Airliner Crash Kills 345 Persons

A French policeman stands watch over the devastated, still-smouldering area where a Turkish Airlines DC-10 jetliner packed with 345 persons crashed in the Paris suburb of Senlis Sunday killing all aboard. It is considered the worst disaster in the history of aviation. (UPI photo)

Sabotage Possibility Being Investigated

PARIS (UPI) — A preliminary report on the crash of a Turkish Airlines DC-10 jetliner said today a bomb explosion could have brought down the wide-bodied aircraft which nosedived to earth from 13,000 feet Sunday, killing 345 persons in aviation's worst disaster.

Orly Airport sources said specialists had prepared a report for Airport Director Gilbert Dreyfus who is leading the inquiry. "The report states that the possibility of an explosion is supported by an important number of them," the sources said.

Turkish airline sources in Istanbul said the airline had information that three Japanese and two Arabs aboard the crashed plane were guerrillas. They said the five had planned to sabotage a British Airways flight from Paris to London but were transferred to the Turkish plane because of a strike by British engineers in London and that their bombs exploded in flight.

The airline sources said there also was a possibility the reported guerrillas were linked with the seizure later in the day of a British Airways jet after takeoff from Beirut. Arab commandos blew up the aircraft in Amsterdam after letting 102 persons on board flee the plane.

Most of the victims in the Turkish Airlines crash were believed to be Britons, including a police amateur rugby team, although no passenger list was available. The number of Americans aboard also was not known but the U.S. Embassy in London said the victims included its cultural attaché, Dr. Wayne Wilcox, his wife and two of their children. Japanese Embassy sources said 49 Japanese were aboard. The Turks said there were 15 Turkish nationals on the plane.

Turkish President Bulent Ecevit told newsmen in Istanbul:

"At present I cannot say whether the plane was sabotaged or not but we are reviewing every possibility. The question of whether the plane was sabotaged or not will be cleared following technical examinations which I presume will last a couple of weeks."

Orly field sources said the passenger search before takeoff was normal and that the plane was searched for explosives and none was found. Hand baggage was searched but not the suitcases of the 216 persons who joined the flight in Paris.

Police said they found six bodies at a spot seven miles before the impact point. Newspapers said this could have happened only if the plane was breaking up as a result of an explosion or some other cause before it hit the woods.

The three-engined plane smashed into the Ermenonville Woods five minutes after takeoff from Orly Airport on a flight to London.

The U.S. Embassy said a delegation from the U.S. National Safety Transportation Board arrived in Paris and joined the investigation at the crash site. Turkish and French investigators also were at work.

Assembly Hesitant On Sales Tax Cut

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Thomas J. Meskill called it "one of the happier occasions of a governor's life" when he signed his first major tax relief measure into law last week.

But the Republican chief executive may have his pleasure dampened if the legislature balks at cutting the state sales tax from 6.5 to 6 per cent, as he has asked.

That's a distinct possibility, according to Sen. Nicholas A. Lenge, R-West Hartford, chairman of the powerful Legislative Appropriations Committee, which hammers out state spending for the new fiscal year.

The Republican-dominated legislature reacted speedily when Meskill asked for repeal of the state sales tax on utility bills by March 1.

Final House action was taken last Wednesday, two days before the measure went into effect with Meskill's signature.

The measure went from the House to the Senate, where it was amended, and then back to the House for confirmation with the deadline approaching.

But the governor has drawn heavy fire from municipal and school officials across the state because he offered only a $5 increase in the ADM — per pupil — grant to public schools.

Lenge said Friday there was no question that the Appropriations Committee will recommend considerably more for the schools than the governor has proposed.

The increase will necessitate revision of Meskill's carefully calculated spending plan for the fiscal year, which begins July 1.

"We'll look at the governor's revenue estimates very carefully," Lenge said. "We'll also look at the lapse figures and then I think we'll make some changes."

Lapsed funds are monies left over in each department at the end of the fiscal year. They are recycled into the general fund. He said the most likely outcome will be two proposed budgets, one based on a reduced tax of 6 per cent and the other based on retaining the current 6.5 per cent levy.

But with pressure from the public and local officials for increased school aid, better salaries for state employees and a hike in the welfare flat grant, chances of another big tax cut appear slim.

"We're going to look at both options and put them up for everyone to get a look at," Lenge said. "There's some sentiment from local officials and many people that they would rather see the property tax stabilized than have the sales tax lowered."

The property tax is currently the work horse for public school financing, but homeowners and school officials say the source is stretched beyond practical limits already.

UConn Hoop Squad Gets NIT Bid

NEW YORK (UPI) — The University of Maryland-Eastern Shore headed a list of seven basketball teams receiving invitations to the National Invitation Tournament Monday.

UMES (26-1) was joined by Rutgers, Boston College, Cincinnati, Fairfield, Utah, and Connecticut, bringing the NIT field to 11, with five places still open.

