Handicapped, He Runs Car Wash

"Where there's a will, there's a way." This is Roger Landon's philosophy. Landon, a physically handicapped person, believes it is a person's duty to find work and earn money, he can do it. He says a person's handicap should not stand in his way. "Anyone can find something to do if he really wants to," he says.

Landon, who lives at 146 Center St., began a "hand car wash" business on Good Friday in the parking lot behind Steve's Amoco Service Station at 770 Main St. He charges $2.50 per car and cleans it inside and out. He will also do a wax and polish job if requested. Landon says he operated a similar car wash in Wethersfield for the handicapped.

He hopes to set an example for other handicapped persons. He said he would be glad to talk to anyone with a handicap and would encourage them to try to overlook their handicap and "do something."

He is on duty daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. except rainy days and Sundays.

Mystic Aquarium Plans 'Whale of a Time' Show

A statewide effort by environmental groups to draw attention to the danger of whales becoming extinct will climax with a "Whale of a Time" benefit program by the Humane Society of the United States Friday at 7 p.m. at the Mystic Marine Aquarium.

As part of the effort to promote public understanding of whales, the program will also highlight a demonstration of behavior by the aquarium's dolphins, which, with the whales, belong to the order of mammals called "cetaceans."

"Flukes," the dolphin demonstration, and a performance of the new "Blue Whale Ballad" by folk singer Eckley Macklin will be in the aquarium's 1,400-seat Marine Theater.

The benefit at the aquarium will feature a performance of "Flukes," a celebration of the meaning and majesty of whales through drama, dance, graphics and song by an innovative Boston theater group known as Endangered Species Productions.

Tickets for the benefit may be obtained from the Humane Society of the United States, P.O. Box 98, East Haddam, 06423, or at the aquarium the evening of the performance.

The committee voted Thursday to let the President's Watergate lawyer, James D. St. Clair, question witnesses and otherwise represent Nixon during the hearings.

The U.S. Court of Appeals gave the Senate Watergate committee's appeal for original White House tapes a partial rebuff. It ordered the committee to try to make do with transcripts and copies of tapes. If the panel still needs more, the court said, it should come back and explain why.

Former presidential adviser Charles W. Colson sent federal court 500 newspaper

Kissinger Begins Talks With Syrians

DAMASCUS (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger brought his shuttle diplomacy to Damascus today to seek an end to the Israeli-Syrian fighting on the Golan Heights but ran into a Syrian pledge to continue the battle until every inch of Syrian territory is rid of "the Zionist evil."

Kissinger was the target of an assassination plot on his last visit to Damascus in January, and security today was unprecedented. He also was traveling about the city in a second bullet proof Cadillac flown in from the United States. A bullet proof car also was flown to Israel.

Kissinger had a last minute conversation in Tel Aviv with Prime Minister Golda Meir before flying here for his talks with President Hafez Assad. "We seek security and peace and not the imposition of views of any party on any other party," Kissinger said after the meeting with Mrs. Meir. Maj. Hafez Assad, brother of the Syrian president and commander of the special troops battling Israelis on Mt. Hermon for the 57rd consecutive day, told the Beirut newspaper Al Yom today the fighting would continue until the Golan Heights are liberated completely.

"The fighting will not be abandoned until Arab land is rid of the Zionist evil," he said.

Israel has said there must be a cease-fire on the Golan Heights before there can be "meaningful negotiations" on a troop disengagement program. Syria, backed by Soviet arms and money, has rejected disengagement until Israel gives back at least some of the Golan Heights captured in 1967.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban cautioned after the talks with Kissinger, "We do not have an agreement in our pocket at all. On the other hand we have by no means reached a stage of despair. We are going on with the talks unconditionally."

"There were no soldiers or uniformed policemen in sight but hundreds of armed plainclothes

Nixon Watergate Strategy Hardens

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon appeared today to have made a strategic decision to stand on the release of the more than 1,200 pages of edited transcripts and resist demands for more material.

In three instances Thursday his aides took positions against furnishing requested information.

Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said the House impeachment committee now has "the full story of Watergate" and there are no plans to furnish tape recordings it has subpoenaed. While not closing the door to negotiation, Warren said, referring to the fat book of transcripts: "We feel that it is complete and we feel that it gives the House Judiciary Committee the facts with which to make a judgment."

On the day it was due, the President's lawyers went to federal court to block a subpoena from Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski, seeking White House tape recordings to use in the Watergate cover-up trial in September. Judge John J. Sirica set a hearing for next Wednesday on the subpoena.

Under written instructions from the President, White House chief of staff Alexander M. Haig, declined to answer

Fire at Warehouse Being Investigated

By MAL BARLOW
Four Manchester police detectives were among the first people on the scene yesterday afternoon after fire broke out on the first floor of a three-story warehouse on Hilliard St. They suspected arson.

The fire was quickly put under control by both a functioning sprinkler system and the quick response of the Eighth District Fire Department, a leaf fire was doused at the rear of the fire, the report said.

The ground floor of the brick and cement warehouse is leased from the SHVC Corp. owned by Stuart H. V. Carson of 67 S. Main St. by Lydell-Foulds Division of Colonial Fibre Co. 200 yards from the firehouse. A Colonial spokesman said 250 tons of paper in bales were stored there and only about two bales of the paper were damaged beyond use, he said.

The SHVC Corp. also owned the Orford Soap Co. plant, buildings which were destroyed in a major fire Jan. 8, 1973. The empty buildings burned for over 10 hours then.

Manchester police reported this morning that the 1973 fire is still under investigation. Work has been done on it within the last two weeks, they said.

When Thursday's fire broke out, Det. Capt. Joseph Sartor

Main Street Reacquisition Could Cost Town $1 Million

By SOL R. COHEN
An estimated $1 million for totally reconstructing Downtown Main St., "some time in the foreseeable future" is part of the price Manchester could pay for reacquisition of the mile-long strip, Town Manager Robert Weiss said Thursday.

Weiss reported to the Mayor's Downtown Action Committee in the morning on all costs involved in the reacquisition. His written report was sent to the Board of Directors later in the day.

Weiss said the reconstruction is necessary if an acceptable riding surface and suitable drainage is to be provided.

The "present surface," he explained, "overlays a partial concrete highway and street car tracks. The curb has been filled in in most areas to the point where water washes over onto the sidewalk and, in some cases, into the stores."

Weiss said an alternate method of repair — planning off the existing surface — may not be feasible, due to existence of the car tracks and inadequate drainage. He estimated that cost at $200,000 to $400,000.

"The state has no present plans for reconstructing this street (Downtown Main St.), nor has any timetable been set for this work," Weiss said.

Weiss presented the following estimates of immediate or annual costs to the town for regaining control of the street:

- $25,000 for acquiring the traffic-control system.
- $4,000 for realigning the traffic signals to the existing parking method.
- $5,000 per year for traffic signal maintenance.
- $5,000 per year for normal highway maintenance.
- $7,000 for two spare traffic controllers.
- $5,000 for line-stripping and crosswalks.
- $600 per year for additional electrical charges for the traffic signal at Main and E. Center Sts.

The chief of police, as traffic authority, is on record as opposed to angle parking as a safety measure, but supports the modified plan (for changing 30 angle-parking stalls to parallel parking) installed by the state last fall.

