Egyptians Cheer President Nixon

President in Egypt On Peace Journey

CAIRO (UPI) — President Nixon, riding side-by-side with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, today began his five nation "journey for peace" Mideast trip to the cheers of 2 million Arabs.

In a scene of friendship between the two leaders that would have seemed a dream six months ago, Sadat shook Nixon's hand as he got off the Spirit of '76 jet. The two men then climbed into an open car and rode into Cairo, waving to the vast throng.

Nixon's first official action in Arab territory was a courtesy call on Sadat and his wife, followed by the first business conference between the two leaders.

In a speech from the balcony of Koubbeh Palace—the 400-room mansion that will be Nixon's home during his visit—Sadat told his guest:

"I am fully aware that you share with me the belief that this is a unique moment, a major turning point which should not be lost—but rather grasped with vigilance, persistence and dedication—to build an endurable and honorable peace."

Nixon shook Sadat's hand and after exchanging humorous remarks away from the microphone, he replied:

"You have spoken of the fact that we stand here at a moment of time and history which could well be remembered centuries from now as one of those great turning points which affect mankind for the better. It has been too long between our countries a period of misunderstanding."

"Well, this is a great day," Nixon told Sadat as he glimpsed the huge welcoming crowd. "It is indeed a great day for us," Sadat replied.

A roaring cheer from a quarter of a million at the airport echoed down the tree-lined parade route into Cairo where Interior Ministry police headquarters estimated at least 2 million persons mustered with such banners as "May Allah Bless Nixon" and chants of "Nixon...Nixon..."

There was not a word about Watergate and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's resignation threat Tuesday was put in the background of one of the largest public gatherings ever for a U.S. President.

The Star Spangled Banner blared forth as Nixon arrived and American flags were everywhere in a country that only a few months ago had no diplomatic relations with the United States and for decades had been closely aligned with the Soviet Union. Sadat, an admirer of Nixon and Kissinger for their efforts to bring peace to the Mideast, led his guest down a red carpet, past dozens of smiling Egyptian officials and military officials who led the country's fight in the October war and into a special VIP lounge built especially for this trip.

Sadat organized a 125-car motorcade to show Nixon off to the throng that jammed downtown Cairo and then planned a state dinner for the President, his wife and their party tonight.

Nixon will spend slightly more than two days in Egypt, seeing the sights and taking an American style "whistlestop" train trip to Alexandria, before continuing his journey to Saudi Arabia, Syria, Israel and Jordan.

In a gesture of good will, Sadat announced minutes before Nixon's arrival from Salzburg, Austria, that Egypt was giving up the American University in Cairo that was seized in 1967 during the Arab-Israeli war.

Clasping Nixon's hand in the 98-degree heat as the two leaders reviewed a guard of honor, Sadat said at the airport, "We are glad you have come."

"I have been looking forward to this day from the first time I took office," Nixon said.

The smile broadened across Sadat's face. "It is a great day for us," he repeated.

Egypt has held many wild receptions for visitors, including one for the 1964 visit to Cairo by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. This one easily topped the Khrushchev welcome.

Referendum for $1.4 Million Regional Center Approved

By SOL R. COHEN

The Board of Directors Tuesday night authorized a Nov. 5 townwide referendum on a proposed $1.4 million Regional Occupational Center for Manchester.

If approved, it would be financed by general obligation bonds, with the sum 100 per cent reimbursable by the state on completion. The interest on the bonds, estimated at $50,000 to $60,000, would be paid by the town.

The board's action was unanimous and with no discussion. It followed an hour-long public hearing — with nobody speaking in opposition. Actually, except for a non-committal comment by Frank Utakis, president of the Manchester Property Owners Association, all remarks favored the construction.

Utakis said the MPOA has not studied the proposal and not yet taken a position. He applauded the board's action in placing the proposal for referendum.

The "Trade School for the Handicapped" would be placed on the northeast corner of Hillstown Rd. and Wetherell St., on the Manchester Community College campus. The parcel it would stand on has been deeded to the town by the State of Connecticut.

State Sen. David Odgerard, who guided a bill through the state legislature which authorized the transfer of "up to four acres," was present at the public hearing Tuesday night but didn't speak.

Richard Lawrence of Lawrence Associates, architect for the facility, disclosed Tuesday night for the first time the Regional Center is planned for 2.2 acres—considered sufficient by MCC officials.

The center would be under the supervision of the Manchester Board of Education — with tuition paid for its students by the 15 area towns planning to participate. The annual operating cost is estimated at $125,000 — with $25,000 contributed by Manchester and $100,000 by the area towns. The town would own the facility after it is in operation five years.

Norman Fendell, coordinator of special education for the Manchester school system, explained the proposal Tuesday night and remarked, "It's plans and purpose and fulfillment could be a model for the entire nation."

The proposed center is Fendell's brainchild and its construction would culminate many years of planning, talking, explaining, pleading and cajoling. Fendell spoke to the Democratic Town Committee last month and received its endorsement for the construction.

Speaking for the proposal Tuesday night was Mrs. John McElraevy, president of the Manchester Association for Retarded Citizens. At the end of her prepared statement, she said, "It is the birthright of every child to be helped to reach his or her potential — however limited that might be. This Occupational Training Center would help them reach that potential."

Barry Shaw, president of the PTA for Exceptional Children, said the association endorses the proposal. He brought the endorsement, also, of the Manchester Jaycees.

Also supporting the proposed center was Joseph Blett, chairman of the Manchester Organization of the Handicapped.

Harold May, executive secretary of the Governor's Committee on the Handicapped, congratulated the town on its purpose. He offered the cooperation of various state agencies, including the Department of Mental Retardation and Department of Mental Health.

Others who spoke in favor were Paul Greenberg (member of the school board), William Strain, Mrs. Cecile Mulherin, Shirley Wirtz and Mrs. Beverly Persham.

Panel Members Disagree On Evidence Validity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Judiciary Committee Democrats say evidence that President Nixon approved an in depth investigation into Dr. Daniel Ellsberg is "significant and damaging," but Nixon's Republican defenders say the evidence is inconclusive.

Several Democrats also pointed out testimony by former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman that Nixon "indicated after the fact approval" of the burglary of the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

But most members agreed Tuesday there is little evidence to back up the allegation Nixon tried to improperly influence Judge Matthew Byrne, who was presiding at Ellsberg's trial in the Pentagon Papers case. The allegation of improperly influencing Byrne is under investigation in the committee's impeachment probe.

The inquiry today turns to allegations that Nixon used government agencies, particularly the Internal Revenue Service, to retaliate against enemies of the administration.

During Tuesday's session, Nixon's

Transit Subsidy Plan Announced by Meskill

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Thomas J. Meskill today announced the formation of five transit districts and pledged to double the state's financial commitment and manage "basic level" transit service within the regions.

Meskill said the state will spend $8 million to subsidize bus service, twice what the state now spends on bus service in the Hartford, New Haven and Stamford areas.

Meskill, a Republican who is not seeking re-election, said his plan eliminates the need for a special legislative session this year, although he admitted the 1975 session of the legislature may want to make changes in the plan.

He said the plan calls for uniform funding policy and will let the state Department of Transportation respond to transit needs of towns and regions, in effect taking decision-making from local governments and regional agencies.

Termining the program a "firm foundation on which to build an effective transit program for Connecticut," Meskill said regional offices would be set up within 30 days in Rocky Hill, Norwich, New Haven, and, probably Stamford and Waterbury.

Meskill said the Department of Transportation would hire a consultant to collect data and, within 90 days, set criteria defining "basic level" service.

He said the state would pay all deficits stemming from basic level service and assume responsibility for half of any deficit from service beyond the basic level.

"The remainder of such deficits may be paid by local towns or already existing transit districts," Meskill said. "Continuation of these already existing districts is provided for in the proposal."

The plan will provide more bus service for areas which have little or none now, under the $8 million funding contained in the budget passed in this year's legislative session, he said.

The plan tacitly admits the failure of the present transit districts system but at the same time undercuts legislators such as Sen. Lawrence J. DeNardis, R-New Haven, who advocated a powerful new transit agency.

Town Fire Protection Extended by Directors

By SOL R. COHEN

Beginning July 1, the Manchester, Town Fire Department will provide fire protection to all areas in the northeast part of Manchester paying fire taxes to the town.

The Board of Directors Tuesday night voted unanimously for the fire coverage — to be provided from the Lawton Rd. firehouse, with assistance (and standby duty) from the Central Firehouse.

By its action, the board authorized termination of part of the contract the town has with the Manchester, Eighth District Fire Department — for coverage in outlying areas of the town at a fee of $125 per call. Coverage by the district for northwest sections of town will continue (at the same $125 rate) for at least another year.

In addition to authorizing town fire protection in the northeast area, the board gave its tacit approval for a new firehouse in the northwest area — presumably in Buckland. It authorized a study — to determine the need and justification for a new firehouse there, and to include projected costs for the building, equipment and manpower.

It asked Town Manager Robert Weiss to have the report ready for its July 9 meeting, and indicated it by take action on the proposal at its August meeting.

Town Fire Chief John Rivosa told the directors fire protection from the Lawton Rd. firehouse, as of July 1, will include Parker St., Rolling Park, Deming St., McNall St., Pioneer Industrial Park, Tolland Tpke. east to the Vernon town line, Green Manor Industrial Park, Northfield Green Condominium, Forest Hills section, Lydall St. and other areas.

He said plans are for installing fire-call boxes at several points. He said all homes to be covered will be visited by fire personnel, to explain the new coverage, and letters will be sent.

Newspapers Claim FBI Memos Tie Kissinger to Tapping

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's account of his role in wiretapping of government officials and newsmen is contradicted by a series of FBI memoranda stretching over four years, according to published reports today.

The Washington Post, The New York Times and the Boston Globe said FBI documents had been examined by the House Judiciary Committee as part of its impeachment inquiry against President Nixon.

Kissinger says he never directly requested wiretaps on telephones of 13 government officials and four newsmen as a result of leaks of sensitive information in 1969-71.

Partly sunny and pleasant this afternoon. High in mid and upper 70s. Fair and cool tonight. Low in upper 40s inland to mid 50s along the coast. Mostly sunny continued pleasant Thursday. High in upper 70s.

The newspapers said FBI documents showed some of the taps were requested by Kissinger or by his top aide at the time on the National Security Council, Gen. Alexander M. Haig, now President Nixon's chief of staff.

The Times and Post both quoted an FBI memorandum prepared for acting FBI Director William D. Ruckelshaus on May 12, 1973, which said the bureau, "at the request of the White House, provided highly sensitive wiretap coverage in the interests of national security" from the spring of 1969 to early summer, 1971.

The 15-page summary said the White House was extremely concerned over leaks about the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT), apparently emanating from the Security Council.

"The original request" for all the taps, the summary said, came from Kissinger or Haig. It added, "It appears that the project of placing electronic surveillance at the request of the White House had its beginning in a telephone call to Mr. J. Edgar Hoover on May 9, 1969, from Dr. Henry A. Kissinger."

The Post said it obtained a copy of a memorandum written by FBI chief Hoover to then Attorney General John N. Mitchell, dated May 9, 1969, saying Kissinger had called him that day to complain of "an extraordinarily damaging" news leak.

The memo said Kissinger had asked Hoover to put "whatever resources I need to find out who did this."

Kissinger testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last year that the taps were originated by the President, Hoover and Mitchell and that he simply supplied names of his subordinates who had access to documents figuring in the news leaks.

The Globe and Post cited two Hoover memos dated May 13, 1970, to Mitchell saying Haig conveyed requests from Kissinger that "as soon as possible a telephone surveillance be instituted" on the home of two members of the National Security staff, designated only as "L" and "K."

Hoover wrote, according to a photostat of the memo, "a survey has been conducted and it has been determined that the installation of this telephone surveillance is feasible. If you approve, this installation will be placed by this bureau."

The Post said the summary prepared for Ruckelshaus said the taps "are full of examples of careless and loose talk about matters being handled in the White House" but that "nothing was found which would indicate that a violation of federal law" had taken place.

The Globe said the two 1970 memos both carried notations the wiretap requests had been approved by Mitchell.

Cleveland, Kotsch Win Promotions

Orville L. Cleveland Jr. and Samuel W. Kotsch Jr. have won promotions in the Manchester Police Department, according to Police Chief James M. Reardon.

ORVILLE L. CLEVELAND

Cleveland will become a sergeant working with regular patrols and Kotsch will take his place as a detective.

Det. Cleveland, 28, of 179 Charter Oak St. joined the department as a patrolman Feb. 25, 1968. He was promoted to detective on Jan. 9, 1972. Patrolman Kotsch, 27, of 67 Maple St. joined the department Nov. 30, 1969.

Chief Reardon said the promotions will become effective June 23.

Cleveland holds an associate degree in police science from Manchester Community College and Kotsch is now taking the same program.

Cleveland and his wife, Patricia, have two children, a girl and a boy. Kotsch and his wife, Carol, have two children, a boy and a girl.

Chief Reardon said the promotions are to fill vacancies caused by recent promotions. Cleveland is to fill the sergeant's spot left by the promotion of Lt.

Richard Sartor on April 1. Kotsch is to fill the detective's spot then vacated by Cleveland.

Is Watergate The Reason?

