

Cruiser Damaged in Accident

Manchester policemen discuss details of a Main St. accident early this morning in which a police cruiser crashed into the rear end of a truck. Police said the cruiser, driven by Patrolman Clarence W. Heritage, 47, of 35 Columbus St., hit the pickup truck when its driver — Richard H. Bradbury, 21, of East Hartford — stopped suddenly. Both vehicles were headed south on Main St. when the collision occurred near Brainerd Pl. at about 12:45 a.m. Bradbury was issued a written warning for reckless driving. Heritage reported minor injuries; his cruiser was towed to the police station. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Police Report

MANCHESTER Six Manchester boys and girls were called into Police Headquarters Thursday and later released to their parents after police received reports of vandalism to shade tobacco netting on N. Main St. The six juveniles, unidentified because of their ages, were allegedly among a group of a dozen youths found on E. Haas & Co. tobacco land at 788 N. Main St., police said. The victim had reported vandalism to shade netting in tobacco fields, police said, and an officer checking the area saw several youngsters throwing rocks through the netting. No financial estimates of damage done by the vandals were available.

"M" Is For The Million Things She Gave Me

When you're not quite two-years-old it's pretty hard to read a Mother's Day message to your mom, so little Jennifer Taylor does the next best thing—she lets mom read it to her. All was not lost, however, as Jennifer presented mom with a fistful of tulips. The young lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor of 12 Kensington St. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Advertisement for 'My Mom Is Speshel' featuring a list of words starting with 'M' and a definition: 'Although the thought and word, "Mother," has inspired some of the greatest poets along with Madison Ave. advertising executives for exploitation, many of the truest and sincerest sentiments are expressed by children. Children of Mrs. Margaret McCarrick's fourth grade class at Bowers School have compiled the following contributions to "Mom." My mother loves me. My mother helps me when I'm in trouble. My mother is very thoughtful and kind, but sometimes she gets up-tight and yells, but for good reason. My mother is so beautiful I am jealous. My mother is fun. My mother plays games with us. My mother knows best! My mother is a good housekeeper. My mother is the best, and I wish there were more like her. My mother makes good Italian chicken. My mother is good to everybody—even the cats. My mother loves the telephone. My mother cleans so much it is pathetic! My mom's GREAT! The following definitions of a mother are from students of Grade 1, Room 11, at Buckley School. "A money is a lady that bies me toys." "My mother likes my dog and if I am allergic from dogs we will still keep my dog." "A mom is a speshil thing." "My muttr is famist and I love her." "My mother is not a teacher but she teches me a b c d e f g h i j k l m n o p q r s t u v w x y z. Thats my mother. She teches me things like 2 plus 2 equals 4 and 7 plus 7 equals 14." "My mom feeds my grbols wen I'm in school." "A mom is a prsn who maks you lunch and brkfst and diner." "My mother is speshel, because she tacks good care of me." The general idea is that mothers are considered very special persons.'

DeFreeze Informer Role Denied by LA Police

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The leader of the Symbionese Liberation Army, which kidnaped newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst, was a paid informer for the Los Angeles Police Department, it was reported today. Los Angeles Police Chief Edward Davis denied the report but said Donald DeFreeze, an escaped convict identified as the SLA's "Clint," once turned in a crime partner. Davis added DeFreeze "proved himself to be a cheap, dependable, turn-over punk" and his department "never considered using him as an informer." The San Francisco Chronicle said DeFreeze became an informer in 1967 and served in that capacity until 1969, when he was committed to state prison. Miss Hearst, daughter of San Francisco Examiner President and Editor Randolph A. Hearst, was kidnaped from her Berkeley apartment Feb. 4. She was with eight others who robbed a San Francisco bank April 15 of about $10,000. The Citizens Research and Investigation Committee, a Southern California-based group of private investigators, told a news conference here Friday that DeFreeze served as a "highly valued and protected" informer for the criminal conspiracy section of the Los Angeles Police Department's intelligence unit. And, the committee said, he continued to be a "snitch" while in prison. Committee investigator Lake Headly said he confirmed DeFreeze's role in a conversation with Los Angeles Police Sgt. R.G. Farwell. He quoted Farwell as saying he "cut" DeFreeze "loose" in 1969 when "I knew he was dead as far as his psychological state was concerned. I just couldn't deal with him."

Weicker Cautions GOP On Defending Nixon

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., said today that Republicans are "damn fools" if they try to defend President Nixon's role in Watergate. "I think the President is a liability to the Republican party," Weicker said. "More particularly, what he did and the image that he gives and tries even now to give is a liability to the party." Weicker, a member of the Senate Watergate Committee, said he would not urge Nixon to resign because impeachment is the proper constitutional method for removal from office. He said he has not made up his mind whether Nixon is innocent or guilty of impeachable offenses. "Republicans are damn fools if they want to step up to bat — to start playing a role in the defense of the President's activities," Weicker told a late night news conference that stretched into early today. He spoke with reporters after addressing the Washington University Law Alumni Association dinner. He said his advice to Republicans is: "Don't go around defending a situation that you weren't a part of because you're going to give the image that you were in on from the beginning."