The selection of the Maryland-Eastern Shore Hawks was something of a surprise as they had been expected to be passed over. The Hawks are a major college division team, but played mostly small schools and had planned to go to the NAIA tournament if they had not received an NIT bid.

Rutgers (18-8) is led by 6-3 Ron Sellers, a former New York high school star. BC is also 18-8.

Cincinnati (19-7), scored a spectacular 92-77 victory over Marquette Saturday, greatly enhancing the Bearcats' national stature.

Fairfield (17-8), Utah (19-7) and Connecticut (18-7) were minor surprises in being added to the tournament which opens on March 18.

Jury's Secret Report Studied by Judge Sirica

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a sealed envelope in a safe in the federal courthouse there lies a sheaf of papers that reportedly spells out Richard Nixon's role in Watergate and perhaps the fate of his presidency.

Sometime today, Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica was to review those papers and perhaps decide what to do about a grand jury's request that they be forwarded to the House Judiciary Committee considering Nixon's impeachment.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., the assistant Senate Democratic leader, urged Sunday that the report be forwarded promptly. He said the latest indictment poses "serious implications for the President, and I think for the first time the Watergate coverup is brought directly into the Oval Office." He was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press."

The indictment accuses former Nixon aide H.R. Haldeman of lying when testifying that Nixon said paying hush money to Watergate defendants "would be wrong." Nixon himself was also said he used those words.

President Nixon motored back to Washington Sunday evening from a weekend at Camp David, Md. Aides said the White House still does not know what is in the secret report. Sources told UPI White House lawyers are "concerned" the report might contain "inflammatory conclusions" and are considering asking Sirica to deny the grand jury's request.

The report—together with a locked briefcase full of evidence—was handed to Sirica Friday by the original Watergate grand jury after it returned an indictment charging seven of Nixon's former White House and campaign aides with conspiracy to hush up the bugging scandal.

Another grand jury was expected to return more major indictments sometime this week, dealing with activities of the White House "plumbers" unit and its 1971 break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

The New York Times and the Washington Post reported over the weekend the grand jury concludes the President was in on the cover-up conspiracy.

Newsweek magazine said Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski believed Nixon could be charged with conspiracy in the cover-up if it weren't for the fact he is President. Many legal scholars, apparently including Jaworski, hold that an incumbent president cannot be indicted and that the only recourse would be impeachment.

Sirica might hold a hearing on the grand jury's recommendation. Legal sources said he could also simply grant it or deny it without a hearing; send the report back to the grand jury for action; or make it public.

John M. Doar, Judiciary Committee counsel, said he did not know what is in the report. The committee will meet Tuesday to review what evidence it has and what it needs, a meeting scheduled before the existence of the secret report became known.

Vice President Gerald R. Ford said in a UPI interview over the weekend he "has reason to believe" Nixon will cooperate with the House Judiciary Committee by providing relevant information.

AFL-CIO president George Meany, appearing Sunday on CBS "Face the Nation," denied that his labor federation is lobbying in Congress for Nixon's impeachment. "We think this is something different from a piece of legislation," Meany said, "and the House is really sitting as a grand jury."

Mistrial Motion Denied by Judge

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal judge today denied a motion for a mistrial in the case of former Nixon cabinet officers John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans, accused of obstruction of justice.

Defense attorneys for Mitchell, former attorney general, and Stans, former commerce secretary, had sought a mistrial on the basis of the opening statement by the jury by the prosecution.

That was near the end of the opening statement of Assistant U.S. Attorney James W. Rayhill Friday when Stans's lawyer contended, Rayhill asked the trial jury to equate itself with the grand jury that had indicted the two on charges of lying under oath, conspiracy, and obstruction of justice.

The two former cabinet members are accused of using their political influence to try to sidetrack a major federal investigation of Robert L. Vesco, the fugitive financier, in exchange for his secret $200,000 contribution to the Nixon 1972 campaign.

Mitchell now faces a maximum of 30 years in prison and $40,000 in fines if convicted in Washington, in addition to the 50 years both he and Stans could get in the New York case.

'Dollars for Scholars'

It takes a lot of dollars for scholarships to Manchester's resident students, and shown here at the Connecticut Bank & Trust Co. are $22,000 in one-dollar bills which represent the value of 77 scholarships awarded in 1973 by the Manchester Scholarship Foundation. Having a hand in it are Robert P. Fuller, center, president of the Manchester Scholarship Foundation Inc.; John DeQuattro, chairman of gifts and bequests; Mayor John W. Thompson; Noel Belcourt Jr., assistant vice president of CBT. Applicants hoping for some scholarship dollars this year are, left to right, Greg Kane of Manchester Community College; Martin Cerrigone of Howell-Cheney Regional Technical School; Mary Beth Tucker of East Catholic High School, and Pamela Molloy of Manchester High School.

Dist. 9 Democrat Primary Tuesday

By SOL R. COHEN
About 800 registered Democrats are eligible to vote Tuesday in District 9, the Keeney St. school for the election of seven members for 1974-76 to the 80-member Manchester Democratic Town Committee. Voting will be by machine from noon to 8 p.m.