Has Watergate brought our government to a standstill?
This question is being raised more frequently as the various inquiries continue to unveil more and more of the seamy side of American politics. However, we think the question requires some amplification.
The real question in assessing government's ability to govern is by comparing present activity with prior activity.
For example, the government, and we include the legislative branch as well as the executive, in recent years hasn't been known for taking very many bold actions except in times of national crisis, like depression or wars.
Instead of taking bold measures to combat inflation, which began long before Watergate or the present administration, it has been very timid in both executive recommendations and congressional pronouncements.
The real stalemate in government is that we have had, in effect, a Mexican standoff for several years in which the various branches have polarized on the checks rather than the balances in the system.
This may be inherent in the fact that we have a Republican administration and a Democrat-controlled Congress and whatever the cause, domestic issues have been debated at length but in effect nothing positive accomplished.
We did not have a combined effort to balance the budget before Watergate. We do not have it now.
We did not have a combined effort to combat inflation before Watergate. We do not have it now.
We did not have a combined effort to work out national health care programs before Watergate. And we do not have it now.
About the only truly legislative-executive innovation which has come to pass has been revenue-sharing which is still having some birth pains because executive and legislative philosophy differences haven't been fully resolved.
Yes, our government appears to be treading water today but it was treading water last year and four years ago. Watergate can hardly be blamed for the lack of legislative and executive initiative and accomplishment in the many domestic areas of national concern when we haven't had any initiative or accomplishment from either for several years.
Watergate is not the reason but convenient excuse to ignore these issues. In politics, and we don't want to sound cynical, it appears the practical thing to do these days is to find excuses for ignoring issues until public clamor is too great to be ignored. Then it is almost amazing how the executive and legislative branches arrive at an accommodation. Revenue Sharing is an example.
Watergate isn't going to fade away. The concern we have is that we, the people, may be conned into believing its solution is the key to effective action on the domestic issues before us.
The fact is that the Congress can, if it will, evaluate executive recommendations on the basis of merit and not source if it chooses to do so.
The question of Watergate paralyzing the government will become only a reality if those in government choose to use this scandal as a cop out.
What Congress accomplishes between now and July 1 will give us the clue as to whether it will face up to its non-Watergate responsibilities. And it will be on that record that we should determine the make-up of the next Congress.
The government was not really moving before Watergate. It is not moving very much now. The question is whether it will move at all even after Watergate has been resolved.
On the basis of the past few years we are not too optimistic for it seems warring boys are more plentiful than problem solvers.

Simon's Stand Correct

Treasury Secretary William Simon, speaking at Williamsburg, Va., has taken what will probably be an unpopular line in stating that we may have to accept less than desirable employment rates if inflation is to be controlled.
Advocating government brakes on demand, which is created by spending capacity, Simon also took a stand against a tax cut, which would also increase money supply and hence purchasing power.
The new treasury head postulated an economic situation in which demand, while remaining firm, would fall slightly below potential supply.
Since this would create a slight surplus of goods and services it would have the effect of holding the line or reducing prices in the market.
Secretary Simon also wisely advocated that government spending should be restrained to tighten the supply of money.
It was refreshing to have the secretary urge less government spending which we have always thought to be the principal factor in inflation.
Hopefully, his views may make some impression on the Congress which is the principal foundation of government expenditures.
With the entire House up for election this year, as well as a third of the Senate, the tendency on the part of the legislators is to be free with the taxpayers money hoping that it will have a favorable influence on their return to office.
Accelerating inflation is already showing in the country in the high rate of bankruptcies and delinquencies in fixed debt payments.
We agree with Mr. Simon that the American public is ready for stringent measures to halt inflationary trends.
This is particularly true in the case of the retired and those living on Social Security benefits. Spiraling prices are making it very difficult for many of these to make ends meet.
Many of the elderly, hopefully retired to an easier life, are finding their income, which they had thought sufficient, coming close to the poverty level.
Mr. Simon's thinking is sound.

Defense No Area To Play Second Fiddle

There is a gap in our military intelligence on Russia large enough to drive a truck through. The problem is crucial. The gap lies in just those unknown areas, whatever they might be — where Soviet military scientists may achieve major unexpected breakthroughs. By definition, we don't know what those areas are precisely, or what those breakthroughs might be. We are not using the resources we have available to find out.
The gap is large because of neglect. Methods exist by which the problem could be solved, or at least whittled down to size. Expense would not be exorbitant. What is needed principally is a relatively small diversion percentage-wise of intelligence resources and research funds.
No one knows, of course, just where Soviet scientists will stumble on major new techniques in achieving greater missile accuracy, relative missile vulnerability, reliable detection of nuclear submarines at sea, or in discovering some new missiles, warship, electronic device or other weapons system or component.
But science is now moving at such a fast pace it is highly likely that at some point or other, the Soviets will make spectacular breakthroughs in areas we least expect and for which we are unprepared. One such discovery could be important enough to upset the military balance seriously enough to endanger the security of this country.
As noted above, there is a most interesting Russian bureaucratic habit. Soviet scientists regularly publish their studies in great detail on a wide variety of subjects, even in areas related to military problems — up to a point. When the studies advance to a certain level of military significance, all new work in the field involved disappears from Russian scientific literature. This then is the tipoff.
This Russian habit is known as Herald Yesterdays.

Open Forum

Perspective on Camp Kennedy
To the editor:
For the past 10 years, the Kennedy Day Camp for Retarded Children has afforded many people of Manchester with a unique opportunity. Hundreds of retarded children and young adults have enjoyed recreational and craft activities and the opportunity to socialize with a wide variety of people. The volunteers have learned the reward of giving of themselves and have had a good time doing it. Everyone has come to understand that he is a person with unique strengths and weaknesses.
This year the camp will feature a variety of activities. During the morning each camper will participate in small group activities including arts and crafts, games and specialized motor development activities. Each of these sections will be led by a paid staff member. In addition, one staff member will help volunteers organize and direct small group activities. These activities will capitalize on the volunteer's strengths and special abilities. Also, there will be time each morning for volunteers to work and play one-on-one with their camper. Games, books, records and special activity packets will be available.
After lunch there will be swimming at Globe Hollow. Camp concludes its day at 3 p.m.
Camp Kennedy is sponsored by the Manchester Recreation Department. Each summer about 60 campers and 100 volunteers are involved in the program. There are approximately 40 campers and 45 volunteers at camp on any given day. Each camper is assigned a volunteer who assists him throughout the week.
This year Camp Kennedy will operate from June 24 to August 2. There are still a limited number of positions open for campers. Any parent interested in having their child attend camp should contact the Recreation Department or at the camp orientation. The orientation will be held at Camp Kennedy at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 15, and again at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 19. Applications are being accepted on a first come, first serve basis; however, priority is given to volunteers with experience dealing with exceptional children.
Again, it is the overriding belief of Camp Kennedy that everyone who attends camp has a unique human potential. The activities that campers and volunteers participate in and the love which is shared between the people at camp helps everyone better realize their potentials as individuals.

We can be thankful we are publishing a newspaper in America.
In Nicaragua, a newspaper failed to appear for 11 days because of government censorship. The government said it was necessary because of a strike of hospital workers and the possibility that it might spread.
The Chilean government has warned newspapermen that action will be taken against them if they publish political news, whether favorable or unfavorable, to the military junta.
The press, even though it might not always be held in high esteem, is still free in this country.
An observance to honor America is always fitting but perhaps more so in 1974. The period of June 14 through July 4, Flag Day to Independence Day, has been designated Honor America.
We would like to see some of our civic organizations observe the period with programs on Americanism. Perhaps youth groups could also participate in some fashion.
From a reader:
If Teddy can get out of the water, then Dick can get through the gate.
The above wording is in the form of a bumper sticker and many similar stickers have appeared since Watergate.
A new way of campaigning?
Out in Montana, a Democratic candidate for Congress really took to the people, on foot. He walked a total of 631 miles, averaging nearly 30 miles per day, in meeting people in the various towns in the district. He wanted to find out what people were thinking and they told him. Incidentally, he won the nomination.
We are happy to hear the President isn't the only male to use profanity.
Some of you may have heard the obscene word uttered on television during an evening newscast...Will it rate mention in Newsweek?
A fellow asked the other day with the price of newspaper going up, the commodity upon which your newspaper is printed, how much do you use?
The answer: About 1,000 tons per year.
Pound for pound, Americans find newspapers more appealing than pork chops.
Per capita consumption of newspaper in 1973 was 100.1 pounds. Estimates of the National Livestock and Meat Board are that per capita consumption of pork was 63.2 pounds and beef 112.4 pounds.
From the June Rotarian:
After a speech illustrated by nondescript slides, a member said to the speaker.
"I found your speech very refreshing."
"Did you indeed?" exclaimed the pleased speaker.
"Yes I felt like a new man when I woke up."
Something to think about:
It is better that things go in one ear and out the other than it is if they go in one ear, get scrambled between the ears, and come out the mouth.
Career days are popular at high school and they serve a worthwhile purpose. They enable the student to get first hand information on a vocation in which he or she might be interested.
That's why we are always pleased to participate. Our advertising director, Duane Edmonds, and our sports editor, Earl Vost, took part in the recent Career Day at Manchester High School.
It seems the United States still isn't manufacturing enough bicycles.
In 1968, there were 6 million U.S. made bicycles sold and it was a record year.
But in 1971, sales jumped to 6.6 million; in 1972, 8.8 million, and last year, 10.1 million. Those in the business say the end still isn't in sight.
When some of these bikes start coming in for repair, that ought to spur the fix-it business also.
A lot of Manchester homeowners have planted gardens this spring and it is a certainty that for many the green thumb experience is a first.
One merchant told us the other day the demand for seeds and plants has been terrific. Though in business for many years, he cannot recall another season like this one.
Food prices are a factor, of course, but we think people are staying home more and enjoying their home more.

Scouts Changing Membership Reporting

NORTH BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI) — The chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, following reports of widespread cheating by local scouting officials to meet membership quotas, has announced a program to end the practice.
The announcement followed a report in the Chicago Tribune that professional scouting staff members had been inflating membership figures in order to obtain increased federal funds as well as money from private sources.
The Tribune said its investigation also disclosed cheating of federally funded scouting programs.
The newspaper quoted an unidentified scouting official as saying padding of scouting membership lists is national in scope.
The cheating occurred during scouting's "Boypower '76" program, the program launched in 1968 with the goal of increasing Boy Scout membership by 2 million boys by 1976.
However, a scouting spokesman said the BSA had been concerned "for a year or more" about the apparent cheating practices.
Alden F. Barber, chief Scout executive, stated:
"The national office of the Boy Scouts of America has never condoned nor encouraged false membership reports and in fact takes immediate steps to investigate reported instances."
"In some cases disciplinary action has been taken and in others the investigation has not been concluded."
"Every Scout executive has been directed to institute several procedures that would reveal membership irregularities."
"These steps include: A telephone call to the registered volunteer leader on record, a systematic appraisal of units that do not participate in district or council programs, a procedure that reveals units where no advancement in rank or new enrollment has occurred, and finally a review system that will tell the Scout executive if there is any unusual change in unit membership such as an abnormal influx of new members."

Arbitration Sought In Police Pay Increase

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel
Correspondent
644-1364

A failure to agree on salary schedules in new police contracts has resulted in police claiming an impasse with the town negotiators, and town officials calling for state non-binding arbitration.

Town Manager Terry V. Sprekel will ask the State Labor Department for fact-finding assistance, he said, after six weeks' stalemated talks over wages between the town and the International Brotherhood of Police Officers, Local 351.

Patrolman James Morrison, president of the local, said police are seeking a 12 per cent salary hike in order to keep up with Connecticut's inflation rate over the past year.

Sprekel said that "the fact police have adamantly maintained their present position of an average increase of between 14 1/2 per cent per officer for the past six weeks, and one of their negotiators has stated an impasse in mediation has been reached, leaves the town with no choice but to request fact-finding assistance from the state."

Morrison said the union is also requesting the town pay 100 per cent of insurance costs. Under the present contract the town pays 80 per cent while police personnel pay the remaining 20 per cent.

The present contract became effective July 1, 1973 and runs to June 30, 1975. However, "reopeners" clauses are being used by the union. Under these clauses salaries and salary items may be renegotiated.

The union is seeking an $8,800 starter pay running to $11,518. Sergeant's salary runs from $9,900 to $11,639 over five years, and the union request is $11,110 to $13,100.

Sprekel did not say when state arbitration would be called in, but said it would be non-binding, and would be the next step taken after mediation failed.

Police said, "It has been rumored the town cannot afford a 12 per cent salary hike, but at the same time the town has been considering building Plum Gulley Park at a cost of $2.5 million."

Morrison said the total cost of the increases sought by his department are $20,000.

The current scale for patrolmen runs from $7,844 to start, to a maximum of $10,250 after five years.

Senior Citizens Relax in Shade Before Dinner

Saturday was a leisurely day for senior citizens in the Vernon area as they were entertained and dined by members of the Rockville Exchange Club. Some sat in the shade of the grove at Henry Park while they enjoyed the aroma of chicken being charcoal broiled for their dinner. Entertainment included a barber shop group and former Mayor Jack Grant who sang and played the guitar. Many of the seniors also enjoyed bingo played in the Lottie Fisk Building. Junior Girl Scout Troop 668 held its annual banquet and awards night recently at St. Maurice Parish Center with many families of the scouts attending.