Syria Discussing Proposal On Troop Disengagement

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel Information Minister Shimon Peres said today the Syrians for the first time appear to be discussing troop disengagement, according to the same lines as the one U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger negotiated between Egypt and Israel. "It appears that for the first time the Syrians are showing some inclination to follow the path of Egypt, not only in war but also in dialogue" with Israel, Peres said in a national radio interview. Kissinger took a half-day off from his heavy round of negotiations and planned no formal meeting with the Israelis until the evening, when the Jewish Sabbath is over. He stayed in his room at the King David Hotel through mid-morning. During the interview, Peres was asked if Israel expected a complete Syrian disengagement proposal when Kissinger returns from his next shuttle to Damascus Sunday night. "That is what I would say the government would suppose and so does Dr. Kissinger himself," Peres answered. "Up until now they have been speaking more about trends of thought and tendencies, but I get the impression that the secretary of state continues in fact to be optimistic." Kissinger was to meet with Prime Minister Golda Meir and the Israeli negotiating team this evening. In any disengagement agreement, Peres said, Israel's 18 settlements on the Golan Heights will not be given up. "I don't see any stage in the future stages in which we shall evacuate any of our settlements," he said. "We genuinely aspire to arrive at a separation of forces."

Airplane Hijacked In South America

CALI, Colombia (UPI) — A hijacked Avianca Colombian Airlines Boeing 727 jet with 99 persons aboard took off from Cali today without a $400,000 ransom which the government refused to pay. Airport sources said the hijackers, who are armed with pistols and hand grenades, forced the pilot to fly to Pereira in eastern Colombia where the flight had begun Friday night. Purpose of the trip back to the point of origin was not immediately clear. The plane left Palmaseca Airport at Cali in western Colombia at 8:25 a.m. (9:25 a.m. EDT) shortly after Avianca personnel took aboard 90 breakfasts consisting of sandwiches, eggs, coffee and cigars. The hijackers raised their ransom demands for the safety of the plane and those aboard from $220,000 to $400,000. However, the demands were not met. The hijackers, believed to number six, seized the Boeing 727 late Friday shortly before it landed in Bogota on a flight from the eastern city of Pereira. The control tower at Palmaseca had said earlier that the hijackers insisted on money. Communications Minister Carlos Holguin Sardi, who had been participating in negotiations in Cali from the airport control tower, said the government offered the assailants safe passage out of the country but the hijackers insisted on money. The director of Cali transportation, Mariano Calcedo Carvajal, said negotiations were broken off at 1 a.m. "because of an indiscretion of a photographer." The hijackers, armed with pistols and grenades, released 25 of the 112 passengers in Bogota, where the plane was refueled and restocked with food. Ford Says Nixon Administration Not About to Sink

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Vice President Gerald Ford said today that the administration "isn't about to sink" and that this was the message he gave President Nixon in an hour-long meeting Friday. Ford, in remarks prepared for an address to the graduating class of Texas A and M University, brushed aside news accounts of a Thursday speech that reported he had made his sharpest attack yet on Nixon's handling of the Watergate affair. In the Thursday speech, Ford alluded to news reports of his criticism of the way the Watergate transcripts had been edited by the White House before they were made public. "The next day the news stories said I was making my sharpest attack to date on the President and trying to line myself up with those who are trying to jump off his Ship of State without exactly saying so," said Ford. "Well, I had a long talk with President Nixon yesterday (Friday) morning," Ford added. "I told him that I've been telling as many members of the House of Representatives as I can reach that the government in Washington isn't about to sink and that it is and will continue to be about as good as concerned and conscientious citizens make it, that the constitutional processes are working as the founding fathers intended, without riot or repression, without as yet seriously weakening our strength at home and abroad," he said. This was his only mention of Watergate in the prepared remarks. Some passages concerning his observations after a trip to Peking two years ago as House Republican leader were identical to those a speech he made a week ago at the University of Michigan. Ford told newsmen in Buffalo, N.Y., Friday that he supports President Nixon as much now as he did when he became vice president last fall. He said the subject of the President's possible resignation was not even mentioned during his meeting with Nixon.

Winter Damage Charter Oak Park

The ravages of winter were particularly noticeable at Charter Oak Park. The highway construction and the new soil could not withstand freezing and the flooding caused by debris from the December ice storm which blocked the brook, forcing it to overflow onto the field.

Town workers have been working several weeks on an intermittent basis to repair the damage, using men and equipment that can be spared from regular duties. Much work remains to be done, but will be completed as soon as possible.

Little League field erosion has been repaired with more than 50 yards of clay and gravel. It will be used for the first time this season on Sunday.

A&N Club Honors Tom Conran

Cited for his outstanding contributions to sports in Manchester, Tom Conran, right, was saluted by the Army & Navy Club at its Sports Night program last night. Jim Menditto, general chairman, and Ron Johnson of the New York Giants program. Johnson was the main speaker. Conran has long been active in the Little League and Midget Football League programs for years.

Newcombe And Borg In Finals

DIUFA - The World Championship of Tennis will have a new titleholder come Sunday—either top-seeded John Newcombe or that hard-to-believe Swedish whirlwind Bjorn Borg.

