Zimmermann Dies, Suffered Stroke

William L. Zimmermann, 62, C.L.U., of 38 Bruce Rd., vice president of both C.T. LaBonne & Associates and LaBonne Life Insurance Agency, died Wednesday morning apparently from a heart attack.

William L. Zimmermann

Mr. Zimmermann was found slumped over the wheel of his car on W. Middle Pk. at Wedgewood Dr. Police were notified shortly before 10:30 a.m. that the car, headed west, was pulled off the side of the road with its motor running and the driver apparently unconscious.

He was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital by ambulance and was pronounced dead on arrival by Dr. Donald Purcell, acting medical examiner.

Police said Zimmermann had apparently suffered a heart attack. Active in community and industry affairs, Mr. Zimmermann was a director of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce, the Child Guidance Clinic, the Connecticut State Life Underwriters, and chairman of the Manchester Insurance Advisory Committee.

He formerly served as special gifts chairman for the Manchester Civic Orchestra, chair for the American Red Cross. He was a past president of the Buckley School PTA.

He attended Duke University for the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, and was a graduate of the American Institute of Banking. He joined LaBonne in 1957 as a sales associate, he was assistant treasurer of the Savings Bank of Manchester and was the first manager of the bank's life insurance department.

He received the designation of Chartered Life Underwriter in 1968 from the American College of Life Underwriters and was a registered representative in Massachusetts.

He was a past president of the Manchester Association of Independent Insurance Agents and the Connecticut Life Underwriters.

In 1967, he became associated with the National Life Insurance Co. of Vermont and was a member of its President's Club. He was named "Man of the Year" in 1972 by the LaBonne Firm and held in the National Quality Award given by the National Association of Insurance Agents.

He served for three years in the Army Air Force during World War II. He was a member of Center Congregational Church and a charter member of Manchester Lodge of Elks.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Claire Zimmermann; two daughters, Mrs. Gordon Huntress of New York City and Mrs. Susan Zimmerman of Boston, Mass.; and a sister, Mrs. Donald Jones of Hamden.

Lincoln's Birthday Law School Closing Problem

A recently enacted state law requiring public schools to close on Lincoln's Birthday, Feb. 12, is creating problems for Manchester school administrators, who had planned to open schools that day to compensate for time lost in last month's ice storm.

Existence of the law came to light today, three days after the Manchester Board of Education modified the school calendar to keep schools open on Lincoln's Birthday.

School Superintendent James P. Kennedy said he wasn't aware of the law, and he'll now try to petition the proper authorities for a waiver. If he can't get a waiver, local schools will comply with the law, he said.

In Bolton, the town school board knew about the law some time ago when it rejected suggestions to open schools on Lincoln's Birthday.

He feels money spent in that direction is better than money spent covering our green earth. Barry said that a law enforcement officer can hold today and feel more courses should be available to better educate members of law enforcement agencies with their receiving more pay.

He is against any invasion of a person's constitutional rights and will support every bill that protects human individuality. Barry said when he was first in the legislature he was paid $500 for two years plus mileage. It is now $6,500 and he feels that is more than enough for a part-time job.

He said he couldn't see why Connecticut, a state that is number one or two in per capita income should be number 46 in the nation.

The M and J Mothers Group will meet tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. Nancy Lapacchino, 194 Parker St. The other 4941 members of the group will celebrate the anniversary of the group's formation.

Two officers, Sgt. Gerald Calve and Patrolman Wayne Hauenberg, were dispatched to the scene. When they arrived, they were told the man was believed to be in the basement.

While Patrolman Hauenberg went to cover the rear exit, Sgt. Calve started down the stairs when he spotted a man spying around the corner. He ordered the man to stop, but the man reportedly said, "I'm going to kill you."

Sgt. Calve ordered the man to stop, but the man reportedly said, "I'm going to kill you." Sgt. Calve ordered the man to stop, but the man reportedly said, "I'm going to kill you."

The suspect, later identified as Kroeder, had to be forcibly subdued by both officers as he put up a struggle. He was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital where he is now under police guard.

Capt. Joseph Sartor of the Manchester Detective Bureau said he was applying for a search warrant to check Kroeder's Windsor Lock residence for the items taken in October.

"We have probable cause to believe that the suspect has taken," Sartor stated. Upon his release from the hospital, Kroeder will be presented in Circuit Court 12 for bond arrangement. The date is undetermined, police said.