The evening began with a flag ceremony followed by a prayer. Holly Foss and Debe Selbie were color guards. June Bergstrom and Laurie Gagnon were flag carriers. Scout Doris Radon was in charge of the ceremony.

Susan Gately, Laurie Gagnon and June Bergstrom said the prayer.

The girls entertained their families with song.

Scouts and the number of badges they received were: Laurie Gagnon, 8; June Bergstrom, 7; Doris Radon, 13; Lisa Flano, 11; Holly Foss, 10; Debbie Nielsen, 9; Dawn Guerra, 9; Debe Selbie, 5; Susan Gately, 4.

Also Linda Beth Raymond, 4; Debbie Newton, 3; Julie Laluppe, 3; Jennifer Vandine, 6; Shelley Charobneau, 3; Trisha Marcus, 2; Pam Soares, 2; Sarah Verrier, 2.

Massachusetts Trip
The three junior scout troops in Bolton spent a recent weekend in Massachusetts. The trip included a visit to Plymouth Plantation, Plymouth Rock, The Mayflower and the National Wax Museum.

Troop 668 leaders are Mrs. Virginia Bergstrom and Mrs. Mary Radon.

Fly-Up
Bolton's three Junior Girl Scout troops recently held a brownie fly-up ceremony for girls leaving brownies who will be entering junior girl scouting in the fall.

Each brownie was escorted by a junior scout to her brownie leader where she received her wings and either a one- or two-year pin and was congratulated.

The junior scout then took her to meet her new leader. Each brownie read a scout promise, lit a candle and received a girl scout pin.

Brownies who flew up were Donna Bolduc, Shari Holland, Andrea Lealho, Heidi Lack, Samantha Moske, Linda Ferguson, Holly Cassels, Jean Cresely, Leah Flano, Doreen Gagnon, Debbie Harin, Teresa Holbrook, MaryBeth Luchenbill, Kristy Mahon, Kathryn Flaco, Kate Shorey and Lisa Spostio.

Diane Schlitzer, brownie leader, received a five-year pin. Mrs. Radon, junior scout leader, received her 8-year pin.

The Questions Asked About Rec Complex

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel
Correspondent
644-1364

South Windsor's Plum Gulley Park and the issues surrounding it will come to a showdown this week, when, after a year of planning and debate, voters will make a decision on the $2.5 million referendum Saturday.

But even to the wire there are still issues developing that could sway the vote one way or another.

The most recent development, released today, came from the Chamber of Commerce's Executive Committee following a straw vote taken among 150 chamber members.

The results of that vote, against the Plum Gulley Park proposal, have caused the chamber to state it has "reasonable doubt," based on facts presented and results of a survey, for the need of Plum Gulley Park.

While it is uncertain whether the chamber's stand is enough to rock the already shaky Plum Gulley issue, it is believed the shadow of doubt cast by the chamber will not help the passage of the park. This town officials have expressed concern over.

While only 62 chamber members cast votes - representing 41 per cent of the membership - their decision was decisive enough for the chamber to come out against the park.

Asked whether they supported the $1.5 million recreation complex being proposed, 23 answered in the affirmative while 39 answered in the negative. This represents a vote of 62 per cent in opposition.

The $2.5 million library building, also being proposed within the complex, also resulted in a turnout vote.

Twenty-one chamber members favored the library, while 38 members did not, representing a 64 per cent vote against the library.

While 52 voters do not have a referendum make, the chamber does consist of business firms, associations and corporations in good standing in South Windsor, and these members' are in sympathy with the objects of the South Windsor Chamber of Commerce," said William J. Barcomb, president.

The vote is seen as a "pulse" on the Plum Gulley issue - an issue officials have been attempting to pass since early this year.

When it became definite Plum Gulley would come to a vote this year, officials expressed skepticism over the massive complex which, among other things, will include recreational and educational facilities for all age groups.

However, after a public hearing and an agreement on the part of the Town Council to divide the Plum Gulley issue into two questions - do you want alcohol abuse, jury selection, divorce reform and court reorganization," Bingham, 47, said.

The candidate said he managed to get measures through the legislature against tough odds "which will at long last begin to modernize our courts, abolish the caste system and provide equal justice for all of our citizens."

It is the hope of the Task Force that the other parks in South Windsor will continue to be developed and incorporated into a townwide park system.

According to national standards South Windsor should have 15 tennis courts. The town has nine courts. It is felt by the Task Force that more courts are needed, however they were left out of Plum Gulley Park because it was felt they would be better located in satellite parks in other parts of town.

Late Paul McGeary To Be Honored

CROMWELL, (UPI) - The state Department of Adult Probation Friday will present a resolution memorializing three probation officers who died during the year to families of those men.

The late officers were Paul J. McGeary of Rockville, Joseph McGuinness of Newton, and Wilfred St. Germaine of Norwich.

The resolutions, which were adopted by the legislature, will be presented by members of the commission on probation.

The department will also select one of its 142 probation officers for outstanding service and honor him, the first selection in what will be an annual program.

Terrence S. Capshaw, director of the probation agency, said Monday a clerical employee also will be honored at the ceremonies in Cromwell.

The Board of Education will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the library of Bolton enter School. Items on the agenda most unfinished business include final written procedure for fines at Bolton High School; status of high school mathematics books. Items on the agenda under new business include ratification of teacher contracts; adoption of new spelling tests; big proposals for rubbish, heating oil and milk.

The board will hold an executive session following the meeting to discuss personnel matters.

Heads Campaign
Mrs. John Gleason, 1 Laurwood Dr., has been named chairman of the Breath of Life campaign in Bolton for the Connecticut Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Mrs. Gleason will lead local volunteers in raising funds to support research and care programs for children affected by lung damaging diseases such as cystic fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis and childhood emphysema.

An attempt will be made during the drive to focus public attention on the five symptoms of lung disease.

They are: recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite but poor weight gain, enlargement of the fingertips.

Dog Pound
The selectmen signed an agreement with Yankee Kennels on Boston Turnpike to use three of its kennels as the town dog pound.

The agreement calls for a fee of $125 being paid quarterly by the town to the kennels. The fee includes food and maintenance. Residents are advised that they are to call either the town dog warden or the selectmen's office if they have a problem concerning a dog. They are not to call Yankee Kennels.

Sports Results.
In Girl's Softball League action last week the Blue Bullets defeated the Green Hornets 20 to 8.

Lisa Reinhardt was the winning pitcher. She also hit two home runs. Leslie Manna hit a homer for the Bullets.

Sherry Young hit a homer for the Hornets as well as pitching the game.

Site Approved
Following completion of a percolation test at the proposed site of the planned new town library, Calvin Hutchinson, sanitarian, was verbally informed by Theodore Wilfred, State Department of Health, that the site was approved.

Written confirmation of the approval is expected soon.

Party Enrollment Scheduled Friday

COVENTRY
Monica Shea
Correspondent

The Registrars of Voters will be holding two enrollment sessions on Friday from 6 to 9 p.m.

The session for the First District will be held at the Registrars' Room in the Town Hall on Rt. 31.

The session for the Second District will be held at the Registrars' Room in the Town Hall on Rt. 31.

Those unaffiliated voters applying for admission at any other time do not acquire the privileges of enrollment until their names are actually added to the enrollment lists at the next enrollment session of the registrars. The next enrollment session will be in January 1975.

Any affiliated voter who wishes to transfer his affiliation to another party, or who wishes to apply for erasure, should do so at this time.

Those changing party affiliation must wait six months before gaining all party privileges.

Voters who apply for erasure and within six months thereafter apply for enrollment in the same party or another, do not acquire the privilege of enrollment until their names are added to the enrollment lists pursuant to the law and until the expiration of six months from the time of application for erasure.

All voters who have had a change of address within the town since the last election are asked to notify the registrars of their new address.

Report Filed
The town of Bolton has filed a planned use report for the fifth entitlement period, July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975, of the revenue sharing program.

The report states that the money has been designated for a library.

Housing for Elderly Backed by GOP

COVENTRY
Monica Shea
Correspondent

The Republican Town Committee voted last week to back the efforts to bring housing for the elderly into existence in Coventry by using federal assistance as proposed by the Committee on the Aging.

The town committee asked the Republican councilmen to bring up the matter of student government day to the town administrator and ask that the manager correspond with the chairman of the Board of Education and the superintendent of schools for an explanation as why this program "was run in an inefficient manner and why all town officials were not notified of Student Government Day."

Rep. Jesse Brainard of the 3rd District spoke on the Republican administration in the House of Representatives. Brainard said, "The Republican party has acted in the best interests of the people and granted two tax reductions."

Brainard said the House passed 467 bills, and he attended every session.

Lake St. Meeting
The Conservation Commission will meet tonight at 6:45 on Lake St. to review the site and the proposed plan for the realignment of Lake St.

In other business the commission will review the proposed landfill and parks ordinances.

All of the commission's meetings are open to the public and interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Nine Inducted
Nine students were inducted into the National Honor Society last week at the high school. New members added to the Nathan Hale Chapter of the honor society were Eileen Barton, Joann Bray, Isabel Broderick, Peggy Clay, Gordon Phillips, Margaret Pratt, William Usab, Patricia White and Susan Worthington.

NOTICE
The Registrars of Voters of the Town of Manchester, Conn., will be in session in the Registrars Office at the Municipal Building, Friday, June 14, 1974, from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m., for the purpose of making an enrollment of electors who are entitled to vote any primary or caucus of the Town of Manchester and for the purpose of making such changes in the enrollment list as are necessary.

Applications for the admission of electors will also be accepted.

Cardamom Expensive 1 1/2% Gain In Food

Guatemala City — A ginger-like spice, the cardamom, has become a $4 million-a-year export in Guatemala. Cardamom, a plant growing about 10 feet tall, with light green and violet flowers and 15 to 20 seeds in the fruit, is sold as dried fruit — it tastes like a tangerine — or seeds or oil.

The fruit is sold for $25 to $42 a pound and the oil for $25 to $42 a pound.

United Nations, N. Y. — Since 1954, per capita food production in the developed countries has increased about 1 1/2 per cent a year. But in the less-developed lands the increase has been less than half of 1 per cent.

Actually, the less-developed countries have expanded food output at about the same rate as the developed nations, but their very rapid rate of population growth has severely limited their gains.

Marriage Is Opposed By Women

By Ed Stattmann
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Tony Hileman is happily married, to only one wife, but he teaches it does not have to be that way for everyone.

Hileman, a freelance photographer, teaches a course in the Free University of Indianapolis on "alternatives to marriage."
"I don't have three wives. I only have one. I suppose you could say that our marriage is very conventional in its visible aspects," Hileman said.

He said the difference is that in learning of the alternatives you are making a choice.

Other Choices
So he has made it his business to talk to a lot of people who have made other choices and to pass on what he learns.

Hileman said that when he began the course, his biggest surprise was finding that a lot of single women showed up.

"More women are opposed to marriage right now than men—actively opposed," Hileman said.

Hileman said some persons are able to have two mates or to be part of communal marriages, despite great difficulties.

The attitudes of married persons and of society are a bigger hindrance to alternative marriage styles than the laws, Hileman said. But he said he is encouraged that those attitudes are changing.

"You should be married before you have the ceremony," he said. "Living together openly—often, that's the important part."

"You should be free to have emotional feeling for other people not like, or to the degree to what you have with your own mate. Ideally, you have put years of work and love into that relationship—nobody should be able to catch up with those years."

Variety of Partners
Singles or couples who "swing," in many cases have found that sexual gratification with a variety of partners is not enough, Hileman said.

Swingers who have survived that, he said, often get together with sex permitted, but not necessary.

There are three-party marriages that work, Hileman said, but they are not necessarily easy.

Engagements

The engagement of Miss Frances Lorraine Greene of Manchester to Eugene Edward Student of Tamaqua, Pa., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Greene of 386 Hilliard St.

Mr. Student is the son of Mr. Regina G. Student of Tamaqua, Pa., and the late William Student.

Not Rubies, Scholars Say
Rome—The precious stones referred to in the Old Testament as rubies were not rubies, Bible scholars say, but the invention of some poetic Roman translators.
The experts say the word that appears in the ancient Hebrew texts refers to gems from the sea, possibly pearls, or the precious red coral found chiefly in the Mediterranean region—but not rubies.

Woman's View

By Gay Pauley
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Don't underestimate the effect of the women's liberation movement, directly or indirectly.
In the pre-1960s days, ask a girl graduate what she wanted in life and you'd find her answer usually ran to marriage and family. Ask the girl grad today and she's looking toward a career first of all.

"Being my own person," which could be the theme of any liberationist, was the answer repeatedly given in one national poll of collegians about to receive bachelor of arts or science degrees.

A Fulfilling Job
Making one's own way, 1974 style, frequently means finding a fulfilling job (fulfilling is a key word) or earning an advanced degree. More than in previous years, marriage and family drop all that importance.

As the people who did the study commented, "Today's grad has expanded on the views of the earlier '70s. Wedding bells, while perhaps a distant goal, are definitely not on the front burner.

"Instead, self-gratification through achievement in graduate study or a job that is psychologically and financially rewarding takes precedence over the legendary cottage replete with picket fence."

The study was made by Esmark, Inc., a Chicago-based firm of diversified interests (foods, chemicals, energy, insurance, finance), and was one of its continuing formal surveys of the youth market primarily for its own hiring programs.