Mr. Clarke Will Be Remembered

Any young man who ever came into contact with Will Clarke during his long 34-year tenure in the Physical Education Department at Manchester High, knew that he was a snappy guy, especially with his fingers.

Mr. Clarke died Thursday in Florida after being stricken at the ripe age of 80. The retired teacher has long been active in the Little League and Midget Football League programs for years.

Our friendship numbered nearly 40 years, from the first time we met when I played against his teams, after while I covered schoolboy basketball when he was coach and in his fruitful retirement years.

Many honors came Mr. Clarke's way, and he was always Mr. Clarke to the thousands of youngsters who came under his hand, and also as they became men.

The one honor that he told me he cherished the most was the naming of the basketball court at Manchester High in his name.

Mr. Clarke stopped at this desk several days after the gym was officially named the Clarke Arena and tried to express his appreciation for the help given by this department.

He had a heart as big as the arena he named in his honor. The first broached by Doug Pearson, a player and student at the time under Mr. Clarke and now a faculty member and assistant basketball coach at the local high school.

The Board of Education made it official in the form of a Christmas present, announcing that hereafter the basketball court would be known as the Clarke Arena. The official date was Dec. 21, 1968.

Will Clarke will be missed. He had a smile for everyone and a heart as big as all outdoors.

Notes Off the Cuff
Did you know that each player in the Candlelight Softball League had to ante up $7 so that the schedule could be increased from one to two games per night at Robertson Park?

The money will help pay for the umpires and scorers...Bobby Murcer of the New York Yankees was fined $50 earlier this week for bringing his hair curlers into a Yankee clubhouse.

Manager Bill Virdon who had a similar situation in Pittsburgh a year ago with Dock Ellis levied the fine against the Yankee center fielder.

Robert Bassett, runner-up to Ken Thomas for the 1974 town 10-pin Men's Scratch Division Town Tournament, was also second best a year ago in the Parkdale Lanes' Men's Handicap Division to Carl Kleinsteuber.

There's also a good possibility that the former Rockville High and Springfield College player may turn up as an area baseball coach next spring. Putz was with the St. Louis Cardinals' Tulsa farm team in Triple A play last season.

Have a nice weekend.

Boston's Champagne Party Postponed by Abdul-Jabbar

BOSTON (UPI) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar raised his long arms over his head and shouted triumphantly. "They ain't going to be drinking no champagne tonight!"

They were the Boston Celtics and Abdul-Jabbar, with the emotionless performance of a surgeon, personally sliced up the Boston attack Friday night to lead his team to a 102-101 win in double overtime that evened the NBA championship series at three games apiece.

The seventh and deciding game will be played Sunday afternoon in Milwaukee.

Abdul-Jabbar ignored the nearly hysterical Boston Garden crowd as it edged closer to the court and he calmly dumped a 12-foot hook shot with three seconds left.

"I just put it up and hoped it would go in. I didn't have time to think about it," he said matter-of-factly.

The big center's 34 points gave the Bucks their second overtime victory of the series. The first came in the second game, when the Bucks won 105-96 in Milwaukee.

"It's just indicative of two very good teams playing very good defense," said Milwaukee's Jon McGlocklin, who played well despite a still painful leg injury.

"That's why the shots were coming so hard." "It was a great ball game," said Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn. "It was a one-point ball game in double overtime—what more could you ask for."

Abdul-Jabbar made himself felt in the second period after Boston's Dave Covens went to the bench with three personal fouls. With reserve Hank Finkel in the game, Abdul-Jabbar was able to drop into the middle to clog the lane.

Abdul-Jabbar used the same sagging tactic in the two overtime periods, forcing the Celtics to rely on John Havlicek, who wound up with 36 points—11 of them in the overtime periods when the lead changed hands 13 times.

"The game was so long," Havlicek said. "It's like a blur to me. I can't remember precise plays, even though I can normally recall a whole game."

Thus far, the home court advantage has proved to be of little significance with both teams winning twice away from their home court.

"The home court advantage hasn't meant a lot up to now," said Bucks' coach Larry Costello. "But the percentages are in our favor."

And Julius Erving was as elusive as he is on the court, playing doorman to the shower room.

"I'm just going to rest and party awhile," said Erving, whose wife is about to give birth, which should cut down considerably on his party time.

While balanced scoring won the little game for the Nets, the five starters scoring between 15 and 23 points apiece, Dr. J loomed large over the festivities.

Asked what Erving meant by the Nets, Paultz replied, "Obviously—a championship."

Erving won the playoffs' Most Valuable Player Award while the Nets will share a $100,000 payoff.

As Paultz sat quietly, rookie guard John Williamson stood on a stool next to him and held court over a flock of newsmen, speaking of a budding dynasty and his long-standing confidence in the Nets—so long as he was in the starting lineup.

New York's other guard, second-year man Brian Taylor, who went to Princeton, showed his Ivy League training by finding a secluded corner and putting champagne to better use than pouring it over heads.

"I just want to enjoy this first championship," said Taylor, dismissing talk of a dynasty.