The funeral is Saturday at 9:15 a.m. from the Callahan Funeral Home, 1602 Main St., East Hartford, with a Mass at St. Mary's Church, East Hartford, at 10. Burial will be in Veterans Memorial Field, Hillside Cemetery, East Hartford.

Barry Tells Plan

receiving state aid for public education. He said the average cost to municipalities in the state for education is 75 per cent with smaller towns average as high as 90 per cent. The national average is under 50 per cent.

He said he hasn't really been around to discuss the peculiar problems of people in Tolland County. Prior to the convention he promises not to stay in his living room, not to get the news only out of newspapers, not to expect phone calls and letters, he promises to go up and down the district meeting people and talking to them to get their concerns.

If nomination he wants to meet his opponent face to face as many times as he can be arranged. He wants to bring people together for a free exchange of ideas and he will let records stand by themselves.

He asks only to be heard with the people. He will, if nominated and then elected, be available at all times, not only at campaign time, he said.

"The thrust of my campaign will be positive, not negative," said Barry. Members of the association voted unanimously to urge Sen. Abraham Ribicoff to run again as for U.S. Senator from Connecticut.

One association members said — to the applause and cheers of those in attendance — that the GOP (Grand Old Party) should change its name to the COP (Corrupt Old Party).

United Press International The United States and its Western allies heralded today's signing of an Israeli-Egyptian accord on disengagement of troops as an important first step toward lasting peace in the Middle East.

President Nixon, in announcing the agreement in a nationwide broadcast from Washington Thursday, said the accord was a step "that paves the way to other steps" toward a permanent peace.

U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim said in a statement issued in New York he was "greatly gratified" by the agreement and "the United Nations, and particularly the U.N. Emergency Force and the Military Observers of UNST (U.N. Truce Supervision Organization) will give all necessary assistance and cooperation for the carrying out of the agreement."

Soviet news agency Tass reported the Nixon announcement without comment one hour after it had condemned the accord as "a provocative move on the cease-fire lines with Arab countries."

British Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home welcomed the agreement and praised Kissinger's efforts.

President Nixon's announcement of a breakthrough in the Middle East situation was hailed Thursday by Jewish and Arab communities in Connecticut.

Rabbi Stanley Kessler of West Hartford's Beth El Temple said the fact that the announcement was made simultaneously by Israel, Egypt and the United States "certainly spells out something decisive."

"We're still somewhat in the dark about what all this really is," Kessler said, "but it must mean something very definitely good."

"I am very happy with the peace, and all I pray it will last," he said when UPI informed him of the announcement. "I hope for lasting peace. There's no need for war," she said.

Other recommendations proposed by DOT included: Six new express commuter bus lines, with more to come if a study of staggering work hours in Hartford to lesson the need for more highway improvements and to get better use of buses.

Continuation and expansion of the computer-car pooling match program. Construction of a new exclusive highway on I-91 north of Hartford.

Kissinger To Seek Similar Arrangement With Syrians

United Press International The chiefs of staff of the Israeli and Egyptian armies met today at the Kilometer 101 post on the Cairo-Suez road and signed an agreement to disengage their armies on the Suez Canal, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger announced he would seek a similar agreement between Israel and Syria.

At almost the same moment the agreement was signed in yellow Israeli tent at Kilometer 101, Kissinger arrived in the Egyptian resort city of Aswan from Jerusalem and began talks with President Anwar Sadat on the disengagement of Israeli-Syrian forces on the Golan Heights, another prerequisite for peace in the Middle East.

"I plan to visit Syria, probably Sunday," Kissinger told newsmen shortly after arriving from Israel.

"Our view is that disengagement talks with Syria should start and the United States will work on them with the same dedication and the same goodwill as it did on disengagement between Egypt and Israel, and President Sadat has strongly urged us to make this effort."

Newsmen asked Kissinger if he expected to tell if Israel could concentrate its efforts on the Golan Heights front, and Israel for the past week released Thursday, economic growth slowed to just 1.3 per cent in October-December.

The last recession in the United States was in 1970 when the economy stagnated in the wake of the auto workers strike against General Motors Corp.

There was equally depressing news on the price side. Inflation, which was rampant all year long, hit a new high of 7.9 per cent in October-December, the fastest three-month rise since the first quarter of 1961.

Elazar said five consecutive days of talks would begin Sunday at Kilometer 101 to work out details of implementing the agreement and that actual separation of forces would begin four days after that, Jan. 28. He said the forces of both sides would be withdrawn within 40 days after that.

