But to develop the entire plot leaving perhaps a few trees seems to be defying any ecological progress we have already made.
With the highway so close by, there is enough auto and truck pollution in the area already. With an influx of thousands of cars per day, it would be unbearable. Even during construction, there will be trucks of every kind polluting the air. What happens to all the scrap and waste during and after the building of this area? Can our town handle this?
I don't think it can. We don't need another Enfield Mall in Manchester.

Against Closing Schools

To the editor: It is interesting, and probably a good thing, that an emergency causes one to examine and restate one's priorities. For this reason, the energy crisis may serve as a healthy jolt to America's consciousness.
Admittedly, priorities will differ but I am appalled to hear setting State Commissioner Maurice Rojas suggest the closing of schools for one month. What kind of a community is it which closes schools while hundreds of stores in that same community are needlessly open all day and into the night? Has the market place really come to hold such an exalted position on our list of life's priorities? I hope for the best.
I have written to Gov. Messli and to the State Board of Education to inform them that I

Strange

To the editor: One of the first actions of the newly seated Democratic majority Board of Directors was to defy the voters and elect a deputy mayor. In spite of an overwhelming vote of 80% to 37% against a change in the charter to officially provide for such an election, the directors chose to elect a permanently designated back-up to the mayor. This action seems to be a strange way for the Democrats to follow-up on their campaign bragging about concern for the voters.

The Old Codger's Coditations

What a wonderful job the Tall Cedars did for us for Thanksgiving! Call it the "Thanksgiving Turkey Trot," the "Bunton Derby," or just the "Five Miles," by any name it was wonderful.
Wonderful for the friendly competition among so many participants, old and young, so eager to enter.
Wonderful for the thousands of admirers who came from far and near to watch and cheer their favorite athletes.
And what a boost for the prestige of the City of Village Charm! A big hand for the Cedars! And Muscular Dystrophy. Hurrah!
And now the girls feel slighted and want a part of the fireworks.
What's wrong with that? Isn't there some local distaff organization willing or able to do something for their 1973? No group of Eastern Star, Daughters of Isabella, or even DAR enough up with the times to sympathize with the modern girls?
There's a chance for Women's Lib to demonstrate its equality. Come now! Give the girls something of their own and forbid all mere males to enter. That's what!
This brings back to mind the old 20-mile bicycle races we used to have in town. They started and finished on Main St., a little south of Park St. They followed the same course as the five-mile except that it went from Charter Oak St. to Porter St., by way of Oak Grove St., and was a four-mile circuit instead of five. That meant five trips around to make the 20 and afforded the spectators a better chance to follow the progress and relative placing of the contestants.
Contestants entered from far and near and so came many spectators.
Several runners can start in one big group but of course bicyclists couldn't do that safely, so an arrangement of handicaps with each man in a group of those with similar rated ability. Thus even the best riders had some chance of winning a prize for place, and the field was spread out enough for safety.
Sometimes a starter with the first handicap group would appear around the corner of E. Center and Main about the time the "scratch" men were being released at the starting line. The late starters had little chance of getting any of the better place prizes, but they were timed and awarded prizes on that score.
Between the two "scratch" men who started last there was keen rivalry year after year. They were from out-of-town and always were the top feature of the event. Each had his large number of friends and backers so there was more betting on those two than on all the other riders combined.
One was a Mr. Alexander. We don't know where he came from or went to. The other was Walter Laetgens, who had little chance of winning but became a resident of Manchester and had his bicycle sales and repair shop in the southeast corner of the basement of the House and Hale building at the corner of Oak and Main Sts. That was a three-story red brick building known as "Oak Hall" with the Odd Fellows Hall on the top floor. It was later destroyed by fire.
In his later years Walter was a very popular state fish and game warden.
At the turn of the century bike riding was very popular, but when auto became available the satisfaction of furnishing one's own motive power waned rapidly. For several good reasons now the practice

Forty-seven of Andover's fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students were honored Monday evening at the school's Soccer Night for participation in the after school soccer program.

The program, which was organized in 1970, basically stresses fundamentals and working together as well as "participation," exposure, and a chance to "grow," according to David Turkington, Andover's soccer coach.

Turkington said the program started with nothing, but thanks to funds from the Board of Education and the PTA, the teams now have new game shirts and balls and new goals as well as a lining machine for the field.

Guest speaker for the evening was Michael Zotta, varsity soccer coach and physical education department head at Rham High School.

Zotta named at least 20 boys who had graduated from the Andover soccer program and were playing on the seventh and eighth grade soccer teams at the high school.

He said that when these youngsters come to Rham they are "first of all gentlemen...in good physical condition...and ready to play soccer."

In addition to receiving a certificate of participation and a group picture of their team, each boy will also receive a 1973-74 Andover Soccer patch. Boys receiving the awards were fourth graders Bryan Richards, James Prevost, Russell Adams, Don Dressel, Gary Krewson, Michael Fisher, Ricky Hutchinson, Michael Massey, Joey Landry, Brian MacKay, Ronald Cody, Carl Haveri, A.J. Woo, Paul Goodier and Neil Berstein.

The sixth graders were John Fisher, Ray Collin, Marcellus Davis, Mark Vanty, Glenn Graham, Tommy Birdsal, Billy Tiemann, Scott Duchesneau, Mike Barrett, Mike Dreyer, Bob Weingart and John Sheehan.

The program ended on a sentimental note with Turkington receiving a standing ovation and being presented with a card inscribed, "We mean so much but it boils down to us thanks Mr. T," and signed by all the boys, and a "money soccer sock."

Town Files Pollution Petition Suits

French Club of Manchester will have a Christmas party Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. at Orange Hall. Reservations close Tuesday and may be made with Mrs. Felix Jesanis. Prizes will be awarded at the party for the prettiest gift wrapped package.

MONICA SHEA Correspondent

The Board of Health has filed suits against five homeowners in the north end of Coventry for failure to comply with outstanding abatement orders. The suits have been filed against Addie Guerrard, Armand St. George, Ober, Twin Hill Dr.; Nancy Pietre, Northfield Rd.; Robert Tate, Fieldstone Lane; and Douglas Whelan, Ashbrook Dr.