In the quiet but not gloomy Utah locker room, Willie Wise, whose 34 points had kept the Stars in the game, offered a disturbing thought for ABA teams.

"It would be silly of me to say they (the Nets) are not going to improve," he said.

And, if the Nets improve, they could learn to accept championships with the aplomb of an Erving drunk shot.

Those left-handed pit hitters were fouling the ball right into their own dugout," Ozark continued. "It's hard to describe how much Ruthven has improved. He came right out of college but he's learned so much."

Ruthven limited the Pirates to just two hits for eight innings and had retired 18 straight batters before he walked Rennie Stennett to lead off the ninth and then gave up a single to Richie Hebner.

"I tightened up in the game. I was just gapping," Ruthven said. "I felt tired I had thrown 148 pitches. It was my decision. I didn't want to fool around shutout or no shutout."

Mac Scarce came on and got Al Oliver to hit into a doubleplay as Stennett scored from third. Willie Stargell then homered to cut the lead to one run but Scarce preserved the victory by getting Dave Parker to ground out.

Ruthven, drafted out of a Fremont, Calif., high school by Baltimore in 1969 and by Minnesota in 1972, waited to sign until the Phils drafted him in January of 1973. He pitched in college at Fresno State.

He didn't spend a day in the minors as he was invited to spring training as a non-roster player last year — won a spot on the club.

Ruthven had his moments, like a one-hit, seven inning stint against Cincinnati and a two-hit shutout against Bob Gibson and the Cardinals. But there were more bad times than good — including an attack of mononucleosis last August — and he struggled through a 6-9 season.

"I've been thinking more this year," he says. "Last year I just went out and threw. It takes time to learn."

He's now 2-1 this year and the Phils like to think he's just started learning.

Mike Schmidt's homer and Bob Boone's two-run homer gave Ruthven the margin he needed for the triumph against Phil Ken Brett and the Pirates.

In the other games, San Francisco edged Atlanta 5-4 in 13 innings, Montreal nipped St. Louis 5-4, New York downed Chicago 7-3, Cincinnati beat Houston 2-1 and Los Angeles beat San Diego 7-5.

And Julius Erving was as elusive as he is on the court, playing doorman to the shower room.

"I'm just going to rest and party awhile," said Erving, whose wife is about to give birth, which should cut down considerably on his party time.

While balanced scoring won the little game for the Nets, the five starters scoring between 15 and 23 points apiece, Dr. J loomed large over the festivities.

Asked what Erving meant by the Nets, Paultz replied, "Obviously—a championship."

Erving won the playoffs' Most Valuable Player Award while the Nets will share a $100,000 payoff.

As Paultz sat quietly, rookie guard John Williamson stood on a stool next to him and held court over a flock of newsmen, speaking of a budding dynasty and his long-standing confidence in the Nets—so long as he was in the starting lineup.

New York's other guard, second-year man Brian Taylor, who went to Princeton, showed his Ivy League training by finding a secluded corner and putting champagne to better use than pouring it over heads.

"I just want to enjoy this first championship," said Taylor, dismissing talk of a dynasty.

In the quiet but not gloomy Utah locker room, Willie Wise, whose 34 points had kept the Stars in the game, offered a disturbing thought for ABA teams.

"It would be silly of me to say they (the Nets) are not going to improve," he said.

And, if the Nets improve, they could learn to accept championships with the aplomb of an Erving drunk shot.

American League Roundup

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nolan Ryan may have finally gotten the picture.

The California Angels' right-hander, seeking to regain the form that made his a 21-game winner last year, was shown some still pictures of his pitching motion by a photographer prior to the game with the Kansas City Royals Friday night and the photos pointed out some flaws that Ryan was unaware of.

Ryan, who had been depressed in recent days because of his poor start, studied the photos closely then went out and pitched a four-hitter in stopping the Royals, 2-1.

Ryan is always at his best against the Royals, however. Friday night's win was his sixth in a row against Kansas City and in 79 innings against them in his career, he has given up only 11 earned runs. Last year he had a no-hitter against them.

Ryan got some help from centerfielder Mickey Rivers, who saved the game with two out in the ninth when he grabbed Richie Scheinblum's Texas League and doubled pinch-runner Frank White at second base to end the game. Rivers also used his speed to score the deciding run in the seventh inning.

As long as Nolan is pitching, I'm not going to become a fat manager," said the Angels' Bobby Winkles. "He keeps me pacing up and down in the dugout all nine innings. I think he's getting close to putting it all together. But you still have to be concerned when he walks eight."

In other American League games, Detroit nipped Boston 6-5, New York downed Milwaukee 7-2, Baltimore edged Cleveland 3-1 in 10 innings, Oakland defeated Minnesota 4-2 and Chicago beat Texas 8-7 in 14 innings.

Bad Weather Cuts Golf

HOUSTON (UPI) — Weather permitting, the second round of the Houston Sports Association Houston Open will get under way today with unknown Wally Armstrong and young Tom Kite sharing the lead.

Armstrong and Kite both fired five-kunder-par 67s in Thursday's opening round. One stroke back with 66 were Bob Zender of Chicago and Paul Moran of Colton, Calif.