The agreement will lead to resumption of the Geneva peace conference to seek a political settlement that President Nixon expressed hope would lead to a permanent peace in the Middle East.

Syria boycotted the start of the Geneva conference but might attend if the troop withdrawal problem is solved.

"This is a great day and a day we all hope will be the beginning of peace in the Middle East," Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir said in Jerusalem.

Official Egyptian sources said Sadat telephoned Syrian President Hafez Assad Thursday night to explain the agreement with Israel and that Assad authorized Sadat to open talks with Kissinger on Syrian-Israeli disengagement on the Golan Heights front.

Newsmen asked Kissinger if he expected to tell if Israel could concentrate its efforts on the Golan Heights front, and Israel for the past week released Thursday, economic growth slowed to just 1.3 per cent in October-December.

IRS Trusts Taxpayer: Discards Schedule B

By RAY DE CRANE
In another move toward tax simplification, Internal Revenue Service has eliminated Schedule B on this year's income tax return. This is the form that had been required in the past for reporting only a single lump sum figure puts taxpayers on an honor system in claiming the exclusion. This makes it all the more important to keep careful records on your dividend payments and be able to produce them should your reported exclusion figure be challenged during an audit.

Similarly, no breakdown is required on interest income. In the past you identified the bank, savings and loan, credit union, or other sources of your interest income. Now you will give only the one total figure. But be sure to retain your other records for verification.

Colella-Malone

Katherine J. Malone of Vernon and Stephen T. Colella of Tolland exchanged wedding vows Jan. 12 at the Community Baptist Church, Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Malone of Lynwood Dr., Vernon. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman T. Colella of Mt. Spring Rd., Tolland.

The Rev. Gordon Stairs of Community Baptist Church and Dr. Clayton Smith of West Chester, Pa., former minister of Central Baptist Church in Hartford, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with red and white poinsettias. Mrs. John McClain of Manchester was soloist. Mrs. Alex Elleser of South Windsor was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown designed with lace bodice, wrists and neckline with antique lace, which also trimmed the back of the gown. She carried a nosegay of pink miniature carnations, red sweetheart roses and baby's breath. She wore matching flowers trimmed with pink streamers in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Miss Cynthia Malone of Enfield, the bride's step-sister; Miss Pamela Saich of Vernon; and Mrs. Robert Zdzienicka of Hamden. They were given identical gifts to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried nosegays of miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Cheryl Parker of Andover, Mass., the bride's cousin, was flower girl. She wore a red velvet gown trimmed with lace and carried a white fringed basket of pink miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Edward Sherman of East Hartford was best man. Ushers were Jeffrey Colella of Tolland, brother of the bridegroom; Russell Wells of Rockville, and Robert Gworek of Rocky Hill. A reception was held at the Country Squire in Ellington, after which the couple left on a trip to Cape Haven in Peconic, Pa. For traveling, Mrs. Colella wore a cranberry velvet pantsuit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Colella is employed by Advo Systems. Mr. Colella is employed by Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Co.

JA Tag Day To Benefit MD Victims

Tag Day sponsored by the Junior Achievement of Central Connecticut will take place Saturday in Manchester. The event had previously been scheduled for Jan. 12 but was postponed due to the inclement weather.

The event will benefit the Hartford Area Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, and will also be conducted in other area towns. Over 200 members of JA will be seeking funds at various shopping plazas to aid those children afflicted with muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular disorders.

Michael Zdrojew, program director of JA, is asking shoppers for their assistance to help make the event a success. Funds raised from this event will aid the local Hartford Chapter of MDA in continuing its Patient Services Program and furthering research into the cause and cure of muscular dystrophy.

Mr. Seavey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Seavey of 77 Oxford St.

The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of John P. Stephens High School, Edinboro, Pa., and is a sophomore at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J., majoring in special education.

Her fiancé is a 1970 graduate of Manchester High School and attending Wagner College, Selden Island, N.Y. He is now serving in the U.S. Coast Guard at the Coast Guard Air Station, Brooklyn, N.Y.

The couple plan a Sept. 4 wedding at St. Columba's Church, Columbia.

There are too many women who think the Pap test will protect them from cancers of the ovary, womb, or other areas within the pelvic region, but this is simply not the case.

Pap Test Does Not Detect All Cancer

Dr. Barbara Christine, head of the local chapter's Uterine Task Force, said, "Dr. Christine, director of chronic disease control for the state Health Department, told the board of directors of the Connecticut chapter that women must be told of the limits of the test."