Weiss alerted the Board of Directors to information given him by state Department of Transportation officials — rule to be in effect when and if the town regains control of the street.

No outside funds (state or federal) would be available to Main St. itself (from the Center to Hartford Rd.) as long as there is angle parking.

Unemployment Down Slightly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment edged down in April for the second month in a row, falling from a March level of 5.1 per cent to 5 per cent as joblessness declined among teenagers and black workers, the government said today.

After reaching a 3 1/2 year low of 4.6 per cent last October, unemployment rose to 5.2 per cent in January and February before starting down in March.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the number of employed workers remained unchanged at about 83.8 million while the number of persons out of work fell by about 100,000 to 4.5 million.

The unemployment rate for teenagers dropped from 15 per cent in March down to 13.8 per cent last month, while the rate for black workers declined from 9.4 per cent to 8.7 per cent.

Expo '74 Accent On Environment

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — The Expo '74 World Environmental Exposition, the only world's fair scheduled for the United States this decade, will be dedicated Saturday by President Nixon.

The theme of the fair, to run for six months, is "Celebrating Tomorrow's Fresh, New Environment."

The fair, small by comparison with some in the recent past, notably those at Seattle, Montreal and New York, has drawn eight countries plus the United States and 25 domestic exhibitors.

The foreign nations are the Soviet Union, Australia, Japan, West Germany, Iran, the Republic of China (Taiwan), the Republic of Korea and The Philippines.

It began in 1969 as an idea proposed by the Spokane County Historical Society to mark this eastern Washington city's centennial year.

After about two years of tentative planning and scheming, and a lot of political arm-twisting by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., the proposal was taken to the Bureau of International Expositions in Paris.

The 36-nation sanctioning body for world's fairs approved the fair as a special category exposition, which means that all participants must stick with the designated theme for the fair.

Russia Demands China Return Helicopter

MOSOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today demanded the immediate return of a helicopter and three-man crew forced down over China and warned of the "inevitable consequence" if Peking rejects the ultimatum.

The demand, one of the most harshly worded since bitter Soviet-Chinese border fighting erupted in 1969, did not specify the helicopter's name.

The Tass news agency said today the Soviet government insists on the immediate return of the front-guard helicopter and its three-man crew to further detain the helicopter and its crew, to abuse Soviet people, it thereby assumes full responsibility for the inevitable consequences of this provocative stand."

The chopper went down during bad weather March 14 in China's mountainous Altai region near where the borders of the People's Republic, the Soviet Union and Mongolia converge.

The area, one of the most politically sensitive along the disputed 4,347-mile Sino-Soviet border, has been the scene of reported frontier clashes in recent years.

Tass said Deputy Foreign Minister Leonid Ilyichov, head of the Moscow delegation at the suspended Sino-Soviet border talks, read the government statement in a meeting Thursday with Liu.

"The Soviet government insists on the immediate return of the front-guard helicopter and its three-man crew to further detain the helicopter and its crew, to abuse Soviet people, it thereby assumes full responsibility for the inevitable consequences of this provocative stand."

Ilyichov insisted the chopper was trying to evacuate "a gravely ill person from a border post" when the pilot lost his bearings in bad weather and ran out of fuel.

The Soviet diplomat rejected Chinese charges the helicopter was spying, saying Peking accused the crew of actions "it had not committed and had no intention of committing."

Ilyichov said China intended to blow the incident "out of all proportion" and use the dispute "for the further aggravation of Sino-Chinese relations."

Rain this afternoon and tonight, clearing toward morning. Temperature range expected to be from mid to upper 30s to low to mid 40s.

Saturday — mostly sunny and windy with high in the 60s.

Tryouts Set For Drama By Marcel

Alumnae of Saint Joseph College, West Hartford, their husbands and friends, and members of the Greater Hartford area are invited to read for roles for the world premiere in English of "The Broken World" by the late French existentialist and dramatist, Gabriel Marcel. The play will be presented Oct. 4 and 5 at the college in observance of the first anniversary of Marcel's death.

The following instructors' work will be on display:

Conly McLean, Coventry, will show how silver and metal are combined with stones in creating jewelry; Janet Bayfield, Cheshire, will display Batik; Elsa Brown, Ridgefield, will exhibit quilting in progress; Anne Feidelson, North Haven, will show decorative papers and how to make them.

Also, Carolyn Hart will exhibit contemporary basketry techniques; Ken Laifal will display photography; Beth Parrott will show the procedures of natural dyes; Robert Parrot, Bethany will display wheel thrown pottery; Mickey Sequenzia, Middle Haddam, will exhibit sculptural macrame; Betsy Tanzer, West Hartford, will display the techniques of Raku; Mary Timothy will show the process of bookrart and decorative boxes; and Joy Wilke, fiber artist, will display non-loom weaving techniques.

The SCC Gallery is located in the Farmington Valley Arts Center, Avon Park North, Avon. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Tolland Burokas Changes Mind On Funds for Firemen

Selectmen met Thursday with firemen to discuss the $80,000 cut in the budget to reimburse direct expenses to firemen. John Burokas, Board of Selectmen chairman, who had voted to cut the fire budget as did the three Republican selectmen, said he had changed his mind about the cut after hearing what firemen do for the town in addition to fighting fires.

Town Manager John Harkins said he will check with Town Counsel Harold Garrity to determine if the cut could be reinstated at Tuesday's town meeting.

The fire department will meet Monday to vote whether or not it will confine its activities to fighting fires only, if the cut is not reinstated.

Firemen, at no cost to the town, cleared away debris last year after two twisters and the December ice storm. The town was saved the expense of overtime pay for the road crew.

There will be another Cub Scout registration Monday at the School Administration Building from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. All boys who are either eight years old or in third grade are eligible to join.

Foster Grandparents Will Be Recognized

Saturday will be a day of recognition for the 252 senior citizens serving throughout the state as foster grandparents.

The first annual Connecticut Foster Grandparents Recognition Day ceremonies will begin at 10 a.m. at the Manchester Community College auditorium.

Marjorie Lynch of Washington, D.C., associate director of ACTION, which funds the Foster Grandparent program, will be the principal speaker. Others participating in the program include Mother M. Bernadette de Lourdes, commissioner of the state Department on Aging; Gareth Thorne, deputy commissioner of health, office of mental retardation, and the superintendents of the four Connecticut State Training Schools.

Dr. Wilbert Snow, professor emeritus of Wesleyan University and former governor of Connecticut, will speak at a luncheon honoring the foster grandparents.

'Gingerbread' Sets Now Ready for Use

The sets for the forthcoming Little Theatre of Manchester (LTM) production of "The Gingerbread Lady" are complete and in use at the LTM club rooms for cast rehearsals, says Clay Massey, production vice president for LTM.

The Neil Simon play will be presented at East Catholic High School auditorium May 24-25 and May 31-June 1 at 8:30 p.m. Robert Donnelly is directing the play. The stage manager is Frank Minutillo.

The one-set interior was designed by Nancy Chapdelaine and Robert Spencer, and David Newirth directed the construction. Toni Fogarty and Betty Lundberg are in charge of the decor.

Other members of the production staff are Jeanne Ojala and Sharon Ray, props; Joan Dafford, costumes; Jayne Newirth, makeup; John LaDonne, lighting.

Police Arrest 17 for Gambling

WEST HAVEN (UPI) — State and local police officers have arrested 17 persons in connection with a gambling operation that may have handled $10 million per year.