A final 36 holes were set for Sunday.

"I think bad scores tend to make players ill," Davis said. "But sponsors have no protection."

The withdrawal of previous open winner Charles especially irritated Davis. "I've been in the club since I was 12," he said. "Charles has had a bad attitude from the time he arrived here."

Also dropping out were Jim Colbert, J.C. Snead, Bob Dickson, Larry Hinkins, Eddie Pearce, Lanny Wadkins and Jim Wiechers.

Wildcats Open Tonight With Suns in Hartford

The Connecticut Wildcats kick off their second American Soccer League season tonight in a clash with Syracuse. Kickoff is scheduled at 8 at Hartford's Don Stinson Stadium.

Syracuse, with new management, a new coach and a new lineup, will be looking to reverse last year's season. Y. G. Defuria, a veteran player who ended in a 4-1 Wildcat victory.

The Wildcats roster features players — coach Rene Korem and returning veterans Ron McEachen, Scott Smyth, Mickey Fitzgerald, Tony DiCiccio, Julian Bevans and Ed Giamberini. New faces for the Cats second season include fullback Sandy Iwida of Westport, Chris Agostoli of Itasca, and forward Mike McEwen of Westport. Whelan of Elkins, W. Va., and Jan Lloseta, a veteran first division player from Poland.

Photographer Aids Ryan Regain Form

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nolan Ryan may have finally gotten the picture.

The California Angels' right-hander, seeking to regain the form that made his a 21-game winner last year, was shown some still pictures of his pitching motion by a photographer prior to the game with the Kansas City Royals Friday night and the photos pointed out some flaws that Ryan was unaware of.

'Cleveland-Ized' Yanks Win Again

NEW YORK (UPI) — The "Cleveland-ized" New York Yankees got a shot in the arm from another exciting Friday night when right-hander Dick Tidrow stopped the Milwaukee Brewers 7-2 on seven hits.

But even Tidrow would admit that the big story about the victory was the return to life of Yankee bats.

After being held scoreless in two road games at Boston on Wednesday and Thursday, Yankee hitters suddenly came to life in the second inning, scoring a pair of runs and then pouring it on with three more in the fourth and another pair on the fifth.

"When you get a 7-0 lead so early like that, it's easy to let up on your concentration," said Tidrow, who lost his bid for a shutout when Don Money homered in the eighth and then saw Darrell Porter touch him for another solo homer in the ninth. "I was tired in that last inning but it's nice to go nine."

"I think I'm coming around now after getting off to a slow start because of a bout with the flu in spring training."

First baseman Chris Chambliss, the key man in the seven-player deal that brought Tidrow to New York, opened the Yankee third with a double that scored Gary Nettles, another ex-Indian.

After Chambliss doubled and went to third on the throw to the plate, designated hitter Bill Sudakis hit a sacrifice fly to put New York on top 2-0. Then the Yankees really got to Brewers' starter Jim Colborn in the fourth, scoring three times on a single by Fernando Gonzalez, Thurman Munson's double and back-to-back base hits by Bobby Murcer and Ron Blomberg.

"I don't know what's wrong with Colborn," said Nettles. "Colborn is pitching just like he did last year. He's probably just in a slump-like hitters do."

Colborn, who won 20 games last season but is only 1-3 this year with an astronomical earned run average, was kayoed in the fifth after yielding a leadoff single to Sudakis. Bill Chambliss came on and helped the Yankees to two more runs by walking Jim Mason and giving up a single to Gonzalez, a sacrifice fly to Roy White and a run-scoring grounder to Munson.

Rotary Club Assists Little Leaguers

Ken Ostrinsky, president of the Manchester Rotary Club, looks over map showing new Little League baseball field being constructed off Love Lane in background. Ostrinsky presented check for $200 to Jim Leber, center, Little League president, to help finance the project. Skip Mikoleit, right, Little League treasurer, looks on.

The 41-year-old champion of last month's Colgate-Dinah Shore Classic opened her round with back-to-back bogies but had an incredible eagle-birdie-birdie finish on her last three holes. Sandwiched in between were six more birdies against a single extra bogey.

"It was the best round I ever had," she said. "The best round of my life."

The only player who managed to challenge Miss Prentice in Friday's opening round was Debbie Austin, who won more than $30,000 last year but is still seeking her first victory in her sixth year on the tour.

Miss Austin, of Oneida, N.Y., still bothered at times by a shoulder injury suffered in a January auto accident, had a round of six birdies against one bogey for a 5-under-par 67.

Carol Mann, a three-time winner here, was grouped with veteran Judy Rankin, Kathy McMullen, Patty Bradley and Carolyn Kertzman at two-under-par 70. Three others stood at 71—Gail Deneberg, Janet Lepera and former tennis star Althea Gibson.

Another three-time winner here and the all-time leading LPGA money-winner, Kathy Whitworth, was among a group at 72, even par on the 6,243-yard Raleigh Country Club course.

The course was soaked Thursday from an overnight rain and cloudy, cool temperatures prevailed during the day.