College Notes

Miss Diane E. Kelleys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Kelley of 99 Pond Lane, has been accepted to Bates College, Lewiston, Maine, for the 1974-75 academic school year. She is a senior at Manchester High School.

Miss Suzanne E. Caron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Caron of 41 Birch Hill Dr., Wapping, has been accepted to Bates College, Lewiston, Maine, for the 1974-75 academic school year. She is a senior at East Catholic High School.

When the bills were presented to the model assembly, the personal property bill was defeated on the basis of administrative difficulty and costs. The education bill passed.

The purpose of the Model Legislature was to give Jaycees legislative experience and the opportunity to gain more knowledge of some of the problems Connecticut citizens are concerned about.

Members of the Manchester Jaycees recently attended the State of Connecticut Jaycee Model Legislature at Hartford.

Stephen M. Thal of 427 Summit St. was chairman of the Manchester delegation which included Charles Sabia of 4 S. Hawthorne St., Joe Lawler of 202 Autumn St., Argyle Roberts of 165 School St. and Winthrop Porter of 70 Columbus St.

Also, Lee McCray of 280 E. Middle Tpke., Wayne Paterno of East Hartford, and Bill Hyde of 140 Sunnyside Dr. are state directors.

The Manchester delegation submitted a bill to amend the Connecticut General statute to allow the assessing of personal property on a pro-rata basis as well as to amend the Connecticut General statute to provide equitable all-around assessment.

The delegation also submitted a bill to amend the Connecticut General statute to increase the Average Daily Membership (ADM) grant per child for regular education; that the state assume 75 per cent of the excess costs for special education for the first year, which is to be paid that year on a quarterly basis and increasing to 100 per cent the remaining years; and to increase the special education amount from $13,750,000 to $28,750,000 statewide. Mayor John Thompson testified in favor of the bill.

When the bills were presented to the model assembly, the personal property bill was defeated on the basis of administrative difficulty and costs. The education bill passed.

Engagements

The engagement of Miss Pamela Saich of Edinboro, Pa., to A.M. J.C. David K. Seavey of Manchester, has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Karmazin of Edinboro, Pa.

Mr. Seavey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Seavey of 77 Oxford St.

The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of John P. Stephens High School, Edinboro, Pa., and is a sophomore at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J., majoring in special education.

Her fiancé is a 1970 graduate of Manchester High School and attending Wagner College, Selden Island, N.Y. He is now serving in the U.S. Coast Guard at the Coast Guard Air Station, Brooklyn, N.Y.

The couple plan a Sept. 4 wedding at St. Columba's Church, Columbia.

Her fiancé, also a graduate of Rham High School, is now attending Westchester Community College, Yonkers, N.Y.

Volunteers will monitor the response of private and business sectors to efforts such as reduced street lighting and reduced speed limits," she said.

The committee set up a statewide speakers bureau which will train persons to give speeches on energy conservation of schools, clubs and civic organizations.

"Our problem is a shortage of qualified speakers and we welcome persons — male or female — to train as speakers," Mrs. Granger said.

"We do have members who are militant," she said.

The committee's honorary members and consultants include Charles R. Bragg of Northeast Utilities, Arthur L. Woods, director of the Connecticut Business and Industry Association, and John F. O'Brien of the Connecticut Petroleum Council.

Survived Power Loss
Mrs. Bissell brought her plants through the difficult winter when power was off on School St. from Monday to Saturday after the ice storm, but not without some loss.

At first the plants stayed in the basement, but when the temperature there got down to 44 degrees, Mrs. Bissell and her husband set the plants in cardboard boxes and carried them up to the living room where they have a fireplace.

The show at the Hartford Hilton will be open to members Thursday evening, April 18, and open to the public Friday. The committee in charge hopes for attendance of 500 to 600 hobby and commercial growers.

Favorite Flowers
Several members of the Manchester Garden Club, as part of the club's program Monday, named their favorite flowers.

Mrs. Anton J. Latawiec, club president, said she likes "thousands" of flowers but her favorite is the Johnny-jump-up.

Mrs. Lynn M. Taylor named the hellebore. It's a delightful Johnny-jump-up in his garden and she is sure he brought the seed from Germany in the 1880s.

blooms of lilac to deep purple. Her mother had cuttings in August, rooted them in water, and started plants to grow in the winter on a window sill.