A group of seven incumbent committee members are challenging the seven persons endorsed in District 9 in a Jan. 29 caucus. Those seven who win Tuesday and the other 73 endorsed townwide Jan. 29 automatically will comprise the 1974-76 Democratic Town Committee. An organizing meeting will be held in April — to elect officers and to designate committees.

The voting machine in Tuesday's primary will have two lines of candidates. The top line is for the seven persons endorsed Jan. 29 and the bottom line for the seven challengers. The top seven vote-getters will win the committee seats. A total of 183 Democrats voted in the Jan. 29 primary.

The top line (the endorsed slate) will have the names of Peter A. Crombie Jr., Jean R. Graff, Nicholas R. Jackson, Richard J. McConville, Roger J. McDermott, Mary D. Mohr and Frank M. Stamler. Jackson and Stamler are incumbent committee members.

The bottom line (the challenge slate) will have the names of N. Charles Bogini, Paul B. Greenberg, Matthew M. Moriarty Jr., Theresa M. Parla, Robert B. Price, Pascal A. Prignano and Mary A. Roy.

The moderator of the primary is Mrs. Joan Gerrity of 70 Diane Dr.

Fund Drive Starts

Mayor John W. Thompson has proclaimed the month of March as "Manchester Dollars for Scholars" month in a townwide drive to raise money for the Manchester Scholarship Foundation Inc.

Called an investment in the future, funds from the foundation fill a need to help youth develop their capabilities. Because of inflation, the need for scholarship aid is greater now than ever before, and many deserving Manchester students are finding it difficult or impossible to secure post-secondary education.

The Manchester Scholarship Foundation must, therefore, surpass the 1973 total scholarship fund of $22,000.

The fund drive will focus on clubs and associations, private donors, and business and industry.

The Manchester Scholarship Foundation in cooperation with Manchester Community College hotel and food service management programs is sponsoring its second annual Gourmet Dinner March 28 at the Manchester Country Club. The $40 donation per couple will benefit the foundation.

Those wishing to make donations to the Manchester Scholarship Foundation may make their checks payable to the Manchester Scholarship Foundation, Inc., 257 E. Center St.

Party Responsibility

Indications are the Connecticut General Assembly will be adopting some campaign reforms, particularly in the areas of financing.

It may be premature for the state to get involved in actual tax subsidies to the political parties but it does appear there will legislation aimed at keeping closer tabs on private campaign contributions.

One suggestion, meeting with favor, is a shorter campaign which we heartily endorse.

Another suggestion is the creation of a special commission to oversee campaign contribution solicitation and disclosures.

At first appearance, this seems logical but we are not too sure the injection of a third element into the election financing process is necessary at this time.

We think it might be more beneficial to the political parties, the candidates, and the democratic process as a whole, if controls over the creation of special campaign committees were strengthened in the hands of political parties.

By giving the political party responsibility for approving such committees, as well as policing them after they have been authorized, it would be much easier to give the voter financial information in a form that has meaning. We think it could cut down the number of committees now created to circumvent existing regulations on expenditure limitations which is the goal of campaign reform.

It would strengthen party unity and avoid the excesses that occurred in the case of the Committee to Re-Elect the President which operated independently from the Republican party.

It may be that our political parties could not effectively do their own policing but we believe they can and will if given the opportunity. Until we give the parties some authority over those who would act under their banners, or on behalf of their candidates, we cannot be too critical of them for excesses committed by committee members acting on their own.

We think it is worth a try and if successful would cut out the red tape and bureaucracy of another state commission.

Might As Well Join 'Em

With Rhode Island's adoption of an odd-even alternate day plan for the sale of gasoline, the Nutmeg State is surrounded.

We fully appreciate Gov. Thomas Meskill's reluctance to introduce a similar plan but in view of the smallness of our state and the fact that many motorists have to travel throughout the region, we think the plan should be considered as a convenience.

From all appearances, the extra allocation of gasoline has eased, the lines at the pumps considerably.

Fuel Shortage Glossary

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Confused by conflicting statements about the fuel shortage and economic slump?

If so, it may be because you don't understand the terminology. Perhaps the following glossary will help:

- Allocation — A fairer and impartial distribution system under which some other areas get more gas.
- Bottleneck — Someone who draws up allocation plans.
- Crisis — An odd-numbered license plate on an even-numbered day.
- Downturn — An economic slump that is too mild to cause a depression but severe enough to divert attention from Watergate.
- Emergency — An even-numbered license plate on an odd-numbered day.
- Feet — A new mode of transportation still in the experimental stage.
- Gasoline — When available, a fuel burned up by motorists. When it is unavailable, motorists are burned up.
- Hair-raising — The difference between a downturn and a recession.
- Inflation — An economic phenomenon that produces panic buying, which is now subsiding but which could be sparked anew if the national allocation system hits anymore snags.
- Jerk — The service station attendant who hangs out the "last car" sign just as you are pulling into the line.
- Kiss-off — What a governor gets when he complains about his state's allocation.
- Limit — The maximum amount of gas a motorist can buy that runs out before he can make another purchase.
- Middle East — See "Utopia."
- Natural gas company — A firm that urges consumers to use less fuel and then raises rates to make up for declining sales.
- Oil company — A firm whose tax incentives to look for more oil permit such high prices.