Obituary

Mrs. Herbert Wood
Mrs. Eunice McCullough Wood, 87, of East Hartford died Thursday at Hartford Hospital. She was the mother of Earl Wood of Manchester and LeRoy Wood of Hebron, and the wife of Herbert Wood.
She is also survived by another son, 2 daughters, 2 sisters, and 14 grandchildren.
Funeral services are Monday at 11 a.m. at the First Church of Christ in Wethersfield. Burial will be in Rose Hill Memorial Park, Rocky Hill.
Friends may call at Rose Hill Funeral Home, 580 Elm St., Rocky Hill, Sunday from 6 to 9 p.m.
The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to the First Church of Christ, Wethersfield.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Katherine Noske who passed away May 13, 1972.

Another day, another year,
It seems like yesterday you were here.
We whisper your name, we still say a prayer.
Because we remember and we still care.
We have a smile, we shed a tear.
And we still wish that you were here.
Husband and Son

In Memoriam
In loving memory of my beloved wife, Marion D. David who passed away December 14, 1973.

I often sit and think of you
And think of how you died.
To think you couldn't say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
The blow was hard, the shock severe
I never thought your death so near.
God called you home and gave you rest,
I know on earth, you did your best.
Husband

Police Report

Wayne Abair, 21, of Hartford was arrested late Friday night and charged with intoxication, reckless driving, and evading responsibility after a one-car accident at Main and Center Sts., police report. Abair was released this morning on his written promise to appear in Circuit Court 12 on June 3.

Other Manchester Police reports included:

• Stanley A. Whitehill, 30, of 281 Center St. was arrested at 2:55 this morning and charged with operation of a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor or drugs and operation of a motor vehicle while license suspended, police said. Court is set for June 3.

• Diane McCarthy, 18, of 126 E. Highland St. was charged with failure to drive in the proper lane Friday at 11:20 p.m. after the car she was driving struck down a no-parking sign on Pine St., police said. Court is June 3.

• Dennis Chukas, 26, of 41 Dougherty St. was charged with reckless driving Friday at 11:12 p.m. after the car he was driving spun completely around on Center St. and hit a utility pole, police said. Court is June 3.

Cyclists Plan Gay City Ride

A Mother's Day, 16-mile bike ride to Gay City Park will start at 2 p.m. Sunday from Mary Cheney Library on Main St., according to Helmut Beute of 59 Oakwood Rd.

Open to the public, the ride is sponsored by the American Youth Hostels.

The ride will be led by Charles and Kay Dorn of East Hartford.

The Sunday ride is the first of many planned by AYH for Sunday afternoon along the format used last year. Complete ride schedules are free from Beute or the AYH office in West Hartford.

State Sued By Victim Who Set Fire

Suzanne Welch, 17, of 5 Maple Trail Rd., Coventry has filed a $3-million suit in federal court in Hartford against the state Department of Children and Youth Services relating to a May 15, 1972 incident at the Long Lane School in Middletown in which she was severely burned.

Miss Welch was locked in a small cell with "a grated window opening, a single mattress and a bare lightbulb," the suit said. She set her mattress on fire, and "finding herself trapped in the burning cell, called out for aid numerous times."

Defendants in the suit are Gov. Thomas Meskill, Finance Commissioner Adolph G. Carlson, Youth Services Commissioner Francis H. Maloney, Harold Flannigan, a security officer on duty at the time, and others.

New Planting for Hebron Green

Hebron Green received a facelifting recently with the planting of seven flowering trees donated by the Martha Crow Phelps branch of the Burrill Mutual Savings Bank. Assisting with the planting are, left to right, John Hibbard, chairman of the Hebron Conservation Commission; Iver Jensen, manager of the bank; Aaron Reid, first selectman; and Ed Kraft, a Hebron nurseryman. Brandt Ignores Press

BERLIN (UPI) — Relaxed but unsmiling, ex-Chancellor Willy Brandt today returned to West Berlin — scene of his first political triumphs — ignoring newspaper reports that his government paid hush money to suppress the memoirs of a female spy who fell in love with him.

A West Berlin boys' choir dressed in black shorts and white socks sang "It's Most Beautiful at Home in Berlin" as Brandt stepped out of a French Mystere charter aircraft at Tempelhof airfield.

Brandt ignored a group of waiting newsmen and made no statement.

He was scheduled to address local Social Democratic party members at mid-afternoon at the Palais am Funkturm, and in the early evening he was to speaking at a city reception in a hangar at Tempelhof.

Only a handful of airline hostesses and ground crew members joined the newsmen and Dr. Hans Georg Urban, the city protocol chief, in greeting Brandt and his Norwegian-born wife, Rut, on their mid-morning arrival.

Brandt, dressed in a gray pin stripe suit, looked pleased as the boys' choir serenaded him to a tune played by an accordionist. But he did not smile.

The 60-year-old leader of the West German Social Democratic party built an international reputation as the anti-Communist West Berlin mayor who stood up to Russian attempts to swallow the city.

He came here from the West German capital of Bonn for observances marking the 25th anniversary of the end of the Soviet Berlin blockade.

In his first interview given since stepping down as chancellor, Brandt said Friday he learned of rumors concerning his private life two days before his resignation.