The town must prove in court that these residents are in violation of the health code if it is to force them to correct the problem. The board in conjunction with Director of Health Robert Stawan and Department Sanitarian Don Hultgren, has also requested that the Town Council authorized that the town attorney to file a civil action against 27 property owners in the lake area who have outstanding abatement orders seeking an injunction against them to stop the discharge of sewage into the ground. These homeowners have already been found guilty of polluting by the State Department of Health. The 27 families the town says have failed to implement plans to solve pollution problems are Raymond Bartlett, Hickory Dr.; Norman Bernier, Juniper Dr.; Beverly Bill, Woodland Dr.; George Boland, Lakeview Dr.; Allen Cohen, Hickory Dr.; Joseph Coughlin, Lakeview Dr.; Regional Curtis, Hickory Dr.; Gilbert Dann, Bassell and Hickory Dr.; Albert Demola, Eorest Rd.; Malcolm Devine, Edgewater Dr.; Joseph Fortier, Hickory Dr.; Leon Holmes, Juniper Dr.; Lawrence Jackson, Juniper Dr.; George Jean, Hickory Dr.; Howard Leach, Juniper Dr.; Robert LeClair, Well Trail, George Lucas, Juniper Dr.; Thomas Moran, Juniper Dr.; Stephen Munsel, Lakeview Dr.; John Pepeln, Lakeview Dr.; Hazel Rosano (Aronson), Lakeview Dr.; Lorraine St. Amant, Shore Dr.; Charles Wagner, Juniper Dr.; Earle Wilson, Lake Rd.; George Wisnans, Juniper Dr.; and Milton Zarmuhlen, Maple Dr. Doty Thissal, chairman of the board, stated that virtually all of these pollution problems could be solved. Nancy Lucas, one of the homeowners in the lake area, was "amazed" at the board's action. She stated that "Some of the homeowners named, including myself, have hired engineers to draw up plans to correct the problems and these plans have been approved by the town. We are now seeking bids from companies who install septic tanks." Mrs. Lucas went on to say that those who have received bids have been told the corrections could cost anywhere from $2,500 to $4,500.

Pockett Petitions Grow

VIVIAN KENNESON correspondent Tel. 875-4704

Selectman Edward Mosky represented Tolland at Hartford at Mayor George Athan's meeting to assist in the search for missing Janice Pockett. Wednesday's meeting was attended by over 100 persons who produced petitions signed by 47,000 persons. Another 15,000 signatures were received by mail, from as far away as California, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The committee hopes to have 100,000 signatures within the next two weeks to present to the President, in hopes that he will direct the FBI to step in, in the case. Janice, a white female, 4-foot-11, blonde hair, was last seen on July 26 by her mother, Mrs. Ronald Pockett of Anthony Rd. She left home about 4:30 to retrieve a butter fly she had placed under a rock for safekeeping off nearby Rhodes Rd, where her bicycle was found by Mrs. Pockett an hour later. The seven-year-old was wearing navy blue shorts, sneakers, and a blue and white jersey. A week-long intensive search of a six-square-mile area of woods and swamps failed to find a trace of Janice or her pet. Mrs. Pockett has a posted award of nearly $10,000.

Hayes President Of Parachutists

Gary Hayes of East Hartford has been named president of Connecticut Parachutists Inc. (CPI), a Manchester-based sport parachuting club. Hayes is a charter member of CPI, which was formed in 1962 and now has about 190 members. The local group is replacing the largest sport parachuting club in the eastern United States. CPI's drop zone is at Ellington Airport. Weekly club meetings are conducted on Thursdays (8 p.m.) at the Army-Harrington of 186D Tudor Lane, Navy Club, 1600 Main St.

Directors named were Blake, Butch Auden of 42 Delmont St., and James Burnham of 9 Main St., South Windsor. CPI's members come from six states. The local group is replacing the largest sport parachuting club in the eastern United States. CPI's drop zone is at Ellington Airport. Weekly club meetings are conducted on Thursdays (8 p.m.) at the Army-Harrington of 186D Tudor Lane, Navy Club, 1600 Main St.

Couple Sharing Winnings

CHESHIRE (AP) - Mr. and Mrs. William A. Speth both 76, of RFD 7 Ledyard, said they will share with about 70 other people the $75,000 state lottery prize they won Thursday. The Speths, who for 16 1/2 years were administrators at the Evangelical Home for the Aged in Brooklyn, N.Y., said they will send cards and money to about 30 residents of the home. They also will send part of the winnings to about 40 youngsters they consider adopted nephews and nieces. The Speths have no children of their own. Mark E. Ouellette 31, of 387 Commonwealth Ave. and Mrs. Jeanne B. Andette, 50, of 18 James Ave., both of New Britain, won $15,000 each in Thursday drawings.

South Windsor Scouts Clean Up, Ask Cooperation

Residents of South Windsor are asked to help keep the Town Recreation Area free of trash and garbage and not to deface the shelters provided. Scouts of Troop 389 have spent many hours removing over 500 pounds of debris and repainting the picnic shelter. The Scouts Project was under the supervision of Keith Hagelin as part of his Eagle achievement. Assisting him on the job were Sean Kennedy, Dave Duval, David Schmidt, Dave Cook and Matt Kennedy. In addition the boys also removed litter from the Rye St. area used by the troop as a camping ground. This project was undertaken by the entire troop of 32 scouts in preparation for the Parents and Webelos Camp overnight. School Lunches The following lunches will be served in the South Windsor schools during the week of Dec. 3 to Dec. 7. Monday: Tomato soup, Bologna, salami and cheese sub w/lettuce and milk. Orchard Hill: Chicken chow mein w/rice and noodles. Wapping: Avory; Peanut butter and jelly sandwich also served. Court Cases

CIRCUIT COURT 12 Manchester Session William Hennes, 21, of no certain address, was sent to jail for six months by Judge William Graham Thursday on various criminal charges including larceny and non-support.

Police said one of the incidents involved an attempted burglary in Ellington in which several gasbats were fired from a moving car, and another alleged incident involved the theft of railroad ties from the Central Vermont Railroad line through Stafford.