Mrs. Christian Kaer named the gardenia as her favorite but a plant that is difficult to grow successfully in their home. Her hellebore is an annual, with hoping they will open into flowers. As many gardeners know, the buds sometimes fall off.

Mrs. John F. Pickles likes the crown-of-thorns. The plant has started to bloom and will continue "from now on," but with the feeble sunlight of winter the blossoms are pink. With stronger light they will be red.

Mrs. Shuttleworth Joins New Campaign

By ERLINDA VILLAMOR
HARTFORD (UPI) — A group of women calling themselves "Energettes" has been organized to add fuel to the campaign to save energy.

But the group hasn't decided yet whether it will resort to boycotts or will energy to consumers and we have to do something," Mrs. Jane Quigley of Newington, co-chairwoman of the committee, said.

"We will try to complement state and federal energy-saving measures by monitoring the response of the public and by informing and educating them on ways to save fuel," Mrs. Quigley said.

State and federal energy officials could be called "energizers," so the women call themselves "energettes."

Another "Energette" is Mrs. Barbara Shuttleworth of Vernon, who started the national meat boycott last spring.

Mrs. Shuttleworth, a mother of two designed and wrote an educational pamphlet to be distributed to young school children by the physician.

Mrs. Susan Granger of Woodbridge, a writer and producer for two radio stations said each week will be represented in the committee.

Volunteers will monitor the response of private and business sectors to efforts such as reduced street lighting and reduced speed limits," she said.

The committee set up a statewide speakers bureau which will train persons to give

The way the game is played and controlled by the officials today there is less excuse for wearing football gear.

Returning from a Friday night game at Storrs Agricultural College, we stopped to play a Saturday afternoon game with William High School. It was a customary game for managers to get together between the halves to transfer the guarantee money.

Their manager was a Mr. Ralph C. Pitts, mathematics teacher on the high school faculty. He handed me a check for the amount guaranteed because he had learned that we had played at Storrs and so had received more than we needed for our expenses.

O.C. maintained that he had William's letter for a written guarantee for a specified amount and anything connected with Storrs had no bearing on it. Since Pitts would not listen to O.C.'s reasoning, O.C. said Pitts could explain to the crowd who had paid admission why they were not going to see the game because we would not go on for the second half without the full guarantee.

When the ten minutes between halves had gone considerable overtime Mr. Verplanck, who had come to William to see the game, came to the locker room. After he had heard both sides of the argument he said, "O.C. I think you are absolutely right. I don't understand Mr. Pitt's attitude. In fairness to the crowd out there in the hall I think you'd better finish the game and we'll try to finish this matter somehow."

We finished the game and came home with only half of the Williamite guarantee.

Gardening

with
FRANK ATWOOD

Esther Bissell started raising African violets with a single plant, a gift from her mother-in-law, then bought two more to make a nice group of three, and then "somehow kept expanding."

Now Mrs. Bissell has "about a hundred" African violets and thinks she has nearly run out of space.

Her husband, Earl H. Bissell, has cooperated in the venture and when the Bissells remodelled their basement a few years ago they built in two shelves, equipped with fluorescent lights for the violets. A third tray, with lights above it, has been added now over the clothes dryer and the basement is gay with African violets in bloom.

The story is typical of hobby growers who start with one African violet, fall in love with these plants that respond so well to proper care and can be propagated so readily from leaf cuttings. A single leaf, "put down" in a rooting medium, can produce a clump of tiny new plants, each of which will need its own spot.

"It's awfully hard to throw them away," says Mrs. Bissell. "At first it's even hard to throw away a leaf."

There are new varieties, seen in a flower show or offered for sale by a commercial grower. There are single and double flowers. There are plain, ruffled and variegated leaves. There are blue, white and pink flowers, with many different shadings. Named varieties run into the hundreds. Once you start collecting, there is, perhaps, no place to stop.

Judges are provided with hoops, like embroidery hoops, and a miniature or semi-miniature plant is disqualified if the proper hoop cannot be slipped over it without touching the leaves.

Hartford is to be the site this spring of the annual convention and show of the African Violet Society of America and Mrs. Bissell is waiting to see whether there will be a section for beginners, as she calls herself.

The show at the Hartford Hilton will be open to members Thursday evening, April 18, and open to the public Friday. The committee in charge hopes for attendance of 500 to 600 hobby and commercial growers.

Mantle Big Booster of Hank Aaron, Top Thrill Not Election to Shrine

By Earl Yost

Take it from an authoritative source, Atlanta Braves slugger Hank Aaron is finally getting the recognition in baseball that he deserves.