The arrests were based on a three-month investigation in which a court-ordered writ was used to monitor a house in West Haven, officers said.

The 17 were charged with state gambling laws in connection with a sports horses and numbers operation, officers said.

Walkathon Sunday

The United Cerebral Palsy Association of Greater Hartford will conduct a "Walkathon" Sunday to raise funds to support services for handicapped children and adults. Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. at Manchester High School.

Coordinating the program at the various town schools are: David Jacobs, Manchester High School; Regis McKeeough, East Catholic; Alan Girelli, Bennett; Debbie Craig, Hilling; Mary Jean Foley, Assumption; and Sheila Foley, St. James.

Students from East Hartford and South Windsor schools are also participating.

Each participant seeks out sponsors who pledge a certain sum of money for every mile the individual walks. A total of 75 per cent of the money raised by the "Walkathon" will be used to support local palsy programs. The additional 25 per cent will be used to research on the field of cerebral palsy prevention and on the training of medical specialists who can diagnose and treat patients with cerebral palsy and related neurological disorders.

Anyone interested in participating or volunteering his/her services to help in the event should call the CP office, at 238-8201.

Tax Cut Inflationary

Diametrically opposite economic philosophies have been voiced by Arthur Burns, head of the Federal Reserve System, and Senators Kennedy, Mondale and Humphrey as remedial measures to buttress the country's economy.

Apparently responding to a decrease in the nation's Gross National Product, and certainly with an eye on what is good for them politically, the Democratic senators have urged a decrease in income taxes as a means of stimulating the economy.

Burns, on the other hand, has announced an increase in the Federal Reserve interest rate to 8 1/2 per cent, an all time high, which reflects somewhat the earlier interest hikes which the country's large banks have made in their prime rate.

The higher interest rates would, it is hoped, prove a deterrent to borrowing both by businesses and individuals and hence would result in a "tight money" policy.

Contrarily the program of the senators would swell the flow of money, making more available to consumers, and it also would be inflationary in that it would increase deficit spending by some 9 billion dollars by the federal government.

With a budgetary deficit assured there is no way that taxes can be lowered by the billions without further deficit spending, which is one of the principal causes of inflation.

As a political move the tax cut may be appealing. But it would only serve to accelerate inflation, which is harming everyone. The loss to inflation would undoubtedly more than offset any tax decrease.

We Are Not Alone

They may not have their Watergate but other governments have greater trials still.

The Soviet Union is suffering the pains of a rebellion of intellectuals. Remembering the role that our intellectuals played 200 years ago in the Revolution, we can imagine what the Russian intellectuals might do some day.

Red China is again in some kind of agony. Visas are suddenly more difficult to come by. Areas of the country are closed. Stories about rioting and smoke rising from the cities are reported.

France has almost no government at all and Italy does have no government at all. Britain's strikes and scandals are testing her democracy, as it is tested here in America.

There are anti-government riots in India; heas "states fall in Africa. Even Portugal has a military coup. Governments across the world are in travail.

We do not rejoice in the worldwide agony. Visas are suddenly more difficult to come by. Areas of the country are closed. Stories about rioting and smoke rising from the cities are reported.

Town Democrats Should Await All the Facts

To the editor:

Recently the Democratic Town Committee took a stand in support of the impeachment investigation of the President. If this is a sincere interest in what is right and not just playing politics, then it wonders if they would express an opinion concerning President Roosevelt's decision not to defend Pearl Harbor when he knew of the attack three days before, therefore sacrificing 3,000 dead so he could claim victory. What about President Woodrow Wilson who used the sinking of the Lusitania as a reason for our entering World War I and now the truth has come out that that was trickery also? Then there's the Tonkin Gulf attack in the Vietnam War that is now considered doubtful. It seems amazing that people accept war and death as a fact of life with no loud outcry or investigation until too late, yet dirty politics that have always existed and probably always will, can cause such turmoil and self destruction. If those incidents are too far in the past though a war is the most horrible thing that can happen to a country, then how about some of the people involved in the Watergate investigation?

It seems some of these investigators had the same job before during the Bobby Baker scandal. Senators Ervin, Talmadge and Montoya were on the committee, but the difference was that they were investigating their own party so there was no Bible quotations or searching questions. Instead they were times to cover up, slow down or stop the problem wherever it looked like it would hurt them. The White House. Even President Johnson is quoted as saying he thought he was the first president that would end up in jail but he really didn't have to worry as there was no one out to get him. The degree of guilt seems to depend on who is pointing the finger.

Would the Town Committee want to take a stand on Senator Inoué who is accused of taking an illegal campaign contribution last July while working on the Watergate Commission and investigating so righteously the same actions of others? Senator Montoya also asked about how he laundered funds while he was accused of the same. What about the $50,000 given to Senator Hubert Humphrey in the back seat of a car, or the money Rep. Peter Rodino, the head of the Judiciary Committee, received from the Dairyman's Association. Would they care to comment on Senator Henry Jackson and Rep. Wilbur Mills who took illegal contributions from Gulf Oil Corp. and Senator Muskie who took from Diamond International?

Since the Town Committee is all for impeachment would they suggest the same treatment for these others who are interested in cleaning up the political mess. After all we can't say, "these just don't do it," as they do exist, as Henry Becker said.

The important issue also was support for Bill Cotter. First District congressman for his "forthright position on the impeachment question." While they were discussing him why don't they ask for a forthright position on the impeachment question.

pass the savings on to the poor, deprived lettuce cutter who came here because he was starving in his own country. They are making now as much as many people born in the U.S.A. Most of the stores in Manchester are not unionized but I have yet to see a priest, minister or rabbi handing out literature to this effect. If you men of the cloth are really concerned make an exodus to Washington (or even just an Exodus) and complain and picket as to the high prices and malnutrition already rampant in the land for those on a fixed income.

From Moses photos in the paper, I would say that many of the clergy are not aware of this as yet.

The clergy should make a concerted effort to gather up their stray lambs and leave the unions to the unions. As a union member myself, I have never attempted to advise the churches on how to manage their churches but perhaps it might be a good idea at that. It still puzzles me, why should a non-union member be fighting for someone else's union? And only one grows.

The Name of the Game

WASHINGTON—Next to the more strident harriers of the Women's Lib, the jokers who annoy me most are the career liberals of the bleeder type who are always wanting to change the rules to benefit our black neighbors.

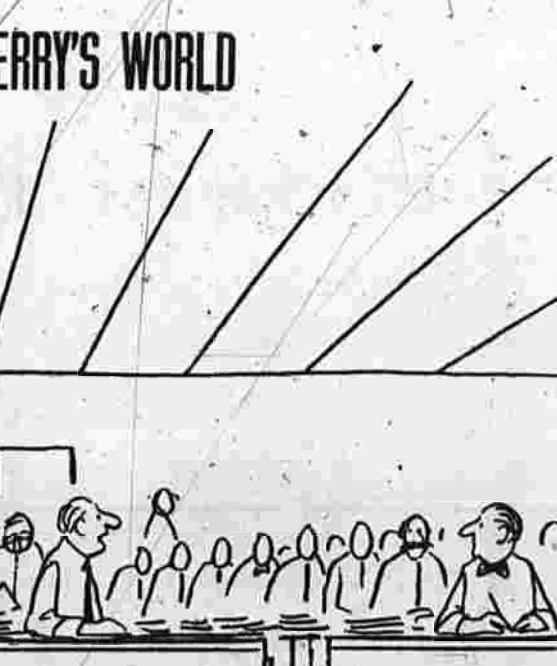

Accordingly, I am glad a black named Lee Elder qualified for the prestigious Masters tournament at Augusta, Ga. first because he's a classy golfer, and second because now I won't have to listen to as much whining waddle about the "exclusionist" policies of the Masters bosses.