Arab Oil Money

NEW YORK — With all the new Arab oil money, add the Mideast factor now to the historic global scene. Myths are not false. The great ones are more deeply true than our grubby factual truths.

The myth of King Midas, who got his plea and turned to gold everything he touched, is being re-enacted by the kings of the desert, whose oil is being transformed into gold under the stunted gaze of the world.

Someone has calculated that Kuwait now has to figure out how to spend $1 billion an hour. That's as of 1974, for a tiny principality. The income projection for all the Arab oil states in 1980 is between $400 and $500 billion, which means well over $50 million an hour. King Midas didn't dream big enough.

The oil moguls didn't do it by virtue of hard work or technology or even faith in Allah. They did it by the fact of having oil under the sand, and the lack of Western industrial need and technology, and the drive toward common action.

furnished by their campaign against Israel. The rest was boldness and greed.

The role of the West has been instructive — as an exploiter, organizer, distributor, profiteer and now victim. The West taught the Arabs everything, including the advantages of monopoly and the art of charging what the traffic will bear. The American and European moguls were the teachers, but the Arab moguls proved good pupils. It is now the pupil who has the teacher over an oil barrel.

Some Arabs prefer mobile short-term investments that could rock the world's money markets. Others may want to buy into and buy out huge corporations and banks. Not impossible, they could buy into small countries and even governments, and buy into big ones. Money has magic, and there are controversies about whether the Arab moguls in the oil-price hike were economic or political.

Why not both? The two are tied in political economy and can scarcely be separated. Certainly the consequences of the new Arab money will be both economic and political.

Bill Would End Wiretapping

WASHINGTON — We have learned too much about the corruption and casual ethics of people in government, and that is why we should be troubled about the law pertaining to wiretapping for so-called "national security" reasons.

In short, the law assumes a person's trust in his government. Ultimately, I hope such trust will be justified by the obvious integrity of those who make wiretapping decisions in Washington. But it does not — or should not — exist today. Any citizen who has been exposed to the sleazy shenanigans of the Watergate crowd has a right to question that there are in the Executive Department still jokers who would stick a fat ball in their mother's ear if higher authority so ordered.

Thus, we the people should pray that Congress will pass a bill introduced by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., which would put an end to the wiretapping abuses of the last decade. (Yeah Lyndon Johnson did his share of eavesdropping, too.)

The Nelson bill is quite simple, perhaps even simple enough for an Attorney General of the John Mitchell type to understand. It would require the Federal government to go into court and get a warrant for every wiretap it wanted to install in the name of national security. If an American citizen were involved, the government would have to show probable cause that a crime was about to be committed. If the request was for a tap on a foreign agent or a foreign embassy, the government could continue to use only the "national security" grounds.

Put another way, the kind of smart lawyer who becomes an Attorney General certainly can rationalize that attempts to disrupt law and order nationally weaken our national security because their aim is to create national chaos. The temptation among a certain type of lawyer is to overreact when things are tough all over.

Another provision of the Nelson bill is like it is that gives the American citizen a chance to defend himself if Big Brother is eavesdropping on him. He would have to be informed of the tap within 30 days of its installation, unless the government obtained a delaying order from a Federal judge. That's called the due process right to confront one's accusers.

God knows this country is crawling with creeps who would betray it just for kicks and I would be overjoyed to see them all deported to Cuba. But I must eschew such pleasures in the interest of law and order. The Constitution has a Fourth Amendment which guarantees the right of the people "against unreasonable searches and seizures." That's that.

We Are Most Appreciative!

Week after week, your response to all our efforts has been most gratifying. We continually feel obligated to do our best to give you the most in anyway possible. As a result of your confidence in us we have found it necessary to expand our store and give you more variety in every department. An all-new frozen foods department, an expanded meat, dairy and bakery departments, and a wider selection of grocery items are just a few of the many changes we have made. What it all boils down to, it is you our customer that has made this growth possible and we guarantee never to shrink in quality and service because of it. I personally invite one and all to visit our store this week and also urge everyone to take advantage of the Double S&H Green Stamps we'll be giving away on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Energy from the sea: Connecticut needs it now.

Far out at sea, under the Atlantic Outer Continental Shelf, geologists say there may be enough natural gas to supply us into the next century. But so far, the gas industry has not been allowed to go looking for it. What if we don't tap this energy from the sea? There must be other sources of natural gas. There are. And CNG is working on every one of them. American Gas Association research into making natural gas from America's ample reserves of coal. CNG is actively working, along with the AGA, for another Alaska pipeline — this one for natural gas. CNG is doing all these things to get more energy for Connecticut. Meanwhile natural gas may be just sitting out there under our own continental shelf. That's why CNG and the gas industry want to start looking for it now. Find out more about energy from the sea. Call for a free copy of the booklet, "Action in the Atlantic." Call Connecticut Natural Gas in Hartford at 525-0111. CONNECTICUT NATURAL GAS CORPORATION

Bolton

Firemen's Ball Attracts 300

DONNA HOLLAND

Over 300 people crowded into Flano's ballroom Saturday for the ninth annual Firemen's Ball, described by most in attendance as an event I wouldn't miss.