The case of Ronald Doucette, 18, now serving time at the state correctional institution at Cheshire, was continued to Dec. 14 at East Hartford. Doucette is charged with a total of 20 forgery counts and 16 larceny counts in various degrees. The charges, lodged against him by Glastonbury Police and State Police from the Colchester barracks, stem from alleged cashing of stolen checks in July and August.

The charges are all being brought together, court officials said, because Doucette demanded immediate disposition of the charges, a right he, as a prisoner, is allowed by state statute.

Other cases heard by Judge Graham Thursday included: Robert W. Kowalski, 19, of no certain address, suspended one-year jail term and two years probation for first-degree criminal trespass (substituted for third-degree burglary). Judge Graham specified that a condition of Kowalski's probation be he continue hospital treatment for drug dependence. Gerald E. Lavasseur, 46, of East Hartford, fined $75 for reckless driving (substituted for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor). Orrie Lawrence Jr., 18, of Hartford, third-degree burglary and fourth-degree larceny, both nolle.

Lutz Plans Holiday Programs

Lutz Junior Museum will sponsor Christmas workshops and mini-classes for children as well as special holiday activities at the museum.

The adult workshops will include classes in candle-making Wednesday from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Steve Fish, instructor, will give lessons in making sand-cast candles. The fee is $2 for members and $2.50 for non-members.

"Christmas Crafts for You and Your Child" classes, taught by Bea Sheffel of the Manchester Recreation Department, will be Dec. 7 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the museum. The making of wall hangings and paper mache angels will be explained. The fee is $1 for members and $1.50 for non-members.

planned for museum visitors on Saturday, and Dec. 8 and Dec. 15 from 2 to 4 p.m. on Saturday. Dr. Thea Czernanski, a resident at Manchester Memorial Hospital and a native of Venezuela, will demonstrate the making of a piñata for Pinata Day.

Those visiting the museum on Dec. 8 can help decorate the museum with paper chains, popcorn strings and "God's eyes." Santa Claus will be at the museum on Dec. 15 to visit with children. These Saturday "Happenings" are open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m.

Special mini-classes for children are scheduled for Dec. 15 from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the museum. Classes are "Edible Decorations," 50-cents for members and 75-cents for non-members; "Bird Feeders," the making of several types of feeders, 75-cents for members and $1 for non-members; and "Candle-making" for Grades 4 through 8, $1.25 for members and $1.50 for non-members.

Today's Thought

Intangible Gifts Are Best

This Christmas, seek to give gifts of love through using your home as a place to practice hospitality during the season, towards those who in a special way might at this time need the warmth of an invitation to your fireside. It could even be someone who could not return the invitation.

Save white candle stubs and use them to protect any ink written addresses on packages you send through the mail. Rub the candle stub over the address and it will be protected. This protects the writing yet it remains perfectly clear.

Members of the Agnes Hayes and the Mary McClure Groups will be hostesses. Mrs. Irene Copeland and Mrs. Ethel Hubbard will pour.

The event is open to all women of the church and their friends.

Mrs. Ferguson Will Speak to Church Group

Guild Plans Service

The Rev. John J. Madden, associate director of novices of the New York Province of the Society of Jesus, will be guest speaker at the Christmas meeting of the Guild of Our Lady of St. Bartholomew's Church Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the church.

The Afternoon of Reflection, which will include Sunday Mass, is open to all interested women.

Before assuming his present post, he was director of province ministries and societies to the Vice Provincial for Social Pastoral Apostolates of the New York Province of the Society of Jesus.

Mrs. Vivian Ferguson of Forest St. will be guest speaker at the Christmas meeting of the Women's Christian Fellowship of Second Congregational Church Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Mrs. Ferguson will speak about her column "From Your Neighbor's Kitchen," which appears weekly in The Herald, and related experiences.

Mrs. Thomas Moore and Mrs. Allen Griswold are in charge of the worship service, which will open the evening's program.

Treat your next batch of cupcakes to a simple and tasty frosting that's made in a minute. Just add a thin chocolate covered cream mist to the top of each cake as you take the pan from the oven. The mints will melt and add an unusually delicious taste.

Members of the Agnes Hayes and the Mary McClure Groups will be hostesses. Mrs. Irene Copeland and Mrs. Ethel Hubbard will pour.

Harry Cohen, 70, Dead Former Manager of D&L

Harry L. Cohen, 70, of 49 Portage Rd., West Hartford, former manager of the D&L Department Store at Manchester Parkade, died Thursday at Hartford Hospital.

Harry L. Cohen

Mr. Cohen was co-director for the Parkade Merchants Association at the time of his death, retired two years ago after serving for 10 years as manager of Manchester's D&L store.

He began his retailing career in the late 1920s with M. Larie and Co. of Albany, N.Y., and later managed its Pittsfield, Mass., branch. His next post, for over 20 years, was as manager, buyer and merchandiser for Marcel's of New Britain. He then joined the D&L organization as manager of its Manchester store in 1951.

He had been very active in the Manchester Parkade Merchants Association and served as its president from 1962 to 1968. He was awarded a plaque for meritorious service by the organization. He also had been active in the Manchester Chamber of Commerce and in 1969, was elected to serve a three-year term on its executive committee.

Mr. Cohen was born in Albany, N.Y., and had lived in the Hartford area for about 50 years. He was a member of Jonathan Lodge of Odd Fellows and the Jonathan Welfare Society, both of Hartford.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Sally Brundwine Cohen; a son, Woody N. Cohen; a daughter, Mrs. Ariz; two sisters, Mrs. Harry

John Eimarth Jr., 56, of S. River Rd., died Wednesday night at Rockville General Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Marion A. Eimarth.

Mr. Eimarth was born Dec. 3, 1916 in Philadelphia, Pa., and had lived in the Hartford area for about 50 years. He had been employed at the American Rockville General Hospital.

Other survivors are a son, John J. Eimarth, at home; his mother, Mrs. Mary T. Eimarth of Miami, Fla.; and a sister, Mrs. Walter Manley of Miami.

Funeral services are Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Ladd Funeral Home, 19 Ellington Ave., Rockville. The Rev. Donald Miller, pastor of the taken Congregational Church, will officiate. Burial will be in South Cemetery. Military honors will be accorded at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Alexander Trusewicz of 130 Woodland St. died Tuesday at St. Francis Hospital, Hartford. He was the husband of Mrs. Veronica Chmielewski Trusewicz.