By accepting an invitation to play in next year's Masters Elder will become the first black to perform therein. That is good, not because he is black but because he is a black who was good enough to qualify by winning a major tournament—the Monsanto Open. It was Elder's first major victory since he joined the pro tour several years ago, but to hear the blenders you'd think he'd been barred from the Masters because of the color of his skin.

Well now, The Masters rules are plain. To qualify, a golfer who is not automatically invited because he's a former Masters champion or otherwise established himself over the years as a player of unquestioned prestige, must win one of the regular 45 pro tournaments.

That doesn't seem too much to ask. It certainly offers the pro golfer a fighting chance to qualify—in fact, 45 fighting chances to qualify. Given 45 chances, he should be able to win the Year and ever I might stir from my accustomed lethargy. Yet in recent years there has been a campaign, naturally joined by national politicians looking for a vote or two, to change the Masters rules to permit participation by Cliff Roberts, major domo of the Masters, has said Elder will be invited to play in the 1975 edition. "He has earned his invitation and we are delighted," Roberts added. Were I Lee Elder, the word I would favor in Roberts' statement is "earned." That's the name of the game.

Columbia Parking Ordinance Being Considered

VIRGINIA CARLSON

Correspondent
Tel. 228-9224

A "blanket" parking ordinance covering posted town roads will be discussed with town counsel Jules Karp as recommended to the selectmen by the Safety Commission.

Areas mentioned as particularly hazardous were Erdon Rd., Town Hall Rd. and the front of Porter School.

An opinion will be sought concerning possible use of violation tickets by town constables. Chief constable Guy Beck said most towns have a uniform violation ticket. If the fine is not paid within the designated time, an arrest warrant is obtained and the matter goes to the courts, he said.

The commission recommended selectmen ask the State Traffic Commission to survey traffic where Lake Rd. meets Rt. 87, considered a safety hazard for several reasons.

A Windham High School student who recently did a survey for a course found that 26 per cent of the cars entering Rt. 87 did not stop or slow down.

He said 17 per cent of the cars leaving Lake Rd. to the Andover direction were beyond the painted line; 13 per cent of the cars entering Lake Rd., coming from the center, cut inside the white line.

The Safety Commission endorsed Gov. Thomas Meskill's Safety Week program, May 12 through May 18, the first proposed in the state.

During the week citizens will be asked to exercise extreme caution in all their activities so that needless accidental deaths and injuries will be avoided.

Monday has been designated a day for traffic safety; Tuesday, summer safety; Wednesday, bicycle and motorcycle safety; Thursday, fire safety; Friday, occupational safety and Saturday, home safety.

Gardening

FRANK ATWOOD

Everyone whose advice was sought said it couldn't be done. A greenhouse in a corner of a basement, recreation room, with no opening to the outside air couldn't be a success. Ivy Shepoff was told. Too much humidity would build up and the plants would be subject to disease.

But Mrs. Shepoff went ahead with her idea and, with the help of her husband, constructed a greenhouse six feet high, five feet deep and five feet wide. She has been growing plants there through the winter months with no problems from humidity.

She watches a thermometer and a hygrometer inside the greenhouse, and if the air gets too warm or the moisture content too high she gets ventilation by opening the door.

Her plants live in a completely artificial environment. For convenience, since she works away from home in the daytime, she works in the greenhouse in the evening. The artificial lights are turned on by a timer at 8 p.m. and turned off at 8 a.m. The basement window which shows as a dark rectangle above the greenhouse has been covered with dark blue paint to shut out the daylight.

The lights are fluorescent tubes, 40 inches long, and there are five of them, at the top, on both sides and across the back. There is one incandescent bulb to supplement the fluorescent lights. Large plants stand in containers on the floor. Small plants in their pots are on convenient shelves.

Move Outdoors

We are using the story and the picture now because spring has come and very soon all the plants, still in containers, will be moved outdoors. Those that thrive in full sun will go on the south side of the apartment and those that need more shade and less heat will go on the north side. Some will be sunk in the ground, pot and all.

Mrs. Shepoff has had excellent success with a croton plant, on the floor at the right side of the door, with handsome red and green leaves. A pineapple, started with the cut-off top of a fruit the Shepoffs brought

Small greenhouse in a corner of the basement recreation room provides space for Ivy Shepoff to grow dozens of plants during winter months. Ivy is Mrs. Kenneth Shepoff of 13 Brownstone Apartments, off Oakland St. Her chihuahua is a frequent companion in the greenhouse. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Andover PTA Fair On May 11

ELLEN LARIVIERE
Correspondent

The Andover PTA Gay Ninety Fair will be presented on May 11 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the elementary school. The fair is coordinated by a joint effort of the PTA Executive Board.

Events and entertainment scheduled consist of square dancing, local talent, professional entertainment, and a concert by the Willmarie Band. Programs will be available at the fair.

Featured for the younger generation will be grape pole pie eating contest, relay races, and accuracy games.

Various booths for all ages will contain items such as plants, handicrafts, jewelry, baked goods, cheese and Nutmeg Country Store. The newest addition is an old fashioned cream parlor.

The raffle being held, will offer an am/fm portable radio, and a small art pocket radio, the drawing to be held during the auction, which is the finale of the fair.

Anyone wishing to contribute their services, items for white elephant or auction items, which will be collected prior to the fair in March, can contact the Andover School or any of the following:

Decorations, Nancy Hegener, Mickey Vinkels; Nancy Graham, Arline Duchesneau, Bill Sordani; Nancy Willman; ice cream parlor, Eleanor Fisher; baked goods, teachers, Mrs. J. Agnew; clown makeup booths, Blance Massey; Mothers Day booth, Rose Bunker; white elephant, Ann Remond; children's games, Paul Juravsky.

Book Sale

The Andover Little League and Pony League will sponsor a book sale at the Andover Market on Saturday, starting at 10 a.m.

The Andover softball leagues are self-supporting and much equipment and uniforms are needed.

Little League games will begin Monday evening at the Andover Elementary School. Pony League games will start during the week of May 13. Pony League players will compete with players from other areas.

Little League is now in open competition between the sexes since there are five Andover girls on the teams this year.

Head coordinator of the leagues is George Knox of Boston Hill Rd., Andover.

Menus

Andover Elementary School menus for next week:

Monday: Sausage, gravy, mashed potato, vegetable sticks, bread brownies, milk.

Tuesday: Pizza, string beans, buttered stuffing, milk.

Wednesday: Orange juice, shepherd's pie, bread-butter, choice of dessert, milk.

Unleaded Gasoline Sale Ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has ordered 111,000 service stations across the country to begin selling at least one grade of unleaded gasoline by July 1.

Announcing the order Thursday, EPA said 60 to 85 per cent of the 1975 model cars coming out this fall will be equipped with catalytic converters, which clean engine exhausts but can be damaged by leaded gasoline.