50th Anniversary

Quirks in the News

X-Rated Robbery OGDEN, Utah (UPI) — Police report a gunman walked into the Adult Book and Cinema Shop in the downtown area, brandished a pistol and made off with $130 in cash and 65 films.

Toothless CINCINNATI (UPI) — Ronald O'Banion figures $15,350 should compensate for the "humiliation and embarrassment" he suffered for 33 days after his false teeth were lost. O'Banion filed a suit for that amount of money Tuesday against Jewish Hospital, where his false teeth disappeared with his meal tray. He said he had just returned from surgery, was heavily sedated and placed the dentures on the food tray before falling asleep. O'Banion said when he awoke, the tray was gone and so were his teeth.

Miss Dance

Diane Elizabeth DeGaudio, Miss Manchester of 1973, and a runner-up in the 1973 Miss Connecticut Pageant, has been named Miss Dance of Connecticut. Miss DeGaudio, a 20-year-old junior from Simsbury, was chosen from among 23 candidates at the annual Dance Pageant sponsored by the Dance Teachers' Club of Connecticut at the Dance Masters of America at Newton High School in April. She studied dancing with Betina Beauchemin for eight years at the Simsbury Music and Arts Center and now at the New School of Dance of Manchester and Simsbury, where Ms. Beauchemin is the director. For her competition, Miss DeGaudio performed a modern ballet choreographed by her teacher to music from the movie "Jonathan Livingston Seagull." The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. DeGaudio of Simsbury, she was awarded a crown and trophy and will attend the 1974 Dance Masters of America Convention in Miami Beach, Fla., where she will compete for the title of Miss Dance of America on August 15.

Tamsin-Jubenville

Elizabeth Ann Jubenville of Manchester and Kenneth Tamsin of East Hartford, exchanged wedding vows June 8 at St. Bridget Church, Manchester.

The Rev. William Killeen of St. Bridget Church celebrated the nuptial Mass and performed the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with white chrysantheums and white shasta daisies.

by her father, wore a white organza gown designed with scoop neckline, fitted bodice, long sleeves and attached chapel train all trimmed with appliques of pink and white and accented with seed pearls. Her caper length veil of silk lace was bordered with matching lace and attached to a Camellia cap of seed pearls and lace. She carried a semi-crescent bouquet of pink miniature carnations, baby's breath and white daisies.

Mrs. Kenneth Tamsin

Miss Rosemary Jubenville of Manchester, was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a multi-colored print organza gown styled with fitted bodice with pink trim, long sleeves and high neckline with self ruffles. She wore a pink picture hat and carried a semi-crescent bouquet of pink miniature carnations, baby's breath and white daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kathie Taylor of Manchester; Miss Martha Jubenville of Bridgeport, the bride's cousin; and Miss Kathy Tamsin of East Hartford, the bridegroom's sister. They wore gowns similar to that worn by the honor attendant with lavender picture hats. They carried semi-crescent bouquets of pink miniature carnations, baby's breath and white daisies.

Daniel Besaw of East Hartford was best man. Ushers were Michael Tamsin of East Hartford, the bridegroom's brother, Michael Vinick and David Vinick, both of East Hartford.

A reception was held at Flano's Restaurant in Bolton, after which the couple left on a trip to Cape Cod, Mass. For traveling Mrs. Tamsin wore a lime green dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple will reside at Colonial Village, Glastonbury.

Mrs. Tamsin is a member of the junior class at Keene State College in New Hampshire. Mr. Tamsin is employed at Connecticut Bank and Trust Company.

Quota System Denied by IRS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commissioner Donald C. Alexander of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) denied Tuesday that tax agents win promotion by their zeal in penalizing errant taxpayers.

Conerney, president of the National Treasury Employers Union and an ex-IRS agent told the same committee that agents are rewarded in proportion to the number of returns they process and the amount of penalties they collect.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Alexander H. Stephens of Georgia was vice president of the Confederacy despite his previous opposition to secession. Stephens also opposed many of Confederate President Jefferson Davis' policies, especially those which granted him extra-constitutional war powers and allowed suspension of the writ of habeas corpus to permit otherwise illegal imprisonment. The World Almanac recalls.

Aluminum Coincidence Berlin — In 1864 German scientist Robert Wilhelm von Bunsen first produced aluminum metal by electrolysis. Then in 1888 two 22-year-old experimenters, Charles Hall, working in an Oberlin, Ohio, woodshed, and Paul Heroult in a Paris laboratory, independently found a better way, using the newly developed dynamo instead of batteries.

Will Nixon Abide by Court Decision?

By HELEN THOMAS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The new White House cliffhanger is whether President Nixon will abide by a Supreme Court ruling in the Watergate case.

reaffirmed a statement by his constitutional lawyer, Charles Alan Wright, that he would abide by a "definitive ruling" of the high court.

But in recent days, Nixon's spokesman, including his chief Watergate lawyer, James D. St. Clair, have refused to restate a presidential intent to comply with a Supreme Court decision.

"Hypothetical Question" — That is a hypothetical question, frankly," St. Clair told reporters at one point. "I don't know that I would care to answer it at this time."

St. Clair also has said Nixon will be subject to the "garden type criminal law" only when he is a private citizen again.

Wives Fail To Report Gifts Promptly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Washington columnist says the wives of former Vice President Spiro Agnew, former Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Sen. J. William Fulbright received gifts not immediately reported to the government.

Washington Post writer Maxine Chesire, who earlier investigated the failure of First Lady Pat Nixon and her daughters to report gifts of jewelry from Arab leaders, as required by law if they exceed $50 value, reported today that the State Department protocol office recently began getting jewelry and other gifts to U.S. officials that had previously gone unreported.

Besides gifts from Arab rulers to the prominent wives, the protocol office has also recorded an apparently custom-made diamond set of shirt studs and the clasps with gold balls attached to it from the King of Morocco.

25th Anniversary

Mrs. Charles W. Press

Mrs. Charles W. Press of 47 Dougherty St. observed their 25th wedding anniversary at a surprise party May 24 at Marco Polo Restaurant in East Hartford. Hosted the party were the couple's three daughters, Lauren, Karen and Donna; and son, James.

Following the party, the couple left on a trip to Williamsburg and Virginia Beach, Va.

Mrs. Fulbright, whose husband headed the Foreign Relations Committee which drafted the law requiring immediate yielding of such gifts, said she never wore the jewels. "Good heavens, no! You're not supposed to be any!" she exclaimed. The Post said Mrs. Fulbright turned the gifts in early this year after apologizing that deaths in the family and her own illness caused the delay.

Former POW Wins Maine Nomination

United Press International
A former prisoner of war from Maine, a law professor in Arkansas, and two men in Virginia who want to see President Nixon impeached, won Democratic nominations to Congress Tuesday.

They will all face Republican incumbents in the November elections.

Ex-POW Mark Gartley of Lewiston, Maine, was nominated to challenge Rep. William S. Cohen, Maine. In Arkansas another political newcomer, law professor Bill Clinton, 27, was nominated to try to unseat Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., Nov. 5.

Virginia Democrats nominated two candidates who have both publicly supported impeachment to challenge conservative GOP incumbents in November. One of them, Herbert E. Harris, will face Rep. Stanford E. Parrish, R-Va. The other, Joseph L. Fisher, a veteran local official, will go against Rep. Joel T. Broynhill, Va.

Gartley, a Navy pilot who was held captive in North Vietnam for four years, said he was surprised by public discontent and disgust he said he saw while campaigning.

"Not only over Watergate and the economy, but the lack of will to use system to make changes," he said. "I think it's a sense of powerlessness — the people feel their power has slipped away and it doesn't matter any more."

Clinton, of Fayetteville, Ark., the State Department, said he was surprised by the support he has received in the November elections when he tries to unseat Hammerschmidt.

But there is no way to enforce the law, according to State Department officials, because it is only when recipients turn gifts in that it is known they got them.

Kalmbach Sentencing Monday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Herbert W. Kalmbach, President Nixon's personal lawyer, will be sentenced Monday for violating federal laws governing campaign funds, Judge John J. Sirica announced Tuesday.

Kalmbach, who became involved in the Watergate scandal when he served Nixon's reelection campaign as one of its chief fund raisers, pleaded guilty Feb. 25 to two counts of violating federal campaign laws.

Kalmbach admitted raising $3.9 million for a secret congressional campaign committee in 1970, and also to promising a better diplomatic post to a U.S. ambassador. The charges — the first a felony and the second a misdemeanor, were violations of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act and punishable by up to three years in prison and fines of $11,000. The two-count criminal information was filed by Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski, who said Kalmbach has been permitted to plead guilty to technical violations of the law in exchange for his cooperation and full disclosure of all relevant information and documents" in the Watergate investigation. The day after his guilty plea, Kalmbach resigned from the prestigious Newport Beach, Calif., law firm he founded in 1967.

Parking Lease Plan Gets Board Approval

Floyd A. Brownlee VERNON Floyd A. Brownlee, 57, of 64 Worcester Rd. died Tuesday at Rockville General Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Elaine Ackley Brownlee.

Mr. Brownlee was born in Baileyville, Maine, and had lived in Vernon for the past 15 years. He was an army veteran of World War II. He had been employed as an assemblyman at Pratt and Whitney Division of United Aircraft Corp., East Hartford.

Other survivors are two sons, Norman K. Brownlee of East Hartford and Terry Brownlee of Calais, Maine; a daughter, Mrs. Shirley M. Ouz of East Hartford; a sister, Mrs. Helen Barnard of Calais; a brother, Harris Brownlee of Calais; six grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Funeral services are Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Scholl Funeral Home, 19 Church St., Calais, Maine. Burial will be in the veterans section of the Calais Cemetery. Military honors will be accorded at graveside.

Friends may call at the Burke-Fortin Funeral Home, 76 Prospect St., Rockville, tonight from 7 to 9, and at the Scholl Funeral Home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Vernon Turning Out Many Lottery Winners

The Vernon area has been turning out its share of lucky lottery winners for the past few weeks. Last week a Tolland man won the $100,000 grand prize and this week two Vernon women are eligible having won $5,000 last week.

Glora R. Hambach of 34 White St. and Julie Keegan of 5 Charter Rd. are holders of a $5,000 winning ticket and so will be eligible for either the $100,000 grand prize or the $15,000 "consolation" prize.

The drawing will have as its backdrop the Elizabeth Park Rose Festival. The drawing will be at 10:30 a.m. in the park on Asylum Ave., Hartford.

Judge Cassidanto Rites Announced

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — A funeral Mass will be offered Thursday at St. Michael's Church for Circuit Court Judge John V. Cassidanto who died while undergoing heart surgery at Yale-New Haven Hospital.

Cassidanto, an attorney for Watergate figure Alfred Baldwin III before his elevation to the bench last year, died Monday night while undergoing heart surgery at Yale New Haven Hospital. He was 47.

A former state representative, Cassidanto missed part of the 1972 legislative session while in the coronary care unit of the hospital.

A native of Hamden, Cassidanto practiced private law before he served as an assistant U.S. Attorney and a Democratic representative in the old 106 District of New Haven.

Prior to his March 3, 1973 appointment to the bench, Cassidanto was associated with the law firm of Ginsburg, Minto and Ginsburg.

The exhibit area has been set up to show a representative sampling of the objects the society owns. These will be changed frequently.

Vernon Museum Opens June 20

The Vernon Historical Society's recently acquired "museum" will be open to the public beginning June 20 from 2 to 5 p.m. on Thursdays and Sundays.

The United Congregational Church has granted the use of one wing of the church parsonage for the museum. The parsonage is the Phineas Talcott House at 68 Prospect St., Rockville. Of the 1945 circa, the ell contains the court room for more than 30 years.

This court room will serve as an exhibition hall for the society and two smaller rooms will be used as storage and preparation areas.

The executive committee has spent since March moving in all of the materials stored in numerous places in town, installing fixtures and cataloging every object.

The exhibit area has been set up to show a representative sampling of the objects the society owns. These will be changed frequently.

Benefit Extension Proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., says legislation he submitted Tuesday would enable 24 states to take advantage of extended unemployment benefits for their jobless workers.

The extended benefits program currently provides 13 weeks of jobless compensation in addition to the 26-week coverage now in effect.

However, to qualify for the extended benefits, a state must show 4 per cent of its labor force is receiving unemployment benefits and unemployment ranks rising at a rate of more than 20 per cent over the last two years.

Ribicoff's measure, he said, would permanently erase the 20 per cent requisite over the last two years.

"We passed that 20 per cent requirement in 1970, at a time of rising unemployment across the nation," the senior U.S. senator from Connecticut said.

But today, he continued, joblessness has leveled and it would be "unfair to require a state to have both a high unemployment rate and a rising one to make it qualify for extra benefits."

At present, 13 states now qualify for the extension, with seven more states having failed to pass enabling legislation to put the program into effect.

"Congress has already recognized the obsolescence of the 20 per cent provision," Ribicoff said.

WINS FIRST PRIZE NEW YORK (UPI) — "St. Peter's People on the Move," a 28-minute movie about a Manhattan Lutheran church congregation, has won the first prize in the Religion and Society category of the American Film Festival.

apartment parking lots off Hilliard St. near Woodland St. The vandals included acts done at the Hilliardville Luncheonette at 303 Adams St., Adams St., RTG Inc. machine dealers at 219 Adams St., and the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co. branch at the Parkade.