Mr. Trusewicz was born in Poland and had lived in Manchester for about 22 years. He served with the Polish Army during World War II. He had been employed at the Colonial Board Co. He was a member of the Polish Army Veterans Post of Hartford.

Other survivors are a son, Alexander Trusewicz of Manchester, and three brothers and a sister in Europe.

The funeral will be Saturday at 8:45 a.m. from the Wasilchewicz Funeral Home, 43 Wetherfield Ave., Hartford, with a Mass at St. Cyril and Methodius Church, Hartford, at 9:30. Burial will be in Poland. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Anthony Tomaszewski BOLTON, and Anthony Tomaszewski, 84, of East Hartford died Thursday at St. Francis Hospital, Hartford. He was the father of Edward Tomaszewski of Bolton.

Petitioners To Pursue Their Balf Complaints

North End neighbors of The Balf Co. on N. Main St. have declared they are not satisfied with a response they received from Town Manager Robert Weiss, relative to a 111-signature petition they submitted to him in June.

The petition complains of noise and dust pollution emanating from the sand and gravel yard and request steps be taken to eliminate or reduce it.

"Our peace and quiet has gone," states the petition. "And, above all, we now have air pollution, along with noise pollution."

The petitioners, particularly, of blaming operation, the noise level, snot, and the early start of operations. In addition to requesting steps to control the pollution, the petition requests that noisy operations should not be started before 7 a.m.

Weiss' response, sent to the group in October, is in the form of a September report on the situation by James Fogarty, the town's pollution control officer. Fogarty stated he inspected the plant with Peter Wyga of the enforcement division of the state Department of Environmental Protection and that they found the plant in good order. He said the Balf Co. is not violating any town or state regulations and there is nothing the town can do legally, relative to the operations.

The leader of the North End group, H. Fred Macho of 400 N. Main St., said he and two other representatives have a meeting scheduled with Weiss for 8 a.m. Wednesday, to pursue the complaints. He said the group has retained Paul Grobroot as its counsel, but that Grobroot will not attend. Wednesday's meeting.

Kreskin

Peter DiRosa, a teacher of psychology in human behavior at the high school, admitted to school authorities and to Reda by phone, that he had earlier in the day made a statement about "think outside." But DiRosa said that when the actual time came to go with Kreskin into the audience Wednesday, he (DiRosa) did concentrate on the check and its location as Kreskin asked him to do.

Another member of the foursome, Larry Olsen, a math teacher, honestly admitted he was not concentrating, that his mind was a blank, when Kreskin questioned his concentration. Kreskin thanked him for being honest about it.

Kreskin's standing agreement with his audiences are that if he fails to find the check, it is forfeited. He said this is the first time in Kreskin's career as a performing mentalist that he failed to locate his fee.

He said that, in another situation a few years ago, when Kreskin did not find the check, it was due to a freak occurrence during a previous performance which resulted in an eye injury. A contestant, he said, knocked into Kreskin's arm, and the movement thrust Kreskin's glasses, which he was holding, into his eye.

Disposition of the $2,500 Manchester check is still undecided. Kreskin donates heavily to one of his favorite charities, Big Brothers of America. When someone suggested to him that the check be donated to Big Brothers, Reda said that Kreskin, who feels the performance was a case of "deliberate and unjust cooperation," replied it was an "unjust way for Big Brothers to earn their money."

George Emmerting, MHS principal, said today it will be financing the town's share. Mayor John Thompson said last week one way of financing it might be with a loan from the Nature Conservancy. That agency lends money for open-space purchase with funds it receives from the Ford Foundation.

The proposed acquisition of Case Mt. dates back to 1965, when the Conservation Commission providing the impetus. Originally, the town asked the state to purchase the property, to maintain it and to declare it a state park. Two bills toward that end were introduced into the General Assembly. When they failed, the proposal was changed to town ownership.

Theresa Landers, 22, of Andover, was charged Thursday with evading responsibility in connection with an accident on Parker St.

She was released on a $100 non-surety bond and scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, Manchester, Dec. 17.

THEY GOT AROUND TO CONFIRMING

GABERONE, Botswana (AP) — The border between South Africa and Botswana, originally defined by the London Convention of 1884, was formally confirmed in a treaty in September 1973.

Kreskin, he said, insisted on going through with his next performance despite advice by his doctor not to because of the medication he was taking.

Reda said he is awaiting word from Manchester school officials, and hopes the check will be sent to Kreskin with a letter acknowledging mishandling of the rules.

Deakin says he honestly feels that "he (Kreskin) did not receive the full cooperation he asked for. He asked the people to concentrate on the check and possibly his thoughts were bothered by a statement by one of the panelists."

Reda said this is the first time in Kreskin's career as a performing mentalist that he failed to locate his fee.

He said that, in another situation a few years ago, when Kreskin did not find the check, it was due to a freak occurrence during a previous performance which resulted in an eye injury. A contestant, he said, knocked into Kreskin's arm, and the movement thrust Kreskin's glasses, which he was holding, into his eye.

Disposition of the $2,500 Manchester check is still undecided. Kreskin donates heavily to one of his favorite charities, Big Brothers of America. When someone suggested to him that the check be donated to Big Brothers, Reda said that Kreskin, who feels the performance was a case of "deliberate and unjust cooperation," replied it was an "unjust way for Big Brothers to earn their money."

George Emmerting, MHS principal, said today it will be financing the town's share. Mayor John Thompson said last week one way of financing it might be with a loan from the Nature Conservancy. That agency lends money for open-space purchase with funds it receives from the Ford Foundation.

The proposed acquisition of Case Mt. dates back to 1965, when the Conservation Commission providing the impetus. Originally, the town asked the state to purchase the property, to maintain it and to declare it a state park. Two bills toward that end were introduced into the General Assembly. When they failed, the proposal was changed to town ownership.

Second Graders Make Own Breakfast

The joy of cooking is written about in books, but it is also written on the faces of these second graders at Highland Park School as they experience the joy of cooking a breakfast in class.