The affair, sponsored by the Bolton Volunteer Fire Department, was held at 7:30 at Flano's ballroom.

Members of the BVFD were easily recognized as they were wearing red carnations. They were introduced to a very enthusiastic crowd the early in the evening.

Sam Kimble's orchestra entertained into the early hours of Sunday morning.

The female band members also entertained as vocalists and were very enthusiastically received by the audience.

Members of the Andover and North County Volunteer Fire Departments stood by for the Bolton volunteers so they could enjoy what's becoming this small town's institution without interruption.

The Bolton Athletic Association will meet tonight at 7:30 at Herrick Memorial Park.

St. Maurice Council of Catholic Women will sponsor a card party at the church's parish center March 11 at 8 p.m.

This is a BYOC (bring your own cards) party. Donations are $1. There will be door prizes and refreshments.

Girl Scout Sunday Bolton Girl Scouts will celebrate Girl Scout Sunday March 10, beginning with a breakfast at St. Maurice Parish Center sponsored by the Bolton Ecumenical Council.

The breakfast will be served promptly at 9:15. Each girl will attend her own church for regular service that day.

Milton Stavitsky, general chairman, has named Roland Schiller chairman of the dinner committee. He is being assisted by Joe Trudeau, Gary Crane, George Trueman and Tom Mebel.

The three Junior Girl Scout troops in town will conduct a paper drive April 20. All residents are asked to begin saving papers now.

Legion Auxiliary The Abe E. Miller Unit 133 American Legion Auxiliary will hold its meetings on the first Wednesday of each month beginning March 6 at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Janice Stewart, 861 Foster St. Mrs. Kay Robbins will be hostess.

There will be a card party at the Evergreen Lodge of Masons, Main St., March 9 at 8 p.m. For information please call Mrs. Ruth Stewart, 644-1994, or Mrs. George Meadows, 644-8830. The public is invited to attend.

League Standings The South Windsor Recreation Department announces the Girl's Basketball League standings as of last week are: Cougars, 6-0; Bombers, 5-1; Bobcats, 3-3; Lakers, 2-4; Celtics, 2-4; Bobby Cats, 0.

Girls scoring the most points in league play are Jan Snyder, 119; Jill Snyder, 74; and Tracy Fiddler, 73.

The appointment of Ryan, which is expected to be approved by the council, will bring to an end the long disagreement over the original Republican choice of Joseph Carino. Carino has twice been defeated for nomination.

Carino himself nominated Ryan to replace his name before the council at the Republican Town Committee meeting Thursday night. The council will meet at 8 in the Town Hall.

C of C Surveyed On Interest In Business Course

A program designed to assist the owners of small businesses in the Vernon area, is now under consideration by the Rockville Public Library in cooperation with the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the chamber are being surveyed in an effort to determine the interest in the program. It has not yet been opened to the general public.

Chamber members are not only being surveyed to determine their interest in such a workshop but also to determine at what time they would prefer it to be held.

If interest warrants it, the workshop will probably run for a six-week period and will be conducted by executives selected by the Small Business Administration.

The Student Work Committee of the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday at 4 p.m. at the chamber office, Lafayette Square, to discuss the three-town Cooperative Work Experience program.

The program is conducted in the three area high schools, Rockville, Tolland, and Ellington. An out-of-town evaluator will be present at the meeting. The evaluator was assigned to inspect and evaluate the program.

Admission charge will be 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults with a maximum charge of $1 per family. The game is being sponsored by the PTO groups of both schools.

The winning team will be presented with a trophy. A half-time there will be an exhibition game by the fundamental group (10 and 9-year-olds) of the American Basketball League.

The Vernon Historical Society is making plans to present an exhibit of old toys from the Rockville Public Library the week of April 10 through 17.

Toys for the exhibit must date back at least 50 years and it is hoped anyone having such toys will lend them to be viewed during that week.

Anyone having toys they wish to lend should call Mrs. Thomas Connel who is in charge of planning the display.

Commuter Bus Given Permanent Approval

A commuter bus operating between Vernon and Hartford, has been approved as a permanent route by the Public Utilities Commission.

Operated by Post Road Stages on a temporary permit for 30 days, granted by the PUC, the route now leaves the Vernon Middle School but the state is in the process of setting up permanent parking areas near the highway.

Before Harold Collins, owner of the bus company, was granted the permanent route, he was ordered to present statistics on the 30-day operation, to the PUC.

The statistics revealed that the daily average number of passengers had increased fourfold since the route was started in January.