Youth Services Officer Patricia Graess handled most of the work leading to the two referrals, according to Det. Capt. Joseph Sartor.

An oil slick on Main St. at its intersection with N. Main St. Tuesday night apparently caused two minor motorcycle accidents.

At 7:35 p.m. James Jones, 27, of 202 Terrace Dr., Rockville hit the slick and skidded several feet on the motorcycle's side.

At 8:15 p.m. Ronald L. Fuller 21, of 164 Vernon Ave., Vernon had the same experience. Both men were able to get up and drive their bikes from the scene.

Police were unable to identify the cause of the slick.

Mrs. Evelyn P. Pagani, 67, of 125 Charter Oak St. was taken by ambulance Tuesday at 3:54 p.m. to Manchester Memorial Hospital after the car she was driving north on Broad St. struck a utility pole.

At the hospital, she was treated for a fractured nose and lacerations and released. The car was towed from the scene.

Richard L. Forsyth, 19, of Brockton, Mass. and John Connors, 25, of Brockton, Mass. and F.Y. Dix, N. J., were charged Tuesday by Coventry Police on several counts in connection with the investigation of complaints of residents concerning motor vehicles.

They were charged with six counts of criminal attempts to commit larceny; six counts of tampering with a motor vehicle; second-degree larceny and second-degree burglary.

Police said a 14-year-old female was charged with the same offenses. She was turned over to the Juvenile Detention Home in Hartford. Forsyth and Connors were held overnight in lieu of $5,000 bonds and were to be presented in Circuit Court 12, East Hartford, today.

VERNON Alfred Tambling Jr., 18, of 88 Village St., Rockville was arrested Tuesday on a warrant issued by Circuit Court 12 charging him with third-degree larceny and first-degree burglary and first-degree larceny.

The arrest was made in connection with the investigation of a break into a Talcottville home, police said. Tambling was apprehended by the Cape May, N. J. sheriff's office and picked up and returned to Vernon by local police.

He was held overnight in lieu of posting a $1,000 and was to be presented in Circuit Court 12, East Hartford, today.

Raymond Adams, 32, of Rt. 85, Hebron, was arrested Tuesday on a warrant issued by Circuit Court 12 charging him with nonsupport. He was released on a $100 non-surety bond for appearance in Circuit Court 12, Rockville, July 2.

AWARDED GRANT Stanley Belym, Bennet Junior High School science teacher, has been awarded a National Science Foundation grant to study oceanology. He will study under the guidance of Dr. Ralph Yulo and Dr. Roy Smith of Eastern Connecticut State College, and Dr. Mickey Weiss of Project Oceanology.

The course to be offered at

Avery Point, Groton, will provide Belym with concepts and techniques related to marine sciences, water pollution and coastal zone management.

Belym, who teaches eighth grade physical science at Bennet, hopes to gather information which will allow him to incorporate the study of the marine environment with his physical science course.

Gatchell Will Speak At MHS Graduation A former teacher of English at Manchester High School and, since his retirement, a frequent substitute, will be the guest speaker at Manchester High School graduation exercises June 20 at 6:30 p.m. on Memorial Field.

Nathan B. Gatchell, a resident of Andover since 1912, calls being chosen by 640 seniors to be their speaker at commencement his "most moving experience."

Gatchell is more than a retired English teacher.

He played in 40 dramatic roles while he attended the University of Connecticut. He served a journalistic stint as editor-in-chief of the Connecticut Daily Campus at the university.

Besides teaching in Manchester, he also taught English at the Regional District 8 Junior-Senior High School in Hebron.

In February 1941, he left the classroom to enter the Army with a local National Guard unit, old Company K, 16th Infantry 4th Division. The war days took the 43rd all over the Pacific area with five combat landings, according to Gatchell.

The claw hammer was a Roman invention and its efficient design hasn't changed much since 75 A.D.

Wesley Bulla of Manchester Chapter, Disabled American Veterans, has been elected chairman of the Permanent Memorial Day Committee.

Other elected officers are Clyde Beckwith of the Yankee Division Association, vice chairman; Walter A. Von Hone of the Disabled American Veterans, secretary; Emma Swanson of the Daughters of Union Veterans, treasurer; and Jeannette Schulze of Orford Parish Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, assistant treasurer.

The committee, at its recent meeting, expressed its appreciation for the scout leaders in recruiting Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts to carry Philip Daigneault's flags during the Memorial Day parade.

Every flag was carried, and Daigneault said that this was the second time that he was able to have all his flags carried in a parade. He praised the scouts and leaders for the excellent job the scouts did with the flags.

Flag manners were discussed at the meeting. Public Law 958 Section 5 states that during the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention, and salute. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the headress with the right hand

Bolton Students Get On The Job Training

Donna Holland
Correspondent
646-0375

Bolton High School has approximately 15 of its students participating in a Cooperative Work Experience Program.

A CWEP is a plan that gives students the opportunity to combine their academic school work with training on a real job.

The Board of Education approved a half time program for the school in 1973. In June of 1973 Mrs. Brenda Briggs was hired as a part-time vocational coordinator of the program.

The program receives 100% state funding its first year, 75% its second year, 50% its third year and 42% thereafter.

Students who qualify for participation in the program are those who are at least 15 years of age, in good standing in school and who will profit from the experience.

The employer is expected to provide supervision and training on the job. The training is expected to be based on a training plan jointly developed by the employer and the coordinator.

The employer is expected to make regular evaluations of the student trainee and generally, to work closely with the school in developing the student.

The school is expected to make every effort to enhance student development on the job by providing in-school instruction which is related to the training the student receives on the job.

In addition the vocational coordinator will make regular visits and or telephone contacts with the employer to assist him in developing the student.

The student is expected to abide by all rules and regulations at work and in school. He is expected to maintain satisfactory grades, good conduct and perform satisfactorily on the job.

Students attend school in the morning working toward their diploma and go to their training station in the afternoon.

Students receive at least the minimum wage to start and usually work 20 hours a week. They receive school credits upon successful completion of the program, usually from 1 1/2 to 2 credits per year.

The students involved regularly attend work, CWEP classes and regular school instruction. They are expected to maintain at least a "C" average and must make-up any school work missed by being on the job.

If for some reason a student drops or is dropped from the CWEP program he returns to class originally listed on his schedule and is responsible for making up the school work missed.

Students must have parental permission to be in the program and must provide their own transportation to and from the job.

The student is expected to be a dependable employee and to devote himself to learning marketable job skills that he may further use upon graduation.

The program is needed because many young people end their formal education upon graduation from high school.

Higher requirements for entry into the labor market and the declining numbers of traditional job entry opportunities point out the need for students to develop a good attitude, proper work habits and salable skills.

The program attempts to develop these things. It also helps students to formulate career goals more effectively.

A cooperative vocational education training agreement is signed by the student, his parents, employer and Mrs. Briggs.

Four times during the year Mrs. Briggs sends an employer evaluation to all employers involved asking for comparison between the students working and the company's regular employees.

Such things as dependability, neatness, punctuality, cooperation, acceptance of advice and criticism and personal appearance are rated.

The employer is also asked if he would consider hiring the student for permanent employment as well as being asked for any pertinent comments he may have pertaining to the student.

Semi-monthly Mrs. Briggs files a progress report. The report notes the student's academic grades and any recommendation she may have pertaining to the student's needs.

Training stations include training for food preparation, soap making, general gas station work, newspaper work, hospital work, construction, sales and work in electronics, auto body shop and dentist's office.

Mrs. Briggs is very happy with the way the program has run over the past year. She said she only regrets that college bound students are not allowed to participate because of state guidelines.

President May Be on Defensive At Moscow

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Despite the well-publicized "Hail - fellow - well - met" relationship between Soviet party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and President Nixon, the President may well find himself on the defensive when he visits Moscow later this month.

First, the President and his secretary of state, Henry A. Kissinger, have not been able to obtain from a recalcitrant U.S. Congress the favored-nations treatment for Russia, a key to both sides' hope for a vastly expanded trade between the two nations.

Second, Kissinger's recent diplomatic successes in the Middle East have placed the United States in the secondary there and made it very much a rival to the Soviets in that oil-rich and important land bridge between Europe and Asia.

Important Consideration
A third and important consideration is that Brezhnev has staked his own prestige on improved relations with the West and could fall a victim to his own policies if he is not able to show to the Politburo definite advantages from them.

Disappointing to both is their failure to reach agreement on atomic weapons control.

Both the Soviets and the President have done their best to turn their backs on the problems of Watergate and Nixon's possible impeachment. Soviet information media virtually have ignored the Watergate investigations and have become convinced that improved U.S.-Soviet relations have bipartisan support in the United States. They draw support for this belief from the recent visit of U.S. Senator Edward Kennedy.

Recent Speech
The Soviets have been disappointed in the results of détente but obviously hope to keep it going.

A case in point is a recent speech by Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Andrei A. Grechko.

"Step by step," said the marshal in a recent speech given big play by the Soviet newspaper Pravda and Red Star, "we are developing along the road toward relaxation of international tension."

The speech led to some speculation whether the marshal is the super hawk that he is sometimes depicted or simply a defense minister concerned for his own country's safety.

Some Agreements Possible
Despite acknowledged failure to reach total agreement on arms limitations, some piecemeal agreements are possible.

One is what is being called a "threshold" agreement - limiting the power of underground atomic explosions.

It is possible also something may be done to break the deadlock in the Vienna discussions on reduction of forces in Europe and the European Security Conference.

The latter is stalled on Soviet refusal to give in to Western demands for a greater exchange of people and ideas.

Despite disappointment in the field of trade, important agreements have been reached. One was agreement by the U.S. Export-Import Bank to loan the Soviets $180 million as part of a possible $2 billion deal for chemical plants.

Unsettled problems which could be ignored are such as Jewish emigration from the Soviet Union and Soviet harassment of visitors to the U.S. embassy in Moscow.

Heller Proposes Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former White House economist Walter Heller called Tuesday for a tax cut for low income groups, phasing out of "tax loopholes," and creation of a watchdog agency with power to order a rollback of excessive wage and price increases.

Heller, chairman of Council of Economic Advisors in the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, outlined his proposals to the House Democratic Steering Committee, and later repeated them at a news conference.

House Speaker Carl Albert said Heller was the first of several economists who would be asked to advise the Democrat leadership on how to avoid "the prolonged recession this administration is leading us into."

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., said Monday a tax cut would touch off a new round of inflation, but supported a return to wage-price controls.

Heller endorsed a proposal by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to increase personal exemptions from the current $250 to $500 or provide a $100 credit to give lower income groups a tax cut.

He said the $6 billion loss in revenue could be made up by "reforms such as an increase in the minimum tax, closing some tax loopholes and tax shelters that help corporations and the wealthy and take away some tax privileges the oil industry enjoys."

Concorde Must Fly Sub-Sonic

BOSTON (UPI) — A carefully qualified opinion that would permit the supersonic Concorde airliner to land at Logan International Airport doesn't mean that SSTs will be able to fly in and out of Boston at twice the speed of sound.

That was made clear both by U.S. District Judge Frank E. Freedman and spokesmen for the Massachusetts Port Authority which operates Logan. The airport official emphasized that the plane would travel at speeds consistent with speeds of conventional airliners in its visit here as tentatively scheduled.

Freedman listened to arguments by environmentalists for three hours before declining to grant a court order to prevent the controversial SST from stopping at Logan "on or about June 13." The Concorde already has received initial approval of flight operations between June 13 and 16.

Freedman, however, did not exclude the possibility that extensive studies must be made before the supersonic craft can fly to and from Logan on a regular basis.

The Massachusetts Port Authority, which operates Logan, had invited the visit and a spokesman said the situation was unchanged.

Mrs. Mary Sterud, R.N., director of nursing at Manchester Memorial Hospital, stands with the girls to whom she has awarded scholarships that will help them prepare for their careers in nursing. From left to right, the recipients are Barbara Pastula of South Windsor, Julianne Call of Vernon, Dierdre Golden of South Windsor, Kathy Woodcock of 76 Garden St., Sharon Waytashek of 86 Spencer St. and Vivian Carroll of 407 Summit St. (Herald photo by Barlow)

6 Future Nurses Get Scholarships

Six future nurses—three from Manchester, two from South Windsor and one from Vernon—have been named as the 1974 recipients of scholarships to help them prepare for a career in nursing.

Julianne Call, another member of this year's ECHS graduating class, will study at St. Vincent's Hospital School of Nursing in Bridgeport.

Sharon Waytashek, a graduate this year from Manchester High School, plans to study nursing at the O.M. Wilcox School of Nursing. A stipulation of this scholarship program calls for each of the students to return to Manchester Memorial Hospital for at least one year upon the completion of their studies.

The $750 scholarships are made available each year through the Manchester Student Nurse Loan Fund screening committee, a group comprised of Manchester Memorial Hospital nursing administration personnel, guidance counselors and school nurses of the participating high schools, and the principal of Manchester High School.

The scholarship program, which began in the early 1950s, is made possible through funds presented by the board of trustees of the hospital, the physicians of the Manchester Medical Association, and the members of the Manchester Registered Nurses Association. Winners of the scholarships this year are:

Vivian Carroll who is a 1971 graduate of East Catholic High School and has been attending Manchester Community College. She plans to take her nursing training at the University of Connecticut.