The pupils of Mrs. June Hyde and Mrs. Frances Ryan not only learned a lesson in cooking, but in food nutrition. The children brought in four dozen eggs, a gallon of orange juice, two loaves of bread, a quart of milk, 1/2 lb. butter, and a jar of jelly, and prepared a meal of

Homestead To Exhibit Revolutionary Musket

A Revolutionary War firearms piece will be exhibited Sunday afternoon at "Christmas at the Homestead."

The musket, on loan from Mr. and Mrs. George Cheney Jr., is 45 inches from the tip of the barrel to the butt of the stock and has a seven-angle bore. The stock has a brass plate bearing the inscription, "Capt. Timothy Cheney, Hartford, 1775." On the weapon is the name of the gunsmith, S. Wallis.

Capt. Cheney headed one of the four Lexington Alarm Companies sent from Hartford immediately after the British march on Lexington and Concord. He was later discharged to return home to make powder staves. At that time he was probably living on E. Center St. near the present entrance to Memorial Field. He built the Homestead in the 1780's.

Efforts to trace the locale of the gunsmith have been fruitless at this point. He was probably one of a number, many of them blacksmiths, assigned by the Committees of Safety to arm the early colonist troops.

Class Officers Chosen

As a result of student balloting last week, five seniors have been announced as officers to their class. The five students were selected from an original ball of the 12 seniors receiving the most nominations from classmates.

Chosen to represent the senior class were: Mike Shenstie, president; Katherine "Trinky" Hickock, vice president; Randy Comp, secretary; Matt Henigan, co-treasurer; and Nancy Donovan, co-treasurer.

Shenstie, a quiet serious-minded student, was humbled and very honored at his election. He has many qualifications for his position. Among them, he has played JV and Varsity soccer for the past three years as a Boy State delegate in his junior year, and he has belonged to IOH throughout high school. He is presently sergeant-at-arms in this "very enjoyable and rewarding organization." His best qualification, however, is the tremendous popularity and respect he generates from fellow students.

Miss Hickock who goes by the name of Trinky, has already seen much success over the past few years and few of her classmates were surprised when her vice presidency. Trinky was just recently selected as Homecoming Queen in her senior year.

Comp is also a very active student at MHS. His leadership qualities have been proven by his presidency of the Round Table Singers and his being a delegate to the 1973 State. Randy is well known for his ability to mix with a large variety of people.

Henigan's various talents are well known to everyone. From working hard on Student Assembly to performing with his guitar, Matt will prove a successful officer.

Miss Donovan, this year's AFS student to Holland and a member of the Homecoming Queen's Court, has a lot to contribute.

Alumni Dance Successful

The Alumni Dance, last Wednesday night, can be deemed a financial success. The Student Assembly, which sponsored the dance, made a good profit on the annual affair.

The loss of Scott Odell at the dance was a real blow. This has always been the dance where we make up for some of the money we lose on our other sport dances.

Although the dance was financially good, in other respects it was not quite as fruitful. Some of the kinds attending felt that the band should have played some more familiar tunes that would have been better to dance to. Obnoxious "Little Village" did an excellent job in providing music for the event. The dance floor was filled.

Unfortunately, there was a great deal of damage done during the dance. Some of the school windows were broken and the amount of damage was over $500. The administration is considering canceling all future dances, due to this incident.

Before they do this, the should look at the scores and realize how many games were lost by only a few points. There is nothing even the best teams can do about poor officiating.

The coaches did their best, along with the players. Both coaches have left an impression on the players that they will long remember.

Even though the team did not have the best year ever, it probably made up in spirit and dedication when it lacked in lucky breaks. The team members never let up. They needed. This sport is one of the most controlled sports around, since there are only two combatants, and penalty points are assessed for illegal moves.

Albrito would like to stress that wrestling is a team sport and therefore, prospective candidates are desired to come out for the team. No one is cut from the squad, since every member is an important one to the makeup of the entire team.

He would also like to point out that spectators are cordially invited to attend the matches, which are usually held on Wednesday nights and Saturday afternoons in Clarke Arena.

Dedication Vital To Grid Players

Despite a hard effort by the Indians on Thanksgiving Day, they were dealt a loss at the hands of Windsor High School.

Manchester went into the game with a few severe handicaps. The loss of Scott Odell at fullback, Dallas Dodge at tackle, and Rick Milka who did not see action until late in the game due to a knee injury, set the Indians back even before the game started.

Senior linemen Mike Coughlin, Ken trials, Jim Michalk and Steve Georgetti along with Bob Roy played an excellent game.

Steve Dryer, Dave Hunt and Steve Melia led the defensive backfield which had an excellent day, although some crucial passes got through the secondary. Leslie Cox, Bruce Taggart, and Mickey Miller led the kickoff teams with excellent coverage on the kicks.

First-year head coach Larry Olson and assistant Steve Lindberg did their best to lead the team.

Many people when looking at the team's record this year will undoubtedly make remarks about the coaches.

Before they do this, the should look at the scores and realize how many games were lost by only a few points. There is nothing even the best teams can do about poor officiating.

Officials Support Yule Tree Cautions

The Fire Prevention Bureau of the Rockville Fire Department and Fire Marshal Donald Magada said they fully support the position of the state fire marshal prohibiting the use of natural Christmas trees in anything other than one-and-two family private dwellings.

Raymond Walker who is Rockville's representative to the bureau, and Magada who is also Rockville fire chief, said they also fully agree with the 11 points the bureau set forth for the safe use of live trees. They also urge all town residents to comply with the state fire marshal's plan.

State Police Commissioner Cleveland Fuesenich, who is state fire marshal, noting that natural Christmas trees are highly flammable, said the use of them is not permitted except in private homes occupied by not more than two families.

Fuesenich also suggests that an approved method of treating natural trees so that they are effectively flame retardant. Artificial trees and decorations may be used if they are tested and listed by the Underwriters Laboratories', and direct lighting is permitted provided the lights are also tested and approved by the laboratory. Metallic trees should have only indirect lighting due to the danger of possible electrical shock, Fuesenich said.

In connection with the use of natural trees by those who may have them under the law, the fire marshal has outlined some safety points.

He suggests that the tree be freshly cut within not more than 10 days prior to the first day of its use indoors, that the tree have a high moisture content, that it is held upright by use of a metal stand having a water container to adequately replace moisture in the tree.