The EPA said that an additional 10,000 gasoline stations, mostly in rural areas, also will have to start selling unleaded gasoline after next Jan. 1.

Any station selling more than 200,000 gallons of gasoline a year will have to have at least one pump for unleaded gas. Also, all stations in counties with fewer than 50 persons a square mile must sell unleaded gas if they sold at least 150,000 gallons of gasoline in 1971 or later.

Regardless of the content, gasoline will be more plentiful effective June 1, the Federal Energy Office (FEO) announced Thursday.

It said enough Arab oil is reaching the United States to allow increased allocations of almost all oil products.

But FEO Administrator John C. Saville said the nation still can expect a 4 to 6 per cent petroleum shortage unless conservation is practiced.

Trailing arbutus! First we have. Beautiful but so fragile and dependent on man's solicitude! It was quite plentiful with a few miles radius of Manchester when we were there. So fragrant! We could locate large beds of it by the breeze borne pleasing odor.

Our parents taught us to pick sparingly in the beds and not at all where the plants were scattered, never to dislodge the roots and be satisfied with a few small bunches for our friends. A small bunch gives a large room a scent of spring, the first flower to show in a spring attracts many bees but it is said that there is no nectar produced to reward them.

Careless, greedy ravishing of this delicate woods-flower had caused it to approach extinction until laws were passed to protect it. It seems to be recovering a very little in some places but the progress is very slow.

Hebron Students Entertain Seniors

NANCY DRINKUTH
Correspondent
Tel. 228-3970

The Regional District 8 Board of Education has called a district meeting for Monday evening at 8 in the Rham High School Auditorium to vote on its proposed 1974-1975 budget of $1,909,716.

Seniors Citizens and Gilead Hill students were entertained Wednesday by the Andover Elementary School chorus. The group, under the direction of Mrs. Jackie Eagles, presented a shortened version of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado."

The Andover students in the chorus are in Grades 4, 5 and 6. They have been rehearsing for about two months. They presented the performance at Gilead Hill as the first time he has appeared on a stage. There is no auditorium at the Andover School.

Following the "Mikado," the senior citizens were escorted to the library by Gilead Hill students chosen to act as hosts and hostesses. There they were the guests of the school for lunch.

After lunch Reid Hubbard, a Grade 3 student at Gilead Hill, presented a film strip he had prepared as a part of a library research project. Reid's subject was the possible extinction of whales.

Earlier in the year he became interested in the worldwide program to induce Russia, Norway and Japan to stop killing whales. After researching the topic Reid wrote the following poem for "Project Johan":

"Whales are beginning to be extinct now,
The bull, the calf, the cow,
They've been taken away from their babies,
Hardly any whales live to the old ages.

The sea is a cradle, the harbor is a war,
But the whales I do hope,
And the whales I do hope, the whales I do hope, the whales I do hope, the whales I do hope,

Following the "Mikado," the senior citizens were escorted to the library by Gilead Hill students chosen to act as hosts and hostesses.

Hebron Rham Budget Opposed By Taxpayers Group

NANCY DRINKUTH
Members of the Taxpayers Association have issued a statement urging Hebron residents to attend Monday's Rham budget meeting. They recommend the rejection of the proposed budget.

In their statement, they listed items of the budget which are of particular concern to members of the group. They propose the deletion of the tennis courts, a reduction in the Central Office Committee levy on Rham of $1,000 and a reduction in salary increases for the principal and the vice principals.

The proposal amounts to a total reduction of the budget of $50,000.

Taxpayers Association members attended the hearing for this budget on April 22 and they feel that many of their questions were not answered. The budget of the Central Office, which is the office of the superintendent, is of particular concern, they say.

Association members feel that the budget request of $2,000 for the Central Office has not been properly explained. They questioned the office of the superintendent, is of particular concern, they say.

The Hebron Taxpayers Association will sponsor a tag sale Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The event will be held on the Hebron Green in the center of the town on Rt. 86. Over 1,000 items will be on sale.

Regatta Winner

The second annual Saitabot Regatta was held recently by Club Pack 28. First place trophy was won by Mark Cappelletti. Second and third place were won by Christopher Robson and Michael Lewandowski. Stephen Gustavson was awarded the trophy for best appearance.

Judges for the event were Father Robert Persing and Selectman Robert Craig.

Rham District Budget Vote Monday and, through a compact signed by the boards, governed the procedures for joint employment of a superintendent and the establishment of a central office facility and staff to perform the functions specified therein.

Specifically, it was the proposed salary increases for the superintendent and assistant superintendent, 7.4 per cent and 9.6 per cent, respectively, that were questioned at the district hearing.

Upon a request from Mrs. Imogene Richards, regional board chairman, the superintendent's office has released salary figures showing that this district's salary ($7,000) for a superintendent ranks 17.5 in a listing of 43 school districts with a median of $26,500.

Figures also show that in a comparison of assistant superintendents salaries this district's salary ($20,700) ranks 10 in a listing of 24 districts. The median here is $32,120.

The figures given were taken from material distributed by the Connecticut Association for the Advancement of School Administration, Inc. and compared districts with enrollments of 2,500 to 5,000.

The Central Office Committee has drawn up a list of 21 duties and responsibilities of a school superintendent and many at any time terminate the employment of a superintendent if his performance does not meet these standards.

Court Disbars Agnew

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — Maryland's highest court has disbarred former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew for "fraud, dishonesty and deceit."

To do otherwise, the Maryland Court of Appeals said Thursday, would "constitute a travesty of our responsibility."

Rather than stand trial on charges involving a kickback scheme during his years as vice president, governor of Maryland and Baltimore County executive, Agnew resigned as vice president and pleaded no contest to evading federal income taxes of $13,551.

Agnew had asked that he be temporarily suspended, rather than being disbarred. He asked a special three-judge panel hearing the case Dec. 19 "not to strip me of my livelihood. I can resume a useful place in the practice of law after my suspension," he pleaded.

But the Court of Appeals concluded that "this crime which involves moral turpitude... is infected with fraud, deceit and dishonesty."

The appeals court cited other decisions requiring "that when a member of the bar is shown to be willfully dishonest for personal gain by means of fraud, deceit, cheating or like conduct, absent the most compelling circumstances not shown to be present here, disbarment followed as a matter of course."

"To do other than disbar the respondent in this case, therefore would constitute a travesty of our responsibility," the appeals court said.

22nd Annual Meeting Planned By MARC

The 22nd annual meeting of the Manchester Association for Retarded Citizens, Inc. will be held Thursday at the Marco Polo Restaurant, Burnside Ave., East Hartford. There will be a social hour at 6 p.m. and dinner at 6:45.

During the meeting election of officers will be held and special awards presented. The new officers will be installed in a brief ceremony.

Following the meeting entertainment will be provided by "The Illusions," a female barbershop quartet, members of the Mountain Laurel Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc. of Hartford.

Changes Name
The Manchester Association for the Help of Retarded Children, Inc. has changed its name to Manchester Association for Retarded Citizens (MARC) Inc.

The name change became effective April 18, when the necessary papers were filed with the Secretary of the State, Corporate Division, of the State of Connecticut. The membership voted to change the name at its March 14 meeting.