Barbara Pastula, a 1973 graduate of ECHS, has attended the University of Connecticut in nursing for one year, and has been named to the dean's list in her class.

Dierdre Golden is a member of this year's ECHS graduating class and plans to study nursing at the O.M. Wilcox School of Nursing of Middlesex Memorial Hospital, Middletown.

Kathy Woodcock, a 1973 graduate of ECHS, is presently employed as a nurse's aide at the Meadows Convalescent Home. She plans to pursue her nursing studies at St. Mary's Hospital School of Nursing in Bridgeport.

More Grain Grown In Eastern Europe

E. Europe's Farming Up Washington — Total grain production in Eastern Europe has been rising rapidly, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Production in the 1970s is projected to increase at an annual rate of 2.5 per cent and consumption at 2.2 per cent.

Eastern Europe's total agricultural production rose about 3 per cent a year during the 1960s; in the 1970s it may gain even faster, the department says.

U.S. Imports 20% Of Raw Materials

20% Must Be Imported New York—Some 20 per cent of the raw materials used in the United States is imported, and this percentage is rising. All or part of 31 of the 40 minerals considered essential to American industry are imported. Ninety per cent or more of such commodities as tin, diamonds, cobalt, beryllium, nickel and manganese is imported.

Martin Pleads Guilty

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dean Martin Jr., son of the singer-actor, Tuesday pleaded guilty to illegal possession of unregistered weapons, including seven machineguns and an antitank cannon. Sentence, which could range up to 10 years in prison, was postponed pending a probation report.

The 22-year-old "Dino" was arrested Jan. 18 at his Beverly Hills mansion where federal agents found an arsenal of automatic weapons and the 14-foot Belgian-made cannon. His attorney said at the time that Martin had collected unusual firearms as a hobby since he was a boy.

The unexpected guilty plea came as Martin was about to go on trial in the court of U.S. District Judge William P. Gray.

The federal offense carries a possible maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. Judge Gray postponed sentence until July 1 and Martin immediately went to the federal probation office.

Before the plea was entered, Judge Gray questioned Martin closely and asked him if he was admitting the offense and aware of the possible sentence. "Yes," the shaggy, blond Martin replied.

Martin was arrested when he sold two machineguns to an undercover Treasury agent. He has been free on $5,000 bail and was never jailed. Authorities said he had cooperated fully in showing federal agents the guns. They said there was nothing to indicate he had any intent to use them to any criminal or terrorist organization.

CofC Asks Rockville Improvements

VERNON The Economic Development Committee of the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce has turned over a report and recommendations concerning improvement of the Rockville section of Vernon to Mayor Frank McCoy and one to do something to meet with town officials soon to see if some of the problems can be resolved.

Reporting to the meeting of the chamber board of directors Tuesday, John Pozzallo, chairman of the committee, said several meetings were held with the businessmen situated in Rockville center and sub-committees were set up primarily to study problems of transportation and parking in the center.

He said a number of suggestions were made including one to widen Vernon Ave. and one to do something about eliminating the traffic bottleneck on E. Main St. These suggestions plus one to provide more parking area in the center, were passed on to the mayor.

Pozzallo said the committee has had no further information concerning the older shopping center in Rockville which now has several vacant stores. He said the owners of the complex have been negotiating with a group of doctors and dentists who have indicated interest in using part of the building as a professional complex.

Repoli said he received a call from the custodian at Union Congregational Church saying the planter near the church and several others on Union St. had been damaged.

Vernon Briefs

George Preissler of Sunrise Dr., Rockville, represented Trinity Lutheran Church of Vernon as one of 200 delegates to the New England District convention conducted on the campus of Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., last week. During the convention the New England delegates passed a precedent-setting resolution encouraging regional congregations to "call" to ministry in their churches this year's graduates of a "seminary-in-exile" in St. Louis, Mo.

Monday: Meat balls, buttered rice, carrots, whole wheat bread, apple crisp. Tuesday: Frankfurt on roll, french fries, celery sticks, fruit salad, apple crisp. Wednesday: Chicken and noodle casserole, green beans, corn bread, pineapple square. Thursday: Juicy pizza, green salad, fudgejicle. Friday: Salad roll, potato chips, tomato wedges, peaches. On Monday, June 24, lunch will be cook's choice. Schools will close for the summer on June 25. This will be a half-day and no lunches will be served.

Libby Reinstatement Asked

ANDOVER Ellen Lariviere Correspondent 742-9117 The Board of Education meeting at the Elementary School Tuesday evening was interrupted by the scheduled agenda when J. Leslie Goodner presented a petition to the board, asking it to reinstate Donald Libby as principal of the elementary school. Libby handed in his resignation Jan. 1. The resignation is to become effective on June 30. At the last board meeting a delegation of resignation requested that Libby be reinstated and they were told that if Libby wished he could reapply for the position. The board commented last evening that as of this point Libby has not chosen to do so.

When the board was asked why it chose to ignore the delegation wishes in favor of rehiring Libby, it simply stated that the man had turned in his resignation to it had no alternatives to screen applicants and choose a new principal. Superintendent of Schools David Catanach was asked why Libby chose to resign and he commented that there was no way he would discuss the personal reasons and that the question would have to be brought to Libby himself. Libby made no comment. Arguments continued by those who wish to keep Libby and it was said that the petition of 187 names was only a beginning and more names would be added to the petition. A spokesman for the board said that more than a year ago far greater number asked to get rid of Libby than that the board did not cave in then and has no intention of doing so now. A spokesman in favor of abiding by the board's decision commented that the man has resigned and that is where the matter should be dropped. BIG AND SMALL AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The 254 counties in Texas vary widely in size, from tiny 147 square miles of Rockwall County near Dallas to giant 6,208 square mile Brewster County near Mexico. Brewster is equal to the combined sizes of Connecticut and Rhode Island.

School Board Approves Summer Career Workshop

VERNON BARBARA RICHMOND Through a federal grant $3,811, the Board of Education Monday night approved the implementation of a summer workshop to explore programs in careers for Grade 8 students at the Middle School.

The results of the workshop are to be presented to the board before any program is implemented in the school. Topics to be covered in the workshop include: How career education fits into the schools; what are the tools to work with and what has been evaluated thus far; how to incorporate career development concepts within the classroom structure; and what is the guidance counselor's role in career education.

Another objective of the program is to develop the students awareness of the importance of work to themselves and to society. If the program is implemented it would include employing a survey which will be taken at the outset to develop job clusters for all Grade 8 students and to obtain then more specific information for more detailed exploration of selected occupational clusters.

It would also include development of a resource center of career education materials and visits to local and surrounding town businesses and industries to provide students with first-hand experiences of the world of work. Assemblies would be conducted to expose the students to the experiences of business men, industrialists, labor leaders, and representatives of public agencies, service clubs, and elected officials.

It is felt such a program would impress the students with the fact there is dignity in all kinds of work and that all work has a useful function in society. School officials feel some students may be capable and interested in being introduced to more detailed exploration of selected job clusters which could lead them to tentative in-depth exploration of selected jobs of interest for each one. While approving the summer workshop, some board members said they have misgivings about the program. Board member Robert Dabau said he had no objection to exploring the program but added he had attended a meeting and heard three speakers all speak negatively of such a program. If the program is approved any Grade 8 student will be eligible to participate. It would start Oct. 21 of this year and continue through March 4. There would be two 90-minute periods per week used for the development and implementation of the program. It would ultimately relate to all parts of the school curriculum through classroom teacher-student participation. Evaluation would come from direct responses from the students regarding their experiences on their experiences. The $3,811 budget includes: $400 for a consultant; $400 for two counselors; $1,400 for eight teachers; $1,011 for materials; $300 for a secretary; and $300 for an audit. The first funding is due in September.

Manchester High Girls Protest Lettermen's Awards Banquet Discrimination Charged Against Elks by Members of Athletic Teams

McCurry and Sullivan Double Award Winners

By Len Auster

Two Manchester High performers were the recipients of two awards apiece last night at the 15th annual Lettermen's Awards Banquet at the Elks Home. Connie McCurry received the Hugh S. Greer Award for the player who has done the most for soccer this past year and the Gus Gaudino Award, given to the best all-around athlete in the senior class. Junior Ray Sullivan was the recipient of the Nassiff Arms baseball award for having the highest batting average this past season (400 during the regular season) and the Frank Granato Memorial Award for being selected the best all-around baseball player. Other award winners were: David Lemieux, the Elks Cross Country Award for being the most valuable performer; Russ Sink, the Elks Rifle Award for having the highest average; Glenn Saums, the Frank Busch Swimming Award for being the most improved swimmer; John Feeney, the Ray D'Amato Basketball Award for being the most improved basketball player; Joe Stankiewicz, the Charles L. "Pete" Wigren Track Award. Also, Steve Hirschfeld, the Elks Tennis Award for being the most improved; Dave Bidwell, the Frank Granato Memorial Award for being the pitcher with the lowest earned run average this past season; Skip Odell, the Wrestling Award for being the most improved; Mike Volland, the Police and Firemen Award for being the most valuable wrestler; and Steve Dwyer, the Clarke Award, presented to the best scholar-athlete-good citizen of the year. It was also announced that McCurry and Mickey Miller had won varsity sweaters, presented to a performer who had won six or more varsity letters. McCurry totaled eight letters and Miller six. About 120 athletes and varsity coaches attended. Tom Conran acted as emcee. The event was marred, however, by a peaceful demonstration by 12 girl athletes from the high school who stated they should have been invited also. They marched in front of the Elks' Home without incident.

Billie Jean Biggest Draw

DENVER (UPI) — Billie Jean King, tennis player extraordinaire, wants to become coach extraordinaire as well. "I'll tell you it's very demanding being the coach of a team," said Ms. King, coach and top player for the Philadelphia Freedoms of World Team Tennis. "But I know what it was going to be like from the start. When I decided to be a coach I decided to be the best." During the early part of the WTT season, Ms. King has lived up to her expectations. Her team won its first 12 matches of the season and, with her as the league's top drawing card, broke attendance records in every city it played. "When you're the coach you always have to be thinking and concentrating," she said during a recent stop in Denver. "You have to take care of little things, like places to stay, how to get to the arena and how each player should walk on the court."

Multi-Year Pact
PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Left wing Bob Sirois, the Philadelphia Flyers' second selection in the National Hockey League amateur draft, signed a multi-year contract Tuesday with the Stanley Cup champions.

MB's Win One-Hitter

Only Jim George's third inning single prevented fireballer John Serafini from pitching a no-hitter last night at Mt. Nebo as Moriarty's trounced the West Hartford Merchants, 8-1, in a Twi League baseball game. The win was the third in four starts for the MB's who lead the American Division. On the road last night at St. Thomas, Manchester Community College dropped a thrilling 1-0 pitching duel to Herb's. The lone tally came in the sixth frame to snap a scoreless duel between Bob Gardner and Russ Bloddeau. The former allowed just one hit, a single by Jim Lehan. White pitchers were spotlighted, the batters also came in for their licks as Rich Riordan, Gene Johnson and Bob Carlson each stroked two hits for the MB's. Johnson filled the bill as the designated hitter. Nursing a 2-1 lead after three innings, the locals broke loose for five runs in the fourth off starter Dave Francis and reliever Bud Moriarty. The big blow was a bases-clearing double by Carlson. Riordan cracked a solo homer in the sixth to wrap up the scoring. West Hartford averted a shutout on a walk, one of three Serafini gave up, George's hit and a miscue. Leadoff single by Rich Kolenda, a sacrifice, an infield error and then a boot via a throwing error on the second part of a doubleplay attempt saw Kolenda scoring for the only run in the MCC setback. The local collegians are now 0-3 and are resting in last place in the National Division. Thursday night both the MB's and MCC will be in action. The latter will entertain Bristol at 6 at Nebo with Moriarty's crossing bats with Volkswagen at St. Thomas Seminary in Bloomfield.

'Freedom Issues' At NFL Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — After an afternoon of fruitless negotiations, the National Football League players and owners will try again today to sit down and discuss the "freedom issues" the players are so concerned with. Nothing substantial came from a three-hour session Tuesday, the first time both sides have met together since the beginning of April. In addition, mediator William Usery of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service failed to appear because he was away at another negotiation. However, Ed Garvey, executive director of the NFL Players Association, indicated that Tuesday's delay in substantive talks was unnecessary since he thought the presence of a mediator wasn't necessary yet. "What can be mediated?" Garvey quipped. "The NFLPA has called for a strike July 1 if an agreement is not reached by that time. The "freedom issues" the players are referring to — which they would like to see abolished — include the Rozelle Rule, dealing with compensation for players and the waiver procedure, which establishes a definite standard as to what club a waived player must report to. Usery's absence caused the owners, represented by the NFL Management Council, to withhold "an amplification," according to NFLMCC Executive Director Jack Thompson, "of our statement." "The reason we withheld discussion on the 'freedom issues' was at the request of Usery," said Thompson, "but we will give the players our answer at tomorrow's session, whether or not Usery is there. "This is not to say that we haven't given them our position before." Thompson said the players could not expect a substantial change tomorrow in the owners' position. "We'll give them our views on competitive balance, etc., but we won't accept a system without rules. They have indicated previously they had ideas as to how they want things to run. We expect to get that pretty soon."