Less than 24 hours after being informed he had been elected to baseball's Hall of Fame, Mantle was in Hartford yesterday to headline the Acta Life's annual Sports Night.

"Hank Aaron is the most underrated man of my era," the 42-year-old bank and insurance vice president said. If Hank had been as talkative as Casey Stengel during a pre-dinner press conference.

"Aaron has always been a great player. Finally, he's getting the recognition he deserves," the handsome ex-Yankee star outfielder-first baseman said.

"I don't think anything can ever top the day last year they drove me around the stadium in a golf cart and 70,000 cheered. I'll never forget that day. It's something to have No. 9 retired along with No. 3 (Babe Ruth), No. 4 (Lou Gehrig) and No.

Mickey Mantle

(Joe DiMaggio). "Neither one of us expected to be voted in. I really didn't think that I would make it the first time.

"The men who voted, those with 10 years or more membership in the BBWA, didn't forget Mantle's feats and accorded him the most votes, 322. Ford was next in line with 284, the only two successful candidates in the 1974 balloting.

"I was not a player with the Yankees, I would never have made the Hall of Fame on the first try," he candidly admitted.

Playing with the Yankees helped both. "I'm just lucky that I was a Yankee," he added.

Although out of baseball, and a year round resident of Dallas, Mantle hasn't completely severed his connections with the Yankees. "I'll be a special hitting coach again during spring training, for about three weeks. I don't grab any young kid and tell him to do it his way. Most kids today don't pay any attention anyway. If a young player comes to me for some advice, I try to help him. I usually work with the minor leaguers.

"I would be pretty hard to get me back into baseball. To be a manager, you should have a few years of experience in the minors first to learn how. If you coached, it would take four or five years and I'm having too much fun and enjoying life too much today."

Any regrets? "My only regret is that I finished with a batting average under .300. Mantle wound up with a career hitting mark of .298. Three other notable players with batting averages of .300 or better have American League home run crowns were enough credentials to impress the Hall of Fame pollsters.

Hockey Roundup

Rebound Shot Wins, 800 Goals for Howe

NEW YORK (UPI) - Yvan Cournoyer made it sound so simple.

"When I get close to the net, I never give up and that's why I'm here to get my own rebound," Cournoyer said.

Rebounding his 35th goal of the season which helped the Montreal Canadiens beat the Minnesota North Stars, 6-1, Thursday night.

In addition to his goal, the speedy right wing, considered the fastest skater in the National Hockey League, also contributed two assists while rookie Bob Gainey chipped in with two goals as the Canadiens moved to within four points of first-place Boston in the East Division.

The North Stars, who hold down sixth place in the West, outshot Montreal, 37-24, but Montreal goalie Bumpy Laroque was more than equal to task, turning aside 36 shots. His shutout bid was ruined by Bill Goldsworthy's 28th goal with less than three minutes left in the second period.

"It was a big move for us putting together Gainey, (Yvon Lambert and Murray) Wilson on the same line," Montreal Coach Scotty Bowman said. "They outplayed and outchecked the Stars' number one line of Goldsworthy, (Danny) Grant and (Denis) Hextall."

"In a game like this where it's wide open and we get a fast line, it gives me a chance to use all my players. But Laroque played a terrific game and that was the difference."

Elsewhere in the NHL, Bobby Clarke's two goals sparked Philadelphia to a 7-2 victory over Buffalo as the Flyers increased their West Division lead to five points over second place Chicago, Clarke, the NHL's Most Valuable Player last year, opened the scoring with a 35-foot backhand at 1:40 of the opening period and picked up his 16th goal of the season in the second stanza.

Garry Linger's two goals gave him 20 for the season and allowed St. Louis to snap its four-game losing streak and beat the New York Rangers, 3-2. Steve Vickers accounted for both New York goals but it was Vickers who was in the penalty box late in the second period when Linger tallied his second goal.

In the World Hockey Association, Gordie Howe's 800th major league career goal and 14th in WHA play, sparked Houston to a 7-4 win over Vancouver. Howe also assisted on his son Mark's two goals as the Aeros opened up a six-point lead in the West Division.

Ralph Backstrom and Duke Harris triggered a three-goal outburst in the second period that carried Chicago past New England, 5-2. Player-coach Pat Stapleton and Rick Morris scored for the Cougars in the first period before Harris got his first goal of the season in 12:47 of the second period and Backstrom registered his 16th and 17th from in-close against goalie Bruce Landau.