Also, if direct lighting is used, the lights should be tested and approved by Underwriters. Candles or open flames should not be used, no flammable or combustible material should be within two feet of the tree.

Printing Firm Moving to South Windsor

JUDITH KUEHNEL, Correspondent

The second industrial facility in two weeks to announce the removal of operation to South Windsor was reported Thursday by Mayor Robert Smith.

President Leonard Saff of Standard Printing, in cooperation with Mayor Smith, reported that the Hartford-based firm will move in the immediate future.

A new 15,000 square-foot facility is being built at Standard Park Centre Industrial Complex on Rt. 5.

Standard Printing's facility is specially designed for humidity and temperature control as required for the printing industry today.

In the formal announcement of the plant relocation to South Windsor, Mayor Smith visited with Saff to personally express his pleasure that the printing plant and its 20 employees will add a new facility to the fast growing area.

E. Russell Trotman of the Economic Development Commission has worked closely with the several agencies needed to facilitate the coming of Standard Printing. He expressed confidence that industry looking at South Windsor for plant relocation will receive all necessary town and community support from local development corporations, the Chamber of Commerce, all town department and related state agencies working together in total cooperation with Park Centre Industrial

Bolton Tiger Banquet Proves Success

DOON HOLLAND
Correspondent
646-8375

The Bolton Tiger Banquet was held recently with the success of the sit-down dinner attributed to Mrs. Barbara Spisto and her committee.

Mrs. Arlene Griffin decorated a large sheet cake with a football and team colors. Guest speaker for the evening was Tom Morris, present Covely coach and former player for the Hartford Knights and the 8ers.

Millon Jensen acted as master of ceremonies for the evening due to the absence of association president David Assard.

Team trophies were given to all boys, with Steve Lachenhill the recipient of the president's trophy and Mark Ouellette, the coaches trophy.

Discuss Library Alan Weidie, architect for Mankey Associates which is drawing the preliminary plans for the proposed new town library, discussed materials that will be used in the building.

Grinders, sandwiches, coffee, deserts and doughnuts will be sold.

The fair will feature Mrs. Janis Kereny, Grade 4 teacher, and MRS. Barbara Smith, IGE (Individual Guided Education) aide, recently visited a school in Windsor to observe its IGE Program.

Drop-off points are the homes of MaryLou Lemaire, Elaine Sherman and Sherry Shaw. An estimated value should be on each item.

The auction, to be held at Herrick Park, will be open to the public.

Bulletin Board The Board of Selectmen will meet Monday at 7 p.m. at the Town Hall.

The Vernon Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) Thursday night tabled action on a request of Thomas Carruthers for a variance to use a new home he owns as a group home for some residents of Mansfield Training School and turned the matter over to the town attorney for further clarification.

The action was taken during an executive session of the ZBA. A lengthy public hearing on the Carruthers appeal and six others, was held Tuesday night.

The Planning Commission denied Carruthers' request and suggested he appeal to the ZBA. His appeal asked for a use variance to operate the boarding house, which would not be owner-occupied as required in the zoning regulations.

Interpretations of a previous ruling of town attorneys conflicted. The next meeting of the ZBA will be on Dec. 18 and it is expected a decision will be made at that time.

The appeal of Donald Blais and Gail Blais of Kelly Rd., for a front yard variance, was granted with the stipulation that no other variance be requested for that particular lot.

Permission to operate a used car dealership on E. Main St., was granted to Elm Motors.

This also carried with it several stipulations. There is to be no display of cars or parking them within six feet of the inside edge of the sidewalk; the number of cars outside the building shall not exceed 15; provision must be made for the removal or storage of parts and trash by use of a covered container such as a dumpster; no more than 50 tire crates are to be on the premises at one time; and no other business is to be conducted on the premises.

Edwin Gerber of Dart Hill Rd. was granted a variance to convert a single-family home into two apartments to house farm help.

In granting this appeal the ZBA said it uses the intent of the concept of that zone, which is industrial park. Gerber said farm help is easier to keep in quarters are provided on the premises.

The appeal of Werner O. Kunzli was granted with several stipulations. Kunzli had denied permission, by industrial park, to build a single-family home on property on Reservoir Rd. The land is owned by Stanley Bray of Manchester.

At the public hearing objections were raised concerning the removal of sand and gravel from the site. The Conservation Commission said it would have an impact on the ecological value of the area which is near Walker Reservoir and the Tankershoos River.

The commission felt the removal of fill would contaminate these areas. Atty. Lawrence Rubinow, representing the applicants, said the request was for a building permit, not for the removal of soil.

He said those getting a building permit excavate the way they have to.

Atty. Rubinow said property rights may have severely diminished the past few years but they still exist.

Permission was granted provided the bottom of the foundation of the proposed building not be lower than 500 degrees above sea level; that the

Alabama Must Triumph To Keep Record Clean

NEW YORK (AP) — Alabama Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant admits he's coming into Saturday's meeting with Auburn "kind of blindfolded" by the Tigers' new Ver offense. But he's been working this week to shed the blindfold so that Alabama, 10-0, will not have to face the untidy prospect of meeting Notre Dame in the Sugar bowl Dec. 31 with a sullied record.

"This is the most important game of the year for a lot of reasons for us," the Crimson Tide coach says. "We've got to concentrate on winning the one-touchdown pick over the Irish in the Ver offense."

While No. 1 Alabama meets Auburn on national television Saturday will be the traditional Army-Navy game at Philadelphia.

Other day games Saturday — the final day of regular season action in football — include No. 2 Oklahoma at Oklahoma State, Vanderbilt at No. 19 Tennessee, Florida State at Florida, Georgia Tech at Georgia, Boston College at Holy Cross, Baylor at Rice and Texas Christian at Southern Methodist.

Saturday night contests include No. 1 Louisiana State at Tulane, Tulsa at No. 14 Houston, Iowa State at San Diego, Utah at Hawaii and Brigham Young at Texas-El Paso.

In the NAIA Division II championships, Glenville, W. Va., faces Northwestern, Iowa, at Huntington, W. Va. Elon meets LaCrosse at Burlington, N.C., and Langston meets Abilene Christian in the NAIA Division I semifinals. In the NCAA Division III semifinals, San Diego University is at Wittenberg, and Juniata plays Bridgeport.