"I was disgusted," Brandt told Munich's Sueddeutsche Zeitung, commenting on reports that security agents alleged he had committed indiscretions involving women.

Brandt resigned after accepting "political and personal responsibility" for the negligence that allowed alleged Communist spy Guenther Guillaume to become one of his personal aides.

Citing rumors about his private life, Brandt denied that he had ever done anything to make himself subject to possible blackmail by Guillaume or anyone else.

Brandt did not comment in the interview on published reports by opposition publications that his government paid $163,000 in hush money last year to reputed one-time spy Susanne Sievers so that she would not divulge an account of how she fell in love with him while spying for East Germany.

Budget Passes With Small Cut

MONICA SHEA

Five hundred people attended last night's annual Town Meeting, and for the most part endorsed the budget as proposed.

The only cut sustained by a vote was a one of $5,400 in the building inspector's account. This cut will eliminate a part-time building inspector and cut travel allowances and expenses for meetings.

Motions were made to cut the council account, the lake rehabilitation account, Booth-Dimock Library, recreation, roads and garage maintenance, landfill, economic development, police, street lights, and the Board of Education.

All were defeated. The people attending did question many times, but there was insufficient backing for large cuts in any budget.

Bert Hunt proposed cutting the general government portion of the budget by $15,000, but this was defeated.

Another large cut proposed was $101,546 from the police budget. This, too, was defeated. Ruth Smith wished to cut the Board of Education budget by $92,103. And this cut was defeated.

The Board of Education budget was passed in its entirety, but had sustained a cut of $91,793 by the Town Council before getting to the Town Meeting.

The total budget approved will be $3,575,691. Of this $2,400,000 is for the Board of Education, $906,809 for the government and $267,882 for debt service.

This will mean a 7.5 mill increase over last year's budget. The attendance was the largest in over five years and possibly the largest ever at any annual Town Meeting in Coventry.

Libassi Signs As Lobbyist

MONICA SHEA
Correspondent
742-9495

Peter Libassi, president of Greater Hartford Process-DevCo has registered as a lobbyist with the secretary of state's office.

On his registration form it is stated that even though Libassi is registering, this does not prejudice his claim that his activities did not bring him within the registration requirements of the State Statutes.

In a letter to Secretary of State Gloria Schaffer, Libassi's attorney, Ralph Dixon of Day, Berry and Howard said that Libassi's principal appearance at the legislature "was at the invitation of a group of senators, and besides this, Libassi spoke with no more than three legislatures during the course of session."

On Monday, the lecturer will speak at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 447 N. Main St., Manchester. His topic: "How Secure Are You?"

Tuesday's lecture will be at 8 p.m. at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 94 Union St., Rockville. He will speak on "The Way of Abundant Life."

Mr. Wavro is on tour throughout the United States and Canada, Great Britain, Ireland, and Europe. He is a recipient of the Order of DeMolay Legion of Honor for achievement in his chosen field of endeavor.

Dixon says in the letter "In our opinion his (Libassi's) activities were not such as to require registration." Our opinion is based on the fact that Libassi maintained no consistent contact or presence at the Legislature, his appearances were solely on the behalf of the corporation of which he is president and his activities were not for compensation.

Dixon further states in his letter, "In reaching this opinion, we took notice of the fact that this section of the State Statutes has never been construed publicly and consistently to require registration in circumstances such as these. Further, we are cognizant of the decision in the recent case, Moffett v. Killian, 360 F. Supp. 228 (D. Conn. 1973), which suggested that Connecticut's lobbying statute does not apply to a corporation appearing before the Legislature through its authorized officers on matters concerning such corporation."

In closing the letter Dixon said, "Despite this opinion, Libassi endorses the full disclosure intent of the statutes and has not desire to have his limited activities at the Legislature considered as having been anything but public and open. Hence, he has asked us to forward to you the enclosed Legislature Appearance Statement which is being supplied to you in the spirit of corporation and full disclosure, but without prejudice to his claim that section 2-45 does not require that it be filed."

Libassi had been asked to file as a lobbyist after it became known that he had spoken with legislators against the referendum bill on new cities.

Lecturer

Paul K. Wavro of Jacksonville, Fla., a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will lecture in Manchester Monday and in Rockville on Tuesday. The lectures are open to the public free of charge.

On Monday, the lecturer will speak at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 447 N. Main St., Manchester. His topic: "How Secure Are You?"

Tuesday's lecture will be at 8 p.m. at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 94 Union St., Rockville. He will speak on "The Way of Abundant Life."

Move Over Kids! Adults are Bike-Happy, Too!

Today, many families are cycling together!

For many years, most Americans thought that bicycles were toys for children. Now, with the energy problem and the interest in ecology, the bike has become an important means of transportation for many adults.