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) - Johnny Miller is proving his golf prowess.

The blond-haired California native goes into today's second-round competition at the Dean Martin Tucson Open at 10-under-par 62, four strokes ahead of the field.

Miller, who plays out of Hilton Head, S.C., fired 11 birdies and one bogey in setting a season National Golf Course record and securing a first-round grasp on the $30,000 major prize money.

"When I look at today's round," he said, "I don't see any reason why I shouldn't be in the 60s. I have so much confidence now."

That has to be something of an understatement. Miller, 26, has won both outings on the pro tour this year - the Phoenix and Fred Crosby openers - and has already netted $90,000.

"Now that I have my low round," he said, "I won't have to gamble, just play smart golf."

"I've always been a streak player," he said, adding that, if he doesn't make mental mistakes, "No one will beat me this week."

Mick Doubts Yanks Will Use Stadium

By Earl Yost

"I hate to see Yankee Stadium being torn down. I'm afraid if the team draws well at Shea, the Yankees will never go back to Yankee Stadium. I have a feeling we had one last Old Timers' Day, that I was playing at Yankee Stadium for the last time."

"Yankee Stadium is in a bad area and I think if the Yankees draw well at Shea for the next two years, the team will never go back to Yankee Stadium. I have a feeling we had one last Old Timers' Day, that I was playing at Yankee Stadium for the last time."

"I'm still a big fan of the Yankees. Every morning when I get up during the baseball season I get the paper and see how the team is doing, especially Bobby Murcer."

"It's tough to quit, especially when you are getting $100,000 a year," he answered. Today he's still in the six-figure bracket as a special events vice president with a Dallas insurance company and a bank in the same city where he makes his home.

"I can't understand Ralph Houk taking the job with Detroit. They have a lot of old guys."

"Houk is the greatest manager in baseball. I've always said that. He's a great leader of men." Mantle told several scribes. Mantle indicated that Elston Howard, who was campaigning for the Yankee managerial job, should have been given the first shot.

"I think Howard would be a good manager," he cautioned, "usually great players don't make good managers. If Bill Virdon is only going to manage until Dick Williams is free to sign, then Howard should have been given a chance." Mantle said of his former teammate.

Virdon and Mantle came up to the Yankees the same spring in 1951. "We both came from the same country. I stayed with the club and he was sent out," Mantle recalled.

Mantle would be just great but I think Mickey is going to be a golfer."

The Mantle boys are now Mickey 20, Dave 19, Bill 15 and Danny 12.

The new Hall of Famer won many new admirers last night and at Acta touched all the bases before an overflow crowd.

Although teammate Paul Warfield was injured, Griesse felt he and fellow quarterback Ken Stabler would have no handicap passing to Isaac Curtis, Fred Biletnikoff and Riley Odoms.

The starting AFC defense shaped up as a coach's dream with Pittsburgh Steelers' Dwight White, L. C. Greenwood, Joe Greene, Andy Russell and Jack Ham added by Mike Reid of Cincinnati, Willie Lanier of Kansas City, Willie Brown of Oakland, Clarence Scott of Cleveland and the Miami safety duo of Jake Scott and Dick Anderson.

Passing normally wins All-Star games, and although NFC coach Tom Landry likes a running game, he will not be hesitating to throw with John Had and Roman Gabriel.

Harold Jackson of the Rams and Charley Taylor of Washington will start at wide receivers with Minnesota's John Gilliam on and league leading receiver Harold Carmichael of Philadelphia in the team's offense.

Gillman, acting in his capacity as general manager, fired Bill Peterson Oct. 15 and assumed the post himself to become the team's ninth head coach because he wants to give Gilliam had he intended to be only an interim coach.

Warriors Go As Barry Goes

By Len Auster

NEW YORK (UPI) - As Rick Barry goes, so go the Golden State Warriors and both were back on target Thursday night.

Barry scored 44 points and triggered a decisive third-quarter rally, leading the Warriors to a 127-120 victory over the Phoenix Suns.

"I've made up my mind to go all out in every game," Barry said. "I'm going to take a break when I need it. That's why we have a bench."

The win and the Warriors to within three games of idle Los Angeles in the National Basketball Association's final quarter to help Memphis upset Indiana, 101-96. Randy Denton led the victorious Tams with 21 points but the Pacers' George Mcginis topped all scorers with 24 points.