MCC Five Lineup Set

By Chris Blake

First-year head basketball coach at Manchester Community College, Don Geisler, has one problem which is doubtful that anyone will hear him complain about it in the coming winter.

Geisler's pleasant problem is an abundance of talent which gives the MCC cagers a most promising outlook. The Cougars open a 24-game slate tomorrow night at Trinity. The home opener is a non-league encounter with the Eastern Connecticut State College JV's at Cheney Tech, the site for all MCC home games.

"We have two things going for us," Geisler pointed out. "We have good overall speed and great depth."

Returning from last year's 13-11 club are floor general Stan Alexander and center Ernie Moore. Alexander tallied 403 points and handed out 73 assists, leading in the latter department.

Moore, the tallest player on the roster at 6-4, missed Don Chafin's single-season scoring mark by nine points (503) and led the club in rebounding. Moore shoots well for a big man and possesses exceptional jumping ability. Guards Dave Sammarino and Bob Guerin also return from last year's unit.

Geisler also has some top-notch new blood to inject into the lineup. Newcomers include local products Tom Tucker (Manchester) and Brian Reynolds (East Catholic), along with Greg Moody, John D'Agata, Bob Kichnet, Curtis Iverson, Kerry Johnson, Mike Lomax, John Dishaw and John Quaglia.

Tucker captained the MHS hoopers last year and earned an all-CCCL berth. A broken foot sustained in a scrimmage will force Tucker to miss at least the lid-lifter.

With the excellent team speed the Cougars possess, Geisler plans to work with some full-court presses. And one player who figures to give opposing guards trouble is Curtis Iverson.

"We are bringing a man-to-man club," notes Geisler. "We have enough speed to do a lot of pressing."

Defensively, the Cougars will be inclined to play man-to-man. "We are bringing a man-to-man club," notes Geisler. "We have enough speed to do a lot of pressing."

Offensively, running is the password. "We will be a running ballclub, but in Stan (Alexander), Brian (Reynolds) and others we have some good set-up guards," Geisler said.

The Cougars play in the competitive Connecticut Community College Athletic Assn. (CCCCA). Uppermost in the minds of most CCAA coaches is defending champ Mattatuck Community College. The Waterbury-based club comes into this season with a 24-game win streak. Coach John Salerno has bolstered his Chiefs with such talent as All-Stater Willie Leon (Bloomfield), Pete Adamatis (Holy Cross Tech), and Gerald (Prince Tech).

Thus, the task will not be easy. However, the Cougars have the talent to make the tasks of opponents very difficult in the coming season.

Female in Coaching Ranks

One member of the distaff side, Sally Robinson has moved into the basketball coaching ranks in the Rec Department. Mrs. Robinson will coach the Manchester Travel Service entry in the Y Peewee League... Preparing to open early next month the Tennis Forum in Vernon is now accepting both family and individual memberships. Plans call for the four championship courts to be open daily from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Coach Stan Ogradnick's East Catholic High basketball team will play five games on campus this season, three at the University of Hartford and two at Central Connecticut. The Eagles will face Hartford Weaver Dec. 29 at Hartford, Northwest Catholic at the same gym Jan. 5, South Catholic Jan. 5 at Central, Northwest Jan. 12 in the New Britain site and Feb. 9 returning to UHartford to face South... Kel Tyler and Bob Gay, both of Manchester, are members of the skiing and wrestling teams at Bowdoin College this season. Putz, the former Rockville High and Springfield College standout athlete, now a pro baseball player, is back at Springfield studying for his master's degree. Putz served as a first baseman and designated hitter with the St. Louis Cardinals' Tulsa Triple A farm club in the American East last season. Putz has been offered a contract to return to the Oklahoma club next spring. Central Connecticut's fourth place finish in the Lambert Cup poll this fall was the best ever by a Blue Devil squad. Don Clerklin reports... Officials working varsity high school basketball games this season will receive $20 per man with the jayvee whistle-toters drawing one-half that figure... Park Supt. Ernie Turek reports work has already started on reconditioning the football field at Mt. Nebo. The area has been sodded, rock-filled and graded. Mt. Nebo's softball field will get heavy use next summer, Turek said, because the play area now at filling will be part of the new addition to the school.

Energy Crisis Closely Watched By Professional Sports Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's energy crisis doesn't stop at your neighborhood gas station or your living room thermostat.

It's likely to reach beyond right into your recreation time and your occupation with the world of sports.

For example, with gasoline in short supply, you might choose to use your quota for more important trips than a ride out to the ball park to watch the local team play.

That possibility hasn't been lost on sports administrators and the subject is being studied on several fronts. It is due for at least a cursory examination at the baseball meetings in Houston next week.

Baseball, of course, could be directly affected because so many games are played each season at night with artificial lights. The California Angels announced this week that they would reduce the number of games played under the lights in Anaheim by 123 per cent next season.

"If they tell us we can't play night ball because of the electrical power drain, we can't exist," said Calvin Griffith, president of the Minnesota Twins. "From a business standpoint, we simply cannot play during the day. We couldn't even pay our hospital insurance with what we'd draw with all-day baseball."

There is also the matter of air travel and the cutbacks of flights because the fuel shortage. Baseball is considering returning to train transportation for short trips. Trains provided the main source of transportation for clubs before expansion to the West Coast in 1958. Planes, of course, would still be used for cross-country travel.

Football isn't as directly concerned because there is less frequent travel and most games are played during the day. The golf circuit depends heavily on air travel for players to get drawn up in the Northeast and West to arrange for car pools so skiers can still reach their destinations.

College Basketball Outlook

NEW YORK (AP) — Who's afraid of the big, bad Wolf-pack? Not UCLA.

The Bruins will meet rugged North Carolina State this year, not to mention a couple of other national powers, in one of the toughest basketball schedules in their recent history.

But the defending national champions are probably better than last year, too — so that makes it twice as hard on the pretenders to their throne.

"I'm glad it was arranged," says North Carolina State Coach Norm Sloan, talking about the blockbuster game with mighty UCLA on Dec. 15 in St. Louis.

It's the Game of the Year, all right, and could provide an early look at the finalists in the NCAA playoffs this season.