Plenty of Activity Nightly

Who was the guy who said over a cup of coffee and a cigarette the other morning that there's nothing going on in Manchester on the sports front? Anyone who has his gardening all done, the lawn mowed, the house painted and other chores around his property completed and wants to get out and watch a ball game or two should not have any problem satisfying his wishes. No matter where one resides inside the town boundary lines, there is some form of activity offered five nights a week, plus the weekend. For example, here's the weekly schedule of events: Eleven softball games in the Recreation Department's slow pitch program are offered four nights a week, Monday thru Thursday, with two regular scheduled tilts on Friday, plus any makeup games. For example, here's the weekly schedule of events: Eleven softball games in the Recreation Department's slow pitch program are offered four nights a week, Monday thru Thursday, with two regular scheduled tilts on Friday, plus any makeup games. Major Division, games five nights a week. Toss in a like number of Farm League tilts, plus as many Rookie League attractions and this should bring the top 15 for a five night period. Alumni League and Alumni Junior League baseball started this week. The former offers three games a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, with the Juniors playing two games on each of five week nights. Adult baseball finds Moriarty's playing home every Tuesday night at Mt. Nebo and Manchester Community College featured every Thursday night, both entries in Hartford Twilight League warfare. The American Legion also figures prominently in the baseball picture playing two homes games a week. The new Women's Softball League at Martin Field is a Wednesday night feature with doubleheaders and Little Miss Softball holds the interest of the pig-tailed small fry. If one's taste is soccer, he or she can take in any one of two or three Junior, Midlet or Peeewe Division contests any of the week nights. Coming up shortly will be summer basketball at Charter Oak Park. If the menu isn't enough Monday to Friday night, just about every weekend at Fitzgerald Field there is either a softball tournament in progress or State League games involving either men's or women's entries. Robertson Park, the Nike Field are other sites for weekend softball activity. If you see that guy who says Manchester is a dead sports town, have him get out and drive around town any night — except when the weather is bad, and he may be surprised.

Change in Ump Jobs

Out in the cold is the Manchester Chapter of Approved Baseball Umpires in regards to working Manchester American League games this season. The Legion has contacted the Hartford Chapter to supply men for all home games. The local chapter serviced the Manchester team for 30 years. Dick Williams did a great job as the guest with Tony Kubek and Curt Gowdy on last Monday night's NBC baseball telecast from Fenway Park. The network has scored a hit to date with its guests in comparison to a year old when non-baseball people sat in and left much to be desired. Dicky Dean, the former St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, will guest star next Monday night. Baseball ump watching the Red Sox and Oakland Monday night saw Nestor Chylak, veteran American League umpire, give a most emphatic signal at his first base position when plate ump Nick Bremigan was screened out on a half swing by the batter. Chylak gave a sweeping motion of the hand across the body to signify it was a strike. Because the signal was so clear, Oakland offered no argument. Retired National League umpire Augie Donatelli, at a clinic I attended in Florida, emphasized that every call should be clear, concise and emphatic, "so that everyone in the park knows what you are calling it." That's just what Chylak did in Boston.

Won 82 Official Tournaments

Sam Snead Trying For First U.S. Open

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (UPI) — In his long and glorious career, Sam Snead has won a record 84 official tournaments. Unfortunately, none of them was the U.S. Open, and his repeated failures have followed him all the way home. "The other day, for example, when he was packing his bags for another shot at the only major title he has won, his wife gave him a funny look and asked: 'What are you going for? You're not going to win it. If you haven't won it yet, you won't win it.'" Snead, sitting in front of his locker in the clubhouse of the Winged Foot Golf Club, smiled as he told the story. "I don't think she meant it," he continued. "No one in the world would rather see me win it than her. She plays pretty well herself, you know. She won the Boca Raton (Florida) club championship several times. "But after she asked me why I was going, she said that as long as I insisted, I should take her along with me and let her putt for me. She's a good putter, you know." At 62, Snead doesn't get too worked up by the U.S. Open anymore. When the opening bell sounds Thursday for the 74th renewal of this prestigious event, Snead will be making his 31st attempt at this one big one which perpetually keeps eluding him. Regardless of how he fares, he will set another record simply by leaving off. He will become the oldest qualifier ever to play in the Open. About four or five years ago, Snead went to see a hand specialist in Louisville, Ky., for treatment of tendonitis in his left wrist. The doctor looked at his hand and told Snead it looked as if it had taken a beating, and asked him how many golf balls he had hit in his life. "My accountant and my lawyer set down and figured it out," Snead related. "They estimated that to that time, I'd hit 1,640,000 golf balls in practice and competition. I've played a lot of golf, remember. I went one stretch of 13 years without missing golf for any two consecutive weeks."

New NHL Clubs to Stock Squads Today

MONTREAL (UPI) — Kansas City and Washington, the National Hockey League's two new teams, today outfit themselves with players at the league's expansion draft, each picking up 22 skaters plus two goalies from the unprotected lists of other clubs. The 16 existing teams are each permitted to protect 15 players and two goalies with no team losing more than one goalkeeper. The four clubs which lost goalkeepers general manager Sam Pollock has already agreed to let Abel take netminder Michel Plasse. As each club loses a player in the draft, it will be permitted to add another from the unprotected list to the protected roster. Several big names figure among the unprotected players, but most of these have indicated they plan to join the rival World Hockey Association. Among the unprotected big guns are Montreal's Frank Mahovlich and Ron Harris, Bruce MacGregor and Bobby Rousseau of the New York Rangers. Paul Henderson of the Toronto Maple Leafs, who signed with the WHA Monday, was also left off the protected list, as was Toronto veteran Eddie Shack. The highlight of Tuesday's session of the NHL annual meeting was the presentation of individual awards and trophies. Phil Esposito of the Boston Bruins took two honors, the Hart Trophy as the league's most valuable player and the Art Ross Trophy as the top scorer in the NHL. New York Islanders defenseman Denis Potvin took the Calder Trophy as the league's top rookie while Boston's Johnny Bucyk was awarded the Lady Byng Trophy for being the player who combined gentlemanly conduct with playing ability. Superstar Bobby Orr won his 14th individual award when he took the Norris Trophy as the league's top defenseman. Goalie's Bernie Parent of the Stanley Cup champion Philadelphia Flyers and Tony Esposito of the Chicago Black Hawks shared the Vezina Trophy for the best netminding. Parent was also the best playoff performer and took the Conn Smythe trophy. The Professional Hockey Writers' Association, which votes for the All Stars and the individual awards, gave their own trophy, the Bill Masterton award to Canadiens veteran Henri Richard. The award is given to the player who best demonstrates "perseverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey." The NHL Broadcasters Association named the Flyers' Fred Shero as coach of the year and gave him the Jack Adams Trophy.

Fenway Special to RSox over A's

BOSTON (UPI) — This one was a Fenway special. A total of 19 runs, 27 hits including four home runs, a pair of five-run innings — by each team — and a game-saving performance in the ninth.

And the best part for the home town rooters Tuesday night was that the Red Sox won, 10-9, despite allowing the world champion Oakland A's to catch up twice and pull within a run in the final inning.

"Baseball is a crazy game, especially in this ballpark," said Danny Cater, who got Boston's five-run seventh inning with a pinch-hit double to score Dick McAuliffe and break a 4-4 tie.

The "crazy game" began as a home run derby, with Boston holding the long ball edge through six innings. Rick Miller destroyed a 1-0 Oakland advantage with a line, two-run shot into the Red Sox bullpen in the second inning. Cecil Cooper put a Catfish Hunter fastball eight runs behind the Sox bullpen in the third to give Boston a 3-1 advantage.

Oakland tied the game for the first time with a solo homer by Sal Bando in the sixth. Carlton Fisk hit the third Boston homer, a bomb to straightaway center field in the bottom of the sixth to put the Sox back on top, 4-3.

Oakland knotted the score again in the seventh but the Sox apparently put the game away with the big eighth inning that chased Hunter.

But Red Sox reliever Diego Segui "started getting up high with his pitches in the ninth," according to Boston Manager Darrell Johnson and only a two-strikeout performance by big Bob Veale with two men on saved the ballgame.

Veale blew fastballs past Gene Tenace and Angel Mangual to end the game and give Boston a two-game lead in the American League East over Milwaukee, which was shut out, 1-0, by Kansas City.

Veale, the former Pittsburgh Pirates' lefty who had pitched in the third to give Boston a 3-1 advantage.

Half of Indians' Triumphs Contributed by Brothers

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Perry brothers are beginning to rival the Smith Bros. for relief of discomfort.

Without the consistent pitching of Gaylord and Jim Perry this season the Cleveland Indians might be somewhere east of Columbus instead of in third place in the American League East.

Gaylord, the youngest, has won 10 of his first 11 decisions and is currently the top pitcher in the majors while brother Jim has pitched nearly as effectively, although he doesn't have as gaudy a record as his brother. Between them they have accounted for over half of the club's victories this season.

It was Jim's turn to shine Tuesday night and he pitched the Indians to a 6-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The 37-year-old right-hander scattered eight hits in recording his 30th career shutout and 19th career victory. Jim, although he doesn't get as much publicity as his controversial brother, has won 12 more games than Gaylord over the years.

The two pitchers combined have now matched the all-time brother mark in total victories, which was set at the turn of the century by the brother trio of John, Walter and Arthur Clarkson.

"I wanted my 30th shutout more than anything tonight," said Jim, who evened his record at 5-5.

"There aren't too many goals that I had set for myself but this was very important for me. I've got a few more shutouts than my brother but it's not that I'm competing against him, it's just that I wanted that shutout so badly."

In other American League games, Boston nipped Oakland 10-9, California edged New York 5-4, Baltimore topped Minnesota 4-2, Kansas City blanked Milwaukee 1-0 and Detroit downed Texas 8-6.

Orlino 4, Twins 2. Jim Palmer ended a personal seven-game losing streak and combined with Grant Jackson and Bob Reynolds to pitch the Orioles over the Twins. Tommy Davis drove in a pair of runs with a single and Brooks Robinson contributed a homer as Palmer, who went 6 1/3 innings, raised his record to 3-7.

Royals 1, Brewers 0. Al Fitzmorris, 6-2, recorded his second straight shutout win, an eight-hitter, in pitching the Royals to victory over the Brewers. Singles by Fran Healy, Cookie Rojas and Amos Otis in the third inning produced the only run of the game and sent Clyde Wright down in his seventh loss in 12 decisions.

Tigers 8, Rangers 6. Mickey Stanley hit a three-run homer and Willie Horton drove in two runs with his 15th homer and a sacrifice fly to spark the Tigers' triumph.

Gutty Little Guys Do Job

Lange and Raziano Angel Men of Hour

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dick Lange and Barry Raziano were the men of the hour in the California Angels' clubhouse Tuesday night and Manager Bobby Winkles used the same phrase to describe both.

"Gutty little guys," said Winkles. "They're both the same kind of kids."

The foot, 9-inch Lange and 5-0 Raziano had combined in a four-hitter that enabled the Angels to beat the New York Yankees, 5-4, and snap their five-game losing streak. Lange allowed all four New York hits in 6 1/3 innings, while Raziano pitched hitless ball for the last 2 2/3.

"Lange throws a fast ball, slider and change and Raziano throws a fast ball, slider and curve," said Winkles. "They're good pitchers but they're basically fighters."

Lange pitched no-hit ball for four innings and had a 4-0 lead when Thurman Munson opened the Yankee fifth with an infield single. Graig Nettles walked and then Lange got a bad break when Denny Doyle fumbled Chris Chambliss' double play ground, loading the bases. Designated hitter Bill Sudakis followed with the first grand slam of his career, tying the score at 4-4.

It appeared that Lange had been unnerved by Doyle's error but Winkles disagreed.

"First of all, (shortstop) Sandy Alomar might have thrown out Munson except that he slipped on the outfield grass," said Winkles. "The walk and the error filled the bases and Lange decided he was going to get that first pitch to Sudakis in there and make him hit it. He sure did."

Doyle atoned for the error in the seventh inning when his broken-bat single drove in Mickey Rivers with the winning run. Rivers had singled with one out and advanced to third on Munson's passed ball.

Winkles and General Manager Harry Dalton met shortly after the game to discuss possible moves to halt the Angels' slump during which they have lost 11 of their last 15 games but no announcement was made.

The last time the Angels snapped a five-game losing streak they went on to a six-game winning streak.

Winkles and Dalton obviously are hoping history will repeat.

Burke Replaces Tallis As General Manager

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Joe Burke replaced Cedric Tallis as general manager of the Kansas City Royals Tuesday in a rather startling move by owner Ewing Kauffman.

Burke, 50, joined the Royals last September to handle the business end of the Royals' operation, while Tallis was left to run the Royals' baseball affairs.

Tallis generally is credited as the man who built the Royals through a series of astute trades, which brought the six-year expansion team such stars as John Mayberry, Amos Otis, Fred Patek and Cookie Rojas.

But Kauffman left no doubt that Burke now is the top man in the Kansas City front office.

"After trying the business-balls division of responsibilities for five years, I am now convinced that the Royals organization will be better served under the direction of one man," said Kauffman. "Joe Burke will be responsible only for the entire Royals' operation."

"Mr. Burke was selected over Cedric Tallis because of the ever increasing complexities of operating a baseball club. Mr. Burke has the business and baseball experience that make him well qualified for the new position."

Tallis remains with the Royals as vice president in charge of baseball.