When Collins first asked to start the commuter service, on request of Mayor Frank McCoy, he had to go before a public hearing of the PUC.

At the hearing, the Connecticut Company voiced objections, saying that the operation of the route would interfere with its commuter bus route operating from Burr Corners in Manchester.

Post Road Stages attempted to draw interest for a commuter bus run to Pratt & Whitney, East Hartford, but lack of interest caused the company to drop that route.

Harding Tuesday Foe of East

Class A Champs Won 16

By Len Auster

Having decimated its playoff round opponent last Wednesday, the East Catholic basketball team goes out for bigger game Tuesday night.

The Stan Ogradnik-coached Eagles, 11th ranked in the Class A Division, battle the defending Class A champion Warren Harding of Bridgeport at Sheehan High in Wallingford.

East blasted 22nd-ranked Lyman Hall, 82-45, while Harding advanced into the round of 16 with a 72-57 drubbing of Plainville. The winner of tomorrow night's clash advances into the quarterfinals Friday and will face the Shelton-Naugatuck winner.

Directing the impressive triumph over Lyman were Joe Whelton, John Riccio, Ron Soucier and Joe Martens. Whelton notched 24 points while Riccio netted 19. Soucier featured a clutch down Trojan leading scorer Rob Ricciulli with just 14 points, seven under his average. Martens was chairman of the boards with a season-high 15 rebounds. Junior pivotman Jim Wehr was also outstanding off the boards with 15 caroms.

The sixth-ranked Presidents lost four of their starting five from a year ago. "We're thrilled to be where we are. We didn't expect to do as well as we have. It really was a rebuilding year," stated Harding mentor James Kish.

The 16-3 downstaters show a well diversified attack with the only returning starter, Aldo Samuel, being top point-marker. Samuel averaged 19.4 points per game during the regular season followed by center Cedric Cannon (11.2), forward Joe Anderson (10.4) and guard Benny Hatchett (10.2).

"We're a typical run and gun team. We're young but still growing," Kish said. Harding has three seniors, all starters, with Junior Cannon and sophomore Samuel rounding out the starting platoon.

After the Lyman victory, East mentor Ogradnik said, "There is no special significance in beating the defending champion. We certainly want to win." "It's a shame that two teams like ours have to meet so early. This would make a tremendous semifinal game. We're colorful and East is very impressive. They appear to have another one of their super clubs," Kish said in a telephone conversation.

Harding is defending champion and East won the Class A title in 1972, beating the Presidents, 45-42. Tuesday night at Sheehan should be mini-warfare for advancement into the quarterfinals.

Saturday night at Wethersfield High, 10th-ranked Rockfield High in the Class AA Division advanced into the round of 16 with a 79-72 overtime win over Bristol Central. The 14-4 winners were paced by Pat Connolly and Tom McDevitt who pumped in 29 and 23 points respectively.

Easy Winner
ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (UPI) — Richard Petty, an easy winner Sunday's Carolina 400 stock car race, credited a cut tire early in the afternoon for his advantage over the other drivers.

Petty, who also won the Daytona 400 last month, had to make an unscheduled pit stop after only 51 laps but the early stop gave him the opportunity to make beneficial adjustments to his car.

Voiland, Turgeon Score Tourney Mat Victories

Taking the team title in the Eighth District Sectional Wrestling Tournament Saturday was Killingly High with 140 points. Second place went to East Hartford High with 115 1/2 points while the host Manchester High matmen placed third with 104 points.

Two individual championships went each to Killingly, Glastonbury, East Hartford and Windham. Indian matman Mike Voiland won the 132-pound class, pinning his Windham High opponent in 4:48.

East Catholic also had one entrant who captured a weight class. Steve Turgeon won the 119-pound bracket with a 6-5 decision over Penney's Vince Vallaris.

Manchester had three performers taking second place in their division. Junior Skip Odell was defeated for the first time in 16 decisions in the finals of the 138-pound class; Rick Letts was dethroned in the 185-pound class; and Mickey Miller placed second in the 112-pound class.

Taking third place in the 155-pound division was East Catholic's Ray Gaulin, with a 2-1 decision victory. Indian's Les Snuffer finished third in the 119-pound class with a pin in 2:24 of Killingly's Jeff Francis. Another Manchester entrant who took a third place was Ed Machuga in the 105-pound class, pinning East Catholic's Pete Shannon in 2:43.

Local entrants who came in fourth were Manchester's Neil Snuffer in the 98-pound class and East Catholic's Bill Leaby in the 167-pound class.

The top three finishers in each weight class qualify for the State Wrestling Championship March 8 at Wilton High with the fourth place winner being the alternate to the state meet.

The outstanding wrestler of the competition was East Hartford High's Phil Cairo, who won the 126-pound class. Machuga of Manchester had the most pins in the least time, three in a combined time of 9:31. There were 120 entrants from 10 schools, with Plainfield High not putting in a scheduled appearance.

Jack Early, site director, stated the attendance for the finals was over 800.