To most observers, UCLA and North Carolina State are the 1-2 teams in the country.

The Bruins should build on their glossy, 75-game winning streak this season with the return of Bill Walton, Keith Wilkes and Greg Lee and the addition of Richard Washington, a 7-foot freshman phenom. There's another seven-footer in the imposing UCLA cast — sophomore Ralph Drollinger.

They'll hope to add to UCLA's cache of NCAA titles — seven in a row and nine in the last ten years.

Facing the Bruins, along with North Carolina State, will be Maryland, San Francisco and Notre Dame. And while the David Pack will probably be the toughest test for UCLA with Wald Thompson and Tom Burtonson, the others are no easy marks.

And, in the Atlantic Coast Conference, it is at its peak with the talents of Tom McMillen and Len Elmore.

25 Per Cent Increase In Country Club Dues

It's going to cost members more money to play golf next season at the Manchester Country Club.

Last night at the annual meeting the membership voted unanimously to increase the dues 25 per cent for all families, single men and women and students.

The attendance was the largest in more than 20 years.

Elected unanimously to serve a second term was the entire slate of officers headed by William Oleksinski, president. Others named were Merrill Whiston, first vice president; Herb Phenel, second vice president; and Carl Mikolowsky, third vice president.

The Board of Governors will consist of Orlando Annulli, John Mattern, Ted Backel, Nick Carlo, John Dymant, Bob McCurkin and Walter Ferguson.

HERALD BOX LETTERS
For Your Information
THE HERALD will not disclose the identity of any advertiser using box letters. Readers answering blind box ads who desire to protect their identity can follow this procedure:
1. Enclose your reply to the box in an envelope - addressed to the Classified Manager, Manchester Evening Herald, together with a memo listing the companies you do NOT want to see your letter. Your letter will be destroyed if the advertiser is one you've mentioned. If not it will be handled in the usual manner.

PLEASE READ YOUR AD
Classified or "Want Ads" are taken over the phone at a convenience. The advertiser should read his ad the FIRST DAY IT APPEARS and REPORT ERRORS in time for the next insertion. The Herald is responsible for only ONE incorrect or omitted insertion for any advertisement and then only to the extent of a "make good" insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by "make good" insertion.

Indian tribes in the Middle West were first to grow the chunky, small winter squash we know as "acorn" from its acorn-like shape. This Indian squash is one of the ancestors of a new variety of acorn squash, Table King, which originated at the University of Connecticut and is being offered to the public for the first time in the 1974 catalogues of major seed companies.

Mr. Searchuck called Richard G. Allard of Constock, Ferris & Co., in Wetherfield and Mr. Willard found just one packet of UConn seed tucked away in a drawer. Royal Acorn and the bush habit of growth is inherited from UConn.

It is bush-type squash, meaning that the flowers and fruit are borne close to the central crown of the plant rather than on trailing vines. The big advantage of Table King, say the All-America Selections people who gave it a silver medal, is the largest size of the fruit, compared to other bush-type acorn squashes.

Fruits of Table King are six inches long and five inches across, a uniform dark green, with thick golden yellow flesh, to quote the description that came with announcement of the award. The fruits have prominent ribs which create an attractive star shape when the squash is cut across the middle.

The shell is smooth and hard, giving it excellent keeping qualities, and fruits picked in the fall before frost can be held in a cool cellar well into the winter months.

The silver medals were awarded in 1971 after Table King had been grown in 25 trial gardens and carefully examined by expert judges. It has taken two more years to develop enough seed of the new variety to offer it to the public.

John Searchuck believes it was 1961 when he began work on the new squash, and his starting point was the UConn variety, developed some years earlier at the University of Connecticut by Dr. Lawrence Curtis, who was then on the staff. Although it won a gold medal in the All-America Selections, UConn almost disappeared. It was no longer listed in the catalogues in 1961 and the university had kept no seed.

Mr. Searchuck called Richard G. Allard of Constock, Ferris & Co., in Wetherfield and Mr. Willard found just one packet of UConn seed tucked away in a drawer. Royal Acorn and the bush habit of growth is inherited from UConn.

Several seasons were devoted to growing the new hybrid to be sure it would breed true, and at one point it was crossed back with UConn to reinforce the bushiness of the plant.

Some of the plants grew with tendency to put out vines, and those were discarded. Some produced small fruit, or fruit of an undesirable shape. Those had to be thrown out.

When Mr. Searchuck was sure he had a really new squash that could be depended upon to produce uniform results, another year was needed to grow enough seed to send to all 25 trial gardens for planting in the spring of 1971.

Belongs to University The squash belonged to this time, not to Mr. Searchuck, but to the university, and its future, from this point, was under the control of the University of Connecticut Research Foundation, set up to obtain patents on any discoveries, in agriculture or other fields, which are patentable and which the university is entitled to own.

Hoop Teams to Form

All boys selected to play in the Vernon American League Midget Basketball Program will be placed on teams Saturday with all first team players to report at 11 a.m. and second team players will remain until 3 p.m. All eight team names will then be placed in a hat and each coach will select his team by drawing it out of the hat. Tucker said due to this procedure and the fairness of the distribution of talent, ties exist for all top spots in the league standings.

Ski Classes Start Jan. 5.

Registration for the "Junior Ski Program," sponsored by the Rockville Alpine Ski Club, will be Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Lottie Fish Building, Henry Park. William Houle and Leon Peck are directors of the program which will get underway on Jan. 5, weather permitting. Children between the ages of nine and 12 (as of Dec. 1) are eligible for the instructional program which will accommodate up to 100 registrants on a first come, first serve basis. The classes will run for six consecutive Saturdays provided there is snow on the north slope of Fox Hill. The hours will be from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Parents or legal guardians must register the children who wish to participate and a registration fee of $1 is payable the day of registration. Ski equipment requirements for those taking lessons consist of skis with metal edges, release binding, ski boots, safety straps, ski poles, and leather gloves or mittens.

There was Black Beauty summer squash, in 1957, not really black but very dark green, and still listed in the catalogues. The UConn squash, parent of Table King, is the one descended party from the ancient variety grown by the Indians. Dr. Curtis crossed the vine-type Indian squash with a summer squash, Earl's Proflic Straightneck, to get a plant