In commenting on the name change Mrs. John B. McElreavy, MARC president, said that it was undertaken in order to conform with the name of the National Association for Retarded Citizens. The national organization changed its name at its annual convention in Anaheim, Calif. in the fall of 1973.

Mrs. McElreavy stated that the use of the word "citizens" reflects more accurately the scope of the organization's work in that it seeks to serve all the mentally retarded regardless of age.

New President
Mrs. Elliott Zimmerman of 133 Scott Dr., Thursday night was installed as president of Manchester Chapter of Hadassah in ceremonies at the home of Mrs. Joseph Koppman, 194 Ludlow Rd.

Mrs. Sidney Cohen of 118 Scott Dr., regional president of Hadassah, was the installing officer. Other officers installed are Mrs. Josiah Lesser and Mrs. Carl Gartenberg, program vice presidents; Mrs. Kenneth Shepoff, membership vice president; Mrs. Eileen Jaffe, fundraising vice president; Mrs. Ronnie Millman, education vice president.

Also, Mrs. Phil Edelson and Mrs. Charles Borgida, financial secretaries; Mrs. Arnold Zakin and Mrs. Saul Roth, corresponding secretaries; Mrs. Bernard Krutt, treasurer; and Mrs. Max Goodstine, recording secretary.

Energy Unit Works on Report

Before the Advisory Energy Commission runs out of energy, it hopes to get a report back to the town's Board of Directors. Four commission members came to its meeting Thursday evening in the Municipal Building. Ten people were appointed and Chairman Norman Comollo noted that Thursday night's meeting had one of its better turnouts.

"The heating problem is over," commented Atty David Barry. "The air conditioning problem hasn't begun yet."

Attending were Comollo, Barry, Walter Fuss and Maurice Pass. A detailed letter of advice to the meeting was sent by Dr. Frederick Otter who explained he could not attend despite having been one of the few regulars in the past.

The four men at this meeting hammered out a format for their report to the directors. They will work it out in detail in later subcommittee meetings, Comollo said.

A part of their report will deal in specific suggestions to the directors. As discussed, some of those suggestions may be:

• New building regulations designed to make buildings that need less heating fuel, Fuss said.

• Change rating structures on water, electricity, gas and oil so that rates are higher per unit if you use more instead of less, Fuss said.

• Eliminate traffic bottlenecks where fuel burns as much as tempers.

• Ask the directors to direct the town manager to ask all heads of town departments and subcommittees to report on how they will deal with the next energy crunch, Barry said.

• Make sure all values are kept in mind while saving energy, Comollo said. For example: Public safety may be more important than saving the energy needed to light town streets.

"It's still vital to conserve energy," noted Pass.

Mahoney, Agostinelli Bicentennial Leaders

As recommended by Manchester's Civic Festival Study Committee, the Board of Directors has designated former Manchester Mayor Francis Mahoney and Nathan Agostinelli co-chairmen of the Assumption annual meeting Monday at 8:15 p.m. at the Church of the Assumption Hall.

Dr. Day's chair, philosophy and educational services department at Manchester Community College, will be guest speaker at the Ladies Guild of the Assumption annual meeting Monday at 8:15 p.m. at the Church of the Assumption Hall.

Dr. Day's topic for the meeting, "Altered States of Consciousness," is derived from a research on sleep and dream patterns and ESP. The event is open to all women of the parish.

During the meeting, officers will be nominated and committees will make their annual reports.

A graduate of Manchester High School, Dr. Day received his BS in psychology from Boston College and his MA in experimental psychology from Fordham University. He received his Ph.D. in 1971 from the University of Connecticut.

Besides his duties at the college, he is consulting psychological examiner for Boston College and his MA in experimental psychology from Fordham University. He received his Ph.D. in 1971 from the University of Connecticut.

Fitzpatrick Heads State KofC Ball
John J. Fitzpatrick of 119 Florence St. is chairman of the Knights of Columbus State Dinner and Ball Saturday evening at the Hartford Hilton Hotel.

The ball will bring to a close the 81st State Convention of the Connecticut State Council of the Knights of Columbus. Music for dancing will be provided by Bobby Kaye and his orchestra.

Dan Lufkin, former state environmental protection commissioner, will be the principal speaker.

Guests at the head table will include Wesley Gomez, grand master of Masons in Connecticut; Samuel Kellin, state president of B'nai B'rith; Madison Belden, grand master of Prince Hall Masons of Connecticut; Gov. Thomas Meskill; U.S. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff; U.S. Congressmen William Colter; and Hartford Mayor George A. Athanson.

Other cases heard Thursday by Judge Adomo included: • Frank J. Rivers, 44, of 24 Grove St., Rockville, one-year jail term suspended after 30 days and two years probation for non-support.

• Norbert DesMarais Jr., 33, of 3 Hawley St., pleaded innocent to two counts of first-degree sexual contact; case continued two weeks for trial.

• Linda Day, 22, of Hartford, suspended 90-day jail sentence and two-year probation for fourth-degree larceny.

• Kevin C. Morgan, 18, of 73 Oak St., fined $50 for disorderly conduct.

• Robert J. Widdell, 23, of 11 Willow Rd., suspended one-year jail term and two-year probation for first-degree reckless endangerment. A charge of threatening wasn't prosecuted.

Energy Unit Works on Report

Before the Advisory Energy Commission runs out of energy, it hopes to get a report back to the town's Board of Directors. Four commission members came to its meeting Thursday evening in the Municipal Building. Ten people were appointed and Chairman Norman Comollo noted that Thursday night's meeting had one of its better turnouts.

"The heating problem is over," commented Atty David Barry. "The air conditioning problem hasn't begun yet."

Attending were Comollo, Barry, Walter Fuss and Maurice Pass. A detailed letter of advice to the meeting was sent by Dr. Frederick Otter who explained he could not attend despite having been one of the few regulars in the past.

The four men at this meeting hammered out a format for their report to the directors. They will work it out in detail in later subcommittee meetings, Comollo said.

A part of their report will deal in specific suggestions to the directors. As discussed, some of those suggestions may be:

• New building regulations designed to make buildings that need less heating fuel, Fuss said.

• Change rating structures on water, electricity, gas and oil so that rates are higher per unit if you use more instead of less, Fuss said.

• Eliminate traffic bottlenecks where fuel burns as much as tempers.

• Ask the directors to direct the town manager to ask all heads of town departments and subcommittees to report on how they will deal with the next energy crunch, Barry said.

• Make sure all values are kept in mind while saving energy, Comollo said. For example: Public safety may be more important than saving the energy needed to light town streets.

"It's still vital to conserve energy," noted Pass.

Barber Shoppers Plan to Expand

Men interested in joining the Silk City Chorus, a four-part harmony group, are invited to attend a special meeting for guests Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Manchester Recreation Center at the former Nike site off Keeney St.

The chorus has announced plans to expand its membership to 55 men by the end of the year. The local chapter of the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America currently lists among its members 11 men from 11 area towns and cities.

There will be a program of entertainment by the chorus, and a singing competition among quartets formed by chorus members.

Refreshments will be served. The group has held the title of state champion in Connecticut and has ranked as high as eighth in the 72 chapters in SPESQA's Northeastern District.

Do You Care How Your Money is Spent??

You were promised that the EEA jobs would only be temporary. CAN'T WE TRUST OUR OFFICIALS?

Last year was an election year so the jobs weren't made permanent then.