Ashe Scores Against Borg
BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) — Arthur Ashe of the United States beat Bjorn Borg of Sweden Sunday to win the Wimbledon-WCT indoor tennis tournament, teamed with fellow American Roscoe Tanner to take the doubles title.

Demonstrating superior technique and experience, Ashe took just 91 minutes to beat the young Swede 6-4, 3-6, 6-3. He made use of his strong first serve, which Borg was unable to do, and bore down in key moments to win important points.

Villanova's Triumph IC4A Track Surprise
PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — Nobody was surprised that Villanova's Jim Hartnett ran so well in the 53rd annual IC4A track classic. But what did surprise everybody was the Wildcats winning the team title. It even left "Jumbo" Jim Elliott, the Villanova coach, happily surprised when the two-day meet concluded Sunday.

Hartnett, an Irish import and the hottest runner this winter on the IC4A circuit, won the two-mile run in 9:33.2 and anchored the distance medley relay's mile, which the Wildcats also won.

Bosbock, Hansen Archery Winners

298 Tally Nets Top $ Award

Victorious in the New England Indoor Professional Archery Championship held on the weekend at Hall's Arrow Indoor Archery Range were Earl Bosbock and Judy Hansen. Bosbock, of Sterling Heights, Mich., won the Men's division shooting a 298 out of a possible 300. Benny Tirado, of Brooklyn, N.Y., was second with a score of 297. Third place went to Chuck Jordan of Elberton, Pa., with a 296 total. Tied for fourth place with scores of 295 were John Preston of Hendrick, Pa., and Dick LaMar of Bristol.

Ms. Hansen of Greenwood, Ind., took the top spot in the Women's Division with 291 points. Betty Wirtz of Coventry and Alice Hickey of Bolton tied for second with 284 points apiece.

The pros were shooting for $3,000 in cash. This was the 10th year that Art Hall hosted the New England's at his W. Middle Tpke. Range. Competition took place Saturday and Sunday with several hundred viewing the competition.

Whalers Triumph
NEW YORK (UPI) — New England had more to lose than Houston when the two WHA division-leading teams met Sunday and perhaps that is why the Whalers so easily whipped the Aeros 6-3.

Chicago 5:4 in the afternoon to climb within a point of New England, the Whalers knew they needed to maintain a somewhat comfortable lead over the Toros in the WHA.

Tom Williams opened the scoring at 10:10 in the first period for New England and added his second goal in the second period at 13:58. Al Karlander scored in the second period at 2:25 and in the third at 4:48. John French hit in his first period and Tom Webster scored in the last to round out the Whalers' scoring.

Houston, despite its loss, enjoys a nine-point lead over Minnesota in the Western Division of the WHA.

Houston's first goal was scored by Don Grierson early in the first period. Gordie Howe picked up the second goal, his 29th of the season, in the second period and Jim Sherrit added the third in the third period.

Coventry's Betty Wirtz on Line She Tied for Second Place Here

NEW YORK (UPI) — Betty Wirtz of Coventry, Conn., tied for second place in the women's division of the New England Archery Championship Sunday.

Wirtz, 29, of Coventry, Conn., tied for second place with 291 points. She was behind Judy Hansen of Greenwood, Ind., who won the women's title with 294 points.

Hansen, who won the women's title last year, was also in the top three Sunday. She finished third with 284 points.

Wirtz, who is a member of the Coventry Archery Club, has been shooting for several years. She is a member of the national team and has competed in several international tournaments.

Scramble for NFL Playoff Spots

NEW YORK (UPI) — With barely more than one month left to the end of the regular season, a wild scramble is shaping up to determine position for the National Football League playoffs.

About the only major position that has been decided thus far is first place in the East Division, where the Boston Bruins own a solid 10-point advantage over Montreal despite their 6-4 loss to the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night.

Elsewhere, particularly in the West Division, a number of teams are fighting for survival. Philadelphia and Chicago are battling for first place in the West and four other teams are dueling for the two other playoff berths.

State Champ Norm O'Kane Sights Target in Competition

NEW YORK (UPI) — Norm O'Kane of New York City, a three-time state champion, was among the top performers in the men's division of the New England Archery Championship Sunday.

O'Kane, 24, of New York City, won the men's title with a score of 298. He was followed by Earl Bosbock of Sterling Heights, Mich., with 297 points.

O'Kane, who has been shooting for several years, is a member of the New York Archery Club. He has competed in several international tournaments and has won several national titles.

O'Kane's performance Sunday was his best in several years. He is a member of the national team and has competed in several international tournaments.

Indians Up for Sale, But Club Must Stay

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you're trying to find a present for the man who has everything, how about a major league baseball team?

The Cleveland Indians can be purchased — if you're willing to leave the team in Cleveland, the counsel for the owners, will meet with Marvin Miller, the executive director for the Players Association, to discuss the issue. Suarez was traded for Leo Cardenas.

In other camp news, the MVP golfer with the Veep, Reggie Jackson, the American League's MVP, got in an hole round with Vice President Gerald R. Ford in Arizona.