Barry, who made 15 of 26 field goal attempts in the game, scored 10 of the Warriors' 22 points during the streak while Butch Beard added eight.

Jeff Mullins and Cazzie Russell scored 23 and 21 points, respectively, for Golden State while Charlie Scott paced Phoenix with 31.

In the only NBA games, Pete Maravich and Lou Hudson collected 17 and 17 points, respectively, for the Hawks in the first half and finished with 34, while Hudson collected 17 points in the second quarter.

Sidney Wicks topped the Trail Blazers with 23 points.

Wes Unseld returned to Capital's starting lineup after an eight-day absence and scored 13 points while grabbing 17 rebounds to lead the Bullets to 101-86 win over Cleveland.

CHICAGO (UPI) - UCLA's No. 1-ranked basketball team, playing without All-American Bill Walton, was unimpressive against Iowa, coach John Wooden conceded today, although the Bruins easily rang up their 88th straight victory.

"Our shooting was atrocious," Wooden said. "And I felt our alertness left a lot to be desired. But maybe Iowa's quickness made us look that way."

"We must shoot better and be sharper or we'll be in trouble," he said, referring to Saturday's nationally televised game with South Bend, Ind., against No. 2-ranked Notre Dame, the last team to beat UCLA on Jan. 23, 1971.

Walton, who suffered a deep muscle bruise in his back Jan. 7, and has missed three UCLA games now, had trouble moving practice Wednesday. Wooden disclosed, and was held out of the lineup for fear of aggravating the injury.

"I'd like him to play Saturday, but if he doesn't, it's no great loss," he said. "I thought his chances of playing against Iowa were good, and I think the chances are good he'll play Saturday. I hope I'm right," he said.

UCLA displayed stellar rebounding to overcome its shooting deficiencies in decisioning Iowa, 68-44. Iowa's eighth loss in 12 games for the Hawkeyes and the 13th without a loss this season for UCLA.

The Bruins hit only 37.7 per cent on field goals, but Iowa hit only 30 per cent and UCLA picked off 55 rebounds while Iowa had only 23.

Ralph Drollinger paced the Bruins scoring with 13 and had 17 rebounds while Keith Wilkes netted 12 points and 11 boards. Candy LaPrince of Iowa paced all scoring with 18.

Shula introduced Vince Costello Thursday afternoon as his new defensive assistant. The 45-year-old Costello comes to the New York Giants, then Costello will coach the Miami Dolphins and also participate in coordinating the overall Dolphins defense.

Costello played 10 years under Brown as linebacker for the Cleveland Browns, one year for the New York Giants, then entered the pro coaching ranks in 1969 at Cincinnati. Shula also is a disciple of Paul Brown. Shula said he spent most of two days "in a secret room" talking football with Vince before giving him the job. Costello will coach the Miami Dolphins and also participate in coordinating the overall Dolphins defense.

Basketball Crowds Below Par at MHS

By Earl Yost

Off at an alarming rate this season is the attendance for home basketball games of Manchester High at the Clarke Arena.

"This is the smallest crowd that we've ever had here in my time," Faculty Manager Ted Martin said after Wednesday night's game with Bristol Central.

"The paid attendance," Martin added, "was just 335. There were 442 people in the hall." The latter figure includes monitors, cheerleaders, officials, faculty members and parents.

"I just don't have the attendance," Martin continued, "why the people, the students and adults, are not coming out to watch our basketball anymore."

Wednesday night's game was a makeup and it was also midweek. Usually, attendance is better on a Friday night.

Tonight's clash with Maloney High of Meriden will be watched carefully and school officials are hoping for better attendance and an increase in the bucks office.

Apparently the students have lost interest in varsity basketball, for years one of two so-called glamour sports, football being the other.

"For many years we had at least 90 per cent of the student body in the Student Activity Assn. (SAA)," Martin added. Today, he said, the percentage of students in the group is less than 35 per cent. SAA memberships entitle students to reduced ticket costs for both home and road games.

Manchester's record is not impressive, yet the squad is just one game under .500 in nine. The Indians lost their first four starts, then won three in a row and split the last two games.

Illegal State Job Probe Criticized As Inadequate

By EDWARD BUTLER
HARTFORD (UPI)—State's Attorney John D. LaBelle passed up a chance to expose the spoils system in his investigation into illegal job appointments and a Republican voter enrollment scheme. LaBelle decided that the scope of the investigation assigned by Gov. Thomas J. Meskill didn't include asking whether the victor in an election should get the spoils.