NOW YOU ARE GOING TO PAY THE PRICE! SENIOR CITIZEN PROGRAM DIRECTOR—only 2 arts & crafts classes a week which could be paid hourly.

RESTAURANT INSPECTOR—this is not a full time job. RECREATION PROGRAMMER—many classes are provided leader adult education.

ASST. TOWN COUNCIL—we already have two town councils. OTHER REASONS FOR INCREASED COST—RAISES FOR ELECTED PERSONAL.

NEW PLAN FOR PUBLIC WORKS DEPT.—this was first presented 10 years ago and was refused then. It was uneconomical then and more so now.

INCREASED PERSONAL IN EDUCATION BUDGET WITH NO COMPENSABLE INCREASE IN REGISTRATION. Our town wants to hire many new people when others are cutting back. New taxes raises the cost of living.

WE DO NOT GET FULL VALUE FOR OUR TAXES NOW. NO NEW TAXES NEEDED!

Rangers' Utilityman Harris Turns Playoffs into Turmoil

NEW YORK (UPI) — Like the guy who refuses to quit until he does something right, Ron Harris insists he'll just have to keep scoring goals until he finally sees one.

Harris is the somewhat anonymous New York utilityman who has thrown the Stanley Cup playoffs into a turmoil and just may influence Ranger brass to reevaluate their thinking about his future.

Surprise in Store For Celtics, Bucks

BOSTON (UPI) — When the Milwaukee Bucks and the Boston Celtics take the floor in game three of their National Basketball Association championship playoffs tonight, there will be few surprises in store for them.

"When he's got the ball there's very little chance that he'll lose it," Costello said. "He's still the best ball handler around."

Derby Eyes On Agitate

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Agitate, the California Derby winner, was flown east to win the Kentucky Derby and trainer Jim Jimenez said today he still was sure the colt would.

Finals Start Tuesday Layoff No Problem For Bruins' Coach

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Bruins will have been idle a full week before starting their Stanley Cup championship series against New York or Philadelphia but Coach Bep Guidolin is not bothered by the long layoff.

Money Not Chief Factor In Bill Walton Decision

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Money was not the chief factor in Bill Walton's decision to sign with the Portland Trail Blazers, his adviser said Thursday.

"Money was not a question," Sam Gilbert said. "Portland's offer was not as high as the two other offers from the ABA."

Frazier to Fight Again After $400,000 Offer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Frazier will be $400,000 richer next month because he chose to ignore calls for his retirement.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Ralph Houk and Jack McKeon were on opposite ends of the baseball spectrum after Thursday night's lone major league game.

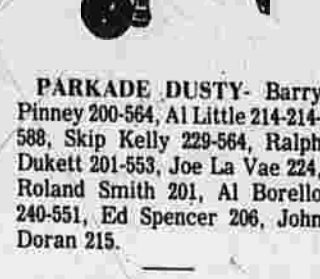

With a double and Coleman walked John Mayberry and Richie Scheinblum in succession, Houk called on Hiller.

Table with columns: National League, WEST, W, L, Pct, GB. Lists teams like Los Angeles, Houston, Cincinnati, San Francisco, Atlanta, San Diego.

The only other two major league games scheduled, Atlanta at St. Louis and Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, were rained out.

Hiller bore down, however, and induced Jim Wohlford to hit an inning-ending groundout.

Trevino Set To Play Golf

DALLAS (UPI) — Lee Trevino says he has whatever it was that's bothering him out of the way now and he is ready to play some golf.

Trevino demonstrated that fact for nine holes Thursday, but to win the Byron Nelson Golf Classic he is going to have to overcome the fellow he refers to as his soul brother — Homero Blancas.

The Mexican-American duo drew much of the attention during the first round of the $150,000 tournament Thursday — Blancas because he captured the lead with a six-under 65 and Trevino because he overcame a bad start with four back nine birdies to shoot 69.

Groman's Capture Opener

BUZZ SAWYER

WIN AT BRIDGE

The code word "ARCH" can be used successfully by the defenders as well as the declarer. If you don't know, look at this play made by Bud Reinhold of Chicago that helped his team to ruff again and could not keep Bud from making another trump trick.

Sitting East. He Analyzed the lead as top of the trick. That was easy. He reviewed the bidding to note that South had opened and that North and South practically never opened four-card majors.

Further thought told him that his partner might well hold an ace. The were 17 high-card points available to West and South.

"How can I beat this hand?" he asked himself. There was the answer. He could beat it if West held the ace of diamonds.

Horse Owners Fear Zone Rule

By DOUG BEVINS
"Come saddle your horses, and call up your men," some lines penned by Sir Walter Scott in 1830, may well be the call going out to Manchester equestrians this weekend.

The reported master of local horsekeepers began recently when the town's Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) announced its intention to promulgate zoning regulations regarding the keeping of horses, and the town planning office has been flooded with inquiries about the regulations. According to records of the town assessor, there are only about 30 horses in Manchester, but there are probably a lot more people who love horses. And it's those people who are expected to dominate a Monday night PZC public hearing on the proposed zoning regulations.

Assistant Town Planner Ronald Blake says there have been a lot of telephone calls about the proposed regulations, and he expects to see standing room-only in the Municipal Building Hearing Room when the PZC opens its public hearings at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Blake said there are indications of considerable opposition to the new rules, drafted to update existing zoning regulations which don't even mention horses.

Town Planner J. Eric Potter, who drafted the regulations after consultation with equine-oriented agencies and individuals, says the regulations are intended to benefit the public, by protecting neighbors and solving a question of whether or not horses are allowed in Manchester. "They're not intended to be restrictive," Potter said of the proposal.

The proposed regulations limit keeping of horses in residential zones to private use, but they also allow for commercial uses — riding academies, livery stables, and breeding — in certain locations.

Potter's proposed rules would regulate feed troughs, fodder storage, manure accumulation, and other aspects of good horsekeeping, but the major limitations contained in the regulations are minimum sizes of lots for horses. Potter says keeping of horses will be allowed in any residential zone, provided the keeper meets the one-acre minimum lot size for one or two horses. Lots of that size would be rare except in Rural Residence or Residence AA Zones.

If someone has more than two horses, his acreage must be a half-acre larger for each additional horse. For commercial equine uses, the minimum lot size is three acres, and each horse must have its own half-acre.

The most-often-asked question in the planning office, Potter reports, is the inquiry about what will happen to Manchester residents who already have horses.

"Nothing," Potter answers. He explained that existing keeping of horses, even if it is being done on smaller-than-required lots, would continue to be perfectly legal as a nonconforming use.

That's only horse sense. The forest fire danger is high today.

Young Presented Liberty Bell Award

BARBARA RICHMOND
The Liberty Bell Award given by the Tolland County Bar Association was presented Friday to James Young, youth counselor for the tri-town area of Vernon, Tolland and Ellington. The theme of Law Day this year was "Young American, Lead the Way."

Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Young of Ellington, was presented the Liberty Bell plaque by Congressman Robert Steele of Vernon. The services were held in the Tolland County Court House, Vernon.

Atty. Harold Levy, chairman of the Law Day events, said the award is presented to a citizen, not a member of the bar, for outstanding civic work.

Atty. Katherine Hutchinson, president of the bar association, commented on the appropriate choice of Young to receive the award in light of the theme of the day.