Sparky Anderson, the Cincinnati manager, got in the quote of the day. He has a young pitcher from the Dominican Republic named Jack Andujar, who has a sensational arm but a quick temper. Anderson said, "I told Andujar that if he no longer go loco he can make much dinero pitching in the major leagues. But I told him that if he continues to go loco, he might just as well grab himself a machete right now and start whacking away at the sugar cane."

Horace Clarke, Sparky Lyle and Celerino Sanchez are still New York Yankee holdouts. The Yanks insist they haven't made a final offer even if they don't get to the players.

Joe Ferguson became the last member of the Los Angeles Dodgers to sign a contract for the season... Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins is still holding out.

Tunney said that in a vote now, however, his bill "would not get anywhere. Today it doesn't have much of a chance."

Eleven Congressmen, led by John F. Sowers, of Ohio and Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn. have introduced similar legislation in the house.

"I will do all I possibly can to get this legislation through," Tunney said. "It's a bill of rights for professional athletes. The negotiating positions have been unequal, and I want to give the free enterprise system a chance to work."

"We hope to give the professional athlete across the board the opportunity to negotiate with any team willing to buy their services after a contract is signed initially," he said. "When you get to be a man or a grown woman, there is no reason why you

A personal message from the Bezzini Bros.

Dear Friends and Customers,

For the past 45 years, the Bezzini Brothers have been building and selling quality furniture. Countless thousands of Connecticut homes have been enhanced by its beauty. During those 45 years we have earned a reasonable profit and provided exceptional service to our customers. But 45 years is long enough and we've decided to retire from the retail furniture business. Rather than sell stock to dealers, we're offering our many friends the opportunity of buying out our stock for their personal use at costs far below the retail selling price. We trust you'll appreciate this final gesture as much as we've appreciated your continued loyalty during the many years we have been in business.

Sincerely,
Richard Bezzini

Rev. Keily to Open Series of Lenten Talks

The Rev. John J. Keily of St. Thomas Seminary will be guest speaker Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the first of a series of Lenten programs at the Church of the Assumption hall.

Father Keily teaches psychology and is director of public affairs at the seminary. He also serves as Catholic chaplain at the Institute of Living.

The evening's program will include a break for coffee and an informal question and answer period.

The Rev. Jean Pelletier, spiritual director at St. Thomas Seminary, will speak on "Prayer Is Hunger" at the program on March 12.

Other speakers and their topics are: March 19, Rev. James Leary who teaches at St. Thomas Seminary and St.

Joseph College, "The Relevance of the Old Testament for Christians Today;" March 26, Father Pelletier, "Prayer Is Hunger;" April 2, Rev. Joseph P. Donahue, vice rector of St. Thomas Seminary, "The Formation of Conscience;" and April 9, The Rev. William Brady of the Spanish speaking ministry at St. Michael's Church, Hartford, "No Man Is an Island — Living the Good News Today."

About Town

Marcia Neubert Circle of Community Baptist Church will meet Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Fights Exile

Dissident ballet star Valery Panov, fearing expulsion from Russia like countryman Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, says he will fight exile unless permitted by Soviet authorities to bring his wife with him.

Lenten Programs Have Ecumenical Aim

Special Lenten services and programs, which will be open to the public, are being planned by the Division of Christian Unity of the Manchester Area Conference of Churches.

These Lenten services have been designed to acquaint Manchester area residents with the worship practices of various religions.

The services have been planned, whenever possible, to coincide with the course, "How the Judeo-Christian Community Worships," which begins March 11 as part of the Manchester Adult Evening School.

The first Lenten services are scheduled for Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Church of the Assumption, when the Rev. Paul Trinque will explain

Mass; at 6:30 at St. Mary's Episcopal Church for a Lutheran-Anglican Dialogue; and from 7:15 to 7:55 at Trinity Covenant Church, with "One Man for the People" as the service theme.

The schedule of other Lenten services and programs is as follows:

Church of the Assumption, March 10 and 31, at 7:30 p.m., contemporary Mass; each Tuesday during Lent, 7:30 p.m., programs with speakers; St. James Church, each Friday during Lent, starting at 7 p.m., Stations of the Cross; Community Baptist Church; March 24, 7 p.m., Vesper Service, and Palm Sunday, 7:30 p.m., Service of Baptism; St. Bartholomew's Church, each Wednesday during lent at the 7:30 p.m., Mass.

Also, Emanuel Lutheran Church, each Wednesday Lent, 7:15 to 8 p.m., Quiet Hour Service; Church of the Nazarene, Palm Sunday, 7 p.m., special service; Center Congregational Church, Maundy Thursday, 7:30 p.m., Tenebrae Service, and Good Friday, 7:30 p.m., film presentation of "The Son of Man;" St. Mary's Episcopal Church, March 13, 7:30 p.m., Mansfield Blind Choir Concert, March 20, 7:30 p.m., Anglican-Roman Catholic Dialogue and April 3, 7:30 p.m., Evensong with music by the Children's Choir.