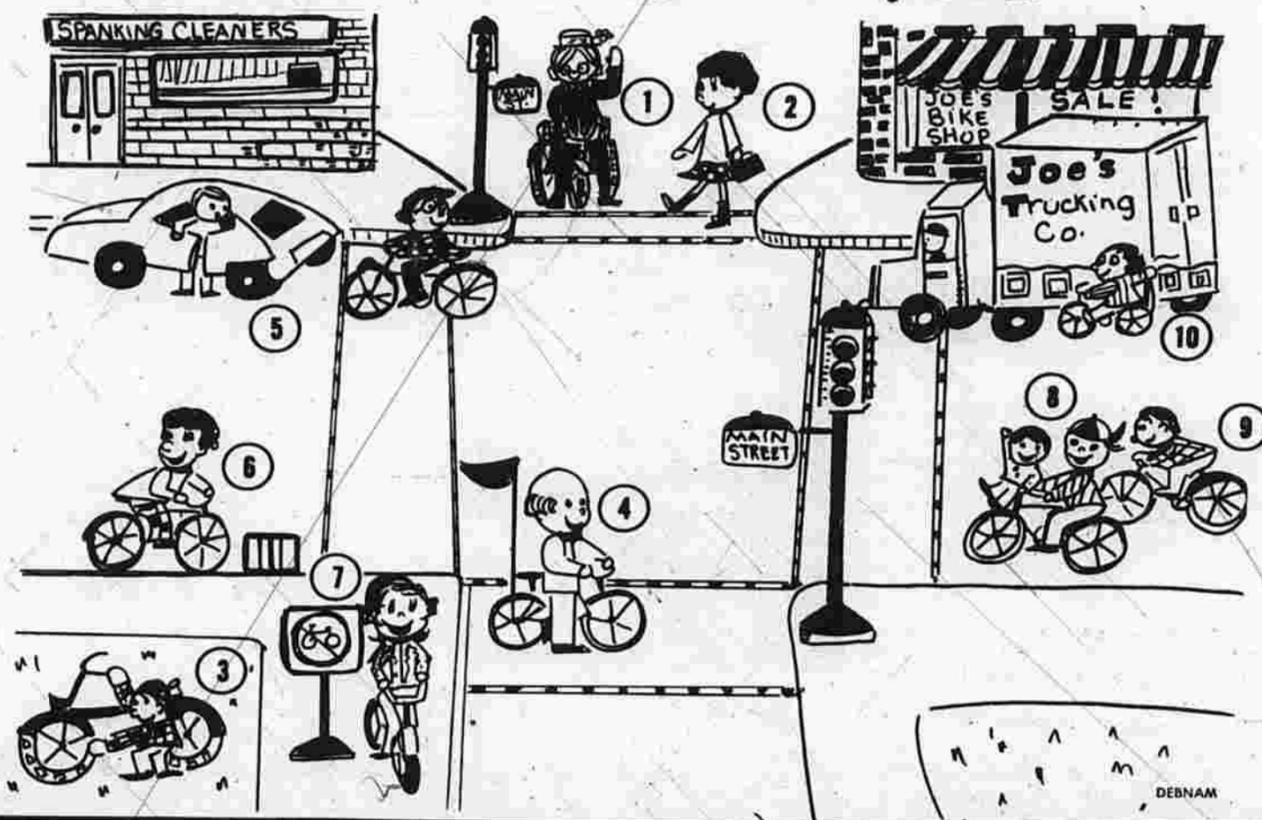

The cycle boom began in the 1960's when bike salesmen began importing many-speed bikes from Europe. These bikes were much easier to ride than the standard American type. Adult cyclists found they did not have to huff and puff up hills. The bike became a good way to get exercise without too much strain.

Bike sales have zoomed. Last year 14 million bikes were sold, almost twice as many as in 1971.

All over the country, city traffic experts are talking about cycle lanes and cycle parks. New laws are being considered to protect the cyclist. Safety rules are more important than ever.

Have the Whole Family Take This Bicycle Safety Test

What safety rules do these pictures remind us of? See the answers on page 2.

In 1973, the United States government did a study and found that bicycles and bicycle equipment were the products that caused the most accidents. In one year alone, over 372,000 cyclists were hurt so badly they had to go to the hospital for treatment.

Safe Driving Rules

Types of bikes:
Highrise
Standard
Lightweight

Young bike riders inspect a wheel. These bicycle drivers are safe drivers:

- Use hand signals.
- The pedestrian always has the right-of-way.
- Inspect your bike often. Get off the street to make adjustments.
- Walk across busy intersections. Fly a pole flag so people can see you. Obey the traffic signals.

These bicycle drivers are not safe drivers. Look at them and see what not to do! Keep these rules in mind.

- Watch out for opened car doors or for cars pulling out into traffic.
- Look out for drain gates, soft shoulders or other road hazards.
- Observe all local bicycle ordinances or laws.
- Don't carry passengers. One person to a bike.
- Ride in single file.
- Never hitch a ride.

Bicycle Safety Study

In 1970, the Highway Safety Research Center at the University of North Carolina conducted a study for the Bicycle Institute of America. The survey found that:

- No one type of bicycle causes more accidents than any other kind. The highrise bike was no more dangerous than the standard or lightweight.
- Boys ride their bikes an average of 314 miles a year. Girls ride about 160 miles a year.
- A child rider averages one minor accident for every two years of riding.
- On the average, all children ride their bikes nearly seven hours a week. Boys ride about two more hours each week than do girls.