Congressman Steele explained that May 1 has been set aside as the start of Law Week, since 1858, to remind all citizens of the heritage and quality of justice in America.

Judge Leo Parsky, presiding judge in Superior Court this session, congratulated Young for his work with area youth.

He said most public servants are decent, law-abiding citizens but they need help from the young people.

Young was appointed to the counseling position in January of 1973. It involves working with the problems of the youth in the three towns, through school administrators, social workers, police, health and welfare departments, churches and juvenile court.

He is a graduate of Rockville High School and attended the University of Connecticut. He worked in the university's pilot program at the Meriden School for Boys as well as in other programs involving youth.

Israel and Syria Said Near Accord

They Fought All Night

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (UPI) — A high American official said today Israel and Syria are in "negotiating range" of each other on troop disengagement in the Golan Heights on all except one issue — how far Israel would withdraw.

On all other issues of the disengagement except the cease-fire line there was "reasonable progress" during U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's seven hours of talks with Syrian President Hafez Assad, the official said.

The high official spoke to newsmen during a 90-minute flight from Damascus to the Golan Heights air base outside Alexandria, where Kissinger's presidential jet arrived late this morning.

He said he would not be surprised if Syrian and Israeli troops would exercise "restraint" in the Golan Heights fighting even without a ceasefire agreement, and he believed there was an understanding of an exchange of war prisoners would be included in an eventual troop disengagement agreement.

Kissinger and his party flew by helicopter from the Golan Heights to the Mamoura government rest house on Alexandria's eastern outskirts where Egyptian President Anwar Sadat is staying.

American sources said the Egyptian president would be briefed on talks with Syrian and Israeli leaders.

In an airport statement in Damascus, Kissinger said his meetings with Syrian leaders were "constructive" and he would return to Damascus early next week.

Syrian Deputy Premier and Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam, who saw Kissinger off at the airport, said, "We are always happy to see you here."

Kissinger is to meet with Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir tonight prior to a crucial Israeli cabinet session Sunday.

As the Syrian-Israeli war of attrition went into its 54th day today, Israeli Chief of Staff Lt. Gen. Mordechai Gur warned that the Syrians cannot bring about a political settlement.

The Syrians will decide they have no chance of achieving it otherwise and war might result.

An American spokesman said Kissinger and Assad left aside the main question of whether the cease-fire line should be set — how far Israeli armies would withdraw.

The question before the Israeli cabinet presumably will be whether Israel agrees to withdraw from anything beyond the 325 square-mile salient it captured in the October war.

"We would say some progress was made," the American spokesman reported, noting, "No agreement has been reached."

The Syrian description of the talks, according to the U.S. spokesman, was that they were "full and constructive," but the word "progress" was not used.

Kissinger will visit Jordan for talks with King Hussein on Sunday, return to Israel Monday to learn the result of his cabinet meeting, then go back to Damascus.

straight day of fighting and as of late morning "the fighting is still going on."

In Tel Aviv the military command said Israeli warplanes hit Arab guerrilla concentrations in southern Lebanon near Mt. Hermon for the third straight day and an Israeli command unit that crossed into Syria strayed into a minefield and suffered 10 wounded.

Alger Hiss, the former State Department official who was convicted in 1950 of perjury in denying he had ever given secrets to the Russians, said Friday he hoped the Nixon transcripts would spur disclosure of FBI tapes on the Hiss case.

Tape Gap Report Was Due Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Court Judge J. Sirica receives another — and probably final — report today on the mysterious 18½-minute erasure on one of President Nixon's crucial Watergate tapes.

The experts reported to Sirica Jan. 15 that the buzz only could have been caused by "at least five, and perhaps as many as nine" separate erases and rerecord operations, all done by hand. Without saying so directly, their report and subsequent testimony strongly suggested the erasure was deliberate.

Sirica said in advance the report would not be released today, but that decisions would be made about "further proceedings" concerning it.

The report was expected to detail the sophisticated scientific data supporting the conclusions the six-man panel of experts reached last January about the loud buzz that obliterated 18½ minutes of Nixon's June 30, 1972, meeting with H.R. Haldeman, then his White House chief of staff and now under indictment in connection with the Watergate cover-up.

3 Held After Holdup

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — Three men sought by New York authorities for trying to free Black Liberation Army (BLA) members from the Manhattan House of Detention were arrested Friday after a holdup at a bank in New Haven in which two policemen were shot.

The three suspects, identified by New York police sources as Harold W. Simmons, 29, Michael Alston, 22, and James Hastings, all of New York City, were wanted in connection with the daring April 17 prison escape attempt in the Tombs, Manhattan's city jail.

New Haven police said they believed there was a fourth man involved in the holdup.

Later, they split up and hid in various nearby buildings until police convinced them to surrender several hours later.

The exact amount taken in the holdup was not disclosed.

Officer William Bradley was shot at least three times, in the arm and chest, when he confronted the bandits fleeing the bank.

The other wounded policeman, Lawrence Cramer, was shot in the thigh and was held in first aid condition.

Foster Grandparents Cited

Eighteen Manchester area senior citizens are among the 252 Foster Grandparents being honored today at the first annual Connecticut Foster Grandparent Recognition Day at Manchester Community College.

Awards were presented to each of the senior citizens for their years of service in the Foster Grandparent program. The Day of Recognition is being sponsored by the Thames Valley Council for Community Action, and by Joan Sena, director of the program for the Homemakers Services Bureau of Greater New Haven.

Foster grandparents give four hours a day, five days a week providing supportive services to children with special needs in health, education, welfare and related areas. They serve at such places as the Mansfield and Southbury State Training Schools.

Mrs. Eleanor Steere, left, presents awards to Muriel Davis of 23 Essex St. and Christine Phillips of 23B Case Dr. for their seven years' service as foster grandparents.

MHS Senior Crowned Queen of Loyalty Day

Miss Linda Jeanne Clarahan of Green Rd. Friday night was crowned State Loyalty Day Queen and will reign Sunday at the Loyalty Day Parade in Middletown.

Representing the Manchester VFW Post and Auxiliary, she vied with other Loyalty Day Queens from VFW units throughout the state for the title of State Loyalty Day Queen.

The daughter of Mrs. Shirley Clarahan, she is a senior at Manchester High School. Manchester marching units participating in Sunday's parade include the VFW Post and Auxiliary, American Legion, Marine Corps League, Young Marines, Army and Navy Club, Nutmeg Forest of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Silk Worm Pup Tent, Military Order of Coolees, of the VFW, and the Stewart Highlander Bagpipe Band.

Edwin Edwards of Wells St. is deputy parade chairman. The parade will start at 1 p.m. from the Pat Hickey Field on Huntington Hill Ave., off Russell St., in Middletown.

Chicken Battle?

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — When Carrie Fishburn heard a commotion in her chickenhouse, she stopped milking her cow, armed herself with a rifle and a board, and set out to do battle.

"It's those college kids again," she said to the pet parrot perched on her shoulder.

For 27 years, she and her husband have operated their farm, and for the last 10, students have raided it to get chickens they need for initiation into a group at the University of Nevada, Reno. This time, she figures, she would teach them something they don't learn in school.

"They were drunker than skunks," she said of the five young men she found in the chickenpen. "What did she do?" "I mauled them with the two-by-four." "Did they run?" "They did when I showed my 30-06," she said, patting the stock of her rifle. "I told them to take the message back to school."