Burke joined the Royals after five years as vice president and general manager of the Washington Senators-Texas Rangers. He joined the Senators as assistant general manager in 1961.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — The expansion-born Rhode Island Oceansers, unbeaten in their first five games in the American Soccer League, have been asked to travel to Europe in the spring of 1975 and play a schedule of six games in less than three weeks. O's General Manager George Patrick Duffy said, "We have a wonderful offer to travel to Germany and Denmark in late March and early April and you can be sure we plan to accept."

Davis Tied Record With Seven RBI's

NEW YORK (UPI) — If the best trades, as baseball's general managers fondly say, are ones that help both clubs, then the Montreal Expos and Los Angeles Dodgers made a dandy exchange last winter.

On Dec. 5, 1973, the Expos sent relief pitcher Mike Marshall to the Dodgers for outfielder Willie Davis and, thus far, neither team has any misgivings about the deal.

Marshall has appeared in 38 of Los Angeles' first 60 games, winning four and saving seven others for the National League's West Division leaders while Davis, now batting .322, tied a Montreal club record Tuesday night when he drove in seven runs with two homers, including the fourth grand slam of his 15-year major league career, leading the Expos to a 16-6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

"That's my biggest thrill since I've been playing and I've had a lot of thrills," said Davis who participated in three World Series and two All-Star games while with the Dodgers. "But I don't look in the past, the important thing is to look to the future."

Davis' three-run homer highlighted a seven-run seventh inning and his grand slam sparked an eight-run eighth as he equalled the club record for most RBI's in a game. Ron Fairly and Mike Jorgensen also homered for the Expos, who collected 14 hits and moved within 1 1/2 games of first place Philadelphia in the National League East.

In other NL games, St. Louis blanked Los Angeles 1-0, Houston whipped Philadelphia 10-1, Atlanta edged New York 4-3 in 11 innings, Chicago topped San Francisco 7-4 and Pittsburgh beat San Diego 5-2.

Cardinals 1, Dodgers 0. Bake McBride singled home the Astros 10, Phils 1. Cesar Cedeno's third career grand slam homer highlighted a 10-run seventh inning in Houston's victory over Philadelphia. Doug Rader got two hits and drove in three runs in the Astros' big inning while Larry Dierker gained for the club with a five-hitter.

Cubs 7, Giants 4. Don Kessinger doubled home two runs and Jerry Morales, Billy Williams and Rick Monday added an RBI each in Chicago's win over San Francisco. Ken Frailing went the first six innings for the Cubs to pick up the win and even his record at 5-5.

Pirates 5, Padres 2. Al Oliver singled home Richie Zisk with two out in the eighth inning to snap a 2-2 tie and help Pittsburgh beat San Diego. Gene Clines singled home two insurance runs for the Pirates in the ninth as Ken Brett tossed a seventh-inning shut for his seventh win in 11 decisions.

Expected Duel Fizzled Out

ATLANTA (UPI) — What had been billed as a pitching duel between Tom Seaver and the Braves' newest sensation, Buzz Capra, turned out to be the Johnny Oates show.

The Atlanta catcher hit his first home run of the season, picked two Mets' runners off base, and raced home with the winning run in the bottom of the 11th inning to pace the Braves to a 4-3 victory over New York.

The pitching duel was over soon after it started.

Capra, who had won five straight and had a string of 25 scoreless innings going, couldn't keep his fast ball down and was bombed out in 1 2/3 innings.

Little wonder. Capra, sold by the Mets to the Braves in March, was facing his former teammates for the first time and the big bullpen given his duel with Seaver attracted a crowd of 45,296.

"I feel I let the crowd down," said the 26-year-old right-hander. "I was nervous, but I gave it 100 percent."

"He'll be all right," said Mathews. "You can't blame him for being nervous. We'll start him again Saturday night against St. Louis."

The Braves kept pecking away at Seaver. Mike Lum homered in the second, Ralph Garr tripled and scored in the sixth, and Oates tied the score with his homer in the seventh. Seaver left after eight innings.

In the 11th, Oates led off with a single, moved to second on Craig Robinson's single, and scampered home when Mets' pitcher Bob Apodaca scooped up Frank Tepedino's sacrifice bunt and overthrew first base.

"I couldn't bring myself to go back out and watch after I showered," said Capra. "They pulling it out that way sure helped to restore my confidence. That win was a real shot in the arm."

DevCo Center Expands Hours

The DevCo Planning Center on Rt. 31 in the Meadowbrook Shopping Plaza, has extended its hours so that townspeople can come in to see the models and maps of the proposed new community.

Richard North, project manager, said, "Because so many people have expressed interest and are coming in to see the plans and the model, we are adding extra hours."

North said, "Starting this week the center will be open Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Wednesday and Friday evenings until 9 p.m.; and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m."

Available at the center is a model of the first area proposed to be built showing the proposed lake, village center with its shops and community center, public safety center, apartments for single adults, the village green, open space with bike trails, as well as a variety of housing, school sites, playing fields.

Also on display are renderings of the proposed new community, environmental studies which were used as the basis for the plan, maps showing the proposed sewage system and transportation system.

The DevCo Coventry staff will be on hand to answer any questions.

Wetlands Rules Passed

COVENTRY Monica Shea Correspondent 742-9495

The Planning and Zoning Commission, Monday, acting as the inland wetlands agency, adopted the Inland Wetlands Regulations as proposed.

The regulations are to protect and preserve inland wet areas and the streams and water courses in town.

The commission will hold a public hearing Monday on some proposed revisions to the current zoning regulations, especially those sections referring to the requirement of site plans for construction in a commercial zone.

In other action the commission approved the application of Jack Byrnes to install a dental office in an accessory building for a zone change from residential to commercial for a parcel of land on South St.

Residents questioned whether the amended regulations would prohibit residents and taxpayers from fully utilizing their properties.

The regulations as proposed would forbid any home occupations in accessory building and limit to 25 per cent the area of a home that could be used for a home occupation.

Others at the meeting felt that the regulations were not clear enough on several points, especially those sections referring to the requirement of site plans for construction in a commercial zone.

The commission will hold a public hearing July 8 at 8 p.m. on the request of Peter Gunas for a zone change from residential to commercial for a parcel of land on School St.

The office will be open either three or four days a week and R. Byrnes will see about ten patients a day.

The commission referred back to the Town Council its recommendations on the improvements to Lake St.

The only major changes that the commission made in the council's recommended plan was the installation of a stop sign and to keep open that short stretch of road between Lake St. and Monument Hill that the council had recommended closing off.

The commission will hold a public hearing July 8 at 8 p.m. on the request of Peter Gunas for a zone change from residential to commercial for a parcel of land on School St.

In an effort to reduce the class sizes in next year's 4th grade classes, 12 third graders will be transferred from the Gilead Hill School to the Hebron Elementary School in the fall where they will attend first grade. This move is necessitated by the lack of space at Gilead to accommodate this class.

classes as has been the case this year. The children scheduled to attend Hebron will be those closest to that school. Also, about 22 youngsters in the Gilead Hill School's present kindergarten will be transferred to Hebron Elementary School in the fall where they will attend first grade. This move is necessitated by the lack of space at Gilead to accommodate this class.

Midday Exercise Class Promotes Efficiency

By BARBARA BURKE
BOSTON (UPI) - At noon most employers of the First National Bank of Boston eat lunch. But twice a week Mary Lou Gallup lies down on the bank's 13th floor to kick her legs and wiggle her ankles.

Hall of Fame For Women Under Study

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) - The Hall of Fame Foundation is establishing a women's hall of fame for the recognition of noteworthy women throughout the world.

"There is nothing like this in the country. Our long range goal is to make Newport a center of recognition of feminine achievement all over the world," Mrs. Harriet Holland said. She is the foundation's women coordinator.

Plans to establish the hall were revealed recently during a luncheon in nearby Middletown. She said the idea could be operating by 1976.

"I hate calisthenics, I hate them desperately," she says. "I mostly use basic modern dance exercises - just don't tell people what they are."

go to sleep," said Mary Lou Gallup. She usually attends two classes a week; they are held four days a week, in two shifts. And one student says the class, which costs $1 for a 40-minute session, saves her money because it keeps her from shopping on her lunch hour.

Roberta Stagl, a public relations official for the bank, and a participant in the classes, says the bank feels the 10-week pilot program is a success and hopes to continue it.

She said it is considering expanding the program and making a regular employee benefit, in hopes of pleasing employees and making them healthier and more productive.

The classes are predominantly female. One Thursday class included about 15 women and kick and wiggle at noon or after lunch. The instructor, I don't care about the exercises," Teacher Dorsey Yearley thinks more men would come if the exercises were more strenuous, but the men are partly to blame for the slow pace. Since most of them refuse to change clothes for the classes, Miss Yearley tries to keep the students from sweating by gearing the exercises to improving flexibility and relaxation, not stamina.

But in any case she admits to a rare dislike for an exercise she does.

"Days I come here I want to go out and do something after work - otherwise I just want to work."

"A lot of people were disappointed with the exploitation of women through things like the Miss Universe and Miss America pageants," Blender said.

Women would be elected to the hall of fame by other women in similar fields, the foundation says it is negotiating the purchase of a Newport mansion to house the hall of fame.

The rose is rich in vitamin C. Its syrup was a staple of medieval pharmacies, and today, rose hips are said to have 400 times more vitamin C than orange juice.

Tech School Carpenters at Rest

Some of the members of the combined junior and senior carpentry class at Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School take a well-earned lunch break as the house on which they have been working nears completion. Their teacher, John Sambogna, is walking near the breezeway. The house, on Beelezebub Rd. in South Windsor, is the result of an annual project for the class to build a contracted house. This one belongs to Mr. and Mrs. John Tenza of South Windsor who plan to move into their new home in a few weeks. The boys, 16 seniors and 17 juniors, did all the carpentry work inside and out. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Area People Serve On Health Council

Several people from the Manchester area have been elected to the Health Planning Council, Inc., the comprehensive health planning agency for the capitol and Central Connecticut region.

The election took place at the recent annual meeting of the corporators and trustees of the council at the Hartford County Medical Society in Hartford.

Mrs. Jay E. Rubinow of 49 Pitkin St. was elected vice-president.

Elected to serve on the executive committee in addition to the officers is Dr. Gerald Schwartz of Tolland.

Among the new trustees elected were: Roland Chirico of South Windsor; Mrs. Katherine Bourn of Andover; Mrs. Thomas Ferguson of 78 Forest St.; Robert Honish of South Windsor; Paul Somoza of 550 Keeney St.; Dr. Stewart Marsh of South Windsor; Mrs. Joy Van Cleef of 70 Grant Rd.; Charles Phelps of Andover.

Also, Richard Morra of Bolton; Mrs. Janet Batt of Ellington; Aaron Reid of Hebron; Mrs. Richard Krewson of Andover; Mrs. Polly Comolli of Bolton; Stewart Black of Ellington; Mrs. John Shephardson of Bolton; Mrs. Mary Gannon of Rockville; Mrs. Cynthia Wilson of Hebron.

Also, John Burokas Jr. of Rockville; Mayor Frank McCoy of Vernon; Mrs. Mary Ann Henry of Vernon; Dr. Schwartz; Mrs. Raymond Zabulansky of Tolland; Mrs. W. H. Tupper of Vernon.

Common Cause Opposes Secrecy

CHESHIRE (UPI) — The chairman of Connecticut Common Cause wants a state legislative subcommittee to revoke its rule of secrecy around an investigation into state leasing practices.

Evon Kochev asked the subcommittee Tuesday at a meeting in Cheshire to establish procedures that will enable the public to know what is going on during the probe of the controversial leasing system.

Ms. Kochev said the public needs information to vote intelligently, but the committee has said it will not reveal any information until Nov. 15, after election day.

About Town

The Marine Corps League will meet tonight at 8 at the Marine Home.

A strawberry shortcake festival will be held Sunday from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at North United Methodist Church. Tickets are $1 and may be purchased at the door.

The Marine Corps League Auxiliary will meet tonight at 8 at the Marine Home on Parker St.

Her Pen Pal is Nixon

The third grade pupils at Nathan Hale School are proud of their pen pals, and proudest of all is Melody Houghton. Her pen pal is President Nixon.

When the pupils in Marc Tilton's Unit B class picked someone to write to, Melody chose the President.

"Dear President," she wrote, "How are you doing? I'm doing fine."

Back came a letter from William F. Escott, the President's special assistant.

"Dear Melody," said the reply, "The President appreciated your letter. He wanted you to have the material enclosed. It comes to you with his best wishes."

Enclosed was an 8 by 11 color photograph of President Nixon.

Carpet Manager

DON'T judge a mattress by its cover! DON'T buy a mattress for its good looks, but rather for your good looks after a refreshing night's sleep. DON'T test a mattress with your hands...lie down. Like shoes, try it on for proper size, comfort and support. DON'T buy so-called "bargains." They can give poor support and are the most expensive in the long run. REMEMBER! One third of your life is spent in bed. The purchase of a new mattress and box-spring foundation is one of the most important ones you can make.

STEARNS & FOSTER'S ORTHO POSTURE

Bedding solidly constructed for comfort and long life...This set features a firm mattress with floral cover quilted to an under layer of polyurethane foam-weight balanced center for level comfort head to toe and seat edge for non-scrunch borders along with many other features — Come in and take a look.
